CANADIAN PARLIAMENT DISSOLVED

Showdown Looms in Fight For Control of Rumanian Oil

Germany Threatens Violence if Demands For Oil Are Not Met

BUCHAREST, Jan. 25 (AP)—Germany and the allies appeared heading for a showdown today in their battle over Rumania's vast petroleum resources, with Nazi envoys reported to have told the Rumanian government that it must supply more oil to the reich.

The German envoys were said by a high authority to have declared that an increased supply of Rumanian oil is "a matter of life and death" and that Germany would be compelled "to seek other methods" if Rumania fails to ship it of its own accord.

As this veiled threat was disclosed, the influential Turkish newspaper "Republik" predicted that the nations of the Danube and Balkan areas would go to war against Germany or Russia at the least sign of aggression by either in southeastern Europe.

"Republik's" editorial, which appeared as General Maxim Weygand, commander of foreign forces in the near east, arrived at Ankara for conferences with Turkish leaders, added:

"We know that not only will the western democracies (France and Britain) be with us, but also the entire world."

The German demand for additional Rumanian oil caught the Bucharest government between two fires. Only two days ago France and Britain warned her against forcing British and French companies operating in the country to produce oil for shipment to Germany.

Gets $75,000, Plus Advice For Inquiry

Ickes Tells Rep. Dies To Resign, Save Public Faith in His Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Rep. Dies (D-Tex.) received from the house today a $75,000 appropriation for new investigations by his committee on un-American activities, and from Secretary Ickes the advice to resign so that "public confidence" in the committee would be restored.

Soon after the house voted new funds for the committee without debate and without dissent, the interior secretary loosed at a press conference a blast of criticism of the committee's past methods in which he said that Dies ought to relinquish the chairmanship.

The committee, Ickes asserted, had failed to give accused persons the right to appear in self defense and to cross-examine accusers, and in consequence had lost public confidence.

Lutherans Condemn Sending Diplomatic Delegate to Pope

CHICAGO, Jan. 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt's appointment of a diplomatic representative at the Vatican was condemned by the National Lutheran council today as a "violation of the best American traditions and contrary to the fundamental principles of the separation of church and state."

The resolution was adopted at the 22nd annual meeting of the council, which has the support of some 7,000 Lutheran churches in the United States.

It followed a report of a committee assigned to a study of state participation in religious matters.

Nazi Sub Output One Every Day

Germany To Increase Sea Warfare Rapidly Under New Program

BERLIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—An excellently informed source said tonight that Germany's submarine construction program has reached the stage of one built every day.

This source said the first group of submarines built under this high pressure program now is completed.

Officers and crews will need about four weeks' practice before going on regular duty, he asserted, and thereafter submarine warfare will be increased "by leaps and bounds."

Surface Craft Not Neglected

Although submarines constitute Germany's chief weapon at sea during this war, the reich is not neglecting her surface craft.

It is understood that the Von Tirpitz and the Bismarck, 35,000-ton battleships (five are believed planned) are almost ready to be commissioned.

Weyer's naval almanac mentions still another ship of this class, the battleship "H." Many believe this ship is the one for which Adolf Hitler has reserved the name "Deutschland."

Deutschland Returns

The 10,000-ton pocket battleship Deutschland's return home after five months of raiding merchant shipping was announced today, along with disclosure that Hitler had ordered her renamed the "Luetzow" so her old name could go to a mightier man o'war.

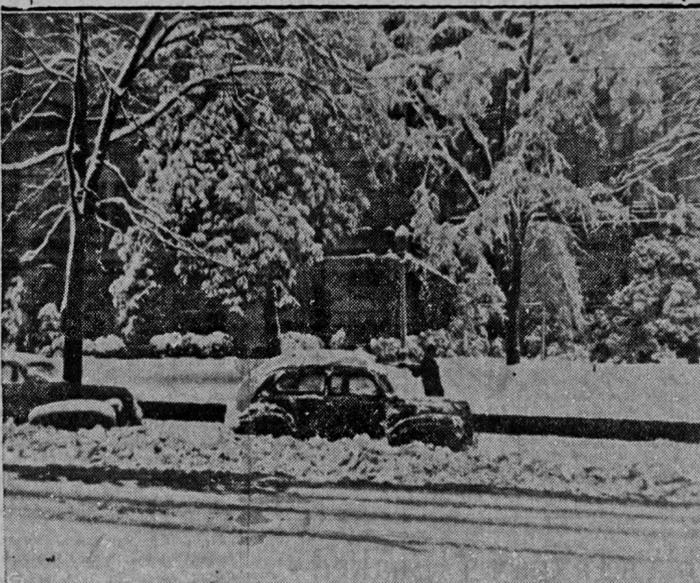

In addition, a 40,000-ton flagship is reported to be under construction, to be named for Frederick the Great.

Authorized sources said the safe return and exploits of the erstwhile Deutschland, sister-ship of the scuttled Admiral Graf Spee, demonstrated that Great Britain "is not complete mistress of the seas."

Course Secret

Her feats were not recounted in detail. That she participated in the sinking of the British armed merchantman Rawalpindi, in which nearly 300 lost their lives, was not denied. On the other hand, it was not officially confirmed.

SNOW, VERY UNUSUAL, BLANKETS SOUTHERN AREAS

Here's how Atlanta, Ga., was blanketed with an unaccustomed snow cover following one of the worst snowstorms in years. Atlanta's fall, nine and one-half inches, set a new mark for the city. The picture was taken in front of the capitol building.

Mannerheim Line Withstands Continuous Russian Offensive

Finns Report Utter Failure Of Red Drive

Soviets Marooned After Day, Night Of Relentless Assault

HELSINKI, Jan. 25 (AP)—Relentless assaults by Russian armies, all day and all night across the lakes - stained snows and frozen bled on the flank of the Mannerheim line, were reported by Finnish military authorities tonight to have failed utterly to relieve large Russian forces trapped and harassed from every side near Kitela.

These forces are cut off almost entirely from communication with their main armies, and the impression grew in Helsinki that Finnish strategists are on the verge of another coup such as the one which brought destruction to two Russian divisions on the Salla front.

Even the reported importation of fighters from the Asiatic Soviet snowlands—in the hope of achieving a great victory by February 23, 22nd anniversary of the establishment of the Red army, failed to crack the Finnish defenses in the furiously contested sector north of Lake Ladoga, or to bring help to the marooned divisions.

Additional hundreds of Red army troops were left dead on the battlefields northeast of Lake Ladoga, terse official reports said.

After a tremendous all-day battle in the stubbornly contested Aittojoki sector, the Russians spent all night sending wave after wave of troops against Finnish lines at Kollaanjoki. The Finnish high command said the Aittojoki attacks were thrown back with "heavy" Red army losses; the Kollaanjoki assault was smashed at dawn today with several hundred Soviet dead and three tanks destroyed.

Britain Prepares for Intensified Warfare in Belief Reich Will Try To Cut Her Overseas Supply Lines

LONDON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Britain today prepared for intensified warfare in the belief that Germany planned sharper air attacks in an attempt to sever the United Kingdom's overseas supply lines to match the allied naval blockade.

On land: The government ordered 23-year-old men to register Feb. 17 for military service and with them men who have attained their 20th birthday since the last class was called. The order will affect about 250,000 men; it was expected they would be called to military duty about mid-March.

In the air: The royal air force said in a communique it was developing "countermeasures" to deal with the expected increased air attacks by Germany on British supply lines. It kept secret their nature but in connection with the communique it was recalled Britain recently announced development of long-range fighter planes as bomber escorts.

