Hawkeye Backfield Men Do Some Line Plowing; Band Honors Laws

Ray Murphy got away for an 18-yard gallop early in the game yesterday as Iowa thumped Illinois, 18-7, at Iowa stadium. At the right is the result as the cameraman snapped the rangy Hawkeye coming out through the Illinois line like a runaway locomotive. Murphy, number 69, has Wilford Burkett, 15, to run interference for him; Illinois players behind Murphy are Dillon, 17; and Bernhardt, 31. At the left is another bit of hard driving on the part of an Iowa back as Tom Farmer, just diving over the goal line, scores an Iowa touchdown, carrying an Illinois tackler with him, while two other Illinois players lay on their stomachs and contemplate the action. Coming up, but not in time to do any good, is another pair of the Illini, Cheeley, 88, and Engle, 27. In the middle picture is a bit of work on the part of the Iowa band, which entertained the crowd between halves of the game. Here the Iowa bandmen form the letters LAWS in salute to the 75th anniversary of the founding of the University of Iowa college of law.

Italian Army Reported Split by Greeks

Wedges Driven Into Fascists, Observers Say

24,000 Men Trapped In Pindus Sector, Sofian Officials Report

SALONIKA, Greece, Nov. 23 (AP)—Greek troops, inspired by the fall of Koritza, were reported today to have split the retreating Italian army in two, driving a spearhead from the Pindus mountain sector straight through the fascist lines.

Military observers declared the pursuit into Albania was so relentless that the Italians were unable to form a new front for defense against fighters of the nation they sought to invade.

(The Greek legation in Sofia, Bulgaria, said it had been informed that two Italian divisions—about 24,000 men—were surrounded south of Agirocastro, in the central Pindus sector.)

Greece Celebrates

While the civilian population celebrated what was termed Greece's greatest military victory since the days of the ancients, the army—fighting entirely on Albanian soil—had started a three-pronged drive.

The Greek forces were drawing on large stores of guns and equipment captured in Koritza and it was reported that Italian tanks manned by Greek crews were being used in the campaign in the north.

Strategic Advantages

Officials here expressed the view that the recent victories give their forces impressive strategic advantages. They pointed out that, while Albania is almost all mountainous, the river valleys—the only feasible travel routes—run from the present Greek positions straight into the heart of Albania and thence to the Adriatic.

In Koritza, the troops surrounded the task of policing the city of 350 gendarmes. Their instructions were to restore civil life in the city to normal as soon as possible.

Civilians Return

Many civilians who fled to the mountains while the Italians and Greeks struggled for possession of Albania's second largest city were said to be returning to their homes.

In the north, cavalry and highland infantry regiments, flushed with their victory at Koritza, over the equivalent of six fascist divisions of at least 72,000 men, smashed on to the west and northwest, harassing the Italians who were falling back toward Fogradetz, on Lake Ochrida, 20 miles to the north. The Italians were reported in danger of losing contact with their flank troops.

Rumanians Cast Lot With Germany As Slovakia Prepares to Join Axis

BERLIN, Nov. 23 (AP)—Rumania entered the German-Italian-Japanese-Hungarian axis today—and thus the German march to the east moved bloodlessly on to within 250 miles of the Dardanelles and word was put about that Slovakia would sign up tomorrow as No. 6 in that extraordinary alliance.

Bulgaria is expected to sign early next week. Then nearly all Europe to the Soviet outpost—save only embattled Greece and Turkey—would be under the axis pact or its influence.

Berlin, which until only recently was in the British camp, joined up at a stiff ceremony in the chancellery which was distinguished by the absence of Adolph Hitler and the open frigidly between her delegation and that of another recent recruit, Hungary.

In the glittering grand reception room there were palpable memories of a recent axis-enforced revision of territory by which Hungary got northern Transylvania from Rumania.

Unsmiling sat the Hungarian minister, Dome Eztojay; equally grim, in his green, smock-like uniform, was the Rumanian foreign minister Prince Costin Sturza. An open scowl cut across the red face of old General Ion Antonescu, the Rumanian chief of state.

Speaking first in Rumanian and then in troubled German, Antonescu announced that his country took pleasure in committing itself to the course for a "new order" prepared by the axis powers. Joachim von Ribbentrop, a grey-uniformed figure, expressed Germany's joy at that decision.

