SPEAKER WILLIAM BANKHEAD DEAD

Death Strikes Veteran Following Short Illness

Noted Democratic Leader, 66, Succumbs In Naval Hospital as Result of Ruptured Artery in Abdomen; Unconscious 4 Hours

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (Sunday) (AP)—Speaker William B. Bankhead of Alabama died at 12:35 a. m. (Central Standard time) today in Naval hospital. He was 66 years old.

His death was due to a ruptured artery in the abdomen. He had been unconscious for four hours before his death.

The democratic leader was stricken last Tuesday (Sept. 10) in Baltimore where he had gone to deliver a political address. At that time, Dr. George W. Calver, capitol physician, announced that the speaker had fainted as the result of a painful attack of sciatica.

House Speaker Dies

William B. Bankhead

Dr. Calver issued the following statement on the speaker's death: "Speaker Bankhead died of a hemorrhage as a result of a ruptured blood vessel in the abdomen at 12:35 a. m."

The initial tear occurred about 9 p. m. Tuesday evening in Baltimore. For a couple of days his condition offered some hope but this afternoon about 5 o'clock the hemorrhage recurred and he failed rapidly, dying a martyr to his determination to do a good job for his political party against the advice of his family, his secretaries and his physician.

At Bankhead's bedside when he died were his wife, his brother, Senator John Bankhead, and a daughter, Mrs. Eugenia Hoyt of New York.

Screen Star on Way
Tallulah Bankhead, stage and screen star and the speaker's second daughter, was en route by train from Princeton, N. J., where she appeared tonight with a road company in "The Little Foxes," Broadway stage success of last season. She started for Washington immediately after the performance but failed to arrive before her father died.

Bankhead had not been in good health in recent weeks and Dr. Calver said he sought to dissuade him, just before he left for Baltimore, from going through with the speaking engagement. The speaker protested, however, that he had "promised the boys." He became ill before he could deliver his address.

When Bankhead left for the nearby city despite Dr. Calver's advice, the physician followed him and on his arrival found him unconscious.

In Congress Since 1917
Bankhead was removed to the Naval hospital here and was reported improving until Saturday morning. At that time, hospital physicians said he had had a "bad night." He took a turn for the worse during the day and by nightfall his condition was described as critical.

A member of congress since 1917, Bankhead was elected speaker in 1936 upon the death of Speaker Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee.

His death was the second of a speaker while congress was in session. The first was that of Byrns. Bankhead enjoyed the distinction of serving in congress with both his father, the late Senator John Hollis Bankhead, and his brother. There has been a member of the family in congress for more than 50 years.

New Mexico Senatorial Seat Close Contest

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 14 (AP) — Representative J. J. Dempsey, fighting congressional champion of the Hatch "clean-politics" bill, held a narrow but consistent lead tonight on the basis of early returns from his battle to wrest the democratic senatorial nomination from incumbent Dennis Chavez.

With returns in from only 63 of the state's 914 voting divisions in today's first New Mexico direct primary, the count was: Dempsey 4,768, Chavez 4,074.

In the democratic gubernatorial race, incumbent John E. Miles pulled away to an early and substantial lead over his opponent, Clyde Tingley, former governor and present mayor of Albuquerque.

The count, from 63 divisions, gave: Miles 5,435, Tingley 2,840.

First Peace-Time Draft in U.S. Approved

President's Signature Expected Next Week Is Last Remaining Step Before Bill Becomes Law

Revised Measure Requires 16,500,000 Men Aged 21 to 35 Inclusive to Register For Possible Army Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—For the first time in United States history, a peace-time draft bill won final approval of congress today and the president's signature, expected early next week, was the last remaining step necessary to start the machinery for raising a conscript army of 900,000 men.

The revised bill, requiring 16,500,000 men aged 21 to 35, inclusive, to register for possible service went through both houses by margins of almost two to one today, thus demonstrating how sharply Hitler's onslaughts abroad have reversed the traditional congressional aversion to peace-time conscription.

The millions of America's young manhood will be registered by some local 700,000 election officials on a day to be set by the president, perhaps early in October. In mid-November the first batch of 75,000 draftees are due to be called to the colors. Under the war department's plans, subsequent calls would build up the army to 400,000 early in 1941 and to 900,000 by the spring of 1941.

The president, anticipating congress' action dispatched a request to Speaker Bankhead for an additional $1,733,886,976 for the defense program. The bulk of the money is to finance conscription, members of the house appropriations committee said. It includes money for pay, subsistence, housing, clothing, etc.

Obviously prepared before congress finished its job, this proposed appropriation would speed the conscription processes. Although registration may take place when the president has signed and fixed the registration date, the legislation requires that appropriations must precede the actual calling of men.

The final congressional action, approval first by the senate and then by the house of a compromise version of the legislation, came quickly by midday after brief debate. The senate approved 47 to 25 and the house 232 to 124.

This compromise version included authority for the president to take over and operate on a rental basis plants from which the government could not obtain defense orders as expeditiously as desired. At the insistence of the senate, the bill had been shorn of restrictions which, several senators complained, weakened this industrial section and made it unenforceable in the courts.

The controversy in the senate over the provisions prevented congress from voting approval of the legislation last night. The bill was returned to a conference committee, composed of senators and representatives, for revision to include the industry provision previously passed by the house. It was this revised form that was approved.

