BRITISH MAY INTENSIFY SEA WAR

Fair Today—But Rain (of Bombs) Tonight

Taking advantage of fair and sunny weather these German war pilots recline outdoors as their flying chief assigns each man to his bombing objectives on England for the night. Each pilot carries a duplicate map of which are marked his objectives. Photo was taken "somewhere in Germany."

British Bombers Blast French 'Invasion Coast'

Raiders Hide In Soupy Fog During Attack

Coast Artillery Makes Channel Dangerous For German Craft

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—British bombers knifed through a soupy fog tonight to smash at the French "invasion coast" with a heavy bombardment that shook the Kentish shore on this side of the channel.

The detonations rumbled across the channel like the steady roll of thunder. A light southwesterly wind was blowing across the calm channel waters during the attack.

The Germans opened up early in the night with a bombardment of their own, from coastal batteries in the Dunkerque area. In a rarely accomplished broad-daylight raid, British pilots were declared to have heavily bombed the Nazi-held French naval base of Brest today, and from the Dover coast England's big guns made the channel unsafe for German craft.

Two batteries of British artillery erupted against a single German torpedo-carrying E-boat, ringing the vessel with water spouts from falling shells until it sped for home in a rising shower of spray.

The attack on Brest, made by planes of the coastal command over a now-familiar air trail, caused "extensive damage" to the base's vital power station, the air ministry announced. It followed the same pattern of night assaults a few hours earlier on the German naval base at Kiel, where fires were said to have sprung up, and on the ports of Hamburg, Bremen and Cuxhaven—both bombed many times before.

More German Planes, Pilots Enter Rumania

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 17 (AP)—German circles said tonight that 150 Nazi bomber and fighter planes already are in Rumania and 150 more are expected tomorrow, accompanied by 800 pilots, mechanics, ground crewmen and instructors.

The disclosure followed closely upon Rumanian press warnings against spreading rumors "about the number of German troops in Rumania, what kind of food they are eating, where and how much, and there was no published statement of the German military strength here in this country, but the Rumanian general staff ordered several towns in Moldavia, fronting on Russian-occupied Bessarabia, cleared out in preparation for the coming of German army "instructors."

See Hawks Off

Iowa's traveling squad of 36 Hawkeye football players will leave Iowa City this morning, bound for Bloomington, Ind., and a game tomorrow with Indiana university. The team leaves from the Rock Island depot at 9:18. If you have no class between 9 and 10, go to the station to see the Hawkeyes off.

Nazis Claim New Weapon

Super Searchlight To Blind Night Fliers Seen as Air Defense

BERLIN, Oct. 17 (AP)—Germany boasted a new air defense weapon—a super searchlight to blind nocturnal British flyers—while reports of havoc wrought by the incessant bombardment of England piled up tonight.

DNB, official German news agency, claimed for the light a sort of candle-and-moth attraction. So blinding are its rays, DNB said, that the light seems to make an attacking plane fly directly into German defense positions and anti-aircraft guns.

The light was used successfully last night against a British bomber over the Dutch coast, the agency declared, and it was shot down in flames. Informed sources said that about 200 Nazi planes raided London in successive waves today, only one of them being lost while 17 British machines were shot down.

German Advantage

They said clouds and fog gave the Germans the advantage, enabling fighter planes to swoop down on the British patrols in surprise attacks.

Maj. Werner Moelders, German air ace, was credited with shooting down his 48th plane. The high command dismissed British night raids on Germany with, "No military damage," but said that in many cities residential sections were hit, particularly Kiel, where Germany has a big naval base.

In the war at sea, Germany reported submarine sinking of three armed steamers totaling 21,000 tons, repulse by shore batteries of British warships trying to raid the western French coast, and the blasting of a British submarine in the English channel by a Stuka bomber.

Japan Removes 12,000 Troops

VICHY, France, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Vichy government announced tonight receipt of a report from Hanoi, French Indo-China, that 12,000 Japanese troops were being taken out of the country via Haiphong under terms of the French-Japanese agreement of Sept. 22, which limits Japanese forces in Indo-China to 6,000.

Domei, Japanese news agency, broadcast yesterday that some 10,000 Japanese troops who fought their way into northern Indo-China would remain because of Chinese pressure on that border. Whether the French report supersedes this was not made clear.

Six RAF Planes Downed

NEW YORK (AP)—A German radio broadcast heard here last night by NBC announced that four damaged British bombers made forced landings on German soil Wednesday night, bringing to six the number of British planes downed in Germany during the night.

Freedom of the Air is Essential To Democracy, Asserts Dr. J. R. Angell

By JAMES FOX "You can't choke off freedom of speech in radio without indicting the moral grounds on which democracy rests," Dr. James R. Angell, educational counselor of the National Broadcasting company told a Baconian lecture audience last night.

Speaking on "The Place and Function of Radio in a Democracy," Dr. Angell, president-emeritus of Yale university, opened the university's first conference on applied radio. "Radio," he said, "is the great contemporary way to get differences of opinion clearly stated before large masses of people."

Dr. Angell compared the freedom of the air to the older freedoms—those of speech and of the press. Explaining that the laws of libel, slander and obscenity limit those older freedoms, Dr. Angell enumerated the technical limitations upon freedom of the air.

The problems of time and limited wave bands curtail the amount of discussion that may be permitted, he pointed out. But in the case of political issues, provisions are made by broadcasters to give fair hearing to both sides of any question.

"The United States is not a pure democracy," the noted psychologist and educational administrator asserted. "It is built on representative government—representation of great groups of opinion." Radio takes on a special importance under such a system, Dr. Angell pointed out.

"Even the most superficial knowledge of the abuse of broadcasting in the totalitarian states must serve to demonstrate the terrible powers which this agency involves when placed in the hands of the vicious and ignorant."

Radio Mised "There are no facts, there are no truths, there are no ethical principles which may not be so distorted that through the interposition of radio an entire nation may be misled, may be beguiled into the acceptance of gross deception, with consequences which may be fatal for the welfare of millions of human beings."

"There can be no manner of question that broadcasting has put into the hands of our national leaders an instrument of unparalleled power," Dr. Angell said. "It is therefore an instrument which it behooves us to see used only in ways which will protect and stabilize our democratic way of life."

Government Control Criticizing the spectre of government control of radio, Dr. Angell pointed out that if the present crisis becomes critical enough, radio will be the first to be deprived of freedom.

Because of its importance in giving fair discussion of national questions, Dr. Angell warned that "Radio is one thing we have to keep clear." Dr. Angell was introduced by Prof. Carl E. Seashore, dean-emeritus of the graduate college, and a friend of Dr. Angell's for many years.

Young Admiral Appointed Head of Fleet

Expert on Destroyers Given New Position In Navy Shakeup

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Britain elevated one of her youngest admirals, 55-year-old John C. Tovey, to command of the home fleet today in a shakeup which the London press quickly interpreted as foreshadowing intensification of the war at sea. Tovey is an expert on destroyers, the type of warship considered most suitable for action in the narrow waters between Britain and the continent.

41st Raid

The air war went on through its 41st overnight Nazi raid on England. London and Liverpool were the chief targets of small groups of individual bombers, suffering considerable damage and casualties.

Despite the mounting destruction and lengthening civilian casualty lists, the British government announced it would remain in its capital through bomb and fire and ruled out, for the present at least, compulsory evacuation of the city.

However, the board of trade, which corresponds to the United States department of commerce, moved some of its offices to Wales; and London civilians were told all those who could leave voluntarily should do so. Health Minister Malcolm MacDonald disclosed an "ominous increase" in the wartime spread of cerebrospinal fever and spoke gravely of hardships to be endured this winter.

RAF Strikes

In its own counter-offensive, the RAF struck heavily at the Nazi-held French naval base at Brest and from Dover's "shell corner" British big guns churned the channel with shells fired at a German torpedo boat. New raids were carried out earlier against the naval bases at Kiel, Hamburg, Bremen and Cuxhaven.

The Germans boasted a new air defense weapon—a super-searchlight they claimed would blind British fliers and draw them to its beams like a moth to a candle. They said a British pilot was trapped like a "blinded animal" in its first successful use over the Dutch coast Wednesday night.

The Germans reported a British submarine was sunk in the channel by a Nazi bomber and a lone U-boat was said to have sunk 21,000 tons of British shipping.

Hero Ship

Here is a view of H. M. S. Ajax, powerful British cruiser, which, fighting alone, sank two Italian destroyers and badly damaged another in a naval battle in the Mediterranean sea. The Ajax also played a major role in the defeat of the German pocket battleship, Admiral Graf Spee, earlier in the war.

Turkey Takes Defiant Stand Against Axis; Will Fight if Axis Attempts Drive to Egypt

Speeds Up Defense As Precaution Against Possible Invasion

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 17 (AP)—The official Turkish radio said in a broadcast tonight that if the axis powers attempt to drive through Turkey or Greece to Egypt and the Suez they will find that Turkey "resembles neither Holland, Belgium nor France."

The commentator accused Germany and Italy of trying to conquer Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Greece by various methods and said they had demanded that Greece give up her British guarantee or "she will be made to regret it."

Premier Dictator John Metaxas of Greece received the German and Italian ministers at Athens today, the broadcast said, but failed to say what happened. Commenting on the movement of German troops into Rumania, it asserted:

"In case of an Italian attack upon Greece, in which Bulgaria might later join, Germany may wish to have a strategic point of advantage from which to check a Russian move."

"Finally, it may be planned to get to Egypt and the Suez through Greece and Turkey. This last possibility seems to us far fetched, because it is extremely difficult."

"Our resistance in the Dardanelles in the last war is recalled and there is no doubt our resistance this time will be even stronger."

"Just as we depend on our army, our terrain also has a special profit for us; for instance, motorized troops can only move with difficulty here. And the axis powers want a short war, not a long one."

Traffic Resumed on Burma Road As China's Trucks Carry Supplies

CHUNGKING, Oct. 18 (Friday) (AP)—China's trucks of war are rolling again on the Burma road under the threat of imminent Japanese bombardment.

At the stroke of midnight traffic was resumed across the border with British-controlled Burma after a three-month closure by the British in a futile appeasement gesture toward Japan.

