IRELAND THREATENS REPRISALS

17 Christian Front Charges Plead Innocent

Accused of Seditious Plotting; Released on $5,000-$20,000 Bail

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—In a courtroom aloud with the mutterings of their sympathizers, 17 Christian Front members accused of plotting an anti-semitic campaign with bombs and terror pleaded innocent today to charges of seditious conspiracy to overthrow the government and conspiracy to steal army ammunition and explosives.

An indictment charging them with thus conspiring with other "persons unknown" had been handed up a short time before to Federal Judge Matthew T. Abbruzzo in Brooklyn. Bail ranging from $5,000 to $20,000 was fixed.

Reduction in Bail

This was a material reduction from the $50,000 bond originally set for each defendant but the murmurings from among the 500 spectators, apparently were directed mainly at the fact that Judge Abbruzzo had refused to make further reductions.

Only after U. S. Marshal Arthur Jaeger had hurriedly assembled nine deputies was the uproar stilled. In the meantime, the judge had threatened to have the room cleared, and Arthur Garfield Hays, counsel for the American Civil Liberties union, had been seized by the arms by two deputies and escorted toward a chair.

Hays had attempted to speak about the matter of bail and the chief object of his attempt was Leo Healey, counsel to one of the defendants, who told the court: "... he has nothing whatever to do with this client... and I request that the court forbid him permission to speak."

Hays Protests

Protesting, Hays sat down for the remainder of the proceedings and later told reporters he planned to try to bring about a bail reduction.

"We need hardly point out," he said, "that if the charges here are sound there is no group in the community that would condemn the intolerance of the defendants more than ourselves..."

"We point out that however misguided people are, yet where the crime charged is political in nature the defendants are likely to be sincere in their beliefs and in an endeavor to justify themselves are more likely to appear at trial than is the ordinary criminal."

Arrested Month Ago

The 17 were arrested 3 1/2 weeks ago by agents of the federal bureau of investigation, whose chief, J. Edgar Hoover, asserted their ultimate aim had been the establishment of a dictatorship and the eradication of Jews.

Conviction on both counts of the indictment could bring maximum penalties of eight years in prison and $15,000 in fines. It charged a broad conspiracy to: "... overthrow, put down and destroy by force the government of the United States... to seize, take and possess property of the United States..."

Ancient, Golden India Again Becomes a British Headache

These troops maintain rule of England's king as British raj of India

India, one of the brightest jewels of the British crown, once more taxes the diplomatic ability of the British government as native nationalists, led by Mahatmas K. Gandhi, the Hindu

Russians Bomb Prison Town

HELSINKI, Feb. 7 (AP)—Soviet Russia's air fleet, in a four-hour raid aimed at cracking Finnish morale, today bombed a prison full of Russian prisoners of war while her armies of the isthmus pounded again at the Mannerheim line, reckless of losses which Finnish military observers placed at 20,000 dead and wounded in the past week.

The Russian prisoners were saved by the Finns, who herded them into bomb-proof shelters.

Four-Hour Raid

For more than four hours 10 Russian planes punished the prison town of Kajaani in north central Finland with bombs and incendiary explosives. Two hospitals and a teachers college were damaged, three large houses were destroyed, and 20 others were set afire. Two Finns were killed and many others injured.

This and another raid on Turku, Finland's third largest and oldest city, were carried out while the Red army on the Karelian isthmus gave evidence it was intent upon wearing down the Finns by sheer man-power and mechanized weight, regardless of what the costs might be.

Russians Fall Back

In the Arctic meanwhile the main Russian forces were reported falling back from Markajarvi toward Salla, some 35 miles from the frontier.

Reliable sources said light detachments of Soviet soldiers attacked the Finns at Markajarvi, on the cross-Finland highway 20 miles southwest of Salla, to cover the retreat. Heavy Russian field pieces already had been withdrawn from that front.

The Helsinki civil guard tonight in a special bulletin warned civilians to watch for spies and saboteurs dropping from Russian planes. The bulletin asked that the military be informed immediately of any such spies, along with the exact spot where they were found.

McCormack's first proposal was opposed by Rep. Caldwell (D-Fla.) acting floor manager of the appropriation bill. He argued that the method proposed for severing relations with Russia was not a proper one.

Organized Effort To Sever Relations With U.S.S.R. Fail

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The house twice repulsed today an organized effort to end diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia.

By the scant margin of 3 votes, 108 to 105, the chamber defeated a motion by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.) to strike from a pending appropriation bill money for the salary of the ambassador to Russia. Later, by a vote of 95 to 38, the house rejected another McCormack motion, this time to deny funds for maintenance of an embassy in Moscow.

The votes came a few hours after the senate foreign relations committee had approved a measure intended to help Russia's tiny foe, Finland, to the extent of an additional $20,000,000 loan for non-military purposes. The legislation also would permit an additional $20,000,000 credit to China.

McCormack's first proposal was opposed by Rep. Caldwell (D-Fla.) acting floor manager of the appropriation bill. He argued that the method proposed for severing relations with Russia was not a proper one.

Britain Rushes Wartime Aids To Finland

Mine Explosion Sinks Irish Mail Steamer; Crew of 200 Saved

By ROBERT E. BUNNELLE
LONDON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Britain underscored her support for Finland against Russia today with an official statement indicating that she is extending virtually every war aid short of active military intervention.

Assurance that Finland's appeals for help were being answered substantially were given in the house of commons as Britain's own war was felt in a hitherto untouched maritime area. The 4,305-ton Irish mail steamer Munster sank below Liverpool and Ireland after an explosion apparently caused by a mine. The 200 passengers and crew were saved.

Urgency Realized

Replying to a question whether "every step is being taken to aid Finland quickly," foreign under-secretary R. A. Butler said "yes. The urgency of this matter is very much realized by the government."

The Finnish war was in the forefront also in Berlin and Paris. A movement to speed full material assistance to Finland gained steamroller strength in France as the authoritative newspaper Le Temps came out for "effective complete and total" aid for the Finns.

Authorized German sources in Berlin declared Germany has no commitments to give technical or military assistance to Russia in Finland and declared there is no German-Russian military pact.

Not England's Concern

The declaration restated Germany's position—that the Finnish war is not her concern though nazis expressed sympathy with Russia's position.

Saying in commons that "measures have been taken to assist the Finnish government with war material, including aircraft," Butler said he understood "crews are readily available in Finland competent to fly any aircraft obtained."

The British were careful, however, to conceal the exact nature of aid to Finland.

Sending Manufactures

"If we said we were sending so many tanks or that type of airplane or artillery weapon it would give away Finnish strategy," a military source explained, "but you can be sure we are sending manufactured articles, not (See BRITISH, Page 6)

U. S. Industry Employs Less, Produces More

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The federal reserve board said today that American industry was producing more goods but employing 1,000,000 fewer persons than in 1929.

In its monthly bulletin, the board estimated the seasonally adjusted index of industrial production for January at 120, the highest for any January on record. However, this figure represented a decline of 8 from December, due to an unseasonal decline in steel, textile and mineral production. December's index was the highest for any month on record.

The January figure of 120 was 19 points above the first month of 1939. It compared, however, with an average of 124 in the last quarter of 1939.

