Watch Out! There'll Be Those Who'll Remember Tomorrow's All-Fool's Day

By MARY E. HIGGINS... All of which goes to show that "putting one over on the other fellow" is by no means a new idea. April Fool's day in fact seems to be an almost universal custom throughout Christendom. Its origin is definitely unknown but it probably had its beginning in France about 1564 when New Year's Day was carried back to the first of January instead of being celebrated on March 25, as had been the case before. But the day has a character all its own, because it alone is consecrated to practical joking. Who can forget the brick under the hat on the side walk or the pocketbook fastened to a string? At times individuals have gone to great length to not only play a prank on one or a few persons but on a whole portion of society. For example an extensive hoax was perpetrated in England in March 1860. A large group of people received through the mail post cards with a seal marked by an inverted sixpence. The cards carried the following invitation: "Tower of London.—Admit the Bearer and Friend to view the annual Ceremony of Washing the White Lions, on Sunday April 1st 1860. Admitted only at the White Gate. It is particularly requested that no gratuities be given to Wardens or their Assistants." It is said that the trick was highly successful and that cabs were rattling about on Tower hill all that Sunday morning earnestly and vainly trying to find the "White gate." It is related in France that Francis, Duke of Lorraine, and his wife who were held captives at Nantes, effected their escape in consequence of the attempt being made on the 1st of April. Peasant Disguise Disguised as peasants, one bearing a hod on his shoulder and the other a basket of rubbish on her back, they went through the gates of the city at an early hour. A woman who knew who they were ran to the guard to warn the sentry of their identity. "April Fool!" cried the soldier. And then all the guard shouted, "April Fool!" Later the governor was told of the incident as a jest, but the governor was suspicious and ordered the fact to be proved. But it was too late, the duke and his wife were well on their way. April 1st saved them. So tomorrow when April comes in, watch your step—not everyone has forgotten that it is All-Fool's Day.

NAZIS PROMISE NEW SENSATIONS

Report Turkey Would Admit Allied Vessels

To Permit Passage Through Dardanelles To Cut Nazi Supply

BUCHAREST, March 30 (AP)—Turkey was represented in unusually well-informed Balkan diplomatic quarters tonight as having agreed to permit passage of British and French warships through the Dardanelles to choke off Germany's supply line from Russia in the Black Sea.

The newspaper Le Moment, regarded as close to the French embassy here, reported moreover, that Turkey had agreed to place her naval bases at Trebizond, Samsun and Sinope at the Allies' disposal for use as contraband control bases.

(Official circles in London professed no knowledge of the proposed agreement with Turkey. It was said, however, that if it is true, it will be a strong boost to the allied diplomatic offensive in the Balkans.)

Informants here reported the Turkish decision was reached at a British-French-Turkish military conference a few days ago at Aleppo, although such action is contrary to the Montreux convention of 1936 to which Turkey was a party.

This convention stipulated that the Dardanelles would be closed to warships of belligerent nations except when they were serving under League of Nations mandate or helping a victim of aggression under a mutual assistance pact concluded within the framework of the league, to which Turkey was a party.

A way for Turkey to get around this, however, was explained by Deputy Petko Stainoff of the foreign affairs committee of the Bulgarian chamber of deputies, who told the Sofia newspaper Slovo that Turkey would "let herself be forced to fail to prevent British warships from crossing the strategic Dardanelle Straits."

Iowa Fight Over Committeeman Takes Spotlight

DES MOINES, March 30 (AP)—A state fight over national committeemen took the spotlight away from the presidential campaign picture in many counties today as republicans met to pick delegates to the state convention here April 12.

Interest centered in attempts to select delegates either friendly or unfriendly to Harrison E. Spangler of Cedar Rapids, present national committeeman from Iowa.

Dam Project Up to Army

Iowa Governor Declares State Won't Hinder U. S. at Coralville

DES MOINES, March 30 (AP)—United States army engineers said the statement issued today by Governor George A. Wilson cleared the way for the construction of the proposed $6,000,000 Coralville dam and flood control project insofar as they are concerned.

In answer to a request for his personal view on the subject, Governor Wilson wrote Lieut. Col. Charles P. Gross, head of the army engineers, Rock Island, Ill., district, that: "It is not for me to make a determination as to the feasibility or practicability of a project not approved by the learned army engineers."

Wilson added, however, that the state does not intend to enjoin the construction of the dam across the Iowa river.

At Rock Island, Colonel Gross said "It seems evident from that statement (Governor Wilson's letter) that the United States may proceed with this project without embarrassment from the state of Iowa."

Hoboes Must Live, and Iowa City Offers Facilities Above the Ordinary—A Winter Era Ends For the Bums

By MORTY TONKEN Daily Iowan News Editor

Dante's "Inferno" depicted the rather torrid habitat of the damned. That story has intrigued people throughout the world for many years. Yet right here in Iowa City, in an environment a bit less torrid but still quite warm, exists an "Inferno" known throughout the 48 states as a haven.

There is nothing incompatible or contradictory in the two words as far as a certain stratum of American society is concerned. They are merely relative terms. It all depends on the interpretation one puts on the catacomb-like underground structures winding through a large portion of the city and campus and known as the steam tunnels.

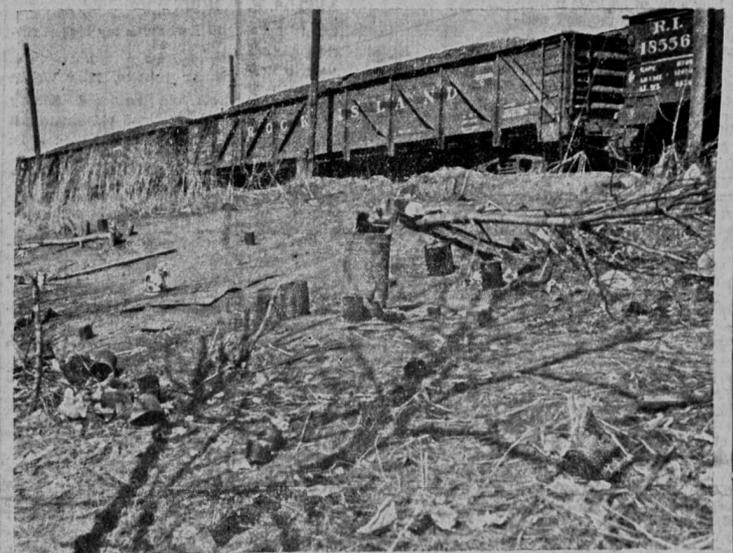

But this story does not concern the tunnels only, it deals with the unfortunates who through sheer necessity must inhabit these heated holes if they are to survive the severe cold of winters. There is no doubt whatsoever but that no human being would relish the experience of spending a night wedged in between two steam pipes were he not forced to do so.

Hoboes, tramps, transients, vagrants and hitchhikers who trudge the nation's highways or who ride the "rails" pass the word around where one may find shelter for a few nights in comparative safety. They know the facilities of each town and city in every state. And Iowa City is on the honor roll for it offers steam heated sanctuaries for the wayfarers.

Walking along the campus or the banks of the river one sees many cellar-like entrances. Some are built on the style of entrances to bomb proof shelters while others appear like the old fashioned entrances to back-yard cellars. Not so long ago every one of these openings led to the inside of the steam tunnels, but recently the majority have been blocked and only a few are now available to those seeking admission.

On the spacious lawn south of the Quadrangle lies the entrance to the most popular hobo abode. One does not need a calling card or an invitation to enter the por-

And with it comes that intriguing sign code which only a confirmed hobo can read and understand. . . .