One of the last words spoken during the debate was by Rep. Marcantonio (AL-NY), who called the measure "a prelude to war, as time and events will demonstrate."

Although the bill permits only (See DRAFT, Page 6)

British Fighters, Anti-Aircraft Barrage Repel German Attacks As RAF Pounds at Nazi Ports

Only Few Bombs Dropped in Intermittent Forays Over City; Explosive Ploughs Through Catholic Church

LONDON, Sept. 15 (Sunday)—(AP)—Four German air raids on London by the dark of night were beaten back last night and early today, three of them by British fighter planes alone and the fourth by a thundering anti-aircraft barrage.

Some bombs fell, whistling, but the clear signal came at 3:27 a. m., (8:27 p. m. C.S.T. Saturday) when the noise of plane motors died away after a two-hour and 11-minute alarm.

The attack, by a few German planes shuttling over the capital, was the lightest in more than a week. Only odd bombs were dropped, and the raid appeared similar to the "insomnia" flights over London preceding the past week of all-night onslaughts.

The guns blazed away for 20 minutes before an alarm—the seventh since Saturday morning—was sounded.

Heavy barrages from the Thames estuary direction and from north London indicated the Germans attempted to break into the heart of London from two directions.

The gunfire along the Thames crept toward the north, apparently tracing the course of the raiders.

The all clear signal came at 3:27 a. m. (8:27 p. m., Saturday, CST) after two hours and 11 minutes.

The successive night alarms, with "clear" intervals up to three hours, constituted a departure from the week-long German tactics of all-night raids and came as Britain's own bombers pounded heavily at German "invasion ports" on the coast of France.

The British Press association said these latest blows for Britain were heavier even than the fierce British attacks which ceased at dawn Saturday.

The British defense by fighter planes alone against the first three German night raids was without precedent since the start Sept. 7 of the almost continuous German air offensive.

The air ministry news service said that despite help of the clouds "only a few bombers managed to penetrate to central London" in Saturday's raids.

The raiding meeting this morning's raid grew heavier as the drone of plane engines increased by the minute.

Guns in the southwest burst into action, and shell fragments fell on roofs and streets.

When the clouds rolled back the main London network of guns opened up. Buildings shook with the intensity of the barrage as the planes passed over.

The nazis came in great number—the high drone of many motors was heard over central London.

The authoritative British Press association estimated that 300 (See RAIDS, Page 6)

Nazis Close Occupied Area Of France

Report France Fears Nazis May Take Over Entire Country Soon

VICHY, France, Sept. 14 (AP)—Unoccupied France was practically cut off from the outside world today by closure or extraordinary vigilance, tightening passage along all its borders.

Americans were among the hardest hit.

The Germans tightened the restrictions on the border between the occupied and the unoccupied zones, letting through a trickle of refugees homeward bound, but refusing entry to all others except for the most urgent reasons.

The Germans are also restricting departures from the occupied territory.

(Travelers returning to Chancy, Switzerland, from the unoccupied zone said today defeated France fears the Germans might take over the entire country within a few weeks.)

Twenty Americans now in Paris are vainly attempting to get permits to leave. Many French who procured permits and entered the occupied zone on business in the past 10 days also are finding many difficulties in returning here.

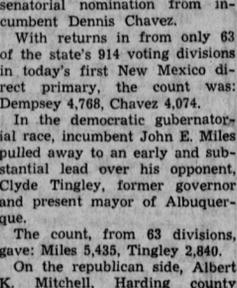

The few coming through report the Germans are now searching all, allowing the export of only 200 francs.

The Spanish-Portuguese borders are closed because of crowded conditions in Lisbon, now about the only continental port of embarkation.

The only exceptions made are for persons holding tickets for immediate sailings or flights.

The Swiss also have tightened restrictions.

KIN HEAR OF BLAST CASUALTIES

Friends and relatives of victims of the Hercules Powder company plant explosion at Kenvil, N. J., are pictured above as they gathered in front of a hospital in nearby Dover, N. J., to hear the reading of a partial list of the casualties. More than 30 persons were killed, a score were missing and approximately 200 were injured when blasts ripped the plant, which had been manufacturing powder for the British and American governments.

Four Children Killed in Slide In Gravel Pit

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 14 (AP)—Tons of falling earth trapped and suffocated four children in an abandoned gravel pit 10 miles west of here today. A fifth barely escaped with his life.

The dead: Joe Winford Armstrong, 11; Dorothy May Armstrong, 9; Lurline Armstrong, 8, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong; Joe Hubert Rowell, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Isaac Rowell.

William Thomas Morrison, 10, a playmate aiding in the digging of a cave into the gravel pit's high bank, escaped with his life by running "when I heard the ground crack."

It was more than five hours before the body of Joe Winford Armstrong was recovered.

Three bodies were recovered within two hours after the terror-stricken Morrison boy spread the alarm, running first to the nearby home of the Armstrongs.

Willkie Charges F.D.R. With Having Contributed to Breakdown in Europe

ENROUTE TO KANSAS CITY. Although declaring that Sept. 14 (AP) — In a voice so hoarse that aides summoned throat specialists from Chicago and California, Wendell L. Willkie charged today that President Roosevelt "has been one of the principle contributors to the breakdown in Europe."

