Bach's 'Mass' Will Be Heard Today in Union

Clapp To Present Review of Piece; To Give Translation

The "Mass in B Minor" by Johannes Sebastian Bach, widely known as "the greatest choral work ever written," will be presented in a recorded program in the river room of Iowa Union today. Because of its length, the mass will be given in two parts—the first at 4:30 this afternoon and the remainder at 7 this evening.

Prof. P. G. Clapp, head of the music department, will introduce the mass with a brief historical sketch and analysis. He will read free translations of the Latin text during the course of the concert.

The recording to be heard this afternoon is by the London Philharmonic chorus, accompanied by the London symphony orchestra. Soloists are Elizabeth Schumann, soprano; Margaret Balfour, contralto; Walter Widop, tenor; and Friedrich Schorr, bass. The orchestra is under the direction of Albert Coates.

Often called one of Bach's greatest works, the "Mass" has come to be a feature of the annual Bach festival held at Bethlehem, Pa. Some of the movements of the work are adaptations and revisions of portions of his other sacred music.

Someone has said, "To Bach, music was a medium of worship. Probably the 'Mass' was a reflection of the composer's deep religious faith."

Tickets for the program are now available free of charge at Iowa Union desk. The entire program will be broadcast over radio station WSUI.

President Ball Group To Meet

Plans for Celebration in Iowa City Will Be Discussed Tomorrow

Plans for the 1940 Iowa City celebration of the president's birthday will be laid at a meeting of the newly appointed committee at 5 p.m. tomorrow in room 403 Jefferson hotel, it was announced yesterday by Attorney Ingalls Swisher, Johnson county chairman.

Although most cities of the nation observe Jan. 30, President Roosevelt's birthday, as their day to stage the fight against infantile paralysis, Iowa City last year held its dance Saturday, Jan. 28 to enable larger crowds to attend the festivities.

It was indicated that the same procedure will be observed this year in celebrating on Saturday night instead of Tuesday, Jan. 29.

Proceeds of the president's birthday celebration will, as last year, be divided in half between the county and national foundations to be used for the common purpose of fighting infantile paralysis.

Besides Attorney Swisher as chairman, other committee members named yesterday include Attorney Robert L. Larson, Harold M. Schuppert, Prof. Bruce Mahan, Attorney William R. Hart, Arthur Bellaire, Harry L. Johnson, Ray L. Bywater, Walter J. Barrow, Attorney W. J. Jackson, Edward Bryan, Edward F. Rate, Leslie A. Moore, Attorneys E. A. Baldwin and Robert Hogan.

Joe Gerber Newest Winner Of Grid Award

New football honors were passed out in Iowa City it was discovered—this time to the sideline quarterback of the year.

Joe Gerber, a local fan of long standing, was awarded a watch, of the Mickey Mouse variety, by Kalona, Wellman and Riverside alumni as a reward for his faithful service as a sideline quarterback in 1939.

U. S. Air Corp Student Exams Begin Here Tomorrow

Examinations for the United States Army air corps will be given tomorrow, Tuesday and Wednesday at the University of Iowa for university students interested in joining the flying corps.

The examinations will be given from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. each of the three days in the rifle range rooms of the university armory. A special examining board of seven men will arrive this afternoon in a large B-18 Douglas bombing plane to conduct the three days of examinations.

Lieut. G. Drafts of the air corps has been in Iowa City since Wednesday afternoon arranging for the examinations and explaining the requirements to interested students.

Students will be eligible for the air corps who:

- 1—Have successfully completed two years of college work.
- 2—Are between the ages of 20 and 26 years.
- 3—Are not married.

Students who are able to pass the rigid physical examination given for the air corps will then be permitted to register in the primary training school for this area, either at Chicago or Lincoln, Neb., officials stated.

Those who so wish will be permitted to finish the present school year before enrolling in the primary training school, however. If interested men are under 21 years of age, they are required to present written permission from their parents to register for the course, according to officials.

The training program in the primary school includes 130 hours of ground work and 65 hours in the air. The ground work received at this stage is not mechanical but consists of courses in navigation and simple instruction on airplane motors.

For the three-month period spent in the primary school, the cadet is furnished board, room, flying equipment and $75 per month, it was announced. The flying equipment includes helmet, goggles and fur-lined clothing for flying.

At the close of this first part of a year's training, the cadet is able to fly many of the smaller craft of the army and has also had some instruction in air acrobatics, officials said.

Dr. Anderson Honored As 'Coach of Year'

Iowa Mentor Receives Ruppert, Newspaper Awards of Success

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Some 200 members of his profession gathered tonight to pay tribute to Dr. Eddie Anderson as the football "coach of the year" as the Iowa mentor received the Jacob Ruppert Memorial trophy.

Anderson, who led the Hawkeyes out of the doldrums into second place in the Big Ten standings in his first year as head coach at the University of Iowa, was selected by his fellow coaches as being the standout among them in a poll conducted by the New York World-Telegram. He was presented the trophy and the World-Telegram trophy at a dinner at the tap room of the Ruppert brewery.

In making the presentation before the gathering of coaches, athletic directors and sports writers, Joe Williams of the World-Telegram said Anderson won the award "off by himself."

"Eddie should remember that he was chosen by the coaches themselves. He's not only the coach of the year, but the coaches' coach of the year."

Anderson attributed his success to his team and to luck rather than to his own efforts, explaining "You must have luck to be here. Any coach might be where I am if he got the breaks."

Finland Says Entire Soviet Attack Broken

Russians Driven Back Along Eastern Front; Lose Tanks, Cannon

HELSINKI, Dec. 9 (AP)—Finnish troops along the whole eastern front drove back Russian attacks "at all places" today and inflicted losses of numerous tanks, armored cars and cannon on the invaders, the Finnish high command reported tonight.

