POLES REPORT 'NAZI ARMY ON RUN'

French Advance Into Saar Territory Near Siegfried Line

Industrial Area Important Unit For Germany

Chamberlain Talks With Daladier in Surprise Meeting in France

PARIS, Sept. 12 (AP) — French motorized units were reported tonight driving into the suburbs of the German industrial city of Saarbruecken. The city of the German Saar is regarded as the key to the advance positions of Germany's Siegfried line on the 100-mile northern flank, between the Moselle and Rhine rivers, of the western front.

The French drive on Saarbruecken put a wedge into the advance fortifications of the main German Siegfried line at their strongest point east of this capital of the rich Saar mining basin.

French artillery pounded German lines surrounding the city from heights in the forest of Warndt, region to the southwest captured by the French last week, and the French were reported to have "slightly turned" the defenses of Saarbruecken during the day.

Dispatches from the Swiss border Monday night said the French had advanced toward Saarbruecken from the east in a pinching movement.

War Council Meets
 Behind the lines, French Premier Edouard Daladier met British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain for a secret meeting of the French-British supreme war council.

Chamberlain, accompanied by Lord Chatfield, British minister for coordination of defense, flew to France this afternoon in a special military plane for the surprise session "somewhere in France."

With Daladier was Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin, supreme commander of the French and British armies.

The meeting was understood to have taken place at the field headquarters of the French general staff.

Consider Strategy
 This first meeting of the supreme war council, whose four members form the high command of the French and British allied forces, not only was concerned with the immediate political and military situation but with the next moves of their general strategy.

The French drive was concentrated on Saarbruecken for two apparent reasons:

1. Capture of the city and bridgehead across the Saar river would force a wide breach in the advance system of blockhouses and machinegun nests covering the Nazi westwall through which the French could drive toward their main objective — the Siegfried line.

As a result of the collapse of this center key all the German positions in the no man's land between the Siegfried and Maginot lines would have to be abandoned or risk being crushed by a simultaneous attack from the front and flank.

2. The city's fall would give the French possession of the rich Saar mining basin which for its size is one of the most productive coal areas in the world.

The French shells pounded at a two-mile front through the eastern suburbs of the city to the aviation field, which the Germans used as a military port before the fighting began.

Does Mussolini Hold Key to Future of Europe?

ROME, Sept. 12 (AP) — Diplomatic circles expressed belief tonight that the outcome of the European war and the future of Europe hinged on diplomatic conversations now under way between Great Britain and Italy.

The deepest secrecy shrouds the repeated conferences between Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and the British ambassador, Sir Percy Loraine.

The British-Italian conversations follow by a week talks between the French ambassador, Andre Francois-Poncet, and Count Ciano, after which the French envoy returned to Paris to report.

Meanwhile, a Japanese military mission which has been visiting Italian arms factories at Turin since the signature of the German-Soviet Russian non-aggression pact caused it to cancel a trip to Germany, now is said to be considering a trip to London.

Japanese sources said a decision would be made after the mission returns to Rome next Friday.

No diplomat of any other country pretends to have precise information on what is being discussed among the French and British allies and Italy but most of the diplomatic corps believe a move of the greatest importance is afoot.

Some shrewd analysts in the corps have ideas about the conversations, however.

These quarters now generally scout the idea of peace after Germany conquers Poland — if she does. They believe Britain and France will not give in, for it would be defeat by default.

Like- wise, they believe Mussolini realizes Great Britain and France are determined to fight the German fuhrer, Adolf Hitler, for years if necessary.

The analysts express the belief that Mussolini is in a key position — his entrance into the war on either side might decide it.

Should he join Germany and should the combination win, they said, he would have the choice of picking British and French properties around the Mediterranean and in Africa.

But he would be faced with a terrific offensive from France, the possible closing of the Suez canal and the immediate loss of Ethiopia, and attacks on Libya from both Tunisia and Egypt.

If Mussolini joins Britain and France, the diplomatic quarters hold, the position would be reversed.

With 250 miles of frontier with Germany protected by Alpine peaks, Mussolini would have little to fear from a reich occupied by two other fronts.

On the other hand, he could provide Britain and France with a new frontier to harass Germany and could cut off Germany's supplies from the south.

It was widely believed in the diplomatic corps that Italy's entrance into the war on the side of Great Britain and France would galvanize the recently-formed neutral bloc in southeastern Europe into action against Germany.

The chief obstacle, in the opinion of these diplomats, is that at present Great Britain and France have offered no price approaching the spoils Italy would reap on Germany's side.

Fifth Day of Siege of Warsaw Sees German Divisions Diverted To Decrease Pressure on City

WARSAW RADIO SAYS NAZI INVADERS PUT 'ON RUN'; REPORT GERMANS DRIVEN BACK 6 MILES; ONLY 16 CASUALTIES LISTED

BULLETIN
 LONDON, Sept. 13 (Wednesday) (AP) — A Reuters (British) news agency dispatch today quoted a "reliable source" as saying Lodz had been recaptured by the Poles from the Germans.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 13 (Wednesday) (AP) — An official Warsaw radio broadcast said early today nine German divisions had been diverted from the four-day Warsaw siege to the western European and Vistula fronts and that the Nazi invaders now are definitely "on the run."

Warsaw began the fifth day of siege with the announcer's statement that the invaders had been stopped and hurled back.

The official announcements said German pressure on the city probably had been decreased because of the withdrawal of the divisions, and that the Germans had been driven back about six miles.

Martial music blared from the Warsaw station last night to tell Europe the dogged defenders of Poland's capital clung to their heavily shelled positions.

Yesterday's losses were said to be insignificant for the first time since the siege began — only 16 army casualties being listed.

Only three air raids were reported in the city. Polish Staff Captain Vaclav Lipinski in an announcement said the German onslaughts with tanks and motorized corps had failed and air raids no longer were a danger to the morale of the people.

Thousands who fled the city were said to be returning and volunteering for defense duty.

The announcement did not estimate the number of German troops withdrawn from the siege but a division normally runs between 10,000 and 12,000 men.

Meantime, meagre reports from announcers and Polish army headquarters at Lwow (Lemberg) indicated:

1—German attack has intensified pressure of the giant nut-cracker around Warsaw, while the direct drive from the west continues.

2—Warsaw's defenders are holding grimly to the gains they reported in pushing German advance troops back from the city's suburbs.

3—Reinforcements determined not to lose their beloved capital are being rushed to the defense through a narrowing lane from the southeast.

