They Flayed President Roosevelt ...

Governor George Wilson gave Congressman Tom Martin a hearty welcome as the latter returned to his home town last night to open his campaign for reelection to the house of representatives. Martin lauded Iowa City for its alertness in national defense, congratulating its citizens for securing at the local airport one of the two stopping places in the middle west for transcontinental army planes. The other is located in St. Joseph, Missouri.

Left to right: K. M. Dunlap, secretary to Martin; R. M. Work, North Liberty, chairman of farm activities; Governor Wilson; Tom Martin and Earl Webster, chairman of the county board of supervisors, pictured as the local officials congratulated visiting executives. Wilson was guest of honor at a GOP dinner given at the Jefferson hotel at 6:15. Martin, who flew from Washington last night to attend the meeting, is a member of the house military affairs committee, and has visited every armament plant and munitions factory in the United States during the past few months.

Where Were They "Where were Wallace and Franklin Roosevelt during the last war?" he inquired. According to latest figures, Martin said, we now have 300 first line combat planes, 59 bombers, some interceptors and a few trainers. Despite the fact that official Washington has the jitters, he continued, we were not prepared for war in 1939 when the special session of congress was called. "Still," he said, "the military affairs committee which heads all national defense measures was not allowed to convene."

Wilson also attacked the administration, but mainly dealt with state issues. He reviewed for the huge audience the record that the present state government heads have made, in consolidation, the open door policy and the stabilizing of taxes. Wilson said that during his administration, 1,000 state employees have been taken from the payrolls, saving the state over $1,250,000 a year. The group of GOP followers gathered at the community building following a dinner at the Jefferson hotel at which Governor Wilson was the guest of honor.

Samuel B. Pettengill Addresses 27th Annual Conference on Administration, Supervision

Declares America's Last Hope Lies In Individual Freedom

BY ARTHUR PADDOCK America must preserve the rights of constitutional government for the use of posterity in the face of Caesar's possible return right here at home, Samuel B. Pettengill, the "Gentleman from Indiana," told an audience of 200 last night in Macbride hall. Speaking before the 27th annual conference on administration and supervision, sponsored by the college of education and extension division, Pettengill patterned his address after the remarks of Abraham Lincoln in his second message to congress in 1864: "We can meanly lose of nobly gain this last best hope of earth."

Reference was here made to his doctrine, later advanced, that America's last hope lies in the preservation of a government in which the individual exists as a free man, and in facing the issue of the day: "whether all men shall remain free or become pawns of the state." Caesar's Return There is an appearance of success of Caesar's return in the national capital, the speaker charged, "but it is not being paid for. We are beginning to think it is a virtue to spend." "This effort of Caesar to take care of everybody has resulted in the weakening of responsibility of the individual to himself, his wife and family, his aged parents and his community," Pettengill said. He drew analogies from several acts of congress to point out his position. The Guffey Coal (See PETTENGILL, Page 8)

Willkie's Labor Policy Calls For Change of Administration in NLRB

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3 (AP)—Appearing for the first time on a campaign platform with his running mate, Senator Charles L. McNary, Wendell L. Willkie, speaking under floodlights in Forbes field, called tonight for legislation to change the administration of the Wagner labor relations act. Before a crowd estimated by police at 30,000, Willkie made a major labor address after McNary had introduced him with the statement: "Our crusade to redeem America from New Deal doubt and defeat is united—united as to candidates, as to party and to that great body of citizens who, placing country above party, march with us on our historic mission."

Willkie, looking fresh after a four-hour trip through the smoky steel mill sections of Allegheny county, declared that he had been an early advocate of the national labor relations act and that he would continue to support it. "I hate starvation wages," he said. "I hate the sweat shops. I despise any man who profits unjustly by those who labor. Against such a man I will wield the big stick of Theodore Roosevelt." He urged that management and labor voluntarily write into their contracts a provision for "a cooling off period—a delay before using their economic weapons." He said that just as labor must be freed "from coercion by unscrupulous employers, so must you be freed from the control of any crooked racketeers who have found their way into the labor movement."

British-Soviet Trade Pact

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS LONDON, Oct. 3 — Negotiations for a trade agreement between Britain and Russia, whom the British regard as the "great outsider" among the European powers since the signing of the German-Italian-Japanese pact, are likely to be resumed shortly, semi-official circles intimated tonight. Ivan Maisky, Russian ambassador, conferred today with R. A. Butler, under secretary for foreign affairs, on what authoritative quarters said was "The general political situation." A Russian trade delegation has been in London for many weeks, and there have been sporadic efforts to negotiate a trade pact. Now that Japan is allied with the axis powers, it is regarded as likely that concerted attempts will be made both in London and Moscow to reach some agreement. One of the major obstacles to an agreement was Britain's seizure of the gold resources of the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, which voted union with Russia, and the Soviet's seizure of British assets in those countries. It is expected that an agreement on this question will be made first. Britain is in a position to supply Russia with rubber, tin and many other products needed by the Soviets and which could be delivered without interference from the axis powers. In return Russia might trade lumber—the whole deal on a barter basis.

FUEHRER, DUCE TO MEET Congressman Martin Lambasts Roosevelt

Former French Leaders to Go On Trial Soon

VICHY, France, Oct. 3 (AP)—The supreme court at Riom formally committed former Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin, former Premier Edouard Daladier and former Air Minister Guy La Chambre to trial today for responsibility in France's "war guilt" case. The government, it was announced, also will present a demand for the formal commitment of others of those now held in administrative custody. They include former Premiers Leon Blum and Paul Reynaud, and former Minister of the Interior Georges Mandel. Jean Zay, one-time minister of education, will be tried by court martial tomorrow at Clermont-Ferrand on charges of desertion from the army.

Talks at Rally In Community Building Here

Declains President's Move in Instructing Congress to Recess

By HILARY SADLER Iowa City's United States Congressman Tom Martin turned poet, briefly, at a republican rally, held at the Iowa City community building last night, flayed President Roosevelt for the "present lack of national defense" and said: "Untrained, unprepared... war shall we face." Martin's speech was a lashing protest of the president's demand last summer that congress adjourn since there was not work for it to do. "Knowing," the congressman added, "that he was about to dramatically call a special session of the lawmakers."

Capacity Crowd Martin spoke to a capacity crowd in the Iowa City community building at 9:30 p.m. His appearance here, local leaders commented, was the highlight of the republican party campaign in Johnson county. The military affairs committee, Martin said, was not allowed by executive order to meet a year ago last August while congress was debating the repeal of the arms embargo, although it will now take two years to tool up adequate national defense material for us to send our boys into the trenches. "We are not prepared for war," he declared. Irked at Wallace's statement that the republicans were a war party, the congressman reminded the opposition that there are seven republican representatives in congress from Iowa and that six of them are veterans of the World war.

Where Were They "Where were Wallace and Franklin Roosevelt during the last war?" he inquired. According to latest figures, Martin said, we now have 300 first line combat planes, 59 bombers, some interceptors and a few trainers. Despite the fact that official Washington has the jitters, he continued, we were not prepared for war in 1939 when the special session of congress was called. Congress Grants $1,482,000,000 For Conscription, Other Purposes

Defense Bill Pushed Through Without Debate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—The session's last big defense appropriation bill—$1,482,000,000 for conscription and other military purposes—received final congressional approval today with a minimum of discussion and opposition. Quickly the measure slipped through the senate. A little later the house unexpectedly accepted a $12,700,000 increase written into the measure by the senate. That action made the bill ready for President Roosevelt's signature, without the usual formality of resolving house-senate differences "in conference."

The bill ran the total of appropriations and authorizations for defense at this session of congress up to $12,149,532,516, the house appropriations committee said. The developments came a few hours after White House aides had announced that President Roosevelt would tell the story of the defense program in a "straight narrative," and "non-political" speech to be broadcast at 8 p.m. central standard time, on October 12 from a private train at Dayton, Ohio. Meanwhile, it was learned that the great conscription lottery was scheduled for some day between Oct. 31 and 26, that the army, drawing its lesson from Europe, was organizing the first battalion of American parachute troops. In another action, the senate passed legislation authorizing the expenditure of $150,000,000 for housing defense workers where such facilities are not now available. The measure now goes back to the house for action on amendments.

The senate also voted its approval of a $199,425,000 "civil functions" appropriation bill, containing money for training 700,000 national defense workers. The measure goes to the house next for action on senate amendments, including the elimination of an $80,000,000 item for the proposed construction of airports.

When John L. Lewis, Hillman and other CIO leaders endeavored unsuccessfully in 1938 to get congress to pass a "contractor blacklist" bill they proposed to deny government contracts to firms which did not accept labor board rulings. At that time, the war and navy departments opposed it on the grounds it would hamper national defense.

Justice Ruling Opens Way To Pact Denial

Labor Relations Board Findings Ruled Binding For Other Agencies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—An informal justice department ruling opened the way today for possible denial of defense contracts to firms which the labor board holds are violating the Wagner act. In response to a question from Sidney Hillman, labor member of the defense commission, Attorney General Jackson declared: "It seems too clear to admit of controversy that the findings of the national labor relations board that an employer is in violation of the national labor relations act are binding and conclusive upon other agencies of the executive branch of the government unless and until these findings are reversed by a court of competent jurisdiction."

Hillman had asked whether a court finding of violation of the law, after appeal from a decision of the labor board, was necessary before a government department should regard a firm as a violator. The question of whether other government agencies should be guided by a labor board finding of a Wagner act violation has been a subject of much controversy in the past. When John L. Lewis, Hillman and other CIO leaders endeavored unsuccessfully in 1938 to get congress to pass a "contractor blacklist" bill they proposed to deny government contracts to firms which did not accept labor board rulings. At that time, the war and navy departments opposed it on the grounds it would hamper national defense.

