TROOPS RUSH TO DECISIVE BATTLE

One Thing's Sure! Iowa Students Prefer Brunettes, as Well as Streamlined Beauty—

Edith Stuart, Georgia Gaddis, Jean Lawman Top 'Belle of 40s' Field

Besides acclaiming almost unanimously their preference for streamlined, modern beauty, men and women on the Iowa campus proved by their balloting in the "Belle of the Forties" contest which ended last evening, that women as well as the men of Iowa prefer brunettes.

Edith Stuart, A2 of Dubuque, musically-talented Currier entrant in the competition, received the major score in the Lillian Russell club's contest with 845 votes. Second was the 1939 Dolphin queen, Georgia Gaddis, A2 of Mt. Pleasant, with 421 votes.

In third place was Jean Lawman, A3 of Manchester, with 316 votes in the contest. Miss Stuart, Miss Gaddis and Miss Lawman all three are brunettes.

Pictures of the three high ranking women will be sent immediately to Beverly Hills where Alice Faye, star of the movie "Lillian Russell" and honorary president of the Lillian Russell club, will select the one she feels best typifies the "Belle of the Forties." The successor to Lillian Russell's beauty, which won her the title "Belle of the Nineties," will receive a silver loving cup from the 20th Century Fox studios, producers of "Lillian Russell," film which is to be premiered in Clinton late in May.

The winner of the title will be the guest of the film stars at the premiere in Clinton, and will be featured in the program there at that time. She will also appear in newsreels of Fox Movietone News and in the Iowa News flashes.

Others in the first ten ranking contestants are Charlotte Heglund, A2 of Iowa City, with a total of 301 votes; Mary Gillen, A1 of Des Moines, with 230; Mary Huff, A2 of Sioux City with 184; Allayne Konechny, A1 of Cedar Rapids with 160; Dorothy Hunter, A1 of Rockford, Ill., with 114; Nona Seberg, A4 of Mt. Pleasant with 60, and Betty Hemsky, P1 of Cedar Rapids with 58.

Only the top three contestants will be considered by Miss Faye for the title.

A number of votes, not sufficient to change the total outcome of the balloting, were thrown out because of irregularities in the methods of balloting.

Miss Stuart, the first place winner, is a resident of Currier hall. Her special interest is music composition. She is the composer of the official Currier hall song, which was presented for the first time at the women's semi-finals of the University sing.

Miss Gaddis, who was the consistent leader in the contest until Thursday's voting, is a resident of Coast house. She was selected Dolphin queen last fall. Miss Lawman is affiliated with Delta Gamma social sorority.

Reinforcements Arrive To Aid Norse Defense

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
STOCKHOLM, April 19 (AP)—Fragmentary reports from Norway said tonight that British reinforcements were arriving every hour in the Norwegian waistline, north of German-held Trondheim and reiterated that a decisive battle seemed to be shaping up between German troops and Norwegian defenders joined by the British expeditionary forces.

British Arrive
Some Swedish correspondents, reporting through Storlien, railway village just inside Sweden, said the British reinforcements were arriving along a 15-mile line from Steinkjer, at the head of Torvoss Trondheim fjord, north to Namsos.

All circumstances, said these reports, showed that a decisive encounter seemed unavoidable in the vicinity of Steinkjer.

Battleground
Norwegian authorities said the fight might well start at Stiklestad, south of Steinkjer, a place famous in Norwegian history. At Stiklestad the king, St. Olaf Haraldson, was killed in a war against peasants in 1030, A.D.

Reports that British officers had reached the vicinity of Hamar, 60 miles north of Oslo and far southeast of the Trondheim area, seemed to indicate they had been flown inland from points on the coast where the British had secured a foothold. Hamar itself was reported now in German hands, however.

Funk Discloses Action in North Costly to Nazis

Reichsbank Minister Reveals Ruthless Use Of German Reserves

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER
BERLIN, April 19 (AP)—Germany is paying her way in part for her wide-flung war activities on the Siegfried line, in Poland, Denmark and Norway but is pulling her belt tight and drawing ruthlessly on her reserves, Walther Funk disclosed today.

Funk, minister of economics and president of the reichsbank, gave an insight into the country's economic picture on a day when the nation marked among other chief developments in the war:

1. Latest German advices from Scandinavia said German troops pushing up the Glommen river 20 miles inside Norway from the Swedish border drove today to the vicinity of Elverum and that one-time refuge of King Haakon VII and his government was expected to fall at any moment.

2. German bombers tonight attacked British transports off the west coast of Norway, the official news agency said, scoring direct hits on two transports and a cruiser with heavy bombs. Whether the ships sank was not reported.

3. The German high command, reviewing yesterday's operations, said German fliers sank a submarine and hit other vessels in a surprise raid as the British began landing troops in the far north; three other submarines were reported sunk in the Skagerrak and Kattegat as well as a Norwegian torpedo boat on the west coast of Norway.

4. On German orders to be out of the country by midnight, Arne Scheel, Norwegian minister to Berlin, and other members of the Norwegian diplomatic staff and their families left by special train in an effort to reach Norway by way of Denmark.

5. Minister of Propaganda Paul Joseph Goebbels, in a radio address on the eve of Adolf Hitler's 51st birthday, said the fuhrer "has the complete love and the complete obedience of his people" and British efforts "to sow the seeds of disunity among us" were doomed to failure.

Eastern Express Train Jumps Track; Ten Die

BULLETIN

Fifty Injured; Cars Pile Up, Block Highway

250 to 300 Aboard Lake Shore Limited; Engine Explodes

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., April 19 (AP)—At least ten persons died tonight when the Lake Shore limited, fast New York to Chicago express train, jumped the track a half mile east of here.

Nine of the fifteen cars the train carried left the tracks and piled against an embankment, carrying down communication lines and blocking the main upstate New York east-west motor highway.

John Crowley, editor of the Little Falls Times who lives a few hundred yards from the scene, counted seven bodies in a preliminary checkup and said three other persons were reported dead in one of the Pullman cars.

Engine Alive
Crowley said the train's engineer, tentatively identified as J. Earl, Syracuse, was pinned in his cab but still alive. Acetylene torches were being used to free him.

In New York, the railroad dispatcher's office estimated that from 250 to 300 passengers were aboard the train.

The train left the tracks on a wide curve just east of this village in central New York. As the engine crashed against a high embankment it exploded, sending showers of debris along the roadway and highway.

The limited was composed of thirteen Pullman cars, one coach and the engine. Its fireman and baggage man are known dead, their bodies lying along the roadway, although not immediately identified.

50 Injured
Little Falls hospital authorities said 50 persons were injured, several critically. Physicians worked at top speed as the injured were brought there.

The cause of the accident was not immediately known but witnesses on the scene said debris was strewn for hundreds of yards up the tracks. The train's high-powered engine leaped several yards from the tracks landing across route 5, main New York state east-west highway, blocking motor traffic.

A hurried call was sent to Utica, approximately 30 miles away, for ambulances and physicians.

Reynaud Gets Overwhelming Support

PARIS, April 19 (AP)—Premier Paul Reynaud, whose action-planned government had the slimmest of parliamentary approval before Germany invaded Scandinavia, emerged tonight from a secret chamber of deputies debate with a unanimous vote of confidence, 515 to 0.

Seventeen deputies, including Louis Marin, leader of the rightist republican federation, did not vote. Thirteen others were on vacation.

Navy Seeks 'Short Cut' to Increase in Fleet

Italy Modifies Belligerent Tone On War News

ROME, April 19 (AP)—Apprehension over Italy's position in the European conflict subsided today as the Italian press modified somewhat the belligerent tone of its pro-German treatment of war news.

Italian circles generally tended to minimize the tension which developed earlier this week with speculation as to Italy's readiness to enter the war immediately on Germany's side.

Negotiate New Nazi-Rumanian Trade Treaty

BUCHAREST, April 19 (AP)—Negotiation of a new German-Rumanian trade payment treaty was concluded tonight and an agreement is scheduled to be signed Saturday, it was learned.

Germany is to receive greater customs facilities and her wheat purchases are to continue on the scale in effect prior to the recent Rumanian embargo on wheat exports to the reich.

The agreement is to be signed by Dr. Karl Clodius, German economic expert who heads the mission which has been negotiating here, and Rumanian officials.

The treaty is to operate for the protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia as well as Germany proper, but will not concern the German-occupied section of Poland.

Further details were not immediately available.

Charges of Coercion Hurlled At Ford Motor Company

Examiner Declares Brutal Methods Used To Halt Union Moves

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—A labor board trial examiner accused the Ford Motor company today of "gathering together the most brutal, vicious and conscienceless thugs in its employ" to block unionization of Ford workers under the Wagner act.

The accusation was made by Examiner Robert N. Denham in a report of a month's hearing on labor difficulties at the Ford plant in Dallas, Tex. He recommended that the company reinstate two employees with back pay and notify individually all of its employees in the United States that it would "cease discouraging" union membership.

