Norway Issues Urgent Call For Scandinavian Conference

Sweden Lays Mines Near Finnish Isles

Denmark Reaffirms Neutrality; Officials Will Meet Tomorrow

By WADE WERNER
COPENHAGEN, Dec. 5 (AP)—Norway issued a rush call today for a conference of Scandinavian countries to explore the possibilities of peaceful settlement of the Finnish-Russian war and to take stock of their own alarming situation.

Emphasizing the earnest desire of the northern countries to re-establish peace, Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvdan Koht invited the foreign ministers of Sweden and Denmark to meet with him in Oslo Thursday.

The prospect of any stronger stand by the three nations in support of Russian-invasion Finland was dimmed, however, by a subsequent declaration by Prime Minister Thovald Stauning of Denmark that his country would maintain neutrality.

Increasing Alarm
Sweden, showing increasing alarm at the Soviet incursion into Finland, mined her territorial waters near the Finnish-owned Aaland Islands in the Baltic and took other precautionary steps to strengthen her defenses.

The Swedish minelaying move followed the Finns' announcement of re-occupation of the Aaland Islands. The mines and Finnish fortifications thus closed effectively the Bothnian gulf against the red fleet unless Russia could capture the strategic islands which command navigable channels between the two northern countries.

The islands stand about in the middle of the 90-mile wide gulf, but even in peacetime an expert pilot is required to steer a course through this many-island archipelago.

Government Strengthened
Negotiations also were sped in Stockholm for formation of a new government to present a unified front in Sweden's efforts to preserve neutrality.

For the first time Sweden acknowledged "partial mobilization" in ordering about 40,000 men, including artillerymen, engineers and commissary detachments into "wartime service." The order brought Swedish forces under arms to about 150,000, compared to her normal standing force of 20,000.

Norway likewise stepped up defensive measures by sending more men to her far northern frontier adjoining Finland.

The Norwegian invitation to Thursday's conference failed to mention Finnish Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner or his predecessor, Elias Erikko, now in Stockholm as charge d'affaires.

Finland Included
President Kyyosti Kallio of Finland was included in the Stockholm parleys of the kings of the Scandinavian countries last month which resulted in a declaration of solidarity among the northern countries.

It was pointed out that declaration meant moral and economic support, but not military aid, for Finland.

Civilization at Stake Because of War?

Faculty Battles The Pros and Cons, But Agrees on Ultimate Survival

Orator Webster of historical fame had nothing over discussion leaders of last night's forum in the fifth of the "Peace or War" series in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Faculty members battled back and forth, presenting the pros and cons of whether civilization is at stake because of the impending war.

"I'm not a prophet," argued Prof. Stephen H. Bush of the Romance language department, taking an affirmative stand on the question, "but I believe that the can perhaps utilize the idea of this 'new dynamism' in some creative production."

Breaking down Engle's argument, Professor Bush pointed specific instances in history which had drastic effects upon art and its possibilities.

Realizing that art is not the sole basis of civilization, Prof. Herbert Feigl of the philosophy department (See FORUM, Page 8) extraordinary dynamism exhibited by political factions of today is definitely anti-moral, anti-Christian and anti-democratic.

From the artist's point of view, Paul Engle of the English department suggested that in the long run civilization would not be impaired by war.

While certain periods of ruthlessness might hinder art, Engle denied the possibility of art being annihilated by them.

Britain Spurns Peace in Spite Of Red 'Peril'

Halifax Tells Lords Hitler Traded Baltic For Polish Soil

OTTAWA, Dec. 5. (Canadian Press)—Naval authorities reported a British merchantman was sunk in a collision during a thick fog tonight off the Nova Scotia coast. No lives were lost.

Naval authorities refused to give any further information, including the name of the ship, until they had made a fuller investigation.

By EDWIN STOUT
LONDON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Great Britain today condemned anew the Russian invasion of Finland but spurned any quick peace with Germany to meet "worse perils."

Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax told the house of lords that the Russian attack had been "universally condemned as an inexcusable act of aggression" and declared it was an outgrowth of the Russian-German pact signed Aug. 23.