At the same time the defensive "balloon barrage" was being extended still further. It already stretches along 700 miles of coast. While Britain is seeking to better her air defenses, the royal air force praised existing safeguards by stating the current "full" in German attempts to raid the coast was due to the efficacy of British anti-aircraft batteries.

Cold Spell Will Remain Indefinitely

East, South Suffer Under Top of General Subnormal Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Piercing cold kept the majority of North America's millions under heavy wraps yesterday.

Sub-zero temperatures were common throughout the midwest. Most of the east and the bulk of the south remained under the big top of freezing weather. The Pacific coast received a dash of rain and snow. Recent snows covered the entire United States with the exception of the south Atlantic seaboard states, a fringe of territory along the gulf and the far west.

No general break in the subnormal spell was sighted. Ice 10 inches thick filled the Ohio river at Cincinnati while a huge gorge formed downstream. Zero—or worse—was forecast for most of the valley.

Cold May Fade Temporarily

DES MOINES, Jan. 25 (AP)—Iowans looked forward tonight to at least a little relief from the bitter cold that has engulfed the state the last two days.

Temperatures hovered near the zero mark over much of the state this evening, bearing out a weather bureau prediction that it would not be quite so cold during the night. Slowly rising temperatures were forecast for tomorrow, but the bureau warned against expecting too much in the way of relief.

Communist Flag Irks Convention

Red Banner Unfurled Over John L. Lewis During UMW Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 25 (AP)—An uproar disrupted the United Mine Workers' convention today when someone—now sought by police—unfurled a huge red communist flag above John L. Lewis in the midst of a speech by the C.I.O. leader.

Scores of startled delegates in the crowd of 5,000 jumped to their feet, shouting:

"Tear it down, tear it down." A squad of men dashed into the loft above the stage from which the flag was lowered and removed the banner while delegates milled about the convention floor muttering angry protests.

The incident occurred in the midst of a nation-wide broadcast (NBC) commemorating the 50th anniversary of the union's founding.

Lewis, president of the U.M.W., never saw the flag and calmly finished his speech despite a growing confusion. Then, learning the cause of the disturbance, he ordered delegates to their seats and said:

"It appears that someone has tried to perpetrate a most cowardly, reprehensible and dastardly trick. No one can regret this more than a delegate of the United Mine Workers."

"I was unable to see, but I was told it was a communist flag."

"There are no communists in the United Mine Workers of America," he almost shouted, and the delegates arose and cheered.

Lewis explained the U.M.W. constitution prohibited a communist from belonging to the organization and asked that police investigate "and enforce the law" on the person responsible for the incident. A squad of police began an inquiry.

As the hammer and sickle hung above his head, Lewis said in his commemorative speech:

"The United Mine Workers of America is an American institution. It has but one flag, and that is the American flag, the stars and stripes, and the United Mine Workers of America in the future, as in the past, will do as much or more to protect that flag and the free institutions that flourish under that flag as any cross-section of the American citizenship or anyone else who may proclaim their patriotic principles."

Iowa School Board Thinks Shower Baths For Girls Immodest

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Jan. 25 (AP)—Spray may fly again tomorrow night when E. V. Gustafson, Council Bluffs school board member, turns on another deluge in his campaign against shower baths for girl students.

Gustafson, who opposes showers, he says, both because they are immodest and unhealthful, has promised to have a delegation of fathers and mothers at the board meeting to support his stand.

The board discussed the subject briefly Tuesday but adjourned until tomorrow. Principal G. W. Kirm of Abraham Lincoln high school recommended that the present four showers be increased to 12, but no action was taken.

Polk County Liquor Case Opens Today

Inquiry Rises From Statement Exchange Of Curtis, Herring

DES MOINES, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Polk county grand jury opened its "Herring-Curtis" liquor investigation today by listening to three hours of testimony from one witness, Chairman M. L. Curtis of the Iowa liquor control commission.

County Attorney Francis Kuble said afterward the jury had completed its examination of Curtis, "for the time being at least."

The probe grew out of several exchanges of statements between Senator Clyde L. Herring, a democrat, and Curtis, who is a republican.

Herring started it by declaring a boost in the state liquor store's price scale had resulted in the shipment of contraband liquor into Iowa "by the truck-load."

Curtis retorted that the state store prices were still below those of surrounding states and that liquor smuggling was no worse than it had been when Herring was governor.

The liquor chairman, however, did say in a later interview that "an enormous amount of cheap liquor is being hauled into Iowa."

He said he had information that three "large outfits" were operating in Des Moines and that one of the bootleggers was reported to have brought 200 cases of illegal liquor to the capitol city in one month.

Kuble entered the picture with a grand jury investigation after Herring asserted his sources had indicated that Des Moines was the destination of substantial illegal liquor shipments. The county attorney has attempted to get Herring to disclose the names of his sources of information but to date the Polk county official has been unsuccessful.

Awaiting their turn while the jury heard Curtis' story behind closed doors were Liquor Commissioners Dick R. Lane and Bernard E. Manley and Commission Secretary Julius Jensen. They were requested to return tomorrow.

Leader King Calls General Election

Continued Attack Against War Policy Reason for Action

OTTAWA, Jan. 25 (AP)—Under continuing attack for alleged failure to push Canada's share of the empire war effort, the government of W. L. MacKenzie King decided suddenly today to call a quick general election and proclaimed the dissolution of parliament at the end of a one-day session.

Parliament was dissolved at 6:07 p.m. C.S.T., a few hours after the election decision was announced in the traditional speech from the throne. The date for the election will be set shortly. MacKenzie King indicated it should be over before the end of March, one reason being the possibility of "heavy fighting" on the western front by spring.

Cites Lincoln Example

The premier laid the greatest stress, however, on efforts of his political opponents to "create distrust of our patriotic effort." In support of his decision to hold a wartime election he cited the example of Abraham Lincoln.

"As I was prepared to trust the people to decide on the question of peace or war, so I am prepared to trust the people to decide what government is to carry on the war," he told the legislators.

No sooner had the prime minister spoken than Dr. R. J. Manion, the conservative leader, renewed the attack on the government's war activities.

"The government has handled the war effort in a most disgraceful manner," said Dr. Manion. "It should have been prepared years ago for a war which had appeared inevitable."

He charged the government had called up one division without clothes, boots or equipment and that one British Columbia unit had crossed the nation in winter wearing cotton uniforms and underwear. Many of the men wound up in the hospital, Manion said.

Dr. Manion also charged it was "unscrupulous politics" to call parliament together only to announce an election and try for a "snap decision" from the people.

Without Precedent

The dissolution, coming as it did four hours after the eighteenth parliament had opened its sixth session only to hear there would be a general election, was without precedent in Canadian history.

Lord Tweedsmuir, the governor general, signed the dissolution order.

MacKenzie King made no bones about blaming his position on "political opponents who are seeking to undermine every effort that is put forward by this administration."

Speaking before the house of commons after the election announcement had jolted the parliament at the very start of its session, he declared the voting should be over before the end of March, at least three months earlier than is usual.

Safer Driving But Not Safer

DRIVING on Iowa's highways, apparently, is becoming safer but, paradoxically, not safer.

Reports from the Iowa department of public safety in Des Moines released yesterday show some interesting trends in what happens on the roads of the Hawkeye state.

The toll of fatalities and accident injuries in December, as compared with the same month of 1938, the reports showed, was reduced. There were 15 fewer deaths during last month (56) than in December 1938 (74). A total of 965 were injured last month, as compared to 1,053 a year ago.

Well and good. But accidents caused by drinking, according to the department, nearly doubled in 1939 over the 1938 figure. "Two hundred eighty-six accidents in which the driver had been drinking were reported last month," the report said, "compared with 148 such cases in December, 1938."

