Balkan States Will Remain Individualists

Divergent National Interests Halt New Attempts at Unity

BEGRAD, Yugoslavia, Feb. 3 (AP)—The four members of the Balkan entente—last surviving European alliance for the defense of small nations—recognized tacitly tonight that each one must look individually to big powers to keep them out of Europe's war. Sources close to the Yugoslavian, Rumanian, Turkish and Greek delegations to the entente conference here confirmed that their foreign ministers, meeting in a two-hour session today, found their national interests too strongly divergent to permit extension of their anti-Bulgarian pact to save them collectively from the warring big powers.

Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu of Rumania, Sukru Saracoglu of Turkey, Alisander Cincar-Markovic of Yugoslavia and Premier General John Metaxas of Greece were understood to recognize frankly the impossibility of making any important decisions whatsoever at this conference.

Even the Yugoslav-Rumanian plan for "economic neutrality" was understood to have petered out to mere "suggestions" which each nation might adopt if it wished. Speaking at a banquet closing the conference, Gafencu repeated Rumania's belief that Hungarian and Bulgarian differences with Rumania could be settled in a "suitable form of regional agreement" including those two powers and the four Balkan entente nations.

"National Territory" He declared, however, that the entente manifests its right to "national territory." This was interpreted as meaning such a regional agreement would not entail territorial revision—basic demand for Hungarian and Bulgarian consent to negotiate.

Both Hungary and Bulgaria have refused consistently to consider any negotiations except directly with those powers upon whom they have made territorial claims. Both Gafencu and Cincar-Markovic paid tribute to "Italy's efforts to maintain peace in southeastern Europe." Neither speaker mentioned any of the belligerent powers.

The way the eyes of the large powers are focused on the conference was shown in Moscow by the assertion of Pravda, communist party organ, that Great Britain, France and Italy have selfish designs in the Balkans, seeking through "increasing diplomatic intrigue" to build up a new war front against Germany.

Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri and Wisconsin are included. "Vegetables," one of the most recent paintings by Prof. Grant Wood of the university art department, is on display. Other Iowa artists represented include Joseph Funk, Marvin Cone, Dan Rhodes, and Byron Boyd.

Paris 'Indignant' Over Japanese Attack On French Railroad

PARIS, Feb. 3 (AP)—Government spokesmen voiced "indignant surprise" today at reports that Japanese warplanes had bombed a train on the French-operated Kuning-Hamoi railway in southwestern China and said the matter would be "taken up" at once with Tokyo.

Five Europeans were reported killed in the bombing, which destroyed 100 yards of track and wrecked a bridge over which the train was passing. Most of these victims were believed French, although details were lacking.

Garner May Be Alone In Florida Race

Indications Prevail That Other Candidates Will Remain Aloof

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Vice-President Garner likely will stand alone as an open bidder for the Georgia delegation to the democratic national convention. Following Garner's announcement that he would enter the Georgia primary, if one were held, there were plentiful indications today that other candidates would remain aloof. The Garner announcement was interpreted by some as an effort to force other potential candidates, including President Roosevelt, to declare their intentions.

Friends of Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) said he had decided definitely not to submit his name in Georgia, which is known as Mr. Roosevelt's "second home." Well-informed persons said that Paul V. McNutt, the social security administrator, democratic chairman James A. Farley and Secretary Hull also would stay out.

New deal forces are reported to oppose having a primary in Georgia, and to hope that an unopposed delegation favorable to President Roosevelt will be selected by the state committee. Washington politicians divided attention between the Georgia situation and the scheduled Monday meeting of the democratic national committee.

The committee is expected to select a site for the next convention, and may choose a convention date. There has been some talk, however, that a subcommittee may be appointed to choose the date after the republican national committee has fixed a time for the G. O. P. convention. The republican group will meet Feb. 16.

Nazis Lose Three Planes In Sky Tilt

Admiralty Report That Bombs Sank 14 Ships

LONDON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Britain's royal air force, fighting to protect her vital sea lanes from Germany's bomb blockade, today shot down three Nazi warplanes in the fiercest air battles over England since the war's start.

Late tonight it was reported that a fourth German bomber had been damaged so badly that it "probably did not reach home."

British observers estimated that at least a score of German bombers joined in the wave of attacks on British and neutral shipping up and down 400 miles of the east coast.

Admiralty Silent The admiralty late tonight had "nothing to say" regarding the reports by DNB, official German news agency, that 14 ships—including nine merchantmen, four British patrol boats and one minesweeper—were sunk during the day.

Survivors of one plane attack—the 629-ton Norwegian freighter Tempo—landed with a story of having been both bombed and machine-gunned by three Nazi planes. At least four of her 14 crewmen were known to have died.

The British airman's reply to the third German attack within a week on the island kingdom's food supply lines coincided with a fighting talk by War Minister Oliver Stanley, his first since joining the cabinet last month.

To Call More Stanley called upon Britons to fight "until Germany's threat as a military power is laid forever." His speech was followed by authoritative predictions that 24-year-olds would be registered in April and called up for military service in May.

This would add approximately 250,000 more men to Britain's armed forces which Prime Minister Chamberlain said Wednesday had reached more than 1,250,000 troops under arms.

Classes 20 to 22 years of age already have been conscripted into service and 23-year-olds are due to register Feb. 17.

Reich Reports Sinking 14 British Ships

BERLIN, Feb. 3 (AP)—The German official news agency reported tonight that far-ranging Nazi air raiders today sank 14 ships in a blazing climax to a week of mass attacks on British and neutral shipping. Three Nazi planes were destroyed.

The day's reported toll made a total of 32 ships—23 merchantmen, eight British patrol boats and one minesweeper—which the Germans said have been sunk in the aerial forays which began last Monday and have ranged the entire length and breadth of the North Sea.

The Germans said all the sunken merchantmen were either armed or convoyed. (They have contended that all such ships were subject to attack.)

Stamp Plan Advances

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The agriculture department went ahead yesterday with plans to expand the stamp system of distributing surplus food among the needy.

Bombs Spell 'Terrible Finnish Punishment'

F. R.'s Name May Be On Illinois Ballot

14,000 Sign Petition To Enter President In State's Primary

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 3 (AP)—Petitions to enter President Roosevelt in the Illinois presidential preference primary were filed today, but they afforded no answer to the moot question of whether the chief executive would seek a third term.

The unheralded action was taken by Chicago democratic leaders shortly after Thomas E. Dewey entered the primary and his state spokesman challenged other republican contenders to get into the race.

The petitions for Mr. Roosevelt, bearing 14,000 signatures, were brought to the office of Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes. They shed no light on the president's intentions, however, because they were not accompanied by the customary signed statement of candidacy.

Hughes predicted the president's name would be printed on the ballot submitted to voters in the April 9 primary—one of the earliest in the nation.

He concluded that a signed certificate—required by law from candidates for nomination or election—would not be necessary in the preferential referendum because such a vote is purely advisory and does not bind delegates to the national conventions.

However, he told reporters that the question of placing Mr. Roosevelt's name on the ballot would be decided officially at a meeting of the state certifying board early in March.