100,000 Workers
The recommendation that all Ford employees receive the notification was unprecedented in labor board affairs. The company employs in excess of 100,000 workers.

Denham's report, against which the company has 20 days to file exceptions, was sent to Dallas by airplane today and there served on Ford officials. It recites Dallas testimony bearing on charges that a so-called Ford "strong arm squad" engaged in assaults and intimidation to discourage union membership.

Summing up the evidence presented at the hearing, Denham said:

'Brutal Beatings'
"No case within the history of the board is known to the undersigned (Denham) in which an

Dr. Clyde Hart New President Of Social Group

DES MOINES, April 19 (AP)—The mid-west Sociological society tonight elected Dr. Clyde W. Hart of the University of Iowa, Iowa City, as president to succeed Leslie D. Zeleny of St. Cloud, Minn.

Other officers named were: E. T. Hiller of the University of Illinois, first vice-president, and Carroll P. Clark of the University of Kansas, second vice-president.

Yugoslavs Nip Plot To Seize Government

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 19 (AP)—Yugoslavian authorities announced tonight they had discovered a plot to overthrow the government and turn the country over to the nazis and had interned former Premier Milan Stoyadinovic, "friend of Germany," in a lonely and inaccessible mountain hamlet.

Police raids on the homes of hundreds of Germans were disclosed, in connection with the alleged "fifth column" plot.

Stoyadinovic was taken into custody and moved from Belgrade under heavy guard to internment on a mountain eighty miles south of the capital to isolate him from foreign agents and his own Yugoslav colleagues, who fell from power with him a year ago.

Ship Contracts Would Be Let Before Funds

Senate Committee To Consider Proposal—A Precedent-Breaker

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The navy laid before the senate naval affairs committee today a precedent-breaking proposal to permit the letting of ship contracts before congress appropriates the money to meet building costs.

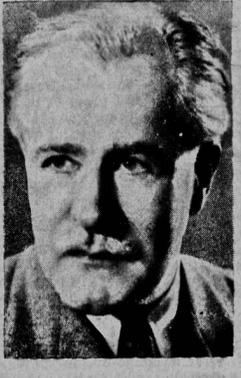

Admiral Samuel Robinson, chief of the bureau of engineering, suggested such an amendment to the pending house-approved bill to authorize an 11 per cent increase in fleet strength. The bill carries no appropriation, merely authorizing the navy to ask congress for such funds later.

Chairman Walsh (D-Mass) told reporters that the navy apparently was inspired to suggest this short cut by expressions of committee members who have urged speed in getting a larger battle fleet on the seas.

Ordinarily, the navy lets no contracts until after actual appropriations are made, although construction of the ships may have been authorized long before.

Admiral Robinson explained that if the contract authority were granted, the navy could call for bids on 160,000 tons of fighting ships which would be authorized in the pending bill.

These Noted Authorities Will Be Critics at Iowa's Music Festival

THOMPSON STONE

IRVING TALLMADGE

RAYMOND F. DVORAK

HOWARD HANSON

GEORGE HOWERTON

EUGENE J. WEIGEL

Six men, all recognized as authorities in their special musical fields, will serve as critic judges at the first annual University of Iowa high school music festival May 2, 3 and 4.

The total was brought to six with the announcement yesterday of three additional judges augmenting the three announced earlier.

These supplement Dr. Thompson Stone, director of the Handel and Hayden society and the Apollo club in Boston; Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., and Prof. Eugene J. Weigel, head of the music department and band and orchestra conductor at Ohio State university.

These six men will listen to the performances of the Iowa high school students participating in the festival and will offer constructive criticism to each individual group after its performance. There will be but one critic at each contest center and they will not rate the soloists or groups as in previous state festivals.

In some cases, however, where outstanding professional ability is displayed, certain students will be recommended by the critics to receive a special merit award. These winners will be announced Saturday night at the closing session of the festival.

Three of these critic judges will serve a special purpose while in Iowa City at the festival. They will instruct and conduct an all-festival orchestra, band and chorus. These three groups, made up of participants from each high school entered in the festival, will present the final concert of the festival in the field house Saturday night, May 4.

Dr. Hanson will direct the all-festival orchestra, Professor Weigel, the band, and Dr. Stone, the chorus.

Dr. Hanson, in addition to being director of the Eastman school, is president of the National Association of Schools of Music. He is the composer of 14 major works for orchestra, an opera, "Merry Mount," which has been produced by the New York Metropolitan Opera company, and scores of similar works. He has served as judge for several national orchestra contests.

Professor Weigel has been closely identified with the development of the educational music program in the central states through his work at Ohio State university. He was formerly supervisor of instrumental music in Cleveland.

Dr. Stone has served as guest conductor, critic and teacher at the University of Iowa during several summer sessions and is widely and favorably known among Iowa teachers and administrators.

Martial Law In All Holland

Netherlands Reaffirm Determination To Fight 'Protective' Minded

THE HAGUE, April 19 (AP)—All Holland was placed under martial law tonight in a royal decree more far-reaching than any since the constitution guaranteed civil rights to Netherlands 92 years ago.

This action was taken to permit of more drastic measures against persons within the nation who are imperiling Netherlands neutrality or who would endanger its safety if Holland were invaded.

It was invoked just after old Premier Dorek Jan de Geer, in a broadcast to home and empire on two sides of the world, had declared that Holland would resist by force of arms any attempt by a foreign power to extend "protective" help to the Netherlands.

Even before Queen Wilhelmina signed today's all-embracing decree, Holland had been dotted with hundreds of "islands" of martial law, at points which were important to the country's elaborate and secret system of land, sea and water-line defenses.

Authoritative Netherlands said that loyal, law-abiding citizens would not be inconvenienced by the extension of the state of siege to the entire country, and that there would be little interference with normal civil administration.

War At Our Back Door

NOT VERY long ago, war in disguise knocked at our back door. Its rapping wasn't very loud. Probably it wasn't even noticed.

But now it's here again—under a new alias. It calls itself the Dutch East Indies question now—formerly it was Greenland, at the time when there was talk of extending the Monroe Doctrine to "protect" that island when it's "mother," Denmark, was taken over by Germany. But apparently, "Greenland" went away before Uncle Sam could get his hand on the doorknob.

But now the Dutch East Indies question is knocking, and Uncle Sam has his ears perked up, because his secretary of State has issued a formal warning—vigorous for all its diplomatic indirectness—to Japan, virtually ordering her not to try to seize the East Indies in the event Germany invades Holland.

This announcement comes on the heels of a news dispatch that quotes authorities of the British, French, and American fleets in the East Indies if Germany invades the Netherlands. Britain draws heavily upon the islands for raw materials—naturally she is interested in the question and has as many ships as she can spare stationed in those waters. France is her ally. She too has ships there. But how about the United States?

If the knocking upon our back door becomes insistent, what will Uncle Sam do? Will he lock the door securely, or will he open it for the stranger in disguise?

Lunch On The House

THREE Chicago bachelors recently bought their favorite restaurant so they could keep on eating there. First, however, they got some of their bachelor friends to promise to patronize it and also to submit menu hints.

The whole group, so the story goes, had been lunching there for some time. The food must have been good, but the profits low, for the proprietor finally told them he was giving up the business. The young fellows took it pretty hard until he suggested they buy it and keep it open.

Future developments should be interesting. Will it be chiefly cooperative lunch service for the bachelors immediately concerned, or will they run it as a regular restaurant and invite the public? If they do the latter, will they succeed? Running a good restaurant is quite different from eating in one.

Home Fire Losses

EVERY YEAR 7,000 lives—the majority of them women and children—are lost in home fires. The annual property loss from home fires amounts to over $100,000,000.

Most startling element in these figures is the fact that over two score years, in which industrial fire losses have steadily decreased, home fire losses have continued without decline.

The majority of fires in the home can be traced to eight major causes. In order of their importance, these are:

- (1) Rubbish
(2) Defective chimneys
(3) Combustible roofs
(4) Defective heating apparatus
(5) Matches and careless smoking
(6) Gasoline, Kerosene, etc.
(7) Electrical defects
(8) Hot ashes
Home fires are rarely caused by accident. There is something that can be done to prevent most of them. Carelessness on your part may cost loss of life and property.

No Lipstick, Miss Jones! No Bracelets

"NO LIPSTICK, Miss Jones! No charm bracelets! No necklaces or bangles! No rings with heavy mountings or stones! No long finger nails!"

An edict issued by a conservative business man of the past century? Not at all. Just sacrifices imposed upon ladies who aspire to careers of musical instrumentalists. And radio is responsible for some of these taboos.

They were brought to mind recently when Raymond Paige, noted network maestro, asked a young student instrumentalist whether she felt that the pursuit of music called for greater sacrifices from women than it did from men.

The use of lipstick is denied wood-wind instrumentalists because the oil in the cosmetic ruins reeds. On brasses it causes the mouth-piece to become sticky and often times slippery. And the ladies who play string instruments are not permitted to indulge in the luxury of long finger nails. Certain types of jewelry are prohibited because they either create sound picked up by the microphone or give the hand a heavy touch.

