VOLUME XXXVIII NUMBER 366

Everywhere you look these days you'll see high school musicians, here as guests at the first non-competitive music festival. There's work, but there's also play, as these representative pictures of festival activity disclose. In the scene at the left Roy Holmberg and Ted Madison of Burlington take a pot shot at an Iowa Union

doorman for diversion. Those pistols squirt water. Dick Humphreys of West Waterloo snaps a picture of some classmates in the

but they also get those great big bass viols and tubas, as demonstrated in the third scene. At the right are members of the championship Thomas Jefferson of

Pearey, Madeline Meidlinger and Martha Peters. This group will sing over WSUI this morning from 9:30 to 9:50 and again over the noonday Rhythm Rambles program from 12 to 12:30. Highlight of last day of festival activities today will be an exhibition by marching bands beginning at 1 o'clock in Iowa stadium.

Six High School Bands in Marching Exhibition Today

Iowa Stadium Will Be Scene Of Program

Awards To Be Given To Best Musicians After Concert Tonight

A climax will be reached this afternoon in the first annual University of Iowa high school music festival when six Iowa high school marching bands will perform in Iowa stadium.

Beginning at 1 o'clock will be a baton twirlers' demonstration, an exhibition drill by the University of Iowa Scottish Highlanders and a flag-raising ceremony.

Critics for this afternoon's events will be Prof. Eugene J. Weigel, head of the music department and director of bands at Ohio State university, and Irving J. Talmadge, director of bands at Proviso high school, Maywood, Ill.

Following the marching exhibitions, the six bands participating will form a massed band and will play.

At 5:30 this evening there will be a dinner in the Iowa Union river room for school executives, music teachers and supervisors under the joint auspices of the Iowa Music Educators association, the Iowa Bandmasters association and the music festival committee. Tickets for this event are available at the festival headquarters in the Union.

The concluding event on the program will be a concert tonight at 8 o'clock in the fieldhouse by the all-festival chorus, orchestra and band.

Following the concert Prof. Earl E. Harper will present special merit awards to those musicians who have been selected as possessing near-professional ability. To their school will go a plaque of recognition.

Dr. Thompson Stone, director of the Handel and Hayden societies and the Apollo club vocal organizations in Boston, Mass., conducts the chorus; Professor Weigel leads the band, and Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N. Y., conducts the all-festival orchestra.

This is the program to be presented by the groups tonight. Prelude to "Lohengrin," Wagner From Symphony No. 1, in E minor Hanson Seventeen women and 13 men were elected to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic society, at the annual spring election yesterday afternoon in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

New members will be initiated at 5 p.m. May 17. Students elected, who will graduate in June with B.A. degrees, were:

Roger Bardsley, Iowa City Bernice Bory, Omaha, Neb. Ruth N. Bunce, Cedar Rapids Mildred Damm, Buffalo Center John C. Fishburn, Muscatine Robert P. Hardwig, Waverly Clair Henderlider, Onawa Howard L. Harris, Newton Loren L. Hickerson, Iowa City Frances I. Highbarger, Muscatine

Mavis P. Hiltunen, Tower, Minn. E. Kathryn Holland, Mason City Blanche V. Houston, Little Rock, Ark. Eleanor M. Hurka, Cedar Rapids Bernard Hurwitz, Waukegan Pearl I. Johnson, Humboldt Helen M. Kahl, Bettendorf Nile C. Kinnick, Omaha, Neb. Alice L. Knight, Iowa City Clara Lauderdale, Tama Floyd C. Mann, Iowa City Bernice G. Moore, Davenport Emma C. Mueller, Van Meter Eldon R. Obrecht, Rolfe Susan A. Runner, Iowa City Herbert B. Smith, Iowa City Joan R. Snyder, Burlington Ruth E. Subotnik, Cedar Rapids Robert K. Tindall, Iowa City Charlotte J. Sabat, who graduated in January, 1940, was another of the students elected to the society yesterday.

Special delivery letters were sent out immediately following the election to notify those students who were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Twice a year the Phi Beta Kappa society, oldest national honorary scholastic fraternity, elects from qualified members of the senior class in liberal arts. Not more than five per cent of the seniors are elected since the society requires certain high scholastic standing.

The general requirement for the election to Phi Beta Kappa requires a grade point average of 3.2 or more on all work undertaken at the university. It is urged that all members of Phi Beta Kappa be present at the initiation May 17, which will be in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. Following the initiation ceremony, there will be a dinner at 6 o'clock at Iowa Union.

Headless Bodies Of 3 Men Found In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, May 3 (AP)—Headless bodies of three men, with the word "nazi" carved on the chest of one in five-inch letters, were found today in box cars assigned to the scrap heap at the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad yards in nearby Stowe township.

Authorities advanced one theory the three were victims of the "mad butcher of Kingsbury run," blamed for 12 torso slayings in Cleveland, because of the similarity to the "butcher's" work.

Mexican Oil Dispute Clears

Sinclair Makes First Settlement, United Front Finally Broken

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—A partial settlement of the long and bitter dispute over Mexico's seizure of American oil lands was reported tonight from Mexico City and the report seemed to be confirmed by developments here.

Dispatches from Mexico City said that the Consolidated Oil company (Sinclair) had reached a settlement with the Mexican government. The Sinclair properties were among the American lands expropriated on March 18, 1938. In the long dispute that followed, the American companies sought return of the oil fields or prompt compensation. They attempted to form a united front and sought a settlement covering all the oil lands.

The Mexican government held that settlements could be reached with the companies individually, tonight's developments appeared to indicate a break in the united front.

It was understood the agreement with Consolidated involved the delivery of Mexican oil to that company.

Many years of investigation, appraising and bargaining have led to an offer by the Iowa City Water Service company to sell to the city the local water plant at a maximum cost of $750,000. Approval of voters Tuesday would put into effect a contract for purchase of the company by the city. Payment of the purchase price would be met by a bond is-

Allies Prepare New Campaign To Win Italy

News Agency Hints At Risk Italy Would Run on Entering War

PARIS, May 3 (AP)—Semi-official French sources indicated tonight that as a result of conversations between the United States and Italy, a new allied campaign is in the offing to woo Italy away from Germany with economic benefits.

The Telefrance news agency, after stressing the risk Italy would run if she entered the war on the side of the nazis, declared:

"An attitude of neutrality clearly and definitely affirmed would, without in any way touching Italian prestige, safeguard her from this risk and permit her to play the role which belongs to her in the Mediterranean basin after all the tension and distrust disappears."