Roosevelt Silent On Illinois Petition

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Feb. 3 (AP)—A terse "no comment" was the only reaction at the temporary White House today to word from Springfield, Ill., that petitions had been filed to place the name of President Roosevelt on the Illinois democratic advisory primary ballot.

Budget Cuts Have 'Little Significance'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Despite deep cuts in President Roosevelt's spending requests, Senator Glass (D-Va.), a leading economy advocate, said today that there was little chance for "any substantial reduction in the total budget."

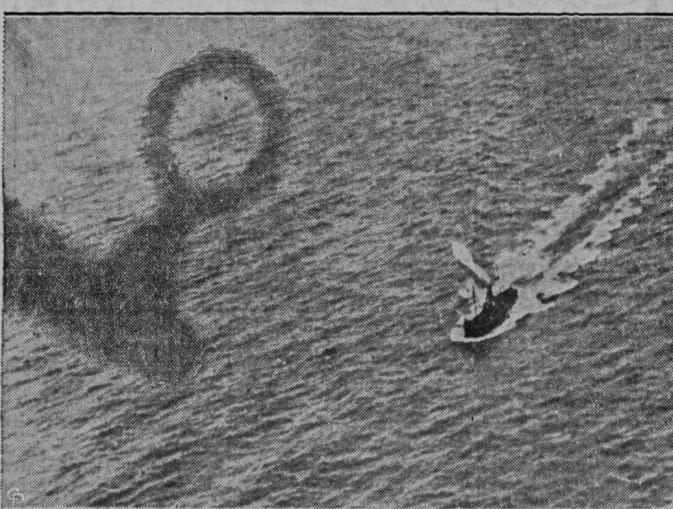

The 82-year-old Glass, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, told reporters that "people like to spend money too well—especially when they are spending other peoples' money."

While Glass was talking, the senate farm bloc was organizing for an attempt to add hundreds of millions to the house-approved $722,001,084 farm bill, and Glass said it was unlikely that the house figure could be retained. Besides restoring some house reductions, the senate farm group wants to add at least $200,000,000 for parity payments.

The house measure, providing money for the fiscal year beginning July 1, was $66,928,435, under the president's budget estimate and $378,339,231 below the funds available for this fiscal year.

Despite pressure from farm leaders, the house stood by many cuts suggested by its appropriations committee. Before approving the bill late last night it added about $89,000,000 for sugar benefit payments and for activities of the rural electrification administration.

Professor Mable is the director of the Anderson production, which will open Feb. 20. It is scheduled to run six performances. "Probably," said Professor Mable, "there will be two shows on Saturday."

Nebraska Students Seek New Method To Stop 'Cribbing'

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 3 (AP)—"The Gateway," Omaha university student newspaper, sought today abolition of the "honor system" for examinations and substitution of a "policeman technique."

An editorial charged "never to our knowledge has cribbing been so much in the open as during the last two weeks (examination period). As long as grades are at a premium we object to this persistent gypping."

Dean Edgar A. Holt greeted the editorial with praise, adding "recently evidence of cheating has come to light, and we are taking steps to remedy the condition by watching classes more closely."

'War Must Continue,' Says Stanley

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, England, Feb. 3 (AP)—Giving a blunt answer to advocates of peace negotiations, War Secretary Oliver Stanley declared today that the war must go on to end forever the power of Germans to inflict upon the world the misery which twice in our life they have done.

Vehement in his first speech since taking office, Stanley said that a halt now would bring "no lasting peace but only a troubled truce," with "no assurance for the present and no security for the future."

"Within a few months, at the most within a few years," he said, "we should find we had not won peace but had sacrificed victory."

Britain, he said, is ready to "grasp with both hands at a peace which is both secure and honorable," but only victory can assure such an end to the conflict. Stanley singled out Gen. J. B. M. Hertzog, former prime minister of the Union of South Africa, as one of the advocates of peace and an "apologist" for Adolf Hitler.

Labor Board 'Ouster' Plan Wins Support

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—A proposal to relieve the national labor relations board of umpiring CIO-AFL disputes over employee representation won a qualified endorsement today from board chairman J. Warren Madden.

Justifying before the house committee investigating the board, Madden said that this suggestion by Dean Lloyd K. Garrison of the University of Wisconsin law school should have the committee's "most careful study" and might have in it the solution congress would want to adopt.

Under Garrison's plan, Madden said, the two labor groups would have to work out a basis on which they could "live together" before coming to the board for settlement of disputes with employers.

78 Planes Attack One Finnish City

Mannerheim Attacks, Air Raids on Rail Center Order of Day

HELSINKI, Feb. 4 (Sunday) (AP)—Finland's most terrible punishment by bombs in a little more than two months of Russian invasion was reported early today, with a total of 78 planes raiding one city alone and many other cities suffering deadly raids.

First estimates of Saturday's victims said at least 50 were killed and 100 wounded in the south half of Finland, but that was before the 78 planes, in three waves, made an evening attack on Kuopio, the second of the day.

Kuopio, a railway city of some 10,000, is located in the great lake country of middle Finland. Mannerheim Attacks While these raids were going on, big guns of the Red army shelled the Mannerheim line from one end to the other, after two days of direct attack had been broken on the battlefield of Summa.

In a raid earlier in the day, 30 people had been killed at Kuopio. Casualties from the second raid were not known, for the populace was huddled in air raid shelters far into the night.

Three Finnish fighting planes fought a fleet of 20 Soviet bombers in a spectacular air battle over Kerava, near Helsinki, late in the day. The Russians dumped all their bombs and turned on their machine-guns. Residents of the town came out of air raid shelters to see one Soviet bomber fall and the others turn tail and run.

Chapel Bombed

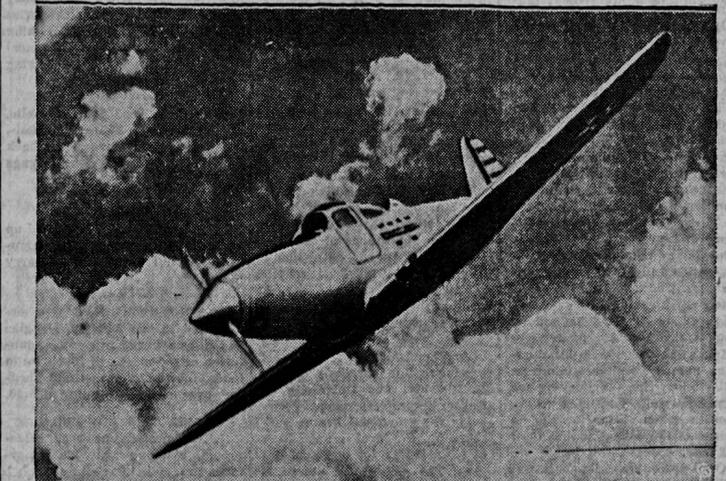

Ten people were killed when a 16-plane Russian squadron bombed a chapel at Siensajoki.

