Japanese Cabinet Resigns; New U.S. Trade Negotiations Anticipated

Expect Hata To Succeed Premier Abe

Observers Predicted Action if U. S. Declined Nippon Trade Overtures

TOKYO, Jan. 14 (Sunday) (AP)—The Japanese cabinet of Premier General Nobuyuki Abe resigned today, and it was reported reliably but unofficially that the war minister, Shunroku Hata, would be the new premier.

Abe's resignation was connected closely with relations between Japan and the United States.

The prospect that Hata would be premier arose after Japanese army and governmental leaders, including Abe and the war minister himself, apparently had failed to prevail upon Prince Fumimaro Konoye, former premier and now president of the privy council, to head the government again.

Previously General Hata had declared his ineligibility because of tradition against active army men taking office.

Resignation Expected
Abe's resignation had been favorably expected for several days, following upon predictions that his government would fall if the United States declined to react favorably to Japan's proposals for reopening the lower Yangtze to third power trade. This was considered as an overture to facilitate a new trade understanding with the United States when present treaty is terminated—upon Washington's initiative—January 26.

The premier's resignation was handed to Emperor Hirohito during the course of an audience at the imperial palace in mid-morning. The cabinet had met just previously to formulate its resignation.

Last night, General Abe saw Prince Konoye and urged him to become premier again.

Konoye May Return
War Minister General Shunroku Hata earlier had appealed to the prince to form a new cabinet. He visited him three times yesterday. Konoye issued a typically oriental statement insisting he lacked the qualifications to head the government, but the consensus of political writers was that he would return to the premiership, which he held during the first 18 months of the Japanese-Chinese war.

He asserted that "mere popularity and high birth" are not sufficient qualifications. He holds both in unusual degree, the Konoye family being one of the oldest and most blue-blooded in Japan.

Although comparatively young—he is 49—the prince has held many political positions. He was one of Japan's delegates to the Paris peace conference, and from 1933 to 1937 he was president of the house of peers.

Konoye became premier in June, 1937, about a month before the undeclared Japanese-Chinese war started.

Alumni Give Nile Kinnick New Trophy

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Nile Kinnick, the University of Iowa's great football back who was voted the No. 1 athlete of the year in an Associated Press poll, accumulated another piece of silver tonight.

At the annual meeting of the Iowa alumni in the vicinity of New York he was presented a handsome trophy by Dr. Mal Stevens, football coach at New York university, emblematic of the captaincy of the All-America board of football selections for 1939.

Honored along with Kinnick at the meeting were President E. A. Gilmore, of the University of Iowa, and Dr. Eddie Anderson, the coach whom the school lured away from Holy Cross last fall.

After the dinner movies of the game in which Iowa defeated Notre Dame, 7 to 6, were shown.

Brother, Sister Die
WASHINGTON, Ia., (AP)—Double funeral services will be held here Monday morning for Edward J. Harmer, 63, attorney, and his sister, Mrs. J. A. Marie, 59, who died at practically the same hour here yesterday of heart attacks. Mrs. Marie died when informed of her brother's death.

U. S. Merchant Marine Holds Its Cargo Share

Inherits Fortune

Most Ships Are Running Despite War

Maritime Commission Official Lists Methods Of Avoiding Restrictions

By WILLIAM PINKERTON
WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The American merchant marine, "not only touched but bumped" by the neutrality law—temporarily is holding its share of the world's cargoes despite Europe's war, an official of the maritime commission declared today.

Although American ships were banned from the ports of fighting nations, this official estimated that American vessels are carrying about as much freight as ever in the ocean trade routes.

Increased Pacific Trade
Increased activity on the Pacific routes, he said, probably accounted for this situation, although current figures were not available in the commission offices.

Most of the 86 ships whose regular sailings across the Atlantic were "bumped" by the "combat zone" restriction laid out by President Roosevelt, he said, are running now.

The United States lines, however, recently sold eight of its ships to a Norwegian company in which it has a part interest.

Experimentally, other lines have sought to solve their problem by re-routing ships. The American Scantic line, which operated between New York and the Baltic, found entry into that northern sea closed when war broke out. Now it is trying a line running in at Bergen, on the west coast of Norway—just outside the "combat zone."

U.S. to Mediterranean
Two ships of the American export lines are trying out service between New York and non-belligerent ports on the Mediterranean. Shipping between North and South America has increased somewhat, the official said, and some ships have been diverted from the east.

Sudden Belgian Move Recalls To Duty Soldiers on Leave

British Drop Propaganda On Austria

Stage 'Greatest Survey Flight'; Report Two Nazi Planes Downed

LONDON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Britain's air force answered persistent German reconnaissance flights and attacks on shipping with "the greatest survey flight" of the war, during the night and today.

Both sides appeared to be setting the stage for future aerial onslaughts.

As German planes dodged along the east coast of England for the fifth successive day, the air ministry announced that British aircraft had made mass scouting flights over Austria and Bohemia, dropping propaganda leaflets in the vicinity of Vienna and Prague and reconnoitering extensively in eastern Germany.

Over Annexed Territory
It was the first time in the war that British planes had been reported over the newly annexed parts of greater Germany. A British war correspondent in France said the flights had been made from French bases.

The flights culminated a week of unusual scouting activity by both British and German air forces which military experts regarded as necessary preparation for determined air offensives.

These operations, they explained, have the dual purpose of testing the strength of the two air forces and ferreting out vulnerable points for attack.

Aircrafts Downed
The British reported that two German aircraft were downed during the day but denied a Nazi high command announcement that two royal air force planes had been destroyed.

One of the German raiders was shot down by British patrols off the southeast coast of Scotland, near the Firth of Forth, important naval base.

In the war at sea it was disclosed that the trawler Lucida had gone down with the loss of all of her crew of 12 after hitting a mine.

Business Coasts Along at Pre-Holiday High Levels

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Business coasted along this week at close to the high levels set before the holidays, with doubt in some quarters and optimism in others as to its course over the new few months.

Snow, cold and ice helped retail trade to a good showing; industrial activity gained a little on the strength of orders booked last fall, now being hurried to delivery, while demand for the heavier goods continued at between 50 and 60 per cent of the present output rate.

The stock market, which some consider important and others disdain as an indicator of future trends, took the gloomy view and virtually all the price gains registered since the European war began were finally wiped out.

Federal loans administrator Jesse H. Jones was not as pessimistic as the market.

He said: "I think we may very well look forward to a good year; in fact a very satisfactory year, unless we are too greedy. We still must have more national income, but we can't jump too fast or we'll miss the floor."

Families of Mine Disaster's Victims Receive 'Last Pay'

Fifty-One Bodies Recovered; Diggers Continue Grim Work

BARTLEY, W. Va., Jan. 13 (AP)—The silent, saddened survivors of 92 men known dead or given up for dead today received the last pay envelopes of the victims of the nation's worst mine disaster in more than a decade.

The 92 lost their lives last Wednesday when an explosion roared through the branching tunnels of the Pond Creek Pochontas coal corporation's No. 1 Bartley mine beneath this village deep in the rich West Virginia bituminous belt.

The pay checks were distributed as some of the 51 bodies recovered were brought to the surface by grim-faced, exhausted rescue workers, who have labored four nights and three days in the dangerous gas-filled depths.

Company officials said 28 bodies had been brought up today and taken in ambulances to emergency morgues at Iaeger, 12 miles away, and Welch, 20 miles. Families of the victims remained in their homes, where company officials advised them concerning funeral plans.

Bodies of the remaining victims, it was believed, would be found in the "main six" heading, one of the many work sections branching off from the main tunnel. A hoisting gear continued bringing up bodies tonight.

Nazi Grocers 'Out of' Meats, Sweets to Jewish Customers—Lochner Cites Discrimination in Reich

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
BERLIN, Jan. 13 (AP)—Germany's Jews, already subjected to extensive restrictions, have received another shock in calling for ration cards for the period of Jan. 15 to Feb. 11.

They found that coupons for a total of 125 grams (almost four and one-half ounces) of meat and all coupons for podded vegetables—such as peas, beans and lentils—were invalidated as far as they were concerned.

They further were denied certain general ration cards recently issued to all other Germans to enable them to obtain certain extras when the Nazi regime finds itself able to grant something beyond the ordinary daily allotment.

From time to time, for instance, a small quantity of sweets may be purchased upon presentation of a special card from which a coupon is clipped.

Jews must have the letter J stamped on their ration cards, enabling a tradesman to declare he has not in stock what the Jews ask for or in other ways to discriminate against them.

Money Won't Burn—Theater Does

BRISTOL, Conn. (AP)—The Bristol theater will not show "Money to Burn," the feature it advertised for Sunday.

A $50,000 fire destroyed the theater yesterday.