Instead of using the three months to seek a settlement of the three-year-old China war—or "China incident" as the Japanese call it—Japan won, with pressure on French Indo-China, near-

Late Registrants To Report for Draft Or Be Named Delinquent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—State selective service directors were instructed tonight not to classify as "delinquents" those men who failed to register for the draft yesterday but who voluntarily reported to their local boards before the national draft lottery. The lottery is scheduled between Oct. 25 and Nov. 1.

The order was one of the first sent out by Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin, who assumed his post as national selective service director today.

The order, it was believed, saved some men from prosecution. If a local board classed a man as deliberately "delinquent" his case would be passed along to a United States district attorney for prosecution.

Jury Indicts Ministers For Not Registering

BOSTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Less than 18 hours after the close of conscription registration, two Beck Bay ministers were indicted by a federal grand jury today on a charge of knowingly failing and neglecting to register in accordance with the provisions of the selective service act.

The indictments named Rev. Keith C. Kanaga, 25, assistant pastor of the Mount Vernon Congregational church, and Rev. Harry H. Krueger, 24, pastor of the First Baptist church, both in the Back Bay section. Registration officials said the clergymen had appeared at a registration place yesterday and refused to register. Both ministers attempted to leave statements explaining their action, but registration officials declined to accept the statements.

May Draft 800,000 by June

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Secretary Stimson disclosed a conscription schedule today which would call 800,000 men to the colors by next June 15 and added that beyond that date "only God and Hitler" know what will be the conditions that govern the rate at which the men will be summoned to service.

The first group of draftees, a contingent of 30,000, will be sent to the training camps about Nov. 15, he said, adding that 60,000 would go on Dec. 2; 80,000 on Jan. 2; 90,000 on Jan. 15; 100,000 on Feb. 10; 200,000 on March 5, and 200,000 on June 15. At the same time, the cabinet officer said Wendell L. Willkie, the republican presidential nominee, had been "misled into making statements that were neither fair nor accurate" on the provision of housing for the troops. A "great majority" of the new housing facilities planned for an army of 1,200,000 would be ready by Dec. 15, he added.

Stimson also told of plans for forming two new armored divisions next June, the third and fourth of that type toward an ultimate goal of ten. One will have its headquarters at Pine Camp, N. Y., and the other at Camp Beauregard, La., he said, and each will consist of about 11,500 men. He announced that a $6,000,000 contract had been let for new housing at Pine Camp.

As the conscription program gets into full swing, national guard units not yet mobilized are to be called to active duty. Stimson said that eight divisions and some other units of guardsmen—about 126,000 officers and men all told—would be mobilized between January 3 and January

19. He did not say which units these were.

Remaining national guardsmen, about 4,000 in all, will be called on February 3.

About 95,700 guardsmen already are in camps for a year's training. Under war department plans, conscripted men will be distributed among regular army and national guard units for training. Preliminary figures indicated that the total draft registration was about 250,000 above expectations.

A Century of Greatness Lies Ahead

In 1919—very, very early in the then new game of radio—a little non-commercial broadcasting station, if it could be called that, "went on the air" from the University of Iowa.

It was the outgrowth of experiments which started 30 years ago—in 1919, when a small campus transmitter known by the call letters 9YA started sending code signals out over the air waves.

So WSUI came to be. From beginnings like those of Topsy, WSUI grew. It was WHAA for a time, until a ship using the call letters "WSUI" disappeared from the service and left those significant initials free for the new Iowa station.

—Of Trials and Successes

WSUI grew, from meager beginnings in the early history of this strange new thing called radio, through metamorphoses of trials and errors and successes.

And this year—1940—WSUI is of age. Twenty-one years of unparalleled leadership are behind. Vast new fields lie ahead.

WSUI, from its very beginnings, has pioneered in its field. Today it stands at the fore of all such stations the nation over who follow the star of progress in, and devotion to, the ideals of education. WSUI is the servant of the people. It has served the people well. It will continue to serve the people in ever-increasing efficiency and in ever-expanding realms through the years to come.

We Look Ahead

We cannot do justice to the value of past years in WSUI history. We cannot enumerate the plotted courses which have taken Iowa's station to the peak of progressive achievement. Nor can we review the successes, the failures, the ambitions of the past.

But we can look ahead—look ahead to the day when Iowa will be granting the master of arts and the doctor of philosophy degrees in every phase of radio, when Iowa's contributions in radio and television have explored new spheres and opened new channels of service to be explored.

That those days will come there is no question. That is as certain as the record of the past, a record of that kind of achievement which can grow only from faith in an ideal, devotion to a cause.

A Century of Greatness

The records of the past are the beginnings of the future. As we pay our respects to WSUI today, we express our confidence in her future—a confidence born of WSUI's own record.

We pause, with the other colleges, schools and departments of the university, to pay our respects to WSUI, and to wish the present and future staffs of the Iowa station a century of greatness to Iowa, to the state, and to the realm of education—and another century beyond that.

The High School Press

The university opens its doors today to hundreds of high school journalists who will attend the sessions of the Iowa High School Press association.

It's Iowa's first high school press conference since 1936. The prep newspaper people meet in succeeding years at Des Moines, Ames, Grinnell and Iowa City.

They come to the campus of the state university this year at a time when journalistic reporting has assumed a new graphic significance from the impact of war—when the names of Leland Stowe, Louis P. Loehner, H. R. Knickerbocker and a dozen of others have risen to the top of the heap of foreign correspondents whose stories have told most strikingly the course of events of war.

They come to the campus at a time when the press of this nation has the enviable attributes of being the greatest and the freest of the world.

They come to the campus at a time when the problems of newspaper circulation, advertising and promotion have assumed new significance in the field of competition with other media of news dissemination.

This year's conference is designed to throw new light upon the problems of high school newspapermen, in addition to showing them a good time.

They will, we believe, gain much from the program. We hope they will enjoy their visit on the campus. And we anticipate that they will return to their high school organizations with a keener understanding and appreciation of the responsibilities and problems of the American press of today.

Among the high school journalists from Iowa towns who will be the university's guests this week and are certain ones who will make great contributions to their profession—who will become great reporters, great executives, great editors.

May all of them voice, even at this early point in their lives, a determination to maintain and to heighten the standards of the American press—to keep it, progressively, the greatest and the freest in the world.

Such a Lot of Beauty—

If anyone can think of a substitute for a full harvest moon, let him step forward.

We watched the current one the other night, dodging in and out among thin dark clouds, and at the moment there seemed to be nothing in the realm of previous experience which might compare in beauty.

There's a lot of beauty in the world the lot of us are much too busy to notice, or to appreciate. A LOT of beauty.

We're far too involved in the worries of this daily world to know, or therefore to care, that we're missing the point of life behind the speed of life.

We have nothing in our hearts but pity for the man to whom the wings of a moth are only—the wings of a moth.

Or the man who hates the snow because he's never seen a snow-flake.

As we watched the moon the other night, there came to mind that line from Thornton Wilder's "Our Town," about a letter addressed to a man in

Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, U.S.A.,
Western Hemisphere,
The World,
The Solar System,
The Universe,
The Mind of God.

There's something in that quotation, which accounts for our full harvest moons, flakes of snow, and the wings of a moth—and for ALL such things the most of us never see, or care that we miss.

Yes, there's a lot of beauty in the world. There's enough for all of us. Who's to blame if we miss it?

A Man About MANHATTAN

Officialese—That Mumbo Jumbo Nobody Could Understand—

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Britain, with a war on her hands, still is making more progress than the United States at humanizing the King's English. If you happen to have been an October moving day victim, you may have had occasion to sign one of those leases running to 10,000 words of legal jargon which for all you knew might have committed you to buy a left-handed kangaroo—and wished that official transactions could be put in comprehensible down-to-earth language.

Well, England's doing it. Prime Minister Churchill told the Civil Service the other day to cut out "officialese"—terminology such as "Consideration should be given to the possibility of carrying into effect."

He thereby put official sanction on the long unofficial campaign of A. P. Herbert, humorist-parliament member, who for years has been asking his countrymen sardonically what would have happened if Lord Nelson, instead of saying, "England expects every man to do his duty," had said: "England anticipates that with regard to the present emergency... etc., etc."

But the American trek toward plain talk is slow, although there are glimmerings of progress here and there.

A year or so ago a big corporation shocked the business world by putting out an annual financial report in language a man with $2.30 in his pocket could tie into rather than the usual Wall Street mumbo jumbo.

Several other corporations have followed suit, but some financiers are still pretty suspicious of the idea. It's so undignified.

Just last week Charles Collin of New York ventured out on a radical limb by telling an insurance convention that the industry should hire professional writers to make insurance papers comprehensible to the man in the street.

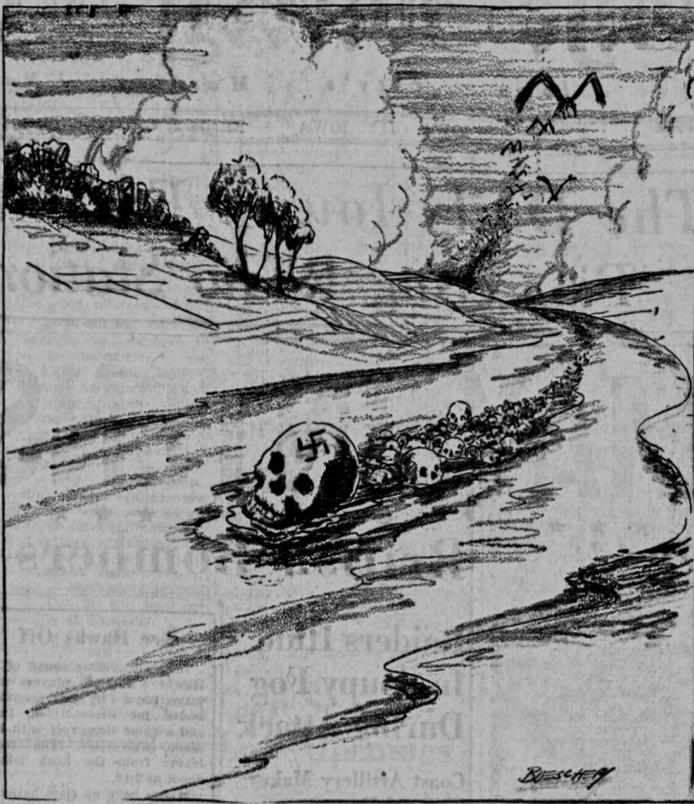

"Sometimes I marvel," he said, "that our business has grown as it has through selling contracts that are beyond the understanding of most of the buyers."

