Iowa Students To Pay Respects to Hawkeyes At Pep Rally Tonight

Cheers Begin At 7 o'Clock This Evening

Band, Cheerleaders Will Head Program On Old Capitol Steps

By OSCAR HARGRAVE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Tonight, at 7 o'clock, University of Iowa students will pay their respects to the Hawkeye football team that leaves for Lafayette, Ind., tomorrow morning in quest of its third Big Ten victory of the year. After that, with the team entraining for Purdue, those students not in class at the hour are expected to see the squad off at 9:15 tomorrow morning.

Moved up half an hour in order to avoid all interference with lectures that are scheduled for tonight, the meeting promises to be one of the largest in recent years. The fact that Iowa, rated as lowly before the season began, has climbed to the first division of the mighty Western conference has fired the imagination of Iowa rooters—had numbed them, in fact, with recovery about to come in tonight's demonstration.

Brilliant Performances

Not in years, and never perhaps, has an Iowa team turned in the performances of this year's eleven, in view of the competition and the lack of numbers. And, the Hawkeye victories have not been victories of an ordinary sort. The sensational last period rally of the Indiana game, along with a final winning thrust in last week's encounter at Wisconsin, have been some of the feats to bring the new Hawkeye reputation as a colorful and always dangerous club.

Between the new "kick" installed by Dr. Eddie Anderson and the added effectiveness of the Notre Dame system, the Hawkeyes have found new power, with more possibilities ahead.

Chances For Season

Just what these possibilities are may be partly decided in Saturday's encounter with the Butlermakers, rated as one of the Big Ten's most powerful. If the Hawkeyes win again they are practically assured of finishing in the first division, while a defeat would drop them down to a .500 percentage.

Besides the chances for a good team record there are other honors possible. Nile Kinnick end Capt. Erwin Prasse have both been on all-conference teams. Kinnick, with chances for all-American honors in sight, and Prasse, one of the best receivers for Kinnick's passes, are probable stars.

Britons Confronted By Food Shortage

Ship-Fed Isle Feels Strain Of Sea Battles

German Raiders At Large in Atlantic Add to Losses

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP)—A government announcement that food rationing would begin next month brought to every home in this ship-fed island tonight war at sea — where two more British ships were sunk and two German pocket battleship raiders were reported to be at large.

The sinking of the Liverpool steamship Bronie and a British freighter east of Cuba added nearly 10,000 tons to the more than 200,000 tons of British merchant shipping sent to the bottom since the war started.

(The unnamed freighter presumably was the 3,670-ton Coulmore which flashed word last night she had been attacked by a submarine about 680 miles east of New York. The coast guard cutter Bibb, first on the scene, found no trace of her and other vessels and planes searched the area unavailingly.)

Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, told the house of commons that two German pocket battleships were reported at large in the Atlantic — presumably the Deutschland and the Admiral Scheer — and added that he could not forecast as to when they might be captured.

(The Deutschland sank the British freighter Stonegate and later captured the United States freighter City of Flint, which was taken to the Russian port of Murmansk and is now en route to Germany in command of a British prize crew.)

Belligerents Interfere With 27 U.S. Ships

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—The state department announced today interference by belligerent warships with the voyages of six American ships, raising to 27 the total challenged, searched, sent into port, or seized since the outbreak of war in Europe.

Some of the six lost a portion of their cargoes, but it was understood here that the seized products had been paid for by Britain or France or by their merchants.

"Injury to American vessels destined to European ports," the department said, "has not resulted in the main from their diversion from the high seas to belligerent ports."

Jim McConnell Named First ASU President

J. Gillotti Chosen For Vice-Presidency; Chapter Organizes

Jim McConnell, G of Chicago, was elected temporary president of an Iowa chapter of the American Student Union last night at the first meeting held in the main conference room in Iowa Union. He will hold office, as will the other officers elected, until the end of the present semester.

Other officers elected were: John Gillotti, LI of Des Moines, vice - president; John Fishburn, A4 of Muscatine, secretary; Bob Whalen, A4 of Ft. Dodge, treasurer; Dorothy Pownall, A1 of Iowa City, chairman of campus problems committee; Merle Miller, A4 of Marshalltown, chairman of national problems committee; Bob Hunt, A3 of Lamoni, chairman of international problems committee.

Merle Miller addressed the meeting and presented the aims and plans of the ASU. He pointed out that the reasons for the club are: It is an active program for undergraduates, its policy of democracy for the United States, and an international policy of peace.

He added that there are 36 ASU organizations in the country who educate themselves for a voice in national and international policies. The Iowa chapter will make a definite move for a voice in student government on the campus by the student body.

French Resist German Drive

1,000 Soldiers Try To Encircle Town, Are Driven Away

PARIS, Nov. 1 (AP)—A German force of 1,000 men which attempted to encircle an unidentified French frontier village on the northern flank of the western front was reported today to have been driven off by French fire. An artillery bombardment lasting an hour was said to have preceded the attack. The French had abandoned a small advance post in the village before the attack reached it.

The Germans held a cluster of houses for a short time before a battalion of Poilus counter-attacked and drove the nazis back to their original line, the French reported. There was no announcement of casualties.

The French general staff reported "habitual activity" during the day by infantry units on both sides.

Nazis Piloting American Ship Run Blockade

BERGEN, Norway, Nov. 1 (AP)—The American freighter City of Flint, expected to pass Bergen tomorrow, was believed tonight to be worming a blockade-dodging course southward along the irregular coast of Norway.

Norwegian authorities kept secret any information they might have about the freighter, which is being sailed by a German prize crew.

500 Key Dutch Defense Towns Placed Under Martial Law

THE HAGUE, Nov. 1 (AP)—A royal decree tonight established martial law in key Netherlands defense communities, including 500 of the nation's 1,200 smaller towns and villages, to bolster military plans and curb espionage.

Informed circles said the decree, which covered parts of eight of the Netherlands' 11 provinces, was precautionary and not because of any external threats of violation of the country's neutrality.

The whole of Utrecht province, except for its capital of the same name, was placed under martial law.

No large cities were affected by the proclamation, which placed about 500 towns and villages as well as other strategic areas under martial law.

These towns and villages are scattered over the entire country but most of them are situated along the German - Netherlands frontier, the northern and western seacoast districts and in the regions which would be inundated in case the country were invaded by belligerent armies.

EDVARD HAMBRO

Baconian Talk To Be Given By Norwegian

'Rebirth of European Neutrality' Essence Of Tonight's Speech

Dr. Edvard Hambro, well-known Norwegian internationalist, will speak on "The Rebirth of European Neutrality" at the second Baconian lecture tonight at 7:30 in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Dr. Hambro, head of the section for international relations of the Chr. Michelsen institute of Bergen, Norway, comes highly recommended. Mr. S. Shepard Jones, director of the World Peace foundation of Boston feels that what Dr. Hambro has to say on international relations is important and adds, "I am glad to recommend my young Norwegian friend most enthusiastically." When a lecturer at Harvard in 1937 he was well received.

Dr. Hambro is the author of numerous articles, his greater works including "L'execution des Sentences Internationales," published in Paris in 1936, and "Norge og Folketofbundet," published in Oslo in 1938.

Among the universities which Dr. Hambro has attended are the Universities of Oslo, Geneva, and Yale, the Nansen foundation in Oslo, the Rockefeller foundation in New York, and Michelsen institute of Bergen.

Clemency For Rhodes Asked

Action Sought From Wilson on Behalf Of Slayer's Daughter

DES MOINES, Nov. 1 (AP)—Although the case is not officially in his hands, Gov. George A. Wilson has received his first letter seeking executive clemency for Walter (Dusty) Rhodes, former Iowa City musician, sentenced to hang for the murder of his wife.

The governor's office reported today that one person has written in behalf of Rhodes, basing the plea on the plight of the condemned man's daughter who will suffer if the execution is effected.

The Rhodes case is still in the hands of the state supreme court which reversed a previous high court ruling and affirmed the death sentence. Rhodes, however, has 60 days within which to file a new petition for a re-hearing. If the petition is made then denied, the case will go to the governor.

Gillingwater, Veteran Actor, Kills Himself

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Nov. 1 (AP)—Claude Gillingwater, 69, veteran stage and screen actor, was found shot to death in his North Bedford drive home. A pistol lay near the body. The death was reported to Coroner Frank Nance as a suicide.

Gillingwater, who had appeared on the stage in a number of David Belasco plays, had been active in films for more than ten years.

Since February, 1936, when he fell from a five-foot platform at Paramount studio where he was making a picture with Jack Oakie, the elderly actor had been in ill health.

Gillingwater appeared in repertoire and stock for several years and made his Broadway debut in "Za Za" with Mrs. Leslie Carter. He was with Belasco eight years and made his first motion picture, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," with Mary Pickford in 1921.

Martin Claims U. S. Arms 'Out of Date'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Representative Martin (R-Iowa), opposing repeal of the arms embargo, told the house today the United States should focus its attention on equipping its own army rather than shipping war material abroad.

"The United States is not prepared for a war of any kind," he said. "It is not even prepared to defend itself. If we were attacked today by a relatively small force we might succeed in mobilizing a million men 'over night' but any skirmish that they might be engaged in within the next year would find them armed with relics of the World War, some of which were found obsolete in 1918."

May Protest Loss of Freighter If British Ship Was Torpedoed Within U.S. 'Neutrality Zone'

Russia's 'Profound Sympathy' In April Recalled by F. D. R.

