Wading through the surf, rescuers bring ashore some of the crew from a British steamer which, according to the British caption, had been bombed and machine-gunned by Nazi airmen. They are only a few of the seafaring men struck down in the intensified Nazi air raids on British shipping. Scene is "somewhere in England."

Reds Hold Koivisto Islands—Guardians of Viipuri

Finnish Admit Russian Gain Is 'Important'

Army Now Organized On 2nd Defense Line—Kaislahti to Lake Muola

—FROM HELSINKI—

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS

HELSINKI, Feb. 27 (Tuesday)

(AP) — Koivisto islands, from which Finnish guns once guarded the eastern end of the Gulf of Finland and the western end of Finland's Mannerheim line, now are in Soviet Russian hands, clearing away one more barrier to the red army drive on Viipuri.

The fall of Finland's "Gibraltar" brings more definitely than before a concentration of the front in a sector before Viipuri.

It is likely the Koivisto guns were silenced some days ago for they have not been mentioned in recent Finnish communiques.

Last night's announcement of the withdrawal of Finnish forces from the islands did not say how it was carried out, but those who could, probably headed across the ice for the mainland since the Russians previously had occupied Koivisto village.

The Finns made no effort to minimize the seriousness of the withdrawal, since the fort helped guard the approaches to Viipuri harbor.

The main thing now was that further intensification of the battle for Viipuri could be expected on the western half of the isthmus, where the Finns have shortened and straightened their front while the Russian lines have broadened.

WHAT? NO REWARD? Return of $2,000 Only Worth a Memory

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26 (AP)—Jose Garcia, who bundles waste paper for a living, found $2,000 in an envelope in the trash room of a leading (Biltmore) hotel.

The money was returned to its owner, a hotel guest, who told Jose, "I will not forget you." Then the guest checked out.

"No, I will not forget him either," sighed Jose.

Judge Manton Must Serve 2-Year Term

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Martin Thomas Manton, who a year ago occupied the highest and most venerated judicial post in the nation short of the supreme court itself, probably will enter prison within a week to serve a 2-year term for selling his integrity for cash.

The former senior judge of the U. S. circuit court of appeals here was convicted last June 3—specifically of conspiracy to obstruct justice before his own bench—and today in Washington the supreme court sealed his extraordinary fall, refusing a review of his case.

House Votes Acceptance Of Farm Bill

Measure Makes Sixty Million Available Now For Crop Control

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—

In response to a radiogram from President Roosevelt, the house voted today to make $60,000,000 of next year's agriculture fund available immediately to keep crop control checks flowing to farmers.

Members of the house appropriations committee reported that the president had approved the transaction in order to replenish the regular $500,000,000 benefit payment fund which has been depleted by increased farmer compliance with crop control plans.

A few minutes later they added the $60,000,000 to a $30,089,139 deficiency bill designed to meet emergency needs of various government agencies until July 1.

Late in the day, the house passed the measure, which now goes to the senate.

Committee members announced that an agreement had been reached with senators that an equal amount would be deducted from the 1941 farm appropriation bill pending before the senate appropriations committee.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, asserting that the agriculture department had underestimated the number of farmers who currently would participate in the AAA programs, told the house committee that the transfer would not increase the total of $1,000,000,000 that would be appropriated for the two years.

He predicted, however, that it would result in a small decrease in individual payments to farmers in 1941.

While the house was considering the deficiency bill, Wallace told the senate appropriations committee, which is studying the 1941 appropriation measure, that failure to include money for "parity" payments or the equivalent might interfere with control programs.

Farm state legislators have talked of voting about $200,000,000 for such payments.

Holdup Man's Fourth Return Irks Attendant

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 26 (AP)—Early today when a robber walked into the filling station where Michael Langer is an attendant, Langer wearily dropped what he was doing and blurted out:

"Listen, I thought you told me you wouldn't hold me up again. Every time you rob me from now on the money will come out of my own pocket. This has got to stop."

It was, you see, the robber's fourth visit in a few weeks.

"I got to do it," the robber replied, not even bothering to pull out his gun. "I need money to go to school. You have a job and I haven't." With that he walked off... 6.50 richer.

So you can imagine how good Langer felt a few hours later when detectives showed a man to him whom he promptly identified as the long-sought robber. Detective James Mullen said the suspect, identified as John Perovich, 23, confessed.

