15TH ALL NIGHT LONDON ASSAULT

British, Americans Confer, Keep Watch on Japan

Japanese troops threaten French Indo-China

British strengthen Hong Kong defenses

Anglo-American-Japanese trouble center

Sending by the United States of expert naval observers to Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India has emphasized the increasing collaboration of British and American authorities in the Far East. At the same time, Japanese and U. S. relations are becoming more strained as Japan continues to threaten to invade French Indo-China to attack the Chinese on a new front. Such a move would be in the face of Secretary of State Cordell Hull's repeated warnings to Japan against disturbing the "status quo" in the Orient. Australia is concerned with the extent of the aid the U. S. navy would give her if attacked by Japan, and there is talk of the American navy's obtaining use of the British base at Singapore, which is the strongest in the Far East.

French sources declare they would refuse to let Japanese make Tonkin military base. Statement follows New Setback In Critical Negotiations.

French Sources Declare They Would Refuse To Let Japanese Make Tonkin Military Base

Statement Follows New Setback In Critical Negotiations

HANOI, French Indo-China, Sept. 22 (Sunday) (AP)—A new complication disturbed the touch-and-go situation over Japanese demands for military rights in French Indo-China today when authoritative French sources declared they would refuse to let Japan make Tonkin a military base.

These sources said they were ready to honor their word and give Japan the military facilities provided in the Vichy-Tokyo understanding but would balk at anything meaning Japanese military occupation of Tonkin.

This statement followed a new setback in the critical negotiations after earlier hope that an amicable settlement impended.

While Maj.-Gen. Issaku Nishihara, chief of the Japanese military mission, sulked in his hotel room at Haiphong, where he went this morning, several of his subordinates returned here and were believed to be ready to renew the conversations.

Japanese nationals who left Hanoi environs last night remained aboard ships in Haiphong harbor but it was reported that Japanese from southern Indo-China had left Saigon aboard ships bound for an undisclosed destination.

Although French sources welcomed the United States' renewed expression of concern over Indo-China's status quo, a spokesman said it was recognized that Washington could not go so far as to threaten Japan. However, he said, a further American expression would be of "utmost importance."

Subcommittee Approves Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—A $1,500,000,000 defense bill which includes funds for paying, feeding and clothing army conscripts, received approval today of a house appropriations subcommittee.

Chairman Woodrum (D-Va) said the measure would be submitted to the full appropriations committee early next week and probably would come up in the house Thursday. It is expected to be the last major defense bill of the season.

Originally, the bill contained $338,000,000 additional for barracks for the army of draftees to be called into training.

No Contact With Kidnaper, De Tristan Family Reports

Search For Missing Army Plane Continues

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Sept. 21 (AP)—A search for a missing army plane in which Brigadier General Francis W. Honeycutt and two others were making a routine flight focussed tonight on a desolate area of tidewater swampland near the mouth of the Satilla river after a tugboat had reported seeing a plane fall in flames there last night.

About three score army and coast guard planes scoured the section until dusk and the search was continued tonight by parties in small boats.

K. B. Burnham of Woodbine, Ga., relayed the report of a crash given to him by Albert Sullivan, Negro member of the crew of a tugboat which was pulling a raft of logs down the river when the incident occurred.

Money Ready To Be Paid To Kidnaper

Police, Federal Agents Withdraw From Case At Family's Plea

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif., Sept. 21 (AP)—"There has been no contact with the kidnaper."

Those words came through the dread silence of the De Tristan home today, 24 hours after three-year-old Marc, scion of several wealthy families, was abducted by a man who left a demand for $100,000 ransom.

The money was ready, to be paid for the safe return of the little boy, son of Count and Countess Marc De Tristan, socially prominent members of this exclusive neighborhood.

The kidnaper, who signed the ransom note as "Unconventional Eccentric," had a free hand to open negotiations with the family. Police and federal agents withdrew from the case at the family's urgent plea, lest the kidnaper's threat of "fatal result" of interference be carried out.

But the dark, middle-aged man with the hook-nose had made no attempt to communicate with the parents, a member of the immediate family confided today in a broken voice. Through the medium of a classified advertisement in a San Francisco paper, the De Tristans had carried out the kidnaper's first instruction—to signify willingness to meet the ransom note demands.

The curly-haired little boy was snatched from his nurse yesterday on a roadway near the De Tristan estate. In a scuffle with the abductor, the nurse, Mary Foley, 50, was knocked to the ground. The kidnaper lost his hat. The hat, the ransom note and a meager description of the man and the kidnap car were the only clues.

But federal agents said many cases had been solved through less significant clues.

The hat and the strange note, written in a highflown style, were taken to a laboratory for analysis.

Earl J. Connelly of Washington, D. C., assistant director of the FBI and an expert on kidnap cases, was here to direct the G-men once the child had been returned or found.

Little Marc, the only child of the De Tristans, was to receive "the most charming and generous supervision" while in the hands of the abductor, the ransom note stated.

But a dreadful consequence of police interference with the kidnaper's plan was threatened in another paragraph. "The fatal result of their interference," the note said (See KIDNAPER, Page 5)

Nazis Claim New Damage

Assert Air Fleet Bombs 'War-Essential' Targets in London

BERLIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Nazi air fleet, still hammering its heaviest blows against London, inflicted severe damage to "war-essential" targets, the high command reported today.

While the German planes were carrying out night attacks on London Friday, the official news agency DNB, said, Nazi fighter planes and a "surprise" anti-aircraft barrage balked two British counter-raids on Berlin far short of their goal.

Particularly the center of London, west of the big bend of the Thames river, suffered from the German air blows, the high command said, and frequent hits were scored on the big Royal Albert docks. Again, it said, the sky over London glowed with new bomb-lit fires as well as the embers of flames which have smoldered for days.

German air attacks continued on London throughout this afternoon, informed sources said, with bombs of the heaviest caliber falling in the region of the Thames elbow. Damage must have been "considerable," these sources said.