Soviet Gives Welcome to Polish Lands As Delegates Thank Stalin for Union

MOSCOW, Nov. 1 (AP)—Soviet Russia today welcomed two new regions, fruits of the German Soviet partition of Poland, into membership in the Soviet union.

The supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament, cheered the first appearance of delegates from the two regions—white Russia and the western Ukraine—carrying red banners into the chamber where the two houses of parliament met in extraordinary joint session.

Joseph Stalin was among the delegates who heard a Ukrainian representative declare "our first words are words of gratitude to comrade Stalin."

The supreme Soviet unanimously approved a resolution admitting the western Ukraine into the Soviet union, and uniting the territory with the Ukrainian soviet socialist republic.

At about the same time it was reported in semi-official German circles that a nazi economic delegation had successfully completed negotiations for the purchase of major Russian items and was returning to Berlin tomorrow.

Homer Dudley To Demonstrate New 'Vocoder' Here Tonight

Acoustics For John Q. Stewart Explains Its Significance In Every-Day Life

By LAYTON HURST

"Acoustics" is a high-sounding word with a very "homey" meaning. It's what makes your voice sound so good in the shower room, and what drives the high school orator into a purple frenzy on contest nights. It touches the "you and me" of the student body every day, and Prof. G. W. Stewart, head of the physics department, tells a very simple story of how an acoustical association came to be, and what its meeting here on this campus means to university students.

In 1895, miles of wire strung along the ceilings of buildings made a valiant attempt to absorb sound and drove architects frantic in the process. One man saw the dawn when he discovered that a room of certain specific dimensions had good acoustics.

False Dawn

For a while it was thought that every room of the same dimensions must be the same, but the dawn proved false. "Naturally they were wrong," said Professor Stewart, "but Wallace C. Sabine was the first man to open up the field of architectural acoustics."

The field took long years to grow and now it has developed so far that there are a great many acoustical manufacturing concerns. Six of them have joined in an Acoustical Materials association, which secures its uniform measurement data from a laboratory entirely independent from any one of the member corporations. It is contained in the Riverbank Laboratory at Geneva, Ill.

Common Problem

Architectural acoustics is a common problem here in university buildings, according to Professor Stewart. The music building, theater, various class rooms, lecture rooms and laboratories have been treated acoustically, the majority of them for better audition qualities. Some, however, such as the music building, hospital and dormitory corridors have been treated for sound isolation. (See STEWART, Page 8)

Public Showing Will Begin at 8 o'Clock In Macbride Auditorium

Homer Dudley of the Bell Telephone laboratories, inventor of a new "voice coder" called the vocoder, will demonstrate that device to the public at 8 o'clock tonight in Macbride auditorium.

The demonstration-lecture (for which tickets are still available to students, faculty and townspeople at Iowa Union desk, free of charge) occurs on the eve of the fall meeting of the Acoustical Society of America, opening here tomorrow morning.

Mr. Dudley arrived in Iowa City yesterday, with an abundance of equipment, which was being set up for the performance last night.

The vocoder, for which great commercial possibilities are seen, breaks up the human voice into a number of simple, low cycle components. Signals representing these components are sent over a circuit, and the machine re-builds the original voice.

In the re-building process, properly controlled, the vocoder can change the human voice so that it sounds like that of a little girl, an old man — even the whistle of a train.

By setting the machine above the pitch of a singer, man and machine can sing a duet together.

The rising and falling inflections of the voice may be reversed by the vocoder — these and similar possibilities will be demonstrated tonight.

Reich Takes Stock of New Developments

BERLIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—Germany started calling the roll of her ambassadors tonight to determine whether the war situation was altered by such developments as the Soviet Russian - Finnish negotiations, Russia's outline of her foreign policy and axis relations with Turkey.

The German ambassador to Moscow, Count Friedrich Werner von Der Schulenburg, was summoned home to make a report which an authorized spokesman said "certainly should be good news."

Nazi ambassador to Italy Hans-Georg Viktor von Mackensen already has submitted his observations on the significance of yesterday's shake-up in the fascist leadership and Premier Mussolini's keen interest in Turkish maneuvers. He arrived from Rome earlier in the week.

As to Turkey herself, Ambassador Franz von Pappen has been sent back to Ankara after reporting on the circumstances which drew Turkey into the British-French front after she had declined to make a pact with Russia.

Landon Scorns Panama Action

SHENANDOAH, Nov. 1 (AP)—Alfred M. Landon tonight criticized the declaration of Panama as setting up a hazy new zone on the high seas that raises many questions "full of peril to our neutral position."

In an address delivered before the Men's Brotherhood of the First Methodist church here, the 1936 republican presidential nominee said enforcement of the declaration would be "the greatest job ever assumed by any nation in history."

Finland Will Stand Firm

HELSINKI, Nov. 1 (AP)—Finland is prepared to "make a far-reaching settlement" with Soviet Russia but will reject proposals which "would rob us of the possibility of defending the independence and neutrality of our land," Foreign Minister Erkkko declared tonight.

Speaking to a defense benefit meeting, the foreign minister declared Foreign Commissioner Molotov's disclosure of Russia's demands before the Russian parliament yesterday had created a "queer atmosphere."

He spoke as a five-man Finnish delegation journeyed toward Moscow to deliver what observers believed was a firm "no" to Soviet demands, as discussed yesterday, but with counter proposals of its own.

Indiana Flyer To Serve Life For Fantastic Airplane Murder

MACON, Mo., Nov. 1 (AP)—A borrowed yellow plane. Pletch, known as a "flying Lochinvar," told prosecuting Attorney Vincent S. Moody he shot and killed Bivens without cause as they flew 5,000 feet above Macon county.

Judge Libby told the defendant that in sentencing him to life imprisonment he would have to promise he would never apply for a pardon or parole.

Pletch, who displayed little emotion during the proceedings, said he would make the promise.

Ships Buck Storm But Find No Trace Of Ill-Fated Vessel

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Naval and coast guard vessels

bucked an Atlantic gale tonight to search for a British freighter which flashed word she had been beset by a submarine about 680 miles from New York.

The scene of the attack as reported by the freighter Coulmore, a 352-foot collier, was 62.1 degrees west of Greenwich, 100 miles inside the Pan American "neutrality zone" fixed at the recent Panama conference.

Official quarters here said that if it were established that a submarine had fired a torpedo within the neutral zone the United States would consult immediately with other American republics as to what steps to take.

The diplomatic action probably would result in a protest to the offending power, either by the United States and the other American republics individually or by joint action. At the Panama conference no decision was made as to just what action would be taken if the neutral zone were violated.

The coast guard cutter Bibb, one of a number of craft searching for the Coulmore, reached her position this morning but found no sign of the 3,670-ton freighter or of survivors. Thirty-four men and the captain's wife were aboard.

The Bibb scoured the surface of the sea in that vicinity and then turned north to search in that direction. It reported a gale blowing from the south.

The bad weather forced two coast guard airplanes which joined the search to turn back to their bases at New York and Cape May, N. J., without reaching the Coulmore's reported position.

The coast guard had the cutters Hamilton, Campbell, Chelan, Argo and Duane in the search as well as the Bibb.

The navy joined the quest with the cryptic comment that its ships were helping in "saving life at sea." The number of navy vessels sent out was unannounced.

The Coulmore, which had called at Boston with a cargo of Russian coal Sept. 9, sent out her distress calls last night. Shore stations heard them faintly at 10:50 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, and then became plainer until 1:28 a.m., when nothing more was heard.

Soviet Favored Efforts To Aid Finland, Poles

Roosevelt's Reply To Molotoff Strengthens Bond With Baltics

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt, who had been criticized yesterday by Russian Premier Molotoff for "intervening" for Finland, dug up and re-issued tonight an official record which recalled that Russia had given "profound sympathy" only six months ago to his efforts to prevent attacks on Finland, Poland and other European nations.

Mr. Roosevelt's action apparently was both a reply to the Molotoff speech and a new effort to show that a bond of sympathy links Finland and the United States.

It was a dramatic action, in which the president, as the leading actor, remained off the stage. It was a drama almost without words or even pantomime.

The president merely directed his press secretary, Stephen T. Early, to run off on a mimeograph machine new copies of cablegrams dated last April. Early then handed the texts to reporters.

In one of the messages the president appealed to Adolf Hitler to give assurances which would guarantee at least ten years of non-aggression aboard. Specifically Mr. Roosevelt asked Hitler whether he was willing to give assurances that his armed forces would "not attack or invade the territory or possessions" of certain nations.

The president named Poland, of which Russia since has taken a slice. He mentioned Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, with which Russia has concluded agreements recently allowing her to utilize their territory for military purposes.

Bad Weather Hinders Hunt For Survivors

Will It Be Another Versailles?

IN THE University of Chicago roundtable broadcast Sunday afternoon, the participants in the discussion provided a refreshing angle on the present war situation. Instead of conjecturing upon the entrance of the United States into conflict, a subject of which almost everyone but congress is pretty weary, they asked what the part of this country will be in the settling of a peace when the war ends.

It was brought out that Lord Lothian, British ambassador to the United States, recently affirmed that the people of this nation will undoubtedly have a powerful influence in the treaty or treaties coming at the end of this war. It is quite probable that hatred will be deeper than ever after all war's horrors have left desolated cities and whole sections of country. The United States is in a position to be more dispassionate and to view the situation with more reason than emotion.

If Germany wins, there's not much doubt about the type of peace Hitler will enforce, because he has already listed his demands in a speech before the Reichstag. If the allied powers are the victors, the question arises, "will there be another Versailles?"

