British Bomb Nazi Warship at Wilhelmshaven

Hit Destroyers In Air Raid On Sea Base

Allies Move To Close Economic Strangle-hold, Weld Own Relations

LONDON, April 5 (AP)—British warplanes were disclosed tonight to have carried the air war to the gun-studded Nazi sea base of Wilhelmshaven, spattering four destroyers and another warship with bombs.

The news gave edge to less spectacular but vastly more important moves by Great Britain and France to close their economic strangle-hold on Germany and to weld their own economic, political and cultural relations.

Penetrate Enemy Defenses
"During yesterday afternoon a formation of British aircraft of the bomber command penetrated the enemy defenses in the Jade Estuary and successfully reconnoitered the naval base of Wilhelmshaven," said the air ministry. "An enemy warship was observed near Wilhelmshaven and attacked with bombs. Further south, four enemy destroyers were also attacked and damage was believed to have been done. No damage or casualties were suffered by the British aircraft, all of which returned safely to their base."

Center on Economic Warfare
In the war of strangulation, Georges Monnet, French minister of blockade, flew to London and plunged immediately into a prolonged conference with Britain's economic warfare minister, Ronald Cross.

These men, who direct the allied drive to throttle German economy and drain the lifeblood from the Nazi war machine, turned attention to the Balkans, main source and storehouse of German supplies. British envoys to southeastern capitals, meantime, are hurrying home to contribute first-hand information toward the campaign to choke Germany's trade through her backdoor.

The British press echoed suggestions that Britain and France form a joint parliament to consolidate their cooperation both during and after the war.

Shambaugh Shows Slight Improvement

"A shade of improvement" was noted yesterday in the condition of Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh, head of the political science department, it was reported last night.

Professor Shambaugh is still in a very critical condition, however, authorities reported. He has been in University hospital since Sunday when he was stricken with cerebral thrombosis at his home.

Professor Shambaugh, who has been head of the Iowa political science department since its organization in 1897, has been in a coma since Sunday but yesterday seemed to recognize members of his family at his bedside, attendants reported.

Attending physicians said of him, "An almost perfect physique for a man of his age prolongs the fight, but as yet gives little assurance of ultimate recovery."

State Board of Education Accepts $28,270 in Grants to University

$1,020,000 Received From 1934 to 1940

Gilmore Expresses University's Sympathy At Death of Prof. House

Grants to the university totaling more than $28,000 dollars were accepted and recorded by the Iowa state board of education at a regular meeting of the body in Old Capitol yesterday, the office of the president announced last night.

President Gilmore, who ends his term as president of the university July 1, called the attention of the board to the total of $1,020,000 in cash gifts and securities which have been received since Jan. 1, 1934, when he became president.

The following grants were accepted by the board yesterday:
Research in Physiology
$24,000 from the Rockefeller foundation for continued support of research in general physiology under the direction of Prof. J. H. Bodine, head of the zoology department.

Approximately $3,000 as the first payment of a bequest under the terms of the will of Edward C. Pritchett to become available in the academic year 1941-42 for scholarships in the college of law or the college of liberal arts.
$1,000 from Parke, Davis & Company of Detroit, Mich., to the college of medicine for research in pathology.
$150 from the Carnegie Foundation.

Flood Crest Drops In Susquehanna Valley

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 5 (AP)—A second flood crest spread out harmlessly tonight down the widening valley of the Susquehanna.
After abrupt rises, rain and snow fed headwaters in highlands of upper Pennsylvania and lower New York began dropping steadily.

Prof. Martin Will Conduct House Funeral

Services for Spanish Professor Will Be Held This Afternoon

Funeral services for Prof. Ralph E. House, who died Thursday at 4:10 p.m. at University hospital following a heart attack, will be conducted by Prof. Herbert Martin, head of the philosophy department, this afternoon at the House residence, 619 Brown.

A member of the Romance Languages department faculty and teacher of Spanish, Professor House is survived by Mrs. House and a daughter, Ruth, who is a senior in the college of liberal arts.

Professor House came to Iowa from the University of Minnesota as a full professor in 1921, after serving previously at the Yankton college at Yankton, S. D., and at the Universities of Utah and Chicago.

He was president of the Iowa Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa last year and belonged to several language associations and to the American Association of University Professors.

An author as well as an educator, he published a book, edited others and contributed to language publications. Since 1928 he had been editor of the university publication "Studies in Spanish Language and Literature."

The body, which will be cremated, will be at Beckman's until noon today.

Productions Today To End Annual Two-Weeks Iowa Play Festival

F. D. R. Doubts Whether $985,000,000 For Relief Fund Will Be Sufficient

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—A report circulated at the capitol today that President Roosevelt was doubtful whether the $985,000,000 asked for relief next year would be enough, wanted congress to give WPA wide latitude in its expenditure.

The law now requires that annual relief expenditures be allocated over a 12-months period. Mr. Roosevelt was said to have suggested that WPA be authorized to spend the $985,000,000, if necessary, during the first eight months of the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

This plan would give WPA leeway in meeting whatever unemployment situation arose, but would require a supplemental appropriation from the new congress, meeting next January, if the initial appropriation was nearing exhaustion.

The appropriation for the current year is $1,477,000,000. Rep. Woodrum (D-Va), chairman of the house subcommittee which handles relief appropriations, said after a White House conference that it had not been determined whether the chief executive would express his views to congress formally in a message or letter.

Robert Frost To Deliver Last University Lecture Tonight

Pulitzer-Prize Poet Speaks in Macbride Auditorium at 8 P. M.

America's leading living poet and a favorite visiting speaker on the Iowa campus, Robert Frost, will deliver the final university lecture on the 1939-40 series tonight at 8 o'clock in Macbride auditorium.

Frost is probably the most beloved of all living poets. He has been three times winner of the Pulitzer prize for poetry.

Though he was born in San Francisco, he is now considered a New England poet. He moved from the west coast to Massachusetts with his family when he was but 10 years of age. He attended Dartmouth and Harvard universities.

Frost's first 20 years of literary works received little attention, but in 1912 "A Boy's Will" was published and from that time on his reputation was assured.

The poet was awarded Pulitzer prizes in 1924, 1930 and 1937. Included in his best-known volumes of poetry are "A Boy's Will," "North of Boston," "Mountain Interval" and "West Running Brook."

No formal topic for tonight's lecture has been announced. Tickets were distributed to students and faculty from Iowa Union desk beginning Thursday and any left today are available to the general public.

Italy Boosts Defense Force

ROME, April 5 (AP)—Italian defense preparations received a further boost tonight with publication of regulations for complete or partial military and civilian mobilization of the entire nation.