The Warsaw radio at 9 p.m. (2 p.m., CST) in a review of the day's fighting said the capital was quieter than yesterday. Shelling of the city continued but there were no serious fires resulting. Only three enemy air raids were reported. Polish losses in Warsaw it was declared had been (See WARSAW, Page 6)

Germany Will Fight Across Poland to Russian Border, If Necessary, To Crush All Polish Armies

Reich Wants But One Front

Polish Annihilation Would Allow Western Front Concentration

By MELVIN WHITELEATHER
 BERLIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—Germany, authoritative sources said tonight, intends to fight across Poland all the way to the Russian border, if this should be necessary, to render the entire Polish army helpless.

Entrance of France and Britain into the war has changed the picture, it was said, so that the high command wants to eliminate completely the possibility of having to fight for long on two fronts at the same time.

Hence the pre-Melvin K. Whiteleather sent plan is to fight until all Poland is occupied and the Polish military so scattered that it would be impossible for it to reassemble and make trouble.

Fuehrer Hitler originally announced his intention of fighting until the present Polish government should fall or a new one be formed that would accept his peace terms.

Nothing was said about the amount of territory desired nor about the necessity of disabling the whole Polish army.

I returned to Berlin tonight from the Lodz and Radom fronts in Poland, west and south of Warsaw, respectively. No concern over the western front was discernible among Germans there.

The only purpose seemed to be a determination to clean out the Poles.

The troops were still moving up to participate in the first phase (See BERLIN, Page 6)

'Specialist' Quint Doctor Advises Simple Care

CLEVELAND, Sept. 12 (AP)—The lives of thousands of babies could be saved by using the same simple methods that kept the Dionne quintuplets alive, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe declared today.

He reminded the American Congress of Obstetrics and Gynecology that babies born prematurely, as the quints were, should be put immediately under blankets or kept warm in any crude incubator, fed only with breast milk, protected from infection, and handled as little as possible.

"The eternal vigilance of well-trained nurses overshadows almost every other essential in the care of the premature infant," he added.

"Premature babies should be under the care of such nurses throughout every minute of the 24 hours."

The quints are well into their sixth year as normal girls.

Birth of the quints was an emergency in which the best use had to be made of materials at hand.

Duke, Duchess Return Home

War Situation Causes Lifting of Exile Of Former British King

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor and his American born duchess, the former Wallis Warfield of Baltimore, have come "home" after nearly three years on alien soil.

Expectant Britons learned from a terse announcement by the British ministry of information tonight their former King Edward VIII and the woman for whom he renounced his imperial throne Dec. 10, 1936, are now in England.

The cryptic two-line communique read: "Mention may now be made of the arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor in England and where they are staying."

But where the duke and duchess were not even high officials of the royal household knew. Fort Belvedere, favorite residence of the former king has been kept ready by a skeleton staff against the day of his eventual return, which every Briton has expected.

Darkening war clouds over Europe brought a fresh press campaign for his return.

It's Hot All Iowa Swelters In Warm Winds

DES MOINES, Sept. 12 (AP)—Summer again turned the heat on Iowa today, sending the mercury into the upper 90s when the calendar called for readings 20 degrees below the current searing heights.

Today's high in Des Moines was 96, not quite up to expectations but enough to tie the previous record for the date, set in 1927.

The day's average here was 86 degrees, or 19 points above normal for the date. The mercury also touched 96 at Washington, Ia.

The sun and warm winds conspired to push the temperature to midsummer levels even though the first day of autumn is only a little over a week away.

WMCA License In Jeopardy

FCC Acts After N. Y. Station Broadcasts Secrets of Military

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—The federal communications commission today called upon radio station WMCA of New York City to show cause why it should not be ruled off the air on a charge of intercepting and broadcasting military secrets of Germany and Great Britain.

Officials said it was the first action against any radio station in connection with the handling of European war news.

The FCC said the commission "has information in its possession tending to establish that the Knickerbocker Broadcasting company, Inc., licensee of station WMCA, New York, caused the interception of secret radio communications sent by the governments of Germany and Great Britain, respectively, containing orders to the naval or military forces of said governments to govern the movement of said forces in time of war, and thereafter caused the said messages to be decoded and broadcast over the facilities of station WMCA, all without authority of the respective senders."

The order explained that this country has agreed with foreign governments "to take all the measures possible" to insure the "secrecy of international correspondence."

Russia Opposes Food Hoarders

MOSCOW, Sept. 12 (AP)—Soviet Russia today started a crack-down campaign on food hoarders and speculators following a run on consumers' stocks which was set off by mobilization of reserves for service on the Polish border.

The government newspaper Izvestia announced a decree ordering courts throughout the country to bring speculators to trial, some of them within four or five days.

The defendants were to be presented as "examples" to the rest of the country.

Under law, speculators get at least five days imprisonment.

A Soviet radio broadcast tonight especially mentioned one person accused of hoarding kerosene and two of hoarding flour who would be placed on trial. Kerosene is especially valuable in the Soviet since many people use it for cooking fuel.

Japanese Raid Results in 600 Chinese Deaths

HONGKONG, Sept. 12 (AP)—Delayed dispatches from Chungking said 600 Chinese were killed and a Canadian united church mission and school "wiped out" Monday at Luchow in a Japanese air raid.

The reports said fires destroyed one-third of Luchow, the fourth largest city in Szechuan province. The Canadian missionaries were said to be safe. The mission's home office is in Toronto.

U.S. Will Uphold Monroe Doctrine--Roosevelt

 WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP) — Indirectly but indefinitely, President Roosevelt served notice today that Germans would not be permitted to seize any British or French territory on this side of the Atlantic.

Restating the Monroe doctrine, Mr. Roosevelt made it plain to a press conference that the United States for its own protection would be bound to resist such a move.

At the same time, Mr. Roosevelt said he would have an announcement "soon," on the calling of a special session of congress to revise the neutrality act.

Although Chairman Sabath (D-Ill) of the house rules committee left the presidential office a few hours earlier predicting the session would convene about Oct. 1, Mr. Roosevelt did not set a date.

He merely said that Sabath's guess was as good as that of any of the reporters present.

The discussion of the Monroe doctrine arose when a correspondent began questioning the president about his speech made at Kingston, Ont., last year saying that "the people of the United States will not stand idly by if domination of Canadian soil is threatened by any other empire (than the British Empire)."

The position of the United States toward Canada, in the light of the Monroe doctrine and of that statement by the president, has been the subject of much conversation and speculation here, since Canada joined the rest of the British Empire in declaring war on Germany.

