Kinnick Delivers 'Kick-Off' Speech at Huge Pep Rally Tonight

Nile Kinnick, LI of Adel, will deliver the "kick-off" for the 29th Homecoming shortly after 7:30 tonight as master of ceremonies at the largest mass meeting of the year.
Hundreds of alumni will join the throngs of students who will come in parades from all parts of the campus to the east side of Old Capitol for a rousing rally. Speakers at the pep meeting have been announced by Prof. George Haskell of the college of commerce, chairman of the program committee.
Virgil M. Hancher, President-elect Virgil M. Hancher will be introduced to the assembled crowd, as well as Acting President Chester A. Phillips.

Mayor Henry Willenbrock of Iowa City will address the group. Kinnick will also introduce Carl Leib, chairman of the athletic board, and E. G. (Dad) Schroeder, director of the athletic department.

Iowa Coaches
Three leaders of the fighting Iowa teams will be presented to the Homecoming throng. Mory Eby, head coach at Coe college, captained the 1900 team for the university and Erwin Prasse, led the Iron Men of 1939 to many victories. Captain Mike Enich, C of Boone, will address the group. Coach Eddie Anderson will also be on hand to speak to the crowd on the eve of the Iowa-Purdue game.

Parades
Parades will start at four widely separated points in Iowa City and will move toward the east side of Old Capitol. Each group will be headed by a cheerleader and a section of the band and Scottish Highlanders.
At 7:22 this evening, one group will meet at the president's home, 102 E. Church. Another section will assemble before Delta Upsilon fraternity, 320 Ellis, at 7:18. Scottish Highlanders will lead the parade from the Quadrangle at 7:20, and at the same time paraders will leave the College street park.

Townpeople
All students and townspeople are urged to go to their nearest parade centers before the time scheduled for the departure.
Cheerleaders are Frank Brandon, D2 of St. Davids, Pa.; Ed Glazier, E4 of Sioux City; Ervin Pinkston, A2 of Council Bluffs; Norman Gold, A3 of Newark, N. J., and Ralph Staley, A2 of Council Bluffs.
Pi Epsilon Pi, pep fraternity, has aided in the plans for Homecoming.

Iowa's Co-eds and Homecoming Monument to Greet Alumni

To burn or not to burn—that is the question. The traditional 1940 Homecoming corn monument, erected at the intersection of Iowa avenue and Clinton street, was completed yesterday by students in the college of engineering. The distinctive ear of corn, complete with large green husks and topped with a black and gold hawk with outstretched wings, was designed by George Katres, E4 of Sioux City. The enthusiastic students shown with the monument are, left to right, Mary McLaughlin, A3 of Monticello; Kathleen Neuman, A2 of Clear Lake; Marjorie Grimm, A2 of Bluffton, Ind.; Elizabeth Charleton, A2 of Manchester; Beth Fellows, A3 of Newton, and Virginia Brannan, A4 of La Grange, Ill.

Tonight's Line of March

The line of march for tonight's big rally is pictured as it will be from the four different points in Iowa City. The group will leave the Delta Upsilon fraternity house at 7:18; the Quadrangle at 7:20; the president's home at 7:22, and College street park at 7:20. All visitors, students and townspeople are urged to attend the mass meeting on the east side of Old Capitol about 7:30 this evening. A rousing program has been planned with guest speakers, band music and cheers under the direction of the varsity cheerleaders.

Campaign Grows Warmer

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wendell L. Willkie campaigned against President Roosevelt yesterday in the factory towns of New Jersey and Delaware with the assertion that "when a man becomes too absolute in power, he always takes the people to the shambles of war."
To one of his audiences, the republican nominee said "You can see with your own eyes what the indispensable men have done to the people of Europe." He said the president was asking the country to:
"Take me as I am. Take me with my courts. Take me with my ambassadors. Take me with my corrupt political bosses."
Mr. Roosevelt, meanwhile, was preparing for another campaign tour—back to Brooklyn, where he recently toured, and to Cleveland, farthest west of any politi-

LET'S COOPERATE

May we urge those who attend pep rallies to refrain from throwing rolls of toilet tissue, or any other object, at any time during the evening.
Last week the horn of a member of the University of Iowa band was damaged by one such object. Flying objects are a constant danger to the persons and property of those in attendance.
Throwing objects adds nothing, detracts much from an Iowa pep rally.
Will you cooperate, please?

Greek, Italian Troops Clash Near Ioannina

Invaders Retreat From Strategic Hill North of Town

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 31 (AP)—In their first major counter-attack of the new war with Italy Greek soldiers were declared today to have stormed the gloomy heights north of Ioannina (Janina) and pushed back the invading fascist troops.
The town—strategically important because of its supply deposits and its location, some 30 miles from the Albanian frontier, and an equal distance from the coast—was thus relieved temporarily at least from what had been before a slow but continuous Italian advance by two columns.
Specifically claimed in Greek reports were the recapture of a hill which had been the scene of heavy action and the seizure of large quantities of abandoned arms and equipment.
(Advice from the Greek-Yugoslavian boundary, relayed through Bitoli, Yugoslavia, said the Italians had gained slight ground in four days toward Ioannina, but had been unable to crack strong Greek defenses farther northeast.)
The Ioannina sector was the hottest of the day, but all along the lofty battle line—the southern frontier of Albania—there was intermittent fighting. Behind the front, Italian and Greek bombers attacked communications.

Italy Claims Penetration On Two Fronts

Assert Troops Advance Into Greece by Land As Well as Seaside

ROME, Nov. 1 (Friday) (AP)—Italian troops have penetrated Greece from the seaside as well as from the Albanian land frontier, the official Italian news agency Stefani reported early today.
Other reports from the front said that in four days of war against Greece, the Italian army had advanced beyond the Kalamas river, five miles from the Albanian border, despite rain, mud and stiff resistance.
Stefani's foreign correspondent also mentioned inclement weather and difficulties of terrain, but said the Italians were pressing ahead, reinforced by aviation.

War Materials Sent to Manila, Japan Charges

TOKYO, Nov. 1 (Friday) (AP)—The independent newspaper Nichi Nichi, in a Shanghai dispatch, charged today the United States "is rapidly developing a multi-sided war program against Japan."
In support of its charge, the newspaper said, American marines in Shanghai are undergoing war-time training, that huge war stores are being collected at Manila and that assembly plants for war materials are being installed there to be operated by highly trained army personnel from Michigan and California.
The supplies assembled at Manila, Nichi Nichi asserted, include more than 100 bombers and pursuit planes, 100 heavy tanks, 1,100 armored trucks, artillery and anti-aircraft guns.
In an editorial, the newspaper warned the Japanese public against optimism over current Japanese-Russian negotiations on the grounds that the Soviet Union is "having clandestine relations with the United States and Britain" and is following a policy of expediency between the democracies and the totalitarian states.