Greek Ship Strikes Reef

LONDON, (AP)—The 3,161-ton Greek steamer Tonis Chandris was reported to have struck a reef north of Scotland today while zigzagging to dodge a submarine.

Nazi Troop Movements Bring Order

No Official Explanation Follows Action; Dutch Leaders Not Alarmed

BRUSSELS, Jan. 14 (Sunday) (AP)—Belgium by radio and courier late last night suddenly called all soldiers on leave back to their posts throughout the kingdom.

There was no official explanation. Private reports, however, said that strong German troop concentrations and movements on the frontier seemed to have been behind the order.

Messengers sped through Brussels in freezing weather and entered cafes, theaters and night clubs to summon soldiers and officers.

Earlier, the defense ministry had cancelled air raid precautions trials scheduled for Sunday. Here, also, officials made no explanation.

New Men Called?
There were indications that new men were being called to the colors. Several groups of officers living in Brussels hotels checked out suddenly.

The sound of constant artillery fire was heard across the frontier from Luxembourg, but the grand duchy itself was reported completely calm.

In the Netherlands, officials at the Hague said the cancellation of Belgian leaves left the situation unchanged for the Dutch.

"There is not a single reason for disquiet," they added.

"This was the third time since the European war began that Belgian soldiers have been recalled abruptly from leave.

350,000 Mobilized
Last November Belgium mobilized 350,000 men for a "state of active defense." It was not announced how many men would be affected by tonight's order.

The action followed a foreign office communique early today which said "certain protective measures" had been taken during yesterday.

Without explaining the nature of these measures, the statement said they were decided upon previously by the government and "constituted application of a defense plan prepared in the first days of mobilization."

Boat Captain Sights Gray Warship Hovering Near American Shore

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Jan. 13 (AP)—A gray warship seen hovering off Fort Lauderdale today was reported by Reuben Munroe, charter boat captain, to have laid down a smoke screen and dodged behind it when Munroe's boat approached.

The captain of the tiny craft said the vessel apparently was a cruiser and flew a flag he thought was British. It was bigger than the cruiser Orion, which chased the German freighter Aruca into Port Everglades last month.

Munroe, carrying a fishing party to the Gulf stream, said he saw several navy bombers of the United States neutrality patrol flying over the ship about 12 miles off shore.

German Steamer Disabled

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The 6,445-ton German steamer Trautenfels was reported disabled late last night in a gale north of Trondheim.

400 Russian Planes Rain Bombs on Finland

HELSINKI, Jan. 13 (AP)—Russian bombs fell close to the United States legation in suburban Grankulla today when red army warplanes engaged in their first raid of 1940 on Helsinki.

The Grankulla district, where many foreigners took up temporary residence after the Soviet invasion, was jolted severely by the detonating bombs.

Icy Highways Cause Four Auto Deaths

Fifteen-Foot Drifts Reported Near Here; Southern Iowa Worst

Snow, which began falling early yesterday afternoon, continued to cover Iowa City to an ever-increasing depth early this morning as the worst of the winter struck the Hawkeye state.

All Iowa highways, the Associated Press reported last night, were "almost impassable and very dangerous as a raging snow storm, which contributed to the death of at least four persons, piled up white drifts.

"The state highway patrol reported continued snowfall in most of the state, although the storm let up in Des Moines. Amounts ranged from two to 10 inches.

AMBULANCE STALLS

OMAHA, Jan. 13 (AP)—A Douglas county ambulance stalled on a snow choked rural road tonight while enroute to get a patient at Elkhorn. A snowplow was sent out in an attempt to clear the road for the mercy errand.

Motorists Warned
"Attempts are being made to keep the roads open, the patrol said, but added the snow was drifting and visibility was less than 100 feet in most places.

"Motorists were warned to stay off highways unless travel was 'absolutely necessary'."

Iowa City police last night warned motorists to stay off the highways unless extreme necessity calls them for travel.

It was reported last night that drifts as high as 15 feet had formed on the highway between Iowa City and West Liberty.

Temperatures, however, remained exactly normal, the high of 23 degrees stopping 10 degrees below the reading of a year ago yesterday.

Conditions in southern Iowa, according to radio reports, were more dangerous for travel than elsewhere.

Four Fatalities Reported
The Associated Press reported four fatal accidents caused by the snowstorm.

Kenneth Thelander and Clayton Marshall, both of Waterloo, were fatally injured yesterday afternoon when their car was struck by a train on a crossing at Moorland.

Gus Anderson, 66, Spencer, was killed when his automobile skidded on icy pavement and crashed into the side of a railroad engine on highway 71, 12 miles south of Spencer.

The storm's fourth victim was William Wasley, about 80, Onslow laborer, who was fatally injured when an automobile driven by Henry Collins upset on a graveled road north of Onslow during a heavy snowfall.

No Local Accidents
No accidents were reported in Iowa City late last night.

The depth of the snow, according to state officials, ranged from two to 10 inches throughout the state. Almost six inches was reported in Iowa City.

City Engineer Fred Gartzke said late last night that removal of snow from the surrounding highways would begin as soon as the fall let up.

The snow here had a two inch start on the first flake because of that which had not melted from the previous fall.

Swedish and other Scandinavian correspondents in the field reported a partial withdrawal of Soviet troops from Linahamari, the port of Finland's extreme north Petsamo district. Other Scandinavian reporters, however, told of preparations for a great Russian advance from the Salla district, 200 miles south of Petsamo but still in the Arctic circle, with 40,000 men already massed for action, others coming up and still more being dropped from planes in parachutes.

With today's raids, military observers drew the conclusion that the Soviet high command was seizing every opportunity in favorable bombing weather to strike terror into Finland's civilian population to offset failures on the warfront.

The raids were directed chiefly against southwest Finland and Finnish fortifications on the Karelian Isthmus.

Really, Mrs. Roosevelt

MR. DIES ought to look into this. Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt is engaged in an un-American activity. What is worse she is doing it every day. In fact, she does it every time she opens her mouth. Her voice teacher says so.

You can take it from Mrs. Elizabeth Von Hess, who was Mrs. Roosevelt's voice instructor, that the wife of the president shouldn't use "cawn't" and "bawth" and that her broad New England accent should be eliminated. Mrs. Hess says that isn't the American way of speaking. She thinks that Mrs. Roosevelt's voice is downright subversive.

Now Mrs. Roosevelt, aren't you ashamed?

New Passport Regulations

NEW regulations that affect the issuance and renewal of American passports abroad should result in the elimination of possible fraud in the securing of these important documents. It is well known that American passports, allowing the widest latitude of travel, have frequently fallen into the hands of foreign agents abroad.

Under these regulations, it will be more difficult for foreign agents, operating in Europe, to masquerade as harmless American tourists, but they will not, unfortunately, stop the detestable operations of native-born or naturalized American citizens whose sympathies are more alien than American from using American credentials while engaging in espionage work abroad for some other nation.

BLUE stamps issued to persons on relief to buy surplus food has met with apparent success in 28 cities during recent trials, though the experiment has been limited to a small classification of surplus goods. Governmental experts say that by next July grocers in 150 cities will be in on the plan, and its cost will approach $100,000,000 annually.

Blue Stamps—And Cotton

Because of its success, the use of this plan to absorb the surplus cotton on America's glutted market has also been suggested. For congress, having voted a total of 193 million dollars for removing agricultural surpluses, imposed conditions that force the use of approximately 14 million of this money to be spent in the next six months to find a use for the surplus cotton.

The cotton textile industry has not been asleep while Congress imposed this condition. The industry wants this money spent on stamps that will be given to relief clients and low-income families to spend in dry goods stores and general merchandise stores for cotton goods.

Out of each dollar going for even the simplest cotton goods, only 30 cents goes for cotton, while 70 cents goes for labor, processing and transportation. The result is, that with the stamp plan applied to cotton, the maximum amount that would go to remove surplus cotton would be an approximate four out of 14 million dollars. The remainder, nearly 10 million, would flow into the tills of the textile industry and trade companies.

It seems quite natural that the textile industry would be such a loud acclaimer of the blue stamp plan in this field. Not only would it boost their business tremendously, but they would still be able to get raw cotton for future production at very low prices. The benefit to cotton producers would be practically nil.

Blue stamp food plans are very beneficial in supplementing relief and are proving to have a wide appeal to business groups. The plan works when the commodity disposed of does not need a great deal of processing. But for cotton, a highly processed commodity, the stamp plan would be nothing but a federal gift to an industry that has survived the depression with comparative ease.

America's Roll Call Of 1940

AT THE turn of each 10 year period, business men, householders and shopkeepers, and all the others who go to make up that solid mass of humanity, known as the people of the United States, begin their frets and fumes over that aged nuisance—the national census.