An analysis of the report, according to the department, showed that "most frequent cause of smashups was failure of the driver to give the right-of-way to the car entitled to it. The report shows 370 accidents caused by such 'road hogs.' Second principal cause was driving on the wrong side of the highway, and third was failure of the driver to stay at a safe stopping distance behind the preceding car."

"Of December's 1,531 accidents, 1,200 occurred on straightaways, and 501 of the total occurred at intersections with other highways."

"Studying the figures, one thing above all is apparent," Paul Hill, head of the education division of the public safety department, commented. "The bulk of the accidents are caused by carelessness, recklessness, road-hoggingness, and lack of plain, common courtesy of the road. If all drivers would be cautious, careful and courteous, we could cut our highway fatalities and injuries in half. All drivers simply must become 'safety conscious' before we can make real headway — but when that day comes we should be able to reduce our present accident totals to a fraction of what they are today."

Which would appear to be a pretty fair summary of what's wrong with Iowa drivers.

But encouraging signs may be found in the department's report. It remains for Iowa drivers to make them even more encouraging.

A Plan For Peace

In the face of the world's wrongs we wonder and wait for a plan for peace.

It is, therefore, deeply gratifying to find a group . . . international, interdenominational, . . . who speak as aptly as the Y. W. C. A.

With a simplicity that is profound, they have said:

OUR PURPOSE

"We unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God."

"We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people."

"In this task we seek to understand Jesus and follow Him."

There is not a word in these short sentences that is not packed with powerful significance. Here, in these simple sentences, is a plan for peace:

"We unite . . . and follow him."

The Chinese And The Invention Of Printing

Just about 500 years ago, the forerunner of our modern printing came to be, and celebrations throughout the country this year will honor Johannes Gutenberg, whose early 42-line Bible appeared around 1450.

But we are reminded by a number of sources, chiefly in a late leaflet from Columbia University Press, that while it's all well and good that we should honor Gutenberg and the invention of printing in Europe, we shouldn't forget other periods of printing which evolved much earlier than Gutenberg's publications — in fact before Christ's time—in other parts of the world.

Thomas Carter has made an important contribution to the earliest history of printing in his "The Invention of Printing in China and Its Spread Westward."

We are reminded therein that not only did the Chinese invent paper for printing, but that that race printed from seals some 200 years before the birth of Christ.

"In the year 175, even," the Columbia Press publication points out, "they were engraving on stone and pulling a form of lithographic print from it—rubblings, they were called. This was at the golden time of Marcus Aurelius, and the beginning of the cultural darkness that descended upon the Europe that we call the source of our civilization."

Ink was also in the possession of the Chinese before the time of Christ.

"The forerunner of printing in Europe, as Gutenberg established it," writes the Press, "was block printing—it began about 1400. In China it began about 770. There is extant a printed book The Diamond Sutra, which was printed in 868; in 1049 Pi Sheng had invented movable type—furthermore, the Chinese had type made of tin in the 12th century. In 1390 the king of Korea ordered the establishment of a type foundry. He got his first font of type in 1403. The earliest extant book printed with movable type in Korea was issued in 1420."

So it may be well, in our celebrations this year of the invention of printing, while we hail the name of J. Gutenberg and his early European press, we keep in mind the Chinese, who also had a bit to do with the art of printing which has knitted life as we know it today into a unified whole.

Astronomers report innumerable new spots on the sun. It appears Old Sol is wearing polka dots this season.

Berlin residents are told to cut down on the number of baths they take. The country, it seems, is already in enough hot water.

British Columbians report seeing a sea serpent. Must be true, because it's nearly three weeks since New Year's.

Census takers wonder how they'll be able to count the millions who live in auto trailers. That's easy — forbid the sale of gasoline for one week.

Russia may attack Balkans—headline. Any excuse just so you can get that army out of Finland, eh, Joe?

A nice job for a detective would be for him to discover what became of that war Egypt was going to wage against Germany.

CLIPPED FROM OTHER COLUMNS

THE JAPANESE TREATY

The State Department took a position yesterday when it rejected a Japanese proposal for an exchange of notes regarding the situation that will be created by the expiration of the Japanese-American trade treaty on Friday. When our Government, last July, gave the necessary six months' notice of its desire to terminate this treaty, it had two purposes in view. It sought to express American disapproval of Japan's course in China and it sought to gain a free hand for the future. Both these purposes are as desirable today as they were six months ago. Japan's policy in China has not changed; we would blunt the edge of our disapproval of that policy if we consented now to an exchange of notes that would serve in effect as a substitute for the expiring treaty. There is also the question of a possible embargo on the shipment of war supplies to Japan. At present a difference of opinion exists among Americans themselves regarding the wisdom of imposing such an embargo. But we can all agree that it is desirable to keep the complete freedom of action in this matter which we shall gain with the expiration of the present treaty.

Having made certain concessions recently to American trade in the Yangtze Valley, the Japanese Government is said to be puzzled by the unwillingness of this country to pretend that nothing has happened and to proceed promptly to negotiate a new agreement. If the Japanese Government is really puzzled, it can only be because it has failed to understand the real reasons for our disapproval of its policy. We are not primarily concerned with the position of American traders in the Yangtze Valley or anywhere else in China. We are primarily concerned with the joint responsibilities of Japan and the United States under the Nine-Power Treaty, by which both countries pledged themselves "to respect the sovereignty, the independence and the territorial and administrative integrity of China" and "to refrain from taking advantage of conditions in China in order to seek special rights or privileges." Japan has deliberately, wantonly and brutally violated that pledge. She will regain the respect of the American people only when she begins once more to observe it.

SLIGHT DETOUR ON THE ROAD TO WASHINGTON

District of Columbia's Taxpayers Soaked—Yet Are Orphans Without Voice in City Rule

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Columnist

If ever there was a friendless orphan the District of Columbia is it. Washington is one of our country's biggest cities. On a population basis it doesn't quite class with New York, Chicago or Philadelphia. Nevertheless, because it's our national capital, it has interests that perhaps are more important than theirs. It pays corking high taxes. It must, for the reason that so large a proportion of its real estate and buildings are federally owned, and therefore are tax free. It's as if New York, for instance, were to start off by saying, "About one-half of this municipality's property is tax exempt. Consequently the other privately owned one-half must be socked twice as hard, to pay running expenses."

The capitol, the senate and house offices, the White House, our various departmental headquarters, the Washington monument, Lincoln memorial, etc., etc., are assets. They attract tourists and benefit local hotels and sight-seeing agencies. But they don't help the average taxpayer much. And the D. C. taxpayer hasn't a vote, as to his local management. The lowest resident of Potomac has his own city council. He has a voice as to the housing of his police department, as to his fire department, as to the cleaning of snow off his sidewalks. He has something to say about it if these details are bungled or neglected. Washingtonians are as helpless as any German is under Hitler or any Russian under Stalin.

