NAZIS CONTINUE FURIOUS ASSAULT

16,500,000 to Register October 16 for Military Training

F. D. R. Signs Act Making Measure Law

Chief Executive Asks Governors to Provide Registration Places

BY RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed the draft act today, fixing Oct. 16 as registration day for 16,500,000 young Americans now subject to compulsory military training, and asserted that the United States was marshalling its strength to avert "the terrible fate of nations whose weakness invited attack."

In addition, the chief executive called upon the governors of the states to provide suitable places for the registration, urged local election officials "and other patriotic citizens" to man the registration boards and asked employers to give their affected employees "sufficient time off" to present themselves and fill out the forms.

Mr. Roosevelt, moreover, emphasized a section of the act and a phase of the building up of the army which received much discussion in congress—the voluntary enlistment system. All between 18 and 35, inclusive, he said in a formal statement, will be offered an opportunity to volunteer for a one-year period of service and training, and those who offer themselves—provided they are suitable—are to be accepted before any others are selected.

Thus an influx of volunteers from any particular area would reduce the quota of men conscripted from that area.

The new law itself requires that all who on Oct. 16 have attained the 21st anniversary of their birth and have not passed the thirty-sixth year must register. A national drawing by lot will determine the order in which questionnaires will be mailed to the men. On the basis of the questionnaires, local boards will place the men in various classifications—those available for immediate service, those deferred because of dependents, etc.

The local boards will select sufficient men from among those available for immediate service. (See DRAFT, Page 6)

House Mourns For Bankhead

Body of Noted Speaker Taken to Home Town For Burial Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—Escorted by President Roosevelt and sorrowing congressional colleagues, the body of Speaker William B. Bankhead was taken tonight to his home town of Jasper, Ala., for burial tomorrow.

Official Washington gathered in the chamber of the house of representatives at noon for brief, impressive funeral rites over the flower-covered casket of the late speaker.

Half an hour before the services the house elected majority leader Sam Rayburn of Texas to the speakership by acclamation. Then, with Senator Pittman (D-Nev.), president pro tempore of the senate, Rayburn presided over the funeral ceremony.

Throughout the service the president solemnly watched the gray casket. Behind him sat Mrs. Bankhead, heavily veiled; Senator John H. Bankhead and Colonel Henry M. Bankhead, brothers of the speaker; and the speaker's daughters, actress Tallulah and Mrs. Eugenia Hoyt, both in black. Members of the cabinet and diplomatic corps and Associate Justice McReynolds of the supreme court also attended.

The galleries, to which admission was by special card, were packed. Long before the service started the capitol was surrounded by a heavy police guard.

As a further mark of respect the house and all committees adjourned until Thursday and the senate recessed until Wednesday.

Double Funeral Plans Made For Dr. Glenn Frank and Son

Leader of Frank's Campaign Committee Urges His Nomination

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 16 (AP)—Plans were made today for a double funeral in the state capitol for Dr. Glenn Frank and his 21-year-old son, Glenn, Jr., as the leader of the former's campaign committee urged his nomination as the republican candidate for United States senator even in death.

Dr. Frank and his son, a Madison newspaperman, lost their lives Sunday night when their automobile overturned while they were enroute to Green Bay for a political meeting. Frank had filed as one of the seven candidates seeking the republican senatorial nomination in tomorrow's primary election.

Governor Julius P. Heil, candidate for renomination in the primary, authorized use of the capitol rotunda for double services for father and son at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday. Services will be held a half hour earlier at the Frank home in the Maple Bluff section of Madison.

There still were some aliens employed in the canal zone, officials said, but they have Panamanian legal status and thus are not subject to the army's roundup.

Jap Ships Mass Off Indo-China

The long-expected attack upon China through French Indo-China by the Japanese appears imminent with reports from Hong Kong that Japanese warships and a large number of transports were concentrating in the Gulf of Tonkin and at the island of Hainan.

War Officials Order Guards Into Service

35,700 More Men Called as Defense Program Expands

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—The war department made its second call on the national guard tonight in its expanding defense program, ordering 35,700 men into the federal service on October 15.

Approximately 60,500 guardsmen were inducted into the army today for a year's intensive training. The total strength of the guard is about 240,000, and all ultimately will be placed in training.

The units ordered mobilized on October 15 come from New York, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Mississippi.

The guardsmen mobilized today included the 44th, 45th, 30th and 41st divisions, 18 coast artillery regiments and four observation squadrons.

The men making up these units come from New York, New Jersey, North Carolina, Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Montana, Wyoming, New Hampshire, Delaware, Illinois, Missouri, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Maine, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Virginia and Arkansas.

In each case, the men reported at their armories and were formally inducted into the federal service in brief ceremonies. Some few units were able to leave immediately for training centers, but it was expected to require 10 days to get all the troops into camps. Routine medical examinations and packing equipment for transportation will require several days, in some instances.

Full reports on the number of resignations had not been assembled at the national guard bureau, but officials said that indications were that the percentage was very low.

France May Lose Territory

Believe Indo-China Will Go to Japan; Negotiations Seen

HANOI, French Indo-China, Sept. 16 (AP)—France was believed in well-informed quarters here tonight to be in imminent peril of losing French Indo-China to Japan.

French officials admit privately that negotiations—already approved in principle by Vichy and Tokyo—are likely to result within a few days in an agreement permitting Japan to establish perhaps 25,000 troops on Indo-China soil.