At Pori, on the southwest coast, there were many dead and wounded. Several others were killed at Viipuri, main target of the Red army's Mannerheim line drive, and heavy damage was inflicted.

Sallajoki, Lovisa and Kotka also were raided. Thirty-six planes set aflame the little city of Kerava, 20 miles north of Helsinki, while the mad music of the air raid sirens howled in the ears of capital residents.

Authorities said the raids were as extensive as those of the previous day, when 400 Russian planes were counted over Finland.

ARMY'S NEW FOUR HUNDRED-MILES-AN-HOUR PLANE

Here is the new high speed fighting plane which will become one of the major units of the United States army air force. The plane, shown in test flight above, can develop speeds exceeding 400 miles an hour. It dives at 700 miles per hour. The plane, called the Airacobra, carries a cannon and multiple machine guns. The ship can climb 5,000 feet in a minute.

Now That Spring Is Coming

UNFORTUNATELY for those who wanted a fireworks display from the European war, Britain made her declaration of hostilities in the fall. But now that the groundhog has predicted an early spring, those who want to see some real fighting in Europe stand a fine chance of seeing fury let loose almost anytime now.

Where the heavy fighting in this world war will begin can not be said. It may be that Finland, deprived of her icy barriers, may be the victim of merciless attacks from Russia. The Balkans may be the center of flaming warfare. Or it may be in the low countries, or in northeastern Europe. Perhaps the Maginot and Siegfried lines may be the first to see the real flowering of the war.

Winter is no time for fighting. With spring coming on, the character of the European war may change entirely. The first big offensives of the war may be expected at any time.

Unless historical incidents fail to be accurate criteria, we may expect to see the war begin spreading as soon as the snows begin to melt.

Commemoratives And Collectors

THE COURSE of philately, the stamp collector's hobby, has become a sad one. It's 100 years since England issued the first postage stamp, but if the first 100 years have done anything toward shaping stamp collecting as a hobby, it has not been for the best. There was a time not too long past when a novice could take up stamp collecting—"a kid's hobby"—and gain a great deal of benefit from it without spending any large sum of money.

That is not so true in these days. Not long after a person gets into the hobby of stamp collecting, he goes off on a tangent. Probably more often and not out of sheer patriotism or convenience most collectors limit their collections to the stamp issues of the United States. This specialization was a fine thing. But all that has been changed.

Kids with little money to spend used to be able to stand the cost of buying a single and a block of four of each new United States stamp and still not miss many of the Saturday cowboy matinee. But ever since the post office department set out to wipe out the deficit, stamp collecting has become more and more the rich man's hobby. The kids haven't much of a chance when every 300th, 200th, 100th and 50th anniversary gets commemorated by the postal adhesives. They simply can't foot the bill when George Washington, national parks, authors and such subjects inspire the department to issue whole new series of stamps.

Stamp collecting was a better hobby when it belonged to the school boys and girls. There should be other ways to balance the post office budget.

The Score May Be Evened

THE SCENE changes again. Not so long ago Turkey took the spotlight on the European stage and had the whole audience jittery in anticipation. The question then uppermost in Europe's collective mind was whether Turkey with her Dardanelles would turn toward the allies or toward Germany. The allies won and added a potent force in their fight against the nazis.

Now Rumania takes the center. She is in a dilemma. With "The Big Bear" and the swastika on one side, the allies with great commercial powers on the other, she must choose her friends while the ax hangs dangerously over her exposed head. In addition to this, there are Bulgaria and Hungary ready to jump on their respective territorial claims as soon as they see an opening. And so the problem of oil, territory and trade faces King Carol and his people.

If odds were to be laid as to whose friendship Rumania would seek at this time, most likely Germany and the Soviet would be favored. King Carol recognizes the fact that both these countries are much closer to his borders and both are recognized as powerful states. England and France may guarantee her integrity, but Rumania cannot so soon forget the fate of Poland. The other nations of the entente, Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia are a bit reluctant to jointly guarantee the frontiers of their partner. They feel themselves too close to massive Russia for comfort.

Germany and Russia seem to hold the ace now. If Rumania turns toward them she may temporarily be assured that her territory will not be violated. Bulgaria and Hungary wouldn't dare and Hitler may persuade Stalin to leave Bessarabia alone for the time being.

The promise of a breathing spell, no matter how shortlived it may be, keeping in mind past Nazi promises, may be the deciding factor. It looks pretty much as if the score may be evened very shortly. The allies got Turkey and Germany may get Rumania.

The man at the next desk says that a fortune awaits the enterprising young inventor who can develop a radio receiving set which will automatically tune out when the commercial announcer goes on the air.

Sale of intoxicants shows steady increase in the United States, according to a survey. Looks like there soon may be an agitation for two Saturday nights every week.

Stewart Says Congress' Hearty Acceptance Of Continuation of Dies Probe Surprises All

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

THAT THE house of representatives would decree another year's extension of the activities of Congressman Martin Dies' committee's investigation of un-American groups' operations in the United States was expected. That the extension would be voted by so overwhelming a majority as 345 to 21 by no means was expected, however.

It was the general impression, too, that the White House has disliked, perhaps not the quiz itself, but certainly the inquisitors' methods. Possibly it was a mistaken impression, but there's no doubt that it was taken for granted.

Nevertheless, with the Democrats approximately 2 to 1 in congress, the ballot was 345 to 21 against what it was assumed that the administration didn't want—a continuation of that Dies "probe." Obviously the Republicans didn't figure significantly in the tally. Of course, the vote represented Republicans plus anti-New Deal Democrats. But who'd have imagined that there'd have been enough Democratic "ants" to foot up such a total? Nobody would or did. The conclusion clearly is that a lot of not, but they're made to appear suspect.

The administration calls this "witch-burning" by the Dies committee.

I think so myself, but I'm hesitant to admit it, lest I be termed an anarchist or some such thing.

What Dies Thinks "For what," I asked Dies recently, "are you going to convict a man? For what he does or for what he thinks?"

"Why," Dies answered, "as a lawyer, I'd say you have to have proof.

"You've got to have proof by what a man has said or written.

"But basically you've got to convict him of what he THINKS."

Essentially they're convicted for what they THINK. That's the administration's dope.

And is what a man THINKS convictable? In Kuhn's case, yes—his a deportable alien. But Browder? Oh, Browder is properly stuck for perjury, as to passports.

Kuhn is a German, and a pest. Browder is a pest, but he's one of our OWN pests.

GOOD MORNING

By JAMES FOX AND BILL BARTLEY

There's no reason why "Good Morning" or any other editorial column should stick to "heavy" topics all the time. The breakfast table crowd fairly begs for a little humor in its reading matter.

So we decided to write about "Beer for the Kitten" today. Anyone who can read that book without chucking had better arrange for a leave of absence and a rest cure.

It was time that someone discovered that college faculty members and their families are human and had courage enough to write that way about them. Hester Pine, in her very first book, must have had her tongue in her cheek as she wrote of "Quincy" College and its family. For if there is any difference between "Quincy" and other institutions with which you may be familiar, it can only be in size.

