Welles Denies He Offered, Received Peace Plan

—FROM ROME—

F. D. R.'s Envoy Ends Special 24-Day Tour

Believed To Know Inside Story of Visit Between Hitler, Duce

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

ROME, March 19 (AP)—Sumner Welles finished tonight his swift circuit of war-lashed Europe with the firm declaration that he has neither received, nor conveyed any peace plans whatsoever during his 24-day tour; yet he was believed to be in possession of an inside account of what happened in yesterday's meeting of dictators in the Brenner pass.

No Peace Plan

Welles, breaking the silence which he has maintained throughout the tour which brought him twice to Rome and took him to Berlin, Paris and London, said his task had been solely to gather information "for the president and the secretary of state as to present conditions in Europe."

His Statement To Press

His statement to the press, issued shortly before he left Rome for Genoa to sail for home tomorrow, said:

"In order to allay the flood of rumors about my mission, I wish to state categorically that I have not received any peace plan or proposals from any belligerent or from any other government; that I have not conveyed any such proposals to any belligerent, nor to any other government; nor am I bringing back to the president any such proposal."

Welles' Final Fact Finding

Welles' final fact finding conversation was with the Italian foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, who is believed to have given President Roosevelt's investigator information about yesterday's "parlor car" meeting between Benito Mussolini and Reichstuehrer Adolf Hitler at Brennero.

Ciano Talk

Welles declined to disclose how much Ciano had told him at a luncheon arranged by American ambassador William Phillips shortly before Mussolini left for Brennero. However, he told correspondents he had talked briefly with Ciano before the luncheon and "considerably afterward."

Welles Boarded His Train

Welles boarded his train for Genoa at 10:45 p. m. (3:45 p. m., CST) tonight. Ambassador Phillips and Count Ciano's secretary, the Marchese Lanza Dayete, and two other Italian officials accompanied him to the station.

Smiling Broadly, Welles Talked

Smiling broadly, Welles talked with the officials several minutes before bidding them farewell. He expected to embark on the Conte Di Savoia for the United States at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Former Fascists Today Indicated

Former fascists today indicated Hitler went to Brennero to check up on his alliance with Mussolini and found it still binding.

Vote Change In NLRB

House Committee Proposes Addition To 3-Member Board

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—By an overwhelming vote of 14 to 3, the house labor committee proposed today to add two new members to the 3-man national labor relations board and by a margin of one vote rejected proposals to abolish the present board.

Ironically, it was the proxy vote of Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich)—one of the board's severest critics—that resulted in a 9 to 8 defeat for a motion to remove the three board members. Chairman J. Warren Madden, Edwin S. Smith and William M. Leiserson, and create a new, five-man board.

Hoffman, called away from the city, gave his proxy to Rep. Smith (R-Me) who surprised the committee by recording Hoffman as against the motion. The Michigan congressman sent word to his office that he would ask the committee to reconsider its vote at a meeting tomorrow when he will be present.

Iowa's Prof. C. C. Wylie Describes a Simple Way To Play 'Astronomer'—

Want to SEE Spring Arrive Today? Here's How!

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, March 19—Anyone who wishes can actually see the arrival of spring March 20 with the aid of a square sheet of paper containing a small hole in the middle.

Through this hole the sunshine will trace a pattern on the floor different from other days. This method was explained today by Dr. C. C. Wylie, University of Iowa astronomer. Spring arrives Wednesday at 12:24 p. m. (Central Standard Time), the moment when the sun, coming northward, crosses vertically overhead of the equator. The floor pattern, however, is visible all day.

Fasten a piece of paper, Dr. Wylie says, 8 or 10 inches square, and with a small hole in it, at the top of a window, so that when the sun is shining, this hole will make a spot of light on the floor. Mark the path of this spot every 15 minutes for about two hours. The best hours are 8 to 10 in the morning or 2 to 4 in the afternoon.

Before March 20 this path on the floor has been a curve, a hyperbola, a figure roughly shaped like a crescent. The concave of this curve, or horns of the crescent, have been pointing north.

But on March 20 the path will be a straight line. The line, moreover, Dr. Wylie says, will point east and west. After March 20 the curve will appear again, but upside down, this is with the concave of the hyperbola pointing south.

In the few days before and after the spring crossing, Dr. Wylie says the line is almost flat, but that March 20 is the only day when the direction of the line is east and west.

Dr. Wylie said that this visual demonstration of spring's coming should be particularly attractive in schools. It can be repeated whenever the sun crosses the tropic. The next crossing will be the autumn equinox, this fall, as the sun goes back south.

White House Warns Against Hopes for Immediate Peace

Early Declares Peace Reports 'Are Empty'

President Roosevelt 'Has No Information' On Dictator Meeting

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—The White House warned Americans today not to let their hopes for peace soar too high as a result of a barrage of reports from Europe which followed yesterday's meeting between Hitler and Mussolini.

The Warning Came From Stephen

Early, a presidential secretary, who commented that from authoritative reports to this government, "peace headlines would appear to be very empty." At the same time Early said the reports should not cause Americans to "despair" of peace either.

President Roosevelt Later Told

his press conference that he had no information on the meeting between the German and Italian leaders, except that they had taken trains and had met on the top of a pass and there was some snow and they sat in a railroad car for a couple of hours and then shook hands and went home.

That's about all there was to a long story about the meeting that he had read, the president said. He added that was all anybody here knows, or in London, in Paris or Rome or Berlin, except the people who took part in the meeting—meaning Hitler and Mussolini themselves.

Early said this government had no information supporting reports that an 11-point peace program had been suggested at the conference between Hitler and Mussolini.

President Roosevelt Defends Policy Of Selling American-Made Warplanes

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt, championing the sale of American-made warplanes to foreign nations, said today it was sheer bunk to contend that United States military secrets were being divulged through such sales.

The plane designs were not secret, he told his press conference. He added that the plane orders have been responsible for an expansion of the aircraft industry—a development which he called the most significant contribution to national defense in the last year.

Speaking as commander-in-chief of the armed forces, the president estimated that the output of plane and engine plants had tripled as a result of the orders placed by Britain, France and other nations.

Without identifying them, Mr. Roosevelt said this country possesses three or four military aircraft devices which experts believe other nations cannot duplicate, and added that they would be kept confidential as long as possible.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke on the eve of an investigation by a house military sub-committee of the administration's policy on plane sales.

Federal Jury Convicts Nine In Insurance Fraud Case

Decision Displeasing To Judge Robert Bell; 28 Persons Go Free

OMAHA, March 19 (AP)—A federal court jury today convicted nine of 37 defendants accused of conspiracy to defraud insurance companies through fake automobile accidents.

Federal Judge Robert C. Bell of Duluth, Minn., promptly freed the 28 persons acquitted after admonishing them "the next time you might not find such a sympathetic jury as this one."

Judge Bell, declaring "The court is not pleased with this verdict," told the jurors:

"Obviously you have taken into consideration the degree of guilt of all these defendants. You have convicted those you believed to be most guilty. In this you have been mistaken, for it is the duty of the court, not the jury, to consider the difference in the degrees of guilt, if there is a difference, and to fix punishment accordingly."

Judge Bell said the jury erred in not convicting all who were guilty under the law and evidence.

"You must have known," he added, "that if some whom you convicted were the leaders in this conspiracy, then those who joined in the scheme were guilty along with those who induced them to join."

John C. Mullen, chief defense attorney, said motions for a new trial will be filed for those convicted.

French Rule Fails To Get Unanimous Confidence Vote

Byrd Warns Against Rise In Spending

Cautious Senators To Exercise Prudence In Maintaining Reserve

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va) cautioned the senate against greatly increased appropriations today, lest the treasury's supply of cash be reduced to an imprudent level, or it become necessary to increase the legal limit on the national debt.

He spoke as the senate slowly approached the session's first important test on the economy issue, with a bill pending to appropriate $922,864,668 for the agriculture department and farm benefit payment. The amount was more than $200,000,000 greater than the sum voted by the house and President Roosevelt's budget estimates.

No Vote Reached

Late this afternoon the chamber recessed without reaching a vote on the measure.

Administration leaders, including Senator Barkley (D-Ky) and Byrnes (D-NC), had contended that the increase could be safely taken from the $1,600,000,000 of cash now in the treasury's working balance. Byrd called their attention to other factors involved.