Besides the center of London, the communique reported, "war-essential" supply industries south (See NAZIS, Page 5)

Army, Navy Speed Work For Defense

BY H. R. INGRAHAM WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)

The army and navy, working at top speed to translate congressional appropriations into battle-ships, tanks and airplanes, estimated today that they had awarded defense contracts totalling close to $7,000,000,000.

The bulk of the gigantic armament program—designed to give the United States the world's mightiest navy, combined army-navy air force greater than any in existence and essential equipment for a 2,000,000 man army—is now on order. Actual work on many items, however, has yet to be started. Prospective delivery dates are a military secret.

Vast army orders for tanks, airplanes and other munitions have been placed in the last few days, taking the spotlight away from the navy's huge purchases. Nevertheless, by far the largest expenditure under the contracts thus far awarded will go for 287 new warships of all categories, most of which are to be completed within the next four years and which the navy high command says will give this country a "two ocean" navy.

The new warships ordered, together with a few auxiliary vessels, will cost approximately $5,010,000,000.

Willkie Sees New Deal Partly Responsible for Europe's War

Advocates Continued Help to England, Assistance to China

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21 (AP)—Holding the new deal administration partially responsible for the European war, Wendell L. Willkie advocated tonight that United States continue to help Great Britain, "render economic assistance" to China, and develop new air bases in the Pacific.

Ending his California campaign tour with a speech in the civic auditorium, the republican presidential nominee said:

"We must send, and we must keep sending, aid to Britain, our first line of defense and our only remaining friend. We must aid her to the limit of prudence and effectiveness, as determined by impartial experts in this field.

"In the Pacific, our best ends will be served by a free, strong and democratically progressive China, and we should render China economic assistance to that end. In addition, I favor exploring the acquisition and development of Pacific air bases for the protection of our interests in that ocean."

Calling it "wild and untenable" to consider President Roosevelt a defender of democracy, Willkie continued:

"When I hear the new dealers claiming that this man is such a wizard at foreign affairs; when I hear them claim that he is the one indispensable man to defend our democracy today, I can not take them seriously."

"I bring a charge against the new deal which I have measured carefully. I charge that this administration has contributed to the downfall of European democracy. I charge that it must bear a direct share of the responsibility for the present war."

Raiders Unload Heavy Bombs On Capital

Observers Assert German Air Activity Appeared Lighter

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Individual Nazi raiders unloaded bombs on London last night and early today for hour after hour in the 15th consecutive all-night assault.

One raider, attempting to pierce the London barrage of anti-aircraft guns came crashing to his doom. There was an explosion and a tremendous flash as his bombs burst with the impact, but the site was declared to be an open space.

Other raiders spread an arc of incendiary bombs around three sides of the city. Fires quickly broke out. Auxiliary firemen were reported to have subdued them.

Observers said the German air activity appeared, however, to be lighter than formerly.

One big bomb smashed several shops and jarred an underground public shelter in which hundreds of persons were sleeping.

The British Press association said raiders on the northeast coast early today were driven away by heavy anti-aircraft fire and had to jettison their bombs in the sea.

Early today, several casualties were reported after a high-explosive bomb burst in south London. Central London became quieter.

Bombs were also hurled in east and north London, in Surrey and on the northwest coast. The British Press association reported several persons were killed in a northwest town.

For London it was the 15th consecutive all-night assault, renewed with fresh vigor after a day of isolated action during which two major daylight thrusts at the capital were beaten off, one by coastal anti-aircraft and the other by British fighter planes which turned back a wave of 50 Messerschmitt fighter-bombers over the southeast coast.

Edwin Stout, an Associated Press staff man having a late dinner in a restaurant, telephoned his office at 9:30 p.m. that proceedings had been interrupted by a bomb blast which blew a shattered window across his table. The glass, he said, was ankle-deep when he walked out.

Tonight there were two warnings before midnight, and the second was followed by the intermittent rumble of bombs and the high cough of anti-aircraft fire. (See RAIDS, Page 5)

Nazi Bomb Spoils Iowa Man's Dinner

By EDWIN STOUT LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP)—A German bomb just spoiled my dinner.

It blew a whole window across the restaurant table at which I was eating.

I walked out, unhurt, and waded home through glass up to my ankles.

A porter just told me that a bomb hit the restaurant building. You'll have to take it at that; I'm not going back to see.

Seeks to Coordinate Draft

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—In two steps toward revitalizing America's defense, President Roosevelt appointed a six-man advisory committee today to help coordinate plans for conscription of manpower and approved a proposal for creation of the office of under-secretary of war—a proposal which would establish new controls of the army's vast procurement program.

In addition, he disclosed that employment in the nation's vital aircraft industry had more than tripled since December, 1938, that the greatest percentage gain had been in 29 interior states, and that he expected the greatest future advances in that same area.

Four members of the advisory committee have been helping with plans for the draft, whose director probably will be named next week, ever since conscription legislation was brought before congress.

The four are: Frederick Osborn of New York, who was in charge of Red Cross work with the American army in France in the World war, is active in sociological work, and for the past month has been a consultant of the budget bureau.

America Has Politics and the Draft; the Rest of the World Has War (A Review of the Week's Important Happenings)

Crises 'Round the World

Joachim von Ribbentrop went to Rome this week, at somebody's request, to talk over the state of axis affairs with Benito Mussolini.

The strategy would appear to be to gain a double stranglehold upon Britain's empirical lifeline to the East, through Gibraltar and the Suez canal.

That Italy needs assistance in Africa is all too apparent. Washington Correspondent Paul Mallon pictures the Italians storming the "citadel" of Bugbug, spelled "Bugbuq," an Egyptian point of absolutely no significance whatsoever, and setting up a cheer in the controlled Italian press to avoid internal revolution.

Active German assistance in the African campaign at this time would serve a double purpose, observers declare. Public opinion in the Reich isn't too wholesome; nor is the thought of an invasion of England any more wholesome today than it was a month ago today.