Under this pact, he said, Adolf Hitler bartered the liberty of the Baltic peoples for a free hand in his attack on Poland.

"In the face of these events we have an increasing awareness of the perils that threaten European society as a direct consequence of German policy," Halifax said.

"I have heard it suggested," he continued, "that an immediate peace on almost any terms would be desirable in order to save western civilization from worse perils. I think that view is shortsighted."

Sentence Kuhn For Bund Theft

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—Fritz Kuhn was sentenced today to two and one half to five years in Sing Sing prison for stealing funds from his pro-Nazi German-American bund, and the prosecution was directed to take action against two of his most faithful followers for what the court declared was their "patent perjury" in his defense.

Soviet Attack Strengthens; Finns Halted

Finnish Aviators Assume Offensive, Attack Troops

By LYNN HEINZERLING
HELSINKI, Dec. 5 (AP)—Fighting back stubbornly with deadly automatic rifle fire from trenches and pillboxes on her frozen and lake-dotted frontiers, Finland gave ground slightly before a gathering Soviet attack today but reported the capture of many prisoners and the destruction of eight tanks in one sector.

Finnish aviators took the offensive, despite bad weather, a Finnish army communique announced, and Finnish fliers attacked Russian troop concentrations while on reconnaissance flights.

The communique did not mention a Norwegian report that Finnish fliers had destroyed 60 Russian planes with incendiary bombs at Murmansk, Soviet port on the Arctic ocean about 60 miles from the Finnish border.

Russian Base Attacked
Another unconfirmed report said Finnish planes had raided Paldiski, Estonian port 45 miles across the Gulf of Finland. Russia has leased a base at Paldiski and from there Soviet planes were alleged to have set out to attack Helsinki.

The communique said 64 Russian tanks had been destroyed in six days fighting, and that enemy losses amounted to 2,000 men.

The situation by sectors, as outlined by the communique was as follows:

On Eastern Front
Just north of Lake Ladoga, on the eastern front—heavy enemy pressure, with motorized equipment used effectively. Many Russians taken prisoner and eight Soviet tanks destroyed at Salmi, on the lake shore, which the Russians reported occupying yesterday.

Petsamo, on the northern front—the Soviet is moving great numbers of troops against the Finns in the Arctic, but the Finns are engaging in frequent machine gun battles and are using new automatic rifles with devastating effect.

No Oil Yet
CRESTON (AP)—The Phillips Petroleum company's test well for oil near here had reached a depth of 400 feet yesterday after one week of drilling.

Hawkeye Star Heads East

In a scene of clicking cameras, Dr. Eddie Anderson, left, and Nile Kinnick boarded a train for New York yesterday morning. Anderson is taking his prize football pupil east to collect the Heisman trophy, voted him recently as the nation's outstanding gridder for 1939. Kinnick will receive the trophy tonight at an elaborate ceremony, an honor for the feats which made the Hawkeye halfback the most talked about athlete in the country. Kinnick, also named as an all-American, will receive a gold watch from the New York Sun, which picked him on its all-star eleven.

New York City Plans Gala Welcome for Kinnick Today

Gannett Opens Blasts at New Deal; Dewey Will Begin Campaign Today

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 5 (AP)—Republicans aiming at blasting the new deal out of the White House in 1940 tried out their artillery here today, and lined up new bargains for tomorrow.

Frank E. Gannett, Rochester, N. Y., newspaper publisher, opened the attack today with a warning that President Roosevelt's administration threatens the country with dictatorship.

Tomorrow Thomas E. Dewey, New York City's racket-busting district attorney, who is an avowed candidate for the republican presidential nomination, will light the fuse on his campaign with a

Manufacturers Advocate New Uruguayan Pact

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—Manufacturers' representatives advocated today a trade agreement with Uruguay and extension of the reciprocal trade program under European war stimulus.

Agricultural representatives, also testifying before the committee for reciprocity information on the proposed Uruguayan agreement, opposed tariff cuts on imports which would compete with domestic farm products.