British Government Says Standard of Living Must Be Lowered To Help Present War Plans

English Claim 128 Attacks by Germany On Unarmed Vessels

—FROM LONDON—

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Great Britain's millions were told bluntly today that the government's plans for crushing Germany call for a "drastic" lowering of the British standard of living to turn more world trade profits to war.

With the government disclosing German air smashes at her all-important sea lanes near home had brought 128 attacks up to February 22 on "unarmed British merchant ships and fishing vessels," and with two more freighters reported sunk today, Robert S. Hudson, British secretary for overseas trade, called upon manufacturers for "heroic" exports. These, he forecast at Glasgow, would be achieved through restriction of home consumption which is "bound to be drastic."

Voters Denied Right To Deed C. R. School

DES MOINES, Feb. 26 (AP)—

Voters of a school district are not given authority to dispose of property belonging to the district without adequate consideration, assistant Attorney General John M. Rankin said today.

The question arose through a proposal at Cedar Rapids to deed the old Washington high school property to the city. Cedar Rapids school authorities had sought an opinion as to whether the proposition could be submitted to the voters of the district at an election.

R. A. Griffin of the state department of public instruction said the assistant attorney general's reply to the request for an opinion had been sent to Superintendent of Schools Arthur C. Deamer at Cedar Rapids.

Urges Check On Gold Hoard In Kentucky

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—

Senator Tobey (R-NH) suggested today that the senate check up to see whether the government really has the huge hoard of gold and silver reported to be buried at Fort Knox, Ky., and in other depositories.

He told the senate that there had been no "verification or physical inspection" by the general accounting office of the holdings reported by the treasury, and proposed in a resolution that a committee of five senators investigate the present method of auditing treasury reports.

"No one knows," he said, "whether the gold, silver, cash, bonds and securities which are actual assets behind the book-keeping figures are in the several depositories or not."

Hitler's Reich Next Stop For Peace Envoy

Meets With Apparent Success in Italy After Cool Reception

—FROM ROME—

By CHARLES H. GUPPILL

ROME, Feb. 26 (AP)—Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles' "mission of inquiry" in Europe appeared today to have met considerable initial success in conferences with Premier Mussolini and Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Septicism with which authoritative Italians originally greeted announcement of the American envoy's visit melted noticeably after his hour and a quarter talk with Ciano this morning and still more after he stayed with Mussolini an hour this afternoon.

Accompanied on both visits by United States Ambassador William Phillips, Welles made the most of his first day in Rome and prepared to depart tomorrow at midnight for Berlin, the next objective on his swing through major European capitals surveying the war situation for President Roosevelt.

Another newly arrived American envoy, Myron C. Taylor, the president's personal representative to Pope Pius XII, prepared for his first audience with the pontiff tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. (3:30 a.m. CST.)

Welles demonstrated his own satisfaction with his call on Ciano by breaking his vow of silence to observe that the meeting had been "very gratifying and helpful."

Ciano reported on it immediately to his father-in-law and the fascist press with one accord took a sudden interest in Welles' activities after virtually ignoring his visit.

Subject Guarded

The subject of the talks was guarded carefully but foreign observers believed they must have exceeded the limits of mere "fact-finding" on Welles' part. They reasoned that Ciano would not have gone in such haste to inform Mussolini merely of the extent of the American's curiosity.

Dressed in civilian clothes, 11 Duce received Welles and Phillips at the Palazzo Venezia and talked with them in French. Their talk with Ciano was in English which 11 Duce's son-in-law speaks fluently.

The sudden warmth of the Italian press reaction inspired belief in some quarters that Welles might have made some specific suggestion which struck a responsive chord in Italian policy.

Allies Sink 2 Nazi Ships Near Finland

BERGEN, Norway, Feb. 26 (AP)—Allied warships, which only last week began an Arctic blockade to halt German-Russian sea traffic along Norway's irregular coast, were reported tonight to have sunk two German vessels in action near the Finnish shore.

Reports from Varde, 50 miles northwest of Finland's Petsamo fjord, now occupied by Soviet forces, did not say whether the sunken German vessels were warships or freighters.

Nor was it clear whether the sinkings had taken place within Norwegian territorial waters—which would create within 10 days a second incident threatening Norway's neutral status. Norway replied only yesterday to a British memorandum in the case of the German ship Altmark—boarded Feb. 16 at Gjosvingfjord by British sailors who took off 299 British prisoners.