And nazism and fascism can't prosper upon the "victories" of the latest phases of the war.

By sending German troops into Africa, the axis may be able to bolster morale in both Germany and Italy; combined troops may be able to push to the Suez, choking sources of British supplies from the East.

Should Spain declare herself an axis ally, Italians are in a far better position to storm the fortress to tighten that blockade of the British.

And what of England? Her fare of the week was a bomb a minute from the skies; they fell mercilessly upon London, day in and day out.

But the R.A.F. fought stubbornly on. Strict censorship, a censorship of weeks, hid the heart-breaking devastation London cannot be avoiding.

As the week neared its close, suspicious stories leaked from sources that sounded even more creditable than earlier, similar sources. They told of mass slaughters of Germans on the channel involved in invasion practice, of loaded nazi barges blasted from the water by English planes, of thousands of nazi bodies washed upon continental shores, of revolting Germans, tired of stalemate war, being marched away to labor camps, arms trussed behind their backs.

While Europe's war phases shifted, new rumblings were heard on the opposite side of the world.

With yesterday's dawn came word that Japan was prepared to seize the whole of Indo-China unless France permitted the passage of an unrestricted number of Japanese troops through that French colony. Rear Admiral Jean Decoux in as yet unoccupied Vichy had insisted upon a limited number. Japanese residents of Indo-China were given instructions to complete their evacuation.

Earlier, American sources had warned Japan that a disturbance of the status quo in the Orient would affect United States interests.

Where have the world's quiet Sunday mornings gone?

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

Aboard Ship, And The Third Day Out—BY GEORGE TUCKER

ABOARD SHIP (3rd day)—We are into the tropics now and the flying fish are becoming a little jittery—probably because they are being chased by dolphins. These dolphins are pure liquid motion. They leap like gentlemen riders from a sea only faintly troubled by the summer trades.

Our deck steward is the spittin' image of the late Huey Long, and our bar steward is so much like Charles Laughton that every time he comes in I expect him to start reciting Lincoln's Gettysburg address. I asked "Huey" if anybody ever told him he looked like the late senator, and he replied, "Senior, every trip, a hundred times."

I did not win the ship's pool today. It takes seven turns around the deck to make a mile. We have a number of Spanish priests aboard en route to the West Indies, and also six nuns, but the nuns are American. The Spanish fathers do not speak English. We also have a doctor from Albany who has been invited to recommend an anti-tuberculosis program for the Dominican Republic, and a concert pianist from Boston who is along merely for the ride.

The news has just leaked out that one of the dining room waiters is a survivor of the Morro Castle disaster and he is now being pointed out as one of the real celebrities on the ship. This shows you how easy it is to hobnob with greatness unawares. I picked this information up in the swimming pool this morning from Ruth Bishop, of Coatesville, Pa., who won $8.50 at bingo last night, and Mary Gena Yung, of Bethlehem, Pa.

The purser tells me we have three corpses aboard, which accounts no doubt for the storm we barely missed the first two days out. At least that is what the more superstitious of the passengers claim. The peculiar thing about these corpses is that all are men, and all three, by a strange coincidence, died of a broken neck.

The captain of this ship, which, by the way, is the S. S. Borinquen, is going to take his vacation after this run and visit his son, a plebe at Annapolis. One of the passengers asked him if he ever got seasick, and he said, No, he didn't, but sometimes he got pretty sick of the sea. He has been a captain on this run for 31 years.

Tomorrow, around noon, we hit San Juan. I'm leaving ship there. I want to see some of those cock fights, and chew some of that sugarcane. I want to rest in the shade of a papaya tree, and let the surf sing me to sleep. I want to stroll through streets that were centuries old before St. Augustine, Fla., was even a trading post. That's San Juan (St. John), the oldest city in the western hemisphere. It is the only spot in the new world where Columbus actually set foot.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

Rosalind Russell In Two Good Ones—BY ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—"Hired Wife." Screenplay by Richard Connell and Gladys Lehman, from story by George Beck. Directed by William A. Seiter. Principals: Rosalind Russell, Brian Aherne, Virginia Bruce, Robert Benchley, John Carroll, Hobart Cavanaugh, Richard Lane.

Miss Russell is extremely credible in her assignment. With smartness and humor and all-around good acting, she makes a kind of wife who would win, in real life, over whatever complications were thrown in her path.

Here she is the wife in a marriage of convenience, espoused because her employer (Aherne) is about to be done wrong by a bunch of wicked rivals. The ex-secretary, thus legally endowed with her husband's assets, has a merry time in putting to rout the wiles of adversaries both business and romantic, the latter embodied in beautiful Bruce as an advertising model with designs not meant for the ads. Roz gets her man—and it's one of the year's light, bright pictures, fast-moving and funny.

"No Time for Comedy."

Screenplay by Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein from the play by S. N. Berhman. Directed by William Keighley. Principals: James Stewart, Rosalind Russell, Genevieve Tobin, Charlie Ruggles, Allyn Joslyn, Clarence Kolb, Louise Beavers.

More lightness and brightness here, in this story of a hick-town playwright whose sparkling comedies of Park Avenue make him famous but unhappy. That's Stewart, who can do more with an honest hick than any other boy in town.

Miss Russell (in her second new picture of the week) plays the famous actress who marries him and keeps him happy until Amanda (Tobin) comes along with her plan to "inspire" him to serious things. That leaves Russell and Amanda's husband (Ruggles) free for each other, to neither's great joy. But the wife again comes through, via the well-worn route of understanding sympathy when the husband comes a-cropper.

"No Time for Comedy" has good fun, good lines and situations and nail-on-the-head acting to make up for an occasional phoney note like the ending. Ruggles is one to watch in his "new" character.

"Rangers of Fortune." Screenplay by Frank Butler. Directed by Sam Wood. Principals: Fred MacMurray, Albert Dekker, Gilbert Roland, Patricia Morison, Joseph Schildkraut, Dick Foran, Betty Brewer.

