German Bombers Blast at All England

Raiders in Widespread Attacks Drop Explosives Over Town

Two Killed, Several Injured as Warplanes Damage Residences

LONDON, Aug. 10 (Saturday) (AP)—German bombing planes dropped their deadly explosives on southeast, northeast and northwest England early today and were heard over Scotland and Wales in wide-ranging attacks.

Two men were killed and several persons were injured in one raid on a northwest England town. Several houses were damaged.

Throughout the embattled areas, anti-aircraft batteries pumped projectiles into the sky.

When raiders dropped several bombs in northwest England, vivid flashes lit the sky from at least three separate points.

Loud Explosions In the northeast, there was a succession of loud explosions as the raiders rumbled over several cities.

Tremendous explosions were heard as bombs fell in two places where and at several spots just out to sea from a southeast town.

The attackers earlier had veered off in the face of hot anti-aircraft fire, but circled back to deposit their loads despite heavy anti-aircraft fire from the ground.

At another place in southeast England, one German plane made a "hit-skip" raid, dropping four bombs and speeding out to sea.

German planes also were sighted today over towns in northwest and northeast England.

Homes Damaged Several bombs were dropped last night in a residential district in southwest England, severely damaging a number of homes.

It was reported that no serious casualties were "believed" suffered and that people trapped in two houses were rescued.

Another lone raider injured several persons and damaged several shops and houses with four bombs in southeast England. Most of the injured were hurt by flying glass.

British Troops Off China Soil American Authorities Refuse to Discuss Possible Developments

SHANGHAI, Aug. 9 (AP)—Withdrawal of British troops from Chinese soil, announced today, will leave Shanghai's international defense forces, including about 1,000 United States marines, under the formal command of a Japanese rear admiral.

American authorities refused to discuss possible developments. Theoretically at least, Rear Admiral Morioka, commander of the Japanese blue jacket garrison, could station his men in the British defense sector of the international settlement.

Des Moines-ers Definitely Don't Like the Nazis

DES MOINES, Aug. 9 (AP)—It started out as a publicity stunt but nearly ended up in a riot when two Des Moines young men donned nazi uniforms today and walked about downtown streets.

They were hired by a Des Moines theater to advertise a picture with a nazi theme, but Des Moines residents didn't like it even after they were convinced it was just a gag.

As the two phony nazis, wearing swastikas on their arms, clomped down Locust street they were the target of many acid remarks and not a few threats.

One group of angry men threatened to strip the "nazis," until they were convinced that the young men had no more love for Hitler than they did.

British Declare War Is Costly To Germany

LONDON, Aug. 9 (AP)—The German campaign of mass air attacks on these islands was declared by some British observers today to be costing the nazis a great deal more in money, morale and Messerschmitts than the defenders.

This claim that air invasion is thus far a bankrupt strategy was put forward on the basis of an official checkup of the results of yesterday's vast raid by 400 German planes on English channel shipping.

For this, said the air ministry, was the score: German planes destroyed—60. British planes lost—16.

British shipping destroyed, both by air and the torpedo boat attack that ushered in the air assault, 5,039 tons. Seven ships in convoy were acknowledged damaged, but all were declared taken to port.

(The German score sheet was far different: Berlin claimed that 49 British planes were shot down and 72,000 tons of British shipping sunk.)

From all this, unofficial commentators reached the conclusion that the net German loss in money was some $2,000,000—aside from the far heavier German casualties reported here.

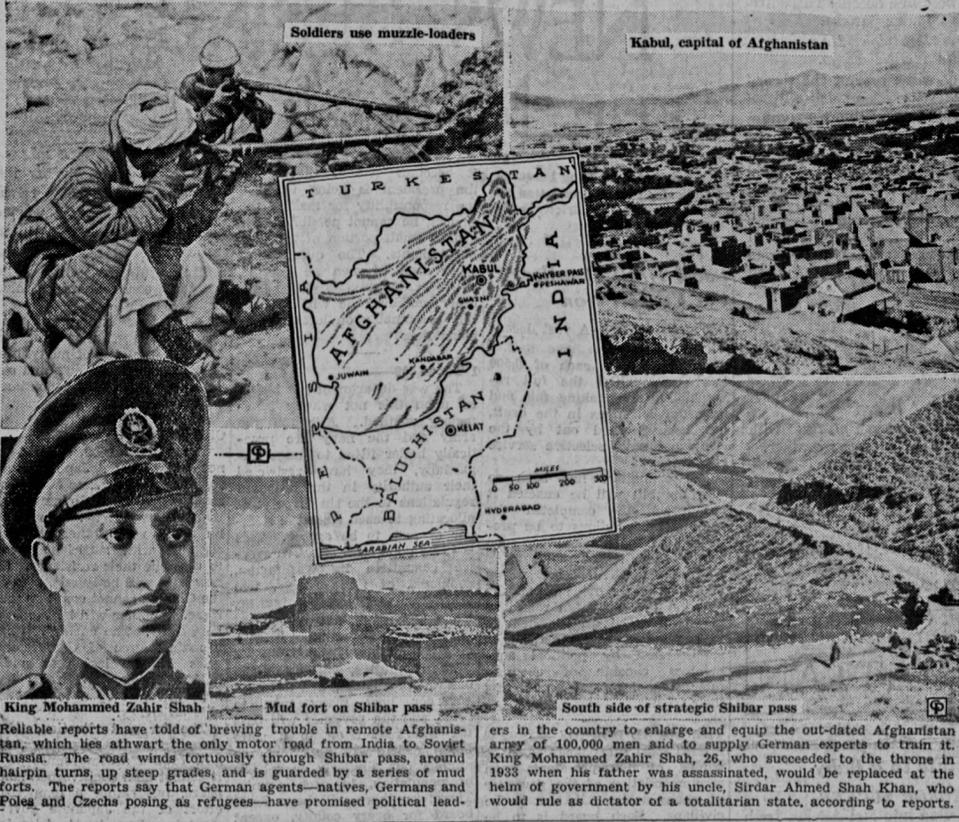

Nazis Say New British Balloon Defense Beaten

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP)—Germany is reverting to use of magnetic mines strewn in English harbors to reinforce her counter-blockade and also reports success against a new British defense, ship-towed barrage balloons.