DAVENPORT (AP)—The body of Harry Shunk, 51, former flour salesman who had been missing since Nov. 21, 1939, was found yesterday in the Mississippi.

Clues Baffle Investigators In Coed Slaying

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 30 (AP)—Criminologists investigating the baffling three-day-old sex-fiend murder of chubby Rachel Taylor, 17-year-old coed, admitted tonight their exhausting work had led them nowhere but up a blind alley.

Announcing that a suspect who had been questioned for two days had been "definitely eliminated" from the puzzling case, Commissioner Lynn G. Adams of the state motor police declared: "We are just as much in a fog as ever."

Flood Menace Hits California

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 (AP)—"A flood of major proportions is rapidly developing" in the Sacramento valley after a week of almost record rainfall, Federal Meteorologist E. H. Fletcher said tonight.

Termining the situation "critical," he named the Sacramento, Feather and American rivers as chief danger spots.

The new menace followed by a month a devastating flood that inundated many thousands of acres in northern California, forced 6,000 persons from their homes, and caused damage estimated by state officials at $15,000,000. Nine persons lost their lives.

In the Marysville area today about 10,000 acres of low farm and dairy land was flooded.

New 'Secrets' Will Follow 'White Book'

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Rep. Fish (R-NY) said tonight that he would demand a "complete investigation" of the German white book and would seek impeachment of Ambassador William C. Bullitt "if the facts warrant."

Court Revokes Appointment Of B. Russell

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—On the grounds that Bertrand Russell "has taught in his books immoral and salacious doctrines" whose practice would violate the penal laws of New York state, a state supreme court justice today revoked the appointment of the British earl-philosopher to a professorship at City college.

New York Justice Rules Englishman Not Fit for Chair

The appointment, declared Justice John E. McGeehan in a 4,000-word decision which he himself termed "dynamite," was "an insult to the people of the city of New York" and, in effect, an attempt by the city board of higher education to establish a "chair of indecency" at the parti-coeducation-institution of 8,600 students.

Thus was climaxed a bitter controversy touched off by Episcopal bishop William T. Manning shortly after Russell's appointment to an $8,000-a-year post in the department of philosophy, effective in February, 1941, announced several months ago. Pros and cons were flung into the debate by noted personages and, with the case as a springboard, the state legislature this week set up a committee to investigate New York City's education system.

But it was a Brooklyn housewife, Mrs. Jean Kay, mother of two children, who brought the action leading to today's verdict. She charged that the appointment was illegal on three grounds: that Russell was not a citizen, that it did not comply with the statute for selecting public employees on the basis of merit and fitness, and that it was against public policy because of Russell's teachings "and his immoral character."

(These reports were wholly denied by official Washington.) Nevertheless, German officials expressed themselves today as completely satisfied with the effects of their surprise move, and let everyone know that, compared to the vintage material that is in the offing, yesterday's white book was "cheap wine."

Open Door To Be Revived

NANKING, March 30 (AP)—Wang Ching-Wei and his Japanese sponsors made a bid for international recognition of his regime inaugurated here today by declaring respect for the rights and interests of "friendly" nations and an intention to re-open China's "open door" to the peaceful economic activities of powers who "conform to the new situation in east Asia."

New Nanking Regime Seeks Recognition By Foreign Policy

He declared his Nanking regime to be the only legal government of China and warned foreign powers against interfering with China's internal affairs by continuing active support of Chiang Kai-Shek's Chungking government, which Wang termed "a regional refugee regime."

(Secretary of State Cordell Hull in Washington today said that the United States continues to recognize the Chinese Nationalist government at Chungking rather than the Japanese sponsored regime set up at Nanking. The United States, he said, had ample reason for believing the Chungking government "had and still has the allegiance and support of the majority of the Chinese people.")

Hawarden Captures Class B Debate Honors

Among the Winners—

E. Sioux City, Waukee at Top

Announcements of results yesterday climaxed the third day of the Iowa high school forensic league finals of which Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department said, "I have never seen such keen competition or ratings which were so high numerically."

Outstanding team of the whole tourney came from Hawarden high school, entered in the class B division. Both affirmative and negative teams won first and all four debaters placed in the upper 25 per cent of class B speakers regardless of schools. Hawarden won top honors in last year's competition also. Members of this team, coached by Edmund T. Anderson, are Charles McManaman, Jack Hodaway, Lorraine Peck and Elaine Armstrong. Velma Martin of Laurens also placed in the upper 25 per cent of Class B speakers.

In Class A debate East high school of Sioux City pinched through on a percentage basis to gain first honors. Thomas Jefferson high school of Council Bluffs and Central high of Sioux City, who tied for second, had the same number of wins and losses. Each school won nine (See DEBATE, Page 5) which took first in the class C division, ranked first in individual ratings. Boutelle and Pfaltzgraf were second and third.

Congratulations are in order as happy contestants of the Iowa high school forensic league finals get together. Shown above are

Superior Players

Superior play casts in classes A, B and C of the Iowa High School Play production festival of the past week were named by festival judges yesterday.

This week, beginning tomorrow, junior college and community players will compete at University theater.

For results of the past week's competition, and the line-up for this week, see the lead story on page 5 of this morning's Daily Iowan.

Matters Of Relativity

THERE IS ONE question which has been asked from the beginning of time and likely will be asked till the end of time. The question is: "Which is the greater or which is more important, the individual or the group?"

Now pause a moment in order to feel the full impact of the magnitude, the all-inclusiveness of this question. Pity those who think they have its answer on the tips of their tongues!

According to a recent Reader's Digest article the United States owes its greatness partly to its countless varieties of individuals within its borders and then the conglomeration of the entire mass. Where does this fact leave the question? It is about as enigmatic or paradoxical as ever.

Now try to apply this question to the university. Is each student an entirely separate unit who is here for the sole purpose of getting what he can out of the university? Or is each student aware of his relationship to the rest of the student body in that he almost involuntarily gives something to his fellow-students?

Which type of student are you? The serious-minded student might reply, "I intend to repay the university and thus the state of Iowa by serving humanity in general after I graduate. I certainly don't owe the university more than this, do I?"

By now you are ready to come out with that invariable "So what?" The answer is "not much." Meaning, these students will always continue to be busy-bodies in behalf of the others and those students will continue to go through school believing their world revolves around themselves.

AND speaking of the weather, have you noticed that water again flows freely in the Iowa river, that students again loll in the sunshine on the steps of Old Capitol, that sports shirts and light dresses are again in style?

Yes, spring is here, and apparently to stay. Overcoats, mittens and ear muffs can now be relegated to the moth balls. Frostbite lotion, cough medicine and auto-freeze is destined for the drain. So good worshippers of the goddess Nature, throw off those wraps and those remedies; open your windows and let the fresh air in, for a change.

Don't be afraid to wear slack suits, or shirts without ties. Warm weather is here to stay. Pull yourself away from bridge and afternoon tea parties and sun yourself on the river bank. Many students have already taken advantage of the splendid weather, have returned to golf and other outdoor sports.

After the months of snow and ice, and sub-freezing temperatures it is a boon to existence to be able to really live once more in the world man didn't make. The shelter of buildings and the comfort of steam heat and easy chairs is wonderful, but can't compare with the beauty and invigorating qualities of Nature.