The plotting and counter-plotting and personal ambitions of the Quincy faculty resembles international diplomacy and its intrigues. There is Charley Fitch, eternally a candidate for the college presidency, and his following, which consists mainly of Mrs. Fitch and a wealthy alumna named Bleivitch. Alumna Bleivitch is ripe for plucking for an endowment, but, much to the consternation of the faculty, he presents the college with a herd of deer.

Or if you enjoy virile characters, follow the family life of the young Hick's, who are in the science department. Professor McMasters and his wife are to be found on every campus, too.

But my favorite character—barring the cat—is President Trainor, who administers capably and yet finds time to write a few best-sellers (not of academic subjects, either) in secret. The best scene of the book is the private "binge" indulged in by Dr. and Mrs. Trainor.

Be sure there's someone around when you read "Beer for the Kitten" because you'll want to share your discoveries with him. And tread lightly, for although you recognize prototypes on this or another campus, if you are honest you'll also find a few of your own eccentricities frankly portrayed.

On the surface it may seem that "Beer for the Kitten" is simply a humorous novel and not an important one. But we think that what John Mason Brown said on the lecture platform the other night about the importance of the theater in war times can be applied to the book. After all, Hester Pine's faculty characters do almost come to life as they pass across the stage of her comedy.

Another frank book on campus life is "Doctor's Oral" by George R. Stewart. The University of California professor capably portrays the emotional drama surrounding the oral examination of a candidate for a Ph. D. degree. The plot of the story is weatherbeaten, but the examination scenes are original.

After reading both of these books, you'll have a lot more fun in campus life the next few months.

Hawkeye Swimmers Down Illini Easily, 64 to 20

Paddlers Win Eight Events In First Meet

Two New University Records Marked Up; Sophs Show Promise

Two university swimming records were broken at the Iowa field house pool last night as the Iowa swimming team swamped Illinois in a surprisingly easy fashion by a score of 64 to 20. Iowa won all but one of the nine events.

Russell Dotson, who had never participated in a race in his life previous to last night, made his debut in the aquatic sport by breaking the university record in the 220 yard free style. His mark of 2:17 minutes lowered by .8 of a second the record set in 1936 by Adolf Jacobsmeyer. The other record was set in the 300 yard medley relay by a team composed of Al Armbruster, George Poulos and Don Wenstrom. Their time of 2:58.3 minutes broke a former record of 3:00.6 set in 1936 by Westfield, Wehmeyer and Walters.

While doing his share in helping break the medley relay record, Co-Captain Al Armbruster also broke the university 100 yard back stroke record by turning in a time of 60.7 seconds.

The Illinois water polo team defeated the Hawkeyes 9 to 0. Enterman counted six goals for the Illini. This event did not count in the scoring of the meet.

Summary
300 yard medley relay won by Iowa (A. Armbruster, Poulos, Wenstrom); Illinois (Kurlak, Kirkland, Jones) second. Time 2:58.3 (new university record).

Gophers' Power Downs Iowa Wrestlers, 19 to 9

By FRED HOHENHORST

Approximately 2500 wrestling fans saw a powerful Minnesota grappling team defeat a determined Iowa squad yesterday afternoon at the fieldhouse gym. The score was Minnesota 19, Iowa 9 but this was not an indication of the relative merits of the two teams.

Minnesota had to fight every inch of the way to gain two falls in the meet, which saw one bout go into an overtime period and four other matches go the nine minute route to a decision.

In the first match on the program scrappy Bill Sherman was outpointed by Cliff Perizzo for the surprise of the afternoon.

In the next bout the highly touted Dale Hansen of Minnesota didn't lose any time convincing fans that he really knew this grunt and groan business. He kept Iowa's Philip Millen on the defensive for seven minutes, and twenty-eight seconds before he pinned him with a bar arm and a head press.

With both men employing quick opening offensive tactics which carried them off the mat on numerous occasions the 136 pound event saw Iowa's Newell Ingle bow in defeat to Minnesota's Maurice Nemer.

The crowd really warmed up to the occasion when James Taylor of Iowa and Blaine McKusick of the Gophers tossed caution to the winds and tore into each other to provide some real action. The bout was short lived, however, as McKusick pinned Taylor in a queer position as was seen all afternoon. Time of this bout was 5:21.

The next bout resembled the familiar "Waltz Me Around Again Willie" style but the officials provided for just such an emergency and the bout became a split-period match. That is after four minutes have passed and neither man is on the mat the referee flips a coin and the loser must get into wrestling position in the middle of the mat.

Although Kemp lost the toss of the coin he won the match by outpointing Minnesota's Jack Morton for the first Iowa victory of the afternoon.

Things began to look up for the Iowa cause when Geppert took the uphand early in the 165 pound clash. Towards the end of the match the tables had turned and Geppert was barely hanging on when the time limit was up. As the match was declared a draw the boys went into an overtime of four minutes which saw a very tired but very determined Hawkeye lose the decision to Floyd Schumacher of Minnesota.

Paul Whitmore showed more wrestling technique and agility than any man on the Iowa squad as he completely dominated his match with George Skogvold of Minnesota. Paul employed brilliant maneuvers to keep the Gopher matman on the defensive all the way. This was the second score for the Iowans.

The heavyweight match was somewhat of a surprise to the Minnesotans as their choice, Bill Kuusisto, was never in any position to challenge Art Johnston of Iowa. Art's victory over Kuusisto may give you some idea of his prowess when you realize that it was this same Kuusisto who outpointed Wilbur Nead last year at Minnesota.

121 pounds: Ferrizzo (M) outpointed Sherman (I)
128 pounds: Hanson (M) threw Millen (I) 7:28
136 pounds: Nemer (M) outpointed Ingle (I)
145 pounds: McKusick (M) threw Taylor (I) 5:21
155 pounds: Kemp (I) outpointed Morton (M)
165 pounds: Schumacher (M) outpointed Geppert (I) overtime
175 pounds: Whitmore (I) outpointed Skogvold (M)
Heavyweight: Johnson (I) outpointed Kuusisto (M)
Referee: C. W. Grooms (Iowa State).

PICKUPS

By OSCAR HARGRAVE

Among the silly arguments these days are those raised about the subject of Chicago football, which is in the same position as the reasons for argument—it just ain't.

Chicago, through its president, accuses those who can play football of everything from robbing college towns to drawing pay checks, with plenty of answers coming his way. There is practically no one who cares to be insulted by Chicago's press, despite the fact that everyone insulted Chicago's football team by something like 10 touchdowns.

Most of the answers are to the effect that athletes at other institutions received no more aid than the guy who majors in political science or dramatic arts. Which statements mean nothing—they are exactly like Chicago's excuses for dropping football.

Chicago, whether it cares about the matter or not, has made up its mind against the gridiron sport. The students, by a vote, want football, but they haven't staged any strikes. In other words, I think that Iowans would tear down the institution and throw a few bombs if we dropped football here.

Chicago is now a school in which the emphasis is placed largely on graduate and professional school work. The Maroons are forced to recruit from among the people who add exactly nothing to our own athletic efficiency. They have to use players who can spend little time on the sport and whose interest extends little past the point of keeping down the size of stomachs.