This, 1940, is a census year. To some, it is as much a dose of the old oil as income tax reports, sales tax receipts, and nights at the opera with the wife. In an effort to help alleviate what pain might be felt by these sufferers, The Daily Iowan ushers in, with this editorial, a series of commentaries on the census.

From time to time in these columns will appear paragraphs explaining, in series form, why there must be a census, its history, its importance. Read them, so that you may know the "why" back of the questions you will be asked by census takers. Prepare yourself, by understanding what information is wanted of you, so that you might help speed up the work in which you play a part.

CLIPPED FROM OTHER COLUMNS

Just before the mid-Twenties the United States had its largest baby crop. Those babies are now of high school age. In this state about three-fourths of them are going to public or private high schools. Of these, seven out of eight are of the public high schools. For this and other reasons the New York City high schools are now reaching what may be their highest peak of attendance. Because the city has had to economize on teachers' salaries the classes have grown until, as Board of Education officials stated this week, more than 23,000 of them out of nearly 36,000 have more than thirty-five members. In some instances this means that there are not enough seats for the whole class. In most cases it probably means that the class is too large for one teacher to handle effectively.

This is one good argument for the restoration of the normal state grants which were drastically cut last Spring. In rural areas economies can be effected, as the Regents' Inquiry found, by consolidating the smaller high schools. That remedy can hardly be applied here, where the average enrollment in forty-eight academic and technical day high schools is over 5,000. We need more high school teachers and it is poor economy to try to get on without them.

Congress Needs Financial Wizard Quickly To Solve Intricacies of Governmental Cost

WANTED—A financial wizard who can tell congress how to cut down the cost of government, as a whole, without reducing any single item of its expenditures.

Hard-boiled Mr. Morgenthau Congress tries to put the puzzle to the treasury, which hands it right back again—and mightily successfully. Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau takes this hard-boiled attitude: "You senators and representatives decree certain expenditures. Then you provide certain taxes to foot the bill. The taxes you provide aren't sufficient to do it. So we run into the hole."

What's worrying congress? Anyway, what's worrying congress is how to meet the immediate situation. The average senator or representative isn't greatly perturbed as to conditions which may confront some congress a couple of generations hence; possibly Uncle Sam will be in the black again by that time. How to economize without economizing? How to scoop in more government money without boosting taxation rates? These are practical political questions. And they're urgent.

AROUND THE TOWN

By MERLE MILLER

A SMATTERING OF IGNORANCE

I'll begin with minor apologies to Oscar Levant whose new book has the same title as this column. And whose character study, done by S. N. Behrman, I recommend to all my friends. It takes a deal of lovin' to put up with "the spiked embrace of Levant's friendship," writes Behrman.

An observation my own long-suffering, consistently insulted friends have often made. It's all right, though. I never insult people I don't like. Haven't the time.

I've often suspected my tongue's moulded of horse-whip leather anyway.

The first printing of the bulletin on a student voice in the presidential selection had to be re-done. Some 450 were destroyed because it said, "Man responsible to student opinion." The word should have been "responsive," though the former would do for me.

So far no wild telegrams have come from Sam Goldwyn regards my movie debut. About the only comment I heard was that grade school girl who sat in an opposite seat the afternoon I was there. "Is this the comedy NOW, mother?" she wanted to know.

More about-campuses are reading Pierre Van Paassen's "Days of Our Years" just now. Book stores've sold dozens of copies the last month. Good antidote too for the "Let's oil our revolvers and get ready" kind of talk that's going the rounds.

Van Paassen's a sceptic about almost everything—except the peoples of the world who, in all, number quite a few.

Marcus Bach's California playhouse job will be a good one. His company of Mexican Thespians includes that youngster who did such a superb death scene before Paul Muni's eyes in "Juarez."

Nona Seberg's cadet colonelship pleased more people than any political choice I can remember.

F. Higbee reminded me that he hopes Jim Jones didn't mean what he said in that radio interview before the military ball. The question was, "Do you wear the same kind of uniforms as you've got on tonight for regular drill?"

To which Jim replied, "No, only the pants!"

Bob Blakely, Doc Baird's prize and joy debater, is collaborating with his boss, "Bill" Waymack, for an article on mid-west sentiments for the magazine "Foreign Affairs."

The main reason no one can start a party or a forum on Tuesday night is on the radio, the "Pot of Gold" program. Seems almost every member of the faculty with a phone thinks he'll be the one for the weekly thousand-dollar award. Your chances are one in 10,000,000 every week.

Why were all the deans on the campus—far as I could see—at Friday's Military Ball?

And what about those two county official officials who are unofficially feudin'...

Ise P. Laas hopes that Pan-American League idea can get started on the campus after the semester begins. But she warns prospective members they won't get far with that, "What do you think of US Americans down there?"

It would be fine if certain campus scientists who're not schooled in the science of politics would stop trying to authorize every woolly-dyed reactionary in the Washington arena. Eminent specialists would do well to stop posing as 20th century Da Vincis. They're not, not around here.

chestrals polls and who breaks attendance records everywhere—those persons didn't care about dancing, and didn't.

THEY SPENT THEIR... time standing before the orchestra platform thrilled by the smooth trombone music of the "sentimental gentleman of swing." That's where I was and even now don't regret not dancing a step all evening. It's a thrill to remember and, I hope, to repeat.

Hawkeye Wrestlers Outclass Northwestern, 28-6

By GENE CLAUSSEN
Assistant Sports Editor
Coach Mike Howard and his wrestling pupils had everything their own way yesterday afternoon as they defeated Northwestern, 28 to 6, in the opening of the Big Ten season before 2,000 fans in the Iowa fieldhouse.

Little Billy Sherman started the Iowa parade by pinning Luke Hollister, Wildcat 121-pounder, in the short space of three minutes, 47 seconds. Sherman used a body scissors and a half nelson to put Hollister down for the fall.

Joe Gluckman, Wildcat captain, proved a little too much for Loy Julius, Hawk sophomore, winning the 128-pound event by a decision. From there on however, it was all Iowa as the Hawks took all remaining events except the heavyweight match, which went to Joe Vavrus, Wildcat husky.

Newell Ingle won by decision over Bob Vanderpool in the 135-pound class to start the Hawks to their landslide victory. Phil Millen kept Henry Puharich guessing where he was for about eight minutes of their bout and then pinned him with a half nelson and body scissors to take the 145-pound match.

Clarence Kemp, newly elected captain of the team, came through with an expected victory over Ed McMillan in the 155-pound division. Kemp won the match in seven minutes, 30 seconds with a half nelson and body scissors.

Ralph Geppert, 165-pounder from Council Bluffs, made his debut a success by pinning Jim Ferguson in seven minutes, 45 seconds. Geppert used a body scissors and head press to throw Ferguson.

Another newcomer, Paul Whitmore, won the final match for Iowa when he surprised the crowd by pinning Dick Trubey of the Wildcats after the bout had seen-sawed back and forth for nearly seven minutes. Whitmore used a head scissors and an arm lock to put Trubey down in seven minutes, nine seconds.

Making fullest use of the oasis of rest in the midst of scholastic activity that is provided by the pause between semesters, Bill Diehl, brilliant sophomore center on last fall's grid team, will undergo an operation on his knee, it is reported.

Diehl, injured in the Wisconsin game, was one of the three pivot men who performed heroically for the "Iron Hawks." He held down the stormy middle of the line post through the South Dakota, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin games, before he gave way, because of the injury, to Bruno Andruska, who turned his post over to Red Frye in the Northwestern battle.

Turning from football to winter sports, Iowa City got a look at Mike Howard's 1940 entry yesterday and was impressed. Howard, who always manages to grab a bit of glory out of a season, lost his Big Ten champion of last year, Wilbur Nead, but there are potentialities this year.

All told, the Hawkeyes captured six of eight matches from Northwestern in the one-sided victory. The two Iowa losers, Virgil Neubauer and Loy Julius, lost only by the barest of shades, while the Hawkeye victories were conclusive, to say the least. Five of the Hawks, to be exact did their own refereeing by scoring falls.

Besides the Howard inspired skill the Hawkeyes brought to the meet yesterday, there was the matter of condition, for which Howard's initiation of cross-country for his team can be given a little credit. There wasn't a sign of weariness among the Iowans, while more than one invader puffed and floundered before his time was up.

One beautiful example of condition as an aid was Virgil Neubauer's match with Joe Vavrus, Wildcat griddier and heavyweight matman. Vavrus, a tough customer, started off like a professional grunt and groaner, pushing Neubauer in the face a couple of times. He had a weight advantage of about 20 pounds, was anything but easy pickings, but ended up as a good little boy, who back-pedaled frantically and meekly shied at anything like contact with the Iowa newcomer.

Vavrus won the match, by something like half a point, but Neubauer, the guy who could almost scare him into inelegibility in the closing minutes, won the crowd. It was, for any sport, a good beginning.

