NAZIS TAKE BRUSSELS

Allied Resistance Fails Through Central Belgium

GERMANS ADVANCE TOWARD PARIS

British Withdraw From Belgian Capital; Allies Abandon Isles In Zeeland, Last Dutch Fronts

Britain Asks Nation To Maintain 'Stout Hearts, Cool Heads' as Columns Re-Maneuver To Check German Pincers Movement

LONDON, May 17 (AP)—British troops withdrew tonight to the west of Brussels, occupation of which was announced by the Germans, while Dutch and French forces abandoned the Netherlands islands of Beveland and Walcheren, among the last of the Dutch fronts of resistance to the Nazi invaders.

Disclosure of the withdrawal from Brussels was made in a brief British war office communique following an appeal by an official source to Britons to keep "stout hearts and cool heads" in the face of German successes in Belgium and the deeper drive into northern France.

Abandonment of the Dutch islands in Zeeland province was decided upon after heavy bombardment by German planes and artillery, it was reported here.

King George VI, keeping closely in touch with the great battle in France and Belgium, studied maps at the war office and later received Prime Minister Winston Churchill at Buckingham palace.

The war office declared there was "no question of a collapse or break-through" in the Brussels sector, where allied and Belgian troops had fought bitterly to halt the Germans east of the city, in the vicinity of Louvain.

"During the night of May 16-17, certain adjustments to the front have become necessary, the B.E.F. was withdrawn to positions west of Brussels," it said. "This readjustment was carried out without interference."

Tanks Spread Fanwise

The cause of the withdrawal was said to be the fact that German armored divisions which had penetrated into France were spreading fanwise, with one column swinging northwest toward the sea. The apparent reason for this move was to try to catch the British forces in Belgium for a pincer movement.

The appeal to the British public said "Britain has faced tests like this before and can face them again."

Declaring that the future of Europe might hinge on events of the next few days, the official source added:

"There must, however, be no illusion about the fact we now are facing the first stages of the most tremendous battle in the history of the world."

"Situation Grave"

It was explained that while the situation is grave, it is not irremediable, and that "shocks may occur but the government are certain the people will prepare themselves to face any test with nerves and steel."

The day's developments brought Britain and France face to face with the most dangerous menace to their existence since the dawn of March 12, 1918, when the Germans launched their attack against the British fifth army—an attack which almost won the World war for the Kaiser.

Greece Calls Class of 1935 To the Colors

ATHENS, Greece, May 18 (Saturday) (AP)—The war ministry early today called to the colors the 1935 military class.

The class, composed of men 26 years old, will report May 25. It was announced officially that the class, reported to number 60,000, was called for a month's training "in the use of new weapons."

Informed military observers said most of the class would be sent to the border of Italian "protected" Albania to swell the already large number of Greek troops manning fortifications facing Italian forces on the other side.

Italian Liner Passes Straight In Freedom

Italian Campaign Against Allied Search Bears Apparent Fruit

ROME, May 17 (AP)—The violent Italian campaign against allied contraband control apparently bore fruit today as the Italian liner Rex, eastbound from New York, passed Gibraltar without being stopped.

The Italian line reported that the westbound Conte Di Savoia had passed Gibraltar earlier in the day, but it was not specific on whether it, too, had been exempted from the customary British search.

That anti-allied feeling persisted, however, was indicated when Lionel Green, a New York photographer, was attacked by Italians who objected to his photographing the Hotel Eden, from which the name-plate has been removed.

(Anthony Eden was the leading figure in the imposition of sanctions against Italy in the Ethiopian conquest, and his appointment as British war secretary last week raised no cheers in Italy.)

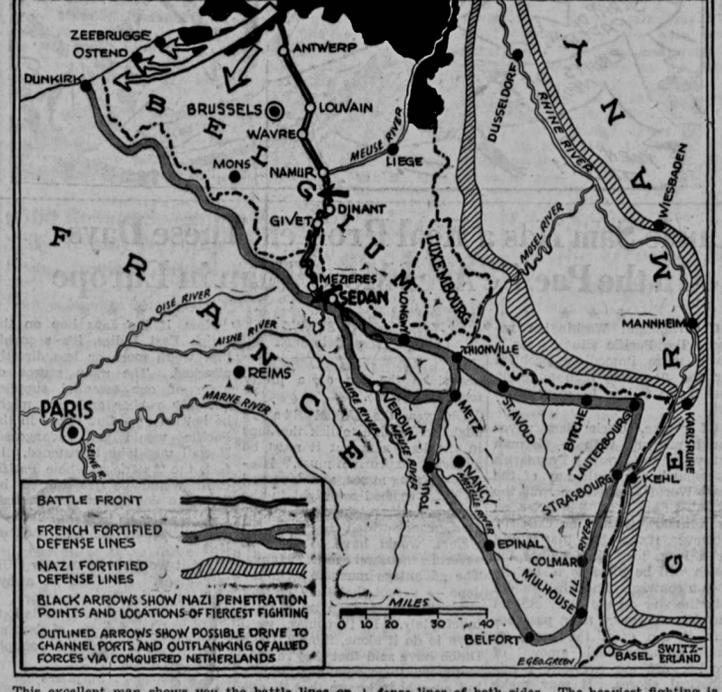

Green said the Italians asked him if he were English. When he replied that he was American, they tried to smash his camera, but did him no physical injury.

Cook, Arctic Explorer, Gets F. R.'s Pardon

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt has granted Dr. Frederick A. Cook, explorer who claimed to have discovered the North Pole, a full pardon.

Cook, seriously ill in United hospital at Port Chester, N. Y., was convicted of using the mails to defraud on Nov. 21, 1923, sentenced to prison for 14 years and nine months and fined $12,000.

Whirlwind Drive Brings Troops To Antwerp's Portals; Maginot Sections Pierced by Germany

Unofficial Report Places Nazi Troops Within 76 Miles of French Capital; Germans Advance on 65-Mile Front

BERLIN, May 17 (AP)—Germany's power in two great thrusts smashed into Brussels tonight as allied resistance melted through the center of Belgium, and to the south drove "deep in northern France" along a 65-mile front aimed toward Paris.

One report, without official verification and lacking details, said the German drive into northern France between Maubeuge and Montmedy had carried to within 76 miles of Paris.