The high command announced today that its huge mine-laying seaplanes were "able to continue" the sowing of mines "off British ports according to plan," after reporting 49 British planes shot down and 72,000 tons of British shipping sunk in yesterday's giant dive-bombing and torpedo boat attacks on convoys off Dover and the Isle of Wight.

The daily communique said Messerschmitt fighters punctured and sent into the sea near Dover 12 of the big gas balloons which Britain has been trying as a new defense weapon against attacks on her convoys. The balloons, attached to ships, were intended to keep deadly dive bombers at a distance.

Germany Eyes Afghanistan, Athwart Road From Russia to India

Reliable reports have told of brewing trouble in remote Afghanistan, which lies athwart the only motor road from India to Soviet Russia. The road winds tortuously through Shibar pass, around hairpin turns, up steep grades, and is guarded by a series of mud forts. The reports say that German agents—natives, Germans and Poles and Czechs posing as refugees—have promised political lead-

Neutral Egypt Prepares to Join Forces With British if Italian Invasion Comes

Warns Italy Not to Attack

Conflicting Reports Reach U. S. of Air Battles Over Near East

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 9 (AP)—Egypt, a neutral thus far in the developing desert war of the near east, prepared tonight to join forces with the outnumbered British at the moment that Italy's African armies make their expected attack upon this ancient land.

The nation's press chorused this warning to Premier Mussolini's armies: "The desert is a terrible enemy! It is the tomb of those who traverse it!" An Italian invasion, the newspaper added, would bring an end as did the first Napoleon's costly retreat on the plains of Russia.

Abdel Rahman Azzam Bey, commander of Egypt's territorial army, declared in a speech that any aggressive action against Egypt will cost the invader very dear, and disclosed that 200,000 men were being hurriedly trained.

Egypt is tied to Britain by a purely defensive alliance which does not require her to fight alongside the British. However, Egypt has given Britain supply and communication aids, has broken off diplomatic relations with both Germany and Italy and has warned Italy that she would fight if she is invaded or her cities bombed.

The newspaper Balagh remarked that while the Italian forces were estimated to be ten times superior to the British in numbers, their fighting ability was not impressive.

As to rumors that there are as many as 120,000 German troops among the Italians in Libya, the paper said these forces were "technical and official" and "more symbolic than effective."

Here and elsewhere in Egypt specially-trained policemen are standing by to cope with any Italian attempt to emulate the Germans and land parachute troops.

Willkie Refuses Foreign Policy Pact With F. R.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 9 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie said today he had been asked by unidentified persons to make an agreement with the Roosevelt administration on foreign policies but that he had refused to "enter into advance commitments and understandings."

In a statement handed to reporters he asserted that President Roosevelt had declined upon his election in 1932 to make any agreements with former President Herbert Hoover.

While "much doubt was expressed" as to the wisdom of Mr. Roosevelt's position, Willkie continued, "none can doubt its correctness when taken by a candidate for president."

Earlier in the day the nominee said he had "no business connections of any kind in Wall street or any place else" and that "it is true that I will be poorer when I get out of public office."

Veteran Actor Dies HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Walter Law, 64, veteran screen actor and former stage player, died yesterday.

A British communique announced that the Italians were advancing toward Gebel in the Sudan, where it said "a few civilians" were slightly injured; and in the western desert on the British Egyptian base at Mersa Matruh. There was no damage at Mersa Matruh.

Two "entirely ineffective" air raids on Berbera also were reported.

Berbera is about 150 miles across the Gulf of Aden from the British protectorate of Aden, and is strategically important in the Italian effort to interrupt British Red sea communications.

Roosevelt Sees Slim Chance Guard Will Serve Out of U. S.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt, who left tonight for an inspection tour of vital New England coastal defense units, said today the chances were 100 to 1 against the national guard serving outside the limits of the United States or its possessions in peace-time.

Mr. Roosevelt made the observation after a reporter remarked that Senator McNary (R-Ore) republican vice-presidential candidate, had voted for an amendment to the training bill which would have confined guard activities to continental United States.

The president said that a restriction such as that proposed in the amendment—which was defeated—might tie things up in an emergency. He said he understood the amendment would have permitted service in the nation's possessions and the Philippines which is a very different thing.

Mr. Roosevelt said he did not believe national guardsmen had ever left the United States when a state of war had not been declared with the possible exception of punitive expedition against Pancho Villa into Mexico in 1916. (See GUARD, Page 6)

Ambassador Cudahy May Resign from Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Censured and called home for remarks he made about conditions in German-occupied Belgium, Ambassador John Cudahy was expected by his friends tonight to resign from the diplomatic service.

The state department, in a public statement, declared the remarks were made in "violation of standing instructions" and disclosed that President Roosevelt had "requested" the diplomat to return for "consultation."

Sheppard Calls Conscription Bill 'Tragic Necessity' for U. S.

Holman Points to 'Imminent Peril of Japanese Invasion of Alaska,' Creates Momentary Stir; House Discusses Tax Plans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9, (AP)—The senate's debate on peace-time conscription began today with Senator Sheppard (D-Tex) declaring democracy is imperiled everywhere and Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) scornfully asserting that those who fear a nazi invasion should summon courage to seek an immediate declaration of war on Germany.

A momentary stir was created when Senator Holman (R-Ore), seeking to show that Japan, not Germany, is "the number one threat to our peace," said he had learned from "authoritative military sources" of the "imminent peril of the invasion of Alaska from the Pacific and the endangering of the entire Pacific slope." Later he added, however, that so far as he knew "no one is mobilizing their forces now."

Meanwhile, the house ways and means committee was at work on tax plans, including a proposal that manufacturers who must expand their plants to fill defense orders be permitted to deduct the cost from their taxable earnings over a period of five years.

Secretary Stimson testified that as tax law now stands such manufacturers face an abnormal risk because enlargements undertaken at the government's request may be useless after a few years.

Two Gunmen Caught After Shooting Spree

OKLAHOMA DUO TOSS BODY OF YOUNG WOMAN FROM FLEEING CAR

OKLAHOMA, Aug. 9 (AP)—Two gunmen who officers said tossed the body of a red-haired young woman out of their automobile after wounding Police Chief Ben D. Clark were captured tonight at nearby Perkins.