Designer

Before coming to Iowa, Professor Posey was employed by several leading construction firms in the United States. In this connection he was one of the designers of the St. Louis Terminal subway.

He is the author of several articles on structures and hydraulics which have appeared in Civil Engineering, Engineering News Record, Proceedings of the American Society of Civil Engineers, Iowa Transit, and other engineering publications.

J. Barrymore Is 'Exhausted'

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—A "simple case of exhaustion"—plus a vitamin deficiency—caused John Barrymore tonight to cancel all performances of "My Dear Children" for the rest of the week.

His voice was full and rich and she handled it with studied ease; her appearance and singing in the second act was a delight. The concerted piece, "Don Jose of Seville," sung by Charlotte Braun as Dolores the Duke's ward and by Robert Blaylock as Carlo Alvarado the serenadesinger, was their best of the evening both vocally and dramatically.

Robert Olds' portrayal of the poor-sighted Duke was a source of much laughter to the audience. The singing lesson of Gomez the tailor, sung by Arthur Connelly, was very funny.

Despite all the fine singing the opera seemed amateurish. This may best be explained, perhaps, if one considers that these young people have been trained as singers, not actors, and forgiven if one considers that they are now just trying their wings in the theater. Few singers, even of the so-called great, ever learn what to do with their hands and spend most of their operatic lives in futile semaphoring; that should be some consolation.

To all the hard working cast and those in charge of production, a word of appreciation. We are already looking forward to next year's opera.

Green of AFL Denies Lewis' Assertions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—William Green, AFL president, denied today assertions by John L. Lewis, president of the rival CIO, that the federation's proposals for amending the National Labor Relations act were prepared with the aid of attorneys for "reactionary and anti-labor corporations."

The Lewis assertions were made for the second time to the senate labor committee in the form of a statement containing what Lewis termed "documentary proof" of his original allegations.

"Lewis made a similar statement before the committee a year ago," Green said at Miami, Fla., "and I answered it before that same committee and at the same time challenged him to present an iota of truth. Here it is. It is a mountain laboring and bringing forth a mouse. Lewis himself couldn't prove his own statement."

C. J. Posey Gives Baconian Talk Tonight

Prof. C. J. Posey of the college of engineering will use slides and movies to illustrate his Baconian lecture, "Models and Civil Engineering" tonight at 7:30 in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

In his discussion Professor Posey will explain how the study of models built in the laboratory enables the construction of such projects as dams, spillways, gates, and other structures at a great reduction in time and money.

S. U. I. Pioneer

This method of construction from models was thought for many years to be unreliable. The University of Iowa was a pioneer in the field, and today has done more in model study than any other university laboratory in the country, according to Professor Posey. The work being done here will be incorporated in his lecture tonight.

Professor Posey, who teaches in the hydraulics and civil engineering department, is a graduate of the University of Kansas. His graduate study, at the University of Illinois and the University of Iowa, has been in the fields of hydraulics and structural engineering.

Transfusion Substitute

Blood Serum Believed More Effective, More Practical Than Blood

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (AP)—Evidence that blood serum, the colorless liquid part of blood, has possibilities of being effective "blood substitute" in transfusions was announced today.

Three Chicago physicians reported in the journal of the American Medical Association that the serum was found to have life-saving benefits when used on dogs and that similar results were noted in a limited number of human cases.

It even has some practical advantages over blood, they said, because the serum can be given in massive amounts, doesn't require preliminary "typing" and can be stored without refrigeration.

"Human serum, as a blood substitute, should find wide use not only in civil emergencies, but particularly in time of war at the battle front," they said.

No Russo-Nazi Military Pact!

German Sources Emphasize That Russia Has Not Asked for Aid

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
BERLIN, Feb. 7 (AP)—Authorized German sources today disclaimed the existence of any German-Russian military agreement and emphasized that the Soviet government had neither asked for nor been given military or technical aid in its war against Finland.

Germany is disinterested in the Russian-Finnish conflict although she has a full understanding of Moscow's position, these sources said. They added that Germany's attitude of aloofness meant no cooling in relations with Russia.

This statement, which followed one yesterday that Germany saw no basis for mediation in the northern hostilities, was made to counteract reports abroad that Nazi military or technical aid had been given the Russians.

Germany's partnership with Russia is regarded by nazis as a political necessity for the duration of the main European war.

House Refuses Soviet Ouster

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The house twice repulsed today an organized effort to end diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia.

By the scant margin of 3 votes, 108 to 105, the chamber defeated a motion by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.) to strike from a pending appropriation bill money for the salary of the ambassador to Russia. Hopson Named In Tax Liens For $2,000,000

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Howard Colwell Hopson, a dominant figure in the giant Associated Gas & Electric system, several of his relatives and a number of his personally controlled companies, were named today in tax liens for $2,664,954. The liens in federal court by James J. Hoey and Harold Hickey, internal revenue collectors of the second district of New York city and the Albany district.

Pelley Makes About-Face On Dies Stand

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The Dies committee finally got William Dudley Pelley, the leader of the anti-semitic Silver Shirts, on to its public witness stand today and learned, to its amused consternation, that he has had a great "change of heart" and now thoroughly approves the committee's work.

He gave the committee, in fact, a handsome apology for his previous outspoken criticism, between statements that G-men had investigated him and "more or less" approved his activities, and that in the last eight years he had had an income of $200,000 or more.

About ten - thousand a year came from the Silver Shirts, he carefully explained, while the remainder was from his "esoteric and metaphysical" writings and from his publications.

'The Serenade' Brings Yesterdays to Campus

By THOMAS SCHERREBECK
No doubt there were many last night at the music department's presentation in Macbride auditorium of Victor Herbert's comic opera "Serenade" who felt that their yesterdays were being lived through again. For "Serenade" has that delightful air of unreality, of gayety and non-balance, of comedy and not-too-deeply-felt emotions which we somehow seem to have lost.

Of course from the very beginning, from the time when the Duke of Santa Cruz determined to rid himself of Alvarado, singer of the Duke-hated love song, "Serenade," and lover of the Duke's ward, Dolores, we knew all would come out well and that every lover would have his lass. But that was half the fun. Set to catchy tunes which only the inimitable Victor Herbert could write, one who did not enjoy himself thoroughly last night ought to be classed as a sorriest or a hypersophisticate.

There is much to be said both pro and con for last night's performance. But let us begin with the compliments.

The highlight of the evening was the chorus' singing. The chorus seemed to have such a good time singing that their spirit was highly infectious. Usually their groupings on the stage were interesting but difficulties due to stage limitations made mass exits from the stage resemble a rush for free cokes at the Union.

One cannot help wondering who dressed the girls of the St. Ursula convent in the second act in costumes not unlike those of a high school girl's glee club.

Unfortunately individual mention cannot be made of all the principals, but especial attention should be called to the singing of Virginia DeButts as Yvonne, daughter of the once - famous tenor Colombo, slightly over-played by Charles Hummer.