The high command announced German troops marched into the Belgian capital after sweeping through Louvain, 16 miles to the east, and Mecheln (Malines), 14 miles northeast.

Marking the speed of Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg, Brussels was entered in the eighth day of the current campaign whereas Kaiser Wilhelm's troops in 1914 goose-stepped into the city on the 17th day of their invasion.

The whirlwind drive also brought German troops pounding at the outer fortifications of Antwerp, 28 miles north of Brussels, while to the south of the capital they were reported to have pierced the Dyle river position between Brussels and Namur.

South and west from the Namur region, the German advance on French soil pushed through sections of the little Maginot line, where that defense system has been extended along the Belgium-French frontier, the high command reported, and brought claims that Nazi forces had punctured the main French defenses.

Dienst Aus Deutschland, authoritative commentary service, said the massed British troops concentrated in Belgium were heading for the coast while the French were backing toward Paris.

(The French admitted German penetration to the region of Re-thel, 100 miles northeast of Paris, and French Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin ordered his troops to "conquer or die.")

(The Belgian government already had fled to Ostend, Belgian port on the North Sea.)

This seeming breach in the allied lines now is being exploited by the Germans.

Evidently breaking through the allied lines in the vicinity of Namur, the Germans were said to have penetrated a distance of 20 to 40 miles to a point south of the heavily fortified French city of Maubeuge, which is on the river Sambre some 40 miles southwest of Namur and about 120 miles airline northeast of Paris.

Namur, extreme right wing of the Belgian Dyle line, is believed here to be the scene of a terrific battle, after the Germans were reported to have taken the outer Namur forts.

Humor on the National Front; Gracie Allen Accepts Surprise Party's Presidential Nomination

OMAHA, Neb., May 17 (AP)—Gracie Allen accepted the surprise party's nomination for president tonight in a climax to a mock convention that proved the high-light of Omaha's carnival of crinolines dresses and bushy beards—the annual Golden Spoke Days celebration.

Every state in the union was represented in the roll call on the convention floor—the Ak-Sar-Ben stadium—but Gracie got the biggest hand from delegates from "that state of confusion."

Excerpts from Gracie's acceptance speech included:

"Is Mr. Dewey really going to do anything for the farmers? Does he know how to get rid of your surplus cantaloupes? No, but I do.

"Under my administration we'll take all left-over cantaloupes, cover them with toupees and sell them for coconuts.

"That goes for Mr. Farley, too.

"And this: "Let's look at the other side of the record—what do we find? "Benny Goodman."

Increases Defense Requests by $50,000,000 in Record-Shattering Peace-Time Outlay—Senate Group Boosts F.D.R.'s Program

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Increasing President Roosevelt's extraordinary defense program by $50,000,000, a senate subcommittee tonight approved a $1,694,877,724 outlay on the United States Army in the next fiscal year—an expenditure that would shatter all peace-time records.

Chairman Thomas (D-Okla.) said the committee decided to make funds available so that a fully equipped force of 280,000 men, about 25,000 more than the president had suggested, could be put in the field.

There was no doubt that the smashing progress of German arms in Belgium had spurred the senators not only to approve Mr. Roosevelt's program, but add to it.

The senators, working with an army appropriation bill of $784,999,094, previously approved by the house, almost doubled it by adding $674,646,994 to it. First they added $345,770,364 in new funds asked by the president yesterday, then tacked on $50,000,000 for army personnel. Moreover, they inserted more than $51,000,000 in items which had been approved by the budget bureau last January but had been denied by the house.

Specific authority to enter into contracts, to be met by future appropriations, brought the grand total to $1,694,877,724.

Editorial Comment

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Following is editorial comment on President Roosevelt's defense proposals in his address before congress:

Buffalo Evening News (R)—Rearmament on land, sea and air is now the first order of the day for the United States, rearmament for the purpose of keeping out of war through strength rather than inviting it through weakness.

New York Daily News—"President Roosevelt's armament speech yesterday was a masterpiece. Its common sense is unanswerable."

'None Will Complain'

New York Mirror—"No American will complain about the amount of money that is to be spent to defend America; but every American will, or should, ask: 'We have already spent eight billions for defense under your administration, Mr. Roosevelt. Don't you think we should... find out why we got no more for our first eight billion dollars before we feverishly hurl another three billions down the same hole?'"

St. Paul (Minn.) Pioneer Press—"The billion dollars of emergency national defense money for which President Roosevelt has asked congress is... extremely moderate. And so it will seem to Americans, looking back on these times, if the dangerous possibility on which Mr. Roosevelt is asking for more national defense ever comes to pass. The ugly truth is that in the years ahead America may become just the same oppressive sort of a perpetual barracks that Europe has been these past six or seven years."

'We Must Pay'

Omaha (Neb.) World-Herald—"The important thing about the president's message is that he senses the pathetic inadequacy of our defense system, and that he proposes to do something about it."

"There are other points in connection with his program, however, on which the president could have been specific without giving away national secrets."

"How are we going to pay for it? Are we going to levy new taxes? Or are we merely going to tell the bankers to add it on to our note?"

"These are not trivial questions. They go to the very roots of our national security. A nation which can't pay for the cost of its government in time of peace is in danger of going to smash if it tries to spend additional billions for armaments."

Des Moines Register—"Despite some things that could be called unduly alarmist, its main points were sound..."

"...congress, we think rightly, will probably want to put strings on any large sums that it gives to the president for discretionary spending."

"The main purpose of his asking for a big special fund in his own hands—to step up tremendously our capacity to produce planes and engines for them—is entirely wise..."

"Talking about an annual plane production of 50,000 is like showing a hen an ostrich egg, with the suggestion that there is an example to emulate... The president was perhaps doing a bit of gorgeous bluffing for the benefit of certain foreign listeners."

'We Act United'

Cleveland Plain Dealer (Ind.-Dem.)—Franklin D. Roosevelt never appeared of larger stature, has never spoken words of greater import to his country... He swept away all partisan littleness and called for united action to resist aggression.

Philadelphia Record (Ind.)—"President Roosevelt's magnificent message to congress is both a call for action and a warning to our people... Because we have spent billions in the past means little now... We must spend billions more... We are glad, particularly, that the president recognizes the vital nature of the air arm of modern warfare... The Roosevelt message to congress comes as the most reassuring and inspiring word from any statesman since the lights went out in Europe."