A Kid's Special

MUMPS IS the funniest disease. You swell up in the face till your face looks like a balloon. People think you're getting fat; others think you're trying to chew two jawbreakers at the same time. Anyway, Iowa is experiencing a heavy outbreak of the above mentioned disagreeables. A total of 122 new cases in 18 counties were reported last week, double the total of the previous week. There are 65 cases alone in Des Moines county.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Daily Iowan: From personal observation, I believe there is much truth in the article which I am enclosing. I believe, too, that a frank recognition of such vital problems might mean a definite step toward their solution. I believe firmly that adequate student guidance could have prevented the suicides of S. U. I. students which have occurred this year.

I do not pose as a radical or a reformer. I do believe, however, that the personal influence of the instructor, is the determining factor in the success or failure of many students. I am a post-doctoral student who selected this school as offering the greatest opportunity for broadening one's intellectual horizon—and to a degree these opportunities have been at least partially realized. On the other hand, I am appalled by the drifting goal-less personalities in the graduate school.

I shall be glad to present my views to any professor who may be interested enough to inquire. R. S. Professors—Awake! How long will the impersonal attitude of college instructors throughout our land block the worthy aspirations of their students?

Professors of S. U. I., how long, oh how long will you continue to be satisfied with your self-centered plan of living? Are you unaware that all around you, in each of the classes you conduct, personalities are being dwarfed—yes, literally shriveled to nothingness by your smug indifference to individual hopes and ambitions? Why, professors, do you continue to deliver lecture after lecture without a knowledge of the needs of the individual students who daily sit before you in patient silence? Will their fires of ambition which glowed so brightly in September be reduced to lifeless ashes e'er the close of the semester?

Have you ever seriously considered your obligation to the individual student? Have you ever seriously considered the possible value of individual conferences in which you might assist the student to clarify his thinking and set up goals of achievement in harmony with his potential abilities? Or, is each of your students nothing more than a sort of outwardly acquiescent animal who occupies a certain chair in a certain place in your classroom—whom you recognize only in vocal response to your utterance of the name recorded on the class card?

But many of you professors will resent this implication and say: "Such conditions can not possibly exist here at Iowa university—the finest institution in the mid-west." Be not deceived by such a flattering thought—but rather be convinced by a careful survey of your own daily activities. Ask yourself these simple, yet fundamental questions: "Am I continually and seriously interested in guiding EACH of my students in his quest for selfhood? Am I more interested in guiding living personalities than I am in publicizing through lectures and print my own pet theories—or the results of some of my scientific investigations?" If your answer is in the negative, then why, for the sake of intellectual integrity do you not continue professorship and thus make opportunity for the selection of professors who CAN and WILL give WISE and INSPIRING GUIDANCE to these drifting personalities?

Is the democratic way of life not based upon the recognition of the worth of the INDIVIDUAL? May not, at least, a limited number of these drifting personalities possess the potentialities for future national leadership? Professors, accept the challenge! Make this institution MORE than a hopelessly-deadening diploma mill. Make this university an institution where knowledge and wisdom reinforce each other! Make it a wholesome dynamic community of learners—a true school of life for living personalities. Awake, professors, awake!

(Editor's note: Miss R. S. is obviously hard on professors in her denunciation and she falls in the broadness of her generalities. Is there support or denial of her accusations?)

KNOWING YOUR U. FACULTY

Prof. Luella Wright? She's Swell!

Miss Luella M. Wright? "She's swell," according to her freshman and sophomore English students, and she has continued to be "swell" on the Iowa campus for almost 20 years.

Prof. Wright joined the staff of the English department in 1920, having received her M.A. the year before at Columbia university and a B.A. at Iowa State Teachers college. For three years between 1923 and 1926 she was absent from the university finishing work on her doctor's degree at Columbia and traveling in England. One experience that she had during her stay in England that is one of the "I'll never forget" variety is told by Miss Wright—

"Someone had given me a ticket to a lecture, when I got there it turned out to be a lecture sponsored by the Society for the Prevention of Anti-Vivisection and the speaker was George Bernard Shaw. Well the place was crowded by medical students and as soon as he began to speak he was heckled by a great chorus of 'What's the matter with George?' Anyway the meeting did not last very long."

Miss Wright has for the last few years been very interested in the Society of Friends and has already compiled and written two books on the subject, "Literary Life of the Early Friends" and "Literature and Education in Early Quakerism"; she has another book soon to be published, the biography of an Iowa pioneer that combines culture and agriculture.

Miss Wright says that she has always been interested in both the Society of Friends and teaching school, since her family tradition has always been connected with them. At present most of Miss Wright's time is taken up with her students in freshman and sophomore English; she also teaches a new course now in its first year, "The History of the Friends Development of Iowa Culture." Miss Wright is very popular with the football players in her classes; she admits "that Henry Luebke is my biggest satellite." As for hobbies, Miss Wright collects old fashioned Sunday school books and old ornate gift books that years ago used to be given to "the lady."

LUELLA M. WRIGHT

With the growth of pictures came the growth of exploitation of them. At first, simple throw-aways, such as are used for small-store bargain sales, were enough for the infant industry. Today sixteen-car railroad trains filled with correspondents sending news and pictures are considered necessary to make the public realize another picture is coming to town which people ought to see. In addition, every medium for supplying information finds it necessary to devote some time or space to telling the public about the moving pictures for which it has such an insatiable appetite.

TUNING IN

with D. Mac Showers

ROBERT TAYLOR and Barbara Stanwyck, one of Hollywood's happiest married couples, will prove they're "Allergic To Love" when they appear in that original drama on the "Screen Guild Theater" this evening at 7:30 over CBS.

Written especially for the film favorites by Jack Townly and Warren E. Wilson, the production will be directed by Roger Pryor, host on the Screen Guild Theater series, the only radio show backed by Hollywood stars, directors and writers.

THE GAY COMEDY takes place on a ship en route to Rio. Taylor and Miss Stanwyck, as the principals, have just been married and are on their honeymoon. Their "best" friend tags along on the trip trying his best to break up the marriage before it gets started.

BUCK BENNY will ride up Broadway when the Wakegan cowboy moves his entire gang from Hollywood to New York for the premiere of his new picture and for two broadcasts, Sunday, April 21 and 23.

THE PICTURE, "Buck Benny Rides Again," will be shown to the world for the first time at the Paramount theater on Times square April 24.

JACK "WOODENHEAD" Benny, claiming there are no strings on him, will forget his dramatic ambitions long enough to portray the title role in his version of Walt Disney's latest cartoon creation, "Pinocchio," during his broadcast tonight over the NBC-Red network at 6 o'clock.

PHIL HARRIS begrudgingly agrees that there are no strings on Jack, but adds that there will always be ropes on him until he either gives up smoking or switches to a pipe.

"Wishing On A Star," hit tune from the Disney production, will be Dennis Day's vocal offering and Phil Harris' orchestra will play a medley of other "Pinocchio" tunes.

MRS. GEORGE WHITEMAN, sponsor of the Whiteman tennis trophy and one-time amateur tennis champion, will be interviewed as "Woman of the Week" on the Phil Spitalny "Hour of Charm" program over the NBC-Red network tonight at 9 o'clock.

A REVIVAL of the once national rage, "The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round," will be offered in a special arrangement by Andre Kostelanetz and his "Tune-Up Time" orchestra over CBS stations tomorrow night at 7 o'clock.

THE CONDUCTOR will provide a direct contrast with a vocal adaption of Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" titled "Bells of Eventide" which will be done by the Kostelanetz chorus.

OTHER numbers are "You Do Something to Me," "So High the Moon," "I'll Take an Option on You" and "The Sky Fell Down." Tony Martin is featured vocal soloist.