One small village near an ancient castle in southeast England was bombed during the night. Raiders were reported also over a southwest coast town and another in Wales. The quiet here was shared by a strange silence prevailing along the channel coast opposite Britain, where the RAF has carried out vicious nightly attacks on invasion ports. The air ministry said nevertheless night operations were "in progress as usual"—meaning apparently that inland targets were bearing the brunt of the night's foray. German warplanes moved unseen in the high haze above London all day, apparently losing their bombs by chance rather than calculation, and struck repeatedly at the industrial midlands in perhaps the heaviest series of daylight raids since the war began. Last night the sirens again lifted their chorus of warning, signaling the 27th consecutive nightly raid on the city.

RAF Bombs Italian Water Storage Centers CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 3 (AP)—The royal air force announced tonight that British bombers had damaged Italian water storage centers yesterday in a raid on Buqbuq in the western desert. An attack upon Mai Adaga in Italian East Africa left a big column of black smoke, it was added, and one Italian plane which participated in the counter-attack was seen spinning down, apparently out of control. One British bomber was acknowledged to have crashed in flames.

Whether negotiations with Spain over its role in the war would be a subject of the talks was not disclosed. The newspaper Tribuna said, however, that Serrano Suner might not leave Rome even tomorrow. He was in Germany when Joachim von Ribbentrop, the German foreign minister, started the recent series of axis consultations with Count Galeazzo Ciano, the Italian foreign minister, culminating in the German-Italian-Japanese alliance. Japan will attack Britain's great naval base at Singapore if the United States enters the European war or if the British refuse to accept expulsion from East Africa, Premier Mussolini's newspaper indicated today. Should all this happen, then Britain's ejection from India would become another aim of the Rome-Berlin axis in a general world war, the authoritative commentator Mario Appellus wrote in Il Popolo D'Italia of Milan. Britain was in no condition to face a third theater of war, Appellus added, with the Germans already laying air siege to the British Isles and the Italians attacking in Egypt.

Report Kraschel Seeks to Succeed Perkins as Secretary

DES MOINES, Oct. 3 (AP)—Iowa republican headquarters today said it had heard reports that Nelson G. Kraschel, former democratic governor of Iowa, has ambitions to succeed Frances Perkins as federal secretary of labor. GOP chairman Harry B. Swan said appointment of Kraschel as head of the speaker bureau of the Iowa committee for agriculture strengthened the reports and uncovered the "partisanship" of the committee.

Nazis Slacken London Raids

Suburbs Bombed, But Attack Fails To Damage Britain

LONDON, Oct. 4 (Friday) (AP)—Shielded by a low cloud bank and its usual anti-aircraft barrage, London early today and last night had one of its lightest night raids of the 27-day-old German blitz. German bombers twice gave up completely and left the metropolis alone during the hours they usually have hit the hardest. Some bombs, fell, however, before midnight in the northwest and southeast suburbs. In contrast to the nightly toll of casualties heretofore for 26 consecutive nights, there was not so much as a scratch reported up to an early hour this morning. One small village near an ancient castle in southeast England was bombed during the night. Raiders were reported also over a southwest coast town and another in Wales. The quiet here was shared by a strange silence prevailing along the channel coast opposite Britain, where the RAF has carried out vicious nightly attacks on invasion ports. The air ministry said nevertheless night operations were "in progress as usual"—meaning apparently that inland targets were bearing the brunt of the night's foray. German warplanes moved unseen in the high haze above London all day, apparently losing their bombs by chance rather than calculation, and struck repeatedly at the industrial midlands in perhaps the heaviest series of daylight raids since the war began. Last night the sirens again lifted their chorus of warning, signaling the 27th consecutive nightly raid on the city.

Hitler and Mussolini already have met once this year at the Brenner. They conferred there in a railroad car on March 18, at which time, it was generally understood, final plans were made for Italy's subsequent entrance into the war at a critical stage. (In Rome today, Virginia Gayda wrote in the authoritative fascist publication Il Giornale D'Italia that reports of disagreement between Germany and Italy over policies and the way the war is going were "British propaganda.") (The axis powers, he declared, are in full agreement and "satisfied" with what one another "has done and prepared.") ("It is only a matter now," he went on, "of coordinating political and military plans and actions still better. The two nations of the axis are not impatient to end the war soon.")

Caught by Two Wars

When Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, American minister to Norway, notified the state department in Washington last April that Norway had been invaded by Nazi raiders, her name became closely linked with news dispatches, well-known within a very short time to newspaper readers the nation over.

What most of us didn't realize is that Mrs. Harriman is 70 years old, and that she has led a life of public service squallied by few women in American history.

Mrs. Harriman comes to Iowa Oct. 10, to speak to a group at Ft. Dodge. She's campaigning for Mr. Roosevelt's reelection.

The U. S. minister has certain ties with the University of Iowa. Her private secretary in Oslo, Norway, before the Nazi invasion, was Elisabeth Halstein, the native Norwegian girl who attended the University of Iowa in 1938-39, and was a member of the staff of The Daily Iowan.

All of this has little to do with the fact that Mrs. Harriman has led a full life, and is still very much of the middle of it despite her 70 years.

She was aboard the S. S. American Legion on its recent perilous trip through submarine and mine infested waters. She founded the Colony club, arousing much criticism from moralists who declared, "a woman's home is her club."

She was a suffrage advocate and worked for the ballot for years. President Wilson appointed her (the only woman) to the federal industrial relations commission.

During the 1914-1918 war she was chairman of the commission of women in industry of the council on national defense. The war caught her in England, where she had just completed a study of labor conditions in England.

She's one of the few women who has been caught on the scene of two wars.

But through it all, Mrs. Harriman has expressed a zest for all experience. From the time she was a little girl, she has said repeatedly, "I am always happy."

That's a pretty good philosophy for one who has lived the life of Mrs. J. Borden Harriman. There ought to be more like her.

Serving America Well

We admit that we were among the first, back in the earliest days of the American preparedness program, to criticize the apparent attitude of industry toward national defense.

But probably the greatest single factor which seems to hold up the expanding program today is the enormity of the thing itself—not to mention the red tape of government procedure.

The program will go forward, in an Americanized sense, with this nation aware of the issues involved, united in its determination to prove democracy in a business-like way.

The ablest discussion of business relationships to the defense program, from the legitimate business point of view, which has come before us, is that of James H. McGraw Jr., president of McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., Inc.

His message, "Business Stands Against War," appeared in all McGraw-Hill industrial and business publications, reaching over a million readers.

And before 130,000,000 people it deserves a hearing.

Mr. McGraw presents the fundamentals for all of this arming nation—business men, professional men and laymen of every school. Here it is:

Let us take a clear-eyed look at this thing we call War.

War is a political tool for domination or suppression; a device of futility—unless it is waged in defense of our homes, our property or our rights—in the preservation of our liberty. War destroys everything it touches. So completely does it disrupt the order and progress of civilization that humanity falters.

"Dangerous Assumptions—"
Dangerously widespread amongst our people today is the assumption that our participation in the European War is inevitable. Some mistrust the temper and program of the federal government as likely to lead us into it; others fear that our sympathies will make us an easy prey to the propagandists; still others suspect that business and industry, in a blind greed for profits, may involve us in the conflict.

To give credence to such beliefs is to deny that we are normal individuals, endowed with intelligence and a will, or the ability, as a people, to profit by our own experience. In all human experience, death only is inevitable.

To say that industry and business want war or will encourage, directly or indirectly, our participation in the present war, is a vicious and deliberate lie.

"We Must Not Stand Aside—"

The millions of us who, since the World War twenty-five years ago, have devoted all our efforts and energies to creating and building an improving that which we know today as American Industry and Business, are convinced that the destiny of this country can be wrought only in peace. We cannot, and must not, stand aside and watch even the little progress we have made since that war sacrificed to the pestilence of another world conflict. We who are trying to build a lasting heritage for those who will follow us truly know that "there never was a good war or a bad peace."

"The Guiding Principle—"

Perhaps it is time to re-emphasize the three elements of our democratic faith, so simply stated by Abraham Lincoln, "that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth." Now, of all times, it will be wise to inform our political stewards that government by the people and for the people must be the guiding principle in what they do during the days to come, and that it is our will that in our country peace shall be preserved.

Only the grim and solitary courage of each of us, the determination to exert all our intelligence, all our individual influence in every way, can insure the preservation of peace for our country.

"The Most Effective Weapon—"

Preparedness we know to be the most effective preventive weapon against the threat of war. We must be certain, therefore, that we provide our air, land sea forces with the best in armaments and material, in adequate supply to maintain properly and impressively our national responsibilities and defense.

Most important is that we as individuals, thus inspired, band together to exert the full strength of industry and business in the maintenance of peace.

If we are to succeed, we must be forceful, we must be articulate. To that purpose we pledge ourselves and the resources of our publications. An expression from our readers will greatly assist in such a mobilization of industrial opinion. Together, in this critical time, we can serve America well!

A Man About MANHATTAN

The Man to Look Up If You Visit San Juan

By GEORGE TUCKER
SAN JUAN, P. R.—Thanks to Tom Ferris, former N. Y. newspaperman with whom I covered the Hauptmann trial. I have seen just about everything in this town that the time will allow. Knowing what to do and what not to do is his business. He represents this Island. In a way he is a sort of good will ambassador. Don't say I sent you, but when you get to San Juan, drop around to his office in the El Mundo bldg. and ask him where the best shops are. Ask him where you can find Enrique Ortega, director of the Institute of Tourism, or how you can get into one of Governor Leahy's press conferences. He'll know. He knows all these things.