The picture of the fighting as given in Helsinki disclosed the Russians had been active virtually along the entire 800-mile Finnish-Russian frontier.

The communique indicated the day's fighting was a continuation of various engagements which began yesterday.

Officials said the enemy planes bombed four towns yesterday without inflicting serious damage. Official quarters neither confirmed nor denied reports that the Finnish port, Hanko, had been bombed by Russian planes.

Earlier today, 30 British Blenheim bombers were reported to have arrived to augment the Finnish air forces.

The Moscow radio broadcast a communique of the Leningrad command which said the Russians also penetrated the main Finnish defenses along the Taipale river in the Karelian peninsula.

The longest advances were reported in central Finland where Soviet forces were said to have pushed ahead in the Ukhta, Porosero and Petrosavodsk sectors.

After breaking through the Finnish defenses along the Taipale, the communique said the troops continued their advance.

Russians Report 50 Mile Advances

MOSCOW, Dec. 8 (AP)—The red army reported tonight Russian troops had made advances ranging up to 50 miles today in Finland.

Dynamited Hillsides Swamp Soviet Boats

KIRKENES, Norway, at the Finnish frontier, Dec. 9 (AP)—Thundering avalanches loosened by Finnish dynamite charges were reported today to have caused mountainous waves which drowned between 600 and 800 members of unsuccessful Russian landing parties in icy Arctic waters off northern Finland.

Reports reaching here from across the border said masses of steep hillsides on the edges of fjords near Petsamo and Limhamari were sent tumbling into the water with such force that the boats of the red army landing parties were swamped.

The Finns were said to have employed similar tactics previously in repulsing landing attempts by the invaders. Many of those surviving the man-made waves were reported captured.

East of Petsamo, the reports said, Russian tanks attempting to cross frozen lakes plunged into holes cut in the thick ice by the Finns. Crews were reported to have perished in the plummeting tanks.

Greater numbers of Norwegian troops were understood to be massing along this section of their frontier, 200 miles above the arctic circle. Civilians were moving south as a precaution.

Soviet Invasion Bogs Down

Time Taken in Finnish Invasion Said To Indicate Russian Weakness

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

The battle scene in Finland after ten days of invasion by Soviet Russia is shrouded both by snow and utterly conflicting reports from Moscow and Helsinki as to the progress red armies are actually making.

Yet that does not conceal one highly important fact—that the million-man-power red steam roller is far behind time in flattening out its 200,000-man-power Finnish opponent by the standard which Germany established in Poland.

If it is true that upward of a million Russians are having tough going against Poland around 300,000 Finns, what that spells out in military minds is a striking inferiority of Russian red army leadership and mechanized equipment to their Nazi counterparts.

Finnish claims of red tanks destroyed or bogged down, of red planes shot down or crashed, of red infantry mowed down by machine gun and automatic rifle fire are insistent.

There is a definite hint of undependable red motorized equipment and clumsy red staff work.

League 'Trial' Moves Toward Red Conviction

Latin American Nations Demand Soviet Ouster; Argentina Leads Action

GENEVA, Dec. 9 (AP)—Indications that the League of Nations not only would condemn Russia as an aggressor but also probably would oust her from the league increased today as the "trial" of the Soviet Union on Finland's charges opened.

Argentina and her sister Latin American states threw their support strongly behind Finland and were reported to have told the league it must choose between ejecting Russia and losing them as members.

Russia's representative was absent as the league council discussed Finland's appeal for action in two closed sessions and passed it on "for trial" to the assembly which convened Monday.

Informed persons said the Argentine delegation, claiming to voice the sentiment of other American nations, told Joseph A. C. Avenol, league secretary-general, it was a case of "Russia or Latin America."

British reluctance to go as far as expulsion of Russia apparently was melting rapidly in the face of the strong Latin American stand and the French delegation likewise indicated it would support Finland.

Rudolf Holsti, Finland's white-haired delegate, said he would withhold a "detailed public statement of our case" until the assembly appoints a committee to decide who is the aggressor in the northern war.

Indications that Argentina might demand an immediate showdown were seen in the notification given by Argentine delegates Rodolfo Freyre and Carlos At Pardo that they wanted to speak with the assembly immediately after Holsti.

They were reported planning then to ask Russia's ouster under covenant article 16 providing for action against an aggressor.

Business Again Spurts Ahead

By SMITH REAVIS
NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—The nation's business added to its breakneck speed of the last three months; this week in the face of dwindling orders in the heavy division and a cautious buying policy by retailers who are experiencing the best Christmas season in years.

Virtually every group benefited from the momentum acquired in September, October and November. Employment again increased as industry reversed the usual seasonal trend and spurred rather than declined.

While new bookings fell away, most manufacturers in the heavy lines saw enough on their books to keep them pounding away at a high rate through the first three or four months of 1940, at least.

And the decrease in orders was not sufficiently great to alarm many economists who believe the nation needs enough equipment and plant facilities to keep things moving for many months to come.

Most thought the present pace would slacken somewhat after the turn of the year, although orders from abroad might help to keep it up.

Kinnick Visits Crippled Prep School Player

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 9 (AP)—Plucky Edwin (Rip) Collins, whose left leg was amputated above the knee as the result of a football injury, was cheered today by a visit with Nile Kinnick, Iowa's All-American backfield star, and Clipper Smith, Villanova football coach.

Collins, St. Benedict's preparatory school tackle and only son of a Kearny policeman, was injured last October in a game with the Villanova college freshmen. His leg was amputated Thursday.

Police Seek Killer of Six In Wisconsin

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Dec. 9 (AP)—The killing of six persons today, a $40,000 kidnaping plot, robbery and arson—all seemingly related—sent the police on hunt for clues confirming their theory that the crimes were the work of Donald T. Cameron, one of the dead.