TOMMY TUCKER and his "Man That Comes Around" orchestra will be tonight's featured guest on the Fitch Bandwagon over the NBC-Red network at 6:30. SHEP FIELDS and his orchestra play on the MBS "Show of the Week" at 5:30.

A Business Of Glamour

Publicity Men Now Feed Public Slush In Painless Doses

By GEORGE TUCKER

Aboard the Forty Niner—On a junket like this you have a lot of time to reflect on the nature of movie publicity and its growth in recent years, and also time to talk to some of the old-timers—if anyone can be called an old timer in a young industry.

They recall the days of the Nickelodeon and the Penny Arcade, when movies consisted of knives and forks moving on tables with out any visible reason and when movies consisted of The Great Train Robbery. In those days, no publicity was necessary, for there was only a curiosity-seeking public for pictures. People went to the movies then the way people go to LaGuardia Airport—but in much fewer numbers.

Adolph Zukor was one of the first men in the world to realize famous books and plays with famous actors and actresses would make pictures which made money. Some of his friends told him he was crazy and refused him their capital. Some of them thought he had something and are millionaires today. "Queen Elizabeth," with Sarah Bernhardt, was the first Famous Players venture, and it created attention.

With the growth of pictures came the growth of exploitation of them. At first, simple throw-aways, such as are used for small-store bargain sales, were enough for the infant industry. Today sixteen-car railroad trains filled with correspondents sending news and pictures are considered necessary to make the public realize another picture is coming to town which people ought to see. In addition, every medium for supplying information finds it necessary to devote some time or space to telling the public about the moving pictures for which it has such an insatiable appetite.

The public has not only developed a tremendous appetite for fiction in celluloid, but it has created its own heroes and heroines from among the actors and actresses who appear in the pictures. Just as in past centuries European peoples had their kings and queens, dukes and duchesses, today the American public—and a large part of the world public—has its Garbos and its Gables. They place them on pedestals, and sometimes they take off their heads. A star who feels herself slipping is as worried as a queen who hears the roll of the tumbrils.

But she has one advantage over the queen—she always can hire a better publicity man. Publicity men work day and night to make the public feel that they know everything about their favorites. No popular moving picture actor or actress can go to the hospital for an appendectomy without making the front page of every metropolitan newspaper, and most of the newspapers in smaller cities. People collect the autographs of stars the way they used to collect the autographs of signers of the Declaration of Independence.

This great interest in moving pictures and the people who appear in them is no accidental growth, and the publicity men who have contributed to it have had a comparatively easy time, for they have a product the public wants and people the public wants to know all about. Often, of course, stunts are stimulated to make people more interested than they would be ordinarily in a mediocre package of personality. But, on the whole, motion picture stars have to complain that they live in goldfish bowls, rather than nunneries. They cannot afford privacy, and the public always will take to a new glamour, if the old is not maintained.

Michigan Wins Swim Title; Yale Second

Iowa's Armbruster Honored by Coaches For Long Service

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 30 (AP)—Michigan's powerful 400-yard relay team broke the listed world record for the distance tonight in winding up a successful defense of its national collegiate swimming championship. The time of 3:31 was more than a second better than the former mark, made by the New York A. C. last year.

The Wolverines, composed of Ed Hutchens, John Gillis, Charley Barker and Gus Sharnett splashed their way to a two-foot tri-

Armbruster Honored
NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 30 (AP)—The College Swimming Coaches association of America today voted a plaque to David Armbruster, University of Iowa coach, in recognition of the quarter of century he has devoted to tutoring swimming.

Peter J. Morrissey of Lehigh was elected president of the association and Charles R. McCaffrey of Iowa State was named a vice president.

umph over Yale, which was the runner-up for team honors. The relay victory gave Michigan 45 points, three more than the Blue. Ohio State was third with 39, followed by Wayne, with 25 and Princeton with 20.

Going into the anchor leg of the all-important relay, Sharnett, who earlier won the 100-yard sprint title, and Howard Johnson, Yale's 220-yard free style champion, left the starting line together. But the Michigan ace's stroke was too powerful in this battle of sophomores, and the 18-year-old mid-westerner touched out two feet in the van.

The close of the two-day competition provided a startling upset in the three-meter fancy dive in which Al Patnik of Ohio State, seeking his sixth straight N.C.A.A. title, was beaten out by slightly more than a point by Earl Clark, his teammate.

Seven new champions were crowned. Guy Lumsden of Wayne, 50-yard free style; Gus Sharnett, 100-yard free style; Johnson, 200-yard free style; Andy Clarke, Wayne, 440-yard free style; John Higgins, Ohio State, 200-yard breast stroke; Clark, three-meter dive and the Michigan 300-yard medley relay team.

Prior to the final event, the Swimming Coaches association of America selected Patnik as the outstanding college performer of the year.

May Overhaul Grid Statistics
DES MOINES, March 30 (AP)—An attempt to standardize tabulation of football statistics will be made here April 25 when members of the National Football Rules committee will go into a huddle with representatives of the American College Publicity association.

George Veenker of Iowa State and Harry Stuedreher of Wisconsin, members of a committee seeking standardization of statistics, will meet with the association, E. C. Lytton, Drake university business manager, said today. Fielding Yost of Michigan, another member of the committee, also may attend.

The publicity association will hold its national convention here April 24 to 27. Among publicity directors on the program are Joe Petritz of Notre Dame, Walter Paulson of Northwestern, Robert C. Woodworth of Purdue, Eric C. Wilson of Iowa, Ted Carpenter of Marquette, George L. Schiebler of New York university, Philip C. Pack of Michigan, Homer Dunham of Western State Teachers, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Robert D. Mullin of Tulsa university.

Aggies Win Sooner Team Takes Mat Title
CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 30 (AP)—Oklahoma A. and M., coming from behind in a brilliant rally, won the N. C. A. A. wrestling championship tonight for the fourth consecutive year.

The Aggies, wrestling champions now for the 12th time, retained the title more by their show of all-around strength than in their performance in the finals.

Only two members of the championship squad survived semi-final play and both of them won their final bouts. Capt. Vernon Logan, 155-pounder, won the crown in his division with an overtime decision over Harland Danner of Michigan. Alfred Whitehurst, the other Aggie finalist, won the 136-pound title with a decision over Joe Roman of Indiana, strongest contender for the mat diadem.

Davenport Blue Devils Win Valley Indoor Track Crown

By ED BAIRD
More than 100 athletes competed yesterday afternoon in one of the closest indoor Mississippi Valley conference track meets on record.

Davenport high, carrying a well balanced squad, smashed around and about the fieldhouse track for first honors with a total of 34 7-10 points. In taking the conference championship, the boys from the river town broke their own 440-yard relay record by three tenths of a second, running the distance over a soggy track in 45.9. The old record stood at 46.2. Franck, Mueller, Baker and Garrett formed the record cracking team.

Probably the outstanding performance of the afternoon came through the fine running of Bill Garrett, of the Davenport school. Bill won the 50-yard dash, the 60-yard low hurdles and anchored the 440-yard relay team to victory; he also placed third in the broad jump.

In the high jump nine men tied for the first spot at five feet, three inches, providing the unusual for the day.

McKinley of Cedar Rapids, too, showed a well balanced squad accounting for second place in the meet with 31 13-30 points just ahead of Clinton who took hold of 29 3-10 of the total points.

Summary:
880-yard run, section 1: Won by Al-lender (Clinton); Weber (W. Waterloo), second; Benish (Franklin, C. R.), third; Van Cleve (Davenport), fourth. Time: 2:12.8.