All signed four red leather-bound copies of the agreement, Japanese ambassador Saburo Kurusu painstakingly painting in his signature in Japanese characters.

Sztojay extended no congratulations to his Balkan colleague. This pact bound each of the signatories to help each other against any new belligerent which might enter the war in Europe or Asia.

London Quiet, RAF Effective

England Needs Financial Help, Asserts Lothian

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Lord Lothian, British ambassador to the United States, returned from his bomb-battered homeland today with a cryptic declaration that Britain's financial problem was "becoming urgent."

His country, he said, was "beginning to come to the end of her financial resources."

The envoy was one of 14 passengers who came from Lisbon on Pan-American airway's Atlantic Clipper. Another clipper, the Dixie, immediately followed with nine passengers, also from Lisbon.

Lothian foresaw "a difficult year" for the British and an emphatic need of all kinds of war materials, including airplanes, munitions, ships and "perhaps finance." He emphasized that England "definitely does not need men" as part of this country's assistance.

F. R. Appoints Admiral Leahy French Envoy

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—The selection of Admiral William D. Leahy, retired, as ambassador to France was announced today by President Roosevelt.

Leahy, who climaxed a 42-year career in the navy by serving as chief of naval operations from 1937 to 1939, has been governor of Puerto Rico since his retirement a year ago.

The resignation of William C. Bullitt, present ambassador to France has been in the president's hands since Nov. 7.

Whether Bullitt would be offered another government position or would return to private life, the temporary White House was not prepared to say.

Mr. Roosevelt had asked Gen. John J. Pershing to become envoy to France because of his close friendship during the World War with Marshal Henri Petain, head of the Vichy government. Pershing's doctors forbade him to accept.

Dispatches from Vichy said officials there were "delighted" with the president's choice of Leahy.

Only one American ambassador, Laurence A. Steinhardt in Moscow, remains on active duty in a major European capital.

Both William Phillips, ambassador to Italy, and Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to England, are in this country. It had been reported frequently that neither would return to Europe, Phillips because of poor health and Kennedy by preference. The United States has had no ambassador to Germany for approximately two years.

Bullitt, Marshall Field of New York, and Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, ambassador to Poland, have been mentioned in talk of a possible successor to Kennedy.

In Leahy—pronounced "Lay-he," the chief executive will have in a key diplomatic post a man upon whom he has relied for advice on naval and defense matters.

When he retired from the navy in July, 1939, just before the outbreak of European hostilities, Leahy said in his last annual report that the expanded United States navy "should be sufficiently strong to defeat the fleet of any single power."

British Smash Continent Ports Held by Nazis

LONDON, Nov. 24 (Sunday) (AP)—British airmen loosed last night one of the heaviest in all their long series of attacks upon the German-held continental ports, while the aerial defense of England was so effective that for London and the provincial cities it was the quietest evening in weeks.

Reports from the coast indicated the RAF's assault upon the Nazi bases across the channel were over a wide area.

For hours in London the anti-aircraft guns fired only at long intervals. Raiders were reported driven from a northeast coast town before they had opportunity to drop a bomb. A southern town had its third raid of the war but, while bombs dropped near a public housing project, it was declared that casualties were only minor.

Hostile planes were over the midlands and Wales as well, but up to midnight there had been no report of damage in those areas.

Yesterday's most spectacular engagement was a furious battle high over the Dover strait in which British Spitfires were declared authoritatively to have shot down seven Italian planes and one German fighter. Three other German craft were brought down in flames elsewhere during the daylight hours.

The day also brought official reports of a new British mission of destruction far over Nazi territory—a counter-offensive launched in the moonlight of Friday night and ended in the hours before Saturday's dawn.

It was a story of familiar targets save one—an airdrome at Merignac, near Bordeaux, France, from which the Germans have been springing heavy bombers to bomb British shipping far out in the Atlantic.

Third Period Splurge Nets Two Touchdowns

Mike Enich Stars in Final College Grid Game; Green Tops Iowa Ground Gainers; Mertes, Farmer Score

BY OSCAR HARGRAVE
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Iowa's football past and its future shook hands at Iowa stadium yesterday, then made their farewell party a boisterous success with a thunderous third-quarter scoring spree that smashed Bob Zuppke's upset-seeking Illinoi eleven, 18-7.