Highway Patrolmen Ralph Boyd and J. R. Butler said one of the bandits had been shot two or three times, apparently in a pistol-shotgun duel with Okla. police, and was in a critical condition. The other, not wounded, was jailed at Stillwater.

Officers said they had not learned the men's names. With the fugitives was Bill Glimp of Drumright, whom they abducted near Okla. Officers said Glimp was taken to a hospital, but it could not be learned immediately whether he had been shot or beaten.

Police Chief Jack Ary of Drumright reported there were three men in the car during the fight with officers. The body of the attractive young woman was found near the business district of this northeastern Oklahoma oil town a half hour after Clark was felled by buckshot blasts into the face and chest. He and Constable C. L. Irwin had sought to arrest the men as suspects in a robbery committed earlier in the day.

French Press Sees British Invasion Near

VICHY, France, Aug. 9, (AP)—The controlled French press concluded today that a mass German attack upon Britain was imminent.

Telephone service to Switzerland from that part of France not occupied by German soldiers has been suspended since yesterday.

The newspaper Le Temps, now published in nearby Clermont-Ferrand, says German preparations on the French and Belgian coasts indicate an embarkment of troops for England will be attempted—if not at once at least after airplanes have cleared the way.

'Let's Declare War'

"Those men who stand here and say that Germany is going to attack us in three months or six months—why don't they have the courage to go to the people of the country and say 'let's declare war.' It's nonsense."

Early in the discussion, Senator Johnson (R-Calif) read a statement by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, opposing the conscription bill. "I say amen to that," he said. He went on indignantly to assert that the draft bill would be "rammed down our throats after very brief consideration," adding that "some of us unfortunately in the stress of the moment have forgotten this government."

Cudahy's assertion about food conditions in Belgium drew a rejoinder from the British ministry of economic warfare. "Any coming European shortages or famine," it said in a statement, "will be due to Germany's providing better for the rich than for the peoples it has conquered." This indicated that Britain would refuse to relax the blockade to permit food shipments to Belgium.

Example of Parliamentarianism

When the senator from West Virginia and the senator from Indiana exhibited themselves in a colorful but ill-advised exchange of epithets during debate on the draft bill this week, they indulged in what those who ridicule democracy call "parliamentarianism."

By parliamentarianism is meant the never-ending, senseless dickering procedure called debate which deliberative bodies employ to accomplish nothing.

This, of course, is an accusation against democracies which we would not accept. We think deliberative bodies can get things done through the process of debate and by careful consideration.

Example of Parliamentarianism

The amazing speed with which congress has enacted and put into operation defense measures is ample evidence that that deliberative body is still able to function.

However, once in a while there occurs some incident which brings home the fact that "parliamentarianism" is not just a name invented by those who don't like our form of government. There are times when we feel only too keenly our shortcomings. One such occasion was the personal exchange on the senate floor this week between senators Minton and Holt during the conscription controversy. Following is a choice portion of the give-and-take affair:

Holt: If ever the administration wants filth to be thrown they get the senator from Indiana (Minton) to throw it.

Retaliation

Minton: And when Hitler wants it thrown you throw it.

Holt: No, no, not at all. I want to say this, that there never has been a time in recent history when the administration wanted some dirty, filthy, low job done that they could not get the senator from Indiana to do it.

There was more of the same with abundant use of such epithets as "liar," "rat," and "slacker."

This is the sort of thing Hitler and Mussolini would point to with glee as proof that the democracies can do little more than "name-calling" in their free legislatures. It isn't proof that legislatures are useless, but it is a signal that these more excitable members of congress need to calm down and tend to the business at hand.

Quarantine on the Jitters

American war jitters are blamed by the National Safety council for a large percentage of the 2,820 traffic deaths which occurred in this country in June, this year. Safety campaigns, highway patrols and various other safety devices seem to have been powerless to prevent this 15 per cent increase over the traffic toll of June, 1939.

Taut nerves, worry, fear, and war panic apparently prevent the individual from grasping the significance of traffic rules, from safeguarding his own welfare or feeling responsibility for the safety of others.

War jitters have also been blamed by doctors for increases in headaches, nervous breakdowns and other ills symptomatic of inability to stand up under tension.

Because we can't help, we worry; we can't see into the future, so we imagine the worst. Human lives are little valued in warring countries, so we apparently value them less here. Almost 3,000 lives seems a high price to pay for the privilege of having the jitters—a luxury we can ill afford at this time. Giving in to panic is self indulgence in that the individual is putting his own feelings before the welfare of others—before his responsibilities as a citizen. Naturally, we are going to worry, be apprehensive and concerned. We can't tell ourselves that God's in his heaven, all's well with the world. We have to learn to live with our fears, to control our feelings instead of weakly being controlled by them.

We can't stop the war. We can't, individually, prevent wholesale slaughter in Europe, but we can, individually, prevent needless waste of life here. Many say, "If we could only do something, we'd feel better." Well, we can do something. We can start practicing self control. We can recall what we have been told of the role played by fear and unwarred panic in the downfall of European nations. We can determine to prevent spread of panic here, to quarantine the jitters. We have been told that as a people, we need discipline. We do. We can have it only when each individual accepts his own responsibility toward others and forswears the jitters for self control.

Aspects of the News

Discounting the most serious aspects of the war, the general public cannot but pity the poor newspaperman who seeks, day in and day out, to find something new in the news.

The German bombings of England, and vice versa, have gone on for some time, may go on for some time to come, and the most important news, day after day, is unfortunately the same.

So all of us are grateful for hulls created by Wilkie's acceptance of the farm program, to offset the routine of bombs over England.

News is a strange commodity; it's there or it isn't. Right now the news of greatest importance most consistently is concerned with air attacks on Britain, and English retaliations.

Would it would get no worse, gradually better, for the good of the world at large.

But there's another aspect of this strange commodity called "news." It happens most unexpectedly. One day soon, we may promise, the most important news no longer will be bombings by England and Germany.

What will it be?
Ah, if we knew it wouldn't be news.

Late, But Not Too Late

"Business management is in better repute today than it has been in a decade. This spirit is reflected in the popular parody:

Heigh Ho, Heigh Ho,
It's off to WORK we go.