WINNER OF THE LOS ANGELES OPEN - HIS FIRST MAJOR GOLF VICTORY SINCE TURNING PRO FOUR YEARS AGO

Beginning the final half, Michigan turned loose in a withering drive that netted 12 points while the Hawkeyes were managing but two. After that, far behind in the final minutes, Iowa steadied down, but couldn't close the gap.

The last minutes saw Iowa's Rudy Soderquist and Michigan's Sofiak, who played a brilliant game at guard, ejected on fouls. Erwin Prasse, who starred defensively for Iowa, had three fouls counted against him, but worked the whole game, despite the presence in the Michigan lineup of Tom Harmon, an old football foe.

From Ann Arbor, the Hawkeyes will go to Chicago Sunday and will face the Maroons Monday night before returning to Iowa City.

'Pro-Bowl' Game To Be Held Today

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13 (AP)—The champion Green Bay Packers tie into a select team of stars from rival National league clubs tomorrow in a "pro-bowl" football battle that was postponed a week ago because of rain. Indications point to a better game, perfect weather and a larger crowd.

Tom Gallery, director of this lone league-sanctioned post season encounter, predicted a sell-out throng of 18,000 if today's sunshine is duplicated tomorrow.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 13 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—An early Iowa lead melted in a rain of penalties tonight and the Hawkeyes fell far to the rear as Michigan turned loose a blistering second half offensive to win a Big Ten cage encounter, 47-38.

Jumping out to an 11-1 lead early in the tilt, the Hawks seemed on their way to their first conference victory, but, counting on numerous foul shots, the home team moved up. Charlie Pink, diminutive guard, led a powerful offensive that continued unabated from late in the first half until the middle of the final period. Pink's deadly shooting brought 18 points to the fast-traveling Wolverines on seven field goals and four charity tosses to top the performance of Iowa's Vic Siegel, who counted 11 points.

The Hawkeye lead, gathered by successful long shots, was present through most of the opening half, the Wolves moving out ahead shortly before halftime, when they led by a 23-21 margin.

Gamma Phi Beta Wins Sorority Relays

Wilson Takes Three Events

Yesterday was a big day in the fieldhouse as the annual all-university carnival got under way and concluded in the glory that has surrounded this meet for the past twenty years.

The feature event of the afternoon, the inter-sorority relay, was taken by the fine four-man-team of George Vack, Cameron Campbell, Norm Pullman and John Parry who represented the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Vack, the captain of the squad and freshman distance star was given a good lead by his three team mates and carried it through to come in ahead of Carl Schnoor who finished in the second spot about three yards behind for the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

The Quadrangle 440-yard relay race was won by Lower B. The squad of Joel Hinrichs, Cliff Woodcock, Frank Webb and Art Schlauder set a new record in this event, the only one of the day; the time 48.1 seconds.

The big thrill of the afternoon was provided by "Big" Jim Wilson as he took three first places in the individual events. Wilson smashed down the straightaway twice to capture firsts in the 60 yard dash and the 60 yard low hurdles and then took the high jump with a fine leap of 5 feet 10 1/2 inches.

Hank Vollenwieder won the 60 yard high hurdles, fighting the race out all the way with Bob Eiel. Ken Steinbeck took the pole vault in easy style and Milt Kuhl found victory in the shot put. Clark Arnold won the 25-pound weight with a toss of 48 feet, one inch.

Summary:
660 yard fraternity relay: won by Delta Tau Delta; time 1:12.2; (Dean Dort, John Collinge, Art Johnson, Art Manush, Louis Muhl, Ed McClain); second, Phi Epsilon Pi; third, Phi Kappa Psi; fourth, S.A.E.

One Quarter Mile Dormitory Relay: won by Jefferson House; time 50.2; (Dick Stuntz, Keith Noah, Glenn Murdoch, George Hall). Whetstone House second; Gables third.

Quadrangle One Quarter Mile Relay: won by Lower B (only team entered) time: 48.1 (new record). (Joe Hinrichs, Clifton Woodcock, Frank Webb, Arthur Schlauder).

Hillcrest One Quarter Mile Relay: won by Second East (only team entered) time—51.7; (Carl Schnoor, Norman Bassett, Don Thompson, Don Purvis).

Sorority One and One Quarter Mile Relay: won by Gamma Phi Beta; time 4:56.3; (Cameron Campbell, John Perry, Norman Pullman, George Vack); second, Alpha Xi Delta; third, Alpha Delta Pi; fourth, Currier Hall.

Varsity 50; Frosh 34
Armbruster Pleased With Performances Of Hawkeye Swimmers

Iowa's varsity and freshman swimmers were sent through their paces yesterday afternoon despite the cancellation of the Iowa A. A. U. meet which was to have been held in the Hawkeye pool Friday and Saturday.

Coach Dave Armbruster's varsity team piled up a 50 to 34 victory over the freshmen for their second inter-squad win of the year.

Coach Armbruster said he was very satisfied with the performance of both the freshman and varsity teams and especially the varsity medley relay team and the frosh 400-yard sprint relay team.

The varsity relay team, composed of Al Armbruster, George Poulos and Don Wenstrom, missed the national intercollegiate record by one-tenth of a second when they chalked up a 2:55.1 for their performance.

The frosh relay team also pleased the Iowa coach when they turned in a 3:37.2 to outclass the varsity. Ed Armbruster, Clyde Kemnitz, Stanley Krajewski and Vito Lopin made up the frosh team.

Individual performances which pleased Armbruster's eye were Wenstrom's fast time of :53.4 in the 100-yard freestyle; Al Armbruster's 1:36.0 in the 150-yard backstroke, which missed the university record by three-tenths seconds, and Al Povalitis' sparkling performance in the 200-yard breaststroke with a 2:24.5. Povalitis is a City high student, but has been swimming with the freshmen all season.

Feature race of the afternoon was staged between Carl Ahlgren of the varsity and Russel Dotson in the 440-yard freestyle. Ahlgren nosed out Dotson by a split second to win the race in 5:03.2.

The Hawkeyes will meet Illinois in the fieldhouse pool.

Purdue Hangs to Share of Loop Lead

Gophers Pull 46-44 Upset Over Indiana

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 13 (AP)—Willie Warhol, reserve center, took two steps beyond the center of the floor, fired a long shot through the hoop and dropped a bombshell in the Western conference basketball game by giving Minnesota a 46-44 victory over highly-favored Indiana here tonight.

The long shot that was still in the air as the final gun sounded was a thrilling climax to a brilliant exhibition before 11,300 fans and was Indiana's first loss in ten games so far this season.

The game left both Indiana and Minnesota with a ranking of two victories and one defeat in the young conference race.

Far superior ball in the first half gave Minnesota a 29-16 lead at the intermission. Indiana's highly-touted machine came back strong with the start of the second half and in a little more than eight minutes had rolled out ahead, 36-30. During that rally Minnesota's lone scoring contribution was a single free throw.

Minnesota's attack again began to function and the Gophers managed to tie the score at 39-39.

The Hoosiers worked themselves back into a 44-40 lead and were apparently on the road to victory when Warhol came up with a short shot and then with seconds remaining Don Carlson, sophomore forward, dropped in a short one to tie the score.

Indiana came rolling down the floor only to lose the ball in its endeavor to break the tie and paved the way for Warhol's winning field goal.

Buckeyes Down Illini, 37-31 For First Win

COLUMBUS, Jan. 13 (AP)—Ohio State university's Big Ten championship basketball team won its first game in three league starts tonight, defeating Illinois, 37 to 31, before a crowd of 4,046.

Bill Hapac, Illinois forward who finished fifth in the Big Ten scoring list a year ago, lead the point getters with 16, six ahead of center Bill Sattler who topped the Buckeyes.

Ohio State won the game from the free throw line. Each team made 11 field goals but Ohio converted 15 of 24 shots from the foul line while Illinois connected on only nine of 19 chances.

Rambler Cagers Seek Defense For St. Patrick's Red Miller

Irish Scoring Ace Looks as Threat In Local Classic

"We will have to work out some sort of defense to stop that man Miller," Francis Sueppel, mentor of the Marions, told his gang of northsiders as they met for a strategy session last night in the old City high gym, in preparation for the annual clash with the gas house gang from St. Pat's.

The southsiders, who spent a characteristically slow opening session, have been shaping up nicely into a powerful cage club and have knocked off a number of powerful opponents. Merle (Red) Miller, the 40,000-volt man of the rish, has been electrifying cage audiences by his ability to hit the hoop from unbelievable angles.

The Ramblers have been having a good season, although they have been knocked off very unexpectedly several times—once by a small team from Wilton Junction. Sickness has run its course in the Marion ranks, but now, with the recent return of Eakes and Cole, the Sueppel men are hoping to really take the "Gas House Gang" into camp.

