BRITISH NAVY POUNDS AT GERMANS

Report Re-Capture of 2 Norwegian Cities From Nazis

How Germany Begins Battle to Keep Supply Lines Open

This Central Press map shows how the German navy tricked the British fleet patrolling Norwegian waters into the North sea in pursuit. German transports carry- ing an expeditionary force then slipped into the vacated waters and the invasion of Norway began. This incident launched Ger- many's desperate effort to keep her sources of supply open and available, since the British block- ade about a neutral Norway had threatened to wall in Germany's source of vital Swedish iron ore.

Britain Threatens To Bombard Oslo Unless Surrendered; Residents Flee

Warships Fight Way Into Fjord During Battle

Evacuation Ordered; Crowds Move Out Of City in Near-Panic

STOCKHOLM, April 10 (AP) — Panic-stricken residents of Oslo, the Norwegian capital occupied by yesterday by the Germans, fled by every available conveyance today after British warships were reported to have forced the rocky Oslo fjord and threatened to bombard the city unless it was surrendered within a few hours by its Nazi masters.

The city was ordered emptied of its population at 11:15 a.m. (4:15 a.m., C.S.T.) The British, said delayed dispatches reaching here by way of the Swedish-Norwegian frontier town of Charlottenberg, threatened to start shelling the town at 1 p.m., but whether the bombardment actually took place was not known.

Population flees Long columns of cars, trucks and busses began taking the civilians still in Oslo from the city. The crowds at railway stations were so great it was almost impossible to push up to the gates. Mothers, with children in their arms, fainted in the crush.

About half the 250,000 population had left before the Nazis occupied the city.

The entry of the British into the Oslo fjord was reported to have followed a long battle at the fjord entrance, in which the Germans were believed to have lost 40,000 tons of warships, including one vessel of the Deutschland class, in contacts with both British guns and the navy and coastal artillery of the Norwegians.

Giant Jig-Saw Puzzle But this battle was only one piece of a giant jig-saw puzzle of sea action today that ranged from northern Norway at Narvik, to within sight of the Swedish shore at the juncture of Skaggerak and Kattegat.

Other units were reported to have recaptured Trondheim and Bergen, on the Norwegian west coast, from the Germans. An unconfirmed report indicated other British forces may have forced entry to Narvik, the ore port, after a first failure, and landed marines there.

Heartened by the British navy's powerful thrust, the Norwegians themselves were said by Swedish newspapers to have wiped out some German units attempting to take Elverum, village (See OSLO, Page 7)

Morgenstierne Says Norway To Resist Nazis

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Wilhelm Morgenstierne, the Norwegian minister, expressed conviction today that his people would fight to the utmost of their strength against the German invasion.

Combat Area Made Larger By Roosevelt

U. S. Ships Barred From Waters of All Northern Europe

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — In a sweeping move to insulate the United States from the struggle in Scandinavia, President Roosevelt proclaimed today a vast combat area embracing all of northern Europe and forbade American ships or passengers to enter it.

Shipowners violating the proclamation will be subject to a $50,000 fine or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both. The penalty for passengers is a $10,000 fine or imprisonment up to two years, or both.

The combat area was flung not only around Norway (Denmark was already included in an existing area) but also around waters of northwestern Russia and Finland.

The proclamation embraced also the present combat area, so that from today on, American ships are barred from a zone embracing waters of Finland, Norway, Sweden, northwestern Russia, Germany, Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium, northern and western France and part of Spain.

Whether a proclamation of the neutrality act itself, banning the extension of credits to Norway or Denmark and placing trade on a "cash and carry" basis, will be issued depends on further information from Europe to enable the White House and state department to ascertain whether hostilities legally exist in the two Scandinavian countries.

British Report Nazi Bombers Beaten Back

German Planes Stage 'Murderous' Raid On English Naval Base

LONDON, April 11 (Thursday) (AP)—Waves of German bombers last night attacked Scapa Flow in what observers described as the "most murderous raid yet made" on that great British naval base, but the raiders officially were reported beaten off with costly losses.

Four big black warplanes were shot down, the British said, and two others were so riddled that they probably failed to get home. Previously two Heinkel bombers officially were reported shot down in Moray firth, extreme north Scotland, in an attempted attack on a convoy. Two others may have been destroyed in the same engagement, bringing the possible German losses over Britain to ten during the day.

The Germans staged their attack on Scapa Flow in force while the allied fleet was spreadeagling German naval units in Scandinavian waters.

40,000 Tons of Nazi Shipping Reported Sunk; Britain Silent

By DREW MIDDLETON LONDON, April 10 (AP) —British warships, pounding again and again at the German invaders of Norway, were reported tonight in dispatches from the north to have pointed their big guns at Oslo, demanding the surrender of the city by its Nazi garrison, during a proud and bitter day of sea battle from one end of the "Hitler-protected" Scandinavian kingdom to the other.

Two Norwegian cities, Bergen and Trondheim, already were reported, without confirmation, to have been taken by British landing parties after one day of German occupation.

Speaker C. J. Hambro of the Norwegian parliament announced in Stockholm early today that he had received word from the Norwegian commander in Bergen that "the British now are in possession of the city."

Earlier Hambro had announced that Trondheim, also, had been taken from the Germans. There was no further word concerning this port, however, in British press reports reaching here.

The wide sweep of British naval action embraced a vicious and successful attack against German troopships and warships in the Skaggerak and one or more raids on the important ore shipping port of Narvik.