Nazis Again Attack London

Rain-Laden Skies Keep German Raids Down to Minimum

LONDON, Nov. 1, (Friday) (AP)—The wail of air raid alarms woke Londoners early today after more than six hours of quiet sleep, as the boom of murky, rain-laden skies which kept German bombing at a minimum.
A few bursts of anti-aircraft gunfire followed the alarm, but that was the only indication that the nazis were attacking again.
Early last night a few Germans came over for the 55th night of attack, but the gush lifted a heavy barrage and the raid ended shortly.
A southwesterly gale blew across the Strait of Dover, favored route of the Nazi Luftwaffe, and driving rain squalls made flying well-nigh impossible.

Predict France To Fight Soon

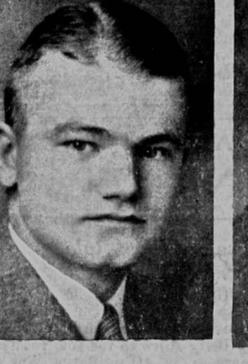

Observers Assert Laval Steers Nation To War on Britain

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 31 (AP)—British and neutral diplomatic observers predicted tonight the course upon which French Premier Pierre Laval now is steering his beaten country may eventually lead to war between France and Britain.
They saw Laval as a man already committed to collaboration with the Rome-Berlin axis; the one Frenchman whose political star must rise or fall with an axis victory or defeat.
Chief of State Marshal Petain, whom they respect as a man, they pictured as an old soldier whose desire for France's welfare might be played upon to lead him all the way Laval wants to go.
All neutral sources agreed France could not expect a peace agreement with Germany without helping the conquerors in some way.
Such help might be only the sale of the output of some French war industries to the axis—France's only possible customers at present— or passively permitting axis warplanes and warships to use French Mediterranean bases.

Supplies Sent To U.S. Base In Caribbean

KEY WEST, Fla., Oct. 31 (AP)

Three more destroyers were hastily loaded with stores and ammunition today and sped southward from Key West, base for the United States neutrality patrol.
Five of the fleet war craft left Tuesday. Three of the 11 seaplanes which winged away at the same time returned today.
(The Miami Herald said it had learned unofficially that the concentration of United States seapower now under way is near St. Lucia.)
(St. Lucia is one of the Caribbean air and naval bases leased by the United States from Great Britain.)

RAF Raids Invasion Ports

Flushing Receives Terrific Bombing; Docks Set on Fire

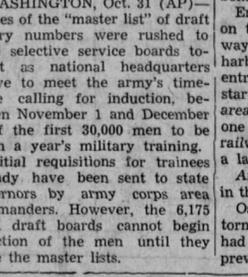

LONDON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Through cloud and mist the royal air force dropped tons of explosive and fire bombs overnight on the German invasion ports of the low countries and on Germany's westernmost naval base in Emden, the air ministry recounted today.
It tallied up the pilots' reports to reach this summation:
Flushing, once the main north continental port of entry for vessels from England; more than an hour of raiding set a huge fire between docks that could be seen 55 miles out in the North sea; the Walcheren canal, between Flushing and Middelburg, and the inner and outer havens bombed heavily;
Emden: bomb bursts observed on the quay of the main waterway and in the big V-shaped harbor to the east of the main entrance; "one very bright fire started and other fires in the area were seen to spread rapidly; one aircraft attacked a nearby railway junction and here, again, a large fire occurred";
Antwerp: explosions and fires in the harbor area;
Ostend: quays and ship berths torn up just after the Germans had repaired the damage done in previous bombings;

Rush Draft Plans For First Induction Before December 1

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)

Copies of the "master list" of draft lottery numbers were rushed to state selective service boards tonight as national headquarters strove to meet the army's timetable calling for induction, between November 1 and December 1, of the first 30,000 men to be given a year's military training.
Initial requisitions for trainees already have been sent to state governors by army corps area commanders. However, the 6,175 local draft boards cannot begin selection of the men until they have the master lists.

Anna Lou Muckey Reigns Over Dolphin Show

Bundles for Britain

A thousand particularly significant letters went through the Iowa City postoffice last night. They'll be received this morning by 1,000 Iowa City residents.

The letters speak for Bundles for Britain, Inc., that national organization which already has relieved untold suffering and hardship for the embattled Islands through the work of its thousands of American members. Bundles for Britain, through its Iowa City chapter and those 1,000 letters, addresses an appeal for aid in the fight for the British Isles.

Spreading Significance

The rise in the scope and significance of its activity has been phenomenal. Already the national headquarters of the group has received acknowledgment of arrival in England of 345 crates of clothing, 5,000 scarves, 17,000 sweaters, 8,000 pairs of mittens, 19,000 pairs of socks and giant seaboot stockings, 10 ambulances, 13 rolling canteens, 89 crates of surgical instruments, 6 crates of hospital supplies.

The Iowa City chapter entered the picture five weeks ago. Since its beginning, that group has shipped five cartons of warm clothing—800 pounds—and $50 for the purchase of a blood transfusion instrument.

On the Local Front

At this time, $70 worth of wool is being knitted locally into garments for the flyers of the R.A.F. and for men on the trawlers and minesweepers operating around the British Isles.

The broadening scope of the activity of Bundles for Britain in America must be ever greater if it is to cope with the humanitarian problems presented by the ever-broadening theater of war.

Hence, an appeal to residents of this city, like appeals to residents of cities across the nation.

The cause is a worthy one; the organization is efficiently, conscientiously administered.

The neutrality act, laid down to protect the interests of this nation when war struck the world, prohibits solicitation by any person of money or goods for the relief of suffering in warring countries, including England, unless the proposed solicitor forms an organization and registers it with the state department or becomes an agent of a registered organization.

Protection for America

That provision protects the American public from the fly-by-night schemes of those individuals and groups who would seek to enrich themselves at the expense of humanity. Consequently Bundles for Britain registered with the state department as Number 235. The Iowa City chapter, and the University Students' auxiliary, became authorized agents of the organization.