Agents of the manufacturers asserted the war had cut off most European supplies of industrial products and forced Latin American countries to obtain those commodities in the United States.

Red Magazine Attacks F.D.R.

MOSCOW, Dec. 5 (AP)—The communist party monthly magazine "Agitator's Companion," which provides propaganda material for organizers and lecturers, attacked President Roosevelt and "American imperialism" today and added:

"The American communist party is actively preparing for fulfillment of its historical task in the new international situation."

In an article by far the most bitter against the United States yet to appear here, "N. Ross" wrote:

"President Roosevelt is more and more siding with the incendiaries of war. The United States government is issuing extraordinary decrees which it is claimed are directed against spies and saboteurs but in reality are used against communists and all anti-war forces."

Would Hold Finnish War Debt Payment

Administration Stalls Action on Recalling Ambassador to Soviet

By RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP)—As a further gesture of sympathy for Finland, President Roosevelt disclosed today that he was seeking a method of suspending Finnish war debt payments for the benefit of the people of the little Baltic nation, now being attacked by Russia.

At the same time, he took occasion to slap the critics of his foreign policy. Objection of it has come, he said, from statesmen in Russia and Germany, from the publicity director of the republican national committee—whose name he said he could not remember—and from a small number of politically-minded people in the house and senate.

It was learned, meanwhile, that the administration was postponing a decision on the question of recalling the American ambassador to Russia, a course of action strongly proposed by several republican leaders, who have criticized the president for recognizing Russia originally. In this connection it was indicated the administration is hopeful the Russo-Finnish hostilities may be ended soon.

A fourth development of the day was a statement by Sumner Welles, the acting secretary of state, making known that the United States was ready to take part in a joint denunciation of Russia by a number of American nations.

Mr. Roosevelt told of his plans for the Finnish war debt payments at a press conference, in the course of which he replied with an abrupt and emphatic negative to a question whether it would be unneutral to forgive the Finnish debt payments under the circumstances.

As to just what would ultimately be worked out, Mr. Roosevelt was uncertain. Thus far, however, he said, he had asked Secretary Morgenthau to segregate the Finnish debt payment of $234,000, expected on Dec. 15, in a separate account and leave it untouched until the best method of making the money available to the Finnish people could be worked out. Some similar treatment may be accorded Finland's past payments, he indicated.

The fact that Finland, alone of all the nations of Europe, has scrupulously kept up her debt payments to the United States, has served to intensify the already deep sympathy for that country in her hours of duress. Suggestions that she be given special treatment regarding her debt payments have been made in several quarters.

However, it has been pointed out that only congress can change the terms of any of the present debt agreements. A default, however technical and however much approved by popular opinion, would, moreover, legally prevent the Finnish government from obtaining credits here under the Johnson act.

Italians Seek To Enlist In Finnish Army

ROME, Dec. 5 (AP)—Scores of Italians sought to enlist in the Finnish army today to fight against the Russians.

Applications poured into the Finnish legation as police prevented 1,000 university students from marching upon the Soviet embassy to express their sympathy for Finland.

Many young Italians appeared at the Finnish legation in person to offer their services.

The prospects of any Italian volunteers going to Finland was considered slight in diplomatic circles because of the difficulty in obtaining passports while Italy is intent on defending her own territory.

Finnish minister Eero Järnefelt told applicants their services would be gladly accepted if they found means of reaching Finland.

S.U.I. Theater Stars Shine Brightly in 'White Steed'

By EDWARD MANNION

A University theater audience applauded its second successive play of spiritual idealism last night... and it did so this time, not through a sense of well-bred politeness, but in enthusiastic appreciation for that intangible something called "good theater."

The play was "The White Steed" written by the recent Irish schoolmaster, Paul Vincent Carroll.

Chief among these was Joseph Becker as the old Cannon who "likened a wee bit of wheeling in his dogma." With the part, University theater has paid off a debt to Joe that was long overdue. The chance to radiate wisdom and wit from his wheelchair in such a vital role must have been compensation enough for three years of hard work in minor parts.