Authoritative French, Japanese and foreign sources say this may prompt China to send her own soldiers across the colonial frontier and precipitate a conflict which might mean the beginning of the end of France's 60-year rule of this east Asian territory of 230,000 square miles.

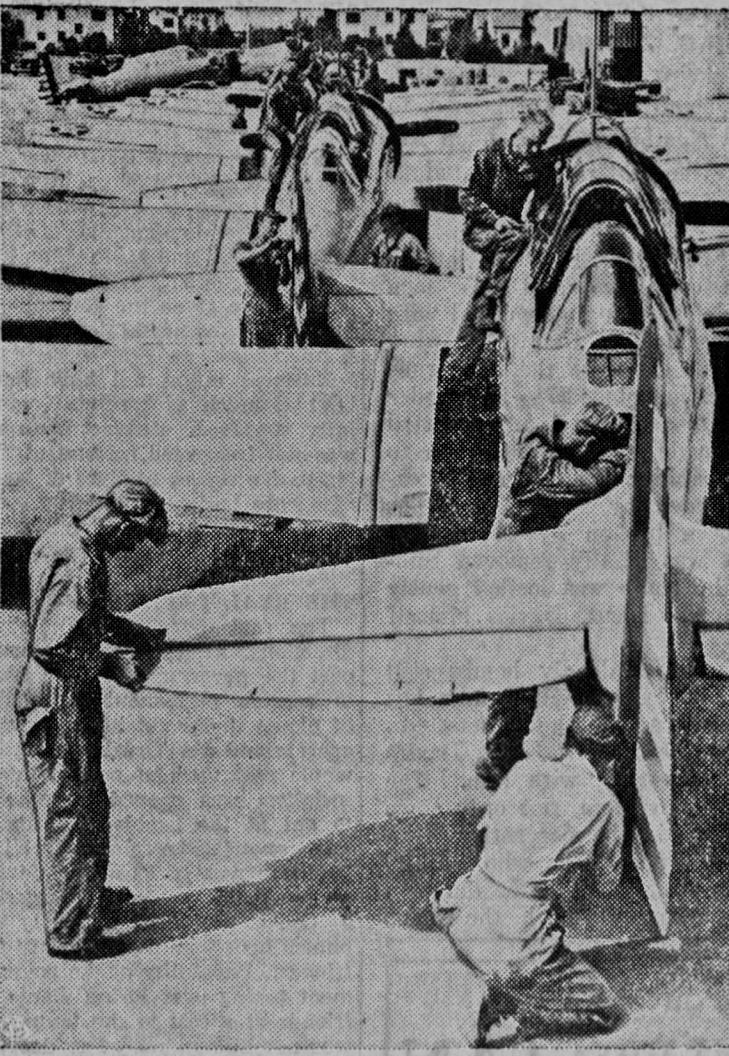

In all quarters, official and civilian, the conviction is expressed that only the United States could prevent Japan from gaining a possibly unshakeable hold.

Workers Seek Jobs In Kenvil Factory

KENVIL, N. J., Sept. 16 (AP)—The attitude of this explosives-manufacturing area was epitomized today as the blast-shattered Hercules Powder company plant resumed partial production and an ever-changing group of job seekers, undeterred by 48 workers' deaths, sought their jobs.

Another workman, Warren Waldron, 19, of Mount Arlington, died today in Dover general hospital of injuries received last Thursday when a terrific explosion in the smokeless powder unit destroyed more than 20 buildings and did $1,000,000 damage.

Italian Soldiers in Egypt Suffer Heavy Losses In Desert Battle as British Fight for Empire

Resistance Stiffens As Fascist Offensive Assumes More Power

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 16 (AP)—Italian soldiers marching into Egypt in a swiftly-developing desert battle for empire are fighting British advance troops in 110 to 120 degree heat and thus far have suffered heavy losses from the withering British fire, it was officially reported tonight.

The British, who at first offered little resistance when Marshal Graziani began the offensive from Italian Libya, apparently have suddenly stiffened, military information indicated.

Battles between British and Italian motorized units in the desert took place in the almost unbearable heat, with the combatants limited in some cases to scant supplies of water.

The main Italian force appeared to be consolidating its position around the border port of Salum on the Mediterranean but strong elements of fighting vehicles have engaged British advance units near Bugibba, a coastal town about 25 miles east of Salum on the road to Alexandria.

Assert Landing Try by Nazis Beaten Back

LISBON, Sept. 16 (AP)—British informants arriving here by plane from London declared today that a small scale German attempt at a landing somewhere along the English coast last week was beaten off with heavy losses to the would-be invaders.

They were unable to give the exact time and place but asserted they were convinced of the accuracy of their information.

(A British military source said Friday night there had been "absolutely no attempt at invasion in any size, shape or form.")

"British coastal artillery and small patrol craft played havoc with German barges," one of the British informants said here, "and not a single German reached land alive. Scores of bodies are reported still being washed up on our shores."

Gives $25,000 To S.U.I. Loan Fund in Will

LINCOLN, Sept. 16 (AP)—Don L. Love, former Lincoln mayor who died last Thursday, bequeathed $25,000 each to the University of Nebraska and the University of Iowa for student loan funds, in his will filed for probate today. He was a graduate of the latter school.