The agency added its warning that "if, thanks to the Washington government, Italy is led to define her position with more clearness, we hope she will be convinced of the necessity—if she want to continue certain vital and traditional relations with the democratic powers in Europe and on the other side of the Atlantic—of practicing a strict policy of neutrality."

Balkans Look Toward Greece

ATHENS, May 3 (AP)—Arrival of a British-French battle fleet in Alexandria and reports of a large-scale Italian naval air and army concentrations in the Dodecanese islands switched southeastern Europe's anxiety over possible spread of the war sharply to Greece today.

Athens itself was calm, but alert.

Italy Cautious; Views 'Unnecessary' Allied Maneuvers in South

ROME, May 3 (AP) Italy, as though anxious to avoid war, displayed official caution tonight amid tension over the Mediterranean which extended from Athens across the Atlantic to Washington.

The Italian tendency was to treat as unnecessary the maneuvers of allied war fleets in the Mediterranean, now at Alexandria, as well as diplomatic attempts to keep the war from being spread by Italian action.

Nazis Boast Preparedness

Declare Britain Must Act To Overcome Deflation of Prestige

BERLIN, May 3 (AP)—Germany boasted of full preparedness tonight to resist any stroke by Britain to offset her "catastrophic defeat" in Norway.

Alert for action they said must come from the British in an effort to revive their prestige, Germans said "we are prepared, come what may" in any new theater of war while mopping up proceeds quickly in Norway. They predicted this task would be finished in less than two weeks except for the besieged far northern port of Narvik.

Attention mainly was riveted on the Mediterranean as the possible scene of British action following Prime Minister Chamberlain's announcement yesterday of the concentration of a British and French battle fleet at Alexandria.

Authorized sources emphasized, however, that it is up to Premier Mussolini of Italy to decide what to do about the Mediterranean situation.

Whatever his decision, it was said, Germany then will fulfill her obligations.

New Unrest Surges About Chamberlain

By EDWIN STOUT LONDON, May 3 (AP)—Great Britain tonight announced the abandonment of Namsos and central Norway to the Germans—an acknowledgment that added new force to unrest surging within the very foundation of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's government.

A communique telling of the end of the campaign to wrest southern Norway from the Germans said allied troops still in the far northern Narvik areas repulsed German counterattacks Wednesday and Thursday. It mentioned no operations there today.

Government on Spot

Coming as it did within a day of the abandonment of Andalsnes, tonight's announcement quickened attacks on the Chamberlain government even from within its own ranks.

Clement Davies, member of the liberal nations who support the government declared: "The country can not be properly organized until the government goes."

Davies told of a meeting with a group of colleagues who thought the same way he did and decided to work against any vote of confidence during "the biggest crisis we ever had to face."

Reports

The terse war office communique announcing the Namsos withdrawal during last night, after a day of uncertainty in which Britons already had heard the news from Sweden and Germany, said the re-embarkation was carried out with complete success and without loss. (Norwegian reports said a German air bomb killed 30, wounded 60.)

It said the abandonment of the Namsos front, north of German-held Trondheim, was carried out "in accordance with the general plan of withdrawal from the immediate neighborhood of Trondheim."

It read very much like Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement yesterday telling of the withdrawal from Andalsnes to the south of Trondheim.

Fighting Stops at Surrender; British Control Only Narvik

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS STOCKHOLM, May 3 (AP)—The expeditionary armies of the allies today abandoned the whole of Norway below the Arctic circle and the Norwegian central command, left to hold the line against the massive German war machine almost without bullets, bitterly gave up the fight and sued for an armistice to negotiate peace in the central area.

From the little town of Grong, on the Steinkjer-Namsos front above Trondheim, emptied of allied troops in a startling two day withdrawal and re-embarkation, acting Norwegian Commander Col. O. B. Getz sent word of the surrender in an order of the day surcharged with disillusionment.

German forces later were reported to have reached Grong and to have made contact with the Norwegians, with all fighting reported stopped.

Getz, at the reported instigation of a majority of his officers, decided to ask for the armistice for the whole Trondheim area after the allies left. He did not, however, speak for the Norwegian government, which alone has power to sue for peace for the country as a whole, and so far has made no such move.

He placed full blame for his plight on the allies. "The British and French—for reasons unknown to us—have given up helping us in our fight and have withdrawn their troops from Namsos," he said.

"We stand today alone against the entire German war machine, already outflanked and encircled on the line which the British and French should be holding. . . without aid from outside. . . with only enough ammunition for one day. . . without planes and other necessary war materials.

"Any further fighting would only lead to destruction, without serving any military purpose.

"I therefore am notifying the German military command to establish contact toward establishing peace on the Trondlag area (all the area both north and south of Trondheim), as has been done in the southern part of the country.

"It is my heavy duty as acting commander of Trondlag to give this notice to the soldiers under my command."

To this, Colonel Getz added: "It was an incomprehensible action on the part of the British and French, without notifying me, to lay open my flanks in the rear so I was cut off from any possible retreat toward Mosjoen."

German troops were expected in the area held by the Norwegians at any moment.

The allies' general withdrawal from all the center of the country left them with a grip upon Norway only in the far northern sector about Narvik, the German-held iron ore port.

Whether some of the troops withdrawn from central Norway would go there was in doubt—(one British officer said they were going "to England")—but in any event, the war in central Norway was finished.

All fighting was reported stopped.

The British and their French "Blue Devil" supporters pulled out of the Steinkjer-Namsos front, 60 to 100 miles north of German-occupied Trondheim, leaving behind entrenchments, supplies and ill-equipped, hopelessly outflanked Norwegians. Then they sailed away in their ships.

For Sale: Water Company to City for $750,000 or Less located in southern and western United States. Because of this long distance, it was pointed out, management and supervision involves expense in traveling and reporting to government authorities.

Two Suggestions

Although little public discussion has been held either way on the issue, only two main suggestions have been offered for settlement before the election. The first is that a well be sunk as a future source of water instead of the present use of river water, thus possibly eliminating certain treatment facilities. According to a report submitted last night by Prof. Jack J. Hinman Jr., of the preventive medicine department and water analyst, "It would be unwise for Iowa City to attempt to depend upon a single well, even in the unlikely contingency of its yielding an adequate quantity of water."

Hard Water

In his lengthy script stating possibilities of wells, he continued that all ground water which may be secured in Iowa City, or in any other area in which limestone and dolomitic rocks predominate, will be hard. The second suggestion offered is that further study be made as to the property value of the plant, or whether the $750,000 is a fair price.

Five prominent engineering firms, two hired by the city council, two hired by the local company and the fifth chosen by the other four, in 1932 submitted almost identical inventory reports of the company's property.