Keep these points in mind when watching the hundreds of Iowa high school girls who'll be playing here early next month at the university music festival.

'Gentleman Of Iowa'

Time Magazine Pays Tribute to Iowa's Professor Shambaugh

(Editor's note: The following review of the life of the late Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh is reprinted from the current issue of Time Magazine.)

Iowa's most conspicuous crop is corn, but its rich soil also nourishes a vigorous native art and poetry, a sturdy Americanism, sturdy Americans. One of its brightest flowers was Benjamin Franklin Shambaugh.

Benjamin Shambaugh was a gentleman and a scholar. An eminent historian, the No. 1 authority on Iowa's history, one-time president of the American Political Association, he was head of the political science department at the State University of Iowa in Iowa City, and the favorite campus character of Iowa's undergraduates.

Perfumed, bearded, bespatted, Benjamin cut a flamboyant figure in his prairie university. He wore brown tweeds, yellow shirt, red tie, red handkerchief. One of his proudest functions was introducing visiting lecturers. Visitors used to say that it was worth coming to Iowa City "just to be introduced by Benny."

Born of Iowa pioneers, Benjamin Shambaugh as a big, corned boy of 17 went to his State University, got two degrees, went on to study at the Universities of Pennsylvania, Halle, Liepzig and Berlin. In 1895 he returned to the University of Iowa, married an Iowa City schoolteacher (she, also a historian, has a place in Who's Who in her own right), devoted himself to teaching Iowa's youth to love their native state, became an Iowan Billy Phelps.

Famed was his unique Campus Course. Because he believed that specialization in university courses produced "fragmented minds," Benny Shambaugh took all knowledge in his province, illuminated it with homely prairie wisdom. His Campus Course began with Genesis, went there in all directions. A Unitarian, he horrified the devout by having his students read Genesis and a book on evolution at the same time. His students took no examinations, but kept diaries, turned them in each week to their professor. For his lectures, Professor Shambaugh had a special room built, furnished with Windsor chairs, walnut Venetian blinds, books, soft lights. He opened each class with ten minutes of semiclassical music, also recited Henry's "Invictus" to inspire his students.

Professor Shambaugh believed that U. S. universities should have "fewer big stadiums and more little theaters, fewer military armories and more free forums, fewer field houses and more art galleries." Today Iowa has one of the biggest field houses and military armories. But it also has a magnificent theater, outstanding departments of fine arts (Grant Wood) and letters (Norman Foerster).

One day last fortnight Benjamin Shambaugh, for almost the first time in his 44 years at Iowa, came late to class. Gravely he delivered his lecture, went home and told to his bed. Last week, at 69, he died of cerebral thrombosis. By his wish, his ashes were scattered on the campus, to enrich his beloved Iowa soil.

The world is changing with such bewildering rapidity that it was mighty comforting to many of us to read that the Socialists had nominated Norman Thomas their presidential candidate for the fifth time.

Stewart Says War Increasingly Affects U. S. Political Situation; Presidency Key to Fight

By CHARLES P. STEWART, Central Press Columnist

News is all war news, in one way or another. President Roosevelt has been making a big clean-up in the pre-natal convention primaries. That generally is interpreted as an American "don't change horses in mid-stream" complex—war being the stream that we shouldn't change horses in the middle of.

If F. D. R. is drafted again the assumption is that the war's status next November will be largely decisive as to the election outcome. It's been suggested that Herr Hitler preferred not to launch a blitzkrieg until after our election's over, being anxious to see, in advance, what Yankee reaction looks like toward European war conditions. But, just because Adolf did want to wait, it's sensed that the allies were getting ready to call his hand by hurrying him. It's taken for granted that he realized it, too; therefore tore loose in Scandinavia sooner than he originally intended, with a view of upsetting his foes' calculations. He succeeded, all right.

However, it all goes to show how the war mixes itself into our politics. Congress is bothered. The Scandinavian outbreak immediately started an outcry to the effect that congress ought not to adjourn while that row still is progressing. Adjournment had been expected by the end of May or mid-June, but the Scandinavian muss may spin matters out indefinitely.

The administration doesn't like this idea. It's notion is that it can do its own managing within reason, if things get hopelessly out of hand, an extra congressional session can be called at any time. Such senators as don't come up for re-election this year and such representatives as are pretty sure of being re-elected are willing enough to have the session go on their limit. But the lawmakers who have fights on their hands want to get home to do some campaigning.

So it follows that congress is all by the ears, due to the war in Europe. Well, what has the last municipal election in Shanghai, China, to do with the complication? A-plainly, from Uncle Sam's standpoint, believe me. Situation in Shanghai Shanghai is the trade gateway into China.

But Shanghai isn't a Chinese-controlled city. It's internationalized. It's English, American, Japanese and miscellaneous controlled. It's as much American as Broadway is, as much English as Fleet street, as much Japanese as the Ginza, in Tokio, et cetera.

It runs its own customs; it's absolutely independent—jointly. The foreigners have their own various postoffices and courts and everything, subject only to the international, local, municipal council. If you, an American, are pinched, charged with a U. S. offense in Shanghai, you're tried in a local U. S. court. If convicted, you're acquitted. If convicted, you're slammed in a local U. S. jail. If your offense is so serious they can't conveniently keep you in that hoosegow, you're transmitted to San Quentin.

Well, up to date Shanghai's municipal council has run things. It's been predominantly Anglo-American. But it recently had an election come on. The Japanese thought they'd win. If they had, they'd have had the occidentals at a disadvantage. They didn't, though. Shanghai went occidental.

Kate Smith Lonesome? Radio's Highest Paid Artist Is Probably Unhappy—Tucker

By GEORGE TUCKER

New York—The highest paid woman in radio—if you are interested in mundane information—is Kate Smith of Broadway and Lake Placid, who conducts an hour's broadcast one evening each week and a 15-minute chat at noon five days every week. It is believed her current three-year contract calls for more than $3,000,000.

This is the contract with the famous "war" clause. It is so drawn up that it can not be broken unless the U. S. becomes engaged in a war for a period in excess of five years.

If you go up to 1820 Broadway and ride the elevator to the top you will find a door with the word "Kated" in black, square letters on the door. Miss Smith's manager and representative is Ted Collins. Kate and Ted have incorporated. They own shows together, they make investments together. It is said there is no contract between them.

They own part of an island in Lake Placid on which are five buildings, two boat houses and a number of speed boats. There Kate Smith spends her summers, swimming and aquaplaning.

On May 1, Kate Smith will be 31 years old. It was just nine years ago, on her birthday, that she began her broadcasting career. Previous to this she was merely a lonesome girl, not very happy, singing in a Broadway show and working with comedians whose jokes annoyed and distressed her. Collins heard her sing and came around to see her. He wanted to interest her in making a number of recordings for a phonograph company. Thus began their partnership.

In many ways Miss Smith's career borders on the phenomenal, because she is the only woman in the entire history of radio who is given sole sway over a full hour's entertainment. No other woman ever reached as many people as she has, and no other woman ever made as much money.

And yet, with all her success and with all the material comforts her earnings have brought her, my guess is that even now Kate Smith's life is, well less than joyous. No one has said or even intimated such a thing to me. I base this on a scrutiny of magazines and papers through the last eight or nine years, and on years of listening to Broadway conversations which, to my knowledge, have included every celebrity I ever heard of—except Kate Smith.

Not once have I seen her in a theater or a nightclub. Miss Smith is not an easy person to see. But once you are past the lions at the door, she is a wholesome, hearty, even gusty talker. Her voice booms with enthusiasm, and she will discuss fishing or basketball or anything else you may care to bring up. Right now the thing that interests her most is getting back to that island in Lake Placid.

Hawks Smash Illini, 7-4, for Conference Win

Kocur Misses One

It was a valiant attempt, but Frank Kocur missed this attempt at a bunt in yesterday's game between Iowa and Illinois. The Hawkeye third-baseman, however, poked out an easy roller shortly afterward and reached first safely, eventually scoring on Stastny's hit. Iowa batsmen had a good day at bat against the Illini, clouting out 16 safe hits off three pitchers. The victory put Iowa in the lead, insofar as the early Big Ten race is concerned, with two victories.

—Daily Iowan Photo, Engraving Michigan with a victory in its lone Big Ten start, is tied with Iowa at 1,000 per cent, while Illinois and Wisconsin are not far behind. The Hawkeyes risk their undefeated standing against the Illini again today.

Whooping Brooklynites See Their Favorites Steamroller Rivals

BROOKLYN, April 19 (AP)—The venomous Dodgers slaughtered the New York Giants 12 to 0 today to give a whooping, boisterous crowd of 24,741 Flatbush fans an opening day thrill of practically pennant proportions.

Hugh Casey allowed nine hits in steering Brooklyn to its second straight shutout, but kept them well scattered and was seldom in danger of being scored upon and never threatened with losing.