So far the musty archives of the intra-city classic show an equal number of games won from each other in the last 20 years—who will break the deadlock no one knows, but it is certain that when Father Harry Ryan, coach of the southsiders, brings his aggregation of cagers to the old City high gym next Wednesday night, there will be fought enough to raise hair and blood pressure.

Kern Selected Head Coach At West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 13 (AP)—William F. (Bill) Kern, gridiron coach at Carnegie Tech for three years, today was selected as head coach of West Virginia university, a school with an enrollment of 3,000 and ambitions to return to power on the gridiron.

Appointment of the 33-year-old blond-haired, chubby mentor, who was named "coach of the year" in 1938, fulfilled student and alumni demands for a major college coach to guide the Mountaineers back to the gridiron pinnacle attained under Dr. Clarence Spears in the early 20's.

Kern, who resigned at Tech last Monday, was recommended for the post by Director of Athletics Roy M. Hawley. The appointment was made by the university's board of governors in a special session here. Kern succeeded Dr. Marshall Glenn who resigned last December at the end of one of the Mountaineers' poorest seasons.

Danning Marries

NOGALES, SONORA, MEX. (AP)—The marriage Thursday of Harry Danning, 28, catcher for the New York Giants of the National league, and Deanne Nygard, 25, New York City, has been disclosed by officials. The Dannings are honeymooning at Guaymas, Sonora, resort on the Gulf of California.

Gophers Pull 46-44 Upset Over Indiana

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 13 (AP)—Willie Warhol, reserve center, took two steps beyond the center of the floor, fired a long shot through the hoop and dropped a bombshell in the Western conference basketball game by giving Minnesota a 46-44 victory over highly-favored Indiana here tonight.

The long shot that was still in the air as the final gun sounded was a thrilling climax to a brilliant exhibition before 11,300 fans and was Indiana's first loss in ten games so far this season.

The game left both Indiana and Minnesota with a ranking of two victories and one defeat in the young conference race.

Far superior ball in the first half gave Minnesota a 29-16 lead at the intermission. Indiana's highly-touted machine came back strong with the start of the second half and in a little more than eight minutes had rolled out ahead, 36-30. During that rally Minnesota's lone scoring contribution was a single free throw.

Minnesota's attack again began to function and the Gophers managed to tie the score at 39-39.

The Hoosiers worked themselves back into a 44-40 lead and were apparently on the road to victory when Warhol came up with a short shot and then with seconds remaining Don Carlson, sophomore forward, dropped in a short one to tie the score.

Indiana came rolling down the floor only to lose the ball in its endeavor to break the tie and paved the way for Warhol's winning field goal.

Julian Huxley Will Deliver Next University Lecture Here Thursday

Noted Author Will Discuss Science Aids

Great Britain's 'Most Influential Writer' Has Lectured Widely

Julian Huxley, English biologist and outstanding literary figure, will deliver the next university lecture in Macbride auditorium Thursday at 8 p.m., it was announced yesterday by Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh, chairman of the senate board on university lectures.

Huxley, who is the grandson of Thomas Henry Huxley, the great English biologist, is generally regarded as one of the most influential of Britain's living writers. He will discuss "Science, War and Reconstruction."

He will summarize science's contributions to modern warfare, showing how they have resulted in what is a virtual statement on the western front, and then go on to show that science has also indicated the lines along which social reorganization may be affected to outlast war and make for a stable peace. He will outline a plan for the federalization of western Europe which he believes will form an antidote to Hitlerism in the future.

Prominent Lecturer

Besides his scientific work, Huxley has written and lectured widely. His books, which have had a wide influence upon liberal thinking throughout the civilized world, include "Essays in Popular Science," "Essays of a Biologist," "America Revisited," "What Dare I Think?," "If I Were a Dictator" and "Evolution Up to Date."

He is the co-author with A. C. Haddon of "We Europeans: A survey of Racial Problems," which appeared during the spring of 1939, and is credited with having finally and completely exploded in thoroughly scientific manner Hitler's theories of racism and the superiority of the Nordics.

Huxley is a member of one of Britain's most distinguished families. He is the grandnephew of Matthew Arnold, critic and poet, nephew of Mrs. Humphrey Ward, novelist, son of Leonard Huxley, biographer and historian and brother of Aldous Huxley, essayist and novelist, as well as the grandson of the great biologist, Thomas Henry Huxley.

Educated at Eton

He was born June 22, 1857, and was educated at Eton and Oxford university. He lectured in zoology for two years at Balliol college in Oxford university before coming to the United States to become research assistant and then assistant professor at Rice institute, Houston, Texas.

Three years later he went back to Europe to serve in the British army in Italy. After the war he returned to Oxford for a while as a fellow in New college and then accepted an appointment as professor of zoology in King's college, London university, a post which he still holds. He is president of the Royal Zoological society and an honorary member of the New York Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Visits America

Huxley came to America this year to be the honor guest and speaker at the annual Christmas meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which was held in Columbus, Ohio, and is giving a limited number of lectures during his stay in the country. He was also honored at a dinner given recently by the Smithsonian institute in Washington, D. C.

Other cities in which he will be heard include New York, Washington, D. C., Cincinnati, Boston and Birmingham.

Admission to the lecture will be by ticket. Tickets will be available to faculty and students on Tuesday and Wednesday at Iowa Union desk. Any tickets which remain on Thursday will be available to the general public.

It's a new sport in Iowa City and so much fun! ROLLER SKATE on the new rink above the Hudson Garage across from Schaeffer Hall. It has a dandy new masonite floor and is also equipped with a grand selection of poppy recordings. Plan a ROLLER SKATING party with your friends some evening soon at this new rink.

FEBRUARY 14th—yes, it's Valentine's Day and what's more it's not very far away. What could be a more appropriate Valentine to either HIM or HER than a picture of YOU. We suggest that you see KADGHN right away and make an order for one to be made from your Hawkeye picture. It's KADGHN'S for the best in photography at Iowa City, you know.

It may have been good intentions on Kevin Cronin's part but Dorothy Morrison didn't appreciate the way he extended his wishes of sympathy for her because of the Clinton Place quarantine. Just to cheer her up he had a basket containing empty bottles, old toys, and old pamphlets besides a prayer book sent to her room.

Let's go skating — so look up your skates, see that they are sharp and away we go for a lot of fun — while we are at it why not skate into DRUG-SHOP and pick up needed toilet and drug items — Edward S. Rose invites you at 3 South Dubuque at Iowa Avenue — or Dial 3031.

An interesting fact about the Military Ball was the fact that white formal frocks and flowers worn in the hair seemed to be the popular fashion for the dancing coed. Also many orchids were seen with Sylvia Westerman and June DeWall being two of the lucky wearers of this luxurious flower.

Students Petition for Voice In Selection of New President

Ask State Board For Recognition

Petition Recommends Presidential Regard Of Student Opinion

Petitions to the State Board of Education for student representation with the faculty and alumni groups when the choice of the new president of the university is made will circulate on the campus this week, according to arrangements made by a central committee of 23 representing a larger committee of 500 students.

The Committee for Student Self-Government will send the petitions to the Iowa State Board of Education at Des Moines early next week, Pat Steezer, A3 of Freeport, Ill., and George Willoughby, G of Des Moines, co-chairmen of the project, announced yesterday.

The mimeographed petitions, designed to bring to Iowa a "presidential" responsive to student opinion," reads as follows:

"We the undersigned students feel that the choice of a president of the University of Iowa is a matter of importance not only to the entire state of Iowa, to the faculty of the university and its alumni, but also to the seven thousand students now attending the university.

"The president of a great educational institution should, we believe, have a genuine feeling for student needs, a respect for student opinion, should feel that a university exists for the students rather than the students for the university, should have a broad educational background, should be respected by educators and scholars of the nation and of his own university, should be concerned with the place of a state university in the community of Iowa, and, finally, should be a man respected not only for his position but his character as well.

"Because we feel the students should have a voice in the selection, we petition that representatives from the student body be allowed to sit with the State Board of Education, the alumni groups and the faculty representatives to choose a man who can fill the position of president of the State University of Iowa with distinction and honor."

Central Committee

Members of the central committee representing the larger committee and their committees are Mary Frances Arduser, A2 of Cedar Rapids, Eastlawn; Don Purvis, G of Grundy Center, Hillcrest; Paul White, Lt of Grand Junction, Law Commons.

Ruth Summy, A2 of Des Moines, Currier; Deming Smith, A3 of Toledo, Quadrangle and Hawkeye; Cecil Porter, G of Littleton, Me., and Bob V. Smith, A3 of Des Moines, men's cooperative dormitories; Cornelia Shrauger, A4 of Atlantic, women's cooperative dormitories.