The 4,354-ton German steamer Orizaba, which ran aground today at Skjervoy, near Hammerfest, 175 miles west of Varde, was reported tonight to have sunk. There was no indication that war action had figured in her sinking.

Frederick A. Quire Dies Of Self-Inflicted Gun Wound

Was Outstanding In Pharmacy; Burial Will Be in Grinnell

Frederick A. Quire, 23, P4 of Monmouth, Ill., and formerly of Kanawha, died in a Monmouth hospital at 3:30 a.m. Sunday from a self-inflicted gunshot wound. The verdict of suicide was returned by Dr. J. O. Firth, Warren county coroner, after an investigation into the University of Iowa student's death.

Funeral service for the youth will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at Monmouth and at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Grinnell in the Snyder funeral home. Burial will be in Grinnell.

Quire became ill the first part of last week while in Iowa City. His roommate, Oren T. Skouge, M3 of Kanawha, called medical aid from the student health department and after Quire's case was diagnosed, Skouge called the youth's father who took him to Monmouth to recover. The family lived in Kanawha until recently.

Quire was yesterday described as an "honorary" student in the local college of pharmacy. Dean Rudolph A. Kuever of the college said of him, "Frederick was a very fine lad. We were all fond of him. He was such a fine and cooperative honor student. There would have been no doubt about his success in the future had he been permitted to go on."

Dean Kuever said that he had only recently been discussing work after graduation with Quire and "he seemed very enthusiastic about it all."

At the time of his death, Quire

was vice-president of the senior pharmacy class and was president of the Iowa chapter of Rho Chi, national honorary pharmaceutical society.

Other honors received in the college of pharmacy include receipt of the Cooper prize in 1938, near the end of his sophomore year, for having the highest rank in the pharmaceutical laboratory course for the year. The prize consisted of membership in the American Pharmaceutical association.

During his junior year he was elected to Rho Chi and Union Board.

Besides his parents, Quire is survived by two sisters.

Congress, Welles Delay 'Third Term' Statement

By RICHARD L. TURNER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—

Despite the agonized pleas of baffled democrats that President Roosevelt state his attitude toward a third term, there is a strong feeling here that he will not do so until two things have happened.

The first of these is the return of Ambassador Sumner Welles from his European "mission of inquiry," and the other is the adjournment of congress.

Devoting some second thoughts to the fact that Mr. Roosevelt did nothing to keep his name out of the coming Illinois presidential primary, certain Roosevelt supporters express the opinion that in this instance no other course was open to him, regardless of what his ultimate aims may be.

To have approved the entry of his name in Illinois would have been to set the third-term controversy going full blast, producing a spectacular domestic rumpus at a time when Mr. Roosevelt probably wants things at home to have the outward appearance, at least, of sweet and unbroken tranquillity. Such an appearance would tend to add weight to any suggestions Welles may have to make to European statesmen concerning future peace.

And, to have withdrawn from the primary with anything like a definite disavowal of third term hopes, would automatically have robbed any presidential peace moves of much of their force, say these Roosevelt supporters.

Welles was in Rome today making the first of a series of calls which will find him conferring with all the important statesmen of Europe, in an apparent effort to clarify the terms on which a future peace might be based. The deadline for any action by the president withdrawing his name in Illinois was midnight Saturday.

Now, this opinion is, had the president acted on Saturday to declare himself out of the race, Welles would have begun his mission somewhat in the position of an ambassador without a government. European nations, the argument runs, would not have been so much interested in what Welles had to say, if they knew definitely that his chief at home was to retire from public life next January.

Prestige is involved, too, where congress is concerned. A statement against a third term before adjournment would make of the new deal just another second term administration trying to get along with a congress that knows no future favors are to be expected.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 26 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—Iowa's cagers slipped lower into the second division of the Big Ten here tonight as Purdue's Boilermakers marched on toward the title with a smashing 50-29 victory over the Hawkeyes. The Boilermakers, winners of nine games in 10 starts, clinched at least a share of the championship.

The Hawkeyes matched Purdue, shot for shot throughout most of the turbulent first half, but fell behind as a four-minute spurt of 11 points sent the Boilermakers ahead 28-18 at the half. Before the Boilermaker spurge, the lead changed hands 14 times in rapid succession, counting the ties.

Two sophomores, Don Blanken and Forrest Sprowl, paced the Purdue attack with 18 and 13 points, respectively. Tommy Lind and Milt Kuhl led the Hawkeyes with 10 points each.