TUNING IN with D. Mac Showers

- RUMOR—... that a popular dance orchestra now playing in Chicago will be on the Iowa campus come Feb. 16 for the annual Commerce Mart. The men in the commerce college always seem to do pretty well by a band. Don't get your hopes too high, though—I don't think it's Orrin Tucker. It's also rumored that another university party committee is trying to sign Phil Spitalny and his all-girl orchestra for a campus social event. I'm skeptical about the success of that musical group for a dance, but general campus opinion has it that it'll go over big. FRANK MUNN, . . . tenor singing with Abe Lyman on the weekly "Waltz Time" program tonight at 8 o'clock over the NBC-Red network, will sing "Angel" and "When You Wish Upon a Star." THE CHORUS will offer "The Singing Hills" and "Love, Here is My Heart." The orchestra will play "Diane," "Waltz of the Flowers," "Where Was I" and "Wedding Dance." PAT O'BRIEN . . . and James Cagney, stars of the new Warner brothers picture, "The Fighting 69th," will present an air version of the screen play on the "Kate Smith Hour" over CBS tonight at 7 o'clock. The musical portion of the program will star Kate in her songs and will feature the Ted Straeter singers, Jack Miller's band, Comedians Abbott and Costello and Parker Fennelly and Arthur Allen in a "Snow Village Sketch." WILL BRADLEY . . . and his orchestra will be presented on the CBS "Young Man With a Band" program tonight at 9:30.
- "FATHER DUFFY" . . . is the part played by O'Brien in the drama. His work as chaplain of the famous New York regiment in the World war brought him the lasting affection of those with whom he was associated. CAGNEY will play "Soldier Jerry Plunkett" in the scenes from this drama of the battlefields of France and dedicated to the meaning of faith in peace and war. JOHNNY GREEN . . . and his orchestra will play "Smarty Pants" with a piano solo by Green, "Valse Huguette" and "Confucius Say" on the "Johnny Presents" program tonight over CBS at 8 o'clock. "Tip-Off Murder" is the exciting title of the dramatization by Max Martin to be presented over the program under the direction of Jack Johnstone. THE SWING FOURTEEN . . . will sing their exclusive vocal arrangement of "Do I Love You" and Floyd Sherman will solo on "My Prayer." PREDICTION—that Bob Chester and his orchestra will be one of the leading "bands of tomorrow." The group, now recording a little on Bluebird records, presents one of the most likeable styles yet. He'll be featured on an MBS "Show of the Week" program Sunday, Feb. 11.
- "Listen, America," which recently folded on MBS, is coming back as a cooperative show on the NBC-Blue network Feb. 11 with a different format. The show was previously heard on Sunday evenings from 5 to 5:30. A COMEDY, . . . "The Man Who Wasn't There," will be presented on the "First Nighter" program over CBS tonight at 8:30. Lombardos Skate 1st Then 'On With The Dance'—Guy Owns Fast Motorboat, Too

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—It happens every night at precisely the same time and in the same way. It happens at nine o'clock, and it is always accompanied by a rush for a taxicab. It is simply that at this moment a group of young men rush out of the Roosevelt hotel, pile into a cab (last one in pays the fare), and hurry away to one of the city's numerous ice rinks. They skate for thirty minutes then shake off their skates, pile into another cab, and hurry back to the hotel. A few minutes later they are in their positions, and promptly on the stroke of ten one of them lifts a baton, and the dance is on. These are the Lombardo boys—Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians. They have a hockey team and play matches with semi-pro and amateur outfits. Being Canadians, they are surefooted as cats on the ice. Carmen Lombardo even has a rink in his yard, and all last week his daylight hours were spent in teaching the Filipino cook next door how to skate. He falls down so often the Lombardos call him the little man who wasn't there. There wasn't much skating for Guy during the recent motorboat show. He spent most of his time walking around the show rooms and climbing into and out of the newer models. The new one he ordered will make 87 miles an hour, which means he hasn't any further use for that big 57-footer he owns now. Hence that "for sale" sign in the ads. He also has a 35-footer that goes about 65 miles an hour, and he had another—a 38-footer, but that burned last summer. Ferd Browning, sports writer, reports finding evidence of some last minute instructions to a visiting friend in one of the elevated stations. This is the EI that runs through Queens, and as Ferd analyzes it, somebody on 40th street had given the wrong address to an expected visitor and was trying desperately to correct the error. Apparently telephoning had failed, so the fellow raced down to the Lowery street station and in foot high letters chalked this note on the side of the wall: "George, the address is 4787 40th street, and NOT 7487 as I told you." Whether George ever got there could not be ascertained. And now there is just time for that admirably original bum who was hauled into 47th street police station on a charge of picking pockets. They caught him with his hand in a man's overcoat pocket, and with much presence of mind the intended victim seized the offender and clamored for the police. "Guilty or not guilty," boomed the judge. "Your Honor," came the astonishing reply, "my hand was in this gentleman's pocket, but I wasn't really stealing. I'm on a Scavenger hunt and I was looking for a Canadian penny." There is, of all things, a cameraman in the village whose name is—Camara. His first name is Cesar and his address is No. 10 Sheridan Square. Due to improvements that have taken place in railroad safety, there was, on the basis of an equivalent volume of locomotive miles, one train accident in 1938 for every three in 1923.

Sir Christopher Wren laid the first stone of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, in 1675; 35 years later, his son, another Christopher, laid the last stone.

Before a full house, St. Mary's cagers laid their cards on the table and raked the pot away from St. Pat's, defeating the Irish by a final score of 43 to 20 in the old City High gym last night.

The Suppelmen started fast and hung up nine points before the Irish defense began to function. Regular smooth passing that afforded a number of set-ups characterized the Rambler play that turned the score board 2 to 12 against the Irish at the end of the first period.

In the second chapter the Shamrocks opened their offensive, but were unable to find the range of the net, "Red" Miller connecting only once from the floor. However, the Mariani came through with a withering counter attack led by "Flicker" Chadek that sent the Irish to the showers on the short end of a 25 to 9 halftime score.

The third canto opened with a fiery rally on the part of the Irish, but their defense was ragged and their range was bad. Nevertheless, they brought their score up six points and left the Ramblers panting, but still in the lead, 15 to 29, at the third gun.

Beginning the final round the Mariani slipped their basket machine into high gear and started a point collection that was ended only by the final gun, leaving the last at 43 to 20 for the Suppelmen.

Special honors for scoring went to "Flicker" Chadek and Bill Bock with 17 and 16 points respectively. Tall Paul Holland, last night's Irish spark plug, came in third with three field goals. Miller and Black both turned in commendable games, although Miller's basket eye was off. Eakes did an outstanding job at his guard post.

Armstrong Still Rates Montanez Victory Convincing Public Henry Is Great

By SID FEDER NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Out of the first showing of the bigger and better Henry Armstrong came the conviction today, even for the diehards among the ring critics and customers, that little perpetual motion definitely belongs among fistiana's greats.

Off his nine-round technical knockout over Pedro Montanez in the 15th successful defense of his world welterweight championship last night, the chief impression left with the faithful, of whom there were 19,157 in Madison Square Garden, was that this new, heavier and deadlier punching bizzaw had definitely proved his right to a niche in the right game's hall of fame.

One old-timer, sunning himself along Jacobs' beach, put it this way: "If there is any fighting man within 10 pounds of Armstrong around today capable of whipping him, then he hasn't registered with the census taker." A trifle slower, but pounds heavier—he scaled 139½—was still the same forward-moving leather pitcher, the little Los Angeles Negro was mightily pleased that the folks felt he finally had "arrived," but that wasn't the principal matter on his mind.

Second - Half Kickoff Yale Director Believes Elimination Will Decrease Injuries

By LOU BLACK NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 25 (AP)—The elimination of the second-half kickoff as a panacea for several of football's ills was recommended today by Widdy Neale, director of Yale's vast intramural sports program, after two years of experimenting.

Neale, one of the Ells' gridiron greats, reported the study revealed there had been marked decreases in the number of injuries and tie contests and impressive gains in scoring as the result of ridding the game of its "most dangerous play."

"While others have been debating the subject for years, we've been putting it to a practical test in our intramural games," said Neale, whose brother, Earle (Greasy) Neale, is assistant varsity football coach. "At the end of our 1938 intercollegiate season, during which 45 games were played, it was generally conceded that something should be done to eliminate the number of the games by increasing scoring opportunities," said Neale.

Kuhl Works With Regulars As Cagers Resume Workouts

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 25 (AP)—University of Nebraska's memorial stadium would seat 29 fewer people these days than it did last summer—and not because the seats are too cold for comfort.