Cameron, about 35, committed suicide about 1:15 a.m., a few minutes before the bodies of his wife, Louise, 35, his two-year-old son, David, and his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wilk, of Minneapolis, were found in the chimney ruins of his Lake Wissota cottage, six miles east of Chippewa Falls.

Marshall Brenden, about 40, was shot to death and his body left in the Eau Claire cemetery, nine miles south of here. Two empty cartridges found nearby were similar to those found in the German type pistol with which Cameron killed himself in the garage back of his home.

Medical Care Fifth 'Right'

HOLLAND, Mich., Dec. 9 (AP)—Paul De Kruij, scientist and dramatizer of man's fight for life, is helping to launch a campaign for the adoption of a non-controversial national health law in 1940.

Bulwarmed by an array of medical experts, the author of "Microbe Hunters" and "Hunger Fighters" turned toward Washington today with proposals which he said were sufficiently practical to form the basis of a health program acceptable to government healthmen and private physicians alike.

As described in an interview, the essential principles of the proposed health law articulated by De Kruij would call for the establishment of adequate medical care as the "fifth human right, taking its place alongside the rights to food, shelter, clothing and fuel."

Lieut. Gen. Phoernell Named Commander in Swedish Crisis

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 9 (AP)—A 62-year-old veteran of the Swedish army today assumed active command of all the nation's military forces to facilitate direction of reserves called up since the outbreak of war in Europe.

The new commander is Lieut. Gen. Olof Gerhard Phoernell, previously a "coordinator" of the army, navy and air force branches but without power or active command.

A foreign office spokesman, explaining that his job was a technical one, said it gives him full commander's powers but is not connected with the 1925 defense act providing for a special military chief if an emergency threatens.

In a declaration to the troops General Phoernell said:

"The safety of the country is founded in the first line of your loyalty, your strength of will and your feeling of solidarity for Sweden's defense.

"The government today appointed me to the chief command of the defense forces of the country.

"In the present times, the defense of freedom, of right of self-determination, and of the fatherland puts everything else in the background."

To emphasize Sweden's determination to make every effort to maintain neutrality, it was announced that the frontier with Finland would not be blacked-out.

Sweden's mine fields were extended to waters off Oregun, 80 miles north of Stockholm, making it necessary for vessels plying the channel opposite the Aland islands into the Gulf of Bothnia to use Swedish pilots.

A Swedish informant said this move was to protect the channel from misuse.

Fierce Sea Warfare Claims 2 British, 2 Neutral Ships

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Four more ships, two British and two neutral, were added today to the mounting toll of the sea war in which the efforts of Britain and Germany to cut each other's life lines continued with unabated ferocity.

The four were sunk by mines or torpedoes. A partial offset was the capture of a German ship.

The growing seriousness with which Britain views the maritime conflict was reflected in the admiralty's call for ex-sailors and ex-marines up to 46 years old to volunteer for the duration of the war.

The death toll on the seas for the week, fourteenth of the war, was estimated at 400, including the crews of four German submarines which the British were sure had been sent down. At least 24 merchant ships were sunk.

Heavy gunfire heard through the mists off England's northeast coast led to some speculation as to whether there had been a new battle between British planes or batteries and German mine-laying planes.

The Cost of War

UNDER THE pressure of conflicting propagandas any clear understanding of the significance of war becomes extremely difficult.

Figures, cold as they are, have a startling effect in shocking one's mind into realization of what war's true meaning can be.

For that reason, we wish to quote here an estimate of the cost of the last war in dollars and cents.

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace in 1920 published the following figures:

Net money cost of war to all belligerents—$188,000,000. Total value of destroyed property, money value of dead soldiers and civilians, losses in production, losses to neutrals, expenditures for relief work—$337,846,000,000.

You've often asked yourself the question, "What could we do if we had all the money that the World War cost the world?" Here is an answer from the Congressional Record for January, 13, 1928:

"According to the best statistics obtainable, the World War cost 30,000,000 lives and $400,000,000,000 in property. In order to give some idea of what it means just let me illustrate it in the following: With that amount we could have built a $2,500 house and furnished this house with $1,000 worth of furniture and placed it on five acres of land worth $100 an acre and given all this to each and every family in the United States of America, Canada, Australia, England, Wales, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany and Russia. After doing this there would have been enough money left to give each city of 200,000 inhabitants and over in all countries named a $5,000,000 library, a $5,000,000 hospital, and a $10,000,000 university. And then out of the balance we would still have had sufficient money to have set aside a sum at 5 per cent interest which would have paid for all time to come a $1,000 yearly salary to each member of an army of 125,000 teachers, and in addition to this to have paid the same salary to each member of an army of 125,000 nurses. And, after having done all this, we would still have had enough left out of our $400,000,000,000 to buy up all of France and Belgium and everything of value in France and Belgium: farm, home, factory, church, railroad, street car—in fact, everything of value in those two countries in 1914. For it must be remembered that the total valuation of France in 1914, according to the French official figures, was $62,000,000,000. In other words, the price which the leaders and statesmen of the entente, including the 'statesmen' of the United States, made the people of the world pay for the victory over Germany, was equal to the value of five countries like Belgium."

With the exceptions of the previously mentioned republicans, most observers are agreed that it would be foolish to break off relations with the Soviet Union at this time as a protest over Finland. The circle of countries with which we were enjoying friendly intercourse would become very limited if we withdrew recognition from each one that displeased us. Secondly, of course, it is highly doubtful that the Russian government will recall its troops from Finland simply because the United States refuses to recognize it any longer.

Fortunately it is generally realized that American neutrality has been imperiled more than once in the last few weeks. Wisdom would dictate that it not be endangered again simply to keep the political wheels turning.

Progression Or Retrogression?