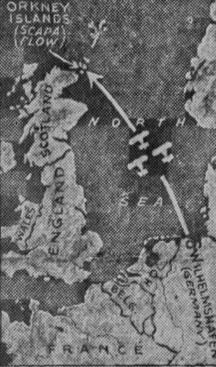

He said that to avoid an increase in the debt limit, the budget submitted in January by President Roosevelt involved reducing that balance to $500,000,000 as part of the government's regular fiscal plans for the year beginning next July. And he taxed Barkley and Byrnes with statements made in the debate that a balance of at least $1,000,000,000 should be maintained at all times, for safety's sake.

Would Lower Budget

"I simply rise, Mr. President," Byrd said, "to make clear in the record that under the budget as now presented to congress, the working balance will be reduced to an amount as low as this government could safely operate on."

"An adequate balance should at all times be maintained in the treasury of the government so as to meet all obligations coming due, and any further reduction in this working balance would not be in conformance with prudent fiscal operations."

Orkney Air Raid

This Central Press map shows how a flight of 14 German planes carried out an extensive raid on Scapa Flow and military establishments on the Orkney Islands, damaging a battleship and killing a number of people, including one civilian, Britain's first civilian aerial casualty since the outbreak of the war. The British recently announced that Scapa Flow was being abandoned as a naval base.

Briton Charges U. S. Exports Reaching Nazis

LONDON, March 19 (AP)—Laborite Hugh Dalton declared in the house of commons tonight that the British blockade against Germany was "leaking like a sieve" and mentioned specifically United States cotton exports which he said were reaching Germany through neutral countries.

"The value of cotton exported by the United States to Germany via European neutral countries since the beginning of the war, compared with figures corresponding to the pre-war period, shows increases which are sensational," Dalton said.

Dalton spoke of Vladivostok, Russia's main far western port, as "a gaping break in our blockade as a result of which useful materials are being poured into Germany, . . . much of them from the United States."

Prime Minister Chamberlain replied that a perfect blockade could not have been expected from the start of the war.

Ballots Cast By Only Half Of Chamber

Deputies Disapprove Of Daladier's Regime For First Time

PARIS, March 20 (Wednesday) (AP)—The chamber of deputies today, departing from a wartime policy of unanimity, voted confidence in the government of Premier Daladier with only 239 ballots for the cabinet out of more than 500 deputies.

The vote was officially announced as expressing confidence in the government by 239 to one, but in addition to the single ballot cast against Daladier, about 300 deputies abstained.

The motion of confidence urged Daladier to "take immediately and in all domains, measures indispensable to bring France's force to a maximum and to carry the war to victory in close accord with our allies."

The vote came early this morning after a 12-hour secret session of the lower house of parliament in which critical members propounded many questions to Daladier concerning his conduct of the war, particularly the failure of the allies to get aid to Finland before she was forced to sign a peace with Russia.

The secret session did not end until 3 a. m. today (8 p. m., CST, Tuesday).

Extensive Damage

Extensive damage was caused to hangars, workshops and slipways, said the account of the raid issued here.

At 3:30 a. m. all attacking aircraft force to return by that time were declared to have "landed safely."

(A German account of the raid issued by the official news agency, DNE, said one plane was shot down.

The story, issued late last night, said three attempted attacks had been made, but denied any damage had been done except to fire one house. German authorities professed to have no later details.

Propose Congressional Inquiry Of Ohio Coal Mine Disaster

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, March 19 (AP)—An immediate congressional investigation of the Willow Grove coal mine disaster was proposed today while clean-up squads continued a weary struggle through blast born debris.

Ten additional bodies were brought out raising to 18 the number of known dead. No hope was held for 53 men still missing. Members of the house mines and mining committee suggested the inquiry after Representative Earl R. Lewis, democrat of St. Clairsville, visited the scene of

Reprisal Raids Biggest Aerial Attack of War

Island of Sylt Scene Of Terrific Explosions As Planes Score Hits

LONDON, March 20 (Wednesday) (AP)—Britain unleashed a gruelling bomb attack on Germany's Sylt island air base which for more than seven hours last night and today blasted at burning hangars, workshops and slipways in by far the longest and most sustained air attack of the war.

Hitting back at the nazis for their 85-minute raid last Saturday on the admiralty's anchorage in Scapa Flow, British bombers were declared by the air ministry at 3 a. m. (8 p. m., C.S.T. Tuesday) today still to be freighting their explosives across 350 miles of North sea to the base which Germany has used for her air raids on British shipping.

Ominous Warning

Ushered in by an ominous warning of Prime Minister Chamberlain that Germany must bear "responsibility for the consequences" of Saturday's Scapa Flow raid, the attack stirred conjecture whether this was the overture of the great aerial offensives which have been predicted in any great modern war.

The attack, as described here officially, was carried out by successive almost continuous waves of bombers, guided by the fires set by the first bombs. Moonlight and scattered clouds permitted the planes to sight their objectives and dart to cover after delivering their blows.

Writer Lindley One of 'Four or Five Relatively Respectable Columnists'— President Roosevelt Discusses Columns

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—The third term riddle became more puzzling than ever tonight as President Roosevelt repudiated a much-discussed article in which he was quoted as stating his views on 1940 ticket-making.

The article, by Ernest K. Lindley, columnist, was published on March 4 and asserted that President Roosevelt, in a conversation with a southern legislator, had said:

That he was not going to run for a third term.

That Cordell Hull, secretary of state, would be a good man for the presidency.

That it would be inadvisable to nominate Postmaster General James A. Farley for the vice presidency because the nomination would stir up a lot of religious prejudice and emotion and would lead some people to say that "We were using Cordell Hull as a stalking horse for the pope."

Speaking with rare bluntness at a press conference today, Mr.

Roosevelt said he never had said such a thing about Farley, who is a member of the Catholic church, and that the rest of the column was equally false.

Lindley issued a statement saying that his column was "a piece of straight reporting of information which came to me from sources whose reliability I have no reason to doubt."

"Within 24 hours after its publication," Lindley added, "I received word from several democratic politicians confirming its substances and expressing the fear that they might be 'on the spot' at the White House for having talked 'out of school.'"

The president's remarks about the column, it was agreed on all hands, did not mean that he was stating his intention to seek a third term. Rather, he merely denied that he had ever given the reputed interview to the southern legislator.

Mr. Roosevelt himself said he never had talked along that line (See COLUMNS, Page 8)

They've Been In The Family!

LAW is funny things. Everyone tries to avoid them, and then again what the legislators meant to say in them can be construed so many different ways.

An example illustrates. In 1937 the Iowa legislature passed an act outlawing slot machines, roulette wheels, faro tables and similar devices.

While Iowa editors are having a field day with the Corvallis project, Col. C. P. Gross of the U. S. army engineer's office announces that he does not expect to see the present congress appropriate money for the structure.

You must remember the old saw about counting chickens before they're hatched. Our fellow editors throughout the state might well remember it too.

Peace And Europe. WHEN UNDERSECRETARY of State Sumner Welles returns to America the only fact he'll be able to report to F. R. may be, in the words of Webb Miller, "I found no peace."

America cares a great deal what happens in Europe. America cares a great deal about the coming of peace. But America, plainly, does not know the inside story in Europe.

Fact-finder Welles may discover many things, but to suppose that he will be able to find the real facts is unbelievable. The motives and aims that are guiding Europe's leaders are as elusive as the answer to the question, "What will be the outcome?"

If Europe becomes more embroiled in war in the coming months, she seems likely to do it, it will be difficult for America to keep her emotions as well under control as she has since last fall. It will be difficult for us to continue as a spectator.

We know that we do not want to join in this war, and it is important therefore that we know as much as possible of what is going on, in order to stay as far away from it as possible. That is why Welles' mission to Europe is important.

While Welles is seeking answers to questions that concern Americans, attempting to strengthen our own neutrality, the leaders of Europe are showing their usual eagerness.

However high our peace hopes soar, we must not get so hopeful that we lose our vigilance. Hitler and Mussolini have met, and from their meeting come conflicting stories of results. The entire conflict has been so full of unexpected moves, of broken vows and treacherous diplomacy, that we realize how no statement from Europe can be taken without liberal additions of salt.

The situation in Europe is impossible of analysis in its present stage. Guessing is comforting—and futile.

That is why we say that even Fact-Finder Welles can be sure of but one fact: "I found no peace."

Storm Lake paper wrote, "Of all things! The P. T. recently started agitation to 'cop' that 6 million dollar appropriation for building a government dam in the Iowa river at Corvallis and turn the money instead over to restoration of Storm Lake."

