Soviet Union Takes Military Occupation of 3 Nations

The Soviet Union Acts

The above map indicates how Lithuania, together with Russian-held Poland, becomes part of the expanding Soviet Union. Many European observers believe the Soviet move was an indication that Russia has decided to strengthen herself while Germany is still deeply engaged in western Europe. The Soviet has also rushed troops and tanks to the new Baltic bases seized from Latvia and Estonia.

Rushes Troops, Tanks to New Baltic Bases After Ultimatum

Move Gives Russians Unchallenged Command Of Eastern End of Baltic Sea; Puts Armies on Nazi Frontiers

STOCKHOLM, June 17 (AP)—Soviet Russia, which won important military concessions from Finland by war, rushed troops and tanks tonight to new Baltic bases seized from Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania by ultimatum. The full military occupation of the three little nations made them armed camps for soviet troops, gave the Russians unchallenged command of the eastern end of the Baltic sea, and put red armies close to German frontiers.

There were reports, too, in the Swedish press that Russian soldiers were being concentrated in soviet eastern Poland. Results of the broadening of Russia's armed influence could not be foretold immediately. Reasons for the moves were given by the Moscow government in three notes to Lithuania, entered by troops Saturday, and Latvia and Estonia, occupied at dawn today. The notes demanded that the countries allow free entry of soviet troops and reorganize their governments.

Tass, official soviet news agency, said the government's reasons were that Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia made a military agreement "directed against the U. S. S. R.," violated pacts with Russia, held secret conferences, and sought to bring Finland into a Baltic alliance.

There was no opposition to the steady stream of soviet soldiers and mechanized equipment that poured in from the east and north-east.

Governments of the three nations were being reorganized. Russian military authorities were participating in reorganizations.

Tass reported that "ex-president" Antanas Smetona and other Lithuanian officials fled across the border into Germany and were interned.

The populations of the countries were described as calm.

The soviet fleet entered the Bay of Riga, between Latvia and Estonia, and troops occupied military garrisons along the coast and in the principal cities.

The Stockholm newspaper Allehanda reported Berlin reaction to the moves was "rather reserved" and "not exactly welcomed."

The Berlin radio, in an English broadcast heard in London, said: "Some circles abroad are making idle speculation with regard to Soviet Russia's intentions. All rumors in this connection are entirely unfounded."

Foreign observers in Stockholm, however, suggested that the consolidation of Russia's position on the Baltic was prompted by a growing concern over Germany's rapid expansion and extension of military influence in Norway and at the western outlet of the Baltic.

In view of Russia's non-aggression pact with Germany, some observers asked whether the moves indicated preparations for a Russian break with Germany, or were a step taken in cooperation with the nazis in dividing the "spheres of influence" of "new Europe."

tries to prevent Germany from gaining possession of the wealth.

The United States government was advised that Britain would take over French armament orders in this country.

Behind these developments ran an undertone of worry in official circles over the possibility that Germany might seize the French fleet.

Dispatches from France indicated that nation considered it probable that surrender of its fleet would be one of the conditions imposed by Germany.

Should Germany get the French navy, the combined German-Italian-French fleet would outnumber the British fleet in all categories other than cruisers and aircraft carriers and would have a similar superiority over the United States fleet.

Group of Leaders Meets to Discuss "Cartel System" to Handle Exports

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—A vast "cartel system" to handle exports of Latin-American products and block nazi economic domination in this hemisphere was under consideration, officials said today, as a group of government leaders held an hour-and-a-half conference on hemisphere trade problems.

The plan appeared to contemplate a hemisphere cartel to control the prices of such products as wheat, cotton, beef, coffee, and copper—a Pan-American effort to protect the hemisphere in the economic field as the Monroe doctrine safeguards it from European political penetration.

It probably would take the form of a huge corporation, or other agency, to be subsidized by this country which would buy up exports of Central and South America, and perhaps Canada, and resell them to Europe. The 21 American republics thus would deal with the corporation rather than become subject to the nazi barter system with its accompanying political penetration.

Congressional action would be required to set up such a corporation and preliminary comment by several senators was favorable.

The corporation would have to spend up to $1,000,000,000 a year, it was estimated, and might incur losses of half that amount, which would be underwritten by the government.

A study has been underway for some time as to "the most effective manner of disposing profitably of export surpluses in the Western hemisphere."

Armistice Plea Unanswered; German Onslaught Continues

'Honorable Peace' Is Condition of Surrender As Exhausted Troops Battle Against Heavy Odds on All Fronts

LONDON, June 18 (Tuesday) (AP)—The Bordeaux correspondent of the Daily Mail reported today the French Mediterranean fleet, acting under orders of Admiral Jean Darlan, has had a major engagement with the Italian fleet. The correspondent said it was understood that the Italians suffered heavy losses, but added that it was not clear when the engagement occurred.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BORDEAUX, June 17 — The armies of France fought on tonight along the whole confused front after their government asked Adolf Hitler for terms of peace and received no immediate reply.

With what strength of men and munitions was left after 12 days of ceaseless retreat against heavy odds, the exhausted French still defiantly demanded "an honorable peace" as the condition of surrender.

A French night communique said the fighting still was violent, that French resistance continued, and that there had been no letup in the fierce nazi onslaught south and east from the River Loire. Military spokesmen admitted, however, that the front was disorganized and that the Germans had split the French forces into four ribbons.

Hardest fighting was reported in the vicinity of Orleans, along the Loire river, 75 miles south of Paris. (The Germans said they had taken Orleans and crossed the Loire.) The French communique told of desperate resistance all along the middle Loire, but said German spearheads still stabbed deeper into France in the region of Dijon and Autun, east of the Loire, 150 to 175 miles south-east of Paris.

The French admitted German mechanized units had pushed into the departments of Doubs and Jura west of the Swiss frontier.

"At all points of contact," the communique said, "our troops still are fighting with the same bravery for the honor of the flag."

The French radio said late tonight that the French navy was "intact" and that the French air force was "intact and powerful."

"We are ready to lay down arms if we can get an honorable peace," declared the new foreign minister Paul Baudoin in a broadcast to the world over the French radio.

"—but we are never ready to accept shameful conditions which mean the end of the spiritual freedom of our people."

"If we are given the choice between resistance and honor, the French army and the whole French people will know what to do."

Baudoin spoke as Adolf Hitler and Italy's Premier Benito Mussolini arranged to meet tomorrow to give the verdict.

"With a broken heart," the new 84-year-old French Premier Henri Philippe Petain, who immortalized the words "they shall not pass" at Verdun in the World war, gave his countrymen today the decision that France must yield.

Petaim made the sad explanation that France, on her knees before an overpowering enemy "superior in numbers and arms," had to give up, but both he and Baudoin indicated that France demanded honor as well as peace.

Praising the help of Great Britain, Poland, Norway, Holland and Germany into the dust.)

Great Britain Tells Germans She'll Fight Alone Until Finish

Axis Powers May Demand French Navy

Bombing, Invasion, Blockade of Isles Is Expected Soon

LONDON, June 17 (AP)—Great Britain flung into nazi Germany's teeth tonight the defiant decision to fight on alone—"unconquerable"—from the little island seat of world-wide empire.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill, in a two-minute radio address, said the fight would go on "until the curse of Hitler is lifted from the brows of mankind."