With Tom today I sat in a little restaurant on a little crooked street and sipped essence of coffee. In Puerto Rico they give you just the essence of coffee. It is heavy, almost syrupy, as Turkish coffee is heavy with aroma and body. With it they serve hot milk. This is not the cafe au lait of New Orleans. It is the "essence" with milk of San Juan. Many people do not care for it. This is a pity. It has a richness of flavor as pungent as walnuts cracked before a winter's fire.

Later we went out to an old abandoned nightclub named La Conga which is now a factory where mahogany cigarette boxes, salad bowls, and book ends are made by hand. Some were in the natural mahogany, which closely resembles maple; others were stained. We saw a matched set of salad bowls destined for Marshall Fields in Chicago. The proprietor of this shop has many customers in the States. He gets his mahogany from Santa Domingo. His finished products are beautifully designed. The prices here are never more than half what they are in the states.

I have seen only one street car in San Juan, but it travels in a circle and always in the same direction. There is only one set of tracks. Yet people find it adequate. It covers the principal district of the city, which is quite a city at that. San Juan has a population of 140,000. The old city proper is an island. The newer developments sprawl along the mainland, showing modern skyscrapers with modern plumbing. One of these is the Miami apartments, where Ferris and his attractive wife (a former airline stewardess) occupy a penthouse. The harbor from this vantage point is a thing of beauty, and binoculars bring it right into your lap.

The Best All-Round Hollywood Director

BY ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — If they ever pass around a gold-plated door-step for the "best all-around" director in town my nominee is going to be Sam Wood.

A couple of years ago a fellow and I argued about Wood. The fellow said: "Wood? He hasn't anything. Just a guy who can make a good picture if he's got a good script and a good producer. Yeah, I know he made 'Goodbye, Mr. Chips.' How could anyone miss on that?"

Well, after "Chips" Sam made "Our Town," a picture not to be forgotten soon. And then he skipped over to something entirely different, "Rangers of Fortune," swashbuckling sagebrush comedy. He gave it distinction as entertainment, gave Fred MacMurray, Gilbert Roland and Albert Dekker a boost, launched the career of little Betty Brewer. When a director tackles three films as different as this trio, and does a superlative job of each, I still say he's got something.

Sam's been at it more than 22 years now, and variety is nothing new for him. He's done frank hokum, he's done comedy (including the Marx brothers), he's conquered in "artistic" fields as well.

So you needn't worry about what he'll do to "Kitty Foyle."

The Christopher Morley best-selling novel is in work now, with Ginger Rogers as Kitty and Dennis Morgan as Wyn Strafford. And Sam knows he has a problem: He has to "photograph the mind of a girl."

Morley told his story with Kitty's thoughts, her view of the events in her life from adolescence to maturity. The technique is fine on the printed page, if done by a writer who knows what he's doing, but transferring that to the screen is something else again.

Sam Wood is a stickler for retaining the "flavor" of a book entrusted to him.

"A good book," he says, "has a definite flavor. It's a crime against audiences to lose that flavor in the course of making the picture. When the flavor's lost, it's usually because people fall back on stock patterns and formulas, and then you see a great book transformed into an ordinary picture."

Wood is a stickler for perfection in each scene. The first, second, third "takes" may seem perfect to the observer, but to a good director the same "takes" may have flaws. He'll go on taking the scene until the flaws are out. Wood calls it "keeping the flavor."

"We're dealing in human moods," he explains, "and that's delicate stuff to handle. If it's not exactly right it's not convincing—and if it's not convincing it's no good. If you accept a scene with bugs in it, the willingness to accept it may mean the difference between a mediocre picture and a good one. You can't add up intangibles, as you can numbers, and depend on a correct answer. A scene has to have the right feel."

Sam Wood isn't an "arty" director. He dresses like a business man, and his only explanation for staying at the top in pictures for more than two decades, while many of his conferees have fallen out, is the "business-like attitude."

"A business man who doesn't keep his eye constantly on his business," he says, "can't make it pay. It's the same with a director. You've got to keep up with the parade."

News Behind THE NEWS

Cracks in the Axis Machinery of War

WASHINGTON — Even the thoroughly leak-proof censorship has failed to conceal the internal troubles of Hitler and Mussolini in their own countries and the occupied areas. Authorities here are aware of a far more widespread than the recent admission in Berlin that the Hitler regime had met with recalcitrance in Holland. Acts of sabotage are known to have occurred both in Belgium and occupied France. After the cutting of a cable in a certain French town, the mayor was imprisoned by the Nazi authorities for two weeks. He was released with the announcement that he would be recaptured and shot if another such act took place. The same method has been applied in all occupied territory.

While this situation is troublesome to Hitler, there is no valid information available yet suggesting that its scope is serious. Toughest internal spot in the axis is the Italian production machine. The slow progress of the Italian war in Egypt is confirmation of other indications that Mussolini has failed to get his people to make a sufficient war effort. Nazi agents for some months have been installed in all Italian factories to spur the cause. But the failure of Hitler to deliver easy termination of the war, first promised to Mussolini for August 15 and then for September 15, may yet develop into the most serious crack in the dictatorial war machine.

Since the start of the Sino-Japanese conflict in 1937, this government has bought $640,000,000 of Japanese gold and more than $15,000,000 of silver, ($7,500,000 the first 8 months of this year.)—all at premium prices that no one else would offer.

The sudden recent increases of these shipments leads authorities here to believe Japan is in a way preparing for war against us with our own money. By selling metals which she considers no longer useful for monetary purposes (her reserve stocks of gold have sunk below a paltry $150,000,000) she is enabled to build up credit in this country which she will probably use mainly to build up stores of certain kinds of oil and low grade gasoline.

ALIEN CONTROL HITS MEXICAN BORDER TRADE
CALEXICO, Calif. (AP)—Strict regulation of aliens is a headache to this American shopping center for a large Mexican trade.

Merchants said that when the visa system for visiting Mexicans was instituted July 1 business slumped 65 to 80 per cent. Federal officials have indicated that the old system of issuing "crossing cards" to some 15,000 Mexicans will be restored shortly.

JAPAN'S GOLD TO U. S.

Mr. Roosevelt's embargo against scrap iron may seriously hinder the Japanese war effort in China, but this government's purchases of gold and silver from Japan are simultaneously helping to finance the same war effort at an accelerated rate.

The tide of the precious metals, more precious to us apparently than to the Japanese, is rising high. Imports of gold from Japan ran to $6,163,481 the week ending September 25, the highest of any weekly period this year.

Silver shipments from Japan that week reached $873,349, the largest in six months. The silver is believed to be part of the loot which Japan seized in China, but the gold probably is entirely newly mined Japanese production. Japanese output is about $60,000,000 a year and we apparently have been getting all of it at an average of about $5,000,000 a month. Therefore, there is little possibility that the Germans have made use of their ally yet to foist off upon us the small amounts of gold they are presumed to have seized in their European conquests this past summer.

ALIEN CONTROL HITS MEXICAN BORDER TRADE
CALEXICO, Calif. (AP)—Strict regulation of aliens is a headache to this American shopping center for a large Mexican trade.

Merchants said that when the visa system for visiting Mexicans was instituted July 1 business slumped 65 to 80 per cent. Federal officials have indicated that the old system of issuing "crossing cards" to some 15,000 Mexicans will be restored shortly.

Township Clerks to Act as Registrars for Draft Registration

Draft Board Will Be Named To Aid Clerks

Approximately 5,000 In Johnson County Eligible to Register

County Auditor Ed Sulek yesterday announced that he has authorized Johnson county's 21 township clerks to act as chief registrars in their townships for the draft registration on Wednesday, Oct. 16.

He said that each clerk will appoint the draft board which will aid in the township. In the letters mailed to the township clerks yesterday, the auditor recommended that the township trustees be appointed as the board. Each township has three trustees and any additional registration board members needed will also be appointed by the township clerk.

Yesterday's action does not include registration of men in Iowa City or for the University of Iowa, the auditor said.

According to the country's first peace-time draft bill, all men between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive will be required to register for service on Oct. 16. From those registered, 400,000 will be chosen for a year's military training as the first draft.

The population of Johnson county is about 33,000 persons and the auditor said yesterday that it has been estimated that 15 per cent of the total population will qualify to register making nearly 5,000 in Johnson county outside of the University of Iowa.

Township clerks who were notified yesterday of the draft registration procedure are M. A. Stahl, Big Grove; Stanley Beranek, Cedar; Ralph Rogers, Clear Creek; Gus Hinrichs, East Lucas; R. D. Patsel, Fremont; Paul Kessles, Hardin; Joe A. Kasper, Graham; A. B. Catek, Jefferson; George Frus, Lincoln; Joe W. Mellicker, Liberty.

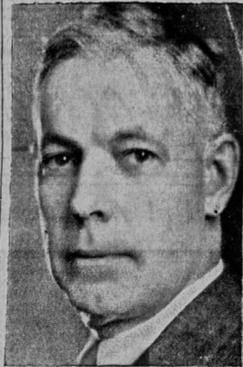

J. W. Neiderhiser, Madison; John Erusha, Monroe; Victor Shima, Newport; W. R. Dunn, Oxford; Joe Alt, Penn; William Fouchek, Pleasant Valley; Cecil Hughes, Sharon; Lee Douglas, Scott; Albert Hurt, Union; Albert McKay, Washington, and Fremont Isaacs, West Lucas.

The county auditor, through whose office all local draft arrangements will be made, said that plans for Iowa City and university registration and the boards for each will be announced within a few days.

The regular voting places throughout the county will be used as headquarters for the draft registration, he said, but it has not been determined where university students will register.

Helium, which once had a rarity value of $2,500 a cubic foot, now is being produced at less than 1 1/2 cents a cubic foot.