By OSCAR HARGRAVE

It's an athletic education to watch an Iowa intra-squad baseball game, especially if you stay near enough Coach Otto Vogel to hear what he has to say.

Vogel, much as any successful coach, is a hound for the details and he can smell out the smallest faults. And, he doesn't believe in waiting until after a game or two has been lost thereby to drag the troubles into the open.

It would be pretty near impossible to find a better place for the wholesale uncovering of baseball misdoings than a practice game—sponsored by Coach Vogel for that very purpose. He stops the game, right in the middle of a play perhaps, to check up on a couple of details.

Yesterday, in one instance, while Vogel's regulars were downing the Yannigans, the Iowa coach stopped the game after one of his first stringers had been fooled. The player had run to second and slid in safely, but the second baseman slapped his glove and yelled, "You're out." The first stringer nearly believed him and started off the base, but caught himself.

The incident might have passed unnoticed except for Vogel, who immediately wanted to know, "What did you leave the base for?" The answer finally forthcoming, he gave orders to listen to the umpire, not to opposing players—just one of the little things that might mean a ball game some day.

There are, very definitely, indications that Harold Haub and Jimmy George, co-captains of this year's team, will be pretty much what is required of leaders. Haub, although not bearing down very hard yesterday, looked ready to go. He has the arm, the poise and the endurance of last year, combined with an extra year of experience. George clouted four hits in that many times at bat, which is a pretty fair indication of George's ability. Even when he doesn't hit safely, George rarely strikes out, he fields like an old timer and can hit the plate with a throw from deep center.

The Iowa second-base combination of Erwin Prasse and Andy Kantor again looks like one of the best in college ball. Kantor, although an occasional miscuser, has one of the best throwing arms on the team and gets anything that falls within running distance. Prasse is probably the steadiest player around, with a habit of hitting when a hit counts.

Triangle Downs Delta Upsilon In Badminton
Badminton, handball, and ping-pong held the intramural sports spotlight yesterday afternoon as the volleyball teams were given a rest.

Triangle triumphed over Delta Upsilon I in the first of the badminton games, 2-0.

Phi Kappa Psi II downed Sigma Phi Epsilon I by the same score of 2-0.

Phi Delta Theta I went down to defeat at the hands of Sigma Chi I, 0-3.

Phi Gamma Delta I shut out Beta Theta Pi in the final badminton match of the afternoon, 2-0.

Phi Epsilon Kappa eked out a 2-1 victory over Sigma Chi in a handball match.

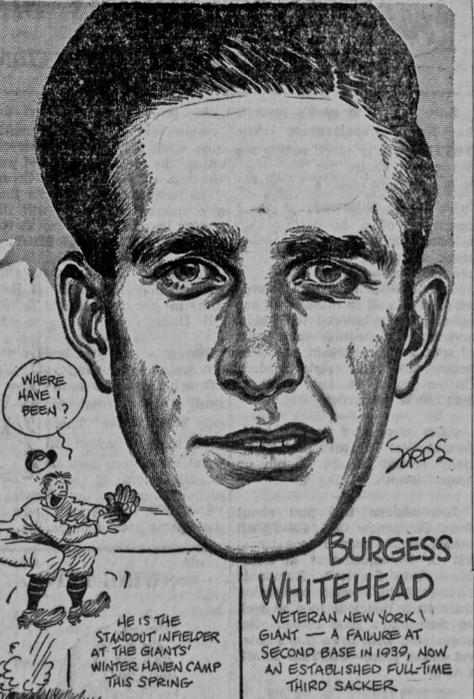

Sigma Alpha Epsilon defeated Phi Delta Theta, 2-0, in the only ping-pong game of the afternoon.

Iowa Fielder Has Perfect Day at Bat In Practice Game

Iowa's regulars whipped the Yannigans yesterday in the home opener, an intra-squad diamond battle, by a 6-3 final score. The game, first taste of competition for the Hawks since their southern trip, went 10 innings. Coach Otto Vogel getting in all the work possible.

The regulars, with Co-Captain Jimmy George setting the pace, bombarded ratty Dick Hein for the winning runs. Besides Hein, Bob Stastny toiled on the mound for the Yannigans, with sophomore Ted Gordinier and Co-Captain Harold Haub doing mound duties for the regulars.

George, leading Big Ten hitter last season, had a perfect day at bat with four hits in four trips to the plate. The hard-clouting center-fielder blasted out a pair of triples, a two-base hit and a single.

Floyd Smith, first-baseman for the Yannigans, belted out a homer in the sixth with one on for two of the losers' three runs. The hit, a long drive over center field, came off the offerings of Haub.

The Hawkeyes face Bradley Tech of Peoria, Ill., Wednesday in the home opener, then face Luther college in a week end series Friday and Saturday.

Teams Advance to Semi-Finals In Catholic Cage Tournament
Senators Whip Bees, 6 to 2
Ft. Wayne, Ind. Still on Hand To Defend Title

Senators Whip Bees, 6 to 2
BRADENTON, Fla., March 30 (AP)—An excellent six-inning pitching stint by Joe Sullivan went for naught today when the Washington Senators fell on the offerings of Dick Erickson and Bill Weir to slant out a 6-2 verdict over the Boston Bees.

Sullivan limited the Senators to four scattered hits and held them scoreless in his tour of duty. Meanwhile the best effort of his mates was a single tally, on four hits in the fourth.

Washington scored three on Erickson in the seventh when Pofahl walked, Early singled and Weir tripled and scored on Wasdell's single. Weir was effective in the eighth but gave up three more tallies on two triples and a double in the ninth.

Ft. Wayne, Ind. Still on Hand To Defend Title
CHICAGO, March 30 (AP)—The battle for the national Catholic prep basketball championship narrowed down today to four teams, including the smooth-functioning Central Catholic team from Ft. Wayne, Ind., 1939 titleholders.

Ft. Wayne conquered St. Philip, Chicago, in the quarter-finals, 33 to 31.

Leo of Chicago kept alive the home town hopes for a champion by eliminating Cretin of St. Paul, 35 to 26, thereby qualifying to meet Ft. Wayne in one of tonight's two semi-final games.

The St. Francis mission Indians from South Dakota pulled another game out of the fire, squeezing by St. Simon Stock, New York City, 27 to 26. The winning points came in the final seven seconds when Jack Little sunk two free throws.

St. Michael of Santa Fe, N. M., earned the right to meet the Indians with a 37 to 23 victory over Aquinas high of La Crosse, Wis. The halftime score was tied at 16-all, but in the last two periods St. Michael connected for 21 points while holding its rival to a meager seven points.

Giants Tounce Dodgers, 5 to 2
AMERICUS, Ga., March 30 (AP)—After 20 scoreless innings in three games New York Giants pitching allowed an opposition tally today but nevertheless downed the Brooklyn Dodgers 5 to 2.

King Carl Hubbell kept four hits scattered in his six inning chore and the only runs against him were unearned. Bill Lohman blanked the foe in the last three frames.

In the meantime the Giants hopped on Luke Hamlin for a dozen safeties.

Paychek Fight Leaves Puzzle

Jacobs Worries Over Bomber's Next Victim; Three Choices at Hand

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Out of the pathetic picture that was Johnny Paychek—the man who admittedly "died" walking the last mile from his dressing room—came the conviction today that Joe Louis' brain trust now must look backward for future action for the first time since he became heavyweight champion.

The traffic definitely will no longer bear any such punching-bag exhibitions as was put on last night in Madison Square Garden, with the cash customers going for large prices to see opposition (who said that?) furnished by an untried campaigner, scared so badly his knees and teeth rattled like the maracas of a Congo band.