And local resources began to thread their way toward the Islands of Britain, with resources of the rest of the nation, for the alleviation of human misery brought forth from the holocaust of war.

The Needs of the Hour

The needs of the hour are exposed deftly and clearly in the closing paragraphs of the letters to be received by those 1,000 Iowa City residents this morning:

"Bundles for Britain is a voluntary organization of Americans sending first to Great Britain's fighting forces—soldiers, sailors and airmen—warm knitted garments; then, as the need arose, clothing for the civilian population and families of men giving their lives in combat. And now it hopes to answer the crying appeal for surgical instruments, medical and hospital supplies.

"Great Britain's need is imperative. Support and save for future generations the freedom of thought, word and deed upon which the greatness of America, too, is built.

"The need is urgent! Hurry! Strengthen the arm of England with your prompt contribution."

The facts, and the appeal, speak pretty clearly for themselves.

Gypsy Rose Lee Gets Role In 'Du Barry Was a Lady'

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—A few weeks ago we congratulated Buddy DeSylva, via this space, for elevating Betty Allen to the role vacated by Ethel Merman in "Du Barry Was a Lady." Miss Allen is a young woman who had, until that moment, always served as an understudy, but had never starred. The Merman vacancy gave her a chance.

But it wasn't but a handful of days after this that the show announced still a new addition to the cast. The tall, well-known figure of Gypsy Rose Lee, ex-burlesque strip tease dancer, was brought to the company, and the Merman role was divided into two parts. Miss Allen was to remain and sing all but two of the songs, but Miss Lee was to play the role of "Du Barry" and speak the lines.

Buddy DeSylva knows his business, I suppose. He must; he's made a lot of money on Broadway, and you don't make money on Broadway unless your judgment is sound. Nevertheless, we can't see Miss Gypsy Rose Lee as an improvement in any way over Miss Allen. We think she is a swell person but mediocre as a singer and talker.

We were wondering how the two girls were making out, whether there was any hair-pulling back stage as a result of this shift, but one of our colleagues, who chatted with them both, says no.

"Of course," Betty told him, "I was disappointed that I couldn't keep the part as long as the show stayed on Broadway, but you couldn't expect Gypsy Rose to remain idle until they took the show on the road—that might be December or later. . . . So I don't have any hard feelings on that account. I'm glad to stay in the show. I'm young and can afford to wait. Now you take Gypsy. She's a natural for the role. She's more the DuBarry type than I am, and on the road she's known; her name will mean more at the box office."

So that's the new set-up, as of today, with "Du Barry Was a Lady," which has proved itself one of Broadway's happiest events in a long while. The show must be almost a year old now, and still coining money.

Rebuttal on Foreign Policy TO THE EDITOR

IN THE DAILY IOWAN of Wednesday there appeared a letter written by a graduate student who championed the archaic doctrine of isolation. Only now is the United States beginning to realize that such a doctrine melts away under heated fire of guns and cannon. After expressing grave concern at American aid and encouragement to Great Britain, the writer asked, "Why become 'Sucker Sam' a second time?"

Such a doctrine is "isolation" par excellence," and the writer demonstrated his unfamiliarity with American history when he assumed that isolation is possible. The United States was drawn into World War I not "to make the world safe for democracy" and "to end all wars," as the writer asserted, but for economic and political reasons as well as rights which she claimed under the rules of international law.

Oceanic insulation did not "insulate" so efficiently two decades ago, and in all probability it will prove none to effective in the days to come.

The breaking down of geographical barriers by technology was beautifully illustrated when the United States recently found herself a "non-belligerent" rather than a "neutral" in the present European and Asiatic hostilities. Thus, isolation, neutrality, and self-sufficiency are no more than ideals in this world of dark reality.

Since geography is no longer a safeguard against American involvement in European conflagrations, why shouldn't the United States lend all possible encouragement to the side which is in greater harmony with "the American way of life?"

Nothing dear and really worthwhile is for sale without a price. The Anglo-Saxon heritage is a priceless one—so dear and so cherished that many Americans have been willing to lay down their lives for it. This heritage cannot be measured in terms of dollars and cents; it is something rather intangible; yet it is something which burns within the hearts of every true American. Let it not be said that this generation is willing to shirk its duty!

It is unfortunate that the writer of the letter to which I have been referring associated the European war and American preparedness with petty politics and partisanship.

There is no real issue in American foreign policy in the presidential campaign, nor do Americans want one! Regardless of who is victorious in that election may a united country back the victor in his conduct of American foreign policy with regard to the European war.

In the words of one great American, the time has come when the two greatest democracies in the world had better "hang together" rather than "hang separately."

WILFRED BLACK, G.
Findlay, Ohio

(The point-of-view of the writer whose letter appeared in this column Wednesday morning doesn't jibe with the one expressed today, in answer, by Mr. Black.

(The letters of these two Iowa students have drawn the opposite sides of one of the important problems of the day. We appreciate such letters.—THE EDITOR.)

Weaknesses Crop Up in the Axis

WASHINGTON — The diplomatic trade winds from Europe recently brought wisps of official intimations that Hitler was leading up to another peace move. The wisps were allowed to lie where they fell here. A few politicians in the White House entourage have been discussing and inwardly arguing some sort of a grand peace exploitation by Mr. Roosevelt for last-minute campaign purposes. They reason it would stop the war talk and push Mr. R. over in a breeze. Higher diplomats, including State Secretary Hull, were forcefully opposed to peace action by this government. Their sound reasoning probably was that any peace effort now would have to be on the basis of the status quo which would leave Hitler in control of the whole of Europe.

Even the better democratic politicians could see that such a peace blow would break two ways in the domestic balloting. It would injure Mr. Roosevelt's standing with the British sympathizers in this country who are in the overwhelming majority, and its placating effect upon draftees would be highly doubtful.

THE WRONG SLANT—

Mr. Hitler, therefore, may have to work either directly with Britain or through the vatican. Britain is nowhere near the verge of surrender and will naturally reject the offer. In the end it seems likely to amount to nothing more than a diplomatic gesture, which is a good and sufficient reason why few here have been interested. There is utterly no connection between Hitler's plan as it is understood here and the American election. No one in all officialdom, except those politicians now on the stump shouting for Mr. Roosevelt's reelection, have believed Hitler and Mussolini had much of an interest in the American campaign. Their time is too much occupied with more pressing problems and the election outcome cannot effect their interests materially as American resources will go to Britain no matter who wins.