THIS IS AN age when scientific finding follows scientific finding with ever-increasing rapidity. The reading public, undoubtedly, was little astonished by the announcement that Lett Talbot of Des Moines had perfected a method of disabling airplanes by means of an especially refined gas which, when mixed with air, either forces the motor to blow off the cylinder head, or causes pistons to buckle, and a method of transforming ordinary steel shells into armor-piercing plates. It is not these two particular discoveries which should give us pause but the attitude of mind of which they are but a manifestation.

Is it not terrifying that in small, quiet, hidden laboratories men are devising the most efficacious means whereby their fellowmen may be destroyed? One had as soon believe in black magic and the powers of Beelzebub. It seems almost incredible that one man should be pouring his creative efforts into the means of negating the creative efforts of another, that while one man is searching for the means of prolonging life another searches for the means of annihilating life, that while one man is thinking in terms of destruction another thinks in terms of construction.

Man, being unhappy, looks for a cause of his unhappiness. Let him not condemn science and the scientific method. They are but the non-thinking tools of man's powers of reason and only through their proper use can man hope to achieve a satisfactory future. It is man, man whose hands have grasped these tools and put them to improper use, who is to blame for the misery and suffering now rampant in today's world. Let man look to himself if he seeks a cause for his unhappiness.

It would serve no purpose to single out Lett Talbot for especial condemnation. Lett Talbot is but one of many who seem only momentarily it is hoped, to have lost either sight of our faith in the ultimate purposes of man.

To stand still is to ossify; the only alternatives are progression or retrogression. It is a consummation devoutly to be wished that men whose capabilities in the fields of science are as marked as apparently are the capabilities of Lett Talbot will turn their creative energies toward advancing and dignifying man.

G.O.P. HURLS 'PRO-RUSS' EPITHET AT NEW DEAL AGAIN

The recent statement by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan demanding that the United States break off diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia did not come as a complete surprise. It may be noted that his statement came on the heels of one by Herbert Hoover advising that Washington withdraw Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt from Moscow. The republican national committee Monday night also issued a series of papers by former governmental officials and prominent party members warning against Russian recognition in 1933.

Strongly condemning the government for "the Roosevelt-Litvinoff compact," Vandenberg's statement was stronger than any of the previous ones. It referred directly to Roosevelt "who is in sole charge of these relationships and who personally negotiated the recognition of Russia in the first instance."

Other similar statements may be expected from the rest of the potential republican presidential nominees, since the whole republican denunciation of the Soviet recognition can come only as a political move at this time. That there is no real concern over any pro-Soviet attitude on the part of the president is fairly obvious. His protests since almost the very beginning of the Finnish situation have been both impassioned and unheeded.

American political parties are well agreed that any issue is a fair issue, and since there was no clear party cleavage on the neutrality act, Russia will probably continue to be an issue until those who fought it retire from political life.

With the exceptions of the previously mentioned republicans, most observers are agreed that it would be foolish to break off relations with the Soviet Union at this time as a protest over Finland. The circle of countries with which we were enjoying friendly intercourse would become very limited if we withdrew recognition from each one that displeased us. Secondly, of course, it is highly doubtful that the Russian government will recall its troops from Finland simply because the United States refuses to recognize it any longer.

Fortunately it is generally realized that American neutrality has been imperiled more than once in the last few weeks. Wisdom would dictate that it not be endangered again simply to keep the political wheels turning.

Officially and Socially, Washington's Russian Representative Oumansky Gets Cold Shoulder

Constantine Oumansky, the Soviets' diplomatic representative in the United States, is about as popular in Washington as a pet rattlesnake would be.

The capital doesn't dislike him for himself alone. Personally he stood fairly well in official and social circles until recently. He tried to be friendly. There was a certain amount of sympathy for him individually, as the local spokesman for a government that he knew we disapproved of—an inclination to let him know we realized he couldn't help being Moscow's resident commissioner for Comrade Stalin.

Relations began to be a bit strained, however, when Stalin hooked up with Herr Hitler. We already were on doubtful terms with Berlin. Our embassy was functioning, and still is, at the fuhrer's headquarters, but we hadn't an ambassador there in about a year. A charge d'affaires was on the job. Germany had no ambassador in Washington, either; that embassy likewise was being run by a German charge d'affaires—Hans Thomsen, who's pretty well liked.

Empty Embassies: An ambassador's entitled to go home on a short vacation occasionally, but when two countries' embassies remain for months in the hands of charges d'affaires it begins to look as if they weren't very sympathetic toward one another.

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Columnist

Well, that combination between Stalin and Hitler certainly was regarded askance in Washington. Then Comrade Oumansky took a trip home likewise. That was all right—just a little trip. Yet it came at an inopportune time, on account of that concurrent Stalin and Hitler pact.

At this juncture our American ship city of Flint was grabbed by the Germans and taken into Russian waters. Our American Ambassador Steinhardt, trying to get news of the incident, was treated very snippily by the Moscow foreign office. The city of Flint got away, but it was plain that we'd been snubbed.

That OGPU Story: Shortly afterward an American weekly of national circulation published an article concerning Comrade Oumansky. In the early days of the Russian revolution Comrade Lenin was the main boss. Oumansky was one of his followers. Later Lenin died. Stalin came into power. Stalin hated the Lenists and began "liquidating" them as fast as possible. He didn't "liquidate" Oumansky, though, because, according to his yarn, Oumansky joined Stalin's OGPU (or secret service) and, turning traitor to his previous associates, helped Stalin to "liquidate" the latter.

Believe me, this country is pro-Finnish. The Finns have paid their war debts regularly. Finnish Minister Procopce gets a glad hand at the state department.

Russian Representative Oumansky gets a cold shoulder. Socially he's "persona non grata," anyway.

AROUND THE TOWN

Merle Miller

"A WHITE STEED CAME RIDING" My grandfather was an expert on the Irish. He should have been; he married one. And he often said, "They're bewitched, I tell you. They only have to smile or say a word, and they have you."