Prior to his death he had given $115,000 to the University of Nebraska and Union college here for residence halls and industrial buildings in which students could work part of their way through school. Mrs. Love died several years ago and there are no immediate survivors.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Sept. 16 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie charged late today that President Roosevelt "has weakened democracy throughout the world," and declared that a totalitarian government would result from a third term for the chief executive.

Making his first major campaign address in this city where he taught school 27 years ago, the republican presidential nominee started his talk with no trace of the hoarseness which had curtailed his week end engagements, but his voice became husky before

Steady Procession of Raiders Brings Heaviest Anti-Aircraft Fire Yet Heard in London Area

British Express Conviction That Their Own Bomb Blows on Continent Set Back Hitler's Invasion Plans

LONDON, Sept. 17—(Tuesday)—A furious onslaught by German bombers called forth the heaviest anti-aircraft fire yet heard in the London area and then ceased abruptly early today, more than two hours earlier than usual. The all-clear signal sounded at 2:41 a.m.

One great fire broke out in central London but it was quickly controlled.

The alarm, which began in the foggy dusk at 8:09 p.m. yesterday, was marked by a steady procession of Nazi planes more numerous than before, but it ended after an hour and 32 minutes—second shortest of the 10 consecutive night raids on the British capital.

During the same period the Germans struck extensively in the midlands, the northeast and elsewhere in England.

The British, having withstood the punishment of daylight bombings and cross-channel shelling from German cannon, expressed conviction that their own heavy bomb blows on the continental coast had set back Adolf Hitler's proposed invasion plans.

While it lasted, the German night raid was a hot fight.

Anti-aircraft shells burst above the low clouds which concealed the invading planes and dimmed the moon over London.

A number of houses suffered hits from high explosive and incendiary bombs in the midlands, where one German plane fouled a balloon barrage cable and crashed.

The night's battle in London began the moment the evening alarm sounded. Immediately, anti-aircraft batteries roared into a full-throated, earth-jarring chorus. Bombs dropping in one area proved a thudding overture to the bark of the guns.

German planes also were reported over the midlands and elsewhere.

One raider dropped bombs on a northeast town at dusk, but most were said to have hit a golf course.

Police in a northern town were informed that two parachutists came to earth. Soldiers and home guards began searching.

In one mill town a dozen unexploded bombs were "dealt with," the British said.

After a long hunt, officials decided the parachutists report was false, probably started by a drifting barrage balloon.

The roof of a school in the northeast was damaged severely by a bomb just after classes ended for the day. The teacher, en route home, was wounded by a bomb splinter.

Elect Rayburn House Speaker

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—A genial Texas democrat, Rep. Sam Rayburn, was elected speaker of the house of representatives by acclamation today—the second man in history to do so was the one he succeeded, William Bankhead of Alabama.

This unique feature of their elections was the result of the fact that Bankhead and the man he followed to the chair, the late Joseph Wellington Byrns of Tennessee, were the only speakers to die while Congress was in session and the house deemed it fitting to avoid contests.

While Rayburn's elevation to the speakership was accomplished without dissension, it created a hot, behind-the-scenes campaign for the post of majority leader which he vacated.

Will Zurbuchen, assistant director of the Kansas state highway patrol, estimated 67,000 persons were at the park and that 85,000 were in town during the day.

Willkie called the presidential campaign "the battle of America," and told an audience seated under a bright Kansas sun:

"The issue we have to decide in this campaign is whether the political rights that I am exercising today shall endure; or whether we shall leave in the United States, now seeking office, the power to destroy our system."

The republican nominee asserted Mr. Roosevelt had misrepresented the nation's military strength, had failed to bring economic recovery, and had been incompetent to deal with American industry.

Titling his address "The Failure of the New Deal Theory of Government," Willkie said the president "gives lip service" to American traditions but "does not know how to preserve them."

• Accident or Sabotage?

It will probably never be known what caused the Hercules Powder company's munitions plant explosion at Kenilworth, New Jersey. The force of the blast blew buildings apart and hurled debris into space. Fire destroyed whatever evidence of the cause that may have remained after the original fire and explosion.

Investigators of the army, navy and FBI are among those seeking to determine the origin of the disaster. Their search will be long and tedious and may drag on for years before any progress is made. The last wartime munitions explosion in the United States took 15 years to solve.

On July 30, 1916 an explosion on Black Tom Island in New York harbor blew up 2,000,000 pounds of munitions, killed several people and injured 35. America was then producing arms for the allies and for herself.

After 15 years of constant searching and investigation, the responsibility was finally fixed on German agents in the United States. The Kenilworth explosion was more disastrous than the one at Black Tom and there is even less evidence of its cause.

The only hint of sabotage so far disclosed is the revelation on Sept. 2 in the New York newspaper PM that nazi agents in the United States had discussed plans to blow up the Kenilworth plant and other munitions plants in the United States. It remains to be seen whether PM's remarkable disclosure is merely coincidence or the world's greatest newspaper scoop. And—accident or sabotage—the incident serves as a warning of things to come. A nation that has committed itself so definitely in her sympathy and aid for one side in this war must expect reprisals from the other side. Eternal vigilance is the only safeguard for avoiding accidents such as that at Kenilworth, where suspicions of sabotage are bound to arise.

• Selling to the Public

Wendell Willkie, the republican presidential nominee, has a winning personality and a charm that is capable of standing against the super-charm of President Roosevelt when it comes to a test before the public. This was probably one of the reasons why he was nominated.