Her voice was full and rich and she handled it with studied ease; her appearance and singing in the second act was a delight. The concerted piece, "Don Jose of Seville," sung by Charlotte Braun as Dolores the Duke's ward and by Robert Blaylock as Carlo Alvarado the serenadesinger, was their best of the evening both vocally and dramatically.

Why Not Eat Your Cake?

No one ever pretended that all the people eligible to participate in American democratic processes make the effort to do so. It is not amazing to discover that only a handful of Iowa Citizens traditionally attend precinct caucuses. It is never amazing to find that only a minority of those eligible to vote go to the polls when there is an election.

Nevertheless, democracy would be more realistic if those who have things to say about government made themselves heard at the polls and in precinct caucuses, which they can always attend.

Mediation Or Just Hokum?

RUMORS emanating from Scandinavian countries persist in asserting that Herr Hitler is about ready to mediate not only in the Russo-Finnish conflict but also in his squabble with England and France.

GOOD MORNING

By JAMES FOX AND WILLIAM BARTLEY

Things have changed since the majority of the important magazines in America contributed their valuable advertising space for the much-discussed pleas of World Peaceways, most famous of which tried to shock readers into a realization of the horrors of war by showing a baby cradled on a butcher's block.

The fact that American sentiment is being constantly modified by the world's happenings, in fact has modified considerably in the last six months, does not mean that Americans have forgotten about peace.

Most thinkers about peace in Europe let their thoughts be guided by the thoughts of others, and so think about peace in terms of a federation of European states. The most intellectual may go back to the philosophy of Immanuel Kant.

Proposals to keep a war from beginning now out of the question, Americans have turned to the question of a permanent settlement when armistice is declared in Europe.

REX MILLER, writing in the Christian Science Monitor, finds the thinking of Americans encouraging. He points out that few were thinking in such terms during the last war, but observes, "One might think that every American, instead of only one in three, would be concerned with something so certain to affect his own country and his own interests, but this is not the case.

It is true, though, that these northern states stand to gain a great deal in an early peaceful settlement in the present European wars. Not only would they resume normal trade relations with the world as a whole, but they would most likely be saved the ensuing disaster if drawn into the conflict.

The Copenhagen Extrabladet actually went so far as to print the peace terms which Field Marshal Hermann Goering supposedly said that Germany might agree to. And of course, the terms include such touchy subjects as the Polish Corridor, Danzig, Austria, German minorities and the Czechs.

Hitler denies these peace rumors vigorously. Spokesmen pointed out that he asserted it was an impossibility to initiate peace talk under the present circumstances. What he meant by present circumstances is quite a mystery.

The table of England as the mortal enemy and the sudden about-face would take a great deal of explaining. Hitler raged for years that German self-determination was kept in subjugation. But it is also possible Der Fuhrer could very well explain himself.

He may, though, have another worry. The German war machine is geared to the limit. Youthful officers and bellicose youngsters might be averse to ending a war without a decisive victory for the Fatherland.

Zadok Dumbkopf says the bolt goods counter of a bargain basement is the one place in the world where people battle in order to keep the piece.

The human brain is one of nature's most marvelous inventions, but it's not perfect or it would always act to capacity.

Weather prophet predicts early spring. Does he mean it, or is that just wishful thinking after he's taken a look at the coal bin?

Peace, "Women's International League for Peace and Freedom," "The Church Peace Union and the World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches," "World Citizens Association," and the "Committee for Correspondence for World Federation."

Admitting that the list of names sounds like a list of Dies committee might investigate, admitting that there are probably more red shirts than silver shirts in the membership of these organizations, it remains nevertheless that these are the kinds of groups that stimulate discussion about permanent solutions to international conflicts.

One of the amazing things about these various peace groups is that they find it necessary to carry on independent campaigns. More amazing is that they sometimes work together. In fact, it is difficult to tell from an examination of the pamphlets where the lines are drawn between their various plans.

HINDU ROPE TRICK?

Potential Democratic Presidential Candidates Include Senator Burton Wheeler of Montana

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Columnist

In the course of a very few days recently Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana developed from a mere possibility for the democratic presidential nomination into quite a formidable candidate. He's been mentioned all along, to be sure, but only as a long-shot hereafter. Now it appears that he's to be reckoned with seriously.

Of course this is leaving out of consideration the chance that President Roosevelt consents to be drafted for a third term in the White House. If he does so, the best political betting is that he WILL be drafted. The question whether or not he can be re-elected is open to discussion, but it generally is conceded that he can be RENOMINATED — if he tacitly wants to be.

Senator Wheeler himself agrees that F. D., though he may not choose to try for his own succession, undoubtedly can force choice against any other democrat whom he may object to.

Yet it doesn't follow that the president can PICK his preferred candidate and make his party's convention acquiesce in his selection.

Much earlier in the game the popular political impression was that F. D. favored Henry A. Wallace, Harold L. Ickes or Harry L. Hopkins. All these have gone floozy for various reasons. Then Paul V. McNutt got into the limelight. He hasn't made particularly good. Today he doesn't look to be as safe a gamble as Wheeler — not with the public, whatever F. D. may think about it. Garner and Hull. Then there are John N. Garner and Cordell Hull. Nobody believes that Garner can be acceptable to the New Dealers.

As a presidential candidate, with the qualification that F. D.'s candidacy (if the latter's a candidate) comes first in his favor. Lewis and Norris certainly come under the liberal heading. Sen. Alva B. Adams of Colorado also speaks well of Burton K. I wouldn't call Adams a pronounced conservative, but neither would I call him a violent liberal, like Senator Norris.

Versatile—That's Mike Golden Glove Champ, Footballer, Wrestler Now Manages Band

By GEORGE TUCKER

New York—I kept seeing his face through a veil of smoke, with white lights beating down on it, but I couldn't place him. There was plenty of smoke in this room, in this pint-sized room on 52nd street, but there were no white glaring lights. There was a dim aura or glow, no more, and Woody Herman's orchestra was threading its way through the nostalgic, rhythmic sweeps of a long since forgotten blues song. Try as I might — as persistently as I searched the corners of my memory, this man with the broad shoulders and the strange, intense, yet pleasant face, eluded me.

So I said to Howard Richmond, "who is that fellow?" and he replied, "Why, that's Mike Vetro. He's Woody's manager. You ought to know him. He was a Golden Glove champion."

So that's where I had seen him — fighting in those best and most thrilling of all fights—the Golden Gloves. Mike fought at 175 pounds — the light-heavy division — and he was crowned champ of that division in as hectic a bout as you will remember. It ended with Mike standing under the glare of those white lights, and the other fellow a still, beaten sodden figure on the canvas.

After that Mike and the New York Golden Glovers fought the Chicago Glovers, and Mike won his bout there too, thereby becoming inter-city champion. Before that he had played football with Carideo at Mt. Vernon high school and also at prep school, before Frankie Carideo went on to become the most famous of all Knute Rockne's all-American quarterbacks. Mike had followed that up with a year of wrestling for Jack Curley ("I was a hero 18 nights in a row and a bum for twelve").

That's Mike. Now a word on Woody Herman. A quiet almost serious boy from Milwaukee. He used to be with Isham Jones. They have a 14-piece band now, run on a cooperative basis — mostly medium tempo, occasionally sweet, but with a decided talent for deep, strange blues. Look for him on the air. Give him a hearing. Plays a little clarinet — plays a little sax — a little of this and the other. About five-eight, I should say, maybe seven. Slight. Good strong voice. Baritone.