Named to Board

Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department, above, has been appointed to the board of Trustees of Student Publications, Inc., publishers of The Daily Iowan, Hawkeye and Frivol. Professor Baird replaces Dean Ewen M. MacEwen of the college of medicine, who has served on that body since 1919.

Johnson GOP Women Elect Officers Here

Mrs. V. A. Gunnette Selected as Head For Coming Year

A tea featuring the election of officers in the Johnson county women's republican group and the initiation of a membership drive was held recently in the main dining room of Jefferson Hotel. There were 75 women present.

Mrs. V. A. Gunnette was elected president; Mrs. Harold Clearman of Oxford, first vice president; Mrs. J. C. Kessler, second vice president; Mrs. Rex Day, secretary, and Susie Marner, treasurer. Mrs. S. C. Snider of West Liberty, vice chairman of the first district; Mrs. Frances Hensworth of Waterloo, state president of the national federation of republican women's clubs; Mrs. Lenora Holstein of Burlington, organizer for Iowa of the national federation of women's republican clubs; Martha McClure of Mt. Pleasant, member of the national republican committee; Mrs. Thomas E. Martin of Iowa City and Mrs. Beale of Waterloo talked to the gathered women.

The group voted to affiliate permanently with the national federation of republican women's clubs. The Cedar county women's group which sent a delegation to the tea, invited the group to attend a tea to be held in the West Branch town hall at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. George Hunter presided at the meeting.

Make Plans For Student Registration

Selective Service Officials Ask For S. U. I. Student List

Iowa selective service authorities announced in Des Moines yesterday that they are asking all colleges in Iowa to estimate the number of male students between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive in preparation for the Oct. 16 registration. The Associated Press reported last night.

The colleges will register all eligible students who are not bona fide residents of the counties in which the institutions are located, service heads said.

The notification letter, sent out under the signature of Gov. George A. Wilson, urged college officials to contact county auditors "and arrange for the necessary facilities to attend to the registration of all absentees who are attending your institution."

Local students, the communication said, will register "in their local precincts."

County Auditor Ed Sulek said yesterday that plans are now being made for registration of University of Iowa students. A special draft board will be appointed for the work and a site for the work will soon be announced.

The auditor yesterday announced preliminary plans for registration in Johnson county outside of Iowa City and the university.

Loan Company Plans Opening

A. A. Welt, secretary of First Savings and Loan association, announced today that the formal opening of the institution's new three-story building, Clinton and College, will take place in two or three weeks.

He announced that five bins were taken to Lone Tree, two each to North Liberty and Oxford and one each to Hills, Solon and Swisher.

Each of these bins has a capacity of 2,750 bushels of shell corn. They are filled with corn taken by the government under the ever-normal granary program of the Commodity Credit corporation.

Mr. Raim said that between shelled corn now stored in bins in the county and corn yet in farmers' cribs, there are about 850,000 bushels of corn sealed in Johnson county alone.

Comparatively, this is in excess of most counties in this section of the state, but not large compared to counties in the northwestern part of the state, the county chairman said.

The mission of San Geronimo was established at Taos, N. M., about 1600. It was destroyed in an Indian revolt in 1854.

Pennsylvania State College granted 354 advanced degrees in 1940, a gain of 56 over the record set in 1939.

Confer on Highway Paving Project

Storage Bins Received Here

Government Corn To Be Stored in Bins Throughout County

Joe G. Raim, Johnson county AAA chairman, said yesterday that the 16 corn storage bins received here this week have been distributed and will soon be set up and filled with corn.

He announced that five bins were taken to Lone Tree, two each to North Liberty and Oxford and one each to Hills, Solon and Swisher.

Each of these bins has a capacity of 2,750 bushels of shell corn. They are filled with corn taken by the government under the ever-normal granary program of the Commodity Credit corporation.

Albert Schmidt To Be Buried This Afternoon

Private funeral service for Albert E. Schmidt, 41, 515 E. Davenport, who died yesterday in a local hospital after a six months illness, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Beckman's. Dr. E. E. Voigt will officiate.

Iowa City Sees National Guard Armored Cars

Iowa Citizens took their first look yesterday at how real armored cars of the United States army's national guard look when on the move in military procession.

The new scout machines, said to play a very effective part in actual warfare, detoured from highway No. 6 to pass through this city. They were enroute from Cleveland to Des Moines, Lieut. Col. Will J. Hayek said.

The block-long parade traversed Washington from Gilbert to Capitol, stopping to pose for newspaper photographers. The cars will be used by the mechanized squadron of the 113th cavalry, Iowa national guard.

Mercury Above Normal in City

Picnic weather continued for Iowa City and vicinity despite cloudy skies yesterday. Local climatological weather experts reported that the temperature rose to a 79 degree high and dropped to a 53 degree low.

A year ago, the temperatures were 75 and 48 degrees, respectively. The average high was 79 degrees and the average low 47 degrees.

52 Autos, 9 Trucks Registered During Month of September

Fifty-two auto licenses and nine truck registrations were issued during September by the automobile division at the courthouse, C. J. Shay, county treasurer, announced today. A report on the department's revenue for the month will be issued as soon as it is compiled.

Church Choir Has Meeting, 'Cootie Party'

Members of Westminster choir, First Presbyterian church, held a "get acquainted and cootie party" in the church basement immediately following regular rehearsal Wednesday night.

The affair was planned and conducted by newly-elected officers for the coming year, Ralph Coder, G. Habella, Mo., is president; Herbert Osincup, P4, Waverly, vice president; Mary Hollingsworth, A4, Winterset, secretary and treasurer; and Marjory Bickel, A1, Vinton, librarian.

Paul G. Preus, new choir director, reports the choir's prospects are good for a very successful year. He is working for an increase in the present enrollment of 60 members.

In preparation, Preus said, is the choir's elaborate singing program which it will present in connection with the church's 100th anniversary celebration.

Mrs. Slabough Died Yesterday

Sarah Slabough, 56, rural route three, died at 5:15 p.m. yesterday in Mercy hospital. She had been confined to the institution since Sept. 28 and suffered complications, attaches said. She leaves her husband, M. N. Slabough.

Women Demos Plan Reception

Excitement stirred yesterday in Johnson county democratic circles as the county democratic women prepared for a reception to be held at the Iowa City Community building at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Mrs. W. L. Bywater, chairman, announced that program speakers would include Mrs. Zoe Nabers, democratic candidate for first district representative in congress; Mrs. Judson H. Collier of Mumford, Texas, president of the Texas federation of women's clubs; and Mrs. Memo Spann, niece of the late William Bankhead, speaker of the house.

Mrs. Spann will relate incidents in the life of her uncle.

Police Chief Burns Issues Warning of 'Jalopie' Drive

Police Chief F. J. Burns issued a warning today that the department would soon begin a drive intended to cut down on student delinquency, loitering on the streets in the "wee" hours of the morning and the use of unsafe motor vehicles, commonly called jalopies.

All cars that prove to be unsafe on the streets will be confiscated and held by the police until the owner pays for both the tow-in charge and the repairs that officials deem necessary to put the car in suitable running condition. If the repairs are not paid for, the car will be sold at auction, Burns said.

Fifteen Cases Tried
Continuing their drive to enforce city parking regulations, the police court tried fifteen cases yesterday, thirteen of them over time parking charges.

Nick Elmore, 603 Tremont avenue, Davenport, a migrant arrested here before, was picked up on a charge of intoxication and fined $4 and $1 costs.

Bernard Miltner, Iowa City rural route five, was fined $1 on a double parking charge.

C. E. Loughery, 603 E. Market; Charles Gay, 506 S. Dodge; Mrs. William McLean, 413 Iowa avenue; L. R. Spencer, 1030 Bowers; Earl Crane, 1019 E. Burlington; Ellis Clifford, 414 Hillcrest; Lester Taylor, 1107 E. Bush, and Wayne Bishop, 216 1/2 E. Washington, were all fined $1 for overtime parking.

Cases Dismissed
The remaining parking cases, involving Dan Wilcox and Richard Phipps, Iowa City; Mrs. L. G. Walters, 115 1/2 S. Clinton; G. E. Montfort, 520 S. Clinton; and Lynn Gray, Rockwell City, were all dismissed with warning.

Local Pastor To Be Delegate

Reverend Ralph M. Krueger, pastor of the First English Lutheran church here, who was chosen as one of three Iowa representatives to the twelfth biennial convention of the United Lutheran church in America, will leave next Wednesday with his wife to attend the convention in Omaha.

Reverend Krueger was elected as a delegate at the meeting of the Iowa synod of the church held here last April. At the convention, he will serve on a special committee on the president's report.

A report on the church's protest to President Roosevelt against the appointment of Myron C. Taylor as ambassador to the Vatican will be given during the convention.

The convention will be of special significance due to the fact that this will mark the first time that it has ever been held west of the Mississippi.

More than 300 clerical and lay members of the church are expected to be present.

Discuss Paving Highway One

Chamber of Commerce Presents Road Plan To L. M. Eicher

Members of the Iowa City chamber of commerce committee on roads and Johnson county supervisors met at a luncheon yesterday in Jefferson hotel to discuss with L. M. Eicher, Iowa state highway commissioner, the possibility of paving state highway number one, southwest of town.

The meeting took several hours and was held purposely to present the case of highway improvement to the commissioner, Gordon Brown, secretary of the chamber, said. If plans for the job materialize, he added, the highway will be paved from Iowa City to the Washington county boundary line.

The distance to be paved, provided an arrangement can be reached, is approximately 15 miles. At present, the stretch is gravel surfaced.

On Sept. 16, a county delegation visited George A. Wilson, governor, to set a hearing date on the project.