Wood ("Mr. Chips," "Our Town," etc.) here proves again that he can take assignments as they come, for this is a rollicking western.

The "rangers" are MacMurray, Roland and Dekker, the one-time "Dr. Cyclops" who now, as a punch-drunk fighter, takes a slice of comedy cake. But all three do that, for the film has a swash-buckling humor.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS By PAUL MALLON

The Economists, Bankers in Session—

WASHINGTON—The wild men's branch of the new deal with the savings bank branch of the wolves of Wall Street in a generally unadvertised economic discussion at a downtown hotel this week, and no one was even scratched.

Administration economists, with their latest theories from all walks of the spending life, paraded to the rostrum to show the bankers there were no rings in their noses. As Jerome Frank, the Securities Exchange commission chairman, explained it at one point: "We are not revolutionaries; we are just trying to help America."

The wolves, representing various other phases of substantial industry outside banking, joined in the agreeable discussion that agreed on nothing. A banker finally assured the gathering that "the charge that the new dealers are against capitalism is completely unwarranted."

Yet when the economic pleasantries were over and the meeting adjourned, the bankers went back to New York with the surprising guess that another new government spending program is to be piled on top of the peak of the colossal expenditure for national defense. Not directly from things said on the rostrum, but from information they picked up in town, they suspected a new housing program is in the making. A plan utilizing federal funds for the construction of workers' homes in the new decentralized industrial area is certainly in the process of inner formation. It would entail large sums for the interior district between the Rockies and Appalachians, north of Memphis—some-times known as the Willkie area.

NOT 'TIL ELECTION—The economic animal fair nevertheless furnished convincing proof that the wild men are to be reasonably tame until after election at least. New deal assurances were given industry that price controls will not be attempted by the national defense commission until the unemployed are absorbed, idle plant capacity is working and a "bidding-up" era seems in the offing. Priorities for government orders are not even to be pressed actively. These assurances came from no less an authority than Mr. Roosevelt's defense price commission, Leon Henderson, who is reported to enjoy now the fullest confidence of Mr. Knudsen and Mr. Stettinius, the industrialists on the defense commission.

TURTLES FADING AWAY TO QUARTER OF A TON

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Two giant tortoises have been kept successfully in captivity at the San Diego zoo for six years, but they appear to be slowly wasting away. The annual weighing ceremony showed Speed had lost seven pounds, now tipping the scales at 499, while Big Boy had dropped 20 pounds to 467. Captured in the Galapagos islands, the big turtles are considered to be 100 to 300 years old.

ATLANTA, (AP)—When Lawrence Moore graduated from Boys' high school June 13, he still was limping from an ankle injury suffered May 13. Which just pointed up the amazing way in which 13 has been tangled up in his life. He started it by being born March 13, 1923, and promptly got a name containing 13 letters. He has 13 aunts and uncles, 13 feminine cousins; has lived in 13 houses; celebrated his 13th birthday on a Friday, the 13th; saw his father buried on the 13th day of a month 13 years after the death of his paternal grandmother, and his maternal grandmother died March 13 of this year.

Willkie Loves an Argument—

Boots for New Deal Mud

Loving a good argument, he said, better than anything else. Candidate for the Presidency Wendell Willkie opened up on the new deal with both guns this week.

(Earlier he had indirectly charged Mr. Roosevelt with helping to "sell Czechoslovakia down the river.")

(All he got from that was a wizen statement from Secretary of State Hull that Mr. Willkie was "grossly ignorant of the history of the past few years.")

At Coffeyville Willkie charged Roosevelt with weakening democracy throughout the world, warned a third term spelled dictatorship.

At Clovis, N. M., he said he'd need a pair of boots (they gave them to him) to wade through the mud that the new deal had created in the past seven years, declared he understood the problems of industry.

At Phoenix, Ariz., he called for national economic rehabilitation in addition to invulnerable defenses.

At Los Angeles, he declared business must be given the chance to make a profit, charged Roosevelt's administration with setting up a tax structure that is "unscientific, repressive, and loaded with punitive measures."

At Fresno he urged democrats to vote, not for him, but against the philosophy of the new deal and against a third term, if there's a difference.

While all these nasty things were being said about him and his administration, President Roosevelt kept busy in Washington. He signed the draft bill, attended the funeral of Speaker Bankhead in Alabama, lost the support of the New York Times for the presidency, and wrote a speech.

It was, according to White House sources, neither a political nor a non-political speech. The president gave it in Philadelphia on Friday, and what the White House said was quite correct. But it was a good speech.

Mr. Roosevelt didn't refer to Mr. Willkie, or to the fact that Mr. Willkie thought Mr. Roosevelt would be a dictator if he won a third term. All Roosevelt said was:

"No dictator in history has ever dared to run the gauntlet of a free election." Which was just like saying, "Mr. Willkie's only got 35 more days to peddle that one..."

Possibly a Blue Monday—

October 16 is 'R' Day

Peace-time military conscription became law in America this week. President Roosevelt signed the act on Monday. Simultaneously he proclaimed that some 16,500,000 men, between the ages of 21 and 35, shall register for possible service Oct. 16.

That, conceivably, will be a blue Monday for hundreds of thousands of peace-loving Americans. There are blue Mondays in Europe, too—every day.

With the chief executive's signature attached to the historic measure, the wheels of draft machinery began to turn, wheels set in motion by the president's much-publicized scratchy pen.

Selective service officials announced plans to minimize discrimination and favoritism, to hold the processes of national selection up to public scrutiny. Local draft boards will hold down the hot spots. The decisions will be their's, and so will be the tongue-lashings.

Governors got busy appointing local draft boards. Printing presses prepared to turn out millions of registrations forms from master copies flown from Washington.

The senate voted to empower the president to establish allowances for dependents upon draftees, and for the draftees themselves, to ease the financial burdens of conscription.

Marriage in and of itself won't be enough to let us out, Washington declared toward the end of the week. There's the item of whether a wife's self-supporting, that of when the marriage occurred. . . . Again the local boards will decide, this time upon the relative needs of the wife and the army. . . .