A new law adopted by the council of ministers last Tuesday placed the mobilization in charge of the reorganized supreme defense commission headed by Premier Mussolini and including members of the cabinet and the heads of all branches of the armed forces.

Six Plays To Be Presented In Final Day

Superior Casts Will Be Announced Late This Afternoon, Evening

Three class C original community plays to be presented in University theater this afternoon and three class A community plays to be presented tonight will bring to a close the two-week 14th annual Iowa play production festival on the Iowa campus.

The entire first week of the festival was taken up with high school productions, 64 individual schools taking part. Monday and Tuesday of this week were devoted to junior college plays and various Iowa community groups have presented plays in the festival since Thursday afternoon.

Class B Ends
Two days of class B community group plays, productions by those communities which do not produce plays regularly under one director, were completed last night. Results in this class will be announced following the afternoon session today. These results were to have been announced last night following the evening session, but the change was made in order to permit a forum discussion of the plays among players and directors.

Class B and C results will be announced at the close of this afternoon's session; Class A ratings will be announced tonight following the class A plays. Class C plays are community productions of original scripts and class A community groups are those which produce plays regularly under one director.

Plays Today
Original plays to be given this afternoon are "Country Dances" by Josephine Bacon, Mask and Candle players of Des Moines; "Contact For Contract" by Jane Vincent, Council Bluffs studio players, and "A Cup of Sugar" by Walter Stone, Iowa City Woman's club. Another original play by the Des Moines Mask and Candle players was withdrawn last night.

Class A plays to be given tonight are "Smokescreen" by Robert Kasper, the Footlight club of Vinton; "The Mad Hatters" by John McMurray, Masquers of Friendly House of Davenport, and "The Wolf at the Door" by Daniel E. Hanlon, Players Workshop of Burlington.

Plays presented in the Iowa play production festival are not on a competitive basis and are rated as superior and excellent. (See PLAYS, Page 5)

French Seize Nazi Officer In Sharp Raid

PARIS, April 5 (AP)—The German officer commanding a sharp raid against a French outpost was captured today, the French high command reported, as the defenders threw back the assault.

Details of the fight were not made available, but it was reported to have resulted from an attack by reinforced German patrols on French outposts between the Nied and Saar rivers.

These lively clashes between scouting parties deploying in no-man's-land continued into the second successive day while at many points German and French artillery sent shells screaming overhead against opposing positions.

Roosevelt, Hull Consider Vote 'Victory'

Vice-President Garner Had Striven To Limit Measure to One-Year

By JOHN W. HENDERSON
WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—The senate, by a vote of 42 to 37, passed a three-year extension of the trade agreements program today, thereby giving President Roosevelt a major victory over Vice President Garner, who had striven to limit the bill to one year.

The senate's action sent the key administration legislation to the White House, the house having previously approved an identical measure. Besides being a triumph for the president in what had been heralded as perhaps this congressional session's biggest test, the results also elated Secretary of State Hull, because the program of reducing tariffs and other trade barriers in return for concessions from other nations is the cornerstone of his foreign policy.

Effect of Measure
Some considered that the result might enhance his chance for the democratic presidential nomination, although others thought that the sharp divisions of opinion within the democratic party on the trade issue might have the opposite effect.

Hull said: "The passage through congress of the act continuing the trade-agreements program in force for the next three years will afford profound satisfaction to all those who have been observing and appraising the operation of the program from the standpoint of our best national interest."

Garner-Roosevelt Skirmish
The Garner-Roosevelt skirmish, resulting in a 46-to-34 administration victory, came on an amendment offered by Senator Walsh (D-Mass) to limit extension of the program to only one year.

Fourteen democrats and twenty republicans voted for the proposal, while forty-three democrats were joined by Senator Donaher (R-Conn), Lundeen (FL-Minn) and Norris (Ind-Neb) in opposing it. Garner, only democratic presidential aspirant avowedly opposed to a third term for President Roosevelt, was actively engaged in behind-the-scenes efforts on behalf of the limitation. The chief executive, on the other hand, opposed it.

3 Graf Spee Men Escape

BUENOS AIRES, April 5 (AP)—The escape of three interned officers of the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee was disclosed tonight and one of them was reported unofficially to have already reached Germany with documents of the scuttled man-o-war.

Make Census Taker Happy—At 4 Cents a Name

Sixteen of the 18 Buses

When Census Taker Lawrence E. Goekel finished counting the Buses of Blue Island, Ill., a Chicago suburb, he was 72 cents richer, at the rate of four cents a name. In the Buss home he found 18 Buses at home and two away. Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Buss and the following children:

Dren: Donald, 24; Vera, 20; George, 19; Robert, 17; Roger, 14; Ralph, 12; Richard, 10; Joan, nine; Dorothy, eight; Nilly, six; Gene, five; Jimmy, three; June, two; and Jack, one. Grandmother Buss and a son, Daniel, Jr., 23, were not at home when Goekel called to make his count.

Father Pleads for His Daughter in Murder Case

LOS ANGELES, April 5 (AP)—An autopsy surgeon's finding that Mrs. Lolita Davis, a woman "who believed in the power of demons," bled to death from slashed wrists cast doubt today on 11-year-old Chloe's fantastic account of how her mother, two young sisters and baby brother died violently.

Chloe, described by a police matron as having "the face of an angel" and by a psychiatrist as "the cruelest-blooded, coolest individual I ever met," had said she beat her 36-year-old mother to death with a claw hammer. She told police in matter-of-fact voice her mother had asked her to do it after having killed the two little girls and beaten the boy into unconsciousness. Chloe said she not only obeyed but also carried out her mother's suggestion to finish killing the boy.

Late today blue-eyed Chloe startled police officials and a psychiatrist with this volunteered statement:

"Oh, yes, there is something I forgot to tell you yesterday—while mother was begging me to hit her with the hammer she asked me for a razor blade. I got one and gave it to her and watched her slash her wrists."

She had not been shown the autopsy report at the time.
Dr. Frank R. Webb said he found arteries in the mother's arms had been severed and she died from loss of blood. He declared he found no evidence of a skull fracture.

The husband and father, F. Barton Davis, insistently maintained his belief in the innocence of his only surviving daughter.
"Chloe couldn't have done anything like that," the 51-year-old grocery store manager cried repeatedly. "If she did, her mother made her do it."

"There are so many things about my wife that people don't understand. She believed she had the power of demons.

"I took her to two doctors and then to a psychiatrist. The psychiatrist told me there was nothing wrong with her that couldn't be cured. He said there was something inside of her that needed treatment."

Davis declared an attorney friend of the family told him today that Mrs. Davis asked him three weeks ago how to purchase enough chloroform to kill people. "She asked him too where was the best place to hit people on the head if you wanted to kill them," the father added.