The British admiralty, traditionally the "silent service," declined comment, however, on most of the reports of naval warfare. A broadcast by the British Broadcasting corporation late tonight said British warships "appear to have routed" German forces in Oslo fjord and "there has been ruthless bombing of Norwegian towns in the neighborhood by German planes." With the help of Norwegian warships and land batteries, at least 40,000 tons of German naval shipping was reported sunk in the Oslo fjord.

Day-Long Battle All day long Britain struck blow after blow at Germany with her air and naval might along the entire western coast of Norway and far into the Baltic sea approaches, fighting a constant chain of bitter battles which may hold the key to the fate of Scandinavia and the European war itself.

American Ships Banned From New War Zone—Scandinavian Wealth to Stay in U. S.

Block Nazi Confiscation

Roosevelt Prohibits Removal of Danish, Norwegian Money

By IRVING PERLMETER WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) —President Roosevelt, in sweeping orders today, blocked German confiscation of Danish and Norwegian wealth in this country and banned American ships from the new war zone.

In an unprecedented executive order, he prohibited, except after special license from the treasury, the removal of any money or other wealth from this country belonging to the governments or citizens of Denmark and Norway. By this step he removed any doubt about the attitude of this government toward a repetition of the steps by which Germany seized all the gold and other international assets available when she occupied Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Germany succeeded in some of these seizures in Europe but in this country, it was learned for the first time tonight, the treasury made informal arrangements with American banks to double-check the legality of any claims on the assets of those countries after Germany took them over. Thus, the refugee Polish government, now in France, still holds title to Polish money in New York.

One official said formal action, rather than informal, was taken in the case of Norway and Denmark "because the informal method might not have been fully effective in these cases."

He said no one knew just how much money was tied up by the order, but that one of the first steps taken under it was to demand that all holders of Danish or Norwegian wealth in this country report it to the treasury for an accounting.

BULLETINS-- From The War Front

Norwegians Hold Germans—

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—The British Broadcasting corporation in a broadcast picked up here by CBS, tonight attributed to Swedish sources reports that Norwegian troops had rallied some miles north of Oslo and were "holding" the Germans in a major battle.

Norway To Begin Allied Warfare—

LONDON, April 11 (Thursday) (AP)—A report that King Haakon of Norway will today proclaim the intention of the Norwegian government to fight side by side with the allies against Germany, without capitulation to the reich, was distributed today by Reuter, the British news agency, in a dispatch from Stockholm.

Fear in Balkans Heightened—

ISTANBUL, April 10 (AP)—Fear that Germany may move into southeastern Europe to secure vital oil and food supplies, freely expressed throughout the Balkans, was heightened tonight by the frank admission of numerous British and French officials in the near east that the allied forces there are powerless—at the present—to offer effective resistance.

Netherlands, Belgium Firm—

THE HAGUE, April 10 (AP)—The Netherlands and Belgium reaffirmed their determination to defend their independence and neutrality today, acting to forestall any surprise attempt to embroil them in the spreading European war conflagration.

Nazis Continue To Occupy Copenhagen—

COPENHAGEN, April 10 (AP)—The German occupation of Copenhagen moved ahead with clockwork-like regularity today but most of the city's sunny streets showed no sign that a powerful alien war machine was controlling the country's destinies.

Russia Sympathizes With Nazi Move—

LONDON, April 11 (Thursday) (AP)—A German-language radio broadcast quoted the Soviet Russian government newspaper Izvestia today as describing Germany's occupation of Norway and Denmark as a "necessary" consequence of the allies' mining of Norwegian territorial waters.

S. U. I. Theater Will Present Political Play

With everyone becoming conscious of politics and the coming fall election, the next university play in the community series, "A Texas Steer" or "Money Makes the Mare Go," by Charles H. Hoyt, takes on special significance, for it is a farce about politics in the gay 90's.

The play opens next Monday evening in University theater for a run of six performances, the last being a Saturday matinee. The production is under the direction of Prof. Hunton D. Sellman of the dramatic arts faculty.

After scoring a hit in the leading role of Canon Matt Lavelle in "The White Steed," Joseph Becker, G of Elgin, again will handle a lead part in "The Texas Steer." He will play Maverick Brander.

Other members of the cast as announced by Professor Sellman include Leonard Marshall, A3 of Carthage, Ill., as Capt. Fairleigh Bright, U.S.A.; Edward Hearn, G of Olympia, Wash., as Major Yell; Theodore Hawkins as Colonel Bragg; Willis Guthrie, A4 of West Branch, as Colonel Blow; Joel Sater, A2 of Birmingham, Ala., as Othello Moore.

Stanley Hamilton, A4 of Wichita, Kan., as Brassy Goll, Esq.; Ted Ritter as Colonel K. N. Pepper; Don Sobleske, A4 of Mason City, as Christopher Columbus Fishback; Elson Matson as Knott Innitt; Pix Miller, A2 of Spirit Lake, as Anatole; Lawson Schmidt, A1 of Des Moines, as Lieutenant Green, U.S.A.; Fred McMahon, A2 of Springfield, Mo., as Sam Row; Mary Ann Black, A2 of Bryan, Tex., as Mrs. Brander; Laura Sipin, G of New York, N. Y., as Mrs. Major Campbell; Mary Weaver as Dixie Style, and Jetaline Premlinger, A4 of Evansville, Ind., as Bossy.

"A Texas Steer" was popular in New York and Chicago during the nineties and since has been revived several times, including a presentation in Washington, D. C. This farce has been substituted on the season's schedule for "Family Portrait," which was withdrawn at the request of the Catholic foundation.

Seat reservations for the coming production may be obtained now at room 8-A, Schaeffer hall; Whetstone's drug No. 1; Williams' Iowa Supply, or Campus Supplies.

