Yugoslavs May Scorn Allied Offer, Unite With Russia

Military Mission To Confer With U.S.S.R.

Yugoslav-Red Military Pact Is Possibility

Fear of Rome-Berlin Wrath Stays Slavic Acceptance of Allied Aid

BUDAPEST, May 9 (Thursday) (AP)—It was learned authoritatively early today that a Yugoslav military mission headed by General Vojin Maximovic, inspector of the national defense, will leave Belgrade shortly for Moscow to hold military talks with Soviet Russian officials.

Authoritative sources in Belgrade made this disclosure shortly after it was reported in diplomatic quarters that Britain and France were offering Yugoslavs the assistance of troops, air forces and naval forces and a guarantee of Yugoslav independence and territorial integrity in an effort to seal a Balkan alliance against German or Italian aggression in southeastern Europe.

Allied Offer

An offer of military aid reportedly has been made also to Hungary and Bulgaria by the allies.

However, these two countries are said to have been reluctant to accept promises which might compromise their neutrality in German or Italian eyes.

In recent weeks both Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, Slavic nations, have been showing an inclination to lean toward the big Slav nation, Russia, for support, rather than to the western powers.

The belief was expressed in quarters close to the Yugoslav government that a Yugoslav-Soviet military alliance might result from the military mission's journey to Moscow.

'Political' Negotiations
Only yesterday it was reported that economic negotiations between Yugoslavia and Soviet Russia in Moscow were turning to "political" questions.

A military alliance between these two countries would be a complete turnaround in the policy of Yugoslavia, who has followed a strongly anti-communist policy since the bolshevik revolution of 1917.

Missouri Fraternity Boys Fined, Jailed For 'Pinching' Tulips

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 8 (AP)—Thirteen Missouri university fraternity boys were sentenced to ten days in city jail today and fined $10 and costs for raiding townspeople's tulip beds for decorations for a dance.

The youths, members of Delta Tau Delta, pleaded guilty. The costs amounted to $8.45 each. Judge C. E. Coombe ordered that they serve time from 3 p.m. to 7 a.m. daily so as not to miss classes. City Attorney A. D. Sappington told them to bring their own lamps "so you can study."

Italian Attitude Spells Intention To Enter War

'Pre-Belligerency' Described by Official As Fascist Position

ROME, May 8 (AP)—An official fascist report today described Italy's attitude toward the war as one of "pre-belligerency" rather than "non-belligerency," giving emphasis to Pope Pius' newly expressed fears that the "fire of war" threatens to "invade other" nations.

The new statement of Italian policy was made in a report on the interior ministry's budget by Senator Maurizio Maraviglia, an outstanding pro-ally influence in the last war.

He said the term non-belligerency adequately described Italy's legal status, but that the Italian state of mind might more appropriately be considered as a "position of pre-belligerency," in that Italy is "not disposed to buy the benefit of peace at the price of even the least sacrifice of its aspirations."

Pope Pius revealed earlier that he shares widespread fears that the war will spread to other countries. He told an audience of 4,000 pilgrims of many nationalities that "a world poisoned with lies and disloyalty has lost the spiritual health of peace."

London Blackout Accident Kills Webb Miller

LONDON, May 8 (AP)—Webb Miller, 48, veteran American war correspondent for the United Press, was found dead on a railway track in southwest London early today, the victim of an accident in the war-time blackout.

Lloyd George, Laborites Flay Chamberlain; Final Outcome Still in Doubt

LONDON, May 8 (AP)—Neville Chamberlain remained the master of Britain's war government by the narrow margin of 81 votes tonight after beating off for the moment the thunder of criticism which in two days of historic house of commons debate had threatened his ministry for its surrender in central and southern Norway.

The government carried a vote on a question of confidence at the conclusion of first lord of the admiralty Winston Churchill's calm, firm, almost deprecatory speech, by 281 tory votes to 200 for the combined opposition.

Dutch Action Seen as Test Of Readiness

Recent Military Steps Taken To Test Defense; 'No Reason for Disquiet'

AMSTERDAM, May 8 (AP)—Influential Netherlands commentators advanced the suggestion tonight that the elaborate precautionary steps taken by the army and navy within the last 24 hours was a move by the high command to test the nation's defenses.

These were coupled with the declaration of the widely read Amsterdam newspaper De Telegraaf that although the international situation was dangerous the sensation caused by the government's measures was "not justified."

Mobilization Complete
The Dutch army at present, the newspaper pointed out, is more fully mobilized than at any time in history and it is only logical that the authorities should make a test of their readiness.

"There is no reason for disquiet," De Telegraaf continued. "Foreign countries should stop guessing against whom our measures are intended."

"We ourselves want the certainty that our military apparatus corresponds to the demand of the military authorities."

There were no further measures announced since last night when a partial "blackout" of communications was enforced after all leaves were cancelled.

With the nation's armed forces swelled to some 400,000 men, it was recalled that leaves were cancelled approximately 60 times during the World War whereas this is only the fourth time in eight months that such action has been taken in the present conflict.

Calls Suspended Again
Outgoing telephone calls were suspended again tonight as they were last night, from 10 p.m. to 8 a.m. (2:20 a.m. EST).

Other measures included an order barring ships from inland waterways and the posting of guards around all public buildings in Amsterdam and the Hague.

(Berlin authorities issued a blanket denial of a report from a reliable source in New York last night that the two columns of German troops were converging on the Netherlands frontier.)

200,000,000 Dutch Dollars In U. S. Coffers

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP)—The United States' role as the world's safety deposit box was emphasized anew today when it was estimated that the Netherlands have at least $200,000,000 of wealth in this country—and perhaps a much larger sum.

All told, foreign governments and citizens have stored more than $11,000,000,000 in the United States for protection from war and other dangers abroad.

Position Clouded

The conservatives' position was clouded, however, by the 134 absentees or abstentions, who, with those voting in opposition, make a majority of the 615 members.

Moreover, an estimated 40 members who normally are government supporters voted with the opposition.

Some political observers speculated on whether the 71-year-old prime minister, chastened by the unexpectedly large opposition vote, might follow the example of the former premier of France, Edouard Daladier, and resign. There was nothing, however, to confirm any such intention.