The administration vice-presidential candidate, Wallace, is believed by all his diplomatic colleagues here to have gone completely off his trolley in his efforts to whip up votes with this subject.

THE ITALIAN MIND—

The fact that Mussolini withheld from his people for 36 hours the sensational news of his invasion of Greece was a tell-tale exposure of Italian war morale.

The plain truth is the Italian people have been so doubtful as to the wisdom of the war that they have acted as a drag rather than a wheel on the axis. Their minds have to be electrified by propaganda each time Il Duce feels the need of committing himself more deeply. During the 36 hour delay and for a day or two previously the Italian press had been gradually whooping up the public spirit against Greece to the necessary pitch.

The big duce also had reason to hope the Greeks would not resist and he would be able to announce a victory in the first news.

Here again it is shown that Italy is the weakest point in the German defense. More than one military and news authority recently returned from Europe confirms the impression that a concentrated air, bombing and fleet attack upon Italy offers the best immediate opportunity for a telling British blow.

JAPANESE WEAKNESS—

Behind the Chinese reoccupation of Nanking and Lungchow is a similarly revealing tale of Japanese weakness. The Japanese have been massing military forces for the vital attack on Siam and the Burma road. These could not be taken from the homeland which has been stripped to the last corporal. The only place where the Japanese could find the necessary troops was in China and these have been gradually withdrawn. As the Japanese deplete their forces, the Chinese attack and move in.

Here again the Japs are appreciating the proof of the old phrase that China is a pillow which, when punched in one spot, is bound to break out in another.

Watching One's Life Reenacted—

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Lou Payne, widower of Mrs. Leslie Carter, was sitting in the back of a theater as a new movie scene rolled back the years for him. There on the screen was Miriam Hopkins, playing "The Lady With Red Hair," and there was Claude Rains, white-maned Belasco in reincarnation. And there also was Lou Payne, tall, considerably younger, in the person of Richard Ainley, new English actor.

It was one of the picture's final scenes. Mrs. Carter, after quarreling with Belasco, was rehearsing a new show without his guidance. Having seen her faltering efforts, Payne had gone to Belasco, asking that he return, and this was the impresario's arrival at the theater—a joyous reunion, spoiled immediately by Mrs. Carter's discovery that her husband had sent for Belasco.

Sitting with Payne, I couldn't help wondering aloud how a man felt seeing portions of his life reenacted for the camera before his very eyes. Lou, when he is not serving as technical adviser as now, is an actor in his own right. Once, when he married Mrs. Carter, he was a Broadway star.

"It's strange," he agreed. "Sometimes it seems as if the years literally are rolling back. But this scene—this is fiction. Much of the picture is as it happened, but not all. Actually, Belasco and Mrs. Carter never did another play together although their friendship was restored."

I asked how he liked Ainley's performance of Lou Payne. "Fine," he said, then chuckled, remembering a story. "Reminds me of the time I saw Alf Hampton, the comedian, in a charity show burlesquing some of our contemporary hits. Alf did a takeoff on Nat Goodwin, and one day Nat saw the matinee. Afterward Alf asked Nat what he thought and Nat said, 'Well, all I can say is that one of us must be terrible!'"

Between "takes," Claude Rains is sitting alone on a camera case at the rear of the theater, wondering, he says, if they'll be through with him in time for his radio date with Shirley Temple. He is a Belasco who still looks like Rains for they have not altered the shape of his face or hidden him behind putty. Yet the effect is more of Belasco than of Rains. The famed clerical collar worn by the great producer was, as he points out, not really such.

"No, I never saw Mrs. Carter," he says, "although my wife did once. She was a remarkable lady, from all I hear, and extremely theatrical. Everything she did was theatrical. . . ."

After chatting awhile Claude Rains suddenly is no longer with us. He is pacing up and down a few feet away and he is muttering, half aloud: "No! No! Not that way! Caroline, have you forgotten all I taught you? . . . No! No! Not that way! Caroline . . ." etc. All by himself, oblivious to his surroundings, to us, to all but his lines.

About 350,000 acres of dust bowl land have been restored to grass and are being leased by the federal government to ranchers.

Hanford MacNider Flays F. R., Wallace at G. O. P. Rally

Former Legion Head Attacks Third Term

Urges Willkie Election If People Want U. S. To Remain Republic

"Has President Roosevelt a war in order?" Hanford MacNider, former national commander of the American Legion, asked his audience at a republican rally at the Iowa City Community building last night.

Attacking Wallace's accusation that the republicans do not want to go to war, MacNider continued saying that the republican party accepted it, because they do not want armed intervention of any kind on foreign soil.

"Wallace," MacNider asserted, "claims Hitler doesn't want Roosevelt. What have Hitler's likes and dislikes got to do with any American election?" the speaker queried.

Better to Swap

Criticizing Roosevelt supporters for urging voters not to swap, in the middle of the stream, MacNider said, "It's better to swap now than in the middle of the ocean, heading for a European war."

MacNider cited Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland and Wilson as bitter foes of the third term movement. He flayed the democratic party saying that it no longer stood for American principles. They have, he continued, "Gone With the Wind."

He urged the election of Wendell Willkie if the people of the nation want their children raised in a republic instead of a monarchy.

Calling New Dealers "welfare workers," MacNider accused them of regulating business with men who have never been in business.

Foreign Policy

MacNider denounced President Roosevelt's foreign policy, charging the executive officer with using the international situation to cover up deplorable domestic conditions.

"The AAA program," he charged, "is running up one blind after another and Roosevelt is robbing the poor of any future but poverty."

Dorothy Houghton, member of the state board of education also spoke.

She criticized the New Deal's centralization of power, "must" legislation, packing of the supreme court and the morals used at the democratic convention in Chicago.

Congressman Thomas E. Martin introduced MacNider. Preceding the rally, MacNider was honored at a dinner given by ex-service men in the Jefferson hotel.

G.O.P. Heads Close Local Campaign

Hanford MacNider, center, former national commander of the American Legion, drew hearty ovations from a capacity-crowd in the Community building last night when he accused President Roosevelt of leading the nation toward war. MacNider was featured speaker at the local republican's climaxing rally of the 1940 campaign. Pictured with MacNider are Atty. Edward Rate, chairman of the central republican committee, left, and District Judge H. D. Evans.