But even more intensively some conversations have dealt with what the United States would do should a victorious Germany seize British and French holdings near the Panama canal, and thereby enable themselves to construct naval and air bases close to that vital passageway.

The Monroe doctrine was enunciated, Mr. Roosevelt said, at a time when a number of portions of Central and South America had won their independence from European sovereignties and had set up republics.

At that time there was talk in Europe of forming a coalition of powers to restore European sovereignty over Central and South America, Mr. Roosevelt added.

Much was written on the subject of the doctrine at the time, said the president, adding that a reading of this literature would disclose that the Monroe doctrine, as accepted by the country at that time, included a definite thought that no European power should reestablish its sovereignty over any section which had gained its freedom. It applied, too, he added, to changes in the sovereignty of sections which had not revolted.

The latter, he went on, were not large, were, in fact, mostly small islands in the West Indies, together with some sections of South America held by England, France and the Netherlands.

Time, he said, brought a general acceptance of the sovereignty of these nations because the United States never had any trouble over them, and they never bothered any American nations, with the exception of one boundary dispute which was settled through the intervention of the United States. But a change in the sovereignty of these sections now might present a different situation, he said.

Thus, Mr. Roosevelt concluded, his statement at Kingston presented not a new statement of the Monroe doctrine but a re-statement of that instrument. And it applies, he added, not only to Canada but to all of the Americas, including British and Dutch Guiana, British Honduras, Guadeloupe, Martinique and other possessions of European powers in this hemisphere.

The press conference swung to a different subject, and the president said he was watching commodity prices, mentioning copper particularly. That metal, he said, could be profitably produced at 12 1/2 cents per pound, but in the world war rose to 28 cents. It was desirable, he said, that a recurrence be avoided. Steel he put in much the same category, but noted that as yet there had been no advance in prices.

He said agricultural commodities presented differing problems at the production and at the retailing end. The cotton price was so low the south would go broke but for soil erosion payments and export subsidies, he continued, expressing a hope that the quotation would go up. As to wheat, he said the price was well below parity, but that parity was not four or five dollars a bushel. He quoted the department of agriculture as saying that the parity price for wheat would be $1.15 to $1.20 per bushel. An increase in the price to that level, he added, would entail only an in-appreciable rise in the cost of bread.

Battle On

BASEL, Switzerland, Sept. 13 (Wednesday) (AP) — Reports reaching Switzerland early today indicated one of the greatest artillery duels in history began during the night in the eastern Moselle valley between Germany's Siegfried and France's Maginot lines.

Shells shrieked high over the border hills.

The Moselle valley has been converted into one of the heaviest fortified regions in the world, with the great Sierck forts on the French side and the strong Trassen area on the other line.

Swiss observers expressed the opinion the British and French staffs were building up an actual assault on the Siegfried line itself in the near future.

International Scene

Freedom Gone

BUDAPEST, Sept. 13 (Wednesday) (AP)—Five men convicted of spreading alarming reports were sentenced to concentration camps today and a Hungarian government announcement in today's newspapers said in the future it would proceed severely against "malicious gossipers."

Confiscate Rubber

BERLIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—Adopting a stringent economy measure, Germany tonight announced the confiscation by the state of every privately-owned rubber tire in the reich.

The confiscation order, issued by the federal bureau for rubber and asbestos with the approval of the ministry of economics, was in conjunction with a decree which virtually prohibits the use of automobiles after Sept. 20.

Collection stations to which citizens will be obliged to bring new, partly used and worn out tires are being established.

Tires in dealers' stock and reserve tires owned by individuals but not actually on cars or spare wheels must be delivered to the collection agencies at once.

Registration materials will be available beginning this morning at the south entrance to Macbride Hall for freshmen, sophomores and upper-classmen.

The First Line Of Defense

NATURALLY THE main attention of Washington, of the present administration, and of Franklin Roosevelt himself is just now on the European situation. The possibility of calling congress into special session to discuss what an apparent majority of Americans favor—the lifting of our present arms embargo. Protecting our shipping from interference by warring nations. Watchful-vigilance for inflammatory propaganda.

In the time of war the main job of any government is to protect the best interests of all its people. As Roosevelt himself has said, "When peace has been broken anywhere, the peace of all countries is in danger." That is an elementary truth, and this is the situation confronting the United States.

But there is an increasing concern among many thinking Americans lest other matters, influenced by war, but mainly concerning the internal development of the United States be forgotten or laid aside during recurrent crises.

Some of us fear that civil liberties are in danger, not from officers of the law or agents of the government but from self-appointed vigilantes who deny freedom to any but their own point of view. The breaking-up of communist meetings in several large cities recently is an example of the trend we mean.

Moreover, because there is a European war, there is no need to shelve all hope of national progress, especially since this is said to be a fight for a more just, democratic, and honorable way of life.

Hysterical anti-strike injunctions on the west coast are more dangerous now than in ordinary times. Economically, too, we need to keep our heads. Despite the president's warning, there has been a good deal of economic unbalance both among producer and consumer. This is especially the case on basic commodities—sugar, lard, flour.

Yesterday's proclamation by the president, releasing 500,000 tons of sugar to prevent a further rise in prices and allay fears of a shortage, is a step. The accompanying assurance, both by the president and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, that there is no danger of a scarcity in any food stuff or a consumer necessity should stop hysteria.

The next step is with farmer, housewife, business man, college professor, all of us. During the last seven years the reforms and restrictions of the new deal have been attacked by pressure groups and business men on the ground that they are unnecessary, that if matters are only left alone, honest cooperation will result.

Now is the time for business and the public generally to prove such statements are sincerely made. Otherwise the present administration will have additional arguments for legislation to prevent operation of personal greed at public expense.

Today, even more than then, the president's dictum at the opening session of congress has deep significance.

"Our nation's program of economic and social reform," he said, "is a part of defense as basic as armaments themselves."

Covering The Front

BEING TOO YOUNG to remember the first World War, we have no first-hand preparation for comparison of news now and a quarter of a century ago. We believe it will not be a mistake, however, to say positively that today's war news and interpretations is much less inflammatory than that of the first World War.

The situation confronting news disseminators today is much different than that of 1914 and after. The press, which was the only medium engaged in the grim and dangerous task of reporting the first conflagration, today is augmented by the radio and the films. Even though they have never before been confronted with such a tremendous assignment, the newsreel producers and the radio industry are joining with the press in placing their complete wisdom and facilities to the task of giving accurate, intelligent coverage to the catastrophe.

Newsreels are facing great difficulties, barriers at the censor's offices being even less impenetrable for them than for the radio and newspaper men.