The last I saw of him he was shaking hands with Jack Robbins, the music publisher, and waving his hand to a couple of song pluggers who had just come in.

Another modern miracle, according to the man at the next desk, is the way one's car suddenly looks 10 years older when the neighbors get a new one.

Little Hawks Face Boone Tomorrow

Invaders Hoping To Break Streak Of Three Defeats

Resting for one week before their final spurge in conference competition, the City High Hawks go against foreign competition tomorrow night, meeting Boone at the new gym.

Boone, one of the better teams of central Iowa, has lost its last three games in a row, and seems just about due to break into the win column. The Toradors lost a 10-point decision to Ames' powerhouse Monday night.

Iowa City has one more chance to improve its standing in the conference, meeting McKinley's greatly improved quintet at Cedar Rapids next week. A win will put the Little Hawks into the first division of the conference.

ROSE BOWL Player Claims He Was Paid

FRESNO, Calif., Feb. 7 (AP)—A football player who appeared in the Rose Bowl was quoted today by a state education department official as having said he and his teammates "demanded $100 for the game and got it."

W. H. Orion, chief of the division of health, physical education and recreation, declined to identify the player, the team or the section of the country it represented, declaring "it is a confidential matter."

Vance Basler Advances in C. R. Glove Tourney

By NORMAN SLEEZER
 CEDAR RAPIDS, Feb. 7.—(Special to The Daily Iowan)—Cedar Rapids' 1940 Golden Gloves tournament will enter the finals next Wednesday night with only one Iowa City boy remaining in the running for a trip to Chicago and the possibility of winning a golden glove.

Tonight, at the Coliseum here, Vance Basler, defending middleweight titleholder, scored his second straight K.O. win of the meet, but Loyd Cutler, hard hitting bantam, John Graham, lightweight, and Bill Rochex all lost decisions.

Basler, seemingly much improved from the heavy cold which has marred his previous efforts, counted a quick knockout over Everett Lutz, Anamosa, in 1:03 of the first round. A short right cross to the button sent the Anamosa boy away.

Rochex, fighting Duke Defendi, Anamosa, who had previously won two bouts by knockouts, fought on even terms with his opponent throughout the fight and a goodly number of fans lustily booed the decision.

Cutler, against Glenn Shaver, unorthodox southpaw, and Graham, against Al Rodriguez, slugging young Oelwein Mexican, put up game battles but lost close decisions.

Several outstanding upsets featured the five-hour long, 37-bout card. In the flyweight class two defending champions, Milton Cashman, of Anamosa, and Freddie Perkins, of Cedar Rapids, hooked up in a close three round duel with Cashman copping the duke.

Later, in the 118-pound class, Leslie Leggett, defending champ and outstanding favorite to retain his crown, was knocked out by an unknown, Fred Bahr of Washington, in the first round.

Floyd Kuhn, who Monday night defeated Tommie Eden, 1939 light heavyweight champ, was upset by a rapid firing little Irishman from Cedar Rapids, Dick Reilly.

Marvin Whitters, C. R. lightweight, who won an extremely doubtful decision over Dick Goenne Monday, conquered two more opponents tonight in practically the same manner. Don McFarland, Independence, and Elmer Scott, Boone, both seemed to have the bouts tucked away in their respective hip pockets when Whitters was awarded the fights. Both tilts were given the raspberry by the crowd.

Basler will appear at Cedar Rapids next Wednesday to battle for the right to continue on into Chicago. Many Iowa Citizens are expected to be on hand to lend moral support to his cause.

Make Plans To Nationalize Dolphin Clubs

Big Ten Organizations Want To Get Swimmers Nation Wide Control

Plans now underway for making the Dolphin fraternity a national organization were revealed last night at a meeting of Iowa Dolphins in Iowa Union.

The Dolphin fraternity, of which Iowa has the distinction of being the founder, has spread to leading universities throughout the nation, and schools in the Big Ten are striving to bring all chapters under national supervision. Plans will be discussed more fully at a conference meeting which will be held in connection with the Big Ten meet at Ohio State, March 5 and 6.

Moving pictures of the trip to Florida, which Coach Dave Armbruster and several Dolphins took during Christmas vacation, were shown to the group along with pictures taken by Lee Cochran of the university visual education department, of several of the Hawk swimmers in action in the Iowa pool.

Reports were made by Bob Sebastian and Don Westrom concerning Dolphin shows at Purdue and Chicago. Several new ideas were brought up in connection with these shows that may add to the effectiveness of the Iowa 1941 Dolphin Follies.

Tankmen Face Gophers Here Friday Evening

Both Teams Are Unbeaten

Iowans Will Depend On Balance, Stars; Gophers on Veterans

U-High Cagers Set For Game At West Liberty

The University high cagers yesterday went through a short intra-squad scrimmage followed by a practice game against the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. The game, a rough affair, ended in favor of the Bluehaws, 25-10, with the frat boys puffing.

Local Place Most Famed For Musical Effort

Joe Blow approaches the window cautiously, sticks his head in wearily and asks about the methods of switching classes. Beebe informs him that it is against the rule to make the change after the semester starts. This sometimes ends the conversation, but sometimes not.

A severe testing will be given to the University of Iowa's swimming team here Friday evening when the strong Minnesota squad appears here for a dual meet.

Both teams are unbeaten, Iowa having opened its season with a 64-20 win over Illinois, while Minnesota has beaten Iowa State, Nebraska, Gustavus Adolphus and Chicago.

Team balance and the presence of several outstanding stars will be relied upon by Coach Dave Armbruster for victory over the Gophers.

Best of the Iowans probably will be Russ Dotson and Carl Ahlgren, 220 and 440; co-Capt. Al Armbruster, back stroke; George Poulos, breast stroke; Charles Westrom, 100, and Walter Bareisa, 60 and 100.

Five lettermen form the nucleus for the Gopher squad, plus an additional five reserves who have yet to win their initial "M." Heading the veterans will be co-Captains Jy Jablonski, sprinter, and John Sahman, breast stroke. Other returning letter-winners are Jerome Liedl and Sheldon Laagar, sprinters, and Elmer Green, back stroke.

Outstanding among the newcomers on the squad is Charles "Judd" Ringer, sprinter and breast stroke sophomore star. Harvey Robinson, a transfer student from the U. S. naval academy, won a Navy letter last year in the middle distance events.

Chief drawback to the Gopher hopes is the lack of divers. Lawrence Perry, a reserve last season, and Joe Varhol are the probable entries.

The erection of billboards and other forms of outdoor advertising along the highways is forbidden by law in the Hawaiian islands.

Twenty to forty per cent of all trees are made up of gases, trapped in the minute cells composing the wood.

After this, they check with the student health doctors. The feet looked all right when he was over there and the arches were as neat as those on park gates.

The feet still hurt though, but the student in question admits that last night he walked from the Quad to Currier hall to the Union across the river to a basketball game back to Dubuque street to Currier to town and finally back across the river. "The feet should hurt," says Beebe.