"They can't blame this on Chloe just because she can't remember everything. She loved her mother. She was an obedient child. If she did anything she did it because her mother told her to."

Working For A Career

EVERY YEAR the old wall about the importance of extra-curricular activities on college campuses is revived. Apparently, people interested in the controversy are divided into two camps: one that considers outside-of-the-class functions and organizations as a natural and beneficial supplement to the standard lecture and assignment type of education.

The mere fact that hardly a university in the country is without its organizations tends to prove the worth of student activities outside the lecture halls. But, when facts and figures of undoubted accuracy have time and again shown that the organization trained students succeed where the bookworms fail, following graduation, the argument for extra-curricular activities is too strong to entertain any serious opposition.

The fact to bear in mind is that those students who, upon making application for positions, are able to show a good record of achievements in college organizations stand better chances of obtaining employment than the ones who can boast only of an A-B scholastic average and no group accomplishments whatever.

Notable examples of this on the Iowa campus are found in the various publications departments, Post editors, business managers, reporters and the like on such publications as Frivol humor magazine, Hawkeye annual and The Daily Iowan have, in a number of cases, high positions on professional publications.

The reason why the students of today who are active in organizations are the successful business men of tomorrow is that their extra college activities have trained them for the tasks of life far better than they would have been trained had they given their exclusive attention to their books.

Bruce Gould and his wife, Beatrice Blackmer Gould, who were among the early editors and contributors to Frivol and the Daily Iowan, are now the editors of the Ladies Home Journal, the magazine having the highest circulation in the country. Among other leaders in publishing and related fields, who cut their journalistic teeth on Iowa student publications are George Gallup, head of the American Institute of Public Opinion and Conger Reynolds, public relations head for Standard Oil.

The Texans Will Star Again!

ADD TO THE STRANGE stories from Europe's battlefields this pulp-paper plot which appeared in Collier's.

Seven leather-palmed oil men from Texas, experts in the use of nitroglycerin, may hold the key to the entire Balkan situation and the question of whether there will be war in southeastern Europe this Spring and Summer, according to Frank Gervasi, staff correspondent of the magazine.

and America and perhaps a few others that may be lying about the moment Hitler's armies storm into Rumania. This act of what might be called defensive sabotage is to deprive Germany of the 6,200,000 metric tons of oil a year that the Rumanian wells produce.

"After the boys from San Antonio and Dallas are through with the wells, Hitler's driller will have to work from six to 18 months getting them back into shape again. The Germans may not be able to spare the time."

The Texans, Gervasi says, need only 48 hours to put the Rumanian wells out of commission. The prognosticators say that's enough to turn tide against Germany in the Balkans, depriving her of these oil supplies.

Whether the plan works or not, it makes good reading—and that's more than can be said about most plots.

Well, Blast My Buttons! He's A Dandy!

COLLEGE students today don't have anything on the people living in years before 1897. According to a volume entitled "Dictionary of Slang, Jargon and Cant" resting on a shelf in general library, it is discovered that many of the present slang phrases which we claim to be "collegiate" were originated years ago. And some of those have us bested by miles! Let's take a glance at the book.

"Dutch treat," we find meant almost the same thing then as it does now — "a dinner or drinking where every man pays for himself." Of course, college women would disagree, for they insist that a dutch treat should be shared by them, too.

America would have continual "earthquakes" for this word means "intoxicating liquors of any kind."

An "American" phrase, "Injun Here!", carries the following explanation: The words were used when a man asserted that he has remained true to his principles. This was evolved from the following incident: "It is said that an Indian when lost in the woods and unable to find his wickie or wigwam, struck an attitude and exclaimed, 'Injun here! Wickee lost—Injun here!'"

A New Protective Doctrine for Workers: Taxing Machinery To Cause Industry To Use Manpower

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Columnist

SENATOR JOSEPH C. O'MAHONEY'S plan to tax machinery embodies the protective principle in a new form. Senator O'Mahoney is chairman of a committee which has been looking for such flaws in our national system as may have been responsible for America's economic troubles in the past decade.

worked all right. We know how our industries developed. Finally a point was reached at which some few statesmen began complaining that we were overdoing the thing. The Republicans were the original protective party, but even several of its leaders evolved the reciprocity notion, approximately as State Secretary Hull has been applying it. James G. Blaine, for instance, was a reciprocity man. He said that when an "infant industry" threatened to get up and kick congress' head off if it stopped "rocking the cradle," he didn't think it was much of an "infant" any longer.

Nevertheless, tariff protection was pretty popular. Of course the manufacturers liked it, because its effect was to hold foreign competition down to a minimum. Labor liked it, too, on the ground that it enabled American industries to pay higher wages. And this was true also. To be sure, the exclusion of foreign goods made American living costs high likewise, which detracted somewhat from the beauty of high wages.

Now, the remedy? Why, tax machinery so heavily that manufacturers will prefer to use as little of it as possible. Then they'll fall back on man-power. Isn't that protective? Against machinery?

Assume, then, that tariff protection is a good thing for a craftsman with a steady job. It does him no good, however, if he's jobless. Fat envelopes don't in the least benefit a chap who isn't getting one.

Chaplin May Manage Reds But Tucker Doubts Comedian Will Give Up Screen Career

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—I doubt that Charles Chaplin will give up making pictures to manage the Cincinnati Reds, but he may; then again he may not. As predicted in this space, Easter fell on Sunday this year. Lin Yutang, Confucius and Walter Winchell have formed a syndicate to exhibit the Yellow race's cultural achievements at the World's Fair.

What ever happened to Babe Ruth? He isn't in the Yankee lineup anymore. Don't be surprised if Mahatma Gandhi, who speaks Hindu fluently, abandons India to accept the post of vice president for a large American diaper firm.

Whether Artie Shaw, when his divorce becomes final, will remarry Lana Turner, who is now his wife, is anybody's guess. But they're very much in love. Postmaster Farley never parts his hair in the center.

Let's see how the new protective doctrine will work. It is a good thing for a craftsman with a steady job. It does him no good, however, if he's jobless. Fat envelopes don't in the least benefit a chap who isn't getting one.

And, somehow, it appears that a protective tariff is no protection against unemployment. Our huge army of workless workers testifies to all this.

What Senator O'Mahoney has been figuring on is: "What does the worker need to guarantee him a regular job?"

Man-Power Versus Machinery The senator's conclusion is that machinery is the competitor to be legislated against. It's cheaper than man-power, and quite considerably it supplants the latter.

