REDS BEGIN WHOLESALE BOMBING

Russian Army Charges to Within a Mile of Strategic Viipuri

Soviet Forces Converging On Besieged City

Communique Claims 270 Fortifications Captured in Advance

MOSCOW, March 1 (AP) — The Russian army reported early today that its forces had driven to within slightly more than a mile of Viipuri, strategic Finnish port on the Gulf of Finland.

A communique from the Leningrad military headquarters said that the red army was driving on Viipuri from the east and south in a developing offensive and that the nearest force had reached Ylasainio, just south of the city on Viipuri bay.

The nearest point gained by the troops driving from the east was reported to be Pero, a railway station about five miles from Viipuri. Also reported occupied were Heinjoki, about 14 miles east of Viipuri and Ayrappa, about 12 miles east of Heinjoki.

All three places are on the Viipuri-Valkjärvi railroad. The communique reported that 270 more Finnish fortifications, including 66 iron and concrete forts, were taken in the advance.

The red army claimed that 36 Finnish airplanes were destroyed "in air combats" in widespread aerial activity during the day.

Finns Retreat To New Positions

HELSINKI, Feb. 29 (AP) — Forced back once more on the western edge of the Karelian isthmus, Finnish forces today braced themselves in what they said were stronger positions, massed artillery and mined the ice of Viipuri bay in a determined effort to prevent encirclement of Viipuri, objective of the Russian invaders.

The Finnish high command reported that the red army, entering the fourth month of its ponderous offensive, was forced to pay dearly for every inch of ground gained in this area while continued assaults on the eastern side of the isthmus were said to have been repulsed with heavy losses.

Elsewhere, the Finns said Russian attacks were thrown back northeast of Lake Ladoga, in the vicinity of Pitkaranta, and that more enemy strong points were captured at Kuhmo, in central Finland where some Russians are encircled.

Robert Donat Wins 'Oscar'

'Gone With the Wind,' Vivien Leigh Capture Academy Awards

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 29 (AP) — "Gone With the Wind" won the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences annual production award tonight. Robert Donat was given the statuette for the best acting achievement for "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," Vivien Leigh, Scarlett in "Gone With the Wind," won the feminine "Oscar."

Thomas Mitchell, for his work in "Stagecoach," was judged the best supporting actor. Hattie McDaniel, Negro mammy in "Gone With the Wind," won the supporting actress award.

Victor Fleming, for "Gone With the Wind," was named the best director.

Other awards: Best original story: Lewis R. Foster for "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington."

Best screen-play: the late Sidney Howard for "Gone With the Wind."

"Gone With the Wind" also won the prize for best color and film editing. Best song was regarded as "Over the Rainbow" from "The Wizard of Oz."

The Irving Thalberg memorial award was given to David O. Selznick, who produced "Gone With the Wind."

The Iowa Student Body Voices Its Praise for Nile—

Kinnick Bests Enich for 'Athlete of Year' Award

NILE KINNICK

In a day of hectic balloting, Nile Kinnick yesterday added to his trophy collection The Daily Iowan traveling award, given each year to Iowa's "Athlete of the Year." He supplants Erwin Prasse as the favorite athlete of University of Iowa students.

Trailing by 30 votes at the end of Wednesday's voting, Kinnick finished the race in a fashion something like an Iowa football finish. With several sizeable groups almost entirely in the Kinnick fold, the votes piled up, leaving the all-American halfback with a final total of 692 votes, 175 ahead of Mike Enich, who had taken the lead Wednesday.

Yesterday, in the biggest day of the four-day contest, Kinnick polled the tremendous total of 420, against 211 for Enich, who finished with a final score of 517.

Behind the two leaders came Dick Evans and Harold Haub in third and fourth places, respectively. Evans, gridded and basketball player, ended up with 232 against Haub's final 216. Jimmy George, well up with the top ranking favorites, fell off yesterday, but finished in fifth place with 143, and Billy Sherman, wrestling star, totalled 102.

Much of the vote in the final hours came from women's groups, the damsels dividing their votes almost equally between Kinnick, Enich, Haub and Evans, although not scattering the support by any means.

One of Kinnick's largest blocks of votes came from Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, where a solid backing of 39 university women signed for the winner. Almost balancing this number, however, was the Clinton Place vote for Evans, for whom approximately thirty of the ballots were cast. Ballots rushed from Eastlawn to The Daily Iowan office shortly before the poll closed were split between Kinnick, Enich and Haub, while the men at the Quadrangle gave Enich their votes with few exceptions.

The trophy will be presented to Kinnick between halves of the Iowa-Northwestern basketball game at the fieldhouse Monday night. Athletic scholarship trophies will also be presented by the athletic board to the scholastically highest sophomores in all university sports.

Kinnick adds the Iowan traveling award, presented for the first time last year, to a long list of trophies and plaques (including such eminent honors as the Heisman, Maxwell and Walter Camp awards) symbolic of his prowess on the Hawkeye gridiron in 1939.

House O.K.'s Appropriation Without Flood Control Increase

Refuses To Permit Lock Construction For Panama Canal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP) — Economy advocates demonstrated their strength today when the house passed a $203,472,567 appropriation bill without a single attempt being made to increase funds for flood control, or rivers and harbors improvements.

Among other things, the house upheld action of its appropriations committee in refusing $15,000,000 to start construction of a new set of Panama canal locks, proposed by President Roosevelt as a national defense measure.

The appropriation measure, which was dispatched to the senate, carries the annual allowances for the war department's so-called civil functions—work by army engineers on river channels, harbors, canals and dams.

As passed by the house on an unrecorded vote, the measure carried $70,000,000 for flood control in general, $30,000,000 for flood control on the lower Mississippi river, $66,721,510 for rivers and harbors improvements and $30,098,771 for the Panama canal.

No Money For Dam Project?

Information available last night was to the effect that no money for the $6,600,000 Coralville dam project was included in the flood control bill passed by the house, although no official breakdown of allocation of funds was furnished to verify the assumption.

River Floods Three Villages In California

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29 (AP) — The Sacramento river, swollen by torrents from its many tributaries, poured yellow water through broken dikes today, inundating villages and farmlands. The breaching of the levees flooded three towns, with an aggregate population of about 800, and created a threatening situation in the lower valley.

Weather was favorable, however, and river experts predicted the flow soon would reflect the drop of the upper stream.

British To End Nazi-Italian Coal Dealings

LONDON, Feb. 29 (AP) — Government officials, announcing "suspension" of trade negotiations with Rome, disclosed tonight that the British navy had been ordered to halt all shipments of German coal consigned to Italy beginning tomorrow. Negotiations for a war trade agreement between Rome and London have been in progress for several weeks, and pending their conclusion Britain has allowed Italy to import coal from the reich without interference.

Who Will Reign at the Mecca Ball?

Fires Rage Far Into Night In 'Nearly Every Finnish Town'

Hoover Advises Loan To Avert Polish Suffering

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover told congress today that it should appropriate up to $20,000,000 immediately to help avert an "acute" food shortage facing about 7,000,000 residents of dismembered Poland.

A short time after he made that recommendation to the house foreign affairs committee, the senate completed congressional action on a bill to give the export-import bank a $100,000,000 increase in its lending capital, from which it could make a $20,000,000 loan to beleaguered Finland for non-military purchases.

Waves of Bombers Drop Deadly Cargoes Throughout Finland

HELSINKI, Feb. 29 (AP) — Many civilians were killed, fires were started which raged far into the night and much damage was done today by huge fleets of Russian bombing planes which attacked some Finnish cities in waves.

Observers said it appeared nearly every town in Finland had been bombed.

At least 10 persons were killed and many injured at the island town of Savonlinna, 80 miles north of Viipuri in Kokonselka lake, where the planes loosed their bombs in frequent attacks all through the day.

Rush First Aid First aid was rushed to the historic town devastated by dozens of fires.

The place, which Finns said is defenseless, is the site of the world-famous medieval island fortress of Olavi, hitherto one of the best preserved relics in northern Europe.

Riihimaki, 40 miles north of Helsinki, was bombed five times, and although details were not available, it was reported fires were raging there far into the night.

Fierce Counterattacks Kuovola was bombed-time after time by fleets as large as 50, 60 and 80 planes. Details of the casualties and damage there still were not known. Finnish fighter planes fiercely counterattacked and prevented a bombing of Kajani by 64 Russian craft.

Two persons were killed and three wounded at the little out-of-the-way village of Inkerainen. One was killed at Hamina and one at Turku, much bombed port on the Gulf of Bothnia.

Nazi Security Deemed Thesis Of Hitler Talk

Welles Will Meet Three German Leaders During Today's Visit

BERLIN, Feb. 29 (AP) — Security and domination within the region Germany regards as her living space appeared tonight to be the thesis Adolf Hitler will stress when talking with United States Undersecretary Sumner Welles, due in Berlin tomorrow morning from Rome and Zurich, on his fact-finding European tour.

The German foreign office as a curtain raiser to Welles' arrival around 9:30 a.m. tomorrow let its semi-official spokesman, Karl Megerle, restate Germany's war aim as that of rendering secure Germany's "lebensraum" (living space.) Megerle's restatement came in an editorial in his Berliner Boersenzeltung.

