First Bodies Taken From Stricken Sub

Squalus Dead Removed From Ocean Tomb

Board of Inquiry Ready To Investigate Cause of Disaster

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 15 (Friday) (AP)—Bodies of five of the 28 men drowned in the submarine Squalus when it sank off this port May 23 were removed from within the vessel's mucky hull and carried ashore early today at the navy yard.

First of the victims to be identified was John P. Hathaway, fireman, first class, whose address was given as San Diego, Cal.

Survivors of the Squalus' fatal plunge stood stiffly at attention as the first huddled form was gently handed through a hatch in a tense scene under the glare of floodlights.

Work continues

Salvage workers returned into the hull at once to begin carrying out the other bodies.

They said some bodies were seen in the engine room and others in the after torpedo room, where they were found in a group around a ladder leading toward a hatch.

The bodies were to be taken to the navy yard medical building, where it was hoped to identify them through marks and identification bands on their clothing.

A naval official from Washington was stationed at the medical building with records and data to aid in identifying the victims.

The navy men's grim task of carrying out their dead shipmates began when the Squalus was lashed to a pier a few minutes after rising buoyantly to the harbor surface during intensive pumping operations.

To Drydock

Navy officials expressed belief the submarine could be guided into a nearby drydock before sunrise. A naval board of inquiry was on hand to examine the ship to determine the cause of its sinking during diving operations 15 miles off this port.

Thirty-three of the Squalus' crew were rescued through a diving bell within 48 hours after it plunged 240 feet to the ocean bottom, apparently because an induction valve remained open.

Towed into the harbor yesterday, after two earlier tows shoreward, the submarine's stern had rested on the harbor bottom.

As midnight neared, the fish-like vessel rolled, and then the after section broke the surface, leaving the vessel in an almost normal floating position. It had a list of a few degrees to port and was down but slightly at the stern.

Polish Troops Slowly Fall Back Under Slashing Attacks

BUDAPEST, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Ukraine, which suffered severely in every war and every peace treaty in recent years, again was turned into a bloody battlefield today as Polish troops began slowly to fall back across southeastern Poland under the terrific pressure of a slashing German attack.

German assault units claimed to have cut the main highway between Lublin and Lwow, thus beginning amputation of the Ukraine from the rest of unconquered Poland while German-Slovak motorized columns opened a direct attack on Lwow.

(Lublin is about 100 miles southeast of Warsaw and Lwow about 225 in the same direction.)

Lwow Digs In

Despite disorganization resulting from repeated terrific bombings, Lwow's Polish defenders claimed to have beaten off a motorized attack. They were reported continuing to "dig in" in emulation of their countrymen's heroic defense of Warsaw, where the first heavy autumnal rains were reported to have fallen, much to the joy of the city's defenders who felt the rain would bog down Germans' motorized forces.

(The German high command announced in Berlin that a German iron circle had been closed around Warsaw and that Polish divisions north of Lodz, 70 miles southwest of the capital, were fighting stubbornly in defense of the city.)

Prisoner Exchange?

BERLIN (AP)—The German government, through the Swedish embassy which represents Polish interests in Berlin, suggested yesterday the exchange of several thousand German civilians being held in Polish camps for an equal number of Polish war prisoners. The Polish government was reported here to have declined.

Leading Steel Producer Says 'No Increase' in Price in 1939

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14 (AP)—In the face of rapidly expanding output and higher basic materials costs, the nation's leading steel producer announced tonight its prices for the remainder of 1939 will be unchanged.

But it added a possibly significant warning that after December 31, goods will be invoiced "at the price in effect at the date of shipment."

This reaffirmation of prices by U. S. Steel's largest subsidiary, the Carnegie-Illinois steel corporation, was expected to be followed quickly by the remainder of the industry.

As some observers pointed out however, the announcement meant very little to consumers, since virtually all the large producers are booked almost to capacity for

French Drive Nets Prisoners On West Front

Germans Retreat Before Saarbruecken On Siegfried Line

By TAYLOR HENRY
PARIS, Sept. 14 (AP)—A strong French drive which forced the Germans into retreat before Saarbruecken and gave the French many prisoners was reported tonight from the western front.

French troops were reported pressing the Germans hard, taking prisoners as they penetrated the advance key positions of the Siegfried line and the rich Saar industrial valley.

It was apparent the Germans were retreating under cover of a barrage of tons of high explosive shells fired by their heavy batteries on the line of hills south of Saarbruecken.

French motorized columns were in the van of the push. Tonight's official French communique telling of the action reported:

"Local advances during the course of which we took prisoners."

Highways Destroyed

An intense German bombardment was reported tonight to have destroyed main highways and railroads along which the French troops were moving to the attack on Saarbruecken. The population of the rich industrial city long since has been moved out.

Today's operations against Saarbruecken were the first in which sufficient prisoners were taken to merit announcement in an official communique of the French general staff.

Prisoners were known to have been taken before this but they had been considered only isolated units captured by raiding parties for the purpose of questioning—the usual preliminary to a major drive.

When big German guns started pounding French lines late yesterday corps commanders reportedly took immediate measures to brace their troops for a possible German attack in force to drive the French back before Saarbruecken.

Covers Retreat

After the heavy shelling continued throughout last night and today without a German attack, it apparently became obvious to French commanders that the barrage was to cover a retreat of Nazi troops falling back slowly on the main Siegfried line positions.

It was reported that despite the rain of projectiles hampering their main lines of communications, French divisions were ordered to advance and occupied German positions as fast as the nazis pulled out.

Temperatures Hit New Highs; Faint Hope Held for Relief

City Schools Close As 'Mid-July' Weather Strikes Middlewest

DES MOINES, Sept. 14 (AP)—Seemingly taking a tip from the market, thermometers rallied at several Iowa points today to dispel former seasonal highs.

Continuing to soar for the fourth consecutive day, the "mid-July" temperatures forced numerous schools to close. The weather bureau held only faint hope that showers might break the searing heat wave in the northwestern section of the state tomorrow.

Cool breezes from the northern Rocky mountain region, the weatherman explained, have been jammed up by barometric conditions which have let in the hot winds from the south and southwest.

Among the cities in which schools were shut down because of the discomforting heat were Des Moines, Audubon, Clinton, Muscatine, Sioux City, Mason City, Davenport and Newton.

New highs for the day were as common as straw hats pressed into post-season service.

Fl. Dodge's observer reported a maximum of 101 1-2 degrees. Residents of that city have had 100-degree readings for the last three days.

Close behind was Sioux City with a new high for the day, 100 degrees, exceeding by three points the mark made on the corresponding day of 1895.

Anti-Church Fight Over? National Unity Calls For Religious Peace In War-Torn Reich

BERLIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—The war has quieted Nazi strife with the church, protestant confessional synod quarters said today.

Anti-church agitation has ceased, according to these sources, and church authorities are striving to eliminate it completely for the sake of national unity.

Politics in sermons are now excluded, it was said, and most sermons are built on the theme that the war is the "punishment of God for falling away from Christ."

Confessional church sources said that services, despite the war, are "only slightly better attended" than in peace time, contrasted with 1914 when churches were overfilled. This was attributed by these sources to government anti-church activity. War prayer hours have been gradually introduced.

Great numbers of evangelical ministers either are fighting in the war or have been mustered for service. It was estimated that as many as 42 per cent of the ministers may be called up. Retired pastors are replacing those called away.

As Squalus Is Raised From Stem to Stern First Time

The periscope and conning tower of the United States submarine Squalus which foundered off Portsmouth, N. H., breaks water as the submersible is raised, from stem to stern, for the first time since salvage operations were begun. Shortly after, the stern of the craft again sank to the ocean bottom. But early this morning the huge craft had been towed to Portsmouth navy yard, and the first bodies of the 2 dead men aboard the undersea craft were removed. The submarine sank after a test dive May 23.

A Strange Alliance Born of Europe's War

SEATTLE, Sept. 14 (AP)—with the king's own Yorkshire light infantry in London, India and Burma.

"If I were in London now, I would be in the thick of things—where I want to be. We all agree we want to get back to Europe as quickly as possible, and the Themoni looks like the best bet."

Both he and Karl Julius Bracknies, 27, a German, lost their fathers in the World war, fighting on opposite sides. The Polish youth is Stanislaus Lakonski.

Frederick Leopold Schwarz, another of the Germans, who deserted ship in New York City several years ago, said:

"We feel just like anyone else. Our country is at war and we will fight for our country."

He and his two fellow-Germans were a little uncertain how they would get to Germany after reaching the other side, but insisted they wanted to go.

Reich's Armies Forge Ahead Toward East

Germany Takes Steps To Combat British Blockade; Gdynia Falls

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER
BERLIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—German communiques tonight reported the reich's armies forging ahead in the east, though meeting strong Polish resistance north of Lodz, while the high command ordered action to meet what was called Britain's efforts to halt food shipments to Germany.

In another theater of action, Gdynia, Poland's only port city was reported by the Germans to have surrendered after a 13-day siege. Gdynia, at the extreme northern tip of the disputed corridor, had been under fire of German warships and land batteries since the war's start, Sept. 1.

Virtually the entire Gdynia hinterland was long ago taken by Nazi troops. A small stretch of the northern port, however, where Polish batteries were located, was still reported holding out this morning even after the rest of the city had given in.

No Value Now

With the surrounding territory gone, the port was regarded by the Germans as having little strategic value so far as the war's progress was concerned. Of greater importance was a high command announcement that the circle around Warsaw had been closed and communications severed between Lublin and Lwow.

(Lwow is about 225 miles southeast of Warsaw. Lublin is about midway between the two cities.)

Polish divisions north of Lodz, 70 miles southwest of the capital, were reported waging a stubborn fight against capture in what was regarded here as the biggest battle of the war. Now in its fifth day, this engagement was upsetting German predictions that these Polish legions would be destroyed within three days.

The high command, meanwhile, instructed German submarines and warships on the high seas to begin an immediate "counter blockade" as an answer to Britain's determination to prevent foodstuffs from reaching the reich.

Results Uncertain

Just how the blockade war will develop appeared uncertain tonight. Authoritative quarters said Germany would not start molesting vessels carrying foodstuffs and clothing until the British did.

Official eyes were fixed on the reaction of neutral states to Britain's announcement in regard to contraband goods. The reich expected neutrals to exert themselves to defy Britain and keep trade lanes to Germany open for the "normal" amount of goods Germany usually buys from them.

Volunteer Sleuths Join Battle Against American Saboteurs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Many volunteer sleuths have written the justice department accusing individuals of sabotage, Attorney General Murphy disclosed today.

He indicated, too, that such letters, many from cranks, had added considerably to the burden of anti-espionage work put on the federal bureau of investigation by the outbreak of Europe's war.

Each case is being investigated, Murphy said, and must be handled responsibly.

The FBI's force already has been increased from 800 to 950, chiefly to afford more manpower for combatting espionage and sabotage. Murphy said it could be increased still further by executive order of the president, if necessary.

He said it was the intention of

Senator Sees Move As 'Intervening Act'

Charles Lindbergh Ends Volunteer Army Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh completed today his volunteer army service of about five months. Secretary of War Woodring announced that the flier was "being relieved from inactive duty in the war department." No further light was shed on his plans.

Lindbergh was unexpectedly summoned to duty April 19. An air corps reserve officer, he served two weeks on active duty and since May 2 has been serving in an inactive training status, without pay.

Britain Drives To Halt Reich's War Supplies

By MAX HARRELSON
LONDON, Sept. 14 (AP)—The British government today intensified its drive to halt the flow of war supplies to Germany, declaring that "already large quantities of contraband have been stopped and prevented from reaching the enemy."

The first public notice of a war prize cargo published today stated that approximately 5,900 tons of phosphate from the American freighter, Warrior, of Mobile, Ala., was now lying in barges at Purfleet to be sold by order of the marshal of the admiralty.

No Details

When the cargo was seized and other details were not given.

(The Phosphate Export association in New York said the Warrior's cargo had been paid for in cash by a German buyer prior to the ship's departure and that the association had no further interest in it. The association offices here said it had received no direct word of the seizure by the British.)

(Lloyds register lists the Waterman Steamship Corporation of Mobile as the owners of the 7,551-ton Warrior.)

Government Declares Large Quantities Of Contraband Held

Secretary Hull notified the warring nations that the American government is standing in every way, upon its rights as a neutral under international law. Any violations of those rights, he said, will evoke such action from this country "as may seem most practical and prudent."

The justice department was drafting "anti-profiteering" legislation. Attorney General Murphy said the purpose was to have the legislation ready for possible submission to congress in case it were needed to prevent "gouging" of consumers through excessive prices.

Budget Improvements

Secretary Morgenthau announced that the treasury was studying the possibilities of an improved budgetary position as a result of the war. Rising commodity prices, might mean a saving on farm benefit payments, for instance, he said, and an upturn in business would reduce relief costs.

From the federal reserve board came word that the reserve banks bought $230,000,000 of government securities in the week which closed Sept. 13, for the purpose of avoiding any undue decline in the price of those obligations.

Stephen T. Early, the president's press secretary, told newsmen that developments in the war, the activities of submarines, and the sinking of the British liner Athenia influenced Mr. Roosevelt to summon the special session of congress.

Borah Opens Battle

Although the debate on the arms embargo question has been running on intermittently for months, and became an issue of first rank importance with the outbreak of the war abroad, Borah's speech, in a sense, opened the battle of the senate bloc which is opposed to repeal.

Government Stands Upon Neutral Rights

Steps to Prevent American Participation Continue in U. S.

By RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Senator Borah (R-Ida) denounced the proposed repeal of the embargo on arms shipments to Europe's belligerents tonight as an act of intervention in the conflict abroad, likely to be followed by America's armed participation.

"If in a few months we can tear up the law which a nation almost universally approved," he asked in a radio speech, "how long do you think it will take to put across the proposition of sending our young men into the trenches, once we have intervened?"

New Developments

Borah's address came at the close of a day which saw several developments in connection with the war abroad and the special session which is to convene next Thursday to consider repealing the embargo and other changes in the neutrality act.

Volunteer Sleuths Join Battle Against American Saboteurs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, the FBI director, to make as much use as possible, however, of police academy graduates in counter-espionage. The FBI academy has trained 500 officers of various cities and states in the technique of uncovering espionage and subversive activities.

Hoover, the attorney general said, plans to work out a system of cooperation with anti-espionage units guarding industrial plants.

Asked whether such a step could not turn into a "labor-baiting campaign," Murphy said that it could and that he was very much opposed to any such development.

He recalled how people with German names and German antecedents were "hounded" during the world war without any reason.

There's No Embargo On Raw Material

IF SENATORS AND representatives possessed a mystic foresight, our government would come much nearer approaching Utopia. As it is, they have no such clairvoyance, and many mistakes have been made in writing the statutes on our books.

When the present neutrality legislation was designed it was meant to keep us out of war; in the present world where international lawlessness is so widespread it is doubtful if any law is enough in itself to prevent American intervention. We find that within a week of England's declaration of war our statutes put us in a position of aiding the opponents of our fellow democracies.

The embargo which the present law requires prevents shipment of war materials to Canada or to the European democracies. That's fine—on paper.

The effects aren't quite so fine. The Canadian parliament cabled to King George VI last Sunday the following declaration of war: "We do hereby declare and proclaim that a state of war with the German reich exists and has existed in our Dominion of Canada as and from the tenth day of September, 1939."

For more than 100 years the United States and Canada have had an unfortified border between them. In national interests, ideas and morals Canada and the United States are almost twins. The only barrier between the two nations has been the tariff wall, a tariff wall which many Americans believe should not exist.

It seems incongruous, then, that the law requires the president to enforce an embargo forbidding the shipment of material for war use to Canada. It seems especially senseless when the embargo's enforcement will be ineffective as concerns shipments of raw materials to Canada, materials which will be made into war stuffs by Canadian labor.

We would not be in favor of American shipments of materials to the democratic belligerents if such shipments will involve the United States in actual combat; however, when enforcement of the embargo makes us a silent partner to Adolf Hitler, we can only hope that the United States congress will consider carefully the proposals to be put before it.

Business Takes The Lead

MOST Americans are convinced that they want the United States to stay out of war. They are anxious, therefore, to contemplate every action and word to be sure it is both just and of such a nature that it will not stir up American war fever.

One man whose attitude succeeds in this direction is W. Gibson Carey Jr. Mr. Carey is president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Late last week he sent a message to all members of the chamber.

Because it is one of the most commendable moves we have noticed since German troops marched and Britain declared war, we wish to let you read it, too. "At this moment," Carey said, "when another devastating war is under way, I wish, as president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, to make the following statement:

"We business men, as all others, are aghast at the prospect of slaughter and misery abroad. We wish no profit advantage through the wrecking of great cultural and spiritual values which have been built painfully and slowly through generations of thought and effort. We want peace in the world. "In order to fulfill our destiny nobly, we must solve our domestic problems. We are apt to forget that we ourselves are not at war and that, God willing, we shall avoid such a catastrophe. "The essential thing is for us to build our national strength on self-discipline, productivity and good will. This is the time for maximum effort, great tolerance and fervent prayer.

"I ask that the National Chamber's entire membership, consisting of state and local chambers of commerce, trade and industrial associations, companies and individuals, join with all other constructive groups in their communities and in their fields in an endeavor to bring about understanding. The genius of our country is in its people. It is in our capacity for representative government in our cities, counties and sovereign states, with a federal administration coordination. We must work assiduously to solve, to the maximum degree, such burning problems as unemployment and relief, labor relations, farm prices and taxes. Also, inasmuch as a strong national fiscal position is of such vital importance, it seems clear that everything possible should be done to persuade localities and states to cease demanding or even accepting, unnecessary federal funds.

"I believe I am expressing the views of business men generally when I say that the course of action indicated will be in accord with our interests as a nation, and that it will be welcomed by a federal government which will unquestionably have many pressing problems to solve. In this way, business improvement may be encouraged to the end that the return of men to useful employment may continue. "

Mr. Carey's suggested attitude is worthy of emulation.

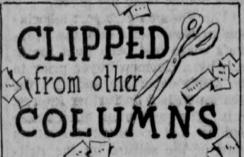

No Tower For Him

THE AMERICAN public is fond of the English monarch. They were fond, too, of his brother Edward, fond enough to raise an awful howl when he was exiled.

It must give many a feeling of satisfaction to read of the return of the ex-king to England. Although the king's departure was much bigger news than his return, the return of Edward is just about as significant in the play of world events.

When he abdicated, Edward said that if England ever needed him, he hoped he would be allowed to serve her. The conditions surrounding the advent of war cause his native countrymen to allow him to return to live again as an Englishman.

Curious, however, is the change that has been wrought in English customs by the years. Not so many decades ago he would have been imprisoned in the Tower. Today he lives beside his brother, he is the divinely appointed heir, his brother the king that man elevated to the empire's throne.

THE RAINS CAME

No desperate farmer in our dust bowl ever prayed for rain with more fervor than the beleaguered population of Poland. Now Warsaw reports that the rains have come. This fall deluge is part of the defense system of the Polish republic. It brings into action the old Fabian strategist, General Mud.

The German Blitzkrieg was launched in fortunate weather. Poland is a country of poor roads, especially beyond the Vistula. But four main highways stretch from the German frontier to the heart of the nation. These and the terrain around them have been baked hard by a summer drought that had not ended when the German armies reached the capital. Tanks, armored trucks, mechanized artillery rumbled swiftly across the flat country with only a thin screen of inadequately equipped Polish forces contesting the way. German bombers streaked over the Polish rear through almost cloudless skies. Even the river barriers behind which the main Polish concentration has taken its stand were only narrow ribbons of water threaded with sandbars.

It is an old doughboy's saying that artillery brings the mud. Under the rains the Polish roads, such as they are, will sink, the lowlands will spread into bogs, the rivers will rise into torrents, the heavens will be obscured. Yet the Germans may have foreseen all this, just as the Poles have. They may have backed their advance positions with sufficient strength to strike deeper. They may find ways to manipulate their tank squadrons despite sudden counter-attacks. Their guns lay down the heavier curtain of fire, they control the air and still hold the initiative. But the rains were what the Poles prayed for. If they continue, we shall see what General Mud can accomplish in a crisis. —The New York Times

HOW LONG WILL IT LAST?

Stewart Says Better Balance in War Picture Is Likely as Propaganda Techniques Perfected

In the last World War German propaganda didn't stand much chance in competition with the Allies' propaganda. From very early in the game Germany's means of communication with most other countries was cut off by the severing of its cable.

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Columnist have done so in 1914-18. My conclusion is that we'll get a better balanced picture of this war than we did of the last one. Accounts will conflict, of course, but at least there'll be that conflict.

It may make it easier for neutral countries to stay neutral. Our Pan-American Republics

The Pan-American Republics, too, are more cohesive than they were in 1914-18. With all due respect for President Wilson, the Latin new world, in that era, regarded his administration as a bullying outfit. Quite a few of our southern neighbors were pro-German because Woodrow Wilson was anti-German and they were anti-Wilson.

I lived there, so I know. Today the Pan-Americans manifestly are overwhelmingly with us on the neutrality issue. Even Argentina's yielding — though it doesn't like us very well, because we're such pronounced agricultural competitors.

President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull have wrought the change, mainly as a result of their verbally diplomatic treatment of the southern republics — which just love international super-politeness.

What the heck is an "untoward incident?"

Manhattan Columnist George Tucker Wonders How Cooties Like The War -- We'll See Later

NEW YORK — If I were a Shakespearean actor, or better than that, a director, I think I would possess myself of a recording of Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech to the British people when he told them that Great Britain was at war, and study it again and again.

Count Pourtales was the Kaiser's representative to Russia. This is how the Kaiser instructed Count Pourtales to break the news to the Russian minister of war: "I have the honor, on behalf of my government, to inform your Excellency as follows: "His Majesty, the Kaiser, my august Sovereign, accepts the challenge in the name of the Empire!"

All through his speech I had the impression of listening to something that Shakespeare had written. I thought some fine, intelligent actor who had schooled himself to a supreme moment, was approaching the climax of a great tragedy, and almost automatically I wondered how Maurice Evans, or Charles Laughton, or Leslie Howard, or any of those English actors would have come off with those same lines. It is certain they couldn't have done any better.

What challenge? Everybody was mobilizing and everybody was scared to death. For a period of two days "challenges" like this flew all over Europe. . . . And out of it came the war as the movies and the theater now let us remember it. Barbed wire and muddy trenches, hand grenades, and plump French girls strolling under the apple trees in Normandy. . . . But in the Ledgers are written the names of nine million dead.

One thing this war will do for fiction and for the Broadway stage is to close out one school of writing and usher in another. From now on such plays as "Journey's End" and "What Price Glory" will be "dated." It will be almost impossible to think of 1914-18 as drama material, except in isolated instances, as the Civil war is now used. The terminology will be different. I am already wondering about the cooties. Cooties were a part of the Polius and the Tommies and the Doughboys in the trenches. They belonged, somehow, as a part of the scene. But how will

There are more than 70,000 dentists in the United States, says a statistical item. A painful fact — painstakingly obtained, no doubt.

Corsets are decreed for women this fall. The poor girls — they insist on being in style even if they are forced to stop breathing.

So the last night was in the Press Club, listening to Baukhage tell of World War days in Berlin where he had adventures aplenty as a correspondent. . . . He made a prediction as the evening progressed into morning. . . .

"They'll never do it again," he vowed. . . . "People couldn't take it."

Next day I was on an Iowa-bound bus, with a brief stop in Chicago. . . . Back in the home town, I immediately went to the radio for the crisis news.

It was Berlin calling. NBC had sent a special correspondent by Yankee Clipper. . . . "This is Baukhage speaking," he began, "Germany has just launched an aerial attack on Warsaw, Poland."

TUNING IN with D. Mac Showers

THE HEAVYWEIGHT . . . boxing bout which has been postponed more than once for various reasons including a cold by one of the fighters, will finally be heard tonight at 8 o'clock over NBC-Blue, so we hear. The contest will be between Lou Nova and Tony Galento and will originate in Madison Square garden, New York City.

BUT IF YOU don't care for the fight, I might recommend Guy Lombardo whose "sweetest music this side of heaven" is heard also at 8 o'clock over NBC-Red network stations.

BOB RIPLEY's regular weekly show dramatizing and presenting "Believe it or Not" oddities will be heard tonight at 8:30 over CBS.

GEORGE GERSHWIN . . . melodies from "Porgy and Bess" will be presented by Frank Plack and his concert orchestra as a feature of the maestro's Cities Service concert tonight at 6 bells over NBC-Red.

Another highlight will be the premiere of "Lullaby to a Doll," the new song by Black who will have Lucille Manners sing it.

MISS MANNERS . . . will also sing "Calm as the Night" and Ross Graham will offer "Where my Caravan has Rested."

The orchestra will play "March Militaire," "In the Tavern" and "Ensemble" from "Prince Igor Dances." The ensemble will play "Over the Rainbow."

THEY SAY . . . it's an event when Frank Black composes his own song. The busy NBC general music director is noted for his vocal arrangements of orchestra compositions, his arrangements of classical music in a modern manner, arrangements in jazz of semi-symphonic form and his introduction of singing violins.

However, with the current trend of major maestri to write their own hits, Black has turned songwriter. His melody, "Lullaby to a Doll," to those who have been privileged to hear it, is one of the best and will be on the "Hit Parade" not long after its introduction by Miss Manners tonight.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS . . . on the evening schedule are "Waltz Time" featuring Abe Lyman and his orchestra at 7 o'clock over NBC-Red and the "Johnny Presents" show at 6:30 over CBS.

Among the BEST For Friday 6—Cities Service concert, NBC-Red. 6:30—Johnny Presents, CBS. 7—Plantation party, NBC-Blue. 7—Waltztime, NBC-Red. 7:30—First Nighter, CBS. 8—Guy Lombardo, NBC-Red. 8—Grand Central station, CBS. 8:30—Robert Ripley, CBS. 9—Dance music, NBC, CBS, CBS.

Dick Stable Orchestra To Play For Pledge Prom at Iowa Union

Party Is Climax Of Formal Rushing Of 13 Sororities

While Dick Stable and his orchestra provide a musical background tonight, pledges of the 13 sororities and their escorts will dance from 9 to 1 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union at the annual Pledge Prom, the climaxing event of formal rushing.

Limited numbers of stag cards for this first "cut-in" dance in the history of university parties have been issued to each of the social fraternities. In addition to these men and to the escorts provided for the pledges by the sororities, the Women's Pan-hellenic association has invited a group of university men to serve as special hosts and to assist in introducing men and women.

These hosts will include Jim Hook, C4 of Des Moines; Bob O'Meara, A3 of Cedar Rapids; Richard Witt, A3 of Shell Rock; Frank Brandon, A4 of Iowa City; Richard Feddersen, A3 of Iowa City; Ross McFadden, A4 of Audubon; Martin O'Connor, A2 of Des Moines; Robert McGregor and Bruce McGregor, both A3 of Cedar Rapids; Dave Forster, A4 of Iowa City; Paul Wise, E4 of Boise, Idaho, and Don Sutsman, A4 of Washington, Ia.