Hawks Face Big Week End

The last two basketball games and the only home indoor track meet are tops on the University of Iowa's six-event Friday to Monday sports schedule.

Illinois' basketball team, with Big Ten record-holder Bill Hapac as the attraction, comes to the field house Saturday night, followed Monday by Northwestern, the team which beat Iowa on phenomenal free-throwing last week.

It's a busy week end for the wrestlers, too, for they close their dual meet season by meeting Kansas State at Manhattan Friday and Nebraska at Lincoln Saturday. Gymnasts go to Minneapolis to meet Minnesota in the final dual contest of the season Saturday.

Many Entered In Track Meet

Iowa and Minnesota coaches have entered a total of 49 athletes in the dual track and field meet to be held in the Hawkeye field house Friday evening.

Coach George Bresnahan named 30 men, while Coach Jim Kelly of Minnesota picked 19 athletes. On the Gopher roster is Jack DeField, national A.A.U. junior pole vault champion who has a best mark of 13-9; and George Franck, the Davenport lad who was regular football halfback and has won the short dash in his first three dual meets of 1940.

In the close battle for points, Iowa will bank on such men as Merlin Erickson of Waukon, who scored nine points in the half and mile in the triangular meet last week; Bill Leuz, shot putter; Bill Green, sprinter; and Hank Vollenweider, hurdler.

Frosh Trackmen Name Vacik As Captain

In an election held yesterday afternoon in the fieldhouse, George Vacik was named freshman track captain for this year. Vacik is a star performer at the distance runs on the yearling squad and has collected 26 points this far in the season in five postal meets.

Coming from West Branch where he captained the high school team in many victories, Vacik was state high school champ in the indoor mile run last year, covering the distance in the time of 4 minutes and 38 seconds. George's best time this year is 4 minutes and 32 seconds, a marked improvement.

Vacik also does a good job of running in the two-mile grind and won this event along with the mile last week in a meet with the Chicago freshmen.

'Athlete of The Year' Vote Begins

Voting for Iowa's "Athlete of the Year" formally opened last night, with students casting their ballots in four polling places. Whetstone's No. 1, Racine's No. 1, the D and L grill and The Daily Iowan.

Voting, on ballots clipped from The Daily Iowan, will continue until nine o'clock Thursday evening, it was decided yesterday, with the winner to be announced

Friday morning. The trophy will be presented between halves of the Iowa-Northwestern basketball game next Monday night at the fieldhouse.

Although no formal check has been made as yet on the few votes cast, there are indications that football will probably lead other sports in the final check-up. Last year's vote was a tribute to all-around ability as Erwin Prasse, football, basketball and baseball star, won the award.

This year's outstanding favorite, of course, is Nile Kinnick, all-American halfback, with Mike Enich, captain-elect of next year's grid team, rated as one of the more formidable contenders. The few votes checked in the box installed in the Daily Iowan office proved beyond doubt that Kinnick would be very much in the running.

Other stars seemingly about to enter the running quite strongly are Jim George and Harold Haub of the baseball squad and Tommy Lind, basketball, Haub and George, co-captains of this year's diamond team, were instrumental in Iowa's march to the Big Ten title last spring.

Maroons' 516 Points Easily Scored Over Inexperienced Hawks

Lack of experience cost the Iowa gymnasts their second meet of the season, as the University of Chicago team, under the leadership of the Shanken brothers, took an easy 516 to 472 victory over the Hawks in the fieldhouse gymnasium last night.

Co-Capt. Roy Lipoti and Lyle Felderman took first place honors for the Iowans in two of the five events, but the Hawks were unable to match the visitors' points for second and third place honors and the locals' team total was much lower.

Courtney Shanken won the horizontal bar event, with his brother, Earl, taking second and Glenn Pierre taking third place honors to give the visitors a clean sweep of the first event. Co-Capt. Roy Lipoti of Iowa placed highest in the side horse competition, but the Shanken brothers took second and third place honors to give Chicago the edge in this event also. Pierre won the flying rings event, with Co-Capt. McCloy of Iowa and Harold Lefrier tying for second.

Lyle Felderman took first for the Hawks in the parallel bars, with the Shanken brothers again winning second and third. Robertson and the Shankens gave the visitors a clean sweep in tumbling.