As The War Spreads

ALTHOUGH THE LARGER movements in Europe are usually understandable, there is a growing mystery in the course this second World war is taking. The conjecture that Hitler's invasion of Norway and Denmark has been planned for weeks or months even and is not inspired from the British action in those waters seems most probable.

Through it all there seems to be one certain development that the United States must look forward to. We have vowed not to be aroused, not to be fooled into a second war in Europe. We have sat complacently on our American shore and given our opinions of the conduct of the war by the allies.

One of the peculiar affects of the Scandinavian invasion on America will be in her superior supply of news from Europe. So far America has been furnished copious reports from the war because of the superiority of American correspondents in Europe and because the news services of America, anticipating the war, set up elaborate systems to insure the transmittal of the reports to this nation.

About Smash Hits

WE ALL get obsessions—which is all right if we only get the kind that are useful. One of the most useful obsessions is the fact that so many automobiles on the streets and roads require constant vigilance on the part of both drivers and pedestrians.

accidents occurred in clear weather and almost 80 per cent of them when the road surface was dry. More persons were killed on Sunday than on any other day of the week.

As for injuries, the heaviest toll was on Saturday. Wednesday was the safest day for travel. The most dangerous hour of the day was between 7 and 8 p.m. Taking mileage into account, the motor death rate is almost three times as high by night as by day.

The pedestrian is the greatest problem. Nearly 40 per cent of all traffic accident victims were people walking. The percentage is growing, particularly in metropolitan areas at night. The book dwells much on what every driver who has driven at night knows well, and what every pedestrian ought to know.

"Smash Hits" is just another attempt to try to make us remember that it is fatal to forget.

Coming Into Their Own

TALL GIRLS are increasing in number, says one of them. She is Miss Peggy Newton of Missouri who makes a profession of dressing tall women and advising them how to enjoy their height.

There has been a sensible change in the psychology of the tall girl in recent years, probably because there are more of her. She no longer stoops when walking or dancing with a man shorter than herself.

Delighting The Epicure Jacques Bustanoby Still Remembered In Metropolitan City

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Life with father in Clarence Day's time may have been a family album affair with horse-drawn carriages and plenty of red plush upholstery, but which hasn't survived the chain restaurant and drugstore lunch counter era that came when prohibition doomed the great cafes of Shanley, Rector, Bustanoby, Reisenweber, Churchill, and perhaps one or two others.

Bustanoby's Cafe des Beaux Arts, on 40th street at 6th avenue, introduced dinner dancing in New York, and it was there that Jim Brady's celebrated dinner for Lillian Russell was given, at $100 a plate. At that dinner were Count Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador; David Warfield, Mary Garden, Otto H. Kahn, and the gorgeous Anna Held, whom Ziegfeld had just brought over from Paris. Mlle. Held was the first woman to enter Bustanoby's new women's bar, a sensational innovation then.

Bustanoby also was noted for his establishment at 39th street and 6th avenue (this was 1907), and it was there that Romberg, a piano player, collaborated with Bustanoby on the first song he ever wrote, "The Perfumed Waltz." Romberg went on from there to become the composer of The Student Prince, May Time, and scores of operettas that earned him riches and renown.

I think it is important to remember these flashbacks because after an absence of two generations Bustanoby, between chapters of his memoirs, is returning to the field in which he established himself as one of the great restaurateurs of an older, mellow and perhaps more genteel time. Perhaps by the time this reaches you the Cafe des Gourmets, in 56th street, will have opened its doors, with Jacques Bustanoby at the door to greet you. There will be no Anna Helds, Richard Harding Davises, Jim Bradys, or Dana Gibsons to sit around tables and spin airy brocades of fancy, but the Bustanoby manner will be in evidence, and that is all that ever mattered anyway.

Today's Probable Mound Choice

Probable hurling choice for Coach Otto Vogel's Hawkeyes in today's game against Purdue at Lafayette, Ind., is Fred "Hooker" Hohenhorst, rangy senior right-hander. Hohenhorst, working parts of three games this year, has allowed but one run in a total of 12 innings. Other possibilities for today's contest, the last of the Purdue series, are Bob Stastny, Ted Gordinier and Dick Hein. After today, the Hawkeyes, winners of yesterday's conference opener at Purdue, will move on to Notre Dame for a two-game series.

Cook, Erwin Prasse Score Winning Runs For Iowa Diamondmen

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 10—(Special to The Daily Iowan)—Smoke-balled into submission by Iowa's Harold Haub, Purdue's Boilermakers today became the first 1940 victims of the Big Ten's defending champions, 2-0. It was pleasant revenge for the Hawkeyes, who last year lost the opener to Purdue at Iowa City.

Haub, one of the Iowa co-captains, was invincible in his first conference start of 1940. The big right-hander struck out 11 of the foe, gave only two free passes to first and allowed the Boilermakers but three skippy singles during his performance.

Almost as stingy with the base knocks, but the loser in the pitchers' duel, was Bob Bailey. Bailey, who shut out Iowa in last year's opener, was also a victim of the Hawkeye drive revenge. He allowed only five hits and a base on balls to the visitors and held the Hawks in check in all except the fifth and sixth innings.

The fifth, in which the first run was scored, opened when Bob Cook, Iowa sophomore outfielder, singled and stole second. Frank Kocur, Iowa third-baseman, struck out, but reached first when Fisher, Purdue catcher, dropped the last strike. Meanwhile, Cook went to third, from where he scored on Bob Stastny's sacrifice fly to left field.

Prasse Scores In the sixth, Erwin Prasse reached first on an infield error, reached second on Jim George's single and scored when Catcher Bill Welp smashed out a double. George went to third on the play, but Welp was out when he over-slid second base.