One quarter of brilliant football the Hawkeyes played as the mighty "Iron Mike" Enich and his senior classmates bowed out of the college gridiron picture in a triumphant victory march and the sophomore stars stepped in for a pleasant preview of the seasons to come. That period, with Hawkeye backs riddling the Illini defense and the Iowa forward wall smashing a previously dangerous Illinois attack to bits, was all that was needed.

Hawkeyes Start Slow

Before that, scoring six points to the Illinois seven in the first half, the Hawkeyes were a listless team, seemingly still suffering from the terrific battle with Notre Dame the previous week. Afterwards, it was merely a matter of finishing out the scheduled playing time, during which Coach Eddie Anderson gave the stands a parade of substitutions as its main show. But that third quarter, combined with a brief flash of power late in the

Strike Laid To 'Red Influence'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Attorney General Jackson disclosed tonight that an FBI report to defense officials attributed the strike in the Vultee Aircraft corporation to "communist influence."

"This confidential report," Jackson said in a statement, "describes the communist influence which caused and is prolonging the strike. It identifies those leaders of the strike who are either members of the communist party or affiliated with the communists and the persons who are the contacts between the strike committee and the leaders of the communist party."

"While the activities of the parties involved may not constitute a federal crime warranting prosecution, the details have been furnished to the war and navy department and to the national defense commission so that they may take such action as may be warranted in the protection of the government's interest."

Jackson's references to the Vultee strike were made incidentally in a statement in which he accused Rep. Dies (D-Tex) of attempting to "disparage and discredit" the work of the federal bureau of investigation.

Dies, commenting on the "white paper" published by his house committee on unamerican activities, had expressed the opinion that FBI methods of combatting sabotage and espionage were ineffective. The "white paper" dealt with alleged Nazi activities in this country which Dies contended could best be thwarted by giving them publicity.

Jackson said the FBI's work "is necessarily carried on quietly and without publicity."

Second Man Dies Of Crash Injuries

MUSCATINE, Nov. 23 (AP)—Walter Kemp, 58, of Columbus Junction, died here tonight, the second victim of a railroad crossing crash near the Louisa county line about 9:30 a.m. today.

Earl Trimble, about 45, of Fredonia, was killed instantly. Harry Phillips, driver of the car, is still under treatment at a hospital here.

The men were enroute to a farm to cut wood when the crash occurred.

Ankara Talk May Determine Turkish Future

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 23 (AP)—German Ambassador Franz von Papen conferred with the Turkish foreign minister for nearly an hour tonight in an interview in which the future of Turkey may have been decided.

The nature of the conversation Adolf Hitler's ace trouble shooter had with Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu was not disclosed, but it was presumed he delivered terms for axis acceptance of Turkey in the projected "new European order."

In an interview later with the official newspaper Ulus, von Papen denied that he issued a statement in Berlin to the effect that Turkey should submit to the new European order and that Russia is interested in naval bases on the Persian gulf. These reports had been widely circulated in the Turkish press.

The German embassy likewise declared to be without foundation the reports that von Papen would fly back immediately to Berlin.

Saracoglu received von Papen following audiences with the Greek and British ambassadors, who called separately.

The Turkish cabinet meanwhile discussed enforcement of regulations in areas put under martial law yesterday.

The Istanbul newspaper Ikdam, explaining the martial law, said: "Our government has taken all measures of precaution in order to prevent being taken by surprise with war like Greece was."

No Racketeering

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—A high AFL official said last night the resolutions committee had unanimously approved a measure against racketeering in the American Federation of Labor.

Good Plowed for Nine and Falkenstein Added a Seven-Yard Jant to Make it First in 10 on the Iowa 30. Here, the Illini had a 15-yard penalty, but Iowa ran into a fine of five yards to give part of it back. Good swung the Illinois attack back into motion with a completion to Ralph Ehni on the 22, then punted

Koritz Falls to Greeks — First Draftees Inducted — Local Affairs

(A Review of the Week's News)

The Question of Aid to Britain

The first of the nation's draftees took the oath of allegiance to the United States of America this week, forming the vanguard of the thousands who will enter training camps before next June 1.

From all sections of the nation they came, to enroll for a year of service in the defense of the nation. But relatively few of them actually were draftees. Volunteers cut the first call quotas down across the nation. . . Only three are to leave this week from Johnson county, Iowa. . .