Satin drapes and colored lights will be used in decorating the lounge. University women will wear long dresses, but the men will dress informally.

Tickets for the Prom remaining after all sorority pledges have received theirs will be available to active members of the various groups late this afternoon at the main desk of Iowa Union.

Dick Stable, (above) whose orchestra will play tonight at the annual Pledge Prom from 9 to 1 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union, is coming to Iowa City directly from engagements at various places throughout the country including the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago; Statler hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.; Baker hotel in Dallas, Tex.; Hotel William Penn in Pittsburgh, Pa., and Statler hotel in Cleveland, Ohio. Featured singers with the band are Alice O'Connell, Johnny Drake and Ralph Fay. The Stable Saxette and the rhythm quartette are other novelty entertainers.

Today Women Golfers Plan Final Round

Several local clubs and organizations will meet for business and social sessions this afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Jule Kasper will be in charge of the final golf tournament of the season for the Women Golfers association which will be played at the Iowa City Country club at 9 o'clock this morning.

Sons of Union Veterans and their auxiliary will meet for a constitution day celebration at 7:45 in the G. A. R. rooms of the courthouse.

Eagle auxiliary members will be hostesses at a card party this afternoon at 2:15 in the Eagle hall.

The American Legion auxiliary will entertain at a public card party at 2:15 in the Legion club-rooms of the community building.

King's Daughters Appoint Delegates To Convention

Delegates from Electa circle of the King's Daughters to the state convention of the organization in Cedar Rapids in October were appointed at a meeting of the group yesterday in the home of Mrs. Frank Konvalinka, 417 E. Brown street.

Woman's Club To Fete Group

Meeting To Be In New Clubrooms Of Community Building

New members of the Iowa City Woman's club will be recognized at a meeting of the group this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the new clubrooms in the community building. The club is asked by the president to note that this is earlier than the usual meeting time of the group.

The executive board will meet at 1 o'clock before the meeting. Mrs. George Beattie of Cedar Rapids will be guest speaker at this first general meeting of the group.

New members have been asked to report to the social committee chairman or one of the committee members. The committee includes Mrs. I. A. Rankin, chairman, and Mrs. H. L. Bailey, Mrs. Edna M. Harter, Mrs. R. V. Smith and Mrs. Sam Whitebook.

Each member is asked to bring her yearbook and her membership card to this session.

A display of autumn flowers is planned, and tea will be served by the members of the garden department who will serve as hostesses.

There are more than 500 members of the National Mouse club in England who raise fancy mice for a hobby. Many more fanciers belong to county and district clubs.

Both aluminum and gold are malleable metals. However, when they combine they form an alloy that is non-malleable.

Recent Bride To Live Here

Geraldine Jakway (above), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jakway of Oelwein, and Jack Haller of Iowa City, son of Mrs. Gertrude Haller of San Francisco, Cal., were married Sunday in the Methodist church in Oelwein. The Rev. F. C. Witzigman of Oelwein officiated. The bride, who attended Coe college in Cedar Rapids and the university, is a member of Gamma Phi Beta and Phi Gamma Nu sororities. Mr. Haller, a graduate of the university college of law, is a member of Phi Delta Theta and Gamma Eta Gamma fraternities. After a short wedding trip to Minneapolis, Minn., the couple will be at home at 212 E. Bloomington street, here in Iowa City.

Ruth Newell, John Nelson Are Married

University Graduates Wed September 2 In Superior, Wis.

Ruth St. Clare Newell, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Pierce Newell of Superior, Wis., and John Thomas Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Nelson of Durant, were married Sept. 2 in the Methodist church in Superior. The bride's father, the Rev. Mr. Newell, who officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a princess gown of white moire taffeta fashioned with a very full skirt, a fitted basque waist and long fitted sleeves. Her veil was of net fastened to a tiara of the same material and seed pearls. She carried Easter lilies.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Janice, who wore a rust colored spun rayon gown made with a bustle back, full skirt, fitted bodice and square neckline. Her bouquet was of pom pom.

Bridesmaids were two other sisters of the bride, Hope and Carol Newell, and Jane Phillips of Davenport and Margaret De Wolf of Des Moines. Earl Bogard of Clarksville, Ark., was best man. Ushers included Thomas McKibben of Newton, Duane Crossley of Tipton; Howard Wiebner of Durant; and Robert Bishop Jr. of Superior, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will make their home in Wilton Junction after a wedding trip.

Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of Cornell college at Mt. Vernon. She also took graduate work at the university. Mr. Nelson also attended Cornell college and was graduated from the university.

Ernest Cassill Buys Interest In Newspaper

University Graduate Succeeds Purcell At Iowa Falls Citizen

Ernest C. Cassill of Lenox, a graduate of the University of Iowa college of law in 1935, has purchased the interest of Tom B. Purcell in the Iowa Falls Citizen and the Citizen Printing company at Iowa Falls.

Mr. Cassill succeeds Mr. Purcell as president and treasurer of the Citizen Printing company and will also succeed him as editor and publisher of the Citizen and manager of the company when the business is given over to the new owner next Monday.

Mr. Cassill attended the University of Iowa from 1929 to 1935 studying commerce and law. Upon graduation in 1935 he was admitted to the Iowa bar. While attending the university Mr. Cassill was active in university publications. He gained his first newspaper experience during that time when he served in various capacities on the business staff of The Daily Iowan. Mr. Cassill was also business manager of the Hawkeye during his junior year and for several years was circulation and promotion manager for Frivol.

After completing his schooling and passing the state bar examinations, Mr. Cassill was employed in the law office of Attorney Will J. Hayek. He later accepted a position in the promotion department of the Cedar Rapids Gazette.

He has also worked with the Travelers Insurance company in the Cedar Rapids branch agency, the home offices at Hartford, Conn., and in the Des Moines offices.

Following his resignation with the company in 1938 he re-entered the newspaper field with his brother at Fremont, Neb. His newspaper experience in all totals about seven years.

Iowa Freshmen Will Have Their Week Beginning Today

Barnes Reveals Final Program For Each Day

New Students Meet For Opening Session At 9:30 This Morning

A detailed program including committees and supervisors of special events for freshman week, which begins this morning, were announced yesterday by Registrar Harry G. Barnes, general chairman of freshman week.

Beginning with the first meeting at 9:30 this morning, University of Iowa freshmen will be conducted through five days of special events including assemblies, entertainment, get-acquainted meetings and special instructions; in fact, everything that a new student would want to know upon first coming to the campus will be explained.

Also during the week will be the usual qualifying examinations and a special registration procedure. Registration materials for both freshmen and upperclassmen are available at the south entrance of Macbride hall.

The freshman week assignment booklet, an official guide to the freshman week program, which contains coupons of admission to each event, has been distributed with registration materials. Engineering, pharmacy and school of nursing freshmen have received their materials in their respective colleges.

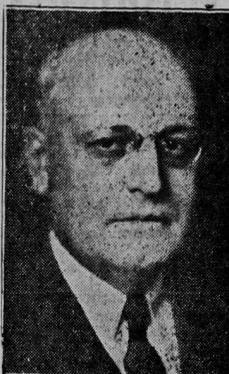

All freshmen will participate in the week's event except those in the school of nursing, who will follow a program especially prepared for them by officials of the school.

Freshman week, Registrar Barnes explains, is planned to aid each freshman in becoming acquainted with the university and provide for helpful guidance through the registration procedure. Students are asked to attend all required events and as many of the others as possible. Here is a day-by-day program for the week in detail.

Today
9:30 a.m. — All university freshman assembly, Macbride hall. Attendance is required of all students in the colleges of engineering, liberal arts and pharmacy.

At this meeting President Eugene A. Gilmore will address the freshmen briefly and Registrar Barnes will talk to them explaining the schedule of freshman week.

1:30 p.m. — Part I, qualifying and placement examinations, field house. Required of all freshmen in the colleges of liberal arts, engineering and pharmacy.

These examinations will be in charge of Prof. Dewey B. Stuit of the psychology department.

8 p.m. — Play night, women's gymnasium.

This event is not required but will offer an excellent opportunity for freshmen to get together and become acquainted. The evening's entertainment will be featured with games, dancing and card playing.

The program is in charge of Janet Cumming, instructor in the women's physical education department, who is assisted by Esther French, also an instructor in the department.

Tomorrow
Saturday, Sept. 16

8:30 a.m. — Part II, qualifying and placement examinations, field house. Required of all freshmen in the college of engineering, liberal arts and pharmacy.

8 p.m. — Open house, Iowa Union.

For this event, the Iowa Union staff and Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of Iowa Union, are cooperating with the freshman week committee to provide an elaborate entertainment program for the new students.

All facilities of Iowa Union will be operating including WSUI studios, the Silver Shadow, the music room and all other parts will be open for inspection. Attendance at this event also is not required but will provide very good entertainment for all who come.

Sunday, Sept. 17
4 p.m. — University vespers, Macbride hall.

Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, has been in charge of arrangements for the vespers program. The featured speaker will be Stoddard Lane of Des Moines.

Monday, Sept. 18
7 a.m. — School of nursing freshmen. Registration begins, office of the educational director, Westlawn.

8 a.m. — Pre-registration meetings: engineering, electrical engineering building; liberal arts, Macbride hall; pharmacy, pharmacy-botany building.

Arrangements for those meetings are in charge, respectively of Dean Francis M. Dawson, Registrar Barnes, Dean Rudolph A. Kuever.

Friday and Saturday schedules were planned for freshmen in liberal arts, engineering and pharmacy. Beginning today, the remainder of the week's program is in charge of the deans of the colleges of engineering and pharmacy while Registrar Barnes continues in charge of liberal arts freshmen.

10 a.m. — Assignment of liberal arts freshmen to faculty advisers begins, Macbride hall.

These advisers are stationed on the sun porch of Iowa Union during registration and aid the students in planning their schedules and getting properly registered.

1:30 p.m. — Registration for liberal arts freshmen begins, Iowa Union.

Charles Maruth, assistant registrar, is in charge of registration activities at Iowa Union and Myrtle Keeley, assistant examiner, is in charge of activities at the registrar's office in University hall.

2:10 p.m. — "Using the university library," Macbride hall. Required of freshmen who do not register until Tuesday morning.

This special feature of freshman week is in charge of Theodore S. Bland, superintendent and reference librarian of the service and exchange department, and the instruction will be presented by Emma Felsenthal, instructor in library methods.

Students who register Tuesday morning will take the instruction this afternoon and those registering this afternoon will do it tomorrow morning.

8 p.m. — Special program for freshmen, Macbride hall.

This will be a special entertainment for freshmen students presented to acquaint the incoming students with some features of the university.

Included on the program will be numbers and dances by the Scottish Highlanders, introduction of Eddie Anderson and the coaching staff, group singing led by Don Mallet, group cheering, and officials have announced that a special surprise number will be included on the program.

Tuesday, Sept. 19
8 a.m. — Registration for liberal arts freshmen continues, Iowa Union.

10 a.m. — "Using the university library," Macbride hall. Required of all freshmen who registered Monday afternoon.

2:10 p.m. — Freshman assembly, Macbride hall. Required of all liberal arts freshmen.

At this assembly Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts will address the group.

8 p.m. — Freshman assembly, Macbride hall. A special lecture about the university.

Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh, head of the political science department, will present an address rising out of his book, "Old Stone Capitol Remembers."

Wednesday, Sept. 20
Subject orientation. All freshmen in the colleges enrolled in the following are required to attend first meetings of these courses:

8 a.m. — Speech, Macbride hall. In charge of Prof. E. C. Mabie.
10 a.m. — English, Macbride hall. In charge of Prof. Nellie S. Aurner.

1:10 p.m. — Military, field house. In charge of Col. Homer S. Slaughter.

1:10 p.m. — Band, south music hall. In charge of Prof. Charles B. Righter.

2:10 p.m. — Physical education, men, field house. In charge of Prof. E. G. (Dad) Schroeder.

2:10 p.m. — Physical education, women, women's gymnasium. In charge of Prof. Elizabeth Halsey.

Thursday, Sept. 21
7:45 a.m. — Induction ceremony, west approach to Old Capitol. Classes begin following the ceremony.

various assemblies and meetings are in charge of Lee Cochran, director of the visual education department of the extension division. He is assisted by Vernon Putnam.

A new part of the student orientation week this year will be the special meeting which has been arranged for transfer students who are undergraduates. They will meet in Macbride hall Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock for instructions in registration procedure. Registrar Barnes is in charge of this meeting.

The freshman week committee which was appointed by President Eugene A. Gilmore and which has been in charge of all arrangements consists of these members: Registrar Barnes, chairman; Don Mallet, Prof. H. G. Higbe, Prof. H. J. Thornton and Helen Reich.

In addition to Dean Dawson and Dean Kuever planning the programs for students in their respective colleges after Monday, Dean Kay was advisor to those planning the liberal arts program.

Students Get Their Materials

Long lines of students Wednesday completed the first step of registration for the University of Iowa's first semester by obtaining necessary registration materials.

Hundreds of students were present as the first of some 7,000 registration material forms were dispensed. Registration in the liberal arts, education, commerce, and graduate colleges is scheduled for next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Upperclassmen and freshmen were lined up for distribution of materials. By this afternoon, practically all of the freshmen will be present at the university, for they are required to report for their first orientation event tomorrow morning.

The registration process is arranged so that the freshmen will be able to complete their part next Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning, when all facilities will be turned over to them.