Next comes another batch of figures.

He enjoys himself at basketball games by charting the contest, which means that the game is recorded on paper in all motions, from shots at the buckets down to faked passes.

Wrestlers Drill for Badgers; Coach Howard Alters Lineup

Praises Whitmore; Lauds Work Done By Kemp, Johnson

Unperturbed by the 19-9 trimming which the Gopher wrestling team handed his team last Saturday, Coach Mike Howard went ahead laying plans to overcome Badger matmen at Wisconsin this week end.

There will be a shift in the Hawkeye lineup which will put Loy Julius back in the 128-pound class and remove Philip Millen to the 145-pound class to replace Taylor.

In reviewing last Saturday's meet, Coach Howard said that, as the meet was planned by him, Iowa should have taken a fall in the 121-pound division and it was hoped that Phil Millen would have limited Hansen to a decision. This would have given Iowa an even break with the Gophers.

Paul Whitmore has a clean slate to date and if he keeps on using the technique which he showed last week he should not have any trouble keeping his record clear.

Art Johnson, the new Iowa heavyweight, showed good wrestling form in his win over Minnesota's Kuusisto. Johnson should develop into a fine wrestler, as he demonstrated not only how to use his head in the ring but also how to apply his strength.

Should Bill Sherman come around to his last year's form Iowa will be a very formidable foe for any team in the conference.

Announce Sale Of Prep Cage Tourney Ducats

Orders for tickets for the state high school boys' basketball tournament in the University of Iowa field house March 14-16 now are being received by the department of athletics.

Charles Gailher, business manager of athletics, said that $2.50 has been set by the Iowa State High School Athletic association as the price of a season ticket. These tickets admit to reserved seats flanking the court on either side.

Ticket prices by days, when a season ticket is not bought, are 50 cents for Thursday morning, 75 cents for Thursday afternoon and evening, all day Friday, and Saturday afternoon; and one dollar for the Saturday night finals. The purchaser is entitled to a reserved seat if desired.

School pupils will be admitted to each session for 25 cents. It is the first time that the tournament has been held in the Iowa field house since that structure's capacity was increased to 13,000.

Upper D Takes Quad Title By Downing Lower C. 32-21

Three championship games and two co-op games were played off in the intramural basketball tourney last night as the season neared its close.

Upper D annexed the Quadrangle championship as it won the second consecutive game over Lower C in the final round. The two teams were evenly matched in the first period of play and were knotted by a 4-4 score at the end of that period.

But the victors started to pull away in the second period and were never headed the rest of the game. The second period ended with the victors leading by eight points, with the game ending at a 32-21 score.

G. Snyder led Upper D to victory as he accounted for 12 points and Russell Busk caged eight for the victors. Menke led Lower C's attack with 12 points.

Delta Upsilon downed Phi Epsilon Kappa 28-20 in a round robin class A championship game. D. U. doubled Phi Epsilon Kappa's scoring to lead 14-7 at the end of the first period.

It was all Delta Upsilon during the next stanza and they led, 20-10, at the conclusion of that frame. Phi Epsilon Kappa staged a rally in the opening minutes

Paychek Next For Joe Louis

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs announced tonight that if Joe Louis successfully defends his heavyweight championship against Arturo Godoy Friday night, as expected, his next title opponent will be Johnny Paychek of Des Moines.

The fight probably will be held in Madison Square Garden here, where Friday night's bout will be staged, and, although no date has been set, it has tentatively been arranged for April 3.

Jacobs previously had said that if the Louis-Paychek fight is "made," the Finnish relief fund would share in the gate.

Changes Made In Schedules

Changes in the University of Iowa's swimming, track, and gymnastics schedules were announced Wednesday, involving a date shift, cancellation, and postponement.

Hawkeye swimmers, originally booked to meet Northwestern in the fieldhouse pool Saturday, March 16, will clash with the Wildcats here Monday, March 18. The change was made necessary because of the scheduling of the state high school basketball tournament for the week end.

The track squad will not compete in the Illinois relay carnival of Feb. 17. Opening meet of the season therefore is the Iowa-Northwestern-Purdue triangular meet at Lafayette, Ind. Feb. 24.

Illness among members of both teams has resulted in the postponement of the Chicago-Iowa gymnastic meet which was to have been held here Saturday afternoon. A new date has not yet been arranged.

Banquets Make Coaching Staff Good Speakers

Being a member of a famous football coaching staff, according to E. G. "Dad" Schroeder, Iowa's athletic director, is almost as good as a speech course.

"Our football staff members are getting to be some speakers," Schroeder said yesterday.

"It was a great speech Jim Harris made the other night," the Iowa director commented, "and Eddie Anderson is getting to be an even better speaker than when he came here."

Nile Kinnick, the nation's outstanding football player and athlete, is also doing quite well since his round of banquets.

"Nile will probably be quite an orator," was Schroeder's verdict.

You're Well Dressed When They're Cleaned and Pressed

Ray Cole was on the sick list for last night's encounter, so the duty of hawking Eades, the Burlington star center, fell to Ray Eakes, who stopped the Purple big gun with a lonely free throw. It was only last week that this same Eades scored 38 points in a single game.

Scoring was pretty evenly distributed in the game, with Bill Bock standing out from his guard position, but aided ably by Jim Chadek and Tony Brack at the forwards.

Joe Blow approaches the window cautiously, sticks his head in wearily and asks about the methods of switching classes. Beebe informs him that it is against the rule to make the change after the semester starts. This sometimes ends the conversation, but sometimes not.

Drees Will Be At Grid Dinner

Added to the list of sports celebrities who will attend the all-Iowa football dinner on Feb. 12, is the name of Jack Drees.

Jack played quite a bit of basketball for the Hawkeyes a few years back and while attending school he conducted a sports broadcast from station WSIU.

At present Jack is on the sports announcing staff of station WJJD in Chicago.

New Skirts Play Outfits To Show 'Ballerina' Style

Once upon a time only ballerinas, figure skaters and little girls in Sunday school programs wore extremely short and extremely full skirts. But this summer history will be made; tennis players, bicycle riders and housewives will appear in the new "ballerina skirts!"

The ballerina skirt will come as from Providence to the ladies who love to wear shorts during the hot summer months but are wary of revealing figure faults. For the ballerina skirt has a wide belt to give the appearance of a small waistline; the skirt is no longer than the one-piece shorts outfit worn beneath it and it is heavenly full.

So for that play outfit you bought last year there is one 1940 touch, a ballerina skirt in the same or contrasting colors. It's suitable for tennis, golf, hiking, every thing but swimming. And don't be too sure of that; the ballerina skirt may revolutionize the swimming suit.

Dr. Cuttino Talks About Oxford

Tells Engineers Most of His Work Done Under Two Professors

By JEAN DAVIS

No required attendance, no final exams, no grades and six months of vacation — sounds like a Utopia, doesn't it?

Actually that is "Student Life at Oxford" discussed by Dr. George P. Cuttino, instructor in history here, who spoke at the engineer's luncheon yesterday.