Their separate appraisals averaged $778,000, according to records. Allowing even for depreciation, which they say is almost negligible, company officials state that their property is even more valuable today because major items in the cost and replacement value of distribution system were at a low market figure. According to the proposition before the voters, since the plant would be paid for by the issuance of revenue bonds, additional taxes would be unnecessary.

Blind Flying To Europe?

THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS authority is now considering the application of American Export Airlines for permission to fly the trans-Atlantic route...

In view of the added perils surrounding such undertakings, the United States might do well to refuse the license and discourage additional flights...

A Symbol Of Human Progress

THE FIRST MAN to step up to the post office counter somewhere in England on May 6th, 1840, gave little thought to the forward step in human progress...

With the advent of postage stamps it became possible, due to the resultant saving in book-keeping and the sweeping postal reforms which took place at the same time...

A century has passed since the man in England purchased the world's first postage stamp...

Separation Of Church And State

THAT complete separation of church and state is a myth was amply demonstrated at the Atlantic City convention of the new Methodist church.

church convention declaring Taylor's appointment "has created a spirit of uneasiness and resentment in the minds of a great number of people...

Taylor's appointment was not calculated to drag religion into statecraft; we believe it was a genuine and worthwhile effort to bring some basis for peace into a chaotic world.

In expressing this belief in the form of a resolution to the president, the Methodists were seeking to exert the very influence of church over state that they were warning against.

The Privilege Of Voting

IOWA CITIZENS will vote May 7 on purchase of the Iowa Water Service company plant.

The question of municipal ownership of utilities has been discussed on both sides many times in Iowa City.

Iowa City has witnessed the phenomenon of a private utility wishing to keep its franchise, and voted to continue the utility under private ownership.

Now Iowa City witnesses the phenomenon of a private company wishing to sell its plant to the city. Not only the company's position, but the general modern concept of utility ownership...

Any failure on the part of voting citizens to acquaint themselves thoroughly with the proposition before the electorate is to be deplored.

Not only the circumstances surrounding the present proposal but the general trend toward municipal ownership must be intelligently thought out individually.

The duties of American citizens were never more important than they are today when democracy is being weighed in the balance.

Questions on municipal ownership of utilities are as important as election of public officials.

The officials of the Iowa Water Service company have expressed their willingness to talk with voters and allow them to inspect the plant. Unless voters May 7 have taken their opportunity to investigate both sides of the question...

Iowa's Oldest Alumna

DID THE headline in yesterday's Iowan, "Iowa's Oldest Alumna May Return in June," make an impression on you?

Mrs. Etta Raymond Holmes of Pasadena, Cal., has been declared by university officials to be the oldest alumna of our Iowa. She is 95 years old and graduated during the Civil War days.

Considering the possibility of returning for the diamond anniversary of her class, Mrs. Holmes said, "It wouldn't be a reunion for me, because there isn't anyone left of my old classmates for me to meet."

It's very true, what she says, but she would come to Iowa City if she could afford a trip for two from California. She would need assistance on the trip, and under the circumstances, she explained, she couldn't afford to make the trip.

Wouldn't it be a nice thing if the university could invite Mrs. Holmes to be its guest at this, the diamond anniversary of "her class"? It's a record to be alive at 95 and still be able to remember and appreciate the university you once attended and graduated from 75 years ago.

If the university would sponsor this trip, Mrs. Holmes, Iowa's oldest alumna, would return in June. With her she would bring years of experience. Think of the fun she would have comparing our university with what was the university when she was a college co-ed.

THE NICEST thing about the current controversy over whether short spaghetti is as good as long spaghetti is that it reminds us we live in a country where people can still become excited over such things.

Now we know why the Germans call it "blitzkrieg." Like lightning a blitzkrieg has only to strike a spot once to do the job.

Zadok Dumbkopf says a pacifist is one who likes his skies plain blue, trimmed with white clouds—and not polka dotted with bombing planes.

CARNEGIE MEDALING IN EUROPEAN AFFAIRS

State Department Investigates Reports That Germany Is Trying To Stir Up War for U. S.

Shanghai reports that Germany is trying to stir up a war between Japan and the United States lack confirmation but they have a sufficient air of plausibility to have set the state department to investigating them with a vengeance.

Naturally, Japanese-American relations were strained. Secretary Hull's warning, to be sure, was as applicable to the British and French as to Japan.

However, the British, French and Dutch consulates in Shanghai contend that there was no accident about it.

His account is that German Ambassador U'gore Ott, in Tokyo, paid that newspaper chain in Japan 20,000 yen to publish a yarn of his own, calculated to create an overwhelming Japanese demand for an overnight Japanese seizure of the Indies, in defiance of Yankee wishes, thus precipitating a Jap-American crisis in short order.

The German's reason for desiring such an armed clash is easy to see.

It would be a mean scrap for Uncle Samuel. At short range the latter is too heavy a weight for the mikado, but it would preoccupy him decidedly to have to handle hostilities away across the Pacific in the Netherlands East Indies' waters.

Such a war would keep Uncle Sam out of Europe, on the off-chance that he finally were to think of butting in on the west front. And, anti-war as we seem to be, Herr Hitler doesn't disregard that contingency, remembering the last time. And furthermore, Herr Hitler undoubtedly reckons that, engaged with the Japanese, we'd have to keep the bulk of our war supplies for ourselves; not send them to the allies.

I'm not predicting that such a situation will follow. I simply am suggesting that it's what this Shanghai story appears to contemplate.

Slack Propaganda It's rather slick propaganda, if that's what it is. It's triangular.

It isn't perpetrated directly on us. Propaganda in our own country we can largely guard against. But no Dies committee can cross the Pacific to expose it in Japan.

What the state department can do about it is problematic.

Secretary Hull is trying to be as warning and yet as pacific as he can.

Nevertheless, seemingly he has a mean competitor in mischief-making German Ambassador Ott, evidently an extremely competent German propagandistic chain newspaperman.

Kate Smith-Good Hobby World's No. 1 Fan Prints Newspaper Publicizing Singer

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—If Kate Smith thought as much of Kate Smith as Katherine Carruthers thinks of Kate Smith, Kate Smith wouldn't be able to live in the same house with Kate Smith.

Katherine Carruthers is unquestionably the world's No. 1 fan, and Kate Smith is her hobby. This is a hobby that over a period of seasons has been developed into a high ritualistic science, and if you are inclined to doubt such a statement, kindly consider these facts.

Katherine Carruthers lives on Long Island and works in a New York bank. I would say that she is in her 30's. Every Friday evening, without fail, she arrives for the Kate Smith broadcast, at the CBS studio No. 2, in 45th street. And every Friday night, without fail, she sits in the same seat, on the aisle, and takes down in shorthand every word that is uttered on the program. She notes the sequence of the show and makes a detailed record of the entire hour.