Army Secretary Stimson announced tentative plans to call an additional 37,000 national guardsmen to active duty in November. . . . Iowa still is not affected. . . .

"Members of the House of Representatives," said the Hon. South Trimble, clerk of the house, at 12 o'clock noon last Monday, "it becomes my sad and painful duty to inform you officially that your beloved Speaker passed away yesterday morning at the Naval hospital in this city. . . ."

Sam Rayburn of Texas was named to succeed Speaker William B. Bankhead of Alabama. . . . "that the House might continue to function and the machinery of government might go on. . . ."

Virginia Gayda, the Italian official spokesman, suffered a set-back in his grape-vine resources last week. The British raided Italian positions in Egypt, came home with prisoners, among them three Italian press correspondents.

A Japanese bomb accidentally hit a Canadian liner near the mouth of Tokyo bay during a bombing practice. Disturbed, Japanese officials rushed aboard to apologize, discovered the bomb had hurt four Chinese crewmen.

The University of Iowa and Iowa State college were asked to provide an engineering professor each for a state project. Iowa sent Professor Looney; the Ames man was Professor Witte.

Our Home Town

SCHOOL TEACHERS BY CHARLES BECKMAN

From the little town of Liberty, Kentucky, comes an interesting news item. There, in a community of about 500 people, is a town, 100 young men have voluntarily enlisted in the army and navy in the past 30 days.

One would like to know the why and wherefore of this splendid exhibition of patriotism, though one must explore the need for it. I wonder how much of it is due to the teachers in Liberty's little schools. I question if tap-dancing is taught there, or if there is an accredited course in fly-casting, or Bible criticism. I seem to see patient teachers thoroughly grounding their charges in the 3 R's and in straight thinking and in 100 per cent Americanism. The old fashioned sort of history must be taught there, which emphasized the nobility and daring of our founding fathers and of the sacrifices they made to insure our freedom; not the newer, faddier sort which brilliantly tears down lofty ideals as being impractical.

Now let us realize that the general run of our school teachers are highly trained, patriotic, American men and women who would, of preference, teach the same common sense and the same Americanism that I have envisioned being taught in Liberty. Parents are fortunate in having such a fine body of experts to whom to entrust their youngsters.

Next week Mr. Beckman of Beckman's Funeral Home will comment on The Daily Mystery.

Kohl Elected President Of Moose Lodge

BURLINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Iowa Moose lodge tonight elected Leo Kohl of Iowa City, president for the coming year. Cedar Rapids won the 1941 convention by six votes over Iowa City.

Fred Bartz of Waterloo, was elected first vice president; Henry Mess of Clinton, second vice president, and Emil H. Hassenfratz of Burlington, third vice president.

Edward Meyer of Davenport, who was honored at tonight's banquet for 25 years of service as secretary-treasurer, was re-elected to that post.

read, "are too well known to deserve comment . . . Do not be confused by our politeness. We entertain no illusion about the consequences of our profession. We mean business, make no mistake about that—and we want results."

So the $100,000 demand was agreed to by the family as the De Tristans placed the life and safety of Little Marc above all other considerations and consequences.

Two-Sided Mind

Dr. Joseph Catton of San Francisco, noted psychiatrist, said the kidnaper's reference to his own "intelligence and enlightenment" and the apparent assurance with which he wrote, gave an impression he had a "two-sided" mind.

"If it turns out that that is the case," Dr. Catton said, "I believe the legal test of 'did this man know right from wrong?' is a much simpler and safer guide for society than any refined and scientific diagnostics of psychiatrists that would save such a diabolical monster."

Under California's "Little Lindbergh" law, the abductor of the child could be executed if the victim suffers bodily harm. If the victim is uninjured the sentence is life imprisonment without possibility of parole.

Louis S. Cates, president of Phelps Dodge Corp., vast copper company, and step-father of the Countess De Tristan, sent a communication to newspapers today saying "at any time there is information that can be given out, I shall promptly communicate with all of you."

Hands Off

"I want to make certain that we do nothing that will be contrary to the wishes of the man who holds our child," he wrote. "My statements will necessarily be limited in order to do nothing which might interfere with contacts by the man."

Sheriff James J. McGrath of San Mateo county, said "we are absolutely abiding by our promise to the family and we have withdrawn completely from the case."

Chief of Police C. M. Hirschey of Hillsborough said "we are pursuing a hands off policy. The first moment there is a real break it will be made public promptly."

He said he had no idea how the kidnaper might make contact with the family, whether by telephone, telegram or letter, but he speculated that a friend, possibly in San Francisco, might be used as an intermediary.

A Willkie For President Club Goes to Work

Organization of Iowa City's first junior Willkie for President club was announced yesterday as the 12 charter members of the group began work on campaigning for the republican presidential candidate. Three members of the club, formed of fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils at Lincoln school, are shown above working yesterday morning in the local republican headquarters in the Jefferson hotel. The mixing into gatherings and leading Willkie yells, creating enthusiasm for the candidate among other children and distributing the Willkie novelties from local headquarters. The president said yesterday that the members hope to erect a club house in the backyard of the Rate home on Lexington avenue. Regular meetings of the club would then be held in the house. The group was started about two weeks ago.

Continue Case Against Youths For Larceny

A case against two local youths accused of larceny of a motor vehicle was continued in district court here yesterday by Judge James P. Gaffney. The judge indicated that he would sentence a third youth involved in the case to Eldora immediately.

The youths allegedly drove the stolen car to Oklahoma from where they were returned by local authorities. Hearing had been set for yesterday morning in juvenile court following preliminary hearing several weeks ago.

The continued hearing will come up in three weeks, the judge said.

and east of London" and "airports and other war-essential targets in south and central England" were attacked by smaller raiding squadrons.

One wave of British night raiders were stopped approaching Berlin by way of the German bight, DNB said, and the other after penetrating western Germany as far as Hanover.