"This movement on our part was just going good when the Manson Journal horned in, demanding half of it to complete the dredging of Twin Lakes."

"Now comes the Humboldt Republican asking 'why not spend some of this cash on the west fork of the Des Moines river west and northwest of Humboldt?'"

"Editor Jacia points out that there are tracts near Humboldt that could be bought cheaply and turned into a state park, that the mill dam, Lake Nokomis, could be enlarged, numerous bayous improved, stumps removed, etc, etc."

"Let's all get in on this," he suggests. "Just a moment, boys! We saw this 6 million dollars first! If you fellows want some government money, find some other project and let Storm Lake handle this Corvallis proposition!"

Adding to the Storm Lake comment is this from the pen of the editor of the Montezuma Republican. "The above from the illustrious pen of Will Jarnagin, of the Storm Lake Pilot-Tribune and formerly a resident of this city, calls to our mind that Montezuma is the farthest away from water than any other town in the state of Iowa. If you can think of another, phone, write or call. But the fact remains that this part of the country could use part of that 6 million dollar fund. My, how we people down this way could spend that money . . ."

Holy Week Daily Messages for 1940

FOR 1940 (This program of Holy Week meditations has been planned and edited by Rev. Llewellyn Arnold Owen, president, Iowa City Minister's association, minister, First Congregational church.)

FRIENDSHIP By Rev. John Bruce Dalton, Minister, First Christian Church, Iowa City, Ia.

If someone were to ask you point blank, "How many real friends have you?", what would be your answer? Would you say, "Oh, one or two." Or are you one who could count friends by fives and tens? A World war soldier once said to me, sorrowfully: "My friends are all dead."

For nine-tenths of us I hardly know of any other word that is more often in our mouths than the word, "friend." Friendship relationships are among the most satisfying experiences of life.

Joseph Roux who said, "When my friends are one-eyed, I look at their profile." Friends are ever anxious to see each other in the best light. To have a friend is to double one's mental, moral and spiritual resources.

And religion in its first and last analysis is friendship with the Universe, belief in the Power that works for Friendship. Religion posts this far-reaching hypothesis: Behind physical phenomena stands the spiritual Friend, and living in the presence of that Friend solves now and forever the problem of existence.

Secretary Wallace aims at a swapping back and forth of our surpluses with Latin America's. Not a straight swapping! As soon as international trade dickerings are involved, money-changing complicates itself with the situation.

But Secretary Wallace is on the level. He asks for a Pan-American discussion. If Secretary Wallace can get away from a WORLD conference to a hemispherical conference! He acts as if he were trying to do it. It would be to our interest.

relationships are among the most satisfying experiences of life. From Aristotle to Emerson, our Yankee Plato, philosophers have extolled friendship and considered its principles and responsibilities until there is left us little that is new to be said about it. Yet it is better on this matter to be told twice what has been said than not to know it at all. So if we only restate and elaborate the inherited principles regarding friendship, our time, even then, would not be misspent.

A friend, we are told, is one who calls out the best there is in us. The power of friendship is an energizing power. A friend is one whose influence upon us is such that he revives the better self. Friendship is an alliance between better selves. A friend's mind is a mirror in which we always look our best under the circumstances. I think it was relationships are among the most satisfying experiences of life. From Aristotle to Emerson, our Yankee Plato, philosophers have extolled friendship and considered its principles and responsibilities until there is left us little that is new to be said about it. Yet it is better on this matter to be told twice what has been said than not to know it at all. So if we only restate and elaborate the inherited principles regarding friendship, our time, even then, would not be misspent.

A friend, we are told, is one who calls out the best there is in us. The power of friendship is an energizing power. A friend is one whose influence upon us is such that he revives the better self. Friendship is an alliance between better selves. A friend's mind is a mirror in which we always look our best under the circumstances. I think it was

Joseph Roux who said, "When my friends are one-eyed, I look at their profile." Friends are ever anxious to see each other in the best light. To have a friend is to double one's mental, moral and spiritual resources.

And religion in its first and last analysis is friendship with the Universe, belief in the Power that works for Friendship. Religion posts this far-reaching hypothesis: Behind physical phenomena stands the spiritual Friend, and living in the presence of that Friend solves now and forever the problem of existence.

Secretary Wallace aims at a swapping back and forth of our surpluses with Latin America's. Not a straight swapping! As soon as international trade dickerings are involved, money-changing complicates itself with the situation.

But Secretary Wallace is on the level. He asks for a Pan-American discussion. If Secretary Wallace can get away from a WORLD conference to a hemispherical conference! He acts as if he were trying to do it. It would be to our interest.

Wallace Has a Swell Pan-American Trade Plan, But U. S. Congress Just Won't Finance It

By CHARLES F. STEWART Central Press Columnist

Farm Secretary Henry A. Wallace's plan for an increase in trade between the United States and the Latin Americas seems likely to be up against a dead end at this session of congress because the lawmakers are too economy-minded at present to finance it.

They're a peculiar bunch on Capitol Hill. They groan, to be sure, about the billions of dollars they're called upon to appropriate for other purposes. Nevertheless, they go ahead and do the appropriating.

All Wallace needs, for his scheme, is a mere handful of a very few hundreds of thousands. But the legislators can't stand that much. Of course the explanation's obvious. When the solons appropriate a billion, they do it under pressure from the voters. When something in six figures is asked for, nobody's at hand to insist on it. True, it isn't worth saving, but it isn't worth appropriating, either—not from the political standpoint, anyway.

The fact is that Secretary Wallace has a dandy idea, which would pay hugely in the long run. And it could be developed by comparatively so small an investment that private capital (not to mention government money) probably would be attracted by it, but for the detail that the profits may be deferred to a later date than private capital likes to wait for.

Our Factory Staff Secretary Wallace's thesis is that Latin America wants a lot of stuff that we're champions at producing. That's true. Latin American manufactures next to nothing. It naturally is a raw material realm. It can process some meat, and that's about all.

Godoy Tops Contenders For Joe Louis' Title

Pressbox Pickups By OSCAR HARGRAVE

There's just a tinge of sadness about the news that Wally Bergstrom, the big guy from downstate, is going to graduate this spring. He announced that yesterday—that he won't be available for Iowa football next fall, despite the fact that he has but one year of competition behind him.

Bergstrom, it might be said, is a shining example of how gridders sometimes come from the most unexpected places. Big, rugged and capable, Bergstrom, nevertheless, hadn't played any football before he came to Iowa—his high school didn't have a football team. It probably would have continued that way, but Eddie Anderson interested Bergstrom in the grid sport a year ago.

They can talk about ways of learning things all they want to, but in Bergstrom's case there isn't much doubt—he learned it the hard way. I witnessed much of the learning one fall day at Madison, Wis., on the afternoon of his first full ball game.

There probably isn't a grider in history who had to produce as abruptly and unexpectedly as Bergstrom did. He was a good prospect last fall, but didn't look like a first stringer—not with Mike Enich and Jim Walker around. But, when Walker hurt a knee at Michigan, Bergstrom landed in the game.

Despite the best that good coaching can do Bergstrom was still green enough for any St. Patrick's day celebration when he finished the Michigan game and went through the Wisconsin battle. The aforementioned afternoon at Madison, instructive as it might have been for the experts who had doped the Hawks as losers, was even more of an education for Bergstrom in a football way. It made a tackle who was good enough to rate a second all-conference berth at the end of the season.

Since then there has been another story about Big Wally. It developed after the season that he had defied his doctor's orders to play and underwent an operation afterwards.

It all must have been quite a job, that getting away with so much—it takes quite a touch of genius. Iowa is apt to miss a guy who can make coaches think he is a well man when he isn't and who can play football and learn it, all at the same time.

Tankmen Had Good Year Soph Squad Won Five Dual Meets While Losing One

With their last meet ending in victory, Coach Dave Armbruster and his Hawkeye swimming team can look back with pardonable pride on a successful season. Starting the season with a squad of ten sophomores and only five veterans, the Iowa mentor succeeded in coaching his boys to five wins with one defeat.

Victories were won over Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Chicago and Northwestern, while the lone defeat came at the hands of Michigan's Big Ten Collegiate champions, Iowa placed fourth at the conference meet when the sprint relay team was disqualified after posting the third fastest time in the preliminaries.