'F. R. Awakens' Chicago Tribune—"Mr. Roosevelt's message to congress on the armament of the country may be taken as a welcome indication that at last he is awakening to the situation and its dangers. Mr. Roosevelt did not say where the money for the armament program may be found. The omission is to be regretted. An obvious solution would be the elimination of the wasteful and less essential expenditures of government."

Los Angeles Times (Rep.)—"Immediate multiplication by at least 10 of our present warplane strength, as he urges, is a literal impossibility when he couples it with the equally urgent—and right—recommendation that nothing be allowed to interfere with expeditious filling and delivery of allied orders. Working at their outside capacity our airplane plants are loaded up for a year to come."

'America Behind' St. Louis Post-Dispatch (Ind.)—"President Roosevelt has the nation solidly behind him in the request which he made to congress today for an immediate appropriation of $1,182,000,000 for national defense."

Atlanta Constitution—"It is not generally recognized how backward America is in armaments compared with leading European and Asiatic powers..."

Kansas City Star (Ind.)—"Congress should give the world a demonstration that in an emergency a democracy can act as swiftly and overwhelmingly as a dictatorship. It was a measured and convincing statement that the president made... Congress should back the president to the limit—and at once!"

'The Crisis' New York Times (Ind.-Dem.)—"Mr. Roosevelt did not overstate the potential dangers with which we are confronted in a time and a world in which aggression has gone mad. It is now our opportunity to help demonstrate that democracy, no less than dictatorship, knows how to act decisively in an hour of crisis."

New York Herald Tribune (Ind.-Rep.)—"Though the New Deal has spent billions on defense, the country is not remotely prepared for the prospect now before us. This is the fact. There are many reasons for it, some good and some bad; but good or bad they no longer matter. It is not what ought to have been done which counts from this moment on—it is what we need to do now."

The bakery at Fort Benjamin Harrison (Indianapolis) is being modernized. The buck private, no doubt, can hardly wait to sink their teeth into their first streamlined biscuit.

Truth will out, goes the old saying. But she may need to wait until the war is over before making her debut.

New York musician makes violin out of 1,300 match sticks. A swell instrument, thinks Zadok Dumbkopf, with which to strike up some hot music.

Zadok Dumbkopf says he once knew a general who went into a rage when he received a letter marked "private."

Uncle Sam Has a Real Problem These Days --- In the Pacific Area More Than in Europe

Governmental Washington regards the Pacific situation as a much more immediate problem for the Americas than anything that Europe has to offer even yet. Of course, Uncle Sam never could put up with a German attempt to grab Denmark's Greenland, nor could any of the New World countries permit the Nazis' authority to be extended to Holland's Guiana or Curacao. However, it's obvious that it will be a long, long time before Reich will be fixed to undertake such a contract. Though it should win the war on the other side of the Atlantic, years must pass before it can cross the ocean to cause an appreciable amount of trouble off our western hemispherical shores. It may make claims, but that will be all.

But Japan? And the Dutch East Indies? Now's the opportunity for the Japs to try to gobble those islands if they covet them — and we know they do. Perhaps it would not be quite as bad for Uncle Samuel to have Java and its neighboring archipelago Japanized as it would be to have Dutch Guiana and Curacao Germanized, but it would be bad enough. And the mikado's geography and naval equipment are of a nature to encourage him to undertake the job on a 'pretty formidable scale. Oh, yes, the United States ought to be able to lick the Japs in the long run, but it must be a mean, expensive muss. Nippon is strong at sea, and Java and its neighborhood are right in the Japs' maritime dooryard. Our fleet, concentrated in Hawaiian waters, would have to fight at several thousand miles' range. The advantage must be with the Japs — except that they haven't our capacity to keep up a fight indefinitely. If it comes, we'll have to do it alone, though. The Dutch have said that they're able to defend their own East Indies, but everybody knows that they're not. And the Allies are too busy in Europe to be of any East Indian use.

Isolationists on a Hot Spot Our isolationists are placed on quite a hot spot. Their contention is that, no matter what happens, the United States' duty is to keep out of the European conflict. While it remains strictly European, perhaps that attitude is o. k. Nevertheless, I've met a few isolationists who deny 'that we ought to resist if we ourselves are attacked.

Now, if the Japs hop on the Dutch East Indies, it's arguable that we're more or less directly attacked. The main source of some of our essential supplies (notably rubber and tin) might be bottled up. Our rights in the Pacific would be endangered. Hawaii might be threatened. In fact, the Americas' whole Pacific coast would be jeopardized by Japanese domination of all east-central Asia and its adjoining islands. Wouldn't that be an attack on US? Yet it wouldn't be exactly OUR war alone. It would be a by-product of the European war. What, then, should an isolationist call it? A case of butting into the main war? Or simply defending ourselves? No More Surprises Herr Hitler doesn't surprise anybody in Washington any more. He gave 'em a jolt when he invaded Denmark and Norway. Officialdom got up in the middle of the night then, shocked to death. This time (Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg) it got up in the middle of the night, too. But it wasn't shocked. It was prepared for anything. Another thing: Adolf hitherto has been regarded as small caliber. Today he's assessed as a major menace to civilization.

TUNING IN with D. Mac Showers

EDDIE CANTOR... long one of America's premiere entertainers, will return to the air next fall in his own comedy-variety program. He will take over the "Hour of Smiles," currently occupied by Fred Allen Wednesday nights at 7 o'clock over the NBC-Red network.

THE SERIES will be under the same sponsorship as the Fred Allen program has been. Cantor will present a half-hour show instead of the full hour such as Allen now offers.

ALLEN WILL conclude his present contract with the broadcast of June 26, bringing to an end an association of six years with his Wednesday night sponsor.

Complete plans for the new Eddie Cantor show will be announced later. The saucer-eyed comedian, however, says he will follow the same general pattern of his past programs.

CANTOR HAS A large following probably, but those who have been associated with radio over a period of years, know for a fact that the Fred Allen Wednesday night show has come to be a by-word of radio listeners.

ALLEN will, no doubt, have another program in the fall by another sponsor because his listener appeal will surely be taken advantage of by some enterprising radio advertiser and the Cantor show will not be able to compete in popularity with Fred Allen, radio's most original comedian.