Haub's only trouble came in the sixth and ninth when the Boilermakers put men on the bases, but smart fielding by the Hawkeyes cut short both threats.

Thursday, in the second and last game of the Purdue series, the Hawkeyes will probably rely on the pitching of Fred Hohenhorst, veteran right-hander, with Bob Stastny or Dick Hein as second choice. Today's victory gives the Hawkeyes an early season record of nine victories and one tie game.

Around The Big Leagues

Baseball Whip Paul Derringer
CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 10 (AP)—Paul Derringer performed in mid-season fashion for the Cincinnati Reds today but the Boston Red Sox hit when it counted for a 2-1 victory.

Derringer hurled four-hit ball through six innings but permitted Dom DiMaggio to single and Ted Williams to double in the first frame for the initial tally. Gene Thompson took over in the seventh and immediately gave up two singles and a walk, returning the winning margin.

Bill Werber scored the Sox's lone run, on Ival Goodman's single in the fifth.

Boston holds a 6-5 exhibition series edge.

Hubbell Hurls As Giants Win
TARBORO, N. C., April 10 (AP)—Carl Hubbell went nine innings today for the first time and pitched the New York Giants to a 4 to 1 triumph over the Cleveland Indians on four hits.

This was one more blow than his teammates collected off Al Smith and Johnny Humphries, but a liberal pass list spelled the difference.

The Giants scored twice in the first on four walks and John Rucker's single and were never headed.

Hubbell fanned eight and walked only two, one of these giving Cleveland a run when Ken Keltner doubled in the seventh.

Yanks Shade Dodgers, 7-6
ASHLAND, Ky., April 10 (AP)—The New York Yankees were held to two hits today, but the world champions nevertheless managed to score six runs in one big inning to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers 7 to 6.

This uprising came in the fourth frame when Red Rolfe led off with a single, New York's first hit, and there followed two errors, a mental lapse that was scored as a fielder's choice, and five bases on balls by pitcher Max Macoon, three of them forcing in runs.

Babe Dahlgren homered in the sixth for the Yanks' other hit and what proved to be the winning run. The Dodgers, who got eight bingles, rallied for three runs in the seventh when Joe Vosmik and Ernie Koy hit home runs, but fell short.

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The Washington Senators got only six hits off Bill Posedel today but combined with nine bases on balls they added up to a 4 to 3 victory over the Boston Bees of the National league.

It was Washington's fourth straight exhibition victory over the Bees and their first game of the year on the home grounds.

Boston jumped into a 3 to 0 lead in the second, but the Senators pulled abreast in the sixth and won the tilt in the 8th when Gerry Walker sent Jimmy Waddell home with this third hit.

Dean Says 'No Trouble' Denies Rumors Of Dissension After Recent Fine

DEAN SAYS 'NO TROUBLE'
DENIES RUMORS OF DISSENSION AFTER RECENT FINE

KANSAS CITY, April 10 (AP)—Dizzy Dean arrived in Kansas City alone tonight 40 minutes after a train bearing his teammates for an exhibition game but denied reports he had threatened to "jump" the club for having been fined $100 for a training rules violation.

The Cubs arrived without their talkative pitcher, but Manager Leo (Gabby) Hartnett, who imposed the fine, said:

"If Dizzy has quit the club, it is news to me. I have never heard him say that and all I know now is that he is not with the Cub party."

Dean On Way Dean arrived on a later train after having ordered his baggage removed from the Cubs' train at Topeka.

He said he would leave at midnight for St. Louis to meet his wife and that they would go to Chicago in compliance with Hartnett's orders.

Dean indicated he would pay the $100 fine, saying he intended to "do whatever Gabby wants me to do."

At Topeka, Dean was quoted by sportswriters accompanying the team as saying that "unless the fine is cancelled I am going to Chicago tonight and make plans to go on my barnstorming trip."

"Hartnett has been on me ever since I reported March 17," he was further quoted.

"He put me in the game Monday at Fort Smith because he thought I would get my brains beat out in two or three innings, but I guess the whole world knows how I fooled him."

"If they make that phony fine stick I am going on my own exhibition tour."

Make More Money "With the money they are paying me ($10,000 a season) I don't have to take anything like this. My arm feels great and I can make more money than that in three weeks."

"I was out visiting my uncle, the Rev. Bland Dean. He lives 14 miles out from Wichita and because of that I knew I was going to be a little late. So I tried to phone Hartnett before I went out. I couldn't get him."

"I never had a drink."

Later, however, Dean told an Associated Press reporter in Topeka he had had no serious differences with Hartnett adding: "There's nothing to this stuff about my quitting the team."

"I just took the day off," he explained.

CONZELMAN SUCCEEDS NEVERS AS CHICAGO CARDINALS' COACH

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—Jimmy Conzelman, one of the ablest gridiron tacticians in the country, is back in professional football.

The former head coach of Washington university, St. Louis, Mo., signed today with owner Charles W. Bidwell to become coach of the Chicago Cardinals of the national football league. He succeeded Ernie Nevers, a former Stanford university all-star, whose 1939 team wound up a disastrous campaign in last place.

The new Cardinal coach produced three Missouri Valley championship elevens in the eight years he served at Washington U., his alma mater.

Before returning to Washington in 1932, Conzelman established himself as a player and coach in professional football. He started his pro career with the old Dectuar, Ill., Staleys, which subsequently became the Chicago Bears, one of the pioneer clubs in the national professional league.

Emil Ganso, artist-in-residence at Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., arrived in Iowa City Tuesday evening to take part in the University of Iowa Art conference this week end.