Writes "as smooth as oil"

GUARANTEED for LIFE
by Parker's Blue Diamond

What's the use of being a quick-thinker if your pen won't work when your brain does?
A college professor found that this gets many a student down. So he invented a brand-new way of filling pens—a way that makes more room for ink INSIDE by dispensing with the customary rubber ink sac.

Parker spent 5 years to engineer this revolutionary principle to perfection—the "One-Hand" Filler—the Parker Vacuumatic—the largest selling pen in the world today.

A pen that holds nearly twice as much ink as our old style, and shows days ahead if it's running low, so it won't run dry. Whose lubricated 14 K Gold Point—non-brittle, extra resilient—is tipped with Osmidium so smooth and hard and dense that it won't wear scratchy as long as you live!

And its crowning glory is that streamlined Pearl and Jet style—laminated, Ring upon Ring, as shimmering as velvet—wholly smart, original and exclusive—winner of the Pen Beauty contest.

Go and see it and try it—don't make the mistake of writing "the hard way" throughout your college course and life's career.

Johnson County American Red Cross Chapter To Begin Work on Fifth Quota for Refugees

In filling its fifth quota of clothing destined to aid British war refugees, Johnson county chapter, American Red Cross announced today the enlistment of all available county women.

Organizers urged all local chapters to get underway with the work as soon as materials are provided by the government, purchased from its special congressional appropriation fund.

Thus far, materials for dresses, skirts, shirts, overalls, pajamas, convalescent robes and layettes have not been received and only a part of the yarn for sweaters, socks, beanies, scarfs and shawls is now on hand.

However, county chapter heads assured that as soon as the working materials were made up by the manufacturers, they would be sent to the individual chapters direct.

To date, four large quotas of much-needed clothing have been shipped abroad, 50 of the 350 men's, women's and children's sweaters have been completed and sent. One hundred more are now in the hands of the knitters, it was estimated, many of which are nearing completion.

Women working on the sweater quota are:

Mrs. Elmer Anderson, Eleanor Anderson, Mrs. M. H. Anderson, Mrs. M. E. Barnes, Charlotte Beiswanger, Florence Benson, Mrs. H. L. Eyer, Virginia Bezer, Corinne Bowe, Louise Bream, Naud E. Butler, Mary Carr, Helen Chamberlin, Mrs. Dora Chapman, Mrs. Chester W. Woods, Grace Yackey, Mrs. Arleen Zopf, Florence Zuber.

Working on the beanies quota, now completed and shipped, were Mrs. V. I. Capen, Mrs. T. W. Duffy, Mrs. William Holland, Jane Irish, Grace Kelly, Mrs. A. V. O'Brien, Edna B. Paté, Helene Pederson, Mrs. J. G. Sentinella and Laura Wieneke.

The quota of socks was completed under the workmanship of Mrs. Elmer Anderson, Mrs. H. L. Beze, Lenora Bohach, Helen Fox, Mrs. T. W. Duffy, Dorothy Hulme, Mrs. E. W. Lane, Mrs. S. M. Patcher, Mrs. F. H. Schmidt, Mrs. Alice Tiffany, Mrs. R. E. House, Edna B. Paté, Mrs. E. Y. Sangster, Mrs. H. D. Hoy, Mrs. E. J. Lewis, Mrs. G. W. Martin, Marie Condon, Mrs. R. E. McEvoy, Mrs. H. A. Mattill and Mrs. W. S. Sellars.

Knitting on the scarf order; now delayed awaiting the arrival of final instructions, are Mrs. A. V. O'Brien, Patricia Baldrige, Susan Funk and Patyie Ricketts.

Women's shawls, completed and shipped, were crocheted by Mrs. M. E. Barnes, Mrs. W. F. Boiler, Mrs. Antoinette Bohach, Lenora M. Bohach, Gladys Dane, Mrs. Fred Dvorsky, Mrs. W. H. Fox, Mildred Greer, Mrs. J. R. Hill, Mrs. Lillie H. Holmes, Jane Irish, Mrs. Jessie D. Kenyon, Mrs. L. O. Leonard, Mrs. M. C. Serup and Laura Wieneke.

Women of the local chapter, American Red Cross, worked from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m. yesterday. They knitted on special clothing for government hospitals of the United States. They will continue work on these garments, heads explained, until material to be used in refugee clothing arrives.

The local chapter has had a special request to make socks, beanies, bedside bags, property bags and cushion covers, leaders explained. The order will be filled as soon as possible along with more sweaters, yarn for which has been received and will be distributed among volunteer workers.

Mrs. R. E. McEvoy has volunteered to be at the sewing rooms from 1:30 to 4 p. m. each meeting to instruct persons learning to knit. She suggests that volunteers bring round number five needles and a pair of stocking needles, number five also.

Women at the meeting yesterday brought their own lunches and the chapter served free coffee.

U. W. A. Sponsors Annual Play Night in Women's Gym at 7:30 Tonight

Entertainment For New Men Will Be Given

New men on the campus will be entertained by university women at games and dancing tonight. Freshman and transfer men and women will attend the University Women's association's annual play night from 7:30 to 10 o'clock in the women's gymnasium.

Admission to the event will be by identification cards. Deck tennis and darts will be offered in the mirror room of the building, and shuffleboard will be played on the balcony. Kathryn Hepperle, A4 of Rockwell City will be in charge of these games.

Volley ball enthusiasts will gather in the small gymnasium, under the direction of Enid Ellison, A2 of Webster Grove, Mo. Ping-pong will also be under the supervision of Miss Ellison in the correction gymnasium.

Mixer Dances
Several mixer dances are planned during the social dancing with Bill Simpson and his orchestra furnishing the music. Louise Seeburger, C4 of Des Moines, is chairman of the central committee for the play night. Assisting are Miss Hepperle; Miss Ellison, Virginia Padovan, C4 of Numa; Jessie Lou King, J4 of Adel, and Mary Stevenson, A2 of Davenport.

J. E. Hansen to Address Conference Tonight

Visual Aids To Be Shown To Leaders

Visual Instruction Will Be Discussed By Visiting Educators

"Visual Aids as Curricular Materials" will be discussed by J. E. Hansen, chief of the bureau of visual instruction at the University of Wisconsin, at the opening session of the first visual instruction conference here tonight.

Hansen will speak in Macbride hall auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Prof. Bruce Mahan, director of the extension division here, will preside.

A leader in the field of visual education in this country, Hansen is past president of the department of visual instruction of the National Education association.

Motion Pictures
A preview of new educational motion pictures will be shown following Hansen's speech tonight. The conference is open to the general public.

The visual instruction conference has been planned to follow the administration and supervision conference, with programs aimed to interest the visiting educators.

Tomorrow's session of the visual instruction conference will be held in the senate chamber of Old Capitol, rather than in Macbride hall auditorium, as previously announced.

A special breakfast-meeting has been planned at Iowa Union for 8 a. m. tomorrow, with Lee W. Cochran, supervisor of the local visual instruction department, presiding. Persons expecting to attend the breakfast-meeting are asked to make reservations at the registration desk, Old Capitol.

Senate Chamber
Saturday's session in the senate chamber, will begin at 9:30 a. m., with Harry L. Johnson, executive assistant of the extension division here, presiding.

Speakers on tomorrow's program will discuss the use of visual aids in education, as effective in elementary grades through college.

Of special interest to the general public will be the premiere showing of the new 16mm double-system sound recording motion picture equipment, recently purchased by the local department. The demonstration is scheduled for 11:40 a. m. tomorrow in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

For the first time in the history of the department, sound educational films will be produced here. All films will be available for use in Iowa's schools, officials announce.

Conference members attending the Iowa-South Dakota game are invited to attend a clinic on "How Color Motion Picture Films of Football Are Made." Cochran and Vernon Putnam of the local department will present the clinic.

Hostesses were Mrs. Russell Archer and Mrs. V. J. Palmer.

State Business Records Gain National Defense Program Gives Stimulus To Business in Iowa

Stimulus to Iowa business from the national defense program already is making itself felt, both directly and indirectly, as various lines register gains into September.

In the current issue of the Iowa Business Digest, Prof. George R. Davies of the University of Iowa says that improvement is marked over the corresponding period of a year ago.

As prize examples, he pointed to 40 per cent gain in building permits during August, 20 per cent in department store sales, 16 per cent in farm products prices, and 10 per cent in check transactions.

Contracts Aid Iowa
Contracts for army and navy awarded to Iowa firms between June 13 and Sept. 15 totaled $220,000, he said. These firms are located in Davenport, Des Moines, Ft. Dodge, Cedar Rapids and Dubuque.

Hurry Up! All Aboard . . .

Everybody climb in. And don't forget the food! With shouts and laughter, freshman orientation quad, No. 8, embarked on a hayride yesterday as part of the University Women's association orientation program. Pictured above, left to right, are Harriet Harlow, A3 of Toledo; Mildred Jensen, A4 of Council Bluffs; Ruth Theidel, A1 of Downers Grove, Ill.; Marie Tilly, A1 of Appleton, Wis., and Gretchen Gordon, A1 of Ottumwa. Miss Jensen is leader of the quad and her assistants are Naomi Braverman, A2 of Iowa City, and Winifred Coningham, A2 of Middletown, Ill. Every orientation group, freshman and transfer women alike, must meet three times in three weeks following the first mass meeting of the orientation leader and newcomers, which was held last Sunday. Hayrides are only part of the activities planned—coke parties, waffle suppers, inspection tours and game nights are also popular.

'Watch War-Time Consumer Interest,' A. A. U. W. Leader Advises Women

"What can I personally do to contribute to national defense?" This is the question many an American woman often asks. Harriett W. Elliott, the consumer advisor on the advisory commission to the Council of National Defense contributes her opinion on that subject in the October issue of the American Association of University Women.