Prof. Daniel H. Harkness of the civil engineering department figured out the concrete stands shrink as much as four inches when the temperature drops to 15 below zero, as it did today. And that means there would be room for 29 fewer customers.

The athletic department is not worried. No sporting events are scheduled in 15 below weather.

Co. G. Marks Up 32-27 Win

Another thriller marked last night's activity at the community building as Co. G came from behind in the last three minutes of the game to whip the lead leading Miller's Trucker quintet, 32 to 27. The game was well played all of the way, with both teams trying to work the ball in for a setup rather than shooting from way out. The first half was rather slow, with the score tied at nine all at the intermission.

In the second half each team took more chances, and the Trucker through superior shooting were able to build up a 23 to 18 lead at the end of the third period. Co. G sifted through the Trucker defense in the closing minutes, and were able to score almost at will to put the game on ice.

Vic Belger was the scoring star of the evening, when he tallied 13 points for the winners.

Trainer Leaves Pitt PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Elwyn Dees, former football star of Kansas university, resigned today as head trainer of athletes at the University of Pittsburgh to take a similar position at the University of Nebraska.

Johnson To Try Comeback ROCKVILLE, Md., (AP)—Walter Johnson, the American league speedball king of other days, is going to try to comeback in Washington—as a congressman.

manager, Eddie Mead, had been planning on two more fights—one more welterweight defense, possibly against Al Davis, Brooklyn left-hook specialist, and then a try at Ceferino Garcia's California-New York portion of the middleweight throne. The Davis doings are a cinch to come off if Al can do an artistic job against lightweight king Lou Ambers here Feb. 23, and provided a slight difficulty with the law doesn't get any worse for the Brooklyn better. This difficulty came about when Al, "steamed up" over a ribbing a neighbor in Brownsville had been handing him for months, let fly a punch at the "ribber." This party of the second part went down and out, and had Al arrested for assault.

Unbeaten Blue Devils Meet City Hi Tonight

Hawklets Out To Upset Foe

Ready and willing to pull the big upset of their season, the Iowa City high basketballers bump into the powerful and unbeaten Davenport Blue Devils tonight at the new gym.

Davenport's outstanding record, which includes five conference wins without a defeat, doesn't seem to daunt the Hawklets in the least, for the way the boys have been drilling this week Davenport will be just another ball club. It's not overconfidence on the Little Hawks' part, just plenty of determination to play the best game they know how.

Williams Uses Center With Siegel, Prasse, Wheeler and Harsha

With Milt Kuhl getting a large share of the limelight, the University of Iowa cagers got back into the swing of things yesterday afternoon on the field house court. The elongated center from Ida Grove scored consistently against a picked squad of freshmen.

For the most part the practice consisted of a long drill on offensive ball handling tactics. Coach Williams used Vince Harsha and Erwin Prasse in the guard positions, Milt Kuhl, Kenny Bastian and Whitey Evans alternated at center, and Bill Wheeler, Vic Siegel, and Fred Hohenhorst shared the front court duties.

The next few days should find the Hawklets working very hard to iron out a few kinks in their offensive attack in order to keep pace with the South Dakota team which will appear here Monday night.

The South Dakota team which consistently turns out good teams is supposed to have a better aggregation than usual this year so last year's contest which the Hawks won in an overtime struggle.

Jock Sutherland To Confer With Owner Of Brooklyn Dodgers

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25 (AP)—Dr. John B. Sutherland, former football coach at Pitt, said today he expected to confer again early next week with Dan Topping, president of the Brooklyn professional Dodgers, regarding a proposal to coach the Dodgers next fall.

He said it had not been determined yet whether he would go to New York or meet Topping in Pittsburgh. The two met recently in New York and Topping said there today he expected to announce the club's new coach either next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Asked regarding reports that negotiations had broken down between him and Washington university on the coaching job there, Sutherland replied: "They haven't yet—not quite."

Bear Officials Fail To Adopt Alumni's Plan

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Post-Dispatch said today Washington university had declined to adopt a broad subsidization program for football players, proposed by a "downtown" alumni group.

Under this group's plan, the newspaper said, the university was to provide 50 full-time scholarships for the football squad and the alumni were to raise a fund of $20,000 for room and board for the athletes.

Jimmy Conzelman, head coach at Washington for eight years, resigned recently, reportedly because of differences with the graduate group over its effort to bring "big-time football" to the university.

Jacobs Offers Garcia Bout With Overlin

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs today offered Ceferino Garcia of Los Angeles, recognized in California and New York as the world's middleweight champion, a bout with Ken Overlin of Norfolk, Va.

The fight, over a 15-round route, would be held here March 29, and Garcia's title would be at stake.

Garcia won his title from Fred Apostoll, former San Francisco bellhop.

The offer was wired to George Parnassus, Garcia's manager, late this afternoon.

Suggest Finns Be Given Until '41 To Stage Olympic Games

By BILL BONI NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Based on a belief that Finland may work some sort of military miracle, the suggestion has been made to Avery Brundage, head of the American Olympic committee and U. S. representative on the international committee, that precedent be broken by giving the Finns a chance to stage the Olympic games in 1941.

Under I. O. C. rules, the games of the twelfth Olympiad must be held in 1940 or not at all. Still, the Finns spent some $8,000,000 on preparations, and there is a strong feeling that they are entitled to more of a return than simply being left with a "white elephant" of an athletic plant on their hands—especially since the 1944 games already have been awarded to London.

There are two additional reasons behind the suggestion for pushing the games back to next year. One is that reports from Helsinki so far indicate the athletic plant—the main stadium, in particular—has escaped damage in the Russian bombings. The other is the possibility that Finland might have something extra-special "up its sleeve," since its Olympic officials so far have taken no action to relinquish the Olympics.

Leading Candidate Just Bang, Bang Walker-Wright Bout

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—The quotation on Lew Jenkins, the sweetheart of Sweetwater, Tex., was up a couple of points today on the board listing leading candidates for Lou Ambers' lightweight championship.

It wasn't that the lean Texan with the rubber-band muscles defeated one Chino Alvarez at Dallas last night. It was the way he did it—that and a Joe Louis determination to wipe out an earlier defeat with as little filibustering as possible.

Just Bang, Bang It was bang, bang—three seconds by the clock, and Alvarez was down and out. Ordinarily such a quick ending would send the customers away gasping for fresh air, but all reports indicate Alvarez was not colder than a frosted pump handle.

A man who can win a bout with two punches, particularly a man in the lighter divisions, is a dangerous man in any ring even if he has to take two steps to get out of his own way, and Jenkins doesn't have to do that.

The knockout time probably is as close to a record as any. Unless a fighter got on his mark and started with the bell like a sprinter, it would take him a full second to get within throwing distance of his opponent. Figuring that it took Jenkins two seconds to get to his man, that left just one second for the knockout.

We never saw a bout end quite that quickly, although we saw Mickey Walker come close to being the victim of an abrupt affair. It was when the toy bulldog was touring about building a heavy-weight reputation on an overstuffed middleweight's frame.

Jack Kearns was cagily piloting him through the rocks and reefs of a miscellaneous assortment of trial horses, and he matched him with Bearcat Wright in Omaha.

Wright-Walker Bout Wright was a huge Negro with a peculiar fighting style. He'd advance with crouched body and forearms wrapped around his head until the only target was his shining bald pate. Some way or other he'd lash out with his arms quite unexpectedly, and as quickly be back in his shell peering out to see what had happened.

Anyway, on this particular night

Drake Track Coach Gets Stanford Job

DES MOINES, Jan. 25 (AP)—Franklin (Pitch) Johnson, who brought Drake university 10 Missouri Valley conference track championships, said tonight his appointment at Stanford is a "grand opportunity."