The high command acknowledged British bombardment of western German cities in which, it said, 13 civilians were killed, "numerous" others injured, several apartment houses destroyed and a church cemetery hit.

It placed the cost yesterday of British operations at 14 planes and said only one German plane was missing.

Summarizing recent exploits of three commerce-raiding German submarines, the high command said that they had sunk 14 merchantmen totaling 78,862 tons.

Informed sources, elaborating on the communique, said British raiders dropped eight explosive and 40 incendiary bombs which struck residences in one hamlet in the Moselle region and that others fell in the Cologne-Aachen district.

with lulls of several minutes in between.

It appeared that the raiders, flying in small groups, first attacked western, southwestern and southern suburbs and later penetrated to the central area.

Brief Raid

Up to evening the London sirens had screamed but once, and that for a brief raid. Bombs fell in east London and it was officially announced that there were "some casualties." An "industrial building" was hit.

Most of the day's damage, however, appeared to have occurred in southeast England. At least two towns in that area were bombed and the fragments of nazi explosives fell over several districts.

The major, and unsuccessful, daytime German attack was launched over Kent, through a heavy mist and rain, by squadrons of warplanes. They met a chill at some length in support of his charge that the administration was at least partially responsible for the European war. Churchill's remarks, made three years ago, criticized the administration's domestic economic policies as adversely affecting the European democracies and "leading the world back into the trough of depression."

One Way

"There is one way above all others," Willkie quoted from Churchill, "in which the United States can aid the European democracies. Let her regain and maintain her normal prosperity. A prosperous United States exports, directly and indirectly, an immense beneficial force upon world affairs. A United States thrown into financial and economic collapse spreads evil far and wide, and weakens France and England just at the time when they have most need to be strong. The quarrel in which President Roosevelt has become involved with wealth and business may produce results profoundly harmful to ideals which to him and his people are dear."

The candidate said it was an "amazing theory" to believe that the president was a "man of wisdom in whom lies the hope of the democratic world," and added that Americans now "must show a united front to the world."

Play Politics

"It would be unforgivable to play politics with an international crisis," he said. "I was shocked therefore when the candidate for vice president on the democratic party proceeded to do that very thing."

Willkie said Henry A. Wallace "began travelling up and down the state of Illinois using the name of Adolf Hitler to get votes for the democratic party" by seeking "to identify the republican party with the word 'appeasement'—a word inherited from the Munich conference of 1938, which Mr. Roosevelt himself had done so much to bring about."

Although Willkie frequently has discussed foreign policy in the past, tonight's talk was the first major address devoted largely to that subject.

Rowe and Tigers Whip Cleveland Again, 5-0

Detroit Star's 5-Hit Pitching Gives Tigers Two-Game Lead

Victors Assume Commanding Place In League Race

By Dale Stafford
 DETROIT, Sept. 21 (AP)—Lynwood Thomas Rowe, baseball's story-book pitcher, wrote another chapter today in one of the game's greatest comeback sagas.

The Arkansas Express of old Rowe, stifled the Cleveland Indians with a meager five hits as he pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 5 to 0 victory that gave them a commanding two-game edge in the current crucial series with the Tribe and the same margin on top of the American league standings.

16th Win for Rowe
 The win, 16th of the season as compared to only three defeats for Rowe, left the Tigers in the most dominating position they have enjoyed all year long in their circuit's most topsy-turvy pennant race in 30 years.

Rowe was the show today and the ovation he received from the crowd of 42,320 as he strode off the diamond a winner was something to be remembered.

Not only did the six foot-four and one-half inch giant muffle the bats of the Indians when his meant runs but he contributed a run-scoring single to the attack that wrecked Cleveland's hopes.

In only one inning was Rowe in trouble. That was the seventh when two singles and a walk filled the bases with two men out. The Tigers were ahead, 4 to 0.

Up to the plate as a pinch hitter strode Odell Hale, Rowe's fellow townsman from Eldorado, Ark., who has been batting against Lyn since boyhood. But Hale struck out and there died Cleveland's last and only real threat, Rowe pitching to only six batters in the last two innings.

Always in Headlines
 In days good and evil, Rowe has never been out of the headlines. He came to the Tigers in 1933 as "Schoolboy" Rowe, a boy not yet of voting age with a blazing fast ball and a devastating curve.

In 1934, 1935 and 1936 Rowe won a grand total of 62 games, Detroit took two pennants and Lyn was the toast of Detroit.

Then came a bad arm and the evil days and no pitcher probably tasted disappointment more bitter than Rowe's. Two years ago he was sent back to the Texas league in the hope that the sun might heal his ailing wing. Last year he enjoyed a fair season and this year, combining cunning with the resources still at his command, he has been a sensation.

For the first four innings today the game was almost a replica of yesterday's except that Rowe pitched better than did Louis (Buck) Newsom. Al Milnar, Cleveland southpaw, held Detroit to a couple of singles and a triple in this span.

The triple came in the fourth inning from the bat of Frank Higgins and because of it the Indians may not have catcher Rollie Hemsley for the rest of the season. With two men out and the bases empty, Higgins lined to center and Roy Weatherly tried for a diving catch. The ball went by Weatherly and was finally retrieved by Ben Chapman who threw to Ray Mack.

The latter's relay to the plate caught Higgins but the Tiger third sacker bowled Hemsley over. Rollie left the game in the next inning and was taken to a hospital where doctors said he had a possible rib fracture.

The lower half of the Tiger batting order, inoperative of late, went to work in the next inning and produced two runs which would have been sufficient in view of Rowe's fine pitching.

Fox Starts Landslide
 Pete Fox, who belted a couple of doubles and a single, opened with a two-bagger. He reached third as George Tebbetts rolled out. Rowe then singled to center, scoring Fox. A surprise bunt single by Dick Bartell caught the Indians unawares and third baseman Ken Keltner heaved the ball into right field, Rowe reaching third and Bartell second. Rowe then scored, after the catch of Barney McCosky's long fly. Charley Gehring got an infield hit but Bartell was thrown out after overrunning third on the play.