Speaking in Peoria, Ill., after a series of rear platform addresses had strained his voice, Willkie said huskily: "Where was Franklin Roosevelt, this great, indispensable man, when Germany was reaching out? If he had given encouragement this thing would never have happened."

"Franklin Roosevelt, instead of being one factor for the preservation of the democratic way, has been one of the principal factors in the destruction of the democratic way."

BERLIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—Britain must hand over London to the armed force of Germany or see it bombed like Warsaw, a well-informed spokesman told the foreign press today.

Hand over London and all will be well, he intimated.

This commentary from the German viewpoint was delivered just a week after Germany began the heavy raids on London which the spokesman called "a measure of retaliation for months of planeless bombing of German civilians and non-military objects by the British."

Again today, German accounts said the airforce pursued its destructive mission in London, dropping incendiary bombs on railway shops and tracks, among them the station and rails at the world time center of Greenwich, on the south bank of the Thames. Both the West and East India docks also were reported bombed.

The Germans said they used a so-called "flying arrow" bomber, similar to the Dornier "flying pencil" which smashed Warsaw and Rotterdam. They said 21 British planes were shot down.

Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt Defends Conscription Against Guild Attack

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today championed conscription against an attack by the American newspaper guild (CIO), of which she is a member.

Move May Be First Thrust Of Big Time Drive

CAIRO, Sept. 14 (AP)—Italy's sand-whipped legions swept across the Egyptian frontier tonight, tanks and armored cars rolling into the ruined villages of Sollum and Musaid under heavy attacks by the British airforce.

British armored cars also harassed Italian Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's troops in what may be the initial thrust of a full-fledged drive.

Although the Italians forced a wedge 10 miles deep, a British communique declared the "situation is well in hand."

How many troops the Italians were putting into their advance was not known but they were believed to be in considerable numbers.

This apparent prelude to a desert blitzkrieg came with all Egypt momentarily expecting a big fascist offensive.

British headquarters described the Italian move as an "advance" rather than an "attack," emphasizing that the British never had made any pretense of trying to hold Sollum, a port, or Musaid which, they said, were only much-bombed villages used chiefly as centers for British patrols harassing the Italians.

The British, on the alert for the start of a real mechanized offensive against Egypt, the Sudan, or both, said the Italians were using airplanes, armored cars and trucks to transport their troops and were continuing their thrust beyond the two occupied villages.

Canadian Liner Bombed by Mistake

TOKYO, Sept. 14 (AP)—The 16,909-ton Canadian liner Empress of Asia was hit by a test bomb dropped by Japanese naval pilots engaged in bombing practice off Oshima island, at the mouth of Tokyo bay, but suffered no damage, the Japanese admiralty announced tonight. Four Chinese crewmen were hurt.

Japanese officials hurried aboard to apologize and naval surgeons attended the injured.

Ion Antonescu Turns Rumania Totalitarian

BUCHAREST, Sept. 15 (Sunday) (AP)—Creation of a totalitarian iron guard state was announced today in a decree by General Ion Antonescu, Rumania's military dictator.

The decree, setting up a state patterned on Nazi lines, established the iron guard as the sole Rumanian political party.

Antonescu, at the same time, announced a new cabinet with himself as chief of state, premier and minister of national defense.

The Battle for Empire

War Strikes at the Heart of an Historic City (A Review of the Events of the Week)

Bombers Over London

This week the crescendo of war rose to terrific heights. For eight consecutive nights German bombers roared over London, veering back and forth showering destruction on the capital of the British empire. The all-out aerial warfare was carried to the very heart of the world's greatest city.

The clatter of the "archies" and the thunderous explosions of bombs kept pugnacious, courageous Londoners in air raid shelters from eight to nine hours each night.

Destruction was everywhere. Buckingham palace was twice bombed and the king and queen were forced into shelters for their protection.

Artillery Duels

The raids were punctuated by thunderous artillery duels across the English channel.

The raids were seen as being made with the hope of weakening the morale of the people so as to force a new government and a plea for terms. The fate of Warsaw was predicted for London by nazis if resistance persisted. But there was no sign of weakening morale.

Prime Minister Churchill saw them as a prelude to an assault by land and sea within possibly the next week. He expressed confidence in the courage of the people and their will to resist; a courage that has had ample demonstration in the past week.

Performing a Herculean task at defense, the Royal Air Force still found time to carry out the most extensive and damaging attack of the war on Berlin, the enemy's capital, and other industrial and port cities. The German reichstag was one of the targets of the British raiders which was struck by bombs.

Later in the week the British airmen reported doing extensive damage to nazi barge concentrations which had been in readiness for the invasion of England.

London Gets Mad

Londoners got "madder by the minute" as their own capital continued to feel devastation. The attacks were extended on Friday to an all-day assault as well as the nightly bombardment from the air.

From London and Berlin came stories of a new secret English weapon, a "self-igniting leaf" resembling a playing card, that had started fires in Germany. The missiles were spread all over Germany and were said to bear messages.

In Africa, Italy massed troops on the Egyptian border in preparation for what was expected to be an assault on that country. Some Italian and Egyptian sources asserted that the invasion had already begun.

Pressure on France

The modern Jewish city of Tel Aviv in Palestine was bombed by the Italian air force. It was the worst raid in the middle East. President Roosevelt was asked by the city's mayor to intervene to prevent further indiscriminate bombings.