A DESCRIPTION of the activities of the 12th annual Holland tulip festival from Holland, Mich., will be broadcast by CBS beginning at 12 noon today. Dorothy Lamour, Herbie Kay and his orchestra and Tommy Riggs will be featured.

THE APPEARANCE of Miss Lamour and bandleader Herbie Kay on the same radio program brings talk of reconciliation between the two. They were once married and Dorothy was a featured vocalist with the band.

MARGARET BURKE, photographer, will be today's featured guest on the "Luncheon at the Waldorf" over the NBC-Red network at 11:30 this morning with Ilka Chase, Frank Luther, tenor, and Paul Barron's orchestra.

"Airplanes vs. Battleships" will be today's topic on the "People's Platform" broadcast at 5 this afternoon over CBS stations. It will concern the advantages and disadvantages of sea power against air power in modern warfare.

BOB CROSBY and his Dixieland band,

Did You See Naval Yards? New Yorkers Fail To Avail Themselves Of This Opportunity

BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Observation: Most of us seldom avail ourselves of opportunities until it is too late. Until a few months ago it was possible for practically anyone to go all through the big naval yards here, to see how the big battleships operated, and, in some instances, even to get aboard submarines.

But most New Yorkers, used to having such things in their back yards, never gave much thought to it. But now the broadcasts of ships being blasted out of the water, and coastal ports being bombed at long range by big sea guns, has generated a desire to have a close look at such naval items as airplane carriers, submarines and destroyers. Too late: the bars are down. The chance has gone glimmering in the wind. You have to be intimately connected with the government, or the army or navy to get within smelling distance of the navy yards now.

Problem: Weary, and with his eyes red from too much reading, Lanny Ross plopped down in his favorite restaurant and told of a three-day search for a missing song. "We looked through 27,000 pieces of music," he explained, "and didn't find it."

What music? Well, on his broadcasts Lanny has promised to sing requests. In his mail the other morning came a letter from a woman whose sister ran away from home. She was distressed. Knowing that her sister always admired Lanny, she wrote in to ask if the singer wouldn't sing a certain song, in the hopes that her sister would hear it, and return home. She didn't know the name of the song, or the music, but she quoted the lyrics. Lanny, with a couple of aides, spent the next few days ransacking the musical archives of New York. It just wasn't to any avail. However, Lanny went on the air and recited the lyric. "Then," he said, "I did the next best thing. I sang Home Sweet Home." Whether the missing young woman was tuned in — and went home — hasn't been ascertained.

Over at the Museum of Modern Art, in 53rd street, is a most singular collection of film. It is a collection of 48 different motion pictures — the complete celluloid biography of Douglas Fairbanks' career. Not long ago Doug died, but before he did he presented this record of his life work to the Museum. It begins, back in 1915, with a film called "The Lamb." That was the first motion picture Doug ever made. And when he made it he never went back to the stage again. His last film was "Mr. Robinson Crusoe," made in 1932.

If you went to the trouble to string all these films together you would have a running, if garbled, story 2,700,000 feet in length. Last week the Museum announced it would show all these pictures to the public. And after New York has seen them, they will be distributed throughout the country to high schools and clubs, free. It seems to me this is a particularly happy event.

TODAY With WSU

TODAY'S HIGHLIGHTS Fred Keller will interview John A. Schneider, chairman of the war relief red cross drive, at 1 o'clock today.

FROM BING CROSBY'S new picture, "If I Had My Way," come two Columbia record releases by Kay Kyser and his orchestra. They are "Meet the Sun Half Way" and "April Played the Fiddle." You'll be hearing them on Kyser's Wednesday night "College of Musical Knowledge."

"HIT PARADE" with Orrin Tucker and Bonnie Baker and Mark Warnow with Bea Wain and Barry Wood is heard tonight over CBS stations at 7 o'clock.

LAST YEAR Lily Pons and Andre Kostelanetz broke all attendance records at the Hollywood bowl with their concert there. They have just been signed to give another performance in the Bowl Aug. 1 and indications are that thousands will be turned away.

Mabie Compiles His 'War Budget'

Dramatic Students Dine Together—Use Event To Stake Skit on Boss

War budgets seem to be the rage nowadays, so Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the dramatic arts department, laid out his "war budget" at the theater dinner in the Jefferson hotel Thursday evening.

And his isn't so large as Roosevelt's. It involves just a quarter of a million dollars!

That amount is to be spread over the next 20 years in which time Professor Mabie hopes to build a shop on the north wing of university theater, build the south wing and provide a revolving fund of 18 or 20 thousand for needy students.

Professor Mabie said the "war budget" is to "combat happenings abroad by putting emphasis on cultural things."

Renewing a tradition which has been dropped for the last two or three years, the semi-formal theater dinner had the dignity of a banquet and the friendly informality of just a plain "get-together."

Following the dinner, "Canon-Matt-Lavell" Joe Becker, G of Elgin, served as toastmaster of the program, "which," he said, "we hope will provide laughter, mirth, and maybe a little humor."

High-spot as a laugh-provoker was the skit, "Waiting for Hety," written by Marjorie Jackson, G of Iowa Falls, and directed by Hazel Dale, G of Moorhead, Minn. Professor Mabie is a busy man—always just ask the people who have to wait and WAIT in order to see him. And it was this point the skit humorously made.

First of all there was the door marked "His office" with a halo around "his." Big "No's" were written all over the door which also said "Little or no admittance" and "Come back next year."

Professor Mabie reddened and chuckled jovially—and what the rest of the audience needed were the aisles to roll in.

Bringing the program back to a saner basis, Ellen Eaves, G of Gloucester, N. J., served as key-note and read the theater betanotes. Henderson Forsythe, G of Monroe City, Mo., spoke as a representative of the M. A. group, and Beverly Barnes, A3 of Sioux Falls, S. D., represented the undergraduates. Joseph Free, G of Iowa City, who spoke for the Ph.D. group, said "The reason Daniel went to the lions' den so calmly was because he knew he wouldn't have to make an after-dinner speech."

Prof. George Stewart of the physics department commended the work of the theater because there "the creative side of life is held up to everyone can see." So many people he said, work in cloisters and so few rise above mediocrity, but in the dramatic arts department one can see the "struggles for perfection."