DAVENPORT, Feb. 26 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—The mighty little Ramblers of St. Mary's rolled on along the road toward the championship in the Catholic basketball tourney here tonight as they smashed St. Joseph's of Ft. Madison, 44-26. The win advanced the Marians to the semi-finals where they meet St. Mathias of Muscatine at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Chadek and Tony Brack led the Ramblers through tonight's victory, caging 10 and 11 points, respectively.

Locals Set For Tournies

City action in the state tournament basketball play goes into action on two fronts this week, with City high meeting Muscatine at Durant and U-high tangling with West Branch at Mount Vernon.

City high, after losing the last scheduled game to Mason City last Friday, faces the task of overcoming the resistance of the Little Six conference champ, Muscatine, in its start Wednesday night at 8:40.

The Hawkllets have already dropped one decision to the Muskies early in the season, but they have come a long way since then, while Muscatine has been going down hill. Although the long shot underdog in the contest, Iowa City Fitzpatrick, f, 1.0 1 2 is given a big chance of beating the fast-breaking, accurate-passing Purple and Gold five.

U-high faces a much easier task against West Branch Friday night at 8:40 at Mt. Vernon. The Blues have beaten West Branch by a goodly margin during their regular season, both teams competing in the same conference.

City high beats Muscatine, the Hawkllets will face the winner of the West Liberty-Wilton Junction game Saturday night. A win by U-high will pit them against the Anamosa-Mt. Vernon winner Saturday night.

There Were No Upsets

City Loop Standings Prove That Contests Ran True to Form

In a standing so "perfect" that it was odd, the Complete Auto quintet sparked by Floyd DeHeer, six foot eight inch center and former University of Iowa athlete, defeated every team in the league and won the undisputed basketball championship of Iowa City.

No "upsets" occurred during the season if the final standings are to be the judge. Every team in the league defeated all of the quintets below it and lost to all teams occupying higher positions in the final calculations. Co. G lost to Complete Auto while winning all its other encounters for a second place berth. Miller's Truckers were defeated by Co. G and Complete auto, while the Moose lost to the same two as well as Miller's.

Dysarts' whipped West Branch for its lone victory, but lost to Royal Cafe in their battle for sixth place. Jefferson Hotel ended in fifth place despite three one-point defeats by taking the measure of the last three teams.

DeHeer scored an even 100 points in the 7 games to take individual scoring honors in the league. Paul Brechler, coach at University high, officiated in every game.

The Iowa Citians started off on fairly even terms with the Ottumwa quint, ending the first half only three points in arrears at 15-18, but counted only five points in the final half while Central was caging 14. Red Miller counted 10 points to lead the Irish attack.

Cyclones Lose AMES (AP)—Kansas won an easy 42 to 29 victory over Iowa State in a Big Six basketball game here last night with Ralph Miller, flashy forward, dropping in 19 points for the visitors.

Get the War Paint, Men! We'll Go Gay

Bright Corduroy, Crazy Sox Will Lead Men's Dress Parade

O. K.! So the snow still is on the ground and the birds aren't "larking" from the trees—spring is just around the corner!

With this advent of spring, not only women's but men's minds turn to happy thoughts of new clothes. And for men's clothes this spring, the women are going to have to go a long way to surpass them in color for the 1940 spring models are virtually "loud."

Since most men buy from the head to the feet, hats are first for consideration. In the respect of men's hats, "believe-it-or-not" they are fairly conservative. As usual, most college men will take to the "pork pie" style in their new hats. Soft shades of blue, green, gray and even yellow with a darker shade in the corresponding color are the most frequently shown these days. Of course for the "unconservative" type of "Joe College," Tahiti bands will be seen on most spring models. These bands are especially appropriate for the fellow who has lost his last friend for they lighten up an otherwise extremely dull or uninteresting countenance!

Every year something new appears on the clothes horizon. Oddly enough, corduroy is not seen in men's pants so much as it will be seen in nearly every other clothes item he wears. Hats, coats, shoes and sports slacks are coming out in various corduroy shades.

Already many college men are sporting the new "pork pie" corduroy hat and they are all sporting the new fold featured in this type of hat. Instead of the traditional round fold on the top of the hat, the new hats fold in a point in the front. The corduroy coat has the advantage of being rainproof which means that with the spring rains, a corduroy outfit will be the appropriate thing.