Men who had hammered at the government for two days took the vote as a victory rather than as a defeat. Jubilantly they sang, "rule sign" as the gaunt Chamberlain left the house.

Should the man who led Britain to Munich and then to war to destroy "Hitlerism," actually go to the king to resign, his most likely successor would be Churchill or foreign secretary Lord Halifax, possibly at the head of a government of all parties.

But the political situation was in a great state of uncertainty.

One possibility, however, was that Chamberlain would now attempt to form a national government of all parties, inviting labor and liberals to take portfolios in his cabinet.

The labor party convention on Monday may decide to reverse its decision not to participate in the government.

Reconstruction Expected
It was evident the opposition expects Chamberlain—a picture of weariness at the end of the seven-hour tumult—at least to reconstruct his cabinet to satisfy their scornful condemnations of "muddling."

Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Samuel Hoare, air minister, Oliver Stanley, secretary for war, and Leslie Burgin, supply minister, were members mentioned as likely to go.

A day of drama and excitement such as ancient Westminster has not witnessed in years was capped when Churchill, a tory "rebel" who fired many a barb at the Chamberlain escutcheon in the days of appeasement, rose to make the closing speech for the government.

House Votes Down Move To Shift CAA

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—By the one-sided vote of 232 to 153, the house voted today to kill President Roosevelt's reorganization order shifting the independent civil aeronautics authority into the structure of the commerce department.

The resolution rejecting the order now goes to the senate. Under the terms of the reorganization act, the order, despite the house vote, will take effect next month unless the senate also disapproves it.

Germany Assures World She Is Prepared on Every Front

Nazis Declare Readiness For War Anywhere

Extended Mobilization Backs Assurances Of Preparedness

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
BERLIN, May 8 (AP)—Official German quarters, in the face of general European anxiety, tonight assured all inquirers that Germany is prepared to strike decisively and whenever her enemies aim a blow.

"We reveal no secret," authorized sources said, "when we repeat that Germany is prepared on all fronts."

Asked whether this meant the Netherlands frontier also, they replied: "Obviously."

"Chamberlain twice recently has intimated England is determined to widen the area of combat," these sources added. "But he has not said where except that he broadly hinted at the Mediterranean."

"That may be a blind, however, for operations elsewhere, Spain, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland—all have been mentioned by the world's press. We won't be caught unawares anywhere."

Hand in hand with these verbal assurances went wholesale summonses to the colors.

All ages seemed involved. Cases of reservists over 50 years of age have been noticed in the past days. All walks of life appear to be included so that there is a general lack of manpower except in war industry, with its many ramifications.

Roosevelt Wins New Primary Victories

70 Iowa Democrats Request His Endorsement of Administration

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP)—Third term supporters regarded President Roosevelt's California sweep today as corroboratory evidence of what they have been saying for weeks—that the nomination is automatically his, if he will take it.

Added to the third term triumphs in Illinois and Wisconsin and the support of many party leaders elsewhere, they saw it, at least, as strengthening Mr. Roosevelt's ability to choose the party's candidate, if he does not run himself.

The election gave a slate of delegates pledged to Mr. Roosevelt's renomination a lead of nearly three to one over the combined ballots cast for three other tickets. One of these, pledged to Vice-President Garner, lost by more than six to one.

With everything still depending on the president's decision to run or not, Washington said that question put squarely up to him, but under circumstances which required no answer. He made none.

Party leaders from Georgia called at the White House with a resolution adopted by the entire delegation pledging their support for a third term. They presented it to Mr. Roosevelt.

"He simply read it," Gov. E. D. Rivers told reporters later. "We didn't ask him for any action or comment. We told him in advance we didn't expect any."

And, a short while later, an Iowa delegation visited the chief executive. They presented a request from 70 Iowa democratic leaders that Mr. Roosevelt approve an endorsement of his administration by their state convention and the instruction of its delegation to Secretary Wallace. Wallace has strongly urged a third term.

House OK's Logan-Walter Bill

CIO Leader Accuses Dies Committee Of War Mongering, Creates Uproar

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP)—A belligerent CIO leader was ejected from a turbulent Dies committee hearing today after accusing the committee of "trying to bring on war." He arranged to testify later, however, after a move to cite him for contempt failed.

The witness, Michael J. Quill, of New York, president of the CIO transport workers union, defying the committee to put him in jail, was shoved out of the hearing room by three capitol policemen under orders of Chairman Dies (D-Tev).

Would Aid Judicial Review Of Agencies

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP)—The Logan-Walter bill to facilitate judicial review of government agencies was approved by the senate judiciary committee today with a recommendation that it be considered speedily.

Disregarding a plea by democratic leader Barkley of Kentucky that action be delayed, the committee reported the measure with what members called "perfecting" changes in the text previously approved by the house. Barkley had asked that the committee await the results of a justice department study before acting.

As approved by the house, the legislation not only would smooth the way for appeals from actions of departments, bureaus and agencies, but would permit interested parties to appeal to the courts against the establishment of regulations laid down by these boards.

The committee struck from the house-approved measure a section which would have permitted the courts to review any agency decision that appeared to the judicial branch to be "clearly erroneous." Thus the courts could entertain appeals only when it appeared that the agency's ruling was not supported by "substantial evidence."

Iowa Farmer Admits Slaying Postville Man, Burning House

DES MOINES, May 8 (AP)—first degree murder, the officer announced here.

At the time of Ruckdaschel's death, authorities first believed he died of burns or suffocation in the four-room house where he lived alone.

Later investigation, however, disclosed a blood-covered piece of stovewood in the ruins of the victim's house. Sheriff J. P. King advanced the belief that Ruckdaschel's assailant set fire to the building to destroy evidence of the crime.

Chief Nebergall said no motive for the slaying had been disclosed.

Miller will be charged with

Western Front Still Decisive Battlefield-Simpson

That did not enter into the two-day tide of recriminations that set the Chamberlain ministry tottering. Yet the doleful picture of allied unreadiness to meet Germany in Norway affords a convincing denial of the Berlin charge that London and Paris had planned an invasion of Scandinavia to attack Germany's Baltic flank.