Introducing the "Boss," Becker said, "He's the lad behind our destinies and here's a pretty good chance to get to see him."

Expressing his gratitude to the students, the staff and administration staff, Professor Mabie said, "the morale and the spirit of cooperation is at one of the fine points of the past 19 years. It makes the work gratifying."

"And this year," he added simply, "I think we've accomplished quite a bit."

The theater, said Professor Mabie, exists as the result of the cooperation of a tremendous number of people. "One of the most unusual cooperations has grown up with our friendship with the zoology department," he said.

Some of the "high spots" of this year, as outlined by Professor Mabie, were the presentation of new manuscripts, by writers on the campus including Robert Whitehead, Arthur Clifton Lamb, Grant Redford, Marjorie Jackson and Richard Maibaum. Attendance this year was larger than last which was 2,000 better than the preceding season. More students were given opportunity to practice directing and to act than ever before. Professor Mabie also commented on the year's high spots in acting.

University theater's program presents great plays of history and also reflects the New York and London stage. Now it is a part of the movement to present "creative rather than repetitive productions."

At the national theater arts conference, Iowa, Cornell North Carolina and the federal theater were announced as leading in the non-commercial productions of new manuscripts.

As for the future of university theater, Professor Mabie pointed out the realms of community theaters and the field of training the department must undertake.

A comment heard after Professor Mabie's talk was "They told me that one hour of the boss's inspiration was worth any two-hour course in the department and they were right."

It was a tradition well-renewed—theater dinner. "But it's a fine thing," James Andrews, A3 of Ogden, Utah, said, "that for the theater dinner they serve us ham!"

Outstanding Theater Work, Scholarship Is Basis for Selection

Eleven dramatic arts students were elected to membership in the honorary society, the Purple Mask, university chapter of National Collegiate Players, at the theater dinner in Jefferson hotel Thursday night. New members are those who have distinguished themselves in scholarship and by outstanding work in university theater.

Ellen Eaves, G of Gloucester, N. J., had the leading role in "Susan and God." Harold Hansen, G of Logan, Utah, appeared as Judge Gaunt in "Winterset" and Phelim Fintry in "The White Steed." Arthur Clifton Lamb, G of Prairie View, Tex., is the author of "Bee-Bee," produced as an experimental play. Leonard Marshall, A3 of Carthage, Ill., Eddie Hearn, G of Olympia, Wash., and Jetaline Premlinger, A4 of Evansville, Ind., carried prominent roles in "A Texas Steer." Mary Kay Waldron, A4 of Milwaukee, Ore., was Miriam in "Winterset" and Dolly Winthrop in "Middletown Mural."

Hazel Dale

Hazel Dale, G of Moorhead, Minn., was assistant director of "Winterset" and planned the lighting for "The White Steed." Paul Bogen, G of Lincoln, Neb., was stage manager for "Middletown." Dorothy Ward, A3 of Iowa City, played Lise in the 1938 production of "High Tor," and Beverly Barnes, A3 of Sioux Falls, S. D., played in "Middletown Mural."

The new members were announced in an interesting manner. Present members walked around the room and then suddenly tied a purple mask on the one elected. Marian Galloway, G of Savannah, Ga., read the creed and Helene Blatter of the speech department presented pins to the new members.

Purple Mask was organized here in 1921 and during its 19 years has elected 145 members to the organization, said Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the dramatic arts department.

Mountaineering Club To Show Movie On Mt. Everest Climb

"Tragedy of Mt. Everest," a sound picture of the 1924 Noel mountaineer expedition, will be shown at the last meeting of the Iowa City Mountaineering club Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the chemistry auditorium.

Three films on mountain climbing in the Alps will be included on the program, which is free to the general public, according to John Ebert of WSUI, president of the local group.

Girls, Here's Your Chance

Designing Guild To Select College Girls As Fashion Experts

Are you a woman? Will you be a senior in the university next year? Have you a flair for sketching and designing? If not, you may as well turn to another page.

But if you are and if you have, you are eligible for membership in the Campus Originals guild, an organization which is interested in seeing and using and paying for your designs. The guild is going to select 50 college women to act as the Campus Original representatives at their respective schools in keeping the guild informed as to "what's going on" in regard to fashion trends and fads on the campus.

All representatives will, of course, be seniors and a new one will be chosen each year. The design may be of sweaters, dresses or just plain gadgets. In addition to the regular pay for such designs, the designer's name and college will appear on the reverse side of the guild tag and attached to merchandise sold in department stores throughout the country.

If you have talent, this is a fine opportunity to earn extra money and the chance of starting out towards a fashion career!

Iowa batsmen, trounced twice in last week's disastrous series at Northwestern, pounded out a thunderous redemption for themselves yesterday with an impressive 10-hit 8-4 triumph over Michigan State's potent Spartans.

With Co-Capt. Harold Haub working superbly in a relief hurler's role, the Hawkeyes put together a three-run first frame and a rollicking fourth-inning broadside to put the game on ice early. The invaders grabbed a pair of runs while driving sophomore Cecil Schomer from the mound in the first frame, but couldn't count again until they nipped Haub for their remaining two tallies in the eighth.

Two Home Runs
It was, beyond doubt, the big fourth inning that whipped the Spartans, who were forced to replace Mekules, their starting hurler, with Hall after the barrage, which featured successive home runs by Andy Kantor and Erwin Prasse.

The Hawkeyes had started out the inning by putting Frank Kocur on base on an error. Norm Hankins singled to put Mekules in the hole and Rudy Radics drove both home with a booming double. Kantor then smashed out his homer, a whistling drive into left field and Prasse followed with his circuit clout.

Previously, the Spartans had staged their first inning spurge on Morrison's single and Duncan's triple that was stretched into a homer on a bad throw. The Hawkeyes had taken the lead, however, in their half of the inning when they combined two hits with some smart base-running and a series of Spartan errors for a total of three runs.

Haub Bears Down
After that, with Haub yielding only two hits until the eighth, the visitors swung fruitlessly for six frames. Their last two runs, as Haub slowed down late in the game, came on successive singles by Morrison and Duncan, followed by Davis' two base clout.