Stastny, who lasted less than an inning against Bradley Tech on Wednesday, turned in a performance yesterday that was superb, to say the least. The Hawkeye slow-baller snapped the hands-off on the invading hitters and the shackles didn't loosen in the least until Stastny made way for

TODAY'S GAME
Today's game, the second and last in the Iowa-Luther series, will begin at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Probable pitching choices for the two teams are Dick Hein for Iowa and Lee "Senator" Shipstead for Luther.

Ted Gordinier after six innings. Until the sixth, in which the Norsemen managed their first hit of the game, only two men reached first base and none got farther than that. Stastny walked Gisvold, Luther outfielder in the first as his only miscue in the first five frames, the other visitor, Skale, getting on base when Rudy Radics dropped a throw from Frank Kocur.

In the sixth, Stastny's last inning, the Norsemen managed two hits, one a grounder by Hougard that Kocur couldn't get to first in time, and the other a one base smash into right field. The Iowa hurler went to work then to retire the side, making his stay in the game a scoreless one.

Hawkeye Score
The Hawkeyes, in the meantime, had pounded Lloyd Radtke, who hurled all nine frames for the visitors, for five of their nine run total and had the game well in hand.

Andy Kantor counted first for Iowa in a first inning that netted three runs. The Iowa shortstop drew a base on balls after Knight had grounded out. Erwin Prasse advanced Kantor to third on a two-base drive into left field. With the situation looking troublesome Radtke walked Jim George to fill the bases, whereupon Bill Welp, Hawkeye catcher, drove Kantor and Prasse in with a double. Bob Cook went out when McKinney caught his high foul, but George came in on a pitch to Frank Kocur, who ended the inning by striking out.

The Hawks counted again in the fourth when Rudy Radics started the inning off with a single, advanced on Stastny's sacrifice fly to right field and came home on a hit by Kantor. A sixth inning score came after Radics walked, went to second on Floyd Smith's infield out and scored when Kantor pounded out another single.

Radics Hits Homer
In the seventh the Hawkeyes put four hits, including Radics' home run with two on base, together for their remaining four runs and the final tally of nine. Radics' circuit clout was a drive into right center, with the Iowa first-baseman coming in safely

A Bingle for the Invaders

It looks like a base hit here as a Luther hitter smacks the ball in the late innings of the game yesterday. The ball may be seen at the right. The Hawkeyes won by a score of 9-3, with Bob Stastny checking the invaders effectively during the first six innings before he relinquished the mound in favor of Ted Gordinier. While Stastny hurled the Norsemen were able to get but two safe hits and one walk, while failing to score. Against —Daily Iowan Photo, Engraving Gordinier they managed six hits in the final three innings for three scores. The two teams meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the final game of the two-game series on the Iowa diamond.

Augusta's Pin Cutters Give Jitters to Masters' Tournament

Frosh Name Swim Captain Povalitis Elected By First Year Men; Set Record Recently

Al Povalitis of Waterbury, Conn., yesterday was elected captain of this year's University of Iowa freshman swimming team. Povalitis, a breaststroker, bettered the national mark for the 100 meter breast stroke and is expected to be one of the outstanding swimmers in the conference as a varsity man next year.

It was an added attraction during the recent Iowa-Northwestern swimming meet when Povalitis bettered the breaststroke mark.

Yesterday the freshmen, coached by Bob Allen, also went through a series of events to make times that will be the basis for freshman numeral awards. The results of the tests were not announced.

Ball Supply Fails, But Reds Shade Basox

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 5 (AP)—The law of supply and demand cut short a heavy-hitting exhibition game between Cincinnati and the Red Sox today when Boston's rightfielder, Leo Nonnenkamp, fouled the last of eight dozen balls from Memorial park. The Reds won 12 to 10.

The same situation ended a game between the same two teams during a dust storm in Florence, S. C. just a year ago tomorrow.

The Reds collected all their runs in the first five innings, including homers by Hershberger and Myers in the second.

Kinnick Tells Fans About Football

DES MOINES, April 5 (AP)—The development of confidence and ability that characterized the University of Iowa football team last season was discussed by Nile Kinnick, star back of the Hawkeye eleven, in a talk at Westminster Presbyterian church here tonight.

Kinnick paid high praise to the Hawkeye coach, Dr. Eddie Anderson, and emphasized the thought that "there is no such thing as a half-way fight in football—you have to fight until the last quarter is over."

when the throw to the plate drew Skale far to one side.

Held scoreless during Stastny's stay in the game, the invaders were slightly more successful against Ted Gordinier, rangy left-handed sophomore. In the seventh, the Norseman followed a walk that was issued to Folven with singles by Ingvoldstead and Beaver for their first score. Gordinier was in trouble again in the eighth when the Luther batsmen got to him for another run, and again in the ninth when the invaders counted once more on a walk and a pair of singles, Radtke scoring on Skale's single to right field.

The statistics show that two hits garnered off Stastny, with but one walk handed out by the Hawkeye veteran, while Gordinier allowed six hits in three innings, along with three bases on balls. Radtke, Luther hurler, allowed the hard-clubbing Iowans a total of 13 safe bingles and six free passes.

Texans Tie For 36 Hole Lead; Jones Quits

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5 (AP)—The man who cuts the pins decided there'd be no more 64's shot at the Augusta National golf club today. As a result there was only one round under 70 in the second 18 holes of the Masters' tournament, and the two Texans who tied for the 36-hole lead got there by shooting no better than average golf.

One was Jimmy Demaret, the smiling kid from Houston who added a 72 to his opening 67 for 139. The other was Lloyd Mangrum, who was born in Texas but works in Oak Park, Ill.

Lloyd gave one of the best demonstrations of the ancient and honorable game's ups and downs by going up from the record-breaking 64 he shot yesterday to a 75 that was three over par for this beautiful golf course, but a respectable round under the circumstances.

This was, in fact, a great day for the Texans and an even better day for the man who cut the pins. Texas dominated the show by contributing not only the co-leaders, but also the next man to them—open champion Byron Nelson who, as Demaret's partner for the afternoon, had another 72 and thereby achieved a 141 total.

The pin-cutter did his share by driving the boys crazy on some holes, notably the 14th. Here the pin was set at the back of the green, with a mound between it and the front portion. It was enough of an obstacle so that some of the lads stroked their putts and then watched the ball hesitate at the top of the slope, stop and then roll down again—in some cases leaving them farther from the pin than they had been to start with.

Besides the Texans and the pin-cutter, the day's other outstanding performer undoubtedly was Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., the U. S. amateur champion, who takes great pride in being able to meet the pros at their own game, medal play, shot a four-under-par 68 that none of them could match. This gave him 142 for a fourth-place tie with Henry Picard, the P. G. A. titleholder.