It seems increasingly clear that the allied high command had not thought at any time of permitting Norway to become a major fighting front. The German contention that an impending allied invasion induced a nazi "protective" dash into Norway falls flat against the now revealed picture of hastily extemporized, poorly equipped and inadequately supported allied landing expeditions up to the Trondheim area.

It becomes obvious that the allied high command entered as unwillingly upon the Norwegian campaign as it prepared to send forces to Finland. The unspoken burden of Prime Minister Chamberlain's defense is that conservation of Franco-British power for what must come, soon or late, on the west front or in the low countries, was the dominant allied consideration and still is.

An upsurge of fear in Holland over a possible nazi invasion gave added force to that interpretation of what was left unsaid in the uproar of debate at London.

One passage in Chamberlain's speech to the house was especially important as explaining the real reason for the withdrawal from Norway and the simultaneous strengthening of allied naval forces in the Mediterranean. That augmentation of allied sea-power had immediately "quited" the situation in that theater, he said, with obvious reference to wavering Italy, Berlin's uncertain axis mate.

Whatever the truth about German intentions to strike soon in the low countries or in southeastern Europe, it was made quite plain in the parliamentary debate that every allied move of economic pressure or military preparation centers on the thought of confining the war front, not expanding it. If there is to be war in the Balkans, it will result from the initiative of Germany or her doubtful partners, Italy and Russia.

The University's Responsibility For Building Men

NO MATTER how normal youth of the college age may be, the need for a sympathetic listener to problems which arise outside the strict limits of academic classroom work is always present.

The University of Illinois has established a personnel bureau, to fill a need on its campus which is duplicated on our own. We do not refuse to admit that efforts are being made to provide counseling on the Iowa campus.

Individual faculty members have in many cases taken it upon themselves to handle such problems as come to their attention. Since it is frequently necessary to expend a great deal of time with individual students, a professor carrying a full teaching load can not, however, afford to include such effort in his own program.

In some cases professors who were giving large portions of their time to students have left the university, and students who have depended on them as confidantes have been stranded.

The executive committee of the college of liberal arts of the University of Illinois, at the time it made recommendations for the Illinois personnel bureau, made the following suggestion in regard to the counseling staff:

"The administrative committee, shall, with the approval of the dean of the college, designate a staff of faculty advisors to be chosen from those members of the college faculty who seem to have exceptional qualifications for student personnel counseling.

"Available information clearly indicates that personnel guidance is most effective where it is done by those actively engaged in the actual teaching and research work of the college. It is imperative that from the very start there be a positive administrative attitude toward the counseling staff. It should be recognized that personnel work on the part of the counseling staff be equated with excellence in teaching and with resourcefulness in research. It shall be the duty of heads of departments and the dean of the college to weigh skill in student counseling along with teaching and research in making their recommendations for promotion in both salary and rank. It should also be recognized that skillful student counseling requires a good deal of time, and it will, therefore, be necessary to make proper adjustments in the teaching schedules of faculty counselors."

The work of the counselors was set forth as follows: "Student personnel service is, in all senses of the word, directly educational. It is a form of teaching. The general purpose of personnel counseling is to humanize and personalize the educative process. Students appear at the University more or less competent in varying fields of knowledge. They also appear with personal attitudes, emotional dispositions, ambitions, and a wide variety of moods, anxieties, and worries. Some of these interfere with success in academic work just as definitely as does inadequacy of information needed as a prerequisite for advanced study. In its wider aspects, the function of personnel counselors is to understand these personal, social, and emotional situations and to set up forms of training and encouragement that will enable students to do their academic work more easily and profitably. Personnel counselors must try to save students from becoming their own enemies in the sense that their interests, aptitudes, and motives shall not be antagonistic to their progress in the university. Counseling, therefore, is more than an examination of personnel statistics; it is a day by day and week by week association with students in their effort to become mature and educated human beings.

Two vital parts of the Illinois program are a vocational guidance and placement service and a How to Study course.

The University of Iowa needs urgently to examine its own needs and facilities to discover additional opportunities for personnel service.

The Man Who Found No Peace

WEDNESDAY Webb Miller, European news manager for the United Press association, was found dead on a railway near London. It was believed Miller had fallen from a train.

In Miller's death, the world loses equally with the world of journalism. Few newspaper reporters attain the reputation for brilliant reporting that Webb Miller attained. Few men can write that they have been on the scene at every major international conflict of the last 25 years.

Any reader who is familiar with Miller's own story of his experiences as a tender, timid lad who hated the sight of blood, but spent his life picturing such sights, will feel that Webb Miller's death touches them personally.

Word of loss of this leader from the ranks of foreign correspondents will be received as a tragedy by journalists everywhere.

Adding To Iowa City's Own Beauty

IOWA CITY has many natural and acquired features which make this one of the most attractive of Iowa's towns. But even with her perennial beauty, Iowa City can be made more attractive during the summer months when residence owners cooperate.

It takes but little initiative to do some of the things that will make the city the envy of visitors. Such features as well-kept lawns, flower beds, well-cleaned backyards and weedless alleys will stand out in any town.

One Iowa city urges its residents to grow hollyhocks in their backyards, along the alleys. The gay, decorative flowers are so simple to grow that it seems a shame to let alleys be so barren looking.

Just a bit of attention by individuals will make Iowa City even more attractive to summer residents. It's worth the effort.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

UNEMPLOYMENT CHANGES

THE relatively small drop in unemployment reported for March by the National Industrial Conference Board is not to be regarded too seriously, even though it was less than the usual decrease for the month. Agricultural employment picked up, as is customary when farm activity gets under way in the Spring, while employment in the "trade, distribution and finance" group rose more than seasonally. Manufacturing employment, however, was less, in contrast to the ordinary seasonal trend. The drop was sufficient, in view of the fact that manufacturing rivals agriculture as the leading employer of the nation's labor, to account for the abnormally small rise in total employment, and for its complement — the failure of unemployment to decline by the usual seasonal amount.