A policy of plenty will supplant the theory of easy Marxian scarcity. This spirit will recognize that textbooks on arithmetic contain methods of addition and multiplication as well as subtraction and division. It will abandon revolutionary reform "to make America over" and adopt recovery with its proved evolutionary social progress. It will raise again the America banner with its insignia "work." It will remove the obstacles which are preventing workman and manager from joining hands, and in the good old-fashioned way, lick the production record of yesterday.

"It is late, but not too late, to give business a chance to do its old time stuff for the American people."—Merle Thorpe in Nation's Business.

Too Bad About Weather

There being nothing else to find fault with these days, let's take it out on the weather.

The weather never quite makes up its mind. It's hot, and we perspire, which we don't like.

Then it turns cool, and tonsillitis goes the rounds, which we don't like.

If it rains, we find fault. If it doesn't, it's worse.

Too bad we have to have weather.

A Man About MANHATTAN

Hal Kemp's Band Plays A Musical Salute to a Baby

BY GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—Ran into Mel Adams, fresh back from Cincinnati . . . Mel Adams used to write a weekly summary of Big Ten sports activities for the Honolulu Star-Bulletin before he became identified with a recording company and with various dance bands throughout the country . . . What was he doing in Cincinnati? . . . He was spending the weekend with Hal Kemp, who is playing the Beverly Hills country club there . . . What did Kemp have on his mind? . . . He had precisely what any other young expectant father would have on his mind.

Most of the time, Hal was on long distance, talking to Mrs. Helen Forrester here in New York . . . Mrs. Forrester is the mother of Mrs. Kemp, the former Martha Stephenson. "It's a funny thing," says Mel, mopping his brow with a limp flourish . . . "When the band's on the floor, almost every other set is a medley of old times . . . The customers like it . . . They pick 'em out of the hat and go way back . . . Five years, ten years, sometimes twenty.

"Well, there I was, and the telephone rang. There Hal was, ducking into the booth like a scared rabbit . . . There the band was, whipping into a medley of old time tunes . . . I had one eye on the booth and one ear on the band . . . I could see Hal's face through the door as they gave him the big news . . . What do you think the band was playing when he got that news? . . . You'd never guess in a thousand years . . . It was 'Baby Me'."

Our aviation note for the week concerns Larry Clinton, who was lazily piloting his plane over the sea between Fire Island and the mainland the other morning when a U. S. army pursuit ship whipped by and gave Larry a signal . . . Larry waved back, reflecting how friendly the army fliers seem to be. A few seconds later the pursuit streaked past again. Calmly plodding along at about 90 miles per hour, Larry seemed to be standing still when the army plane cut past him. This time Larry got what the army flier meant. It wasn't just a friendly salute from one flier to another. It meant get-the-hell-away-from-this-area-we're-having-target-practice. Clinton got.

May go down to Charlottesville, Va., next week and watch Franchot Tone and Madeleine Carroll make a picture . . . Not many know that Kate Hepburn could make a living playing golf if she wanted to quit the theater. She used to be Connecticut state women's champion . . . Those professional chess players in the midtown galleries earn 18 bucks a week. Their job is to play with anybody who wants to play. There's a checker professional here, too, who hasn't lost a game in eight months. He plays about 20 games a day. "No system to it at all," he says. "You just sit back and wait for the other fellow to beat himself."

ITALIANS FIND THESE WAITING IN EGYPT

These are British infantrymen in Egypt and at the time the picture was taken they were engaged in gun practice. Today, it's the real thing as Italian troops advance in several African sections, including Egypt. Italian Libyan troops have advanced into Egypt, striking toward the Suez canal.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

Local Draft Boards For Conscription

WASHINGTON—A vast decentralized scheme to give half a dozen citizens in each of 6,500 local communities the full responsibility for making fair and impartial selections in the draft, has been worked out by the army and navy selective service committee.

The committee has been so sure the bill will be enacted it has practically completed the rules and regulations to be prescribed by the president as soon as the bill is signed.

From this advance work, you may best glean evidence on the question that has been raised as to whether the draft system is to be judicial and impartial or administered by political appointees capable of choosing their enemies and exempting their friends.

THE LOCAL BOARDS

Each local draft board is to be named by the president upon recommendation of the governor of each state. All are to be civilians. Each board is to be composed of 5 or 6 persons, one of whom would be considered an industrial representative, one from labor, agriculture, the general public, and perhaps leading civic bodies. A physician would be assigned to each board, and perhaps a member of the clergy in order to better examine conscientious objectors. It is possible the president will decide the republicans and democrats should be equally represented on the boards, although that matter is yet to be determined.

From this process of selection, the better to insult 'em in return. But that was part of his act.

Eddy Duchin, an agreeable young man, tells me the other evening's incident was nothing by comparison to another he experienced. In response to his call for requests, a patron shouted, "Give us a march—and we'll all march out!" Eddy did the only thing a good turner-asider can do. He played "The Stars and Stripes Forever." Everybody stayed to applaud.

Miss Pickens added her heckler to her book of experience. "You learn to take it, in work like this and on the stage," she says. "It's part of our schooling, and I wouldn't miss it for anything."

She'll probably be back for movies, but not now despite RKO and other interest. "This is a vacation," she explained. "I took the precaution of singing for the new Ed Wynn stage show in New York before I came out, so I'd be able to resist offers if I got any. I'm doing summer stock whenever I can get away, and just finished 'Tonight or Never' in Ridgefield (Conn.). I don't believe one can get too much experience and background."

Miss Pickens is the only member of the erstwhile Pickens Sisters trio remaining in the profession. Patti is married to Robert Simmons, the tenor. They have a new baby. Helen is Countess Salvatore Mario Curioni.

Duchin, with whom Jane has been solo star the last couple of years, soon may be in pictures himself. He's mentioned frequently for the prize role in the film life-story of George Gershwin, who was a friend of his and to whom he bore a superficial resemblance. But the elocution lessons he's taking are for his m.c. work—"so I'll get rid of my New England inflections and make my voice work better and longer."

it becomes evident that while the president is going to have the responsibility for making the choices, he cannot possibly know even a small portion of the men he appoints. The question of what kind of men he gets is, therefore, entirely up to the governor and even he will have to rely presumably on local recommendations.

1 TO 30,000

The war department has insisted upon this not wholly satisfactory method. Although the army and the navy are practically better fitted to judge impartially, they have restricted their authority in the proposed regulations to the single point of allocating to each state the number of men to be chosen. This is to be done by a selective service committee in Washington, composed of five officers, two army, two navy and one marine, and a director of selective service who is to receive $10,000 a year. (General Hugh Johnson?)