Ward, Picard, who had his second straight 71; Jug McSpaden, Al Watrous, amateur Wilford Wehrle and Gene Sarazen were the only ones to break par, whereas ten players had done it yesterday. Watrous was next best to Ward with a 70, which gave him 145. This was the same total Wehrle and Sarazen achieved with their 71's.

McSpaden also had a 71, which should have been a 70 because he missed an 18-inch putt on the home green. His score was 144, which put him in an eighth-place tie with Harry Cooper. Lighthorse Harry followed up on his 69 with a 75. Ahead of them at 143 were Sam Snead and Willie Goggin, both with 72's.

The tournament lost one considerable touch of color when Bobby Jones decided to withdraw. The emperor has been struggling hard to avoid showing how much his back has hurt him these last two days. This afternoon, after shooting a 76 for 155, he decided there wasn't much point in continuing.

He felt it was obvious that, under his painful handicap, he wasn't going to be doing any scoring, and he didn't feel it was worth it to risk permanent injury by straining himself further on every shot.

Bogskar Wins Grand National In Big Upset

AINTREE, Eng., April 5 (AP)—On flying feet whose running rhythm defeated favorites and tortuous turf, Bogskar, "a horse from across the railroad tracks" captured the 102nd grand national steeplechase today before 125,000 spectators.

A rank outsider at odds that shifted from 33 to 1 to 25 to 1 in the last half-hour, ridden by Sergt. Marvin Michael Jones, royal air force pilot on leave, and bumped hard twice, the little known seven-year old owned and trained by Lord Stalbridge soundly whipped 29 other jumpers, two of them American-owned.

Carrying 144 pounds, this Merriwell of horses not only slammed down the stretch to lick L. Scott Briggs' highly regarded Macmoffat by four lengths but came within one-fifth of a second of equalling the record of nine minutes, 20 2/5 seconds set by Dorothy Paget's Golden Miller in 1934.

The triumph brought $20,000 to Bogskar's owner, chicken feed compared with the thousands won by holders of lucky tickets in the Irish hospital sweepstakes. Macmoffat, held at 8 to 1 and runner-up for the second straight year, got $2,000. J. R. Neill's Gold Arrow, priced at 50 to 1 and six lengths back of Macmoffat in third place, won $800.

Wolves, Bucks Tie for Lead In Swim Meet

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—The University of Michigan's favored Wolverines, sparked by collegiate champion Gus Sharemet's brilliant job of anchoring a victorious relay team, pulled up even with Ohio State tonight at the end of the first day's competition in the National A. A. U. swimming championships.

Each clicked for one first place in the opening day's program of five title finals to pile up 11 points a-piece.

Yale university and the Chicago Towers club were deadlocked at ten, and the Princeton A. A. was next with eight.

All of the thrills of the first day's competition were packed in the final event, the 400-yard relay. Sharemet, who won his national collegiate crown only a week ago, churned down the last 25 yards like a torpedo on the loose to overtake Ed Pope, the Yale anchor, and give Michigan a close victory. The Wolverines were clocked in 3:35.2.

Up to there, it was just another swimming meet, although the veteran Adolph Kiefer, from the Chicago Towers club, gave the boys something to talk about when, after three years of "always a bridesmaid, never a bride" competition in the 300-yard individual medley, he finally broke his jinx. He came home winging in 3:29.6, as defending champion Andy Clark of Wayne university wound up third.

As usual, Ohio State's one-two diving punch of Al Patnik and Earle Clark finished that way in the low-board flip-flopping with Patnik giving his customary near-perfect performance.

Prep Thinclads Meet Today at Fieldhouse

400 Athletes To Take Part Class B Meets Alone For Initial Tourney; Fairfield Is Favored

Its title time for almost 400 track and field athletes representing 42 Iowa class B high schools this afternoon and evening as they gather in the university fieldhouse to go out after 15 individual and team events.

Held for the first time, the class B meet, for schools with enrollments under 600, has attracted an entry list much larger than expected. The last entry to be received by coach George Bresnahan was the strong University High outfit that hung up its fifth straight Mississippi Valley conference championship last week on the fieldhouse track. The Blue Devils are expected to be high in the scoring with their 20 men competing in the various events. Fairfield, Little Six conference champs, Valley of West Des Moines, Grinnell, Wilson of Cedar Rapids, Perry, and Knoxville are others that will be making a strong bid for the title.

Coach Bresnahan announced yesterday that winners of first and second places in the class B meet today will become eligible to enter the same event in the class A affair of April 13, next Saturday. Bresnahan made this announcement after receiving a ruling from George A. Brown of the Iowa High School Athletic association.

The pole vault and the 50 yard dash preliminary event will start at 2:30 this afternoon and other preliminary contests will follow along with three final events. The 2-mile relay, 440 yard dash and the pole vault will be final events on the card for the first session and the dash, 60 yard high and low hurdles, broad jump and shot put will add to the preliminary events. The evening events will begin at 7 o'clock with the 50 yard dash finals and the shot put.

Giants Hammer Tribe's Hurlers

CORDELE, Ga., April 5 (AP)—The New York Giants hammered Don Pulford, Harry Eisenstat and Joe Dobson for 13 hits today to defeat the Cleveland Indians 15 to 5 in the seventh game of their spring exhibition series. It was the Giants' biggest score of the year.

Johnny McCarthy set the pace, hitting a triple, double and two singles in four times up to drive in five runs and Al Glossop clouted a homer. Hal Schumacher blanked the Tribe with one hit in the first five innings, then allowed five runs in the next two on five hits, two walks and an error.

Homers Win For Senators

ATLANTA, April 5 (AP)—Jimmy Wasdell and Buddy Lewis hit successive home runs for the Washington Senators today in the first inning of an exhibition game that ended in a 6 to 2 victory over the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern Association.

Wasdell's homer brought in Case. Washington's four runs in the inning put the game on ice from the start.

Joe Krakauskas pitched the first two innings for Washington, giving up only three hits and allowing one run.

We'll Hear the Arguments Baseball Inventor To Wire Umps, Players For Better Sound Effects

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Ray Dumont, who took the squat, stoop and squint out of the umpire's job by installing an automatic home plate duster, has come up with another idea. He's going to wire the players and umpires for sound.

Dumont is the sputtering little cigar-eating maestro who built the national semi-pro baseball congress from a peanut into an elephant. Last year about 125,000 persons saw his district champions battle it out in the national finals at Wichita, and he put on a show that made a world series pallid by comparison.

His latest innovation is a pneumatic microphone which will pop up the moment a player starts arguing with an umpire. The words will be carried to the fans in the stands, which would seem quite unnecessary. Most of the words used in such debates are strong enough to walk alone.