The lagging of manufacturing employment is not surprising. Industrial activity, as measured by the Federal Reserve Board's index, fell by almost one-fifth from December, when the Autumn war boom reached its crest, to March. Industrial employment could scarcely be unaffected. There are indications now that the current business recession may have touched bottom.

More important in many ways than the immediate trend is the fact that 10 years after the beginning of the depression and seven years since the present administration took office to solve it, more than 9,000,000 are still out of work — one out of every six of those who are normally employed. To maintain that these must always remain jobless is a hopeless defeatist attitude, the more so in view of the experience of other countries that are more mature economically than the United States. The only alternative conclusion that can be drawn is that the measures taken to cope with the problem have themselves been deficient. It is these measures that need to be studied objectively and without partisanship.

... trends in music among the orchestras of the nation today told me the other day that it is evident in the new recordings (which can well be considered the barometer of dance music) that all orchestra leaders are fore-

"DISCRETION IS THE BETTER PART OF VALOR"

Stewart Says: Tom Dewey 'Got There First,' To Beat Robert H. Jackson in Scalise Case

Washington gossip is that Attorney General Robert H. Jackson was all set to close in on George Scalise, with charges against him as a federal violator, when Thomas E. Dewey beat him to it, in his capacity as New York's local district prosecutor.

Scalise has had a deal of advertising as a labor racketeer, if he is one. Whether or not it's true remains to be proved. Anyway, it's reasoned that he looked like a suitable suspect for a vigilant law enforcer to go after. They say that Jackson was all cocked-and-primed to grab him. Only, he wasn't quite quick enough. Dewey had the same hunch but was speedier in acting on it.

Tom, at the time, was away from New York, out in the "sticks," presidentially campaigning for himself, but he rushed word to his Manhattan subordinates to make the "pinch" and they did it.

Thereby Tom stole Bob's potential thunder. That he'll be able to follow this up by striking Scalise with the lightning of a conviction is still to be seen. Anyhow, he scored ahead with the preliminary detention.

This is characteristic of Tom Dewey. "Get there first," is his motto.

George Tinkham's Blast Representative George Holden Tinkham also let off his firecracker just at this juncture to embarrass the attorney general. Tinkham, a Boston republican, cited the testimony of witnesses before the interstate commerce commission which indicates, so Tinkham asserts, that President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull have everything fixed to put Uncle Sam into the war soon, on the side of the Allies.

BY CHARLES F. STEWART Central Press Columnist

I don't think that anybody considers the Bostonian's dope very conclusive. Nevertheless, Tinkham expresses himself in a fashion to attract attention. He's a spectacular chap. His whiskers (the only full set in congress) alone serve to make him conspicuous. And he's a big game hunter. He's shot elephants and lions.

This may not make Tinkham an authority on the subject of the administration's war attitude, but his personality's of a sort to get him listened to. He's an annoying critic because he's sure of a sizeable audience whenever he addresses himself to the public. And, of course, there always are folks who choose to believe the kind of charge that he levels against the president and the state secretary.

Probably Only a Coincidence Well, simultaneously with Representative Tinkham's explosion, Attorney Jackson announced a justice department program ostensibly designed to keep us OUT of the war.

I surmise that the juxtaposition of the Tinkham blast and the Jackson announcement was a matter of mere coincidence.

The Jacksonian scheme sounds reasonable.

Bob's version is that there doubtless is a good bit of communistic, nazistic, fascist and miscellaneous seditious activity abroad in the land, plus propaganda, espionage and prospective sabotage. The justice department's federal bureau of investigation probes this sort of thing, but it does only detective work; no actual prosecuting.

Federal Attorneys' Job The F. B. I. turns this latter job over to local federal district attorneys throughout the country. Now these birds, far flung and more or less haphazard, concludes the attorney general, in spots are irresponsible. In some cases, suggests Bob, they may be inefficient; in other cases, through over zeal, they may disregard liberties.

So the justice department has created a new unit, under Lawrence M. C. Smith, to boss the task of prosecution. Chief J. Edgar Hoover's F. B. I. to go on with its detecting; local prosecutors will continue to do the prosecuting. L. M. C. Smith's outfit's function is supervisory.

Is this satisfactory? By no means — to Representative Tinkham.

G. Holden T.'s story is that his "exposure" forced the administration to make a counter-declaration, through the justice department. It just proves his thesis, he argues. Indeed, he's capitalizing on it. He doesn't mind anyone growling at him. He's shot lions.

tion of one night of Benny Goodman last summer, no swing band has invaded either ballroom and they remain tops with Chicago and mid-western dancers.

THEIR BANDS include Dick Jurgens, Jack McLean, Lawrence Welk, Jan Garber, Everett Hoagland, Wayne King and Del Courney. Mention any one of these to one of the local swing fans and they'll turn blue, but one of Iowa's most ardent "five masters" recently told me he really enjoyed listening to an hour of Sammy Kaye.

ALL OF WHICH ... goes to show that swing is on the way out—definitely. That fact was presented first in this column several months ago and it's been repeated since. This writer has played up the sweet bands on radio broadcasts because they have been the ones which have held the top positions among the nation's bands and have been breaking attendance records.

Strained Relations Correspondents From Foreign Nations On Same 'Center' Floor

BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — We have an interesting if ticklish situation here in Rockefeller Center because the foreign correspondents from Germany, France, Great Britain, Russia and Japan are all on the same floor. They use the same elevators and necessarily encounter each other every day.

It would be denied if you asked one of these men about cross-currents of feeling, but the truth is that personal relations are definitely strained. The boys from the French and the British agencies, Havas and Reuters, are extremely cordial. It is my personal observation that when the journalistic representatives of Germany meet those of France or Britain there's a surface politeness, but that is all. This is a condition that has existed since the morning Poland was invaded by the Germans.

The German agency, D.N.B., is Deutsches Nachrichten Bureau. Tass (Russian) means the Telegraph Agency of the USSR. The Japanese agency is Domei. The French is Agence Havas. The British agency (Reuters) is headed by a lanky, dark Briton whose name is A. Bernard Moloney. Dr. Luckenhaus is the German correspondent. M. G. Fritsch-Estrangin is the French bureau chief, and Mr. Kenneth Durant heads the Russian agency. Most of these agencies are well-staffed with writers, Reuters having 24 men. It is an outwardly cool and polite set-up, but you know as well as I know how it is underneath.