The committee, working on the basis of population, will tell each governor how many men to draft, and the governor will pass the information on to a state board which will apportion the number out, similarly on a basis of population, to each county. Therefore, there will be a draft board for every county, except those with more than 30,000 population. In the large city-counties a separate board will exist for each 30,000.

This board is to be absolute. It cannot get any orders from Washington. The military authorities want it that way because they believe the confidence of each local community can be gained by their complete effacement from the picture. Local citizens would also best be able to detect faults in claims for exemption by their personal knowledge of the health and position of draftees, whether they have dependents really relying upon them for support, whether their jobs are "necessary to the maintenance of national health, safety or interest," whether they are truly conscientious objectors. That's the theory.

Fairness or unfairness in individual cases, therefore, will rest with the type of men willing to undertake such work and capable of getting an appointment for it from a state governor.

CHINA NOT DEFEATED

Closing of the Burma road will not defeat China. Japanese think so, but private advices which have reached American diplomatic authorities suggest the Chinese will be able to tap other routes of supplies with sufficient success to continue their resistance. One new base will be Russia, although the Chinese cannot count on much there. Another will be the Japanese army. The enemy has been a main source of Chinese supplies for the last year and a half. Trickery and raids have kept this line open to unbelievable efficiency.

The far east situation, therefore, seems leading up slowly now toward a compromise peace. It cannot be a decisive permanent peace, but rather a temporary effort of the Japanese government to relieve itself of its devastating war responsibilities in China for a while.

PLANE MANUFACTURE

Plane manufacturing is not being moved inland as promised. The government is urging Douglas at Santa Monica, Cal., to spend a huge sum for expansion. Consolidated at San Diego was stepped up to a five-day week, 10 hours a day.

War officers claim testing weather is milder where the California plants now are. Only situated inland spot from the weather standpoint, they say, would be Texas, and that is too close to the Mexican border.

A British Tommy's Children Will Find Haven in America

ST. PAUL, Aug. 9 (AP)—A British Tommy, who was wounded in battle and leaving his boy and girl homeless, has hit the bullseye on a long-shot appeal to an uncle in America, from whom he has been separated many years, to provide haven for the children.

A newspaper broadside, arranged by attorney-general J. A. Burnquist of Minnesota, located the uncle, who notified Burnquist he was "ready to assist as best I can."

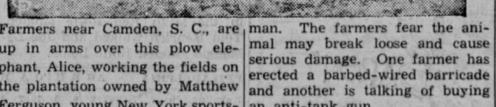

The broadside followed a letter to Burnquist from Sgt. F. W. Atyeo, who, writing that he had an uncle somewhere in the northwest, added:

"I have recently returned from France but now the war is upon us here in England and if only I can get my two children, a girl of 12 years and a boy of 9 years out of the coming shambles my mind would be at ease, leaving me free to fight, without the worry it entails at present, being miles away from home and not knowing how my kids are and I'm sure my uncle will have them if he can be found."

To the uncle was addressed a note asking that he take the children "so that if I have to die, then I shall be pleased to do so, knowing my children will live on after me, free from the awful carnage here."

A newspaper story caught the eye of Edward Atyeo, Clear Lake, S. D., who told Burnquist he believed he was the "uncle" and that "although I haven't accumulated a great deal of this world's goods," he was ready to help. Burnquist sent the reply on to London.

Iowa's Corn Crop Estimate Drops Sharply

DES MOINES, Aug. 9 (AP)—Reflecting last month's drought and a curtailed acreage, the 392,312,000-bushel estimate of Iowa's corn crop issue today showed a 22 per cent drop from last year's bumper harvest of 503,776,000 bushels.

The per acre yield, based on August 1 conditions, was estimated by the federal agricultural department at 44.5 bushels, a 3 1/2-bushel decline from a month earlier.

"The decline from July 1 resulting from drought and bug damage, although rather sharp, was not as great as feared it might be for a time," commented a report issued by the office of Leslie M. Carl, federal agricultural statistician here.

"Fairly general precipitation the later part of July permitted a partial recovery of losses in yield prospects sustained earlier in the month."

Since the first of this month prospects have been further enhanced by additional rains.

Corn production was indicated August 1 at 2,248,246,000 bushels, a reduction of 167,742,000 bushels from an earlier estimate, under July's blighting sun and searing winds. The August 1 estimate was 371,000 bushels below last year's production and 51,000,000 bushels under the 1929-38 average.

Nation's Corn Yield Cut by Weather

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Hot, dry weather in July cut an estimated seven per cent off the probable corn production, but this was largely offset by conditions favorable to small grain, the agriculture department reported today.

Corn production was indicated August 1 at 2,248,246,000 bushels, a reduction of 167,742,000 bushels from an earlier estimate, under July's blighting sun and searing winds. The August 1 estimate was 371,000 bushels below last year's production and 51,000,000 bushels under the 1929-38 average.

Nazis Advise Rumania To 'Act Quickly'

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP) (Via Radio)—The German radio quoted tonight an authoritative admonition to southeastern European countries, but clearly addressed to Rumania, to talk less and act more quickly in territorial revisions.

The article, to be published tomorrow in the periodical, "South-east Echo," and described as emanating from an authoritative German source, said public agitation in the affected countries, Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary, was useless.

Such tactics, it said, certainly would not impress Germany.

(Rumania, under German orders to settle the territorial claims of Bulgaria and Hungary, has not yet begun negotiations with Bulgaria and has suggested that Hungary be content with only a small portion of the claimed territory of Transylvania and with a transfer of populations.)

The Southeast Echo said Germany values deeds more than words and "tip service to the principles of our foreign policy can therefore not influence our conception of matters."

Rains Leave Many Refugees In Louisiana

CROWLEY, La., Aug. 9 (AP)—Red Cross, state and federal agencies hurriedly mobilized their forces today to administer emergency aid to 10,000 refugees driven from their homes in southwest Louisiana by two days of torrential rain which natives said surpassed the landmark flood of 1927.

Answering urgent appeals from Mayor Matt Buatt of Crowley, in the center of the flood, Governor Sam Jones at Baton Rouge swung into action to marshal state, federal and relief agencies to send in supply boats and administer available aid.