Later he became a friend and pupil of Jules Pascin. Peyton Boswell Jr., in Modern American Painting, describes Ganso as a "jovial, sandy haired German" but a "frankly sensuous poet in paint."

Ah, Spring! Ah, Frivol!

Campus Magazine Will Be Spring-Like With Green Printing

Frivol is out! Spring is here! Amazing thing about it all is that both are garnished in green.

Frivol this month comes out typed in green as a new idea to the magazine, Walter Hogan, A3 of Downing, Frivol's issue editor, said yesterday.

One of the highlight stories in this month's issue is the timely article titled "Movies You'll Be Seeing." The article compares new Hollywood productions with plays which have been presented by the University of Iowa dramatic department. Some of the plays are "Susan and God," "The Bluebird" and many others. Advance publicity shots of the pictures were sent to the Frivol editor. The story was written by Richard Fuson, G of Holyoke, Mass.

Prof. Edward F. Mason, of the school of journalism, now in Washington, D. C., has contributed an article, "Mr. Mason Goes to Washington."

Alberta Ewoldt, A3 of Oakland, has written the short story for this month and has titled her article, "Elevator Interlude." According to the issue editor, this story is one of the best ever to be placed in the magazine.

The festival will be non-competitive in the sense that entries will not be given definite rankings or ratings by the critic judges. Groups and soloists will be striving for the approval of a critical audience and the commendation of the critic judges.

Tickets for the Crooks concert are now available at Iowa Union desk, the fieldhouse business office and Whetstone's number one. Reserved seats are $1 and general admission tickets are 50 cents.

Due to the cancellation of the Zimbalist concert on the University concert course, ticket holders for this event will be admitted to the Crooks concert. All participants in the high school music festival will be admitted to the upon musical values and sound

Rev. F. G. Smith Will Present Public Lecture Monday at 4:10

Religious Speaker To Conduct Conference For Club Leaders

The Rev. F. Gregory Smith, of Denver, Col., national director of Confraternity of Christian Doctrine discussion clubs will be on the campus next Monday under the auspices of the school of religion and the Newman club to give a public lecture on "Religious Discussion Clubs" in the senate chamber of Old Capitol at 4:10 p. m. and to conduct a conference for discussion club leaders in the board room of Iowa Union at 8 p. m.

The afternoon lecture will describe the technique which has been found successful in thousands of the confraternity's clubs throughout the United States, causing it to be regarded as one of the best means of adult religious education. Father Smith will use one of the Confraternity's most recently published texts, "The Ethics of Christianity" for demonstration purposes, but his talk will be more concerned with technique than with content and hence will be of interest to all groups who use the discussion method, whether for religious, education or other purposes.

The evening conference is intended primarily for prospective leaders of Newman club discussion groups and other campus religious workers, but will be open to all interested persons to the limit of the board room's capacity.

Reservations for the evening conference should be made at the school of religion office by Monday noon.

Besides his national work for the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine with headquarters in Washington, D. C., Father Smith serves in the diocese of Denver as director of the diocesan branch of the confraternity, director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, secretary of the trustees of the Register College of Journalism, and member of the board of examiners of the clergy, in addition to being pastor of St. John's church, Denver. He is stopping in Iowa City between two regional conferences of the confraternity at Kansas City, Kan., and Notre Dame, Ind.

radio artists, has just returned to the United States from a world concert tour cut short because of the European war. As one of the few American artists to have attained the highest ranking in competition with foreign artists, it is appropriate that he should appear on the Iowa festival program which is dedicated to the development of native musical talent.

Crooks, who made his debut with the Metropolitan Opera company in 1933, has appeared on many radio programs and recently won a radio poll as the most popular tenor of classical repertory. He returned late in 1939 from a tour which included Australia, South Africa and several European countries.

The story of Richard Crooks is typically American in its elements of struggle and perseverance, adventure and early and spectacular success. As a boy soprano in his native Trenton, N. J., Crooks first triumphed at the age of ten, when he sang at an important musical festival.

Throughout his early youth he worked hard to provide himself with means for serious study of voice. Although he was under age when the United States entered the World War, he joined the 626th aero squadron. It was not until after demobilization that his real career began.

Coming to New York, he was an immediate sensation in concert, recital and as soloist with orchestra, and his subsequent transcontinental concert tours each year have held record numbers of unusually successful engagements.

Crooks' entry into opera was in Hamburg, Germany, in "Tosca." The furor he created in this new musical medium brought him appearances at the famous Stadtische Opera in Berlin, where he was acclaimed by one of the most exacting audiences in the world.

The University of Iowa high school music festival is offered primarily as an educational feature for selected Iowa high school musicians.

Its purposes are to recognize outstanding performance, to provide an opportunity for the best talent in the high schools of Iowa to be heard to advantage by critic judges, and to place emphasis on the upon musical values and sound

"The department is operated so that merchandise is out where customers can make their selections without the aid of a sales person. Shelves have been built above the counters to make more space for the display of larger items such as scissors and sanitary goods. All merchandise is openly displayed."

None of Lillian Russell's Curves for Them!

If Iowa women were the giggling kind, they'd be giggling. But it's no laughing matter to these three Iowa women who protest, in spite of the apparent approval that Jim Bristol, A4 of Clinton shows for Lillian Russell. In indignation the Iowa women rose against Grant Wood, internationally-known artist, who Monday quietly commented on feminine pulchritude. Wood advanced the idea that the great artists of history preferred women with amplitude, and wouldn't have cared for the modern streamlined, serpentine figures. Wood's reference to the curvaceous belles of the 90's arouse the Lillian Russell club to appeal for the Belles of the 40's as the logical successors to the title of the beauties of the 80's. Shown in the above picture, left to right, are Bristol, Jane Levine, A3 of Shenandoah; Beverly Hunter, A2 of Rockford, Ill., and Martha Lois Koch, A3 of Evansville, Ind.