The Dodgers simply steamrollered their arch enemies from across town, scoring one run in each of the fourth, fifth and sixth innings, three in the seventh and giving a grand fireworks display of six runs in the eighth when they batted around and the Giants fell to pieces.

None of the 12 hits the Dodgers corralled off Hal Schumacher and Cliff Melton were for more than two bases, but linked with seven bases on balls on other gifts they didn't need to be.

In their big inning the Dodgers loaded the bases on two walks and a single before Pete Coscarati singled one run across. Then Gus Mancuso singled for two more, two passes forced in a run and Harry Danning threw wild to let in another pair.

A double by Cookie Lavagetto with the bases loaded accounted for the three tallies off Melton in the seventh.

Bosox, A's Break Even In Double Bill

BOSTON, April 19 (AP)—After launching their home season by coming from behind for a 7-6 victory over the Athletics this morning, the Red Sox lost their first 1940 game by a 3-1 margin in the afternoon end of their twin bill.

Jimmy Foxx, who collected his second homer in as many days, Dom DiMaggio and Doc Cramer hit hard enough to knock in all seven of the Soxers' runs in the first game, thereby offsetting starter Jack Wilson's wildness.

Champs Take Home Opener

Gordon Hits Homer In First Inning; DiMaggio on Bench

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—The machine-like Yankees opened their American league home season today with a mechanical 5 to 3 triumph over the Washington Senators that lacked most of the gloss of the day's ceremonies.

Before the game started Commissioner K. M. Landis presented the Yankees with emblems of their fourth consecutive world championship, League President William Harridge dedicated a plaque in center field to the late Col. Jacob Ruppert and Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia tossed out the first ball.

The weather was cold, damp and dark, so a crowd of only 15,299 showed up.

The champs took all the contest out of the game with four runs in the first inning during which Joe Gordon hit a prodigious 350-foot homer with one on. After that they settled down to play their string out.

Gordon's swat was a drive into the lower left field grandstand that Manager Bucky Harris and most of the Washington players thought was foul. Harris continued his protests from the middle of the first inning right into the second and was banished from the park by Umpire Joe Rue.

Although they were not pressed, the Yanks looked nearly as drab as the day with Joe DiMaggio on the bench, Charley Keller leaving seven runners stranded on the sacks and Lefty Gomez looking slower than usual.

He finally retired after five innings complaining of a sore back and Steve Sundra took over, giving two of the visitors' runs and three of their hits in the remaining innings.

Harold Haub Gets Second Loop Win; Allows Seven Hits

By OSCAR HARGRAVE Daily Iowan Sports Editor
Battering a trio of hurlers for 16 bingles, Otto Vogel's University of Iowa diamond team rolled out into the van of the Big Ten race with a 7-4 victory over the highly-rated Illinois nine here yesterday.

The Hawkeyes managed two big innings, the third and fourth, while grabbing their second straight conference win and their 10th victory this year. They smashed out three hits in the third for three runs and added four in the next frame on six hits and an error.

Meanwhile, the invaders were held in check by Harold Haub throughout the first three innings and, although constantly threatening afterward, were unable to overtake the Iowa lead. They scored once in the fourth, twice in the fifth and once more in the seventh.

Haub started the scoring for Iowa in the third, to add materially in his second Big Ten win. After his single, a sharp single down the right field foul line,

Has Perfect Day

—Daily Iowan Photo, Engraving Erwin Prasse, Iowa second-baseman and all-around athlete, had a perfect day at bat yesterday as the Hawkeyes downed Illinois in a Big Ten game, 7-4. Prasse clouted out four hits in as many trips to the plate.

TODAY'S GAME
Today's game between the University of Iowa and Illinois baseball teams will start at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The Hawkeyes will depend on the pitching of Fred Hohenhorst, while Alan Grant or Adolph Gruenfeld are possible mound choices for Illinois.

the Iowa hurler stole second, advanced on Radics' infield out and came home on Andy Kantor's single.

Prasse singled, advancing Kantor to third, after which Jimmy George was safe on a scratch single and Kantor scored. Prasse came home on a wild throw, but Welp flied out to retire the Hawkeyes.

The fourth started auspiciously for the Hawks when Bob Cook cracked out a single through shortstop, but the Iowa outfielder was forced out at second on Kocur's bunt. A wild throw let Kocur to second, however, and he came home on Bob Stastny's single to right field.

Here, Haub took another hand in the offensive work with a booming double to right center, Stastny going to third. Both counted a moment later on Radics' single down the first base line, with Radics taking second on a peg to the plate that was too late to catch Haub. Kantor grounded out, but Erwin Prasse clouted out a single to send Radics to third, from where he scored on Jim George's single. The Hawkeyes were retired when a throw to second caught George in an attempted steal.

In the sixth, with two down, Haub walked Kallis to land in his highest spot of the game. Drechsler singled, to advance him and Kallis scored on a hit by Evers. Another hit, by Bill Hapac, brought Drechsler in before Drish whiffed to end the inning.

In the seventh the Illini scored their final run in another rally that didn't start until after two were out. Drechsler was again the troublemaker when he lined a triple into right field and came home on Evers' three-base clout. Hapac flied out to George to end the threat.

Bruins Shutout Cardinals, 5-0

French Hurls Six-Hit Ball; Rookie Stars

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs opened their home season today with a 5 to 0 shutout victory over the St. Louis Cardinals before a shivering crowd of 9,029 in 41-degree weather.

Larry French tossed airtight ball all the way, giving up six hits, including two doubles.

Rookie Bob Sturgeon, despite two errors at shortstop, was the Cub spark, getting a double and two singles off Morton Cooper and his successor, Jack Russell.

Manager Gabby Hartnett turned the catching chores for the day over to Al Todd and remained out of sight until the eighth inning when he went out to speak his mind to Umpire Ziggy Sears on a ball called on Batter Johnny Mize. French began the protest and Hartnett picked it up finally becoming so stubborn in his argument that Sears sent him to the showers.

Pepper Martin enlivened the proceedings in the second inning when he ran in from left field and forced out French at third after miffing Billy Herman's short fly. He beat French to the bag by about three feet. In the next inning Third Baseman Jimmy Brown was credited with a put-out at second base on a rundown that produced a double play.

Efficiency Test for Athletes Coach Baumgartner Devises Novel Athletic Test; Pits Golfers Against Gridmen

Golfer and gridder, basketball star and trackman will tangle next month at Iowa fieldhouse, it was announced yesterday by Gymnastics Coach Albert Baumgartner, in an intra-squad athletic efficiency meet. Dates of the events will be May 6 to 10, inclusive, with competition between 4 and 5 p.m. each day.

What the athletic efficiency event is, in actuality, is a series of tests which will be given members of all athletic squads in the hopes of discovering which athletes perform the most efficiently. Scores will be given on the basis of figures compiled in the athletic department.

Members of any and all University of Iowa athletic squads are eligible to compete, it is announced. Entries are required to sign up at the physical education office and to report their weight, height and the sport they participated in to Baumgartner.

In the series of tests which will be given to each entrant are nine distinct events, which are:

- 1. Pull-ups on the high-bar.
- 2. Three standing broad-jumps.
- 3. Rope-climb.
- 4. 220-yard run.
- 5. Shot-put (12 pounds).
- 6. 40-yard swim.
- 7. Backward circles on the high-bar.
- 8. Push-ups on the parallel-bars.
- 9. Gripping tests.

Winners will be rewarded with medals. A gold award will go to the first place winner, silver to second and bronze to third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh place men.

IOWA THINCLADS COMPETE TODAY IN KAN. RELAYS
Nine Hawkeye thinclads will compete in four events this morning and afternoon at the annual outdoor track classic, the Kansas Relays held in Lawrence, Kan.

Coach George Bresnahan's men will enter but one relay event, the four mile relay, the final squad to be chosen from five men, Cam Campbell, Ed Elliott, Arnold Carlson, Merl Erickson and Carl Schnoor. The remaining men will enter the individual contests, Bill Leuz in the shot put, Jim Wilson and Art Schlauder in the 100 yard dash, and Hank Vollenweider in the 120 yard high hurdles.

Green Recovering From Operation

The condition of Bill Green, University of Iowa gridder who was operated on Thursday evening at university hospital for appendicitis was reported last night as "good."

Green, one of the grid squad's fastest men, had been out for spring football in recent weeks. He shared the fullback spot on the Iowa team a year ago with Ray Murphy and is expected to be an important member of next fall's eleven.

The winners were never seriously threatened as they scored sweeping victories in the 100-yard dash, discus throw and javelin event. Times in the races were slow due to a slow track and stiff wind.

Sets Record In Marathon

BOSTON, April 19 (AP)—The range of hills that appeared as steep as peaks for the past four years seemed as flat as a prairie to 26-year-old Gerard Cote of Verdun, Que., today as he won the 44th Boston A. A. marathon in the record time of two hours, 28 minutes, 23.3-seconds.