Weiss, Louisiana Politician, Convicted of Mail Fraud Charge

Jurors Convict Dr. J. Smith, Two Others

No Sentence Passed On Heir to Huey's Political Machine

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14 (AP)—Seymour Weiss, one of the three principal heirs to the powerful political machine left by Huey Long, was convicted of mail fraud charges tonight by a federal jury. The jurors, after deliberating a little more than two hours, also returned verdicts of "guilty as charged" against Weiss' four co-defendants. All were accused of using the mails in alleged fraudulent scheme to sell the state university hotel furnishings it already owned.

Those convicted with Weiss, New Orleans and New York hotel executive, were Monte E. Hart, contractor long favored with state business; Dr. J. M. Smith, former president of Louisiana State university; Louis Lesage, suspended official of the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, and J. Emory Adams, nephew of Dr. Smith's wife.

Judge Wayne G. Borah did not immediately impose sentence. Counsel for the defendants, visibly surprised, clustered about the judge's stand but withheld comment. Their clients remained in their seats.

Weiss, with former governor Richard W. Leche and Mayor Robert S. Maestri of New Orleans, formed the triumvirate that took over the direction of Louisiana affairs after Long was shot to death at the state capitol in 1935. Leche, who resigned because of "ill health," is now under indictment on a "hot oil" charge, and government attorneys said trial of his case was likely to be the next in those being prepared by federal prosecutors who have been investigating state political affairs in recent months.

Weiss also is under indictment in this case, growing out of alleged violation of the Connally hot oil act, which prohibits production of petroleum in excess of state quotas.

The mail fraud case, in which the government charged use of the mails to defraud in the alleged double sale of Bienville hotel furnishings to Louisiana state university, was the first brought by federal prosecutors.

The penalty fixed by law for violation of the mail fraud statute is a maximum fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for five years, or both.

The government charged they split among them $75,000 obtained through selling to the university the furnishings which allegedly were included in the original sale price of the hotel, $575,000.

Iowa Communists Deny Subversive Activities

DES MOINES, Sept. 14 (AP)—Iowa Communist party officials denied today that purported workers for their organization were guilty of "inciting government hostilities" as charged at Sioux City, yesterday.

Six men, arrested on that charge, in that city, gave their names as M. R. Carson, 30, Iowa Communist party secretary from Des Moines; Carl Friedman, 24, Rock Island, Ill.; and Wilbur Howard, 53, Rudy Holly, 26, Joe Phillips, 27, and Theodore Baer, 31, all Sioux City.

In a statement, the party officials said in part, "we wish to state we do not advocate overthrow of the government, either as individuals or as an organization."

Minister Fulfills His Own Prophecy

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 14 (AP)—Harry Gilbert, 59, a gold buyer, read from the talmud to the congregation in the Voliner Ashley Spord synagogue today in observance of the Jewish New Year.

"A person doesn't know how long he is going to live; he may live a long time, yet some live only five minutes," Gilbert told the congregation. A few minutes later he died of a heart ailment.

$25,000 Blaze Razes Building At Schleswig

Brisk Wind Fans Flames in Downtown Business District

SCHLESWIG, Ia., Sept. 14 (AP)—The Henry Hollander frame building in the Schleswig business district burned late today with loss estimated at $25,000. The building was completely destroyed. Heaviest loss was sustained by the Hock Construction company, Des Moines, which used part of the big building for storage purposes.

The fire, believed to have started in the Barney Neubaum cream station, was fanned by a brisk wind and the building collapsed before the flames could be brought under control.

Other firms suffering loss were the R. W. Christiansen Electric shop and the J. W. Hess garage. Schleswig firemen were aided by crews from Denison and Ricketts.

$200,000 Fire Strikes N. Y.'s Coney Island

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—A $200,000 fire destroyed part of the boardwalk at Coney Island today and resulted in injuries to two civilians and nine scores of firemen who fought the blaze more than an hour before it was controlled.

A fireworks explosion burned a 15-year-old boy about the face. Its cause undetermined, the fire swept through approximately 300 feet of boardwalk fronting the park, destroyed the flying turns concession, the entrance to the park, a portion of the steeplechase ride, and 16 smaller concessions, including several bathhouses.

Because it is Coney's "Mardi Gras" time, the park was closed to the public during the day and was to have been opened at 6 p. m.

Before diamonds were cut, the shape of a stone meant a lot to its owner. Triangular stones were thought to cause quarrels; a square stone filled its owner with vague fears, and a five-cornered one caused violent death. Only the six-cornered stone was productive of good.

3 Convicted Murderers Drug Guards, Fail in Escape Attempt

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 14 (AP)—Eleven guards and a trusty were drugged today during a bold attempt by three convicted murderers to escape from the Joliet penitentiary.

The guards collapsed, unconscious, on the floor of their stations shortly after they drank coffee. Warden Joseph E. Ragen said he believed a sleep-inducing drug had been placed in the beverage. The three convicts were seized when they attempted to place a 32-foot makeshift ladder against one of the prison walls. They and 45 others assigned to the kitchen detail were placed in solitary confinement pending an investigation.

The condition of one guard, Milton Williamson, and the trusty, Sam Brandenburg, was termed critical by prison physicians tonight. The condition of the others, although serious, improved as effects of the drug wore off.

Warden Ragen said he believed one of the convicts made the drug from weeds taken from one of the prison honor farms.

Ragen said the three convicts who planned the escape by scaling the north prison wall were: Patrick Joyce, 31, Joseph Jazarak, 44, and Peter Balourlis, 28, all —serving long terms for murder. The attempted break was discovered shortly after lunch hour when a tower guard saw the three convicts running toward a wall with the ladder.

Since the felons were out of his rifle range, he telephoned the next tower. He received no answer and suspected foul play. He notified yard Captain William Ryan who, with guard Homer Drewn, captured the convicts.

A short time later the stricken guards, most of them on tower duty, were found unconscious at their posts. The warden theorized the drug was placed in the coffee before it was taken from the commissary to the guards in a locked bucket.

All the famous race horses in the world are believed to stem from just three great equine forebears.

S. U. I. Notified Of Pilot Training Plan

Instruction To Begin Here Next Month

Authorities Await Notification of Number To Receive Training

Official notification that the University of Iowa has been selected as one of the institutions to train civilian airplane pilots, together with application forms, has been received.

Dean F. M. Dawson of the college of engineering said that the notification from the civil aeronautics authority in Washington, D. C., indicated that a contract and specification of number of students would be sent about next Monday.

Freshmen Ineligible

As the university, with a special six-man committee, prepared to rush plans for the instruction to start next month, Dean Dawson said that rules provide that only students above the rank of freshmen will be eligible.

On the application blank, the medical examination is stressed, with particular reference to good vision. It is recommended by the CAA that about three times the number of applicants as there are places be signed, since numerous students probably will fail to meet the requirements.

Await Information

"We will be able to make definite plans much more quickly as soon as we learn the actual number of men to be trained here," Dean Dawson said.

A detailed record of academic ability, as well as personal habits and physical condition must be compiled for each applicant. Dean Dawson believes that the CAA will send a representative here to pass upon the applicants but that the medical examinations will be completed by university physicians.

Malone Rites Tomorrow

Funeral for Local Resident To Be At St. Patrick's

Funeral service for M. D. Malone, 70, 328 S. Dodge street, former chief of police here, who died at his home Wednesday night after a lingering illness, will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow at St. Patrick's church. He will be buried in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mr. Malone, who moved here from Canada in 1892, served as police chief from 1919 through 1922. He was married to Winifred Cash in Iowa City in 1896.

Survivors include his wife and four children, Joseph, John and Elizabeth Malone, all of Iowa City, and Mrs. E. T. Toomey, Cedar Rapids. Margaret Malone, a daughter, preceded him in death in 1934.

The body is at the McGovern funeral home.

City Clerk's Office Open

The office of the city clerk will remain open all day including the noon hour today, and tomorrow until 5 p. m. for all residents of Iowa City who wish to register for the special election Sept. 26, City Clerk Grover Watson said yesterday.

He repeated that tomorrow at 5 p. m. marks the deadline for registration for the election involving the light and gas franchises for the Iowa City Light and Power company.

Old Settlers Hold Reunion

100 Johnson County Citizens Picnic In City Park Yesterday

One hundred of Johnson county's elderly citizens, some of them pioneers, ate their picnic lunches yesterday noon in City park.

It was the annual reunion of the settlers of Johnson county, who heard informal speeches by George D. Koser, their president, Levi O. Leonard of the political science department and Prof. F. C. Ensign of the college of education.

Mrs. Mary Green, only a week younger than 92 years, was the oldest member in attendance.

U. High Year Opens Monday

Five New Teachers Appointed to Faculty, Principal Stout Reports

Under the direction of the new principal, Minard W. Stout, classes at University high school will begin Monday. Stout announces that five new teachers have been named to the faculty with another instructor returning after a year of study abroad.

New teachers include Louis Kollmeyer, art; Elizabeth Andersch, speech; Margaret Englund, English; Freda McCrary, assistant in home economics, and John L. Hassberg, vocal music. After a year's study in France, C. J. LeVois returns to the romance language department.

High school classes have been limited to a total of 25 students in order to give a better educational program to the students, it is announced.

An addition on the third floor for a group of offices for the school department heads is now under construction with the offices to be built on the south-west section of the building.

The four upper grades are filled with their quota of 0 students, Stout said. The eighth grade and seventh grade have room for more students, he said.

Boys, Girls of Nation Will Exhibit At Annual American Livestock Show

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Thousands of boys and girls throughout the nation are making preparations to participate in the 41st annual American Royal Live Stock show in Kansas City Oct. 14 to 21. Hundreds of sleek "baby beeves," fat barrows and lambs are being groomed by young future stockmen and stockwomen to compete for valuable cash prizes and national recognition.

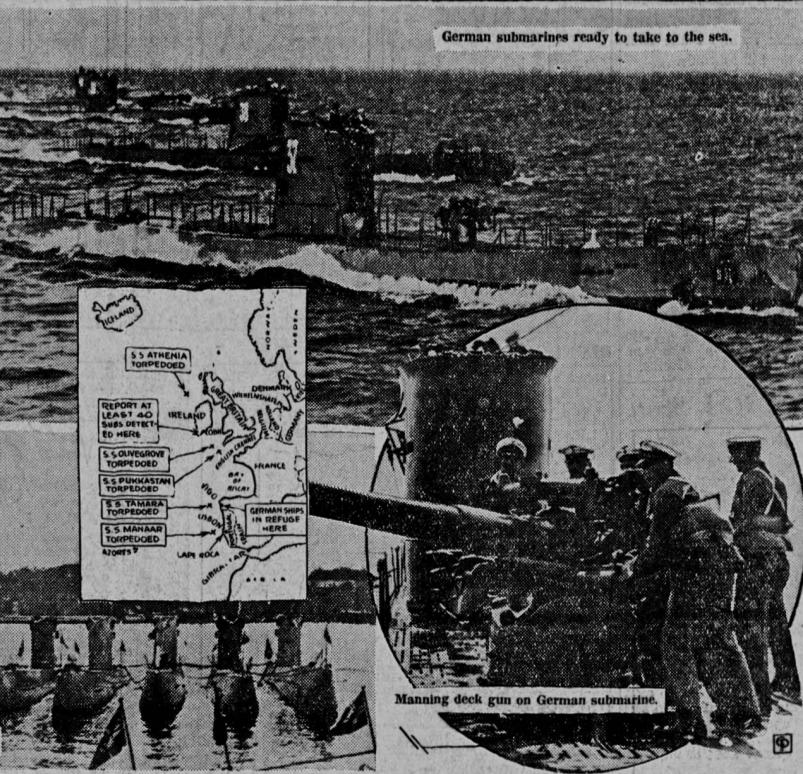

Early reports from county extension agents in charge of 4-H club activities and vocational agriculture instructors in charge of vocational and Future Farmers of America groups indicate widespread and intensive interest in the American Royal.

Four-H clubs will send 150 official delegates each from the states of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. Other states throughout the country will also be represented by official delegates to participate in the 17th annual Royal conference. In addition to the conference activities, 4-H club boys and girls will compete in the American Royal arena with

Local Moose Sending Seven To State Meet

State delegates to the annual state convention of the Iowa Association of the Loyal Order of the Moose will include seven from the Iowa City lodge.

Those chosen to represent Iowa City at the conclave are Lloyd Memler, T. J. Parker, W. S. Putnam, Leo E. Kohl, Clarence Kettles, Andy Kelley and Howard Stimmler.

Local delegates announced that they will place Iowa City's bid for the 1940 state convention.

Congressman T. Martin Stands Firm Against American Declaration of War

Congressman Thomas E. Martin told members of the Rotary club, at their meeting yesterday in the Jefferson hotel, that he would stand firm against an American declaration of war.

He reminded those present that the United States at present is weak in military strength although "strong in inventive genius."

The congressman also asserted that he is opposed to any revision in a cash and carry arrangement with nations at war.

The speaker told his listeners to look twice at war propaganda to be found everywhere in the United States before drawing any conclusions that would favor a declaration of war.

Two Injured In Car Crash Near Here

Two persons were injured, one seriously, when an auto driven by John Burr of Lone Tree and W. R. Brewster, also of Lone Tree, collided head-on one mile north of Lone Tree about 8 p. m. yesterday.

John Burr, driver of one of the cars, suffered a broken leg and other lacerations and bruises. Mrs. Bertha Brewster, wife of the driver of the other car, received cuts and bruises, none serious, it was reported.

Both the injured persons were brought to Mercy hospital in Iowa City by a Lone Tree physician.

