SOVIET SEIZES GERMAN MATERIALS

Russians Acquire Bessarabia

This Central Press map shows the territory demanded by Soviet Russia of Rumania and which King Carol II of Rumania and his crown council have agreed to cede to the Russians. The Russian demands embraced agriculturally rich Bessarabia, part of the old Austrian province of Bukovina and control of the Black sea harbor of Constantza and the Danube port of Tulcea.

Action Mounts Fears of Complications Between Nazis and Russia

BUCHAREST, June 29 (AP)—Russian seizure of German-owned materials in ceded Bessarabia led to mounting fears tonight of complications between Germany and the Soviet Union.

At Chilia harbor, on the Danube, the German grain company, Dunarex, had a large quantity of wheat ready for export but all was seized by the Soviet committee headed by the mayor.

In the town of Baltzi, in northern Bessarabia, long strings of freight cars loaded with sugar were ready to leave for Germany but after the cession of the territory to Russia the population refused to let it go. Rumanian authorities were able to get away only a few of the cars.

BUCHAREST, June 29 (AP)—Germany and Italy tonight promised military and air assistance to Rumania, it was reported on high authority, if Soviet troops attempt to make further advances into this patchwork kingdom beyond the areas reluctantly ceded by King Carol.

Informants who are close to both palace and cabinet said the axis powers had given broad and flat assurances that any more penetrations would be stopped.

A number of government bureaus, however, arranged meetings Sunday to discuss plans for an emergency seat of government in the Carpathian mountains.

(Bucharest is in southern Rumania, near the Bulgarian border. A move to the Carpathians would place the government in the approximate center of the country.)

Foreign correspondents were told that military authorities had taken over the communications system, and military censorship becomes effective at midnight Saturday. Some London correspondents and others already had their telephone connections cut off in the past 24 hours because of stories they had filed.

Bessarabia, which the Russians always have called the land of milk and honey, already is under the heavy tread of Soviet military in a comparatively bloodless occupation.

The chaotic state of affairs and the lack of good communications from Bucharest to the provinces made it difficult to learn at what point in the north the Russians had halted, but the latest semi-official word was that they had pushed on as far as Dorohoi, some 15 miles beyond the western boundary of Bessarabia and thus well within old Rumania.

Russian informants declared, however, that this penetration beyond the agreed line was "probably military error."

There were, at the same time, signs that at least two possible sources of conflict were quieting.

These involved Bulgaria and Hungary, which have claims of their own for Rumanian territory. It seemed clear, from information received by diplomats here, that their demands were being calmed.

In Budapest, Hungary, it was learned that Germany and Italy were urging both Bulgaria and Hungary to stay at peace and continue their production, with the understanding that their demands upon Rumania will be adjusted "in due time."

Nevertheless, King Carol, who already had appealed strongly for Adolf Hitler's help lest his country simply break apart under the Russian-Bulgarian-Hungarian demands, was forming an army of 2,000,000 in a "last man" mobilization.

English Leader Suggests Chamberlain Resign Cabinet to Stop Peace Rumors

Lord Strabolgi Names Halifax In Open Letter

Says Those Responsible For Nazi Appeasement Should Quit Now

LONDON, June 29 (AP)—A suggestion that Neville Chamberlain and others responsible for past appeasement of Adolf Hitler should quit the war cabinet to still rumors of a British move for armistice was made today by Lord Strabolgi, labor leader in the house of lords.

In an open letter to British editors, he declared the mere presence of Chamberlain, lord president of the council, and Lord Halifax, foreign minister, in the government was having an effect "most serious in the two most important neutral countries in the world—the United States of America and Russia."

The mention of Halifax's name along with that of former Prime Minister Chamberlain's appeared significant. It was the first time the foreign secretary had been so criticized by such a source.

60,000 Killed

Meanwhile, the first authoritative estimate of allied casualties in the battles for Belgium and France, made by French General Charles De Gaulle, was that 60,000 were killed, 300,000 wounded and nearly 1,000,000 taken prisoner—358,080 in Belgium and 600,000 in the battle of France. The estimate came as Britain fought on alone.

Lord Strabolgi's action against Chamberlain and Lord Halifax came just one day after the declaration of a neutral diplomatic source that a peace move was "in the air," and that Soviet Russia's "natural concern" over Hitler's intentions might put Russia on Britain's side at a peace conference table.