An American prototype of England's A. P. Herbert, valiantly tilting at verbal windmills, is New York's picturesque Chief Magistrate Henry Curran, whose most notable deed in the field has been a one-man campaign against the trick phrase "and/or," as in "... will be given stock and/or bonds."

Whenever that grammatical monstrosity comes up in Mr. Curran's jurisdiction, he clamps his foot down and makes them say good old plain "... stock or bonds or both."

But he's still in the minority. The U. S. clings to officialese even under bomb-fire. Last week the New York Police Department ordered all officers, when they found a suspected bomb, to "clear all persons from the premises or area."

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

Esther Ralston's Tired of Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Esther Ralston is a girl you can believe when she says she doesn't care about Hollywood any more.

Esther flew into town for a role in "Tin Pan Alley." It wasn't a big part—nothing to compare with the assignments she used to get in her starring days. It took less than a week to put her impression of the late Nora Bayes on the screen—just one of the characters of the colorful (in retrospect) period covered by the film.

She left here two years ago happily married to Ted Lloyd, Broadway columnist and radio man, after two ventures in matrimony had ended in divorce. Her movie career, once brilliant, had hit the shallows. Today she doesn't even remember the titles of the last three or four pictures she made before saying goodbye.

Many a former star returns to Hollywood briefly, coyly eager with hope that this will mean the beginning of a triumphant comeback. Not so with Esther. She's a New Yorker now. She has a husband and a daughter (Mary Esther, nine years old now) and a part-time career in radio and on the stage. She says she'd like to come back once or twice a year for a picture, now that the airways make travel so quick, but she wouldn't care for a return to her old Hollywood life.

She's pretty enough, too. Except that her once-golden hair is now its natural brown, she looks the same as she did when she was Paramount's golden pride.

Those were the days when she lived in that big roocco mansion in the hills with its big swimming pool and gardens and neo-Hollywood furnishings. She used to think she was gloriously happy then—she told everybody so. She was a Cinderella's dream come true: a pretty youngster knowing little but theatrical barnstorming and poverty had hit the jackpot in the movies.

But she hasn't much movie money left, she says.

"I made thousands of dollars," she says, "and I wish I had some of it now. But I paid the Hollywood tax. It's a sort of tax on picture fame. What cost you one dollar always cost me four times as much because I was in pictures. I think the tax is still on and it's paid by everybody, even the little stock girls who don't get much money but are still in pictures and known to be."

Miss Ralston was signed for the role of Miss Bayes on her birthday and flew right out here without ever knowing how she happened to be chosen.

"But I met Nora Bayes once," she recalls, "and I'll never forget it. She told me, 'Child, you won't think much of this now, but some day you will. Remember this: everything you do or say or think some day will show in your face.'"

And what changes in Hollywood strike her most?

"The efficiency. With these cards (Screen Actors Guild) we keep track of all the things we do during a day," she says. "If we're detained at the hairdresser's or in make-up, it's on the card and nobody gets tussed."

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

U. S. After Nazi Spy Center—

WASHINGTON—A Hitler spy and saboteur center may be torn up by the roots and jailed or expelled as a result of the most recent evidence the Dies committee investigators have dug up.

A net of legal proof involving 50 or more persons in unclarified mysterious activities—the first legal proof that has been obtained—will probably be spread upon the committee record in a closed or open session within a few days.

Basis for action is the Zapp correspondence seized from the files of the Nazi agent, Manfred Zapp, masquerading as a German newsman, substance of which has been published in this column the past two days. Every word of the correspondence is being sifted by the federal bureau of investigation and the state department to determine the extent to which the Nazi propagandists named therein can be prosecuted legally for espionage, as distinct from those German embassy officials and diplomats who may only be invited to leave the country.

Consequently, warm denials have been issued against the natural inference that the new exemptions announced by wages and hours and the official leakage of the SEC study of rich family influence upon corporate life, were thrown out at this time as political fodder.

The wage hour exemptions were timed by law. The act required the 40-hour week to go into effect October 24 and if any exemptions were to be made, they had to be announced before that date. Business representatives here concede they are fairly beneficial to business.

But behind the plea of political ignorance every government department is issuing its publicity policy for effect on campaign. The work has been coordinated and timed in advance as efficiently as the German time schedule for the march through Holland.

SUPER-EFFICIENCY— Stream-lined efficiency is supposed to be the order of the day in promoting Latin-American trade. The president recently sent Warren Lee Pierson, head of the export-import bank, to Argentina armed with great powers, and presumably bulging with information and zeal concerning exports and imports in that direction.

But the first cable received by his export-import bank headquarters here upon his arrival in Buenos Aires was in substance: "Please rush statistics American exports to Argentina."

MATERIAL FOR BRITAIN The British are hot after American light tanks and flying fortresses. They will get them but may have to wait until after election. The administration desires to do as little as possible to ripple the electoral waters before November 5.

Some opposition is stirring within the army to the release of the tanks but no objection would be made to relinquishing the flying fortresses. The army has insufficient tanks to equip our only two armored divisions, and the scarcity of armor plate is hindering defense preparations. The British want them because they have air-cooled engines, making them especially adapted for fighting in Egypt and the desert areas. The idea of air cooling for tanks apparent-

Pathology Department Sponsors Meeting of Iowa Pathologists Tomorrow

Equipment To Be Shown Tomorrow

Afternoon Meeting Will Be Devoted To Blood-Testing

The first meeting of the Iowa Association of Pathologists, under the auspices of the pathology department in the college of medicine, will meet here tomorrow in the medical laboratory building.

The meeting will be divided into five morning sessions beginning at 9:30 and carrying through until noon, and a single afternoon session from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Taking part in the program will be three members of the pathology department; Dr. H. P. Smith, head of the department, Dr. E. D. Warner and Dr. K. M. Brinkhous.

Demonstration
Demonstrations of pathological equipment and techniques by Doctor Smith and Doctor Brinkhous will open the morning program.

At 10:45 a.m. Dr. W. M. Hale head of the bacteriology department, will demonstrate the lyophilic technique of reducing sera to powdered form which still retain all their active qualities.

Dr. E. L. DeGowin, director of blood and plasma research at University hospitals, will explain the blood bank to visiting pathologists at 11:30 a.m.

Blood Bank
The "blood bank" at University hospital, installed last year, is a refrigerated room where a blood supply is kept for emergency use. This research in blood, particularly in transportation problems of blood, is being done at the request of the United States army.

Field Trips
A visit to the state health laboratory will also be included in the morning program. Dr. M. E. Barnes, recently elected chairman of the State Public Health Laboratory Directors conference, and Dr. I. H. Borts of the college of medicine will have charge of the tour.

The afternoon period will be devoted to the study of slides and blood smears prepared by various members of the association.

Morning Program
9:30 to 10—Demonstration of equipment and technique, Dr. H. P. Smith and Dr. K. M. Brinkhous.

10 to 10:45—Vitamin K. Demonstration of the bedside technique for the determination of the prothrombin level in the blood, Dr. H. P. Smith, Dr. K. M. Brinkhous and Dr. E. D. Warner.

10:45 to 11:15—Lyophilic technique and its uses in the field of bacteriology and serology. Demonstration of anaerobic methods, Dr. W. M. Hale.

11:15 to 11:30—Visit to the state health laboratory, Dr. E. M. Barnes and Dr. I. H. Borts.

11:30 to 12—The blood bank, Dr. E. L. DeGowin.

Armored car and newly completed blockhouse guard Shanghai's threatened "newspaper row" day and night.

Tough little French Annamite soldiers patrol barbed wire barricades on King Edward VII St.

Like a corner tower of Sing Sing prison is this hastily constructed crow's-nest protecting an American news room.

Where U. S. newsmen block the road of Japanese ambition

DEATH BREATHES CLOSE BEHIND many a newsmen today... but nowhere closer and hotter than along "newspaper row" in Shanghai.

Before every entrance of the old and respected Shanghai Evening Post & Mercury—American-owned and just across the street from the International Settlement—stand armored cars, pillboxes, barbed wire barricades, and guards with drawn guns.

For the terrorists who serve either the Japanese or their Chinese puppet, Wang Ching-wei, have bombed the Post plant five times, slaughtered guards, wounded pressmen, and last month murdered Samuel H. Chang, director of the Post and its Chinese edition, the Ta Mei Wan Pao.

Cornelius V. Starr, owner, and Randall Gould, editor, have been ordered out of the country by the puppet regime. Neither paid any attention. Gould is still at his post; Starr stayed four months, came home when he got ready, plans to return soon.

And they are not alone: four other Americans and one Briton similarly threatened have dug in their toes, strapped on guns, and called the Jap bluff.

Why are the invaders of China trying to drive U. S. newsmen out of the country?

Because these resolute Americans, controlling vital news outlets from the unique and unmanageable city-state of Shanghai, stand square in the road of Japanese conquest. For Japan must control the mind and morale of its subject peoples, must direct world-thinking the Japanese way, if it is ever to realize the dream of a "Greater East Asia"—domination of China, India, the Indo-Chinese peninsula, and all the East Indies including the Philippines.

Now that Japan and her allies in Europe have formally threatened war on the U. S., if any resistance is made to such aggressive plans, it is time for the American news-reader to study as never before the dispatches of his courageous correspondents in the Far East.

Our typical attitude toward China since the Jap invasion has been the usual friendly American sympathy for the underdog. But now our interest in China goes much further than this. Now the top dog is snarling at us, and every intelligent news-reader knows what a tight spot we shall be in if the underdog relaxes his grip.

Most Americans are glad to find that our interests coincide with those of the Chinese people. We have grown to like them, their peaceful and philosophic way of looking at life, their tenacity and courage in misfortune, the beautiful things they make, and the humorous things they say.

Perhaps we don't realize that the Chinese, in their turn, have grown to like us. They are grateful for the medical knowledge that has routed some of their worst diseases, for the industrial techniques that have helped them put up such a good fight. Many of them are grateful for the Christian religion. They remember how we backed up their dream of building a new, strong China. And they are glad to get the things we have to sell. Contrary to popular opinion, they like the Standard Oil Co. which brings them the blessings of kerosene... and they find a thousand uses for the cans it comes in.

Brilliant Chinese leaders by the score owe their education to American universities. A chief official of the Chinese information ministry, Hollington K. Tong, is a graduate of the journalism schools of the Universities of Missouri and Columbia. Our schools of journalism have had more effect, proportionately, on Chinese newspapers than on our own.