He has a direct, non-superficial stage manner which is a welcome relief equally from sophisticated chattering and from the type of acting that is all hard-boiled surface, with little technique or intelligence underneath.

Shaughnessy might easily have been overdone. Before our adjectives are in a state of nervous collapse, however the other members of the cast should be remembered, especially Marjorie Jackson. She had the audience hanging from the chandeliers in one uproarious scene where she caught the Cannon eating another woman's biscuits.

In his first performance in University theater, Aron Lowenberg did remarkably well. Nothing but the mumps can keep him from being cast as one of the waterfront boys in the next presentation, "Winterset."

Harold Hansen was effective as Nora's father. Robley Evans, James Andrews, Miriam Ryan, Helen M. Dyer, Ambrose Schenk, Mary Hardin and Robert Hull all helped make the play the enjoyable affair it was.

The all-important directing must be considered, of course. If the applause of the audience is any criteria, William D. Coder proved himself entirely capable. Lighting was under the supervision of Hunton D. Sellman, and the two settings for the three acts were designed by Arnold S. Gillette.

"The American toilers are faced with a great task: that of crushing the war plans of a powerful foe—American imperialism. The American communist party is actively preparing for fulfillment of its historical task in the new international situation."

"Already during the first months of the present war imperialist American circles are preparing to spare no effort in order to save European capitalism from the offensive of the proletariat and are doing everything to convert the war between imperialists into a war against the U.S.S.R."

Iowa Students Opposed to Fighting War

Editor's note: The following article was prepared by the Iowa chapter of the Youth Committee Against War from information obtained through a campus poll, and is presented here with the idea that Daily Iowan readers will find the information of special interest. Patricia Slezzer, A3 of Freeport, Ill., is chairman of the organization.

Students are almost unanimous in their disfavor of any American participation in the present European conflict, according to a poll conducted by the Youth Committee Against War on the University of Iowa campus recently. The poll was conducted on the "Gallup style," but because of the compactness of the group solicited, the student committee was able to obtain a 10 per cent representative vote of all groups, whereas Gallup's percentage is never that broad.

Underclassmen dogmatic, decisive in answers. The underclassmen seemed to answer the questions more decisively and dogmatically while the upperclassmen and faculty were more hesitant in choosing any one answer to be correct. Some of the freshmen penned violent remarks along side the questions. One disillusioned member of the class of '43 declared: "I have no political party. I'm disgusted with all of them!"

Will You Get A Job? Magazine Predicts 2,000,000 Jobs Opening in 1940. Two million more men will be hired by American business and industry during 1940, according to the results of a nation-wide survey just completed by The American Magazine.

Two million more men will be hired by American business and industry during 1940, according to the results of a nation-wide survey just completed by The American Magazine, which bases its estimate on the detailed statements of 300 top-flight executives and confidential reports from hundreds of the country's leading personnel managers.

Business is definitely in the market for really competent men and women," the magazine states, "and the number of opportunities is far greater than commonly believed. The incompetent and mediocre are the ones who are unable to place themselves. Moreover, the personnel managers—the men who have the job of filling jobs—report the three following facts:

1. Thousands of openings require no experience; the growth of a promoting-from-within policy in American business means plenty of openings at the bottom for competent young people who like to climb.

2. Hundreds of business firms actually have jobs which they have been unable to fill because of inability to find employees with the desired qualifications.

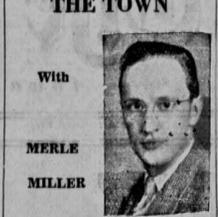

3. There is a pressing demand for mechanics. (This backs up the view of William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors who recently wrote in The American Magazine that "even with all our unemployment the top-rank skilled mechanic is still the most sought-after and independent man you can find.")

The magazine quotes the personnel manager of a large insurance company as stating that thus far this year the best college and high school graduates have already been placed and only second-grade applicants are now visiting his offices. Other typical responses are given as follows:

"There seems to be a dearth of really competent persons."