Student Composer

Leon Karel, A4 of Iowa City, who composed the a capella number, "Lamentations," which was included in the university chorus concert last night at 8 in Iowa Union, is shown above. A music student, Karel has also written "The Great Stone Face," a descriptive tone poem, which will have an audition with the university symphony orchestra soon and will probably be included in a symphony concert before the end of the season. Other works written by Karel, including a flute solo, will be played in student recitals throughout the year.

Sixty per cent of Columbia University's graduates continue their studies in the university's advanced schools.

Lindquist Reports Increase In Every-Pupil Testing Program

Substantial increase in the enrollment for the "every-pupil" testing program, with 358 schools now entered in the 12th annual affair, was reported yesterday by Prof. E. F. Lindquist of the University of Iowa's college of education.

Orders for test forms total 176,000. About 60,000 pupils are expected to take the tests May 6 and 7 to measure educational achievement, to facilitate improvement in instruction, and to encourage better scholarship.

Professor Lindquist said that last year 327 schools were involved and that 155,000 test forms were sent out. Schools still are enrolling for the 1940 event and probably will continue to do so until early May. Incentive for good performances will be the chance to qualify for the state scholarship contest at the university. About 1,100 pupils will become eligible to participate in the individual competition here June 4 and 5.

No longer is inter-school competition involved in the "Every-pupil" affair, this angle having been eliminated several years ago.

Subjects in which tests will be given are: ninth year algebra, plane geometry, general science, biology, physics, world history, United States history, American government, first and second year Latin, English correctness, reading comprehension of literature, and contemporary affairs.

Resume Law Trials Again

Kidnapping To Be New Type Case Tried in Courts

A week following the "highlight event of the year—Supreme Court day" senior law arguments are again being heard each Thursday and Friday afternoon in the college of law courtroom.

Taking a criminal charge of kidnapping, the four men representing the plaintiff and defendant again enter a new type of trial for this year's schedule. Taking in the past such cases as murder, arson, and other such similar crimes, this week's case enters the ever-popular case of kidnapping.

Better Answer Census Man!

Those Who Refuse Are Fined Heavily—Don't Worry, Though

By ERNEST ZIELASKO

When the census taker knocks at the door and asks how much you have earned the past year and whether you have a radio in your home, it will be a good idea to answer his questions with no objections.

Those who refuse to answer the questions are subject to 60 days in jail and a $100 fine.

Don't become alarmed, however. No one within memory has ever gone to jail for refusing to answer a census question, said Clem A. Boyle, assistant supervisor of the census takers of this district, recently as he highly praised the congeniality of the citizens.

"People of the entire district are cooperating 100 per cent and as yet there have been no refusals from a week's work," Boyle said.

"It's hard but pleasant work," he said. "I'd hate to tell you how many hours a day I have to work."

When asked about the growth of Iowa City during the past 10 years, Boyle said it would be difficult to estimate at the present time. The Iowa City count should be finished in about two weeks, he asserted. Iowa City's population in 1930 was 15,340.

"College students," he said, "will be covered by the parents in the students' home towns."

"The transient population of the United States was covered Monday, April 8," Boyle explained, and then added, "Every hotel, rooming house, YMCA, YWCA, one night lodging house, tourist camp, as well as every young man covered by enumerators for transient population in every city, town, and hamlet in the nation."

"People who are occupants of these particular places completed an individual census form unless they had been enumerated in their permanent homes," he continued.

Boyle stressed the secrecy of the answers received from the questions. So strict are the secrecy requirements that not even a photographer is permitted to take pictures of an enumerator at his work, he said.

The census report has greater value than mere compilation of the nation's population, Boyle explained. Representation in congress and American business men depend greatly on the census report, he concluded.

are attorneys for the plaintiff, James Pauley, Jr., L3 of Mason City, and Raymond Vogel, L3 of Cape Girardeau, Mo., will act as attorneys for defendant.

To be heard before Attorney Arthur O. Luff, this week's trial concerns kidnapping, identification, circumstantial evidence, impeachment of witnesses, joint trial of two defendants and handwriting.

As usual, the case will be heard before a jury composed of students and townspeople. It is open to the public and will begin this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

In addition to the educators, prominent men from the commercial field will speak. They include Dr. Paul Foote, vice president and director of research of the Gulf Research and Development company, and Hugh Knowles, chief engineer of the Jensen Radio corporation of Chicago.

One of the features which will be open to the public will be a lecture by Dr. Thomas C. Poulter, scientific advisor of the United States Antarctic Service Expedition of 1940. He will talk on "With the Snow Cruiser in the Antarctic—the World's Last Frontier."

Two Divorce Petitions Filed In Local Court

Mathews, Winger Cases To Be Decided During May Term

Two divorce petitions were filed for the May term of Johnson county district court yesterday.

Marsh E. Mathews filed a petition asking for a divorce from Evelyn Mathews, charging her with cruel and inhuman treatment.

The couple were married in Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 20, 1939.

A petition was filed by Viola Winger in which she asks a divorce from Daryl Winger. The plaintiff charges cruel and inhuman treatment.

The plaintiff and defendant were married in Kahoka, Mo., July 3, 1938.

Attorney Ingalls Swisher represents the plaintiffs in both petitions.

Warfare--

the following German naval losses:

Narvik: 1 German destroyer sunk early today in battle, three others left burning. Seven German supply ships sunk.