General Ion Antonescu tightened his hold on Rumania as former King Carol and his red-headed woman friend sought refuge in a neutral country.

The portion of France unoccupied by German troops was practically cut off from the outside world yesterday as Germany tightened restrictions on the border between the occupied and unoccupied zones.

A few refugees were permitted to pass homeward but all others were refused entry except on the most urgent business.

Defeated France feared that the nazis may take over the entire country within a few weeks. The move was suspected both as a cloak to an attempt to invade the British Isles and as a measure to punish the Vichy government for refusing to meet certain demands.

And war had its effect in America.

America Tries the Draft--

Conscription at Last

This week the nation followed closely the course of the first peace-time draft proposal in history and was stunned by its first great defense disaster.

After weeks of debate in and out of congress, the conscription bill was finally passed by congress and sent to the White House for final approval.

In New Jersey the countryside was rocked by an explosion that destroyed a powder manufacturing plant.

The greatest munitions plant blast in American history killed at least 42 persons and injured 125 in a little New Jersey town last Thursday. The explosions and fire demolished the Hercules Powder company at Kenvil, 30 miles from New York.

Damage was estimated at $1,000,000. Cause of the blast, which was felt as far as 100 miles away and which left a large area denuded and blackened, was being investigated by the FBI, the army and the navy and local state authorities.

Although one New York newspaper had singled out the plant as the target of nazi abductors, there was no other ground for suspecting a deliberate intent to destroy it. The plant had been working on United States defense contracts and was manufacturing no munitions for belligerents.

You're in the Army

Upon presidential approval the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory training bill will soon become law and will send thousands of American youths from farms, factories, offices and schools to military camps where for one year they will be trained to defend America.

The legislation has had a stormy passage. From its inception it has been argued for as an urgent measure necessary if the United States is to defend herself from the menace of attack and invasion. It has been called un-American.

Yesterday the divergent versions of the bill passed by the senate and the house of representatives were compromised. Friday the bill was sent to the senate for final approval.

Campaign Gets Hot

The political campaign became hotter this week as President Roosevelt acknowledged that a speech by him might be political in nature and Wendell Willkie started off on his first "swing around the country."

Roosevelt delivered his first major address of his 1940 campaign before a convention of the Teamster's union. He had announced his topic as dealing with "American history" and had refused to state whether it would be a political talk.

Wendell Willkie, in speeches in Chicago and in interviews at his Rushville, Indiana home, attacked the concentration of power that the president had built up in Washington. He continued to indict the new deal for catering to the machine politicians.

The decisive stages and the test of November approach.

Adjournment Delayed By Sugar Problem

WASHINGTON—Mr. Roosevelt and his leaders got their heads together for adjournment of congress a week from tomorrow—but their whole plan slipped and fell on the sugar problem. The heavy sugar senator from Louisiana, Mr. Ellender, sold Chairman Pat Harrison of the finance committee on the necessity for legislation to continue the administration quotas and Mr. Harrison in turn sold it to the president. As a result they agreed to hold up adjournment another 10 days in order to take care of this situation before election.

But there may be another reason, not so sweet. Interior Secretary Ickes and CIO's John Lewis have, without publicity, been exerting the strongest inside pressure for a mine inspection bill which Mr. Ickes considered so vital that he fired his own director of the bureau of mines for failing to support it. The measure has been blocked by the house mining committee but Ickes and Lewis are trying to fire it also. Their campaign of signatures to discharge the committee had reached 204 a few days ago (217 signatures were necessary.) They lost six the following day when that many representatives withdrew their support.

Both the sugar and the mine bill are considered by democratic politicians to be worth keeping congress in session, especially as Senator Ellender was heard to remark at the democratic convention in Chicago the nomination of Wallace would be so distasteful to Louisiana sugar growers that Willkie would carry the state, and the fact that the shutting Mr. Lewis is vitally needed on the stump by the democratic committee.

THE RACKET QUADRENNIAL

Strangest collection of advertisers ever assembled is listed in the democratic national convention book, sometimes called "The Racket Quadrennial." You don't find such products as Pepsodent, Nylon, or women's corsets, but the architects to the housing authority, Trenton, New Jersey, $250 worth; the groups of housing architects, Baltimore, $625; mobile slums clearance architects and engineers, $125.

These unusual "advertisers" obviously received income from the government, but apparently so did a majority of others in the unusual assemblage. There are 19 easily identified construction companies, who had no more chance of getting any business out of such an advertisement than had the Trenton architects. Trucking, metal products, and building supply companies that sell to the government were likewise among those who do not usually advertise except every four years in the democratic handbook.

Of at least two, it cannot be said the government is furnishing their source of income: Tanforan Race track, California, $2,500 and Westchester Racing association, $1,250—or could it.

that Mr. Roosevelt's visit to defense plants actually held up the defense program about three days in each spot, as employees had to scrub up the floors the day before he came, pose while he was there, and take a day to get back to work afterward.

His openly political labor speech, therefore, heralds a change of tactics. There is now to be no doubt that he is running for the presidency and the synthetic illusion that he is too busy to be interested in politics, is to be dropped.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

'Brigham Young' Is Movie Epic

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—"Brigham Young." Screenplay by Lamar Trotti, based on story by Louis Bromfield. Directed by Henry Hathaway. Principals: Tyrone Power, Linda Darnell, Dean Jagger, Brian Donlevy, Jane Darwell, John Carradine, Mary Astor, Vincent Price, Jean Rogers, Ann Todd, Willard Robertson, Moroni Olsen.