The old notion that "You can't understand the Oriental mind" is being dispelled by able writers and journalists of both races. Lin Yutang and Mme. Chiang Kai-shek show us China from the inside—John Gunther and Carl Crow from the outside. J. B. Powell continues to give us his important journal of opinion, the China Weekly Review, though he is on Wang's blacklist and has to have a bodyguard.

And just as important as the books and magazines are the day-by-day cables... from men like A. T. Steele of the Chicago Daily News, the N. Y. Times' Hallet Abend, and Tillman Durdin, and TIME's own T. H. White, who came via Harvard and the Chinese information ministry, and is now on the hot spot in Indo-China.

Sometimes readers ask why TIME devotes so much space to the Orient. It is because TIME has always believed that the day would come when an understanding of that area with its billion people, half the population of the earth, might be of the utmost importance to America.

How the good will of these people can be channelled and become a force in world strategy is a profound challenge. But on such intangibles world history has turned and tyrannies have fallen.

This is why TIME, and its sister publications, FORTUNE and LIFE, have gathered and used such a storehouse of information on China, Japan, and the Philippines... and why TIME's week-by-week analyses of the Far Eastern situation seem to more thoughtful news-readers essential equipment for the decisions we face across the Pacific.

In these days of crisis, the free press is more than ever a vital force in making our democracy a living, working success. Therefore, TIME is seeking, in this series of advertisements, to give all college students a clearer picture of what the press in general, and TIME in particular, is doing to keep the people of this nation safe, strong, free, and united.

Military Ball to Be Jan. 17 In Main Lounge of Iowa Union

Committee Named At Cadet Officers Meeting Wednesday

The committee for the 1941 Military Ball was named at the Cadet Officers club meeting Wednesday evening.

The 1941 Military Ball will be held Jan. 17 in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Members of the committee are Ben Summerwill, A4 of Iowa City; Robert Kadgihn, A4 of Iowa City; Jack Edling, A4 of Moorhead, Minn.; Bishop Toms, A4 of Cedar Rapids; Kenneth Anderson, A4 of Atlantic; Gaylord Gilmore, A4 of Morning Sun; William Hills, E4 of Iowa City, and William Jackson, E4 of Cedar Rapids. Two members from the medical corps are yet to be announced.

The Military Ball has the reputation of being the biggest formal party of the year. Highlight of each ball is the presentation of the cadet colonel and the honorary cadet colonel of the regiment. Col. C. A. Bagby spoke to 70 cadet officers present at the meeting on how the draft concerned them as cadet officers. He explained the procedure of the draft and how it worked as well as the effect it may have upon reserve officers.

Members of the military staff will be guests at the next meeting of the Cadet Officers club, Oct. 30.

The Girl Scout Leaders' association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the assembly room of the light and power company. Basketry will be taught by Louise Frey and Janet Cope, supervisors of occupational therapy in the psychopathic hospital here.

Mr. R. H. Reimers will teach new games and Mrs. Dale Green-awald will explain the health and safety program the girls in her troop carried out last year. Mrs. M. E. Trovbridge will teach the group new songs.

Any Brownie troop leaders who are interested are welcome to attend.

Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. the Brownie troop leaders will meet in the home of Mrs. A. R. Ellis, 1622 Muscatine. Troop committee members are invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. M. F. Neuzil will teach new songs and Mrs. T. Cromwell Jones will teach new games. Mrs. O. A. White will discuss the Brownie leaders' training camp she attended last summer. Troop committee responsibilities will be explained by Marian Chassell, Iowa City Girl Scout director.

Gamma Phi Betas Entertain Pledges

Tomorrow afternoon the alumnae of Gamma Phi Beta sorority will entertain the new pledges at a tea in the home of Mrs. Robert Gibson, 1029 E. Court.

Among Iowa City People

Mrs. H. L. Olin, 321 Blackhawk, left yesterday for Springfield, Ill., where she will visit her mother. Mrs. Olin will return today.

Ruth Minor of Mason City is visiting Atty. and Mrs. F. B. Olson, 430 S. Johnson. Miss Minor is here for the high school journalism conference.

Guests of Prof. and Mrs. Louis Pelzer, 127 Ferson, include four members of the Davenport Sketch club. The visitors are Mary Schroder, Fern Vinal, a member of the Davenport Civic Art Gallery board, Goldie Marker, former president of the Davenport Women's club and Irene Beyer, a member of the country club board. They will spend the day visiting here and will prepare for the four-man show in Davenport and the art week opening Nov. 1. Mrs. Pelzer will leave for Des Moines on Saturday where she will help with an art exhibit there.

Prof. and Mrs. R. M. Barnes, 314 Magowan, will spend the week end visiting in Minneapolis, Minn.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Petersen, 7 W. Davenport, this week is Mrs. A. J. Rasmus of Cherokee. Mrs. Rasmus is Mrs. Petersen's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Driscoll of Tipton became the parents of a seven-pound daughter in Mercy hospital here Monday.

Today Mr. and Mrs. William Lindsay and Mrs. Harriet Mose-dale of Milwaukee, Wis., will arrive for a few days' visit in the home of Prof. and Mrs. Robert Gibson, 1029 E. Court. Mrs. Lindsay was the former Mrs. Mildred Paddon and was at one time a staff member of the university music department.

Highlanders Will Entertain Press Visitors

Scottish Highlanders and a marimba player will highlight the intermission of the Iowa High School Press association dance tonight from 9 to 12 in the fine arts lounge, it was announced by Theta Sigma Phi, journalism women who are hostesses to the visitors.

Hollis Mounce, P1 of Jefferson, the university band's marimba player, will play several selections and will be followed by a part of the bag-pipe section of the Scottish Highlanders. Jay Higbee, A4 of Iowa City, is in charge of the Highlanders' part of the program.

Following the intermission, teachers of high school journalism visiting in connection with the press meeting will be entertained by the Highlanders, who will explain the bag-pipes and kilts.

Couple Married Yesterday

Wed yesterday were Margaret Murphy, niece of Letitia Grogan, 630 S. Capitol, and John Sheppard, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Sheppard of Morse. Pictured above at the wedding breakfast given in

Miss Grogan's home, are Mary Letitia Murphy, sister of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, Mrs. Sheppard, Mr. Sheppard and Earl Gough of Iowa City, the best man. The couple will be at home after

Nov. 1 on Mr. Sheppard's farm near Morse. The bride was graduated from St. Patrick's high school here and has been employed in Ries' book store. Mr. Sheppard attended Iowa City high school.

Letitia Grogan, John Sheppard Married in Church Ceremony

In a single ring ceremony at 8 a. m. yesterday, Margaret Murphy, niece of Letitia Grogan, 630 S. Capitol, and John Sheppard, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Sheppard of Morse, were married.

The wedding took place in St. Patrick's church here with the Rev. P. J. O'Reilly officiating. Special music during the ceremony includes "Panis Angelicus," "Domine Nom Sum Dignus," "Ave, Maria" and "Come and Adore." Celeste Fuhrmann was the soloist and Zita Fuhrmann, her accompanist. Mary Louise Regan was the organist.

The bride wore a princess-styled, collarless gown of white satin, fashioned with leg-o'-mutton sleeves coming to a point at the waist. Her finger-tip length veil, trimmed in lace, fell from a pleated lace cap decorated with orange blossoms. The bride's flowers were Joanna Hill roses.

Attended Sister Her sister, Mary Letitia Murphy, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a copenhagen-blue chiffon gown over satin, styled with a square neck, puffed sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt. Her flowered tiara was of a matching shade and her veil was shoulder-length.

Earl Gough was the best man. A black silk crepe dress was selected by Miss Grogan, aunt of the bride. Her accessories were black and her corsage was of gardenias. Mrs. Sheppard, mother of the bridegroom, wore a turquoise blue frock with black accessories. Her corsage was also of gardenias.

Tea Rose and Silver Tea rose, silver and white were the colors used in decorations at a wedding breakfast immediately after the ceremony, given in the home of the bride's aunt. Seventy-five guests shared the courtesy.

Bride-to-Be Guest at Party

Edna Poland, 328 S. Dubuque, was guest of honor Tuesday evening at a personal shower given for her in the home of Mrs. L. G. Lawyer, 402 S. Linn. Assistant hostesses for the occasion were Rena Sporleder and Ruth Gallaher.

Miss Poland will marry Dr. M. C. Harris of Eugene, Ore., Nov. 2. The couple will live in Eugene where Dr. Harris is practicing dentistry.

Local Bundles for Britain Committee Sends Third Large Shipment Abroad

Bundles for Britain packed 150 pounds of clothing yesterday to send to Britain through the national headquarters in New York. Mrs. C. Kennett, chairman of the packing committee, announced that the same amount was sent the first week the group was organized, and that 140 pounds was sent last week. Important articles in the shipment included men's overcoats, women's coats, children's clothes, and shoes.

Herbert J. Ries and Ray B. Baschnagel have been elected third and fourth vice presidents, respectively.

Packing for Britain

Pictured above, from left to right, packing clothes for Bundles for Britain to be sent to New York for re-shipment to England, are Mrs. C. Kennett, chairman of the packing committee, Mrs. J. G. Sentinella, Mrs. Jacob Cornog and Mrs. Wilfrid Sellars. These women, with the exception of Mrs. Cornog, are all English-born. Bundles for Britain originated in England at the beginning of the war, and the Iowa City chapter was organized a few weeks ago. Of special interest to students should be the student auxiliary of the group, of which Phyllis Gilchrist, A2 of Iowa City, is president. This group was organized only two weeks ago, and is rapidly growing in importance on the campus.

5,935 Registrants in County Ready to Be Assigned Numbers

Draft Boards Busy With Sorting Cards

Electing Jack Kennedy as its chairman and Charles C. Fieseler to the secretary post, the Johnson county draft board began work Wednesday of preparing the local registration cards for the national draft lottery to be held in Washington, D. C.

Glenn Hope, county supervisor, was appointed to the local draft board to fill the vacancy left by the resignation Wednesday of H. H. Gibbs, local druggist.

The board headquarters have been established in the southwest basement room of the county building.

The board yesterday undertook the gigantic task of sorting the local registration cards. Only the draftees from Johnson county will be handled by the draft board now in session at the county building.