The radio networks have been doing a Herculean task excellently in at-the-scene broadcasts from the continent. Their problem does not end, however, with the conquering of difficulties surrounding such broadcasts.

Since Orson Welles taught them an unforgettable lesson, most radio stations have ruled out war dramas during these times. The risk of confusion between fiction dramas and real-life dramas with resulting panic among listeners is one most radio executives do not care to take.

"Yellow" journalism and "scare" headlines are at a minimum among metropolitan newspapers, as many readers have observed with satisfaction. The lead that journalists have taken in helping readers distinguish between news and propaganda deserves commendation.

Such policies on the part of the films, the press and radio can be a vital factor in protection of the American public and the government it supports.

RUSSIA'S CHANCE

Two reported events in Moscow may determine the course of the war. One is that Stalin has made up his mind to give Germany a military alliance, and the other is that Russia and Japan are starting negotiations looking toward peace in the Far East.

Both moves are as yet highly problematical, especially in the face of assertions in high Russian quarters that the Soviet army will never march with the Germans. But Stalin is believed to be in favor of both, and Stalin has always had his way.

Sources that now must be credited have long held that Soviet foreign policy since the nazis purged in 1934 has been wrapped around a tortuous pursuit of a Russo-German military alliance. And it is known that Stalin's right-hand man, Premier Molotov, has repeatedly offered Japan a non-aggression pact.

If Stalin's two desires are recognized at this time it may mean that Russian troops, long concentrated at the Polish border, will assume the initiative against Poland. This will leave the Germans free to mass on the western front where French troops are reported to have broken through the Siegfried line. And if Germany needs even more help, Russia would be free to supply it.

Such loyalty on the part of Stalin would seem incredible, unless he believed Russia needs Germany as much as Germany needs Russia. Many observers have held that Russia is near a civil war and that nothing else could explain the great Russian purges.

It may be true that Russia has passed through the civil war, and that it was marked by a wholesale slaughter of those who continued to believe in Bolshevism after Stalin had given it up.

In that case Stalin would be unwilling to pursue the obvious course of waiting until the combatants now engaged in war have exhausted themselves. For this would mean a world-wide resurgence of communism, and if Stalin no longer believes in communism, it might mean his downfall.

But if he acts in conjunction with Hitler, he could divert his people by the glories of foreign conquest. While Germany is forced to stave off the Anglo-French troops, Russia could settle her longstanding quarrel with Poland. After the Polish-Russian war of 1920, Russia had to cede to Poland districts containing about 1,750,000 Ukrainians and White Russians. In addition, Poland forced the Allies to give her former Austro-Hungarian districts containing 3,000,000 Ukrainians—all of which are claimed by the Russian theoretically autonomous republic of Ukraine.

This indicates only the beginning of a potential war of conquest the U. S. S. R. could engage in, if Japan was neutral, while Germany held off the Anglo-French advance.

LEST AULD ACQUAINTANCE BE FORGOT?

A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—George White's new "Scandals" in many ways is just another version of the old familiar Ziegfeld-Carroll-White school, but it has a few facets that will be interesting to people who wonder about Tin Pan Alley. The finale of the first act is an extravagant hurrah to that mythological lane where the late George Gershwin, Irving Berlin, and so many other American composers banged out their tunes and left imprints of their names. It is screwy, of course, as anything relating to Tin Pan Alley would have to be. It is noisy, of course, as the music publishing halls of Broadway must necessarily be. But through it all runs a living flame of all the old tunes.

The rest of the revue is an earthy yet old fashioned hop, skip and jump in the approved Broadway manner. It must be approved, because Broadway has been looking at this sort of thing since the late O. O. McIntyre was Ziegfeld's press-agent. Speaking of McIntyre makes you remember that more than a year and a half has gone by since he passed away. There were

HEALTH HINTS

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

From now on, if you buy a solution that says it will kill germs, it must kill germs. And if you buy a mouth wash or a nose spray that kills germs "in two minutes," it must do that (or it must have an inhibitory effect on prolonged contact). So says Uncle Sam's new Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic law, which also makes several improvements over the old law in respect to labeling drugs. It requires that the active ingredients must be declared on the label, as well as the proportion or quantity of certain potent drugs. For instance, your fat reducer, which is "harmless," must show on the label whether it contains thyroid extract or dinitrophenol, and how much. Omission of a material fact makes a label false. Labels must even declare the existence, if any, of a difference of opinion among qualified scientists. Appear on Label Certain drugs must appear on the label, whether active in the

Stewart Says

War Is Bound To Smash All "Touristism"

Shortly before the last war (the 1914-1918 affair) I wanted to take a trip from London to Constantinople (now Istanbul).

So I dropped in at the U. S. embassy to ask if I needed a passport.

"Yes, sir," said First Secretary William Phillips (our present ambassador in Rome), "you do. It seems hard to believe in this enlightened age, but there still remain in the world two such benighted countries that you have to have a passport to travel in 'em—Russia and Turkey."

However, I got my passport without any trouble. Today, if I wanted to visit as semi-civilized a city as London, I not only would have to have a passport; the probabilities are that I couldn't get one.

I agree that an American should not travel into a danger zone, and then, if he's torpedoed, call on 130,000,000 of the rest of us to avenge him. All the same, the change just goes to show what the last war did for the world. After the current one the chances are that it'll take a passport to journey from township to township. It should knock the tar out of touristism.

Tolerant Britain

I recall another case. This likewise was in the pre-1914-1918 war era. I knew a Spanish anarchist then—a most lovable individual, if you didn't happen to be a plutocrat. He'd been chased out of Spain and was an exile in Paris. The French government took a notion to deport him. It didn't send him back to Spain, where he'd have faced a firing squad, but it shipped him to Dover.

On his arrival the British port authorities inquired, "How much money have you got?"—the idea being to determine whether or not he was fixed to support himself. He had the equivalent of about 30 cents. "Then," observed the authorities, "we'll have to return you to Calais."

"If you do," said the anarchist, "it's evident that I'll spend the rest of my life being shuttled from Calais to Dover, from Dover to Calais and back and forth indefinitely." "Well," rejoined the port officials, "we'll lock you up until we get order from the home office" (which bosses English immigration).

They did it. From the home office came an immediate telegram—"You dubs," in effect, "don't you realize that this bird is no ordinary immigrant? He's a political refugee. Let him in instantly."

Sometimes Funny

Latin governments always have been more touchy than we Anglo-Saxons. Occasionally they've been funny.