He's right, I'm certain. "The White Steed," the Paul Vincent Carroll vehicle University theater was showing last week, is an Irish play. It's bewitching. Also, I think, it is a work of art.

A work of art, of course, must be a thousand things and everything. I learned the classical definition once, but luckily I've forgotten it since.

To me it must have beauty, vitality, a rhythm, and a truth worth saying. In the theater as on a canvass these are the requisites. That's why "First Love" can be delightful entertainment but never art. That's why Broadway's 16 plays a year are usually of more worth than Hollywood's 600.

"The White Steed" has the requisites of real art, all of them. It's such a play as only a Gaelic could have penned. Who else such beautiful prose, such lyric, rhythmic words. Who else but another Irishman or a Shakespeare.

And as Irishman Shaw once said, "He probably was kidnapped by the English anyway."

If Mr. Shaw would go soon to Avalon and I'm sure he'll be dissatisfied with the quarters, please somebody let Paul Vincent Carroll wear his shoes. They'll fit.

For "The White Steed" is a play Bernard Shaw himself would approve, such a play as his own "St. Joan" with its thrusts at bigotry, custom and dogma, its contempt for authority and for all little men everywhere.

And, in one way, Carroll's play is better than Shaw's. It has more respect for the human personality, though perhaps less for ideas.

As with all great works of art, naturally "The White Steed" means something different to every man who looks on it. To the aging liberal, there is the good Canon Matt Lavelle who is the pillar of faith in people, of tolerance with sin, radicalism and reaction alike. Matt Lavelle, who is the apologist for all things in the world, good and evil.

Just the person for the happily-middle-aged.

For many the Father Shaughnessys are to be most admired. Those who most admire rule, precision and mathematical exactitude. All the ones who would fit people to dogma.

Some are Communists, some Christians, some Jews.

As for me, I'll take Nora Fintry and Denis Dillon. Nora alone is too rare for the most of us, because she was without doubts in her radicalism, in her fight for the things she believed.

But Denis had. Denis was weak and brave at once; he questioned and was uncertain, but in the end, he too had the courage to say "To hell with authority" and climb on the White Steed of resistance.

Denis would I am certain, agree with the good Canon, who said, "I'll take a wee bit a wheedlin' with my dogma." Most of us would.

And there you have it, "The White Steed." If this is no ordinary criticism, it is no ordinary play.

A word for the actors. Aren Lowenberg's Denis was studied, human and un-studied. I found it more professional than university-theater-like.

Mary Kathryn Flynn was a lovely Nora, with a beautiful voice. When she shouts less and acts more, she will have promise in the theater. The real trick of saying Carroll's poetic lines is to make them seem not poetic.

Hawks Point for Third Win; Meet Denver Tomorrow Night

Pioneers Boast Reach. Speed On First Team

Siegel, Lind, Will Furnish Hawkeye Offensive Power

Iowa's cage men will be out for their third straight win of the season tomorrow night when they meet the Denver University Pioneers on the fieldhouse court.

The Hawkeyes, paced by sophomore Vic Siegel and Tommy Lind, boast victories over Carleton and Millikin in the only contests played to date.

Siegel gave the fans an eye-full of net-flipping Friday night when he led the Hawks with 16 counters to trounce the blue shirted lads from Millikin University. Lind also did well at the other forward position, garnering nine points and playing a fine defensive game.

Coach Rollie Williams will probably stick to Dick Hein, another sophomore, at the starting post tonight, although he used four additional pivot men in Friday night's game. Closest competitor to Hein seems to be Dick Evans, who put new life into the Hawkeyes with a pair of buckets when the Millikins nearly took the lead at the end of the first half.

Starting guard positions will undoubtedly go to Vince Harsha and Rudy Soderquist, both sophomores, although it is probable that Paul Siglin may get the nod over either Harsha or Soderquist. Siegel and Lind are almost sure bets at the forward berths.

The Pioneers will bring a rangy team into the Iowa fieldhouse, one that averages two inches over six feet on the starting quintet.

Leading the invaders are Walter Walla and Norman Maris, senior forwards. These two will form the nucleus for the Denver lads with a trio of sophomores occupying the remaining positions. Bob Hogan and Al Morganfield will be in the back court with Ed Dunn—all 6-5 of him—in the center position.

This combination should give the Hawks plenty to think about tomorrow night with the Pioneers noted for a fast, wide-open game and with plenty of height to match their speed and make their defense very effective.

Probable Starting Lineups
 Iowa: Lind, Siegel, Hein, Soderquist, Harsha, Morganfield, Dunn, Siglin, Walla, Maris, Hogan, Dunn, Ed Dunn.
 Denver: Walla, Maris, Hogan, Dunn, Siglin, Walla, Maris, Hogan, Dunn, Ed Dunn.

Lions for Sale
 MILWAUKEE, (AP)—G. A. Richards, owner of the Detroit Lions of the national professional football league, announced at the league meeting yesterday that his club was for sale. He said ill health was the reason for his wish to dispose of the team.

Kate Smith Picks Kinnick

Kate Smith, "The Songbird of the South," and Jim Crowley, Fordham grid coach, look over one of the gold watches which will be given to members of the Kate Smith all-American football team, of which Iowa's Nile Kinnick is a member.

The team was announced Friday night over the WABC-Columbia network by the singer. The team was picked by a poll of leading coaches and is the fourth such annual team named by Miss Smith.

Pros Still Want Kinnick Brooklyn Seeking Hawkeye, Despite Law School Plans

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Professional football—1940 style—probably will be more of an aerial circus than ever before.

This was indicated as directors and club owners of the National Football league met today to select 1939's outstanding college players for their preferred negotiation lists.