In fact, it is the sulphuric nature of the words and phrases, some of which even now drift to the stands to singe ears and bring color to the cheeks of feminine patrons, which would seem to doom the loud-speaker idea to an early death.

Even the most naive fan does not believe that a pitcher rushing up to a plate umpire with gestures promising first-degree mayhem is saying: "Please, Mr. Umpire, I'm quite certain that was a strike. Pardon my interruption."

Or that all managers are as considerate as Casey Stengel, who has been known to hoist himself from the dugout, place his hands in his hip pockets, thrust out his jaw and amble menacingly toward a boy in blue to bellow: "Isn't this a lovely day for a game?"

Whether or not the idea of making the disputes between players and umpires public property ever will be practical remains to be seen, but Dumont says his plate dusting idea proved its merit in its debut last year.

He agrees that major league umpires probably would object to the device. A whisk broom is as much a part of a plate umpire as his mask, and many an argument has been ended by the umpire reaching in his hip pocket, bringing out his personal duster, and walking over to the plate to offer himself as a target for a well-aimed No. 10.

Around The Big Leagues

White Sox Nip Pirates, 4 to 2

AMARILLO, Tex., April 5 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates today, 4 to 2, in a five inning exhibition game. Rain and cold weather prevented further play.

Hartnett Gets Tough With Cubs

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 5 (AP)—Manager Gabby Hartnett read the "riot act" today to his Chicago Cubs after their game with the St. Louis Browns was washed out.

Tigers Club Dodgers, 15-5

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 5 (AP)—Pounding Fred Fitzsimmons, Wes Ferrell and Newell Kimball for 18 hits, good for 35 total bases, the Detroit Tigers overwhelmed the Brooklyn Dodgers 15 to 5 today. Lynwood Rowe pitched the full distance for Detroit, giving 11 hits, including homers by ex-Tiger Roy Cullenbine and Babe Phelps. Rowe also hit a four-bagger for Detroit. Rudy York was the chief Tiger run maker, clouting two home runs, a triple and a single and driving in five runs.

Yanks Wallop Travelers, 11-2

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 5 (AP)—The New York Yankees buried the Little Rock Travelers of the Southern Association under an 11 to 2 score today before 2,800 shivering fans. Lefty Gomez limited the minor leaguers to four hits in the first five innings but was scored upon when Frank Crossetti and Joe DiMaggio both booted the same grand-slammer. Marius Russo finished. Red Rolfe and George Selkirk led the 12-hit attack, the former with a triple, double and single and the latter with a three bagger and a single.

Need Wins Mat Match at Ames

AMES, April 5 (AP)—Wilbur Need, former University of Iowa wrestling and football star and last year's Big Ten heavyweight wrestling champion, won his first match in the national A.A.U. meet here tonight, outpointing Will Lounsborg of Simpson college.

Need, who graduated from Iowa last spring, is taking graduate work at the university.

Pressbox Pickups By OSCAR HARGRAVE

Coach Otto Vogel, who knows all the baseball rules, hopped on a technicality yesterday that practically no one knows about—a new rule that might bear explaining.

It happened that, with a man on first, a Luther player hit to Andy Kantor, who promptly threw to Prasse at second. The man coming from first out, Prasse threw to Rudy Radics on first in an attempt at a double play. It was too late by a fraction of a second, but Radics tagged the player, who had gone past the bag after sliding into it.

It has always been the rule that a hitter could overrun first base, providing he turns out or does not make a deliberate break toward second. However, when Vogel protested the decision that called the Luther runner safe, he was working in accordance to the new rule that says the runner can't overrun the base if he slides, which the Luther runner did. If he had run across the bag instead of sliding there would have been no confusion.

Yesterday's win makes the fourth in two years for Iowa over Luther. The Hawks downed the Norsemen last spring three times, 11-4, 14-6 and 11-3. It swished the Iowa record for this year to seven wins and one tie game. A guest in the Iowa dugout was Dutch Schmidt, an Iowa baseball star several years ago. Schmidt was also a member of football and basketball squads.

And, in the crowds of 1,300, the famed "Heckle Section" was much in evidence behind home plate. There are, fortunately enough, some of the favorite sons left over from last year, with Prasse, Kantor, George, Haub and Hohenborth three-year veterans who rate as old standbys for the hecklers.

Prasse, Kantor and George, as leading hitters, come in for a good share of the good-natured razzing, while the other two hear from the crowd while on the mound. Yesterday, coaching base runners at third, Hohenborth still couldn't retire escape. Bert Hayden and Chuck Seemuth, as umpires who have worked games here before, are also veteran subjects.

Justices of the Iowa supreme court, here for the Supreme Court Day proceedings of the college of law, took time off to take a look at an Iowa football practice. Which means they are pretty certain to be in the crowds next fall, along with some 45,000 others at each game.

She's 'At Home' on the Campus Mrs. Lewis Seeks Children's Program Material, Visits WSUI

Because she has two daughters of college age, Mrs. Edwin C. Lewis, vice-chairman of the Radio Council on Children's Programs of New York, felt very much at home in Iowa City yesterday as she visited radio station WSUI, she said last night.

Mrs. Lewis is conducting a national survey of children's programs, jointly sponsored by the National Association of Broadcasters and the council and planned to develop acceptable and improving standards for juvenile broadcasts in accordance with the N.A.B. code. The survey got under way March 12. Mrs. Lewis will visit 400 stations in 44 states looking for new children's radio material.

This material will be correlated, evaluated and filed in Washington with the N.A.B. and in New York at the radio council's headquarters. Mrs. Lewis said last night that she was delighted with the WSUI children's programs and that she had asked that scripts and transcripts be forwarded to the New York headquarters of the council.

The entire survey, Mrs. Lewis said, will take approximately 5 months, but will not be completed until January, 1941. Other stations in Iowa which Mrs. Lewis has visited or will visit include those at Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, Ames and Davenport as well as the university's station here.

Mrs. Lewis, who is also radio chairman of the National So-

Proposes Arbitration in Mexican-American Oil Controversy

Hull Discloses Handing Note To Najera

This Action Suggested When Negotiations With Companies Failed

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—In an attempt to break a two-year-old impasse, the state department has proposed arbitration of the controversy over Mexico's expropriation of American oil properties.

Secretary of State Hull disclosed today that he had handed a note containing the proposal to the Mexican ambassador, Castillo Najera, on Wednesday. Hull refused to give details of the proposal or to indicate the reaction that may have been received from Mexico.

The arbitration was suggested when it appeared that the direct negotiations conducted for over two years with the Mexican government by the American oil companies were destined to fail.