Don Wenstrom, a sophomore, was the team's high scorer for the dual season with 45 points. This compares quite favorably with the all time Iowa scoring record which has stood since 1928 when Boyd Liddle won the national dual scoring record for that year with 62 points. Carl Ahlgren ranked second with 43 points, Co-Capt. Al Armbruster won 38, George Poulos 27, Russ Dotson 26, Walt Bareisa 24, Leo Beidrzycki 20, Vic Vargon 17, Nick Karaffa 15, Dwight Johnson 13, and Co-Capt. Tony Bremer 12. Al Armbruster also placed second in the 150 yard back stroke at the Big Ten meet, while Don Wenstrom won fourth in the

Jersey Plans To Examine Baer, Galento

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—Abe J. Greene, New Jersey state athletic commission head, said today he would not permit the Tony Galento-Max Baer heavyweight fight in Jersey City May 28 until both battlers had undergone a "thorough physical check-up."

In a meeting with managers Joe Jacobs, for Galento, and Ancil Hoffman, for Baer, and Promoter Mike Jacobs, Greene told Tony's pilot he would name two commission physicians within the next week to examine the barrel-shaped brawler from Orange, N. J. "These physicians will lay particular stress on Galento's eyes," Greene explained in commenting on rumors that the battling bartender's vision was impaired as a result of his stiff tussles with Joe Louis and Lou Nova last year. "That's okay by me," Joe Jacobs told Greene. "I know Tony is in fine shape, and that examination will settle those reports once and for all."

Greene said Baer would have to undergo a similar examination when he arrives here for training in mid-April. Hoffman and Baer's brother, Buddy, left later for California. Buddy was to have fought Valentin Campolo, recently imported Argentine, in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night, but the South American injured his shoulder and the bout was cancelled.

Ben Hogan Nears Record In Golf Meet

PINEHURST, N. C., March 19 (AP)—Ben Hogan, 140 compact pounds of Texas-born golf pro, came within six inches of setting a new competitive course record today when he shot a six-under-par 66 that gave him the first round lead in the north-south open golf championship by a margin of three strokes.

Hogan, who plays out of White Plains, N. Y., came to the 17th tee of Pinehurst's testing No. 2 course needing two pars for that 66. He put all of his considerable power into a well-hit iron shot that dropped the ball onto the green, 186 yards away, 15 feet hole-high to the right.

Sinking that putt would have put him seven under par. But Benny bailed it a bit, and the ball dropped six inches short. He got his par 3 there and par 4 on the finisher, and thus tied the competitive course mark set up in the second round of last year's tournament by Harry Cooper.

Hogan came in three shots ahead of Paul Runyan. The former PGA champion put together a 69 that stood up until Hogan came home late in the afternoon. Altogether, 16 pros and one amateur bettered the No. 2 course's par of 72. The simpurpose was Bobby Dunkelberger of High Point, N. C., who posted a neat 71. The next ranking amateur, George Dunlap, the former national amateur champion, had a 72.

Behind Runyan at 70 was a group of four—Johnny Revolta, Ted Luther of Pittsburgh, U. S. open champion Byron Nelson, and Jack Patroni of Manchester, Vt. The greatest congestion was at 71, where Dunkelberger was bracketed with 10 pros.

Blues Slaughter Senators, 22-5

HAINES CITY, Fla., March 19 (AP)—The Kansas City Blues murdered Washington pitching today and defeated the Nats, 22 to 5.

The Senators' outfielders had to chase four home runs, eight three-baggers and four doubles whacked out by the American Association champions, not to mention nine singles.

60 yard free style and the medley relay team took third.

Next year's prospects look especially bright with only three veterans leaving through graduation—Co-Captains Al Armbruster and Tony Bremer, both backstrokers, and Ed Gerber, sprint specialist. A number of promising freshmen are expected to bolster the 1941 squad. Outstanding among these are Al Povallaitis, who won a top berth on the interscholastic all-American team of 1936, Bob Becker and Vito Lopin.

Chilean Heavy Ousts Galento In Rankings

John Paychek Eighth; Savold Named 10th Best Heavyweight

MILWAUKEE, March 19 (AP)—Arturo Godoy, Chile's "forgotten man" who came out of obscurity to go 15 rounds with heavyweight champion Joe Louis, today replaced Tony Galento as the National Boxing Association's choice as No. 1 contender for the brown bomber's title.

Fred J. Saddy of Milwaukee, chairman of the NBA's championship rating committee, placed Godoy's performance at the top of his review for the past quarter, ahead of Henry Armstrong's knockout victory over Pedro Montañez and Armstrong's draw with Ceferino Garcia.

Galento dropped to second place among the heavyweights contenders, followed in order by Bob Pastor, Lou Nova, Tommy Farr and Max Baer. The committee placed Johnny Paychek, Louis' next foe, in eighth place and Lee Savold in ninth.

The committee prefaced its quarterly list of champions—unchanged since December—with a blunt warning to Joey Archibald, featherweight ruler, that unless he signs for a bout with Pete Scalzo by March 28, the NBA will relieve him of his title. Scalzo is No. 1 contender.

Lew Jenkins, now No. 3 lightweight contender, was "invited" to box Davy Day, No. 1, at 135 pounds, before Jenkins meets Lou Ambers, lightweight champion. The winner would be "considered a formidable opponent" for Ambers.

Chambers and No. 1 contenders in other divisions, respectively, were rated as follows: light heavyweights, Billy Conn and Gus Lesnevich; middleweights, Al Hostak and Ceferino Garcia; welterweights, Henry Armstrong and Milt Aron; bantamweights, George Pace and Lou Salica; flyweights, Little Dado and Enrico Urbinatti.

Biggest jump was by Aron, from eighth place to first among welter contenders, by knocking out Fritzie Zivic. Salica got his rating by fighting a draw with Pace.

Graduation Iowan Says Goodbye To Gridiron

Wally Bergstrom, outstanding tackle on Iowa's sensational football team of last season, announced last night that he has definitely decided to graduate from the university in June.

Bergstrom came up from the ranks of the unknown last season when he was called on by Eddie Anderson to fill the shoes of sophomore tackle Jim Walker. It was in the Michigan game that Walker was injured and Bergstrom was given the call. It was the first game experience for the new tackle.

From the Michigan game until the closing minutes of the last contest with Northwestern Bergstrom battled along with the rest of Iowa's "iron men." Different newspaper sources praised him as the sophomore tackle who had never played football before last season, while, actually, Bergstrom was a senior in the college of commerce.

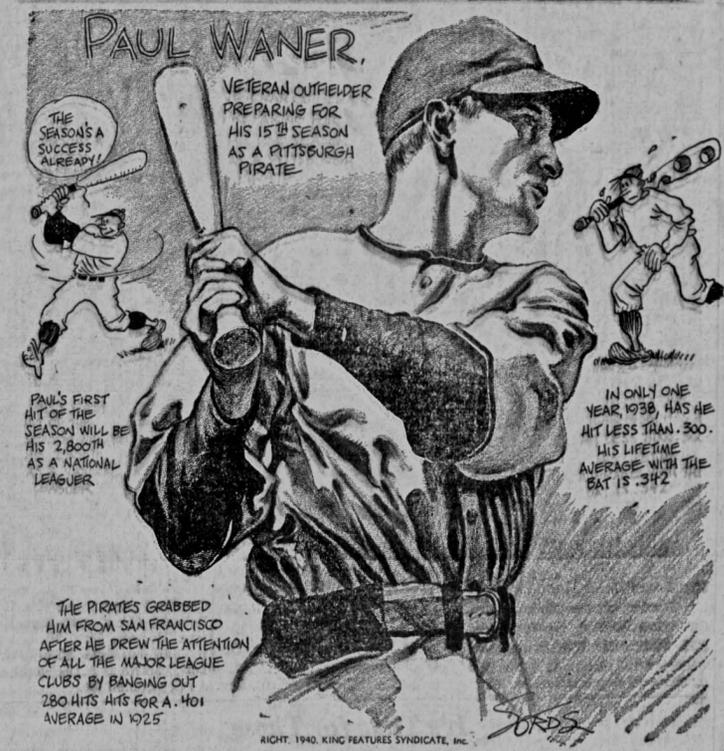

Because the blonde tackle had never entered varsity competition previous to the gridiron campaign he would be eligible for Big Ten competition next year but decided yesterday to graduate with his class in June.