Miss Elliott recommends that women acquaint themselves with the state and local defense set-up and arrange to participate actively. She states that if women will watch consumer interests while men are ordering military supplies, the pocket book of the nation and the defense as well will be aided.

Miss Elliott's activities include the selection of key commodities which are significant in consumer budgets and are likely to be affected by defense activity. Her office will also focus on a list of commodities in setting up standards of quality which will give more valuable aid to women consumers.

"It's easy to see the part played by guns, tanks and planes in a defense program, but it's all too easy to overlook the foundation upon which any effective use of these weapons must rest." Miss Elliott said. "We are engaged in a defense effort because we as a nation feel that we have something to defend, and that is the proper way to look at the present situation.

The Defense commission meets with the president once each week and builds a plan by which not only guns and tanks are marshalled, but also the agricultural resources, skilled labor and raw materials.

Name Speakers For Conference

200 Math Teachers Expected to Attend Two Day Meeting

Appointment of four visiting speakers for the University of Iowa's 15th annual conference for teachers of mathematics was announced yesterday by Prof. H. L. Rietz, head of the department.

They are F. L. Wren of Peabody Teachers college of Nashville, Tenn.; Gertrude Hendrix of Eastern Illinois State Teachers college of Charleston, Katherine Young of Wallace Junior high school of Waterloo, and George Nickle of Keokuk high school.

The conference, to be held Oct. 11 and 12, will attract some 200 schools in Iowa and adjacent states. Several members of the university staff will contribute to the program.

Some of the topics are arithmetical responsibility of the secondary school, curriculum trends in high schools and creative imagination through high school mathematics.

Cadet Officers Elect N. Erbe Club President

Norman A. Erbe, L1 of Boone, was elected president of the Cadet Officers' club at its first meeting of the year Wednesday in Iowa Union.

Other officers elected were Darrell Schumacher, E4 of Sigourney, vice-president, and Orville Bloethe, C4 of Victor, secretary-treasurer.

Robert Kadgih, A4 of Iowa City; William B. Hills, E4 of Iowa City; William L. Jackson, E4 of Cedar Rapids, and Arthur Maxwell, G of Montrose, were elected to serve on the Cadet Officers' council, the governing body of the organization.

A short program consisted of brief talks from senior advanced military students about summer camp at Ft. Snelling, Minn. and Ft. Ripley, Kan.

All advanced R. O. T. C. men are eligible for membership in the Cadet Officers' club. The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 16.

Eta Sigma Phi To Hold Picnic Next Thursday

Eta Sigma Phi, honorary classical languages society, will hold a picnic at the home of Prof. F. H. Potter of the classical languages department, Oct. 10, it was announced yesterday. The committee appointed for the picnic is: Mrs. Cynthia Dalton of Iowa City, chairman; Ruth McLaren, G of Mt. Pleasant, and Chester Neudling, G of St. Louis, Mo. Members of Eta Sigma Phi who plan to attend the picnic are to sign in the classical languages library.

Women Select Six for Class Delegates

The major department of women's physical education department elected class representatives yesterday morning at the regular assembly.

Freshman representatives are Lois Spencer, A1 of Fairfield, and Natalie Wells, A1 of Highland Park, Ill.

Mary Redinbaugh, A2 of Neola, represents the sophomore group, while the juniors elected Ruth Magill, A3 of Atlantic.

Fern Newcomer, A4 of Iowa City, and Georgine Foster, G of Duluth, Minn., represent the seniors and graduates, respectively.

Hockey Club To Hold First Meeting Oct. 5

The first meeting of the Iowa City Hockey club will be held on the hockey field Saturday, Oct. 5, at 10 a.m. All graduate students, faculty members and town women who are interested are invited to attend. Regular meetings will be held during the fall to practice hockey techniques and stick work. All equipment will be furnished by the physical education department.

University Library Adds New Books Of Current Interest to Student Body

A selection of books of general interest has been recently added to the university library for the further enjoyment of the student body and other library patrons.

The following list is taken from the new additions: "Motion Pictures in Physical Education," Thurston Adams; "Games, Dances and Activities," Fred L. Bartlett; "Successful Justice," Ewing Cockrell; "Revenue Act, 1940," commerce clearing house.

"Medieval Costume in England and France," Mary Galway; "Civil Journey," Storm Jameson; "Studies in the Theory of Money and Capital," Erik Robert; and "The Americans," William Lobbell.

The selection also includes "Clerk, Clerk - Stenographer, Clerk-Typist," by the Pergande publishing company, Milwaukee; "Dutch Vet," by A. Roothaert, and "Public Control of Business," by Harlan Fiske Stone.

Kappa Beta Pi Initiates Four Into Sorority

Four law students were initiated into and elected officers of Rho chapter of Kappa Beta Pi, international legal sorority, recently at the apartment of Helen Moylan, law librarian.

The initiates and their offices are: Leila Wegersley, L2 of Minneapolis, Minn., dean; Louis Beyer, L2 of New London, assistant dean; Lorna Murphy, L2 of Elkader, chancellor and Dorothy Awes, L2 of Cedar Rapids, registrar.

The program was conducted by Atty. Pauline Kelley and Atty. Cora Unash, both of Iowa City and graduates of the college of law here.

The business meeting was followed by a tea to which new women law students were invited.

Hawkeye Band Schedules Trip

The 125-piece band of the University of Iowa will make the official student out-of-town trip to Minneapolis Oct. 26, when Iowa plays Minnesota at the Gopher Homecoming celebration.

The Iowa band, under the direction of Prof. Charles B. Righter, played host to the Minnesota band last year at the Hawkeye Homecoming.

This fall the red-and-black-uniformed Iowans and the mackinawed Minnesotans, under the direction of Prof. Gerald R. Prescott, again appear on the same gridiron.

Definite arrangements for transportation and housing accommodations on the trip will be announced later.

The District of Columbia is made up of territory which originally was part of Maryland and Virginia.

The world's only operating helium plant is run by the U. S. Bureau of Mines at Amarillo, Tex.

We Need Classrooms! Larger Enrollment In Liberal Arts Causes Shortage

"This fall there is more pressure for classroom space than for many years," Prof. John E. Briggs of the political science department, announced yesterday.

Professor Briggs, who is in charge of classroom assignments in the college of liberal arts, said that scarcely any rooms are available in Schaeffer hall during the desirable hours of the day, from 8 to 3 p.m. University hall, the other building used for liberal arts classes, is crowded also.

Over 100 extra chairs have been brought into Schaeffer hall, Professor Briggs said. Some offices are even accommodating small classes, he added. There are 29 classrooms in the building, which houses more classes than any other building on the campus.

The overflow from Schaeffer and University halls must be accommodated in buildings not ordinarily used for liberal arts classes, such as East hall and the engineering building, Professor Briggs said.

The difficulty in finding adequate housing for classes is due primarily to the greater number of freshmen class sections, Professor Briggs said. More sections have been added to make the classes smaller, he explained.

Game Wardens Slip Fish 'Knock-Out Drops'
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The state fish and game commission is trying a novel method of ridding trout lakes of non-game fish. A chemical is introduced which stuns all the fish and brings them to the surface. Trout are transferred to tanks of pure water, and the undesirable fish are killed.

Brazil was discovered April 22, 1500, by Pedro Alvarez Cabral, a Portuguese navigator.

Bucky Walters Evens Series With 5-3 Win

Pressbox Pickups

BY OSCAR HARGRAVE

Once in a while, like a swinging door on the rebound, the idea strikes me that it might be far wiser for a football team to start the season with an opponent of the "big name" type, rather than against a foe of lesser fame.

Generally accepted idea behind the "breather type opener practice is that a team should have a chance to get the swing of things against a weaker opposition — it doesn't always work out that way. Sometimes a team walks into such a game carrying a foolish notion that it is just an outing, with the war to come next week. And a mere rabbit hunt can often be the downfall of the big outfit that arrives on the scene armed with a picnic luncheon instead of the shotgun. Such might be the case of Iowa tomorrow afternoon.

The Hawkeyes are in shape and they are anxious to get the season started. They aren't overly cocky, not insofar as the season in general is concerned, but the attitude isn't one that is apt to be too productive this week end. Despite the fact that South Dakota might be very annoying for a good part of the time, the Iowa squad is now engaged in looking vaguely into the distance, at the conference games farther ahead—you can't expect a great deal from that state of mind.

It isn't that I expect the Hawkeyes to drop the South Dakota game, but it wouldn't be a bit surprising if they wallowed through a rather disappointing performance. In fact, a troublesome afternoon would probably be about the best thing the Hawkeyes could get at this stage of the season.

The tide has turned, so the boys claim, in the world series, since Cincinnati's triumph of yesterday. The Reds, if you think along that line, have a pitching staff in which high class talent runs much deeper. They can follow Derringer and Walters with Gene Thompson, Jim Turner and Johnny Vander Meer, while Tommy Bridges, Hal Newhouse and the other Tigers aren't quite so impressive.

Detroit, on the other hand, has broken even behind the only two hurlers who can really be termed aces. There is also the very real chance that the death of Buck Newsom's father yesterday morning may spoil the Big Tiger star's work in his next start.

The Reds themselves probably would understand such a happening since they were thrown off stride last summer by the mysterious suicide of Willard Hershberger, their second string catcher, Hershberger, who would have been a number one man on most clubs, is certainly being missed right now by the Cincy club, in the absence of injured Ernie Lombardi.

Anderson Bars Gates As Game-Time Nears

Two Rookies Will Probably Begin Contest

Behind gates that barred even newspaper men, Dr. Eddie Anderson and his Hawkeye football squad mixed a new prescription for South Dakota, the opponent in tomorrow's official opening of the 1940 Iowa season.