"Despite high school business courses, colleges and business schools, competent stenographers are very difficult to find. One in 25 is passable."

AROUND THE TOWN

With MERLE MILLER AND SO GOOD MORNING! Kurt Schaeffer's probably guessed right on the Yurppin situation often than anyone on the campus.

One of my favorite campus secretaries is she who discovered one of her unfavored big-shots disapproved the Teachers' Union so much he got black-grey in the face.

A note from G. Bean of the English-debating Beans with the line, "I'll bet the Mad-hatter's hat'll be on the Eastern front, opposing Russia, before another International debate takes place."

Prof. Dorrance White's a little concerned, occasionally, with the fate of his sister in Russia. Now that the bombing planes are flying again.

The sister married an idealistic Communist engineer she met in the United States. Earl Harper's a queer guy. He's actually taken the Union idea seriously, wants to make it a student union.

Some of the frigid souls around there are actually being human during these last months, too. And the new music room is the best yet.

One of the campus' least obtrusive figures has been in Washington twice in a year, talking to war officials. He knows as much about what we need to do to navalize as anyone in the country.

We have a way of neglecting some of our big men. Prof. Fred Haynes is one of two or three of the country's most respected criminologists.

Norman Froiland (of Midland House) got a laugh from a Saturday Review of Literature letter. They spent four paragraphs telling the wonders a Saturday Review review would do for his books, one suggesting an advertisement (interring that would get the review).

That organ-doll effect in Bremer's window is the same they used in New York's Macy's. The man with the pad and pencil is counting noses to see how many Iowa Citizens have curiosity.

MAE MURRAY, starred in a "Merry Widow" sketch, will be Ken Murray's guest on the Hollywood end of the CBS Star Theater tonight at 8 o'clock.

KENNY BAKER will sing "Lilacs in the Rain" and Frances Langford's number is "Day In, Day Out." Complying with a round-robin request letter signed by 100 University of Pennsylvania students, David Broekman and his orchestra will play "Stop, It's Wonderful."

Stewart Says Uncle Sam's State Department Is Satisfied With Latest Anglo-French Blockade

Uncle Sam's state department is noticeably silent, among neutrals, in objecting to the Anglo-French policy of shutting off German exports to foreign countries, as well as blockading the Reich against the delivery of imports shipped from abroad.

It's customary for a nation, if it can "get away with it," to prevent supplies from overseas from arriving at an enemy nation's ports. For instance, during the last World War I crossed the Atlantic on a Danish ship, bound from Hoboken to Copenhagen.

The British navy held that boat up at Kirkwall, Orkney islands, and confiscated from it, as contraband, a lot of rubber consigned to Danish buyers. As a neutral country, Denmark was perfectly entitled to get all the rubber it wanted, for its own use.

It's the same way now. A blockade against incoming stuff is recognized as internationally legal — if it can be made to "stick."

However, if a neutral country, adjoining or nearby Germany, buys German goods and resells them to buyers in some other neutral country overseas, the intermediate neutral country says it's entitled to make deliveries with its own neutral craft — it's none of any belligerent country's business; it simply is a transaction between a couple of neutrals.

Merely a Technicality. It's a mere technicality, no doubt. Nevertheless, there's the precedent. Neutrals howl only mildly at having their incoming supplies overhauled. They howl like sixty at having them overhauled going out.

Japan hollers more loudly than the European neutrals do, because Japan is greatly in need of German war supplies with which to fight the Chinese. The mikado can get what he needs from the United States, but he's aware that Uncle Sam is very cold toward his Chinese campaign. Therefore, he's afraid that, if the Allies cut him off from Germany and the United States cut him off from here, he'll be left out on a limb on the Asiatic mainland.

Japs in a Bad Spot. It's a mean situation for the Japs, but it suits us pretty well. Nippon's military crowd has been tolerably snooty toward us of late. It's been snooty toward Britain and France, but what we're interested in is its snootiness to US.