Johnson returned by plane today from the west coast where he accepted a five-year appointment to succeed William Ellington as Stanford coach effective next fall.

"I consider it a grand opportunity. At the same time I realize that I'm getting into the toughest track competition in the country. They tell me the material isn't too good for next year, but in a school like Stanford, where track is a tradition, I don't believe that's any real cause for alarm."

the cat hoisted himself from the stool at the opening gong, and lumbered across the ring with all the grace of a tanker nosing into port (don't get that "tanker" wrong).

Walker hadn't left his corner before Wright was on him, lashing out with a ponderous right which caught the amazed Mickey high on the cheek. He went down as if someone had sawed his legs from under him.

Kearns' face turned pasty, and his eyes seemed to be floating out in front of him. Cold beads of sweat hung on his brow as he shouted frantic instructions to the doll-eyed Mickey.

Walker took a count of four or five, got up, and danced his way to a clean decision, but if the Bearcat had lowered his sights an inch or two when he fired his first round, Mickey would have been another 13-second man.

Returning to Jenkins, he had lost to Alvarez about a year ago, and evidently his attitude toward the return bout was the same as Louis' attitude toward the return meeting with Max Schmeling.

A fighter who is convinced he can come back and exterminate a man who has beaten him, and then goes out and does it, is our kind of fighter. When he can move around and blast with two hands like the Sweetwater lad, he's acceptable in any company. Or maybe he's not acceptable in certain quarters. There's such a thing as being too tough.

First University Ice Carnival Starts at 8 o'Clock Tonight

Fancy Figure Skaters Plan Performance

Speed Exhibitions, Various Ice Races Will Be Performed

Complete plans were announced last night by Charles Kennett, university golf coach and manager of the university skating lagoons, for the University of Iowa's first ice carnival to be held on the skating lagoons north of University theater tonight at 8 o'clock.

Featured on the evening's program will be fancy figure skating by Gusti Glayson, Al of Iowa City, and Dorothy Keppler, local skater. In addition to these artists, there will also be a variety of ice races and exhibitions of speed and other figure skating, according to the program announced by Kennett.

For men skaters there will be several races of mile and half-mile lengths for which medals will be awarded the winners.

Skating will take place as usual on the lagoons with the evening skating period extending from 6:30 to 11 o'clock. Admission prices will be the same and season tickets will be honored as usual. Any skater will be eligible to enter the events sponsored as contests during the evening, the manager said.

Entries will be received by the management any time up to the starting time of the carnival. Entries may be phoned into the skating house any time during the day, it was also announced. The telephone number at the skating lagoon shelter house is university extension 8231.

Mr. Kennett also announced that the skating lagoons will be open tomorrow morning from 9:30 to 12 noon for skaters. Regular admission prices will stand for this extra skating period, he said.

The ice was completely flooded yesterday and a very fine surface now covers the entire lagoon. This flooding process covers and smooths over any cracks, cuts or other rough places on the lagoons.

Nash Will View War, Labor Party In Special Address

Arnold S. Nash, authority in the natural sciences, philosophy, theology and social studies, will speak Tuesday, Feb. 6, at 4 p. m. in the chemistry auditorium in a special lecture sponsored jointly by the college of commerce and the religious activities board.

Speaking on "The British Labor Party and the War in Europe," Mr. Nash comes as secretary of the Church of England Moral Welfare council.

Nash, one-time Tate Science Scholar at Liverpool university and research student under Imperial Chemical industries, was granted his M.A. degree on "Natural Science and the Problem of Theism."

Mr. Nash will be accompanied on his American tour by Mrs. Nash and their small son. While in Iowa City they will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Morgan, 230 Hutchinson.

Iowa Artists Will Exhibit In February

An exhibit of paintings by a group of Iowa artists will be open to the public during the month of February in the exhibition lounge of the art building at the University of Iowa, Prof. L. D. Longman has announced.

The head of the art department said the works by Hawkeye painters may be seen on any weekday or on Sundays from 1 to 5 p. m. The exhibition is one of a series planned for the year.

"Quality in Art" will be the subject of a gallery talk by Professor Longman on Sunday, Feb. 4, at 4:15 p. m. It was previously announced that H. W. Janson of the art faculty would be the speaker, but other events made the change necessary.

Brings Suit After Wreck

H. B. Pearson filed suit for $106.73 damages against A. T. Downey yesterday, charging the defendant with negligence and carelessness which allegedly caused the autos driven by both parties to collide one-half mile west of Springdale in Cedar county.

The petition stated that the expense of fixing the plaintiff's auto was $121.73, and an additional amount of $75 was asked for the "reputation" caused by the collision.

Messers, Hamilton and Cahill are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Noted Critic To Lecture

John Mason Brown To Review Current New York Plays

John Mason Brown, dramatic critic for the New York Evening Post, can lay claim to being one of the most popular speakers on the University of Iowa lecture program, if the number of appearances is any test of popularity.

The noted critic and writer will come to the Iowa campus for the fifth consecutive year when he speaks on "Broadway in Review" Feb. 1 in Macbride auditorium.

The lecture will be a review of all current plays in New York. He will not be able to appear at the usual Saturday round table on the day following the lecture, however.

Local Girl Scouts Plan Skating Party At Melrose Lake

Iowa City Girl Scouts will be entertained at a skating party at Melrose lake from 9 to 11 a. m. tomorrow. Admission will be by registration cards.

Supervisors will be Ann Fisher, Marian Chassel, Girl Scout director, and troop leaders.

Mrs. Omar Stauch Elected Secretary

Mrs. Omar Stauch was elected the new recording secretary of the University of Iowa Dames at their business meeting Jan. 17. She will take the place of Mrs. Hayes A. Newby, who is leaving for Rushton, La., Feb. 5.

The officers of the Iowa Dames are now Mrs. Donald D. Pettit, president; Mrs. Howard McLaughlin, vice-president; Mrs. Stauch, recording secretary; Mrs. Donald M. Swann, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Harold L. Reynolds, treasurer.

Miss Focht Moves Into New Office

A light walnut desk with a maple finish, green carpeting with a small all-over design, light flooding the northeast corner room from three windows, comfortable chairs and the welcoming smile of Helen Focht, counselor in the dean of women's office—this briefly describes Miss Focht's new office in the basement of Old Capitol.

Next door, in the old office, Miss Focht had a limited space, and the University Women's association council, which meets every Wednesday afternoon in her office, had a difficult time finding room around the conference table.

The U.W.A.'s growing library of books and magazines, carefully selected for their value in vocational and social guidance, required additional

Group To Participate In Annual Celebration For Robert Burns

The University of Iowa Scottish Highlanders will go to Sioux City tomorrow to take part in the annual Robert Burns birthday celebration held there by the Scottish society of that part of the state.

Thirty-six men will make the trip and take part in the parades through Sioux City streets, radio broadcasts and evening concerts to be presented by the band of bagpipers.

It is estimated that about 2,000 persons will take part in the day's activities honoring the famous Scottish poet. The Iowa Highlanders took part in the same celebration last year and proved such a success that the city council of Sioux City adopted a special resolution complimenting them on their fine appearances.

Concert Program
The drum and bagpipe unit, under the direction of Pipe-Major William L. Adamson, will entertain the Scottish convention with a concert program following a banquet in the evening. The program will begin at 8 p. m. and will include Scottish songs, music and dances.

Weather permitting, the Highlanders will parade through downtown Sioux City sometime during the morning, Pipe-Major Adamson announced.