According to the latest figures, a total of 4,083 cards were given the board members to sort and number, 120 of these coming from university students who live in Johnson county but outside of Iowa City.

One Out of Four

A grand total of 5,935 men appeared at the polls Wednesday in Johnson county and at the university, but according to government estimates, only one out of every four of these will see immediate military service.

Registration in Washington county Wednesday dropped about 25 per cent below the estimated 3,000. The county recorded only 2,231 registrants. In only four precincts out of the full 22 did the registration exceed previous estimations.

For the benefit of those who are registered and are now awaiting call, the following procedure will be observed, local draft officials announced.

Local draft boards in every one of the 6,500 districts throughout the United States are now engaged in numbering the cards which will be sent to Washington, D. C., for the national lottery.

On their arrival in Washington, the number of capsules representing the number of registrants in the largest district will be put up for drawing. As the number is drawn, bearers of that same number from every one of the 6,500 districts will be notified that he has been selected for the first call. The operation will be carried on through the list until enough men are called to fill the quota of the first draft.

With his notification, each draftee will receive a detailed information blank to fill out. These drafts will be considered by the local boards and those in their opinion who are able to serve will be officially drafted. Persons seeking deferment will be given the opportunity to plead their cases before the local deferment board and should they fail there, they will have the right to appeal their case to one of the four state tribunals.

Traveling Man Threatens Girl

She Won't Go Steady So He Is Arrested; Sentence Suspended

An Oklahoma salesman yesterday talked himself into a disorderly conduct charge.

W. A. Dilbeck of El Reno was prosecuted by Justice Judge Carson on the information of a young woman. She said that Dilbeck threatened her when she refused to "go steady" with him.

Judge Carson suspended a 30-day sentence when the salesman agreed to leave town.

Ten overtime parking charges were tried in yesterday's court session. Carl Wendt, 817 E. Daventport; Marilyn Gilchrist, 10 S. Clinton; Tom Tennyson, Iowa City, and Charles Smith, 509 S. Clinton, were fined $1 each on the charge.

The cases of J. A. Swisher, 710 Kirkwood; George E. Doherty, 1106 Washington; Lester Cotsamus, Melrose avenue, and Corwin Overton, Cedar Rapids, were dismissed.

Parking on private property brought a stern warning to Chris Peterson, 108 S. Linn.

Goats Carry Adventurer Home to Vote

Children and Police Escort Caravan Through Downtown Streets

Charlie McCartney, self-styled Robinson Crusoe, guided his goat-wagon caravan through Iowa City yesterday on the last leg of a 300-mile journey from Chicago to his home in Sigourney, traveling at the rate of 20 miles a day. "I'm going back home to vote," Charlie stated. "But I haven't decided yet who I'm voting for."

Charlie's caravan consisted of two home-made, under-size "prairie schooners" drawn by 12 goats. One rig was driven by the bearded eccentric himself, the other by his young wife. With six more goats and two dogs in tow, four bantam roosters in a coop, and their 4 year old son, Albert Gene, perched in the rear of one wagon, the parade crawled leisurely along the streets.

Charlie hasn't always been in the "publicity" business. He used to be a farmer near Sigourney, then came "hard times." For a while he worked on the WPA, he said, but a falling tree injured him and a lame arm put him on the list of unemployed. This summer, Charlie and his family toured 1,400 miles in and around Chicago.

"I can average about 20 miles a day," Charlie boasted. "These 'bills' I got are strong and tough. Not one of them is over five years old, and 10 of them have traveled more than 5,000 miles."

Charlie explained that he is now in the advertising business—advertising the McCartney family and any business firm that will pay him to draw a crowd before its doors. He also sells picture post cards of himself and troupe.

"What I'm proud of," he said, "is that I've never been arrested or fined by local authorities in any of the towns of Iowa or Illinois. And we're never in a hurry usually. Right now, though, I got to get back to Sigourney for election time."

Charlie eagerly told of his plans for the future. "I think I have things lined up in Chicago for a movie contract for me and the wife and the boy. Got a guy in Chicago and a lawyer working on it now. We're trying to get a 52-week contract."

Albert Gene, who Charlie calls the "widely traveled youngster," has a tricycle that's part of the load wherever they go. "The boy," Charlie said admiringly, "was born right here in Iowa City. He'll be going to school next fall, I suppose."

When asked whether he had to register for the draft, the bearded traveler said he was too old to sign up. "I can tell you one thing though," he added. "We're going to be in that war. Wait and see."

The caravan moved slowly through downtown streets of Iowa City late yesterday afternoon guided by a police escort.

Charlie stopped at the general delivery window of the post office before leaving to see if he had any business or fan mail, then stopped again in the business district.

Curious crowds of children followed the caravan-out of town. The troupe pitched their tent and tethered their goats for the night in a pasture near the airport.

Elks Initiate New Members

B. P. O. Elks, No. 590, held formal initiation for five new members Wednesday night. District Deputy J. W. Winger Jr. Fairfield, supervised the ceremony and later addressed the lodgemen.

Henry Louis, exalted ruler, conducted the exercises. Men initiated were Arthur R. Hoyer, Edward P. Cronin, Willard C. Hofer, John M. Lloyd and Michael Vanderwicken.

Dinner in the clubrooms preceded the initiation.

Junior Farm Bureau Plans October Dance

The junior farm bureau will hold a Halloween dance at C. S. A. hall Oct. 23 at 8:30 p.m., it was announced yesterday by Emmett C. Gardner, county agent.

There will be an orchestra, Gardner said, and refreshments will be served. Committee members in charge of the party are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Secrest, Orville Hora, Wesley Hatka, Lloyd Plecker and Clo Lynch.

City Removes Fallen Leaves

Local residents who wish to have the leaves removed from their property have been asked to pile them in some accessible place where they will be picked up by a city truck, City Engineer Fred Gartzke announced yesterday.

Gartzke urged residents to make sure that the piles were not near sewers or ditches where the rain might wash them into storm sewers. The truck will be several days in covering the whole city, Gartzke said.

Rain seldom falls in Upper Egypt.

There are no railways in Iceland.

New Stamps To Be Issued This Month

A new series of three-cent stamps will be issued Oct. 20 in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the 13th amendment to the constitution, it was announced yesterday by W. J. Barrow, Iowa City postmaster.

The stamps will be first placed on sale at the World's fair, N. Y., post office. Stamp collectors wishing first-day cancellations may send addressed covers, not in excess of 10, to the postmaster at Flushing, N. Y., with cash or postal money order. The World's fair office is a branch of the Flushing office, Barrow said.

Central design of the new stamp is a reproduction of the statue entitled "Emancipation" by Thomas Ball, now in Lincoln park, Washington, D. C., portraying Abraham Lincoln and the slave.

The base of the stamp is partly obscured by a panel with a white

Hawkeyes Show Up Well In Final Practice

Knock Down Nile Kinnick's Passes Easily

Al Coupee, Farmer Green, Gilleard Most Effective Backfield

Hurling Hal Hursh of Indiana, "Bogey Man" of the week for Iowa football fans, became a less frightening object last night as Dr. Eddie Anderson sent his Hawkeyes through their last home workout before tomorrow's encounter with the Hoosiers.

Hawkeyes Ready
With only this afternoon's short drill in Chicago remaining before they invade the Bloomington, Ind., home of the aerial-minded Indiana squad, the Iowans gave every indication that they would be ready for the crucial Big Ten contest tomorrow. A good share of that readiness, of course, is the sort of a defense they have for Hursh and his passes.

Despite the fact Iowa's ace passer of a year ago, All-American Nile Kinnick, was throwing the aerials in a long drill on defense against Hoosier plays, the Hawkeyes were able to keep completions down to a percentage that would have been unacceptably small for an Indiana team. Especially effective against passing plays was the high speed backfield of Al Coupee, Tom Farmer, Oops Gilleard and Bill Green.

Green and Gilleard
Although not the starting combination, that foursome can quite certainly be expected to see plenty of service against the Hoosiers, as it did in the Wisconsin game last week. Green and Gilleard are rated as two of the fleetest backs in the Big Ten, with Farmer taking care of the triple-threat spot and Coupee adding the necessary ruggedness and field generalship.

Beginning the game for Iowa will probably be most of the team that started against Wisconsin, with two possible changes, the substitution of John Maher for Wilford Burkett at one of the end posts and Bruno Andruska at center in place of Bill Diehl.

Iowa First String

Against that eleven the Hoosiers will probably take the field as a seasoned team that carries Hursh, the passing wizard, as its most potent threat. However, the Indiana running attack, sparked by jolting Joe Toft, has considerable power. Also to be considered is the powerful Hoosier line, with Archie Harris, the big colored pass catcher, and Eddie Rucinski, the other end, rated as probable forward wall standouts.

36 Gridders Go to Indiana

A squad of 36 Iowa gridders was picked last night by Coach Eddie Anderson to make the trip to Bloomington, Ind., for tomorrow's game with Indiana.

The Hawkeyes will leave Iowa City at 9:18 this morning, work out at Stagg field in Chicago this afternoon and journey on to Indianapolis tonight.

The traveling squad:
Centers: Bill Diehl, Bruno Andruska and Red Frye; guards: Ham Snider, Charles Tollefson, Max Hawkins, Henry Luebecke, Francis Curran and Ross Anderson; tackles: Capt. Mike Enich, Jim Walker, Al Urban, Joe Byrd, George Gable and Bob Otto; ends: Ken Pettit, Wilford Burkett, John Maher, Glenn Mentzel, Steve Mizen and Joe Moore; quarterbacks: Al Coupee, Gerald Ankeny, Dick Breuninger and Larry Paul; left halfbacks: Tom Farmer, Bill Stauss, Jim Youel and Bob Bender; right halfbacks: Burdell "Oops" Gilleard, Bill Gallagher and Bernard "Bus" Mertes; fullbacks: Ray Murphy, Bill Green, Art Johnson and Henry Vollenweider.

Complete Six Events Of Interclass Meet

With six events completed in the first day of the interclass track meet, the sophomores and juniors lead the freshmen and seniors, 37 to 27.

The events held were the 60-yard high hurdles, 60-yard dash, 275-yard dash, shot put, broad jump and pole vault.

Ralph Todd, running for the juniors, won the 60-yard dash and his brother Walter, competing for the same class, won the 275-yard dash.