Tom Loudon, A4 of Fairfield, Inter-Fraternity council; Jeanne K. Parsons, A4 of Estherville, Pan-Hellenic council; Lloyd Gugle, M2 of Iowa City, Medical council; Frankie M. Sample, A2 of Iowa City, Tau Gamma; Jean R. Hamill, A3 of Iowa City, church groups.

John von Lackum, A4 of Waterloo, publicity; Lewis Lapham, A2 of Charles City, contact; Roland Christensen, A3 of Iowa City, town men; Bill Applegate, G of Sidney, Ohio, graduate college; Ed Hoag, A2 of Freeport, Ill., publicity and Student Board of Publications.

Included also are representatives from the following housing units and organizations: Westlawn, Clinton place, Kappa Beta, Cosmopolitan club, Negro Forum, Gamma Alpha and Gavel club.

Okerbloom's Art Works Accepted

Display Exhibited At Butler Institute; Prizes Given Today

Works by Charles I. Okerbloom were among the 307 oils and water colors accepted for display from the 1,037 submitted to the fifth annual New Year show at the Butler Art Institute in Youngstown, Ohio, by Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia artists.

Three new committees appointed by James Fox, A4 of Boone, president of the local chapter, are budget and finance, entertainment and program, and membership committees. Each consists of three members including a faculty representative.

The budget and finance committee is headed by the new treasurer, Mr. Tellefsen, and includes John Mueller, A3 of Iowa City, and Earl English, instructor in the school of journalism.

The entertainment and program committee is headed by Vice-President Bellaire and includes D. Mac Showers, A3 of Iowa City, and Prof. Charles L. Sanders of the school of journalism.

Art Goldberg, A4 of Iowa City, is chairman of the membership committee which also includes Loren Schultz, A4 of Burlington, and Winston Allard, instructor in the school of journalism.

The first in a new series of luncheon meetings with guest speakers to be given by the Sigma Delta Chi chapter was held yesterday noon in the north conference room of Iowa Union with Lee Cochran, director of the University of Iowa visual education department of the extension division, as guest speaker.

Mr. Cochran spoke to the group on "Publicity Films For Educational Uses." He told of the history of such films as originated by private manufacturing concerns and how commercial publicity agencies later took them over.

The speaker also told how the national government has taken an active part in similar educational films and concluded with the activity of schools, colleges and universities in the educational film manufacture and distribution field.

In explaining the latter, Mr. Cochran told of his own work and connections, outlining the costs, uses, distribution and service to Iowa schools and organizations as well as out-of-state schools and professional groups.

The University Film Services, commenting on the possibilities in the future for university educational film services, Mr. Cochran told of the work of the Association of School Film Libraries which distributes such commercial films as "March of Time" releases and other news reel films of historical value to school film libraries.

The Film Custodian service, an institution sponsored by the Hayes office, now is making available to schools the educational portions of historical movies after the films have made extended nationwide runs in theaters, the speaker explained.

He pointed out the fact that educators familiar with the events of historical interest supervised the cutting of these films to bring together the parts of the pictures which will be of the greatest advantage to schools.

The meeting concluded with a discussion of school film work and those attending asked Mr. Cochran questions on his work and the department in the university extension division.

Sigma Delta Chi Elects Two New Officers at Meeting

Bellaire, Tellefsen Chosen by Group; Lee Cochran Speaks

The University of Iowa chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity elected two new officers and appointed three working committees at a meeting last week in room C-1, East hall.

New officers chosen were Arthur Bellaire, A4 of Sioux City, vice-president, and William Tellefsen, A3 of Jersey City, N. J., treasurer.

Three new committees appointed by James Fox, A4 of Boone, president of the local chapter, are budget and finance, entertainment and program, and membership committees. Each consists of three members including a faculty representative.

The budget and finance committee is headed by the new treasurer, Mr. Tellefsen, and includes John Mueller, A3 of Iowa City, and Earl English, instructor in the school of journalism.

The entertainment and program committee is headed by Vice-President Bellaire and includes D. Mac Showers, A3 of Iowa City, and Prof. Charles L. Sanders of the school of journalism.

Art Goldberg, A4 of Iowa City, is chairman of the membership committee which also includes Loren Schultz, A4 of Burlington, and Winston Allard, instructor in the school of journalism.

The first in a new series of luncheon meetings with guest speakers to be given by the Sigma Delta Chi chapter was held yesterday noon in the north conference room of Iowa Union with Lee Cochran, director of the University of Iowa visual education department of the extension division, as guest speaker.

Mr. Cochran spoke to the group on "Publicity Films For Educational Uses." He told of the history of such films as originated by private manufacturing concerns and how commercial publicity agencies later took them over.

The speaker also told how the national government has taken an active part in similar educational films and concluded with the activity of schools, colleges and universities in the educational film manufacture and distribution field.

In explaining the latter, Mr. Cochran told of his own work and connections, outlining the costs, uses, distribution and service to Iowa schools and organizations as well as out-of-state schools and professional groups.

One of Intellectuals Of Indian Socialist Party in India

Madame Kamala Devi, the foremost woman political leader of India, will speak on "New" India at the graduate college lecture Wednesday at 4:10 p. m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Direct from India, Madame Kamala Devi will tell what is really happening in that land of 370 millions. Unhindered by censorship, she can speak authoritatively on India's position in this war.

As one of the intellectuals of the Indian socialist party, Madame Kamala Devi has a tremendous following in India. During her political career, she has been unanimously elected general secretary to the All-India women's conference, and twice re-elected to that office.

She recently represented India at the congress of women's international alliance at Copenhagen, Denmark, and is now a member of the All-India congress committee that is shaping the destinies of millions in India.

Goes on Stage
Versatility of interests marks this leader outstanding in her country. Madame Kamala Devi has the distinction of being the first Indian society woman to take to the stage, opening a new career to the women of India. She has also appeared in the Indian cinema, in addition to lecturing on Indian painting, music, and the dance.

Reputedly a vigorous and fluent writer, her articles are much in demand by the press.

Born in Mangalore, India, this dynamic Hindu lady received her education there and completed it later in London. Since that time she has travelled extensively in Europe, studying the new movements in the arts of the theater, as well as the labor movements.

Speaks in England
At the outbreak of the war, Madame Kamala Devi was in England, where she addressed numerous British audiences including a group composed of members of the House of Commons. Her visit there was interspersed with long interviews with the Marquess of Zetland, secretary of state for India, Sir Stafford Cripps, and Sir Arthur Greenwood, at that time leader of the opposition in the House of Commons.

Commenting on Madame Kamala Devi, Sir S. Radhakrishnan, Spalding professor of eastern religions and ethics, Oxford, has said, "... She has the intelligence to think and the eloquence to transmit great ideas to her hearers. I hope she will have responsive audiences in America."

In the interests of her country, Madame Kamala Devi has lectured on "India and the War," "What is Gandhi's next move," "The Indian Women Awake," and "The Renaissance in India."

Students in all colleges except the college of medicine must register for the second semester during the week of Jan. 22 to Jan. 27, inclusive, Registrar Barnes said. Medical students will register from Jan. 29 to Feb. 3, inclusive.

Registrar Barnes urged that students secure their registration materials as soon as possible after they are made available. The materials, including instructions for registration, may be obtained in these places.

Graduate students— Saturday, Jan. 20, graduate college office, University hall.

Liberal arts and commerce students— Saturday, Jan. 20, registrar's office, University hall.

Professional college students— Monday, Jan. 22, offices of the respective deans, except medicine which will be handed out Jan. 29.

Farm Group Reports Gain In Members

Jefferson Leads Local Townships In Farm Bureau

Jefferson township has reported the largest gain in Johnson county membership with 1500 per cent over last year's mark in the annual farm bureau membership drive, Emmett C. Gardner, county agent, announced last night.

Other counties reporting a large increase in membership include Scott, Pleasant Valley, Penn, Madison, West Lucas, Lincoln, Graham, Fremont, Clear Creek and Cedar.

Several townships reported a larger membership now than at any time last year, he said.

Members of the organization are arranging a party on Jan. 31 for the members and their wives who have paid their membership dues, the county agent said.

Because of the inclement weather most of the meetings scheduled for last night were postponed until a later date, he announced.

Today Three Groups Plan Meetings

ORDER OF DEMOLAY for Boys and the Order of Rainbow for Girls will install new officers at a public ceremony at 7:30 in the Masonic temple.

PYTHIAN SISTERS new officers will have a special meeting at 2:30 in the K. of P. hall.

OLD GOLD THETA RHO Girls will meet for a special session at 2 o'clock in the I.O.O.F. hall.

How To Be Terrifying! Karloff, Bela Lugosi Can Even Scare People In Broad Daylight!