No one realizes this more clearly than promoter Mike Jacobs, whose ear is always glued to the ground on the likes and dislikes of the cash customers. As a result, you can write it down in your little black book right now—one of three proven possibilities who will try, anyway, will be in there when the Bomber returns to the wars again, probably in late June or July. This trio consists of Two-Ton Tony Galento, the guy who's afraid of nothing except a shortage of beer; Arturo Godoy, who made Louis look pretty terrible for 15 rounds last month, and Bob Pastor, who made a fight out of it in his second round last September.

"Uncle Mike" Jacobs paid Louis $19,908 for last night's flop-eroo, gave Paychek $9,954 and handed $5,197 to the Finnish relief fund. Then he shouted that he would rather have lost $15,000 on a "real" fight than to take his somewhat disappointing profit from any such "hot dog fight."

Guldahl Takes Lead ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Ralph Guldahl, happier over his golf game than he's been in months, shot into the lead yesterday at the halfway mark of the $5,000 "land of the sky" open tournament. The two-time U. The current edition of the St. Mary's high school basketball team, the first representative of the Rambler school to win a first round game in the National Catholic tournament, will be feasted at a banquet tomorrow night at 6:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

John O'Donnell, sports editor of the Davenport Democrat, will be the principal speaker. Bruce Mahan, head of the extension division of the University of Iowa, will be the toastmaster of the program.

High School Cage Finals Broke Record
DES MOINES, March 30 (AP)—The gross receipts for the state high school basketball tournaments were $66,375.53 with the total attendance placed at 221,252.

The 64 sectional meets drew 112,453 fans who paid $33,735.89 and the 16 district tournaments attracted 51,111 spectators with a total gate of $15,333.11.

Official attendance for the state final at Iowa City was announced as 57,688. The gross receipts were $17,306.33. Both were new records.

Receipts by districts were—Marion City, $2,166.50; Muscatine, $1,692.60; Ames, $1,572.50; New Hampton, $1,555.25; Spirit Lake, $1,388.60; Fairfield, $944.11; Atlantic, $770.60; Orange City, $714.70; Luverne, $707.35; Mapleton, $710.30; Clarence, $640; McGregor, $612.35; Nevada, $560.10; Diagonal, $465.55; Humeston, $452.20 and Ute, $389.70.

Waterloo topped the sectional tournaments with $1,233.40.

Columbus Wins Over Phillies
HOLLYWOOD, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Pushing over a run in the last of the ninth to break a 2-2 tie, Columbus of the American association beat the Phillies, 3 to 2, here today.

An error by Herman Schulte, rookie infielder from Newark playing his first game for the Phils, put Reppas on first with none out in the ninth. Triplett sacrifice, then Tichacek doubled to end the game.

The Phils scored twice in the second on Merrill May's single, Ben Warren's triple and George Scharen's infield out. Columbus tied it in the fifth on a walk, Cooper's three-bagger and Lowery's fly.

Indians Pound Atlanta Hurlers
ATLANTA, Ga., March 30 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians slammed three Atlanta pitchers for 12 hits, including homers by Roy Weatherly and Hal Trosky, and beat the Southern association club, 8 to 2, today.

Al Milnar and Bill Zuber limited the Crackers to eight hits, Milnar giving up five of the blows in his five-inning turn.

Ray Mack, Ken Keltner and Jeff Heath blasted doubles in the Tribe's best display of hitting power on the exhibition circuit.

Bob Feller is scheduled to face Atlanta tomorrow, marking his third appearance of the spring in exhibition games.

Hawkeye Highlights

Madison Square Garden in New York City (18,000), Butler field house in Indianapolis (16,000), Minnesota's field house at Minneapolis (15,700) are the only structures which ever held larger crowds than Iowa's 13,500 at the high school basketball tournament. . . . the former record for the Iowa field house, 13,200, was set at the Purdue game of 1934.

Indiana has picked the Iowa football game at Bloomington Oct. 19 as its homecoming contest. . . . those Hawkeyes will be a big attraction since the fans will recall the sensational 1939 season. . . . and the startling 32-29 game between Hawkeyes and Hoosiers at Iowa City last fall.

Hawkeyes will play five conference football games next fall, but in 1941 and 1942 take on six league opponents, evenly divided between home and road games.

In baseball since Otto Vogel became Iowa coach in 1925, the Hawkeyes have compiled an edge on Northwestern, Chicago, Indiana, and Minnesota. . . . an even break with Ohio State and Wisconsin.

Arnicos Down Iowa Quintet
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 30 (AP)—The Arnicos of Galveston, Tex., deposed women national basketball champions, salvaged what little glory was left them tonight by defeating the Des Moines A. I. B.'s, 16 to 11, for third place in the 12th annual women's N. A. U. tournament.

Capt. Ruth Dean of the Arnicos paced her team to victory with three field goals and a free throw.

The Iowa sextet failed to score during the entire third period.

Chisox Batter Bruins, 14-5
PHOENIX, Ariz., March 30 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox battered two Chicago Cub pitchers for 19 hits today and won a 14 to 5 victory in another of their "city series" exhibition games.

The Cubs took a 4-1 lead in the first three innings, but the Sox rallied with two runs in the fourth and five in the fifth to walk away with the decision.

Browns' Seconds Lose to Tulsa
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 30 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns' regulars eked out a 6 to 5 victory over Toledo in a morning game today, but the American leaguers' "B" squad suffered a 7 to 0 shut-out at the hands of Tulsa in an American contest.

The Oilers piled on Jackie Kramer for four runs in the first inning and had the game under control from the very start.

Against Toledo, Emil Bildilli hurt a finger and had to leave the game after three innings although he was slated to go the full distance. Roxie Lawson relieved him and issued 11 bases on balls before he was removed for Loy Hanning in the ninth inning when Toledo threatened to tie the score.

Pee Wee Reese Has His Troubles
AMERICUS, Ga., March 30 (AP)—Hard luck seems to be trailing Pee Wee Reese, the Brooklyn Dodger No. 1 replacement for Manager Leo Durocher.

On March 10 he split his right hand in a game with Detroit. That kept him out of the lineup for two

Community Groups, Junior Colleges Open Competition Tomorrow

Thirteen superior ratings and 18 excellent ratings, awarded to high school players in the annual Iowa play production festival held here for the past six days, were announced at the conclusion of the three sessions on yesterday's final programs.

Sixty-two Iowa high schools participated in the production, competing for honors in class A, B, and C divisions. Following each session, critical analyses of the plays of the session were offered by the judges.

Results of the class C competition, which began last Monday, were given at the conclusion of yesterday morning's productions.

Superior Class C
Superior ratings for class C division were awarded to LeGrand, Vinton School for the Blind, Glidden, South English, Wadena, Traver, and Oelwein (Sacred Heart).

Class C excellent rating winners were Danville, Oxford, Guttenberg, Wellman, Letts, Earlville, Mt. Vernon, and Grand Junction.

Individual players rated for outstanding performance in the class C sessions were Doris Heist and Joe Hamilton of Glidden; Walter Slate of South English; Mary Leonhart of Wadena; Myrna Johnson and Betty Peterson of LeGrand; Milo Mochal Jr. and Ramona Caslavka of Traer, and John Reed of Oelwein, (Sacred Heart).

Superior Class B
Three class B Iowa high schools, awarded superior ratings, were announced at yesterday afternoon's program. Winning schools were Nevada, Jesup, and Waverly.

University high school here was awarded an excellent rating for its production of "Road Into the Sun" in the class B competition. Patty Bates of the local high school was selected for outstanding individual performance.