The first thing managers of orchestras that recently have come into the big time talk about is "Kay Kysner Money." Kysner holds the record for money paid to a band during a single week on Broadway. This is for appearances at Broadway motion picture theaters. The other night I was told by an enthusiastic manager, "We're getting Kay Kysner Money now." He said Kay Kysner Money meant $10,000 a week. That's big money. That's plenty of money. But it isn't Kysner's top price. On at least one occasion he was paid $13,000 a week for appearing at the Strand theater.

I saw Kay just before he left town. Ran into him coming out of the Waldorf, where he lived all last winter. He was feeling pretty good. He was getting ready to go to the coast, but said he had just got a "hurry up" call from Jim, his man, back in Rocky Mount, N. C.

Kay said the "hurry up" meant, "hurry up and send me a tuxedo, so I can lead the grand march at the ball."

The tux, in case you're interested, was already on the way down.

The state liquor control board is eyeing with disapproval those night club ads in the newspapers, which call attention to such alleged sleep-producing concoctions as Zombies, Draculas, etc. There has been a wave of this recently in the clubs featuring Latin and South seas entertainment. The Zombie is supposed to be a mysterious drink, and the management has prominently displayed placards saying it will under no circumstances sell more than 2 to a customer. This, of course, is strictly the onion soup. They will sell all you care to order. The "mystery" of the Zombie is that it contains 3, instead of one, jiggers of rum, and two of these are quite sufficient to mummify the average patron.

THIS COLLEGIATE WORLD (By Associated Collegiate Press)

The Emory Wheel, newspaper of Emory university, declaring that "since the professors divide students into classes it is safe to assume that all professors can also be divided into classes," offers these groupings:

1. The Killer type. He wants to kill off the lower third and thinks the best way is by overwork. 2. The Card type. He is a card, but not an ace. He's a 3x5 card. Outstanding is his index appeal. 3. The Spicy type. He has a lot of cheek and plenty of tongue to put in it. His lectures kick up intellectual sparks out of the academic flint. 4. The Skimmer type. The surfacing in his courses is fine. But the foundation is weak. 5. The Fatherly type. He is the unexpected father, always giving pop quizzes. 6. The Hard Rock type. You have to hit more than a good musician to hit a high C under this joker. If he were a movie critic he wouldn't even give the United States flag 48 stars. 7. The Uh-Man type. He does not know any punctuation except "uh's." For variety he throws in a "but uh" now and then. 8. The Cocktail type. He whets your intellectual appetite. He knows a great deal but doesn't try to make everybody realize it. 9. The Candy-Between-Meals type. A course under him destroys your intellectual appetite.

Blossoms, Bluebirds Soft Spring Winds Suggest Theme For Cosmetics, Scents

Appleblossoms and bluebirds! This is what every young woman thinks of in the spring, whether she lives in Maine, Arizona or Iowa.

And every young woman, if she's wise, will plan her cosmetics for spring with an eye toward appleblossoms and bluebirds. The bluebird theme may be hard to attain; the blossoms, easy.

Pink clover and honeysuckle are two of the scents that recall soft spring winds coming in through an open window. They can be found in bath powders, sachets and face powders instead of being limited to just colognes and toilet waters.

A scent that is neither cologne nor toilet water but something of the best of both are the Blue Grass "flower mists." The names are especially intriguing—white orchid, June geranium, jasmine and carnation. The odors may be found in soap and dusting powder as well.

But don't forget sachet for spring fragrances! The little bags or balls will give dresser drawers a memory of apple blossoms, lilacs and gardenias.

It's blossoms and bluebirds this spring for Miss 1940.

Couple of Smoothies

You're right! Smooth-looking pair. That campus runabout is plenty all right in any one's language, but the real attention-getter is petite Jeanne Parsons, Delta Gam, chairman of Women's Pan-Hellenic association. "All dressed-up with every place to go," Miss Parsons is all ready for "taking off" or "coming home" in her smart redingote ensemble from STRUB'S. The long coat and stream-lined frock of sheer, cool material boast that definitely new shade—chocolate brown. Crisp Vale lace edging runs around collar, cuffs and down front to give a light touch—on the dainty feminine side. The snappy little white straw sailor, which perches jauntily on the back of her curls, is trimmed with grosgrain band and streamers in chocolate brown, and, of course . . . another chic model from STRUB'S. Big enough to hold "this an' that an' then some" is Miss Parsons' white crash envelope bag. Two tiny bows look very nifty on her brown and white spectator pumps. Smooth looking! the whole costume! And all particular coeds who like strictly smart, individual costumes know that STRUB'S have the latest things in fashion.—ADV.

Bonnell Hurls No-Hit Game For Kellogg

The first no-hit, no-run game of the 1940 intramural softball season was chalked up yesterday afternoon as John Bonnell pitched Kellogg to a 4-0 victory over Chesley in the co-operative league.

Kellogg scored all its runs in the first three innings, pushing across one in each of the first two frames, and two in the third. Bonnell issued only one pass, while three men reached base on errors. The win advanced Kellogg to the final round.

A three run rally in the sixth inning by Grover fell one run short of tying the score, and it went down to defeat at the hands of Gables, 5-4. The game was a 1-1 tie going into the last half of the fifth inning, when Gables put on its scoring shoes and pushed over four runs to bring its total to five. By virtue of its win, Gables earned the right to meet Kellogg in a game that will determine the champion of the co-operative league.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon batted its way into the final round of section five of the fraternity league by crushing Phi Epsilon Pi beneath a 9-3 score. S.A.E. tallied in every inning except the first and fourth.

The decisive runs came in the fifth frame when successive singles by Beals, Armbruster, Willis, and Kirk accounted for three runs crossing the plate. S.A.E. will meet Delta Upsilon in the final game to determine the champions.