The roundtable frowned on the attitude, taken by many people, that Germany should be completely wiped off the map at the end of the war—reduced to numerous small, independent countries. The members agreed that Czechoslovakia, Austria, Hungary, and Poland should be revived. However, they would compel them and other small states to form a customs union, with Germany included; which would enable each country to enjoy necessary products of the others. For instance, Germany would be able to get Czechoslovakian steel without having to pay prohibitive tariff charges. A single currency within the union would make the arrangement more stable.

This may appear to give Germany too much power, but it is certain that it prevents the type of strangulation following the last great war which resulted in the phenomenon known as Hitlerism. Satisfied people usually don't revolt—dissatisfied people, hemmed in by tariff walls and hostile nations, fight for their existence. To avoid the mistakes of the last peace will require careful thought. It isn't too early to begin thinking!

Possum-Playing Political Parties

PROF. KIRK PORTER annually makes the observation before his political science students that political parties are "tough." It's beyond human control, he says, for humans to make or break them.

No better example to illustrate Professor Porter's point is available than the case of Nebraska. Significantly, of two suggestions made for improvement of the Nebraska unicameral legislature in a report by the legislature's president, one a proposition to elect the members on a partisan basis. Nebraska thought she would do away entirely with political parties by having non-partisan elections, an innovation that was part of the first session of the unicameral legislature for her in 1937. The failure of the experiment was immediately visible. Even though party names were not used officially, the people who voted did not forget party connections.

There are many cases to illustrate the amazing vitality of America's political parties, but not even the convalescence of the national republican organization is as striking as the Nebraska example.

We expect within a short time to see Nebraska's legislative elections returning to the old system of partisan elections.

The Value Of Mediocrity

WE ALL ASPIRE for greatness, for fame!

Yet, this would be a dull place if all of us were geniuses, if each of us won a Phi Beta Kappa key. A faculty made of super-teachers and scholars probably would pall and its morale disintegrate.

Civilization has need of its geniuses, but it also has need of that great percentage which is average. Genius may be erratic and cause more damage than good. Mediocrity has the virtue of being normal and usually consistent, qualities which are essentials of steady and ordered progress.

There will continue to be geniuses, some constructive and some destructive, while the great majority will continue to be average. Robert Browning's famous saying "What I aspired to be and was not comforts me" may be comforting to those who can only hope to be average.

The American gambling game, "Bingo," is very popular at Monte Carlo. But there they call it "Loto Monegasque." One cannot, it seems cry "Bingo!" in the necessary, well-modulated continental accent.

Raw apples are better for you than when converted into apple pies, according to a culinary expert. We won't kick about that just as long as she doesn't include pumpkins in that statement.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

Walter Winchell, able and interesting columnist, says "not to ignore the possibility of Herbert Hoover and Colonel Lindbergh on the 1940 republican ticket." And Mr. Winchell points out "their views on neutrality are not only similar, but are almost identical." The neutrality question will have been decided long before the 1940 political campaign is well under way and will not be an issue, and should not be. It is a non-partisan problem. Moreover, Hoover and Lindbergh are on the unpopular side.

It is quite true, as Mr. Winchell says, that the views of Herbert Hoover and Colonel Lindbergh are "almost identical." That fact has created the impression, just or unjust, that the same person wrote the speeches for both, and some columnists have intimated that Herbert Hoover is that person. But however that may be, there is no possibility of the next national republican ticket being composed of Hoover and Lindbergh.

George Gallardo, the able and versatile editor of Plain Talk, Des Moines, comments as follows upon Mr. Winchell's suggestions:

"What caused the great 1932 debacle? Mostly it can be laid to the ingeniousness of the democratic propaganda machine and to the heartless 'smear Hoover' campaign conducted by that party, not only during the campaign, but before and after. These attacks have not ended even to this day, and so well have the smearers done their work that the name of Hoover stirs up a 'horns nest' of protest wherever it is mentioned as a possible political possibility in Iowa and in other mid-western corn belt states."

"And as to Colonel Lindbergh, Plain Talk has been of the opinion that he has always held himself aloof from partisan politics. It would be useless for the republicans to count upon his popularity as an aviator as making him a favorite candidate for any office at this time. The time was, after young Lindbergh had made his daring and heroic airplane flight to Paris, that he was enshrined deeply in the hearts of his fellow citizens. Then he might have gone far in politics."

"Today, while all the country admires Colonel Lindbergh for what he has done, and what he is doing for aviation, it is recognized that his entry into the fight now going on at Washington for repeal of the embargo, and the ill starred public addresses which he has delivered over the radio in recent weeks, has not added any laurels to his crown of popularity. In fact, the speeches he has delivered have resulted in tarnishing the halo which has surrounded him for many years."

"Of course there is a possibility that the world may come to an end in 1940, but the possibility that the republican presidential ticket in 1940 will be Hoover and Lindbergh has just about as much chance of being fulfilled."

Stewart Discusses A Bee in Mr. Hull's Bonnet - The Malvinos Islands and Pan-Americanism

Ever hear of the Malvinos islands? Probably not. I can't find that name on any map available in this country or in any geographical gazetteer. But you'll find the Falkland Islands, all right. Those are the islands off which Admiral Sturdee's British Squadron wiped out Admiral von Spee's fleet of German raiders early in the last World War. They're 300 miles to the eastward from the Argentine coast, out in the south Atlantic.

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Columnist. The little critters don't signify materially from a territorial standpoint. But they're an important naval base. They dominate the Strait of Magellan. Strategically they're vital as to south Atlantic and south Pacific maritime warfare.

And the Argentines persistently answered, "How about the Malvinos islands?" The situation is aggravated at this juncture, because the English are accused of hunting military recruits in Argentina and concentrating them at Port Stanley, capital of the Malvinos group (or Falklands). The Argentines reason that this is a barefaced violation of their neutrality.

Well, the Malvinos group and the Falklands are one and the same thing—or, rather, several and the same things. Argentine maps say that they are the Malvinos islands. All other maps refer to them as the Falklands. This conflict in designations is a bad worry to our state department. Some early navigator first sighted these isles soon after Columbus' time. Other navigators, of various nationalities, sighted them subsequently, but no country laid claim to them until the French did, in 1764. After that title to 'em was disputed by the French, English and Spanish, respectively. Finally, they gravitated to Spain, though the English didn't waive their claim. But nobody cared much. They were uninhabited and of no consequence.

Same Old Question. At present Argentina's putting the same old query: "What about the Malvinos islands?" The situation is aggravated at this juncture, because the English are accused of hunting military recruits in Argentina and concentrating them at Port Stanley, capital of the Malvinos group (or Falklands). The Argentines reason that this is a barefaced violation of their neutrality. And Uncle Samuel winks at it, they contend. The nub of it is that Argentina hates England—on account of the Falklands, and incidentally, on account of the United States, also because of the Falklands. It makes Pan-American solidarity difficult. A little peeve of the Latin-American aggregation wouldn't matter, but Argentina is a major power. It's worth considering the difference between the Malvinos and the Falkland islands.

It took the doctors several days to bring him round again, but when he was revived, he managed to mumble the cause of his distress. It appears he'd just discovered he had a LEFT hand as well as a right. It seems the Hallowe'en committee had quite a time finding a song leader for their celebration. Some one thought they ought to get Don Mallett, but another suggested he'd be too busy with the dean of men's office and all. They wouldn't call him, but a third person suggested they get that young fellow who sings in the Methodist choir. They'd heard he was quite good. It was about half-a-day later that they discovered that fellow's name was Don Mallett. At the next committee meeting someone urged that the chap who leads the singing at Rotary would be perfect for the job. They couldn't recall HIS name. Of course, it was Don Mallett. Two days later a committee member called the president's office to check on the young man who leads the singing at freshman lecture. Uhuh, it was Don. Don Mallett was in charge of the singing at the Hallowe'en celebration. AROUND THE TOWN

THE RIGHT HAND NEVER KNOWS. A Myth. Mr. Martin Dies was angry. He skipped out of bed with a frown and hurried to the window to yank down the shade. The sun that was shining through the plate-glass had a distinct red-pink hue. He wondered idly as he pulled off his white pajamas what would happen if he'd subpoena God. But there'd be plenty of time for that later.

He noticed with dismay as he glanced at the mirror in his dresser that his nose was a kind of bubulous pink. He and the fellows had had a great time last night, compiling lists of people to investigate.

They still had a long way to go. So far they were only down to Walter Disney who was acting very suspicious out in Hollywood, announcing a movie for Mickey Mouse by the title of "Little Red Riding Hood."

He hurried to a shower, rubbing himself lightly so as not to excite the color of his skin, dressed in a conservative blue business suit and shoes, a suitable black tie without political significance. There was a red arrow on his black socks, but he hoped nobody would notice that. He was in a hurry.

As he ran down the stairs to breakfast, he picked up the newspaper which was carelessly thrown on the landing. He sighed with anxiety at his pictures on the front page. There were only three of them this morning, and only a few inches from one was a dispatch from "Rus—"

Dies was on his third egg and fourth piece of toast when his wife heard an agonizing scream from the breakfast nook. She hurried in to find Martin foaming at the mouth.

It took the doctors several days to bring him round again, but when he was revived, he managed to mumble the cause of his distress. It appears he'd just discovered he had a LEFT hand as well as a right.

Tale of One City. It seems the Hallowe'en committee had quite a time finding a song leader for their celebration. Some one thought they ought to get Don Mallett, but another suggested he'd be too busy with the dean of men's office and all.