When a movie combines stirring adventure with good biographical probing it's an unusual movie, and in this instance it's an "epic," much as that word has been abused.

"Brigham Young," thanks to pointed writing and action-first direction, is a superior "western" and portrait of a great American figure, the Mormon leader. The characterization of Young by Dean Jagger, a strapping fellow from the stage who once was slighted by Hollywood, has home-spun-and-leather strength.

The picture finds Joseph Smith's followers attempting to live in their Illinois refuge, harassed by religious intolerance. Mobbled and jailed, and lynched, the "Saints" finally are led in westward flight by the rugged, plain-speaking Smith disciple. Forces opposing his leadership are represented by the heavy, one Angus Duncan (Donlevy), whose "religion" is a cover for some not-so-religious traits and ambitions. The colony flees by night across a frozen river, pursued by avenging citizens (in some great action scenes), and the people accept Brigham Young's leadership and challenge to follow him across mountain and desert and establish a refuge where they can live, work, and share alike, free from persecution and intolerance.

It is a gigantic migration, filled with hardships, and incidentally, eye-filling scenery. Crossing the Rockies, the fever-stricken Young by intuition selects the site he has dreamed of—the broad valley on which is now Salt Lake City.

The climax comes after the first winter, of hardships, strict rationing, famine. It is a thrilling climax—the descent of swarming crickets upon the fields, Brigham Young's despairing admission of his failure, never completed because at the same moment the famous rescuing sea gulls arrive in pest-devouring clouds.

The story is Young's and Jagger's. Yet Power and Darnell, as the romantic interest, have interesting roles, and Mary Astor as Brigham's first wife (the polygamy matter is handled tastefully and not stressed) is exceptionally persuasive. Vincent Price delivers his best work—his first screen job, in fact, untainted by a certain hamminess.

Q: Where is Tin Pan Alley?
A: It isn't anywhere. It's a legendary street that doesn't actually exist and never has. When song writers in the old days banged their tinny pianos in search of melodies, they sometimes made an awful fuss. From this far-fetched source the name of Tin Pan Alley has grown into a mythical highroad of hit tune composers. Tin Pan Alley is where you find it. It is wherever songs are born.

Q: Finally, how about a few of the inconsistencies that help make New York what it is?

Q: Well, there are no banks on Bank street, the 7th avenue street car runs on Broadway and the Broadway trolley runs on 7th avenue; Abe Lyman is the only orchestra leader in town who began life as a taxi driver, and the North river is west of Manhattan. Furthermore, there are no brooms sold on Broom street, and Pershing Square isn't a square but merely an intersection in 42nd street.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

Tucker Calls School For First Fall Quiz

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—The class will come to order for its first quiz of the fall term.

Q: Who is Ellery Queen, the mystery writer?

A: Ellery Queen isn't a fellow. He's two Jewish boys who produce radio shows in addition to writing murder mysteries. Previously they wrote under the name of Barnaby Ross.

Q: In London No. 10 Downing street is the address of the prime minister, but what is it in New York?

A: No. 10 Downing street in New York is a parking lot. It's down in the Village and it'll cost you a quarter if you want to park your hack there.

Q: What usually happens to laundrymen who fail?

A: Well, Arch Selwyn once owned a laundry in Puerto Rico. After it failed he returned to New York and became a famous Broadway producer.

Q: Have you ever heard the names of Thelma, Narvol, and Ursell?

A: Maybe you have to come from Utah to hear names like that. They are the sisters of pretty Lorraine Day, the little Mormon girl who went to Hollywood and got a break but who wasn't too blasé to stare when the Hollywood promoters brought her on a build-up visit to New York. "My mother just makes up names like that," explains Lorraine.

"But if you think they're unusual, wait'll I tell you about my uncle, whose name will kill you. It's Snellen Ichabod."

Q: If you can name a song identified with some form of sport that has become a real American classic, teacher will reverse the procedure and give you the apple.

A: How about "Take Me Out to the Ball Game"? That's a real American classic that will live as long as baseball is played.

Q: Well, how about naming a couple of streets that have been immortalized by jazz?

A: That's easy—Beale street in Memphis ("Beale Street Blues"), and Rampart street in New Orleans ("Rampart Street Parade").

Q: Where is Tin Pan Alley?
A: It isn't anywhere. It's a legendary street that doesn't actually exist and never has. When song writers in the old days banged their tinny pianos in search of melodies, they sometimes made an awful fuss. From this far-fetched source the name of Tin Pan Alley has grown into a mythical highroad of hit tune composers. Tin Pan Alley is where you find it. It is wherever songs are born.

Q: Finally, how about a few of the inconsistencies that help make New York what it is?

Q: Well, there are no banks on Bank street, the 7th avenue street car runs on Broadway and the Broadway trolley runs on 7th avenue; Abe Lyman is the only orchestra leader in town who began life as a taxi driver, and the North river is west of Manhattan. Furthermore, there are no brooms sold on Broom street, and Pershing Square isn't a square but merely an intersection in 42nd street.

Will Address Group On Uses, Ornamentation, Of Gourds as Hobby

Mrs. H. J. Burdick of Cedar Falls will be the guest speaker at the general meeting of the Iowa City Woman's club at 2 p.m. Friday in the club rooms. The program will be presented by the garden department.