It is acknowledged that the ability to smile and shake hands in an engaging manner is no assurance that the candidate has the talent necessary for guiding the nation in its highest executive post. Voters know that too, but they have little else to go on. There is, of course, always "the record" to examine and that is not overlooked by John Q. when he goes to the polls.

The personalities of the candidates and the campaign they conduct are still the chief factors in getting votes, though. That is why it was a minor tragedy for Wendell Willkie when he learned that he did not click on the radio. His radio voice was not equal to that of Roosevelt. It was also one of the reasons for the so-called lag in the campaign.

Willkie is now out to remedy that situation by speaking personally to the people from the back platform of his special train on an extensive 7,000-mile tour of the west. Unfortunately, this project was also disrupted somewhat by another minor catastrophe when the candidate was unable to speak because of a strained throat.

"The spirit is willing," he told his audience, "but the voice is weak." The republican candidate is now much improved and will be able to continue on his tour and to make speeches.

We have high regard for the ability of Mr. Willkie as a candidate. We hope that he is not prevented from making the best impression of which he is capable by a recurrence of his "speech failure."

• The King Is Coming!

King Football is on its way! In the east the sports fans can still talk baseball and with gusto. But out in the midwest where the Cubs, White Sox and both St. Louis ball clubs are the favorites, John Q. Fan is already all eyes and ears over this season's prospects. His reasoning is good too, because the midwest is out to put the clincher on the claim that the finest football played anywhere is played here.

The Big 9½ and Notre Dame have abandoned the practice of scheduling setups for openers and have substituted the plan of "every game a big game." If they were content to build records in the won and lost column they wouldn't do that. They are out to prove their football supremacy and from reports in the various camps they stand a good chance to make good their claims.

In lowland the fans are clamoring for another wonder team but not really expecting it. Most of all they would like the Hawkeyes to repeat their last season victories over Notre Dame and Minnesota. The Hawks know that those two games will be the toughest to win.

The Minneapolis papers are pounding the drums like never before, waiting for a "rebound" Gopher ball club. The Gophers were tough last year but all they say is, "that ain't nothin'." Twenty-three lettermen have greeted Bierman and a fine bunch of sophomores will oust most of these from their jobs! They're building a giant named Wilding into a second Ed Widseth and they figure Bruce Smith and George Franck will be the top halfback combination in the country. On and on goes the raving—and Iowa is their number one object—and not of affection.

But we still have the Iowa fandom, we still have Eddie Anderson, we still have most of the Iowa team. So get tough, you opponents, "cause our appetites are still sharp. We're out to beat the lot.

• The "Suicide" Squad

It's a relief to know that the 1,100 pound, eight foot time bomb which threatened to destroy St. Paul's cathedral in London has been removed and successfully detonated in the Hackney marshes where it could do no harm.

Forty-five-year-old Lieut. R. Davies of the Royal Canadian engineers and his men formed a "suicide" squad that worked with courage and tenacity for four harrowing days and nights to extricate the dangerous missile from its resting place 27½ feet underground. The bomb was no dud; it was fitted with fuses that made it dangerous even to touch. The probability that it might explode was heightened by fire from a gas line that had been broken by the falling bomb. When it was finally removed Sunday afternoon, the bomb was loaded gently on a fast truck and Lieut. Davies himself drove it away.

There are other less deadly bombs still remaining in the vicinity of St. Paul's but one will never damage the famous edifice, thanks to the heroism of Lieut. Davies and the men who worked with him. The British empire has in them, not only some worthy candidates for the decoration of a hero, but also the type of men who will assure Britain that she will never be defeated for lack of courage and morale in the ranks.

A Man About MANHATTAN

Kay Kyser Gives Tucker Some Advice

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — "It's like this, Son," writes the Old Professor, Kay Kyser, from the studio lots of Hollywood, where he is making another picture. "You mean well, but every time you get out of town you let your stomach run away with you.

"Take that trip you made to my old home town of Rocky Mount, N. C., last fall. You were supposed to write a review of my picture, 'That's Right, You're Wrong,' but what you wound up doing was giving your readers a pretty picture of southern cooking. I judged from your piece that while everybody else was at the theater you stayed home and made raids on the kitchen, where the ham and the fried chicken were.

"Now I know we have good cooking in all our Southern states, but, honest, you can get a decent meal, sometimes, in other sections of the country. You can even get good cooking in New York, if you are willing to look for it.

"Here's what I mean. When you go to Chicago you always make a b-line for Yar's, because it has a reputation for good Russian vienues. The point I wish to raise is that you waste an awfully lot of time going to Chi when you can get the same thing, and better, at the Russian Bear in N. Y. It's the same in Milwaukee, or Cincinnati, where German cooking predominates. But the Blue Ribbon tavern in Manhattan can give you all the German cooking you want, at no extra train fare.

"The finest Mexican food I ever ate was at a small dining car cafe on the outskirts of El Paso, and I pined for it for months afterward—until somebody led me into the Ox-chili, in New York. The same with Italian cooking. Even Italy can't produce better Roman loafs and lasagne than any of a dozen well-known Italian restaurants just around the corner. Any corner.