He told his people that they now have become "the sole champions in arms to defend the world cause."

Speaking for the British empire, he declared: "We shall do our best to be worthy of this high honor."

Shortly after he spoke, the British government announced that in the last dark hours of yesterday, before France asked her nazi foe for peace, Britain had offered to unite with France as one nation to continue the struggle.

The "indissoluble" union would have been complete, with one government, all-inclusive citizenship and joint organs of defense, foreign, financial and economic policies.

Apparently the French rejected the offer, thus bringing about fall of Premier-Reynaud's cabinet and the subsequent French plea for peace with Germany.

This development made it plainer than ever that England herself is menaced by the triple threat of blockade, bombardment and direct invasion from Hitler's legions.

"What has happened in France," Churchill said, "makes no difference" to Britain's "faith and purpose."

To Fight On

He continued: "We shall defend our island home and with the British empire around us we shall fight on, unconquerable until the curse of Hitler is lifted from the brows of mankind."

"We are sure that in the end all will come right. The news from France is very bad, and I grieve for the gallant French people who have fallen into this terrible misfortune."

"Nothing will alter our feeling toward them or our faith that the genius of France will rise again."

The talk was made at the request of the British press that Churchill give a message to the

Adolf Hitler, Mussolini to Meet To Decide Fate of Fallen France

French Escape Battle of Jura

300,000 Troops Saved From Maginot Trap By Alpine Chasseurs

LES VERRIERS, Switzerland (at the French border), June 18 (Tuesday) (AP)—The dramatic battle of the Jura mountains ended this morning and the Germans' powerful motorized army finally closed the door on its Alsace-Lorraine trap after fighting battle-worn Frenchmen who refused to believe their country has offered to surrender.

By the dogged battle, a few thousand French Alpine Chasseurs had rescued a fresh army estimated at least at 300,000 Maginot fortress troops who literally were snatched from the trap before the Germans could close it.

The rescue gave the new French foreign minister, Paul Boudoin, military backing for his statement last night that the French would never lay down their arms to accept a peace which was dishonorable.

Most Frenchmen in Switzerland said that Boudoin's words were directed mainly at Premier Mussolini.

They believed old Marshal Petaim would consider Italian demands for Corsica, Savoy and Nice "dishonorable" peace terms, and that the veteran of Verdun and his army and people might fight on, in spite of desperately deadly odds, rather than submit to such terms.

The 300,000 whose rescue yesterday places such a last ditch fight within the realm of military possibility, stood in an orderly guard early today on the lower Jura.

Generalissimo Will Become Intermediary

MADRID, June 17 (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco, Spain's leader who once studied military science under Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, France's new premier, was reported tonight to have been invited to act as intermediary in negotiations for an armistice requested for France by the aged marshal.

(Spain's participation in peace negotiations revived speculation among foreign observers as to whether Hitler and Mussolini might not be attempting to revive Spanish interest in an attempt to take Gibraltar from the British, now that France, the stronger land power of the allied combination, appears about to be taken out of the war. There have been loud demonstrations in Spanish cities recently demanding Gibraltar for Spain.)

Police Investigation In Car Blaze Hints At Possible Sabotage

SARNIA, Ont., June 17 (AP)—Police investigators of Canada and the United States considered today the possibility that a fire set in a box car carrying airplane motors across the international border was an attempt to blow up the river tunnel beneath the St. Clair river between Port Huron, Mich., and Sarnia.

The fire was set late Saturday in a car carrying four motors consigned from a Montana plant to the Fleet Aircraft corporation at Fort Erie, Ont. A railway guard discovered the blaze which was extinguished without damage.

Duce Speeds From Rome To Destination

Expect Decisions Will Affect French Destiny For Many Generations

BERLIN, June 17 (AP)—Adolf Hitler and his axis partner, Premier Mussolini, will meet, probably tomorrow somewhere in western Europe, to decide the fate of prostrate France and dictate terms to the republic which lay crushed tonight under the German military machine.

Mussolini was speeding northward from Rome to an unannounced destination for what promised to be a history-making conference with Hitler. Decisions influencing the French destiny possibly for generations were expected.

The conference between Hitler and Mussolini was called by the fuhrer immediately after France appealed today for an armistice and some sources advance the possibility it might be held at Versailles.

Versailles palace, near Paris, was the scene of treaties ending the Franco-Prussian and the World war—one a German triumph and the other a German humiliation.

(Tonight the German radio, in a broadcast heard by NBC in New York, said "The time has come for them—the French—to take what they once gave Germany.")

The broadcast said "In reference to terms which Germany will impose on France, the time has arrived for Germans to remember Compeigne, at which time Marshal Foch not only dictated the most bestial terms but also humiliated Germany into the dust.)

H. K. Hyde Selected Chairman Of Republican Advance Guard

Group at Philadelphia; Discusses War, G.O.P. Stand in Emergency

PHILADELPHIA, June 17 (AP)—In an atmosphere heavily clouded by the crisis in the allied cause abroad, the advance guard of the republican convention met today to write its 1940 platform.

Unanimously, it elected a Dewey man—Herbert K. Hyde, of Oklahoma—as its temporary chairman, while one of the party's most intense anti-Deweyites—Kenneth Simpson, New York national committeeman—was telling friends that in his opinion the Dewey boom had "collapsed."

The first thought of nearly everyone was for the war situation and what the republicans as a party should say and do about it.

"We are standing at the crossroads of civilization," Hyde said accepting the temporary chairmanship. "Half the world is in flames."

He added that "as our distinguished president has said, 'In our own country a third of the nation is ill-fed, ill-housed and ill-clothed,'" and asked "why it is that after seven years this vital question has not been solved by this administration."

Senate Vetoes Tobacco Taxes In Defense Bill

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The senate, working swiftly toward a final vote on the $1,007,000,000 defense tax bill, approved a $77,000,000 increase in amusement taxes today in place of $76,000,000 in tobacco taxes which had been included in the bill as it passed the house.

Under the amusement tax schedule, admissions costing 10 cents or more would be subject to a 10 per cent levy. The house had voted to impose the levy on admissions costing more than 30 cents.

Late in the day a controversy developed over a finance committee recommendation to boost the existing tax of 30 cents a gallon on rectified liquor to 40 cents.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) urged that congress stay in session until it had revised both revenue and spending programs of the federal government.

Senator Tydings (D-Md) proposed amendments which he said would raise an additional $400,000,000 annually. They would cut the income tax exemption for married persons from $2,500 to $1,600, instead of to $2,000 as proposed in the pending bill.

To Enact Monroe Doctrine

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Legislation warning that the United States would not "acquiesce" in the transfer of western hemisphere colonies from one non-American nation to another was hustled through the senate today a few hours after word came that France was asking peace with Germany.

The house planned to act on the same legislation tomorrow—the day upon which Hitler and Mussolini meet to decide what peace terms will be imposed on France.

The legislation said: "Resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, (1) That the United States would not recognize any transfer, and would not acquiesce in any attempt to transfer, any geographic region of the Western hemisphere from one non-American power to another non-American power; and

"(2) That if such transfer or attempt to transfer should appear likely, the United States shall, in addition to other measures, immediately consult with the other American republics to determine upon steps which should be taken to safeguard their common interests."