Hankins, with three hits in four times at bat, and Prasse, with a homer and a single in four attempts, led the Iowa attack. All told, the Hawkeyes belted out 10 safeties off the two visiting hurlers, while the Spartans collected eight off Haub and Schomer.

Cyclones in Tie
LINCOLN, (AP)—Iowa State and Nebraska played to a 9 to 9 tie in a golf meet "warm-up" yesterday for the Big Six championship play tomorrow.

Ival Goodman's Homer Helps Reds Dump Phils

Indians Wallop Nats, 18-1; Blast Four Pitchers

CLEVELAND, May 17 (AP)—Cleveland's second-place Indians overpowered the Washington Senators today, 18 to 1, in a grotesque game which provided southpaw Al Milnar his fourth straight victory.

Rookie Sidney Hudson, who started for the Nats, couldn't find the plate and passed out, five walks and a hit before Rene Montegudo replaced him with nobody out in the first. Montegudo wasn't much better, giving two passes and four hits and running the Indians' first-inning total to ten runs.

Cleveland added five more off Joe Krakauskas, so infielder Charley Gelbert went to the box for Washington in the sixth. The old national leaguer retired the Indians in order that inning, but was touched in the seventh for Jeff Heath's second homer of the contest, and for two more tallies on three hits in the eighth.

Yankees Batter White Sox for 6-1 Win

DiMaggio Hits First Homer Of 1940 Season

CHICAGO, May 17 (AP)—Looking something like world champions again, the New York Yankees accumulated six runs on six hits today to wallop the Chicago White Sox 6 to 1 behind the five-hit hurling of Rookie Marvin Breuer.

The youngster who came up this spring from Kansas City held the Sox helpless and hitless for the first four innings and scoreless until the seventh, when two consecutive walks and a single by Marvin McNair gave Chicago its only run.

The game had been won long champions' lineup for the first before, however.

Joe DiMaggio, who got into the time last week, hit his first home run of the season with one on in the first inning. Red Rolfe had walked preceding the big blow into the lower left field seats.

Then in the fourth Tom Henrich raced all the way to second when McNair booted his grounder, DiMaggio scratched a hit off Bob Kennedy's glove and Colonel (Buster) Mills tripled to the centerfield wall. Joe Gordon was hit by a pitched ball. Babe Dahlgren singled Mills home and Gordon scored from third on the play, an infield out.

Simpson Leads In Track Meet

INDIANOLA, Ia., May 17 (AP)—Simpson college trackmen started on their way to their fifth consecutive Iowa conference championship here today by qualifying 13 athletes in 11 events in which trials were staged.

Finals in all 15 events are slated tomorrow.

University of Dubuque appeared likely to give the Methodists their strongest challenge by qualifying 11. Western Union and Central landed six places each, while Parsons, Luther, Loras, Iowa Wesleyan, Penn., and St. Ambrose earned four positions each. Upper Iowa trailed with three.

One record fell in the preliminaries. Jack Borsheim of Western Union broad jumped 22 feet one-fourth inch to eclipse the standard of 21-8 set in 1937 by both Miller of Dubuque and Soliah of Luther.

7-2 Victory Keeps Cincinnati on Top In League Standings

PHILADELPHIA, May 17 (AP)—A grand slam by Ival Goodman—a homer with the bases full—kept the Cincinnati Reds in first place in the national league today.

Goodman's blast over the right field wall at Shibe park came with two out in the 11th inning and gave the Reds a 7 to 2 victory over the fifth place Phillies.

The circuit clout, Goodman's fourth of the season, came at a time when it appeared the Phils would pull out of danger without being scored on.

Mike McCormick, first up in the 11th, doubled to center off southpaw Lloyd Brown, who had relieved Walt Beck in the ninth for the Phils. After Ed Joost sacrificed McCormick to third, pinch-hitter Ernie Lombardi and Bill Werber were purposely pressed to fill the bases. Lonnie Frey hit to Art Mahan at first who got McCormick at the plate. Goodman then came through with the count, one ball and no strikes. A walk to Frank McCormick and Johnny Rizzo's two-bagger produced the fifth run of the inning.

Ben Hogan Can Take It

Golfer Falls Down Stairs, But Recovers To Take Lead in Tourney

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP)—Though he fell down a flight of stairs last night and injured his back somewhat, young Ben Hogan was able to put together a 68-73 over the exacting Fresh Meadow Country club course today and take a comfortable lead over his 14 professional rivals in the Goodall round robin golf tournament.

With four more hard rounds of match play yet to be crowded into tomorrow and Sunday, Hogan tonight was five points ahead of his two closest pursuers, Paul Runyan and Jimmy Thomson. Hogan was breezing along with 12 "plus" points after three rounds, while Thomson and Runyan each owned seven points. Thomson shot rounds of 76-71 today, Runyan 71-72, on a par-70 layout.

HUSKERS Lead Big Six In Track Event

LINCOLN, Neb., May 17 (AP)—George Koettel of Oklahoma, hurried through 220 yards around a full curve to a new record and Nebraska, the defending champions, led the qualifiers with 19 today in the trials of the Big Six outdoor track meet.

Kansas State was a surprising second with 18, placing four men in the shot and three in the discus. Oklahoma sent neither the ailing Orville Mathews nor the recuperating John Morris to the marks but won 14 places in tomorrow's finals. Missouri qualified 11, Iowa State nine and Kansas six.

Leuz Elected Track Captain

Iowa City Weight Man One of Iowa's Principal Scorers

Bill Leuz, varsity field man was named captain of the Hawkeye track team yesterday by his fellow runners for the 1939-40 season. An election for captain at the close of last season was not held; yesterday's election was the first of its kind in some years.

Leuz has been one of the team's principal scorers this season with a total of 23 points. His best toss in competition was made in the first meet of the season at Purdue where the Hawk thinclads met the Boilermakers and Northwestern in a triangular affair. The heave was good for 47 feet 11 inches. Bill has done well over 49 feet in practice and he was the only Iowa man to place in the Big Ten indoor meet, taking a fourth spot.

Frosh Name Todd Outdoor Captain

While the varsity track squad was holding its election for team captain the freshman squad was intense in the same job which resulted in the popular choice of Walt Todd the rangy boy from the ranges down Henderson, Texas away.