"The old town doesn't do so bad on Southern cooking, either. I don't like the names of some of those 'southern' places, such as Mammy's Chicken Farm, but then I learned long ago never to judge a tune by its title, and after all it's the way it tastes that counts, and Mammy's has it. Then there's the Pick-a-Rib, only about two hops, as the crow flies, from your door. Finest barbecued ribs and oysters you ever saw. That hot sauce they pour over it is wonderful. You get all you can eat, topped off by coffee and a big piece of apple pie. All for a buck.

"However, if you still insist on the 'works' . . . if you still aim to go whole hog with a menu of pot likker, corn pone, biscuits, black-eyed peas, turnip greens, grits, candied yams, ham and chicken, and if you pine to eat same in an atmosphere where the stress is placed on taste, not fuss, then this is your invitation to come on up and see me some time. We'll really do it up right.

"Meanwhile, have a good time on your vacation. I don't know where you're going, but wherever it is, all I can say is I hope the meals are frequent and tasty.

"Yours between bites—Kay Kyser."

Willkie Does Congress a Service

WASHINGTON — While some of his friends and all of his enemies thought Willkie's opposition to the first industrial confederation proposal was a political mistake, it is now just as universally apparent he made the most beneficial error of the campaign so far. Here is what seems to be a fairly good plan to handle the termites without taking up the floor of the business structure. It is satisfactory all around, both to new dealers and republicans—largely because Willkie spoke over the heads of his party line-men.

THE EX-LAWYER

The ex-lawyer in the White House himself was responsible for eliminating the republican amendment which would have required a state of "immediate public necessity" before the confiscation processes could be operative. The amendment was pushed into the bill by Republican Senator Austin of Vermont. It sounded all right to the congressmen who let it slip by, but Mr. Roosevelt apparently thought it would require him to declare a state of national emergency and he did not want to be so hampered.

Word was so passed to democratic conferees, and Senator Minton forced the amendment out of the bill. Now FDR can confiscate "in furtherance of the objects" of the draft bill. He is given broader powers than anyone previously thought he had.

THE REAL DEFECTS

The real defects lay in other directions. First there was a prospect the government would have to assume permanent ownership of plants it did not know how to operate and didn't really want. A whole new vista of possible state socialism was opened up merely to get at the problem of handling unpatriotic recalcitrants. The language was so loose and faulty further, as to lay open a way for a political-minded authority to punish his enemies and reward his friends. Possibility of the government taking over losing plants of friends at a cost to the taxpayers was not eliminated. The door to graft was not sealed.

It was soon realized in the house that the senate had done a bad job of legislating. It had gone in over its head. Rep. Smith, Connecticut, hit upon the much better plan provided in the 1916 bill. Plants could be commanded for five years. This eliminated the permanent state socialization vista. Then the conference of both houses further modified the change and required that the secretaries of navy and war must certify before a plant is war.

THE POWDER BLAST

Hercules powder explosion ruined one of the only three powder producing plants working in the United States. The rate of production in this most essential defense material has not been satisfactory to the war department. Stocks on hand now would only permit the guns of this nation to fire four and one half hours a month at the rate at which powder has been used by leading European war must certify before a plant is war.

Philadelphia Splits With Tribe To Tighten American Chase

A's Drop First, 8-3, to Harder; Grab 2nd, 3-2

John Babich Twirls Six-Hitter for 13th Victory of Season

BY RAY BLOSSER

CLEVELAND, Sept. 16 (AP)—Connie Mack's Athletics wound the torrid American league flag chase into a tighter knot today, snapping a nine-game losing streak to split a bargain bill with the league-leading Indians. The standoff cost Cleveland half its one-game advantage over Detroit.

The Tribe, with Mel Harder retiring the first 20 batters in order, smashed Philadelphia in the opener, 8 to 3. Johnny Babich's six-hit twirling was too much for the Indians in the nightcap and the Athletics squeezed out a 3 to 2 triumph.

Ross Fails

About 6,000 Cleveland stadium customers saw the Indians unleash their war clubs on Lee Ross, an old jinx, for an easy win in the first game.

Harder started things with a single and before the fat third inning was ended, seven men had scored. The dynamite blow was Ray Mack's inside-the-park homer with the bases clogged. Jeff Heath contributed another the next inning with nobody on.

Harder, meanwhile, was headed for a perfect game until Catcher Frankie Hayes, with two men down in the seventh, smacked a single into left field. Heath might have caught it, but played the blow safe despite Cleveland's 8-0 advantage. With the pressure off, Harder was touched for three futile taffies in the ninth.

Babich Wins 13th

Babich, turning in his 13th win, was too tough in the nightcap. The clubs entered the ninth deadlocked, 2 to 2, because Harry Eisenstat, unlucky Indian southpaw, gave Sam Chapman and Hayes home run pitches.

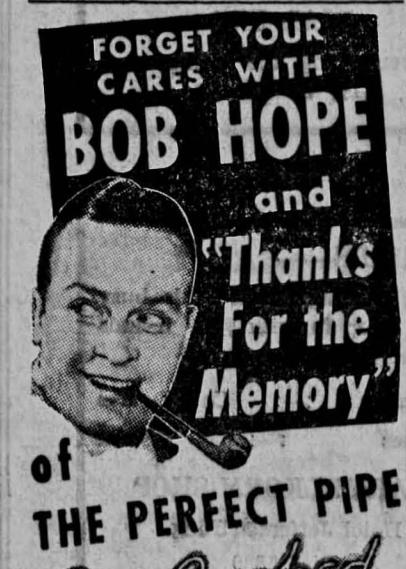

Chapman led off with a freak double over third base. Ken Keltner stabbed at the slow roller but missed it. Then Bob Johnson bounded a ball which hit Eisenstat's glove and continued into center field for another double, plating Chapman with the winning run.