Beyond that there was nothing concerning Germany's information for President Roosevelt's investigator nor concerning Welles' program which most likely will bring him in conference on his very first day here first with Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and then Hitler—with a visit to Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering later.

Nazis Suspend Border Passes

BRUSSELS, Feb. 29 (AP) — Reliable reports tonight from Eupen, on the Belgian-German frontier, said that German authorities had ordered a suspension of the usual frontier passes beginning tomorrow except for regular students or Brussels men crossing under agreements of chambers of commerce.

Three To Debate in Tourney

Chapman, Christensen, Krause To Compete In Extempore, Oratory, Debate

Today these three University of Iowa representatives go "over the top" and into the thick of the battle, as the eighth annual Iowa Invitational Forensic tourney begins. They are, left to right, Marvin Chapman, A2 of Iowa City, who will compete in the extempore speaking division; Norman Krause, A3 of Hutchinson, Kan., entrant in the original oratory section, and Roland Christensen, A3 of Iowa City, who is undefeated in debate tournament competition. Part of the responsibility for upholding the rank of the University of Iowa in debate competition falls on the shoulders of Marvin Chapman, A2 of Iowa City, Roland Christensen, of Iowa City, and Norman Krause, A3 of Hutchinson, Kan. Chapman is an entrant in the extempore speaking division, while Krause will compete in the (See DEBATERS, Page 8)

France Revalues Its Franc

Body of Girl Found in Coat

Hit-and-Run Driver Abandons 6-Year-Old In Chicago Garage

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (AP) — The body of a six-year-old girl, tossed bloody and crumpled into the corner of a north side private garage, was discovered tonight, hidden under an old coat.

Victim of a hit-and-run automobile driver, police said she had been abandoned by the panic-stricken driver after he had told witnesses he would rush the child to a hospital.

Dr. John J. Cunningham, called by the coroner, said the girl, Beverly Joan Frank, had remained alive for at least two hours after she was deserted.

Held by police was Walter Bradshaw, 45, a butcher, who was seized two hours after the accident on a tip furnished by a person who saw the accident. Police Capt. Thomas Duffy said Bradshaw, arrested while he was washing off what appeared to be bloodstains on the front bumper of his car, admitted striking the girl.

$200,000,000 Near Addition To Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP) — An increase of $200,000,000 or more in farm appropriations has received tentative approval of a senate appropriations subcommittee, farm state senators reported today.

F. R. To Land Tomorrow

ABOARD U.S.S. LANG AT SEA Feb. 29 (AP-via wireless) — President Roosevelt disclosed today he would end his southern cruise at Pensacola, Fla., at about noon tomorrow and would leave by train for Washington, arriving Saturday afternoon.

The president will complete a 15-day cruise covering 4,000 miles of saltwater journeying, a trip which provided an opportunity for the most thorough inspection of Panama canal defenses ever made by a president of the United States.

To Add Billion To War Chest

Draconian Measures Prepare Nation Anew For Economic War

PARIS, March 1 (Friday) (AP) — France today announced a revaluation of her gold stocks and a borrowing operation from the Bank of France to add 50,000,000 francs ($1,250,000,000) to her war chest in a series of draconian decrees intended to implement the nation economically for its war with Germany.

Provisions for rationing food, increasing production, particularly on the farm, and curtailment of consumption and spending were other measures announced by Finance Minister Paul Reynaud.

Nearly half the 50,000,000 francs was realized by revaluation of the bank of France's gold stocks to the present Paris rate of the dollar—43.80 francs to the dollar. At this rate the franc is worth $0.25. The revaluation was approximately 22 per cent.

A 'Medal of Honor'

Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department and director of the university symphony orchestra, is shown above as he was presented the Bruckner "medal of honor" by Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts, at the close of the university symphony concert at Iowa Union Wednesday night. The award was made by the organization "in recognition of his efforts to create greater interest in and appreciation of the music of Anton Bruckner, the great Austrian composer of the 19th century."

The Little Child Who Leads Them

And a little child shall lead them!

HOW OFTEN these words of an old sage have been used as a feature lead on some humorous newspaper human interest story. But last Thursday this phrase took on a meaning of great immensity—a new Dalai Lama, a six year-old peasant boy, was installed as civil and religious head of 3,000,000 Tibetans.

The spirit of Buddha, god to 150,000,000 Asiatics, is believed by these Tibetans to be travelling from mortal to mortal throughout the centuries and has been embodied in the Dalai Lamas, rulers of state and church since 1419. When No. 13 died in 1933, the lesser lamas consulted the oracles. They looked for a baby born the moment the old Lama died, with a mole on its right shoulder, and ability to identify the holy garments.

No. 14 is a herdsman's son, found in the outer lands of Tibet after a six year's search. After the coronation celebration, the new ruler will govern through regents until he reaches maturity. Five Lamas of the 19th century, picked as children, died before reaching maturity, poisoned by regent guardians who wanted to keep the power.

Gone are the joys of childhood for this boy of destiny. He will have ornamental skulls to play with, hideous dancers to amuse him and a brass band playing continually every night to drive out evil spirits. Pageantry, rich costumes, ritual, more pageantry, golden pavilions castles—things one dreams about in a land of mystery.

The boy probably would rather have a hobby horse or a toy set of leaden soldiers. But such is life—time marches on and destiny mars the path of history.

The Sociologist Offers His Solution

DEMOCRACY is an attempt to rule through a rational public opinion. It presupposes the self-conscious, intelligent cooperation of the whole mass of people in the process of government.

A totalitarian government on the other hand recognizes the existence of only one political party. The leaders of this single party control their nation's destiny. The mass of the people take no active part in the political program of the party in power.

The very existence of these two antagonistic forms of government causes the merits of each to be ever compared. It has been more or less assumed that the success of one will spell the doom of the other. One wonders just which political form will survive.

In this respect it is comforting to know that the sociologist is on the side of the democracies. One sociologist, for example, has said:

"There can be no doubt that the realization of successful democratic government will be a slow process; but so far as the student of human society can discern, it is inevitable. It is inevitable that human groups in their ultimate development should be ruled by the rational opinion of the group."

"It was inevitable that the earliest groups should be ruled by custom and habit, and it was also probably inevitable that in the development of government, autocracy or absolutism should be tried out. But it is plain that in the long-run human groups must be ruled by their own mind."

By scientific methods the sociologist has analyzed the problem and has found a result favorable to the cause of democracy. Let's hope the analysis is correct.

Machiavelli And The Nazi Prince

MORE THAN 400 YEARS AGO, Nicolo Machiavelli, the Italian politician wrote: "A certain Prince of our own days, whom it is not well to name, is always preaching peace and good faith, although the mortal enemy of both."

Isn't it odd, that after four centuries the Nameless Prince should be christened "Adolf Hitler." Terrorizing Europe under the guise of peace and good faith, Hitler stepped out of bounds one bright September morning and the British lion has been after him ever since.

Machiavelli's book, The Prince, printed in 1530 and hated since that time because of its political and social theories, has now come to a place of honor in Adolf Hitler's Reich.

Preparedness In The Near East

IT'S ABOUT time for another crop of readers to tackle Lawrence of Arabia's "Seven Pillars of Wisdom." That book is strong meat, but a lot of Americans have found it worth while merely as a remarkable piece of writing and a colorful picture of the Arabian campaign in the last war. Now, a quarter of a century later, the whole Near East suddenly becomes alive again with marching troops and martial spirit.

The Arabs now seem to be British allies. Old hostilities are forgotten. Like the British and the French, they have made peace with the Turks, and the whole Near East rises together, prepared for—what?

It looks like mere self-defense against Russia and protection for the Balkans. There might be a strategic attack on Russia to divert Stalin and his northern campaign and save the Finns. In any case, it will be worth watching.

Patterns Of Opinion

JUST TO KEEP we Americans from getting too smug, here are a few criticisms from Max Lerner, professor of political economy at Williams college (Mass.).

He warns us of the threat to civil liberties caused by a new "pattern of opinion" in this country, with waves of anti-Semitism, anti-labor consciousness, a growing movement against aliens, and a "red scare."

The anti-Semitism, he explains, is a new type, a synthetic product, and doesn't come from any actual Jewish problem. He thinks, "there is no Jewish problem in America."

Then, there is the propaganda peril. We are living, he says, "in a golden age of propaganda" with millions of people listening to the new adventurers and manipulators of ideas operating in the name of "Americanism."

Maintaining that the main job of democracies is educating all of the people, Prof. Lerner complains that the great agencies for forming public opinion in America "have not given the people a real competition of ideas."

He wants more newspapers, more magazines presenting more different viewpoints on public problems, so that it will be easier for people to develop sound, intelligent opinions.

Oh, No! It Isn't The Speed—

IT IS NEVER SAFE to lay down rules about the unknown. Especially when the unknown happens to be some phase of nature, be it external or human.

For instance, look how Dr. Samuel Johnson stuck his neck out a couple of hundred years ago. He was considered to be the most learned man of his time. He solemnly declared that people would never travel more than 20 miles an hour, because "they would be unable to breathe."