If there be any doubt of this statement's factual basis, check the lists of Iowa athletes. Just how many medical, law and graduate students do you find? The answer can be demonstrated on the digits of one hand. Those guys haven't the time to play football—gridders are restricted to undergraduate work.

The thing is, after all, not worthy of argument. If the powers that be don't want to play football, they can do without. And, it's rather silly of them to call others bums simply because they still like the sport.

Apostoli Still Weak From Bettina Beating; Colorful Career Ended

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—Still exhausted from the terrific 12-round beating he took from the hands of Melio Bettina and further weakened by a mild attack of la grippe, Fred Apostoli lay in a hospital bed tonight, his colorful ring career at an end.

Although an examination erased fears that the former San Francisco bellhop had suffered a concussion, Larry White, Apostoli's manager stuck by his post-battle statement that the ex-middleweight king never would fight again—at least not for him.

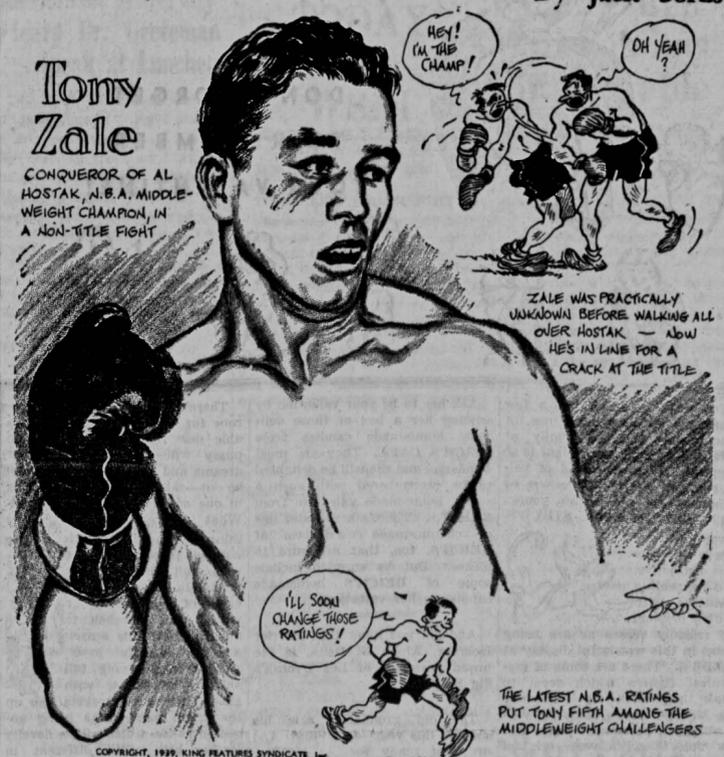

"Undoubtedly, Fred was weakened by the gripple. I know he was slightly hoarse before he went into the ring," said White. "But he's lost something. He's not the fighter he once was and I, for one, have advised him to quit before he suffers a serious injury. He's too fine a boy to take unnecessary chances."

Several boxing experts pointed out that the 26-year-old west coast fighter has not been the Apostoli of old since he took two whipping within a month from Billy Conn of Pittsburgh a year ago. Then too the seven-round knockout handed him by Ceferino Garcia last October didn't help any.

A month ago he eked out a 12-round decision over Bettina but last night the Beacon, N. Y., light heavyweight paced himself better and gave Apostoli a lacing, especially from the ninth round on when the former 160-pound king was all but out on his feet.

Hawkeye Cagers Polish Offensive for DePaul

Busy Week for Prep Cagers

Boone, Cedar Rapids Teams Will Play Here
St. Pat's Cards Two Contests

Headlined by St. Mary's bid for an undisputed Catholic Big Five conference title, the four prep hardcourt quintets of the city continue in action this week with two home games and three contests on foreign floors.

St. Mary's, undefeated in conference play and titlebound in the first year of the league's organization, get their first shot at an uncontested title Wednesday when they tackle St. Paul's of Burlington there. A win will put the high-flying Ramblers out of reach of any other conference teams with title aspirations.

At City high, the Hawkeyets seem to be finally coming into their own in the Valley league by virtue of their well-earned victory over Clinton last week. Boone's powerful Toreadors invade the Red and White gym Friday night in a tilt which will show how City high stacks up against competition in other parts of the state. Boone is one of the leading teams of central Iowa.

Coach Paul Brechler's U-high bunch continue play in their Eastern Iowa conference Friday, invading West Liberty. Decided improvement in recent weeks on the part of the Blues may enable them to take this one.

St. Pat's will be the busy team of the city, taking on St. Wendel's of Cedar Rapids here Tuesday night, and whipping back into action Friday against St. Mathias of Muscatine there. The first game will set the stage for the second intra-city game with St. Mary's later in the season, since St. Wendel's took the Ramblers measure last week, in a big upset.

Yale Drubs Amherst; New Marks Set

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 3 (AP)

—The Yale swimming team set a new world's record in the 400-yard freestyle relay today as it defeated Amherst, 55 to 20, in a dual meet.

Yale's relay team of Kelly, Pope, Duncan and Johnson swam the distance in three minutes, thirty and seven-tenths seconds, lowering by six tenths of a second the old mark of 3:31.3 set by a New York athletic club team in 1939.

Badgers Fall Before Tartan Offense, 48-41

EAST LANSING, Mich., Feb. 3

(AP)—For the first time in four years, Michigan State college took Wisconsin's measure in basketball here tonight, defeating the Badgers, 48 to 41, in their first game on the M.S.C. campus.

State led, 26 to 20, at the half, and the Spartans turned on their heat in the second period while the Badgers had trouble keeping out of the personal foul column. At one point late in the second period, Michigan State held a 15-point lead, but began stalling and the Badger marksmen began to find the hoop.

Max Dahrymple and Chet Aubuchon topped the Spartans with 13 points while Walt Anderson led the Badgers with 10.

Intramurals Get Busy

February promises to be a busy month in the intramural sports as many new activities will begin to take place as basketball will end its current season.

It was announced that wrestling, ping pong, handball and volleyball will commence February 15. February 22 will see the inauguration of boxing, squash and badminton. Swimming will be held March 1.

All those interested in participating in these events are asked to fill applications and turn them in to Dr. Fred Beebe.

Chisox Players Sign

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's White Sox received six signed player contracts and optioned two other players to the minors in a burst of baseball business yesterday. AROUND THE BIG TEN Purdue, currently leading the Big Ten basketball race, and Indiana, now resting in second place, meet next Saturday in what should prove to be one of the better contests of the season. The game, which is to be played in Bloomington, has gained so much interest that all available seats have been sold. Three stations will carry the broadcast of the game: WBAA, BOW and WIRE.

Dale Hanson, Big Ten and N. A. A. U. 128-pound wrestling champion, made a big hit with Iowa fans at the Minnesota-Iowa meet yesterday afternoon, year man.