It probably was the fastest marathon in history.

Cote lowered by 23 1-5 seconds the mark for the 26 miles-385 yards stretch from Hopkinton to Boston that Ellison (Tarzan) Brown set last year, and he finished more than a half-mile in front of the closest of his 164 rivals, little Johnny Kelley of Arlington, the 1935 victor.

Kelley's time was 2:32.00 3-5. Don Heinicke of Baltimore, last year's runner-up, was third in 2:32.21. The two-time winning Leslie Pawson, Pawtucket, R. I., alderman, placed fourth in 2:33.09 and the experienced Paul Donato of Boston was fifth in 2:34.54.

All is not SOLD that glitters

Rows of glittering trinkets - and yet you pass them by, wisely refuse to buy from hawkers, peddlers, hideaway salesmen.

Why? Because, like all smart shoppers, you prefer to know the goods you purchase. You insist on knowing the name of the merchant behind his wares, the attitude and personality of the store that sells them to you.

In your daily newspaper, you get these vital shopping-facts. Here, in these pages, the stores tell you exactly what they have. Here you can select ahead of time without stepping out of your front door. Here the merchant's signature in each advertisement assures you that the goods you buy will be exactly as advertised.

That is why clever budget-keepers shop in the newspapers first - discover where they can get what they want, and buy without the costly danger of fraud.

SUI Medical College Council Approves Curriculum Changes For Student-Patient Contact

Plan To Correlate Pre-Clinical Years With Practice Clinic

Changes in the curriculum of the University of Iowa medical college, among which is one aimed to bring the students more in contact with sick patients, have been approved by the medical council.

In the current issue of the Medical Bulletin, it is announced that one step is to break down the artificial separation which has existed between the pre-clinical and clinical years. Certain correlations now will be put in effect.

A series of "symptom clinics" and round table conferences has been instituted. Staff members from three to five departments are present, giving the students an opportunity to appreciate differences of opinions as well as the recognized principles of diagnosis and therapy.

Under terms of the new plan, additional departments will be included in the system. Dr. James A. Greene is chairman of the six-man committee which has been working since last August on the correlation of the curriculum.

This Horse, It Flew!

Mildred Haun's Story Recently Published In 'American Prefaces'

"Barshia's Horse He Made, It Flew" is the title of the first published short story of Mildred Haun, G of Franklin, Tenn., which appears in the most recent issue of "American Prefaces," nationally known journal of critical and imaginative writing. The magazine is published here by the school of letters.

Says Prof. Wilbur L. Schraum, editor, "Mildred Haun's strange story of the spell worked by a mountain is a part of a narrative of the Tennessee uplands which Bobbs, Merrill plan to bring out next autumn. Miss Haun lived in the mountains until she was 15, then went at a phenomenal rate through all the schooling she had missed, graduated from Vanderbilt and then taught country school two years."

Other contributors to the issue of "Prefaces" include Hubert Creekmore of Jockson, Miss.; Richard Sullivan of South Bend, Ind., and George Abbe, who is now teaching at Mt. Holyoke.

Abbe is a former student of creative writing here at Iowa and for his thesis wrote the novel "Voices in the Square." The poems in Prefaces are from his book which is to be published by Henry Holt.

Two Attend Grinnell Meet

Prof. Dewey Stuit, Don Mallett Speak At Meeting of Deans

When the spring meeting of deans of men of the senior and junior colleges and the universities of the state convenes today in Grinnell, two University of Iowa men will be in attendance.

Prof. Dewey B. Stuit, director of personal research, and Dr. Don Mallett, student counselor, will attend the meeting today.

Professor Stuit will speak on "Guidance and Selection Values of State and Regional Testing Programs." Dr. Mallett will present announcements for June, 1940, National Association of deans and advisers of men.

Each year the deans and advisers of men meet in some institution in Iowa for their programs. This year Grinnell college was selected for the meeting. Discussion will follow each of the speeches given throughout the day by those in attendance. Nearly every college and university throughout the state will have representatives.

Premiere of R. Maibaum's 'Middletown Mural' To Be Presented in University Theater May 6

The second world premiere within a year will be produced in Prof. E. C. Mabie's University theater when the curtain goes up May 6 on the comedy, "Middletown Mural," written by Iowa-trained Richard Maibaum. During the summer session last year the Iowa staff gave the first presentation of "Paul and the Blue Ox" by Prof. E. P. Conkle, who is now at the University of Texas.

Maibaum is expected on the campus any day. He is coming to supervise the production which will be the last play of the season's community series.

When arrangements were being made last fall to present "Middletown Mural," Maibaum stopped here en route to Hollywood. He highly commended Professor Mabie and his work, saying, "Everything I learned about the theater had its beginning here under Mr. Mabie. It was his supervision and direction that enabled me to have my first play produced."

During his undergraduate work

here, he completed 14 long plays most of which were produced in University theater and later in production houses along the eastern seaboard. In 1932 Maibaum received his master's degree here while assisting in the speech department.

Maibaum's fourth Broadway production was "See My Lawyer," which ran for 28 weeks. The show, which featured Milton Berle and Eddie Nugent, closed April 6. His other productions were "Birthright," "The Tree" and "Sweet Mystery of Life."

For four years Maibaum has written scenarios for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios except for a brief period when he was with Warner Brothers. Some of his screen scenarios are the Wallace Beery movies, "Stablemates," "Bad Man of Brimstone," and the newly released "Twenty Mule Team." He also wrote the script for "The Lady and the Mob," which featured Fay Bainter.

The Maibaum play will be directed by Marian Galloway, G of Savannah, Ga., who is a member of the dramatic arts faculty. The comedy has a cast of almost 50 people.

Janson To Talk on Exhibition In Arts Building Tomorrow

Lecture To Concern Paintings by American Contemporary Artists

H. W. Janson will talk on the current exhibition in the art building of contemporary American oil paintings from the Milch galleries of New York in the exhibition lounge tomorrow afternoon.

This is the fifth and last of the season's gallery talks sponsored by the art department.

Prof. Lester D. Longman was originally scheduled to speak at this time, but his talk has been replaced by Mr. Janson's.

Among the well known American artists represented in the exhibition are Lucille Blanch, Francis Speight, Leon Kroll, Maurice Sterne, Edward Bruce, Robert Phillips, Louis Ritman, Edith C. Blum and James Floyd Clymer.

Miss Blum is a niece of the former premier of France.

Mr. Janson presented two lectures on Picasso this year prior to the "Picasso Pilgrimage," and has given additional talks before the Baconian club and the Humanist society.

He received his master of arts degree from Harvard and joined the university art faculty in 1939 as an instructor in the history of art.

The program tomorrow afternoon will begin at 4:15 with a short concert of chamber music. Four students from the music department will play the first movement, Allegro, from the Quartet in D minor, "The Death and the Maiden," by Franz Schubert.

Members of the quartet are Virginia Agrell, A4 of Des Moines, first violin; Harrie Harlow, A2 of Toledo, second violin; Mildred Jensen, A3 of Council Bluffs, viola; and Jean McKnight, A1 of Iowa City, cello.

The oldest animal in the world is thought to be the Galapagos turtle, which is estimated to live to the age of 200 years.

City, will preside at the luncheon on the sun porch of Iowa Union. Starting at 1 o'clock, a series of discussions will be conducted in the social room of the women's gymnasium led by Prof. Marjorie Camp, Seals club advisor.

A demonstration by the club members in the local pool will conclude the play day. The public is invited to witness the Seals demonstration which begins at 2 o'clock.

Pi Lambda Theta To Honor Speaker At Dinner Tuesday

Dr. Bess Goodykoontz, will be guest of honor at a dinner given by Pi Lambda Theta, honorary education sorority, at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in Iowa Union. Dr. Goodykoontz is national vice-president of the group.

Reservations for the dinner should be made with Elinor Olson.

To Augment Speech Staff

Thonssen, Hitchcock To Lecture at SUI Summer Session

Major points in the field of public speaking will be covered at the University of Iowa during the summer session in the speech department.

The program will include courses, special lectures, and demonstrations in discussion, debate, extemporaneous speaking, and original oratory. It will meet the needs of high school debate coaches, junior college speech directors, and college and university teachers of public speaking.

University staff members will be augmented by Dr. Lester Thonssen of the College of the City of New York, and Dr. Orville Hitchcock of the University of Akron.

Grace Van Wormer Entertains 11 Guests

Grace Van Wormer, acting director of university libraries, entertained 11 guests at dinner last night at the home of Mrs. R. B. Munn, 430 N. Dubuque, and at an informal evening party at her apartment, 308 N. Clinton.

The dinner party is the fourth and last in a series in which Miss Wormer has entertained members of the library staff.

'Voiaiges,' Written in 1589, on Display

'New Land' Voyages Featured in Ranney Memorial Library Exhibit

"The Principall Navigations, Voyages and Discoveries of the English made by Sea or over Land to the Most Remote and Farthest Distant Quarters of the Earth at any time within the Compass of these 1500 Years," is the subtitle of the book "Voiaiges" written by Hakluyt in 1589 and which is currently exhibited in Ranney memorial library.