Defense Against Hoosiers

The danger of Indiana's scoring power may find part of its answer tomorrow in Bill Gallagher, Iowa right halfback. Gallagher, rated as a good defensive man, will draw the starting assignment at the post in the contest between the Hawkeyes and Hoosiers at Bloomington, Ind. The game, Iowa's second Big Ten game of the year and Indiana's first, may be important in deciding the conference championship, since both teams are among the leading title contenders.

Three Annual Track Events Will Be Held

Three annual fall track events in which freshmen and undergraduates are eligible to compete will be held in the next three weeks under the auspices of the University of Iowa.

The first of these three events will be the annual fall cross country numeral run for freshmen to be held Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 4:30 p.m. on the cross country course.

The distance will be two miles starting on the west side track and continuing on across the course as laid out around the University golf links.

Those freshmen finishing among the leaders in this event will have fulfilled one of the requirements for receiving numerals in cross country running. Medals will also be awarded the first three men to finish.

The next of the three events will be the annual fall competition in the Hawkeye Shot Put on Tuesday, Nov. 5 on the west side track from 3:30 p.m. until 5:30 p.m.

Any undergraduate in the university is eligible to compete in this event. Medals will be awarded for first three places. The winner will also have his name engraved on a traveling trophy. The event was won last spring by Hy Booth of Des Moines who threw the 16 pound shot 37 feet 1 inch.

Previous winners in the event are not eligible to have their name engraved on the trophy nor are they eligible to win medals.

The annual Hawkeye Poultry run will be held Tuesday, Nov. 12, on the university cross country course. The distance will be two miles. Any undergraduate is eligible to compete except varsity letter winners and varsity cross country regulars on this year's team.

Mt. Vernon In Conference Tiff With U - Hawks

The U - high rivermen went through a light signal drill yesterday in preparation for today's conference match with a strong Mt. Vernon team.

The squad has visibly improved its attack and will give Mt. Vernon a run for its money regardless of who comes out on top.

Bob Alderman, star halfback worked out with the second stringers for most of the afternoon. Although he won't start today, Coach Paul Brechler promised he would see action.

Pressbox Pickups

BY OSCAR HARGRAVE

Among those who have been following Iowa football last year and this, there will probably be a few pitying smiles after the recent trouble at Ohio State. The Bucks, although they won the conference title a year ago, are in a tough spot and so is Coach Francis Schmidt.

The trouble, coming on the heels of a licking from Northwestern, is one of players telling their own versions of what was wrong with Schmidt's coaching. That coaching, incidentally, has had Ohio State near the top of the Big Ten for several years. But the players, so the story goes, weren't worked hard enough during the week before the game and thus weren't ready for the contest.

By lack of work, in this case, it is really lack of scrimmage that is meant, for the players charged that they didn't get much contact work in the week preceding the Wildcat fray. Of course, as is the wont of the boys along Main street, the second guessers gobbled this luscious tidbit as though it were a midnight snack from the ice box.

Lack of contact work is not necessary, according to Iowa's Dr. Eddie Anderson. In fact, if daily scrimmage is needed by a football team and its lack provides a handicap, the Iowa mentor has certainly burdened himself during his stay here. However, the fact that he has now won eight games, while losing one and tying one, doesn't argue that he missed anything but a few headaches.

That, of course, is only saying that, because Iowa has managed to plod along on that sort of fare, other schools could do it. It is also a hint that maybe Schmidt knew what he was doing but lost in spite of his correct procedure. And, at any rate, one has scant respect for the players who risked a complete breakdown of team morale for mere relief of personal feelings.

On the fact that there is a bit of a squabble at the Ohio school, I base a statement that the Ohio State-Minnesota go tomorrow is the hardest one of the week to figure. Added to the fact that the Bucks and Gophers are rather evenly matched, is the unpredictable mental state of the Ohio State players.

Minnesota is tough and the Gophers will be keyed up for the game, a crucial one in their quest for the Big Ten title, but no one can guess what the Bucks will do. They might, in an unsettled mood, fall apart at the seams after the first charge of the Gopher line.

Injured Hawklets Meet Centerville Tonight

Sigma Chi 12; Sigma Nu 6 Overcome Halftime Deficit With Touchdown Runs by Frank, Lynch

Sigma Chi staged a last half scoring rally to nose out Sigma Nu 12 to 6 in their game yesterday in the interfraternity class B intramural touch football league. Sigma Nu led at halftime 6 to 0 on a run by Miller. Sigma Chi's score came midway in the second period on runs by Frank and Lynch.

Scoring a marker in each period, Theta Tau won a close 14 to 11 game from Phi Gamma Delta. Hamberg and W. Lefkiw combined touchdown potentialities to push over Theta Tau's markers on a pass and a running play. Kalen stood out for the losing sextet scoring all the points on a touchdown and two safeties.

Phi Kappa Sigma rolled over Alpha Tau Omega, 40 to 7. Berns sparked the Phi Kappa Sigma on an end run good for 6 points and pitched five passes good for markers, three to Johnson and one each to Brandon and Henry. Alpha Tau Omega avoided being shut out late in the second half on a pass from Wood to Tierney. Two intercepted passes and one scoring pass play proved the margin of victory for Delta Tau Delta in their game with Delta Chi 20 to 2. Delta Tau Delta led midway in the game 13 to 2. The winners scored on pass interceptions by Manush and Jennings. Manush tossed a long one to Ahmann for his team's last marker. Trey was outstanding in the line for the winning sextet. Crockett was instrumental in tallying Delta Chi's two points on a safety in the first period of the game. Touchdowns were scored on the first two plays of the contest.

Two of yesterday's encounters were won on forfeit and default. Beta Theta Pi was awarded the victory in their game with Triangle. Triangle failed to appear for the contest. An ineligible player in the lineup for Phi Epsilon Kappa Gave Sigma Alpha Epsilon credit for the victory in the scheduled contest between those two teams.

Francis Schmidt Admits Illegal Substitution of Star Lineman

Edward Unconcerned Over Controversy; Points for Hawkeyes

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 17 (AP)—Coach Francis Schmidt of Ohio State's western conference football champions admitted today that Charley Maag, huge tackle, was in the game illegally Oct. 5 when he booted a last-minute field goal to defeat Purdue 17 to 14.

Schmidt said "the motion pictures of the game show that Maag was substituted illegally in the second period, which would have barred him from further competition in the game. However, the illegal substitution was an oversight, and purely unintentional."

"It's unfortunate, but nothing can be done about it now. I'm really sorry it happened."

Coach Mal Edward of Purdue, questioned about the controversy, said: "That game is over as far as we are concerned. We are looking ahead to our games with Wisconsin, Iowa, Fordham, Minnesota and Indiana."

While Schmidt accepted full blame for the occurrence, L. W. St. John, Ohio's veteran director of athletics, placed part of the responsibility on Maag and upon the student manager who keeps a record of substitutions on the bench.

"Maag should have said something, as well as the student manager," the athletic director said. "However, the illegal substitution came in the last minute of the second period, when several other players were sent in, and I suppose no one noticed it."

W. D. Knight of Rockford, Ill., who as umpire was charged with keeping a list of substitutes, was absolved of all blame due to the Big Ten ruling which makes the coaches responsible for all lineup changes. The conference has been following that procedure for several years, lifting the burden from the umpire.

In Chicago Maj. John L. Griffith, the western conference commissioner of athletics, regarded the entire controversy as a closed incident.

Grid Experts Second of Prediction Series Aired

In the second of a weekly series of broadcasts, WSUI's "Football Scoreboard of the Air" will present its predictions at 12:30 this noon, with Sports Announcer Jim Dover in charge of the program.

Members of the board, all local sports writers, are Jim Jordan, Des Moines Register and Tribune; Gene Claussen, Associated Press; Neil Naiden, United Press; and Oscar Hargrave, The Daily Iowan.

This Week's Games
Iowa at Indiana, Carnegie Tech at Notre Dame, Kansas State at Oklahoma, Army at Harvard, Northwestern at Wisconsin, Fordham at Pittsburgh, U.C.L.A. at California, Michigan State at Temple, Minnesota at Ohio State, Texas Christian at Texas A & M, Tennessee at Alabama, Iowa State at Missouri, Illinois at Michigan, Nebraska at Kansas, Coe at Cornell and Stanford at Washington.

20 Swimmers Working Out

Approximately 20 varsity swimmers are working out under the tutelage of Coach Dave Armbruster between preparations for the Dolphin Follies of 1941. Ten sophomores bolster the returning veterans who lost only three members by graduation last spring. Most promising of the new men are Bob Becker, Vito Lopin and Al Povalitis. Povalitis will not be eligible until next semester.

The squad is also expected to be aided by the return of Jack O'Mahoney who swam on the 1938 team but did not return to school last year. Russ Dotson, sophomore sprint ace on last year's team, is not returning this year. The Hawks will be captained this year by Carl Ahlgren.

Men who have reported are: Capt. Ahlgren, Clarence Moore, Harold Krizan, William Spencer, George Poulos, Robert Mahood Jr., Dale Lounsbury, Clyde Kemnitz, Nick Connell, James Cupp, Robert Becker, Leo Biedrzycki, Ed Armbruster, William McAloon, O'Mahoney, Bictor Vargon, Robert Jones and Nick Karafa.

noted, Ohio would have been penalized to the 18-yard line, and Maag ruled ineligible for the remainder of the game. In the fourth period, with 21 seconds to play, he booted the field goal that won, Purdue having made a great last-half comeback to knot the count at 14-14.

Enemy Boasts Record of Only One Reversal

Tonight City high's Little Hawks invade Centerville's home field to take on an eleven that boasts a record of only one defeat this year.

Included among the teams Coach John Briley's gridders have down this year are Bloomfield, Kirksville, Mo. and Milan, Mo. Briley formerly coached at Tip-ton, Ia., where he piled up an impressive record in a few years.

Coach Herb Cormack's Red and Whites this week concentrated on passing drills besides learning several plays. Several lateral pass plays were attempted during the week and may play a significant part in tonight's encounter. An unusually long list of injuries has made it necessary for Cormack to shift several of his men from their regular positions, and also necessitated the introduction of new plays. Bill Bothell and Paul Miller are the only regular line men likely to start for the Hawklets against Centerville.