Bergstrom was operated on for a hernia in January and thought at that time that he might not carry a full schedule and return to the campus next fall and graduate at the semester.

Whiters Next DES MOINES (AP)—Pinkie George, manager of heavyweight Leg Savold, said last night the Des Moines fighter's next opponent would be Johnny Whitters, Otis Thomas or LeRoy Haynes. The fight will be held in St. Louis March 28.

Announcement that Savold would fight on the St. Louis card was made there today. A definite decision has not been reached on his opponent.

Iowans Enter N. C. A. A. Swim

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL Popular Player He Was Hurt Smart Catching

TAMPA, Fla., March 19 (AP)—He wouldn't say "ouch" if you stuck him with pins and he wouldn't alibi if he had been 50 miles from the scene of the crime, but Ernie Lombardi has friends who will speak out for him.

Popular Player In fact, there isn't a more popular ball player in these parts, among teammates and fans alike, than old snozzle, the Red catcher who silently has endured an unmerciful ribbing since that "home sweet home" pantomime of the last world series.

To this day large Ernie will just "ha-ha-ha" good naturedly when asked about the episode. One Cincinnati sports writer, after months of prodding, finally got the reluctant admission from Ernie that "he guessed Frank Crosetti and Charley Keller both bumped into him," as they were coming home.

Hank Gowdy is one of the legion of friends who speak up readily for Lombardi. Hank is a Red coach, a tall, lean, bespectacled, kindly fellow you might expect to find waiting to lead you to your pew in a country church. He was quite a catcher himself in his day, and probably is as close to Lombardi as anyone. But Lombardi never even told him just what happened.

He Was Hurt "But he was hurt on the play," Gowdy declares. "Babe Pinelli, the plate umpire, told me that. Ernie is the type that keeps his troubles to himself. Nobody ever knows if he isn't feeling well, or anything else is wrong. Why, last Saturday he split his finger, but nobody knew it but Lombardi. He just walked over to the bench.

"The only time he gives any indication of how he feels is when he fails to hit with men on bases. He comes back pounding his bat on the ground. One day he failed to hit twice in a row. He came back and started to beat the bat against a steel girder, trying to break the wood. He must have stood there five minutes hammering away, before it broke. That bat was a tough one.

Smart Catching "And make no mistake, Ernie is a smart catcher. His record with different pitchers shows that—Vander Meer's two no-hitters, the victory records of Walters and Derringer last year, the work of young fellows like Junior Thompson.

"The physical side of catching

Cookie Lavagetto Clouts Homer As Cards Win

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Cookie Lavagetto smashed an eighth inning homer with the bases loaded to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 5-4 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals today.

For over six innings the two clubs were tangled in a scoreless tie, then the Cards got away to a one run lead, but in the eighth, the Cookie connected and the Redbirds couldn't quite recover, though they scored three times in their half of the same inning.

Curt Davis and Clyde Shoun pitched exceptionally well for the Cards in the early innings, as did Whit Wyatt for the Dodgers. Bob Bowman was the victim of Lavagetto's blow.

Phillies Get Big Workouts

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Manager Doc Prothro drove his Philadelphia Nationals through a pair of two hour and a half workouts today because he believes the Phils, who lost two straight games to major league opponents, "weren't getting enough work."

He devoted special attention to running exercises for George Scharen, Joe Marty and Si Johnson whom he considers too stout to be stylish.

is only incidental. A catcher must know the batters' weakness, must wheedle his pitcher along, and above all, must gain the complete confidence of his pitcher. Ernie does all that, besides having all the physical attributes. His snap throw to the bases is a wonder."

Lew Riggs, third baseman, broke in: "He throws strikes to second." "He ventures, "The ball seems to just burn its way into your glove."

All of which gives an idea of why the Reds aren't worrying about the catching, and with the pitching and the infield set, all that remains to insure a good night's sleep for Bill McKechnie is for young Mike McCormick to continue to play in left field as he has been playing.

Four Hawks To Take Trip To Yale Pool

Coach Dave Armbruster has chosen four men from his swimming squad to compete in the National Collegiate at Yale, March 28-29. The men will train at the fieldhouse pool during spring vacation and will leave for New Haven next Monday.

The swimmers selected are Co-Capt. Al Armbruster, back stroke; George Poulos, breast stroke; Don Wenstrom, sprints; and Carl Ahlgren, 1500 meters land 440.

Each man will swim in his individual events, and Armbruster, Poulos and Wenstrom will compete in the medley relay.

The Iowa alumni of Buffalo, N. Y., have offered the facilities of the Buffalo Athletic Club for training purposes before the meet. On the return trip, the men will visit New York City and Washington, D. C.

This trip, sponsored by the Dolphin club, is conducted every year for the purpose of creating interest in Iowa swimming in the various cities along the way, as well as representing Iowa at the national meet.

Colonels Whip Bosox, 18-5

ARCADIA, Fla., March 19 (AP)—The Louisville Colonels trampled the Boston Red Sox by a 18-5 score today, uncorking three high scoring innings to smother the rookie-spattered Sox lineup.

For the American leaguers there was some consolation in Jimmy Foss' tremendous home run with the bases filled in the third, a blow that wiped out a 4-run margin the Colonels had produced in the first half of the inning.

The minor leaguers fell on Jim Heffin for nine runs and nicked Hal Fine for seven more in rolling up their 18 runs. Frank Dasso gave up the other two tallies.

Charges Dismissed NEW YORK (AP)—An assault charge against Joseph Rosmarin, flying instructor who figured in a spectacular mid-air struggle with a passenger over New York bay last Thursday, was dismissed yesterday. Emanuel Eisenberg, Broadway press agent, dropped when the plane fell into the bay.

Des Moines Team Wins in A. A. U. Cage Tournament

DENVER, March 19 (AP)—California, Louisiana, Iowa, Montana, Idaho and Oklahoma today sent teams into the third round of the National A. A. U. basketball tournament.

Two seeded outfits, the Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips 66 and the Hollywood Twentieth Century, scored easy victories.

The Oklahomans, runners-up to the Denver Nuggets last year, defeated the Louisville Edentides, 53 to 26. Making their first start of the tournament, the Phillips were held to a 20-14 half-time advantage but forged steadily ahead in the second half.

Twentieth Century doubled the score on New Mexico Normal, 62 to 31, as Jack Hupp, an all-American forward in the 1939 meet, flipped ten field goals on a pretty assortment of shots.

The Shreveport, La., Morris and Dickson team ejected Kansas City College of Commerce, 46 to 44, as forward Guffy Pattison arched a long field goal from the sideline with only 15 seconds to play.

A fast-stepping attack carried the Des Moines Dealers, manned almost completely by former Drake university players, to a 72-45 success over Amsterdam, N. Y., textiles.

Montana university rode out an uprisings by Gary, Ind., to grab a 42-39 decision and become the next opponent for the Nuggets.

Idaho Southern Branch went into the round of sixteen with a 36 to 27 victory over Penn Athletic club.

Today's six second-round winners were preceded into the third round by the Nuggets, Oakland Golden States, San Francisco Olympic club, Salt Lake City Eckers and St. Louis United Service who won yesterday.

Rookie Hurlers Help Yankees Down Bees, 3-0

BRADENTON, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Two rookie right-handers, Marvin Breuer and Tommy Reis, pitched the world champion Yankees to their first shutout victory of the grapefruit season today—a 3-0 walloping of the Boston Bees.

The two let the Bees down with six hits—all singles. Breuer pitched five innings and Reis four. The game looked like one that might never end, until the seventh when the Bees' defense collapsed and the Yankees scored all their runs, their hitting featured by a 420-foot triple from the bat of Babe Dahlgren, Yank first sacker.

Around The Big Leagues

Chisox Nip Pirates, 9-7 SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 19 (AP)—The traditional "hot corner" proved a little too sizzling for the Pittsburgh Pirates today as rookie third baseman Metha paced the Chicago White Sox to a 9 to 7 victory in an exhibition game.

The American leaguers swarmed all over the Bucs in a hectic fifth inning, scoring five runs to nullify a four-run barrage laid down by the National leaguers in the third. In the fifth Metha doubled behind singles by Cromer and Wright, scoring both, and in the ninth brought Rosenthal and Cromer across the plate with a ringing single.

For the Pirates Paul Waner drove in three runs in the third on a single, then himself scored on singles by Johnny Rizzo and Arky Vaughan.