Oslo fjord and Kristiansand: German cruisers Bluecher and Karlsruhe, sunk by Norwegian shore batteries during the German occupation. (Admitted by Germans).

South coast of Norway: German cruiser torpedoed by British submarine, probably sunk. Unofficial reports, most of them Swedish, listed the following German losses:

Skagerrak battle (Wednesday night): four German cruisers, two or three German troopships, one German destroyer sunk.

Oslo fjord: the German cruiser Emden, reported sunk by the Norwegian cruiser Olaf Trygvason, and a total of 40,000 tons of German shipping (it also is possible that the victim of the Olaf Trygvason was a destroyer or else a vessel of the Deutschland class, and not the Emden. It has been identified variously as all three.)

Near Arendal, on the north shore of the Skagerrak: "A German warship." (This quite likely is a German cruiser which the British admiralty said was torpedoed Tuesday night off the southern Norway coast.)

In addition to the ships claimed sunk, British say their planes damaged a German cruiser off Bergen and bombed another in the Bergen roadstead.

German Reports (Tonight, German reports listed the battle-score in the new theater of sea and air war as: Four British destroyers sunk; four British battleships, two battle cruisers, three heavy cruisers and two transports badly damaged (mainly by air bombing). Two German cruisers, the new 10,000-ton Bluecher and the 6,000-ton Karlsruhe, sunk by Norway's shore batteries in Oslo fjord and at Kristiansand, respectively, while covering troop landings yesterday.)

Guns roared, ships were sunk at Narvik, tiny Norwegian port far above the Arctic circle, down to the Kattegat, strategic entrance to the Baltic sea, traditionally German-ruled yet penetrated today by a fiercely fighting British fleet.

Warfare Continues Reports to London indicated that major naval engagements still were in progress late tonight

Oslo--

75 miles north of Oslo, to which place the Norwegian government finally fled when the capital was occupied by the Germans.

Hundreds of German dead were reported left on the field after a force of Norwegian soldiers, aided by hastily armed volunteers, struck back at the invaders.

Shoot Up Convoy

The shooting up of the German convoy was seen from Patternoster reefs, near the island of Marstrand, where the arm of the North sea, the Skagerrak, meets an arm of the Baltic, the Kattegat.

Swedish fishermen who at once manned their boats to attempt rescue work, counted 10 big gray German troop ships escorted by warships endeavoring to stand off the British fleet.

They said two of the big transports went down. Other reports said a destroyer also was sunk.

The roar of the naval guns began about 6 p.m. (noon, EST) and continued for three hours, when the transport fleet appeared scattered.

Swarms of Planes

Swarms of planes fought overhead, above the smoke and gun flashes.

The battle took place just southwest of the Patternoster "skerries," a group of low, rocky, barren reefs just outside Swedish west coast mainland waters and hardly more than 35 miles from the northern tip of Denmark.

C. J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian parliament, himself announced the capture of Trondheim, where four German cruisers were reported anchored yesterday.

Bergen Retaken

Authoritative British quarters here said Bergen also was retaken.

The Stockholm radio said the British had sunk a German warship near Arendal, off Norway's south coast, where a German troop transport was torpedoed Monday, before the actual invasion began.

That the Germans were having difficulty in Oslo fjord, water gateway to the capital which supposedly was cleared of opposition yesterday, was indicated early today in the distress signals of the German steamer Curlytyba.

Bomb Small Towns

The messages said she was being fired on by coastal batteries at Nyviken, deep in the fjord.

Tonight, German planes were reported to have resorted to bombing small towns in the vicinity of the fjord.

Huge fires were set in Drammen, Dorbak and Oskarsborg with the Norwegians apparently still in possession of the towns. Important fortifications near Oskarsborg were forced Monday by German warships.

as the British sought to oust the nazis from their newly-won Norwegian ports and land expeditionary forces.

Highlights of the day were:

1. Swedish and Norwegian circles in London asserted that British forces had recaptured from the Germans the Norwegian ports of Bergen and Trondheim—the Trondheim report was broadcast from Stockholm by C. J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian parliament—although official British sources refused to confirm or deny.

2. A mighty battle raged deep in the Skagerrak, near its juncture with the Kattegat, with the British fleet reported attacking ten big German troopships, sinking two, scattering the others and sinking a German destroyer—all no great distance from the scene of the battle of Jutland, greatest naval engagement of the World war.

Narvik Fjord 3. Five British destroyers raided Narvik fjord, engaging six new and large German destroyers and, after the German defenses were battered, other British thrusts were reported being made tonight, apparently in an attempt to pave the way for landing troops.

4. Germany acknowledged that the 10,000-ton heavy cruiser Bluecher and the 6,000-ton cruiser Karlsruhe were sunk yesterday by Norwegian shore batteries as the Germans landed troops on the Norwegian southeast coast.

5. The admiralty asserted that a British submarine torpedoed a German cruiser off south Norway last night and that "it is thought the cruiser was sunk."

The royal navy bid high for Narvik. More than 300 men may have been lost.

Five destroyers of the "Hero" class stormed the Narvik fjord at dawn, engaging the six German destroyers, and running into heavy fire from coastal batteries and German guns newly mounted there.

The fiftieth anniversary of its founding will be celebrated by the University of Chicago in 1941.

Fine Response In Seal Sale For Children

The Johnson county Easter Seal Sale for Crippled Children committee reports that a fine response has been given the campaign.

Prof. C. M. Updegraff, chairman of the organization, stated today that it is not too late for each one to do his bit.

"Secure your Easter seals today and send out these missionaries, that help to create and keep alive the interest of the public in crippled children," he said.

Mrs. Howard L. Beye, 422 Brown street, is treasurer of the Johnson county committee.