Haskell Will Speak at All-University Sports Dinner

Plans for the third annual all-university intramural sports dinner are nearing completion according to Bill Humphrey, general chairman for the affair. The dinner will be held in the River room of Memorial Union at 6:00 p.m. next Tuesday, May 14, and will feature the presentation of trophies and medals to winners in the men's intramural sports program for the past year.

Prof. George Haskell, head of the economics department, has been named as the main speaker. Popular and well known about the campus, Professor Haskell is an enthusiastic sports fan and follower of Iowa athletics. Last year he served as toastmaster when Bob Elson, famous radio sports commentator, was the speaker. Robert Sandler will act as toastmaster this year. A freshman in law school, Sandler has served as varsity tennis captain, president of the "T" club, and president of Phi Kappa Psi social fraternity. E. G. "Dad" Schroeder, head of the athletic department, will also give a short talk, as will a student speaker yet to be selected.

The main trophy to be presented at the dinner will be the participation trophy for the largest group representation in all events throughout the year. It has been won by Phi Kappa Psi for the last two years, but the race this season is the closest in five years. Five clubs are within five points of the lead—Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Upsilon and Sigma Chi. The final event, the interfraternity track meet, will decide the winner.

In the cooperative dorm section, Whetstone, Wilson and the Gables are leading the pack, with two other houses close behind.

The all-university sports dinner is strictly a men's affair, and is the only gathering of its type on the campus. It is organized and put on entirely by students and is dependent upon the student body for its success. All university men are urged to attend and enjoy an evening of masculine companionship in an atmosphere of friendly competition and sportsmanship. This invitation is also extended to the members of the faculty. Tickets are 60 cents, and can be purchased at the Union desk, the field house office, Whetstone's Drug store, or from any of the intramural managers.

Van Heel Breaks Record

Bests Own Mark in Intramural Track Meet; Sigma Nu Wins Frat Title

Jim Van Heel of Delta Chi broke his own record in the broad jump in the finals of the fraternity league intramural track meet yesterday afternoon to establish a new all-university record of 20 feet, three inches, besting his old record of 19 feet, seven and one-fourth inches.

Bob Eiel, Sigma Nu, broke another all-university record as he ran the 110 yard dash in :12.5. The old record, established last year in the fraternity league, was :13.8.

Van Heel tied Fred Kent of Phi Gamma Delta in the 50 yard dash as both hit the tape in :05.8. The discus throw of 101 feet, six inches was that of Nichols of Beta Theta Pi. Sigma Nu won its final event in the 440-yard relay in 30 seconds.

Sigma Nu was crowned champion of the 1940 fraternity league track meet with a total of 38 points. Delta Chi, with a two man track team, placed second place with 18 points and Beta Theta Pi was third with 14 1-2.

Blacks, Golds Meet Saturday

14 Freshmen Named To Start Contest At Iowa Stadium

Freshmen will take leading roles in Saturday afternoon's official climax of Iowa football's spring training period, an examination of the probable starting lineups for the Blacks and Golds reveals.

The inter-squad game, beginning at 2:15, will probably start with 14 freshmen among the 22 players. The Blacks, with six experienced men and five freshmen, will be more strongly fortified with veterans than the Gold eleven, which will start nine freshmen and only two veterans, Capt. Mike Enich at right tackle and Ken Pettit at left end.

The Blacks, according to yesterday's announcement, will probably start the game with Red Frye at center, Del Dickerhoff and Francis Curran at guards, Jim Walker and Bob Otto at tackles and John Maher and Bill Parker at ends, making up a line that has three newcomers, Dickerhoff, Parker and Curran.

Do You Remember Bill, the 'Orphan'? The Mystery About Him Is Solved!

DES MOINES, May 8 (AP)—The mystery of Bill, a wander-lust lad of 13 with a fairylad imagination, has been solved.

For nearly six months juvenile authorities in Des Moines tried to learn the identity of the freckled-faced boy who wandered into the city last December and related various stories about running away from home and orphanages. None of the stories was true.

The Rev. Francis T. Zuch, director of the Catholic charities here, said tonight it had been established that Bill was Billy Lara who ran away from his home in Mexico City, Mexico, last fall.

After widespread attempts to find the boy's parents had failed, a picture of Bill was circulated in the east.

Father Zuch said a family in Toledo, Ohio, wrote to Des Moines that they believed the lad was their grandson and his home was in Mexico City.

Further correspondence established that Bill's father was J. Lara of Mexico City, a newspaperman, the priest said.

By a strange coincidence, Bill's father wrote to Des Moines for information about the boy even before he learned that Bill was here.

The father said Bill had a vivid imagination and was likely to tell exceptional stories about his adventures.

Lara said he believed Bill ran away from home to visit personally Father Flanagan's home for boys near Omaha, Neb., after seeing a motion picture based on that institution.

The father said Bill has "expressed a desire some day to go to that famous boys' town."

Bill has been at the Polk county juvenile home since police picked him up at the Union Bus terminal in December.

No steps have been taken yet to return the boy to Mexico City. When Bill first arrived here, he gave his name as William Watson, Jr. He told various tales about his parents and why he was not with them. The stories proved false.

The Catholic charities took a deep interest in the case and played a major role in locating Bill's parents.

WSUI's Morning Chapel Wins High Praise

By JACK HAGENS

"We listen to your broadcast and want to thank you for the enjoyment and inspiration we gain from it"—these are the words of one of the hundreds of letters WSUI receives concerning their inspiring 8 a.m. Morning Chapel. In turn, WSUI feels inspired by the faithful work Prof. Willard Lampe, head of the school of religion, has done as director of the program.

Every morning except Sunday, Morning Chapel is on the air. It has never missed a broadcast since it was inaugurated Sept. 26, 1938, when the station was in operation. Equally important is the fact that Professor Lampe has never missed a program since it has been under his direction.

Arriving at the studio every morning before the time of broadcasting, Professor Lampe arranges the entire program, sees that the music is set and prepares to introduce the speaker of the morning. The guest speaker gives a three-minute devotional message; there is incidental music but no sermon.

Morning Chapel is designed to give a religious service program to all denominations at a time when no such service is being given. It is a meditation program and the material presented in the program is not denominational as to content.