But, this source added, such a thing could come about only if the British "install a genuinely leftist government which does not try to make a catspaw of the Russians."

Indicate German Threat

Neutral sources declared that a direct threat to British sea supremacy was implicit in the possibility that Germany had seized four French men of war—which would give her a 6 to 3 edge over Britain in these fast craft with the striking power of dreadnaughts.

These sources said that if Germany has in fact added the 35,000-ton Richelieu and Jean Bart and the 26,500-ton Dunkerque and Strasbourg to her battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau she might, with sufficient air and undersea auxiliaries, be able to challenge the British battle line.

General De Gaulle continued with formation of a French legion to fight on at Britain's side but hope of any considerable French support appeared to be fading.

Nation's Business Industry Reaches Mid-Year Peak in Upsurge Reaching Best Level Since '29

Republicans Squabble

Selection of National Chairman Presents Temporary Problem

By RICHARD L. TURNER

PHILADELPHIA, June 29 (AP)—The rear guard of the republican national convention squabbled over the selection of a national party chairman today and settled the issue temporarily by appointing a sub-committee to confer with Wendell Willkie and choose the man.

Important influences backed a move to continue John D. M. Hamilton in the job, with Willkie's apparent concurrence. The opposition had the leadership of Alf M. Landon, the 1936 presidential nominee, who at Cleveland four years ago selected Hamilton as his pre-convention manager.

Later Hamilton, in a statement, termed the creation of a sub-committee "very natural in view of the rapidity with which events have moved in the last few days."

This affords Willkie the "needed opportunity" to consider campaign plans, Hamilton said, and added that meantime the present "staff" of the committee will continue to function.

Defense Expenditures Still to Come As Production Increases

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP)—With vast United States defense expenditures still to come, the nation's industrial barometers today were the highest for mid-year in a decade.

For the June-end, The Associated Press index of industrial activity stood at the best level since 1929 after recovering the last two months the greater part of the loss in the winter and early spring slump.

The republican candidate told newsmen he would probably defer his formal acceptance speech at his home town, Elwood, Ind., until after the democrats meet in Chicago July 15, adopt a platform and choose his opponent.

The contest within the republican national committee affected in no way the jubilant and confident air assumed by party chiefs after Thursday's nomination of Willkie as the 1940 standard-bearer.

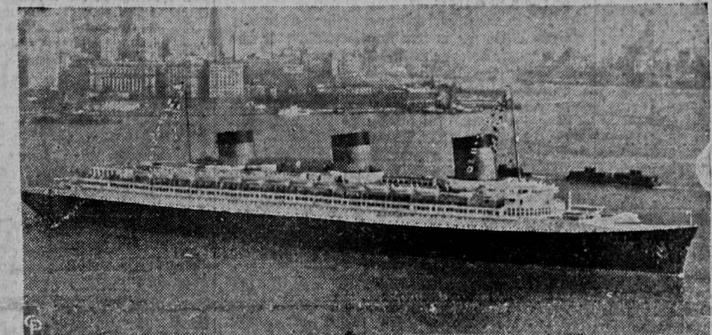

This same spirit inspired the rank-and-file delegates as the last of them headed home.

Entering an elevator to go to the roof of a hotel for the national committee meeting, one member loudly announced that he was "an original Willkie man."

"There are lots of them around here today," some one else commented.

The Associated Press index has risen to 105.4 per cent of the 1929-30 level compared with the year's low of 93.6 late in April and with 88.6 a year ago. The December peak was 112.1.

U. S. MAY THWART NAZI CLAIMS ON NORMANDIE

The German claims on the French luxury liner Normandie, now docked in New York City, may be temporarily thwarted under a proclamation issued by President Roosevelt which decrees the U. S. may seize any foreign vessel in U. S. waters "if it is a possible danger to U. S. defenses." It is reported privately that U. S. officials are not disposed to let the Normandie fall into German hands.

Midlands Suffer Heavy Damage, Casualties

BULLETIN
LONDON, June 30 (Sunday)—(AP)—Several casualties and heavy damage were inflicted in the populous midlands industrial area early today by German air raiders.

Bombs also were dropped in southwest England but material damage was described as slight. No casualties were reported.

The air ministry issued a communique saying:

"Enemy aircraft crossed the coast during the night. Anti-aircraft defenses are in action."