T Book Sale Starts Today

Five thousand "I" books, the yearly athletic coupon books which admit to all of the University of Iowa's home sports contests, go on sale today, C. S. Galher, business manager announced.

They represent the year's best athletic bargain even if used only for football and major basketball games. Admission to those contests would total $13.85 while the books sell to the public for $11.

Each purchaser is entitled to reserved seats for the big football and basketball games, and admission to contests in track, baseball, swimming, wrestling and gymnastics.

Prep Golfers To Play Here

Iowa high school golfers will decide 1940 team and individual championships on the University of Iowa's course Sept. 28, Coach Charles Kennett announced yesterday.

He said that the university had accepted the invitation of the Iowa High School Athletic association to hold the annual title tourney here.

The young golfers will shoot for titles over 27 holes of medal play, with teams composed of four boys. The tournament was held on the university's course last year.

Scheduling of the golf tournament means that Iowa will be host to three prep championship events this fall. The one-mile team races will occur Oct. 12 while the cross-country run is set for Nov. 2, with honors to be determined in classes A, B and C.

Boston Jolts Chisox, 6 to 2

CHICAGO, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox gave the faint smile of the White Sox a rude jolt today, defeating Chicago, 6 to 2, behind the sterling five-hit pitching of Jack Wilson. It was Chicago's first loss in nine starts and their fourth loss in 19 games. The White Sox aided Wilson by an inept exhibition in the field, committing five errors.

Mike Tresh, second man up in the first inning, sent Sox hopes for a ninth straight victory soaring when he tripled off Wilson and scored on an infield out.

Bill Dietrich held the visitors to one hit for three innings, but in the fourth Roger Cramer walked, advanced to second on Ted Williams' single and scored when Luke Appling tossed a double play relay throw into the ninth led to the winning run.

The Red Sox went ahead in the fifth when Wilson singled and went to third on Dom DiMaggio's double. Both scored on Williams' triple to right center.

Tigers Down Senators, 9-2

Buck Newsom Wins Five-Hit Decision To Gain on Tribe

DETROIT, Sept. 16 (AP)—Talkative Louis (Bo-Bo) Newsom kept the Detroit Tigers charging along in the thick of the American league pennant fight today with a five-hit 9-2 decision over the Washington Senators.

The big fellow, winning his 19th triumph of the season against four defeats, kept the Senators, who had dumped the Tigers out of first place yesterday, in check throughout, only easing up to allow three hits and two runs in the seventh.

Thus the Tigers, breaking a two-game losing streak, climbed within a half-game of the league-leading Cleveland Indians when the latter divided a twin bill with the tail-end Philadelphia Athletics.

While Newsom, who had asked to be sent into the box today after being shelled from the mound by the New York Yankees Saturday, kept breezing along, his teammates hammered two of three Washington hurlers to 11

One of the blows was a sixth-inning home run by big Hank Greenberg, his 35th of the season and his ninth in the last dozen games, with one on base. The blow tied Hank with Jimmy Foxx of the Red Sox for the homers leadership in the American league.

Murphy, too wicked a runner to be put aside, will play a good portion of games at fullback and his ball carrying may be sensational. But Murphy isn't liable to be playing full games in the spot and Green is fitted for any sort of an aerial game, whether it be offensive or defensive. In other words, the coaches must keep someone of the same general style as Green around to trade off with Murphy and Green, with a year of fullback experience behind him, is certainly the logical man.

Not only that, but it appears that here isn't another position where Green would be of more use than at fullback. At right half, one of the suggested posts, Bill Gallagher's blocking earns him plenty of consideration and for speed the coaches have Bus Mertes, potentially one of the Big Ten's most dangerous runners, and Ops Gillard, who is rugged and fast. And the passing and kicking are to be done from left halfback, where several prospects are already working. Quarterback we will leave to Al Coupee, Gerald Ankeny and their understudies.

The giant-killing Brownies blasted Marius Russo out of the box in the first inning in the midst of the seven-run explosion and continued their bombardment against Bump Hadley, Lefty Gomez and Steve Sundra.

Altogether St. Louis made 15 hits, one-third of them home runs. Rookie Johnny Lucadello accounted for one in the first and another with one on in the seventh. Rip Radcliff got one in the first, George McQuinn one with a runner on in the second and Chet Laabs one in the third.

Vernon Kennedy, meanwhile, held the Yankees to six hits, one of them Joe DiMaggio's 31st homer of the year.

The defeat dropped New York four games behind the first place Cleveland Indians.

PHILS WIN

Whip Cards to Beat Own Records

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16 (AP)—The lowly Phillies won their 46th victory of the season, more than in any year since 1937, by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 3 to 2 today in the first game of a doubleheader. They lost the second, however, 7 to 1.

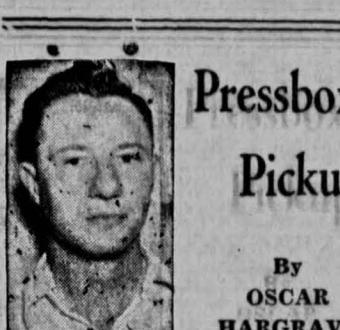

Si Johnson stopped his former St. Louis clubmates with five hits in the opener, and a double by Joe Marti off Mort Cooper in the ninth led to the winning run.