Nine of the first 10 men selected are capable passers, several of them experts in the overhead game, but Nile Kinnick, Iowa's great passer, was not among them, probably in view of his statement he was not interested in pro ball.

The Chicago Cards, by virtue of their cellar position in the league, got first pick and they took Tennessee's George Cafego, a triple-threat star hampered much of the past season by injuries.

Kinnick was drafted by Brooklyn on the second round of selections. However, the selection of so many passers and backs early in the meeting indicated the pro owners were getting even more offensively minded than in the past season when nearly all scoring and ground-gaining records were shattered.

Prasse, Luebecke Drafted
 Erwin Prasse, Detroit Eagles; and Henry Luebecke, Green Bay Packers, were also listed in the list of Hawkeyes called for by the professional grid teams in the draft.

Prasse Finishes Strong
 Dave Rankin of Purdue and Ecco Sarkinnen, Ohio State's great end, took the flank posts. Prasse, placed on the second team, along with John Mariucci of Minnesota, was a strong competitor. Enich and Win Pedersen, Minnesota's great captain, took the tackle posts

 PITTSBURGH, (AP)—President Bill Benswanger of the Pittsburgh Pirates, flying in from the Cincinnati meeting of the major league clubs, announced yesterday that Harold (Pie) Traynor will remain with the Pirates. Traynor previously had talked with Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, leading to reports that he would join the Dodgers as coach.

Uclans Check Attack
 The favored Trojan machine, geared for an uninterrupted march to the Rose bowl for the second straight year, made one mighty scoring effort in the first period, and the puissant Blue of U. C. L. A. brought the roaring crowd to its feet with a 78-yard thrust in the final quarter.

Bruins Threaten
 Jackie Robinson, Washington's halfback teammate, reeled off 13 and Kenny added 10 more. Fullback Leo Cantor added a yard and the Bruins crossed the mid-field stripe, on Washington's 18-yard pass to end Don MacPherson.

The tired Trojans couldn't stop the Bruins. Washington added 12 yards with another flip to Robinson, and from the 20 passed to Strode for five and first down. Another pass went for five, to Ned Mathews, and Washington went through for 3 to the Trojan seven. Cantor barged over the Trojan right tackle for four, and Cantor carried it to the two. Here the Trojans fought off the thrust. Washington was stopped cold and Cantor was knocked back to the four. On fourth down, Washington's pass over the goal line was knocked down by Bob Robertson, S. C. halfback.

In the dying moments of the game the Uclans came back across the neutral stripe, but a desperate pass by Washington was intercepted and the game ended soon after.

Hawks Named All-Big Ten

Kinnick, Mike Enich On First Eleven; Prasse, Coupee Listed

By OSCAR HARGRAVE
 Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Two Hawkeyes, all-American Nile Kinnick and "Iron Mike" Enich, were selected on the Big Ten's mightiest eleven by Western conference sports editors, a final check of the votes revealed yesterday.

By placing two on the first string, Iowa held its own with Northwestern and Ohio State, each of which placed a pair. The Hawkeyes also placed Capt. Erwin Prasse at end on the second team and quarterback Al Coupee on the third team.

Eight Schools Represented
 First string company for Kinnick and Enich was divided among seven other Big Ten schools, with only Indiana and Chicago failing to land first string berths. Besides Iowa, Northwestern and Ohio State, each furnishing two first string men, Illinois, Purdue, Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin were represented, the personnel of the team being named with little dissent.

Dave Rankin of Purdue and Ecco Sarkinnen, Ohio State's great end, took the flank posts. Prasse, placed on the second team, along with John Mariucci of Minnesota, was a strong competitor. Enich and Win Pedersen, Minnesota's great captain, took the tackle posts

 PITTSBURGH, (AP)—President Bill Benswanger of the Pittsburgh Pirates, flying in from the Cincinnati meeting of the major league clubs, announced yesterday that Harold (Pie) Traynor will remain with the Pirates. Traynor previously had talked with Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, leading to reports that he would join the Dodgers as coach.

Uclans Check Attack
 The favored Trojan machine, geared for an uninterrupted march to the Rose bowl for the second straight year, made one mighty scoring effort in the first period, and the puissant Blue of U. C. L. A. brought the roaring crowd to its feet with a 78-yard thrust in the final quarter.

 Jackie Robinson, Washington's halfback teammate, reeled off 13 and Kenny added 10 more. Fullback Leo Cantor added a yard and the Bruins crossed the mid-field stripe, on Washington's 18-yard pass to end Don MacPherson.

The tired Trojans couldn't stop the Bruins. Washington added 12 yards with another flip to Robinson, and from the 20 passed to Strode for five and first down. Another pass went for five, to Ned Mathews, and Washington went through for 3 to the Trojan seven. Cantor barged over the Trojan right tackle for four, and Cantor carried it to the two. Here the Trojans fought off the thrust. Washington was stopped cold and Cantor was knocked back to the four. On fourth down, Washington's pass over the goal line was knocked down by Bob Robertson, S. In the dying moments of the game the Uclans came back across the neutral stripe, but a desperate pass by Washington was intercepted and the game ended soon after.

Kinnick, Mike Enich On First Eleven; Prasse, Coupee Listed

By OSCAR HARGRAVE
 Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Two Hawkeyes, all-American Nile Kinnick and "Iron Mike" Enich, were selected on the Big Ten's mightiest eleven by Western conference sports editors, a final check of the votes revealed yesterday.

By placing two on the first string, Iowa held its own with Northwestern and Ohio State, each of which placed a pair. The Hawkeyes also placed Capt. Erwin Prasse at end on the second team and quarterback Al Coupee on the third team.

Eight Schools Represented
 First string company for Kinnick and Enich was divided among seven other Big Ten schools, with only Indiana and Chicago failing to land first string berths. Besides Iowa, Northwestern and Ohio State, each furnishing two first string men, Illinois, Purdue, Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin were represented, the personnel of the team being named with little dissent.