The lower half of the Detroit lineup produced again in the sixth with the assistance of another error, this one by Chapman. With one out Rudy York walked. He was forced by Higgins. Fox then doubled to center, scoring Higgins. Tebbetts slammed a single to short left and the ball went through Chapman's legs, Fox coming in. Rowe then fanned.

Millard Howell, a rookie right-hander, relieved Milnar after the Cleveland seventh and Detroit immediately pounded him for a run on a double to left by Gehring and Greenburg's single to

DETROIT LEADS BUT FOES STILL AFTER PENNANT

The Pennant Race at a Glance BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even the Cleveland Indians are about ready to admit that the Detroit Tigers will be worthy wearers of the American league championship crown.

The Injuns ought to be convinced after two straight lickings in their crucial series. The second defeat yesterday (Saturday) by 5-0 on Schoolboy Rowe's five hit pitching performance, put the Tigers in a position that makes the Tribe's pennant hopes all but hopeless.

However, the teams still have four games left to play with each other, so the race isn't clearly over yet.

The New York Yankees, still hoping that they may win their fifth straight pennant, clipped the Boston Red Sox 5-4 to stay 4 1/2 games out of first place—and 2 1/2 out of second.

Kentucky Triumphs
 LEXINGTON, Ky., (AP)—The University of Kentucky uncorked a point-a-minute attack yesterday to wallop Baldwin-Wallace college, 59 to 7, in the season opener. The game was played in 96-degree temperature.

In the series final tomorrow Bridges is due to pitch for Detroit. Bobby Feller was originally scheduled for the assignment for Cleveland but there was some doubt tonight as to whether he would pitch in view of his heavy work of late and his impotence against the Tigers all season.

After tomorrow's game, the Tigers will take a day off and then play the Chicago White Sox a pair of games. Cleveland will be playing the St. Louis Browns at the same time.

The Tigers and Indians end the season with a three-game series opening at Cleveland next Friday.

Today's victory gave Detroit a 10 to 8 edge in its games against the Tribesmen this year.

 By OSCAR HARGRAVE

From the Mail Box:
 A World's Series reminder from the Cincinnati Reds is a batch of Cincinnati publicity. We can expect the American league entry's contribution, by the present standing of the race, about the time the season ends.

A hopeful sign to those who want a new American league team in the series is Detroit's two victories over Cleveland. The Tigers and Indians still have four battles ahead between themselves, but if one crumbles, the other will probably roll in ahead of the Yanks in easy style. Cleveland, it appears, might be cracking.

From Wisconsin publicity, we gather that Len Seelinger is a comer in the football season just ahead. Sellinger, a sophomore from Great Falls, Mont., is passing, kicking and running from a left halfback spot and doing all three well. Bob Baumann, an end, is another Wisconsin sophomore who may be great. Baumann has been dropping back to punt in early sessions up there and is rated as one of the squad's best kickers.

Purdue expects big things of its Capt. Dave Rankin, all-American end, and Mike Byelene, the diminutive remnant of the famous "Three Bees" combination, providing the sophomore help comes through. Byelene, last year, looked like the dangerous runner of the Boilermaker backfield.

Northwestern is booming Red Hahnenstein of late. It might be that he, instead of Bill DeCorrevont, will spark the Wildcats from the left halfback spot. DeCorrevont is apt to be a bit handicapped by his appendicitis operation of last summer.

A reason for wonderment might be the experts' guesses about several top ranking football squads and their chances of internal unrest. The puzzle is, "Are team squabbles becoming more numerous, or did the Northwestern case of last year make the experts 'Dissension Conscious'?"

Examples, besides the historic "DeCorrevont — Northwestern" and "Oscar Vitt — Cleveland" earthquakes in team spirit, are turning up regularly. Football experts have already mentioned possibilities of blow-ups at Michigan, where Tom Harmon and crew have the mechanical potentialities for a national championship, at highly rated Ohio State and, again, at Northwestern.

Hottest Team In League Browns Nip Chisox For Ninth Victory In Last 10 Games

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21 (AP)—The hottest team in the American league is the Detroit Tigers, but almost unnoticed in sixth place is another team on a winning streak—the lowly Browns.

Getting two-hit pitching from Vernon Kennedy, the Browns nosed out the Chicago White Sox today, 3 to 2, for their fourth victory in a row and the ninth in their last 10 games.

The two White Sox hits, both in the fourth inning, were Joe Kuhel's 26th home run and Larry Rosenthal's triple, which drove in Luke Appling, who had walked. Kennedy issued seven passes.

Coe Gridders Whip Monmouth

CEDAR RAPIDS, Sept. 21 (AP)—With sophomores carrying the load most of the way, Coe opened its Midwest conference football season here today with an 18-6 victory over Monmouth. The game was played in blistering heat, so intense the rival coaches agreed to 12 minute quarters with six time out periods for each team.

Iowa Football Squad In Another Scrimmage

Cyclones, Heat Bother Luther

Iowa State Takes Opener by Downing Norsemen Under Broiling Sun, 27-0

AMES, Sept. 21 (AP)—Two Iowa State football teams, alternating at the quarters, combined their strength to roll over Luther here today 27 to 0 in the opening game of the 1940 season for both teams.

The players suffered visibly from a broiling sun as both coaches kept reinforcements streaming onto the field.

In addition to Coach Jim Yeager's two-team strategy, spectators saw for the first time in two seasons a passing attack that brought back memories of Everett Kischer as Quarterback Larry Owens uncorked an aerial offense in the final period that baffled the Norsemen.

Iowa State racked up its first counter in the opening period when Doug Graves, end, sliced through the Luther line to block a punt, snag it out of the air and race 45 yards for the touchdown.

Bill Lechtenberg, fullback, set up the second touchdown a few minutes later by slashing off tackle to the Luther six-yard line, then tossing a lateral to Don Griswold, halfback, who went across.

