RUSSIA SPURNS MEDIATION PLEA

Finnish Troops Smash Large Scale Russian Attack

Report Nazi Freighter Sunk By Submarine

3 Soviet Battalions Wiped Out; Fighting Most Severe of War

HELSINKI, Dec. 12 (AP) — Finnish troops and airplanes smashed a large scale Russian offensive today, a Finnish communique reported, wiping out "three enemy battalions" and leaving "hundreds of the fallen enemy lying before our positions."

The Russians were repulsed with "tremendous losses," in hard fighting on a 200-mile front from the Karelian isthmus to Tolvajärvi, about 75 miles north of Lake Ladoga, the Finns said.

At the same time, a report from the Finnish port of Mäntyluoto said the 2,217-ton German freighter Bollheim had been sunk in the Gulf of Bothnia by a submarine. Several of 29 survivors insisted the submarine was Russian although there was no positive identification.

The captain, second officer and radio operator were killed by shell fire. Survivors said the submarine tossed 15 shells into the water.

The Finnish military communiqué indicated today's fighting was some of the most severe since the war started.

The enemy launched a powerful attack today along several sectors of the Karelian isthmus, the communiqué reported.

"Hard fighting took place all day especially on a hill overlooking a church at Muola. Almost a constant series of attacks were repulsed, the enemy suffering tremendous losses. We destroyed many tanks and left hundreds of the fallen enemy lying before our positions," the Finns continued.

"Severe fighting occurred also at the eastern front, particularly at Tolvajärvi and cost the Russians a severe defeat. Three enemy battalions were destroyed. We captured 27 machine guns, 25 express rifles, 13 machine pistols and other materials and in addition destroyed several tanks."

Russian Churches Become Hospitals

MOSCOW, Dec. 12 (AP) — Red army casualties were reported arriving in a steady stream tonight in Leningrad from the nearby Finnish war front.

Unofficial advices from the port city on the Gulf of Finland said its churches had been requisitioned to aid hospitals in caring for the wounded.

A red army communiqué said the invaders pushed forward "in all directions" during the day and occupied two villages and the railroad station of a third.

The deepest thrust was reported in central Finland where the Russians said they took Markajarvi, 45 miles from the frontier. Markajarvi is seven miles southwest of Salla, occupation of which the high command announced yesterday.

Roosevelt To Ask Congress For Reciprocal Trade Renewal

Expect Long Debate In House, Senate During Next Session

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)

The administration definitely accepted tonight a challenge to what may be one of the stiffest battles of the next congressional session when President Roosevelt disclosed that congress would be asked to extend the reciprocal trade agreement act.

Unless it is renewed, the administration's power to negotiate reciprocal trade pacts will expire June 12.

With that date less than six months away, many legislators already have started a controversy by either denouncing the program or going to its defense. A few democrats and numerous republicans in senate and house have declared their intention to fight to the limit any effort to renew the statute.

One of their principal arguments has been that the pacts have stimulated imports of farm commodities to the detriment of persons in the agricultural areas who already are beset by surpluses and unsatisfactory prices.

Secretary Hull, the champion of the trade program, declared no later than a week ago in a speech in Chicago that the argument was fallacious because two-thirds of the agricultural imports were non-competitive.

Tonight his family was still too stunned to think of funeral plans. Friends said the body probably would be placed in Forest Lawn cemetery, where lie the remains of Jean Harlow, Will Rogers and many other Hollywood celebrities.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr., the actor's son, remained with the grief-stricken widow, the former Lady Sylvia Ashley, throughout the day. She was prostrated.

In Chicago, Mary Pickford, Fairbanks' second wife, said his death brought "a deep sorrow to his family and friends but I am sure it will prove a consolation to us all to recall the joy and the glorious spirit of adventure that he gave to the world. . . . It is impossible to believe that the vibrant and gay spirit could ever perish."

Ladd Asserts Drunk Drivers Worst Menace

DES MOINES, Dec. 12 (AP) — Intoxicated drivers are a greater menace to public safety than armed robbers, Mason Ladd, dean of the University of Iowa law school, asserted in a talk at a joint meeting of Iowa sheriffs and county attorneys here today.

Bremen, German Liner, Safely Home

BERLIN, Dec. 12 (AP) — Germany's $20,000,000 adventurer, the Bremen, raced swiftly through long fingers of the British fleet again today and slipped safely into a German port, writing "home" on her three-and-a-half months log of war.

The Bremen reached an unidentified "safe zone" in the hands of Commodore Adolf Ahrens, the skipper who sailed his ship from New York 36 hours before Germany invaded Poland, disguised as a British submarine in the North sea attempted to attack the Bremen. One of the planes sent to protect the Bremen forced the submarine so far under water that the attack was thwarted.

Belief was expressed that the Bremen was at her Bremerhaven base alongside the Europa, her sister ship.

Other German ships, including the 22,337-ton liner New York, which fled to Murmansk at the beginning of the war have been slipping quietly into Hamburg recently. These smaller vessels were sent ahead to test the possibility of sending the huge gray-painted Bremen around the Norwegian coast and down through the North sea to her home port. Adolf Hitler promoted Ahrens to the rank of commodore last October for his exploit in reaching Murmansk.