Then, a century later, when the railroad arrived, American college professors said that "it would probably kill the passengers if trains ever ran as fast as 35 miles an hour." They did not mean killing them in a wreck, either. Flesh and blood just wouldn't stand it.

Now men are traveling 400, 500, 600 miles an hour by air, in power dives, and expect to reach 1000 miles an hour in normal travel.

And why not? As a matter of fact, anyone who is living near the equator is traveling that fast right now, without noticing it, as the earth turns on its axis. Besides that, there is the motion of the earth itself through space around the sun and the motion of the solar system around some other center.

Mere speed is nothing. It is the stopping that is risky.

The man at the next desk says he knows a chap who went on a vacation last September and he's still resting. It appears he got a job as correspondent covering the western front.

"DEAD MAN'S HAND"

Cordell Hull's Theory That Foreign Wars Are No Threat to U. S. Is Opposed in Congress

State Secretary Cordell Hull faces considerable opposition in congress, as against his thesis that the United States is in no danger from either China-Japanese or the Russo-Finnish conflict; therefore that it would be a mistake for us to put our neutrality law in effect in either of these situations.

It generally is agreed that the Finn - Soviet fight doesn't endanger us immediately. There are plenty of critics, however, who argue that a complete Russian victory would threaten us ultimately. And they take the view that Japan already threatens American interests on the Asiatic mainland and that the setting up of a Japanese-controlled government in China would involve us in trouble with Nippon in short order. In fact, it's pointed out that our relations with Tokio are strained at present.

There isn't any question that our neutrality law applies to the conflict between Britain and France versus Germany. The Allies and the Reich are at "declared" war.

Nominally, though, so far as we're concerned, Japan isn't at war with China, nor is Russia at war with Finland, because there haven't been any declarations. Nevertheless, we can announce that, as we see it, a "state of war" exists between the Japanese and the Chinese, and between the Russians and the Finns.

It's true that these wars actually are raging. Yet if we say that we recognize as such, we automatically imply that the Japanese and Russians are liars, because they deny it.

Japan's Ambitions Now, I don't think anybody dis-presses by Uncle Sam, outlining his position. It may seem as if neither Japan nor Russia should be offended by an outright announcement that we're neutral. Nevertheless, we'd be serving notice, in effect, that we know they're at war when they say they're not. Moreover, they'd know perfectly well that we consider them wanton aggressors. Besides, numerous congressmen want to shut off shipments of our supplies, particularly munitions, to these belligerents, which would be a great hardship to the Japanese; it wouldn't make so much difference to the Russians. However, the latter certainly would feel affronted.

Looking for Trouble? Secretary Hull's view is that such a policy on our part simply would be looking for trouble, and he thinks there's no present necessity for us to do so. He has explained to our congressional foreign relations committees that he believes the state department has both the Russo-Finnish and Japanese-Chinese situations fully in hand, and he objects to any more legislative tinkering with it—at the current stage of the game, anyway.

Paraphrasing the executive branch of the United States government constitutionally is supposed to have a tolerably free hand in the management of our international affairs, and it's jealous of much interference by the legislators.

All the same, Secretary Hull's contention that neither the rump in Finland nor the one in China is potentially dangerous to Uncle Samuel is disputed by good-sized blocs of solons in both houses of congress.

As To Russia During the last world war I spent some time in Scandinavia. At that stage of the game Russia was pro-Ally.

But Russia was looking ahead all the same. Its objective was the Norwegian port of Narvig, in northern Norway, on the Atlantic. That's the place it's shooting for today.

If Stalin gets Finland, he won't have far to go to get Narvig. From there he'll have an Atlantic port to shoot from. I don't mean to exaggerate it as a base. Still, it's a possibility. And, anyway, a Stalinized Scandinavia would be a civilized headache.

For all these reasons there's a pretty strong sentiment in Capitol Hill in favor of a definite ex-

Lots of Fun - - And Grief!

Most Broadway Columnists Do Their Work During Nights!

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK — Writing a daily informal New York column can be a lot of fun at times, and it can also be a lot of grief.

After you do it for a while you find yourself leading an irregular life, because history on Broadway is usually made at night, and you can't talk to people unless you measure your playtime by theirs — which means crazy hours and almost never going to bed before 3 or 4 a.m.

Most Broadway columnists simply invert their work - day and let it go at that. They make regular rounds of the gathering places, with pad and pencil, and all their nights are spent in theaters, bars, and clubs.

Maybe I'm not geared for it or maybe I should have been an engineer, but a couple of nights a week chasing around is enough for me. Perhaps this is a subconscious way of making excuses for myself, but I have always felt that people with stuffy imaginations couldn't sin in stuffy rooms night after night, week-end-month out, listening to the same old blare, going through the same old motions.

I like to drop into a few places, say three or four in an evening, and nail somebody who is a good talker, and let him get the reminiscences going. If you listen closely and if you have a broad enough background you can piece together a dozen tellings from the things one man tells you.

Then I like to wander back to the office or to my home and sort of collapse in front of a typewriter and let nature take its course. Sometimes the words seem to flow across the page and at other times they are extremely jumpy and reluctant.

As to the value of this routine, there is a difference of opinion among my editors. I am by nature a lousy speller and have been since birth. Because of this deficiency I have had to stand for some good-natured razzing through the years, but then I have never let it embitter me because I feel that the ability to spell is innate, like hair or teeth. If you are fated to be bald, all the tonics in the world cannot save you from a bare skull. Personally I have more hair than I know what to do with.

There was once an editor of mine who looked upon a misspelled word as a sort of horrible crime, and yet he was a kindly fellow who spared the rod and spoiled his men. One day he looked up from some of my copy and, more in sorrow than in anger, said, "Tucker, you have curious limitations."

And yet it was this same editor who rose to my defense one day when his assistant came to him and complained of the way I misspelled simple words. "He isn't hired to spell," he said, "and so long as his copy reads all right I will hold the editors responsible for his spelling."

Well, he is dead now, and some day when I go back to Ohio I will lay a wreath on his grave and murmur, "Peace to the soul of Heinie Rieker."

'Sweet' Tunes Preferred By Joe College

By Student Opinion Surveys AUSTIN, Texas, March 1—Current reports that swing has lost first place among dancers are substantially correct, at least among college students. They have voted a preference for "sweet" tunes by a two-to-one majority in a nationwide poll of American campuses.

"Which do you like best, swing music, or the so-called sweet music?" was the question presented to a representative sampling of collegians by the Student Opinion Surveys of America.

From the answers they gave, it is evident that jitterbug music, over the NBC-Red network.

TUNING IN with D. Mac Showers

BRIAN AHERNE, prominent stage and picture star, will cut short his Cuban honeymoon with cinemastress Joan Fontaine to appear as dramatic guest on the "Kate Smith Hour" over CBS tonight at 7 o'clock.

Aherne will be presented in an original drama by Kate Smith, the singing star of the show, who will introduce her regular program features including Abbott and Costello, the Ted Strater singers, Parker Fennelly and Arthur Allen in a Snow Village sketch, and the Jack Miller orchestra.

ON HIS WAY to the tropics, Brian stopped off in New York to meet Kate and pick up several radio scripts for scrutiny during his trip. He will make up his choice while returning to New York for the program.

"Night Vigil" is Aherne's latest picture. He considers "Juarez" with Betty Davis as his major movie triumph. Born in England, stage and screen work has brought him association with such famous stars as Noel Coward, Helen Hayes, Ann Harding, Johnstone Forbes-Robertson and others.

GUY LOMBARDO and his orchestra will be heard late tonight—11 o'clock—over the NBC-Red network in a dance music broadcast.

THE STORY of how a dream was the strange diving rod in the discovery of a fabulous oil gusher will be heard on Bob Ripley's "Believe It or Not" program over CBS tonight at 9:30.

THE PROGRAM will come from Miami and will introduce Mrs. T. K. Bess of Diana, Fla., who translated her version of a rich oil strike into incredible reality.

RIPLY, who is making personal appearance tours through the south to aid the Finnish relief fund, will also offer a dramatization of the founding of St. Petersburg, Fla., by a group of Detroit businessmen.

LUCILLE MANNERS, soprano soloist on the Cities Service concert over the NBC-Red network tonight at 7 o'clock, will offer "The Jewel Song" from "Faust," "Champagne Waltz" and, with Ross Graham, baritone, "Beautiful Isle of Dreams."

THE CHOIR will sing "Drinker's Song" from "The Student Prince." The ensemble presents "Donkey Serenade" and "Beyond the Blue Horizon." Frank Black leads the orchestra in "Caprice Viennois" and "Gold and Silver Waltz."

ABE LYMAN and his orchestra and company presents "Waltz Time" tonight at 8 o'clock over the NBC-Red network. Frank Munn, tenor, sings "If It Weren't For You" and "Last Night Gardenias."

The chorus sings "Someday You'll Find Your Bluebird" and "All Aboard for Blanket Bay." The orchestra plays "Adorable," "Rubber," "In Shadow Land" and "Sari Waltz."

PROFESSOR QUIZ, question and answer program heard over the CBS network at 6:30 this evening, tonight starts two weeks of broadcasting from the nation's capital, Washington, D. C.