Returning from four years of British study last May, the Rhodes scholar recalls his attending "a few lectures" but admits that most of his work on his D.Phil. (equivalent of our Ph.D.) was done at individual conferences under only two Oxford professors.

A member of Oriel college, the fourth oldest of the 21 colleges making up Oxford, the local history instructor received his degree in English medieval history. After graduation, he did a year's work of research in London on the subject.

The library system and accommodations of the famous college were spoken of by the lecturer as "worst I've ever encountered. Few windows and poor lighting facilities make the library stacks practically inaccessible after 3 o'clock in the afternoon," the speaker said.

With no index cards available for books written before 1920, students must hunt through large, hand-written books to find the number and location of a desired volume, Dr. Cuttino added. A co-educational institution,

Oxford university has an enrollment of only about 2,200 students. Although not yet affected by the war activities there, all men are required to take work in the Oxford training corps, the speaker said.

Before his British sojourn, the former Rhodes scholar received his M.A. degree from the University of Iowa, where serving as a graduate assistant, he taught Edward Freutel, who was graduated from here last June, the recipient of a Rhodes scholarship also.

And it can't be said Cuttino returned with an English accent — not exactly. For he was born and raised in southern Georgia, educated at eastern Swarthmore and mid-western Iowa, before his trip abroad.

Mock Murder Trial To Begin Today in Law College Court

When the state charges murder in the first degree and the defendant answers with the plea of "self-defense," there's bound to be action and plenty of it!

Such a situation will be tried this afternoon beginning at 3 o'clock in the mock trial which is held each week in the University of Iowa's college of law courtroom. The case will continue tomorrow with the defendant's testimony being presented from 1:30 to 5 p.m.

Thomas Ryan, L3 of St. Paul, Minn., and Wendell Strom, L3 of Hartley, will be attorneys for the state. They will present the evidence this afternoon in the criminal case involving murder, self-defense, confession and impeachment.

Leroy McGinnis, L3 of Iowa City, and Albert Goeldner, L3 of Sigourney, will enter the plea of not guilty for the defendant.

"Being a case of murder, this afternoon's trial promises to be one of the most exciting and complicated yet held, according to Attorney Arthur O. Leff of the college of law and director of the practice courtroom activities.

The jury will be mostly composed of students taking reporting in the school of journalism. In connection with their study of criminal trials, the journalism students will have the chance of being jurors and getting some idea of actual court procedure.

Mr. Leff said yesterday that the students and townspeople have shown a great interest in the desire to participate as jurors and that every day a great number of letters come in asking to serve as jurors. Mr. Leff added that these people will be given the chance as the trials come along in the very near future.

Last week in the action for damages for personal injuries and damages to a car, the result was that neither side got anything.

S. U. I. Art Department Sponsors Chicago Trip February 24, 25 To View Picasso Exhibition

Popularly known as the "Picasso Pilgrimage," the University art department is sponsoring an excursion to Chicago to see the Picasso exhibition in the Chicago Art Institute Feb. 24 and 25. This is the first time in the history of the art department that such an expedition has been planned.

Pablo Picasso is considered the greatest living artist and one of the most prolific.

The institute and the Museum of Modern Art in New York have compiled jointly some 350 of Picasso's paintings. The exhibition was immensely popular when shown in New York; 60,000 people attended during one week.

Picasso, a Spaniard by birth, has lived most of his life in Paris and his painting shows a strong French influence.

When he first came to Paris in 1900 he worked in the style of the best known artist of that time, Toulouse Lautrec. In 1904 he began to develop a style of his own, strongly influenced by El Greco. This period is known as the blue period. In 1907 he turned cubist—he is sometimes called the creator of cubism. African negro culture and the primitive arts had an important influence on the artist during this time.

It was in 1920 that Picasso turned classicist, inspiring himself with Greek and Roman sculpture and painting.

A synthesis of all these trends has been shown in his work since 1925. He has combined cubism with the abstract.

The most monumental of all Picasso's works is the great fresco he painted in 1937 during the Spanish civil war. The fresco was done for the Spanish loyalist pavillion at the Paris world's fair.

"The exhibition which is now in Chicago is a detailed survey of the career of Picasso, as well as a few minor wrinkles," said H. W. Janson of the Iowa art department, who is in charge of the expedition.

Mr. Janson said that the two great art institutions had gathed the paintings together with great difficulty and it is probable that not such a complete collection of Picasso's paintings will again be made available to the public.

"It is even more of an event than the Van Gogh show nine years ago," asserted Janson.

The exhibition opened Feb. 1 and will remain hanging until March 3.

Mr. Janson will discuss Picasso in two public lectures, next Wednesday and again on Feb. 21 in the auditorium of the art building.

The lectures are based on the material of the exhibition and will introduce the excursion members to an understanding of Picasso.

Mr. Janson will announce the schedule and rates and accept reservations after his lectures. All students and staff members are encouraged to join the group. Those interested in the "pilgrimage" are asked to communicate with the art department secretary as soon as possible.

Lieut. Wev To Speak, Show Motion Pictures of U. S. Coast Guard Tonight

An illustrated lecture on the United States coast guard and its academy will be given at 7:30 tonight in Macbride hall.

Lieut. O. S. B. Wev of the United States coast guard will speak. A sound motion picture of coast guard activities and of the coast guard academy at New London, Conn., will be run off by chief machinist mate M. M. MacNeill, also of the coast guard service, to illustrate the lecture.

Tonight's talk is one of a series being given throughout the country in preparation for the annual competitive examination for the appointment of cadets to the coast guard academy to be held May 15.

Lieutenant Wev is speaking to colleges throughout the north central states. His Iowa itinerary so far has included Coe college and the University of Dubuque. He will speak this morning at Iowa Wesleyan college in Mt. Pleasant, and will talk later this week at Davenport, Drake university in Des Moines, and Iowa State college at Ames.

The lecture tonight will last about an hour and 15 minutes, and is open to the general public.

The coast guard academy, where officers for the coast guard are trained, offers a course of instruction which is basically scientific and engineering in character. Practical sea-going experience is offered in summer cruises to South America. A cadet undergoing instruction receives $750 per year plus an allowance. Upon graduation he is eligible for a commission in the coast guard as an ensign.

The examination for entrance into the academy is open to men between 17 and 22 years of age, and is purely competitive in nature. The mental requirements are, in general, the same as those necessary for admission to engineering colleges.

No Joke! Posts 'Confucius Say' As Warning

The "Confucius Say" jokes are having their round of popularity on the campus these days. But it's a hundred to one that the fellow who posted this ominous warning on a bulletin board in the engineering building thought his predicament was "no joke." "Confucius Say: The guy who is seen wearing my top-coat had better be carrying an axe!"

Interpreting The War News—

Outlook for Finland Remains Black Despite Recent Developments; Military Men Expect Disaster Soon

Necessary Aid For Finland Not in Sight

Hope Lies in Allies' Possible Decision To Open War on Russia

By EDWARD E. BOMAR Associated Press Staff Writer

The outlook for the Finns remains black, regardless of a series of optimistic developments, emanating from belligerent and neutral capitals.

Sympathizers who have followed with satisfaction the repeated Finnish successes in turning back the Red army invasion will be disappointed to learn that nothing thus far reported has altered a deep-rooted conviction among professional military men that the tide soon may turn disastrously.