Padgett Signs Card Contract ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Don Padgett, St. Louis Cardinals holdout catcher, signed his 1940 contract this afternoon after a six-minute conference with General Manager Branch Rickey.

This leaves Joe Medwick the only remaining Cardinal holdout.

Browns Triumph Without Hits SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 19 (AP)—Three runs scored without a single hit in the first inning gave the St. Louis Browns a 6 to 4 exhibition game victory over the Toledo Mudhens of the Amer-

Bob Cook's Double In Fourth Frame Brings Iowa Tallies

LAFAYETTE, La., March 19—(Special to The Daily Iowan)—Iowa's hard clubbing diamondmen made it two in a row over Southwestern institute here today with an impressive 3-0 victory.

Collecting nine hits off the offerings of Bourque and LeBlanc, the Hawkeyes played errorless ball for the victory. Sophomore Bob Cook, Iowa right fielder, drove in two of the Iowa runs with a double in the second inning. Cook cracked out a pair of two base hits, the only extra base bingles of the game.

Meanwhile, six foot, six inch Dick Hein and the veteran Fred Hohenhorst clamped down on the southerners, allowing but five hits during the game and not a single base on balls. Hein, in his first game for Iowa, allowed but two hits in four innings, while Hohenhorst gave three bingles in five frames.

Giants Whip Tribe, 4-2

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Lanky Cliff Melton and big Hy Vandenberg combined their pitching talents to hurl the Giants to a 4-2 victory over the Cleveland Indians in a grapefruit league exhibition today.

Melton allowed only two hits in four innings and Vandenberg let the Tribe down with three hits—and both their runs—in the four innings he tolled.

Home Runs Help Reds Win, 11-9

LAKELAND, Fla., March 19 (AP)—An eighth inning six-run rally, topped by home runs by Billy Myers and Frankie McCormick, gave the Cincinnati Reds an 11 to 9 victory over the Detroit Tigers in a Grapefruit league game here today.

Each of the four-baggers came with two men on base and Archie McKain in the box, but two errors payed the way for the outburst as the Tigers dropped their second straight exhibition tilt.

The National league champions got 12 hits off Tommy Bridges and McKain while the Tigers collected 13 off Jim Turner and Gene (Junior) Thompson.

Big Hank Greenberg and George (Birdie) Tebbetts hit home runs for Detroit.

Dean Takes First Workout

LOS ANGELES, March 19 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs got a day of rest today when their exhibition game with the Philadelphia Athletics was washed out by rain.

Dizzy Dean, who signed his contract Sunday, took his first workout today, the drill consisting of a few half-speed pitches, three trips around the ball park and a minimum of fungo fly chasing.

Uncle Sam Asks Students To Send Census Information Home to Folks

Uncle Sam is asking college students to write home during March and request something besides the traditional check.

He wants the young men and women who are living temporarily at school to remind their parents:

"Count me in when the census-taker comes to the 'family mansion' in April."

It has been Uncle Sam's experience in 150 years of census-taking that while absence may make the heart grow fonder, it also tends to make the mind forgetful. Census bureau officials have good reason to believe that the accuracy of the count of students who happen to be away from home at the time of the census can be improved.

College students, temporarily away from home to attend school, should be counted as members of the households in which they usually reside. Students who have no permanent residence other than the places in which they are living while attending school or college, however, should be enumerated there. Such students should call or write to the district supervisor for the census if they are not enumerated.

Feeling that college students, like every other section of the population, will benefit from a reliable national inventory, the United States bureau of the census is asking them to do their part in making the 1940 census a success.

The bureau needs their help in the gigantic task of assembling facts about 132 million Americans in two ways. First, by making sure that their parents will report on them to the census enumerator, and second, by supplying their parents with certain information they will need in order to report on them accurately. The latter precaution is advisable even for students living at home, since they may be at class when the enumerator arrives.

Offhand, it might be thought that parents would know everything about the student which would be called for in the census. The questions which are being asked in 1940, however, are somewhat more complex than those of previous years, reflecting the need for facts bearing on the many problems which have arisen in the United States during the eventful decade just closing.

The queries on which parents are most likely to be uncertain are those relating to employment status. Information is wanted on the following points:

Number of weeks the student worked in 1939 (equivalent full-time weeks.) Number of hours he worked during the week of March 24-30, 1940. Present, or if seeking work, last occupation (exact nature of duties performed). Present or last industry (kind of factory, store or other place of business). Present or last class of worker (wage or salary worker in private work; wage or salary worker in government work; employer; working on own account; unpaid family workers). Whether at work in private or non-emergency government work during week of March 24 to 30.

If not, whether assigned to public emergency work (such as NYA) during that week. If neither, whether seeking work.

If not at work or seeking work, does the student have a job or business from which he is temporarily on vacation, sick leave or lay-off? (Students on Easter vacation between March 24 to 30 might be in this group.)

The only other question which parents might have trouble answering concerns place of residence of the student on April 1, 1935. If the student was away from home at the time, in prep school, college or elsewhere, the parents are still to report his permanent residence, which normally would be the same as their own.

Students at West Point, Annapolis and other institutions of the war department, navy department, and United States coast guard, and student nurses living at hospitals or nurses' homes will be enumerated at those institutions.

Reporting to the census bureau is required by law, but the same statute protects those giving the answers against disclosure of individual returns or their use for taxation, investigation or regulation.

They will be used solely for statistical purposes. For example, it will be possible to determine from 1940 census figures the number of college graduates in various occupations, the number of unemployed college graduates, and a great deal of other important information never before available. Not only will the census produce material of this type, directly bearing on the student's prospects, but will furnish sociological data of considerable value to students doing research.

Thus cooperation with the 1940 census will pay the student dividends.

Plans Announced for 12th All-State Summer Music Term

Experts From Other States Will Instruct

Prof. Charles Righter To Supervise Project Of High School Pupils

All-state high school music organizations will receive intensive training at the University of Iowa next summer as the institution conducts the project for the 12th year.

Plans for the 1940 organizations—symphonic band, orchestra and chorus—announced yesterday by music officials, call for the groups to assemble June 17. Training will end July 18.

Any high school student or graduate of 1940 with proper qualifications may apply for membership, and selections will be based upon recommendations submitted by school administrative officers and music teachers.

The pupils will be handled by a group of more than 20 instructors, including several from other states. Prof. Charles B. Righter of the music department will be supervisor of the organizations as well as conductor of the orchestra and band, while Thompson Stone of Boston, Mass., will conduct the chorus.

All of the groups will have daily rehearsals as well as practice in small groups. Pupils also may enroll for music theory and appreciation classes. Several public concerts will be given.

3-Year-Olds Have Cavities

Dr. John C. Brauer Says Children Need Dental Care Early

The introduction of child and dentist should take place before the youngster has reached his third year, according to Dr. John C. Brauer, head of the preventive dentistry and pedodontics departments of the college of dentistry and director of the Bureau of Dental Hygiene. Dr. Brauer spoke yesterday on the program of the Baltimore Dental centenary.

"Ideal service for the child patient can only be obtained when the youngster can be seen in the dentist's office early enough to intercept incipient decay," the speaker held. "This age certainly should not be later than three years, although in some instances this is already too late."

It is not uncommon, he said, to see a child of three years with badly broken down teeth as a result of decay and, in many instances, with infection rampant. Too many children, he cautioned, have wrecked occlusions and serious infections because visits to the dentist have been delayed until the young patients enter school.

"The question of when to extract and when to fill a first tooth should never be based on the average values of tables or charts," Dr. Brauer contended. "These average values of calcification and eruption are essential information, but every child is not the same physiologically and not all of them can be diagnosed or treated in the same manner."

"X-rays are usually necessary to determine one's procedure. During the transition period, and without this aid, very often the dentist cannot have a true picture of the child-patient's mouth."

Dr. A. O. Klaffenbach Opens Centennial Dental Meet Today

Dr. Klaffenbach, who will address the dentists on "Fixed Partial Denture Service," says that dentistry has made tremendous strides in the last 25 years in placing within the mouth substitutes for lost teeth.

The keynote of the Baltimore centenary—the observance of the 100th anniversary of the dental profession—will be sounded in Baltimore, Md., today by Dr. Arthur O. Klaffenbach, professor and head of the crown and bridge clinic at the college of dentistry, who will tell the assembled members of the profession that "Dentistry has reached the age of discretion."