Todd takes up the post where George Vack of West Branch leaves it as captain of the team during the indoor season.

Walt entered the university in January and since that time has become the sensation of the freshman team, leading in points scored and winning his events in almost every postal meet. Todd competes in the 440 and has run the distance in :49.5. He also clips off the dashes in good time and runs the 880 in under two minutes.

Tulsa Netsters Win

DES MOINES (AP)—Bob Patterson and Mc. Hopper, Tulsa's two net stars, again took over the Missouri Valley conference tennis singles and double championship yesterday, but they lost the team championship to their bitter state rival, Oklahoma A and M by a single point.

Evans Signs With Packers

Dick Evans, regular right end on last fall's University of Iowa football team, announced yesterday that he has signed a contract to play professional football with the Green Bay Packers.

Evans, whose performances with the "Iron Hawks" won him his third major letter in football, was rated as outstanding among defensive ends in the conference. He was also rated as number one center on last winter's basketball team.

With the Packers Evans will become a teammate of several former Hawkeye players, including Joe Laws and Frank Balaz.

Davenport Wins In Diamond Meet

MANSON, Ia., May 17 (AP)—Davenport's undefeated Blue Devils, profiting by Collins' fourth hit pitching, took a 6 to 2 victory from Humboldt and Postville edged out Tama, 6 to 5, in the first round games in the state high school baseball tournament here today.

The Blue Devils jumped into a two-run lead on Boettcher's home run with an inning and first in the first inning and sewed up the contest with a three-run spurge in the third inning.

Trackmen Face Badgers Today

First Event Starts At 1 This Afternoon On Hawkeye Track

Iowa opens and closes its home outdoor track season this afternoon when the thinclads meet Wisconsin here in a dual meet.

About 50 athletes will compete in the various track and field events, the first of which will begin at 1 o'clock with the pole vault. The first running event will start at 1:30 with the one mile run.

Balanced strength and several champions make the Badgers favorites, but in many of the 15 events the competition may be close. The stars for the Wisconsin squad will be Ed Buxton, conference 880 yard champ; Williams, who shared the indoor pole vault championship; Soutar in the javelin throw; Ed Smith, conference high hurdle king; Paskvan, in the shot put and Farin competing in the two mile.

Iowa's greatest strength will come from the dashes with Jim Wilson and Art Schlauder doing the work; the high and low hurdles featuring Hank Vollenweider and the shot put with Captain Bill Leuz. Cam Campbell should do well in the distance events.

B. Johansson Named President; Moving Pictures Shown

Officers for the coming year were elected last night at a meeting of the Norse club in the cafeteria of the Iowa Union. New officers include Bertram Johansson, president; Ernest Nybakken, vice president; Lucy Rusletvedt, secretary, and Hugh Guneson, treasurer. Prior to the election of officers, Johansson showed moving pictures of a trip through Holland and Norway in 1938. Many of the places depicted in the picture are now in the hands of the German invaders. He illustrated the customs of the people and showed scenes from their daily life.

Iowa City Musicians Capture More First Division Ratings

Two String Groups, Violist Rank at Top

Division 2 Ratings Listed; Results Not Yet Complete

Late reports from St. Paul include these local musicians' performances: Fletcher Miller, 2; Susan Showers, 3, in alto saxophone.

Iowa City continued to stack its record with honors at the St. Paul National Regional Musical Festival yesterday as incomplete reports showed three more first division ratings and five second. Those who paced the field for the local school yesterday were Marian MacEwen, viola, the string quartet and string quintet, all of whom were given division one ratings.

Division two was awarded City high school's violin contestant, Albert Muenzer, the mixed vocal group, the mixed chorus, Jean Mocha, baritone saxophone soloist, and the second division of the string quartet.

The Associated Press reported that Iowa schools were leading those of other states in competition as officials announced that registrations exceeded 8,000, nearly double last year's figure.

Decisions were delayed on following other musicians and groups who competed yesterday: Concert band, orchestra, mixed chorus, Robert Simpson, trombone solo; Donald Key, French horn solo; Verla Bales, alto clarinet solo; Richard Smith, E flat clarinet solo; William Gower, B flat clarinet solo; Susan Showers, alto saxophone solo; Fletcher Miller, alto saxophone solo, and the woodwind trio, consisting of Donald Reha, Mary Wylie and Anna Pickering.

Virginia Simpson, flute solo; William Gower, oboe solo; Vir Jean Peterson, oboe solo; Bonita Lansing, bassoon solo; the woodwind quintets, saxophone quartet, B flat clarinet quartet and mixed clarinet quartet.

LONDON, May 18 (AP)—The British press made no attempt this morning to hide the gravity of the situation on the western front and warned the public that reverses must be expected in the battle now raging in northern France and Belgium.

British commentators called this the darkest hour since the spring of 1918 when a big German push nearly crushed the allies.

REGINA, Saskatchewan, May 17 (AP)—Soldiers and civilians clashed with police in the streets of Regina tonight as the officers attempted to halt a demonstration in which the windows and furnishings of several buildings were damaged.

The disturbance apparently was a sequel to disorders which broke out last night when it was reported that pro-German elements were planning to meet in a local hall. The meeting failed to materialize.

The Metropole hotel, an old Regina landmark; a beer parlor and a barber shop were among the establishments damaged tonight.

Royal Canadian mounted police, local constables and military authorities cooperated in restoring order.

LONDON, May 18 (AP)—Dutch troops were reported today making their last stand on their own soil—the left bank of the Scheldt river—after abandoning the islands of Beverland and Walcheren in Zeeland province on the North sea.

They withdrew in company with French forces.

The original announcement that both Neveland and Walcheren were abandoned had been made last night by an authoritative Dutch source. The islands had been heavily bombarded.

Jack Causes a Riot In the Wide Open Spaces In "Buck Benny Rides Again"

When we say that Jack Benny forsakes the radio to ride a horse, twirls a mean lasso and routs a band of cattle rustlers without losing an ounce of sang-froid, to say nothing of insouciance, we give you some measure of the laughs to be found in his newest picture, "Buck Benny Rides Again," now at the Englert theater with last times Monday.

Not only Benny but most of his radio troupe forsake the microphone to don ten-gallon hats and head for the wide open spaces. Eddie "Rochester" Anderson is there to heckle his boss; Phil Harris lends his urbane presence; Andy Devine, and even Carmichael, the polar bear, add gusto to this new Benny production.