With Germany as a source from which to draw arms and munitions the Jap warlords could afford to be rather rude to the United States, but they'll have to be middling polite to us if we become the only country from which they can get the necessities of war.

Cowpunching And Other Amusements

UP IN THE cowpuncher state of Montana there's some fancy lassoing being done. But the rope-throwing is probably the craziest the cattle of the state ever have witnessed.

In the first place the ropes are thrown from Canada, not Montana. In the second place they lasso — not cows, but AIRPLANES.

According to the slightly insane story from the Canadian Press and printed in the Winnipeg Free Press, pilots from north of the border wait at the international line.

American made Harvard type planes, needed by Canada for training purposes, are flown to within a few yards of the border on a hastily-constructed flying field near Sweetgrass, Montana.

Swinging a mean rope the Canadians "lasso" the ships and drag them over into Alberta province. Pilots clamber aboard and roar away to the training fields at Trenton and Camp Borden, Ontario.

And why the ropes? Why the bizarre methods used? Because the United States' neutrality law forbids the export of aircraft by FLYING them out of the country!

Two Points Of View. IT WASN'T very long ago when every college professor, at one time or other in his class room career, didn't threaten, "I'll teach you in spite of yourselves."

Religious Activities. And Y. W. C. A. OVER THE campus this week is being conducted a concentrated membership drive by the Religious Activities office, a drive designed to enable this worthwhile agency to continue and increase its work among the student religious groups on the campus and in the churches.

Largest among the organizations assisted by the office is the Y. W. C. A., which this year has a membership of more than 400 girls on the campus.

The Religious Activities office makes available for Y. W. C. A. a staff secretary, Anne McPhee, who assists with all program activities of the twenty separate committees supported by the associations and serves in an advisory and conciliatory capacity for the individual members.

Project Group Makes Cheese

"Making and Using Soft Cheeses in the Home" was demonstrated at the follow-up meeting of the Women's Home Project study group in the home of Mrs. C. N. Showers, route 5, yesterday. Shown above, left to right, are Mrs. J. W. Warren, Mrs. Showers, Mrs. Opfell, Mrs. George Bowie and Mrs. Glen Fountain in the process of making cheese.

Women's Home Project Group Studies Making, Using Cheeses

Ruth Cessna Directs Extension Work At Follow-Up Meeting

The follow-up meeting of the Women's Home Project study group was held from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. yesterday in the home of Mrs. C. N. Showers, route 5. "Making and Using Soft Cheeses in the Home" was the project studied. Fourteen women from the East Lucas and Pleasant Valley townships attended the meeting.

The project work, which is a part of the cooperative extension work in agriculture and home economics sponsored by Iowa State college, the farm bureau and the United States department of agriculture, is for the purpose of instructing farm women in the best use of time and funds in the preparation of food.

Follow-Up Meetings
The follow-up meetings demonstrate the material studied in the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Home Project group with Ruth Cessna of the Iowa State extension department. At least one leader from each township attends the regular meeting and Miss Cessna instructs them in the work that is to be covered in the follow-up meeting. Any woman in the township who is interested in the project may attend the meeting.

Mrs. Edward Opfell was the leader of yesterday's meeting. She was assisted by Mrs. Showers and Mrs. Grover Hudson.

A luncheon was prepared at noon, the main feature of which was cheese torte. The purpose of these luncheons is to demonstrate the use of home produced foods and the preparation of things for children's lunches. Besides being well-balanced and nutritious, the meal is to be prepared attractively.

Those Who Attended
The women who attended the follow-up meeting yesterday were Mrs. Glenn Fountain, Mrs. William Nelson, Mrs. J. W. Warren, Mrs. Joseph M. Miltner, Mrs. Grover C. Hudson, Mrs. Robert Berry, Mrs. C. M. Fountain, Mrs. Anna Oberman, Mrs. George Bowie, Mrs. W. R. Burge, Mrs. Edward Opfell, Mrs. J. W. Kerf and Mrs. Frank Sullivan.