They wouldn't call him, but a third person suggested they get that young fellow who sings in the Methodist choir. They'd heard he was quite good. It was about half-a-day later that they discovered that fellow's name was Don Mallett.

At the next committee meeting someone urged that the chap who leads the singing at Rotary would be perfect for the job. They couldn't recall HIS name. Of course, it was Don Mallett.

Two days later a committee member called the president's office to check on the young man who leads the singing at freshman lecture. Uhuh, it was Don. Don Mallett was in charge of the singing at the Hallowe'en celebration.

Some of the professors at the Iowa State game last week were pretty bored; so they tuned in to the broadcast of the S.U.I.-Wisconsin battle. Railroad Income Goes Up

October Net Operating Revenues Expected To Be Highest Since 1930. NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—October expanded to around the $100,000,000 level. Net operating income is railway income after deduction of operating expenses, but before providing for fixed charges, such as interest. The previous peak since the October, 1930, total of well over $100,000,000 was reached in October, 1938, when net operating income for all roads reached an aggregate of $89,809,372. In September this year net operating income totaled $86,435,178. On the basis of preliminary estimates, combined income (after all charges) of all carriers in October aggregated close to $55,000,000, compared with a net income in the neighborhood of $40,000,000 in September, it was further estimated. "This sharp recovery in the earnings of the railroads should put them in the black for the first 10 months of the year," the publication said.

Three B's of Boilermakers Will Worry Hawkeyes Saturday

Purdue Speed, Hawk Passes To Be Features

Diehl, Vollenweider, Walker of Iowa On Injured List

A cold, northwest wind limited grid activities in the Hawkeye camp to signal drill and defensive work yesterday afternoon as Dr. Eddie Anderson began final preparations for Saturday's invasion of the Boilermakers' camp.

Iowa's chances against a strong Purdue eleven were darkened a bit yesterday when it was learned that Bill Diehl, regular center, will probably be unable to play. Diehl had the cast removed from his injured leg but his shoulder is still heavily taped and his knee is far from being healed.

Jim Walker, the other major casualty in the Hawk camp, will undoubtedly stay out of the game Saturday also. His knee is healing slowly and Dr. Anderson stated he would be pleased if Walker would be ready to face Notre Dame, Nov. 11.

It seems as if Iowa's Old Gold warriors are having no end of trouble in the way of injuries. To make the list complete, Hank Vollenweider has been spending the past two days in University hospital receiving sinus treatment.

Despite the hard luck that has befallen them, the Hawkeye spirits are still at a high peak and they are determined to knock Purdue from the ranks of a title contender come Saturday afternoon.

The gridders ran through a long signal drill yesterday and were then shoved on defense where they were given a taste of Purdue plays.

Anderson used Bruno Andruska, a two year veteran, in Diehl's center position with Ham Snider and Ken Pettit in the guard positions. Max Hawkins and Chuck Tollefson, who started the Badger tilt, were used on the second team. Mike Enich and Wally Bergstrom were at the tackle posts with Capt. Erwin Prasse and Dick Evans at the wings. The backfield consisted of Al Coupee, quarterback; Nile Kinnick, left halfback; Ray Murphy, fullback; and Ed McLain, right halfback.

The third team ran Purdue plays against the first and second teams during the major part of the practice. Main worry for the Iowa defense will be Purdue's three B's—Mike Byelene, Jack Erwin, and Lou Brock. These three veterans will give the potentially weak Iowa defense a busy afternoon and much effort has been concentrated on improvements of the guards and tackles in the Iowa line.

Purdue Holds Last Scrimmage

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 1 (AP)—Purdue's football squad held its last contact practice of the week today, Coach Mal Elward announcing it couldn't afford to take chances on more injuries before Saturday's Homecoming game with Iowa.

Jack Krause and Bill Combs worked at the right end post left vacant by the injury of Felix Mackiewicz. Jim Miller and Jack Winchell worked Carl Verplank's regular first guard position.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Paul Christmas, "kidded" by his teammates about an article on his prowess in a national magazine, led the Missouri varsity's attack on the second string yesterday.

Cross Country Wrestlers Try New Method of Training

Cross country has been playing a major role in the workouts of the wrestling squad recently. At least two practice sessions a week have been devoted to the covering of the long distance route around the fields about the athletic grounds, and the exercise has done much to develop the leg stamina of the mat-scraping boys.

Coach Mike Howard's men are tuning up for the tough season ahead, pushing hard for many conference victories and a possible Big 10 title.

Some of the vets of the squad found the going hard at the start of the road-work and could be found most any afternoon moaning the prospects of a cold, long run over hill and dale.

Clarence Kemp and Billy Sherman seemed to be doing a great deal of the sighing but now take the jogs with the greatest of pleasure; even look forward to them along with the others on the team. They like the change of view; it's hard to face a grey, hard mat all of the time!

Prasse's Athletics Keep Him on The Go

Three Sports Star Goes Around The World With The Hawkeyes

Where's that guy that puts out the posters "See America First"? We'd like to meet the gentleman and then introduce him to Grid Capt. Erwin Prasse, who has traveled approximately 40,000 miles as a member of Iowa's athletic teams during his first two years of competition.

This distance would carry Prasse around the world once and a quarter of the way again if he would take his mileage on one trip.

Starts in 1937

Prasse started his tour to "See America First With The Hawkeyes" as a member of Irl Tubbs' football squad back in 1937. During that season he traveled to Washington university at Seattle, Wisconsin at Madison, Purdue at Lafayette, and Nebraska at Lincoln which gave him approximately 7,140 miles—a good start on his record mileage.

Putting away his football togs "Biscuits" checked out his basketball equipment and toured with Rollie Williams' cagers on trips to Butler university in Indianapolis, Xavier U. at Cincinnati, Toledo university at Toledo and Michigan State in East Lansing before Christmas. New Year's day Erv found himself playing against Marquette university in Milwaukee. Just before the close of the first semester he joined his teammates in a little jaunt of some 1,100 miles to Ohio State at Columbus and Indiana at Bloomington.

Misses One Trip

Because of a deficiency in required military drill Prasse was not eligible and so did not make leave with the team to meet U.C.L.A. at Los Angeles. This trip added about 5,000 miles to his record as they returned by way of Hollywood and the southern route. The team also traveled to Wisconsin, to Purdue and to Nebraska which brought the mileage chart of Erwin Prasse to 23,500.

Stepping from football to basketball within two or three days was not easy for Prasse but he soon became accustomed to the running which characterizes the cage game and he traveled with the Hawkeye quintet to Indianapolis to meet Butler and then back to Chicago to play DePaul. The next trip was to Wisconsin to take on the Badgers and from there to Minneapolis to encounter the Gopher five.

"Erv" Travels On

In the second semester there were two trips to break the monotony of practice. The Hawks traveled to Columbus and Bloomington besides making a little excursion to Northwestern and Illinois on one week end. The score now stands at 27,350 in favor of Prasse.

With the opening of the 1939 baseball season Prasse was firmly ensconced in his position on the championship baseball aggregation.

The southern trip this year covered about the same ground as the year before but there were also trips to Illinois and to Luther, Carleton and Minnesota. The total number of miles covered during the baseball season was 3,450 which brings the total of Prasse's first two years of competition to 30,800.

the first trip of the second semester to Minnesota. This is the only road trip which "Iowa's Athlete of 1938" did not make in his collegiate career. However, the bugbear of ineligibility was soon overcome and he finished the basketball season with trips to Chicago and Ann Arbor besides once again returning to Evanston to meet the Wildcats. Prasse's meter then read 11,900.

Makes Baseball Trip

Four days after the close of the Big Ten basketball season Prasse was drilling hard to make Otto Vogel's baseball team. He clinched his position on the team by making two home runs in one game against Bradley Tech at Peoria, Ill. So when the Vogelmen went south Erv was riding in the chartered bus which touched at St. Louis, Mo., Jackson, Miss., Ruston, La., and Columbia, Mo., before returning to Iowa City.

The 1938 co-championship baseball team traveled to Evanston to play the Wildcats, to South Bend to meet the Irish, to Decorah, Ia., to take on the Norsemen, to Carleton to engage the Carls, to Minneapolis to trounce the Golden Gophers and finally made their last road trip to the lair of the Badgers at Madison. Prasse had covered 15,900 miles. This was just one year of competition.

Starts All Over

After he had worked all summer digging ditches to keep in shape for his junior year of football Erwin returned to school to

Cagers Drill Daily; Open Season Dec. 8

With the basketball season only one month from today Coach Rollie Williams is speeding up the drills of his varsity cagers. Although the players are still being limited to two workouts a week and in divided squads the tempo of their practice sessions is speeding up.

The Hawkeyes will go to Mason City to meet the Carls from Carleton in the game which dedicates the new high school gymnasium there. This will mark the first time in many years that an Iowa team has opened its campaign away from home.

Iowa will play two home contests in December. Millikin college will travel up from Decatur, Ill., on Dec. 8, and Denver university will stop off on Dec. 11 to test the strength of the Hawks.

Jayhawks Stress Offense

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Offense and still more offense continued the main point in Coach Gwynn Henry's program as the Kansas Jayhawks drilled for the Kansas State game Friday. Ralph Miller got up at 6 a.m. and did 12 laps around the track to get in shape in case he is used.

Milers May Meet Gophers Next Week

Homecoming fans may have an extra treat in store for them on the day of the Iowa-Minnesota football game, Saturday, Nov. 18.