Then she waits around for the "repeat" broadcast, which is three hours later, and she again takes shorthand notes on everything that is said and sung and done. Invariably she then hurries to the stage door and waits until Miss Smith comes down. She says hello and congratulates her on her performance. By this time Kate Smith is climbing into her own car, and then Miss Carruthers goes on to her home on Long Island. It is then 1:30 a.m. In addition, she is the head and founder of the Kate Smith Fan club, which puts out a regular Kate Smith newspaper (the last edition had 40 pages). One of the features was a story entitled, "How I Would Entertain Kate Smith If She Were a Guest in My Home for a Day."

Miss Carruthers also maintains an extensive clipping service, and every word printed about Miss Smith goes into her private press books. Sometimes she sends these books to Kate's office for her staff to look at, and invariably they are more nearly complete than Miss Smith's own records.

When stories that are erroneous appear in the papers, Miss Carruthers writes protesting letters to the editors. When new studio pictures are made of Miss Smith, Miss Carruthers orders duplicate copies for herself. Once on a western tour Miss Carruthers wired ahead and had photographers meet the entourage and take various pictures of Miss Smith amid western scenes. All of these activities are done at her own expense.

As for Miss Smith, whenever she begins a new program she always presents Miss Carruthers with a bouquet of flowers. These Miss Carruthers takes home and presses in books. Beyond this, and beyond sidewalk greetings as she leaves the studio, Miss Smith seldom sees her. She never has entertained her in her dressing room, or in her home.

Hawks Mangle Chicago Diamond Team, 14-3

As The Hawkeyes Pasted Chicago

The Hawkeyes were headed for, and around, the bases a good share of the time yesterday as they clubbed Chicago university's baseball team by the lop-sided score of 14-3. In the above picture, Erwin Prasse was out for once as he was caught on a close play at first.

Herschberg, Maroon first baseman had just taken a throw from the pitcher who had thrown Prasse's grounder and bases umpire Chuck Seemuth raises his right hand in the "Out" signal. Shortly before this Prasse had clouted a three-base hit. Below, Andy Kantor belts out one of Iowa's extra-base knocks. This time, in the fourth inning, it's a triple. The fourth was one of Iowa's best innings, the Hawkeyes scoring four runs.

Buddy Baer Flattens Mann In Seventh Round of Bout

Floors Foe After Losing Early Rounds

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—Buddy Baer of Sacramento, Cal., won by a knockout over Nathan Mann of New Haven, Conn., after 1:36 of the seventh round of their scheduled 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Baer weighed 249 and Mann, 188.

The end came with dramatic abruptness after six rounds in which the lighter Mann held his own and carried the fight to the apathetic and logy Baer. Leaping from his stool at the start of the seventh, Baer rushed across the ring and began to belabor Mann with a series of long, vicious rights and lefts. A right under the heart put Mann down for a nine count. He arose groggy and bleeding but fought back gamely, but mammoth Baer scented the kill and followed his opponent around the ring pouring in volleys of punishment from all directions. Again Mann went down for nine and when he arose, his face a gory smear, he dazedly turned his back on Baer and started for his corner. Referee Arthur Donovan walked over to Baer and hoisted his hand as the winner.

MADISON, May 3 (AP)—Pitcher Johnny Saxer withstood a series of rallies and the University of Wisconsin edged out a 7 to 6 victory over Indiana in a Big Ten conference baseball game today.

Wildcats Down Minnesota, 6-1

MINNEAPOLIS, May 3 (AP)—Northwestern spoiled Minnesota's Big Ten baseball opener today, smothering the Gophers under a 15 hit attack and winning, 6 to 1. The Wildcats routed Stan Sowa, star Gopher pitcher, meanwhile getting five hit pitching from John Goldak who blanked Minnesota after the first.

Netsters Nose Out Grinnell

John Paulus and Bob Jensen pulled the Iowa-Grinnell tennis match out of the fire yesterday in Grinnell, as the Hawkeye sophomores came from behind to win over Gene Piesner and Capt. Jack Wagner and give the Hawks a 4 to 3 victory.

Piesner and Savage, winner in their first doubles match against Iowa two weeks ago, took the first set, 6-2. However, the powerful serve and overhead of Paulus and the hard driving tactics of Jensen proved to be the deciding factors in the match as the Hawk team took the next two sets 6-4, 6-2. Piesner defeated Bob Wollenweber in straight sets to take the top singles match 8-6, 6-3. Paulus kept the Hawks in the running with a 6-3, 6-3 victory over Captain Savage. Jensen easily took the measure of Jim Beisenstein 6-0, 6-1, and Lou Wurl won the third Hawk singles victory over Bob Oetzen 5-7, 6-1, 6-0. Al George won the number five match from Earl Crain 7-5, 6-3. Oetzen and George combined for Grinnell to whip the Wollenweber and Wurl 6-3, 6-2 in the second doubles match.

Tiffin, Solon Advance to Final In Local Baseball Tournament

Fast times marked yesterday's league races in the all-university canoe tournament. The two divisions which were contested were Quadrangle and Hillcrest.

Lone Tree, Shueyville Semi-Final Victims; Finals This Morning

In the major upset of the county tournament, Tiffin rolled over Lone Tree, 11 to 8, combining steady pitching and tight support in the clutch, to take the win yesterday morning on the freshman baseball diamond. In the other semifinal game, Solon ran true to form in spanking Shueyville, 24 to 6.

Tiffin jumped into an early 5 to 0 lead, but saw the advantage steadily whittled down to an 8 to 7 score in the last half of the sixth. Three Tiffin markers in the final inning iced the game, however, and offset a Lone Tree rally in their half. Junior Madden pitched shutout ball for three innings and finished the game, despite hard Lone Tree hitting in the late innings. Wayne Stonebarger, the Lone Tree ace, was off form, but pitched until the sixth when he retired after being hit in the nose by a ground ball. Stonebarger also scored two of the Lone Tree runs, one on a homer and was helped mostly by G. Brinkmeyer who knocked out two doubles and a single in three official times at bat.

Bees' Bill Poseidel Hurls as Boston Takes 4-2 Game

ST. LOUIS, May 3 (AP)—Bill Poseidel's hurling and hitting gave Boston's Bees their second victory of the year today, a 4 to 2 triumph over St. Louis' faltering Cardinals.

ST. LOUIS, May 3 (AP)—He also went out for basketball one year and starred, but too much athletics would cut down on scholastic efficiency, he figured, so he dropped that and also let baseball ambitions go.