Soviet Action May Invoke League Ouster

Rejection Indicates Diplomatic Break With Britain-France

GENEVA, Dec. 12 (AP) — Russia tonight rejected a League of Nations proposal to mediate the Russian-Finnish war and opened the way for League condemnation of the Soviet Union as an aggressor and possible banishment from Geneva.

The rejection was included in a telegram from Soviet Premier Foreign Commissar Molotoff to Joseph A. C. Avenol, secretary-general of the League, in reply to a diplomatic "invitation" to Russia to take part in proposed League mediation resulting from Finland's appeal to Geneva.

'Cannot Accept' "The government of Soviet Russia thanks you, Monsieur president, for your kind invitation to take part in discussion of the Finnish question," Molotoff's telegram said.

"At the same time the government of the U.S.S.R. brings to your attention the fact that it cannot accept this invitation for reasons outlined in its telegram of Dec. 4, sent in response to M. Avenol's communication."

'Appeal Unfounded' In his previous communication Molotoff said that Russia considered Finland's appeal "unfounded," that she did not consider herself in a state of war with Finland; that Moscow was maintaining "peaceful relations" with the Soviet-sponsored communist-headed Finnish "people's" government; and that the regular Helsinki government had "resigned its powers" and was not authorized to make representations on behalf of the Finnish people.

Molotoff's telegram tonight arrived more than three hours after expiration of a "deadline" set by the league for a reply.

Ejection Expected Its reception on the eve of Argentina's scheduled formal demand for Russia's ejection from the League increased the odds that this step would be taken. The Soviet action automatically killed (See LEAGUE, Page 7)

University Journalists Celebrate Festival

'Shop Talk' Features 1939 'Wayzgoose'

Live Goose Steals Show as Students, Faculty Get Together

Students in the school of journalism celebrated the Wayzgoose festival of Old England on the campus yesterday, discussed the problems of modern day journalism, "talked shop" with W. W. Waymack of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, their guest, and poked fun at one another in the climax dinner last night at Youde's inn.

Waymack, principal speaker at the dinner last night, discussed the problems, obligations and limitations of the editorial page of today's newspapers.

Questioning whether or not the editorial giants of an earlier day — Greeley, Watterson and the rest — would "fit into the picture" today, Waymack pointed out that the problems of editorial figures today are of vastly different nature than of those before.

Complex Problems

Today's problems, he said, are made complex by conflicting issues. Growing social obligations create new problems, he pointed out. The changes which have come about in our political, economic and social systems create broader problems for the individual, and greater problems for editorial writers.

"What can editorial pages do?" he asked. At least one answer, he said, lies in considering the page as a whole, brightening it without "jazzing it" through the use of types of varying sizes, generally shorter editorials, pictures and open forum treatments.

"A major problem," he said, "is writing simply" and in working for the stimulation of popular thought.

"New problems have appeared for the editorial man," he said, "with the current era of rising tensions and passions in Europe."

But he was convinced, he said, that it has been proved since 1929 that it is possible to direct attention to an honest editorial page, activated by a sense of social duty.