Books Judged by Their Democracy, Frost Says at Times Club Opening

By JULIA WEAVER

The dry New England humor of Robert Frost charmed an audience of 300 members of the Times club at the first lecture of the re-opening of the club last night in the river room of Iowa Union.

Prefacing the informal reading of his poems with remarks about democracy, Frost said, "No one can write a book here without its being judged as to its democracy."

He spoke against the snobbish kind of undemocracy that is almost universal in our country.

"Archibald MacLeish," he said "has repented of his writing in the last 20 years—People have been reading him instead of the Bible!"

"I used to be cross with friends who were disparaging of America," Frost confided. "From Hamlin Garland and William Dean Howells almost all great writing has been disparaging. But I've forgiven that recently."

Police Chief Urges Traffic To Be Careful

Police Chief F. J. Burns of the Iowa City police yesterday made an urgent appeal to the thousands of motorists who are expected to attend the Iowa-Purdue game here tomorrow to observe safety precautions while on the highways.

All delivery trucks are requested to make their deliveries either before 10:30 a.m. or during game time. Because of the traffic congestion that will be created when the expected 40,000 fans throng to the stadium, the presence of delivery trucks in the city's streets would seriously complicate matters, he said.

For the convenience of the fans who drive to the game, there will be no parking on Burlington from Johnson to the stadium. Immediately following the game, there will be no west bound traffic on Burlington from Dubuque to the stadium. Instead, a double line of east bound traffic will be sent out Burlington to accommodate the late post-game jam. In addition there will be no parking on the west side of Dubuque from the Park street bridge to the top of the hill.

Desolation Stores to Close From 1 to 5:30 P. M.

The hours for the stores to keep closed doors will be from 1 to 5:30 p. m., it was decided at a meeting of retail merchants.

$17,000 Mark Nearly Made In Chest Fund

Iowa City's Community chest fund tonight is expected to have reached the $17,000 mark, Director LeRoy Spencer announced.

Running close to 90 per cent of the quota, Spencer said collections have been coming in slowly but steadily all week. The chest is expected to be swelled by close to $1,000 today.

The first division to go over its quota in the campaign was the medical unit with $1,108. The business district goal of $5,250 and the national division with a quota of $2,000 are expected to be cleaned up before week's end, Spencer said.

Campaign workers will cease contacting donors for the next few days, at least until after election Tuesday, it was reported.

Here're Sweet Facts --- From Louisiana!

Sweets to the sweet must have been the idea Henry Lee Dean, associate in the botany department, had in mind when he passed out sugar cane to be sampled in his freshman botany class recently.

The sugar cane which came all the way from Louisiana was looked at, tasted and finally chewed upon. Sent here from the botany department of Louisiana State university, this sugar cane is sweet tasting and serves as candy for children of the sugar cane belt, Dean explained.

First in 1751 First introduced into the United States in Louisiana in 1751, sugar cane has not been found in the wild state. The United States now leads the world in sugar consumption averaging about 118 pounds per person annually.

Scouts Learn How to Vote

As part of citizenship day activities, Girl Scout troops No. 12 and No. 14 from the junior high school, visited the Johnson county courthouse Wednesday. Among other places of interest, the girls visited the county auditor's office where they received sample ballots and were shown how to vote.

Troop No. 12 is led by Mrs. R. W. Cray and Mrs. Vernon Putnam and troop No. 14 is led by Mrs. Robert Lorenzen and Helen Ross, P4 of Iowa City.

Students learn that "sugar" comes from the Sanskrit word "sarkara" meaning gravel and refers to crude sugar which was the only kind known for centuries. It grows in tropical and semi-tropical regions and parts of the southern United States.

Hawks Build Offense for Purdue Battle

Iowans Show Respect For Boilermakers

Dr. Eddie Anderson's band of Hawkeyes, out to hit the comeback trail this week end when Purdue invades Iowa stadium in an attempt to snap a six game home victory string, went through a long offensive drill in their final heavy practice of the week yesterday.

That there is plenty of respect for the Boilermakers here was clearly shown today as Anderson gave his squad more than an ample taste of Purdue plays and then set the gridders about the task of tidying up their own formations.

Anderson kept his varsity backfield intact but made one change in the line, moving Max Hawkins back to left guard in place of Sophomore Ross Anderson who has been used at the post since the first of the week.

Tom Farmer alternated with Jim Youel at left half and both appeared to have more confidence in their passing and showed up well in the long signal drill.

Bill Green, the Hawks' No. 1 offensive threat, will probably carry a much bigger load Saturday than he has had to tote all season. Without Ray Murphy present to crash through the enemy forward wall, Green will be called upon to serve duty through most of the contest. Previously Murphy and Green alternated at fullback.

Bill Parker, Des Moines sophomore, got an abbreviated workout on the varsity at Ken Pettit's left end position. No official announcement has been made as to whether or not he will be ready for tomorrow's game.

Charles Galhier, ticket sales manager, said a crowd of 40,000 and 43,000 fans will watch the upcoming game.

Purdue Players Leave for Iowa

LaFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 31 (AP)—A 36-man contingent of Purdue university football players set out today for Iowa City, where the Boilermakers will meet Iowa's Hawkeyes Saturday in a Big Ten engagement.

Mike Byelene, star right halfback, stayed at home, not yet recovered from injuries suffered Oct. 12 at Michigan State. Coach Mal Elward said Tony Berto and Paul Anderson would fill in for Byelene. The squad spent tonight in Chicago.

Irish After 5th Victory

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 31 (AP)—Thirty-six Notre Dame football players left by train late today for New York City, where they will seek their fifth straight victory of the season over Army Saturday.

Before their departure they held a light workout on both offense and defense.

Boston Bees Still on Sale

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—The New York Sun said today that it had learned negotiations for the purchase of the Boston Bees by Elmer Ward, clothing manufacturer and sportsman, still were in progress.

Ward entered into a deal for the Bees in conjunction with Bing Crosby, movie and radio star, the paper said, but because of Crosby's interest in horse racing, Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis refused to sanction such a sale.

The Sun said it understood the price asked for the franchise, including control of four minor league teams operated by the Bees, was $750,000.

Owens Against Willkie

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Jesse Owens, Negro track star, declared for President Roosevelt's re-election tonight and challenged Joe Louis, world's heavyweight boxing champion, to debate the issues of the presidential campaign. The Negro fighter is campaigning for Wendell L. Willkie, republican presidential candidate.