Dave Rankin of Purdue and Ecco Sarkinnen, Ohio State's great end, took the flank posts. Prasse, placed on the second team, along with John Mariucci of Minnesota, was a strong competitor. Enich and Win Pedersen, Minnesota's great captain, took the tackle posts

 Daily Iowan Sports Reporter
 City high conquered a powerful jinx last night as they ran over Clinton 33 to 23, for their first decision from the River Kings in two years.

The Little Hawks jumped to an early lead over the Clintonians, and were never behind in the ball game. Ray Sullivan, loose-jointed sophomore forward, had a "hot" spurt in the game, pouring in 12 points on six field goals. Sullivan failed to touch the rim on any of the shots he made.

Iowa City jumped to a 10 to 4 lead at the quarter, held a 14-6 advantage at halftime, kept ahead 24 to 16 at the third quarter, and finished strong to the tune of 33 to 23.

Ed Holle, a tall, smooth-working forward was the "big gun" for Clinton, taking scoring honors for the evening with 15 markers. In fact Holle was about the only thing the River Kings had to offer, playing an inspired defensive game, and grabbing half the rebounds that Clinton got their hands on.

Coach Francis Merten's intensive work on his new man-form defense bore fruit in the game, as the Hawklet's backcourt game finally caught up with their offense, and they came through with flying colors.

Three seasons, remained unanswered.
 Dean George Worke of Chicago, however, indicated Chicago will continue to seek a solution to the problem which through the past few seasons has steadily become more embarrassing. Chicago, he indicated, could disregard today's ruling and go through with its plan—but he disclosed that should Chicago make transfer and graduate students eligible for football—Chicago would be forced to withdraw from the conference in that sport.

Big 10 Council Rules 'No' On Chicago's Plan
 CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (AP)—The University of Chicago lost another decision today—to the Big Ten's chief athletic governing body, the faculty representatives.

Chicago's plan to grant competitive sports eligibility to transfer and graduate students, calculated to improve the caliber of oft-defeated Maroon football teams, was rejected by the faculty committee—which told Chicago to iron out its own gridiron problem and do so under the existing Western conference rules.

As a result of the question of what may happen to football at Chicago, which had 308 points scored on its team this fall and has not won a Big Ten game in Another almost tragic occurrence on the Northwestern trip! It seems that Virginia Franquemont, Eastlawn, hid her money in her cowbell, before she left her room for her evening date. On returning she found it gone and a detective was called to the room about 6 a. m. A roommate found it under the bed (after the detective had given up the case)—it was later revealed to her that a party had been held in the room during her absence and someone had rung the cowbell, throwing the money on the floor.

Hollywood Has Nothing! Camera Club Films Movie Scenario Tomorrow Night

Hollywood will have nothing on the University of Iowa when the cinema section of the Campus Camera club begins filming a movie scenario tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in East hall.

Entitled "Neighborhood Mystery," the movie scenario will be filmed by the club members, who will do, at various times, the directing, lighting, camera work and yes, acting too, in the local movie.

The two-reel scenario will be shot by the cameras of the individual members. When the filming is completed, each member will have a complete movie which can be shown on any screen for the entertainment of friends.

Although the "mystery" scenario is the first to be done by the camera group, the members have experimented with lighting effects and the exposure necessary on different subjects in an effort to make the movie more perfect in photographic details.

The Campus Camera club consists of three sections, advanced, cinema and beginners. Any student or faculty member interested in photography is invited to join and should contact Maj. James F. Butler. Visitors are also invited to watch the filming of the scenario tomorrow night, officials said.

Girl Scout Leaders Take Museum Trip Tomorrow at 1:30

Remember when you struggled with fractions?

You'd be surprised how telephone engineers put them to work for you

How to put more and more wires into a telephone cable without increasing its diameter is an ever present problem at Western Electric—manufacturing unit of the Bell System. Existing ducts beneath city streets limit both the number and the diameter of cables—but demand for telephone service continues to grow.

Until recently, the largest cable contained 3636 wires in a diameter of 2 1/2 inches. Years of study led to an entirely new insulating process that saved 3/1000 of an inch per wire. Multiply this tiny fraction of an inch by 3636, and you provide enough space to place 606 more wires in the same size cable—a total of 4242.

With such resourcefulness, Bell System engineers meet countless problems. Result: you can talk to almost anyone, anywhere—quickly, at low cost.

A telephone call home would be appreciated. Rates to most points are lowest any time after 7 P. M. and all day Sunday.

Court Meets This Morning

Final Arguments In Rummelhart Case Will Be Heard

Final arguments in the action of Rupert C. Rummelhart against the Mutual Life Insurance company will be heard in district court at 9 o'clock this morning. Judge Harold D. Evans said pressure of court business necessitated a conclusion of the case before tomorrow, when the petition is scheduled to report for duty.

The other alternative, holding court yesterday afternoon, was voted down by attorneys who had not completed their arguments.

The action, which has been heard in court during the past week, is for judgment against the insurance company of $100 a month disability benefit from January, 1930, $1,000 refund of insurance premiums and reinstatement of the plaintiff's full insurance policy.

Rummelhart charges the company induced him to sign away 80 per cent of his original policy while he was in an incompetent state.

Nine Motorists Fined in Court For Violations

Six motorists were fined for parking overtime in the business district by Police Judge Burke N. Carson yesterday, when nine offenders of this ordinance were brought before him. Police, acting under orders from the mayor, plan to enforce the one hour parking limit until the holiday season is over.

Three other traffic violators were fined by Carson. Max Harvey, 209 N. Dodge, was fined $1 and costs for driving without a chauffeur's license. King Harvey, Chicago, forfeited a $5 bond when he failed to appear to answer charges of failing to stop at a red light. Milton A. McPadden, 631 E. Jefferson, was fined $2 and costs for speeding 40 miles an hour on Dubuque street.