Van Arsdale Performs

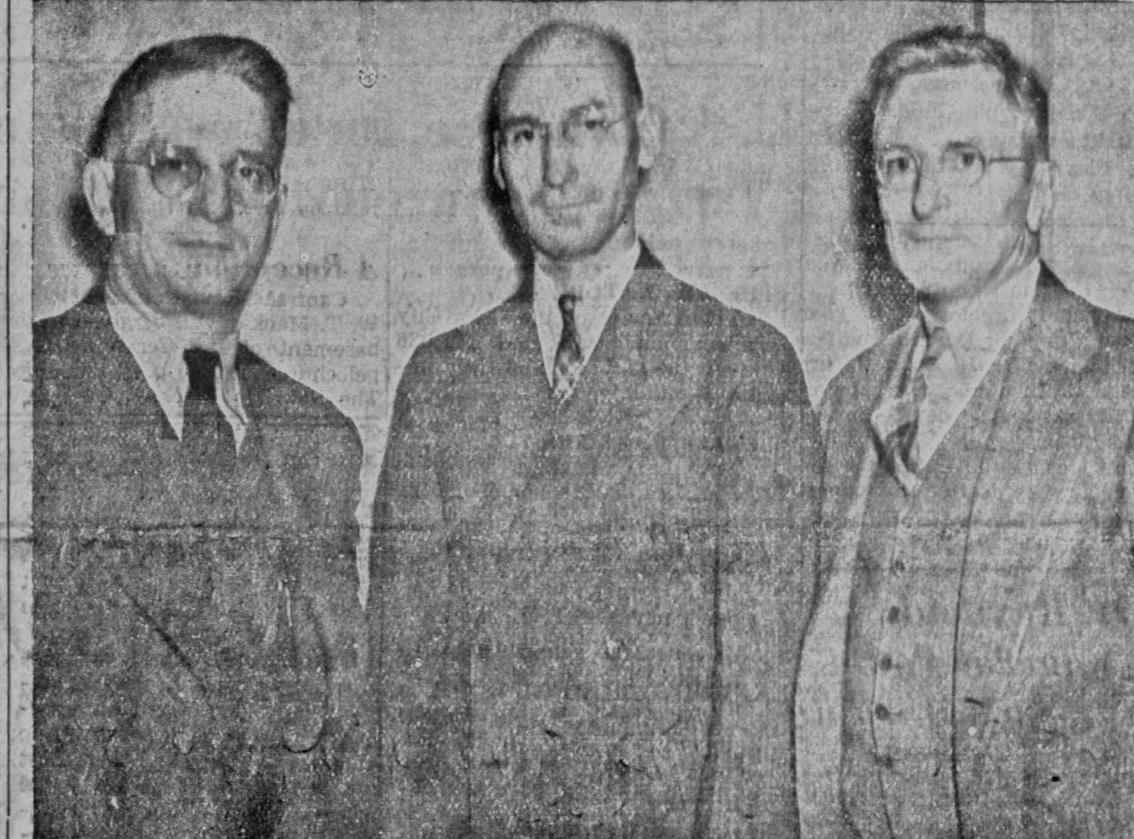

Ronald Van Arsdale, G of Greenwood, Ind., popular campus impersonator, appeared with a program including such prominent characters as President Roosevelt, Lionel Barrymore, Charles Laughton, Charley McCarthy, George Arliss, Ned Sparks and Lew Lehr.

Outlines Form Of Domestic Propaganda

By IRENE SUTTON

W. W. Waymack, editor of the editorial page of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, warned newspaper readers against domestic propaganda rather than "foreign devils," in yesterday afternoon's graduate round table on "Propaganda and War" in the senior chamber of Old Capitol.

Waymack, Pulitzer prize winner in the editorial field, pointed out the fallacy of discounting all informative foreign news just because a portion of it is propaganda.

"We are getting the actual news of this war more completely, more accurately, and more quickly than any people in any part of the earth have at any time in history," stated Waymack.

Waymack observed that our attitude toward foreign war propaganda is a holdover from the kind of propaganda we were subjected to in the last war. At that time the allies were controlling the flow of propaganda that came to America and were responsible for the release of the noted atrocity stories. Since that time modern communication makes it possible (See WAYMACK, Page 7)

NOW SLEEP! Test Shows 'Pep' Pills Don't Work

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 12 (AP) — Get some sleep and leave the "pep" tablets at home, Ohio State university students were told today on the eve of winter examinations.

The department staged an experiment recently half of a group of students taking examinations were given a normal dose of "pep" tablets, the other half sugar pills. Those buoyed by "pep" did no better than those who swallowed sugar.

Britain Plans Super Airfleet To Meet Nazis

LONDON, Dec. 12 (AP) — Britain disclosed yesterday that she was developing a super air fleet for the dual purpose of meeting and countering German mass attacks anticipated "perhaps soon or in the spring."

As two more ships — one British and one Swedish — were sunk by mines in the war at sea, air minister Sir Kingsley Wood told the house of commons Britain was adequately prepared to face "another more strenuous and difficult chapter" in air warfare.

His prediction that "new and more powerful types of aircraft" would "shortly be able to operate against the enemy" recalled to observers foreign secretary Lord Halifax's assertion on Sept. 13 that Britain would hold herself "completely free" to take "appropriate" action in event allied civilian populations were bombed.

Fourteen University of Iowa men were announced last night as having qualified for entrance into the United States Army air corps. The group was selected from 70 men who took the physical examination at the armory Monday and yesterday.

Those who successfully passed are Lawrence R. Pestal, E4 of Cedar Rapids; Donald R. Carlson, C4 of Rockford, Ill.; D. Mac Showers, A2 of Iowa City; Everett A. MacDonald, C3 of Iowa City; George F. Knuth, A4 of Sabula; Donald J. Humphrey, C4 of Postville; William A. Leuz, C3 of Iowa City; Dwight M. Summers, G of Milton.

Warren R. Lewis, C3 of Superior; Francis R. Barnard, C3 of Waterloo; John A. Gesell, A4 of Davenport; Dale E. Hatch, L2 of Iowa City; Joseph J. Lebeda, C4 of Belle Plaine, and Paul R. Younggren.

The University of Iowa was chosen as one of the nine schools in this area where the air corps examinations would be given. The examining board came to Iowa City from the University of Minnesota and will leave this morning for Manhattan, Kan.

The Iowa men who passed the examinations were advised to finish the present school year, especially if they are now seniors and will receive degrees in June. They will join the air service during the summer in such cases.

Can Mine
Warfare Be Resisted?

FOR THOSE who complain of inactivity in this—the second World war—we offer some figures which you may have missed in the papers last week, figures which show just how much activity there has been in the warfare of submarines and mines.

Britain lost 90 ships (a total of 354,836 tons) in the first three months of the war. Germany has lost but 15 ships (75,173 tons). France has lost 11 ships (48,038 tons) and 54 neutral vessels have gone to the bottom—a total of 196,378 tons.

Beating the mines is a deadly job, at the least. But, according to Alexander George, a veteran observer of military affairs, if we discount all claims for Germany's new magnetic mine, the menace is comparable with that during the first war. And 1917 showed that the mines can be beaten.