The senate vote on this resolution climaxed a day of developments resulting from the capitulation of France.

President Roosevelt signed documents "freezing" French credits and capital in this country. Officials estimated that France has in excess of $1,000,000,000 of gold, cash and securities here. Similar freezing orders had been applied to assets of other invaded coun-

Plan Huge Additional Defense

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The administration added a huge, new naval building program to its defense plans today, asking congress to authorize construction of 84 additional warships in the next four years at an estimated cost of $1,200,000,000.

Coming on the heels of an 11 per cent naval expansion previously authorized, the new program was accepted generally on Capitol hill as a move toward increasing American sea power to the point where it could meet simultaneous threats in Atlantic and Pacific.

Its completion in 1944 would give the United States a mighty armada of 618 vessels, far greater naval power than this or any other nation ever has had. With completion of the new program and presently authorized construction, the fleet would list:

26 battleships, 14 airplane carriers, 70 cruisers, 338 destroyers, and 170 submarines.

This compares with the present fleet of 15 battleships, five airplane carriers, 35 cruisers, 219 destroyers and 95 submarines.

The request for the additional naval expansion took the form of simple introduction of administration-sponsored bills by Representative Vinson (D-Ga) and Senator Walsh (D-Mass), the chairmen of the house and senate naval committees.

"World conditions," Vinson said, "make it absolutely imperative that the navy be built up as rapidly as possible."

He said that about $80,000,000 would be required to finance a start on this program during the fiscal year beginning July 1 and, of this sum, estimated that $50,000,000 would be spent on expansion of shipyards.

The naval construction bill arrived at the capitol while both senate and house were speeding along other defense measures.

Unanimously, and without debate, the house approved a bill authorizing an increase in the regular army from 280,000 to

Dedication for Iowa

The second week of the university's 41st summer school session has begun. Several thousand students have enrolled for undergraduate and graduate work on the campus. May the stay here of each and every one be pleasant.

As the fate of European democracy hangs in the balance, as America tends toward a feeling of pessimism concerning the future, here and the world over, it is well that we remember again the principle of broad education which was a cornerstone of this democracy, and which will remain its hope and strength, regardless of future events.

As the integrity of nations undergoes its most severe of history's trials, may this summer session at Iowa be dedicated to the integrity of self, through enlightenment. That is the bulwark of the nation.

Training in Citizenship

Part of the time at the meetings of the 78th annual convention of the National Education association in Milwaukee June 30 to July 4 will be devoted to discussions and demonstrations of what may be done in the nation's schools to combat un-American doctrines there.

The nation is turning more and more to a realization of just what American democracy means to the individual, and how best to protect it against alien influence.

The theme of the 1940 American education week Nov. 10 to 16 will be "Education for the Common Defense."

Democracy we have a tendency to take for granted. That it's the BEST form of government for wholesome living has been indicated pretty thoroughly right here on the Iowa campus in the child welfare department's recent laboratory experiments in democratic and autocratic "government" among children.

Democracy, those experiments show, (speaking in the broadest terms) breeds cooperation and enjoyable human relations; dictatorial government leads to quarrels and tension.

All power to the nation's school systems in their struggle to teach the nation's youngsters to be good American citizens. It's too bad the older generation hasn't profited a bit more from the opportunities they've had to learn the same thing.

Teaching Men To Think

A prominent publishing house has announced a $2,500 prize for the "best non-fiction book-length manuscript to be submitted in complete form before Sept. 1, 1941, by a member of an American college or university staff."

Seeing a book for "the general reader," not a textbook or professional work, the publishers are after manuscripts which are "either surveys of the existing knowledge in a given field or expositions of original theses of the authors."

Creative contests of this sort have become increasingly prominent in recent years. Quite apart from interest stimulated in the publishing field, which is good business for publishers, there's new interest created in the minds of those among America's citizenry who are in a position to write interestingly about something.

The only requirement in this newest contest is that the subject matter have genuine significance and be sufficiently wide in its range to touch the interests of non-professionals.

There's the most important consideration. Publishers are eager to stimulate wider interest among the reading public in educational and scientific trends. That too is good business for the publishers, but stimulating readers to think clearly about anything and everything in this day—stimulating thought itself—is a good thing for everybody.

Character and Jobs

"In a world crisis," declares King Merritt, vice president of Investors Syndicate of Minneapolis, "American employers demand that job applicants have character above all qualifications, some of them adding that 'without character all else is ineffectual.'"

Character as a prime qualification for a job is reported more than three times as frequently as its nearest rival, scholarship, and nearly four times as often as its second rival, personality.

The problem of character building in this modern world lies in the fact that the changing times makes the process of obtaining it more difficult. This "ready made in packages" era isn't conducive to training in intangibles. A good deal of worth while study might well be devoted to the question of how to build character in a world in which the character building devices of old have disappeared.

The Lindbergh Integer

Best expression of the week?
Col. Charles A. Lindbergh: "Our present danger results from making gestures with an empty gun after we have already lost the draw. Fortunately, the wide wall of the Atlantic stands between us and the shooting that is going on."

Colonel Lindbergh, quietly and firmly, told the nation via radio last week end some pretty significant things. His position is based, of course, upon his belief in American invulnerability, one of today's big question marks, and he therefore views Mr. Roosevelt's promises of material aid to the allies as a step toward war.

Trends in current thought will tend to bear out his belief, it would seem. Reverses unlike any in the past several months seem to have struck the Roosevelt personality. The people of the nation aren't as liberal about this "material aid for which we haven't the material" as Roosevelt evidently had presumed.

And Lindbergh, who has become the spokesman of a new liberal-isolation group, comes right back in less than a month to reaffirm his point of view that while we'd like to do something about the mess in Europe, we'd better admit we can't and keep our eyes on the home front in the interests of maintaining civilization in at least one hemisphere.

It will be interesting to watch the reaction of such people as Senator Byrnes of South Carolina, who flayed the earlier Lindbergh talk. Senator Key Pittman has already expressed his belief that Lindbergh should stick to technical air channels and leave politics alone.

Incidentally, the president seems to have felt the pressure of the strong faction who disapproved of his Charlottesville speech. In his latest communication to the allied councils, he was most careful to point out that military aid doesn't come under the heading of "material aid" so to speak, and that congress is involved in any decision to send military aid to Europe.

It was a polite way of informing the over-eager allies that the incident at Charlottesville merely evolved because Mr. Roosevelt was pretty sore at Signor Mussolini, and how was Mr. Roosevelt to know Europe was listening?

In the interests of maintaining a certain amount of equilibrium, it's a good thing we have people like Colonel Lindbergh to stay the onrush of popular fears of totalitarianism.

It's tough to keep one's head these days. The Lindbergh influence is at least the "other side."

A Man About MANHATTAN

'Mowing 'Em Down' At the World's Fair

BY GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—Clare Maxwell, of Life magazine, and Charles H. Babb, who deals in airplanes, are two of the best wing shots in the country. They are also clay pigeon experts, and they are enthusiastic about the miniature pigeon range on the midway at the World's Fair. This range is similar to a regular shooting gallery with the exception that the automatic 22-rifles are munitioned with shells that shoot a mustard seed pattern of tiny lead pellets. The game is eight shots for a quarter, and the miniature pigeons, or discs, are sprung from tiny traps beneath the counter where the shooters stand. It is nothing for Maxwell or Babb to break 98 of 100.