A RUDY VALLEE reunion program, featuring stars who were helped to fame by Rudy Vallee, will be heard tonight at 9 o'clock

Portrait of John Ord with text: John Ord, 42, above, a Tacoma, Wash., fireman, has confessed, according to Undersheriff Clyde Knowles, to slaying Hale Noster, 56, on Noster's wedding night. Noster's bride, Myra, 36, lived with Ord for 10 years, according to Knowles. The bride is suffering from a bullet wound in her abdomen. Ord is also accused of setting fire to the Noster home's moon cottage, which he has owned.

Trackmen To Face Gophers In Dual Meet This Evening

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL

- Morgan Predicts
- Pastor Tires
- It's Even

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP)—Our favorite oracle, who reads the future in the lines of your hand, and the past in the lines of your face, tells us that Lee Savold will defeat Bob Pastor when and if they meet. They were scheduled to go at it tomorrow night in the Garden but Savold came down with the flu.

Morgan Predicts
He is Dumb Dan Morgan, currently our favorite because he gave a correct preview of the Louis-Goddy fight, but it's only fair to warn him that if he steers us into a side road on this one we'll take our business somewhere else.

Anyway, Dumb Dan has been watching Savold in his daily workouts and has worked up a pretty fair case of enthusiasm for the pre-shrunk Des Moines lad, who whittled himself down from 232 pounds to about 185. It might be argued that such a shrinkage meant a fighter was pretty well washed up, but Dumb Dan has different ideas.

Look at him," he argues. "Tommy Gibbons all over again. He feints, he shifts, he holds his hands ready to hit from anywhere, and he can punch with either hand. He's liable to knock out Pastor."

Pastor Tires
"Maybe he does tire, but Pastor will tire too. All heavyweights tire. You know the first two things a heavyweight does? Eats and sits down."

Savold's that rare combination in a heavyweight—a hitter and a boxer. There aren't many of them around now. In fact, just Savold and Louis. Take Pastor, only a boxer. And Nova, and Buddy Baer, and Paycheck, and Roscoe Toles, all just boxers. Then there's Galento, just a hitter, and Godoy and Campolo and Abe Simon, all freaks, meaning they're neither boxers nor hitters. I tell you, Savold is the best prospect around."

Dumb Dan was intrigued by his idea of classifying fighters as to style, and took a short side trip into the past, getting 10,000 words to the pile.

"Let's take the champions since Sullivan, who was strictly a hitter," he suggested.

"There was Corbett, a boxer, and Fitzsimmons, a hitter. Then came Jeffries, a hitter and a boxer. What, Jeff no boxer? Say, he outboxed Corbett for 11 rounds in their second fight. Corbett admitted it."

It's Even
"Then came Tommy Burns, a boxer, and Jack Johnson, another boxer. Willard I'll have to classify as a freak, and Dempsey was primarily a hitter. Tunney was a boxer, and Schmeling a hitter. Sharkey was a boxer, and Carnera another freak. Baer and Braddock both would be classed as hitters."

"Let's see, that makes six hitters, five boxers, two boxers and hitters and two freaks from Sullivan to Louis."

"Pretty even, isn't it, between the boxers and the hitters? You know, as a rule a hitter is only good for five or six years of real fighting. Unless he's a boxer along with it, like Louis and Savold and Jeff. He has to take too much punishment to get in to do his hitting. When you hit you leave yourself open. A boxer is good for 16 years. Take Jack Britton and Battling Levinsky, for example, or maybe I told you about them."

"Dumb Dan is bucking general opinion in stringing along with Savold. Most critics think that Pastor's experience will prove too much for the Iowan."

Armstrong Meets Garcia Tonight

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29 (AP)—Welterweight Champion Henry Armstrong, the nearest thing to perpetual motion the ring has seen, apparently is in top shape to attempt a feat never recorded in prize-fight history.

Once ruler of three divisions, now the king of the world's 147-pound ranks, the weaving, bobbing brown bomber is confident he will annex a fourth title tomorrow night against Heavier, hard-hitting Ceferino Garcia, claimant of the middleweight crown.

The sturdy Filipino's title may be a clouded one, and a victory by Armstrong would further befuddle the situation, but there will be action, excitement and drama in this battle.

Fraternities Wrestle It Out

Intramural Grappling Tournament Begins Produces Groans and Grunts

The intramural wrestling tournament had its start yesterday afternoon with fraternity league competition in the four weight divisions.

Bill Stuart of Phi Kappa Psi won by a fall over Lawrence Slotsky of Phi Epsilon Pi in one minute and eight seconds of the match.

The match between John Sjuliu of Delta Upsilon and Robert Burlington of Sigma Chi went the full six minutes with Sjuliu finally getting the decision from the referee.

Ned Willis and Russel Woodlief had a hard battle for the full six minutes. Willis won a close decision over Woodlief from the referee.

The shortest match of the afternoon was between Bob Eiel and Beryl Cummings. Eiel of Sigma Nu threw Cummings of Delta Upsilon in 32 seconds.

John Powers of Phi Kappa Psi and Robert Wollenweber of Phi Gamma Delta fought it out to a photo-finish with the decision going to Powers.

Charles Baker of Sigma Chi threw Frank Byers of Sigma Nu in 5 minutes and 3 seconds after a grueling battle.

The last match of the afternoon saw Robert McDowell win a decision over Jules Holmes. McDowell represented Sigma Chi and Holmes is of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The results of the matches held yesterday afternoon are as follows:

Bill Stuart (Phi Kappa Psi) won over Lawrence Slotsky (Phi Epsilon Pi) 1 minute and 8 seconds.

John Sjuliu (Delta Upsilon) won by decision over Robert Burlington (Sigma Chi).

Bob Dyer (Phi Gamma Delta) won by forfeit over Bob Heege (Sigma Nu).

John Hemingway (Phi Kappa Psi) won over Howard Beals (Sigma Nu).

Ned Willis (Sigma Nu) won by decision over Russel Woodlief (Sigma Nu).

Bob Eiel (Sigma Nu) threw Beryl Cummings (Delta Upsilon) in 32 seconds.

Sam Goldenberg (Phi Epsilon Pi) won by default over Charles Johnson (Phi Kappa Psi).

John Powers (Phi Kappa Psi) won over Robert Wollenweber (Phi Gamma Delta) by decision.

Charles Baker (Sigma Chi) threw Frank Byers (Sigma Nu) in 5 minutes and 3 seconds.

Charles Maplethorpe (Phi Kappa Psi) won by default over Charles Pulley (Sigma Phi Epsilon).

William Mueller (Sigma Chi) won by default over A. Sidney Magdanz (Sigma Nu).

Robert McDowell (Sigma Chi) won by decision over Jules Holmes (Sigma Alpha Epsilon).

Contest May Be Decided In Mile Relay

Sonny Franck Rates As Gopher Threat In Sprint Events

University of Iowa sport fans will get their first glimpse of Coach George Bresnahan's 1940 track team in action tonight as the squad meets the Gophers from Minnesota here in a duel meet.

Both teams are well balanced and the meet is expected to be a close one—the outcome may hinge on the result of the mile-relay event.

Coach Jim Kelly will have 19 Gopher thinclads warming up on the 220-yard dirt oval tonight and will include in this group such stars as George Franck, of Minnesota football fame, who has clipped off the 60-yard dash in 6.3 seconds this season.

Another man to be watched is young Jack DeField, sophomore sensation in the pole vault who is national A.A.U. junior champ in this event. DeField has vaulted just under the 14 foot mark and is expected to better that this year.

A threat in the 440 will be Bill Garrity, another sophomore, and his team-mate Jack Rhodes in the mile run. In the distance events Carl Rasmussen and Erv Liljegen make a strong bid for the top honors.

The Hawkeye squad will number about 30 men entered in the 10 different track and field events.

In the 60-yard dash for the Hawks will be three very speedy gents, Jim Wilson, Art Schlauder and Bill Green. Each of these men is fully able to take the race in 6.3 seconds and match anything that Franck may do. Wilson will also high jump and anchor the mile-relay team.

Three men will be allowed to enter each event from each of the schools. Men sure to be entered in events are: Hank Vollenweider and Jack Whitehurst in the high hurdles; Ed Baird and Myron Gillespie in the 440; Ed Elliott and Merl Erickson in the mile and half-mile runs; Arnold Carlson in the 800; Carl Schnoor, Cam Campbell and Glenn Sparks in the two mile test; Hank Luebeck and Bill Leuz in the shot put and Don King in the pole vault. The mile-relay team will be selected from Wilson, Baird, Schlauder, Hinriches and Gillespie. Wilson, Green and Vollenweider will high jump.

The meet will be held in the field house starting with the pole vault at 7 o'clock. The running events begin with the one-mile run at 7:30.

Wrestlers Grapple Wildcats At Manhattan, Kan., Tonight

Paul Whitmore Will Face 'Red' Reynard, Kansas State Star

Coach Mike Howard and his Hawkeye wrestling squad were due in Manhattan, Kans., this morning where they will take on the strong Wildcat grappling team tonight.

Paul Whitmore, who has been setting the pace for the Iowans all through the year will be up against the strongest opponent that he has faced all season. He will pit his strength and wrestling skill against Leon Reynard, the captain of the Wildcat squad.