It will no doubt be a headache for Great Britain to keep her sea highways open, but the job can be done. Day after day for four long years, Britain and France kept large flotillas of mine sweepers at work during the other war. Mines sank 46 English war vessels. They also took an estimated toll of 270 British merchant vessels and 220 mine sweepers.

Britain's losses by submarines in the first World war were 62 warships and 289 auxiliary naval vessels; 2,099 merchant ships and 578 fishing craft.

What Great Britain learned in those years she can use now to cut these figures down—unless the rumors that have been reported about "magnetic mines" prove to be true.

It may prove to be an expensive proposition for Britain, but the experiences of the first war would indicate that the proportion of British losses at sea will decrease as she gains more knowledge of German methods.

Mines can be beaten.

A Project
That Deserves
Commendation

SEEKING to analyze the pictures in terms of what the artist wanted to express, Kimon Friar gave a stimulating and thoroughly intellectual talk on the paintings of Donald Anderson and Verlin Cassill Sunday afternoon.

Both the two-man student show and the talk were unique in the history of the department.

More interested in content than in form he approached their works subjectively, interpreting them as they appeared to him. Going on the assumption that the artists were well worth discussing and that the audience recognized the obvious merits of the pieces, Friar spent little time on praise. His method of pointing out their weakness certainly proved more valuable to both art lover and artist.

Quoting the "sound and fury" passage from Macbeth he compared it with Anderson's work. "He has an orderly integrated progression of metaphors," he said, "all interrelated with each other." Friar also pointed out that Anderson's paintings were consciously organized.

Cassill he felt came closer to T. S. Eliot. The boyish Cassill is more obscure in metaphors, less clearly and obviously interlocked. He pays little attention to graphic organization.

Both artists are interested in recreating a mood in their paintings. Cassill's moods, to him expressed personalized conflict-agitation and the post-war feeling of dissolution was very strong.

The moods of Anderson were sometimes dramatic, grotesque, but always lovingly presented, hence, not so much violent conflict as in Cassill.

As Cassill is also a writer, Friar quoted a paragraph of description from one of his literary works to illustrate the same combination of scientific objective observation in juxtaposition to poetic subjective observation.

In all, the exhibit which was of, by, and for students was a refreshing departure from the usual gallery talk and the art department.

And NowCooperatives!

IN LINE with its previous policy of smearing every progressive movement in the United States with the label of "communist" the Dies committee now turns its venom on the consumers groups in this country.

Sunday's papers carried the story of the report made public by J. B. Matthews, investigator for the committee, charging that such organizations as the League of Women Shoppers, the Consumers Union, the Committee for Boycott Against Japanese Aggression and the Consumer-Farmer Milk co-operative were formed by communists.

In addition to these the report accused the Consumer's Guide, published by the department of agriculture, of giving publicity to these consumer groups.

Why should a healthy attempt on the part of the consumers to regulate and correct some of the abuses of the system be subjected to such destructive attacks? Mr. Matthews exhibits a sorry ignorance of revolutionary technique if he believes what he was quoted as saying in The Associated Press dispatch from Washington.

The danger of such adverse publicity is that it may put a crimp in consumers and producer's cooperatives, which were, according to Mr. Marquis Childs, Sweden's middle way out.

Mr. Dies is going to cry wolf too often.

A warm winter is predicted. Maybe the weatherman really does love us in December as he did in May.

And nothing will test gas marks for tear gas as well as a barrage of Bermuda onions.

The British admiralty appears to believe that Germany's floating mines—like Goering's personality—are not magnetic.

COLUMNS*STAMP PLAN FOR SURPLUS FOOD LIKED BY EVERYBODY

REPUBLICAN leaders who are blindly groping about for some activity of the democratic administration of President Roosevelt out of which to make a campaign issue are not likely to pick on the Food Stamp Plan for the distribution of surplus farm commodities if the investigation made by the Washington Daily News is an accurate appraisal of its operations.

Challenges Statements

"Too many of us," Desverne observed, "refrain from challenging such typical statements as those of the Nazi foreign office that groups of American profiteers want to reap huge gains and have gained considerable credence from the force of mere uncontradicted repetition."

Gun Makers Lose, Too

"Why I can testify from my experience that vast profits were realized currently out of the last war what permanent benefit remains to the so-called profiteers? The inevitable readjustments that ensued liquidated them and today, as a result of conditions unescapably caused by the war and the political and economic disturbances which arose from them, can it be denied that business is worse off than before the first World war began?"

"The effects of that war were felt for 20 years. The effects of the new war will be felt at least through the 1940's. If it lasts long it will be buttressed against political attack."

"Farmers like it. It has opened a wider market for some of their surpluses. Grocers like it because they profit by it. Bankers and business men like it because it brings more money into their towns. People on relief like it for various reasons, including the fact that they can now buy 50 per cent more food through the bonus stamps they get."

"I have found general acceptance of the plan, and in some cases exuberantly enthusiastic acceptance, in a survey of the cities where it is operating—Rochester, N. Y., Springfield, Ill., and Des Moines, Ia."

"The republican relief officials administer the plan in these cities. They like it."