Other excellent rating winners in the class B division were Marjorie LaPorte City, Manchester, Sumner, and Pella. Recognition for individual performances in class B in addition to Miss Bates were Edwin Neumann of Waverly, Norma Biddick of Marion, Betty Swinbank of Jesup, Mary Langland and Glover Ambrose of Nevada.

With eight schools competing in the class A division, judges awarded three superior and three excellent ratings. Prof. Lee Norville, director of the speech department at University of Indiana, judged and announced the winners of the class A division following last night's final performances.

Superior Class A
Superior winners announced in the top division were Keokuk, Waterloo, (East High) and Cedar Rapids, (Franklin). Excellent rating winners were Clinton, Burlington, and Davenport.

Six students in class A competition selected by Prof. Norville for distinctive individual work in acting, were Margaret Blaine of Cedar Rapids, (Franklin) Arthur Below of Clinton, Meredith Smith and Byron Gosden of Waterloo, (East High) and Muriel Nelson and Calvin Kentfield of Keokuk.

Home Hygiene Series Will Be Presented Starting Wednesday

A series of lectures on home hygiene, to be held in the old age assistance room at the Johnson county courthouse, will begin Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., it was announced yesterday.

The course which is being sponsored by the junior chamber of commerce in conjunction with the Johnson county chapter of the American Red Cross, will be directed by Mrs. Robert Schell, a registered nurse.

A certificate will be awarded all those who complete the six weeks course and an examination given at its termination.

Arthur Boss, Bert Tingle and Lee Kann are members of the home hygiene division for the child welfare committee of the junior chamber of commerce.

The schools to present plays tomorrow night are Muscatine, "Shooting Star," Waukon, "The Wonder Hat," Webster City, "The Valiant," and Bloomfield, "The Castle of Mr. Simpson."

Prof. Everett M. Shreck of Iowa State college at Ames will judge the junior college productions. Announcement of awards will be made at the conclusion of the last session Tuesday evening.

On Tuesday afternoon and evening seven more junior colleges will present plays.

An informal luncheon for junior college players is scheduled for Tuesday noon at Iowa Union. Tours of station WSUI and radio dramatic productions have been planned for 5 p. m. on Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the benefit of participants in the Iowa play festival.

5-Year-Old Girl, Giant Kite Win Prize

Cornelia Anderson, Larry Shaw, Jimmy Boorman Are Contest Winners

It was perfect kite-flying weather as 30 Iowa City boys and girls tramped up the hill to the university practice field yesterday morning carrying their colorful entries in the Recreational Center's annual kite tournament.

There was the little blonde girl of about five struggling with a large red kite much bigger than herself. This same big red kite later won for Cornelia Anderson the award for the best flyer in the single plane kites. A star-shaped, brightly colored entry soared unsteadily into the air, winning for its owner, Larry Shaw, first awards as the best decorated kite in the tournament as well as the title of the best flyer in the novelty class.

Jimmy Boorman
But the star of the meet was chubby Jimmy Boorman and his large white box kite. Arriving early, Jimmy let out his 200 yards of string and left his perfectly balanced entry suspended while judges Gene Trowbridge, Jack Dysart and W. L. Jackson were awarding him prizes for having the best flyer and the best-constructed kite in the compound class, the largest kite in the tournament, and for winning the 100-yard dash.

In this last event, all the entrants launched their kites at the starting signal and the first to let out and rewind 100 yards of string was declared the winner. Don Miller and Hugh Anderson took second and third in this event.

One-Inch Kite
A one-inch kite constructed of match sticks and tissue paper and using thin thread as string gave Leland Novotny the award for flying the smallest kite in the tournament. Leland won last year with a kite twice as large but in next year's competition he's afraid he'll have to fly a knot on the end of a string. One high-flying miniature was built of micro-film.
Other ribbon award winners were Don Teffy for the highest flying kite, Don Miller, whose bird kite was the most novel, Paul Voigt and Harold Kouyke for the best constructed kites in the single plane and novelty division.

Postgraduate Course Held Here Concluded Yesterday Noon

The postgraduate course attended by physicians from 13 states at University hospital last week closed yesterday noon. From here, most of the delegates will go to Cleveland, Ohio, where the convention of the American College of Physicians will be held this week.

The postgraduate course program was closed yesterday by speakers from the pharmacology and internal medicine departments. Dr. James A. Greene of internal medicine spoke at 9 a. m. on "The Heart in Thyrotoxicosis." He was followed by Dr. Erwin G. Gross of the pharmacology department, who discussed "The Pharmacological Action of the More Important Drugs Employed in the Treatment of Cardiac Failure." Dr. Fred M. Smith, head of the internal medicine department, spoke last on the "Treatment of Cardiac Failure."

Highlights of Week
One of the highlights of the week was the dinner given Friday evening at the Jefferson hotel at which William J. Petersen of the history department spoke on the general history of the Mississippi river.

Delegates had attended the week course from California, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, and Pennsylvania.

The heads of two departments of the college of medicine will speak this week at the Cleveland convention. Dr. Smith of internal medicine will discuss various aspects of heart disease, and Dr. Harry P. Smith of the pathology department will participate in a round table discussion of hemorrhagic disease Thursday.

Pep Queen Will Reign At Dance

Carnival Atmosphere To Prevail at Party In Union Main Lounge

Herbie Kay and his orchestra, the "dance favorites of the nation," will furnish music for dancing at the annual Pep Jamboree sponsored by Pi Epsilon Pi April 12 from 9 to 12 p. m. in the main lounge of Iowa Union. The carnival spirit will prevail at this all-university party, and the Pep Queen will be presented with her attendants.

The sparkling dance rhythm of Herbie Kay's orchestra originated at Northwestern university and is popular with dancers and music lovers throughout the nation. He has played engagements at the Trianon, the Blackhawk restaurant, the Edgewater Beach hotel and the Aragon in Chicago as well as in hotels in Texas, California and Catalina island.

Dick Mestayer, A1 of New Orleans, La., is chairman of the committee in charge of this party to which university women will wear short dresses. Others on the committee include Nyle Jones, A2 of Iowa City; Don Newland, A1 of Belle Plaine; Ed Glazer, E3 of Sioux City; Walt Wright, A2 of Des Moines; Adele Ronan, A3 of Albany, N. Y.; Jean Ne-Smith, A4 of Kellogg; Jean Braunlich, A2 of Davenport; Libbie Grossman, A1 of Council Bluffs and Barbar Prichard, A2 of Onawa.

Art Salon Deadline

Student Entries Are Due Wednesday At Union Main Desk

Entries in the seventh annual exhibition of the Student Salon of Art, sponsored by the Union Board, should be delivered to the main desk of Iowa Union Wednesday, Ralph E. Evans, G of Decatur, Ill., chairman, has announced.

The formal showing will be in the main lounge of Iowa Union next Sunday, when popularity awards will be determined by balloting conducted by visitors. Prof. Arnold Small of the music department will play during the tea.

Resident undergraduate and graduate students in all colleges and departments of the university are eligible to submit entries. Works done outside of university classes, excepting those done under private tutorage or in other schools, will be eligible for entry in any of the following media: oil, water colors or pastel, monochrome and sculpture.

Oil paintings must be framed and other flat work must be matted and may be framed. Not more than three works may be submitted by any student in any one medium, but he may enter in each medium.

On the back of each work, printed or typed, must appear the following: the title of the work, the name and local address of the contributor and his classification in the university. Judges for the quality awards based on standards of excellence and not ranked competitively, are Prof. L. D. Longman, head of the art department; Harry E. Stinson, associate in the art department, and Francis McCray, instructor in the department.