Reynard has quite a reputation as a grappler and if Paul can eke out a win it will be another feather in the hat of Mike Howard, because Paul had virtually no former wrestling experience before coming to Iowa.

Another bout which should be a standout is the one between Newell Ingle of Iowa and Verle McClellan in the 136 pound division. McClellan is the leading point getter of the Kansas team this year.

Tomorrow the Hawkeyes will be matched against the Cornhuskers at Lincoln, Neb.

Elizabeth Hicks Steals Show In Golf Meet

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Feb. 29 (AP)—Nineteen-year-old Elizabeth Hicks of Long Beach, Cal., stole the spotlight today in the South Atlantic Women's golf tournament with a sub-par performance in defeating Laddie Irwin of Montclair, N. J., 6 and 5.

Miss Hicks advanced into the semi-finals with Patty Berg of Minneapolis, whom she plays tomorrow, and Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., and Mrs. William Hockenjos of Lake Hopatcong, N. J., who play in the other bracket.

Yesterday red-haired Patty, the former national champion, shot a two under men's par 35 on the outgoing nine. Today Miss Hicks did it in 34, and was four under fours for the 14 holes of the match.

Miss Berg, the defending champion, was not extended in her match with Mrs. Lillian K. Zech of Chicago and won 6 and 4. She had a 38 on the first nine.

Miss Jameson, the national champion, eliminated comely Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., 5 and 4. She was out in 37, men's par, and had even fours on the remaining five holes.

Pitt Hires Trainer
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Howard E. Waite, assistant professor of physical education and head trainer at the University of Colorado since 1935, was yesterday named head trainer at the University of Pittsburgh.

Donelli Signs Duquesne Pact For More Wages

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 29 (AP)—Alto T. (Buff) Donelli who in his first year as head football coach guided Duquesne university to an undefeated season and national-wide recognition in 1934, today signed a contract to coach the Duquesne for three more years—with "a considerable boost in pay."

A university spokesman did not disclose the salary figure, but said Donelli also will take the title of director of physical education. He is to plan a program of all forms of athletics for Duquesne students.

Donelli's assistant, Steve Sinko, also signed at an increased salary, and the university announced the balance of the coaching staff: George Rado, Lou Skender and George Platukis—will remain intact.

PRESSBOX PICKUPS By OSCAR HARGRAVE

If, as most experts suspect, condition and speed mean anything in football, the Hawkeyes next fall will be all right. At least, track should do it for them.

A year ago, when Eddie Anderson first took over the Iowa coaching reins, the new mentor suggested that football players go out for track. They did and they're out again this year—a good portion of the grid squad.

Most of the track work is in sprints, speed being what is wanted. And, there seems to be plenty in the way of ability to cover ground without wasting minutes.

Outside of Bill Green, best varsity sprinter, Oops Gililand and Bernard Mertes pace the gridgers. Gililand, a backfield reserve last fall, is nearly as fast as Green, while Mertes, a freshman from Chicago, has been leaving Gililand behind in a good share of the sprints.

There is, also, an interesting fact concerning Ray Murphy. He doesn't look fast in action. The Murphy run looks like a lazy hop, but Murphy is one of the squad's fastest men. It can be remembered that, while he doesn't look tough either, Murphy is the most vicious runner seen around here in some years—his death on would-be tacklers.

Members of Iowa's athletic department were at Wisconsin the other night when the Badger boxing team met West Virginia. They came away duly impressed with the value of intercollegiate boxing as a sport. The Badgers, now the outstanding boxing outfit in intercollegiate athletics, draw something like 15,000 to a home meet. The sport is inexpensive, requiring little equipment, and the crowds flock in. It has an interest equal to that of basketball, which is more than incidental.

Add to those who have faith in efficiency the man who has offered to bet locally that Mason City will win the state tourney. The Mohawks against the field at even money may be all right, but a team has 10 games to play before it ends and that's a lot of times for a team to stay hot.

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (AP)—Probate Judge John F. O'Connell today denied a petition by the First National bank for permission to ask for bids for the sale of the White Sox baseball club.

The bank, as executor of the estate of the late J. Louis Comiskey, had sought leave to sell the club on the grounds that ownership of a baseball team is a hazardous business from an investment standpoint. Comiskey's family opposed the plan.

Vincent Lopez' Band To Play for Club Cabaret March 29

Strictly Formal Dinner Dance To Be at Union

300 Couples To Attend Exclusive Annual Affair Given by Union Board

A New York night club will move to Iowa City March 29 when Union Board entertains at the annual Club Cabaret from 7:30 to 12 p.m. in the main lounge of Iowa Union. And Vincent Lopez and his "suave swing" orchestra will play for dancing at this strictly formal dinner dance, Bill Sener, G of Chicago, president of Union Board and chairman of the party committee, announced last night.

Tickets for this party will go on sale at the main desk of Iowa Union March 13. The sale is limited to 300 couples. Each person may purchase tickets for his entire table. Tables will be set for from one to eight couples.

Lopez, famous piano playing maestro, has presented his sensational style of music in smart hotels and clubs from St. Regis in New York City to the Palace in San Francisco, Cal. Featured with the Lopez orchestra are Anne Barrett, the Dixie jitterbug, and Sonny Schuyler, young romantic baritone.

'Highlights of Iowa,' Campus Film, To Be Shown Thursday

Will Include Colored Titles For First Time

Free Tickets Now Available at Union, Dormitory Offices

Tickets for the premier campus showing of the visual education department's latest color motion picture of university campus life, "Highlights of Iowa," will be available beginning this noon at Iowa Union desk, The Daily Iowan offices, the extension division offices and dormitory offices.

The picture will be shown in Macbride auditorium next Thursday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. There is no charge for tickets to the hour-long showing of the movie.

Dormitory offices where tickets may be secured by residents include Currier hall, Hillcrest, Quadrangle, Law Commons, Eastlawn and Westlawn. The general public may secure tickets at the alumni office in Old Capitol, the extension division office, C-107A, East hall, the visual education office, C-5, East hall; The Daily Iowan office, W-3, East hall, and Iowa Union desk.

Colored Titles

The entire film is in color and is the first ever produced by the university visual education department to include colored titles throughout as well as all scenes in color.

In the display case in the lobby of Iowa Union is a series of "still" shots taken from the movie. Included in this display are representative scenes from several departments and with each is the colored title card actually used in the film.

The display also includes a photograph of Lee Cochran, supervisor of the visual education department, who filmed the new movie, and Vernon Putnam, assistant photographer, filming titles for the picture.

The new "Highlights of Iowa" film includes representative scenes from every university department as well as many outdoor campus scenes, registration, administration and airplane views of the campus.

The initial showing next Thursday will be sponsored by The Daily Iowan and the visual education department of the extension division.

Floridans Are Early Birds for Meet

Overcoats Don't Help, Snowballs Are Problems - But Girls Are Novelty

By WALTER HOGAN

If there's anything to this "early bird getting the worm" business, Ed Rood and William Grimes, debaters from the University of Florida, will soon know. They arrived in Iowa City Wednesday morning for the Iowa Invitational Forensic tournament for which registration began yesterday noon.

In fact, the two men agree that they got here too early, inasmuch as winter is still visiting Iowa. Chatting with two Iowa debaters, Roland Christensen, A3 of Iowa City, and Marvin Chapman, A2 of Iowa City, Rood pointed to his and Grimes' overcoats on the table. "See these?" he asked. "They don't do a bit of good. The cold goes right through them." They had borrowed the coats from some northern students in Florida.

"I don't suppose you'll volunteer for Finland, then?" Chapman asked. He was right.

"I've been taught how to make snowballs," Grimes said proudly, "but he hasn't learned." Rood grinned. "Well, I haven't seen any top hats yet."

The two amiable young men left Florida Feb. 21 by train, going to Indiana to compete in the Manchester tournament there before coming to Iowa. There were 256 teams entered in the Indiana competition and the Floridians lost only one debate to tie for second place. "We wanted to warm up for this tournament," Grimes smiled.

Bradenton, Fla., is the home town of both Rood and Grimes, junior lawyers, who have debated together for five years. They did not participate in debating contests in high school, but as representatives of the University of Florida have won the South Atlantic championship in 1937 and the Southern championship in 1938. The men argue both sides of a proposition. Grimes may compete in the oratory and after dinner talk divisions of this tourney.

Besides debating activities, the two Floridians have other claims to the "b. m. o. c." classification. Grimes is business manager of the yearbook, "Seminole." Rood is president of the student government organization, which is composed of 25 members, representatives from each college. The student council has charge of financial arrangements, determines the spending of such a tidy figure as $100,000. "We can even tell the athletic department what to do," said Rood. Instead of tuition, each student pays an activity fee which ranges between $30 and $40.

Tests at the University of Florida, Rood said, are governed by the honor system. "We can take our tests in our rooms," he explained. We are working on a plan like the Hutchins system at Chicago University," he added, "but we haven't progressed that far."

Iowa City, the men said, is the first town they have found which closely resembles Gainesville,

Visitors From Florida

Carroll Arnold, administrative director of the Iowa Invitational Forensic tournament, is shown greeting the first arrivals for the competition, the team representing the University of Florida. They are, left to right, William Grimes, Arnold and Ed Rood. The two men, junior lawyers, came to Iowa after trying for second place at the Manchester tournament in Indiana where 256 teams competed.

home of the University of Florida. "It depends on the college and is about the same size," they said.