The story of Babb's proficiency with guns is interesting because he has only one hand. He has offices at Glendale, Calif., and at the LaGuardia Airport in New York. Babb buys and sells old planes. He is the man who acquired most of the old Ford trimotor jobs and sold them to companies in South America, where they are used to transport lumber out of the high mountainous regions. One plane, in one hour, can equal the work of a heavy pack train in two weeks.

Maxwell is an editor who follows the shooting seasons throughout the country. He was telling me at dinner the other night his plans for a return to the duck paradises of the Arkansas swamps this winter. All arrangements have been made. Last year he brought back a quota of plump mallards from Arkansas, by plane, and gave a magnificent duck dinner for Charles Rochester, Hotel Lexington managing director; Babb, Jack Frye, TWA president, and this correspondent.

The pigeon range at the fair isn't the only shooting gallery in operation along the noisy midway. Like those at Coney Island and at other parks and pleasure resorts throughout the metropolitan area, they have taken on overtones of the war. They have brought themselves up to the level of the headlines.

"Mow 'Em Down" is the cry around one remarkable stand, where BB machine-guns are in operation. These machine-guns are operated by compressed air, and you get 50 shots for a dime. The fifty shots last about two seconds. You shoot at miniature planes suspended from the ceiling by runner strings. An interesting point about these machine guns is that private ownership is illegal. They are available only for exhibitors and shooting galleries. They are not practical for private ownership because they are fed "air" similar to the "free air" line for your car at gasoline stations. When I was a kid BB-shot were lead. Now they are cut from steel and copper coated. The effect is that they are easy to follow with the eye, and shooting these machine-guns gives the impression of filling the air with tracer bullets.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Ten Billions For PWA, Defense

WASHINGTON—Those who control the speaking tube to Mr. Roosevelt's left ear have been hollering upstairs to get him to double his national defense outlay and shoot a $10,000,000,000 shot into the economic system.

If any identification of these is necessary, they are the spenders reading from left to right: left, Chairman Eccles of federal reserve; official White House economic ghost, Laughlin Currie; official will-of-the-economic-wisp, Leon Henderson; Commerce Secretary Hopkins, and a man who is in charge of the interior department whose name I can never remember.

PUBLIC WORKS PLUS DEFENSE

The plan they broadly outlined to the president on the Q.T. is basically a public works scheme with secondary defense implications—such projects as the construction of superhighways like Hitler's auto - bahnen, bypasses around large cities, tunneled railroad bridges under rivers, duplicate auto bridges, etc.

Their argument to the chief executive is that the present $4,000,000,000 program (which provides for only $3,200,000,000 the next year) will not cure unemployment, because it will not absorb idle unskilled labor. In effect what they want is to try their old social spending theory on the truly grand scale which they now think is necessary to make it work.

PRESIDENT SILENT

Mr. Roosevelt received the scheme some days ago and the spenders have blown their White House tube-whistle several times since, but according to their story the president just sits there and says nothing. They attribute his failure to take up the project to Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's contrary counsel.

HOUSERS MAD

A quiet meeting of representatives of various government housing agencies, called to coordinate their defense activities, has adjourned hurriedly in discoordination. Competition between the United States housing authority, federal housing administration and other housing units has been sharp all along, but it reached its height just before the coordinating gathering assembled. Nathan Straus, head of USHA, called in his field workers for a pep talk which possibly was designed to get them together behind Mr. Roosevelt's man, once had his own theatrical company in Germany, was honored in Berlin for 12 years. With Hitler's accession he was forced to flee to Austria, and there he was here in a hoax which still burns the Gestapo's ears. Some day a good movie can be filmed with this hoax as a basis.

Reason for his flight was Royce's slight strain of "non-Aryan" blood. While hiding in the Alps, Royce grew a beard, dyed it and his hair blonde. Then, with the aid of friends in Vienna, he permitted himself to be "discovered" on the Austrian stage. Critics, hearing of his gifts, came from Naziland to hail him as the perfect type of "Nordic Aryan peasant" and acclaim his acting genius. When Royce unmasked himself, there was trouble not from the Austrian government but from German pressure. The Austrians assessed penalties but remitted them, which gave Royce time to escape to America.

Albert Basserman, often called "German's greatest actor," is a voluntary exile. From a great start in "Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet," he has gone to roles in "Foreign Correspondent" and "Escape" (which concerns Nazi Germany) and now is in "The Man from Fleet Street."

Felix Bressart, a refugee who was introduced hilariously in "Ninotchka," continues his Hollywood career—and not the least of his work has been in "Escape" and "Foreign Correspondent."

Martin Kosleck's career, with the new release of "Nazi Spy," should soar again. His first film role was the German Minister of Propaganda in that celluloid indictment of subversive doing in the U. S. The performance led to a similar role in "Espionage Agent." Kosleck, a voluntary exile, has a minor assignment in "Foreign Correspondent."

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

Taking Revenge On the Dictator

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—If revenge is as sweet as they say it is, there are several actors in town who should skip their desserts—they've had their fill of sweetness. They are the exiles, voluntary and otherwise, from Nazi Germany, fled to Hollywood to patch their lives and fortunes and now given opportunity to hit back at the oppressors, even if only through the screen.

You see them in one of another of the anti-Nazi pictures Hollywood has made, or is making. You will know Lionel Royce well before this screen year is over. You saw or will see him in "Confessions of a Nazi Spy" now being re-issued as a timely anti-"fifth column" subject. Royce plays the brutal, domineering Gestapo agent. In "Four Sons" he is Herr Sturm, the Czech villager who cooperates with the German infiltration and considers it a "great day" when Hitler takes over. You will see him again in "I Married a Nazi," again as a swastika devotee. Royce, a bulky, kindly gentle-

14th Annual Child Welfare Conference Opens Here Today

Five Leaders To Discuss Child Needs

Youth and Children In Democracy Topic Of Round Table Panel

Five prominent leaders in the field of child welfare and parent education will discuss with representatives of Iowa's youth organizations and communities "The Needs of Children and Youth in Democracy" at the 14th annual child welfare conference convening on the campus today.

Augmenting the leadership of the five guest speakers will be more than 25 local leaders in the field who will participate on panels during the three-day meeting here.

Students Participate
Iowa City students chosen to participate in the meeting are Albert Menzer and Jack Fetig of Iowa City high school and Loren Hickerson, graduate student at the University of Iowa.

Local representatives of youth organizations include Richard Bireline and Walter Hall, Boy Scouts of America, and Orville Hora, rural youth.

Mrs. Richard Sidwell of Iowa City will represent the Girl Scouts and E. J. Liechty the junior chamber of commerce here, in the round table discussions.

Prominent Speakers

Prominent speakers to appear on the conference program are Toni Taylor, associate editor of McCall's magazine, New York City; Dr. William Blatz, director of St. George's School for Child Study, University of Toronto, Canada; Dr. Willard W. Beatty, director of education at the United States office of Indian affairs, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. F. R. Kenison, governor's representative to the White House conference on "Children in a Democracy," and Mrs. Katherine Whiteside Taylor, University of Syracuse, N. Y.