F.D.R. Signs Measure Requiring Registration, Fingerprinting of all Foreigners in U.S.

Bill Enacted by Congress As Defense Against 'Fifth Column' Activity

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt, terming it a measure for mutual protection of this country and "loyal aliens who are its guests," signed today legislation requiring registration and fingerprinting of all foreigners in the United States.

In putting his signature to the bill enacted by congress as a defense against "fifth column" activity, Mr. Roosevelt said that it did not carry "any stigma or implication of hostility" toward aliens.

Urging cooperation of citizens and non-citizens alike, he declared, too, that it would be unfortunate if "any loyal aliens were subjected to harassment."

In addition to the placing of this law on the statute books, defense developments included:

The army announced experimental organization of an armored corps of two divisions. Armed with 1,400 tanks, 600 artillery pieces and more than 13,000 automatic and semi-automatic weapons, the corps will have striking powers approaching that of Germany's hard-hitting "Panzer" divisions.

The war department also disclosed that its special service schools, hitherto reserved for officers, would be used for intensive training of key soldiers. The infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga., will teach tank and motor mechanics, among other courses, and the cavalry school at Fort Riley, Kan., will give training in combat car mechanics and allied courses.

President Roosevelt, the White House announced, has asked Owen D. Young, retired chairman of the General Electric company, to assist and advise Sidney Hillman, CIO leader who is in charge of training workers for national defense industries. Young has not yet announced his decision.

In an address to the National Police academy, William Green, AFL president, urged that congress outlaw the communist party and the nazi bund.

Turkey Ready For Defense Against Attack

ISTANBUL, June 29 (AP)—Turkey will call to arms at least 1,000,000 men in the event Bulgaria mobilizes, informed military sources said tonight.

The nation went on daylight saving time for the first time in its history to conserve electricity and oil.

The fleet resumed its position at the mouth of the Bosphorus after a cruise along the southern tip of Bulgaria's Black sea coast.

Anatolian soldiers marched toward the Bulgarian border.

The general picture in Turkey was that of a nation marshalling its land, sea and air forces to demonstrate her readiness to defend herself against attack if the Balkan powder keg explodes.

The Turkish press emphasized the nation's desire to be friendly with Russia, however.

In general Turkey appeared to be relying on the traditional conflict of big power interests as her chief hope for retention of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, gateway from the Black sea to the Mediterranean.

Balbo, Nine Others Die When Shot Down By British Aircraft

ROME, June 29 (AP)—Marshal Italo Balbo, bearded pioneer in the fascist movement, and nine others including prominent Italian died when their plane was shot down in flames by British aircraft encountered over Tobruk, Libya.

The victims included the Italian consul general of Tripoli, the editor of Balbo's newspaper Corriere Padano, and two relatives of Balbo, Signor Ferrara, a nephew, and Lieut. Florio Gino, a brother-in-law. Five passengers and five crew members perished.

The plane was on an official mission but did not go up for military action when it was brought down yesterday.

Mussolini ordered flags at half-staff for his old associate; fascist headquarters was swathed in black crepe; the Italian broadcasting system was silent for two minutes after announcing the death of the spectacular airman. A special communique said:

"Flags of the armed forces of Italy are lowered in sign of homage and high honor to the memory of Italo Balbo, Alpine volunteer in the World war, and transatlantic flier and air marshal who died at his post in combat."

Fascist Leader's Wife Arrested

LONDON, June 29 (AP)—Scotland Yard's fifth column squads today arrested tall, blonde, Lady Mosley, pre-war friend of Adolf Hitler, wife of the imprisoned British fascist leader and daughter of a British peer.

In doing so, a wary and menacing official Britain not only took cognizance of the fact that Lady Mosley shared actively in Sir Oswald Mosley's "British union" activities at home, but it reached back also into the curious friendship of two pretty, high-born sisters for the fuhrer of nazi Germany.

Lady Mosley is the third daughter of Lord Redesdale and the older sister of the honorable Unity Valkyrie Freeman-Mitford, who now is in seclusion somewhere in England after a wartime return from enemy Germany, where she was shot seriously during the years of appeasement.

The two sisters were frequently in Germany as the personal guests of Hitler. Lady Mosley became so pro-nazi that she trained her two small sons by a previous marriage to answer the door of her town house and greet visitors with upraised arms and cries of "Heil Hitler!"