"Her spirit has strength of one hundred years growth, experience and progress," Dr. Klaffenbach's message reads. "Her character is grounded in the pride of tradition. Her eyes are wise with knowledge of generations come and gone; for while a century is but a drop in the bucket of eternal time, it profits in comparison with the span of human life."

"Only in our imagination and then imperfectly are we able to conceive the passing of one hundred years never to be reclaimed. Even now the hour glass of time is being inverted and we set out anew to meet the joys and achievements, the trials and tribulations of a new era."

"It is therefore fitting that on this significant occasion that dentists in all lands should come together as fellow members of a great undertaking to commemorate the founding of the profession, to dedicate themselves to the work that lies ahead," Dr. Klaffenbach's address continues.

17,000 in All Capacity Crowds Hear Band

Some 17,000 persons heard the University of Iowa's 85 piece band on its tour last week when 17 concerts were given.

Prof. Charles B. Righter, the conductor, said that the largest crowds, about 1,200, attended the Waterloo and Dubuque concerts. In several cases, the capacity of the high school auditoriums was taxed.

It is pointed out that the 1940 tour, during which nearly 700 miles were covered, was largely experimental, but the success of the venture may mean that the group will make a trip next year.

Lapham To Be New Chairman Of Committee

Lewis J. Lapham, A2 of Charles City, has undertaken the position of co-chairman of the Committee for Student Self-Government, which he, with George Willoughby, G of Des Moines, will now head. He fills a vacancy left by Patricia Sleezer, A3 of Freeport, Ill., who resigned to assume duties in connection with the presidency of the Y.W.C.A. and other campus activities.

The student committee, which has proposed a charter for organized students, has presented this charter and its platform to fraternity, sorority and dormitory living units for consideration.

Chamberlain Contemptuous of Hitler-Mussolini Conference

INTERPRETATIVE— Britain-France Will Fight For 'Moral Peace'

Italian Press Implies
Mussolini Still Wants
No Part in Conflict

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

The riddle of the Hitler-Mussolini rendezvous in Brenner Pass remains unsolved, despite frantic speculation throughout the capitals of Europe, but one grimly significant revelation stands out. Prime Minister Chamberlain told parliament that the Franco-British allies were resolved to carry on their war with Germany to the bitter end in quest of "a moral peace." He said they neither knew nor much cared what the Nazi Führer and the fascist Il Duce said to each other. Chamberlain's words left no doubt the Premier Daladier echoed that scoffing dismissal of the Brenner conference when he spoke to a closed parliamentary session in Paris.

Chamberlain's sarcastic references to the Brenner Pass conference were obviously designed to nip in the bud any peace talk which might have been generated there.

It is notable also that the Italian papers, which usually reflect Il Duce's attitude, likewise frowned on newspaper speculation in other countries concerning the possible peace role Mussolini might play after the Brenner conference. Fascist editors resented implications that Il Duce, at Hitler's or any other's behest, would carry an olive branch already frost-bitten by allied reaction.

Virtually all of the speculation that the foundations for a new order in Europe were laid at the conference blossomed from Berlin, not Rome.

The essence of Italian press comment is that Italy still sees non-participation in the war as the policy vital to her own interests, and still views with doubt and suspicion the Hitler expedient of taking Moscow into the Nazi-fascist totalitarian fellowship. Eye witnesses accounts from Brenner picture Mussolini as smiling, Hitler as thoughtful, as they walked together to the German train after the conference.

Whatever was the actual objective and result of that Brenner meeting, it has signally failed to encourage hopes of early peace, or to furnish any more definite guide to the trend of the conflict.

Hope For Finland

In addition to his advance rejection of peace proposals at this stage, Chamberlain held out to vanquished Finland a new hope of ultimate restoration. And he waved aside, as baseless Nazi propaganda, the German claims of having struck a crippling blow at the British fleet in the Scapa Flow air raid that synchronized with the Brenner Pass meeting.

Intentionally, at least, Chamberlain's discussion of allied failure to save Finland from the Russian red army juggernaut linked Finland with Poland and Czechoslovakia as objectives of allied solidarity. The prime minister indicated that Finland might yet resume her free and independent place in the family of nations with allied aid.

The British war chief's words raise a question as to what might underlie the talk in Finland and Scandinavia of a defensive union to guard against further totalitarian encroachments in the Baltic.

The prime minister's flat statement that only one lesser British warship was struck in the Scapa Flow raid, which Berlin claimed had destroyed or crippled half a dozen British battleships, unquestionably sent a thrill of relief through France as well as Britain.

There is no possibility of reconciling the British and German reports of damage inflicted.

Yet the odds favor accuracy of the Chamberlain account not only because of the high authority behind it, but also because the timing of that raid and the extraordinary efforts made in Berlin to play it up as a smashing blow to the British fleet leave it open to some suspicion of propaganda.

MOBILE BRANCH LIBRARY

DETROIT now has a branch library on wheels. Known as the Bookmobile, this branch operates at six points throughout the city of Detroit, generally from 3 P.M. to 9 P.M., distributing books to people who do not reside near one of the regular branch libraries.

Bookmobile is a Fruehauf Merchandiser model trailer arranged with shelves which carry approximately 2700 books. The library is in charge of a branch librarian, assisted by a children's librarian, an assistant children's librarian, a clerk and driver. According to Assistant Librarian Cleveland of the Detroit Public Library, this crew is hardly enough to handle the crowds due to the popularity of the mobile branch. On some of the scheduled stops, a crowd a block long and three people abreast have been awaiting its arrival. The Detroit Public Library is keeping a close tally on the results which so far have shown astonishing popularity.

Bookmobile is conducted like any other branch, issuing cards which are good anywhere in the Detroit library system or accepting cards which have been issued at any of the branches. It is stated that the idea is being closely followed by librarians in several other large cities throughout the United States.

Chicagoan Demands Court Test Of Illinois Governor's Ability

Questions Horner's Physical Capability To Head State Affairs

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 19 (AP)—A demand for a court test of Gov. Henry Horner's ability to perform his duties was served upon three of the state's law officers today in the midst of the primary election campaign.

Jacob Legion Tenny, Chicago attorney acting as a citizen, charged that the governor had been "incapacitated by illness" and requested the officials to begin quo warranto proceedings in the Illinois supreme court "to find out by what right Henry Horner is holding the office of governor."

The health of Gov. Horner, who has been ailing for 16 months, has become a factor in the democratic factional fight between candidates backed by the United Kelly-Nash and Horner organizations and a group of rebel aspirants.

From the insurgents' camp came claims that a "clique" of "back-room bosses" assumed control of the government while Horner was confined to the executive mansion.

Hugh W. Cross, speaker of the Illinois house who seeks the republican nomination for lieutenant governor at the April primary, joined in the controversy last night. He suggested that the democratic insurgents withhold Horner's pay check "and force the governor to go into court to prove his right to that money."

Horner declared he was able to handle his job and denied that "usurpers" had seized his power. "Tenny, who described himself as a political independent and a former U. S. naturalization examiner, made his demands for a court test of the governor's fitness in letters to Attorney General John E. Cassidy and state's attorneys Thomas J. Courtney of Chicago and William P. Roberts of Springfield. Courtney and Cassidy declined to comment. Roberts told reporters:

"This (the letter) reads a little like a political speech. I think it would be safe to assume that this office isn't going to do anything about it."

Tenny asserted that if they ignored his demand he would take legal action himself.

FREED U. S. FLYER WITH WIFE

Back in the United States after 32 months imprisonment in Spain, Harold H. Dahl, American flyer, is reunited with his singer-wife, Edith, in New York. It was Mrs. Dahl's dazzling blond likeness, together with an impassioned plea to Generalissimo Francisco Franco, that helped save the flyer's life after he was captured flying for the Loyalists and sentenced to death. Reporters classed the meeting of Dahl and his wife as cool.

Workman Dies, Flyer Dahl 2 Others Hurt Placed in Jail In Tower Fall

Workers in Des Moines Victims of Accident On Dismantling Job

DES MOINES, March 19 (AP)—Arlo Tufts, 29, of Des Moines died tonight of injuries which resulted when he plunged to the ground with a falling 60-foot elevator tower at the new Bankers Life Insurance company building here this morning.

Today was to have been Tufts' last day as a worker on the project. He and his wife had packed their possessions preparatory to leaving tomorrow for Denver where he was to work on another construction job.

Tufts' skull was fractured and both legs were broken. He never regained consciousness.