All-Time September Record Set as Temperatures Soar

A weather record fell yesterday as a hot mid-September sun sent Iowa City temperatures soaring to an all-time recorded high of 96 degrees.

The reading was 18 degrees above normal for the day—78 degrees. The low reading for the hottest Sept. 14 on record was 68, this 13 degrees above the normal low of 55 degrees.

The previous record for the day was Sept. 14, 1927 when a reading of 95 degrees was recorded. No rain fell during the 24-hour period ending at 7 o'clock last night and none was in sight last night; in fact, the weather man saw only continued warm weather for another day at least.

An investigation, however, revealed that the humidity yesterday was not as high as has been recorded on other hot days; in fact, it was somewhat below the normal humidity figure.

The University of Iowa hydraulics department weather station reported a humidity of about 40 per cent. The normal, it was explained, is about 50 and on the hot and sultry days it usually averages in the 70's.

This shows that the humidity was not excessive and the heat "all heat and not moisture in the air."

Local Women Attend Meeting Of Directors

Mrs. M. F. Sullivan, chorus music chairman, and Mrs. M. M. Crayne, ladies' chorus leader, who head the music program in Johnson county have returned to Iowa City from Ames where they attended a state training school for chorus directors and county and township music chairmen Tuesday.

Others present from Johnson county were Mr. and Mrs. Emmett C. Gardner and Mrs. Milford Breesse.

The school, headed by Fannie R. Buchanan, extension specialist in rural music, gave training in presenting music to groups. It was directed by Prof. Tolbert MacRae and Rosalind Cook of the Iowa State college music department.

County and township music chairmen in women's and 4-H club girls' programs and chorus directors for 4-H girls' and farm women's groups attended.

Borah Denounces Repeal of Embargo

Government Stands Upon Neutral Rights
Steps to Prevent American Participation Continue in U. S.
By RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Senator Borah (R-Ida) denounced the proposed repeal of the embargo on arms shipments to Europe's belligerents tonight as an act of intervention in the conflict abroad, likely to be followed by America's armed participation. "If in a few months we can tear up the law which a nation almost universally approved," he asked in a radio speech, "how long do you think it will take to put across the proposition of sending our young men into the trenches, once we have intervened?"

Budget Improvements
Secretary Morgenthau announced that the treasury was studying the possibilities of an improved budgetary position as a result of the war. Rising commodity prices, might mean a saving on farm benefit payments, for instance, he said, and an upturn in business would reduce relief costs.

Borah Opens Battle

Proud Groups Greet Pledges As Annual Announcement Ends Women's Formal Rush Period

Bedlam Disappears in Measure, But Happiness, Heartbreak Still Prevail as Women Complete Strenuous Week

There wasn't the noise and excitement and crowds of other years, but there was the same happiness and heartbreak this afternoon at 5 o'clock when some 200 rushees mobbed Iowa Union to receive their sorority bids—or regrets. At the same time there was rejoicing at the 13 chapter houses as pledge lists were delivered to the groups by special messengers.

Rushees, after receiving their invitations, were whisked away immediately in taxis to the various houses where secret pledging ceremonies took place at 5:30. After pledging the new members are being entertained at pledge dinners by many of the groups.

This year's pledge announcements were more orderly than last year's because of a new Pan-hellenic ruling which forbids the active members calling for rushees at the Jefferson hotel or at Iowa Union. The ruling tended to eliminate the confusion which has surrounded the announcement in other years.

Today's announcement of pledges is the culmination of formal rushing which began with open houses Monday evening and ended with formal receptions at each house last night, with sororities issuing special invitations to each of their chosen rushees.

Rushees filed their preferences at Iowa Union last night and sororities presented their bid lists early this morning. Suspense and anxiety made the day a long one for both sorority members and rushees, the long-suppressed apprehension being broken with the release of the pledge lists.

Tonight's Pledge Prom will be the final affair of formal rushing. The new pledges will be entertained at this informal long dress dance from 9 to 1 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union. Dick Stable and his orchestra will play for dancing.

New pledges who lived at the Jefferson hotel during rush week will probably move into their new houses tonight or tomorrow and with registration completed they will be ready to begin their college life at the university.

Charles Lindbergh Ends Volunteer Army Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh completed today his volunteer army service of about five months. Secretary of War Woodring announced that the flier was "being relieved from inactive duty in the war department." No further light was shed on his plans.

Lindbergh was unexpectedly summoned to duty April 19. An air corps reserve officer, he served two weeks on active duty and since May 2 has been serving in an inactive training status, without pay.

First Bodies Taken From Stricken Sub

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 15 (Friday) (AP)—Bodies of five of the 26 men drowned in the submarine Squalus when it sank off this port May 23 were removed from within the vessel's muddy hull and carried ashore early today at the navy yard.

First of the victims to be identified was John P. Hathaway, fireman, first class, whose address was given as San Diego, Cal.

Survivors of the Squalus' fatal plunge stood stiffly at attention as the first huddled form was gently hauled through a hatch in a tense scene under the glare of floodlights.

Work Continues
Salvage workers returned into the hull at once to begin carrying out the other bodies. They said some bodies were seen in the engine room and others in the after torpedo room, where they were found in a group around a ladder leading toward a hatch.

The bodies were to be taken to the navy yard medical building, where it was hoped to identify them through marks and identification bands on their clothing.

A naval official from Washington was stationed at the medical building with records and data to aid in identifying the victims.

The navy men's grim task of carrying out their dead shipmates began when the Squalus was lashed to a pier a few minutes after rising buoyantly to the harbor surface during intensive pumping operations.

Navy officials expressed belief the submarine could be guided into a nearby drydock before sunrise.

IF SENATORS AND representatives possessed a mystic foresight, our government would come much nearer approaching Utopia.

When the present neutrality legislation was designed it was meant to keep us out of war; in the present world where international lawlessness is so widespread it is doubtful if any law is enough in itself to prevent American intervention.

Mr. Carey's suggested attitude is worthy of emulation.

No Tower For Him

THE AMERICAN public is fond of the English monarch.

They were fond, too, of his brother Edward, fond enough to raise an awful howl when he was exiled.

It must give many a feeling of satisfaction to read of the return of the ex-king to England.

When he abdicated, Edward said that if England ever needed him, he hoped he would be allowed to serve her.

Curious, however, is the change that has been wrought in English customs by the years.

It seems incongruous, then, that the law requires the president to enforce an embargo forbidding the shipment of material for war use to Canada.

We would not be in favor of American shipments of materials to the democratic belligerents if such shipments will involve the United States in actual combat; however, when enforcement of the embargo makes us a silent partner to Adolf Hitler, we can only hope that the United States congress will consider carefully the proposals to be put before it.

Business Takes The Lead

MOST Americans are convinced that they want the United States to stay out of war.

One man whose attitude succeeds in this direction is W. Gibson Carey Jr.

Because it is one of the most commendable moves we have noticed since German troops marched and Britain declared war, we wish to let you read it, too.

"At this moment," Carey said, "when another devastating war is under way, I wish, as president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, to make the following statement:

"We business men, as all others, are aghast at the prospect of slaughter and misery abroad.

"We wish no profit advantage through the wrecking of great cultural and spiritual values which have been built painfully and slowly through generations of thought and effort.

"In order to fulfill our destiny nobly, we must solve our domestic

NEW YORK — If I were a Shakespearean actor, or better than that, a director, I think I would possess myself of a recording of Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech to the British people when he told them that Great Britain was at war, and study it again and again.

All through his speech I had the impression of listening to something that Shakespeare had written. I thought some fine, intelligent actor who had schooled himself to a supreme moment, was approaching the climax of a great tragedy, and almost automatically I wondered how Maurice Evans, or Charles Laughton, or Leslie Howard, or any of those English actors would have come off with those same lines.

Doc Morgan of religious activities was there at the beginning of the last one, too; he'd just been graduated from college.

Al Williams (he of the freshman speech contests and the English jokes) is on his way across to join his fellow Englishmen in the good fight.

An incidental result of the whole affair is the probable cancellation of this year's Oxford-Cambridge debate, Doc Baird fears.

Dean Kay's boys'll be among the first to go if Canada starts sending troops.

And, of course, you knew Norman Froiland of the Williams Iowa Supply Froilands has an Iowa City book publishing concern already under way.

Merely, the Japs say, to "avoid untoward incidents."

Matsuo Kato, Washington representative of Domei, the mikado's official agency, thus expresses himself in Washington.

What the heck is an "untoward incident?"

Froiland thinks the local publishing idea (with a distributing set-up that will distribute the volumes from coast to coast) will mean the perfect outlet for the flowering of the valley here.

At least two campus novels are under consideration if the idea takes.

Another highlight will be the premiere of "Lullaby to a Doll," the new song by Black who will have Lucille Manners sing it.

MISS MANNERS will also sing "Calm as the Night" and Ross Graham will offer "Where my Caravan has Rested."

The orchestra will play "March Militaire," "In the Tavern" and "Emblem" from "Prince Igor Dances." The ensemble will play "Over the Rainbow."

It's an event when Frank Black composes his own song. The busy NBC general music director is noted for his vocal arrangements of orchestra compositions, his arrangements of classical music in a modern manner, arrangements in jazz of semi-symphonic form and his introduction of singing violins.

However, with the current trend of major maestri to write their own hits, Black has turned songwriter. His melody, "Lullaby to a Doll," to those who have been privileged to hear it, is one of the best and will be on the "Hit Parade" not long after its introduction by Miss Manners tonight.

on the evening schedule are "Waltz Time" featuring Abe Lyman and his orchestra at 7 o'clock over NBC-Red and the "Johnny Presents" show at 6:30 over CBS.

Hawkeye Grid Squad Drills Despite Heat

New Backfield Gets Attention

Anderson Speeds Up Work in Preparation For Opener Sept. 30

New faces appeared yesterday in the lineup that seems to carry the marks of a first string as Coach Eddie Anderson continued to drive his Iowa grid squad through long drills beneath a boiling sun.

The line remained the same on the eleven that looks like a probable starting group, with Bill Diehl at center, Charles Tolleson and Henry Luebeck at guards, Mike Enich and Jim Walker at tackles and Capt. Erwin Prasse and Dick Evans at the ends.

Behind this combination Anderson had two complete sets of backs taking their workouts. Gerald Ankeny, now capturing almost as much attention as the powerful Al Couppee, was working with Buzz Dean, Ed McLain and Bill Green, while Couppee continued to be a part of the quartet which includes Nile Kinrick, Russell Busk and Ray Murphy as the remaining trio.

The nearness of the opening conflict with South Dakota university next Saturday, along with the fact that the Coyotes have been practicing for a week longer than Iowa makes it necessary that the Hawkeyes continue to follow the daily double of drill routine which includes nearly six hours per day of practice.

The Coyote squad, which started practice Sept. 5, was North Central conference champion last year and rates as a tough opponent for an opening clash. Added to the Coyotes' experience of the season will be their first clash against College of the Pacific on the coast Sept. 23. The long journey may leave South Dakota weary but the possible advantages the invaders might have gives Iowa's coaching staff incentive for work.

Defeat Yankees Lose, 6-1 To Detroit

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Big Buck Newsum, the Detroit firebrand, handed the world champion Yankees their third consecutive defeat 6 to 1 today with a six-hit pitching performance that had them shut out for eight innings.

Even so New York crowded a bit closer the formal clinching of its fourth straight American league pennant, because the Boston Red Sox also lost. The Yanks now need only to win three games or Boston to lose three.

Led by Ralph Kress, the Tigers tore into Rookie Atley Donald for all their runs in the second and third innings. They got two in the second stanza when Frank Croslett muffed Pete Fox's easy grounder, Kress singled and Joe DiMaggio led the ball go through him, and Birdie Tebbets singled.

Table with columns: DETROIT, AB, R, H, O, A, E. Rows: McCoy, Gehringer, Kress, Fox, Kress, Tebbets, Newsum.

Bobby Riggs, Alice Marble Win in National Net Meet

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 14 (AP)—Bobby Riggs and Alice Marble, Wimbledon champions and prime favorites, moved safely into the semi-finals of the National Men's and Women's tennis championships at Forest Hills today.

Bobby, still playing under wraps, stroked his way to a comparatively simple victory over Harry Hopman of Australia, 6-1, 8-6, 6-3, but Alice was caught slightly off her game and had to turn on the reserve tank before she eliminated Mary Hardwick, of the British Wightman Cup team, 6-3, 6-8, 6-2.

This was the first set the blonde champion had dropped either at Wimbledon or in the present tournament, and the crowd was somewhat excited when the extra set began. In fact, she didn't bother to remove her blue sweater as she raced through the decoder.

The other semi-finalist in Riggs' bracket wasn't quite decided. When darkness stopped play (what, again?) Joe Hunt of Annapolis and Don McNeill of Oklahoma City still were tearing a third set apart. Hunt captured the first set, 6-4, fought his heart out to win the second, 15-13, and they were deadlocked at 5-5 in the third when the referee realized they couldn't see the ball any longer, but were stroking entirely by instinct. They were to resume the struggle tomorrow.

Virginia Wolfenden of San Francisco surprised the form players with a 2-6, 6-1, 6-1 triumph over Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica, and will run into Marble on Saturday. Virginia is ranked only ninth nationally, to Bundy's third.

Hawklets Face DeWitt Tonight

Irish Meet Wellman Grid Team Today

St. Pat's will be trying to start the season out with a victory today, when Coach Harry Ryan takes his Green and White griders to Wellman to battle the ever powerful Wellman Wildcats.