Possible starters for the Cormackmen include Louis Jenkinson and Don Laughlin at ends; Everett Moir and Paul Miller, tackles; Bothell and Joe Poulter, guards, and Jack Fetig, center. In the backfield Dean Williams, Bud Lemons, Bob Towell and Johnnie Schuppert will probably get the nod.

If Cormack should decide to start the above listed backfield, a dependable punter would be lacking. Schuppert can be counted on to boot a pretty fair ball, but isn't likely to be consistent. Bill Sangster and Herb Davis have been doing the kicking for the Iowa Citizens and will both probably see action at Centerville.

Ed Cressett, Don Montgomery and Bob Crumley, injured regulars, are itching to get a crack at Centerville and may get their chance if Cormack decides their condition is improved enough.

Iowa City's next conference game is with Franklin at Cedar Rapids October 31. November 8 the City highers will face Davenport here to complete their 1940 schedule. The Davenport-Iowa City tilt is Iowa City's homecoming game.

Tracksters to Indiana

Five members of the University of Iowa track team will depart this morning for Bloomington, Ind., to attempt to spoil part of the University of Indiana's homecoming.

The event will be a two mile team race between the two schools. Those making the trip with Track Coach George Bresnahan are: George Vacik, Paul Sparks, Joel Hinrichs, Ray Fritsch and Larry Zuccola.

Indiana Drills On Pass Defense

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 17 (AP)—Indiana university's football team went through a long practice session on pass defense today as the Hoosiers began tapering off for the Iowa clash here Saturday.

In the backfield were Harold Hursh of Middletown, Ohio, Bob White of Joliet, Ill., Earl Dolomay of Fort Allegheny, Pa., and Ray Dumke of St. Joseph, Mich.

Edward Stops Contact Work

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 17 (AP)—To prevent further injuries to the Purdue football squad, Coach Mal Edward stopped contact scrimmage today and put the players through dummy scrimmage on a forward pass offensive.

He said there would be no drill at all Saturday. Purdue's next game is with Wisconsin here Oct. 26. Two stars are out with injuries.

Badgers Emphasize Offense in Drill

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 17 (AP)—Wisconsin gridders went through a long but light workout today, as Coach Harry Stuhldreher, fearing new injuries, cancelled all contact work before Saturday's game with Northwestern.

Emphasis was placed on punting, placekicking, and offense. Stuhldreher was pleased with yesterday's defensive drills against Wildcat formations.

Additional kicking workouts were scheduled for tomorrow.

Bierman Takes 36 To Ohio State

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 17 (AP)—Thirty-six Minnesota football players entrained tonight on the first leg of their journey to Columbus and Saturday's game with Ohio State, Big Ten champions.

The squad will arrive in Dayton, Ohio, tomorrow where a workout will be held and headquarters maintained until time to go to Columbus for the game.

Sophomore Starts For Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 17 (AP)—Coach Bob Zuppke, in a surprise move today, selected sophomore Bob Wilford over three more experienced Illinois centers, to start Saturday's game at Michigan.

"I like his alertness on defense, and he's willing to work," Zuppke averred. Zuppke also named Lavere Astroth to start at right half and Johnny Worban at left half. The Illini squad, departing for

Gophers Shun 'Bowls'

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 17 (AP)—The University of Minnesota today went on record against Western conference participation in any post-season football games, specifically the annual Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena, Calif., New Year's day. The proposal to approve post-season games, permitting the Western conference and Pacific Coast conference to match their champions annually in the Rose Bowl, originated at a conference of Big Ten representatives in Chicago September 7.

Michigan Tries To Please Zuppke

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 17 (AP)—Michigan plans to accommodate Bob Zuppke, Illinois coach, to the fullest for the football game here Saturday.

On the Illini's last two visits here Zuppke kicked that the stadium grass was too long, once cracking, "It's so long one of my halfbacks might get lost."

Today Coach Fritz Crisler of Michigan disclosed he had ordered the groundskeeper to "cut the grass as short as he could and just the way Zuppke likes it."

Hahnenstein Rejoins Wildcat Forces

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 17 (AP)—Red Hahnenstein took the cast off his right ankle today and joined the Northwestern backfield in a forward passing drill for the game at Wisconsin Saturday.

Hahnenstein worked out only briefly, but may break into the lineup against the Badgers. The varsity operated on offense throughout the practice against freshmen using a Wisconsin defense.

Odds Against Bucks In Minnesota Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 17 (AP)—With their big line outweighed and the odds against them for the first time this season, Ohio State university's Bucks went through their last stiff workout today in preparation for the Minnesota game Saturday.

A light drill on the stadium sod Friday afternoon remains on Coach Francis A. Schmidt's schedule before his Western conference champions risk their title with the Gophers.

Averaging 209, the Minnesota line will hold a slight poundage edge on the Bucks' forward wall, but Don Scott's 215 gives Ohio's backfield a weight advantage.

WSUI's New Transmitter, Studios Will Be Dedicated At Dinner in Union Tonight

Documentary Drama Will Be Broadcast After Ceremony

The formal dedication ceremonies for radio station WSUI's new studios and transmitter will be held at a dinner in the main lounge of Iowa Union, at 6:30 this evening. The dinner and dedication are part of a two-day conference on applied radio, sponsored by the State University of Iowa.

Chester A. Phillips, acting president of the university, will be chairman of the evening.

Production

A dramatic production, "On Waves of Sound," written by Georgia Bowman, G of Hannibal, Mo., and Thomas Scherrebeck, instructor in the English department, will be broadcast during the evening.

The play, which is documentary in nature, will stress the importance of American radio work. It will be presented in tribute to station WSUI.

Prof. H. Clay Harshbarger, production manager of WSUI, and instructor in the speech department, is in charge of production of the program.

Tonight's Cast

The play cast includes 19 students: Burton Bridgens, A4 of Iowa City; Bob Pfeiffer, A2 of Detroit, Mich.; Gall Richards, G of Akron, O.; Harold Glaspey, A4 of Hills; Beverly Barnes, A4 of Sioux Falls, S. D.; John B.

ation Administration, are also scheduled to take part in the session.

In 1936 Hill was named vice-president of the Iowa Broadcasting company after several months' association with the Des Moines Register and Tribune executive offices. He has held this position of managing the company's four radio stations, KSO, KRNT, WMT and WNAX, since his appointment.

Sener, G of Chicago.

Bob Smylie

The program will be announced by Bob Smylie, U of Columbus Junction. Ray Heinen, G of Cherokee, and Wendell Doss will be in charge of the sound work. Highlight of the evening will be the dedication address of Dr. James Rowland Angell, educational counselor of the National Broadcasting company.

Before his association with the broadcasting company, Dr. Angell was president of Yale university, an office which he held for 16 years.

Dr. Angell spoke here last night on "The Place of Radio in a Democracy," as one of the Baconian lectures. The dedication address will be broadcast over WSUI tonight at 8:30.

Station WSUI Traces Beginning to Code Messages Sent Thirty Years Ago

By MARGARET RODMAN
Thirty years ago, in 1911, a few scientifically-minded faculty members of the University of Iowa started sending code messages from a 2,000-watt transmitter, using the call letters 9YA. It was the birth of station WSUI. In 1919 the university installed what is believed to be the first radio telephone transmitter west of the Mississippi river. Few Iowans heard these broadcasts, however, as there were only six or seven receivers in the state.

Pioneering
Still pioneering, Iowa secured two power vacuum tubes when they were first manufactured. Although one was burned out in an experiment almost immediately, the other served until more were obtainable. The equipment was set up in a basement room of the physics building.
Carl Menzer, a graduate of the engineering department of the university and owner of a private broadcasting station, was drawn into the growing enterprise in 1921. The work of operation, repair, announcing, program directing and production were all executed by him, with only the help of a student operator hired on a part-time basis to lighten the burden.

In 1922
In 1922, when broadcasting stations were recognized as such, the federal government assigned the call letters WHAA to the station and authorized it to broadcast on the frequency of 834 kilocycles.

500-Watt Power
In 1922, when broadcasting phone transmitter then available was installed, an instrument of 500-watt power. Another improvement was made when the station moved to the third floor of the engineering building, allowing the enterprise more breathing space.

Classroom Use
In 1928, when the university undertook classroom broadcasting, two courses were presented. Prof. C. C. Wylie offered a class in astronomy and Prof. Sam Sloan taught a class in English novel. The one-hour broadcasts were characterized by lectures given by the instructors and questions or comments offered by the students.
Interest in such classes has increased steadily and at the present time a highly developed program of classroom broadcasts exists.

1000 Watts
In 1934, the FCC authorized the use of 1000 watts to WSUI for daytime use. Nighttime power remained at 500 watts, but since conditions for broadcasting are more favorable after sundown, the coverage area of the station was maintained.
While developing in other lines, WSUI did not neglect remote broadcasting. The stadium, field house, music studios and many classrooms are fitted with remote broadcasting apparatus.

Television
Experiments in television have been undertaken by the electrical engineering department since 1932. W9XK are the call letters for the television station, one of the four or five university-operated stations in America. Working with WSUI, both sound and image are projected over the air twice a week.

Frequency Change
Six changes of frequency plagued the station between 1925 and 1929. The fluctuation made program planning difficult and confused listeners, so it was not without relief that the station went on the frequency of 880 kilocycles, hoping for stability. No changes have been made since that time.

Menzer's herculean burden was lightened in 1934 when a studio staff was set up to assist him. Pearl Bennett Broxam was appointed program director. Arrangements for a secretary, staff announcer, chief operator, two assistant operators, studio hostess and production manager were made at the same time.

New Studio
Around 1930 a new studio was added to WSUI facilities located in Iowa Union. This room was used for broadcasting until last September when the station moved to the radio building.
The system of program exchange between stations WSUI and WOI of Ames, both state-owned and non-commercial, was begun several years ago. Each station takes 18 hours of rebroadcasting in fields of mutual interest every month.

Prof. Harshbarger
Prof. H. Clay Harshbarger of the speech department has correlated the speech and radio departments. Two classes, speech in radio and radio broadcasting, which he teaches, provide laboratory work at the station.
In May, 1940, the power of WSUI was increased to 5000 watts daytime and 1000 at night. An application is now on file with the FCC requesting an increase to 5000 watts at night.