Once on a time, when I was European manager for a big American news agency (my headquarters being in London), I had a Paris correspondent of the name F. Warrington Dawson. He quit and was succeeded by William Philip Simms, now a very well-known old world commentator.

"Simmsie" ("Billphil," as I called him) sent to the U. S. A. a dispatch that gave deep offense to the French, and they decided to deport him.

But they got him mixed with Dawson and issued their expulsion order against the latter. Notified, Dawson (a corking loyal pro-Frenchman) hastened, with an American diplomatic supporter, to headquarters to explain himself. Upon conclusion of the conversation the Gallic functionary replied, "You don't talk like an innocent man." Dawson was "expulsed" and Simms never was.

E. H. Gary a Pauper?

Latin America's immigration regulations went loco, among other countries, as a 1914-1918 war complex.

For instance, in my time in Argentina, E. H. Gary sought to call in on the republic. E. H. Gary—the steel magnate—worth 30 or 40 million dollars. He had to give bond that he wouldn't become a public charge.

He was able to do it, but he'd have been stalled at the frontier otherwise. He was trying to enter Argentina from Chile. The Argentine welcomes a good class of immigrants under 60 years old, but it's suspicious of 'em above 60, and Gary was past the deadline.

That "war of nerves" wound up as might have been expected—in a general world-wide nervous breakdown.

dye which has caused blindness. The manufacturers were prosecuted, convicted and fined in 23 counts involving fines of $100 each, but the court announced that on payment of $250 the judgment would be satisfied. I understand that the Ohio woman who was blinded by eyelash dye has spent over $10,000 on hospital expenses. The doctors, I am proud to say, have never charged her anything.

TUNING IN with D. Mac Showers

ARTHUR Q. BRYAN... little man on the Groucho club, and Mel Blank, a professional hiccouger, will furnish the comedy end of the CBS Star theater tonight at 7 o'clock when the program bows after a summer's absence.

The dramatic portion, coming from New York, will be a presentation of "Valley Forge," starring the original portrayer of George Washington, Philip Merivale.

DAVID BROEKMAN'S... orchestra will be heard from Hollywood and Lehman Engel's orchestra will be heard from New York.

A radio personality, a wrestler, a columnist and a movie star make up the diversified list of notables to be interviewed by George Jessel on his "Celebrity Program" over the NBC-Red network this evening at 7:30.

THEY ARE... Arthur Tracy, known to American dialers as "The Street Singer," Frank Leavitt, undoubtedly more familiar as "Man Mountain Dean," the wrestler; Howard Merrill, reputedly New York's youngest columnist, and Marie Wilson, famed Dumb Dora of the screen.

Music is under the baton of Peter Van Steeden and vocals will be by the Stardusters.

STARTING ITS... last month on the NBC network, Dave Elman's "Hobby Lobby" will feature Jane Froman, popular singer, and William Guggenheim, the philanthropist, this evening over NBC-Blue network stations at 6:30.

"Hobby Lobby" will shift to CBS beginning Sunday, Oct. 8 at 4 p. m. This latest change indicates that CBS is building up a strong block of shows for the highly competitive Sunday listening audience.

AS IT STANDS... now, first will come "Hobby Lobby" at 4 p. m., then Ben Ferie at 4:30, "Silver Theater" at 5 and, topping them off, the "Screen Guild Theater" at 6:30.

The Japanese have taken up big swing music, says a cabled dispatch. And Europe, it seems, has gone jitterbug with a vengeance.

The trouble with the last rose of summer is that when it fades it seldom takes the final house fly with it.

University Plans Conference To Answer Freshman Questions

Prof. W. H. Morgan Names Speakers For Week End Sessions

Questions all freshmen ask and puzzle over will be answered during the University of Iowa's conference on wider horizons in college life Saturday and Sunday.

Prof. William H. Morgan of the religious activities office, manager of the 1939 affair, yesterday named the speakers, and listed some questions. He said that about 50 freshmen and 50 women would attend.

Participants are free to bring up any question which bothers them. Among those to be presented, Professor Morgan lists what should be included in an education besides studies, how to choose friends, what activities should be selected, how can a student with little money make the most of things, what about a student's standards in new situations and new groups, what should college mean for religion?

Student-faculty talk fests have been scheduled. Some of the faculty members are President Eugene A. Gilmore, Dean George D. Stoddard, Prof. C. J. Lapp, Prof. M. W. Lampe, Prof. Howard Bowen, Prof. S. H. Bush, and Prof. Ethan Allen.

The group will have its Saturday session at Palisades state park, 30 miles from Iowa City. Numerous upperclass students will participate in the program, giving the newcomers the benefit of their experience.

Student co-chairmen of the conference are Robert Moyers of Guthrie Center and Charline Sagau of Denison.

That Pot of Gold

New Developments in Scientific Cameras Advance Oil Industry

BOSTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Rainbows with a sign language, reflected from an oil-formed film photographed for the first time by the last word in scientific cameras, may bear pots of gold for the oil and automotive industries, it was revealed today.

H. L. Simard, of the Battle Memorial institute, Columbus, Ohio, told the American Chemical society that an "electron camera" had disclosed at last an indication as to why certain automobile parts escape wear even though pressure squeezes out all lubricating oil.

He said the camera had detected a "solid film"—almost unbelievably thin—on the surface of the tested metal, and ultimately it was found that the film was formed by the reaction of substances contained in the squeezed out oil.

The camera works this way. A beam of fast electrons directed at a surface under test. Electrons will penetrate only three-millionths of an inch. If a film is present, the beam is scattered, or diffracted, in accordance with the crystalline structure of the surface of the film. The character of the diffraction is then recorded on a photographic plate in patterns that resemble rainbows, and sometimes "northern lights."

● Not So Good
● Enough Said
● Just About Over

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—The September drive is on in the National League, with the Cubs on the heels of the Cards, the Cards on the heels of the Reds, and the Reds on their own heels. As one who picked the Reds to finish first, this corner isn't a bit alarmed by the diminishing Cincinnati lead. No more worried, in fact, than if we stepped into an elevator which had just left. We just wish, though, that someone would tell them they will have to play more than 474 ball to finish before St. Louis, or Christmas, for that matter.

Not So Good
That's the kind of ball the Reds have been playing since July 30, when they reached a peak of .667 with 60 victories against 30 defeats, and were an even dozen games ahead of the Cardinals. While the Reds have been advancing backwards very rapidly until, through yesterday, their lead was a slim 3 1-2 games, the Cardinals have been booming along at a .683 clip over the same period, or .698 if the doubleheader they won July 30 is included. Winning 28 and losing only 13 games since July 30, the Red Birds have sliced 8 1-2 games from the Cincinnati margin.