Talk has been flowing about the field house telling of the possibility of a portion of the Iowa track squad engaging a group of Minnesota distance men in a dual 2 mile team race. Coach George Bresnahan has made no official announcement as yet concerning the meet, but many of the varsity squad's men are eager for the event to test their distance strength against the Gophers from Minneapolis.

If the meet is scheduled the men most likely to compete for the Hawkeyes will be Glenn Sparks, Carl Schnoor, and Bob Campbell.

The race, if run, will be held either in the morning or early afternoon, and possibly between the halves of the football contest. Most likely the event will be held on the cinder track east of the stadium.

Huffman Captains Wildcats

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Coach Wes Fry named Ralph Huffman, junior tackle, yesterday to captain the Kansas State Wildcats against Kansas.

Win Final Tilt 12-7; Miller Leads Irish

It was Red Miller day at West Branch yesterday and he led a fighting St. Pat's eleven to a 12-7 win over the Cedar county aggregation.

The two elevens were hampered by a cold wind and injuries and played before only a handful of people.

The fighting Irish scored first when Red Miller intercepted a West Branch pass on the 30 and ran it back to the 20 in the opening minutes of the second quarter. A first down put the ball on the West Branch eight yard line. It was Miller again down to the four. From here the redhead sliced off tackle and drove over the goal to mark up six points.

Beasley's pass fell short of Don Black and the count stood 6-0.

St. Pat's kickoff traveled only ten yards and the Polar Bears took the ball at midfield. On the second play Jacobs, West Branch fullback, held in check except for one play, swept off tackle and dashed down the sideline and into the end zone without a St. Pat man laying a hand on him.

His kick for extra point split the uprights and moved the Polar Bears into the lead 7-6.

Soon after, a West Branch punt went out on the Irish 25. Without using a huddle at any time, the fighting Irish lined up and Miller took the pass from center, moved back and let go a long pass into the arms of Don Black 45 yards down field. He hesitated a split second to scoop in the ball and two West Branch tacklers downed him on the 28 yard line.

Before the small crowd could get over this beautiful heave and catch Miller went off tackle for the remaining 28 yards and crossed the goal line standing up.

Daly's plunge for the extra point was downed inches short of the goal line and the score stood 12-7.

In the second half the teams battled back and forth but neither came close to scoring until Black intercepted the last of West Branch's 21 passes and limped and ran to the Polar Bears' 10. Before the Irish could call another play the game was over.

It was the first victory for the fighting Irish and it was an earn-

Lower C Continues Undeclared By Trouncing Lower A, 13-0

Teams representing the Quad, Hillcrest and cooperative dormitories continued to battle in their respective leagues in the touch football tournament yesterday afternoon.

Lower B trounced Lower D to the score of 39-0. Webb's passing brought the winning team to life and was responsible for all the scoring. Webb's passes were completed for touchdowns to Hendricks twice, Hommel twice, and one each to Wickstrom and Dillinger.

Lower C continued its unbroken winning record as it triumphed over Lower A, 13-0. It was a long pass to Ralston by Leffer in the first period that gave Lower C the 6-0 lead at the half time. Late in the second period Lower C again scored as Leffer threw another pass to Ralston. This same passing combination converted the extra point to bring the final score to read 13-0.

All the scoring in the game between Second North and Second East came in the first period. Second North triumphed 18-0. It was two passes from McHugen to A-kwright that accounted for two touchdowns for the winners. Arkwright made a 35-yard run to bring the score to the half time and final score 18-0. In the second period, a long pass to Gilotti from Cardamon was good for a touchdown only to be called back because of off sides. The game was called before three minutes of game time because of an injury to Gilotti of Second East.

Led by the passing of Dewayne E-krum, Whetstone topped Grover 25-12. The scoring was opened early in the first half when a pass from Krum to Smith was good in the end zone. A few minutes later the Krum to Smith combination again clicked for another touchdown to make the score 13-0. Before Grover could score, another touchdown was chalked up by Whetstone on a pass from Krum to Rasputnick. Early in the second half Osmundson ran 40 yards for the first Grover score. Whetstone soon retaliated, however, when a pass from Krum to Dirckson was completed for another score. In the last few minutes of play Bob Howard of Grover plunged over for the last score of the game from his two yard line to make the final tally read 25-12.

Second South kept Third North scoreless and won the game 28-0. The first two points for the winners came when the ball was downed over the goal line for a safety. Seaton and Cook were the passers and Pier, Eichacker, Trout and Lamb were the receivers credited for the different touchdowns.

Blues Score In First Half

By NED WILLIS
Daily Iowan Sports Reporter

U-high gridders rolled down the curtain on another successful football season yesterday afternoon by romping over the lowly Tipton Tigers, 19-0, in an Eastern Iowa conference tilt on freshman practice field.

Have Chance at Title

The victory places the Blues in a position to capture the conference championship, and assures them of at least second place. However, Anamosa is favored to take the crown, although they have two remaining clashes. U-high played five conference games, winning four and tying one, while Anamosa has won both of the two games that it has played. Anamosa has shown the most power of any team in the conference and should continue the victory string.

It was U-high all the way yesterday. Tipton tried to run the ball on fourth down, instead of kicking, early in the first period, and the Blues stopped the play to take over the pigskin on the Tipton 40 yard marker. A series of line bucks and end runs by Cy Beye and Clarence Hightshoe placed the ball on the Tipton 20 yard line. On the next play Beye plunged off left tackle for the first score. A lateral pass failed to click on the try for extra point, and the count stood at 6-0.

Blues Score Again

The northsters started the second quarter with another touchdown drive. After taking possession of the ball on their own 40, the U-high power machine went into action. The Blues' touchdown, Beye and Hightshoe, pounded the Tipton line until they reached the 12 yard stripe. The rivermen then handed the Tigers their prize play with Beye scampering over on a double reverse. Dunn's pass to Hightshoe was good for the extra point, and the score rose to 13-0.

After receiving the kick-off, Tipton punted to the U-high 40 yard line. The Blues again unleashed their smashing offensive. Power plays advanced the pigskin to the Tiger two yard marker, where Beye repeated his first quarter touchdown plunge. The try for extra point failed when Dunn's pass was batted down. The score stood at 19-0 with the game still in the early stages of the second quarter when Coach Brechler sent in his reserves.

Neither team threatened in the last half with most of the play be-

Tickets Still Remaining For Notre Dame Tilt

Charles Gallier, ticket sales manager, still has about 6,500 tickets left for the Notre Dame-Iowa game.

These tickets are in the concrete stands flanking the gridiron and do not include seats in the steel bleachers on the north end of the stadium. If and when the seats flanking the gridiron are sold, the 3,830 seats in the north stands will go on sale.

Notre Dame has sold practically all of its allotment of 5,000 seats, thus assuring one of the largest visiting crowds in the history of the stadium.

ing concentrated around the middle stripe.

Morgan Boots One

The feature of the last two periods was Owen Morgan's punt from his own 20 to the Tipton 18. Although Morgan didn't start the encounter, he played most of the contest. It was his first appearance since the Monticello clash in which he injured his ankle. Bob Bowery, veteran center, who broke his nose against West Branch last Friday, was the only U-high man that didn't see action.

No player was especially outstanding over his teammates, but Cy Beye was at his best and made most of the U-high yardage. Jack Canney played an aggressive defensive game with Stimmel doing a commendable job at center. Leabhart was Tipton's best bet.

Starting Line-ups

U-high	Dawson	LE	Tipton	Lind
	Seelman	LT		R. S'tzlander

While Dr. Eddie Anderson, and his squad, have their troubles other members of the athletic department are up against their own problems, albeit, their work does have its compensations.

Take Dad Schroeder, director of athletics. Schroeder yesterday mentioned something which is going to add annoyances to pleasure, in view of the shortage of parking space around the Iowa stadium.

Our memories of the few crowds of any size at Iowa football games are a hazy driver's nightmare, with the trip from the stadium into town a scene of blaring horns, impatient drivers and a total lack of progress. Even for the two games here to date, at which crowds were less than half the size expected for the Minnesota and Notre Dame games, there was traffic confusion. It is, we think, a kind bit of advice Schroeder gives—that of leaving one's car on this side of the river if possible.

The other problem concerns both Schroeder and Charles Gallier, business manager of athletics here, and also has to do with crowds. Although slightly over 6,000 of the capacity number of nearly 50,000 seats are still available, we doubt that they will be present at the Notre Dame tilt. As for standing room, there might be some such admissions sold, but when the seats are taken in the stadium we doubt if very many could find a standing spot.

The Minnesota game is, likewise, showing promise of being a sellout, so most of the problems of the Notre Dame contest will be repeated.

Another puzzle came up yesterday, at least that is when we discovered it. The Dolphins, who present their annual show on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights next week, always have sellouts on the last two nights, while the crowd is much shorter at the opener. With organizations and individuals throughout the state already writing for information on the show, the same situation will prevail. To cope with this condition the Dolphins are attempting to bring local fans to the "Premier."

Despite their troubles, the Hawkeyes and the athletic department still speak confidently of their coming struggles. With three regulars probably relegated to the sidelines, the Iowa team shows the same snap as before the Wisconsin tilt and, if Wally Bergstrom, Bruno Andruska and Dick Evans, subbing for Jim Walker, Bill Diehl and Jens Nordgaard, have anything to say about it the Hawks will come through.

Gophers Work On Offense

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 1 (AP)—Switching from defense to offense, Coach Bernie Bierman concentrated today on tuning up Minnesota's attack for Saturday's game with Northwestern here. John Bartel continued in the quarterback role in the practice sessions, and the rest of the positions were unchanged.