Mrs. Burdick, who raises gourds as a hobby, designing and decorating them for commercial use and art appreciation, will discuss the "uses and ornamentation of gourds and the commercial side of a gourd hobbyist's life."

For several years she had done experimental work in Iowa soil and climate, curing, designing and decorating gourds from plants grown from imported seeds. These seeds include specimens from Peru, Siam, Guatemala, China, India, Mexico and other lands.

Charm Strings
Among the examples Mrs. Burdick will bring will be charm strings, Peruvian wine bottles, lamp shades, Mexican lanterns and other novelties. The speaker also makes gourd baskets, "horns of plenty," mail boxes, candle holders, bird houses, candy boxes, salt and pepper shakers and even a gourd dish cloth.

Formality in the meeting will be avoided as the speaker will present her material in the manner of class room information rather than in lecture form. She will illustrate her talk with specimens and pictures. An open forum will be held after the discussion for club members.

A Contributor
Mrs. Burdick has been a contributor to the International Gourd society bulletin and has been a member of the society since 1934. She has exhibited specimens in California for the past three years and also in the horticulture building of the Waterloo Cattle congress. She has lectured before garden clubs, woman's clubs and nature clubs in Iowa, Florida and California, and her radio interviews have been heard over WMT and WOC.

A display of autumn flowers will be given with the talk, and tea will be served. Mrs. Alvin Bryan is chairman of the department in charge of the meeting.

On the committee are Mrs. Clarence E. Beck, Mrs. Vern W. Bales, Mrs. J. J. Ostidick and Mrs. A. A. Welt.

Our Home Town

CONSTITUTION DAY
BY CHARLES BECKMAN

It seems one to think that today, our United States is the most great nation in the world. It is the land of the future, the land of the world's needs. At any moment we may read that she, too, has succumbed to the Nazi war power. Then we shall be the last great democracy on Earth.

Well, we have been that before—the only democracy. When our constitution was first penned, we entered upon a pure experiment in popular government. There were no precedents to guide us; on our own experience could point our uncertain steps. Yet by following closely that divinely inspired instrument we made this the world's most powerful nation, and gave it a standard of living which is the world's envy.

Now there is one great disadvantage to a constitutional democracy where the votes of the majority decide all things. It is hard to assume any majority to the actuality of any national danger. People vote for what they wish for and so politicians promise them pleasant things, not unpleasant threats.

Great Britain, up to as late as 1935, had marked military superiority over Germany. But the people wishing peace and hating the very idea of war, listened to leaders who pooled the danger of war. They voted according to their wishful thinking. Military preparedness took second place to commercial matters. Munich and its sequels were the results.

Today, we Americans can best reverse and preserve our constitution by insisting that this nation immediately adopt ALL needed steps toward an armament and a preparedness which will be the discouragement of any would-be aggressor. Unless we do, we shall be in the position of the world's richest citizen, unarmed, carrying his fortune through the bandit-infested streets of an unpoliced city.

Last week Mr. Beckman of the Bestman Funeral Home will comment on School Teachers.

Dierks will be the host and hostess.

Boston Rookie's 4-Hitter Subdues Tribe

Earl Johnson Helps Bosox To 6-1 Win

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14 (AP)—Earl Johnson, a tall 21-year-old Boston Red Sox rookie, stilled off the second-place Cleveland Indians with four scattered singles today for a 6 to 1 victory.

Boston, held in submission for five innings by Johnny Allen, Cleveland right-hander, turned on him in the next frame with a savage attack which produced six runs.

Meanwhile Johnson, a left-hander in his first year of professional baseball, was southpawing the Indians into easy submission. The Seattle youth left St. Mary's college (Cal.) last winter, hurled in the Piedmont league for a while and was pulled in by the Red Sox two months ago. He justified Manager Joe Cronin's confidence by coming through for his sixth American league victory. Johnson has dropped only two games.

Yankee Power Explodes to Smash Detroit Tigers, 16 to 7

DETROIT, Sept. 14 (AP)—Yankee power, dormant for three games, exploded with old-fashioned violence today as the world champions slaughtered the Detroit Tigers, 16 to 7, before a crowd of 56,697 fans.

The victory lifted the world champions to within two games of first place, in their belated quest for a fifth straight American league pennant.

Despite the defeat, the Tigers stayed on top of the standings by a half-game inasmuch as the Boston Red Sox mowed down the second place Cleveland Indians, 6 to 1.

Almost every hit meant a run today as the Yankees combined six Detroit pitchers for 16 safeties that included two homers by Joe Gordon and one by Bill Dickey.

All of the Yankee scoring was confined to the space of four innings, the victors getting five runs in the fourth and seventh innings, four in the sixth and two in the fifth.

The Tigers took a 4 to 0 lead in the opening inning when they chased Spurgeon Chandler and looked to be on the road to another victory before the first

Yankee outbreak in the fourth. Louie (Buck) Newsom, who had faced but nine batters in the first three frames, lost his stuff without warning and before the fourth was over Gordon and Dickey had homered, George Selkirk had tripled and Joe Dimaggio had singled and the Yanks were on the road to triumph.