The Cardinals are rolling toward the front behind a power barrage. Through the week ending last Sunday they scored a total of 60 runs, 22 more than Cincinnati, and 48 more than the phrantic Phillies, whose total of 12 offers mute testimony of why they are in last place. As the pennant race appears to be sifting down to a battle between the Reds and Cards, jockeying for positions is evident all down the line. The Phillies seem to have beaten back all rivals for eighth place, but the Boston Bees are having it out with the slipping Pirates for sixth place. The Giants have cut drift from the pack and are floating around alone in fifth place, but the Cubs, in third place, are looking back apprehensively toward the surprising Brooklyn Dodgers.

Up to today the Reds had 26 games remaining, and the Cardinals 22. They have four games remaining against each other, and those games might well decide the team which will finish first. Just About Over As far as the American league is concerned, the race has dwindled into an attempt of the Yankees to set a record. They won in 1927 by 19 games with a percentage of .714. Today they were sailing along at a .716 clip, with a lead of 17 1-2 games. We still like the Reds, which seems to make it unanimous. So do the other clubs. They're giving them everything, including the works. But Cincinnati is better than a 474 ball club, and any change between now and the end of the season would have to be for the better. As for the Cardinals, we've quit trying to figure them out. We figured them out at the start of the season, and look where they are.

Heavy Work
MADISON, Wis., Sept. 12 (AP)—Passing, kicking, dummy blocking and tackling took up most of the time of the University of Wisconsin football workout today. Tony Gradinski, Milwaukee, and Ed Wegner, Cudahy, Wis., looked best at pass receiving. Coach Harry Stuhldreher said the team would scrimmage Saturday.

Chisox Score Twice in Eighth To Defeat Washington Senators
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox scored twice in the eighth inning today on two singles and a double error by George Case for a 3 to 2 victory over Washington. The Sox were trailing when pitcher Thornton Lee singled in the eighth, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on Mike Kreevich's single. Rip Radcliff then hit a liner to Case in right field. Case dropped the ball and then threw it wild, permitting Kreevich to reach home. Washington finished the game under protest over a double play in the sixth inning. Taft Wright lifted a pop fly to Gerald Walker in left. Walker dropped the ball after holding it briefly and threw to shortstop Eric McNair, who tagged out Johnny Welaj, who had been in first base. The umpires ruled Walker held the ball long enough to make an out.

Nat. Amateur Develops Into Party for Irish

By EARL HILLIGAN
CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—Faith and begorra, 'twas a great day for the Irish! Three sons of old Erin—Tom Sheehan, Maurice McCarthy and B. Patrick Abbott—made the national amateur golf championship's windup qualifying program their own party today. And as true Irishmen are wont to do, they swung their "shillelaghs" in a grand battle amongst themselves. Sheehan, a husky 22 year old youth who is learning the gear mechanics business in Detroit, came out of the scrap on top with a great 36-hole total of 139. It gave him medalist honors—and more. His aggregate clipped two shots off the all-time 36-hole qualifying record for the 43 year old championship, which tomorrow will send 64 players into match play. McCarthy, a copper pipe salesman from Cincinnati and long-time amateur star, was the kingpin most of the day with a 142 total before Sheehan took command. Shortly after Sheehan had come grinning off North Shore's 18th green, Abbott posted his 143 total, which gave him third place in the qualifying duel. Sheehan, a blond husky who captained Notre Dame's golf team two straight seasons before graduating last June, went out in 34, two under par and came back in 25, one under par. He never tightened up before the huge gallery which followed him. He took a bogie at the 13th, then battled back gamely for a birdie at the next hole. He also birdied the tenth on the "in" nine. His three under par 69, added to a first round 70, lowered by two strokes the old qualifying mark made by Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati in the 1933 championship. McCarthy, with a 70 yesterday, went out in 38 and came home in 34 today, giving a great display of iron play. Abbott, a movie extra who was a finalist last year against champion Willie Turnesa, had a card of 35-37-72 today, even par, to add to his first round 71. His round included an eagle on the 492-yard par five hole. Turnesa, with a 74 today for a 149 aggregate, was well within in the qualifying field but there were more than a score of players over his total. Harry Haverstick of Lancaster, Pa., who had a pace-setting 68 yesterday, fell off to a 76 and was in the 144 bracket with Ross (Sandy) Somerville, former champion, who had 73 today.

Another ex-champion, Johnny Goodman, who won the national open title here in 1933, was at 145, a stroke ahead of such well known as Marvin (Bud) Ward and Dick Chapman, the latter a 1938 semi-finalist at Oakmont. Among the many who failed to qualify was Gus Moreland of Feoria, Ill., the 1938 medalist. Moreland had a 78 today for a 158 total.

Champ's Ready
DETROIT, Sept. 12 (AP)—Sparting partners jabbed Joe Louis hard and often in a six-round workout at suburban Northville today but the men who handle the world's heavyweight champion were not in the least upset. "Joe is ready and I know that he's ready so why beat up sparring partners?" asked Trainer Jack Blackburn.

Maintain Lead Of 3 1/2 Games Over Cards

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12 (AP)—Some late but timely clouting by Billy Myers and Buck McCormick enabled the Reds to come from 'way behind for a 10-inning 3 to 2 decision over the Brooklyn Dodgers today to maintain their 3 1/2 game pace at the head of the National League. With Bucky Walters tossing a five-hitter over the overtime route for his 24th victory, the Reds won when Myers belted a two-run homer with two out in the ninth to tie the score and McCormick drove the game-wrecking tally across with a single in the 10th. Until the ninth, Brooklyn's "Hot Potato," Luke Hamlin, blanked the Reds with seven hits. The defeat was his 11th of the season against 17 wins and snapped the Dodgers' six-game winning streak.