Iowa City is very well represented on the administrative and advisory boards of this movement. Robert E. Neff, head of the University hospital, is on the executive board and Dean E. M. MacEwen and Neff are both on the advisory council.

The local University hospital has four representatives on the coordination committee. They include Dr. Arthur Steindler, Dean MacEwen, Dr. T. J. Greteman and Dr. Robert L. Jackson.

Neff is on the finance committee, and Updegraff is on the legislative committee.

Neff, Dr. Steindler, Dean MacEwen and Dr. Avery Lambert are Iowa City's representatives on the committee on extension.

Portraits of Stephen C. Foster, John Philip Sousa, Victor Herbert, Edward A. MacDowell and Ethelbert Nevin will appear on the new stamps, the first of which will probably be issued locally May 4.

Below the portrait on each stamp will be the "Pipes of Pan" on the right and a spray of laurel leaves on the left.

The stamps will be released first in the following order:

Foster, Bardstown, Ky., and Sousa, Washington, D. C., May 3; Victor Herbert, New York City, and MacDowell, Peterborough, N. H., May 13, and Nevin, Pittsburgh, Pa., June 10.

They will probably be issued at the Iowa City post office one day after the above dates, local authorities said.

NYA for Iowa Will Sponsor State Job-Hunting Campaign

To Begin Monday For 45-Day Period With Three-Fold Purpose

Beginning Monday and continuing for a 45-day period, the national youth administration for Iowa will sponsor a state wide job-hunting campaign, with the Iowa state employment service cooperating.

This announcement was made last night by Theodore P. Eslick, state NYA administrator, who said the campaign has a three-fold purpose in that it is intended to:

1. Assist as far as possible youths who have acquired good work habits and actual work experience through the NYA program to gain private employment.

2. Point out that the only profitable employment field is private industry, and that the present seems to be an opportune time to try for private jobs, judging by the unusually large number of youths currently leaving the NYA program for private employment.

3. Reduce the number of youths at work in the out-of-school division of NYA, in order to create openings for those young men and women without any type of work experience who desire to secure such experience through the NYA program.

Tentative figures a week ago showed a total of 6,684 youths were employed under the out-of-school work project division, 4,349 of this number being young men and 2,335 young women. On this same date applications for participation in work project activities in this same division numbered 4,935 having been filed by young men and 1,720 by young women interested in enrolling for NYA work.

Eslick said he hoped the job-hunt campaign would meet with wide-spread response, especially from employers in all lines of endeavor.

"I am hopeful," the administrator declared, "that hundreds of NYA boys and girls and non-NYA youths, too, will find places in private employment as a result of the job-hunt."

► The people he wrote for were just as much an open book to him as the news he wrote for them. He wasn't being quaint when he put the results of the school spell-down on page one, or filled five pages with country correspondence. That was meat and drink to the folks out on the R. F. D. routes—far more important than the Boer War or even silver at 16 to 1—and he knew it.

► That old-time country editor had grasp... complete, integrated understanding of all the news of his locality, and the whole of the mind for which it was written. And his formula, "the nearer the news, the bigger," was essentially the formula of all old-time journalism—in the big cities, as well as in the country seats.

But when Dewey entered Manila Bay and boys in bicycle shops began tinkering with the front ends of buggies, the old order began to pass away. The great, complex world forced itself into the affairs and thoughts of easy-going, turn-of-century America.

Economics, world politics, finance, industrial management, material resources, labor, social theory—they all began to matter somehow. They got you into wars and strikes and hard times. Science began to matter when diphtheria and t.b. were found not to be acts of God. Art began to matter when your daughter came back from Paris or Peoria calling you a Philistine.

► America's mind, stretching, pushing out its horizons, called for more news... more kinds of news... news from beyond the railroad depot. And the news poured in—from the just-hatched wire services, from specialists of all kinds, from the syndicates, the feature writers, the correspondents.

Soon the old one-man grasp was gone. The torrent of news was too great and too swift, its sources too many and too remote, for any one man to handle and absorb it all.

And if the editor was swamped, the reader was drowned. In self-defense, he learned to pick his way about his newspaper, snatching a bit here and a bit there, mostly according to the ingenuity of the headline-writer. Often he missed news of importance, often he failed to see what a series of day-by-day stories added up to in the end.

► There was a crying need for a new experiment in journalism. A need for somebody with a national viewpoint—free from the pressure of daily and hourly deadlines—to bring the news together so that the intelligent reader could get its essentials, grasp them, make them his own.

► That somebody turned out to be The Weekly Newsmagazine. With its advantage of time for reflection and discussion, the Newsmagazine made this task its single-minded purpose. It set out to do the country editor's job with a world-wide scope and on a national scale.

... To take all the week's news and make the picture make sense to the average intelligent American. To set it against a fully comprehended background. To write it vividly, compactly, forcefully... with full appreciation of the mind for which it is intended... with the touch of human understanding that brings people and events to moving, breathing life.

The Newsmagazine is written by experts, but never for experts. No story in TIME can go galloping off on a hobby; it must be paced firmly and smoothly to the brisk stride of the whole magazine, whether the subject is world affairs or politics, or business or finance, or medicine, religion, or the arts.

► That is why TIME seems to be written by one man, who knows TIME readers as the old-time country editor knew the folks in his county. That is why the average TIME reader starts at the beginning and goes through to the end, feeling that every line gives him something that he wants and needs and can use.

This is one of a series of advertisements in which the Editors of TIME hope to give College Students a clearer picture of the world of news-gathering, news-writing, and news-reading—and the part TIME plays in helping you to grasp, measure, and use the history of your lifetime as you live the story of your life.