Northwestern cage coach, Dutch Lomborg, is having trouble finding sufficient scoring punch in his Wildcat team. Only consistent scorer is Dick Klein, big sophomore center and Lomborg wants to put an end to a three game losing streak by finding a couple more men who can hit the basket.

Reports have it that the Iowa ineligibility list for athletes this semester will be the smallest in recent years... well, let's hope so.

Sophomores had a big part in Iowa's swim victory over Illinois last night. Vic Vargon and Leo Biedrzycki were one, two in the diving while Don Wenstrom, Carl Ahlgren, Nick Karafa and Walt Bareisa were heavy point winners in the distance and sprint events.

The prospectors in charge of the respective sections are: section 1—Clifford Ellis, 35 C Quad; section 2—Carl Gustafson, 33 B Quad; section 3—Otto Hulbner, 1125 E. Hawkeye Gridders To Welcome The Ides Of March Hawkeye gridders will go back to work about the middle of March, Dr. Eddie Anderson stated yesterday, with spring drills lasting over a period of approximately six weeks. It is possible, however, that a few squad members will informally begin workouts sooner than the scheduled time.

Anderson, resting briefly after a strenuous round of after dinner speeches, is starting to recheck the possibilities for a team to replace last fall's "Iron Hawks." Although not many members of the 1939 team graduated, most of those who are leaving were key members of the team.

Much to be noticed will be the absence of Nile Kinnick, Buzz Dean, Capt. Erwin Prasse and Dick Evans, who held down spots that were of vast importance in the Anderson scheme of lightning offensive thrusts. Kinnick, all-American triple threat, and Dean, Kinnick alternate who played most of the time at right halfback, leave an empty left halfback spot by their going. Ed McLain, the third triple threat man on last fall's team, is also lost by graduation.

To fill in the vacancy Anderson will probably call on a sophomore. Of this year's freshmen, several show possibilities, but haven't been fully tested as yet. The potential workers at the spot include Al Eddy and Tom Farmer of Cedar Rapids, Bill Staus of Creston, Bob Bender of Davenport and Bill Parker of Des Moines, with Parker also considered as an end.

Also left vacant by graduation are the flank posts, where Prasse and Evans so capably held forth last fall. Parker is a possibility, but only a possibility, in view of the fact that he might be needed in the backfield. That leaves it up to Jens Norgaard, a veteran who served "part time" last fall, and the sophomores.

Anderson, though, admits that Jim Walker, mighty Negro tackle, might work in at a flank post. With Captain-Elect Mike Enich and Wally Bergstrom both available, there is certain to be a pair of first class tackles on the field. Walker, meanwhile, is tremendously powerful, moves down the field like a freight train rolling down grade and can drag down passes.

This, of course, awaits more complete word on the condition of big Jim's knee, with the number of sophomore tackles and ends also to be reckoned with.

Guards and centers, this year, will be fairly plentiful, with all the 1939 performers returning. There are, in fact, three centers, Bill

Diehl, Bruno Andruska and Red Frye, with additional talent coming up. The guards, Ken Pettit, Ham Snider, Charley Tollefson and Max Hawkins, will have several newcomers to reckon with, leaving the center of the line apparently well fortified.

It's a question, mainly, of finding compensations for the loss of Kinnick, Dean, Prasse, Evans and McLain, the seniors who ended their college football last November.

Stark Directs Opera Which Will Be Given In Macbride Auditorium

Victor Herbert's comic opera, "The Serenade," will be presented twice this week by students in the University of Iowa music department under the direction of Prof. Herald Stark.

The first performance of the work will be Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. in Macbride auditorium. A second performance will be given Friday at 8:15 p.m., also in Macbride auditorium.

More than 75 University of Iowa students are taking part in the production of the opera, including a cast of 10 persons, a chorus of 40 voices and a selected orchestra of 25 members.

The orchestra which will play for the performances was selected from the ranks of the University symphony orchestra. All stage direction for the presentations is under the direction of Robert Whitehand, Iowa playwright and research assistant in the dramatic arts department.

"The Serenade" is considered one of Victor Herbert's five most famous operas. Harry B. Smith, Herbert's greatest librettist, was at his wittiest when he wrote the plot and lines of "The Serenade."

The many hilarious situations in the plot unfolds, coupled with the tuneful and catchy melodies of Victor Herbert, are irresistible. Charlotte Braum, A4 of Muscatine, will play "Dolores," the lead contralto; Virginia DeButts, A2 of Melbourne, will handle the soprano part of "Yvonne," and Donnasue Lohmeyer, G of Kansas City, Mo., is portraying the "Mother Superior," a contralto part.

Men taking leading parts in the opera are Robert Blaylock, C3 of Council Bluffs, baritone, as "Alverado"; Robert Olds, A2 of Centerville, baritone, as "The Duke"; Keith Sutton, A3 of Paton, baritone, as "Romero"; Arthur Connolly, C4 of Moline, Ill., bass, as "Gomez"; Keith Smith, P3 of Iowa City, tenor, as "Colombo," and Richard Fuson, G of Holyoke, Mass., baritone, as the "Prior."

Tickets for "The Serenade" are one dollar each and are reserved. They are available at room 105, music studio building, Williams Iowa Supply store, 8 S. Clinton, and the Whetstone Drug store number one, Washington and Clinton streets.

White Snow Blanket Covers Iowa City as Mercury Drops

Southwestern Iowa Reports Deepest Fall; Plows Put Into Use

Temperatures dropped slightly below normal in Iowa City yesterday as a new white blanket of snow driven by a southeast wind covered most of the state. One-eighth of an inch was measured here late last night.

The southwestern section of Iowa reported the heaviest falls, some points measuring more than two inches.

Local weather bureau officials said a freezing drizzle was falling south of Omaha late last night. The forecast for Iowa City and vicinity was for probable continued snow today.

Plows were called out on the highways in many sections of the state, the highway patrol reported. In northwest Iowa near Cherokee, the patrol said, the snow was drifting in sheltered places.

The Associated Press quoted warnings that highways were slippery under a new snow blanket in the central and south central sections.

The fall in Iowa City started shortly before 5 p.m. and let up early in the evening.

Yesterday's high of 28 was two degrees below normal, and the low of 6 was five below average figures. Mercury stood at only six below freezing late last night, the weather bureau reported.

What About Selecting A Vocation?

Prof. Harry K. Newburn Tells Child Study Club How Parents Help Children

"We all know that choosing a vocation is a very difficult problem," asserted Prof. Harry K. Newburn of the university college of education in his talk before the Child Study club meeting at noon yesterday in Iowa Union. Dr. Newburn discussed the difficulties that face young men and women in deciding upon their profession and the steps that parents and the school can take in assisting them.

"The school has really done very little to help boys and girls in making their decisions," he continued. "The schools are, however, waking up to their responsibility in the matter," he said.

There are three definite steps in the choosing of one's life work, according to Dr. Newburn, who has had much experience with the problem through his work as director of university high school and in the college of education.