Most of the "ah's" and "oh's" from college women when they look at their date for the day will come when they view the tie he'll be wearing. Ties are fancier than ever this year. Different from most years, plain colors are predominant this spring. In past years, men stocked-up on plaids and stripes but this year they'll buy plain colors and be completely satisfied. Yellows, blues, browns, tans and greens are all shaded to go with the new sport shirts and slacks. Ties are always one of the most important spots in a man's attire. This year he has an exceptional chance to be in style by being plain.

Although most men don't spend sleepless nights dreaming about what tie they will wear the next day, this spring they will worry about which one to pick from an amazing choice of variety and color. He'll find stripes shown most consistently for they go well with the plain sport coats, slacks and ties. Any man will tell you, however, that there is nothing like a white shirt for any occasion.

Wow! Look at the sports coats this season and then blink your eyes to be sure you're not seeing things. Sport coats, always handy in the college man's wardrobe, are sensational this year. Grandpa would have told you "it can't happen here," but you can see for yourself that the new reds, tans, blues and browns are just a few of the colors being shown in conspicuous shades. Checks in design are giving way somewhat this year to plain ideas. A solid blue coat in a dark shade matches very well with the light tan slacks shown this year.

Slacks are finally out of the dark ages which held them in check for so long. This spring, slacks have come into a new world for they have followed completely the change to additional color shades. Pleats are still as popular as ever and, of course, they should be cut short so that "wild" socks can be seen.

Following the change to plain colors, socks are shown in solid shades. In this respect, men can match their ties by blending the blue of the tie to the blue in the sock. No longer need the men in the house put on pure white socks to show that spring is here. He'll do much better to wear a light shade of yellow and green.

As to shoes, well, get a pair of saddle shoes. Get a muddy water hole, dip them, squish them and walk out in public a well-dressed man. Thick soles are still popular but two out of three college men will go right back to the traditional campus favorite saddle shoes.

Incidentally, if you see the duplicate of the American flag walking down the street, don't be amazed for it's just the college man proudly sporting his red coat, blue pants and white shirt!

Quad Singers Organize

Deming Smith Again Will Lead Dormitory Group in Sing Fest

"Give me some men who are stout-hearted men," sang Quad maestro Deming Smith "and we'll fight for the right we adore," which at the moment in which he started to organize the annual Quad chorus last night, was considered by all present to simply be the privilege of winning first place in the annual spring sing fest in which, last year, the Quad rolled in second only to Sigma Chi fraternity.

Smith, A3 of Toledo, stepped out from the ranks of the Quadrangle songsters, who gathered around the grand piano in the lounge, to wave his long arms again in the angular gestures which led a chorus of 35 men to distinction last spring.

Although its weekly practice will be open to men from all sections of the dormitory for the next few weeks, the chorus will eventually have to be cut to contest size. James W. Maurer, C4 of Tipton, will accompany it again this year.

The Quad chorus is one of the first among the men's organizations on the campus to organize this year. The common goal of these groups is the picturesque spring sing fest which for the last two years has been held on the steps of the fine arts building on the bank of Iowa river.

In addition to its chorus, the Quad has received recognition in music circles in recent years through its small vocal group which performed last year in many Iowa cities.

Attention Philosophers!

Magazine Offers Prizes for Best 'Confucius Say' Jokes

Once upon a time people thought Confucius was a philosopher. But those people didn't realize all of Confucius' potentialities, for now it seems that the "Confucius Say" jokes can not only make college students howl with laughter—the "perverted proverbs" can actually make money for their creators!

The Saturday Evening Post is offering 167 cash prizes, totalling $750, for "Chinese" proverbs which may be applied to some fact about the Saturday Evening Post's leadership in the weekly magazine field. Students are invited to trot out their best "pidgin in English," exert their imagination, and send in their "brainstorms," in the magazine's search for new advertising ideas.

Students are encouraged to send in as many proverbs as they can think of. The first prize is $100 and other awards are two second prizes, $50 each; four third prizes, $25 each; 10 fourth prizes, $10 each; 50 fifth prizes, $5 each; and 100 sixth prizes, $1 each.

In addition to the cash prizes, there will be 500 honorable mention awards which will consist of "Campus Confucius" diplomas, with the student's name filled in.

Action Will Expand Program for More Democratic Government

Prof. Kirk Porter of the political science department has received word that he is to participate in a movement which is being sponsored by the National Municipal league of which President C. A. Dykstra of the University of Wisconsin is president.