The negotiators have been carried on by two groups, Standard Oil of New Jersey and the Sinclair interests. Their recourse to the Mexican courts has also met with failure.

Traditional View
It is understood the American note again calls the Mexican government's attention to the traditional view of the United States, as contained in previous notes to Mexico on the subject of that country's expropriation of American-owned agrarian lands, the view is:

"The government of the United States cannot admit that a foreign government may take the property of American nationals in disregard of the universally recognized rule of compensation under international law or admit that the rule of compensation can be nullified by any country through its own local legislation."

The contention of the state department is that the compensation should be "prompt and adequate." The passage of more than two years since the expropriation of the oil properties without any payment has already nullified one of these requisites—promptness.

Note Significant
The dispatch of the note at this time is regarded as significant, coming as it does in the midst of Mexico's presidential campaign. No

7:45 p. m.—The Sunday Evening Union service, sponsored by the desire was manifested here, however, to make a political issue of the oil dispute.

Dispatches from Mexico City recently stated the Mexican government's reluctance to accept arbitration. Once before, in the case of the agrarian lands expropriated, Mexico refused the state department's proposal for arbitration.

At that time the Mexican government reasoned that "arbitration should be reserved for cases of irreducible differences in which the juridical principle under discussion or the act giving origin to the arbitration are of such a character that the two peoples at variance do not find any more obvious way of coming to an agreement." Mexico added, "Such is not the present case, for while it is true that Mexico does not consider that payment of an indemnnification for properties which the state expropriates on grounds of public utility is an invariable and universal rule of international law, it is also true that article 27 of her constitution ordains payment in such cases, and, therefore, the Mexican government has never denied such obligation."

Mexican Admission
The Mexican government has also admitted a similar obligation in the case of the oil properties.

In the agrarian land cases Mexico proposed the setting up of a two-man commission, one American and one Mexican. The state department agreed.

Mexico has been paying $1,000,000 a year into the United States treasury while the two-man commission seeks to evaluate the claims of the American owners of expropriated agrarian lands.

"He doesn't LOOK good"

There is a story of a horse-trader who seemed reluctant to sell one of his horses to a prospective buyer because, as he said, "That horse doesn't look good."

The buyer, suspecting that the dealer was trying to outwit him, felt the horse over carefully, looked in its mouth, and decided that the horse looked very well. Whereupon he bought the animal and led it to his stable.

When he harnessed it and started down the road, he soon discovered that the dealer had been right. The horse didn't "look good." It was blind.

Modern buyers need have no fear of such underhand practices. If you make it a habit to read carefully the pages of this newspaper, you will find nothing but sound values advertised at fair prices.

Only fine merchandise can bear the spotlight of publicity. Consistently advertised merchandise is safe merchandise to buy. Behind it stands the integrity of the manufacturer and the merchant.

Dies Appeals to Nation To Support Committee

Two Anti-Red Agents Held In Philadelphia

Dies Asks Americans To Decide on Question of Un-American Activity

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Chairman Dies (D-Tex) of the house committee on un-American activities, two of whose agents were ordered arrested today because of their raid on Philadelphia communist headquarters, appealed to "the people of this country" tonight to decide whether his anti-communist drive was right.

Federal District Judge George A. Welsh of Philadelphia ordered the issuance of warrants for agents George F. Hurley and Chester Howe after Carl Reeve, communist candidate for the United States senate, complained that his civil rights were violated in the raid. He said he was refused the right to summon a lawyer.

Dies Speaks to Nation

Dies, who said he would try to send every communist leader to jail unless they revealed their party membership lists, issued a statement saying that "according to the press, Judge Welsh has assigned as his reason for the issuance of the warrants his belief that this issue should be passed upon by the higher courts. I think," Dies added, "that the entire question as to whether or not agents of foreign dictators who claim constitutional rights and shirk constitutional duties can legally conceal from congress and the American people their true names and un-American activities must be immediately decided by the people of this country."

"The communist leaders have confessed their loyalty to Russia and their intention to destroy civil liberties in America if they should be successful," the legislator declared. "Our committee has pursued every lawful method in its attempt to expose all subversive groups and organizations. We have refused to violate the bill of rights even though we could have secured all the records of the communist party, and of nazi and fascist organizations by going so."

Will Address Church Group

Dr. Nock To Speak At Dinner Monday For Unitarian Men

Dr. Samuel Albert Nock, vice-president of Kansas State college at Manhattan, Kan., and a widely known lecturer, will speak on "The Scientist as a Writer of Literature" at a dinner meeting of the Men's club of the Unitarian church on Monday evening.

This came as an announcement yesterday from John Eldridge, chairman of the club.

Dr. Nock, who graduated from Haverford college in Pennsylvania with the class of 1921, has spent several years traveling in Europe and at one time served as a counselor to American students who were studying in Germany.

He took his doctorate at the University of Estonia where he majored in English.

Dr. Nock, who has written many short stories for publication, regularly writes book reviews for the Kansas City Star. He is a member of the Modern Languages association. For a time he was the editor of a small newspaper.

Reservations for the dinner may be had by communicating with the Rev. Evans A. Worthley, pastor of the Unitarian church.

Plan To Visit Amana Today

The class which studies the development of culture in Iowa, taught by Prof. Luella M. Wright of the English department, will go to Homestead, Amana colonies, this morning.

Dr. Henry Moerschel of Homestead will talk to the class at 10 o'clock at his office about the culture in the Amana and has made arrangements for the group to go through the woolen and furniture mills and through a typical Amana home.

After luncheon at the Kitchen House, the class will return to Iowa City. Prof. and Mrs. Erich Funke will accompany the group as guests and will act as interpreters.

Firemen Extinguish Roof Fire at Stimmel Home—Little Damage

Members of the Iowa City fire department yesterday were called to the residence of Homer Stimmel, 521 S. Capitol street, to extinguish a roof fire.

The fire started from a chimney which was burning out, it was reported.

The blaze caused small damage, according to the firemen's report.

Clinics To Aid Civic Activities Program Here

Faculty, Business Men, Women Meet On Monday, Tuesday

Members of the chamber of commerce will sponsor a series of six business clinics next Monday and Tuesday at the Jefferson hotel, it was announced yesterday by Leland Nagle, president of the chamber.

The first meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Monday with Roscoe E. Taylor presiding. The second of the series will be held at 4 p.m. Monday and J. J. Swamer will serve as chairman. Albert B. Sidwell will be the presiding officer of the third meeting at 7:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, the clinics will be held at the same hours. Milson R. Petersen will preside at the first meeting, Dean E. M. MacEwen at the second and Prof. C. Woody Thompson will be in charge of the third session.