Analyze Vocational Situation

The first of these steps is to analyze the vocational situation. The individual should make an effort to find out how people are distributed in the various professions, what the trends are in the one in which he is interested and how the people in that profession actually make their living. Dr. Newburn believes that the individual often does not have an accurate concept of just what is expected of a man in his chosen profession.

Therefore, he should talk to the men in that profession and get detailed information from them as to their duties.

Another necessary step in this problem of finding a vocation is the study of the individual as to his interests, aptitudes and abilities as well as to his temperament and personality. Both the parent and the teacher can aid the individual in this study of himself.

The final step and the most important one is to make an effort to coordinate the first two, that is, the study of the vocation and the study of the individual.

Several Jobs Available

"There are probably several jobs available for almost every individual," said Dr. Newburn. He went on to explain the fallacy of the idea that if a person doesn't get one particular job he cannot be successful and happy. The same qualities are needed for any number of professions.

"Parents must be willing to consider the tremendous differences in individuals," Dr. Newburn continued. Even though it is hard for a parent to admit that his child is not the type, for instance, to go on to college, he must look at the problem objectively and think only of what is best for the child rather than of what others will think.

Dr. Newburn suggested that perhaps parents have built up false conceptions of happiness in the minds of youth. They give their children the idea that the only good profession to follow is that of a doctor or lawyer. They forget that the important thing is that the job be well done, no matter what that job is.

Early Decision Unnecessary

It is not necessary that this decision be made very early in life, according to Dr. Newburn. What is necessary is that the young person be thinking about it and making an effort to prepare himself to make the decision.

"We must encourage youngsters to make their own decisions," said Dr. Newburn. Other ways in which the parents can aid in vocational guidance are to encourage the child to be intelligent and systematic in his search for a profession and to avoid pointed criticism of his mistakes.

Dr. Newburn emphasized the point that teachers would like to have more contact with parents. The parents have the idea that the teacher does not wish to be bothered with their individual troubles but, on the contrary, a knowledge of the child's home life is very beneficial to the teacher in helping the child to make decisions.

"The problem," concluded Dr. Newburn, "is big enough to involve both the home and the school."

For Variety Try Blouses

Models for Evening, Sports and Business Give Spring Touch

By LEONA KECKLER

Blouses are the feminine note in women's dress for this spring. Fluffy or tailored—however you like them—they can be found, and they are smart and definitely in style.

About this time of year you get that certain feeling to blossom out and be perky or take on that extremely fresh look of approaching spring. Blouses are just the thing to brighten up your winter suit or your new spring one. One day you can be beautifully tailored in a shirtwaist model or a sporty cardigan type. In the same week you can take on that "lille girl look," which is quite the thing because of the natural effect it produces, by donning a fluffy, feminine variety. Either way you are delightfully fresh and spring-like, and at the same time are renewing that self-confidence you may have lost along the way sometime this winter.

One of the cleverest and probably newest styles of blouses is the long-sleeved striped model. This is especially becoming with the light shades of new spring skirts. Along with stripes are noted color combinations, plaids, and designs both simple and elaborate.

The evening blouse is also gaining in popularity. Satin, crepe, or sheer varieties make lovely "tops" for black, white, or varied colored full skirts.

Whether you are looking for something to brighten your spirits, enliven that skirt, or complete a new outfit—whether for day or evening—try a blouse. It's just the thing!

Report Improvement In Condition of Nichols Man Injured in Crash

The condition of John Kirkpatrick, 74, Nichols, who suffered broken ribs, a fractured collar bone, a shoulder injury and possible internal injuries as a result of an auto accident four miles southeast of Lone Tree Friday afternoon, was slightly improved last night, Mercy hospital attendants said, although "still serious."

The accident occurred when the automobiles driven by Kirkpatrick's son, Harley, 25, and Keith Keeler, 28, who resides near Lone Tree, collided.

Kirkpatrick's injuries were reported the most serious of those of the group of seven involved in the accident.

Fourteen Outstanding Women To Receive A. A. U. W. Fellowship Awards Totaling $20,500

Due to war conditions, a much smaller number of applicants than in former years is competing for the largest amount in fellowship awards ever offered by the American Association of University Women. The committee on fellowship awards, meeting this week at national headquarters here, will decide the 14 outstanding women scholars to receive a total of $20,500.

In the competition last year, 10 fellowships totalling $13,750 were offered. For those 10 fellowships, 151 women scholars competed, as compared with but 94 women competing for the 14 fellowships now offered.

The reason given for the smaller number this year is the fact that the Committee on Awards could not accept any applications for study abroad. Many scholars, in order to complete projects already begun, must have access to research centers abroad.

Four Brave Plans

When war broke out in Europe, four of the winners of last year's awards were forced to revise their plans to study in this country instead of in Europe. Dr. Olga Hartman, research zoologist of the Allan Hancock foundation, University of Southern California, Los Angeles, had already gone to Sweden to carry on her study of annelids (marine worms), and had expected to study in Germany and France. She has returned to the United States to work at the National Museum in Washington and at Yale University. Mary McGrille of the University of California in Berkeley, Cal., who had planned to use material to be found only in the national library in Paris, France, in writing a biography of Louis Racine, is using the material available at the library of Congress. Mary Elvebeck of the University of Minnesota, who is making a study important to statisticians, was to have studied in the University of London. When it became impossible for Miss Elvebeck to follow her plan, she was appointed a research associate by Princeton University, a rare post for a woman, so that she might carry on her project, which involves working out better techniques for predicting a whole from samples. This is the technique used in public opinion polls. Birgit Vennessland of the University of Chicago, who describes her very technical project as "a study of two-carbon particles in the liver," is working in the department of biological chemistry at Harvard university, instead of studying in Paris.

One Award Announced

One international award which had already been announced for this year had to be withdrawn. This was the residential scholarship at Crosby Hall, headquarters of the International Federation of University Women, which has been closed for the duration of the war.

For fifty years, the American Association of University Women has been building up its fellowship program as an encouragement for advanced research by women. A. A. U. W. fellows have contributed to knowledge in almost every field, mathematics, the classics, physics, botany, zoology, history, philosophy, psychology, economics, library science, modern languages and literature, astronomy, Biblical literature, political science, chemistry, archaeology, paleontology, Sanskrit, pharmacology, nutrition, psychiatry, physiology, social welfare, anthropology, astrophysics, industrial legislation, hygiene and sociology.

Three New Fellowships

Three of the fellowships are offered this year for the first time: the Marion Talbot fellowship, honoring A. A. U. W.'s founder who lives in Chicago, an honored pioneer in the social service group which also included Jane Addams and Grace and Edith Abbott; the Mary E. Woolley fellowship honoring the President Emerita of Mt. Holyoke college, a former President of A. A. U. W. and now a member of the committee on international relations; and the Vassie James Hill fellowship, honoring the national treasurer, who was notably successful in safeguarding the fellowship funds through the hazards of depression. Mrs. Hill lives in Kansas City, Mo.

While decisions will be made this week, names of winners will not be announced until all acceptances have been received. Nearly all the fellowships carry an annual stipend of $1,500.