The feature of the evening concert, the director said, will be six "lassies" dancing Scottish folk dances. They will perform the "Reel of Tulloch" as a special number and accompanied by 20 members of the band in doing the "Highland Fling."

Also on the program will be several vocal numbers by the Highlanders with James M. McGrew of Williamsburg singing the lead parts.

Novelty Dance
The program will include Frances Adamson's novelty dance on the drum head of the bass drum held high in the air by several Highlanders. A number by an instrumental ensemble accompanied by bagpipers will conclude the concert.

Two radio broadcasts over radio station WCJK, Sioux City, will also be included on the unit's program while attending the birthday celebration. The hours of these broadcasts have not yet been set, but they will be sometime during the afternoon, Pipe-Major Adamson said yesterday.

To make the day's activities complete, the entire band will make several recordings of Scotch numbers while in the city.

A. Sweeting Files Action

Asks $434 Judgment Be Returned Against Mutual Life Insuranc.

Arthur P. Sweeting filed a petition in Johnson county district court yesterday asking that a judgment be returned against the Mutual Life Insurance company for the amount of $360, compensation for injuries allegedly resulting from a fall on Dec. 27, 1938.

Sweeting also asked for refund of an annual premium amounting to $74.82 which was paid to the defendant March 5, 1939, after illness resulted from the fall, the petition stated.

According to the petition, the plaintiff has been unable to follow a gainful occupation since the accident, and has allegedly become totally and permanently disabled.

The firm of Messer, and Cahill are representing the plaintiff.

Social Security Act To Provide Benefits For Dependents Now

Editor's note: Every worker who has a social security account number should know how the recent congressional changes in the old age and survivors insurance provisions of the social security act apply to him or her. For the benefit of readers of The Daily Iowan, the social security board's field office manager for this area has prepared a series of brief articles, each explaining one point of the new provisions. Following is the 16th of the series.

Twenty-five out of every 10 persons who applied for social security account numbers last year were boys and girls under the age of 19. More than two and a half million workers under 25 applied for social security account numbers in 1938. Over half of these were men. Few of them perhaps realized that a social security account meant future protection for their families as well as for themselves.

Monthly Benefits

Under the amended social security act, the old-age and survivors insurance program provided supplemental monthly benefits for the aged wives and minor children of annuitants and for the survivors of insured workers.

Young workers under 25 have received credit on the records of the social security board for more than eight and a fourth billion dollars since the old-age program first went into operation Jan. 1, 1937.

Each worker in employment covered by the old-age and survivors insurance system must have a social security account number. This number serves to identify his individual social security account in which his earnings are recorded by the social security board.

Account Number

That is why it is important that every worker have only one account number so that he may report the worker's earnings correctly to the government.

The amount of the monthly check which a retired wage earner will receive will be figured on the basis of the wage credits in his social security account. The benefits payable to a worker's dependents or survivors are also determined by his wage record since these benefits are directly related to the amount of benefit due the wage earner.

Iowa City Firemen Answer Two Calls In Frigid Weather

Iowa City's firefighters were forced into the sub-zero weather twice yesterday morning.

At 5 a. m. they were called to the Rate apartments, 8 W. Burlington, to extinguish a fire in a coal pile. No damage was reported.

Three hours later they went to the I. C. Jacobs residence, 125 N. Van Buren, to extinguish a roof fire. Damage was only slight, firemen said.

All-Y Meetings To Be Held at Iowa Union Every Tuesday

All-Y meetings will be held every Tuesday at 4 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. office of Iowa Union, it was decided by the Y. M. C. A. council in a planning meeting last night in the "Y" rooms.

The first of the meetings will be Tuesday, Feb. 6, with Robert Intress, A2 of Eldon, chairman of the program committee, in charge.

The council will continue its policy of personal contact with members, in order to organize and conduct the group according to the best interests of the membership, the council decided.

The new council for the second semester of the 1939-40 year includes, besides Max Paige, A2 of Waterloo, president; Bob Elliott, A3 of Oskaloosa; Norman Warner, A2 of North English; Intress; Ed Wieben, A1 of Dyars; Ed Hoag, A2 of Freeport, Ill., and James B. Morris, A3 of Des Moines.

The group is advised by Dr. William H. Morgan, director of the religious activities office.

C. F. See Asks $1,800 Damages of J. Marak In Suit Filed Here

Christian F. See in a petition filed in the Johnson county district court yesterday asked $1,800 from John Marak in payment for damages and personal injury resulting from an accident which occurred four miles southeast of Ely on Dec. 7, 1939.

The petition stated that the defendant was negligent and careless in failing to stay on one-half the traveled highway.

The plaintiff asked $1,206.53 for injuries sustained from the accident plus an additional $593.47 for expenses for medical fees, loss of time from work and repairs on his car.

The firm of Perrine and Albricht are representing the plaintiff.

Gordon Churchill Files Divorce Petition In District Court

Gordon Churchill filed a petition in the Johnson county district court yesterday asking a divorce without alimony from Goldie Churchill, charging cruel and inhuman treatment.

The couple were married Aug. 8, 1931. They lived together in Lone Tree until last September, when the defendant left for California where she has established residence, the petition stated.

The law firm of Messer and Cahill is representing the plaintiff.

Melvin Smith Fined On Driving Charge

Melvin Smith was fined $25 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for six months in police court yesterday when he pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving filed against him.

American Legion Gives All-American Kinnick His Heaviest Prize

Nile Kinnick Honored With Live Porker

250 Iowa Citizens Attend Football, Baseball Dinner

By ARTHUR BELLAIRE Daily Iowan City Editor

Nile Kinnick, Iowa's all-American football star, who has squirmed out of 1,001 tight spots in his gridiron days, last night admitted he didn't know what to do next.

He had an 85-pound black and white Hampshire live pig on his hands and a host of brothers at his fraternity house licking their chops.

Two hundred and fifty from his own town, including the local Legionnaires who sponsored the dinner, crowded the American Legion rooms of the Iowa City Community building to glance at close range at the university athletic setup from the top on down.

The climax of the evening was Kinnick's talk—the same Kinnick who gave even the senators at the nation's capitol a lesson in public speaking. And last night's performance proved it.

After Attorney William R. Hart presented the pig ("Rose of Floyd-essdale") to Kinnick, and almost before the applause subsided, the No. 1 gridder of the nation put everyone at ease when he remarked, "It's great to whiff that cigar smoke again—reminds me of those New York nightclubs."

Eastern Trip
A few incidents of his trip to the east, an explanation of why he kissed a certain girl twice (Larry Kelley of Yale kissed her once, but Nile figured Iowa could have beat Yale) and an expression of more than mere thanks, exactly what his listeners wanted, filled his short talk.

Toastmaster at last night's banquet in honor of both the football and baseball squads of the university was Dr. George Mareah, commander of the Roy L. Chopek post of the American Legion.

As some dropped forks and others were downing their last corner of the piecrust, Roscoe Taylor, a member of the arrangements committee, led the group in the singing of the Iowa corn song and "On Iowa," both of which made even the worn-out piano in the corner sound in tune.

Introductions
In the wake of the last song echoes, Dr. Mareah presented E. G. (Dad) Schroeder, director of athletics. Schroeder introduced the coaches of the various departments of athletics, missing the head football coach and his backfield coach Dr. Eddie Anderson and Frank Carideo, both of whom were out of the city.

Prof. Karl E. Leib, chairman of the board of control of athletics, introduced the various members of his board.

Another athlete, Otto Vogel, baseball coach, rated second in speaking ability only to Kinnick. Jim Harris, line coach, told the secret of preserving a small squad of men from one week to another.

"We just wrapped them up in cotton Monday and removed it on Thursday."

Harris opined the team did its best work against Purdue both offensively and defensively in beating them 4 to 0.