Perhaps the Florida debaters arrived so early, because they knew the University of Iowa was co-educational. There are 3,400 men attending the University of Florida, but Rood and Grimes like the idea of being a school of men without women. "We can really study during the week," Rood laughed, "and really play during the week end."

"I hear you've got over 3,000 girls here," Grimes said. "Oh, yes," said Chapman. "Now if you want an intellectual evening, see me. But if you want a good time, see Chris."

The Floridians put on their coats and as they started to leave, Rood winked. "We'll see Chris," he said.

Receive Word Of Alumna's Recent Death

Dr. Mary Patrick, Author, Educator, Dies in California

Dr. Mary Mills Patrick, president of Istanbul Woman's college at Constantinople and formerly a student at the University of Iowa, died suddenly at Palo Alto, Cal., Feb. 25, according to word received here yesterday.

Dr. Patrick was the sister of Prof. G. T. W. Patrick, professor emeritus of philosophy at the University of Iowa, now residing at Palo Alto. She retired as president emerita of Istanbul college, at first called the American College for Girls, in 1924 and went to Palo Alto eight years ago to make her home there.

Dr. Patrick was born at Canterbury, N. H., March 10, 1850, and would have been 90 years old in two weeks. She received her M.A. degree from the University of Iowa and her Ph.D. degree from the University of Berne, Switzerland. An honorary degree of Litt.D. was conferred on her by Columbia university and the L.L.D. degree by Smith college.

Knew Languages

A thorough acquaintance with the languages of the near east, especially Turkish, Greek and Armenian, as well as French and German, added greatly to Dr. Patrick's efficiency in education and to her remarkable success as an administrator.

Dr. Patrick was the author of a number of important books and articles on philosophy and education. Among the former were "Under Five Sultans," "The Greek Sceptics" and "Sappho and the Island of Lesbos." Her last book, published by Stanford university, was "A Bosphorus Adventure." She also wrote articles on the education of women in Germany and Turkey, and the ethics of the Koran, and was a contributor of Hastings' Dictionary of Religion.

13 Schools Enter Iowa Speech Events

Debate Tournaments To Consider Question Of U. S. Isolation

Thirteen colleges and universities have entered the two speech tournaments at the University of Iowa March 8 and 9. Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department announced yesterday.

The freshman-sophomore debate tournament of March 9, a new event at the university, has attracted eight schools. They are Waldorf Junior college, John Fletcher of University Park, Wartburg of Waverly, Augustana of Rock Island, Ill.; Iowa Teachers, Burlington and Maquoketa Junior colleges, and the state university.

Final entrants in the forensic tournament for women were announced as Wheaton of Illinois, Sioux Falls of South Dakota, Coe, and the university.

In both competitions, the debate question will be "Resolved, that the United States should follow a policy of strict economic and military isolation toward all nations outside the western hemisphere engaged in armed international or civil conflict."

Name Five To Laboratory On Iowa Lake

Scientists from five other institutions have been appointed to the staff of the Iowa Lake-side laboratory, the field biological station used by the University of Iowa.

The laboratory at Lake Okoboji will be open from June 10 to Aug. 16 under the direction of Prof. Joseph Bodine, head of the University's zoology department.

In the announcement of the 1940 plans, men from other colleges named on the staff are: Aubrey B. Taylor, University of Illinois; H. E. Jacques, Iowa Wesleyan; Charles H. Carter, Parsons; U. A. Hauber, St. Ambrose, and Benjamin Peterson, Coe.

Specialist To Succeed Prof. Edward Bartow In September, 1940

Dr. George Glockler of the University of Minnesota will succeed Prof. Edward Bartow as head of the University of Iowa's chemistry department, according to an announcement made yesterday by President Eugene A. Gilmore.

A specialist in inorganic chemistry, qualitative analysis and physical chemistry, Dr. Glockler will take up his duties here in September. Professor Bartow, head of the local chemistry and chemical engineering departments since 1920, will continue to be a member of the faculty, the announcement said.

From Minnesota
The new appointee, a member of the Minnesota university faculty since 1929, holds degrees from the University of California and the University of Washington at Seattle.

A former faculty member at California Institute of Technology and the University of California, Dr. Glockler is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, American Chemical society and American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Co-author of the book, "Electro-Chemistry of Gases and Other Diatomic," the Minnesota chemist has been associate editor of the Journal of Physical Chemistry.

"Dr. Glockler has a reputation as an unusually fine teacher and a man of distinctive research ability," President Gilmore said when announcing the new university appointment.

Bartow Prominent
Coming here from the University of Illinois 20 years ago, Professor Bartow holds an international reputation in the field of chemistry. He was a delegate to the International Engineering congress in Japan and to the International congress in Chemistry held in Italy.

The present chemistry head was president of the American Chemical society in 1936 and vice president for the United States in the International Chemical union from 1934-38.

G. Couchman Given Honor

Gordon Couchman, graduate of the university in June, 1938, has been awarded a Lydia Roberts fellowship within the past year for continuation of his studies in English at the graduate college of Columbia university, where he has been studying since he received his B. A. degree here. As a student here, he worked in the university libraries.

Four Colleges To Compete

Iowa Basketball Club Sponsors Play Day For Women's Teams

Sixty college women from four surrounding Iowa colleges are scheduled to participate in the play day here tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., according to Mary Jane Huber, A2 of Cedar Rapids, chairman.

Twenty-five women will arrive in Iowa City to represent Grinnell college at Grinnell; 10 for Cornell college at Mt. Vernon; 13 for Iowa Wesleyan college at Mt. Pleasant, and 12 for Central college at Pella.

Sponsored by Basketball club, honorary organization for women, the play day will include basketball competition between the visiting teams and Iowa's honorary club members. Activities of ping pong, badminton and swimming will also be offered to the visitors.

A tea in the social room at the women's gymnasium will conclude the day's activities. Club members who will assist with the afternoon social function include Jane Ehret, A2 of Sioux City; Janet McElhinney, A1 of Buckingham; Betty Rigen, A3 of Glenview, Ill.; Grace Lewis, A2 of Pulaske, N. Y.; Wahnta Lucas, A2 of Muscatine; Marjorie Andrews, A1 of Toddville; Miriam Russell, A1 of Clarence, and Charlotte Ploog, A1 of Lincoln.

Want Degree? File Papers, Pay Fees By March 20

Add signs of spring: the first call for applications for academic degrees to be awarded at the University of Iowa's June commencement.

Registrar Harry G. Barnes said that all of the more than 1,000 applicants must have filed their papers and paid their graduation fee by March 20.

And failure to do so, he said, might cause forfeiture of the degree, even though all scholastic requirements have been complied with.

The 1940 commencement ceremony may be close to the record one of three years ago. Degrees will be awarded June 3 as the climax of a six-day program of commencement events.

Speech Dinner To Be Tonight In Iowa Union

Prof. Franklin Knower To Speak; Individuals To Compete Today

Participants from 15 different institutions—"the best debating schools in the land," according to Prof. A. Craig Baird, university debate director—go to battle at full tilt today in the eighth annual Iowa invitational forensic tournament. Individual contests, such as original oratory, extempore speaking and the discussion divisions, and rounds three and four of the debate competitions are scheduled.

At 6 o'clock in the river room of Iowa Union there will be a forensic banquet. Betty Bebout, G of Burlington, is in charge of dinner arrangements. Prof. Franklin H. Knower of the speech department will speak. Toastmaster is Prof. H. Clay Harshbarger. Roland Christensen, A3 of Iowa City, will introduce the speakers in the after dinner talk contest.

G. Smith Exposes Myth of Renaissance Medicine

By IRENE SUTTON

"Advances in medicine were not significant in 16th-century England," said Prof. Goldwin Smith of the history department in last night's Baconian lecture in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Professor Smith undertook the "destruction of the glittering myth" which has surrounded physicians and surgeons during the Renaissance age. "The great advances in art, literature, exploration, and science during the Tudor period in England were not equaled by the development in medicine," stated Professor Smith, and "the clinical study of disease was just beginning."

Almost No Ballots! Schaeffer Janitor Nearly Disrupts 1st Round of Debating

A student janitor who takes care of the debate offices in Schaeffer hall must be wondering what a waste basket is for if it isn't for waste paper.

He'd just emptied the waste baskets when Prof. A. Craig Baird said, "Here! Where are you going with that?"

"It seems that the waste basket was a repository for envelopes containing decisions of the judges on rounds one and two of the yesterday's debate tourney."

Then Professor Baird fixed things up. He set the waste basket on a chair and on the bulletin board above it pinned a sheet of paper which announced: "Judges' ballots here."

Sherwood Eddy To Speak At Three Campus Meetings

Author Will Discuss Social, Economic, Religious Problems

Dr. Sherwood Eddy, who will be on the campus Monday and Tuesday, will be the guest speaker at several meetings and dinners sponsored by the religious activities office, Dr. William Morgan, director of the office, announced yesterday.