It is also notable that another of Iowa's most famous athletes, Erwin Prasse, leaves this spring. The Prasse record will include the winning of nine Iowa major letters, something no Hawkeye has done for years. Prasse was all-Big Ten end for two years, catching a good share of the passes last fall for winning touchdowns. He starred on the basketball team last winter and now leads the Iowa baseball team in hitting. He also has been voted Iowa's "Athlete of the Year," having won the trophy in 1929.

Hawkeye Highlights

About seven University of Iowa swimmers and Coach Dave Armstrong will appear at the Junior chamber of commerce party at Mason City May 13. . . a full program of tank demonstrations and comedy acts. Swimmers will elect their captain at the annual picnic May 12. . . leading candidates appear to be Carl Ahlgren of Des Moines and George Poulos of Marshalltown.

It appears that the Big Ten javelin record of 210 feet 7 3/8 inches set in 1935 by Mark Panther of Iowa is safe for another year. . . the current conference crop will be lucky to hit 200 feet. Iowa's ball team is none too confident for the Northwestern series at Evanston May 10 and 11. . . those Wildcats, who recently beat Notre Dame, might sneak over a victory in one of the games.

By OSCAR HARGRAVE

Nile Kinnick's batting average for the year of 1939-1940 became exactly 1,000 per cent yesterday with the announcement that the all-American halfback had been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the highest scholastic honor a man can win at the university.

Just look the record over carefully. Most of us never even make a letter on an athletic team—at least we don't, as a rule, make big names for ourselves. Neither are we students of note.

Yet, as proof that a man can excel in all things, Kinnick became the nation's best known athlete last fall, brought back almost every trophy given to sports stars and returned to the campus to complete his four years of university work as an honor student.

One could marvel at length about the number of honors that Kinnick has won, but a brief recounting seems impressive enough. Suffice it to say that he was named on every major all-American football team, won the Helmsman award, voted to the nation's outstanding glider, was named the year's outstanding athlete by Associated Press writers, won the Maxwell and Walter Camp trophies, was captain of the all-American eleven, took the Big Ten's most valuable player award and won The Daily Iowan trophy, voted him by university students as the "Athlete of the Year."

Since then, in regard to work on the campus, he was voted the president of senior class presidents and, finally, won the coveted Phi Beta Kappa key. All we can say is that it's been a busy year for Nile.

He also went out for basketball one year and starred, but too much athletics would cut down on scholastic efficiency, he figured, so he dropped that and also let baseball ambitions go.

It is also notable that another of Iowa's most famous athletes, Erwin Prasse, leaves this spring. The Prasse record will include the winning of nine Iowa major letters, something no Hawkeye has done for years. TO ALL IOWA CITY CITIZENS:

For Lower Water Bills, Lower Taxes or a Better Water Supply

WHAT MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF THE WATER PLANT MEANS TO YOU AS A CITIZEN, TO YOUR FAMILY, TO THE COMMUNITY AS A WHOLE - WHY IT IS WORTHY OF YOUR SUPPORT

(This is group number three of a series of pertinent questions and answers.)

Why would it be advantageous for Iowa City to acquire the water plant?

Because, after making all necessary provisions for payment of revenue bonds, a substantial profit accrues to the City which may be used for any one of the following purposes:

- (a)—For improvements in the plant.
- (b)—For the reduction of water rates, providing better quality of water, reduction of taxes or a combination of all 3.

The Iowa Water Service Company is making only a fair return on its capital invested and, under private ownership, no reduction of rates is possible. The City, however, can operate the water property much more cheaply than can any private company. The company has to pay 5 1/2% on its bonds. The City will pay 2 3/4%—just half as much. The company has to pay state, county, city and school taxes, Federal income taxes, social security tax and capital stock taxes, none of which the City has to pay. The company has considerable legal and franchise expense. The company has to pay a portion of the expense of the holding company's New York and Chicago offices and the salaries of out-of-town executives. None of these the City has to pay.

For the 5 years from 1935 to 1939, inclusive, the company's average yearly gross revenues was.....$130,159

This figure is a matter of public record, as the company's statements have been filed periodically with the City Council.

After eliminating expenses which the City would not have to pay, the plant could have been operated for..... 50,000 annually; leaving a remainder of..... 80,159

to pay all interest on the $750,000 of 2 3/4% bonds; and to pay the bonds off in 30 years would require an average annual payment of..... 36,903

This will leave a surplus of..... 43,256

If the plant is purchased, the City and School District will lose a tax revenue of approximately.....$ 6,500

It is only fair that this should be repaid to the City and School District from the revenues of the plant. Deducting this leaves..... 36,756

This would be after all payment on debt as a net profit to the City for each year, while the plant itself is being paid for within 30 years.

This $36,756 would pay for a water softener within less than 2 years or would make possible a reduction of 20% or more in water rates; or could be transferred to the General Fund to enable a reduction in taxes.

What about providing a supply of softer and more palatable water?

Reports show that the raw water supply of the Iowa City plant is adequate as to quantity and that the water is of good quality, though somewhat hard. If softer and more palatable water is desired, the management board of trustees would be in position to make full investigation and recommendations. Through the medium of municipal ownership, Iowa City would be in a position, out of surplus earnings, to provide water of the desired qualities, but if the City does not avail itself of the opportunity to acquire the plant, it has no recourse except to attempt to force the private company into desired action, possibly at the expense of higher rates and as the result of questionable legal action. Under municipal ownership with a management board of trustees in control, there could not arise questions of political influence or patronage nor hampering legal difficulties, and all necessary means for required improvements would be available. The longer the City delays the acquisition of the plant, the more difficult becomes the solution of either lowered water rates, improved quality of water, or reduced taxation. The logical first step in a program of municipal improvement is for the City to purchase the plant and place the management and control in a board of competent, non-political and impartial trustees.

Do the foregoing answers comprehend all of the reasons why there should be an affirmative vote on the 2 questions submitted to the voters on Tuesday, May 7, 1940?

There are many additional reasons. Progressively as revenue bonds are paid off the City has an increasing equity in and a final ownership of a plant capable of producing substantial earnings.

The earnings remain in the City accruing to the benefit of the citizens, whereas under private ownership, they go outside of the City in the form of dividends to stockholder. UNDER THE PRESENT PLAN, THE CITIZENS ARE PAYING FOR THE WATER PLANT EACH TIME THEY PAY A WATER BILL without enjoying the benefits. If municipal acquisition is decided upon, each payment of a water bill increases the municipality's equity in the plant and adds to the benefits and wealth of each individual resident of Iowa City. Immediately upon acquisition, the City is relieved from all possibilities of rate controversies and franchise disputes. When a municipality owns its water plant, it naturally attracts increased residential and industrial population, for the reason that municipalities are in a position to provide water more cheaply than private companies as a result of lower management expenses and the elimination of Federal, State and County taxes. The City will inevitably take pride in its water supply facilities and become more attractive in all other respects.