The governor in a late afternoon radio broadcast described the situation as "most serious" and declared that "everything possible is being done" to rush aid to the stricken thousands.

Jones estimated that there were 10,000 persons homeless and in need of immediate supplies, declaring that most of them were "cut off from the outside world."

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL

- The Difference
Several Reasons
Cardinal Deals

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Sam Bredon may not be the man who sold the Brooklyn bridge, but Dodger fans are beginning to think he's the guy who could do it. He sold Brooklyn Ducky Medwick, and after that selling anything else would be just bull-pen exercise.

The Cardinals received a miscellaneous assortment of ball players and cash estimated as high as $200,000 (your guess is just as good) in return for Medwick and Curt Davis, with Davis tossed into the deal like the sack that comes along with the candy.

The Difference Medwick was going to bring the Dodgers the pennant, yes sir. He was going to be "the difference." The Dodger fans were speechless with joy, and when a Dodger fan is speechless that's news.

The Dodgers still might win the pennant, but right now it doesn't appear that Ducky Medwick will be reason No. 1. He's hitting less than .290, feeble for him, and only recently he was picking up bench splinters at the request of his pal, Leo Durocher.

Several Reasons Several reasons have been advanced for Medwick's failure to live up to expectations in a Dodger uniform. Among them are:

- 1. The beating by Bob Bowman, Cardinal hurler, shortly after joining Brooklyn took a lot out of him.
2. He had loafed so long with St. Louis in the hope that he would be sent to another club that it became a habit he can't break.
3. Sam Bredon's X-ray eyes looked through Medwick and saw he was about through as an outstanding ball player.

Each of those guesses may be a factor, but looking back on some of the other deals Bredon has made we are inclined to string along with reason No. 3. The card boss has an uncanny knack of disposing of players for fat prices just at the time they are beginning to crack, although still apparently at their peak.

Cardinal Deals He and his fellow David Harum, Branch Rickey, wheeled the Cubs out of $185,000 for Dizzy Dean, apparently sound in wind and limb. Dizzy is trying to come back via the Texas league after giving the Cubs only a small return on their investment.

The list of players the Cardinals have disposed of for healthy money is long—Chick Hafey, Rip Collins, Taylor Douthitt, to name a few.

Getting back to Medwick, when the deal sending him to Brooklyn first was announced we had the idea that it signified that the Cards had given up on the pennant this year. It now appears they had just given up on Medwick.

Ducky may come back to his former excellence. He's with the club he wanted to be with, and his desire to make good may have resulted in his pressing at the plate.

But right now it looks like another front office victory for the Cardinals.

Sale of Dodgers to Jacobs Hits Snag

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—The proposed sale of the Brooklyn baseball Dodgers to fight promoter Mike Jacobs looked today like the fellow who wanted to trade a suit of clothes although he only owned the pants.

Half of the Dodger stock—the 50 per cent controlled by the Brooklyn Trust company—was ready to talk business. The other half—that owned by the heirs of the late Judge Steven McKeever—

Browns Spoil Night for Tribe 4-3 Defeat Keeps Indians From Taking Over League Lead as Tigers Lose

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9 (AP)—A ninth-inning single by Bob Swift, scoring Harland Clift from third, gave the St. Louis Browns a 4 to 3 victory over the Cleveland Indians tonight, enabling the Detroit Tigers, who lost to Chicago, to retain first place by a half game.

Limited to two hits by Mel Harder for six and a half innings, the Browns pecked away for one run in the seventh, then tied the count at 3-all in the next frame on Walt Judnich's 21st homer with Roy Cullenbine on board.

Clift opened the last half of the ninth with a double which brought Harry Eisenstat to Harder's rescue. Don Heffner bunted to Ken Keltner, who slipped on the wet grass, Clift advancing to third and Heffner being safe at first. This set the stage for Swift's game-winning blow.

The Indians took the lead in the fifth on Keltner's single, his steal of second and Beau Bell's single. They added two more runs in the seventh on Keltner's double, an error by Johnny Berardino, a triple by Rollie Hemslley and a single by Harder.

Ruffing, Sundra Hurl 2-Hitter For Yankees

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Red Ruffing and Steve Sundra collaborated in a two-hit pitching spectacle today to give the World Champion New York Yankees a 2 to 0 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Ruffing started, but pulled a muscle in his left leg and had to retire from the game with one out in the third inning. He had given up one hit, a single in the first inning.

When Ruffing gave up, Manager Joe McCarthy called on Steve Sundra, who won 11 and lost one last year but hadn't been able to achieve a single victory this season. Sundra proceeded to surprise everybody by shutting out the A's for the remainder of the game on one hit, a single by Dick Siebert at the start of the fourth, and got credit for the victory.

The Yanks couldn't do anything with him in the first four frames, but Babe Dahlgren singled to open the fifth, stole second, went to third on a fly and scored on Joe Gordon's single to center. Then in the sixth Red Rolfe singled, Tom Henrich walked and Joe DiMaggio singled Rolfe home.

Holds Boston To Four Hits For 1-0 Win

Brooklyn Breaks Deadlock in 8th For Fifth Straight

BOSTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Whitlow Wyatt, rapidly rounding into one of the National League's brightest pitching stars, shut out the Boston Bees 1 to 0 today for the Brooklyn Dodgers, getting a single and scoring the winning run himself.

Each of the teams had won four consecutive games before they collided today and the battle they put up to continue their strings was a stirring one.

Wyatt was superb, allowing only four hits and striking out seven batters, including slugger Chester Ross three times in a row. He never let a runner get past second until in the ninth inning. It was the 30-year-old righthander's second straight shutout and 12th victory of the season against nine defeats.

Dick Erickson, the promising rookie who opposed Wyatt, also pitched a fine game, allowing only eight hits and keeping the Dodgers blanked until the eighth, when Wyatt, Dixie Walker and Babe Phelps bunched singles in a small but effective rally.

This was the only inning that Brooklyn got a man as far as third base, although the Dodgers put three men on the sacks in the fourth. Delph Camilli died stealing and Pete Reiser was trapped off first.

Peewee Reese was held hitless, but waited out a walk to make 21 consecutive games in which he has managed to get on base.