Milo Perkins, associate administrator of the AAA and president of the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, is given credit for originating the Food Stamp Plan after consultation with grocers, farmers and relief officials. "The No. 1 job of this generation," Mr. Perkins is quoted as saying, "is to get the plentiful supply of goods which we have learned to produce into the hands of those who ask only the chance to work for them. That will take time... Meanwhile, however, so far as food is concerned, the country apparently has made up its mind to give the underfed a chance to eat the surplus."

Milo Perkins, associate administrator of the AAA and president of the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, is given credit for originating the Food Stamp Plan after consultation with grocers, farmers and relief officials. "The No. 1 job of this generation," Mr. Perkins is quoted as saying, "is to get the plentiful supply of goods which we have learned to produce into the hands of those who ask only the chance to work for them. That will take time... Meanwhile, however, so far as food is concerned, the country apparently has made up its mind to give the underfed a chance to eat the surplus."

Mike Enich Named Grid Captain for 1940

Mates Honor
'Iron Mike'
With Ballots

Athletic Letters
Given to Hawkeyes
At President's Dinner

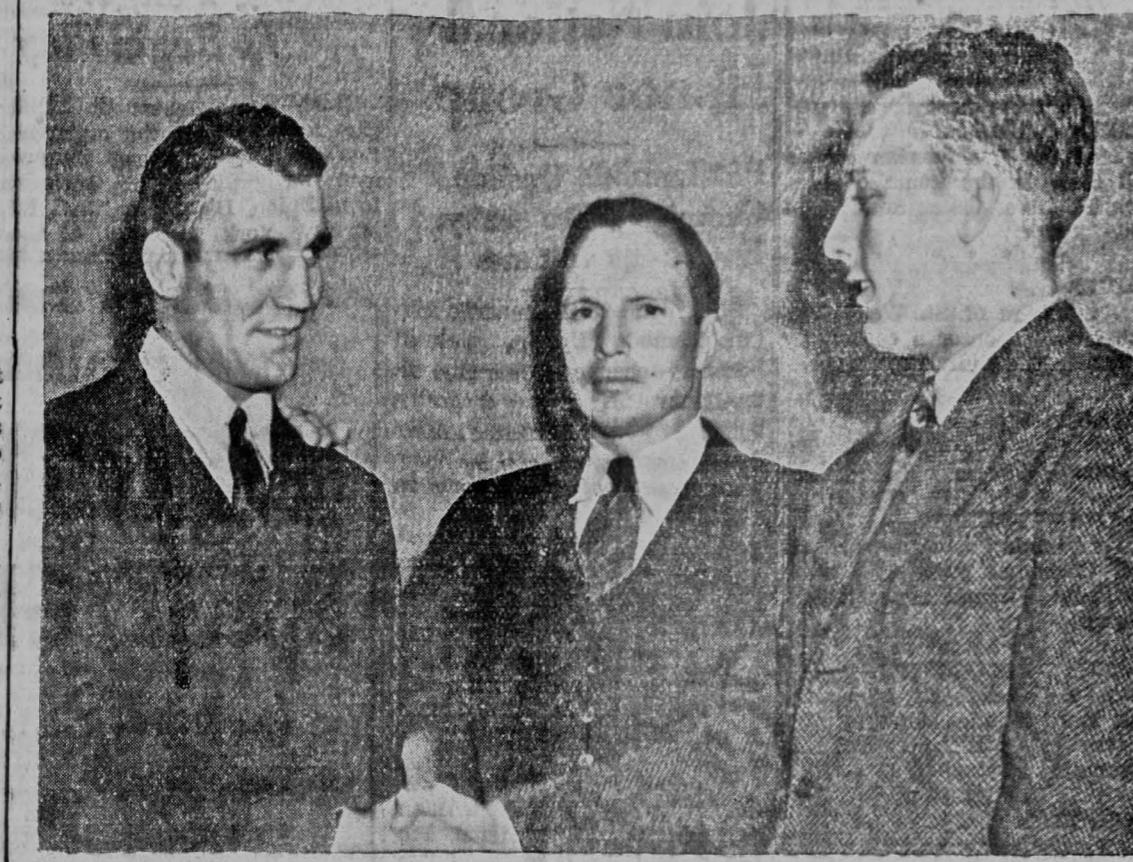

By OSCAR HARGRAVE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Hawkeye grididers last night filled out their ballots for next year's captain and all their votes went to "Iron Mike" Enich, hero of the famed 60-minute line. A junior this year, Enich will be replacing Erwin Prasse, pass-snatching end, who finished his gridiron competition this season.

Replaces Erwin Prasse

Like his predecessor, Enich has been recognized as one of the midwest's classiest performers in his position. Both Prasse and Enich have been chosen on all-Big Ten teams this year and both have won all-American mention.

That is the tale of what the experts have seen in Enich, but even those honors seemed minor in comparison to the manner in which Enich was named to his new post. It was what amounted to popular acclamation.