His brother, Glenn Tufts, 25, of Indianapolis, and Clarence Thomas, 29, of Des Moines, were seriously injured in the collapse of the steel elevator tower, which they were demolishing.

Held in New York On Charges Over Worthless Checks

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—Harold Dahl, American aviator who was imprisoned and later released by insurgent general Franco after he had served 13 Madrid government forces in the Spanish civil war, was arrested and held in jail tonight in connection with worthless check charges on file in Los Angeles.

He arrived home only two days ago, rejoining his wife, Edith, whose pleas to Franco played a part in his being saved from a firing squad.

The warrant accused Dahl of issuing worthless checks from July to September, 1936.

New York police said official records showed that Dahl received a suspended sentence of one year in prison and was put on probation for two years after he was convicted in Los Angeles in January 1936 on a bad check complaint.

Backer's, Opposers of Dam Look to Governor for Opinion

No Comment By Executive On Reservoir

Wilson Learns Facts He Missed at Public Hearing February 14

By ARTHUR BELLAIRE
Daily Iowan City Editor

Gov. George A. Wilson didn't attend the public hearing on the $6,600,000 Coralville dam project St. Valentine's day but he has received the same information in his office the state conservation commission came all the way to Iowa City to find out.

Set into action for the second time in the same season, both opponents and proponents of the reservoir, upon learning the commission's recent confirmation of their previous objection, gained audiences with Governor Wilson to ask his support in their opposite causes.

Opposers Argue

While the governor was promising Col. Charles P. Gross on Monday he would send him his attitude later in writing, he was called on the phone by a group of local objectors who were granted an audience yesterday.

Yesterday's hearing saw the same trio and the same lawyer who led the discussion against the reservoir at the hearing here Feb. 14 repeat their arguments to the executive, who made no comment.

Colonel Gross had planned his visit with the governor two weeks ahead of time to follow the conservation commission's second objection.

Recommended Hearing

Although the attorney general's office, in answer to a question from Governor Wilson, told him the federal government could construct its flood control dam despite the commission's objection, both sides indicate the official opinion of the state should be voiced by its governor.

It was upon Governor Wilson's recommendation that the commission consented to a hearing. He prescribed it after he and Colonel Gross had held an earlier conversation Jan. 31.

Peter Kral of Oxford, secretary of an organization against the dam, who saw the governor yesterday with three others summed up his group's opinion by saying "It would cause removal of bridges and vacation of roads; have destructive effect on educational and religious facilities and on market facilities."

$100,000 Spent

Accompanying Kral were Joe C. Coufal of Swisher, Peter Stuck of Amana and Attorney J. M. Otto of Iowa City.

Monday Colonel Gross told the governor that engineers have spent $100,000 in preliminary borings and work at the site already and that a total of $300,000 remains out of which the dam site, part of the acreage in the proposed pool, buildings and equipment would be purchased.

Whether or not the governor's note to Colonel Gross will be announced openly was not disclosed. He did not specify the day on which he would hand over his opinion.

Old Question

The proposition of a proposed dam is an outgrowth of the flood control act approved by the 69th congress after the disastrous Mississippi flood of 1927. Its purpose was expressed as a means of controlling the flood of the lower Mississippi river through a reservoir system on its tributaries.

The passing of that act May 15, 1938, began the investigation which has led to the proposed construction of the reservoir designed to alleviate flood conditions on the Iowa river, part

Not Official! Safe Until April 1 For Late Licenses

According to an unofficial report received at the local police station yesterday, Safety Commissioner Karl Fischer has announced that no further arrests will be made for delinquent license plates until after April 1. This report had not been confirmed last night.

Blaul, Burlington, parking in fire zone, $1 and costs, and H. K. Henry, Cedar Rapids, street storage, $1.

35 Hearings Are Scheduled In Local Court

Calendar Contains Most Criminal Cases Judge Ever Assigned

The largest criminal assignment he has ever made was announced yesterday by Judge James P. Gaffney for the present term of district court.

Included in the 35 cases scheduled for hearing are some involving Johnson county taverns raided last July by state agents, county officials and highway patrolmen.

The following cases have been listed:

Paul Beecher, Clarence Dvorak, Charles Sedevce, George J. Chadick, Jesse Seydel, John Sullivan, George M. Royster Jr., A. W. Wetzel, Chester Kolsto, C. P. Gwinn, Ralph Schmidt and Martin Shebetka, all charged in county attorney's information with driving while intoxicated.

Charged by grand jury indictments with illegal possession of gambling devices are Lee Schneider, John Agnew, Ernest Smith, Rose Agnew, Charles Gillam and Kenneth Ingham. Fern Ingham, James Hradek, R. E. Rosenberger, Fred Schmidt and William Charles are charged in indictments with maintaining liquor nuisances.

Virgil Foley is accused of grand larceny; Warren O'Connor, Dean Lantz and Ray Kiebold are charged with larceny of a motor vehicle; Harold W. Stimmel is charged with larceny from a building in the daytime, Lloyd Tomlin is charged with abandoning a child, and George Bacullis is accused of illegal sale of liquor.

Case Continues Over Damages In $15,000 Suit

Testimony Is Heard On Charges of Loss From 1937 Accident

Testimony continued yesterday in the case which Bertha Strickler, administratrix for the estate of Elmus J. Strickler, has brought against the Keeshin Motor Express company, asking $15,000 damages.

Elmus Strickler was fatally injured in an automobile accident Feb. 4, 1937, when the car which he was driving collided with a truck near Wilton Junction.

The plaintiff charges that damages were caused to the estate of the deceased in the amount asked.

The defendant has filed a cross-petition asking $742.58 damages allegedly caused to the truck in the collision. The cross-petition charged Strickler with negligence in the operation of his auto.

The firm of Messer, Hamilton and Cahill is representing the plaintiff, while the defendant is represented by D. C. Nolan and Lambach, Koff and Berger of Davenport.

Raid--

in the first three hours of the pounding attack, which began about 8 p.m.—(1 p.m., C. S. T. Tuesday.)

"searchlight and anti-aircraft gun opposition was encountered," the mission said in its terse communique.

Reprisal Raid

The raid was Great Britain's answer to Germany's attack Saturday night on her naval base at Scapa Flow in which the British said only one battleship was slightly damaged.

(The Germans reported three of Britain's mightiest men-o-war were believed to have been damaged along with two other warships.)

To reach the German base at Hornum, on the Isle of Sylt, the armada flew across 350 miles of the North sea.

Whether this was the opening gun of an intense air offensive could only be conjectured, but there was an ominous tone in the warning of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in the house of commons yesterday afternoon that Germany must bear "responsibility for the consequences" of Saturday night's raid on Britain's Scapa Flow.

Previous Raids

Sylt has been raided by British planes on previous occasions, but never with such intensity.

The Danish account of the raids said the British planes flew to the attack in small relays, diving from overhanging clouds in the midst of tremendous anti-to any distinguished statesman from any point of the compass.

Furthermore, he went to bat for Farley and the cause of political tolerance. He described as perfectly grand a speech in which the postmaster general asserted that American ideals should allow every father and mother "regardless of race, color or creed," to view a new-born son as a "future president of the United States."

Farley's remarks were made here Saturday night at a banquet of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

At a press conference the day after the Lindley column's publication, Mr. Roosevelt had declined comment on it on the grounds he had not read it. The president said today that he had read the column subsequently.

Mr. Roosevelt's warm endorsement of Farley's speech and denial that he had said Farley's nomination would give rise to prejudices were a topic of pointed political discussions in the capitol tonight.

Farley has been reported for months to have been drifting out of his close relationship with the chief executive. The third term issue has been certified in part for any differences that may have arisen.

Politicians were wondering whether Mr. Roosevelt was attempting to Scotch talk of a breach between himself and Farley by the manner in which he spoke of his long-time political ally today.

While he was on the subject of the Lindley column, Mr. Roosevelt took the opportunity to discuss columns in general.

All kinds of them are published, he said, from so-called respectable ones which contain an average of 20 per cent error, to others which are wrong up to 80 per cent. He said Lindley and Mark Sullivan, for instance, were among the four or five relatively respectable columnists.

Requests for comment on the material of columnists, the president said, put them in the predicament of having to decide whether to discuss only the relatively respectable columns, all columns, or none of them.

He said if he once started trying to answer all questions about columns there would be no end to it and he simply could not do it. He said it would necessitate a daily press conference and there would be one continual row between himself and the columnists.