The conviction is based, of course, on the assumption that Moscow will keep driving the Red steamroller forward.

Reinforcements on the Way From developments it might be judged that effective reinforcements are on the way to Finland and will arrive in time.

Britain already is sending warplanes, the house of commons is informed officially. Paris reports 50 cutdowns of Italian planes have been shipped via France, to help turn back the Russian bombers.

In Berlin the nazis find occasion to proclaim that they have not committed themselves to assist the Soviet. In Washington a proposal to lend Finland $20,000,000 more for supplies is approved by a senate committee.

300 Planes Enough Some airmen have contended that about 300 modern fighting planes would be sufficient to chase away the bombers, and there are reports that probably 400 have been sent or have been arranged for.

Even so, all the aid in sight does not add up to the total of men and munitions that military experts say the Finns must have, and soon, to keep from being overwhelmed.

In this view, Finland may be doomed as early as next month, by the time daylight hours have lengthened materially, and before the frozen north land starts to thaw out and turn into muck. If the defenders can hold out beyond March, they probably can last until July, but by mid-summer they will be done for, the experts believe.

Planes are needed desperately and immediately, but beyond these the Finns require such substantial and continuing aid as 100,000 to 200,000 trained troops and 200,000 or so artillery shells monthly. With the weary Finns thus reinforced, Moscow might think better of the whole adventure and find some means of reaching a settlement short of conquest.

Nowhere in Sight Just now, those troops and munitions are nowhere in sight.

The picture is not completely doleful for Finland, however. There is time yet for the British and French to act on a decision that they have more to gain than loss by warring openly on Russia, and thus possibly rescue Finland by pressure on the Soviet in either the far north or south. On this side of the British-French veil of censorship it is whispered that the western allies may even now be secretly organizing a naval and land force expedition to Petsamo, in the far north, which the red army occupied at the start of the invasion, or even to the nearby Russian port of Murmansk.

Counter Move This would mean inevitably a counter move by Germany and probably turn more of Scandinavia into a battlefield, a possibility nervous Sweden and Norway have contemplated from the first.

Both are negotiating now in the United States for warplanes and other munitions. Another possibility is an attack by British-French-Turkish forces being massed in the middle east, directed toward the Soviet-oil fields in south Russia.

Either move would fit neatly into the grand strategy of Winston Churchill of seeking a decision elsewhere than through the blood and mud of the western front.

It is well to bear in mind that almost anything can happen in this war, and probably will before it is over.

which Thomas had placed in the congressional record. Thomas denounced Pelley for trying to make money out of a public document, and in the exchange which followed Pelley insisted that he was lost in admiration for the congressman, while the latter made it clear that he had no use for the leader of the Silver Shirts.

Finally, the hearing ended in haste and some confusion when Rep. Voorhis (D-Calif.) imputed to Pelley a statement that President Roosevelt had appropriated infantile paralysis funds to his own use and asked if Pelley "really" believed it. Acting chairman Starnes (D-Ala.) banged his gavel, asserted that Voorhis was going "pretty far afield," and ended the session. At an executive meeting held immediately, the committee ordered the question stricken from the record.

Another development concerning the Dies committee occurred a little later when Rep. Voorhis, who is a committee member, protested on the house floor against a magazine article by chairman Dies (D-Tex.). The article, Voorhis asserted, appeared in Liberty magazine and concerned conditions on the Pacific coast—which Voorhis said the committee had not yet investigated.

"The appearance of such articles and what the chairman had to say puts the investigation in an extremely difficult position," Voorhis said, "and makes it hard for the investigation not to be colored by opinions and statements."

The Cahornian declared that the committee planned to make an inquiry into conditions on the west coast, which he said he welcomed. But he thought the sequence should be first to take evidence, establish facts and "then make the report."

"I wouldn't be true to my own convictions," said Voorhis, "if I didn't make a protest as to what's happened." Voorhis did not discuss the nature of the article by Dies, raw materials." At the beginning of her war with Germany, Britain seemed careful to avoid offending Russia but her pledges of aid to Finland have changed that.

British assistance is not wholly altruistic, observers said, since Russian preoccupation in Finland diminishes Soviet "bogey" value in German diplomatic maneuvers, particularly in southeast Europe and the near east.

The allies have alert eyes in this region as was demonstrated by the meeting in Cairo today of General Maxime Weygand and Lieut. Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, French and British military chiefs in the near east, for an inspection of defenses and review of British Indian and Egyptian troops.

Appeal Falls Eire's prime minister, Eamon De Valera, whose basic goal is the same but who has sternly repressed the I.R.A. because of its violent methods, appealed vainly for clemency for Richards and Barnes.

His appeal was part of a tide of such pleas for "mercy, if not justice," so British-Irish relations would not suffer.

All these pleas, however, fell on deaf ears. The British official stand against clemency or even delay in the hangings was hardened by a burst of bombings yesterday in which seven persons were hurt—five in London's Brompton station and two at Birmingham.

For more than a year such bombings have been frequent; in post offices, railway stations, post boxes, subway luggage rooms. There were 291 such explosions in 1939, all attributed to the I.R.A. seven persons were killed and 96 wounded.

Barnes and Richards were convicted of murder for planting a bomb in the crate of a tradesman's delivery "bike" which exploded at a curb in Coventry. Their conviction was based on the death of Elsie Ansell, a shop-girl about to be married. Four others were killed in the blast.

Business Unchanged NEW YORK, (AP)—The index of business conditions compiled by the magazine "Time" was unchanged for last week at 97.6.

No Disorders Night fell in Dublin, Belfast, Birmingham and London, however, without disorders. A small protest procession carried black flags in Dublin; sports events there and in other Irish cities were cancelled; the home of Sir John Massey, British representative in Ireland, was guarded and Tom Barry, Cork Irish republican, called a protest meeting there for tonight.

Silent men in Belfast, capital of loyalist northern Ireland, wore black armbands; girls tied black ribbons in their hair. With police patrols strongly reinforced, Birmingham and London saw the execution pass with outward apathy.

As the Winton Green prison clock struck nine, a crowd of several hundred outside the gates bared their heads to a chill mist. Seven minutes later a prison warder emerged, tacked up notices of the execution on a small door in the center of the prison gate. These began: "The judgment of death has been executed."

Richards and Barnes walked to their deaths to two scaffolds. The traps were sprung simultaneously by two executioners. A priest who administered the last rites left the prison half an hour before the executions.

They were the first to pay with their lives for the I.R.A.'s new campaign, conducted by bombs and terrorism, to make England "get out of Ireland."

The main goal of this campaign is the union of the six northern Ireland counties to Ireland, to weld all Ireland into a "free" nation. Ulster still is part of the united kingdom and her government is staunchly loyalist.

Lincoln Dinner Scheduled For Next Tuesday

Sen A. J. Shaw To Speak at Annual Republican Banquet

Attorney Robert L. Larson, chairman of the Johnson county republican central committee, yesterday announced that reservations for the annual Lincoln day dinner, to be held at the Jefferson hotel next Tuesday evening, should be made by Saturday night. All members of the republican committee have been selling tickets for the past two weeks.