Dean Stoddard Director

Prof. May Pardee Youtz of the college of education is general chairman and the entire project is under the direction of Dean George D. Stoddard of the graduate college and head of the local child welfare research station.

Prof. Ralph H. Ojemann of the psychology department is in charge of the special youth program of panels and round tables.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Morning
General session—Senate chamber, Old Capitol, chairman, Prof. May Pardee Youtz.

10—Address of Welcome, Prof. G. W. Stewart.

10:15—"Do Adolescents Need Parents?" Mrs. Katherine Whiteside Taylor.

11—"Life at the Home Front," Dr. William E. Blatz.

Afternoon
Round table discussions, senate chamber, Old Capitol, on "Do Adolescents Need Parents?" and "Life at the Home Front" under the leadership of Mrs. Taylor and Dr. Blatz, from 2:30 to 4 o'clock.

Evening

Not Too Late May Apply for Air Training Program

Applications for the government's summer civilian air training program are still taken, according to Elmer Lundquist, director of the ground school training.

Forty candidates for the program have already passed the physical examination. Four women will be eligible for the summer training, Lundquist said.

Past, Present Members Of Physical Education Group Will Meet

All past and present members of the American association of Directors of Physical Education for College Women will be entertained at a luncheon at noon today.

The group will meet in the foyer of Iowa union.

Prosperity Club No. 2 Will Meet Tonight

Prosperity club, No. 2, will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the court house, where it will hold its regular business meeting.

After the business meeting, the group will be entertained with music and games. The party is open to the public.

Today's Conference Speakers

DR. WILLIAM E. BLATZ

From the University of Toronto comes Dr. William E. Blatz to speak to the conference this morning on "Life at the Home Front." Director of St. George's School for Child Study in the Canadian university, Dr. Blatz for three years has served as educational consultant for the Dionne quintuplets, and has prepared several research studies with the famous five sisters as subjects. He will also lead a round table discussion on this afternoon's program, and will present the main dinner-address of the conference tomorrow night at Iowa Union. Well-known to Iowa child welfare conference groups, Dr. Blatz is author of two university child welfare pamphlets and former speaker here.

MRS. KATHARINE W. TAYLOR

Discussing the topic of her latest book, "Do Adolescents Need Parents?" Mrs. Katharine Whiteside Taylor of the school of education at Syracuse university will open the conference with an address at 10 o'clock this morning. A consultant in family life education for the office of education, Washington, D. C., Mrs. Taylor will lead a round table discussion at 2:30 p. m. this afternoon in house chamber, Old Capitol. Former director of a co-operative nursery school and specialist in parent education in California and Colorado, she has served as educational guidance assistant at Columbia university. Last year she was chief of the division of prevention and education in the Wisconsin department of mental hygiene. Her latest book, written for the human relations commission of the Progressive Education association, was placed on Parents magazine honor list. "Parents, Relax!" will be the subject Mrs. Taylor will discuss at tonight's general session meeting, open to the public, in the chemistry auditorium at 8 o'clock.

National Chairman

Dr. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division and alumni service here, has been selected as chairman of the radio committee of the National University Extension association. Dr. Mahan was chosen for the position by Prof. O. J. Keller of Pennsylvania State college, new president of the association. As chairman of the radio committee, Dr. Mahan will represent the association on the National Committee on Education by Radio.

St. Wenceslaus Ladies to Offer Card Party

A card party will be given by the St. Wenceslaus Ladies' club at 2:15 tomorrow in the church parlors. Mrs. Herbert Aldous will be hostess.

The group will play bridge and euchre. The party is open to the public.

Dorothy Myers To Be Honored With Shower

Miss Myers Will Wed Charles W. Schmitt At 7 A.M. Saturday

Honoring Dorothy Myers, bride-elect, a bridge party and shower will be given by Mrs. Joseph Glenn and Evangeline Schradel tonight in the home of the former, 1128 Rochester.

Guests who will share the courtesy will include Mrs. Roy Calta, Mrs. Albert Handy, Mrs. Charles Blackman, Mrs. J. W. Bowen, Margaret Greaser, Dorothy Gough, Mary Eleanor Seydel, Genevieve Schradel, Nellie Setman, Ruth Craton and Lorene Murphy.

Miss Myers, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Myers, and Charles W. Schmitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Schmitt, 325 N. Clinton, will be married at 7 a.m. Saturday. The ceremony will take place in St. Mary's church with the Rev. Father Herman Strub officiating.

Attending Miss Myers will be Evangeline Schradel, and Roy Calta will be the best man. A breakfast for members of the family in Youde's inn will follow the ceremony.

The couple will be at home at 532 1/2 S. Dubuque.

Miss Myers was graduated from university high school and Irish's business college. She also attended the university here. Mr. Schmitt is an alumnus of St. Mary's high school and attended the university. He is now employed by Smith and Burger, contractors.

P.O. Auxiliary Elects Today

Officers will be elected at the meeting of the Post Office clerks auxiliary at 1:30 today in the assembly room of the light and power company.

Mrs. Frank Strub will be in charge.

Elks Ladies Lunch Today

A one o'clock luncheon will be given by the Elks' Ladies in the B.P.O.E. hall this noon.

Mrs. Leo Kohl is chairman. The group will play bridge later in the afternoon.

Women of Moose Postpone Meeting, To Install Officers

The usual Tuesday meeting of the Women of the Moose has been postponed until next week because of the installment of officers of the club at Tipton.

Local officers will install the Tipton officers and will instruct in initiation work.

Were Wed Yesterday

In a single ring ceremony in St. Patrick's church yesterday morning, Mona Margaret Newkirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Newkirk, 323 E. College, and Ambrose J. Dreckman, son of H. J. Dreckman, 214 1/2 N. Linn, were married with the Rev. Patrick J. O'Reilly officiating. The bride wore a street-length black net frock with pink embroidery and a peter pan collar. The bridesmaid, Irene Newkirk, sister of the bride, was dressed in a black net dress trimmed with black taffeta. Joseph Dreckman of Milwaukee, Wis., was the best man and the ushers were Floyd Dreckman and Vincent Newkirk. Mr. and Mrs. Dreckman have gone to Chicago for a brief trip and will be at home in Iowa City. Mrs. Dreckman is a graduate of St. Patrick's high school and Irish's business college. Mr. Dreckman is also a graduate of St. Patrick's high school and is now manager of the Varsity theater here.

AMONG IOWA CITY PEOPLE

Hazel Prehm, former Iowa City teacher, and Lucy Scott of Baltimore, Md., are visiting Helen Barnes, 215 S. Dodge. Miss Prehm will leave soon for a position in Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. A. G. Jorgensen, 1107 E. Burlington, and daughter Patty returned Sunday from Newell where they visited Mrs. Jorgensen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Jensen.

Sam Shulman, 946 Iowa, returned Sunday from Minneapolis, Minn.

Martin J. O'Connor, of Des Moines, returned home Sunday evening after spending the week end here with friends.

A wedding license was granted by R. Neilson Miller, clerk of court, Saturday to Leo H. Kuker, 30, of Iowa City, and Irene Meade, 30, of Cosgrove.

Lea Everett Blanchard, 25, of East Galesburg, Ill., and Anna Violet Louise Hallstrom, 27, of Alledo, Ill., were granted a marriage license Saturday by R. Neilson Miller, clerk of court.