Defense Leaders Urge Congress to Lift Tax Uncertainties from Business

BY JOSEPH H. SHORT
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9, (AP) — National defense leaders, in a swift procession today, urged immediate action by congress to remove tax and profits "uncertainties" which they said were hampering military preparedness.

All appeared at a congressional tax hearing and Secretary of War Stimson, giving an example, said that although congress appropriated $400,000,000 for a batch of 4,000 army planes in June, the army had been able to sign contracts for only 33 of them.

This situation Stimson and the other witnesses attributed primarily to lack of special tax consideration for concerns expanding their plants for defense and to a general uncertainty over what kind of a profits levy would be enacted.

Stimson, 72-year-old republican war chief, echoed the sentiments of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau who preceded him and of Lewis Compton, assistant navy secretary, and William S. Knudsen, defense commissioner, who came after.

Most of the discussion, at the joint session of the house ways and means and senate finance committees centered around the plea that business men wanted to know how they would be taxed and wanted also to be assured of tax credits for the cost of plant expansions for defense. Stimson said a concern which built new facilities for defense was taking an abnormal risk because the facilities might turn out to be useless in case of "a sudden cessation of the emergency."

There was little discussion of the specific proposal, prepared by the house tax subcommittee, for an excess profits tax and related legislation.

This proposal would levy a 25 to 40 per cent tax on excess profits, beginning with 1940, would permit a deduction from earnings over a five-year period of the entire cost of plants expanded for defense and would suspend the Vinson-Trammell act's limitation of 7 and 8 per cent on the profits from warships and military aircraft.

Morgenthau declared that it was "desirable" to enact a profits tax which would provide additional revenue "without restricting the productive activity necessary for defense."

Knudsen endorsed the principle of the excess profits tax but would not express a view on the current proposal. Compton expressed a desire that an excess profits levy accompany the suspension of the Vinson-Trammell act.

Stimson steered clear of discussing the tax but said it was of "vital importance" to national defense to clear up uncertainties.

All save Knudsen had prepared statements. The big defense commissioner, with a bashful smile, said in a very low voice that he was ignorant of procedure and had no written remarks but would be glad to answer questions, which he did with all bashfulness gone.

The hearing brought from Morgenthau an estimate that the net deficit for the current year will amount to $5,700,000,000, on the basis of current figures.

He said that congress had appropriated or authorized the military services to enter into contracts for a grand total of $14-

702,000,000 for defense during the current year.

This, Morgenthau added, did not include the prospective spending for conscription and the calling of the national guard to duty.

Daniel W. Bell, undersecretary of the treasury who accompanied Morgenthau, asserted that at the present rate of defense spending a $9,000,000,000 increase in the present $49,000,000,000 debt limit would be needed next summer, in the absence of new taxes.

Economic 5th Column Hurts Vital Defenses

German Control Of War Industry Patents Cited in U. S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP) — An "economic fifth column," Assistant U. S. Attorney General Thurman Arnold declared today, has placed many business men engaged in America's vital defense industries "in the impossible position of divided loyalties."

"This is not a malicious fifth column and must not be attributed to espionage," Arnold said, adding that "no moral issues are involved, but merely the enforcement of law."

He explained that evidence of German control of patents important to the war industries of the United States had been un- dered by federal grand juries operating in New York and other key cities, investigating production restriction and price fixing. Declining to give specific instances of German patent control, Arnold said that it must be attributed to normal business trends.

Here to take temporary charge of the inquiry started by his assistant, Samuel S. Isseks, Arnold said that federal juries now sitting in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, St. Louis and other key centers were being used as "a fluid system to handle the emergency."

The juries, he said, were prepared to return indictments wherever they found production restriction or price fixing in industries affecting the country's armament program, and to investigate anti-trust law violations occurring in the food, fuel, housing, drug or other vital industries.

Crude oil poured into a modern petroleum refinery is transformed into 26 types of gasoline, 30 different solvents, five grades of fuel oil, 35 types of oxidized asphalt, 15 industrial oils, 40 types of highway asphalt, 80 greases, 25 home and automotive products and 135 grades of lubricating oils.

W.C.T.U. Youth's Temperance Council Disapproves of Campus Drinking Songs

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (AP) — Collegiate drinking traditionally sentimentalized in campus songs of the stein and flowing bowl met the disapproval tonight of the W. C. T. U. youth's temperance council.

An effort has been launched, in fact, to woo college students away from the stein songs and enlist them in a militant army against the use of intoxicating liquors, said Miss Martha Smyth Cooper, Evanston, Ill., secretary of the council.

Miss Cooper presided at a session of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union 66th annual convention devoted to young people's temperance work.

She cited the formation and "rapid development" of a student commission to aid the furtherance of temperance at the University of Illinois, with preliminary work on other campuses, and estimated there were 21,000-000 young people among whom the council hopes to recruit "the new army for the solution of gotten all the precepts of the fathers of this country."

Battle Over Peace-Time Conscription Opens in U.S. Senate

Draft--

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) challenged the often-voiced contention that voluntary enlistments would not provide enough men for the army.

"I can show the senate innumerable recruiting stations that have declined to take recruits because their quotas have been filled," he said. "If they haven't got more men, isn't it because they haven't set their quotas high enough?" he asked.

To this Sheppard replied that war department experience showed that it was impossible to obtain by the voluntary method the 400,000 enlistments which the army is seeking by October.

Sheppard also submitted figures on the cost of the program for the remainder of the fiscal year, fixing the total at $1,150,000,000—$800,000,000 for training conscripts, and $350,000,000 for training national guard units to be called up under the bill passed yesterday by the senate and now pending in the house. He said a personnel of 104,500 would be needed to administer the draft.

Herring Sees Modifications

DES MOINES, Aug. 9 (AP)—Sen. Clyde L. Herring said today he could not support the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill as drawn, but added that he expects the bill will be modified drastically by amendments.

Herring, in an interview, said that he believes the bill as proposed would cause more disruption than he believes is justified by the circumstances.

"I believe I would favor something like the Maloney substitute," the senator said.

(The Maloney plan would give the soldiers higher pay, about $30 a month instead of $21, and would allow a preliminary period during which young men could enlist for a year instead of being drafted for three.)

"Any plan for conscription should also carry the proper exemptions for dependents and special cases," Herring said.

Although maintaining that the plan should not be more drastic than the need requires, the senator said he did not oppose the principle of selective draft.