Construction
Walls are constructed of porous cement blocks designed to insulate against foreign sounds and to reduce reverberation, while maintaining tonal excellence.
The basement of the building in addition to shops, a garage and rooms storing equipment houses a reverberation chamber, a long tunnel producing echoes and other acoustical effects when directors desire them for shows.
Few stations can trace their development from as early a beginning as WSUI, or lay claim to an equal number of pioneering steps. Throughout its existence, moreover, the policy of the station has been that of service in the educational and social fields. These factors alone are sufficient to place the name of WSUI among the outstanding educational stations of the nation.

New Building
Long cramped for space and proper equipment, the station moved recently into new and highly improved quarters in the radio building, adjacent to the engineering building. Equipment is equal to the best found in commercial stations, authorities said.
Five studios, designated as A, B, C, D, and E, are adapted to various kinds of broadcasting. Studio A is suitable for teaching and demonstration, D for classroom broadcasting, B and C are for general use; studio E is an auditorium seating 200 people.

Outstanding Directors, Educators in Radio Will Initiate Series of Annual Meetings Today

Hundreds of Iowans Expected Here For Initial Conference

The first annual conference on applied radio will convene on the campus today for a two-day conference. Outstanding educators and directors in radio will discuss the problems of commercial and educational radio. The highlight of the conference will be the dedication of the University of Iowa's own radio station WSUI at the banquet to-night in Iowa Union.

Hundreds Expected
Hundreds of Iowans are expected here for the conference to hear radio leaders in lectures and round table discussions. All sessions in the conference are open to the general public.

The opening session, at 9 o'clock this morning, will hear a talk by George C. Biggar, program director of WLW, Cincinnati, O., on "The Fifth Five Years." Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division here, will be chairman of the general session, in studio E, WSUI.

Luncheon
A conference luncheon will be held in the main dining room at Jefferson hotel at noon today, for conference guests.

This afternoon's session will open at 1:30, with an address by C. A. Siepmann of Harvard university, former program director for the British Broadcasting corporation. He will speak on "The Race Against Time," in studio E, radio studios.

Discussions
The conference this afternoon will take up organization programs, discussions of college and radio training and farm broadcasting.

Tomorrow morning at 9, a group of juniors and seniors from University high school here will listen to a production of "Man-made Islands of the Aztecs," from the American School of the Air. The demonstration is conducted by Luella Hoskins of the Chicago radio council.

Tomorrow
Another conference luncheon will be held at noon tomorrow, in the river room at Iowa Union. Prof. Hew Roberts of the college of education will speak on "Radio and National Defense."

Featured on tomorrow afternoon's session will be a demonstration by Earle McGill, casting director of Columbia Broadcast-

Dr. J. T. Johnson To Broadcast Over WSUI This Morning

"The Week in Government" will be the topic of a commentary discussion by Dr. Jack T. Johnson of the political science department on WSUI this morning at 10 o'clock.

Dr. Johnson is author of "The Administration of Unemployment Compensation in Iowa." He received his B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Iowa. The local faculty man is also co-author of "A Railroad to the Sea."

A MINISTER'S DAY
BENTON, Ky. (AP) — "Rev. Pace Day," observed annually for the last nine years by the First Christian church, this year marked the 60th anniversary in the ministry of the Rev. J. M. Pace, 81. Recently he attended the golden wedding anniversaries of two couples he married.

Meeting Brings Speech, Radio Visitors Today

Many personalities in speech and radio attending the first annual conference on applied radio held here on the campus today and tomorrow.

Luther Weaver of St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., Tom Rishworth, educational director for radio station KSTP in St. Paul, Minn. and Isabel Greenburg of radio station KVFD in Ft. Dodge arrived late yesterday.

George B. Palmer, radio chairman of the Minnesota Women's federation organization in Minneapolis; Dr. Clara Kretting of Bradley college in Peoria, Ill.; Earle McGill, director of CBS in New York City; Frederick A. Peery of the English department of Kansas State college in Manhattan, Kans.; Dr. H. B. Summers, professor of speech in Kansas State college, and F. L. Wahn, head of the speech department of Wichita university in Wichita, Kans., are all staying in the Jefferson hotel.

Plan Exhibits For Convention

Exhibits of prize-winning newspapers, annuals and the convention's contest trophies will be on display in the women's lounge, Iowa Union in connection with the Iowa High School Press association convention here today and tomorrow.

The exhibit will be open all day for general inspection.
Contest trophies will be awarded to winners in the convention writing division at a general session tomorrow morning in room 210, zoology building.

About 590 newspapers and periodicals are published in Portugal.

Construction
Walls are constructed of porous cement blocks designed to insulate against foreign sounds and to reduce reverberation, while maintaining tonal excellence.
The basement of the building in addition to shops, a garage and rooms storing equipment houses a reverberation chamber, a long tunnel producing echoes and other acoustical effects when directors desire them for shows.

Throughout its existence, moreover, the policy of the station has been that of service in the educational and social fields. These factors alone are sufficient to place the name of WSUI among the outstanding educational stations of the nation.

Behind the Scenes of WSUI's Programs

Every program heard over radio station WSUI goes through the maze of wires and switches shown here in the control room of the transmitter house. The new transmitter and its controls have been especially designed to cover a broadcast area north and west of Iowa City. At its new location, near Coralville, the transmitter has been authorized by the Federal Communications Commission to operate on a power of 5,000 watts during the day and 1,000 watts at night. This is an increase of 4,000 watts, and 500 watts for each period.

New Facilities for Better Programs

The new transmitter house of station WSUI, completed last spring, operates on an assigned frequency of 880 kilocycles. From the house, shown here, broadcasts are sent out over three 255-foot antennae near the transmitter. Modern in every respect, and approved by the Federal Communications Commission, the transmitter and its house and controls are protected from lightning and other interference by a network of copper wires laid underground. All broadcasts must pass through the master control in the radio building, before being sent here through an underground cable.

ing steps. Throughout its existence, moreover, the policy of the station has been that of service in the educational and social fields. These factors alone are sufficient to place the name of WSUI among the outstanding educational stations of the nation.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, 419 S. Lucas, Ruth Wilson has been elected president of the Iowa High School Press association. She will preside at the luncheon meeting of the conference here today and tomorrow. Miss Wilson, a senior at Iowa City high school, is editor-in-chief of the Little Hawk weekly and the Red and White annual, student publications. A charter member of Scribblers', creative writing club, she is president of the Iowa City chapter of the Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists.

High School Receptionists

F. Kenneth Stratton, Erna Hansen Greet Journalists at Union

"Good Morning. Welcome to the 1946 Iowa High School Press association conference!"

Such will be the greeting of the two adviser-receptionists as the hundreds of high school journalists register at Iowa Union this morning.

F. Kenneth Stratton, head of journalism at East high school, Des Moines, and Erna Hansen, head of journalism at Iowa City high school, will be the adviser-receptionists.

Student assistants will be Ruth Wilson of Iowa City, president of the Iowa High School Press association, and Mildred Burger of Iowa City.

University students assisting with the registration today will be Mary Jane Middleton, A3 of Sioux City, and Henry Still, A3 of Farmington.

From the New Studios of WSUI

The main studio of WSUI will be in almost constant use this week end, during the conference on applied radio, held on the Iowa campus. One of the most up-to-date educational studios in the nation, WSUI has facilities to provide programs with technical and engineering perfection. This general view, taken through the large observation window in the comfortable lounge, shows students presenting an actual broadcast. All broadcasts are open to the public, and an invitation to witness them is extended to anyone interested.

That Versatile Jimmy Nelson

'Uncle Jim' Has Done About Everything Connected With WSUI

No one can deny—and probably no one would—that at least one characteristic of Jimmy Nelson, A4 of Anita, is versatility. The varying abilities of Jim are, however, largely applied to radio work. In the three and a half years he has been connected with WSUI, Jim has announced, acted, directed, done sound effect, written both plays and continuity, produced and interviewed.

"I haven't done sports announcing though," he suddenly recalled as he was cross-examined on his radio history. "I'm interested, though—really interested—in acting, writing and producing. And promotion work, of course," said Jim seriously, when asked his particular ambition.

Earle McGill

Casting Director Gives Some Advice

"Make your mistakes locally" not coast to coast," is the advice given by Earle McGill, casting director of Columbia broadcasting system, to radio aspirants in an interview here yesterday.

"We don't even consider people for radio jobs who haven't had experience," McGill explained. "It would be foolish to train inexperienced performers when there are hundreds of skilled radio performers in New York alone," he pointed out.

College Training

Asked if young people should get their training in college, McGill queried, "Where else?" "Fifteen years ago there were 200 stock companies in the United States; now there are none except in the summer.

"Universities such as Iowa with its well equipped theatre and fine radio facilities offer students opportunity to train for radio," he suggested.

Audience

"The instinct to take a chance—watching someone win or lose—intrigues the average listener," McGill said to explain the phenomenal growth of audience participation programs.

"If the fellow performing answers the question the listener marvels; if he fails to do so, the hearer feels superior."

There is slight educational value to the question and answer program, according to McGill. "The questions are too hit or miss."

Radio Forum

The casting director cited the educational forum as one of the newest developments in radio programs at the present time. The sense of insecurity and uncertainty so prevalent today accounts for it, he said.

Smiling broadly, McGill described the throaty-voiced "other woman" as directors imagine her. "She is always a contralto," McGill said that such classification for "dark" voices has been the practice for many years.

Women Announcers

Asked why few women announce on radio, McGill laughed. "Women won't accept women announcers," he explained. "I guess they don't like to take orders from another woman." He cited Bess Johnson, of Lady Esther

H. V. O'Brien, Columnist, Speaks to Iowa Press Group

'Chicago Daily News' Writer Has Broad Literary Experience

Howard Vincent O'Brien, columnist for the Chicago Daily News, will be the principal speaker at the banquet of the Iowa High School Press association in the river room fame, as an exception to the rule. In a more serious vein, McGill discussed the correlation between radio and journalism. Each has a field of news dissemination in which it excels, he explained. He cited war news as a phase in which radio was superior.

of Iowa Union tonight. O'Brien has written his column, "All Things Considered," for the Chicago Daily News since 1932, and was literary editor for that paper from 1928 until 1932.

A native Chicagoan, O'Brien received his B.A. from Yale university in 1910. He served on the editorial staff of "Printer's Ink," and was founder and publisher of "Art" from 1911 to 1914.

He is also the author of several books, the best known being "New Men for Old," "The Thunderbolt," "What a Man Wants," "Wine, Women and War" and "Notes for a Book About Mexico."