From Wisconsin comes word of another shift in positions.

Rich Gage, last year's first string quarterback, goes to guard. Reason for the change was an Don Kolbusz, a regular. Claude York, expected to be a regular fullback, was also lost to the Badgers when it was decided that a recent attack of rheumatic fever made football inadvisable for York this year.

The Red Sox went ahead in the fifth when Wilson singled and went to third on Dom DiMaggio's double. Both scored on Williams' triple to right center.

Argument Develops After Tenth Inning Rally Succeeds, 4-3

BROOKLYN, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds came close to clinching their second consecutive National league pennant today by downing the Brooklyn Dodgers 4 to 3 in 10 innings with the help of a play-off that caused an attack on Umpire George Magerkurth after the game.

That Green is quite apt to be an important part of the Hawkeye picture isn't to be denied, but right now it doesn't look as though his part would be different from the 1939 version, except through increased offensive importance of the fullback spot. Green and Murphy, interchangeably, might become the key members of the Iowa offensive, which was based on left halfback and a passing game in 1939.

Murphy, too wicked a runner to be put aside, will play a good portion of games at fullback and his ball carrying may be sensational. In other words, the coaches must keep someone of the same general style as Green around to trade off with Murphy and Green, with a year of fullback experience behind him, is certainly the logical man.

Frank McCormick grounded to shortstop and Johnny Hudson threw to Coscarant, who dropped the ball while pivoting to throw to first in a double play attempt. Umpire Bill Stewart called Goodman out, but appealed to Magerkurth near third base when Manager Bill McKechnie and the Reds protested vociferously.

Magerkurth ruled Goodman was safe, filling the bases, and his decision stood in spite of a vocal storm from the Dodgers which ended only with the banishment of Manager Leo Durocher from the field.

On the next play Catcher Bill Baker drove a liner to left and Mike McCormick scored the deciding run.

After the game hundreds of the 6,782 fans swarmed onto the field, one of them shook Magerkurth's hand, but another rushed up and started a fist fight. The towering umpire, at least 6 feet 3 inches tall and weighing probably 225 pounds, was knocked to the ground and pounded by his smaller foes until the other umpires and uniformed ushers rushed to his aid.

Other fans became involved in numerous scattered arguments and light fighting with ushers and other spectators, but order was restored after police arrested Magerkurth's assailant.

But coming back to the part the fullbacks may have in fashioning the Iowa record, much will depend on the running game, with Murphy slated for lots of line plowing. Take him out of the game and ball carrying is still left for the fullback to do. Which means that Green is no man of mystery, but a possibility for some sensational football.

A glance at some other Big Ten camps:

Bob Zuppke is having trouble at the left halfback post—Jimmy Smith, leading ground gainer on the 1939 Illinois team, has turned up with a bad knee and won't be available this year. So Paul Milosevich, an end last year, will probably get the call.

Michigan claims a shortage of reserve strength, although even the most pessimistic call the Wolverines first string one of the best—we've heard of Tom Harmon, Evashayski, etc.; too! So the Wolverines may have to try an Eddie Anderson "Iron Man" system.

Egypt--

told of contact of the advance forces said British bombers swooped down on the big motor transports leading the Italian advance near Bugabug, sending the vehicles up in flames which could be seen 40 miles away. Tank trucks carrying gasoline were special targets.

Stiff Opposition

The Italians were said to be keeping close to the shore line.

Italian planes supporting the motorized drive across the desert ran into stiff opposition, the British said. British fighters shot down six enemy bombers, it was reported, and three others were listed by the British as probably destroyed. One British plane was lost.

Almost all the Egyptians—with whom the Italians say they are not at war—have been removed from the western desert or regions threatened by the fighting.

Italian sources in Rome assert that Italy's only object in the offensive is to blast out the British troop concentrations in Egypt.

Cairo's leading newspaper, Al Ahram, said the news of the Italian advance had caused no panic because the Egyptian people had full confidence in their leaders.

The Egyptian government has appropriated money to buy all the grain left behind by persons removed from Sidi Barrani, just down the coast from Bugabug.

The Italian motorized columns were reported composed almost entirely of Italians but troops moved to the Salum encampments included many native Libyan units.

No Defense Attempt

The British said they had long planned to withdraw from Salum and other villages along the Egyptian frontier once the Italian thrusts started, making no attempt to defend an area regarded as worthless strategically.

Egyptians said they were confident that when Grazini "sticks his neck out far enough" the British will crack down on him.

Will Be in Charge Of Twilight Golf

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Lewis will be in charge of the twilight golf at the Iowa City country club today.

Play will begin at 4:30 and a buffet supper will be served in the clubhouse later.

Willkie's Adviser

COFFEYVILLE, Kas. (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie's headquarters announced yesterday that Brooks Emery of Cleveland would replace J. Leslie Buell as his campaign adviser on foreign affairs. Buell, a former editor of Fortune magazine, was stricken ill in Kansas City yesterday.

fill the quota for the area. Those so selected will undergo physical examinations and, if they pass, will be inducted into service for one year.