Newsom stayed on the hill until two were out in the fifth, yielding two more runs, one of them Gordon's second homer of the afternoon. Archie McKain, Tom Seats, Bob Uhle, Paul Trout and Clay Smith followed Newsom in order and of the quintet only Smith was more than slightly annoying to the Yankee batsmen.

Sox Win Sixth Straight Game; Blast Hapless Athletics, 6 to 3

CHICAGO, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox racked up their sixth straight victory today with a 6 to 3 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics before a slim crowd of 1,875 spectators. The triumph was the Sox' 13th in 16 games.

The Sox, battling to keep a hand in the tight American league race, piled up a 4-0 lead in the early innings while Jack Knott held the A's hitless until the sixth. Chicago scored three in the fourth on four hits and a walk and added another run in the sixth on Moose Solters' 12th homer.

Durable Dodgers Take Two Games From Pirates

BROOKLYN, Sept. 14 (AP)—It'll take dynamite to get the durable Dodgers out of second place in the National league. They virtually clinched the runner-up position today when they swept both ends of a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-0 and 4-2.

Fat Freddie Fitzsimmons, the National league's most potent winner, won his 15th victory (against only two losses) in the opener, limiting the Bucs to four hits while Dolph Camilli and Ducky Medwick hammered out homers to contribute three of the Dodgers' runs.

blows in five trips and drove home three runs. Gordon had a single in addition to the pair of homers which lifted his season total of circuit blows to 27.

Marvin Breuer, who relieved Chandler in the first, turned in a workmanlike relief performance, checking the Tigers completely until his teammates had presented him with an overwhelming lead.

Johnson, Phils Whip Cubs, 5-3

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14 (AP)—The power behind 39-year-old Sylvester Johnson's fast ball held the Chicago Cubs to five hits today as the Phils capitalized on a triple and homer for a 5 to 3 triumph.

With the bases loaded and his teammates trailing 2-0, Chuck Klein went to bat as a pinch hitter in the sixth and smashed out a three-bagger that was good for three runs. In the seventh Danny Litwhiler poled a homer with one on to put the game on ice.

Stan Hack drove in all the Chicago runs with two homers and a single.

ANOTHER! Reds Whip Giants By One Run

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—A home run by Jimmy Ripple in the ninth inning with one out and nobody on gave the league leading Cincinnati Reds their 35th one-run decision today—a 3-2 win over the hapless New York Giants.

The Reds thus swept the current series with the Terrymen and took the seasonal series, 15 games to 7.

Jim Turner, the Reds pitcher, had to be given some assistance in the ninth by "Fireman" Joe Beggs, but Jim got the credit for his 12th win against seven lost.

Grid experts have, in late weeks, haltingly predicted that Dr. Eddie Anderson's 1940 Iowa eleven would have more power than the famous edition of 1939. My own predictions from here on out are the same and they are hereby delivered in a firm and decisive manner.

Kinnick, Green, Murphy and Buzz Dean did some good ball toting last year, but it was effective on only a part time basis. Right now, it looks as though the tentative first string backfield could give Minnesota all the tussle it wanted in a straight power game—meaning the backfield that Al Coupee, Bill Gallagher, Bill Stauss and Ray Murphy perform in.

To begin with, the backs will work behind a line that is dependable and smart from end to end. It won't have the beef that some forward walls, including Minnesota, boast. It will average slightly better than 190 pounds to the man, as against the usual 200-pound average of the Gopher school, but the Hawk forwards are all shifty, experienced and cast in the competition tested iron man mold.

A combination of Ken Pettit and John Maher at the ends, Capt. Mike Enich and Jim Walker at the tackles, Ham Snider and Charles Tollefson at guards and Bruno Andruska or Bill Diehl at center will be tough and capable and will fill the bill on either offense or defense. Which brings us back to the ball toters.

In Gallagher and Coupee Anderson has two of the best blocking backs Iowa has had for some time. Both are pugnacious and big (190 pounds) and either can carry the mail when not on blocking assignments. Gallagher, in fact, threw the first chill into Minnesota backers last fall shortly before the memorable last period Iowa rally with a blistering dash from near his own goal line to midfield territory. Coupee can be listed as one of the best and surest pass receivers on the squad, which means that this backfield might not ignore the aerial threat.

The other two members, Stauss and Murphy, are hard and pounding runners, with Stauss also a reasonably good kicker and passer. Both are rangy line backers with enough speed for end runs. Either might go far toward landing on some all-star teams, especially Murphy who has already drawn considerable pre-season mention as a comer. And, additionally, there are still some speedsters around, including Green, Bus Merles and Oops Gillard, and Tom Farmer, Jim Youel and Bob Bender as triple-threaters for the left halfback slot.

But, right now, the running attack is what looks interesting. Anderson has a weapon he could use but sparingly a year ago and his use of it is going to be worth watching, whether a top-notch passing attack materializes or not.

September Issue of Palimpsest Ready

Prof. J. E. Briggs Writes Article on 'Indian Affairs'; Also Iowa Story

The September issue of the Palimpsest, distributed tomorrow, will contain articles on "Indian Affairs," "Iowa in the World" and "The Great Comet of 1882."

Prof. John Ely Briggs of the political science department and editor of the Iowa Historical society writes on "Indian Affairs."

Prof. Philip D. Jordan, history professor at Miami university at Oxford, Ohio, contributes an article entitled "Iowa in the World."