These clinics are being held so that Iowa City's commercial, educational and professional men and women can give their suggestions and criticisms on the handling of civic affairs, Nagle asserted.

It is the hope of the chamber that men and women attending the clinics will give their suggestions freely to the group, and they may do so without fear of being quoted, Nagle asserted.

Suggestions offered at the meeting will be classified by the chamber, and from the classified list, a program of civic activities will be built by the chamber board, Nagle said.

The communist leaders have confessed their loyalty to Russia and their intention to destroy civil liberties in America if they should be successful," the legislator declared. "Our committee has pursued every lawful method in its attempt to expose all subversive groups and organizations. We have refused to violate the bill of rights even though we could have secured all the records of the communist party, and of nazi and fascist organizations by going so."

Two Communists Jailed

Eardler Philip Frankfeld and Thomas F. P. O'Dea, Boston Communists, were jailed here in default of $1,000 bond each after warrants were issued by U. S. Commissioner Needham Turnage charging them with contempt of the house for refusing to answer questions put to them by the Dies committee

Meantime, Chairman Dies of the committee was busy with two other legal proceedings.

Counsel for William Dudley Pelley, Silver Shirt leader and one time committee witness, had demanded that Dies be called as a witness at a hearing on extradition of Pelley to North Carolina. Authorities in that state want Pelley in connection with a case in which he was convicted six years ago of violating the Blue Sky law and placed on probation.

Pelley 'Railroaded?'

T. Edward O'Connell, Pelley's lawyer, said he wanted to show that "mysterious forces" were conspiring to "railroad" Pelley to the chain gang. Justice Jesse C. Adkins refused, however, to permit Dies to be called and ordered Pelley delivered to North Carolina authorities. An appeal was noted and the Silver Shirt leader allowed his freedom on $5,000 bond.

Dies and other committee officials then went before a grand jury which was presented with house citations for contempt against James H. Dolsen and George Powers, Pittsburgh communists, who also refused to answer committee questions.

MARX BROTHERS NOW AT VARSITY

They're At It Again In 'At the Circus,' Their Newest Comedy

In the wildest, craziest and most uproarious comedy of their careers, the Marx Bros. return to the screen after a year's absence in "Marx Bros. at the Circus," opening today at the Varsity Theatre.

This time the Mad Marxes invade the world of the Big Top for their riot of merriment and are assisted by the strangest aggregation ever assembled for a carnival of comedy. They include a gorilla, an Upside-Down-Girl, a midget, the Strongest Man in the World, a trained seal, a symphony orchestra adrift on the ocean, a herd of elephants, African lions and beautiful ballets that sing and dance atop of horses.

"Marx Bros. at the Circus" is the story of two circus roustabouts, Harpo and Chico, who engage a jobless lawyer, Groucho, to save Kenny Baker, circus owner, from losing his show. Through a series of typically Marxian hysterical sequences, the show is saved, Baker wins the love of Florence Rice and Groucho fades out in the arms of Margaret Dumont.

'Little Orvie' Is Varsity Co-Hit

What happens when a small boy, forbidden to own a dog, adopts a stray canine for the day and then can't get rid of it, is amusingly told in "Little Orvie," RKO Radio's screen version of the famous stories by Booth Tarkington.

Eight-year-old John Sheffield, new film find, has the title part in the picture and little Ann Todd, Ernest Truex, Dorothy Tree and other well-known players have important roles.

GARFIELD FILM NEXT AT PASTIME

'Dust Be My Destiny' Stars Priscilla Lane At Pastime Sunday

John Garfield has been in Hollywood only a little more than a year, but that is long enough for him to have learned that a movie actor may be called upon to do most anything in line of duty.

In "Four Daughters," his first picture and the one that made ing the latter part of the last century by Carlo Lorenzini under the pen name of C. Colloidi. Colloidi had been Lorenzini's nickname since his childhood and was the name of his mother's home village.

The story first appeared in installments in a popular Italian magazine under the title of "Le Avventure di Pinocchio." In the early 1900's the story was first published in the United States, in book form, and became an immediate success. Today it is considered a childhood classic, with a host of adult admirers.

THE INDOMITABLE MAJOR ROGERS

SPENCER TRACY

Playing the greatest adventure role of his triumph-studded career, Spencer Tracy stars on the Englert screen as Major Rogers, the fearless, fascinating and indomitable Indian fighter of Kenneth McRoberts' spectacular best-seller, "Northwest Passage." Epic tale of the pre-Revolutionary pioneers who wrested an empire from the Indians and the wilderness, the new action drama comes to the screen next Friday in Technicolor as one of the outstanding pictures of all time.

To follow his adventures on the screen is an experience no moviegoer can afford to miss.

Jane Darwell's performance, as Ma Joad, makes it impossible to believe that Steinbeck did not have her in mind when he created this indomitable Oklahoma mother. Jane carries her audience in the palm of her hand while she laughs and cries, scolds her brood and defies the forces which would tear her family apart.

What is by all odds one of the most difficult roles in the picture, that of Casey, the garrulous, crusading preacher, is carried off with great distinction by John Carradine. As Grampa, Charley Grapevinn turns in the best performance of a long and distinguished career.

Dorris Bowdon actually appears to re-live Rosasharn's struggle to bring new life into the world. She more than justifies the belief Zanuck had in her ability to act.

Similarly justified is the selection of other members of the cast. Russell Simpson plays the part of Pa Joad with great effectiveness. O. Z. Whitehead, who plays Al, lives up to all the fine things that were said of him when he came to Hollywood. John Qualen as Muley, and Eddie Quillan as Connie, are tops. As for Zeffie Tisbury, who plays Gramma, it can be said of her that she has every ounce of Gramma's color and humor.

Here is the greatest novel of our time turned into what is undoubtedly the greatest motion picture of our day.

'GRAPES OF WRATH' NOW AT STRAND

Direction and Acting Make Stirring Story Superb Entertainment

A deep, stirring human appeal draws audiences to the very heights of film entertainment in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Grapes of Wrath." John Steinbeck's fearless novel. The 20th Century-Fox film, which at its world premiere achieved the biggest opening attendance in the entire history of New York's 22-year-old Rivoli theater, was brought to the Strand theater this week.

Under John Ford's honest direction the Joads come to life with all the warmth, vitality and rugged humor that characterized Steinbeck's widely acclaimed novel. Both the spirit and the letter of the book have been followed with extraordinary exactness by Associate Producer Nunnally Johnson who wrote the screen play. The many thousands who eagerly awaited this picture will find every iota of drive and power of the original story has been retained in the screen version.

Tom Joad, who is played by Henry Fonda, remains the courageous figure Steinbeck created.