War Boom Will Drop

Prof. G. R. Davies Forecasts Collapse Of Business Trends

Although the nation's business continued its rapid climb during October, Prof. George R. Davies of the University of Iowa sounds a warning in his Iowa Business Digest this month.

"Insofar as the present upswing is due to war in Europe," writes Professor Davies, "the stability of prospective new levels is not promising. Just now, of course, the outlook is for continued buying on the part of belligerent powers having access to our markets, and that chance that we may become directly involved does not appear extreme."

War Orders Must Cease Sometime
"But sooner or later, when war ends or credit is exhausted, war orders must cease," the business summary continued. "With an increased capacity resulting from war production, American business will be seeking adequate outlets. As in the case of the first World War, post-war building may absorb goods and investment for a time."

May Lead To Depression
"But, unless business leadership aggressively opens new fields of activity, it is altogether likely that depression, with all its accompaniment of unemployment and political futility, will again prevail," Davies prophesies.

After full discussion of the problem, the Iowa commerce professor and business analyst concludes with the suggestion that perhaps "business leaders may be quietly considering plans for transferring capital and labor to suitable fields when at last peace again descends upon the world."

Student Rule Plan Proposed In Meeting

"The report is intended to show that the Iowa Students League is not un-American," Mr. Miller added. Under recent investigations of the Dies committee, Joe Lash, president of the national ASU, was held for investigation and it is hoped that this ISL report will be transferred to the Dies committee, Miller said.

Junior Chamber of Commerce Votes To Broadcast Hawkeye Big Ten Basketball Games

Billy Goat Used In Membership Drive Still Unreported

Junior chamber of commerce members last night voted to raise funds for the broadcasting of the Hawkeyes' out-of-town basketball games in the Big Ten. As in other years, the broadcasts over WSUI will be sponsored by the junior chamber and Iowa City merchants, if university officials sanction them.

A "stag" party is scheduled to be sponsored to raise the money.

Goat Lost
To solve the "mystery of the missing goat," the members approved the appointment of a sleuths committee.

The goat was an integral part of a recent membership campaign scheme, "goat day." According to the plan, a billy goat was to be tied outside the home or place of business of each junior chamber member until he produced a new member.

Dean Jones, chairman of the membership committee, borrowed a goat for the occasion and took it to Herbert Anderson, who came first alphabetically on the mailing list. At the end of the day, Anderson had not gained a new member, and the goat was missing.

The goat's owner now demands his animal or $25.

If the goat is not found, junior chamber members at the next meeting may as jurors hear attorneys for Jones and Anderson argue whether Anderson or the junior chamber should be held responsible for the goat.

Name Candidates
Candidates nominated for the election of officers Dec. 19 include:

Roy Bywater and Dean Jones, president; Olin Hauth and Roy Ewers, executive vice-president; Burke Carson and Dr. George Callahan, vice-president in charge of meetings; Harold Donnelly and Verne Pangborn, vice-president in charge of programs; Lee Kann, John Thomas, Burnell Horrabin and Karl Ketelsen, secretary-treasurer, and Robert Hogan, recorder.

Committee Reports
The safety and trade promotion committees reported they have completed a parking survey, but results had not yet been compiled.

Members also made suggestions to the Christmas activity committee, headed by Roy Mulford.

New members of the junior chamber were announced as follows:

Harold Ahlf, J. M. Bolman, Walter A. Brown, R. D. Bothell,

Paul H. Boyd, Harry H. Boysen, Walter Chudwick, Harold W. Diehl, K. E. Greene, J. Orville Hora, Leonard Brodsky, Clarence Jacobs and Nate Moore Jr.

J. W. Pearson, Paul H. Preston, T. E. Ryan, Walter F. Schmidt, Clyde Shellady, Bill Summerwill, J. W. Wegmuller and E. R. Williams.

Last night's meeting was held in the Smith's private dining room.

from Washington, D. C., under orders of Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison.

Navy's Guest
Passengers on the plane will be the two guests, Dave Driscoll, sports announcer of station WOR; Captain D. C. Ramsey of the Navy, special representative of Secretary Edison; Major E. E. Larson, U. S. Naval academy football coach, and Midshipman Al Bergner, Navy football captain.