Errors Costly For Brooklyn

Clyde Shoun Hurls Four-Hit Victory Over Flatbushers

BROOKLYN, June 17 (AP)—Still shell-shocked from the going over given them Sunday by the Cincinnati Reds, the Brooklyn Dodgers made four costly errors today and dropped a 3 to 1 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals that also meant the loss of first place in the National League. It was the fifth straight triumph for the Cards, who haven't been beaten since Billy Southworth assumed the management last week. Clyde Shoun, the former workhorse relief pitcher, started the game and went the full distance for the first time since 1938, allowing just four singles.

2nd Victory For 'Daffy'

Paul Dean Limits Cubs to Six Hits; Giants Triumph, 2-1

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Paul Dean mastered the Chicago Cubs today for the second time in a week to give the New York Giants a 2 to 1 victory and move them within a game of second place in the National League. Dean, who had permitted the Cubs only four hits in his first start of the season in Chicago last Tuesday, yielded just six today and none at all until the fifth inning. He was deprived of a shut-out when Stan Hack hit a home run in the eighth.

Bees Win Two; Move Out of League Cellar

BOSTON, June 17 (AP)—The combination of effective pitching and timely hitting boosted the Boston Bees from last to sixth place in the National league standing today when they swept their doubleheader from the Pirates, 5-3, and 5-1, before a skimpy holiday crowd of 5,224.

Some Experts Choose Godoy To Win

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Some of our boxing minds looked into the crystal ball over their ham and eggs today and predicted, in apparent seriousness, that Arturo Godoy would take the heavy-weight championship away from Joe Louis in Yankee stadium Thursday night.

Reds Outscore Phillies, 6-2; Regain National League Lead

Pressbox Pickups By OSCAR HARGRAVE

It may be foolish to disagree with a million Brooklynites, but I'm still not convinced that Joe Medwick is destined to be the hero of a national championship team — in fact, the ex-Cardinal probably has a good chance to become almost as unpopular in the Dodger park as any given member of the New York Giants.

He didn't go to Brooklyn as an untarnished "saviour," nor was his St. Louis leave-taking an altogether pleasant one. An unpopular guy at St. Louis of late, he will be just as obnoxious to the baseball friends of Flatbush if he doesn't produce. By producing I don't mean just an ordinary show of baseball capability.

Which brings up a rather pointed question. Can Medwick be of great material aid to the Dodgers? Already doing quite well before his arrival, the Brooklyn team might have won the pennant anyway.

Now, with a most impressive handful of cash reposing in a St. Louis bank in exchange for Manager Leo Durocher's pal and newly acquired underling, Brooklyn will play host to world's series games, or else, the else not meaning that Brooklyn will name its two most beautiful parks Medwick and Durocher.

With the fact in mind that Medwick just about has to spark the Dodgers to a pennant, a lot depends on the Cincinnati Reds, who happen to have taken back the league lead yesterday. It might also be well to mention that the high-priced "saviours" haven't always lived up to advance notices in the past — just ask the Chicago Cubs whether Dizzy Dean was all the man they paid for. We can also recall the Bill DeCorrevont-Lynn Waldorf-Northwestern scandal, in which the most guilty party was probably the average over-enthusiastic Wildcat alum who bet 10 bucks on the 'Cats against Purdue.

Which leaves about three main possibilities for the future of Medwick in his, at present, newly found home. The possibilities, as I see them, are hereby marked down.

1. Brooklyn, with Joe Medwick carrying a good share of the load, will win the National league pennant, possibly will triumph in the world's series. In this case, every Brooklyn family will have a little Joe and his brother Leo in a few years.

2. Brooklyn will not win the pennant and the Brooklyn kids who happen to be named Joe will envy even the kids named Percy and Algernon.

3. Brooklyn will start rebuilding for 1941 and the new parts will have to include both a manager and an outfielder. As for the rebuilding that Durocher and Medwick will undergo if such happens, most any doctor can pick the new parts.

Durocher and Medwick are palsy-walsies. They wanted to be together and, in view of the nature of baseball fans, they probably will be from now on, whether it's at the head of a victory parade or in whatever sort of a baseball hell Brooklyn houses its athletic sinners.

Pacific Coast Triumphs Again

Big Ten All-Stars Lose, 96 to 40, As Four Meet Records Fall

EVANSTON, Ill., June 17 (AP)—The Pacific Coast conference, putting on a superb show of individual brilliance and team strength, handed the Western conference all-star track team a crushing defeat tonight in Northwestern university's Dyche stadium.

The west coast athletes piled up a total of 96 points to 40 for the Big Ten before a scant crowd of 5,000 spectators, sweeping all three places in five events and establishing two of four new meet records.

Pat Turner of U. C. L. A. set a new mark in the broad jump, leaping 25 feet, 6 3-8 inches to break the record of 25 feet, two inches set in 1938 by Arnold Nutting of California.

Another west coast luminary, Boyd Brown of Oregon wrote a new javelin record into the book when he tossed the spear 232 feet, 7 inches. This easily shattered the mark of 215 feet, one inch established in the 1939 meet by Southern California's Bob Peoples.

The third new mark came in the last event, one mile relay, the Big Ten's quartet being timed in three minutes, 11.7 seconds, one tenth of a second under the 1937 mark set by the Pacific coast team. The winning team was composed of Jack Sulzman, Ohio State; Jack Leutritz, Michigan; Roy Cochran, Indiana, and Warren Breidenbach of Michigan.

Archie Harris of Indiana, Big Ten discus and shot put champion, established a new meet record in the discus. His winning heave was 159 feet, 11 inches, breaking the record of 157 feet, 7 3-4 inches made in 1937 by Stanford's Pete Zagar.

The west coast squad, maintaining its record of at least doubling the score on the midwest boys in every year since the dual competition was started in 1937, took 10 firsts and did not allow the Big Ten to sweep the field in any of the 16 events.

Joost's Homer Brings Victory For Cincinnati

Relief Pitching Of Lloyd Moore Checks Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, June 17 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds jumped back into first place in the National league today by beating the Phillies 6 to 2 while Brooklyn bowed to St. Louis 3 to 1.

The Dodgers and Reds were virtually tied in games standing before today's play but Brooklyn had a lead in percentage because they have played fewer games.

First rate pitching by Lloyd Moore and a home run by Eddie Joost with two on in the second inning enabled the Reds to hand the Phils their sixth straight defeat.

Moore replaced Johnny Vander Meer on the mound in the second after the first two men up walked, and allowed only two hits in the full eight innings he pitched. It was his second victory of the season — both against the Phils.

Walter Beck went all the way for the Phils. The two Cincinnati pitchers gave up eight bases on balls, six of them in the first three innings, but the Phils got only three hits.

Morrie Aronovich made one of his two hits productive of a Cincinnati run in the first and Joost's homer accounted for three more in the second. The other runs came in the eighth and ninth.

False Charge Case Begins

Damage Asked For Malicious Prosecution, Larceny Indictment

A petit jury was impaneled yesterday and opening arguments were heard from attorneys in the malicious prosecution case between Vernon Halligan, plaintiff, and the Lone Tree Farmers' Exchange, defendants.

Halligan asks $4,325 special and punitive damages charging that the defendants falsely caused an information and indictment charging larceny to be issued against him.