The program was originated by a former prominent student, James Weary, graduate of the school of liberal arts and at present a minister in Minnesota. Finding the idea, Mr. Weary worked at first with the Iowa City Inter-Faith fellowship.

Drawn by a fine line, the school of religion has always been in cooperation with the program until the time when it came under the direction of Professor Lampe. From the very first, the quiet, meditative program has held the interest of WSUI's listening public. Mr. Weary's introductions to the programs were novel and comforting. Fan mail started coming in and it has never stopped.

Since the program is not designed to give a religious sermon, ministers, students, faculty members and laymen have been guest speakers of Professor Lampe. Suggestions which Professor Lampe gives the speakers include: "The purpose of the speech should reflect the purpose of the program; an inspirational message for the people in the coverage area of WSUI."

The music chosen for the program fits in with the general theme of the program. "Lead Kindly Light" and other religious songs are favorites of the listeners and producers of Morning Chapel. The soft strains of church music open the first program on WSUI's daily program schedule.

One listener says, "As I listened to the music of 'Lead Kindly Light,' I thought 'It is the unspoken prayer of millions in this 'gloom' which covers our world' and only by that leadership will we finally come into peace. The soul filling music, the very helpful words of the speakers—all inspire us as we begin each day's work. It is one of the finest, if not the best, of the many fine programs sent out over WSUI. We thank you for it and hope you will continue to give it. We all need something to give us daily inspiration and your chapel does."

Two To Debate Against Iowa College Team

Christensen, Rivkin To Argue Negatively On Fashion Changes

Roland Christensen, A3 of Iowa City, and William Rivkin, A3 of Davenport, will go to Ames tomorrow to debate the Iowa State college team on the question "Resolved, That Present Fashion Changes Are To Be Deplored."

The debate, which will be held in connection with the Iowa State college Veisha celebration, will take place at 2:30 p.m. Iowa will take the negative side of the annual debate with Iowa State.

Christensen, who won the state high school extemporaneous speaking contest and a four-year scholarship to the university, has twice ranked in the upper 25 per cent of the speakers at Iowa's annual invitational debate tournament. He is a member of Delta Sigma Rho, honorary speech fraternity. He recently retired as president of Gavel club.

Rivkin won the national Hillel foundation oratorical championship April 7 in Chicago and the Gilmore oratorical contest in 1939. He was judged the "outstanding debater" in the Iowa Invitational Debate tournament in 1938 and 1940. He is a member of Phi Epsilon Pi and Delta Sigma Rho and in high school won the state championships in original oratory and extemporaneous speaking, placing fourth in national high school oratory.

Tomorrow at 4 p.m. the four debaters will present a radio program on the same subject over radio station WOI, Ames. Mal Hansen, G of Dixon and a graduate assistant in the speech department, will accompany the debaters.

1940 Graduation Program Opens With Supper

The commencement supper, scheduled for Wednesday, May 29, will open formally the program of the University of Iowa's 80th commencement.

First of 22 official events, the supper will attract about 1,000 persons, including members of the graduating class and their friends and relatives.

It is expected that many of the returning alumni, back for class reunions, will arrive early, although their official "day" with its nine events is not until June 1.

Climax of commencement will be the exercises in the fieldhouse on the morning of Monday, June 3, when Lewis H. Brown, Iowa alumnus who is president of Johns-Manville company of New York City, will speak.

U. S. Travel Books on Exhibit In Library of Macbride Hall

New York, San Francisco and the country between them are described in books which make up the "Travel America" exhibit currently displayed in the general reading room of university libraries in Macbride hall.

Topped by Larry Nixon's "American Vacations," such books as "Old Spain in Our South West" by Mino Otero and "New York Is Everybody's Town" by Helen Joseph and Mary Margaret McBride are on the shelves to present many phases of the American states, cities and localities.

On the historical side, Edgar Lee Masters' "The Tale of Chicago" and Marguerite Allis' "Historic Connecticut" tell the stories of their respective sections.

Not confined to one particular locality but very much a part of the display is "I Travel By Train" by Rollo Walter Brown. The sports angle, the eating-place viewpoint, the sight-seeing side—all are in turn emphasized in various books of the collection.

"This is the Place" by Marguerite Cameron incorporates the words of Brigham Young into the story of Brigham Young and his band of Mormons as they went to Utah in 1847.

Death Valley, Florida, Louisiana, New England, the Dakotas, Maryland, Broadway, Minnesota, the Carolinas, Maine, Long Island and other equally varied sections are included in these books.

The James river, the Kennebec river and the Rio Grande also are subject matter for American travel books, displayed with a book telling of the land in the valleys of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

All the books displayed in the exhibition shelves may be withdrawn for use. The series of books is taken from the university libraries.

Saddlebags For Pockets

Now You Can Carry Valuables at Your Waist for Comfort

Why carry a bag? Why burden yourself with an object that you must carry in your hands constantly? Why not wear your bag?

With pockets practically reaching the size of saddlebags, there is no easier way of carrying your valuables than at your belt. For belt bags—"cash-and-carry pockets"—are being widely accepted not only as a fad but as a convenience.

Plated pockets are big and handy for tailored shirtwaists that college women love. For street dresses there are monogrammed styles, large and flat, or shirred bags attached to a matching belt.

Embroidered bags are ready for afternoon wear or even, Paris experts predict, for evening. They're trimmed with self tubing or outlined with saddle stitching or matched with a contrast. And gay peasant embroidery is very popular.

So wear your bag a new way. Wear it at your waist like a robber baron did his money pouch, and be comfortable.

Building Trades Council Orders Picket of Downtown Building

No Settlement Indicated By Either Faction

Contractors Answer Charges of Unfairness; Union Asks Closed Shop

No settlement was in view late last night in a labor dispute between the Iowa City Building Trades council and O. H. Dunlap and Sons, local contractors, which resulted yesterday in the union's picketing of dismantling work on the old Iowa City Savings bank building at the southeast corner of Clinton and College.