No Motor, But Fined for Speeding

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—The motor of John P. Gilbert's car wasn't running, but he was fined $7 for speeding.

A friend, whose motor was humming nicely, pushed him more than 40 miles an hour. The friend was fined, too.

JAPANESE INVIGORATE THEIR PUSH INTO CHINA

Japanese military forces who have been fighting two years in their attempt to break the resistance of the Chinese armies headed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek are intensifying their drive to gain their much-wanted control of rich Chinese territories. According to Japanese caption accompanying this photo, the scene is in the Hepei province as Japanese forces cross the Han-Shui.

Parisians Brave—Penniless

PARIS, June 26 (Delayed) By Courier Plane to Berlin (AP)—The once-gay shops, cafes and bars are reopening in Paris and Tills are virtually empty.

Well dressed persons are stopping total strangers on the boulevards and asking for money.

The prefect of the Seine department, where most of the French financial institutions are concentrated, has stopped withdrawal of bank funds indefinitely.

A neutral banker explained the step merely as a legalization of the bank closings which occurred before the German occupation took place.

Arrangements for limited withdrawals are expected to be made later. Some talk of municipal money being used was heard. In Versailles such money already was reported in use. A 30-day moratorium on negotiable paper and merchandise bills also is in effect.

The effort of Paris to be brave with a gay display of brightly painted chairs and tables on the terraces, colorful summer awnings and smart shop windows is offset by the staggering number of unemployed.

One newspaper estimated 1,200,000 persons are jobless in the Paris area. When the 600,000 persons who fled the area return along with innumerable demobilized soldiers the total unemployed will be much higher.

Of those without jobs a third have no funds. The others have resources which might last for two weeks to a month.

The French made no demonstrations upon receiving the announcement of the signing of the armistice. Most citizens want to return as quickly as possible to something approximating normal life and to forget the terrible weeks of the spring of 1940.

Following the signing of the armistice fewer German soldiers were seen in Paris, the boulevards became somewhat busier

In 1789 a Bill of Rights Brought— Democracy for the PEOPLE! And Democracy for the PEOPLE it Maintains

We ought to be ashamed of ourselves, we citizens of this America. We're too unappreciative of the meaning of the democracy we say is "on the spot."

We've had hard times, market crashes, threats of involvement in war. We've had unemployment, the disappearance of our physical frontiers, and a lot of us, either because we didn't know better or we listened too long and too often to the passion wielders, have found ourselves of late wondering what it's all about.

We've watched ourselves grow apprehensive as government took over, bit by bit, functions that formerly had either not existed or had been capably handled by private enterprise.

And the passion wielders frightened us by shouting that dictatorship was imminent for these United States.

This is no time to lose sight of the differentiation between government of, by and for the people, and government in spite of the people.

America III at Ease Now, while the world suffers the pangs of spreading warfare, while America awakens once again to the changes that take place in other democratic nations who, to wage a fight for national existence, become almost wholly dictatorial, we Americans find ourselves ill at ease as we watch other democratic peoples fall beneath the heel of stronger, more vicious influences.

We should be ashamed. We're losing vital confidence in ourselves. We're afraid we're beginning to suspect that the United States of America has outgrown itself, that we've become so large we can't adapt ourselves to a new, more powerful government that remains the democratic government of America's founding generation.

And we resign ourselves to the truism that "things will never be the same."

Of course they won't. What a sad state of stagnation that would be. We've grown and grown. Government has expanded, taken over new functions for the people. Others will be taken over at such times as it may become apparent that a centralized agency can handle the jobs more effectively than local institutions.

millions then to 130 millions now. There must be correspondingly greater numbers of servants of the people to protect those rights against abuse.

There must be increasingly greater numbers of servants of the people to protect every phase of American life from abuse.

The government's functions have grown. That's not a step away from democracy, in and of itself. It's a step in the building of America.

New Individuality And the individuality which has been lost will be regained in the new cultural America which only now is beginning to appear.

America is no nation for short-range thinkers. Those fellows can mess things up in short-range order.

America was founded on the long-range plan. The first amendment to the constitution is proof of that.

Let's look at this big, supposedly overgrown democracy of ours, supposedly weak in morale, weak because of its very size.

Last week in Philadelphia members of a vast political party nominated a man for the highest office in the land. There were cheers and boos. We don't have to agree with the choice of Wendell L. Willkie. That's our democratic right.