The Irish have had very poor luck during the last five years, and they are hoping that an early season victory will push them on to a successful year. The Green and White will present an exceptionally fast backfield, sparked by fleet-footed Ed Hogan. Merle Miller will take turn with Hogan on many running plays; with Jim Daly taking care of the plunging duties. John Rohner will be the blocking faction of the Irish backfield.

One side of the Irish line looks promising, as Coach Ryan has an experienced man in every position. Bill Robinson will be at right end, with Bruce Beasley at right tackle. Veteran Jim Red will perform at right guard, with another veteran, Don Black, holding down the pivot position. Jim Connell, Bud Loney, and Paul Holland will form the untested part of the Irish forward wall.

day night as the Cowboys turned back Lincoln, 7 to 1, and tied up the Western league championship playoff series at two games each. Seven double plays were made in the game—four by Sioux City. Al Bohan started for Lincoln but was driven to cover in the second inning when a walk, an error and two singles netted Sioux City two runs.

Cards Drub Boston Bees In 6-3 Tilt

Silent Curt Davis Wins 21st Victory; Moore Hits Homer

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14 (AP)—Silent Curt Davis hurled his 21st victory of the year today, defeating the Boston Bees, 6-3, but the St. Louis Cardinals nevertheless lost a half game in their pennant race to Cincinnati which won twice from the New York Giants. The Cards now trail by four games.

The Cardinals ace right hander was off to a wobbly start when the first three Bees up connected for singles, but he steadied down as the RedBirds began piling up their half dozen runs. Lon Warneke, however, relieved him in the eighth after Hank Majeski doubled.

After the Bees scored twice in the first two innings, the Cards came back with three runs in the third and thereafter were never headed. Terry Moore cranked out his 13th homer of the year in the sixth inning for the RedBirds.

Badgers Scrimmage

Will Open 1939 Season In Iowa City

The City High griders took things easy last night as Coach Cormack gave the Red and White squad a short signal drill to insure teamwork when the Little Hawks make the field against DeWitt tonight at 8 o'clock on Shrader field.

The Little Hawks have shown great improvement day by day, and Coach Cormack has devised his defense and offense to cover up any possible weakness in the Red and White attack. The offensive line will probably average over 170 pounds, with the defensive line nearer the 180 mark. The backfield has plenty of speed, with Johnny Graham and Ted Lewis slated to take over the running assignments. Dick Martin has the driving power necessary for bucking the lines, and Jack Fetig has the size and ability to take care of the blocking back position.

The forward wall will be an outstanding factor in the Little Hawk attack. Virgil Parker will probably play offensive center and defensive end. Parker lacks the size to be an immovable pillar in the center of the line, but he has the fight and speed to be an outstanding defensive end. Scrapy Bob White will undoubtedly play guard on both offense and defense. White won a letter last year at the guard position, and with this experience added to his ability, he should help make the center of the line hard to pierce.

Ted Lewis will be moved from his halfback position to the other guard. Lewis has had much trouble on pass defense, and Coach Cormack plans to improve the center of his line by the addition of the hard charging back, Don Montgomery will probably move out to a defensive end position, from his regular guard berth. Jack Hirt and Ken Bright will play tackle on both offense and defense. Hirt will be the big gun in the Red and White, since the burly tackle usually figures in on every play. He won an all-state berth last year.

Jack Fetig and Dick Martin will back up the line, with the offensive ends, Ed Crossett and Jim Swanner, playing at the wing back positions. John Graham will be the safety man.

Many additional Red and White candidates will probably see service during the game. Jack Doyle and John Griffith should take a stab at the center position, with Bill Bethell and Bob Caywood destined to see action at the guards. Mark Lillick and Dean Rusley are likely tackle candidates, with "Buzz" Smith and Bill Voelchers having the best chance to play end. John Schuppert, Bud Lemons, Jack Stoner, Jay Walden, and Bob Towel are the best backfield prospects.

Dodgers in Trouble Again Flatbush Sluggers Win One, Lose One In Twin Bill at Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, who invariably run into trouble when they get more than subway distance from Flatbush, forestalled disaster today by dividing a doubleheader with the Pirates.

They nosed out a 4 to 3 in the first game but corralled an 8 to 4 decision in the nightcap—their first victory in four games on their final western swing.

A home run by Arky Vaughan with one on and rookie Bob Elliott's single with the bases loaded accounted for Pittsburgh's runs in the first game. For Brooklyn Dolph Camilli notched his 28th homer with one on and Ernie Koy doubled behind a pass to Camilli.

Table with columns: BROOKLYN, AB, R, H, O, A, E. Rows: Coughran, Lavagetto, Walker, Camilli, Rippe, Koy, Todd, Parks.

Carl Hubbell Victimized In Opener

Paul Derringer In Season's 21st Win For League Leaders

CINCINNATI, Sept. 14 (AP)—Marshalling 13 hits in each game, the Reds swept a doubleheader from the New York Giants today, 8 to 5 and 9 to 3, to expand their winning streak to five games and their lead over the St. Louis Cardinals to four.

Apparently geared for vengeance against the Giants, the only team in the league holding an advantage over them for the season, the Reds never permitted any doubt as to their superiority.

They grouped six of their first game runs in the first three innings to allow Paul Derringer to coast to his 21st triumph of the year. After shutting out New York on five hits for six frames he yielded to the opportunity to re-ly, and the heat of the sun, letting the Terrymen get all their runs on seven hits in the last three innings.

Carl Hubbell, first of four New York pitchers, was the victim. Ernie Lombardi doubled two runners home and Harry Craft scored another with a single in the first. Then in the second Bill Werber doubled, Ival Goodman tripled and Lombardi singled to finish the veteran southpaw.

The Giants took a two run lead in the nightcap with Harry Danning's 16th homer in the second inning and three singles in the third. But in the Reds' half of the third Frank McCormick singled with the bases loaded and Manuel Salvo wild pitched two runs across. Thereafter Cincinnati was never headed.

That probably won't be all that is "wild and woolly" about the game for reports from Dakota territory have the Coyotes as a team that tosses passes instead of going through the ordeal of lugging a pigskin down a field cluttered up with opponents. A passing team may not be much harder to whip but they make it almost certain that someone is going to get whipped before the afternoon is over—passes can't all fall on the ground.

All of which brings fun for the spectators, more customers at the box office and a sufficient carry-over enthusiasm that assures movie stars of confidence votes from future grid squads, head owners of welcomes and keeps the coach in fear of passing attacks.

Senators Trim Browns Six-Hit Hurling Of Dutch Leonard Brings 5-1 Victory

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—Washington drubbed the cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns today, winning the ball game 5 to 1 behind the six-hit pitching of Dutch Leonard.

With Bill Trotter hurling well in the pinches, the Browns had Washington shut out until the sixth when the Senators shoved across 2 runs on a double by Sammy West, an error, fielders choice, a single by Taft Wright and an infield out.

The Browns got their run in the first when Harlan Clift singled Don Heffner across. Washington picked up three in the seventh on doubles by Buddy Lewis and Mickey Vernon, a walk and Morris Aderholt's single.

This corner picks Galento to finish on top, but only if he can do it in six rounds. If he lets Lou stay around longer than that, the blond belter is the better route-goer.

A recent poll of the football squad at one midwestern university, it has leaked out through the school's publicity service, has proved that Spencer Tracy is the favorite actor of grid-ders. Approximately one-fourth of the squad gave Tracy a first place vote. Clark Gable, living up to the he man's standard, came in a close second.

On the subject of women the team was not so well co-ordinated in one line of thought. The votes were so well scattered among feminine movie names that the publicity man couldn't even announce a winner.

Iowa's opening game this fall, against the Coyotes of South Dakota, will take on a wild west air if the reports about the Fairfield delegation are true. The Fairfield centennial celebration, which will include many and well-grown beards, will be going on at that time and the celebrants plan to attend the Hawkeye opener en masse.

Dick Stabile Orchestra To Play For Pledge Prom at Iowa Union

Party Is Climax Of Formal Rushing Of 13 Sororities

While Dick Stabile and his orchestra provide a musical background tonight, pledges of the 13 sororities and their escorts will dance from 9 to 1 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union at the annual Pledge Prom, the climaxing event of formal rushing.

Limited numbers of stag cards for this first "cut-in" dance in the history of university parties have been issued to each of the social fraternities. In addition to these men and to the escorts provided for the pledges by the sororities, the Women's Pan-hellenic association has invited a group of university men to serve as special hosts and to assist in introducing men and women.

Dick Stabile, (above) whose orchestra will play tonight at the annual Pledge Prom from 9 to 1 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union, is coming to Iowa City directly from engagements at various places throughout the country including the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago; Statler hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.; Baker hotel in Dallas, Tex.; Hotel William Penn in Pittsburg, Pa., and Statler hotel in Cleveland, Ohio. Featured singers with the band are Alice O'Connell, Johnny Drake and Ralph Fay. The Stabile Sextette and the rhythm quartette are other novelty entertainers.

These hosts will include Jim Hoak, C4 of Des Moines; Bob O'Meara, A3 of Cedar Rapids; Richard Witt, A3 of Shell Rock; Frank Brandon, A4 of St. Davis, Pa.; Allen White, A4 of Iowa City; Richard Feddersen, A3 of Iowa City; Ross McFadden, A4 of Audubon; Martin O'Connor, A2 of Des Moines; Robert McGregor and Bruce McGregor, both A3 of Cedar Rapids; Dave Foerster, A4 of Iowa City; Paul Wise, E4 of Boise, Idaho, and Don Sutsman, A4 of Washington, Ia.

Satin drapes and colored lights will be used in decorating the lounge. University women will wear long dresses, but the men will dress informally.

Tickets for the Prom remaining after all sorority pledges have received theirs will be available to active members of the various groups late this afternoon at the main desk of Iowa Union.

Today Women Golfers Plan Final Round

Several local clubs and organizations will meet for business and social sessions this afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Jule Kasper will be in charge of the final golf tournament of the season for the Women Golfers association which will be played at the Iowa City Country club at 9 o'clock this morning.

Sons of Union Veterans and their auxiliary will meet for a constitution day celebration at 7:45 in the G. A. R. rooms of the courthouse.

Eagle auxiliary members will be hostesses at a card party this afternoon at 2:15 in the Eagle hall.

The American Legion auxiliary will entertain at a public card party at 2:15 in the Legion club-rooms of the community building.

King's Daughters Appoint Delegates To Convention

Delegates from Electa circle of the King's Daughters to the state convention of the organization in Cedar Rapids in October were appointed at a meeting of the group yesterday in the home of Mrs. Frank Konvalinka, 417 E. Brown street.

The delegates will be Mrs. F. X. Freyder, Mrs. Sarah Paine Hoffman and Clara Kutcher. Alternates will be Mrs. Edwin Davis, Mrs. May Flynn and Mrs. Ida Yetter.

Woman's Club To Fete Group

Meeting To Be In New Clubrooms Of Community Building

New members of the Iowa City Woman's club will be recognized at a meeting of the group this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the new clubrooms in the community building. The club is asked by the president to note that this is earlier than the usual meeting time of the group.

The executive board will meet at 1 o'clock before the meeting. Mrs. George Beattie of Cedar Rapids will be guest speaker at this first general meeting of the group.

New members have been asked to report to the social committee chairman or one of the committee members. The committee includes Mrs. I. A. Rankin, chairman, and Mrs. H. L. Bailey, Mrs. Edna M. Harter, Mrs. R. V. Smith and Mrs. Sam Whitebook.

Each member is asked to bring her yearbook and her membership card to this session.

A display of autumn flowers is planned, and tea will be served by the members of the garden department who will serve as hostesses.

There are more than 500 members of the National Mouse club in England who raise fancy mice for a hobby. Many more fanciers belong to county and district clubs.

Both aluminum and gold are malleable metals. However, when they combine they form an alloy that is non-malleable.

Recent Bride To Live Here

Geraldine Jakway (above), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jakway of Oelwein, and Jack Haller of Iowa City, son of Mrs. Gertrude Haller of San Francisco, Cal., were married Sunday in the Methodist church in Oelwein. The Rev. F. C. Witzigman of Oelwein officiated. The bride, who attended Coe college in Cedar Rapids and the university, is a member of Gamma Phi Beta and Phi Gamma Nu sororities. Mr. Haller, a graduate of the university college of law, is a member of Phi Delta Theta and Gamma Eta Gamma fraternities. After a short wedding trip to Minneapolis, Minn., the couple will be at home at 212 E. Bloomington street, here in Iowa City.

Ruth Newell, John Nelson Are Married

University Graduates Wed September 2 In Superior, Wis.

Ruth St. Clare Newell, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Pierce Newell of Superior, Wis., and John Thomas Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Nelson of Durant, were married Sept. 2 in the Methodist church in Superior. The bride's father, the Rev. Mr. Newell, who officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a princess gown of white moire taffeta fashioned with a very full skirt, a fitted basque waist and long fitted sleeves. Her veil was of net fastened to a tiara of the same material and seed pearls. She carried Easter lilies.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Janice, who wore a rust colored spun rayon gown made with a bustle back, full skirt, fitted bodice and square neckline. Her bouquet was of pom pom.

Bridesmaids were two other sisters of the bride, Hope and Carol Newell, and Jane Phillips of Davenport and Margaret De Wolf of Des Moines. Earl Bogard of Clarksville, Ark., was best man. Ushers included Thomas McKibben of Newton; Duane Crossley of Tipton; Howard Wieber of Durant, and Robert Bishop Jr. of Superior, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will make their home in Wilton Junction after a wedding trip.

Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of Cornell college at Mt. Vernon. She also took graduate work at the university. Mr. Nelson also attended Cornell college and was graduated from the university.