Committee Chairman

The chairman of the awards committee is Dr. Katharine Jeanne Gallagher, Professor of history, Goucher college, Baltimore, Md., well known lecturer on historical subjects. Other members are: Dr. Dorothy Carolin Bacon, economist, of Smith college; Dr. Hetty Goldman, archaeologist, of the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, New Jersey; Dr. Mary Stuart MacDougal, biologist, Agnes Scott college, Decatur, Ga.; Dr. Adeline de Sale Link, chemist, University of Chicago; Dr. Florence Donnell White, professor of French, Vassar college; Dr. Helen Constance White, professor of English, University of Wisconsin; and Dr. Kathryn McHale, general director of A. A. U. W., ex officio member.

No one from the University of Iowa applied for a fellowship this year, although in previous years there have been A. A. U. W. fellowship workers on the campus here.

Lost: Walrus Whiskers

By JEAN DAVIS
They're in a new home—and back in the university museum once more.
The walrus group, absent from the University of Iowa's museum in Macbride hall for three months, was placed this week in a newly constructed glass case, measuring 30 feet by 15 feet and standing 12 feet high, which will house the group for years to come.
The Arctic animals for 20 years were exhibited on the floor of mammal hall without protection. But due to misuse by the visitors there, the group was damaged and in need of repairs when placed in the museum laboratories early this fall for reconditioning.
The new display case, duplicate of other cases in the hall, was made possible by a special appropriation. It was constructed by university cabinet makers, according to Prof. Homer Dill, director of the university museum and head of the museum methods department here.
Professor Dill, who directed the repair work on the animals, admitted that the replacing of the 1,000 whiskers, which had been torn off by the public, was the most "tedious task."
Made of copper wire cord, covered with wax, the whiskers were replaced on the three animals one by one.
The specimens are a rare species of the Atlantic walrus, which today is nearly extinct. The Arctic animals were obtained for the museum from Commodore Robert Edwin Peary, who collected them in one of his early expeditions in search of the North pole.

Sarah Scott Edwards, superintendent of the reading room, arranged the display yesterday.
A definition from Pardon's "New General English Dictionary," which was printed in 1758 and which is quoted in the Teur book, says that the hornbook is "a leaf of written or printed paper pasted on a board, and covered with horn, for children to learn their letters by, and to prevent their being torn and daubed."
The hornbook had a handle, and the size depended upon the age of the child. The larger ones for the older children included, besides the alphabet, nine digits, and sometimes the Lord's Prayer.

'CAPTAIN FURY' NOW AT VARSITY

Victor McLaglen, Brian Aherne, June Lang Star in Current Picture

With a cast headed by such outstanding players as Brian Aherne, Victor McLaglen and June Lang, and a story of stirring adventure and rich romance, Hal Roach's "Captain Fury" started at the Varsity yesterday for a four-day engagement. In addition to having the talents of an outstanding supporting cast, headed by John Carradine, Paul Lukas, George Zucco, Virginia Field, Douglas Dumbrille and Mary Gordon, "Captain Fury" has the advantages of a brilliant screen play, thrilling outdoor photography and masterful direction by Mr. Roach, who personally handled the megaphone throughout the production.

The story dramatizes early Australia, when the frontier country was overrun by greedy land barons who fought honest colonization by incoming settlers. Captain Fury, a political prisoner, arrives in Australia just when the worst offender, Arnold Trist, is carrying on underground warfare against unprotected citizens, grabbing their land by every foul means and setting up an empire within an empire. Fury becomes an Australian Robin Hood who provides the story with many blood-curdling episodes as he drags the fight out into the open and outwits his adversary in a thrilling climax.

'Henry Goes To Arizona'

Frank Morgan, one of the greatest entertainers on the motion picture screen, at last has a role that enables him to run the full course of his many comedy talents in "Henry Goes Arizona," new laugh riot which is the companion feature.

As the whimsical Henry, a Broadway dude who goes to Arizona to save the family ranch from a band of outlaws, Morgan is a one-man circus. From the minute he discovers that a derby hat and spats are not worn in the wild west until he turns into a cowboy with guns and chaps, Morgan contributes a new high in hilarity.

Outstanding in his supporting cast is little Virginia Weidner, who handles comedy and dramatic situations alike with startling ease for an 11-year-old. As a foil for Morgan in merry western ranch sequences, she achieves the distinction of being a child actress who holds audience attention through sheer ability.

Veteran comedians who also add to the laugh content of the picture include Guy Kibbe, rotund and amusing as the western judge who hands out liquor instead of justice. Slim Summerville's mournful countenance provides an ideal facial backdrop for Morgan's effusive antics. Douglas Fowley is an excellent villain as the unscrupulous ranch foreman, and Owen Davis Jr., is convincing and sympathetic as the cowboy who is unjustly accused of murder and is saved from a bloodthirsty mob by Morgan.

Although his versatility has been established in such outstanding screen achievements as "The Private Life of Henry VIII," "The Barrets of Wimpole Street," "Ruggles of Red Cap" and "Mutiny on the Bounty," his current interpretation is hailed as his finest work.

As Quasimodo, the heroic belleringer of Notre Dame, Laughton breathes life and pathos into the extremely difficult part, evoking heart-tugging sympathy for the pitiable outcast. Despite the actor's shocking make-up, his superb artistry makes the immortal Quasimodo human and deeply appealing.

His consummate villainy, achieved with the delicate artistry which makes him one of the screen's most accomplished stars, has never been presented with better effect. Universal has chosen to create a new story from the historical facts. "Tower of London" was written by Robert N. Lee, brother of Rowland V. Lee, who produced and directed the picture. LIGHTNING-FAST in the press-box! Why, Bill Corum's been known to file 3,000 words of sizzling copy during a single big sports event. But no speed for him in his smoking — slower-burning Camels are Bill Corum's cigarette. He likes that extra mildness, coolness, and flavor.

Here's Bill at work in the quiet of his office. Bill...typewriter...books...pictures...and Camels—slow-burning Camels. "I find them milder and cooler—and thriftier," he says. And, being a Camel fan of many years' standing, he ought to know.

BILL CORUM'S sports news isn't just printed...it's sprinted...at lightning speed from press-box to press and the Five-Star Final. But when the candid camera catches Bill in his office with a cigarette—well, "No speed for me in my smoking," he says.

His own common sense and smoking experience tell him what scientists have confirmed in their research laboratories—that "slow-burning cigarettes are extra mild, extra cool, fragrant, and flavorful." Cigarettes that burn fast just naturally burn hot. And nothing so surely wrecks the delicate elements of flavor and fragrance in a cigarette as excess heat. You don't want a hot, flat, uncomfortable smoke. The delightful mildness, coolness, fragrance, and flavor of Camels are explained by this important finding—Camels proved to be the slowest-burning cigarette of the sixteen largest-selling brands tested! (The panel at right explains the test.)

FAST BURNING—creates hot flat taste in smoke...ruins delicate flavor, aroma...

SLOW BURNING—protects natural qualities that mean mildness, thrilling taste, fragrance...a cooler smoke...

In recent laboratory tests, CAMELS burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to