"We want to do some things that we'll show you Saturday afternoon," Anderson told the press during a brief excursion outside the gates. He divulged nothing of the nature of the day's work, which was probably the last full length practice session the Hawkeyes will have before the game. Anderson said that today's drill would probably be confined to kick-off and punting practice and general limbering up exercises.

Outside of the mystery of what the Hawkeyes plan to use against the Coyotes tomorrow, there was little for the experts to conjecture on, for Anderson apparently plans to start the same eleven that has been working together during the past week.

Although quite a number of the new men can be expected to see service during the game, only two will start, at right end and at the vital left halfback post. Wilford Burkett, rangy newcomer from Independence, has seemingly won the flank berth as Ken Pettit's first string running mate. Bill Stauss, the former all-stater from Creston, is expected to go into action first at the questioned backfield position, but there is little doubt but what three others will break in at the same spot, since Jim Youel, Tom Farmer and Bob Bender have been pressing Stauss closely.

Buck Newsom Attends Rites For Father

CINCINNATI, Oct. 3 (AP)—Buck Newsom, pitching hero of yesterday's opening world series game, was absent from Crosley field today as his Detroit Tiger teammates went down to a 5-3 defeat by the Reds in the second struggle.

The big South Carolinian attended simple funeral services at a Cincinnati mortuary for his father, Henry Quillan Buffkin Newsom, who died in his hotel room early today.

West Liberty Favored Over U-High Eleven

U-High gridders will play the underdog role again tonight when they open their conference season on the West Liberty field at 7:30. West Liberty is expected to be in a high-scoring mood as the result of a 27-6 shellacking by Anamosa last week, after humbling the first two opponents, 32-0, and 38-0. U-High is still a question mark with a .500 percentage in two games, losing to Richland, 13-6, and winning from Cedar Falls, 13-0, last week.

West Liberty has a double-dose of powder with its combined running and passing attack, headed by Pike, speedy halfback. The Comets will outweigh the Blues considerably, marking the third straight contest that the Northsiders have been on the short end of the weight chart.

The River school will probably again depend on shifty running by Alderman and Musgrave for its scores. Alderman's passing has improved this week, however, and it is possible that the Blues may take to the air for the first time this year.

The starting line-up will consist of Lehman and Bill Halverson, ends; Bender and Stimmel, tackles; Young and Bud Halverson, guards; Frey, center; Sigling, quarterback; Alderman and Musgrave, halfbacks, and Smith, fullback. Huesinkveld, Owen, Evans, Louis, Crane, Stimmel, and the Myers are expected to see plenty of action.

Field Hockey For Women Association to Send Touring Team Here To Play Exhibition

The Touring Team of the United States Field Hockey association will arrive in Iowa City Thursday, Oct. 17, prior to an exhibition game with the Women's Hockey club on Friday, Oct. 18, at 4 p.m.

The Touring Team, consisting of chosen members of the U.S. F.H.A., leaves Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 8, on an eight weeks tour of the south and middle west. The team will stop for two days at the larger schools having a women's hockey club. The program planned by each school will consist of social gatherings, coaching and exhibition games.

S.U.I.'s Women's Hockey club announces the following tentative program:
Thursday, Oct. 17: 4:00 p.m.—Coaching techniques.
Friday, Oct. 18: 9:00 a.m.—Coaching; 12:00 M.—Luncheon; 2:30 p.m.—Coaching; 4:00 p.m.—Exhibition game.

Punters Work At Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 3 (AP)—Michigan continued efforts today to develop reserve punting for use when Tom Harmon is on the bench. Coaches concentrated on halfbacks Clifford Wise and Dave Nelson. Norman Call, Harmon's running mate, probably will miss the Michigan State game Saturday because of a sprained ankle.

Illini Squad Zuppke Praises

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 3 (AP)

Coach Bob Zuppke sent the Illinois gridders through a passing drill and tag scrimmage today and said:

"I think we are far ahead of last year's squad at this time."
When Illinois opens the season against Bradley Saturday, Paul Milosevich will start at right halfback and Ken Cheeley, a sophomore from Foley, Minn., at center, Zuppke announced. Those positions had been in doubt.

Redlegs Chase Rowe in Less Than 4 Innings

'Lucky Bucky' Gives Two Doubles, Single To Belting Bengals

BY JUDSON BAILEY
CROSLY FIELD, Cincinnati, Oct. 3 (AP)—Cincinnati's rebellious Reds, who were counted out yesterday, were counted back into the 1940 world series today with a 5 to 3 triumph over the Detroit Tigers on the superb three-hit hurling of "Lucky Bucky" Walters.

The warm, happy Cincinnati constituents, 30,640 of them, cheered their heroes' every move as the willowy right-hander redeemed a wild start and his supposedly weak-hitting teammates raided Schoolboy Rowe for all of their runs in the first four innings.

The three hits Walters gave up were a single to Charley Gehring in the first, a double to Pinky Higgins in the fifth and another two-bagger to Hank Greenberg in the sixth, when Detroit got its final run.

In contrast the Reds pelted Rowe, who lost only three games and won 16 during the regular campaign, for all their runs and eight of their nine hits before he was relieved by Rookie John Gorsica with one out in the fourth.

The Reds were set down in succession in the first, but bunched four singles in the second, a single and a home run by Jim Ripple in the third and successive doubles in the fourth. Gorsica, a right-hander who had been expected to be held in reserve as a starter for the fourth game, allowed only one scratch single in the eighth inning and let no other runners reach first base in the 4 2-3 innings he worked. But his matchless performance came too late.

The National league champions, who pulled Walters out of his opening jam with a minimum of damage by means of a fast double play, put up a tight defense thereafter and never were in danger of being overtaken.

It was the first time that a club representing the senior circuit, in baseball's big autumn classic won a game from the American league since the New York Giants took the fourth game of the 1937 series from the Yankees.

These same Yankees last year belted Bucky for nine hits and mopped up the Reds easily in the second session of their series. His fast, low pitching was thought to be considerably to the liking of the hulking sluggers of the American league.

But today his only fault was that first unflattering wildness. His very first pitch sailed past Catcher Jimmy Wilson like a shot and he passed the first two batters, Dick Bartell and Barney McCosky, on 10 pitches.

Then Gehring smacked a single far into right field to score Bartell and young Gene Thompson went into action in the Reds' bull pen. But before he could get ready, Bill Werber grabbed Greenberg's grounder for a double play, on which McCosky scored, and Walters found himself to strike out bulging Rudy York on four pitches.

From that point on Walters never gave the fans or his teammates a worry. He pitched carefully to the biggest guns of the Tigers, working the corners and keeping the ball low when he came in with his last one. Though he walked Greenberg in the fourth and McCosky in the sixth, it was because he preferred making them look at bad pitches rather than hit a good one.

He struck out four batters, including York again in the ninth and the two Detroit pitchers. The run Walters allowed in the sixth started by walking McCosky, who was forced at second by Gehring in what was almost a double play. Then Greenberg looked over five corner-cutters to a count of 3-2 and belted the first one for a double that rolled right up against the big black scoreboard in left center, some 380 feet from the plate. Gehring scored from first.

Big Hank also hit a tremendous fly to the same spot to lead off the ninth. But, in general, Detroit's mighty bats were muffed to virtual silence and except for three hits, only seven balls went to the outfield.

The Reds' onslaught against Rowe by contrast was widespread with every Cincinnati batter except Mike McCormick getting one blow. Wilson got the only hit off Gorsica and it could have been ball squad with most of its veterans of last year confined to the backfield, departed tonight for Syracuse and its opening game of the season. Thirty-five players made the trip.

They Held That Tiger Cincinnati Celebrates Victory; Makes Plans For Games at Detroit

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
CINCINNATI, Oct. 3 (AP)—With a whoop, a shout, and a sigh, "it's about time," the Cincinnati Reds banged into their clubhouse after today's game and their first world series victory in 21 years.

Then the noise died and the players got down to the urgent business of getting dressed and packed to catch their special train to Detroit.

Manager Bill McKechnie read a few telegrams, all with a more satisfied tone than was expressed yesterday.

"Bucky Walters wasn't too clear on how he let the Tigers down with three hits.

"I just gave them a little of everything," he said, scratching his head. "That one that York didn't take for the third strike in the ninth was just a fast one, a little to the side, but still got plenty of the plate."

Catcher Jimmy Wilson, with two bottles of soft drink in his hands, disputed this. "It was straight down the middle," he argued—as if it mattered.

McKechnie let it slip that Jimmy Ripple, whose third-inning homer buttoned up the game for the Reds, had been under front office scrutiny from the minute the Brooklyn Dodgers sent him to Montreal early the past season. The Reds snapped him up on waivers late in the campaign.

"We wanted him all the time," said McKechnie, "but we had to be careful or somebody else would have got him. He's not only hit will undoubtedly be the aerial blitzkrieg on the part of the local boys. Not to be discounted, however, is Iowa City's running attach, which promises smooth end-around reverses as well as line power plays. Again it will be Fetig and Bunny Towell through the line, with Bert Miller and Bud Lemons picking their way around both the ends.

City high followers are likely to see either Sangster or Davis taking care of the punting assignments tonight, with the former probably getting the nod in this department. In Thursday's session Sangster was getting off punts that were good for 45 or 50 yards from the line of scrimmage, considerably better than the 29 yards the Red and Whites averaged in the Clinton game last week.

Iowa City's starting lineup tonight will probably include Davis and Crossett at the ends; Forrest Broders and Paul Miller, tackles; Bill Bothell and Don Montgomery, guards, and Bob Crumley, center. In the backfield Fetig, Bert Miller, Towell and Sangster will be the quartet most likely to start for the Little Hawks.