Otto Vogel, coach of a championship baseball nine, touched his few words with humor but, without predicting another clean record for his boys, used names in his probable starting lineup in the spring.

He said the middle of the lineup, including the catcher's position straight into centerfield, will include men of experience. The flanks, he said, will be difficult to flank.

Kinnick's Problem
Attorney Hart gave Vogel, in addition to a Legion pin, a huge piece of paper that "tells you what you're entitled to in case something happens to you that you don't want to happen."

In Anti-Trust Case

Joseph P. Ryan

Charged with violation of the federal anti-trust laws, Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's union, an A. Rabbi Monroe Levens To Lecture Sunday
Rabbi Monroe Levens of Des Moines will speak on "The Nazarene," at the semester's first open meeting of the Hillel club Sunday, Feb. 4, at 8 p.m. in Iowa Union.

Rabbi Levens was to have presented the lecture January 14, but the snowstorm made roads impassable between Des Moines and Iowa City.

University Alumni Reveal Engagements, Weddings

Ruth Gilman Tells Of Engagement To Isidore E. Stillman

News has been received here of the announcements of the engagements, marriages and approaching marriages of several university alumni and former students.

Gilman-Stillman
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gilman of Davenport have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth of Milwaukee, Wis., to Isidore E. Stillman, also of Milwaukee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Stillman of New York City. No wedding date has been set.

Miss Gilman attended Augustana college in Rock Island, Ill., where she was prominent in the speech department. She holds the record in the Illinois Women's Oratorical league. A graduate of the university here where she received her degree in speech pathology, Miss Gilman is now teaching speech correction in Milwaukee.

Mr. Stillman is a graduate of the school of business administration of the College of the City of New York where he received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree. He is a certified public accountant and is employed as an internal revenue agent in the Milwaukee division of the United States bureau of internal revenue.

Clark-Murphy
The announcement of the engagement of Catherine Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Clark of Ottumwa was made at a dinner served in the Gold room of the Ballingall hotel of Ottumwa recently. The name of Miss Clark's fiance was revealed as William K. Murphy of New York.

Mr. Murphy, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Murphy of New York, was graduated from Columbia university and is a member of Delta Phi fraternity. He is now associated with his father in the Murphy Bed In-A-Door company.

Miss Clark was graduated from the Ottumwa high school and later attended the university here, where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority. She also attended Barnard college of Columbia university.

The wedding date has not been selected as Miss Clark returned to New York to complete a course at the Katharine Gibbs school.

McNeill-Fowler
At the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. H. McNeill of Monticello, Margaret McNeill became the bride of William D. Fowler of Rochester, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Fowler of Waterloo, Dec. 30. After the ceremony relatives and friends were entertained at a reception.

Mrs. Fowler is a graduate of Frances Shimer School for Girls at Mt. Carroll, Ill., and of the university here. Mr. Fowler attended the State Teachers college at Cedar Falls and later was graduated from the university. He is now associated with the Eastman Kodak company in Rochester.

Nyland-Carmody
The marriage of Violette Nyland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Nyland of Whiting, and Don R. Carmody of Whiting, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carmody of Davenport, took place Jan. 6 in the Sacred Heart church at Whiting. After the ceremony the guests were served breakfast.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Miami, Fla., and Cuba, and on their return will be at home in Whiting.

The bride was graduated from the Whiting schools and from Purdue university. The bridegroom is an alumnus of St. Ambrose college and received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the university here. He is a chemist in the Whiting laboratories of the Standard Oil company.

Baxter-Denmead
Maxine Baxter, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Cecil J. Baxter Jr. of Burlington, and David Thatcher Denmead of Ft. Dodge were married in the First Methodist church at Ft. Madison, Dec. 20.

The bride attended Burlington junior college and is a graduate of the university, where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Denmead attended Pomona college in Pomona, Cal., and is a graduate of the university. Mr. and Mrs. Denmead left for Washington, D. C. after the wedding. They will also visit in Atlanta, Ga., and other southern states before going to Chicago where they will live.

Jones-Uthoff
Graceland chapel at Graceland college, Lamoni, was the setting for the candle-light wedding service of Hazel Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Jones of Lamoni, and John H. Uthoff of Iowa City, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Uthoff of Mt. Vernon, Dec. 17. After the ceremony guests were entertained at a reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Uthoff were graduated from the university here. Mrs. Uthoff is vice-president of the state home economics association, and is head of the department of home economics at Graceland college. Mr. Uthoff is a member of the Beta Gamma Sigma honorary fraternity and is an accountant in the Administration office of the university here, where the couple will live.

Goughnour-Sheldon
Harriett Enid Goughnour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Goughnour of Maxwell, became the bride of Frank R. Sheldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Sheldon of Eldora, at the Congregational church in Ankeny Dec. 9.

After the ceremony guests were entertained at a reception. The couple then left for Minneapolis and after their return will be at home near Eldora.

The bride is a graduate of the Grinnell high school and Grinnell college, and since has taught at Albert City and Gladbrook. Mr. Sheldon is a graduate of the Eldora high school and the university here. For the past several years he has been an accountant in Minneapolis, but he is now operating his farm near Eldora.

Eric Wilson, Elizabeth Ritson Wed at Chariton Yesterday

Couple Will Reside In Iowa City After Short Wedding Trip

In a single ring ceremony yesterday at 4 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Ritson in Chariton, their daughter, Elizabeth A., became the bride of Eric C. Wilson, son of Mrs. Charles Bundy Wilson, 4 W. Park road. The Rev. Paul Hicks officiated in the presence of 25 guests. Attending the couple were Mary Ritson, sister of the bride, and Ron Tallman of Iowa City.

The bride wore a cocoa brown crepe afternoon frock with elbow-length beige gloves and a small beige and brown flowered hat with brown veiling. Her accessories were brown, and her shoulder corsage was of gardenias.

Her maid of honor wore an old rose crepe frock with black accessories. Her corsage was of callias and irises.

Guests from Iowa City at the ceremony were the bridegroom's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Tallman and Eric C. Wilson Jr.

Mrs. Wilson was graduated from the Chariton high school. Since that time she has been employed in New York City as secretary to Ray Murphy, general manager of the Association of Casualty and Objections were voiced Saturday by the Iowa conservation commission contending that destruction to Lake Macbride park would result from a backup of water from Iowa river.

The local trades group, backed by others throughout the state, has argued that damage would be only slight and that at least half the $6,000,000 would be paid to local labor.

Governor Wilson, after his interview with the local building trades group, said he would consult the attorney general and learn his power in the subject.

Modest? Publicity Man Fails To Give Story

One news story about a member of the university administrative staff was almost not revealed to the press because the publicity man was too modest.

Eric Wilson, editor of the University of Iowa news service, was the shy publicity man and the story was that of his own wedding.

Yesterday Mr. Wilson wrote his stories for release to the newspapers of Iowa and then departed for Chariton where he was to marry Elizabeth Ritson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ritson.

Either modesty or excitement caused him to omit the story of his own marriage, but his staff, who remained at the office, sent it out anyway.

Surety Executives.
Mr. Wilson is a graduate of Iowa City high school and the university. Since his graduation he has served as editor of the University of Iowa news service.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home Jan. 29 at 231 Golfview.

Labor Group Predicts 5,000 Signers in Favor of Dam

Clarence Stoewer, president of the Iowa City Building Trades council, said last night that several hundred names have already been attached to petitions now in circulation about the town asking a governor's veto to objections to the $6,000,000 Coralville dam project.

He predicted that 5,000 names would be signed to the requests by this week end.

It was not determined last night whether the local committee that visited Governor George A. Wilson last week would hand him the petitions in person or mail them.