From then on it was all Iowa State. Royal Lohry, a sophomore, substituting for Owens, crashed over in the second period for the third Cyclone marker. Following up Owens sensational passing attack in the fourth quarter, Griswold shot across to add the final Cyclone tally.

Backed deep into their own territory most of the game, the several Luther team staved off several other Cyclone touchdown threats through sheer stubborn resistance.

Luther's only chance to score came in the third quarter when Hillman, end, recovered an Iowa State fumble on the Cyclone 28-yard line. Interference with the pass receiver put the ball on the 7-yard line, but four desperate Norse passes failed.

Lashbrook, Luther quarterback, exhibited a brand of tricky running that kept the Cyclones on their toes to stop him.

Hawks Work On Passing

Youel, Tom Farmer Show Improvement In Aerial Game

Coach Eddie Anderson put the emphasis on the passing attack yesterday as the Iowa football squad breezed through its second consecutive scrimmage session yesterday, ending the second week of 1940 fall practice.

Shifts in Lineup
 Apparently well pleased with the progress of his sophomores, Anderson continued to shift backs and linemen on both the first and second evenings.

Dick Breunier took care of the signal calling through the entire afternoon drill. Al Coupee, absent from the practice, was being treated for a nose infection. Jim Youel, left halfback; Ray Murphy, fullback; and Bill Gallagher, right half, rounded out the first string quartet.

Passing in yesterday's drill showed considerable improvement from previous sessions and Youel and Tom Farmer were connecting consistently on their throws. Another feature of the work was the work of the two right halfbacks, Gallagher and Art Johnson, sophomore who has been working as a fullback.

Diehl at Center
 Bill Diehl, for the first time this fall, occupied the pivot post on the varsity, while Wilford Burkett continued to work at right end in place of John Maher, who worked on the third team.

Most of the morning session was taken up with signal drill, with the same sort of work being given the gridders in the afternoon until the scrimmage.

Anderson, pleased at the lack of casualties in the two days of contact work, said he thought the team was "Coming along all right."

Tar Heels Win Opener
 CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Sept. 21 (AP)—North Carolina's Tar Heels ran wild to whip Appalachian 56 to 6 in the season's football opener today. A crowd of 24,000 including some 18,000 high school seniors as guests saw the game start with the temperature above 90. The hefty Appalachian men played North Carolina's starting eleven to a standstill until 11 fresh Tar Heels entered the game as the second period opened. From then on the Tar Heels had things their own way.

Pirates, Reds Break Even; Walters Wins

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Pirates halted an 11-game winning streak of the National league champion Cincinnati Reds today by battling to an 8-7 triumph in the 10-inning nightcap of a doubleheader. The Reds copped the opener 8-1.

Bucky Walters handcuffed the Bucs with five hits in the initial fray to score his 21st victory against nine defeats this season. The champions nicked four Buc hurriers for a dozen safeties.

Little Deb Garms, almost certain to claim the 1940 National league batting crown, singled in the tenth of the second game with the bases loaded to give the Pirates their third win over the Reds this year. It was Garms' fifth hit of the game.

Yankees Nose Out Boston To Stay in Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—The New York Yankees stayed within shouting distance of the Detroit Tigers and the Cleveland Indians today by nosing out the Boston Red Sox, 5-4 behind the 12-hit pitching of Ernie Bonham, their sensational rookie.

Bonham's seventh victory was not won until the ninth when Red Rolfe tripled and went home on Buddy Rosar's single.

Stan Spence, pinch hitting with two out in the Sox half of the ninth, hit a homer to tie the score. Two of the biggest Yankee blows were homers by George Selkirk—his 17th—and Joe Gordon—his 28th.

At Last! Giants Win a Game; Whip Bees, 3-1

BOSTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—For the first time since Sept. 9 the Giants won a ball game today.

Their 3-1 victory over the Boston Bees put to an end the longest losing streak of the National league season—11 straight games.

In a duel between Bill Posedel and Harry Gumbert the Giants broke the scoreless spell in the seventh when Joe Moore doubled, took third on Babe Young's single and scored on Mel Ott's long fly.

Frank Demaree singled in the ninth, scoring Ott who had walked, and Harry Danning who had doubled, for a 3-0 lead.

Gumbert had a three hit shut-out until the ninth when Priebisch walked, took second on an infield out and scored on West's double.

When Ross walked, Lynn replaced Gumbert and walked Miller, filling the bases—but Gene Moore flied to Joe Moore to end the game.

Phils Humble Dodgers, 4-2

BROOKLYN, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, trying desperately to assure themselves of a second place berth, stumbled today and lost to the Phils, 4-2, as Kirby Higbe registered his 14th victory of the season.

Luke Hamlin, who started for the Dodgers, was knocked off the mound in the sixth, in which the Phillies scored their last two deciding runs. Their first came on Johnny Rizzo's 24th homer of the year.

The paid attendance was 6,227 but also present were 14,291 women, and among the spectators while such old time Dodgers as Zack Wheat, Sherry Smith, Jimmy Johnston and Nap Rucker.

Rookie Bonham Goes 12-Inning Route For A 5 to 5 Triumph

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—The New York Yankees stayed within shouting distance of the Detroit Tigers and the Cleveland Indians today by nosing out the Boston Red Sox, 5-4 behind the 12-hit pitching of Ernie Bonham, their sensational rookie.

Bonham's seventh victory was not won until the ninth when Red Rolfe tripled and went home on Buddy Rosar's single.

Stan Spence, pinch hitting with two out in the Sox half of the ninth, hit a homer to tie the score. Two of the biggest Yankee blows were homers by George Selkirk—his 17th—and Joe Gordon—his 28th.

End Wins, 5-3
 SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, (AP)—The End, Okla., baseball team, winner of the recent national semi-pro baseball congress tournament in the United States, defeated Puerto Rico's semi-pro champions, 5 to 3, yesterday in the first game of their "world series."