"Two great boys," said Dr. Eddie Anderson, center, as the captain of Anderson's first Hawkeye team congratulates his successor. At the left is Mike Enich, the new captain, all-conference right tackle who held down his regular spot through six successive games working on Mike Howard's wrestwithout relief, while Erwin Prasse, all-conference end, is at the right. Enich, a junior, came to Iowa as a backfield star, was switched to tackle last season and has been there ever since. Besides his award, playing on the Iowa basketball team, and will play baseball next spring.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12 (AP)—First choice of 54 of the 63 experts who voted, blonde Alice Marble made a runaway of the Associated Press poll to determine the outstanding woman athlete of 1939, her selection marking the first time since 1935 that a tennis player has been so honored.

Second place was Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., golf champion, who was selected for first place by two experts and the point total was 55, leaving Miss Marble's margin the largest ever compiled by a winner in the history of the Associated Press poll.

Lane Denies Offering Of Ball Contract

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 12 (AP)—Frank Lane, whose eligibility as a Big Ten official was challenged because he allegedly offered a baseball contract to a Wisconsin student, denied tonight he offered the proposition.

Dr. W. F. Lorenz, Wisconsin Big Ten representative, charged that Lane offered Rawland Farmers a contract with the Muskogee, Okla., baseball club, which led to the student's banishment from Big Ten athletics.

The student "had several other offers and he asked us what we would offer for his services," Lane said. "We told him we did not follow a policy of taking boys out of school."

He said that he told Hermans that when he finished school "we would be glad to" discuss a contract.

The first two periods of play were uneventful with neither team able to hit consistently," Lane said. "The score at the half read 14-12 with the visitors in the lead.

Led by Capt. Bill Bock and Brack, the Ramblers opened up in the third period, however, and took a slim 21-20 margin going into the final stanza.

The invaders soon wiped out the Ramblers lead and the two teams battled it out to the final gun with the lead changing hands several times. It was only the final two baskets that dimmed the hopes of the Ramblers and left them on the short end of a bitterly fought game.

The Ramblers were handicapped somewhat in the final quarter when Bock and Eakes were forced to leave the game because of fouls.

Bock and Brack split scoring honors for the locals with a total of 10 points while Ovesen led the Wilton attack with 13 points.

Relay Captains Will Be Selected Today

At 4:15 this afternoon all captains selected to represent a sorority or dormitory in the annual All-University Relays, to be held on Jan. 13, 1940, will meet in the fieldhouse to choose their four relay squads for the special sorority-dormitory relay event.

Coach George Bresnahan will be in charge of the meet and will be on hand this afternoon to get the preliminary proceedings under way.

The aggressive Ryantes intercepted passes and sewed up the St. Mary's five consistently.

Passing fast and accurately the Fighting Irish had the Riverside outfit under control at all times.

Miller, the man with the eye for the basket, marked up 27 points to bring his total to 47 for two games. Changed from guard to forward he missed very few chances for set-ups and was a demon on defense.

Leading the varsity sprint section is Jim Wilson with a total score thus far of 28.6 seconds, in the second spot is Marilyn Gillespie totaling 29.0 seconds ahead of Ed Baird who has a score of 29.9 seconds. Art Schlauder is holding fourth position but has not completed as many events as the first three.

Wilson, Gillespie and Baird are the three highest in the distance portion of the meet which will be completed by Thursday.

The freshman sprint class is headed by Henry Clay, who totals 8.6 seconds for two events run. Dick Stuntz is in second place with 8.9 seconds, and Franz Puzatraz, Phil Aikins and Joe Brewer are tied for third place with 9.0 seconds each.

In the distance test the freshman group is led by Jim Wolfe, Brewer and George Hall. Each accounted for six points.

Phi Eps Down Sigs 34-24 In Cage Contest

Intramural basketball started its final week of play last night before the Christmas vacation, as three of eight scheduled games were played.

Phi Epsilon Kappa downed Sigma Phi Epsilon to the tune of 34-24. It was a close game through the first two periods of play, but in the third period Phi Epsilon Kappa speeded up its attack to win going away. At the end of the first period the score stood at 10-8 in favor of Phi Epsilon Kappa. During the second period Sigma Phi Epsilon kept within close range of the winners and trailed 18-12 at the close of that period. During the third and final period Phi Epsilon Kappa turned on the heat and outscored its opponent 16-12, to bring the final score up to 34-24. Windham sparked the Phi Epsilon Kappa attack by caging 12 points. Boshart was second with seven. Heitel was high scorer for the losers with 10 points. Hollenbeck was next with six points.

Phi Epsilon Psi snowed Delta Chi under a 44-27 score. Hoak led the Phi Epsilon Psi attack with 10 points. Douthelt was a close second with eight. Crockett was high scorer for Delta Chi and the game with 13 points.

Phi Gamma Delta won over Sigma Chi by a 28-18 score. Carson was high scorer for the winning team as he caged 11 points and Miller made eight for the victors. Arnold and Logan sparked the attack for the Sigma Chis as each accounted for six points.

Red Miller Gets 27 Points

Aggressive Locals Grab Early Lead To Win Easily

Led by a redheaded sharpshooter, Merle "Red" Miller, the Fighting Irish of St. Pat's trounced St. Mary's of Riverside, 48-13, on the latter's court last night.

The sprint sextathlon and distance quadrathlon sped into the second week of competition yesterday as a good number of contestants appeared to continue their running events in both classes.