IN TOMORROW'S ISSUE WE SHALL DISCUSS WHY IOWA CITY SHOULD ACT NOW IN PURCHASING THE WATERWORKS

Rhythm - They've Got It; Thomas Jefferson Sextet Will 'Swing It' on Station WSUI Today

If you want to hear the theme song of WSUI's "Rhythm Rambles" program, "Star Dust," and the currently popular revival tune, "Alice Blue Gown," sung in professional style by a high school girls' sextet, tune in on the "Rhythm Rambles" program from 12 noon to 12:30 today over WSUI.

The sextet is from Thomas Jefferson high school in Council Bluffs and is here, primarily, for the first annual University of Iowa high school music festival. However, when the popularity and ability of the six pretty girls were learned, they were scheduled for two broadcasts over WSUI.

In addition to the noonday broadcast, they'll be heard this morning from 9:30 to 9:50 in a program of songs representative of the vocal work done by the girls in their training.

The six girls have been singing together for two years now and last year were awarded first division superior ratings in the Iowa state music contest and received the same high honor at the national contest in Minneapolis.

During the past year each of them has been a student instructor in vocal music in Thomas Jefferson high school instructing, each of them, a sextet of her own. One of these student-instructed groups progressed as far as the state music contest this year.

Ardith Larson, director of vocal music at Thomas Jefferson high school, directs and accompanies the group on the piano. Miss Larson is well known on the Iowa campus for during the past three summers she has served on the all-state music department staff.

The girls' sextet is very popular in an around Council Bluffs and Omaha and appears on the average of once a week at various functions in the two cities. Also, they have presented broadcasts over radio stations KOIL and WOW.

Now you know all about the girls and their sextet, so here are their names—Clara Mae Kern, Madeline Meidinger, Sue Sherman, Martha Peters, June Pearey and Elinor Gordon.

As for other music on the half-hour program, Don Dodge and his Avalon orchestra will play, with Chick Lang featured on vocals.

The orchestra's program consists of "I Thought About You," "Swingin' A Dream," "The Sky Fell Down" with vocal, "Johnson Rag," "It's A Blue World," "Woodpecker Song," "A Lover Is Blue," "Little Girl," "Moon Ray," "Penthouse Serenade" and "Does Your Heart Beat For Me."

Graduate Returns After 21 Years

Dr. R. Borland, Prominent West Coast Dentist, Amazed by Changes

After 21 years, an Iowa graduate from the school of dentistry in 1915 returned to the University of Iowa yesterday and was amazed—in his own words, "I can't conceive of the changes that have taken place on this campus."

He was Dr. Robert L. Borland of Los Angeles, Cal., who has not been in Iowa City and on the campus since 1919. He graduated in 1915, practiced dentistry for a few years in Vinton and then joined the army. He was a member of the general hospital 26th dental corps during the war.

Following the war, then, he returned to Iowa City and a short time afterwards went to California where he is now one of the leading dentists of the west coast.

Dr. Borland has kept in constant contact with the university, however, and has been active in alumni affairs. He was president of the Los Angeles and southern California University of Iowa Alumni association in 1938.

Because of the interest Dr. Borland has maintained in the university, he was pleased at his opportunity to spend a while on the campus yesterday and was especially pleased to see the various parts of the university high school music festival in action.

Dr. Borland is now president of the Los Angeles Dental society and

Fifty Students Learn To Fly

Six Months Training Course for Pilots Boasts One Girl Flyer

By BETTY KAY DAUGHTON

Forty-nine men and a girl—women. This meant that only one girl could be admitted here.

Instructors admitted their surprise when Betty Johnson, A3 of Red Oak, passed the physical examination and fulfilled all other requirements, for it wasn't expected that any girl could "make the grade." "She's done very well, too," Professor Croft said yesterday. "She's been one of our best students!"

Elementary students take flying lessons six times a week, for they are not allowed to fly for more than a half hour at a time. The course is started with ground school instruction. The first real flight experience is, of course, with the instructor. After nine hours of dual instruction, the student pilot is allowed to solo.

At the completion of 50 hours of flying time, the student obtains his private pilot license—his dream comes true!

Civilian Pilots To Have Dinner

A dinner for all those taking the civilian pilot training program will be held in the cafeteria of Iowa Union Thursday, May 16, at 6:30 p.m., it was announced yesterday.

The dinner will be held jointly with the Iowa City Pilot's club. All those interested in attending the dinner are requested to make reservations with Elmer C. Lundquist, university extension 782.

The 50 "cub" flyers were selected for flight training last fall, mostly on a physical basis, from 160 applicants. Any university student was eligible to apply, although governmental rules said that only two per cent of the quota for instruction might be story into one of the truly great and unforgettable motion pictures of all time. How magnificently he has succeeded is indelibly recorded in the tremendous acclaim that has met the Technicolor production, which opens Thursday at the Strand Theater.

Iowa City moviegoers can take a hint from those who saw "The Blue Bird" at the Hollywood Theater in New York, where it was shown twice daily as a roadshow, with all seats reserved at advanced prices.

No effort or expense was spared in preserving the charm and greatness of "The Blue Bird" or in developing the unusual production values of the story which lends itself so superbly to the breath-taking new Technicolor.

A brilliant cast was selected to bring the beloved roles to life, boasting a score of filmdom's favorite names, including Shirley Temple, Spring Byington, Nigel Bruce, Gale Sondergaard, Eddie Collins, Sybil Jason, Jessie Ralph, Helen Ericson, Johnny Russell, Laura Hope Crews, Russell Hicks, Cecilia Loftus, Al Shean and Gene Reynolds.

Shirley has her greatest opportunity to date as Mytyl, a choice which merited the enthusiastic approval of Maeterlinck himself!

'RULERS OF SEA' NEXT AT IOWA

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. Stars in Frank Lloyd's Saga of the Steamship

Just a year more than a century ago, a little steamship ventured out of the port of London, bound for New York, the first ship to attempt the crossing of the treacherous North Atlantic under the power of steam alone.

The departure of that ship on its history-making voyage changed the maritime history of the world, and Frank Lloyd, recognizing the inherent drama of the event, the great story behind that sailing, has produced in "Rulers of the Sea" a salty, vigorous, thrilling motion picture, telling the story of the courageous men and women who helped to bring the dream of the conquest of the Atlantic by steam to magnificent realization. With Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Margaret Lockwood and Will Fyfe co-starring, Paramount will present the picture for the first time locally tomorrow at the Iowa theater.