Hahnenstein Back In Cats' Lineup

EVANSTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Ollie (Red) Hahnenstein, Northwestern's ace left halfback, donned full uniform today and coaches indicated he would see considerable service at Minnesota Saturday. Hahnenstein has been sidelined with an injury since the Wisconsin game. The Wildcats worked on defense against Gopher running plays today.

Hoosiers Worried About Buckeyes

BLOOMINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—Indiana university's freshmen and reserves used Ohio State plays against the varsity football team today with too much suc-

Illini Captain May Miss Game

CHAMPAIGN, Nov. 1 (AP)—Mel Brewer, star guard and captain of the University of Illinois football team, received word of the death of his mother today and left immediately for the family home at Carbondale. It was problematical whether he would play against Michigan next Saturday at Illinois.

Bucks Polish Offense

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 1 (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeye gridders turned in a practice performance today that might be entitled, "You don't need a defense if your offense is strong enough." And Coach Francis Schmidt's boys spent the afternoon reeling off scoring plays that left observers expecting a "shoot the works" game against Indiana here Saturday. Don Scott kept tossing passes that found their mark with greater regularity than usual.

Reaney, Mann To Participate As Attorneys

November 23 Set For First Argument At Law Commons

Robert F. Reaney of Columbus Junction and W. Howard Mann of Iowa City will act as appellant attorneys in the first of this year's junior law club arguments, Arthur O. Leff, local attorney in charge of the arguments, announced yesterday. The argument is to be held at the Law Commons Thursday evening, Nov. 23.

Darold Jack of Cedar Rapids and John P. Mansfield of Ogden will act as attorneys for the appellees. The judge has not yet been selected but he will probably be a local district court judge.

Other junior law students who will participate in other arguments, scheduled for Nov. 28, Dec. 5 and Dec. 14, are Richard Beebe of Ottumwa, Richard K. Smith of Clarion, Robert O. Fisk of Curlew, Gad L. James of Iowa City, James W. McGrath of Eagle Grove, Raymond F. Skalowsky of Norfolk, Neb.

Robert S. Fousek of Iowa City, Neil Johnson of Manchester, Elwood H. Olsen of Sioux City, Paul E. Brown of Blomfield, Neil D. Naiden of Marshalltown, and Allan T. Keck of Maquoket.

Six Students Will Broadcast Over WSUI

"Should anti-democratic organizations be suppressed in the United States?" Six university women will discuss the question in a women's forum to be broadcast over radio station WSUI Monday afternoon at 3:45.

Those who will participate are Bernice Moore, A3 of Davenport, Helen Evans, A2 of Davenport, Lorna Densmore, A3 of Edgewood, Alberta Ewaldt, A3 of Oakland, Marjorie Mangold, A3 of Ryan, Starr Hacker, A3 of Beaver, Pa., and Dorothea Guenther, A3 of Davenport, who will act as chairman.

Main points to be considered are: (1) What are the distinguishing features of the American democratic form of government? (2) To what extent is the support of our government an obligation of an organization which may be said to endanger our form of government?

Beta Sigma Phi Initiates Pledges

Nine pledges were initiated into Beta Sigma Phi, business women's sorority, in the Jefferson hotel last night after a formal dinner. Margaret Ahliff, Margaret Miller, Doris Lewis, Margaret Cowgill, Margaret Mapes, Jane Hogan, Dorothy Singmaster, Connie Clark and Beatha Baumbach are the new members.

Dean Chester A. Phillips Writes Articles on Inflation

A set of effective financial controls and a strong public sentiment against inflation will prevent any disastrous fluctuations in price levels, Dean Chester A. Phillips of the University of Iowa college of commerce believes.

"If we should become involved in the war as a belligerent," he writes in the October issue of the Journal of Business, "the course of general prices would be determined to a considerable degree by our policy of war finance."

Dean Phillips said that a policy of borrowing as in the war of 25 years ago would work strongly toward rising prices but heavy reliance upon taxation would greatly assist in outflanking inflation and its evils.

Inflations Classified The university man classifies inflation into three types and degrees. First, there is a moderate increase in the amount of money

KIRK PORTER

Porter To Talk At Des Moines

Professors' Forum Features 'Stimulation Of Student Thought'

Prof. Kirk Porter of the political science department will be one of the principal speakers at the Iowa Conference of University Professors when it meets in Des Moines Saturday. He will speak on "Student Forum Discussion."

The main theme of the meeting, with sessions at 10 a.m. and 12:15 p.m., is "Stimulation of Student Thought." The conference will meet at the Bishop cafeteria, 711 Locust street, Des Moines.

A. L. Walker of Iowa State college will speak on "A Study of Propaganda Analysis." Roderick Holmgren also of Iowa State college discusses "The Stimulus of Radio Discussion." D. W. Morehouse of Drake university will speak on "Students Resolving Power."

George C. Robinson of Iowa State Teachers college is chairman of the conference.

Flower Slides Shown Group At Luncheon

A collection of 60 colored slides of native wild flowers in Iowa compiled by Dr. Harry Jenkinson were shown at the weekly luncheon-meeting of the engineering faculty at Iowa Union yesterday.

Dr. Jenkinson, who has been gathering data and material for his slides during the past three years, spoke briefly on the various species presented in the showing. The wild flowers were presented in native and artificial settings.

Interested in the preservation of wild flowers, the speaker is one of many prominent Iowans who are attempting to gain state legislation which will set aside specific areas for wild flower growth.

Swimming Club To Have Trials

Group Members Will Participate In 3 Scheduled Events

To disclose the speed rate of the members in various swimming events, Seals club, honorary women's swimming organization, will hold trial races at 4:15 this afternoon which the public is invited to attend, according to Katherine Hrusovar, A2 of Moline, Ill., secretary.

Club members will compete in three of the scheduled events which will include races in 40-yard free, back and breast style, and 80, 60 and 220-yard free style medley relay. Similar races have not been held in the pool since 1931 and many records are expected to be broken, according to Miss Hrusovar.

Members placing highest in each event will work during feature club meetings on increasing their speed in preparation for the annual intercollegiate telegraphic swimming meet to be held next March, club advisor Marjorie Camp explained.

Student committee members for the races are Virginia Shrauger, A2 of Atlantic, chairman; Gertrude Toyne, A3 of Clarinda, and Lois Lippold, A2 of Wauwotosa, Wis.

Student Author

RUSSELL F. MOORE

Presence of Ether in Universe Confirmed in Moore's Book

Russell F. Moore, A3 of Le Porte City, yesterday announced publication of his third scientific book, "Collected Papers of Dr. Ludwig Zehnder," dated today, by the Franklin Publishing company, New York.

An 88-page book, it contains one paper entitled "A New Electrical Effect" which Mr. Moore says in his editor's note "is of really great importance because it is a record of one of the few experiments which seems to deal directly with and actually confirms the presence of the primordial substance of the universe, the ether."

Dr. Zehnder, professor extraordinary of physics at Basle university in Switzerland, was at one time associated with Dr. Wilhelm Konrad Roentgen, discoverer of X-rays.

Mr. Moore, fellow of the American Ether Study society and a similar German organization, has dedicated this new book which has edited to Prof. J. Milton Cowan of the German and psychology departments.

Dr. Zehnder has made "astounding discoveries in the field of electricity and magnetism which point to a confirmation of the debated existence of the ether, the stuff which transmits radio waves and other electrical effects." Mr. Moore explained in his announcement.

"This is perhaps the most important experimental record since that of the Michelson - Morley experiment which seemed to deny the existence of any sort of a universe substance, he continued. According to Moore, Dr. Zehnder's experimental findings have created a stir among scientific circles in Europe and may become of like importance in America.

Moore is also editor of "The Scientific Press," "Natural Philosophy" and a German publication, "Der Kleine Deutsche Anzeiger."

Athletic Staff Members Will Attend Meeting

Three faculty members of the women's athletic department will leave today to attend the annual meeting of the Iowa State Teachers' association which convenes in Des Moines. Three additional members are scheduled to participate in the convention tomorrow, it has been announced.

Members leaving today are Prof. Lorraine Frost, Marjorie Camp and Janet Cumming. Attending the meeting Friday will be Prof. Gladys Scott, Ellen Mosbek and Miriam Taylor.

A demonstration of basketball officiating will be given by Professor Scott at West junior high school in Des Moines as a part of Friday's activities. Assisting with the demonstration will be Agnes Best, head of physical education at University high school. Miss Best will also preside at the Girls' Athletic association luncheon tomorrow. Professor Mosbek, secretary of the state-wide group, made arrangements, it was announced.

The subject of his first speech will be, "Physical Education at the Psychological Cross Roads." At the association's 12th annual banquet in the evening, Professor McCloy will join Dorothy Enderis of the recreation commission of Milwaukee, and Fielding H. Yost, director of athletics at the University of Michigan, in speaking on the general subject, "Reminiscing." Professor McCloy said that he would probably present physical education history as a foundation for building the answer to the question, "Where do we go from here?"

Visitors Learn How SUI Files Official Papers

Four members of the Des Moines public library system spent Tuesday in Iowa City where they observed library methods in the university library and visited with local librarians.

Jean Evans, reference librarian; Lucille Stull, assistant reference librarian, and Janet Dickson, head of the catalogue department, came from Des Moines to observe methods used in the government documents department of the university library.

Maie Anders, assistant librarian of Des Moines and retiring president of the Iowa Library association came to confer with Mrs. Jessie Gordon, Iowa City librarian and incoming president of the association.