Wildcats in Shape

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Other than two limping regulars, Halfback Bill De Correvont and End Jimmy Smith, Northwestern officials said last night the Wildcats would be in top shape for the Minnesota game tomorrow. The gridders tapered off with signal drills yesterday.

Dick Keil Wins Two Mile Run

Noses Out Bill Kelso as Frosh Complete Second Test for Numerals

In a whirlwind finish to a two mile race, Dick Keil nosed out Bill Kelso by less than a foot yesterday afternoon, as the freshmen tracksters completed the second of three tests to determine eligibility for numerals.

Keil's winning time was 10:45, better than any varsity time this season. Kelso was also clocked at 10:45, but finished barely behind Keil.

Kelso led at the quarter mile, but relinquished the lead to Ray Fritsch, the only varsity man in the race. Fritsch led the field from the half mile to the mile and a half, when Kelso forged ahead again.

Towards the end of the last lap Keil seemingly came out of nowhere, put on a burst of speed, and beat Kelso in a surprise ending.

The remaining field of seven men finished in the following order: third, Don Welt; fourth, Ray Fritsch; fifth, Dick Lord; sixth, Dave Meyer; seventh, Gerald Stevenson; eighth, Leal Hall; ninth, Bob Orth.

Overlin Defends Title Against Steve Belloise

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Steve Belloise, a local boy with a knockout punch but very little polish, will attempt to blast Ken Overlin loose from that portion of the middleweight title which the Washington star holds in a 15-rounder tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

Overlin has been recognized as 160-pound champ by the New York State Athletic commission since he slapped and smarted his way to a surprise victory over Cefterino Garcia last summer. Belloise since then also has given the veteran Filipino a bad beating, and that mainly is how he qualified for this shot at what some call the "middleweight" crown.

Overlin quite properly is the favorite, his backers laying odds of 8 to 5 against Belloise getting the verdict. However, the latter's supporters think their man has a good chance of tagging Overlin with one of his trip-hammer rights, and they are laying one against three that the champ isn't around at the finish.

Belloise is, far outclassed in experience. He is eight years younger than Overlin and has had only 33 fights against Ken's 181 in the last dozen years.

Neither Has Been Beaten

Victory Might Give National Championship To Winning Eleven

By EARL HILLIGAN

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 31 (AP)—Football's national championship form sheet is due for a sharp revision in Dyche stadium Saturday.

Minnesota's Golden Gophers and Northwestern's Wildcats, both undefeated and untied, will come together before a capacity crowd of 48,000. The full glare of the game's intercollegiate spotlight will focus on this battle, for it ranks as the day's No. 1 duel. Furthermore, the result will make or break the national title hopes of one or both elevens and likely will have some effect on the ratings of other leading teams.

Minnesota has another great club with strength reflected nationally through victories over Washington, still undefeated in the Pacific Coast conference race, Nebraska, Ohio State and Iowa. Northwestern has defeated Syracuse, Ohio State, Wisconsin and Indiana. In this week's national Associated Press poll, the Gophers ranked fourth and the Wildcats eighth—so it's obvious that defeat will ruin the hopes of one eleven and a tie virtually eliminate both from the national title picture.

In addition, this battle should play a big part in the final disposition of the Western conference title. Northwestern, Minnesota and Michigan are the only unbeaten teams in the Big Nine and all meet each other within the next two weeks. Saturday's Gopher-Wildcat battle starts this round-robin free-for-all which pairs Michigan and Minnesota Nov. 9 and Michigan and Northwestern Nov. 16.

Northwestern, which looked bad in defeating Indiana last Saturday, will be outweighed 25 pounds per man in the line and may not have the full time services of Bill de Correvont, a truly fine back in the first three Wildcat games. De Correvont, who hurt an ankle in the Wisconsin game, has been passing and kicking this week but still has a very noticeable limp.

Behind that ponderous Minnesota line will be operating two of the best backs in the Midwest, George Franck and Bruce Smith. The latter is a fine runner and passer. Franck, who can run 100 yards in 9.7 seconds, runs, passes, punts and calls the signals—doing an excellent job in each department.

Minnesota wants this victory badly. The Gophers haven't forgotten 1936, when Northwestern's upset win snapped a 21-game Minnesota winning streak. Victory that day gave Northwestern the conference crown over the Gophers, who won the title in 1937 and 1938. Saturday's duel finds these rivals at it again in a game which promises to be one of the season's standouts.

Ontario has the largest population and greatest industrial development of the Canadian provinces.

Little Hawks Smash Franklin On Cedar Rapids Field, 19-0

Bill Sangster Throws Passes For 1st Scores

BY MERREL GOLDBERG

Every Red and White uniform clothed a hero last night as Coach Herb Cormack's Little Hawks rolled over an outplayed Franklin (Cedar Rapids) eleven by the score of 19-0 on the Thunderbolts' home field. Last night's win breaks a three-year jinx for the City highers, this being the first time they have come out on the long end of the score during that time.

The Hawkeyes blitzkrieged the Parlor City eleven in the opening minute of the tilt when Bill Sangster flipped an aerial bomb to Herb Davis. On the second play of the game Sangster faded back on the 31-yard line and let one fly to Davis who snagged it at mid-field and then outran a trio of Franklin backs to cross the double stripe. Dean Williams' attempt at conversion was successful.

In the second quarter Bert Miller started the fireworks off with a run to the Parlor City 25 after Eddie Crossett had recovered a Franklin fumble. Sangster picked up four more at center after which Towell made it a first down. Two more plays were tried through the line but netted no gain. Thert Sangster flipped the seven-yard pass to Miller on the beautiful play from which point Miller raced across. This time Williams' kick was no good.

Iowa City's last touchdown came after lineman Joe Poulter intercepted a Franklin pass on the latter's 40-yard line and raced down to the 18 before being dragged down. At this point the Thunderbolts were penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness, bringing the ball to the eighty-yard stripe. Bud Lemons picked a pair up from here, and on the next play Johnnie Schuppert raced over right guard, making the score 19-0.

Franklin only once during the evening threatened to score. In the second quarter Sword passed a beauty to Ford, who carried the mail as far as the Iowa City 37. On the next play Sword wiggled his way to the Red and White two-yard line. Sword lost four on the next attempt, but Casey smacked the line to bring the ball up to the two again.

On the next play Casey again bucked the line, this time to the one-foot line. The Thunderbolts,

U-High Weak In Air Lanes In Final Drill

Coach Paul Brechler sent his U-High Bluehawk squad through its last practice drill of the year yesterday as he put the final touches to the team's preparation for tonight's arc-lighted conference struggle with Tipton.