Next month a second great political party will nominate a man for the highest office in the land. We won't have to agree with that choice, either. That's our democratic right.

Talking It Over Between now and next November America's millions will talk it over.

Reviews of The Newest Pictures

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—"All This, and Heaven Too." Screenplay by Casey Robinson from novel by Rachel Field. Directed by Anatole Litvak. Principals: Bette Davis, Charles Boyer, Jeffrey Lynn, Barbara O'Neil, Virginia Weidler, Helen Westley, Walter Hampden, Henry Daniell, Harry Davenport, George Couluris, Mantagu Love, Janet Beecher, June Lockhart, Ann Todd, Richard Nichols, Fritz Leiber, Ian Keith.

Miss Field's best-seller had so many readers that comment on the story is needless. The film version deals in the main with the heroine's life in France and merely suggests the latter portion of the book dealing with her interesting but undramatic days in America.

This life in France—in 1949 during the reign of Louis Philippe—gives Miss Davis as the quiet governess Henrietta Deluzy Desportes opportunity for a dramatic performance totally lacking in the "tricks" so objectionable to those outside the Davis cult of worshippers.

Even though the information swept the hall by grapevine, the leaders and delegates did not deviate the slightest from their purpose. The whole convention had been steered in advance against war rumors from Washington. Platform drafters went so far as to refuse to read the papers while at their work. They knew nothing of the published reports concerning shifting of the fleet.

WILLKIE SCHOOLED—Prying news out of political men at press conferences has become a sharp cross examination game like "Information Please," except reporters do not say please.

THE GALLERY—Impartially sifted available evidence failed to confirm the supposition that Willkie campaigners completely packed the galleries for his nominating demonstration.

GOLD PLANK—There is an important story behind the omission from the platform of the usual republican declaration for a fixed gold price.

THE PHILIPPINES—The convention was counseled privately by a Philippine leader that Japanese expansion in the far east would necessarily cause independence to come long before its scheduled time in 1946—which he regretted. He reasoned that naval strategy will require the U. S. to cut the Philippines loose.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Stories That Now Can Be Told—PHILADELPHIA—Now these following can be told:

News-men looked at each other, recognizing a familiar escape, but Willkie went right on: "So, while I won't say anything for publication, I don't mind giving you a straight answer off the record: "No."

ANTI-WILLKIE STORIES—It is customary for the workers of candidates to spread stories against rival candidates among delegations before the balloting.

A Man About MANHATTAN

Olevio Santoro Is a Yodler Deluxe

NEW YORK—If a strange yodling cry beats into your dreams these nights a good idea would be to slip downstairs and see if anyone has accidentally left the radio going.

Just how it all happened no one knows, not even Olevio himself, but unexpectedly one day he received a card from one of the broadcasting companies asking him to come in and let himself be heard.

Olevio, whose parents are hard-working landscape gardeners, appears to be making a broad career of his yodling prowess. Between algebra and Latin exercises in the ninth grade, at which he is a medium good student, he is conducting yodling classes at the Grand Street Settlement House in New York for the benefit of little boys in Manhattan who also would like to become proficient in the art of emitting those high clarion, bugle-like notes that echo so prettily from mountain tops.

But people famous for single power Of bringing laughter to their time, the always loved Sound of laughter.

Theirs was the human job To fill the blunt American mouth with song."

"America Was Song and Laughter" will have its premiere performance in the Cornell little theater at Mt. Vernon Thursday evening at 8:15 p.m.

Elaborating on his Friday night's statement concerning the republicans' "choice," the liberalist declared the power behind Willkie was an "open secret."

Super Shorts New Answer for Girls' Skirt Problem

If you're a sports enthusiast—one who simply gets all tangled up and out of sorts when she wears a skirt for a set of tennis or a round of golf—you'll find a solution has been created to answer your problem.

This answer is the new "super shorts," full, box-pleated and high-waisted, that come almost to your knees.

You can wear them for any sports—bicycling, tennis, roller skating, hiking, badminton, canoeing, even bridge if your hostess isn't too formal. And they will fit any mood; you can be flamboyant in shorts that come in broad stripes and bright plaids. Or you can be smooth and demure in white flannel shorts, worn with a soft pastel ensemble or pull-over sweater.