The plaintiff bases his claim of innocence in the larceny charge on the dismissal in district court of the grand jury indictment upon recommendation of the county attorney. According to the petition, he was accused of stealing corn from the Lone Tree elevator.

Jury members selected yesterday afternoon to hear the case include D. C. Sydebotham, Joe McGinnis, Robert Langenberg, Joseph L. Shima, Teresa Gatens, Stella Thomas, John Beecher, Matilda Shrader, Lloyd Bayer, Martha C. Hamborg, Alice Y. Bordwell and Sadie H. Ford.

Judge Harold D. Evans dismissed the rest of the petit jurors for the remainder of the term. He said there will be no more jury trials during this term.

Attys. Edward L. O'Connor and Arthur O. Luff are representing the plaintiff and Welch, Acree and Welch, the defendants.

Bishop Ordains Priest at St. Patrick's Church in First Ceremony Since 1885

The Most Rev. Henry P. Rohlfman, bishop of the Davenport diocese, ordained the Rev. Frederick Joseph McMahan of Iowa City to the priesthood at 10 a.m. last Sunday. The ordination ceremony was the second to be held in St. Patrick's church since its establishment here in 1873.

The Rev. J. T. A. Flanagan, the only other priest ever to be ordained in St. Patrick's church—in a ceremony July 25, 1885—was reared in Iowa City. He served as president of St. Ambrose college in Davenport for 20 years, and later was vicar-general of the diocese at Sacred Heart cathedral in Davenport.

The Rev. Patrick J. O'Reilly served as assistant priest at the ordination here Sunday, the Revs. T. J. Lew and F. P. Kelly of St. Ambrose college as assisting deacons and the Rev. Leo Sterck of St. Ambrose as master of ceremonies. The priests' choir from St. Ambrose provided the music for the ceremony.

Rev. McMahan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. McMahan of 516 South Dodge street. Friday he received an appointment to a professorship at St. Ambrose college.

Week End Hot in City Above 92 Degrees Registered for One Of Hottest Days

Dry weather continued in and around Iowa City as clear skies and a hot sun again yesterday sent the mercury high following a week end of high temperatures.

Official high for yesterday was slightly above 92 degrees, one of the hottest days yet this month. Low mark for the day was 67 degrees.

Sunday's temperatures reached the 92-degree mark also following a cool spell on Saturday.

Local thundershowers were predicted yesterday for this portion of the state but skies were clear last night.

Court To Hear Settlement Offers at 9 This Morning

Objection Filed To Apartment Building Offer

Attorney Brooke Of West Liberty To Represent Depositor

The Farmers Loan and Trust bank case involving purchase of the Iowa apartment building in Iowa City by Ben S. Summerwill, Iowa City banker and former examiner-in-charge of the assets of the bank and of two other closed Iowa City banks, will come before Judge W. W. Scott of Davenport this morning following a continuance of the case yesterday. Brief arguments were presented yesterday by Roscoe Thoma, representing D. W. Bates, receiver of the three banks, and Robert Brooke, West Liberty attorney, representing depositor Letitia Grogan.

Also to come up for hearing this morning are two settlements offered by Summerwill in two other bank receiverships in Iowa City, the settlements of which have been contested by depositors.

To Split Hearings

Judge Scott will hear two of the proposals for settlement and Judge Harold D. Evans will preside over the third hearing.

Controversy in the Farmers Loan case centers about an interest in the Iowa apartments which Summerwill now has as a result of a purchase from the receivership of the bank.

Brooke contends that Summerwill, as examiner-in-charge of the Farmers Loan bank, entered the bank in a pool of "certain bondholders" in the apartment building. The bank then owned $39,000 of the $64,000 bond issue against the apartments. This made the bank owner of thirty-nine sixtieths of the bonds, it was held.

The executive council of the state, after an appraisal, established the value of the building at $75,000. Therefore, Brooke contends that the bank's interest is thirty-nine sixtieths of the value of the property as set by the executive council. This fractional value equals approximately $45,000, Brooke said.

The $45,000 property interest was the interest purchased by the pool of bondholders after a sheriff's foreclosure sale. For the purchase of this interest the receivership put approximately $15,000 in the pool.

Bought Bank's Interest

Following the redemption of the equity by the pool, Brooke said, Summerwill bought the bank's interest for $14,200. When the sheriff's sale of the apartment building occurred on Jan. 10, 1934, the bank was returned $8,000 as its share because of the holdings of the Iowa apartment bonds.

Brooke contends that the sum offered by Summerwill in the present settlement proposal, $10,000, plus the $8,000 returned to the receivership following the sheriff's sale, and the $14,200 already paid by Summerwill for the interest, won't repair the alleged loss. He contends that on the basis of the valuation set by the executive council, the upper limit of Summerwill's liability might, in a trial, be shown to be the difference between $45,000, the valuation set on the interest Summerwill bought from the bank when he was examiner-in-charge by the executive council, and the $33,400 approximate total accounted for by Summerwill in the compromise, his payment for the bank's interest and that received from the sheriff's sale.

C. of C. Membership Dinner Will Be Held Tonight at 6:30

Tickets for the Iowa City chamber of commerce membership dinner to be held this evening promptly at 6:30 at the Iowa Union may be obtained from committee members, the chamber of commerce offices in the Jefferson hotel or at the Iowa Union desk by noon today according to Roscoe E. Taylor, chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

Members of the committee selling tickets are Dan Callahan, Prof. Edward Bartow, A. B. Graham, Prof. E. W. Hills, Bruce Mahan, Jay McNamara, Robert E. Neff, Dr. S. A. Neuman, John Piper, Gus Pusateri, Myron Walker, Clair Hamilton, Earl Sangster, William H. Simpson, Orrie G. Yoder and Robert Anderson.

Mr. Taylor stated that guests are invited to the affair at which the feature event of the program will be a talk by L. E. "Cy" Frailey, nationally known letter writing expert. Included in his writings are "Smooth Sailing Letters" and "How to Write Business Letters."

The first has been published in 10 editions and in a separate edition in London. His second book, "How to Write Business Letters," has already reached the fourth edition. Mr. Frailey also maintains a monthly letter service which goes to subscribers in all parts of the world.

Leland Nagle, president of the chamber of commerce, will begin the after-dinner meeting with introductory remarks and Gordon Brown, secretary of the chamber, will present reports.

Mr. Frailey is now employed as teacher of letter writing in the school of commerce at Northwestern university at Evanston and conducts letter clinics in companies anxious to improve their public relations program through better correspondence. He comes to Iowa City at the conclusion of a lecture tour on the west coast.

Summer Party For Students Set for Friday

Tickets Obtainable At Iowa Union Desk For Informal Meet

The annual summer session party, which may be attended by students enrolled in summer school, the faculty and administration staff, will be held Friday evening in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Street length dresses will be worn by the women at the informal party, and dancing will be from 9 until 12 p.m. Len Carroll and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

Members of the faculty will be the chaperons for the dance.

Tickets for the party will be obtained at the information desk at Iowa Union at 8:00 a.m. tomorrow, Thursday and Friday.

court in an attempt to induce acceptance by the court of Summerwill's compromise offer, asserted that the bank had invested slightly over $38,000 in the bonds. By Summerwill's compromise they will have all but $5,600 of the total investment accounted for.