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13 (AP) — Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi, knights of the cold chill, have become so closely identified with macabre movies they can say "boo" in broad daylight and still scare people.

That's their line of reasoning, anyway, in making "Black Friday." They aren't even bothering about eerie effects and strange costumes, and they'll work almost without make-up.

"Black Friday," says Karloff, is the horror picture to end horror pictures. Ten persons get done in, and an eleven narrowly escapes a ghastly death. Karloff, a surgeon, converts a mild-mannered professor, played by Stanley Ridges, into a dangerous criminal by means of a brain operation — and the story carries on from there.

But Karloff won't be wearing the hideously deformed features of his apprenticeship days. Instead he gets horn-rimmed spectacles and a gray wig which make him look dignified, distinguished and downright handsome.

"It's a long way from my 'Bride of Frankenstein' days when I had to suffer the tortures of the damned by working with one hand encased in liquid cellophane so that it would look shriveled," says Karloff.

"But if I can still frighten people this way, so much the better."

Second Kiss Deanna Durbin To Get Double Order

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13 (AP) — Deanna Durbin, kissed for the first time on the screen in her last picture, gets a double order of the same in "It Happened in Kaloha," her newest film.

"Maybe," said a director, hopefully, "the picture will be just twice as good."

The two kisses won't mean as much as the first one did, however. Although Deanna will have a more mature hair dress and 28 wardrobe changes — more even than the well-dressed Kay Francis who plays her mother — her kisses will all be in the line of duty.

They will be exchanged with lanky, sprawling Lewis Howard, as part of the rehearsals for a summer theater play.

New Detroit Police Head Dismisses Next in Command

DETROIT, Jan. 13 (AP)—Police Commissioner Frank D. Eaman, appointee of Detroit's new mayor, Edward J. Jeffries, created a sensation tonight by removing his next in command, Superintendent Fred W. Frahm, on charges of "neglect of duty."

The removal order, developing in connection with a mystifying robbery case involving the disappearance of two detectives, was followed immediately by Frahm's announcement of his resignation. His removal had been technically a suspension.

Just before Frahm's removal Chief of Detectives John A. Hoffman, for 28 years a member of the police department, had asked to be retired because of "inferences of improper conduct" which he said Commissioner Eaman had made to him.

BIGGEST R. F. C. LOAN TAKES WATER WEST

Nearing completion is this great aqueduct designed to carry a billion gallons of water daily from the Colorado river to Los Angeles, 340 miles away. The huge water ditch starts here at Parker reservoir in the midst of desert and wasteland at the boundary of California and Arizona and cuts across the whole width of southern California. To build it, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation extended loans of $207,000,000 to the metropolitan water district of Los Angeles; the project is now more than 95 per cent finished. This is the R. F. C.'s largest single financed transaction, but the corporation also makes loans of only a few hundred dollars or less to small business concerns and extends aid to financial industrial transportation and other enterprises of every kind.

Iowa's Public School Enrollment Dropping About 10,000 A Year

DES MOINES, Jan. 13 (AP) — A drop in the number of "replacements" totalling about 10,000 pupils a year, the state public instruction department disclosed today.

In the 1938-39 school year, the report showed, 508,160 kids trooped off each morning for a whirl at education.

In 1937-38, the happy-go-lucky army numbered 519,150. In the 1936-37 year the bells rang at recess time for 528,764 youngsters. Modern peak was the 1931-32 depth-of-the-depression enrollment of 555,341. The trend has been downward ever since.

Jessie Parker, Iowa superintendent of public instruction, fixes the responsibility for the decline on "population trends and the depression."

William Bioff

Gov. Henry Horner of Illinois has requested of Gov. Culbert Olson of California that William Bioff, Hollywood representative of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Machine Operators, be returned to Illinois to explain how he has managed to evade serving a 1922 jail sentence for pandering. Meanwhile, a federal indictment charging income tax evasion has been returned against Bioff in California. Bioff has declared he will vigorously fight any move to extradite him.

Ships---

west journey to the north-south routes.

The fact that the cargo carried by American ships is about as heavy as before the war does not necessarily mean that the same number of American ships are profitably in service, experts said. On some routes, ships are carrying heavier loads than before the war.

And officials of the national maritime union declared that the sailor finds less chance for a job these days.

"I don't think I could say the guys are starving on the beach," a union official explained, "but the boys are feeling a real pinch."

Lays Off Pinch Purves
Unemployment among seamen, he explained, is spread through the whole corps of ocean-workers. Instead of a group of workers being laid off for keeps as happens when factories close—each seaman finds the wait between ships longer—and the pinch on his pocketbook worse.

Shipping experts seem agreed that the effect of the neutrality law's ban on American boats in the trans-Atlantic service has not been as serious as was expected when the act was passed.

This may be explained partly by statistics compiled by C. Griffith

Johnson Jr., of the commerce department, which show that only nine per cent of America's ocean-going tonnage was engaged in trade with ports in Europe and the Mediterranean. Many Mediterranean ports, of course, are still open.

Care for Stranded Seamen
When the president stopped American ships from visiting ports of warring nations, federal agencies prepared to take care of stranded seamen. The WPA set aside 5,000 berths on its relief projects and the maritime commission offered to take 100 licensed officers and 1,000 unlicensed men into its training school.

Coast guard officers, in charge of the maritime school, said a crew is keeping the steam up at Gallop's island, Mass., and "we've got the coals there ready." But there haven't been enough seamen to warrant using the post. The 100-odd seamen who have entered the school so far have been sent to the regular quarters in New York.

Likewise, the WPA set aside 3,000 jobs for seamen in New York City and other jobs in half a dozen coastal cities but found the demand for relief among seamen far less than expected.

Union officials declare, however, these figures are no indication of the real need among seamen. One estimated that between 2,500 and 3,000 men were unemployed as a result of the neutrality law.

"The seaman doesn't want to go on WPA," he explained. "He likes the work he was trained for, and he's not anxious to swing a pick and shovel. He'd rather take his chances standing in line for a ship."

When the relief was offered, the union protested against the "high-handed attitude" of the maritime commission, declaring the union had been ignored in making plans for a school which might become a "scab" training ground.

It protested, too, the restrictions which it said WPA set up around its proffer of jobs.

4 Democrats, 3 Republicans Seek Renomination to Office

Four democrats and three republicans, currently holding county offices, announced their intentions yesterday to be candidates again at the time of the June primary elections.

The democrats are Sheriff Don McComas, County Auditor Ed Sulek, County Clerk R. Nielson Miller and Dr. George Callahan, coroner.

Republican candidates will be Earl W. Webster, chairman of the board of supervisors, County Treasurer W. E. Smith and County Recorder R. J. Jones.

Frank J. Krall, a member of the county board of supervisors, said yesterday he would not be a candidate in the forthcoming election. Krall's term on the board is concluded this year.

The oldest candidate is Sulek, who took over the county auditor's job 20 years ago. McComas began his duties as sheriff Jan. 1, 1931, and before that he was a member of the Iowa City police force.

Miller has been clerk of the district court since 1936. Smith took his office as county treasurer in 1933. Jones took his recorder job at the same time. Webster's present term expires in two years.

Settlement Expected In Labor Dispute

Meeting Is Scheduled Early This Week To Patch Differences

Final settlement in the labor dispute between local building trades council and Iowa City Light and Power company officials over the status of workmen employed by Smith and Berger, contractors at the light company's expansion project at Coralville, was indicated last night in an announcement by C. J. Faltinson, building trades business agent, that a meeting of union and company officials will be held early this week to patch up the differences.

First sign of an agreement was evident Thursday when the union ceased picketing in front of the light company's downtown offices and Coralville project.

Friction began several weeks ago when the trades officials demanded 100 per cent organized labor at the Coralville project, charging that the contractors had hired both union and non-union men.

Soon after picketing started, Everett Tompkins, head of the truck drivers division, ordered the one truck driver off the job. The four electricians also employed at that time also left their work, leaving all non-union workers, Faltinson said.

Dr. A. Woods Will Speak

To Explain 3-Reel Film at Vespers of Congregational Church

Dr. Andrew H. Woods, director of the Psychopathic hospital, will be the speaker at the weekly vespers service held tonight at 7 o'clock in the First Congregational church, the Rev. Llewelyn A. Owen, pastor, announced yesterday.

Dr. Woods, former vice-president of the Lingnan university in Canton, China, will speak in connection with a three-reel film depicting the growth and life of Yenching university in Peking, China. The unusual thing about Yenching university was termed by the Rev. Mr. Owen as the continuation of a peaceful policy even though situated in the midst of war and destruction since July, 1937.

This Chinese university, whose enrollment of 982 students is far above normal capacity, provides work, medical care and food for 2,500 individuals each year, the Rev. Mr. Owen said. Every member of the university's staff has consented of a 10 per cent salary cut in order to continue aiding destitute families, he said.