Although the Ranney copy of the book is not entirely complete, it is supposed that the book is a first edition copy of 1589. Around this book travels to the "new land" the exhibit of early voyages is centered.

Publish Two Master Theses In Journal

Two studies conducted under the supervision of Prof. Wendell Johnson of the child welfare, psychology and speech departments have recently been published in the "Journal of Educational Psychology."

Representing research done for a master thesis, one of the studies made by Darlene Duke under the direction of Professor Johnson is entitled "Revised Iowa Hand Usage Dexterity Quotients of Six-Year-Olds."

The other study, also a master thesis, was made by Velma L. Bissell of Grinnell college with the aid of Professor Johnson. The subject of this study was "Iowa Hand Usage Dexterity Quotients of One Hundred High School Students."

Plan Summer Law Courses

11 on Teaching Staff For Two Terms; Offer 14 Courses

A summer session teaching period of 11 weeks, during which 14 courses will be taught by 11 professors, has been arranged by the University of Iowa college of law.

Dean Mason Ladd said that the work would start June 10 and end Aug. 23. Courses are so arranged that the student may take work during either or both terms.

In addition to members of the regular faculty who will teach, Prof. Fred A. Dewey of Southern Methodist University of Dallas, Tex., will be on the summer staff. Prof. Dewey will teach a course in bankruptcy during the second term.

Among the courses which will

Iowa Professors To Address 'Child Education' Conference

Mortars-- Pestles Pharmacy Display Includes Several Antique Implements

Four University of Iowa professors will attend the Iowa Conference on Education of Exceptional Children at the Ames high school at Ames next Friday.

Each of these four educators will present addresses dealing with the various aspects of education for exceptional children. "A Survey of the Remedial Education Needs Among the Public School Children in Iowa" will be discussed by Prof. C. Esco Obermann, research fellow in child psychology and state supervisor of the Iowa Remedial Education program, sponsored jointly by the university and the state department of public instruction.

Two twin perfume bottles from Frangipanni which are encased in wicker and a pocket prescription balance which folds into a small oblong box are exhibited with four horn scoops in sizes varying from an inch wide to four times that size. A canvas-covered ounce-size Otto of Rose flask is displayed with the other vessels.

Among the mortars and pestles is a French bronze one from Chartres dated 1590. It has two handles, is rather small and is inscribed and embossed.

English brass from Canterbury dated 1885 and a Swiss bronze dated 1865 are placed beside the more modern glass mortars. The smallest is an English brass from Canterbury dated 1881 and the largest is a white Wedgwood mortar with a pestle headed with the same Wedgwood on a wooden handle.

The display is one in a series.

be offered are those on income taxation, international law, landlord and tenant, public utility regulation in Iowa, family law, and municipal corporations.

Obermann, Skeels, Johnson, McBroom To Appear at Ames

Prof. Wendell Johnson of the psychology department and technical director of the Iowa Remedial Education program will lecture on "Social Aspects of Education for the Handicapped."

A third address, "Reading Disabilities," will be given by Prof. Maude McBroom, principal of the University Elementary school.

Prof. Harold M. Skeels of the child welfare department and psychologist for state institutions will present "Educational Problems of the Mentally Deficient."

The meeting has been organized by a committee of three, headed by Dr. Virginia Earber, school psychologist of Davenport. Other members of the committee include Hilma Anderson of the Des Moines schools and Dr. Yuba Hunzley, psychologist in Sioux City schools.

Both Dr. Barber and Dr. Hunzley received their Ph.D. degrees at the University of Iowa.

Other speakers from schools and institutions throughout the state will discuss other aspects of education for exceptional children.

Arnold Levine Re-elected Hillel Head Thursday

Arnold E. Levine, A3 of Centerville, was re-elected Hillel president at an open election Thursday afternoon.

The other officers include Ruth Druker, A1 of Marshalltown, vice-president; Bernice Jacobson, A2 of Des Moines, recording secretary; Louise Nathanson, A2 of Estherville, corresponding secretary, and Ben Kutler, A3 of Council Bluffs, treasurer.

NEW PAINT BY DUPONT

Makes white houses WHITER—and keeps them WHITER!

THIS new Du Pont Prepared Paint is whiter. It contains titanium—the whitest pigment known to science.

And it stays whiter. As the months roll along, the weather under normal conditions actually helps this house paint clean itself. Accumulated dust and dirt are washed off by storms, leaving your house as freshly white as it was the day it was painted.

Du Pont Prepared Paint saves you money. Its great hiding power and "spread" mean that less paint is needed for the job. And its unusual durability means fewer repaintings.

Ask your painter to use Du Pont Prepared Paint. You'll see the difference—and you'll pay less.

BLACKOUT! Eggs, a Party and The Iowan Carry on Despite Necessary Electrical Repair Work

It shouldn't be called a blackout because it wasn't one of the type generally spoken of in Europe, the fatherland of blackouts.

But all who were affected will readily admit that it was pretty black last night between 10 and 10:35—all lights were out in all university buildings east of Clinton street.

All but one or two, that is. The Gables, cooperative dormitory at 21 N. Dubuque, was having a party last night and chose to be lighted by a special city electric wire rather than be without lights during the time required by university electricians to repair a burned out "pothead."

Affected were East hall, Eastlawn, music building, zoology building, zoology annex, Close hall and the electrical engineering building.

Most seriously affected were The Daily Iowan editorial and composing rooms. The former in the basement of East hall and the latter in the basement of Close hall were without light for the 35 minutes required for the repair work.

Since The Iowan's Associated

Press teletypes operate on a university circuit, arrangements were made with the Iowa City Press-Citizen for wire service during the "blackout."

Eastlawn, women's dormitory, was caught unprepared for the darkness; no one there had been warned because electricians had believed they were on a different circuit.

A special city electric wire had to be run into the zoology annex yesterday. Eggs in an electric incubator there had to be kept warm.

The janitor in the music studio building was making his nightly rounds "turning out the lights" when the power went off.

The "pothead," an opening in an underground lead electric cable through which wires go to a transformer, burned out last Wednesday morning and part of the electrical engineering building has been without power since then. Last night's repair work, which took place in the electrical engineering building, consisted of welding the wires that had been burned off by the short circuit.

Iowa Children's House Society To Hold Publicity Campaign, Emblem Sale Here Today

219 Johnson County Welfare Children Cared for by Group

The Iowa Children's House society will hold its annual publicity campaign and emblem sale for Johnson county here today, it was announced yesterday. Headquarters for the campaign, which will be directed by Ann F. Fisher, are at the Jefferson hotel.

Since its beginning 38 years ago the society has accepted the care and responsibility of 219 Johnson county children. Nearly 8,000 children have been received by the society.

The children are turned over to the society by district courts, welfare agencies and individuals. Children under 15 years of age are eligible, regardless of race or creed, officials said.

The emblem sale here is being sponsored by Mayor H. F. Wilkenbrock, Mrs. F. B. Olsen, the Rev. I. I. Jones, Mrs. C. A. Bowman, the Rt. Rev. Patrick J. O'Reilly, Marion Monroe, Mrs. E. J. Hubbard, the Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Voigt, John Barry and Mrs. Clarence Van Epps.

Louise Stevens Files Petition For Divorce

Louise M. Stevens filed a petition in Johnson county district court yesterday asking a divorce from Paul R. Stevens, charging the defendant with cruel and inhuman treatment.

According to the petition, the plaintiff and defendant were married in Des Moines, Dec. 6, 1929.

The plaintiff asks that she may be allowed to resume her maiden name, and that the court grant a sum of $50 temporary alimony and such permanent alimony as may be equitable.

The firm of Wilson, Clearman and Brant are representing the plaintiff.

C. of C. Meets For Campaign

Hageboeck Tells 75 That Agency Brings Trade Promotion

"The chamber of commerce is not merely an instrumentality for staging old home weeks or securing playgrounds, desirable as those things may be," W. T. Hageboeck, general chairman of the Iowa City chamber of commerce mobilization, told 75 workers in the general sales division at a meeting in the Jefferson hotel last night.

"The chamber is not merely an agency for stimulating retail trade nor for the sole purpose of developing conventions and more tourist trade. It brings understanding. It helps one to see his neighbor's point of view. It is a place where differences can be settled and conflicting ideas brought to a common focus. It's the American way of doing things."

Across the years the chamber has been promoting trade, the speaker said, building population, advertising the city's resources, developing city plans, fighting for the airport, promoting the development of parks and recreation, facilitating transportation, furthering good roads, helping finance the 4-H clubs and doing the many things which no individual could do alone.

"As you go out to sell a chamber investment you will find a few so-called business men who prefer to stand alone on the sidelines and throw bricks; you will find some who are willing to see what 'they' are going to do about the new program. Some of these men realize perfectly well that 'they' can't do a thing unless 'we' direct the doing but one alibi is as good as another," Hageboeck declared.