The movement consists of proposing the national expansion of a tested educational program for increasing the effectiveness of democratic government. This proposal is designed to make available for general educational use a new technique developed as part of the program of preparing voters for intelligent action on the complicated issues of the New York state constitutional convention of 1938.

In the general election of that November, three million average American citizens voted on nine constitutional amendments proposed by the convention with an intelligence and discrimination astonishing to the experts.

The National Municipal league developed the plan which prepared voters for an intelligent decision upon the amendments submitted by it for popular ratification.

Because this program was so successful in New York state, it is proposed now to expand it nationally. Colleges and universities will act as local centers of fact-finding. Any local citizen groups are completely free to develop any program they may choose. The only function of the nationally organized central committee will be that of helping to supply all cooperating groups the best scholarship available nationally upon the subject or subjects that may be under consideration in any locality.

In an effort to give some unity to the program, it is proposed to hold a national conference at Indiana university early next May. At that time cooperating organizations can determine the direction to be taken by the program.

Approval of the plan has been voiced by presidents of many leading colleges and universities throughout the country.

One Hour Of Freedom

2 County Prisoners Saw Bars of Cell—Police Arrest Pair

Two Johnson county prisoners, Leo Lovell, Des Moines, and Robert Ross, Moline, were back in their cells yesterday after trading a short hour of freedom Sunday night for a sentence not to exceed one year in the penitentiary.

The men succeeded in gaining their few minutes of freedom Sunday about 7 p.m. by sawing through two of the iron bars which covered the window of their cell in the southeast corner of the jail. Their plans for escape were intercepted however when Sheriff Don McComas, returning to the jail from North Liberty, saw one of the men climb from the window and run around the south side of the jail.

The sheriff, after a hurried investigation, notified city police who sent a warning over their short-wave radio set for squad cars to be on the watch for the fugitives.

Shortly after the warning had been broadcast, a call came to the station telling of an attempted automobile theft at 532 S. Dubuque street. The second call was broadcast by the police and Sheriff McComas and Deputy Sheriff Preston Koser arrived at the scene to find Lovell being held prisoner by Harry Eckhoff and Everett Diehl. Lovell attempted to take Diehl's automobile, the men said.

Arrested at Depot

Shortly after the capture of Lovell, Ross was arrested at the Rock Island passenger depot.

According to Sheriff McComas, Lovell, who had been sentenced to jail for a year on a robbery charge, had only a few more days to serve. Ross was sent to jail on Jan. 13 to await trial, having been charged in an information with larceny.

Although the instruments used to cut the bars have not yet been found, McComas believed that saws had been procured by the men.

"The bars on the window are made of soft iron," the sheriff said, "and the mesh of the screens covering the windows would easily permit the use of a hack-saw."

Prior to the jailbreak, plans had already been made to ask for the installation of saw-proof iron bars and a finer mesh screen on all the windows of the first floor of the jail, Sheriff McComas said.

Former Hawaiian Governor To Speak Here Next Monday

Lawrence M. Judd, former governor of Hawaii's official ambassador of understanding, will speak on "Hawaii—Pivot of the Pacific," in a public lecture sponsored by the college of commerce next Monday at 4:10 p. m. in chemistry auditorium.

Serving in the military service in the Hawaiian infantry, Judd was colonel in command of all troops of the Hawaiian National Guard in 1918 and was appointed governor of Hawaii by former President Herbert Hoover in 1929. He held this position for over four years.

Recently he has been traveling on the mainland of the United States for the chamber of commerce of Honolulu. He was appointed a member of the Hawaiian Equal Rights commission by Governor Joseph B. Poindexter in 1935.

Judd is well qualified to lecture on Hawaii. He was born there and his father arrived on the islands in 1828. The elder Judd served as chief justice of the Hawaiian supreme court during the reigns of King Kalaakaua and Queen Liliuakalani, as well as during the administrations of the Provisional government and the Republic of Hawaii.

What the territory of Hawaii means to the United States will be the theme of Judd's talk, which is designed to "remove from the ground, misconceptions in regard to the territory and to form a wider organization of the community of economic and political interest between Hawaii and continental United States," the announcement of the lecture said.

Monday's lecture is one of a series sponsored by the college of commerce, which is headed by Dean Chester A. Phillips.

Some of the technologists needed badly in the forces of national defense include chemical laboratory technicians, dental hygienists, dental mechanics, dietitians, statistical clerks, X-ray technicians, pharmacists and nurses, she pointed out.