Legion Will Meet

Roy L. Chopek post of the American Legion will conduct its monthly business meeting at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the Community building, it was announced yesterday.

Social Service League Board Will Plan Basket Distribution

A meeting of the Social Service league board will be held at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Social Service league headquarters, 19 E. Market street, at which plans will be discussed for the annual distribution of Christmas baskets to needy families throughout the community, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Minerva S. Knight, chairman of the Christmas board.

At the present time many families who either through WPA wages or with help from the agency are able to secure only the necessities such as food and clothing lack resources to take care of Christmas gifts or miscellaneous needs, Miss Wilson, executive secretary of the league, said.

Three hundred families' homes were brightened last year by the efforts of the Social Service league and cooperating committees, she said. University groups as well as civic organizations contributed to the cause last year. Sororities and fraternities donated food and clothing, and Currier hall residents sponsored a party for 25 children, she continued. Eastlawn residents gave a basket of toys, and the Home Economics club, a box of toys and clothing.

The distribution of baskets last year was handled largely through a central delivery system. Lampert and Packman-Wagner lumber yards and W. A. Lee donated trucks. The Social Service league acted as a clearing house for the gifts, keeping a file system of the families in need and the families which had been provided for. This clearing house technique eliminated duplication of gifts by different organizations, and also prevented the oversight of any needy families, Miss Wilson said.

Miss Wilson specified that toys of any description and other articles would make suitable gifts. Other members of the Christmas committee of the Social Service league board are Mrs. Thomas Farrell, Mrs. F. B. Olsen and Mrs. Grace Kendall.

'FIRST LOVE' BRINGS GROWN-UP DEANNA

Miss Durbin Appears In Smashing Success Of Her Picture Career

Miracles do happen, even in this day and age.

Latest miracle to come to pass is Deanna Durbin's new Universal picture, "First Love," seen last night at the Strand theater. The miracle lies in that, for the sixth time, Deanna has come through with a smashing success, excelling her previous five pictures, each of which was claimed to be unexcelled at the time of its making.

"Compelling Story" "First Love" presents Deanna as a parentless girl, who, treated like a poor relation by the family of her wealthy aunt and uncle, comes through to a triumphant victory over her surroundings.

Outstanding feature of the picture is that, for the first time, the producers have injected a goodly share of romance in the production, something lacking in youthful Miss Durbin's earlier successes.

Deanna sings four beautiful selections in "First Love"—"Home Sweet Home," "Amapola," "Spring in My Heart" and Puccini's "One Fine Day," from the opera, "Madame Butterfly." Her voice is growing in power and feeling, giving added beauty to her excellent lyric soprano renditions.

Array of Talent In the cast with her are two newcomers, Robert Stack, the love interest of the story, and Lewis Howard. The balance of the cast includes Helen Parrish, Eugene Pallette, Leatrice Joy, June Storey, Marcia Mae Jones, Charles Coleman and many other gifted players. The picture was directed by Henry Kosjer and produced by Joe Pasternak. The excellent photography was by Jo Valentine.

George Raft, Ellen Drew Score Personal Triumphs In Thrilling Race Picture

Teamed together for the first time George Raft and Ellen Drew score distinct personal triumphs in "The Lady's From Kentucky" now showing at the Varsity, a picture crammed full of racing thrills, and notable also for the quality of its humor, dispensed by those inimitable zanies—Hugh Herbert and Zasu Pitts.

Raft has the part of a race track tout who is so badly bitten by the gambling bug that he actually goes to a hospital to sell his blood, so that he can bet on a horse who winds him up behind the hockshop's three-ball.

Trying to get a new start, Raft finds a forgotten deed which gives him half ownership in a thoroughbred colt. The gambler goes down to the track hoping to find a sucker for his deed. But he changes his mind about selling his interest when he sees the horse win under wraps. Raft has visions of becoming a big-time

'THAT'S RIGHT, YOU'RE WRONG'

College of Musical Knowledge Comes to Englert Theater In Kay Kyser's Debut

Something delightfully new under the screen sun is the tuneful comedy, "That's Right—You're Wrong," which opens Thursday next at the Englert theater.

Starring Kay Kyser with his orchestra and Adolphe Menjou, the picture breaks sharply away from the conventional boy-meets-girl success-story theme on which most band leader films have been based. With engaging candor, the producers admit that such a theme is threadbare—and develop their plot around the ingenious thesis that it is impossible to find any other theme.

"That's Right—You're Wrong" crowds an immense amount of snappy new music, Hollywood satire and uproarious novelty entertainment into its footage. As part of its plot action, the film presents "The College of Musical Knowledge," the radio audience-participation show which has earned Kyser renown over the air lanes.

Battle Scenes of Alamo, San Jacinto Are Action Highlights in Drama

The battle scenes of the Alamo and San Jacinto, action highlights in Republic's "Man of Conquest" co-starring Richard Dix and Gail Patrick current Pastime theater attraction, were supervised by Major Philip J. Keiffer one of the few West Point graduates connected with the motion picture industry. In such sequences where speed and authenticity of reproduction were of equal importance, Major Keiffer's military knowledge was a vital factor in bringing together thousands of extras required for the maneuvers.

Born in Philadelphia, the son of Lawrence Mat Keiffer, also a West Point graduate, the Major has the distinction of being one of two men to enter West Point from the ranks of the army in more than a century.

Resigning from the army in 1920 Major Keiffer turned to the theater, touring the country with his own show. After several years of experience in this field, the Major went to Hollywood which quickly took advantage of his military experiences.

His work as a technical advisor has long been considered an item of major importance in the film industry, and Republic Pictures