Leading the varsity sprint section is Jim Wilson with a total score thus far of 28.6 seconds, in the second spot is Marilyn Gillespie totaling 29.0 seconds ahead of Ed Baird who has a score of 29.9 seconds. In a last desperate scoring spree that netted them four points, Wilton Junction defeated St. Mary's Ramblers here last night 30-27.

Not only sports writers but also big shot executives of New York City who attended the Heisman trophy award dinner and presentation were impressed by Nile Kinnick's speaking ability. Most of the men were accustomed to inarticulate athletes who stammer out their ideas in an unconvincing manner. . . . One important corporation lawyer predicted a brilliant career for the Iowan after the completion of his law course.

Of the sixteen players used by Coach Rollie Williams in the basketball victory over Denver Monday night, nine are sophomores. . . . And 11 of the 16 broke into the scoring column, perhaps indicating that Iowa's 1940 team in the Big Ten race will have some of the balanced scoring which recent quintets have lacked.

The invaders soon wiped out the Ramblers lead and the two teams battled it out to the final gun with the lead changing hands several times. It was only the final two baskets that dimmed the hopes of the Ramblers and left them on the short end of a bitterly fought game.

Ward refused to give the individual's name because, he said, it would be a violation of his word.

In his charges, Thomas was told he and Nate Lewis, his manager, had met with Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling in a Chicago hotel room in October 1937 and arranged for the German to win by a knockout.

Ward said another person was there, and that he would give the name only if the case reached the courts. Schmeling won the fight by a knockout Dec. 13, 1937. Ward also said he would turn

Home Economics Club Christmas Dinner Will Be Tonight

Formal Affair To Begin At 6 o'Clock

Students Arrange Traditional Dinner For Prominent Guests

The traditional formal Christmas dinner sponsored by the Home Economics club — an affair which has come to be recognized as a model of elaborate hospitality — is scheduled for 6 o'clock tonight in the dining rooms on the third floor of Macbride hall.

The club, which has a membership this year of over 100, annually has sponsored such a dinner since 1914, a year after the department was founded. All students in the department have a part in the preparation.

The students and faculty originate all ideas for the extensive Christmas decorations and do all construction.

Guests

About 45 campus professors and faculty wives have accepted invitations to the affair. Other guests will include the faculty of the home economics department and the members of the Home Economics club. They will be received in Prof. Merlin Ford's classroom on second floor by a special committee.

At 6 o'clock the guests will go upstairs to be seated at six long tables decorated with tiny Christmas trees, angel doll favors and lighted red candles of various shapes. The dinner will consist of six courses—the canape, the bouillon, the entree, the dinner proper, the salad and the dessert. Probably the most original and the most elaborate of all the menu is the dessert—small cake fireplaces with tiny lighted red candles on the "mantel," mounted on bricks of ice cream.

to get unbiased reports from both sides, which are published in as fair a manner as possible.

"We are much more susceptible to domestic propaganda because we are not aware of it," explained Waymack. The various forms of domestic propaganda, as outlined by Waymack, include theories propounded by isolationists, the use of "polarized words" and suppression.

Waymack contended that the greatest harm done by isolationists is their emphasis upon nationalism which becomes transposed into patriotism.

The propaganda of suppression defeats democracy when it interferes with the freedom of speech and ideas, according to Waymack. He used the anti-communist drive as an illustration of suppression in the United States. He anticipates that an extensive use of this type of suppression could lead to regimentation here as well as in foreign countries.

"Polarized words," which Waymack contends are used by domestic propagandists, include such words as foreigner, alien, entanglement, interminable quarrels of Europe, and fatalism. Domestic propagandists utilize these words to the fullest extent to enhance antagonism toward foreign news reports.

Waymack added that careless reading is another reason for misconstrued interpretation of war news. People just read the headlines, skip all explanatory material, and miss the qualifying statements that tell the source of the news.

Waymack advocated liberality and open-mindedness in reading all news dealing with the war and suggested drawing conclusions only after a careful analysis has been made of the story from both sides.

League---

League efforts at mediation. Jakob Surits, Soviet ambassador to Paris and Moscow's representative here, received the Soviet reply at his hotel an hour after it had been communicated to the League. He received no separate communication from his government.

Finnish representatives commented that it was "no surprise." The league's deliberations, meanwhile, threatened to precipitate a race to see whether the British-French allies or the Soviet Union would be the first to break off relations with one another.

French Action Possible

French intentions of severing relations with Moscow were indicated by French sources shortly after Soviet Russia had failed to heed the original 24-hour time limit granted in which to reply to a league demand that Russia submit her case to arbitration and cease hostilities. This limit expired at 6 p.m. (11 a.m. C.S.T.). However, league officials said Russia's reply, if any, would be received and considered if it came before the assembly met tomorrow at 10 a.m. (3 a.m., C.S.T.).