Ernest Cassill Buys Interest In Newspaper

University Graduate Succeeds Purcell At Iowa Falls Citizen

Ernest C. Cassill of Lenox, a graduate of the University of Iowa college of law in 1935, has purchased the interest of Tom B. Purcell in the Iowa Falls Citizen and the Citizen Printing company at Iowa Falls.

Mr. Cassill succeeds Mr. Purcell as president and treasurer of the Citizen Printing company and will also succeed him as editor and publisher of the Citizen and manager of the company when the business is given over to the new owner next Monday.

Mr. Cassill attended the University of Iowa from 1929 to 1935 studying commerce and law. Upon graduation in 1935 he was admitted to the Iowa bar.

While attending the university Mr. Cassill was active in university publications. He gained his first newspaper experience during that time when he served in various capacities on the business staff of The Daily Iowan. Mr. Cassill was also business manager of the Hawkeye during his junior year and for several years was circulation and promotion manager for Frivol.

After completing his schooling and passing the state bar examinations, Mr. Cassill was employed in the law office of Attorney Will J. Hayek. He later accepted a position in the promotion department of the Cedar Rapids Gazette.

He has also worked with the Travelers Insurance company in the Cedar Rapids branch agency, the home offices at Hartford, Conn., and in the Des Moines offices.

Following his resignation with the company in 1938 he re-entered the newspaper field with his brother at Fremont, Neb. His newspaper experience in all totals about seven years.

THEY MAKE NEWS Here and There

Marshal Italo Balbo is expected to arrive in Berlin soon at the head of a group of Italian military experts who would confer there with German government and military leaders.

Joseph Paul Cretzer, listed as Public Enemy No. 3, was captured in his Chicago apartment by federal bureau of investigation operatives. His wife, who was with him when he shot his way free from capture by two Indiana state policemen who attempted to apprehend them at Michigan City, Ind., was also captured. Cretzer is wanted for bank robbery in Los Angeles, Cal., also.

Ferdinand Parrand, 25, of Texas, is questioned by Chelsea, Mass. police as a result of finding his wife's body following a fishing trip which the two took. Parrand reported his wife missing. Police said the body gave evidence of strangulation before drowning.

U. Students To Be Feted

Quadrangle, Hillcrest Residents Will Attend 7:30 Mixer Tonight

Freshmen men students who are living at the Quadrangle or Hillcrest, university men's dormitories, will be entertained at a mixer tonight at 7:30 in the Quadrangle lounge.

A "jam" session, group singing, introduction of various Quadrangle and Hillcrest council members and refreshments are planned. Colored news reels of Iowa football games and of the campus will be shown.

All freshmen men living in the two dormitories are invited to be the guests of the two dormitory councils.

D. A. R. Begins Fall Meetings

First Activity After Summer Recess To Be Luncheon on Saturday

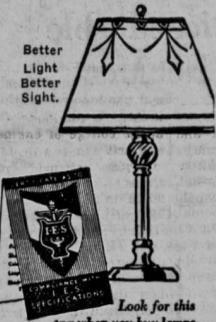

Resuming activity after the summer recess, the Daughters of the American Revolution will meet for luncheon Saturday at 1 p.m. at the Parks tearoom. There will be a board meeting at 12:30 p.m.

Iowa Freshmen Will Have Their Week Beginning Today

Barnes Reveals Final Program For Each Day

New Students Meet For Opening Session At 9:30 This Morning

A detailed program including committees and supervisors of special events for freshman week, which begins this morning, were announced yesterday by Registrar Harry G. Barnes, general chairman of freshman week.

Beginning with the first meeting at 9:30 this morning, University of Iowa freshmen will be conducted through five days of special events including assemblies, entertainment, get-acquainted meetings and special instructions; in fact, everything that a new student would want to know upon first coming to the campus will be explained.

Also during the week will be the usual qualifying examinations and a special registration procedure. Registration materials for both freshmen and upperclassmen are available at the south entrance of Macbride hall.

The freshman week assignment booklet, an official guide to the freshman week program, which contains coupons of admission to each event, has been distributed with registration materials. Engineering, pharmacy and school of nursing freshmen have received their materials in their respective colleges.

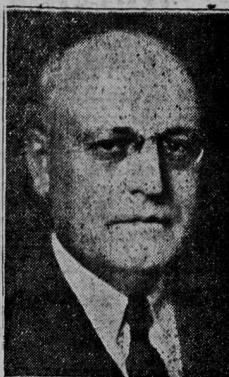

All freshmen will participate in the week's event except those in the school of nursing, who will follow a program especially prepared for them by officials of the school.

Freshman week, Registrar Barnes explains, is planned to aid each freshman in becoming acquainted with the university and provide for helpful guidance through the registration procedure. Students are asked to attend all required events and as many of the others as possible. Here is a day-by-day program for the week in detail.

Today
9:30 a.m.—All university freshman assembly, Macbride hall. Attendance is required of all students in the colleges of engineering, liberal arts and pharmacy.

At this meeting President Eugene A. Gilmore will address the freshmen briefly and Registrar Barnes will talk to them explaining the schedule of freshman week.

GEORGE F. KAY

1:30 p.m.—Part I, qualifying and placement examinations, field house. Required of all freshmen in the colleges of liberal arts, engineering and pharmacy.

These examinations will be in charge of Prof. Dewey B. Stuit of the psychology department.

8 p.m.—Play night, women's gymnasium. This event is not required but will offer an excellent opportunity for freshmen to get together and become acquainted. The evening's entertainment will be featured with games, dancing and card playing.

The program is in charge of Janet Cumming, instructor in the women's physical education department, who is assisted by Esther French, also an instructor in the department.

Tomorrow
Saturday, Sept. 16

8:30 a.m.—Part II, qualifying and placement examinations, field house. Required of all freshmen in the college of engineering, liberal arts and pharmacy.

8 p.m.—Open house, Iowa Union.

For this event, the Iowa Union staff and Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of Iowa Union, are cooperating with the freshman week committee to provide an elaborate entertainment program for the new students.

All facilities of Iowa Union will be operating including WSUI studios, the Silver Shadow, the music room and all other parts will be open for inspection. Attendance at this event also is not required but will provide very good entertainment for all who come.

Sunday, Sept. 17

4 p.m.—University vespers, Macbride hall.

Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion, has been in charge of arrangements for the vesper program. The featured speaker will be Stoddard Lane of Des Moines.

Monday, Sept. 18

7 a.m.—School of nursing freshmen. Registration begins, office of the educational director, West lawn.

8 a.m.—Pre-registration meetings: engineering, electrical engineering building; liberal arts, Macbride hall; pharmacy, pharmacy-botany building.

Arrangements for those meetings are in charge, respectively, of Dean Francis M. Dawson, Registrar Barnes, Dean Rudolph A. Kuever.

Friday and Saturday schedules were planned for freshmen in liberal arts, engineering and pharmacy. Beginning today, the remainder of the week's program is in charge of the deans of the colleges of engineering and pharmacy while Registrar Barnes continues in charge of liberal arts freshmen.

10 a.m.—Assignment of liberal arts freshmen to faculty advisers begins, Macbride hall.

These advisers are stationed on the sun porch of Iowa Union during registration and aid the students in planning their schedules and getting properly registered.

1:30 p.m.—Registration for liberal arts freshmen begins, Iowa Union.

Charles Maruth, assistant registrar, is in charge of registration activities at Iowa Union and Myrtle Keeley, assistant examiner, is in charge of activities at the registrar's office in University hall.

2:10 p.m.—"Using the university library," Macbride hall. Required of freshmen who do not register until Tuesday morning.

This special feature of freshman week is in charge of Theodore S. Bland, superintendent and reference librarian of the service and exchange department, and the instruction will be presented by Emma Felsenthal, instructor in library methods.

Students who register Tuesday morning will take the instruction this afternoon and those registering this afternoon will do it tomorrow morning.

8 p.m.—Special program for freshmen, Macbride hall.

This will be a special entertainment for freshman students presented to acquaint the incoming students with some features of the university.

Included on the program will be numbers and dances by the Scottish Highlanders, introduction of Eddie Anderson and the coaching staff, group singing led by Don Mallet, group cheering, and officials have announced that a special surprise number will be included on the program.

Tuesday, Sept. 19

8 a.m.—Registration for liberal arts freshmen continues, Iowa Union.

10 a.m.—"Using the university library," Macbride hall. Required of all freshmen who registered Monday afternoon.

2:10 p.m.—Freshman assembly, Macbride hall. Required of all liberal arts freshmen.

At this assembly Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts will address the group.

8 p.m.—Freshman assembly, Macbride hall. A special lecture about the university.

Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh, head of the political science department, will present an address rising out of his book, "Old Stone Capitol Reminders."

Wednesday, Sept. 20

Subject orientation. All freshmen in the colleges enrolled in the following are required to attend first meetings of these courses.

8 a.m.—Speech, Macbride hall. In charge of Prof. E. C. Mable.

10 a.m.—English, Macbride hall. In charge of Prof. Nellie S. Aurner.

1:10 p.m.—Military, field house. In charge of Col. Homer S. Slaughter.

2:10 p.m.—Band, south music hall. In charge of Prof. Charles B. Richter.

2:10 p.m.—Physical education, men, field house. In charge of Prof. E. G. (Dad) Schroeder.

2:10 p.m.—Physical education, women, women's gymnasium. In charge of Prof. Elizabeth Halsey.

Thursday, Sept. 21

7:45 a.m.—Induction ceremony, west approach to Old Capitol. Classes begin following the ceremony.

various assemblies and meetings are in charge of Lee Cochran, director of the visual education department of the extension division. He is assisted by Vernon Putnam.

A new part of the student orientation week this year will be the special meeting which has been arranged for transfer students who are undergraduates. They will meet in Macbride hall Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock for instructions in registration procedure. Registrar Barnes is in charge of this meeting.

The freshman week committee which was appointed by President Eugene A. Gilmore and which has been in charge of all arrangements consists of these members: Registrar Barnes, chairman; Don Mallet, Prof. H. G. Higbe, Prof. H. J. Thornton and Helen Reich.

In addition to Dean Dawson and Dean Kuever planning the programs for students in their respective colleges after Monday, Dean Kay was advisor to those planning the liberal arts program.

Students Get Their Materials

Long lines of students Wednesday completed the first step of registration for the University of Iowa's first semester by obtaining necessary registration materials.

Hundreds of students were present as the first of some 7,000 registration material forms were dispensed. Registration in the liberal arts, education, commerce, and graduate colleges is scheduled for next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Upperclassmen and freshmen were lined up for distribution of materials. By this afternoon, practically all of the freshmen will be present at the university, for they are required to report for their first orientation event tomorrow morning.

The registration process is arranged so that the freshmen will be able to complete their part next Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning, when all facilities will be turned over to them.

Weiss, Louisiana Politician, Convicted of Mail Fraud Charge

Jurors Convict Dr. J. Smith, Two Others

No Sentence Passed On Heir to Huey's Political Machine

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14 (AP)—Seymour Weiss, one of the three principal heirs to the powerful political machine left by Huey Long, was convicted of mail fraud charges tonight by a federal jury. The jurors, after deliberating a little more than two hours, also returned verdicts of "guilty as charged" against Weiss' four co-defendants. All were accused of using the mails in alleged fraudulent scheme to sell the state university hotel furnishings it already owned.

Those convicted with Weiss, New Orleans and New York hotel executive, were Monte E. Hart, contractor long favored with state president; Dr. J. M. Smith, former president of Louisiana State university; Louis Lessage, suspended official of the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana; and J. Emory Adams, nephew of Dr. Smith's wife.

Judge Wayne G. Borah did not immediately impose sentence. Counsel for the defendants, visibly surprised, clustered about the judge's stand but withheld comment. Their clients remained in their seats.

Weiss, with former governor Richard W. Leche and Mayor Robert S. Maestri of New Orleans, formed the triumvirate that took over the direction of Louisiana affairs after Long was shot to death at the state capitol in 1935. Leche, who resigned because of "ill health," is now under indictment on a "hot oil" charge, and government attorneys said trial of his case was likely to be the next in those being prepared by federal prosecutors who have been investigating state political affairs in recent months.

Weiss also is under indictment in this case, growing out of alleged violation of the Connally hot oil act, which prohibits production of petroleum in excess of state quotas. The mail fraud case, in which the government charged use of the mails to defraud in the alleged double sale of Bienville hotel furnishings to Louisiana state university, was the first brought by federal prosecutors.

The penalty fixed by law for violation of the mail fraud statute is a maximum fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for five years, or both.

The government charged they split among them $75,000 obtained through selling to the university the furnishings which allegedly were included in the original sale price of the hotel, $575,000.

Iowa Communists Deny Subversive Activities

DES MOINES, Sept. 14 (AP)—Iowa communist party officials declared today that purported workers for their organization were guilty of "inciting government hostilities" as charged at Sioux City, yesterday.

Six men, arrested on that charge, in that city, gave their names as M. R. Carson, 30, Iowa communist party secretary from Des Moines; Carl Friedman, 24, Rock Island, Ill.; and Wilbur Howard, 53, Rudy Holly, 26, Joe Phillips, 27, and Theodore Baer, 31, all Sioux City.

In a statement, the party officials said in part, "we wish to state we do not advocate overthrow of the government, either as individuals or as an organization."

Minister Fulfills His Own Prophecy

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 14 (AP)—Harry Gilbert, 59, a gold buyer, read from the talmud to the congregation in the Voliner Ashley Synagogue today in observance of the Jewish New Year.

"A person doesn't know how long he is going to live; he may live a long time, yet some live only five minutes," Gilbert told the congregation. A few minutes later he died of a heart ailment.