After the take-off, the plane will be joined by 25 other navy ships from the airport and a navy dirigible. The whole group will fly in formation over Broadway and continue to the new North Beach airport, opened last Saturday.

Before landing, Kinnick and Dr. Anderson will be interviewed from the air, with the program to be broadcast over a national hook-up of the Mutual Broadcasting system.

As the party steps out of the plane at 3 p.m., a reception committee will greet the Iowans, headed by President Newbold Morris of the city council, delegated by Mayor LaGuardia. Sports officials also will be on the reception committee.

Dinner at 7 p.m.
Then the group will return to the Downtown Athletic club to prepare for the dinner at 7 p.m. Dr. Anderson and Kinnick will have a suite of rooms at the club.

The dinner for the awarding of the Heisman trophy will be attended by some 750 persons, about 45 of whom are graduates of the University of Iowa. The former Iowans, rallied by Arlo Wilson, president of the Iowa Alumni association of New York, will occupy prominent places immediately in front of the speakers' dais.

Club officials will not announce the complete list of speakers at the dinner until Wednesday. In addition to Dr. Anderson and Kinnick, the university will be represented on the program by Carl Byoir, '10, prominent public relations expert; Scott German, '89, member of early Iowa football teams and the originator of Old Gold and Black as Iowa colors; and Arlo Wilson.

attempted to define the meaning of civilization in its broader concept. Professor Feigl optimistically pointed out that the evolution of civilization, based on language, the transmission of culture, scientific accomplishments and critical reflection, cannot be destroyed by a single event.

We may have one civilization, he maintained, made up of smaller civilizations represented by the various forms of political control in our current world. Which form of social control is best is insignificant in comparison to the broader civilization to be maintained.

Prof. Ethan P. Allen of the political science department, unwilling to leave reasoning in abstract terms, brought the discussion to more practical terms.

"It is my fundamental belief that human life is valuable," Professor Allen stated, "and no matter how you evade the issue, war looks on life as worthless." Likewise where the individual is subordinated to the interests of the state, human life is not valuable.

Professor Allen modified his statements of the effects of war by pointing out that Americans have recently developed a "fear complex" about war. H. G. Wells and the film, "Things to Come," have brought about an exaggeration of the horrorfulness of war, he said. In spite of this erroneous conception, Professor Allen showed that our basic values, original-

WHY DOESN'T AN AIRLINE PILOT WRITE A NOVEL ABOUT FLYING?

Well, one just did!

The Story: Take away today's lighted airways; take away radio beams and you're back in the '20's... with the hard-shelled pilots who flew the mail "by the seat of their pants." Here's a novel of one reckless flyer who inherited a bankrupt airline, a handful of insubordinate pilots, and a girl manager who predicted he'd have to grow up—or crack up.

The Author: When an expert flyer is also an expert writer—that's Leland Jamieson! Millions of Post readers know his short stories. His first full-length novel is part autobiography, part fiction—all superb entertainment. Right now, as High Frontier hops off, Capt. Jamieson is at the wheel of a DC-3 somewhere between Miami and New York, where he regularly flies day and night runs.

- THE PLAIN PEOPLE FACE THE WAR. The writer, John W. Vandercok, recently talked with French shopkeepers, peasants, heard their stories; then motored into Germany and spent hours with Nazi small-town leaders. New insight on how the common people of two countries are taking it.
- HOLLYWOOD HUSBANDS HAVE SO-O-O MANY PROBLEMS! Reuben Rosen, Hollywood's Boy Wonder, was a wov at changing scripts into happy endings. But could he kill his wife's infatuation for her new leading man? (Quick, get the script-girl!) A short story, Suggestion for a Happy Ending, by Edith Fitzgerald.

- WILD COYOTES BREAKFASTED WITH US! Snowed in eight months of the year, seven thousand feet up in the High Sierras, the author of this unusual nature article and her husband actually taught wild coyotes "table manners"! Read The Coyotes Come.