The result is lively entertainment which is the same as saying "tops for anybody." The picture is as funny as all get-out, which you might expect with Jack Benny playing a dynamic buckaroo under Rochester's critical eye. And Rochester, that old scene-rustler, steals the show as usual with a side-splitting dance which you might call Shuffle Off to Rochester-Buttalo.

The story of "Buck Benny Rides Again" permits Jack to cavort against a horse-opera background without surrendering any of his radio personality. The picture opens in a broadcasting studio.

'It's a Date' Comes to Strand

Deanna Durbin Makes Her Seventh Straight Hit in Newest Film

A grown-up Deanna Durbin makes it seven straight hits when her newest film, "It's a Date," opens at the Strand next Tuesday.

In many ways the new Joe Pasternak production is the Universal star's best picture. It has the most colorful setting—Hawaii—in which Deanna has ever appeared. Its comedy raves with the funniest ever screened and its romance is as poignant as the most successful hit-makers in Hollywood can produce.

The music, with Deanna singing four numbers, is again outstanding. One of the star's finest supporting casts shares credit for her latest triumph. Kay Francis, as Deanna's mother, a famous and glamorous actress, returns to high favor with an excellent performance and Walter Pidgeon, as romantic interest for both Deanna and Kay, has perhaps the most successful role of his career.

Deanna sings "Loch Lomond"; "Musetta's Street Song" from Puccini's "La Boheme"; Schubert's "Ave Maria"; and one popular number, "Love Is All," by Pinky Tomlin and Harry Tobias. The latter is stamped as a hit, while Deanna's rendition of the difficult classics is again phenomenal. Owens and his organization introduce "It Happened in Kaloha," by Ralph Freed and Frank Skinner, and "Rhythm of the Islands," by Eddie Cherkose, Jacques Press and Leon Belasco. These also appear as potential hit tunes.

'Yukon Flight' On Iowa Bill

James Newill, star of Monogram's "Yukon Flight," which is currently showing at the Iowa theater, has been literally "singing for his supper" all of his life.

Jimmy started to work himself through the University of Southern California by singing with a dance orchestra in the summer, but left at the end of his sophomore year to join the Los Angeles Opera Company, where he sang minor roles in many operas. From opera Jimmy went to ra-

'Fighting 69th' Next at Pastime

James Cagney, G. Brent, George O'Brien Star in Tomorrow's Picture

The Pastime theater's next attraction, "The Fighting 69th," which will open Sunday, features a cast of he-men actors who have had lots of experience in the "service." The action-packed story of the fightingest regiment this country has ever had, its characters are all portrayed by the veterans of many service films.

Look at George Brent. He's an army officer now, but he served as an officer in the navy in "Wings of the Navy" and as a submarine commander in "Submarine D-1." Then there's Cagney. James Cagney, of course. He was in "Here Comes the Navy" and "Devil Dogs of the Air"; now he's a private again in the "69th."

Pat O'Brien is an old service man, too. "Here Comes the Navy," "Devil Dogs of the Air" and "Submarine D-1" enlisted him, but now he changes his position to become an army chaplain, the famed Father Duffy of the "69th."

Frank McHugh—yes, he was a sailor in "Here Comes the Navy." He was also on the crew of "Submarine D-1." He's in the army now. Guinn "Big Boy" Williams was in uniform for "Here Comes the Navy" and Sam Cohen can claim service in one of the most famous screen troops of all time in "What Price Glory."

Quite a record for the cast, so maybe that's why the survivors of the real "69th" didn't offer any objections.

'Beware Spooks!' Next at Iowa

Cave-Mouthed Comedian Joe E. Brown Stars in Hilarious Cop Role

As a member of New York's "Finest," Joe E. Brown returns to the Iowa theater screen today in Columbia's "Beware Spooks!," to prove that fun is fun and this cave-mouthed comedian is one of the funniest. That, according to advance report, is a conservative estimate of the laugh-haunted effects of "Beware Spooks!"

From the moment Brown incurs the wrath of New York's police commissioner by holding his wedding at police headquarters until he corners a dangerous desperado in a beach house, "Beware Spooks!" moves at a fast clip. Brown is in constant trouble. He offends superior officers, allows a badly wanted criminal to escape and aids another in robbing a bank.

In finally battling the heavy in a Coney Island spook house, the star has a new field for comedy antics. Trick doors, elusive skeletons, trapdoors, slides and turntables play their part in making this sequence among the funniest Brown has ever achieved.

'Yukon Flight' On Iowa Bill

James Newill, star of Monogram's "Yukon Flight," which is currently showing at the Iowa theater, has been literally "singing for his supper" all of his life.

Jimmy started to work himself through the University of Southern California by singing with a dance orchestra in the summer, but left at the end of his sophomore year to join the Los Angeles Opera Company, where he sang minor roles in many operas. From opera Jimmy went to radio, where he soon became a singing star on a local station, and then he went back to singing with orchestras, and became one of the country's better known vocalists, for every night he sang Gus Arnheim's signature song, "Say It With Music" to dancers and radio listeners all over the U.S.A.

When they were looking for a handsome six-footer to play "Renfrew of the Royal Mounted" in a series of pictures based on the adventures of the famous Mountie, Jimmy was one of three who fulfilled the acting and physical requirements. He won the part as soon as they heard him sing.

"Yukon Flight" is the third in the Renfrew series. It is the story of the battle between the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and bandits of the air. Outstanding in the cast are Warren Hull, Dave O'Brien, Louise Stanley, Karl Hackett, and William Pawley.

theater for an engagement of seven days, is not human and never was young.

Here is a picture which a reviewer can recommend without fear of contradiction. It is a beautifully human story of a boy—of any generation and any walk of life—who triumphs against the stigma of being considered strange. It has everything—comedy, adventure, thrills, tears, human interest and family love.

As young Tom Edison, Mickey Rooney shows his right claim of being an actor. He is ideally cast and has never been more lovable, not even as Andy Hardy. As his sister Virginia Weidler has a role that definitely makes her a star. Fay Bainter and George Bancroft, as Edison's parents, will be remembered as long as motion pictures endure.