Union officials said that after an executive meeting in their hall Monday night the contractor was given until noon Tuesday to operate on a closed shop basis or a pair of pickets would be ordered out. The pickets started walking Tuesday noon and continued all day yesterday. Officials said they would be kept on until an agreement was reached.

Asking Closed Shop

The union is demanding that all labor on the job be organized.

Company officials last night responded union charges with the following statement: "The labor organization says our company is unfair to organized labor. We contend this is not true. We make no discrimination between workers with union affiliations and those without. When a man applies to us for a job, we do not ask whether or not he belongs to a labor organization. We never discharged a man because he belonged to one.

"The labor organization refuses to allow their members to work with non-union employees. We believe they are the ones who are unfair to the majority of the laboring people in this community."

Union's Statement

Officials of the local trades council, an A. F. of L. affiliate, issued this statement: "The majority of the general contractors would like to be fair to organized labor in Iowa City as long as they can dictate the policies of wages, hours and working conditions of organized labor. Organized labor has a definite policy, and strives to gain its end by American methods as given them under the constitution of the United States.

"We as American citizens will negotiate an agreement with any employer of labor but this community cannot stand the 25 per cent reduction in wages when its wage scale is already 25 per cent lower than those of surrounding communities."

It was announced that representatives of the international office for each craft in the union will arrive in Iowa City in the near future. They were ordered here more than a week ago, officials said, for a meeting. Although they will probably aid in possible negotiations in the present dispute, it was pointed out, they

Chamberlain Wins Narrow Vote of Confidence

Managers Make Plans for Local Softball League

The kitten-ball got rolling in Iowa City last night when a group of senior circuit managers gathered in the basement of the Recreational center to organize their league.

Managers Make Plans for Local Softball League

Although no definite league rulings were adopted, a temporary committee headed by Gene Trowbridge, director of the Rec Center, was formed to investigate the playing field situation and to make suggestions for incorporation into a rule code.

Members of the committee include Stan King, Ed Bonham, Carl Hauser and Ken Moss.

Heretofore the ball clubs here have used the City park playing field, but this year because it is being resurfaced with river mud it is nearer being a marsh than a softball diamond.

However possibility was seen that the clubs may use the Moose field.

Four twilight games will be played every week in the circuit.

Trowbridge suggested that a $10 entry fee be charged clubs planning to play in the league, and, although the suggestion was not adopted, there was no discussion about it.

Eight teams are organized and two others are planning to enter the league, Trowbridge said. The organized teams include Odd Fellows, Reich's Cafe, C. O. G. Wilkinson Realty, Medical Lab boys, the Power Boys, St. Mary's and a team piloted by Ken Moss.

William's Iowa Supply, under Ed Bonham, and a team managed by George Morrow will probably go into the league.

The Junior league, which will be organized under the same plan as the senior circuit, will open the season June 9.

THIS IS GRAFT!

BOSS WITH FALSE HORN WINS HONOR

ATHENS, Ga., May 8 (AP)—An old cow horn and a bit of ingenious grafting by young Ralph McCants saved the day for his aged Holstein.

Just before the cow was to enter the little international livestock show at the University of Georgia she knocked off a horn. McCants dug up an old horn, filled it to fit and applied glue and polish.

His entry, with the judges failing to spy the "spare" horn, won the division for aged Holsteins.

Nebraska's Communists Want Browder

OMAHA, May 8 (AP)—Nebraska's communist party favors Earl R. Browder for president and James W. Ford for vice president, H. Hester, chairman of the communist state committee, announced today.

At its state convention here Sunday and Monday, it was announced, the party opposed American involvement in the "imperialist war" and charged that policies of the present administration aim "to involve us in this war."

It was believed here that the military link might follow conclusion of political talks. Diplomatic quarters in the Balkans, noting the parallel between the Yugoslav-Russian talks and the allied offer of aid to Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Hungary in an effort to form a Balkan defense alliance to stand together against the Rome-Berlin axis, said there was a distinct possibility of allied-Russian cooperation in southeastern Europe.

The allied offer to Hungary was reported to be contingent upon that country's resistance to passage of German troops for Balkan objectives.

last war, the white-maned premier of that other conflict cried: "The prime minister (Chamberlain) has met this formidable foe—Hitler—in peace and war. He has always been worsted!"

"Half-Hearted?" Then, his voice quivering with anger at the thought that Britain had failed to help Norway with any result, the old Welshman declared:

"Britain's promissory notes are now rubbish in the market!" Shocked conservatives packed in the steep government benches behind the cabinet muttered, "Shame! Shame!"

Churchill got up in an effort to stem the tide of Lloyd George's opposition, but the old man shouted him down.

"I hope Mr. Churchill will not allow himself to be converted into an air-raid shelter to keep the splinters from hitting his colleagues!" he snapped.

Then shaking his finger, he turned again on Chamberlain.

P. T. A. Convention Told Child Has 3 Basic Psychological Needs

Orientation leaders and assistants are urged to be present at the orientation training school at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the river room of Iowa Union.

Self Expression, Social Integration, Security Necessary to Child

OMAHA, Neb., May 8 (AP)—Self expression, security and social integration are the three basic needs for developing happy children, Carletine Washburne, president of the Progressive education association and superintendent of schools at Winnetka, Ill., told delegates tonight at the National Congress of Parents and Teachers convention.

"When a child is unhappy or frequently unhappy, we know that one or more of these basic needs is not being satisfactorily fulfilled," Washburne declared. "We do not then, except perhaps momentarily for the protection of others, seek forms of restraint, punishment or force, to make him comply with certain standards. "Instead we try to find wherein he is thwarted, and try to help him find ways of living which are personally and socially satisfying."

"We go to the roots of unhappiness and undesirable behavior, rather than lop off its superficial growth. We seek to nourish the child where he needs nourishment, rather than to shape him to a fixed pattern."

The present market now makes possible return of these extremely popular breakfast features. Extra help—for fast, courteous, efficient service—has been added to care for the demand that we KNOW these two old favorites will create.

All who see THE BLUE BIRD will know a new and lasting emotion.
Greater than its players, more than entertainment... it is one of the most beautiful pictures ever made, a human drama of ageless appeal.