"Not in Iowa City"

"But you will find very few of this type of man in Iowa City next week when the final intensive mobilization starts."

Last night's "Town Hall smoker" was the initial get-together of the general sales division. Roscoe E. Taylor, "colonel" of this division, presided as chairman. The entire sales group, together with the personnel of all other divisions, will meet for the "Early Bird" breakfast at 8 a.m. Monday at the Jefferson hotel when the sales army of 75 men will start its intensive work.

L. D. Wareham, chairman of the executive special division, and Prof. E. W. Hills, chairman of the university group, have both called special meetings of their divisions in connection with the "Early Bird" breakfast, for final reports. The entire campaign ends next Thursday night.

Station Job Professional

Baity Tells Employees Of Sales Program For Spring, Summer

The service station's job is a professional job, R. F. Baity, manager of the Davenport sales division of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, told dealers from Iowa City and vicinity in announcing the company's sales program for this spring and summer at the Iowa City Community building last night.

A Hollywood sound movie, "Penny Turns Pro," was shown to illustrate how the service is professional. Sound slide films and dramatic skits were shown to illustrate how dealers can solve various sales problems.

Leading off and thereafter supporting Standard's 1940 sales program for Red Crown gasoline and Iso-Vis motor oil will be an extensive advertising campaign, more than three-quarters of which will be placed in daily and weekly newspapers, it was announced.

A 6:30 p.m. banquet was served and a professional floor show, consisting of eight variety acts, was presented after the banquet.

Davenport division officials of Standard Oil present at the dealer conference included, besides Baity, L. A. Day, assistant division manager; E. J. Ferriter, sales manager; and N. E. Kennard, advertising representative.

Named to Iowa Welfare Group

Elizabeth Mills of S.U.I. New 3rd Vice-President; University Doctors Talk

Elizabeth Mills, director of social service at University hospital, yesterday was elected third vice-president of the Iowa Association for Social Welfare at the organization's annual convention now meeting in Des Moines. The Associated Press reported last night.

Adria Titterton, general secretary of the Des Moines Y. W. C. A., was named president to succeed Dean Charles N. Burrows of Simpson college, Indianola, the report stated.

Dr. Theodore Grettman, assistant director of the state services for crippled children at Iowa City, speaking before a health welfare sectional meeting at the convention, told the group there are 300,000 crippled children of school age in the United States. He urged a consideration of the crippled child as a whole person, and not only as a physical defective.

Dr. E. D. Plass, professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Iowa, said that half the present deaths of mothers and babies in childbirth could be prevented if they were given proper medical care. Economic factors and lay ignorance combine to hinder the giving of such care, he pointed out.

Prominent welfare workers from cities and colleges all over Iowa are taking part in the Des Moines meeting.

'A Shot Resounded Through the Night'

Prof. John Briggs Writes of Pioneer Gangsters in Palimpsest

"Through the figures of the stately minuet and the graceful steps of the Virginia reel danced the ladies and gentlemen of Bellevue, as was then the custom, on the night of Jan. 8, 1840, in honor of the anniversary of General Jackson's victory at New Orleans. Suddenly there was a commotion at the door of the new hotel where the Jackson Day Ball was in progress; the fiddlers stopped playing, and a frightened, disheveled girl ran into the room."

With the above paragraph, Prof. John E. Briggs of the political science department begins a very interesting article in a recent issue of the Palimpsest concerning "Pioneer Gangsters"—a rarely-discussed issue in the history of Iowa.

Professor Briggs has done considerable research to present the facts in the story as authentic and has written the entire piece in a dramatic and absorbing style.

County Democratic Convention Meets in Courthouse May 4

Announcement that the Johnson county democratic convention will be held May 4 at the courthouse here was made yesterday by Attorney Will J. Jackson, chairman of the county democratic central committee.

When the delegates convene, 29 representatives will be chosen to attend the state democratic convention at Des Moines May 11. These persons in turn will participate in the election of state delegates to the national convention that will take place July 15 in Chicago, Jackson said.

Jackson pointed out that there is a possibility that Johnson county will send a double delegation to the state convention. If a double delegation is sent, he said, each representative will have half vote in the selection of national delegates.

It will also be decided at the county convention whether delegates will be bound by the unit rule in voting, he said. If the unit rule is adopted, Jackson said, the whole delegation will vote in accordance with its majority.

Jackson, speaking for the central committee, said that April 30 has been set for caucuses throughout the county. Meetings places, chosen for Iowa City precincts include the following:

First ward, first and second precincts, courthouse; second ward, first and second precincts, city hall; third ward, C. S. P. S. hall; fourth ward, first and second precincts, Community building; and fifth ward, first and second precincts, Iowa City Bottling works.

In Iowa City the first ward, 29 precinct will send 14 delegates to the county convention; the second precinct, nine; second ward, first precinct, 14; second precinct, seven; third ward, 24; fourth ward, first precinct, 13; second precinct, 12; fifth ward, first precinct, 13; second precinct, eight.

C. Hurst, D. Wenstrom, R. Intress Will Conduct Service Tomorrow

Three youthful laymen will conduct the entire Sunday service tomorrow at 10:45 a.m. in the Congregational church, it was announced yesterday.

Charles Hurst of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, will preside at the service. A member of the Alberta boys' work board, he has been active in promoting the Tuxis movement for youth in Alberta. He is now doing research work in the college of engineering.

After a long period of outrages in the outlying territories in the state of Iowa, a solution was temporarily gained. For several years the most effective method of maintaining peace and protecting property was through the activities of vigilance committees, called the Iowa Protection company.

"Gradually peace and security were established on the frontier; through the energetic defense of their homes and summary punishment of thieves, counterfeiters, and claim jumpers, the honest pioneers shaped the character of the frontier," Professor Briggs states. "As settlement increased, the 'due process of law' was substituted for spontaneous justice," Professor Briggs concludes.

Civil Service Examinations Close Today

Those who intend to apply for city civil service examinations will have until 5 o'clock this afternoon to do so in the city clerk's office, it was announced yesterday.

Although no positions are now available, officials said only those who have made formal applications will be eligible for the positions when they arise.

Rallies Called Largest In Movement History Throughout Country

By The Associated Press

America's student youth — thousands of them — rallied yesterday behind the slogan "The Yanks are not coming" in a "peace strike" protesting war and calling for the United States to remain out of the European conflict.

Sponsored by the "Youth Committee Against War" and supported by seven national youth organizations and the united student peace committee of 11 groups, the annual demonstration was described by some leaders as the largest in the history of the movement.

Many schools and colleges dismissed or postponed classes for campus meetings.

Two hundred white crosses — a grim reminder of Flanders fields of the World war — were set up on the University of Chicago campus and signs queried the passers-by, "Will your name be here?"

Similar crosses were erected on the University of Minnesota campus Thursday night, but the next morning they had disappeared. Officials said they were injurious to the grass. The students said they would protest.

Ford--

employer has deliberately planned and carried into execution a program of brutal beatings, whippings, and other manifestations of physical violence comparable to that shown by the uncontradicted and wholly credible evidence on which the findings are based.

"There was no limit of brutality to which this squad and those who were directing it were unwilling to go if necessary, for at one stage, even murder was planned."

Denham said that in the spring of 1937 when labor unions started organizing the automobile industry, the Ford company, "was mobilizing every available force to accomplish the defeat of labor in that struggle."

"It realized," he continued, "that the only possibility of accomplishing that defeat among its own employees would lie in sowing the seeds of distrust in unions, on the one hand, and the fear of reprisals from their fellow workers on the other, as the most effective way of preventing an inclination on the part of the employees to become union advocates."

Seeds of Distrust

Denham contended the company "sowed the seeds of distrust" by distributing its celebrated pamphlet, "Ford gives viewpoint on labor," to impress its employees throughout the country that the company was unwilling "to permit its employees to engage in labor organization and collective bargaining."

As a second step, he declared, the company sought to establish the "fear element" by gathering together the most brutal, vicious and conscienceless thugs in its employ and setting this gang upon any person pointed out to them as a CIO organizer, member, advocate or sympathizer, to be beaten, whipped, tarred and feathered or otherwise brutally assaulted.

Denham said that the Ford company for the most part offered no evidence to controvert circumstances described by witnesses in the Dallas hearing.

Oh Dear, My Polish!

Invent New Gadget To Protect Nails While Polish Dries

Flunked exams, "stuck" dances, runs in hose, these are the trying moments in a woman's life. But leading the list is the time when she has just applied a new coat of fingernail polish and the telephone rings!