Enormous box pockets enhance the value (not the price, just the appreciation) of these shorts. So if you're the one to carry handkerchiefs, compacts or even golf balls around, you'll choose your

Democrats, Republicans of Johnson County Convene Here

Demos Pledge To Support F.D.R., Peace

200 County Delegates Hear Ross Livingston In Keynote Speech

Meeting in the courtroom of the Johnson county court house, an enthusiastic democratic convention yesterday pledged itself to support of the leadership of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and "in particular at this time, his efforts to maintain peace."

Attended by more than 200 county delegates, the convention named Charles Chansky congressional committeeman again and named county delegates to four forthcoming democratic state and district conventions.

Highlight of the convention was the keynote speech by Prof. W. Ross Livingston of the University of Iowa history department who told the delegates and fellow democrats, "We enter the campaign of 1940 exceedingly proud of our party record of national and local achievements, proud of our party integrity and proud of our party leadership."

Calm and Hopeful
"In a time of peril," he continued, "that leadership has been calm and hopeful. In the face of groundless criticism it has been dignified and nobly courageous. The democratic party, because its program is founded upon social, political and economic justice is the party without fear."

Explaining democratic principles, he added, "We welcome progress and change as the only sure law of history. To banish fear, to have vision and courage, and to build confidence in ourselves and our institutions has been the high mission of the democratic party and democratic leadership."

Republican Convention
Changing his subject, Professor Livingston spoke of the recent republican convention in Philadelphia. "The republican party brought forth a platform and a candidate. But was it the republican party? Was it a republican platform? Was the candidate a republican?" he asked.

"Mr. Hoover was there," he went on, "and we know that he is a republican because we can remember his administration—a republican administration with two chickens in every pot and prosperity just around the corner. Mr. Taft was there and we know he is a republican—his father was a republican... Mr. Vandenberg and Mr. Dewey and Mr. Landon were there but they were uncomfortable and not at home in this famous so-called republican convention."

The speaker pointed out to the convention that the republican platform adopted last week did not call for a high tariff program, a gold standard or for isolation. He termed the whole platform as a series of "contradictions and unskillful dodges."

In conclusion, the university history professor said, "Our democratic party is a party with mission. That mission is to continue to make democratic principles successful. Ours is not merely to make lusty noise and loud promises."

DEMOCRATIC RESOLUTIONS
Following the keynote speech by Professor Livingston, the following resolutions were adopted unanimously by the convention delegates:

"Be it resolved by the demo-

"1. That we endorse the leadership of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and in particular at this time his efforts to maintain peace."

"2. The convention is proud and commends the achievements of the two democratic senators from Iowa, Guy M. Gillette and Clyde L. Herring. Their leadership has been constructive and has attracted nationwide attention."

"3. The convention endorses the state party ticket: (candidates and officers were listed)

"4. The honorable LeRoy S. Mercer as candidate for state senator and Jack Swanner, candidate for state legislature, are able and experienced men and have the full endorsement of the democratic party."

"5. This convention recognizes the exceptionally fine qualifications of the county candidates. (candidates and officers listed)

"6. We have been especially fortunate in our central committee under the able leadership of W. J. Jackson and Mrs. Albert Hogan. They have promoted the best interests of the party at all times."

Recommend Appointment
The convention also adopted a resolution recommending the appointment of District Judge James P. Gaffney of the eighth Iowa judicial district including Iowa and Johnson counties, to the eighth federal district circuit court of appeals. The letter which will be sent to the president of the United States, the attorney general of the United States and to Iowa's two state senators, Gillette and Herring, follows:

"You are respectfully informed that in the county democratic convention held in Iowa City June 29, 1940, a resolution was adopted recommending the appointment of Hon. James P. Gaffney to the position of judge of the eighth circuit court of appeals."

Re-elected Chairman
LeRoy S. Mercer was chairman of the convention which was presided over by Atty. Will J. Jackson, county democratic chairman. At a meeting of the county committeemen and committeewomen following the convention, Attorney Jackson was re-elected county chairman unanimously. Mrs. Isabelle Hunter was secretary of the convention.

Mrs. Albert Hogan was re-elected as vice-chairman of the county but resigned after her unanimous election and Mrs. Regina Hogan was named to fill the post.

Other officers in the county democratic committee, J. A. Parden, secretary, and Harry Shulman, treasurer, were re-elected also.

Name New Chairman
Atty. Edward F. Rate was named county republican chairman succeeding Atty. Robert L. Larson.