Dr. Percy Davis Attends Luncheon As Faculty Guest

Dr. Percy Davis, physiologist from Austin, Tex., was a guest of the faculty of the women's physical education department at a luncheon at Iowa Union yesterday.

The former physiology professor at the University of Wisconsin spoke to the university class in methods of teaching physical education prior to the luncheon. He talked on "Physical Education in Soviet Russia."

Wood, Harper Attend Auction

Paintings by Native Artist, Marvin Cone, Sold Last Night

Prof. Grant Wood of the University of Iowa art department and Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts, went to Cedar Rapids last night to attend an auction sale of paintings by Marvin Cone, noted Iowa artist and close friend of Grant Wood.

The auction was held in the art gallery of the Cedar Rapids public library. Wood gave a brief talk at the event.

Included in the pictures sold were a number of the artist's works which were exhibited in Iowa Union during the fine arts festival here last summer. The exhibit at that time included works by both Cone and Grant Wood. "Red Barn," one of the more popular pictures in the exhibit, was sold last night.

The exhibit was significant in view of the fact that Grant Wood and Marvin Cone were raised and went to school together in Cedar Rapids. They were both interested in art and worked together and even exhibited and sold their early works together.

The fact that they had worked and learned together in the same vicinity, both with the same influences and material, was responsible for the similarity in the style of work done by the two men.

S.U.I. Women Will Receive Bowling Lessons

Instructions in bowling will be given to 15 university women this morning when a group of physical education majors meet at a local bowling alley in connection with the majors weekly assembly.

Due to the large number of freshmen in the group who have had no previous bowling experience, the technique and procedure of the sport will be explained in detail, according to Prof. Gladys Scott of the women's physical education, who will be advisor of the group.

Any university woman interested in bowling or receiving instruction in the sport are urged to leave their names at the office of the women's gymnasium. A club for women bowlers headed by the intramural association is at present under consideration, it has been announced.

SUDDEN RICHES—New York Usher Reviews A Year of Unexpected Luxury

By ROGER HREENE
 NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—The man who inherited hundreds of thousands of dollars—when he had just 15 cents in his pockets—looked back on a year of luxury today and decided his biggest kick out of sudden riches was the transition from peanut gallery to ring-side seats.

"Now when I want to see a fight or a football game anywhere in the country, I just hop a plane... like I flew out to South Bend, Ind., to see Notre Dame play Georgia Tech," he said. "And no more seats behind the goal posts, like a million other poor suckers. I take my pals along and we sit on the 50-yard line."

The Manhattan miracle that changed the life of William J. Reilly, 40, a one-time Roxy theater usher, into a literal "life of Riley," has meant other things, too.

Four trips to the West Indies... $125 suits, $35 shoes and $9 neckties... Frequent night club parties "without a shudder when I pick up the bill"... But a headache from spongers and an endless flow of crank letters.

"I just got an air-mail letter from a fellow out in Idaho. He said to rush him $5,000 and be sure it gets out there before the roads freeze so he can start up a wonderful silver mine. I get hundreds like that. But—well, I'm no sucker."

However, as proof against "being a soft touch from old pals"—who have cost him an estimated $5,000, not to mention other expenses totalling about $50,000 for the past year—Reilly said he had set up a $200,000 trust fund so he "won't go broke like a sweepstakes winner."

A soft-spoken, big-shouldered man with blue eyes, ruddy cheeks and a shy reticence in manner, Reilly recalled the night he received his windfall when he was working as a $60-a-month storekeeper at the Bronx veterans' hospital.

The money came in a bequest from Mrs. Edna Morris Ailin Elliott, a 70-year-old widow, known as "champion movie fan of New York," who specified in her will that it was for "his kindly and courteous acts" and for making "the recent years of my life more pleasant."

She died in September, 1938, leaving a net estate of $650,905, including more than $500,000 to the former movie usher and $53,000 to Rosalie Spatcher, a Radio City Music Hall dancer.

"She came to the theater regularly," he said, "and I used to see that she didn't have to stand in line waiting for a seat and after the show she'd talk with me for a few minutes telling me how much she enjoyed the program."

"I didn't know she had any money. I thought she was living on a pension. I wasn't any more courteous than any other usher, except that she was frail and small and looked like she was a little frightened that maybe I took a little extra liking to her."

"When the news came, about her leaving me all that money, I couldn't believe it. For a week I couldn't believe it. I was numb. I got pains, shooting pains all over me. I'd walk down the street and get an awful pain in my side.

A week earlier, I wouldn't have cared whether I lived or died, I was so broke."

"Well, I went to a Park Avenue specialist and he told me people got pains like that in cases of great sorrow or great joy."

"It took me a long time before I got over feeling it was all a dream. I was scared to go to sleep nights. I sleep okay now. I know it's no dream. I know it's real," he chuckled, "because I'm spending it."

S.U.I. Hospital Sends Doctors To Convention

Two University hospital delegates will attend the three-day annual meeting of the Central Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists which opens today in Kansas City, Mo.

They are Dr. W. F. Mengert, associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology, and secretary-treasurer of the association, and Dr. E. D. Plass, head of the obstetrics and gynecology department.

Dr. Plass will give a paper on "Scarlet Fever in Obstetrics," written in collaboration with Dr. A. W. Diddle, assistant, and Ray E. Trussell, research assistant in the department.

For the past two weeks, Dr. Plass has been giving "refresher" courses before the medical societies in Arizona cities, at the invitation of the Arizona state department of health. He will return to Iowa City Monday following the association meeting in Kansas City.

Dr. Mengert will replace Dr. J. H. Randall, associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology, this week end on a similar two-week tour in Kansas. Dr. Randall will return to Iowa City Sunday.

Compulsory Pre-Marriage Exams Termed 'Fascistic' by U. Scientist

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 1 (AP)—Termining compulsory pre-marital examinations for syphilis "fascistic" and "socially undesirable," a Johns Hopkins university scientist today said such laws would "encourage common law marriage (and illegitimacy)."

In an interview during the New England postgraduate medical assembly at Harvard, Dr. Joseph E. Moore said such a requirement is "totalitarian rather than utopian, since it opens the door to compulsory examination for tuberculosis, feeble-mindedness, and insanity, all of which are equally desirable to prevent."

He recommended "education" instead of such tests, adding that in some laboratories, there was as much as 10 per cent error in the testing of the blood of individuals for syphilis.

Dr. Moore attributed error in testing to "technical" faults in some laboratories and to normal persons actually showing "false positive tests," in certain cases.

The pre-marital test, he said, "comes too late in view of the high frequency of pre-marital intercourse in the social group in which syphilis is most prevalent."

Earlier, Dr. Moore told the assembly that the public's fear of acquiring syphilis by the ordinary contacts of everyday life is "grossly exaggerated."

Music Teachers To Hear Talks By Prof. Righter

Prof. Charles B. Righter, director of the University of Iowa bands, will address two sessions of the Iowa meeting of the State Teachers' association in Des Moines today.

He will speak to the newly-created Iowa Music Educators' association at a noon luncheon meeting, and will conduct an orchestra clinic this morning.

The Music Educators' association, organized this year, is headed by Delinda Roggensack, supervisor of music at Newton, president. The organization will be an affiliate of the National Music Educators' association.

Railroad employes in 1938 are said to have had little more than one-fourth the relative risk of meeting death or injury of any kind in connection with their work than they had in 1923.

$12,292 Sewer Improvement Plans Approved by Council; Await Presidential Consent

District WPA, State Health Board O. K. Engineer's Proposal

The city council yesterday stamped its approval on plans and specifications covering proposed local sanitary sewer improvements submitted by City Engineer Fred Gartzke to a meeting at noon in the council chambers of the city hall. Cost of materials for the changes was estimated at $12,292.50.

A resolution of adoption was introduced but the vote was postponed in preference to passage of another resolution setting November 21 at 7:45 p.m. as the time for public hearing on the proposed sewerage improvements. At that time, the law allows anyone who might be affected by the change to protest.

President Must Consent
Presidential assent of the plans remains as the only other delay. Gartzke said he had already received the approval of the district WPA office as well as that of the state board of health.

Work on the sewers, to be furnished by WPA, will begin immediately after the presidential consent providing there are no protests, Gartzke told the council. Gartzke's proposal embodied the following nine sections of town:

1. Manville addition, starting at a manhole on the center line of Lee street, 121 feet south of the south line of Park road, south-easterly across Mullen property to a manhole to be constructed 228 feet north of the north line of McLean street and 12.5 feet west of the west line of block 3 in Manville addition. . . to a manhole to be constructed on the center line of Hutchinson avenue and 80 feet north of the north line of McLean street. Total estimate, $1,014.09.
2. Chautauqua Heights
Chautauqua heights, starting at the manhole in place on River street to Rider street. Also on Otto street from a manhole to be constructed on lot 12, block 6. Total estimate, $2,542.36.
3. Bloomington street, starting with a sewer in place on the east side of Governor street, east 398 feet to the manhole to be constructed at the center line of Union place. Total estimate, $340.96.
4. Walnut street, starting at a manhole in place at the intersection of Walnut and Webster street, east on Walnut street to a manhole to be constructed at a point 80 feet west of the west line of Dodge street. Total estimate, $365.16.
5. Kirkwood avenue, Franklin street and part of the Rundell addition, starting southwesterly across the C. R. I. and P. railway right-of-way to a manhole 25 feet west of east line of lot 13 in Price's Hillcrest addition. Total estimate, $2,213.55

G Street
6. G street, starting at a manhole in place at the intersection of G street and Seventh avenue, east to a manhole to be constructed 336 feet east of east line of Seventh avenue. Total estimate, $257.50.