"If we need manpower for our defense, we undoubtedly should have the selective draft with the proper exemptions," he said.

Senator Nye Flays Draft Bill

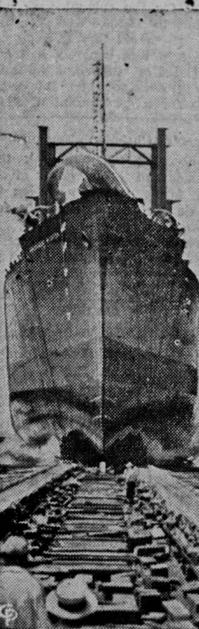

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Senator Nye (R-ND), assailing peacetime conscription, told a radio audience tonight the administration's foreign policy, "carried to its logical extreme, can do nothing else but invite a war for us long before we are ready for it."

"Peace-time conscription and draft of manpower such as is now being advanced in a legislative way," said the North Dakotan, "would be a most direct contribution to the creation of dictatorship."

Asserting national defense was one issue and the foreign policy of President Roosevelt another, Nye continued:

"There is only one point where the two issues may be said to interlock. The foreign policy has made it essential that we make all speed to replace the chip on Uncle Sam's shoulders with sizable cannons . . . having struffed along the sidelines of the European war, wearing a chip, and not a thing else, yelling threats at some of the belligerents, we have been forced to show our cards in the hole. Unfortunately that card seems to

Fifteen Entries Already Listed In Horse Show

Saddle Horse Entries Will Be Received Until Day of Event

John Nash, chairman of the saddle horse show to be held in conjunction with the 12th annual Johnson county 4-H club show next Thursday evening at 7:30, said last night that about 15 horses have been entered so far in the 1940 show.

Entries are still being received and will be taken up to the day of the show. In past years, he said, entries have totaled 25 to 30 horses representing 10 or 12 stables and more than that number are expected for this year's show.

Among the entries have been those from Wellman, Ottumwa and Center Point. In addition to the six classes of competition at the show there will be special exhibition classes of prize horses from around the state.

Each of the six classes will be sponsored by an Iowa City organization which will award the prizes. Mr. Nash pointed out. Both local banks and the Iowa City Light and Power company have agreed to sponsor classes; other sponsors will be announced soon.

The annual horse show, held in connection with the 4-H show each year, will be presented the second night of the show with a variety program being presented on Wednesday night.

Protection For National Guardsmen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—The bill empowering President Roosevelt to call out the national guard contains an amendment designed to protect militiamen and reserves against the eviction of their families or the loss of real or personal property which they are buying on the installment plan.

The provision was adopted in the form of an amendment at the urging of Senator Overton (D-La).

Special court action must be undertaken by the service-man's creditor or landlord to obtain either eviction or the repossession of the property involved. In such cases the court would be given wide discretion to bring about a settlement, or to refuse the appeal of the creditor. In the case of evictions, however, this would not apply if the rent were more than $50 monthly.

Naval vessels which will cost approximately $181,900,000 are under construction or have just been launched in the area the commander-in-chief will visit.

Asked whether there was any possibility of his inspecting Pacific coast defense bases this summer, Mr. Roosevelt said that he would try to be no more than 12 to 24 hours from Washington at any time.

Files Petition Asking Order To Pay Note

He told his questioner that if he had thought twice he would realize a west coast inspection would violate what the president termed one of the essentials—that the president must be within easy reach of the capital at all times under existing conditions.

Sometime during the New England trip, Mr. Roosevelt said, he would have Col. William Donovan give him a personal report on the recent mystery mission which Donovan carried out in Europe be admittedly a military deuce. Our job at hand now, by reason of this strutting and posing, is to shuffle the pack quickly and deal ourselves a new hand at a price in billions."

Addie, Gladys Whiteside File Damage Suits Totaling $7,000

Charge Negligence, Recklessness Caused 1938 Accident

Two damage suits totaling $7,000, one for $2,000 and one for $5,000, and naming common defendants were filed in district court yesterday by Addie Whiteside and her daughter, Gladys Whiteside, respectively.

Defendants named in both suits are Hilton Yakish and William Yakish. Both suits are results of an accident which the petitions state occurred on Nov. 30, 1938, in which Gladys Whiteside was seriously injured while riding in an auto driven by Harold Gibbons. The auto, according to the petitions, was owned by the two named defendants and was driven by Gibbons with the permission and authority of Hilton and William Yakish.

Asks Damages
In the $2,000 suit Addie Yakish asks for damages on three counts.

She charges that the driver, Gibbons, was negligent, driving recklessly and had agreed to pay for damages. She asks the amount on grounds of the inconvenience under which she was placed as a result of her daughter's injuries and confinement to the hospital.

In the $5,000 suit Miss Whiteside asks for damages on the same three counts, negligence, recklessness and a former agreement to pay. Her petition explains that as a result of the accident she was confined to a hospital for some time, was permanently scarred, lost some of her permanent teeth and will "forever suffer physical and mental pain" as a result.

Scene of Crash
According to the two petitions, the accident happened on a public highway one and one-half miles east of Iowa City.

Both suits were filed by Atty. Messer, Hamilton and Cahill of Iowa City, attorneys for the plaintiffs.

As American as Pork and Beans

SOMEHOW we've come to look upon the newspaper boy as a purely American phenomenon—much like freedom of speech. The right of an individual to earn money in an honest endeavor is just as typically American as pork and beans. It's one of the rights that we've fought for—with battles and with words.

he's proud of it. It helps to finance his education, or to make things a little easier at home. Many of our prominent business and professional men right here in Iowa City were newspaper boys. And they don't pass up the opportunity to mention it, either! The training that these boys get serves to make them self-reliant . . . teaches them the value of money . . . the wisdom of saving.

HERE and there, perhaps, we've come off a little the worse for it. But in the main, the privilege is still untarnished. No group expresses this American trait as much as the newspaper boy. The money he earns is earned the hard way—and

WE don't know of any group that's more deserving of praise and encouragement. We salute every newspaper boy in the country and especially our own Iowan staff. His diligence and initiative is a shining light for all of us!

YOUR IOWAN CARRIER BOY IS A GREAT FELLOW TO KNOW . . . HE'S ALWAYS READY TO SERVE YOU . . . KNOW HIM BETTER!