Heat Slows Hawkeyes

A hot sun, the last thing in the world Coach Eddie Anderson and his assistants wanted to see, beat down on the practice field yesterday, making anything smacking of heavy work out of the question. It did not, however, prevent the grid candidates from getting a workout. Morning and afternoon they were asked to don uniforms and engage in signal and passing drills. Late in the afternoon, when the heat became unbearable, and after each player had put in a good session on the tackling dummy, they were allowed to doff their uniforms in favor of light trunks for the remainder of the session—that is all but Henry Luebecke. The big boy was allowed to doff his uniform, but had to appear later in a sweat suit. All this, of course, is calculated to reduce Luebecke to the point where he will regain the speed he flashed in his sophomore year. Fundamentals and timing appear to be the order of the day in the early workouts. Some of the time has been spent in running of plays. If the first two days of practice are a true indication of the style of play employed by Anderson, it would appear that Iowa fans will be treated to some first class aerial fireworks when the season gets under way. Nile Kinnick has spent much of the time in conditioning his tossing arm for the grid to come. In addition to his arm exercises, Kinnick has put in more than a little time punting and placement kicking. Late yesterday afternoon he booted 50 successive tries over the goal posts before Anderson called a halt to the proceedings when it appeared Kinnick might go all night without missing. Although there have been no injuries to date, three of the men are temporarily limping with blistered feet that have slowed them somewhat. Al Couppee, Ed McLain and Fred Smith are among the blistered-foot brigade.

Late Clouting Wins for Reds

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12 (AP)—Some late but timely clouting by Billy Myers and Buck McCormick enabled the Reds to come from 'way behind for a 10-inning 3 to 2 decision over the Brooklyn Dodgers today to maintain their 3 1/2 game pace at the head of the National League. Home Run Ends Latest Yankee Winning Streak
NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—Young Ossie Grimes hit a home run to lead off the tenth inning today, giving the Cleveland Indians a 4 to 3 victory over the Yankees and snapping the world champions' eight-game winning streak. The defeat, coupled with the Boston Red Sox victory, sliced the Yanks' American league lead to 16 games, and still left them needing four more decisions to clinch the pennant. Grimes' homer came at the expense of Lefty Gomez, who went the whole way for the Yanks and suffered his seventh loss of the season against 12 victories. Mel Harder, route-going hurler for the Tribe, chalked up his 12th victory against eight losses. Joe DiMaggio, unable to hit in five batting chances, dropped behind the 400 batting mark for the season, but became eligible for the loop's hitting championship by boosting his time-at-bat for the year to 402, two over the required minimum. The Indians scored single runs in the second on Bruce Campbell's double and Rollie Hemley's single. The seventh, on singles by Harder, Lou Boudreau and Roy Weatherly and a walk, and the eighth on Grimes' single, Ken Keltner's base hit and Campbell's sacrifice. The Yanks touched Harder for their first tally in the sixth, and then tied the score in the eighth, with a pair, driven across by singles by Bill Dickey and George Selkirk, which sent the game into overtime.

Notre Dame Star To Coach Frosh Squad

Another Notre Dame football star has been added to the University of Iowa coaching staff, Willard "Bill" Hofer, Irish quarterback for the past three seasons, being the new addition. Hofer takes over the job as head freshman coach vacated last week when Bill Osanski, all-American under Anderson at Holy Cross and star of the recent all-star game in Chicago, decided to cast his lot with the Chicago Bears of the National Professional football league. Standing five feet 11 inches tall and weighing 190 pounds, Hofer majored in physical education at Notre Dame. His football career at the South Bend institution was hindered by a series of knee injuries, the first occurring during 1937, his sophomore year. A subsequent operation proved successful enough to get Hofer back into the grid wars, but it wasn't until his senior year, last year, against Northwestern, that the burly quarterback had his big day. In that game he scored all the points that enabled the Irish to defeat the Wildcats in a bitter battle, 9-7. A 65-yard gallop with an intercepted pass and a boot from placement were the means employed by Hofer in piling up the winning points. He played in the all-star game against the New York Giants and also with a group of all-stars against the St. Louis Gunners. He will be assisted in his coaching duties by Glen Devine and Ted Svenson.

Homers Defeat Boston Bees For Chicago
CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—Hank Leiber and Rip Russell hit homers, Leiber with the bases loaded, and Billy Herman stole home today to help Bill Lee score his 17th triumph as the Chicago Cubs trounced the Boston Bees, 8 to 3. Leiber's four run homer came in the opening inning off Bill Poseedel with none out after Stan Hack and Herman had singled and Augie Galan had walked.

Cards Keep Pace With Leading Reds

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Cardinals remained on even footing with the leading Cincinnati Reds today by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies, 4 to 3 in the first game of their final home stand. Three of the Redbirds' five hits off Ike Pearson were home runs. The first one was by Joe Medwick in the second inning; the second by Johnny Mize in the fifth and the big one by Terry Moore with one on in the seventh. At that time the Phillies were leading, 3 to 2, having gained the advantage on Joe Maly's homer with one on. The Phils worked a double steal with runners on first and third to score their first run.

Local Executive Board Lays Plans To 'Keep the Red Cross Ready' in 1939

County Group Will Try For 2,150 Members

Annual Roll Call Will Begin Nov. 11 Under Dale Welt

Under the 1939 slogan, "Keep the Red Cross ready," 20 members of the Johnson county chapter executive board of the American Red Cross met last night in the public library with two field representatives to discuss plans for the annual roll call drive which will begin in Iowa City on Nov. 11.

Plans to relieve immediate needs in the European war were touched upon only lightly, preference having been given to feasible ways of enrolling at least 2,150 new members in the Red Cross this year.

Davis Is Chairmann
In view of the fact that only 1,269 persons in Johnson county expressed their support last year, the executive committee seemed confident in adopting the allotted quota of 2,150 last night.

Don Davis, chairman of the Johnson county chapter, who presided at last night's meeting, reminded those present that the 1,269 enrolled last year included mostly personnel of hospitals, large business organizations and other groups, and excluded large portions of the residential and rural districts.

George H. Hubert and Ralph Bain, field representatives, explained setups in other communities and suggested various methods of procedure in conducting the annual roll call drive.

County Advances
Hubert said that Johnson county last year advanced its competitive standing with other chapters, and showed a definite increase of enrollment over the previous year. At his suggestion, a fund of $100 was allotted to Dale W. Welt, newly elected Johnson county roll call chairman, to cover expenses of the November drive.

Hubert pointed out that three qualifications must be met before the local chapter can successfully execute its campaign. First, he said, is leadership, "which we have in Mr. Welt." The second, Hubert explained, is organization, "in which we are lacking, but in which there have been marked signs of improvement."

The third requisite, according to Hubert, is a sufficient number of adequately trained workers. Bain urged the local chapter to send delegates to the second annual state convocation to be held in Des Moines Oct. 27. There, he said, representatives of the various Iowa chapters will pool ideas in an effort to make the roll call a widespread success.