Faculty members, the administrative staffs of the university and Iowa City and university religious workers will hear Dr. Eddy speak on "Personal Religious Resources in a World in Conflict" at a luncheon meeting in the river room of Iowa Union Monday noon. Reservations may be made at Iowa Union desk or at the religious activities office in Iowa Union.

Speaking on "Cooperatives for Share-Croppers," Dr. Eddy, author of 20 volumes on international, economic, social and religious subjects and world-wide traveler and lecturer, will present his first public lecture at 4:10 p. m. Monday in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

The student cooperative dining service at the Methodist student center will have Dr. Eddy as its guest Monday at 6 p. m.

A highlight of the Sherwood Eddy program will be the panel discussion held Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

With the subject "Working for a Constructive Peace," Dr. Eddy will present an introductory statement, which will be followed by a discussion led by a panel of six students. Tickets for the panel will be available to students at Iowa Union desk and at the religious activities office today and to the university community beginning tomorrow.

SHERWOOD EDDY

Dr. Eddy To Lecture On Far East Conflict

Dr. Sherwood Eddy, recent and frequent visitor to European countries and student organizer, under the sponsorship of the college of commerce, will speak on "The Far Eastern Conflict" at 4 p. m. Tuesday in chemistry auditorium.

The speaker worked among students in India for 15 years until the Y. M. C. A. commissioned him to be secretary for the organization in Asia. He is the author of 20 volumes.

A Yale graduate in 1891, Dr. Eddy has toured Russia, Poland, Germany, Austria, France, Great Britain and the League of Nations at Geneva 14 times.

In his travels he has come in contact with rulers and leaders of these nations, and long has been associated with internationally known educators.

His lecture tours have taken him to several hundred colleges and universities in Europe and Asia, as well as in the United States, and have placed him before many types of audiences.

The public lecture Tuesday is one in a series sponsored by the college of commerce, Dean Chester A. Phillips of the college has announced.

Special Papers Will Be Given By Engineers

Two graduate students in engineering here will present papers before special sessions of the 52nd annual meeting of the Iowa Engineering Society convening at Iowa State college at Ames today.

The hydraulic engineering students to present papers on "Hydraulics of Highways" and "Flood Control in China" are Carl F. Lizard of Austin, Texas, and Chin Hsing Yen of China.

Rudolph G. Kasel, district engineer of the United States Geological Survey and chairman of the committee on flood control and conservation, will conduct one of the sessions at today's meeting.

Local engineering faculty members attending the convention include Dean Francis M. Dawson; Prof. Byron J. Lambert, Prof. Charles Looney and Prof. Raymond B. Kittredge, all of the civil engineering department; Prof. J. W. Howe and Prof. E. W. Lane of the mechanics and hydraulics department, and Prof. Thomas G. Caywood of the mechanical engineering department.

Uneventful Extra Day

Balmy Temperature Goes Hand in Hand With Lion, Lamb

Overlooking the issuance of one marriage license by the county clerk, exceptionally weak for Feb. 29, the extra day of the year passed uneventfully in Iowa City.

As is usual for Feb. 29, employees worked an extra day in the year; the lion and the lamb alertly tried their yearly contest for publicity in March, and maidens took a lot of kidding from bachelors and already-marrieds.

Temperatures were probably the most romantic yesterday. They rose to a high of 40 degrees, the lowest Feb. 29 in at least eight years, records show.

Reds All Set
TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Infielders and outfielders reported yesterday to virtually complete the roster of Cincinnati Reds in training. First in uniform was Eddie Joost. Other arrivals included Billy Myers, shortstop; third baseman Don Lang and outfielders Lee Gamble and Vince DiMaggio.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Three books, each with its connections at Iowa City, are listed in the selections from general interest books recently added to the university library and announced yesterday by the library staff.

All 14-day books, the three books are "Song on Your Bugles," by Eric Mowbray Knight, lecturer in the English department; "Select Poetry and Prose," a selection from the works of Jay G. Sigmund, Cedar Rapids poet, edited by Paul Engle, lecturer in the English department, and "A Railroad to the Sea," book by Levi O. Leonard which concerns early Iowa and Iowa City's Peter A. Day in its story.

One seven-day book, "Agent of Death," by Robert Greene Elliott, is included in the list announced yesterday.

Other 14-day books include "Faces We See," Mildred Gwin Barnwell; "Life and Poems of Brookings More," Wilmon Brewer; "Gringo Doctor," Ira Jefferson Bush; "Football Fables," Stanley Waldo Carlson; "1940," John Franklin Carter.

"Strangers and Other Poems," Arthur Orison Dillon; "Shakespeare in America," Esther Cloudman Dunn; "Anthology for the Enjoyment of Poetry," Max Eastman; "A Natural Golfer," James Forrest; "Jewish Merchants in Colonial America," Miriam Kottler Freund; "The Streets of Mexico," Luis Gonzalez Obregon.

"The Reading Chorus," Helen Gertrude Hicks; "How Government Regulates Business," Jack London and his Times," Joan London; "Irish Cavalcade, 1550-1850," M. J. MacManus; "Good Maine Food," Marjorie Mosser; "New Tyrannies for Old," "Government Positions; Advisor's Handbook for Schools, Libraries and Veterans," Pergande Publishing company, Milwaukee.

"Social Change and Labor Law," Malcolm Pittman Sharp; "The Baltimore and Ohio in the Civil War," Festus Paul Summers; "Tabeau's Narrative of Loisel's Expedition to the Upper Missouri," Pierre Antoine Tabeau; "Anthony Philip Heinrich," William Treat Upton; "On the Art of Thackeray," Herbert Newton Withered; "Eternal Passion in English Poetry," Mrs. Edith Newbold (Jones) Wharton; "Twenty-three Books," John Tracy Winterlich.

Finds Jail Escape Clue

Robert O'Hara Unearths Blade Of Hack Saw

Thought To Be One Used by Prisoners To Cut Jail Bars

A slightly rusty hack-saw blade, believed by Deputy Sheriff Preston Koser to be the instrument which two prisoners, Leo Lovell and Robert Ross, used to gain their freedom from the Johnson county jail Sunday night, was found yesterday afternoon by Robert O'Hara, Johnson county assessor, about 70 feet from the place of escape.

Sheriff McComas, who was returning from North Liberty, saw one of the prisoners as he slid through the hole they had made by sawing through two iron bars. Less than an hour after the escape was broadcast over the city-county short wave station, the prisoners were back in their cells.

O'Hara found the hack-saw blade at 4:45 p.m. when he stepped from his automobile which was parked at the rear of the courthouse. Rust spots on the edge of the blade evidenced the fact that it had lain in the slush for some time. However the teeth of the blade proved it to be only slightly used and comparatively new.

Deputy Sheriff Koser said although there were several theories as to how the prisoners procured the blade, no definite proof was yet available.

Lovell, whose sentence had only a few days to run, was caught by Harry Eckhoff and Everett Diehl when he attempted to steal Diehl's automobile. Ross was arrested a few minutes later at the Rock Island depot. He awaits trial Jan. 13 on a larceny charge.

According to the Iowa statutes, Ross and Lovell are subject to sentences not to exceed one year and a maximum of $300.

New bars have replaced the ones cut by the prisoners. Sheriff McComas has plans for replacing all the bars on the first floor windows with saw-proof iron bars and a small screen mesh that will prevent anything from being passed through the windows.

Deputy Sheriff Koser said this had been the second jail-break since he and Sheriff McComas had come to the courthouse 10 years ago.

The first break occurred Sept. 15, 1932, when Ray Castelline, William Bowen and Andrew Gaze escaped from the second floor of the jail by sawing the bars and then slid down a rope which they made by ripping up canvas from their bed and tying the pieces together.

Sheriff McComas was out of town when the blade was found yesterday.

original oratory contest. Christensen will debate and introduce the speakers entered in the after-dinner talk competition at the forensic dinner at 6 o'clock tonight.

Chapman, former member of Iowa City high school's champion debate team, competed when a freshman in a Big Ten tournament at Chicago last year against such schools as Michigan, Purdue, Minnesota and Ohio. This year he has travelled to the University of Wisconsin for Big Ten debates. He ranked in the upper 25 per cent of speakers at last year's Invitational tourney.

This is the first year on the Iowa campus for Krause, who has so far debated against Purdue. Last year at Hutchinson Junior college he ranked first in oratory in the Kansas junior college tourney.

In a national junior college contest at Virginia, Minn., Krause placed first in oratory, and ranked second in both extempore speaking and debate. He is a member of Phi Rho Pi, national honorary junior college forensic society. His oration for the 1940 tourney is "I Have Seen Their Faces."

Christensen, another former Iowa City high school student, was a finalist in the state debating contest and was the state extempore speaking champion. Undeclared in tournament competition, he ranked in the upper quarter of speakers here last year. In Big Ten debates he has competed twice against Minnesota and Wisconsin and once against Illinois. Last year he served as president of Gavvo club.

These three Iowa men enter tournament competition today.

Judge, Mrs. Oliver Plan Dinner Party

A few friends will be entertained at a dinner this evening in the home of Judge and Mrs. R. A. Oliver, 15 W. Davenport. After dinner the group will attend the annual Barristers' Ball.