7. Second avenue, starting at a manhole in place at the intersection of Friendship street and Second avenue north on the center line of Second avenue to a manhole to be constructed 30 feet north of the south line of lot 1, block 20, East Iowa City. Total estimate, $808.64.

8. Friendship avenue, Friendship street, alley, block 40. Total estimate, $1,873.84.

9. Court street, consisting of two small projects. Total estimate, $2,876.40.

The approval of the sewage system was given at a session immediately after the special meeting, scheduled for 11 a.m., adjourned.

At the first meeting the council passed a resolution issuing to the Carleton D. Beh company of Des Moines $24,000 in refunding bonds.

suggested as a name for the local chapter of which 80 students attended last night. The Iowa chapter, as in all other chapters, is in no way responsible in its actions to the national ASU. The three fields which the Iowa chapter will follow will be: campus problems, national policies, and international politics.

Miller informed the group that at the national convention in Madison, Wis., next month, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Frank Murphy, former governor of Michigan, will speak.

He concluded by quoting the ASU principal belief, "To talk to, to act, in a positive move towards the democratic way of life."

The meeting ended with the announcement by newly elected president McConnell, that meetings will be held at least once a month.

Donations Reach $11,000 In Chest Drive

Swaner Determined To Reach Campaign Goal Set at $17,850

Community Chest donations neared $11,000 yesterday bringing new hope on attempts to reach the $17,850 goal before the campaign ends.

Jack J. Swaner, director of the drive, said last night that several minor problems which have hindered solicitors from completing their reports up to now are being solved.

"We're still determined," he said, "to reach the goal. We'll stay at it, straining every possible source to attain that end!"

Yesterday's proceeds, totaling $10,944.50, included $4,069.50 from the university; business, $1,964.25; employes, $628; college of medicine and University hospital, $1,211.50; national firms, $1,580.50; professional, $634; public schools, $88.50; and residential, $768.25.

Dexter Speaks To Lions Club

Thinks United States Cannot Be Neutral In Protracted War

Dr. Robert Dexter, chairman of the international relations of the Unitarian church, in an address before the Lions club yesterday noon, said that in view of past experience the United States cannot remain neutral if the war lasts much longer.

Dr. Dexter said that the chances today of remaining neutral are fewer than they were in 1917. He pointed out that there is much more bitterness today than there was then. In 1917 propaganda against Germany was built up after the United States had entered the war, he said. Now this country has had five years of education against the fears of totalitarian states dominating the world, the speaker added.

"Our trade still remains nearly wholly with Great Britain and its associates," he said. "Our emotional interests as well as our economic interests," Dr. Dexter continued, "remain with the allies. Combining our pocketbook with our heart is an unbeatable combination."

Dr. Dexter claimed that some good did come of our entering the World War. "If Germany had won," he said, "the treaty of Versailles would have seemed like child's play." The United States would have had to build up a tremendous defense, for Britain's navy would not have been behind us," he continued.

Hope of the United States remaining neutral depends on a speedy victory of the allied forces of Britain and France, he said.

Dr. Dexter was introduced by Prof. E. C. Hills of the commerce department.

Verdict Favors Eldon Miller In $840 Suit

Great American Insurance company lost an $840 suit in district court yesterday when the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, Eldon Miller, local trucker.

The insurance company sought judgment on a shipment of goods which was destroyed, the plaintiff alleged, through negligence on the part of the trucker. They charged that Miller fell asleep at the wheel of his truck.

Attorney Paul Toomey and the firm of Gibson, Stewart and Garrett of Des Moines represented the defendant. The plaintiff was represented by the firm of Messer and Cahill and the Des Moines firm of Stipp, Perry, Bannister and Starzinger.

Linemen Star

Not to be ignored are the performances of Iowa linemen, including four 60-minute men of Saturday's game. And, besides Mike Enich, Wally Bergstrom, Max Hawkins and Charles Tolleson, who went all the way against Wisconsin, there are Bill Diehl and Jim Walker, injured members, Dick Evans and Jens Norgaard, ends, and Al Couppee, Bill Green, Ray Murphy and others of the backfield, who have turned in performances that make Purdue's chances Saturday look only about even from the experts' viewpoints.

The Cheering Begins

To bring the new "Iowa Spirit" into action fitting for the occasion of a sensational Iowa team marching off to the football wars, the organization for tonight's meeting began in the middle of the week. Student groups have been notified of the meeting and are expected to turn out in full force, a sound system will send out the word again at various hours today and an Iowa band is ready to furnish music for tonight's program, which will include brief talks by Iowa athletes, music and cheers, with the front steps of Old Capitol as the stage.

It's the first of a series of big meetings as the Hawkeyes of 1939 get ready for their last road trip before returning for a stand in Iowa stadium against Notre Dame and Minnesota.

lation and reducing noise level. Even ventilating ducts have been acoustically lined to reduce the noise of air passage.

Now has come the fall of 1939 and the Acoustical Society of America has chosen to have its annual meeting west of Chicago for the first time.

"It is the custom of such societies," said Professor Stewart, "to hold their meetings in centers where students are able to attend." This explains the open hospitality of the meetings scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday.

But why do acoustical societies meet? "For the same purpose that all such societies meet," answered Professor Stewart, "for the exchange of ideas and for the stimulation which scientific men within a field find among themselves."

And then he added, "The meeting should hold an interest for students of the theater, music, psychology and physics," but from somewhere down the hall (or at the back of a guilty conscience perhaps) an unacoustical echo added, "for the bathtub baritone, too."

Judge Appoints Libbie Kohout Administratrix

Libbie A. Kohout was appointed administratrix of the estate of Louis W. Kohout yesterday in district court by Judge James P. Gaffney.

Mr. Kohout died Oct. 21. Bond has been set at $500 by Judge Gaffney.

Gets $25 in Holdup
DES MOINES (AP) — A bandit who first asked for tobacco, then drew a gun, took $25 in a holdup last night at the Lester B. Vertz market (1731 E. Grand avenue) here last night, the proprietor reported to the police.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. Pounds Final Rivet In Famous Center; Seeks 'Peace' for U. S.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—The nation's richest riveter, John D. Rockefeller Jr., today hammered a final silver spike into a bad guess that became a $100,000,000 success.

The project is Rockefeller Center—born in the depression to occupy some white-elephant real estate—and the site of the 14th and final building in the three-block skyscraper cluster in midtown Manhattan.

Before a crowd of several hundred in the flag-draped unfinished lobby of the building, at 48th street and 6th avenue, the silver-haired financier donned a pair of workman's gloves and, as "Climcher" Mike Dooley rammed red-hot silver alloy rivet through one side of a bare girder, banged it fast with a pneumatic hammer.

In a short speech after he was introduced by his son Nelson, nominal head of the development, Rockefeller thanked city officials and the building trades for their cooperation during the center's 8-year construction, and, in one of his rare utterances on public affairs, declared:

"The business men of this country want peace—peace among themselves, peace with government, peace with labor. . . . I say with confidence that the earnest desire of the great ma-chors of business men throughout the length and breadth of the land is that this country shall keep out of war.

"We should, as a people, free ourselves forthwith from any legislative enactments that may prevent our freedom of action in connection with whatever international situations may arise."

The new structure, a 20-story office building, completes a 12-acre array of buildings totalling more than half a mile in height and including the world's largest office building (the massive 70-story RCA building), the world's fastest elevators (1400 feet a minute) and the world's largest indoor theater (the Radio City Music hall).

Duke of Gloucester Can't Read Hitler's Mind -- Either!

With the British expeditionary force in France, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Duke of Gloucester, who is major general in charge of liaison between British general headquarters and the men in the field, told foreign correspondents today that he did not know when action would start because "I can read Mr. Hitler's mind no better than you can."

The third—and largest—son of the late King George V strode into a wayside inn for coffee and a smoke, and there met the correspondents. The petrified stiffness of saluting British soldiers and the saucer-eyed awe of the tink Frenchwoman who runs the restaurant showed that he was more than an ordinary staff officer.

The duke shook hands all around, said it was "bestly weather," and wondered why we were out in it.

Whether from nervousness or not, he is practically a chain smoker. He had three cigarettes in 20 minutes, gesticulating with each.

Of the United States he asked the question which everyone from buck privates up has asked: "When will the neutrality bill be passed?"

Gloucester, who was a captain in his own regiment when Edward VIII abdicated, said he had seen the Duke of Windsor "twice since the show started."

Gloucester seemed as anxious as the newest private for action and admitted all he had heard was "a German plane was shot down near here Monday."

Upon the abdication of Edward, Gloucester switched from

Cowboy Held For Questioning In Boston Death

BOSTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — A tall cowboy from the Black Hills of South Dakota was held for questioning tonight by police who booked him on suspicion of manslaughter in a bar-room death.

Lloyd M. McCrorey, 23 years old, 237 pounds and six-foot-three in his stocking feet, was taken into custody after Charles F. Gormlie, 52-year-old statistician for a railroad, died of head injuries.

Sgt. Raymond A. L. Monchan of the homicide squad quoted McCrorey, here for a rodeo, as saying he was at a bar when someone in a group near him said "Let's gang up on the cowboys." Gormlie, the cowboy said, "started toward me and I either pushed or struck him. He fell to the floor."

Firemen Called

Firemen were called to the residence of Mrs. Ernest Amelon, 509 Church street, at 5:15 p.m. yesterday to put out a roof fire. A small hole in the roof was the extent of the damage.