This year's celebration was postponed a day to avoid a conflict in date with the all-Iowa banquet, which will be held in honor of the university football squad in Iowa Union Monday night.

Besides the main speaker for the Lincoln day dinner, Sen. A. J. Shaw of Pocahontas, other distinguished guests expected are Representative Harold Claypool of Williamsburg, Lester Eicher, Washington, Ia., of the Iowa highway commission and Dr. Frederick Schadt of Williamsburg, state senator from this district.

The dinner is open to both men and women. Plans are now underway for the young republicans of the county to attend in a body and occupy a reserved table.

The following menu has been announced for the dinner: celery hearts, assorted olives, roast young turkey, dressing, cranberry sauce, snowflake potatoes, early June peas, butter, perfection salad, mayonnaise dressing, hot rolls and muffins, Lincoln center brick ice cream, cake and coffee.

Tester Speaks To Lions Club

Professor Describes Development of Oil Fields in Colombia

Having returned recently from a two-year stay in the South American republic of Colombia, Prof. Allen C. Tester of the geology department described his work there to the Lions club at its weekly luncheon meeting yesterday. Professor Tester used colored moving pictures to illustrate the beauty of the scenery and the type of life found in Colombia.

"Production of oil in Colombia," said Professor Tester, "is comparatively new, but rapid strides have been made in the last few years. More than $15,000,000 has been spent in the past year for exploration and development of oil fields, and it is expected that the end of this year will find Colombia the sixth largest producer of oil in the world."

Drumsticks Will Dance

Leonard, Yoseloff Act Is Saturday Feature At Silver Shadow

By BARBARA BISHOP There are chicken drumsticks, there are turkey drumsticks; but the drumsticks par excellence will be those in the hands of Vernon Leonard, A2 of Mason City, as he and Martin Yoseloff, A3 of Mason City, perform at the Silver Shadow party Saturday evening in Iowa Union.

Martin introduces Vernon in rhyme, and Vernon answers in rhyme, rumba and tango, Benny Goodman school of swing, and Dixieland rhythm.

The act was developed as a part of a musical comedy "Let There Be Music" produced in the Mason City junior college in 1938 by Martin who wrote the scenes and the dialogue and took the part of master of ceremonies. The three-act production with a cast of 80 was a memorial to George Gershwin who died in that year. Gershwin's music was used.

"Rhythmmania" which appeared in Clear Lake and "Saints and Fools" presented in Mason City are two of the five other shows which Martin has produced.

Vernon, who Martin says is "really good," got his experience playing in dance orchestras near and around Mason City, and both played drums in the Mason City high school band.

30th Boy Scout Birthday Iowa City Scouts Begin Week's Celebration With Radio Program

Iowa City Boy Scouts began their observance of the 30th birthday of the Boy Scouts of America yesterday with a radio playlet, "Scouting vs. Pioneering," by Frank Marlow, A4 of University City, Mo., over station WSUI.

The local scouts began their observance one day earlier than the national celebration of Boy Scout week which begins today and continues through Feb. 16. Wearing their complete uniforms to school, 450 scouts in this area will aid one and one-half million boys in America in celebration of the birthday of the organization.

Boys in the playlet included Wayne Mahana, Don Morgan, Donald Walters, Clarence Conklin, Raymond Hudachek, Fred Goss Jr., and Robert Hein. The playlet was based upon the author's experiences as a member of the "Pioneers" in Russia where he, like all boys of school age, was forced into the organization.

A "court of honor" will be held at 7:30 tonight in the city hall as part of the local observance. At this meeting Iowa City scouts will receive awards.

President Roosevelt, honorary scout president, will begin the national observance at 9:30 tonight with a speech over the three major networks. The history of the organization will be traced back to its entrance into the United States from England by other speakers on the program.

"Scouting—The American Way" is the theme of this year's Boy Scout week celebration. M. R. Petersen, district court commissioner, said that in this year's observance emphasis is placed upon the 12th point in the scout law which says that a scout should be reverent, faithful in his religious duties and respectful of the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.

Petersen explained that each president since William Howard Taft has recognized the importance of the Boy Scout movement in building better citizens. Each president has become an honorary national president, he said.

In charge of the local celebration are Walter Meinzer, chairman; M. N. Leffler and Charles Whipple.

City Council Asks Commission To Reconsider Vote on Dam

Another force urging the Iowa conservation commission to reconsider its objections to the proposed $6,000,000 Coralville dam project was applied yesterday in the form of a statement by members of the Iowa City council.

Meeting in special meeting in the mayor's office of the city hall, councilmen passed the following resolution: "Whereas, the United States government proposes to construct and build a safe dam across the Iowa river a few miles north and west of Iowa City, Iowa, for the purpose of impounding the flood waters of the Iowa river valley; and

"Whereas, the Iowa conservation commission has heretofore voted against approving the entire project for flood control by such dam; and

"Whereas, it is the firm conviction of a great many Iowa Citizens that the construction of such dam would greatly benefit Iowa City, would furnish much work for its residents, both skilled and unskilled, would tend to improve the water supply of this city by controlling the silt deposits, and would protect the city park and the recently constructed river front improvements from flood damage, now therefore,

"Be it resolved by the mayor and city council of Iowa City, Iowa, that we do urge upon the Iowa conservation commission that it reconsider its former vote and that with the matter then before it, the commission give the merits of the entire proposition its careful consideration."

Phones Banned As Toll Protest

Long Distance Rates Irk County Board; Service Discontinued

JEFFERSON, Ia., Feb. 7 (AP)—All telephones in county offices here were ordered disconnected by the Greene county board of supervisors today as the protest spread against proposed "long distance" toll rates which the Jefferson telephone company plans to charge between various towns in the county.

Petitions were being circulated by various groups urging residents and business establishments which have not already done so, to have their telephones disconnected.

Officials of the telephone company said 160 telephones had been disconnected in the last few days at the request of subscribers.

The company, recently formed by consolidating two exchanges, has discontinued a policy of long standing whereby residents in any of the Greene county towns could call to the other towns without extra charge.

Spring Near, He Believes

North-Bound Ducks Indicate to Farmer That Winter's Leaving

First indications of spring were noted yesterday morning when Charles Wheeler, working on the Charles Showers farm one mile south of Iowa City, saw the season's "first flock" of ducks flying north.

Wheeler counted 23 ducks in the flock which he saw about 10 a.m. yesterday. They were flying low but definitely north, he said.

There was some doubt in his mind whether they were really headed into the north country for good, thereby indicating the return of spring, or if they were only coming north on a scouting flight.

Whatever the case may be, he's looking for robins now!

Yesterday's highest temperature stopped one degree below normal, but the low of 21 was 10 above.

Yesterday's average temperature was not warm enough to melt the ice off the streets and intersections.

A minor auto accident was reported to local police last night. Cars driven by Margaret Cannon and Hoyt A. Ross collided at Davenport and Dodge at 6 p.m. Ross had not reported his damage late last night. The extent of damage to Miss Cannon's car also was not estimated.

A year ago yesterday mercury ranged between 11 and 30 degrees in Iowa City.