Probable Tool of Escape

Deputy Sheriff Preston Koser, above, is shown inspecting a hack-saw blade believed to be the one which Leo Lovell and Robert Ross used to cut through two iron bars in a first floor window of the Johnson county jail to make their escape Sunday night. Robert O'Hara, Johnson county assessor, found the blade yesterday as he stepped from his automobile about 70 feet from the window through which the pair escaped. The blade had been bent to strengthen it, and rust spots showed it had lain in the slush for several days.

Eight City Ping Pong Players Meet for Championship Tonight

Eight Iowa City ping pong players of the 51 originally entered in the Iowa City ping pong tournament will fight it out for the championship this evening at 7 o'clock in the Recreation Center game room. The semi-finals and finals will be played off in both divisions, the junior and the senior.

The two semi-final matches in the junior division will find Wayne Emmons playing Billy Schmidt and Don Teefy against Melvin Glaser. Semi-final matchings in the senior division will have Arthur Proehl facing Jack Teefy and Garland Kircher playing Tom Wuriu. The winners will play for the championships and the semi-final losers will be matched for third place honors.

The champs in both divisions will get their entry fee and transportation paid to the Iowa state ping pong meet in Cedar Rapids March 9 and 10.

Quarterfinal results in the junior division included Emmons over Robert Hull, Schmidt over Ruben Snider, Teefy over Richard Pelechek and Glaser over Andy Chukalis.

Results among the seniors in quarterfinal matches were Proehl over Ed Oldis, Teefy over Hal Nichols, Kircher over Jack Livermore and Wuriu over Bill Williams.

Musicians Try-Out Here

Those Wanting Places On Youth Orchestra Audition Tomorrow

Young musicians of Iowa City will attempt for a place on the all-American youth orchestra when they take auditions starting at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the music building here.

Those who are given a place on the 109-piece orchestra will make a good-will tour of Central and South America this summer under the direction of Leopold Stokowski, noted conductor. The young musicians are being recruited through the facilities of the national youth administration of Iowa.

Members of the local district audition committee include Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department; Prof. Arnold Small, Prof. Hans Koebel, Himie Voxman, O. T. Jelinek and William Gower.

Counties privileged to participate in the local audition tomorrow

AMONG IOWA CITY PEOPLE

A license to wed was issued yesterday by County Clerk R. Neilson Miller to John A. Herring and Irene Phipps, both of Iowa City.

Health Club Advises, 'Hold That Line'

Members Spend Leisure Hours at Various Sports in Clubroom

"The waist line is the danger line" is the motto of members of the University-City Health club. Men and women alike have joined the organization and are spending their leisure hours at golf driving, badminton, table tennis, shuffleboard and other interesting games as well as doing regular reducing exercises in the clubrooms of the Burkley hotel.

The club, which is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Frey, has quite elaborate facilities. Mr. Frey supervises all of the exercises. Mrs. Frey offers a Spencer service to the members and Larry Hayes, A4 of Chicago, gives instructions in the various games played.

Open to the Public
There is another branch of the work, however, that is open to the public and is not restricted to club members. That is the Swedish massage parlor, which includes a steam bath with enclosed shower, a massage table with ultra-violet ray lamps and two resting rooms.

Iowa City members of the club are particularly pleased by two strength building machines, the Exero-machine and the pedometer. The first of these resembles a bicycling device without the pedals and is supposed to combine motions of rowing, bicycling, walking and horseback riding. The pedometer is a machine upon which the patient is forced to walk at a comparatively swift pace and is designed to improve posture.

The Health club was opened for inspection a week ago Sunday. Work began the following Monday. Approximately 20 Iowa City women have already become members of the club and about twice that number of men. The women have access to the club on Wednesday and Friday evenings. Other times the club is reserved for the men. On Sunday afternoons, couples may come to the club.

So if you notice a new vim and vigor, a new youthfulness about the woman next door, the student who sits beside you or the "man on the street," it's probably because he or she has joined the University-City Health club—or maybe it's just that spring is coming.

Arrow Shot by 1940's Robin Hood Just Misses English Cabinet Man

LONDON, Feb. 29 (AP)—A steel-tipped arrow sent singing through a window of Prime Minister Chamberlain's Ten Downing street residence in the cause of "social credit" by a 20th century Robin Hood, today just missed one of the cabinet members.

The arrow landed the green-jacket clad young man, Joseph Green, 22, in court, where he said:

"A policeman told me the arrow just missed a cabinet minister standing in the anteroom."

Green said he did not know which minister, and no other sources would comment.

However, because Green was to join the army tonight, he got off lightly, and was simply placed under an $8 peace bond for a year.

The arrow which went zooming into the sedate residence had a mean-looking steel head two-and-a-half inches long. Attached to the shaft was a note four lines long saying:

"End Hitlerism. The war demands a debt-free Britain. Social credit is the only remedy. Social credit is coming."

Green calmly told reporters he could put an arrow through the throat of a man at 50 yards. He said he shot through the window to avoid hitting the policeman standing in the door. He had intended to drive an arrow with his message attached into the prime minister's door in the best Robin Hood style.

As he entered little Downing street dressed in a green sports jacket and carrying his long bow he encountered the ever-present policeman, who asked jovially: "Going shooting?"

"Yes, I am," replied Green. The policeman laughed. Green laughed and let Ten Downing have it.

Later Green said, in anticipation of joining the army: "I regret having to play Robin Hood in Downing street, but I think people here should fight Hitlerism at home as well as in France. I expect to get plenty of shooting with the army, and I am 100 per cent patriotic. Britain will not emerge victorious without establishing a debt-free money system here."

'Mystic' Will Perform At Club Dinner

Another Red Oak Whiz Will Perform As Helen Richardson Twirls Batons

Not a Brain Derby contestant, but a baton-twirler from Red Oak will entertain basketball fans between halves at the Iowa-Illinois game tomorrow night at the fieldhouse.

As one of the highlights of the evening, Helen Richardson, high school senior of Red Oak, will use lighted batons in her performance in the darkened fieldhouse. Besides her regular routine, she uses two batons.

Many times a winner in baton-twirling contests, Miss Richardson rated highly superior at Minneapolis in 1938 in the national regional music contest. In 1939 at Colorado Springs, Col., she won second place. In the same year she had the honor of winning first over all at the Golden Spike Days celebration in Omaha and first in the Tri-State music contest in Enid, Okla. She was also a first winner at the V. F. W. contest in Boston, Mass.

Next year Miss Richardson plans to enter the University of Iowa as a freshman.

Irene Phipps Will Marry

To Wed J. Herring In Ceremony Sunday At Baptist Church

The first Baptist church will be decorated with baskets of spring flowers at 4 p.m. Sunday for the marriage of Irene Phipps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Phipps, 222 S. Lucas, to John Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Herring, 727 E. Jefferson. The Rev. Elmer E. Dierks will officiate at the single ring ceremony.

Miss Phipps will wear a dusty rose sheer crepe ensemble, the dress of which is made with a fitted waist, flared skirt and square neckline. The coat of the ensemble is also fitted. Her accessories will be black and she will carry an arm bouquet of roses.

Mrs. Gerald Pearson, a cousin of the bride, will serve as maid of honor. She will be attired in a blue silk spring dress and will also carry an arm bouquet of roses.

After a short wedding trip the couple will live at 210 Koser.

Fire Burns Roofing Of Sorority Annex

Firemen extinguished a small roof fire at 8:30 last night at 30 S. Governor, as a small crowd of young women, some of them in formals, stood outside. Sparks from the chimney were believed to be the cause of the small blaze. The house is used as an annex to Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Want a Kite? Youngsters May Build Them in Class

Eugene Trowbridge, director of the Recreation Center craft shop, yesterday extended an invitation to every Iowa City boy and girl under high school age to join classes in kite building which will be held every Saturday in the month of March at the craft shop. The classes, which start tomorrow are in anticipation of the annual city kite flying meet on March 30. The instruction will be mainly on those types of kites that will be eligible for competition in the meet, Trowbridge said. Many awards will be given at the meet, among which will be two for the largest and smallest kites that fly.

Engineering Training Carried Into Whirl of Mass Education

Engineering education has undergone a three-fold development in the past 50 years, in the opinion of Prof. Frederic G. Higbee, head of the engineering drawing department at the University of Iowa.

"The relentless educational current has carried engineering, along with most other types of training, into the whirl of mass education," he says in the 50th anniversary issue of Iowa Transit, publication of the engineering college.

This trend Professor Higbee regrets. He says that even today, with a market saturated with engineers, engineering educators still are complacent about the fact that their colleges are full and often overlook the more important fact that employers are interested only in the quality men of the graduating classes. Professor Higbee, who has been

Dramatic Club Open Meeting To Be Tonight

Community Players To Select Board, Consider Productions

The new Iowa City community players will have their first open meeting tonight at 7:30 in the basement of the community building, it was announced yesterday by E. L. Bladow, chairman of the group.

Bladow urged anyone in the community interested in dramatics to attend the meeting. "This organization," he explained, "is for the entire community, and that means university students as well as townpeople."

Business at the meeting will consist of the election of seven interested Iowa Citizens to the group's board, which will be in charge of the future plans and program. Also in line for discussion are a name for the group and possible dramatic productions.