Evans is assisted by two Union Board members of the art committee, Cornelia Shrauger, J4 of Atlantic, and Helen Kading, N4 of Casey.

Half the United States supply of feldspar is said to be mined in North Carolina.

Our Home Town

BELOING
By Charles Beckman

Why should you belong to the Chamber of Commerce or the Rotary Club or the Kiwanis Club or the Junior Chamber or the Women's Club or any other civic organization?
Well, you live here. And the purpose of every one of the existing clubs is to make this a still better community in which to live. Rotary, Kiwanis and other service organizations offer not only social features but the immense satisfaction of doing good for your fellow-man, because all of them are up to their ears in work for social betterment. Membership in any club has also distinct educational advantages, not merely because of the fine speakers who come from all over the country to address their memberships, but also because of what each member learns from talking with fellow-members.

Any organization to which you may belong is seeking to make this city better and the life of its inhabitants finer and fuller and, once you get into the swing of it, you are certain to take a wholesome pride and to feel a vast satisfaction in what you individually and collectively can accomplish for your neighbor and yourself.

Steam Heat for Winter's Hoboes

Local 'Jungle'
Now Showing
Signs of Life

to make the hobo bed a little softer and lined up against the wall in an orderly fashion is Bacchus' gift to the eternal traveler, rum. For 23 cents a good sized bottle of this stomach twister can be had which would satisfy, for a time, the rummiest rummy. The facilities for drinking are very good. By merely sitting against the wall, pulling the cork from one of the numerous bottles and applying the same to pursed lips, a continuous stream of bay rum can be forced down the hardened throat which is guaranteed to buoy up the spirits of the most pessimistic floater. (And no other group of humanity is as pessimistic as the inhabitants of hell holes like this.) Once the bottle is given the coup de grace, one has only to get off the floor, walk a few paces and drink a chaser in the form of ice-cold running water.

An so to bed. Shoes, (relative term in this case) coats and even pants are placed under the head for pillows and before long the noise of the steaming boilers and running water is accentuated by the addition of rummy snores. The day is done. Forgotten are the hardships gone through, the need of body nourishment, the lack of warm clothing. Tomorrow is another day.

Privacy
The "hobo parlor" is used for sleeping purposes by those who do not care for privacy. The more timid creep through an 18-inch aperture, remove their clothing and snuggle close to a tremendous insulated steam pipe. But these men are not professionals, they are like Clyde Caper, who is still hopeful and still wants a bit of privacy.

Clyde
This tall, fifty-five-year-old man with gray hair, hollow cheeks with an unhealthy pink tint and unnaturally bright brown eyes which go hand in hand with tuberculosis, has not as yet reached the disillusioned stage of a tramp. He is still looking for work, but it is hard to find it for a man his age whose eyes have gone bad on him. Three years ago poison ivy affected his eyes and ever since he has traveled the country looking for work. No family, no shelter, no clothes, no food, no nothing. He lives from day to night so that he may forget the world's harshness in protecting slumber.

Sanctuary
This is not the only sanctuary.

..... and so to bed. Shoes (relative term in this case) coats and even pants are placed under the head for pillows, and before long the noise of the steaming boilers and running water is accentuated by the addition of rummy snores. The day is done. Forgotten are the hardships gone through, the need of body nourishment, the lack of warm clothing. Tomorrow is another day.....

here for men like Clyde. The police station is always good for at least one night. And there have been cases where sick men were kept for as long as three days. In one instance the policeman chipped in and fed one unfortunate for three days. When he became well they bought a bus ticket and shipped him to his folks in Des Moines. He had folks.

And while spring, as the poets say, turns a young man's fancy to one thing or another, the eternal traveler looks forward to something else. In the warmth of spring and summer he can sleep in freight cars, cattle stalls and in "jungle" camps on river banks. This is the time when the "jungle" law comes into play. And with it comes that intriguing sign code which only a confirmed hobo can read and understand. If one was to travel in the company of a "full-time" hobo riding the rails he would be shown the various signs put up at convenient places by the brotherhood. Placed so that they might be seen from the moving freight trains, the signs would tell whether or not the town was O.K. for a handout, whether the police were friendly, whether there is a jungle, where it is and its facilities. And only a hobo can read and understand the code. Here one sees a real organization functioning in a most efficient manner.

Then the "jungle" laws. They are unwritten but they are specifically understood and abided by. Any hobo may come into a "jungle" camp and partake of the Mulligan stew. But there is a condition attached to this friendly code, he must bring something which will contribute to the meal. The hobo knows this and usually is able to panhandle something from a kindly housewife. A professional will not work, it would be below his dignity and against the code of the "order."

And so the world moves on and with it the hobo.

Law Review Certificates To Be Presented At Supreme Court Day Banquet This Thursday

The huge banquet which will be held in the main lounge of Iowa Union next Thursday evening will complete the activities which are held yearly by the college of law to celebrate the 14th Supreme Court day.

A varied program will be presented at that time which has been under the general chairmanship of Scott Jordan, L3 of Fairfield, and Ralph Austin, L3 of Clarion.

One of the highlights of the program will be the presentation of Law Review certificates by Justice Ralph A. Oliver. Twelve students have issued the Iowa Law Review this year under the editorship of James McCarthy, L3 of Keokuk. Wilbert H. Kehe, L3 of Denver, and Richard S. Gibbs, L3 of Iowa City, have been notes editor and comments editor, respectively.

Nine men have acted on the Board of Editors in connection with the Iowa Law Review. They are Ralph Austin, L3 of Clarion, William C. Creasey, L3 of Kingsley, Matthew J. Heartney Jr., L3 of Des Moines, Paul F. Kriethe Jr., L3 of Burt, Robert F. Mark, L3 of Muscatine, Glenn C. Metcalf, L3 of Merville, C. Davison Metz, L3 of Burlington, Bruce Townsend, L3 of Garwin and Raymond Vogel, L3 of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

The Iowa Law Review is a quarterly publication of the law students which is not only extremely important to the students by presenting helpful material but is sent throughout the state and is filed by most lawyers in the state.

In a small office on the main floor of the college of law, the Iowa Law Review is composed. Often featuring articles by professors of law in the college, the Law Review has taken up such subjects as are of interest to the profession.

The Law Review on the Iowa campus was one of the first to be so organized. In recent years, numerous other colleges of law throughout the country have begun their individual publications. Staff members of the Iowa Law Review attended a meeting last year in which numerous law colleges around the middle west sent representatives.

Presentation of prizes to second year contestants will be made by

Judge P. J. Siegers. The men to receive these honors are Richard W. Beebe, L2 of Ottumwa; Paul F. Brown, L2 of Bloomfield; Robert C. Fisk, L2 of Curlew; Robert S. Fousek, L2 of Iowa City; Darold Jack, L2 of Cedar Rapids; Gad James, L2 of Iowa City; Corwin Johnson, L2 of Centerville; Allen L. Keck, Maquoketa; James McGrath, L2 of Eagle Grove; W. Howard Mann, L2 of Iowa City;

John P. Mansfield, L2 of Ogden; Neil D. Naiden, L2 of Marshalltown; Elwood H. Olsen, L2 of Beresford, S. D.; Robert Reaney, L2 of Columbus Junction; Raymond F. Skalowsky, L2 of Norfolk, Neb.; and Richard K. Smith, L2 of Clarion.

In addition, presentation of plaques to the Supreme Court day contestants will be made by Chief Justice W. H. Hamilton.