In closing Bain announced that

Iowa City's 'Number One' Pilot

Lieut. Marion Malcolm, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Malcolm, 725 E. Washington street, is shown above just after he landed the new Stinson 105 belonging to Lain Guthrie of the Guthrie Aircraft company at the Iowa City airport yesterday afternoon. Lieutenant Malcolm is a flying instructor at Randolph field, United States Army training post near San Antonio, Tex., and has returned to Iowa City for a few days' visit and to take part in the Iowa City observance of national air progress week. Yesterday noon, Lieutenant Malcolm spoke at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club in the Jefferson hotel. The flyer is a graduate of Iowa City high school and the University of Iowa college of engineering. According to Mr. Guthrie, Lieutenant Malcolm is Iowa City's "number one" pilot.

Local Air Progress Observance Moves Into Third Day Today

Iowa City's observance of national air progress week moves into its third day today with the usual early morning flying of the dawn patrol and regular evening airport open house proving of general interest about Iowa City.

Of all educational features displayed and explained at the airport during the day and at the official open house from 6:30 to an 11-minute movie, "Footsteps," will be shown at a local theater Oct. 18 to 21. The picture, he said, will illustrate the routine hospital duties of a Red Cross nurse.

Davis announced that the next meeting of the executive board would be held Oct. 10.

Novotny Rites Will Be Today At 2 o'Clock

Couple Were Slain At Farm Residence Near Shueyville

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mr. and Mrs. George Novotny who were found murdered in the kitchen of their farm home one-half mile east of Shueyville, which is about 12 miles north of Iowa City.

The couple was apparently shot Saturday night or early Sunday morning by a person, Sheriff Don McComas described as a "mentally deranged person or someone seeking a large sum of money the couple reportedly kept hidden in the house."

The bodies were found Sunday night by neighbors who investigated after seeing stock from the farm wandering in the road unattended.

No new developments were reported in the case last night by Sheriff McComas and no new clues as to motive for the slaying or as to who the assailant might be were uncovered.

The funeral will be held at the Bohemian Reformed church two miles east of Western and burial will be in the Shueyville cemetery.

of hard fighting which the war has produced.

The Poles have accepted battle on three fronts—north of Lodz, east of Radom and just northeast of the capital itself.

The Germans said they were confident their superior equipment would wear down the thickly-massed Polish forces.

Snipers have been one of the German army's great problems, all the way from the German frontier to Warsaw. The snipers have paid dearly, but the practice still is kept up.

They are to the Germans one of the most annoying factors in the present effort to capture Warsaw. The Polish capital's "civilian force"—snipers—shooting from buildings has disturbed the advance guard of Germans trying to gain a foothold in the city.

A wounded courier arriving at the German border tonight told a story of two comrades being shot in Warsaw's streets. He had four bullet wounds but nevertheless he rode a motorcycle from Warsaw with dispatches.

The Germans have left the countryside relatively thinly occupied with troops. Soldiers have been kept moving close to the fast-advancing fronts.

Thousands of "auxiliary troops" have been rushed into the conquered territory nearest the German border to assist in rebuilding bridges and filling in the ruts on dirt roads.

They commandeered thousands of wagons and teams. They wear dust-colored washable uniforms.

but one colonel, two other officers and 13 soldiers. Thirty minutes later Mayor Starzinski of Warsaw declared many who had fled the city had returned today to aid in defending their homes.

He warned the population to stay at home at night as otherwise they would be arrested. Civil courts will resume their work tomorrow, he added, trying minor cases exempted from martial law. "Many thousands" of young Poles, he related, volunteered today to defend the capital but the army could not accept them all.

Failure of the Warsaw radio station to continue news announcements was interpreted by listeners at Budapest as indicating the fifth day's fighting at the capital had brought little change in the bitter siege.

Iowa City Public Schools Show Increase in Total Registration

High School Reveals 50 More Students Enrolled This Year

A slight increase in total enrollment at Iowa City public schools over the total of last year was noted yesterday by Supt. Iver A. Opstad.

Last year's total was 2,244, Superintendent Opstad reported, and this year's figures reveal an increase of 50 students, bringing the total to 2,294.

Registration figures from the new Iowa City senior high school reveal that there are just 50 more students enrolled there this fall than there were in the senior grades last year.

Increases were also noted at Roosevelt and Henry Sabin schools. Lincoln school's total enrollment remains unchanged from last year.

Decreases were reported in junior high school where there are 10 less students and at Kirkwood, Longfellow and Horace Mann grade schools.

Here is a tabulation of the enrollment figures for this year as compared with those of last year.

	1939	1938
Senior High	776	726
Junior High	340	350
Longfellow	460	471
Horace Mann	328	330
Henry Sabin	231	220

Jury Reviews Coroner's Report On Fatal Fire

The coroner's report of findings recorded by the official reporter during the recent coroner's hearing regarding the death of Mrs. Carl Williams, who was burned to death in a rural farm home fire recently has been turned over to members of the coroner's jury, it was announced yesterday by County Coroner

George Callahan. The jury members, who were present at the hearing in which several witnesses were questioned, were asked to review the notes. No action has been taken on the case as yet, Callahan reported, and the jury is not expected to make a report of its findings for a few days.

Funeral Set For Tomorrow

Otto J. Greazel Services Will Be At St. Wenceslaus

Funeral service for Otto J. Greazel, 52, 1009 E. College street, who died suddenly at his home Monday night, will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow at St. Wenceslaus church. He will be buried in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mr. Greazel, a prominent plumber and life-long resident of Iowa City, was married in 1909 to Anna Dvorsky of Newport.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, Leo and Melvin Greazel, both of Iowa City; three daughters, Mrs. Albert Venzke, Frytown; Mrs. Robert Bincent, West Branch, and Helen Greazel, Iowa City; three grandchildren: two brothers, Fred Greazel, Iowa City, and Edward Greazel, Washington, D. C.; four sisters, Mrs. George Burger, Mrs. Frank Dvorsky, Mrs. William Cerny and Mrs. Laura Ward, all of Iowa City.

The body will remain at the McGovern funeral home until the service tomorrow.

Among them are 18-year-old youths of the labor service. These auxiliary troops form the only visible signs of occupation in some areas.

Germany's army moved along as though on concrete highways like those in Germany. I saw but two German armored cars out of commission, evidently rendered so by hand grenades.

I passed two Polish cars battered to pieces. Alongside each was a mound of fresh dirt with a cross and a helmet hung over the cross.

Motors carried the entire German army into the campaign. Railways were useless as the Poles dynamited all bridges and railway switches when retreating. I saw only one rail line in operation and that was just inside Poland in Silesia.