$25,000 Blaze Razes Building At Schleswig

Brisk Wind Fans Flames in Downtown Business District

SCHLESWIG, Ia., Sept. 14 (AP)—The Henry Hollander frame building in the Schleswig business district burned late today with loss estimated at $25,000. The building was completely destroyed.

Heaviest loss was sustained by the Hock Construction company, Des Moines, which used part of the big building for storage purposes.

The fire, believed to have started in the Barney Neubaum cream station, was fanned by a brisk wind and the building collapsed before the flames could be brought under control.

Other firms suffering loss were the R. W. Christiansen Electric shop and the J. W. Hess garage.

Schleswig firemen were aided by crews from Denison and Rickets.

$200,000 Fire Strikes N. Y.'s Coney Island

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—A $200,000 fire destroyed part of Steeplechase park and a section of the boardwalk at Coney Island today and resulted in injuries to two civilians and nine of scores of firemen who fought the blaze more than an hour before it was controlled.

A fireworks explosion burned a 15-year-old boy about the face. His cause undetermined, the fire swept through approximately 300 feet of boardwalk fronting the park, destroyed the flying turns concession, the entrance to the park, a portion of the steeplechase ride, and 16 smaller concessions, including several bathhouses.

Because it is Coney's "Mardi Gras" time, the park was closed to the public during the day and was to have been opened at 6 p. m.

Before diamonds were cut, the shape of a stone meant a lot to its owner. Triangular stones were thought to cause quarrels; a square stone filled its owner with vague fears, and a five-cornered one caused violent death. Only the six-cornered stone was productive of good.

3 Convicted Murderers Drug Guards, Fail in Escape Attempt

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 14 (AP)—Eleven guards and a trusty were drugged today during a bold attempt by three convicted murderers to escape from the Joliet penitentiary.

The guards collapsed, unconscious, on the floor of their stations shortly after they drank coffee. Warden Joseph E. Ragen said he believed a sleep-inducing drug had been placed in the beverage.

The three convicts were seized when they attempted to place a 32-foot makeshift ladder against one of the prison walls. They and 45 others assigned to the kitchen detail were placed in solitary confinement pending an investigation.

The condition of one guard, Milton Williamson, and the trusty, Sam Brandenburg, was termed critical by prison physicians tonight. The condition of the others, although serious, improved as effects of the drug wore off.

Warden Ragen said he believed one of the convicts made the drug from weeds taken from one of the prison honor farms.

Ragen said the three convicts who planned the escape by scaling the north prison wall were: Patrick Joyce, 31, Joseph Jazorak, 44, and Peter Balourilis, 28, all serving long terms for murder.

The attempted break was discovered shortly after lunch hour when a tower guard saw the three convicts running toward a wall with the ladder.

Since the felons were out of his rifle range, he telephoned the next tower. He received no answer and suspected foul play. He notified yard Captain William Ryan who, with guard Homer Drewen, captured the convicts.

A short time later the stricken guards, most of them on tower duty, were found unconscious at their posts.

The warden theorized the drug was placed in the coffee before it was taken from the commissary to the guards in a locked bucket.

All the famous race horses in the world are believed to stem from just three great equine forebears.

S. U. I. Notified Of Pilot Training Plan

Instruction To Begin Here Next Month

Authorities Await Notification of Number To Receive Training

Official notification that the University of Iowa has been selected as one of the institutions to train civilian airplane pilots, together with application forms, has been received.

Dean F. M. Dawson of the college of engineering said that the notification from the civil aeronautics authority in Washington, D. C., indicated that a contract and specification of number of students would be sent about next Monday.

Freshmen Ineligible
As the university, with a special six-man committee, prepared to rush plans for the instruction to start next month, Dean Dawson said that rules provide that only students above the rank of freshmen will be eligible.

On the application blank, the medical examination is stressed, with particular reference to good vision. It is recommended by the CAA that about three times the number of applicants as there are places be signed, since numerous students probably will fail to meet the requirements.

Await Information
"We will be able to make definite plans much more quickly as soon as we learn the actual number of men to be trained here," Dean Dawson said.

A detailed record of academic ability, as well as personal habits and physical condition must be compiled for each applicant. Dean Dawson believes that the CAA will send a representative here to pass upon the applicants but that the medical examinations will be completed by university physicians.

Malone Rites Tomorrow

Funeral for Local Resident To Be At St. Patrick's

Funeral service for M. D. Malone, 70, 328 S. Dodge street, former chief of police here, who died at his home Wednesday night after a lingering illness, will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow at St. Patrick's church. He will be buried in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mr. Malone, who moved here from Canada in 1892, served as police chief from 1919 through 1922. He was married to Winifred Cash in Iowa City in 1896.

Survivors include his wife and four children, Joseph, John and Elizabeth Malone, all of Iowa City, and Mrs. E. T. Toomey, Cedar Rapids. Margaret Malone, a daughter, preceded him in death in 1934.

The body is at the McGovern funeral home.

City Clerk's Office Open

The office of the city clerk will remain open all day including the noon hour today, and tomorrow until 5 p. m. for all residents of Iowa City who wish to register for the special election Sept. 26, City Clerk Grover Watson said yesterday.

He repeated that tomorrow at 5 p. m. marks the deadline for registration for the election involving the light and gas franchises for the Iowa City Light and Power company.

Old Settlers Hold Reunion

100 Johnson County Citizens Picnic In City Park Yesterday

One hundred of Johnson county's elderly citizens, some of them pioneers, ate their picnic lunches yesterday noon in City park.

It was the annual reunion of the settlers of Johnson county, who heard informal speeches by George D. Koser, their president, Levi O. Leonard of the political science department and Prof. F. C. Ensign of the college of education.

Mrs. Mary Green, only a week younger than 92 years, was the oldest member in attendance.

U. High Year Opens Monday

Five New Teachers Appointed to Faculty, Principal Stout Reports

Under the direction of the new principal, Minard W. Stout, classes at University high school will begin Monday. Stout announces that five new teachers have been named to the faculty with another instructor returning after a year of study abroad.

New teachers include Louis Kollmeyer, art; Elizabeth Andersch, speech; Margaret England, English; Freda McCrary, assistant in home economics, and John L. Hassberg, vocal music. After a year's study in France, C. J. LeVois returns to the romance language department.

High school classes have been limited to a total of 25 students in order to give a better educational program to the students, it is announced.

An addition on the third floor for a group of offices for the school department heads is now under construction with the offices to be built on the southwest section of the building.

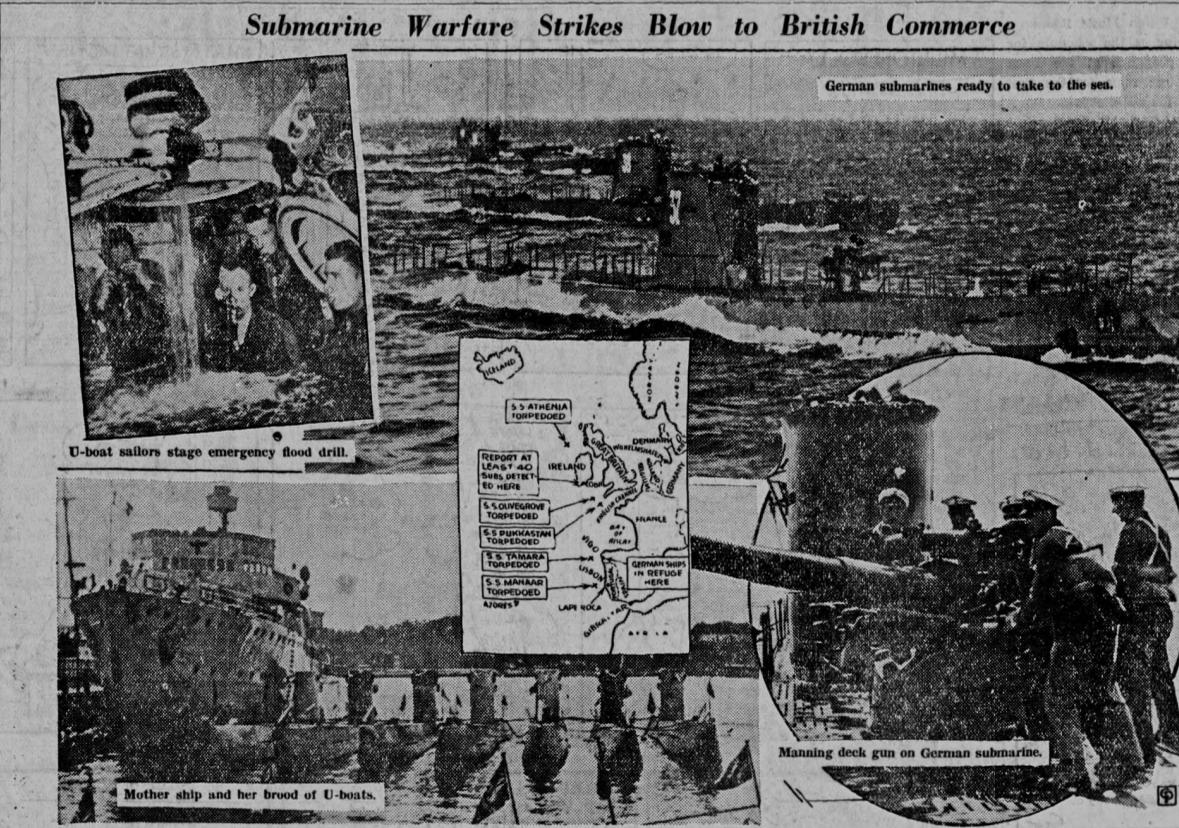

The four upper grades are filled with their quota of 0 students, Stout said. The eighth grade and seventh grade have room for more students, he said.

Boys, Girls of Nation Will Exhibit At Annual American Livestock Show

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Thousands of boys and girls throughout the nation are making preparations to participate in the 41st annual American Royal Live Stock show in Kansas City Oct. 14 to 21. Hundreds of sleek "baby beebes," fat barrows and lambs are being groomed by young future stockmen and stockwomen to compete for valuable cash prizes and national recognition.

Early reports from county extension agents in charge of 4-H club activities and vocational agriculture instructors in charge of vocational and Future Farmers of America groups indicate widespread and intensive interest in the American Royal.

Four-H clubs will send 150 official delegates each from the states of Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. Other states throughout the country will also be represented by official delegates to participate in the 17th annual Royal conference. In addition to the conference activities, 4-H club boys and girls will compete in the American Royal arena with

Those chosen to represent Iowa City at the conclave are Lloyd Memler, T. J. Parker, W. S. Putnam, Leo E. Kohl, Clarence Kettles, Andy Kelley and Howard Stimmel.

Local delegates announced that they will place Iowa City's bid for the 1940 state convention.

Congressman T. Martin Stands Firm Against American Declaration of War

Congressman Thomas E. Martin that he is opposed to any revision of the neutrality laws, resulting in a cash and carry arrangement with nations at war.

The speaker told his listeners to look twice at war propaganda to be found everywhere in the United States before drawing any conclusions that would favor a declaration of war.

Among the guests at the meeting were M. N. Leffler, James Irwin, Boone, John Mattill and Lauren York, Grinnell. Visiting Rotarians included H. H. Davis, Columbus, Ohio; A. G. Reid, Waterloo; Walter C. Odell, Cedar Rapids; L. E. Conger, Yates Center, Kans., and William Barron, Cedar Rapids.

Two Injured In Car Crash Near Here

Lone Tree Drivers Collide Head-On; Driver Hurt Seriously

Two persons were injured, one seriously, when an auto driven by John Burr of Lone Tree and W. R. Brewster, also of Lone Tree, collided head-on one mile north of Lone Tree about 8 p. m. yesterday.

John Burr, driver of one of the cars, suffered a broken leg and other lacerations and bruises. Mrs. Bertha Brewster, wife of the driver of the other car, received cuts and bruises, none serious, it was reported.

Both the injured persons were brought to Mercy hospital in Iowa City by a Lone Tree physician.

All-Time September Record Set as Temperatures Soar

A weather record fell yesterday as a hot mid-September sun sent Iowa City temperatures soaring to an all-time recorded high of 96 degrees.

The reading was 18 degrees above normal for the day—78 degrees. The low reading for the hottest Sept. 14 on record was 69, this 1 3/4 degrees above the normal low of 56 degrees.

The previous record for the day was Sept. 14, 1927 when a reading of 95 degrees was recorded. No rain fell during the 24-hour period ending at 7 o'clock last night and none was in sight last night; in fact, the weather man saw only continued warm weather for another day at least.

An investigation, however, revealed that the humidity yesterday was not as high as has been recorded on other hot days; in fact, it was somewhat below the normal humidity figure.

The University of Iowa hydraulics department weather station reported a humidity of about 40 per cent. The normal, it was explained, is about 50 and on the hot and sultry days it usually averages in the 70's.

This shows that the humidity was not excessive and the heat "all heat and not moisture in the air."

Local Women Attend Meeting Of Directors

Mrs. M. F. Sullivan, music chairman, and Mrs. Crayne, ladies' chorus leader, who head the music program Johnson county have returned Iowa City from Ames where they attended a state training school for chorus directors and county and township music chairmen Tuesday.

Others present from Johnson county were Mr. and Mrs. mettt C. Gardner and Mrs. ford Breese.

The school, headed by Frank R. Buchanan, extension specialist in rural music, gave training in presenting music to groups. It was directed by Prof. Tolbert MacRae and Rosalind Cook of the Iowa State college music department.

County and township music chairmen in women's and 4-H club girls' programs and chorus directors for 4-H girls' and women's groups attended.