On one occasion yesterday Brooke said, "We do not ask a determination of the liability of Summerwill in this hearing. All we ask is that the case be litigated" in order to determine whether or not "there has been a dereliction of a fiduciary duty and a default."

Another settlement offered by Summerwill in a proposal filed June 7 by Bates is to pay $1,000 in settlement for a Packard automobile including $600 already paid to the Johnson County Savings bank. The receivership had accepted three Packards and a Plymouth car in payment of indebtedness to the closed bank from Orville and Mattie Simmons and the Simmons Motor company.

Third Offer

The third compromise offer is to pay $10 a month additional rent for a period of 84 months during which time Summerwill resided in a house owned by the receivership of the Iowa City Savings bank. As examiner-in-charge of this bank he paid $35 monthly during the seven years and the settlement of $840 will make the monthly rent $45.

French--

Belgium, Baudoin said "we all were insufficiently prepared for this war with its new methods."

"Our allies were unable to give us aid which the French army, as the vanguard, needed. That is why Premier Petain has asked the enemy today for negotiations to cease fighting."

The French radio said at 10:35 p. m. (3:35 p. m., CST) there still was no reply from Germany to the request for an armistice.

(Eric Sevareid, CBS reporter in France, in commenting on Baudoin's broadcast said the French cabinet would not accept an unconditional peace.)

Fierce fighting had swept deep into France and erased the supposedly impregnable Maginot line, like an ancient myth thrown down by the reality of modern arms.

A French spokesman admitted France no longer had a front to the enemy and that nazified columns had cut French armies into four ribbons.

Hitler deferred the sought-for stoppage of war on France in order to confer with his axis partner on the terms they will demand to call off their armies.

France fully expected the price of cessation of the hostilities she joined with Great Britain last Sept. 3 will be colonies, long disputed border areas such as Alsace-Lorraine on Germany's frontier and Nice and Savoy on Italy's Corsica in the Mediterranean and probably the French navy, second in Europe only to Britain's.

Discussions Begin Today

Prof. W. Loehwing Will Illustrate Talks With Pictures, Slides

The use of visual aids in teaching courses in botany at the university will be discussed by Prof. Walter F. Loehwing, new head of the department, at the first of a series of seven semi-weekly demonstrations of visual aids for classroom use at 4 o'clock today in Maebrie hall auditorium.

Professor Loehwing will use motion pictures and slides in his demonstration, open to all summer school students and general public and sponsored by the department of visual instruction here.

Reichsfuehrer Adds Paris to Settings for Triumphal Marches

Just as other European capitals conquered by the armed might of the Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler parade in triumph down their thoroughfares in the wake of the first goose-stepping troops, so Paris is expected to see Hitler ride in triumphant glory down its famous boulevards. Two of the triumphal marches pictured above occurred before the outbreak of war after bloodless victories which were granted under the imminent threat of armed force—Vienna, Austria, in 1938, and Prague, Czechoslovakia, in 1939. When war finally broke out last fall Hitler paraded past the ruins of Warsaw, Poland. Then, this spring, in quick succession, Copenhagen, Denmark; Oslo, Norway; The Hague, Holland; Brussels, Belgium, and Paris, France, have felt the tread of the invader, although Hitler himself has not appeared in all the last-mentioned capitals.

Dr. Bose To Stress Role Of East in the Modern World

Racialism, International Relations To Be Subject Of Talk This Afternoon

Dr. Sudhindra Bose will present the first of the campus lectures this afternoon at 3:10 p. m. in the campus course room, 315 Schaefer hall, with a discussion of "Racialism in International Relations."

A lecturer in the department of political science here, Dr. Bose will stress the part of the East in the modern world, during the lecture series scheduled weekly.

Born in Calcutta, India, of Hindu parents, the lecturer was educated at the Victoria college of Calcutta university, where he received a medal for proficiency in the English language. His father was a high official for an Indian Prince.

From the University of Illinois, Dr. Bose received his B. A. and M. A. degrees and took degree of Doctor of Philosophy here in 1913.

Contributes Articles

Author of "Some Aspects of British Rule in India," "Fifteen Years in America" and "Glimpses of America," the oriental lecturer has contributed many articles to leading newspapers and magazines of America and India.

He served as special correspondent to the Des Moines Register while on a world tour and has been for 10 years an American staff correspondent of the leading daily of South India, "The Hindu."

Admitting the existence of cultural differences, Dr. Bose is convinced that the differences are not so ingrained that they can not be improved by proper education and environment.

"We must revise the current notion that the field of human civilization has been limited to the area between the Thames and the Tiber or the German sea and the Black sea," the lecturer said.

Food Costs Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The bureau of labor statistics reported yesterday that the retail cost of food rose eight-tenths of one per cent between April 16 and May 14.

Defense--

The senate, meantime, took up the $1,007,000,000 defense tax bill, expecting to pass it tomorrow or Wednesday.

The army expansion bill now goes to the senate and on that side of the capitol some sentiment was evidenced for authorizing a still greater increase in enlisted personnel.

Would Raise Figure

Senator Lodge (R-Mass) said it might be advisable to raise the figure to 750,000, a point of view that some others endorsed. Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex) of the military committee commented, however, that there would be little point to a large army unless it were equipped with modern weapons.

Elsewhere, there were these other defense developments:

The army, reporting on the enlistment campaign already under way, said it has received 8,951 volunteers since June 1 and predicted its goal of 15,000 by July 1 would be easily reached.

President Roosevelt signed two bills authorizing a naval air force of 10,000 planes and 16,000 pilots, and an increase in the fleet by 21 warships and 22 auxiliary vessels.

The Vinson-Walsh naval expansion bill would provide for an increase of 399,600 tons in the total tonnage of the navy, or approximately 23.5 per cent.

Divided Tonnage

This tonnage would be divided: aircraft carriers, 79,500 tons, three ships; cruisers, 198,000 tons,

Timing a Factor

It is plain that much depends on timing. An England worn down by siege and semistarvation might not be able to resist an invasion as it could today.

Likewise a combination of the blockade and air bombardment might defeat the British eventually. The supply lines must be kept open.

Englishmen quoted to each other

Defense--

the words of Prime Minister Churchill June 4:

"We will defend our island whatever the cost. We will fight on the beaches and landing grounds, in the fields, in the streets, on the hills.

"We will never surrender, and even if — which I do not for a moment believe — this island or a large part of it be subjugated and starved, then our empire beyond the seas, armed and guarded by the British fleet, will carry on the struggle."

List Possibilities

In this hour of considering the worst which might follow a separate peace between France and Germany, these expectations were advanced:

1. An attempt might be made to encircle, blockade and starve the British Isles. The British navy, most powerful in the world, is considered equal to the task of preventing such an achievement.

2. Germany might try to bomb Britain into submission. This method was considered most likely to be tried first. The defense is a high-speed aviation production program intended to insure air supremacy over the isles. This program depends on unlimited supplies of war, including oil, from the dominions and the United States.

3. Invasion may be attempted. This has been expected for weeks. Besides the great fleet, the royal air force and ground troops of the amateur army are anxious to demonstrate that a country which has not been successfully invaded since 1066 will make short work of parachute troops or any others arriving by trick devices.