Attorney Larson, who returned yesterday morning from the national republican convention in Philadelphia, told the county convention that the national meeting had been a people's convention and was not in any way party bossed. Referring to the presidential candidate, Wendell Willkie, Larson said, "I assure you he'll be a good candidate."

Two Nominees
In voting on county chairman, Larson and Rate were the only nominees. The voting resulted in a six-to-five majority for Rate and the selection was then voted unanimously. Larson has served as chairman for four years.

Upon Larson's defeat in the chairmanship election, R. J. Phelps, precinct committeeman and chairman of the finance committee, resigned his post and other committee members followed.

This move brought Larson to his feet urging party unity especially at such a crucial time. His plea restored harmony to the meeting.

"I have enjoyed association with the central committee," Larson stated, "and I want all of you to stand back of the republican party. No one is peeved over these proceedings and I myself think that it is a good plan to then made unanimous.

Albright Nominated
Albright was assured the nomination when the West Lucas township delegation gave him all its 10 votes after being split five for each candidate. Albright has lived in Johnson county all his life.

State Rep. William Morrison, attending the republican national convention in Philadelphia, failed to arrive in Iowa City for his scheduled keynote address before the republican convention and the keynoter was Atty. D. C. Nolan.

Attorney Nolan pleaded for party unity and full support of the candidate chosen by the national convention for presidency. He said that Wendell Willkie and Senator McNary are able and capable candidates and that even though the two might not have been the choice of all republicans, the party should now abide by popular choice and support its candidates to the fullest extent.

Praises Incumbents
He also praised county and state republican incumbent administrations stating that not a single word of criticism as to the integrity and sincerity of the republican officials could be justified. As examples of this he cited the leadership of Rep. Thomas E. Martin in the national congress and the economies of the Wilson administration in the state of Iowa.

He urged unity in the forthcoming campaign for the "preservation of our rights and liberties" and asked all republicans to support and work for and with the candidates.

Atty. Herbert J. Ries was elected congressional committeeman succeeding K. M. Dunlop and Edwin B. Wilson and A. C. Cahill were named district judicial committeemen.

Change Leaders
Restores Unity
Larson's remarks restoring unity among the convention delegates met with applause and a standing vote of thanks was given Larson for his service to the party as its county leader during the past four years.

The central committee, during its session following the convention, re-elected Mrs. George Hunter as county chairwoman, Mrs. H. J. Dane as secretary to succeed Mrs. Lloyd Howell, resigned, and Carl Cone, treasurer, succeeding Verne Miller.

The party organization will be completed at another meeting of the central committee in the near future.

Given here is the complete set of resolutions adopted by the convention as presented by the resolutions committee.

"A new spirit of confidence has already permeated the electorate of this county with the naming of Mr. Wendell Willkie as the republican candidate for president of the United States and Senator Charles L. McNary as his running mate. Mr. Willkie is an intelligent and able business administrator, and Mr. McNary has for many years been an ardent advocate of the interests of the American farmer. We accept these standard bearers of our national ticket with unqualified enthusiasm."

"We record our approval of the economy and integrity which have characterized the government of this state during the administration of Governor George A. Wilson.

"We are proud of the intelligence, industry and courage which the Hon. Thomas E. Martin has displayed as our representative in congress.

Commend Vestermark
"For their able and efficient services, we commend our county attorney, Mr. Harold Vestermark; our county recorder, Mr. Dick Jones; and our county supervisors, Mr. Glenn Hope and Mr. Earl Webster. We regret the untimely death of Mr. W. E. Smith, who had served the people of this county so long and so faithfully.

"We approve the manner in which Mr. William F. Morrison has represented our interests in the general assembly of Iowa.
"Without reservation, we accept as our own the platform

Second Annual Pilot's Breakfast Expected To Draw 75 to 100 Airplanes to Iowa City

Between 75 and 100 airplanes from all parts of Iowa and western Illinois will arrive in Iowa City beginning at about 6 o'clock this morning for the second annual pilots' breakfast sponsored by the Iowa City Pilots' club.

About 150 pilots and passengers are expected to attend the event which will officially begin at 7 o'clock, John Piper, president of the local club and general chairman of the breakfast, said last night.

Perfect weather is the outlook for the day which will include gas model plane contests and other exhibitions following serving of the breakfast in the large United Air Lines hangar at 7 o'clock by the Iowa City high school music auxiliary.