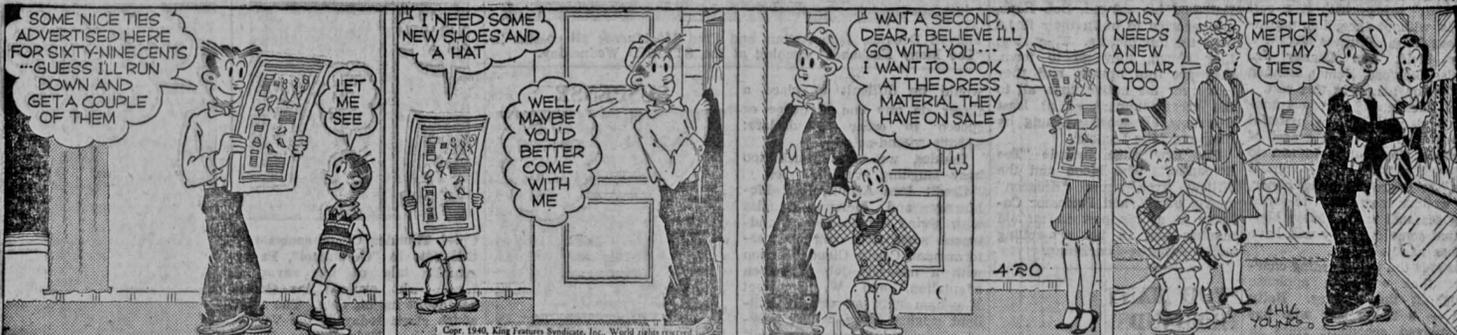

At last manufacturers have come to the rescue of the woman in this predicament with a gadget promising safety to sticky nails. The gadget is the "polishshield," which slips over each wet nail and protects it from harsh contacts.

The result will be a new race of women, a race unafraid to read books or turn magazine pages or even answer telephones while waiting for polish to dry.

'OF MICE AND MEN,' DYNAMIC TRIUMPH, AT ENGLERT TODAY

John Steinbeck's Book Never Expected To Reach Screen, But Here It Is

No one who had read the book when it was first published, ever expected to see John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men" appear as a film. It was too daring a subject, treated with a stark reality that was unheard of in films. And yet a film version, true to the very spirit of Steinbeck's finest novel, opens today for 3 days only at the Englert Theatre and proves once again that the screen is more powerful than the printed word.

"Powerful" described "Of Mice and Men" accurately. "Of Mice and Men" brings with it a cast that is, without exception, unusually excellent. Burgess Meredith, Betty Field, Lon Chaney Jr., Charles Bickford, Roman Bohnen are the top names in this cast.

"Of Mice and Men" was considered dangerous film material because it treats of an aspect of American life that is known to few — the lives of the "bindle stiffs," or migratory ranch hands, who wander from ranch to ranch doing seasonal work, always hoping that some day they will have ranches of their own.

But it is the three leading characters that will win applause throughout the country. Betty Field — a rising star who has only played schoolgirl roles in films until now — turns in a performance as the puzzled, unhappy wife of the ranch owner's son that is startling in its depth and intensity. Burgess Meredith, as George, the protector of Lennie, has topped all his previous stage and screen characterizations with the realism he gives this role and Lon Chaney, Jr. proves himself a true son of his gifted actor-father. Taken all in all, "Of Mice and Men" is an experience that no film fan should miss.

COMING: 'ROAD TO SINGAPORE'

Bing Crosby, Bob Hope Dorothy Lamour Star In Next Picture at Englert

The new travel trend to sojourns in the South Seas has its motion picture counterpart in "Road to Singapore," the sportive film which comes on Tuesday at the Englert Theatre, with Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour in the leading roles, seconded by Charles Coburn, Judith Barrett, Anthony Quinn and Jerry Colonna, the redoubtable Professor of Hope's Pepsodent show.

The Dean of the Kraft Music Hall and his old pal, Bob Hope, are reported to be in their finest form for this picture. They sing, they clown, they go to town, they get into brawls, and they look over the native girls, all to the accompaniment of at least five new hit songs as sung by Bing and Miss Lamour.

The new songs include "Too Romantic," "The Moon and the Willow Tree," and "Kaigoon," who wander from ranch to ranch doing seasonal work, always hoping that some day they will have ranches of their own.

'TOO MANY HUSBANDS'

Jean Arthur, F. MacMurray, Melvyn Douglas To Star In Strand Attraction

"Give credit where credit's due" is all very well, but how can special credit be given any one person for the triumphant gaiety of Columbia's "Too Many Husbands"? The delightful comedy, which opens Wednesday at the Strand theatre, blends its various artistic forms with such unsurpassed smoothness that it would be difficult to place a finger on any one sequence or speech in order to declare: "That's so-and-so's."

Besides, we were much too busy laughing even to care! Credit Jean Arthur, Fred MacMurray and Melvyn Douglas with giving Strand theatre audiences superlative comedy performance. Credit Claude Binyon with a masterly job of screen adaptation, and W. Somerset Maugham with an equally brilliant original story, which provided a vivid stage success. Credit Wesley Ruggles with having produced and directed a film that ranks high among the "top ten" of the season. Credit Columbia with a fitting successor to its many sensational comedies, such as "It Happened One Night," "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," "The Awful Truth," "You Can't Take It With You" and "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington."

In addition to the brilliant performance of the three stars, valuable characterizations are provided by Dorothy Peterson, as a love-starved secretary whose imagination places her in Jean's position, much to Jean's dismay; Melville Cooper, as an imperious butler definitely perturbed by the sudden discovery that he has two masters; and Harry Davenport, as Jean's sympathetic, "helpful" father who doesn't care which of the two men she chooses—she loves them both—just so long as she chooses one and gets rid of the other before the law catches up to her.

SUSPENSE

Betty Field and Lon Chaney, Jr. in a scene from "Of Mice and Men" film version of John Steinbeck's best selling novel, starting today at the Englert theatre with last times Monday.

a fascinating chapter of American history that begins when the United States ceded from Mexico the land which was to make up the states of New Mexico and Arizona. The Government acquired not only trackless wilds, but a troublesome tribe of Apache Indians unwilling to surrender the country.

A punitive expedition undertaken by the American Army discovers Geronimo is a relentless and wily foe. It is only after several thrilling battles are fought and unprecedented sabotage is uncovered that Geronimo is taken.

'GERONIMO' NOW AT VARSITY

Fascinating Chapter From American History Portrayed By a Capable Cast of Stars

"Geronimo!" — there was a cry to stop a sturdy hero when, in the days of his glory, that roaring, raging, vengeful savage roamed and raided the Great Southwest he wanted for his own! "Geronimo!" — there is a motion picture to race your pulse as the exploits of this last great Indian enemy cram the screen with action and romance of giant proportions!

Paramount cast this powerful story now at the Varsity theatre with people who know how to play their roles to the hilt. Preston Foster, Ellen Drew, Andy Devine, William Henry, Ralph Morgan and Chief Thunder Cloud contribute vivid portrayals.

With its basis in fact and its fact running faster than fiction, "Geronimo!" brings to the screen

'Ghost Comes Home'

Varsity Co-Feature

"The Ghost Comes Home," the co-hit, has Frank Morgan, minus his stutter but plus plenty of troubles, dodging from tribulation to complication in hilarious strides.

The story deals with a timid small town storekeeper who suddenly finds himself appointed to spend a million on his home town. Between night clubs and sirens, crooked bankers and his daughter's love affairs, he's the busiest dodger of trouble on record. Reported shipwrecked, he returns supposedly dead to find his family spending his insurance money. Finally, by exposing the crooked banker, he becomes the man of the hour.

'HUMAN MONSTER' OPENS AT IOWA

Newest Horror Film Not for Weak-Hearted Critics of Movie Declare

The most amazing horror film in screen history, Monogram's eerie chiller, "The Human Monster" opened last night at the Iowa theatre.

Judging from first night audience reactions, local M.D.'s, trained nurses and psychiatrists are in for a busy season.

Here is a horror film to end all horror films. The opening scene, for example, shows a half dozen bodies floating down the Thames River. After that, all is peaceful and serene, but only

'The Fatal Hour' Is Co-Hit at Iowa

The last day's shooting on any picture is apt to be pretty hectic, but it was more than that for pretty Marjorie Reynolds, who plays the feminine lead in Monogram's "The Fatal Hour," starring Boris Karloff, now showing at the Iowa theatre.

The climax to a day full of practical jokes came when poor Marjorie, all alone on a darkened, spooky set, had her eyes glued on a door waiting for a murderer to come through. But practical joker Bill Nigh, director of the picture, had the bad man come in from another direction, gently tap Marjorie on the arm, and say "Are you waiting for someone?"

For this scene Marjorie was supposed to register fright, and she had no trouble at all doing so. "The Fatal Hour" is the story of two murders at police headquarters, with James Lee Wong, Chinese detective, called in to solve them. Outstanding in the cast, are Grant Withers, Craig Reynolds, Lita Cheveret and Frank Puglia.

In Mexico City tourists may pick up bargains in the National Pawnshop, or Monte de Piedad, which is built on the site of the Aztec palace where Cortez was first entertained by the Indian king, Montezuma, and where the latter was killed by his Spanish guest. Proceeds of the pawnshop go to charity.