2 Accidents Involve Over $100 Damage

Two traffic accidents involving over $100 damage were reported to the Iowa City police yesterday.

The first occurred on U. S. highway No. 6 near the Log Cabin filling station south of Coralville at 2 a.m. when an automobile driven by R. Kenneth Jones, 107 Grove street, skidded into a ditch while he was trying to negotiate a sharp curve while going south. The damage to his car was estimated at $75.

At 8 a.m., vehicles driven by Bob Beck, 503 Grant street, and George Boyd, 415 Fifth avenue, collided at the Oakland and Court street intersection. The damage to the Beck machine was set at $31 and that to the Boyd machine at $7.

Ayres is again seen as the sincere young doctor and Miss Day as the nurse in the fast moving detective-medico drama. Lionel Barrymore plays the veteran Dr. Gillespie.

'JUDGE HARDY, SON' NOW AT ENGLERT

Latest Family Series Finds Andy Hardy An Amateur Detective

Tender heart interest, comedy, thrills and poignant drama mingle in a gripping blend in "Judge Hardy and Son," latest of the Hardy family series, now showing at the Englert theater with last times Monday. The new story, laid entirely in the home town of Carvel, sees Andy Hardy turn amateur detective to help his father in a foreclosure case. It involves him with three pretty girls and consequent hilarious complications with his sweetheart, Polly Benedict.

Then the mother of the family is stricken by illness. It is feared she will die. Andy turns from boy to man, inspires his father with a new courage and turns her to pilot his sister across a raging flood to his mother's bedside. The mother recovers. Andy manages to extricate himself from the girl complications in his life and emerges triumphant and with the white tuxedo he had so long wanted.

New Kildare Film To Open Tuesday

"The Secret of Dr. Kildare," with Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore, flashes on the screen at rapid pace next Tuesday at the Englert theater. The scientific detective romance in which Ayres, as Dr. Kildare, employs detective work to solve the weird terror of a beautiful heiress, guided by Lionel Barrymore as the veteran Dr. Gillespie, is the third in the popular series.

Principals include Lionel Atwill, Nat Pendleton, Sara Haden, Samuel S. Hinds, Emma Dunn, Walter Kingsford, Grant Mitchell, Alms Kruger and Robert Kent.

'DESTRY RIDES AGAIN' COMING TO STRAND

Marlene Dietrich, James Stewart Star In Universal Attraction

A new Marlene Dietrich, vastly improved and bearing little resemblance to her previous appearances except in glamorous beauty, returns to the screen when Universal's "Destry Rides Again" opens at the Strand theater Wednesday.

Miss Dietrich's almost startling transformation features a picture notable in many other respects, chief among these being the presence of James Stewart, one of the screen's foremost male stars, who plays the title role opposite Marlene.

Together they head what is probably the greatest cast ever assembled for a western epic type of picture. Such prominent favorites as Mischa Auer, Charles Winninger, Brian Donlevy, Irene Hervey, Una Merkel, Warren Hymer, Allen Jenkins, Samuel S. Hinds, Billy Gilbert and many others are included in the list of players.

Tribute To Producer
The task of combining this important talent into a comedy-drama filled with action and spectacle has been expertly done by producer Joe Pasternak, the man responsible for all the Deanna Durbin and Gloria Jean successes. "Destry" was directed by George Marshall, a veteran of many great western pictures of the past.

● Jack Lester gets his first meal under the self-imposed diet: quarter of a raw cabbage, one and a half frankfurters, three slices of rye bread, half a pat of butter, glass of skimmed milk.

● Waiters had a difficult time eluding the hungry dieters when they passed with great trays of American delicacies.

● George Stribling gave up on the eighth day, went on a meat-eating jag to regain the five pounds he lost.

● All experimenters "weighed in" at the beginning of the stunt. Here's Henry Mayo on the scales, with Instructor D. Mitchell Cox checking up on him.

Lamps for the Oil of Gandhi

In direct response to an appeal from the great Indian leader, Manindra Guha, University of Chicago chemist, has invented this new lamp which will burn Indian vegetable oils instead of kerosene. With this device, Gandhi will reduce lighting oil imports from England.

Maps and History Books are Helping U.S. Collegians

... to understand the European fracas that has them debating the rapid-fire developments in world diplomacy and war. Typified in this photo of Mills College's Mary Lane is the collegian's active interest in world affairs—world affairs which they hope to fathom by a faculty-directed study of the past against the ever-changing pattern of present maneuvers.

"426 Pounds of Fun"

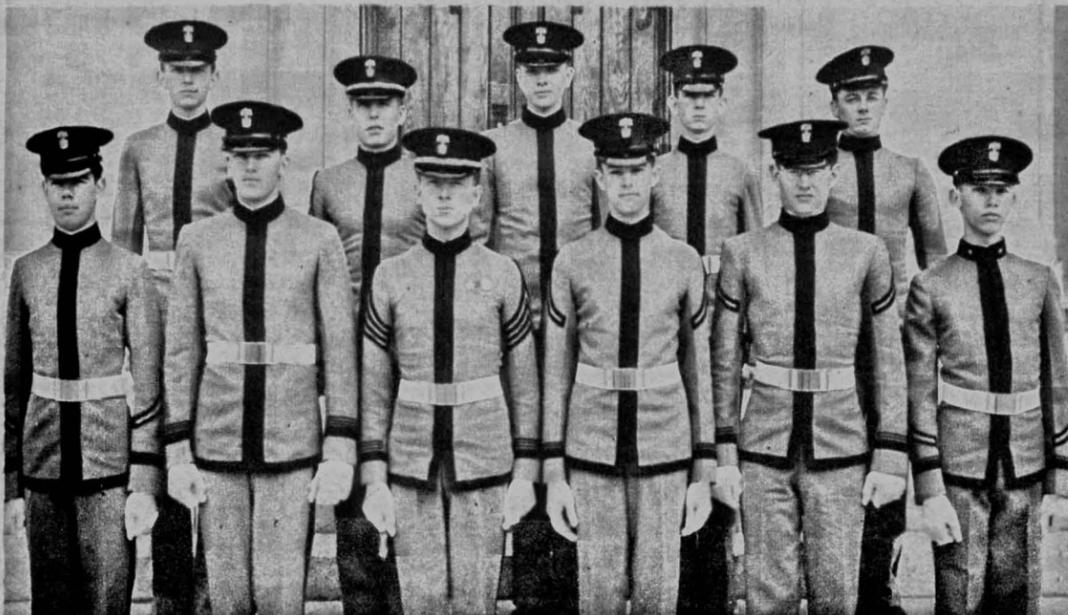

That's what Hattiesburg (Miss.) State Teachers College students say about Freshman Theron "Fatty" Lynd, who's taking a bit of a caning from Joe Stringfellow.

Yes, Sir, the Faculty Took Directions

Turn about is fair play, say Northeastern University students, so they've produced a play with teachers as actors and undergraduates as directors. Instructor Sydney Bloomfield and Dorothy Leeper (of Simmons College, for Northeastern is not co-ed) are shown in a scene from "Post Road."

Collegians Like "Big Names"

And Because They Do, Campus-Visiting Celebrities Do Their Best to Please Their Admirers —As These Exclusive Photos Prove

● Cinemactress Ann Rutherford made dates with five collegians from as many colleges when she was in the nation's capital. The photographer caught her dancing with John Smith, Georgetown senior. Photo by Zaloom

● "Wow!" says hot-cha Martha Raye as she listens to a bit of campus gossip from Gil Petersen, Ohio State Sigma Nu. Dates with "big names" are always sought by collegians, often are made as a result of a dare by fellow-students. Photo by Miller

● When name bands appear on the campuses, dancers usually crowd the bandstand to watch the musicians. No exception was the appearance of Duke Ellington and his orchestra at Ohio University. Collegiate Digest Photo by McConaughy

● Professional yokel Judy Canova was the queen of the senior ball at decidedly un-yokel Columbia University in New York City. Collegiate Digest Photo by Fondiller

● Campus actresses like to receive the advice of professional stage people, and Edna Evans of Catholic University got a lot when she interviewed William Gaxton, "Leave It To Me" star.

● Celebrities, whenever possible, are interviewed by students over the radio. Here's Wisconsin's Jay Goldberg putting the questions to Bandman Tommy Dorsey. Collegiate Digest Photo by Altman

● Broadway stars Abbott and Costello, like many other stage and radio celebrities, often are called on to pick campus queens. Here they are introducing their campus king and queen selections at College of the City of New York. Collegiate Digest Photo by Levitt

● Collegiate song writers always collar visiting musicians to audition their latest tunings. Ace trumpeter Henry Busse is giving a listen to a tune by William Freed and Herbert Vonhof, Lehigh University students.