Fairbanks Young Seaman

Written for the screen by Talbot Jennings, Frank Cavett and Richard Collins, "Rulers of the Sea" weaves a human and believable story against a background of epoch-making events. Lloyd, producer of such hits as "If I Were King," "Wells Fargo" and "Mutiny on the Bounty," has made "Rulers of the Sea" his greatest picture. He had authentic, seaworthy replicas of the Falcon and Dog Star constructed. His many assistants, headed by Lou Smith, associate producer, were inspired to superhuman efforts to help make the picture the triumph of his career.

Akim Tamiroff In Iowa Co-Hit

Akim Tamiroff has probably brought a greater variety of clever characterizations to the screen than any other living Hollywood performer. In the course of the past five years he has been seen as a Chinese General in "The General Died at Dawn"; as an ex-cannoneer of Napoleon in "The Buccaneer"; as a crafty Greek gambler in "High Wide and Handsome"; as a Russian sea raider in "Spawn of the North"; as a comedian in "Paris Honey-moon"; and a Mexican trouble-shooter in "Union Pacific." And that is just scratching the surface!

But in Tamiroff's newest screen venture, the daring Paramount drama, "The Magnificent Fraud," opening tomorrow at the Iowa theater, he plays the best role—or rather roles—of his career. First of all, he is seen as a dictator of a mythical South American country, called San Cristobal. Then he is seen as an actor who substitutes for the dictator. And while he is still in character as an actor, he gives his impressions of three great rulers—of Napoleon, of Henry VIII, and of Cyrano de Bergerac, that long-nosed ruler of ladies' hearts!

The reason why many sign posts along Nisqually road, directing visitors in Mt. Rainier National park, Washington, are out of alignment, is that deer utilize them as "rubdowns" to scrape off dead "velvet" from their horns.

County Cattle Feeders Group Elects Officers

The Johnson county Beef Cattle Feeders association elected officers at a luncheon meeting yesterday after making a tour of three members' farms in the morning.

Elected are Glenn Stevens, chairman; John Winborn, vice-president, and County Agent Emmett C. Gardner, secretary.

Herman Aaberg, Iowa representative of the Chicago Producers association, gave a report on the recent survey of the intentions of 10,000 cattle feeders. The Johnson county feeders' guesses on what the top prices will be during the first week of next September ranged from $10.75 to $17 a hundredweight. The average estimate, $13.30, is slightly higher than last year's price. County Agent Gardner said.

Court Term Begins Monday

Judge Harold D. Evans adjourned Johnson county district court yesterday for the February term.

The May term will be opened Monday and the grand jury will report for duty at 2 p.m.

Members of the petit jury will be called for duty May 13.

SECRET JUNGLE ECSTASY RECORDED FOR FIRST TIME

Pastime—Starting Saturday Midnite Through Sunday, Monday and Tuesday

The authentic sound of the jungle, from the infuriated trumpet blare of the trapped African wild elephant to the ecstatic shrieks of frenzied rituals, will be heard from the screen for the first time when "Dark Rapture," the Denis - Roosevelt picture of untamed Congo released by Universal, opens at the PASTIME Theater Saturday midnite and through Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Trekking 42,000 miles overland from Belgium to the most secret and inaccessible regions of the African jungle, Armand Denis, who made "Goono Goona" and directed "Wild Cargo," brought all his experience as an expert sound engineer to the task of recording the shrieks, shouts, delirious music and all the other turbulent sounds of the jungle. As a result, the sound track of "Dark Rapture" has all the importance of a vital historical document in addition to being an exciting obligato to some of the most thrilling sequences ever caught by a camera.

Such scenes as the bare-handed capture and "bronco-busting" of wild elephants, mysterious manhood rites performed on forest tribe boys, the frenzied capers of giant dancers — every one over 7 feet tall — in sweeping formations of tribal orgy, walking on lava that bursts into fire at the slightest touch, men subjecting themselves to flogging to win female recognition, and other fascinating episodes are brought back "alive" with all the hysterical clamor, drum-beats and excited commotion that accompanied the scenes when they actually took place.

"Dark Rapture" records the life, loves, dangers and secret rituals of the jungle denizens which no accidental eye has hitherto been privileged to witness. It was only because the trip was officially sponsored by the Belgian government that Mr. Denis was able to travel safely into regions never before penetrated by a white man.

Mrs. Denis, the former Leila Roosevelt who is related to Theodore Roosevelt, the President and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, accompanied her husband on the expedition and appears with him in the picture.

It is estimated that the plover in migration flies at the speed of 80 miles an hour, using as fuel body fat that weighs less than two ounces. A 1,000-pound airplane would have to fly 20 miles on one pint of gasoline instead of one gallon to duplicate this fuel economy.

60,000 Iowa Students To Take 'Every Pupil' Examinations

1,000 Best Pupils Will Compete Here In Scholarship Contest

More than 60,000 pupils of 358 Iowa schools will or will not enjoy next Monday and Tuesday, depending upon whether they are interested in their studies.

For those are the days upon which the University of Iowa's "every-pupil" tests will be administered to measure educational achievement, facilitate instruction, and encourage better scholarship.

The program, sponsored by the college of education and the extension division, is in its 12th year and the 1940 enrollment is the best in several years, Prof. E. F. Lindquist reports.

From the tests will emerge the 1,000 best pupils to compete in the university's individual scholarship contest here June 4 and 5. No competition between schools is involved, however.

Schools will score their own tests and report results to the university not later than May 11. Then university statistical experts will prepare a tabulation of final summary report of results to be sent to schools not later than May 22.

The affair is so arranged that each school will be assured of at least two participants in the June scholarship contest and between 60 and 70 boys and girls will qualify in each of the 13 subjects.

Issue Portrait Stamps Of Composers

As though to observe the high school music festival, two new stamps honoring American composers will be released at the Iowa City post office today.

The Foster stamp is a one-cent denomination and the Sousa two-cent.

Junior College Delegates To Meet at Drake

The 36 junior colleges of Iowa, together with six in southern Minnesota, have been invited to send representatives to a conference on the Drake university campus May 11 to consider plans for better educational service to the out-of-work, out-of-school young people of this area.

The conference, called by J. P. Street, Iowa state supervisor of junior colleges, is to be one of 25 regional conferences planned for the country at large and intended to include all the 55 junior colleges in the United States.