Brechler spent most of the afternoon polishing up the Rivermen's very weak pass offensive and defensive. Using his second stringers in Tipton formations he completed pass after pass over his starters' heads.

Again the squad will go into a game totally unprepared to face a concentrated aerial bombardment. On the offense a few of the passes thrown were taken, but the majority were either out of reach or slipped through receivers' fingers. If the team wants to go anywhere it will have to stay on the ground.

Although the ground attack was functioning very smoothly, Tipton has a line that outweighs U-High's at least ten pounds a man. The team has a lot to overcome if it hopes for any kind of a favorable outcome under the lights tonight.

On the other side of the ledger, "Peanuts" Alderman, who has been out all this week with an attack of ptomaine poisoning, was back in uniform and was in his old left halfback niche for most of the afternoon. His speed may turn the trick against the heavier and slower Tipton aggregation.

The blocking is good and the boys seem to be in very high spirit. Starters in the game are Hueskinfeldt, le; Stimmel, it; Halvorsen, lg; Frey, c; Young, rg; Captain Bob Bender, rt; Lehman, re; Seibing qb; Smith, fb; Musgrave, rrb, and Alderman or Evans, lhb.

Iowa Statesmen Will Be Guests At Homecoming

National and State Officers Will Attend Iowa-Purdue Game

A contingent of 198 national and state officials, headed by Governor George A. Wilson and United States Senator Clyde L. Herring, will be guests of the University of Iowa during the homecoming celebration today and tomorrow.

Prof. Bruce E. Mahan of the extension division has announced that guests will include United States Congressman Thomas E. Martin, John W. Gwynne, Henry O. Talle, Fred C. Gilchrist and Robert Goodwin.

State government will be well represented by such men as Lieutenant Governor B. B. Hickel, Earl G. Miller, secretary of state; C. C. Akers, auditor of state; W. G. C. Bagley, treasurer; Mark G. Thornburg, secretary of agriculture; John M. Rankin, attorney general.

Candidates for office in the Nov. 5th election also will be present, headed by John K. Valentine, democratic candidate for governor. Forty-three candidates for the house and 14 for the senate have accepted the university's invitation, as have four seekers of U. S. congressional posts.

Ten members of the state board of education and the finance committee will be present, as will four supreme court justices, five highway commissioners, three commerce commissioners, 36 state senators and 71 representatives.

On the roster of miscellaneous guests are names of President-Elect Virgil Hancher of the state university; President Malcolm Price of Iowa State Teachers college; L. M. Hayes, superintendent of the Vinton school for the blind, and Karl Melcher of Ames, president of the Iowa Daily Press association.

Pilots Plan Illinois Flight

Plane pilots of Iowa City and surrounding towns have been invited to attend a Fly-In breakfast at 8:40 a. m. tomorrow at Rock Island, one of the special features of the city's gala centennial celebration.

W. A. Patterson, Chicago, president of United Airlines, will be main speaker at the morning affair in Fort Armstrong hotel. Air hostesses are also scheduled to be present as guest speakers.

Pilots from cities in a 150-mile radius are expected to attend. Of special interest to the guest aviators will be an officially-conducted tour to the Rock Island arsenal. The tour will be under supervision of Gen. Norman F. Ramsey, commandant. Places of particular importance will be visited in the city. Later, the flyers will be taken to the Augustana - Monmouth football game.

Although the local pilots club usually attends breakfasts and special meetings, President John Piper said, tomorrow is the day it has chosen to entertain guests and alumni friends here after the Iowa-Purdue football game.

Canadians to Come Here for International Debate

Roland Christensen, A4 of Iowa City, and Marvin Chapman, A3 of Iowa City, will match wits with debaters from the University of Manitoba, Monday, Nov. 11, at 8 p. m. in the 17th international debate, in which the University of Iowa has participated. The debate will be held in Macbride auditorium.

David Golden and William Cross, students of the University of Manitoba, will present the negative side of the question, "Should the Nations of the Western Hemisphere Form a Permanent Union," while the Iowans defend the affirmative.

Record
Christensen and Chapman both have outstanding records in forensics and have participated in intercollegiate debates since their entrance to the university. Both entered college with commendable high school debating records, officials report.

Golden is a senior law student at Manitoba, where he has been active in student affairs. He is the former president of the debating union and is now chairman of the public relations committee there. He has represented the University of Manitoba in debate against other western Canadian universities and is distinguished by his quiet humor when debating.

Theology Student
Cross is a freshman in theology, having obtained his arts degree. He has held many student executive positions on the university campus. He is former secretary of the debating union and has participated in many other activities at Manitoba. Last year, when he was not in college, he was pastor of a church at Pilot Mound, Manitoba.

The Canadians come to Iowa by special arrangement with the University of Manitoba and will debate at Iowa State college at Ames and at Iowa State Teachers' college at Cedar Falls. They are debating at no other colleges in the United States.

Debate Tours
In former years, the national student federation arranged the tours for visiting international debaters, but such plans were impossible this year because of the European conflict.

Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department founded international debating in the United States when he was a member of the faculty at Bates college in Lewiston, Maine.

The University of Iowa has been participating in these debates since 1924. In 1929 local debating teams toured England.

A decision on the debate Monday night will be made by the audience.

S.U.I. Doctors Offer Reports

Research Scientists Meet in Chicago At Annual Parley

Five members of the college of medicine here will read papers at the 13th annual meeting of the Central Society for Clinical Research in Chicago today and tomorrow.

Dr. Elmer L. DeGowin and Dr. Robert C. Hardin, both of the theory and practice department, will report on recent investigations concerning the transportability of blood, conducted at the University hospital here by request of the National Research Council.

Preparedness Program
The investigations, requested through the council by the surgeon-general of the United States army, are part of the national preparedness program.

Dr. James A. Greene, Dr. L. E. January and Dr. L. W. Swanson, all of the theory and practice department, will present a paper dealing with diabetes.

Attending the meeting will be Dr. K. M. Brinkhous of the pathology department and Dr. H. M. Korn and Dr. W. M. Fowler of

Pour Concrete For Runway

Work on the new concrete east-west runway at the Iowa City airport expansion project is progressing satisfactorily. Engineers said that WPA workers had poured a 900-foot length of runway yesterday. Beginning Monday but temporarily halted by afternoon rains, work resumed Tuesday and continued through the week.