Ben Hur Wilson, science instructor at Joliet high school, Joliet, Ill., contributes "The Great Comet of 1882."

"Inasmuch as there was little demand for lumber in that region, the sawmill, capable of producing 2,000 feet per day, was usually idle. The gristmill, however, when there was sufficient water power, was kept busy grinding about eight bushels per hour."

Briggs asserted that "it was the policy of the government to teach the Indians agriculture by precept and example, but none of the Iowa tribes appreciated the instruction. Stephen Cooper, the sub-agent at Council Bluffs, reported that the Indians themselves had raised a fine crop of corn and ground provisions, having large fields, well fenced in, with good log cabins and a fine supply of livestock."

In his article "Iowa in the World," Professor Jordan tells of the reactions of a New York World correspondent during his visit in Iowa.

"Time after time," Professor Jordan writes, "the World correspondent confirmed the agricultural abundance of Iowa and on July 7, 1860, he wrote from Iowa City that 'never, according to the unanimous admission even of farmers, have all kinds of grain given such rich promise in Iowa of a full harvest, as the wheat, rye, corn, oats and the whole cereal tribe now present.'"

"Such optimism was confirmed early in August when the Iowa City Republican placed the estimated average of Johnson county at about 20 bushels per acre."

Professor Jordan also states that the World readers learned of "the open-air preaching on the campus of the State University of Iowa, and followed the development of the secession controversy."

In his article on "The Great Comet of 1882," Professor Wilson especially commended the work of Prof. Nathan R. Leonard, formerly of the University of Iowa faculty, stating that "his notes were excellent considering the imitations of his equipment."

"The strange psychological behavior and anxiety created by the occurrence of such a phenomenon, especially among the more ignorant classes, has been noted throughout all ages. It is often more inexplicable than the mystery of the comet itself," he writes.

"There was considerable debate as to its true identity," Professor Wilson states, "with some at first thinking it was closely related to the comets of 1843 and 1880. Spectroscopic analysis indicated that it contained hydrogen, sodium, carbon and possibly iron, and, like its great predecessor of 1843, was remarkable for having been visible in broad daylight."

Final Report Of Receiver Gets Approval

Judge H. D. Evans Authorizes Distribution To Bank Depositors

The 32nd and final report of the Iowa City Savings bank receivership was approved in district court this morning and Judge Harold D. Evans authorized distribution of a 7.6937 per cent dividend amounting to $92,678.98 as the final dividend to the bank's depositors.

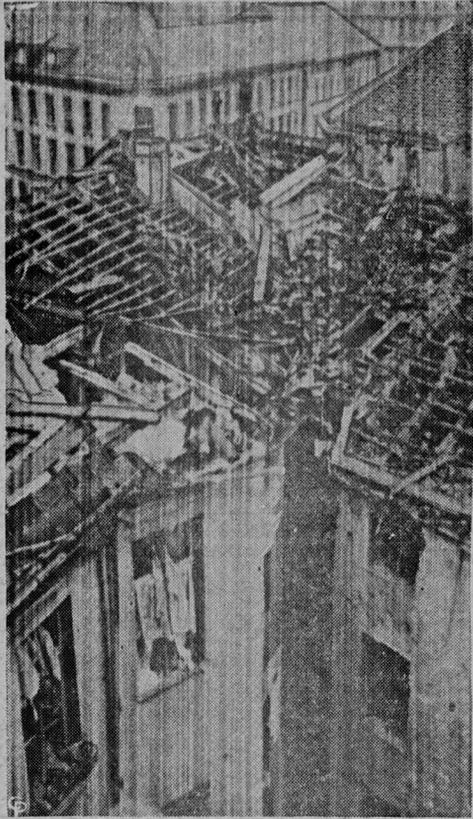

The order approved yesterday also released D. W. Bates, state superintendent of banking, from any further liability and exonerated the bondsmen.

This final dividend payment will make a total of 42 per cent of the total deposits that the bank has repaid to its depositors.

Depositors claim, according to the report, $1,204,597.28. The report showed total assets of $10,626.48 in addition to cash on hand of $84,703.01 making a $95,329.49 total.

A total of $2,500.57 was deducted from that amount for expenses and $149.94 for general claim dividends leaving the balance for distribution.

Bomb Smashes German Dwelling

This Berlin apartment building was shattered when struck by a bomb during a British raid over the German capital, according to the German censor, who claims it was among the non-military objectives bombed by the British.

for five years, the time limit set in the bill, and about 4,500,000 men are to be trained.

U. S. Possessions

The recruits will be drawn from men without dependents, will receive $21 a month during the first four months of training and at least $30 monthly, new pay of buck privates, for the remaining eight months.

The legislation permits use of men anywhere in the western hemisphere, United States possessions outside the hemisphere, and the Philippines.

At the end of a year's service, the draftees will find their civilian employers under a congressional mandate to reinstate them to their jobs.

The lowest grades of army pay are increased from $21 to $30 monthly for privates and from $30 to $36 monthly for privates first class.

Applause

Senate approval of the legislation came in the first 20 minutes of the day's session. That body quickly dispatched the compromise version to the house where members, many of them ready for week end trips, sat listlessly awaiting the inevitable result.

There was some applause when Rep. Fish (R-NY) shouted that his voluntary enlistment proposal—tossed out of the final draft of the bill—had been misrepresented by "the eastern interventionist press."