As each plane arrives on the field, members of the local C. A. A. pilot training school will direct parking and when each plane is parked a movable public address car will pull alongside the plane and announce the home port, pilot's name and any passengers after which the pilot may say a few words over the system about his trip.

At 9 o'clock this morning, following the breakfast, the gas model plane contest will get underway. Officials of the contest said last night that over 35 entries have been received for this event. There will be no class divisions, all types of model planes competing together. Local merchants have furnished prizes to be awarded winners in the event.

Seventy planes were present for the first of the annual breakfasts last year and about 125 persons registered. Personal letters were sent to each of these persons this year announcing the event and inviting them. The letters were followed up by posters and during the last few days each was sent a "last call" postal card.

Invitations were also sent to every airport manager in Iowa and several local pilots have spent the past three weeks making good will flights to many Iowa airports to extend personal invitations.

Iowa cities which were represented by one or more ships last year and probably will be today include Muscatine, Davenport, DeWitt, Clinton, Dubuque, Tipton, Waterloo, Mason City, Marshalltown, Ames, Des Moines, Ottumwa, Cedar Rapids and Jefferson. Planes are also expected from Illinois towns including Dixon, Sterling, Moline, Rock Island and Quincy.

Novely group expected to attend is the "90ers," Iowa women's pilot club which met in Des Moines yesterday for a state convention and will come to Iowa City en masse today.

Most of the visiting planes here today will be of the small two or three passenger type. Some larger planes are expected, however. The expected attendance will be cut by nine planes which were destroyed in the recent Cedar Rapids airport fire and several more destroyed in the Des Moines airport fire earlier this year.

adopted by the 1940 national convention of the republican party.

Especially do we wish to emphasize our stand for peace and non-intervention in foreign wars. We condemn provocative utterances by men in high places. We will, without regard to cost or sacrifice, prepare and defend our nation against attack from without and subversive influence and undermining within.

Committed to Peace
"The republican party is committed to peace—a peace strengthened and maintained by a determined unity of all elements of our nation in preserving our democratic way of life.

"In his concluding remarks at Philadelphia, Mr. Willkie called upon all republicans to join him in this great crusade to preserve American liberties. The republican party in Johnson county accepts this call to this high cause. We will help. We will win."

Following is the complete list of delegates selected at yesterday's convention to represent Johnson county at the forthcoming republican conventions:

Our Home Town
INSURANCE MEN
By Charles Beckman

I have come into contact with a good many insurance men and I have found them to be (1) normally quiet, assured, (2) a business security which consider that their mission in life is to help him a unity to help itself. And find me a fair deal in this that. It is a strange thing that there should be such a profession as "selling" insurance.

For it isn't just our lives that the insurance man offers to protect. Our health, our jobs, our homes, our own old age, our children's future—all these things he guarantees us. Like a beneficent giant out of a fairy tale, he rubs his magic portfolio and—out pops the policy which will give us what our hearts most desire.

The insurance man represents, to those who know him, the difference between the depths of anxiety and uncertainty and the heights of peace and safety.

Next Sunday Mr. Beckman of Beckman's Funeral Home will comment on Hospitals.

ASK S. T. MORRISON

For if our spines were less watery and our will-power less wobbly, we should crowd the insurance company offices to buy the protection they offer, without waiting to be solicited, or "sold."

Can I buy insurance to cover injuries to guests in my car?
Can I buy Rain insurance to cover just a few hours?
I want my employees bonded, what do I do?

Johnson County Red Cross Relief Drive Ends Successfully

Doubled Quota Surpassed As Receipts Mount

Unofficial Voluntary Donations of $2,778.13 Help Swell Local Fund

The Johnson county Red Cross war relief drive ended last night with funds received amounting to well past the doubled quota for the county of $2,840.

Voluntary donations which have been taken during the campaign at all Johnson county banks and through the mail amounted, unofficially, to $2,778.13 and an approximate $125 taken in at yesterday's all-day rummage sale in the community building boosted the grand total to about $2,903, nearly $65 over the quota.

The original quota for Johnson county was $1,420 and this was doubled when the national quota was raised from 10 million to 20 million dollars.

Surpassing the doubled quota makes Iowa City and Johnson county one of the few counties and communities in the state

"Anyone who cares to help further by contribution, such donations will be welcome at the local Red Cross office."