About 72,000 sacks of cement will be needed for the complete runway, said City Engineer Fred Gartzke. The main runway will be 4,000 feet long and 150 feet wide, with two other runways, one running north and south, the other extending northwest and southeast, scheduled for lengthening and resurfacing. The runway is part of the $180,694 civil airport improvement project for the national defense program.

the theory and practice department.

Dr. E. D. Warner of the pathology department and Dr. J. D. Boyd of the pediatrics department will also attend.

Dr. Boyd will have a paper on "Factors in the production of rickets" read by title, as will Dr. Warner whose paper concerns malnutrition and vitamin K.

Dolphin Highlights

Deft Performance, Beauty, Comedy Symbolize Opening

The queen smiled graciously, high divers soared through the air and clowns tumbled upon the stage as the Dolphin Follies of 1941 opened before an enthusiastic crowd of first nighters at the field house last night.

A perennial success, the '41 Follies need not take a back seat to any of its predecessors. The show is directed by Bob Sebastian, president of the Dolphin club, and will again be presented tonight and Saturday night.

The show was opened by a Negro quartet floating down the darkened pool singing Old Man River, and as they ended their song the house lights suddenly went up revealing an old Mississippi showboat, the Dolphin, pulled up at a wharf. Don Westrom, master of ceremonies, stepped out dressed as a "Gay Nineties" slicker, and the show was on.

The first act after the presentation of the queen, and her attendants proved to be one of the most popular of the show. The Leonardos, George Nissen, Xavier Leonard and Robert Parry, performed a number of difficult hand balancing acts that were definitely of professional caliber. Their graceful formations drew repeated rounds of applause from the audience.

In one of the special attractions, Otto Jaretz, freshman sprint ace, missed the world's record in the 100-yard freestyle over a long course by one and two-tenths seconds, but unofficially tied the national intercollegiate record of 53.2 seconds. He will try for a national record over the short course Saturday night.

Other swimming acts featuring formations by the varsity and freshman drill teams were well received for their beauty and originality. Fencing diving exhibitions were given by the varsity divers with the divers performing off the high board and the 40-foot platform.

A special act on the trampoline, a tumbling device invented by George Nissen, and following the "Quintuplet" theme also made a hit with the crowd.

Comedy was provided by the Three Silly Sailors, the Dolphin Dancing Dolls, the Three Mad Russians, and a nondescript fellow who closely resembled the oft discussed "Yehudi." The Silly Sailors, Nissen, Leonard and Parry, presented a popular comedy tumbling act that ended with some of the goofy gobs getting a ducking. The Mad Russians proved their madness by jumping from a 40-foot platform with obviously home made parachutes, while the "Dolls" showed great grace and finesse as they gave "Six Lessons From Madame LaZonga." Yehudi was just the little man who wasn't there, popping up all over the place doing everything from picking off

WSUI to Air Homecoming

Special Programs Include Meetings, Iowa-Purdue Game

Important events of Homecoming week end will be presented today and tomorrow over WSUI. A series of special programs will bring the high spots of Homecoming celebration to the listening audience.

At 7:35 tonight the Homecoming mass meeting will be heard from the campus, with Jim Dower, WSUI sports announcer, commenting.

At 9 o'clock, the highlights of the Homecoming celebration will be previewed by Prof. George D. Haskell of the college of commerce, chairman of Homecoming activities. Professor Haskell will be interviewed by Fred Keller of the WSUI staff.

The Homecoming party will be heard from the main lounge of Iowa Union at 9:10 tonight. Dick Shelton and his orchestra will provide music, and Bill Sener, WSUI staff announcer, will act as master of ceremonies.

Tomorrow morning, beginning at 9:30 a. m., a dramatization of "That 1900 Football Team," an article written by Prof. John Ely Briggs for the "Palimpsest" of November 1922, will be presented.

Members of the 1900 football team, celebrating their 40th anniversary in Iowa City will be interviewed by Jim Dower, WSUI sports announcer. They are, James Brockway, Muscatine; W. C. Edson, Storm Lake; R. A. Morton, Sioux City; Morey L. Ely, Cedar Rapids; Charles Riggs, Red Oak; Vance Herbert, Storm Lake, and Dr. Frank Siebert, Geneva.

This program will be given in the WSUI audience studio, and Homecoming guests and friends are invited to see and hear the broadcast.

At 10 o'clock, a descriptive chat by D. Mac Showers, J4 of Iowa City, and Georgia Gaddis, A3 of Fort Madison, will be heard. They will tell about the crowd, Iowa City's welcome to Homecoming guests and the Homecoming decorations on sorority and fraternity houses.

Climaxing the days' events, the Iowa-Purdue football game will be heard from the stadium in a play-by-play description by Jim Dower and Dick Goenne, WSUI sports announcer. Highlights and comments between halves will be given by Bill Sener, WSUI staff announcer.

flying ring performers in mid-air to paging one of the Jones girls.

Tickets for tonight's and Saturday's shows are still available at the Union desk and the field house ticket office, or they can be purchased from Dolphin members. Bob Sebastian, show director, has announced that seats will be held for ticket holders until 7:40, at which time they will be opened to all. The show starts at 8 p. m.

Girl Scouts Give Halloween Party For Patients at Children's Hospital

Just after dark Wednesday evening witches, ghosts, gypsies, a rabbit, Minnie Mouse, a panda bear, a skeleton and many other characters from the land-of-make-believe invaded the corridors of the children's hospital. In their hands they carried jack-o-lanterns which they waved wildly as they walked. After a thorough tour of the wards these people from story-book land left their Halloween torches with the patients.

Who were these strange visitors? They were Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts from the various troops here in Iowa City, all dressed up to bring the Halloween spirit to boys and girls confined to their beds.

Another Halloween party took place Wednesday evening when Mrs. Virgil Fordyce, 222 Highland, entertained the Brownie troop No. 20, under the leadership of Mrs. S. N. Nelson, in her home. The evening was spent playing games of all sorts. Janet Hall won the prize for pinning the tail on the donkey and Patty Caldwell was awarded first prize in the candy hunt. After the games refreshments were served.

Outside guests were Barbara Dean and Janet Greenwald.

TICKET 410 LOST

Ticket No. 410 to the Homecoming dance will be stopped at the door. Edward Banken lost the ticket yesterday. Finder please turn the ticket in at the main desk of Iowa Union.