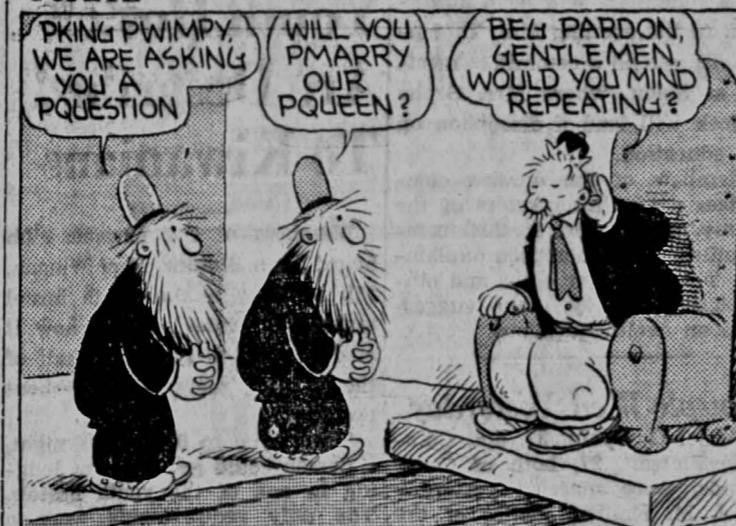

Soviet representatives immediately intimated that if the league voted to oust Russia as an aggressor, she might be the first to break off diplomatic ties with France and Britain.

Part of Report

The 13-nation committee handling the Russo-Finnish dispute adopted part of its report before adjourning for the night. Delegates said the report includes condemnation of Russia as an aggressor, but did not suggest just what steps would be taken by the league.

The committee will meet again to consider punitive action after the assembly tomorrow hears Argentina's demand that Russia be ousted from the league. At Britain's suggestion the assembly was called for 10 a.m. (3 a.m. C.S.T.).

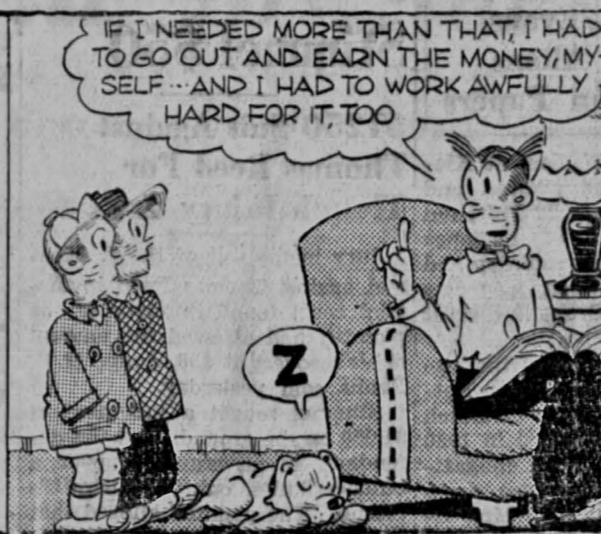

Although today's committee meeting was secret, United States Vice Consul Donald D. Edgar was admitted as an observer.

Business, Fraternity Groups To Deliver Christmas Baskets

Plans for a central delivery system to be used in the distribution of Christmas baskets to needy families were completed yesterday afternoon, Frances Wilson, executive secretary of the Social Service league, announced.

Offers for furnishing transportation have been received from the Wagner lumber company, the Nagle lumber yards, the Lampert yards, the Hawkeye lumber company, the Iowa City Light and Power company and Mayor Henry Willenbrock.

"We have already had the submission of several plans by fraternities and sororities for the giving of baskets to individual families or a party for certain groups of children," Miss Wilson said.

The fraternity men on the campus through the inter-fraternity council will sponsor a picture show for children on Saturday morning, she announced. They have secured a local theater, and will show a variety of comic pictures and cartoons for the children. Also Santa Claus will attend with a gift for each boy and girl present, she added.

"Any churches or university organizations anxious to contribute should get in touch with the Social Service headquarters, 19 E. Market street, as soon as possible," Miss Wilson urged, "in order that plans can be made for distribution, and much of the clearing can be done before the end of this week."

Miss Wilson again expressed a request for any new or used toys which could be included in the Christmas baskets. Items of clothing and household articles are also needed in preparing gifts, she said.

The Social Service league is acting as a clearing house for gifts which are contributed this year as they have done in the past. A filing system which includes the names of the families who need certain articles, and a list of all persons or organizations making contributions is kept by the Social Service league.

Through the use of this method of clearing, duplication of gifts for one family is eliminated, and the oversight of needy families is prevented, Miss Wilson stated.

$1250 Suit Against Thomas Reed For Thumb Injury Ends

Jury in the suit of H. W. Stimmel against Thomas Reed in circuit court found in favor of the plaintiff and assessed the amount of his recovery at $50, Judge H. D. Evans said yesterday.

Stimmel sought a judgment of $1,250 on the grounds that the defendant, in an argument over a butcher knife, cut the plaintiff's thumb. The plaintiff alleged that the artery in the thumb was severed, as were ligaments and tendons, causing "severe pain and injury and damage."

Today the action of Nicholas Andrenes against Everett Fleming and Frank Britt will be started. Andrenes is asking $228 damages as the result of a truck collision with the defendant's truck which was driven by Frank Britt at the time of the accident.

Defendant Fleming filed a counter claim in the same accident and asked $500. Fleming's claim is for damages to the truck and injuries sustained by Britt.