Iowa City's freshman-sophomore team, will meet a Franklin high sophomore eleven from the Parlor City on Shrader field Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Best bats among the lightweights are Bob Kasper, Curly Brack and Kenny Mulford in the backfield and Don Williams and Bob Cornwall in the line. In a practice game with the varsity reserves this week, the sophomores came out on top by a score of 13-6.

scored as an error as well as not, because Higgins simply couldn't handle it on his left.

The second stanza teeing-off against Schoolboy was started by Frank (Buck) McCormick, who slashed the first pitch along the ground like a billiard ball into left field. Ripple popped up, but Wilson, Eddie Joost and Billy Myers hit consecutive singles to all three fields for two runs.

BULLETIN CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's White Sox celebrated their return to Comiskey park last night by slugging their way to an 11 to 5 victory over the Cubs and a two game to one edge in the city series. A crowd of 39,625 persons saw the contest in which the Sox routed two pitchers aided by four Cub errors.

SWIMMERS Iowa Mermen Start Training Monday

University of Iowa swimmers will report at the fieldhouse pool at 4 p.m. Monday, it was announced yesterday by Swimming Coach Dave Armbruster and Larry Moorehouse, new freshman coach.

According to Armbruster, the squad will begin with a schedule of small developmental exercises, early season swimming and other physical aids.

S.U.I. Asks $4,695,000 of State For Coming Two Year Grant

Buildings, Library, Hospital, Curriculum Scheduled to Benefit

The State University of Iowa yesterday, looking forward to extending public service activities at its hospital, improve buildings over the campus and dress up its educational system generally, asked the state legislature to set its coming two year appropriation at $4,695,000.

The figure, Associated Press reported, if granted would increase the annual grant set up by the 1939 legislature by $1,209,000.

The university here made its request along with four other state owned schools Iowa State college, Ames; Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls; the Iowa school for the deaf, Council Bluffs; and the Iowa school for the blind, Clinton.

The total increase in requests by all the schools amounted to $1,734,100. The blanket appropriation would be $8,679,100 for the biennium beginning July 1, 1941.

The State university here, however, included $1,400,000 annually for the school's hospital.

Of the $3,288,000 remaining for the university proper, officials said $2,603,500 a year would go toward general educational activities, $185,000 a year for repairs and alterations and $500,000 a year for the university's library.

The Draft Licks Dan

But Cupid Continues Blitzkrieg as Wedding Licenses Increase

Although cherubic-faced, fat little Dan Cupid lost a running fight in passage of the Selective Training bill his record of recruits for August and September proved him to be a sporty loser.

At his county clerk anti-draft headquarters in the courthouse, little Dan's organization was waging what looked to be a comeback counter attack. For pledged to the "little love before leaving" group were 59 marriage candidates.

The average Cupid recruit was 20 years of age, female; 22, male. All solemnly swore, later, to life-long membership under ring-finger bond.

The August marriage applicants numbered 64. Of course that was in the heat of Cupid's directed melees with draftist enthusiasts. But both the August and September figures upped those of any other month during any other year.

About all little Dan Cupid has now, inside sources revealed, is a broken tradition . . . broken at least temporarily. June, long since considered the ideal month for marriage, is no longer in vogue.

June this year had only a few more than 50 marriage candidates.

act, he charged, prohibits "free competition in the fuel industry."

He said the old-age payee expects that in 10 or 20 or 30 years the government will still have courage to tax the people to meet those obligations.

Author Pettengill told his audience, "Every dime for national defense is on the cuff." In the event of war the national debt will increase so heavily that the nation will be unable to withstand it, he said.

In America "We have a feeling here in America," he continued, "that we can hold to what is good and correct what is bad, and there is that last hope that we will win through."

Caesar's return in Europe, the former Indiana congressman pointed out, has limited freedom, if not subverted it; has reduced the status of German workers to that of Pharaoh's slaves when the Great Pyramid of Gizeh was built.

In Europe there is no initiative in industry. The country worker is prohibited, as is the city worker, from making a selection of his life work. "We are beginning to smell something rotten in the whole set-up," the author of "Smoke Screen" continued.

Pettengill The "last hope," said Pettengill, left to America lies in the preservation for posterity of the doctrine of Christ as told in the Gospel of St. Luke: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and render unto God the things that are God's."

Upon the matter of war, the speaker was vehement in his denunciation of meddling in foreign affairs and stated that "We should go to war only if our American vital interests are at stake."

"Don't follow," he admonished, "some slogan which will get us into a war like the last one; a war in which we asked for nothing and got it."

The Caesars are coming back under the rally cry of liberalism, Pettengill said, and the "formidable efficiency" of the totalitarian way leaves "us tremendously impressed."

College Gains

173 More Graduates Than in 1940

Increase in popularity of graduate study was recorded when Dean George D. Stoddard yesterday reported a gain of 22 per cent in enrollment over the mark of last fall.

He said that the graduate college now has an enrollment of 842 to date, as compared with 769 a year ago. Late registrants still are being accepted so the figure is not yet final.

Receives National Recognition

PROF. HUBER O. CROFT

Soon to be installed as one of the new officers of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at its 61st annual meeting in New York City will be Prof. Huber O. Croft, head of the mechanical engineering department here. Professor Croft, one of the three newly-elected managers of the national engineering organization, will serve on the council for a three-year term. He was elected through a letter ballot from the 15,000 members. Other new officers of the A.S.M.E. include such men as William A. Hanley, director and head of the engineering division of Eli Lilly and Co., president; Samuel B. Earl, dean and research engineer at the Clemson Agricultural and Mechanical college, Clemson, S. C.; Frank H. Prouty of the Industrial Appraisal company, Denver, Colo., and Edwin Ricketts, engineer with the Consolidated Edison Co. of New York City. Other managers elect to serve with Prof. Croft are Prof. Paul Eaton, head of the mechanical engineering department of Lafayette college, Easton, Pa., and George E. Hulse, chief engineer of Safety Car Heating and Lighting company at New Haven, Conn. Professor Croft joined the A.S.M.E. in 1920. Since that time his activities on behalf of the society have been his attendance at the 1934 engineering conference in Mexico City as representative and membership on numerous committees. Professor Croft also holds membership in the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Sigma Chi, Tau Beta Pi, S.P.E.E., Iowa Academy of Science, Theta Tau, Pi Tau Sigma, American Society of Naval Engineers, Iowa Engineering Society and Academy of Political Science. He joined the university faculty here and became head of the mechanical engineering department in 1929.

Medical Students 288 Enroll In College of Medicine; 90 Freshmen

Two hundred and eighty-eight students are enrolled in the college of medicine, it was reported this week by Dean E. M. MacEwen.

The first year class, numbering 90 students, is the largest in two years. The 1940 total figure is slightly lower than the total of last fall.

Not included in the above enrollment figures are 13 post graduate students in orthopedic surgery who are meeting part of their requirements for certification under the American Board of Orthopedic Surgery.

Explaining that the main function of the National Resources Planning board is to act as a coordinating agent in the many drainage basins of the United States, Woody Thompson, former professor in the college of commerce, sketched the principle operations of the board at a luncheon of the Rotary club at Jefferson Hotel yesterday.

Thompson received an appointment to the board early this summer and is now located in Omaha.

B.P.O.E. Members To Honor Winger

Iowa City B.P.O.E. members will honor J. W. Winger, Fairfield, district deputy grand exalted ruler of the lodge, at a formal initiation ceremony Oct. 16.

Last night, many of the lodgesmen and their families gathered in meeting rooms for an old-time party. Dancing to the square dance music of Joe Fisher's orchestra was featured.

Wednesday night, the Elks presented a gift to Ray Justen, former exalted ruler. The secretary and treasurer gave their semi-annual reports.

Troop Train Bombed NEW YORK (AP)—The German radio said last night that low-flying German planes had bombed a British troop train running at full speed, "blowing to bits" between 25 and 30 cars.

Died Yesterday From Injuries Received On October 1

Iowa City had recorded its first fatal pedestrian-automobile accident yesterday.

Dennis Teefy, 78, well-known local resident, died at 7:50 p.m. yesterday in Mercy hospital.

The 625 E. Davenport man was admitted to the hospital Oct. 1 at 6:50 p.m., only a short while after he had been struck by a car while crossing the street at Burlington and Dodge.

When asked if they were planning to hold the driver, Harvey Boyesen, 23, of 322 N. Johnson, police took a "hands off" attitude.

Whether the aged man was struck or walked into the auto, officers said they did not know.

Dr. George D. Callahan, coroner of Johnson county, said he did not know whether an inquest would be called to inquire into the circumstances of Teefy's death.

When the injured man was admitted, hospital attaches reported the victim as "resting comfortably." Although his condition was serious, his death was somewhat unexpected.

He was conscious following the accident and up until Wednesday night about midnight, Teefy's doctor, George H. Scanlon, said.

Teefy suffered six fractured ribs, three on each side; a broken collarbone and one fractured vertebra. He died of pneumonia, Scanlon added.

The body was removed to Hohenchuh funeral home where burial preparations are being made.

Police said Teefy's death was the first accident fatality this year. Only three violent deaths were reported here last year.

Surviving are eight children, Rose, John, Mrs. John Sueppel and Mrs. R. J. Connor, all of Iowa City; Mrs. Mary Barnett, Cedar Rapids; Mrs. Vance Smith, North English; A. J. Teefy, Maquoketa; and Mrs. Frank LaMont, Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. R. Goody Drops Divorce Action Here

Proceedings for divorce instituted some weeks ago by Lucille Goody against her husband, Robert, had been dismissed today, records filed at the county clerk's office in the courthouse revealed.

Mrs. Goody asked the court to free her husband of all injunctions and attachments. The case was first filed in the November term of equity court.