"In the military service," Mr. Roosevelt said, "they will be intelligently led, comfortably clothed, well fed, and adequately armed and equipped for basic training. By the time they get physically hardened, mentally disciplined and properly trained in fundamentals, the flow of critical munitions from factory to combat units will meet the full requirements for their advanced training."

"In the military service, Americans from all walks of life, rich and poor, country-bred and city-raised, farmer, student, manual laborer and white collar worker, will learn to live side by side, to depend upon each other in military drills and maneuvers, and to appreciate each other's dignity as American citizens."

"Universal service will bring not only greater preparedness to meet the threat of war, but a wider distribution of tolerance and understanding to enjoy the blessings of peace."

Mr. Roosevelt signed the bill, seated at a table in the spacious cabinet room. Behind him stood Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex) of the senate military committee, and Chairman May (D-Ky) of the corresponding committee of the house. He used two pens and handed one to each. Secretary of War Stimson and Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, also were present.

The second pen appeared to give the president some difficulty and he dipped it repeatedly in the inkwell before he could use it satisfactorily. At one point, Mr. Roosevelt could not recall the date. An aide prompted him and he added that to his signature.

When the ceremony had been completed, he lit a cigarette, tilted back in his chair and read for the newsmen the statement he had given the press.

The registration date was fixed by a proclamation, in which the president also said that "America stands at the crossroads of its destiny," adding:

"Time and distance have been great nations fall. We can not remain indifferent to the philosophy of force now rampant in the world. The terrible fate of nations whose weakness invited attack is too well known to us all.

"We must and will marshal our great potential strength to fend off war from our shores. We must and will prevent our land from becoming a victim of aggression."

In national guard armories throughout the land, meanwhile, some 60,000 militiamen participated in the guard's first federal mobilization since the World war, called out for a year's training by a previous presidential order.

Until the invasion threat became imminent, the RAF had been tackling a long-range policy aimed at crippling Germany's wartime industry. This still is the chief goal.

During the day, the White House announced that of the first 400,000 men to be called for the draft, 34,000 would be Negroes.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Lewis will be in charge of the twilight golf at the Iowa City country club today.

Play will begin at 4:30 and a buffet supper will be served in the clubhouse later.

Issues Call For Musicians

Students Interested In Varsity Bands Asked to Report

Auditions for positions in the university's football and varsity bands are being conducted daily in the music building.

All students interested in joining the musical organizations should contact Prof. Charles B. Righter, band director, in room 15, music hall.

General practice for the first appearance of the varsity band, the induction ceremony next Thursday morning, will be held the day preceding. Professor Righter has announced.

Old Members

Old members, too, are urged to report to the music office as early as possible during freshman week and before making out schedules of classes.

Early applicants will be given preference for places in the football band, he said.

The football band will practice regularly on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 4:10 to 5:30 on the men's athletic field.

The varsity group rehearses on Monday and Wednesday nights from 7:10 to 8:30, with one section practice to be scheduled.

The concert band rehearses from 4 to 5:45 on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, following football season.

All women students accepted for band will rehearse with the varsity band until the close of the football season, after which those qualified will be transferred to the concert band.

long-range artillery shells, apparently fired in answer to British shelling against German emplacements on the French coast, 22 miles across the Dover Straits.

Eleven persons were injured as the big shells screamed over the coast and fell in streets crowded with shoppers.

Troopships Moving

Although many German troopships were reported moving along the French and Belgian coasts under cover of mists and a driving rain and Britain remained alert for a nazi blitzkrieg, authoritative sources declared that intense RAF bombing raids apparently had set back Hitler's invasion plans.

Raids night after night on cross-channel "invasion ports" admittedly have not prevented the nazis from marshalling their forces but, British sources declared, they have inflicted severe losses and destroyed much equipment and damaged harbor facilities.

Until the invasion threat became imminent, the RAF had been tackling a long-range policy aimed at crippling Germany's wartime industry. This still is the chief goal.

Normal Temperature Hits 77 Yesterday

Iowa City's temperatures, both high and low marks, again returned to normal readings yesterday as warmer weather moved into the state.

High mark for the day was 77 degrees, just normal for the high reading. Low reading of 50 degrees was three degrees below the normal mark.

Readings a year ago were 85 degrees high and 68 degrees low. The weather bureau observation station reported that the high mark for a year ago Sunday was 97 degrees.

H. E. White Funeral Rites Tomorrow

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow for Henry Ellsworth White, 78, retired farmer who died yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. S. Phillips, 407 Magowan avenue.

Mr. White was born at Atalissa on June 7, 1862. He had lived with his daughter in Iowa City for the past three years.

Survivors include three brothers, Wilbert White of Iowa City, Ben White of Washington, Iowa, and Charles White of Keota, and one sister, Mrs. Phillips. Two brothers, Emmet and Jordan White, preceded him in death.

Service will be at Beckman's with the Rev. Elmer E. Dierks officiating. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Flying Boat Arrives

NEW YORK (AP)—The camouflaged British flying boat Clare arrived last night on her fourth trip from England, carrying a five-man crew and a passenger, Reginald B. Mansell, a member of the British purchasing commission.

Roy Evans, 52, North English hardware merchant, died Saturday in his home after an illness of several months. He was a native of Williamsburg and North English and is a cousin of Judge Harold Evans, 505 Oakland.

Evans is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cora Evans, and two sons, David and John. Funeral service will be in North English.