Each institution has been invited to send representatives of the faculty and also of the student body. Dr. Walter C. Eells of Washington, D. C., director of the recently organized Commission on Junior College Terminal Education, will lead the discussions. The purpose, as explained by Dr. Eells, is "to discover what the junior colleges are offering, and what they ought to offer, especially for students who will not continue their formal education beyond the two junior college years. That is the problem of terminal education."

Dr. Eells will explain the present status and needs of terminal education and will ask the conferees to help define the problems and to discuss methods for their solution. Special attention will be given to problems peculiar to Iowa and Minnesota.

IOWA CITY CITIZENS -- We Urge You to Visit the Waterworks and See for Yourself the Excellent Condition of Plant and Equipment

On next Tuesday, May 7, you should exercise your responsibility as a citizen by voting on the question of whether or not to purchase the property and business of the Iowa Water Service Company. To do so intelligently you should avail yourself of the opportunity given you by the Company to inspect the pumping and purification plant as well as any other parts of the property which are above ground and, therefore, visible.

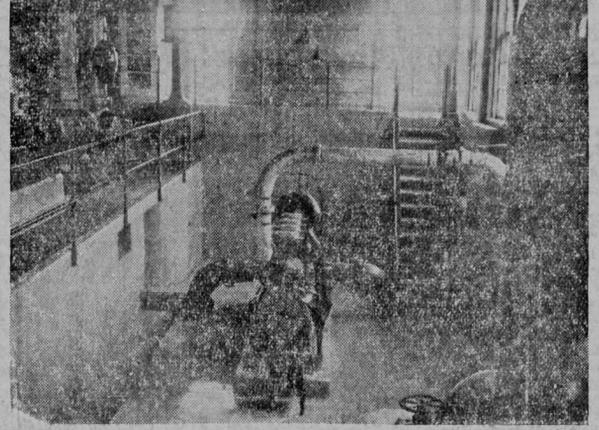

The Iowa Water Service Company is and has been a going concern for 59 years. Naturally certain articles of equipment become used up or obsolete in such a span of time. It has always been the policy of the Company to use all of its equipment as long as it was useful, and as long as it was economical to do so. When such equipment ceased to be useful, or economical, it was replaced with new up to date equipment.

The photographs below were taken of obsolete portions of the plant and equipment before improvements were made in 1936. In each case the photograph to the left shows the structure or equipment before 1936, and the photograph to the right shows the new structure, or new equipment, that has been in use since 1936.

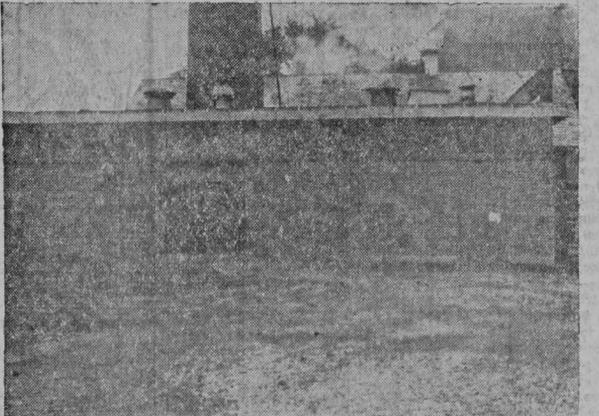

1 1/2 million gallon Holly Angle compound steam engine scrapped in 1936.

Gasoline driven centrifugal pump, 3 1/2 million gallon capacity replaces Holly pump. Note modernistic treatment of improvements to pumping room made at the same time this engine was installed.

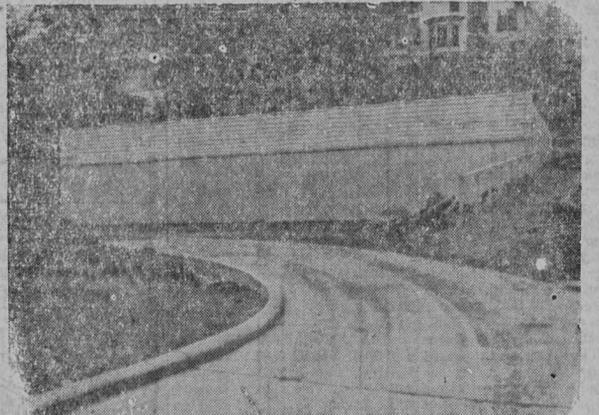

Chemical storage room and cinder elevator used prior to 1936.

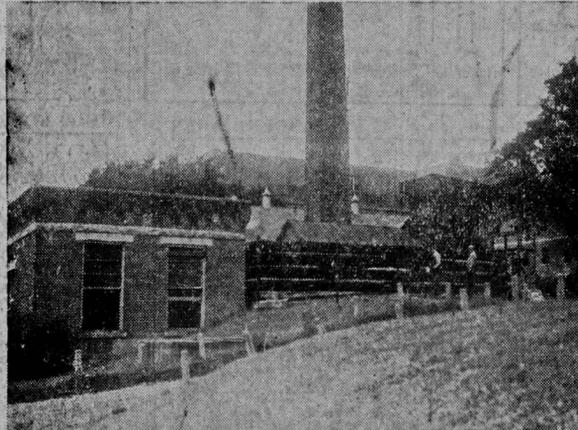

Chemical room and enclosed cinder storage in use since 1936.

Storage barn for distribution system tools and supplies in use before 1936.

Storage barn for distribution system tools and supplies in use since 1936. Note new pavement leading to storage shed.

Over all picture showing a southern view of plant prior to 1936.

Over all picture showing a southern view of plant since 1936.

The above are just some of the improvements and replacements which were a part of a $25,480 improvement program in 1936 and 1937. Almost every year during the last fifteen years a major improvement, or replacement, has been made to the pumping plant. In the year 1927, $43,000 was spent on improvements to the plant. This sum included such items as new section pump, new suction pipes, new chemical machines and a half million gallon underground clear water reservoir and other minor items.

In 1930, $55,000 was invested in a new underground concrete settling basin extension, and the necessary appurtenances for the operation of the settling basin, as well as additional real estate required for the improvement.

It should be evident that the pumping plant and purification structures and equipment are not as old as many people seem to believe. In the three major programs herein listed approximately $122,000 has been invested. The investment of this amount of money in a period of 13 years, all of which has been invested in permanent, substantial, long-life structures or equipment should be proof in itself that the plant is not old, nor obsolete, but is very much up to date. There still remains some replacements to be made; such as, boilers and some small pumping units. The amount of money, however, required for additional replacements is relatively small.

The plant is open to the public at any time, and any one is invited to inspect it. Qualified persons will be available to answer questions any time from Saturday noon, May 4, until 6:00 P.M. Sunday, May 5, at plant.