Aid for Britain

The impact of war brought new efforts in this nation to aid Britain. As the week drew to a close there appeared indications that the next session of congress will find increased aid to Britain one of the greatest issues. The lines are forming. . .

But up in Hyde Park, N. Y., the president of the United States told reporters aid to Britain was about at its peak, now, under his "rule of thumb" policy of "fifty-fifty, divide on even terms. . ."

Big four-motor bombers began the long trek to the hangars of Royal Air force fliers in Britain, big four-motor bombers from the United States which will find their way into the war for England. . .

Defense—And Labor

Elsewhere on the defense front, the usual number of strikes and explosions halted progress of the united defense effort. An Arkansas oil plant blew up. . . a strike tied up units of the Aluminum Company of America (a daily payroll of some $44,000 was cut off, the wages of more than 7,000 workers). . .

The labor front was an exceedingly active one. The CIO met in Atlantic City, N. J., and named Philip Murray to the post vacated, somewhat tearfully, by John L. Lewis, who pays off his election bets. . . Murray is a 30-year Lewis associate in CIO and the United Mine Workers of America. . .

Meanwhile, AFL held a convention in New Orleans, and didn't find any prospects of labor peace in the Murray election. . . "Just another Lewis" was the comment of George Meany, AFL secretary-treasurer. President William Green said he hoped for the best. . .

Diplomacy—and Mr. Dies

A successor to Ambassador to France William C. Bullitt took a certain amount of diplomatic footlight attention. President Roosevelt said he had offered the job to John J. Pershing of World war days, who refused it. . .

Martin Dies made public a new American white paper, charging that a wide ring of nazi propaganda and possible espionage exists in the United States. . . a Kentucky election took the attention of Senator Gillette's "un-Americanism in elections" committee, and investigators got busy on charges of ballot box stuffing there, and in other spots in the nation. . .

The week on the national front was a pretty typical "America at work" week. . .

Reversals in the Balkan Blitz

Greeks Shout 'On to Rome!'

The Greek counter-invasion of Italian-held Albania won the big prize plum of Koritz, chief Italian base city in Albania, for the Greeks a couple of days ago, and amid shouts in Athens of "On to Rome!" the forces of General Metaxas jumped right into the fray and followed the retreating Italians. . .

From some sources came stories of Greeks chasing the Italians in Italian tanks, taken as prizes of war. . .

With the war stalling in western Europe and Greece more than holding her own, for the moment, against Italian invasion, diplomacy took the spotlight once more—axis diplomacy, following close on the heels of dark threats which didn't scare who was supposed to be scared. . .

Little Balkan 'Yes-Men'

Yugoslavia held to her course of strict neutrality. . . Rome called it "pro-British" neutrality. . .

Hungary toppled into the arms of the axis. . . Rumania at this moment may be in, leaving only Bulgaria and little German-dominated Slovakia in the Balkan round-up, prefacing, presumably, a major offensive against Britain in Africa and along the Suez. . .

The week saw the yes-men of the Balkans arriving in Rome and Berlin to talk over the roles they will play in the new order, once the battle for Britain is over. The visits of minor diplomats followed closely on the heels of Molotoff's three-day sojourn in the Reich. . . looking quietly on, to all appearances, were the three question marks, France, Spain and Russia. . .

What parts they will play in the overture and main acts of the new order isn't yet clear. . .

Turkey—And Switzerland

Turkey found herself under martial law as this week closed, in a swirl of diplomacy which hasn't engulfed her since the World war. Torn between Russia, the axis powers and Britain, she can do little but await the axis drive eastward. . .

Over to the west, Switzerland had an increasingly precarious time with her neutrality. A week ago her anti-aircraft batteries opened fire on a fleet of British warplanes, Italy-bound, across her soil. Her chief newspaper was banned in Italy for being unneutral—in the wrong way. . .

Switzerland dissolved "the national movement," a totalitarian group which, she said, tended to create internal conflict. . . axis protests were mild. The Swiss control St. Gotthard and Simplon, two vital tunnels which permit passage of German coal and other materials to Italy's war industries. . . they could be closed with dynamite within an hour. . .

Rumors of Eastern Peace

From the Far East came rumors this week of "easy peace" negotiations, with Japan seeking to end the stalemate of war. . . there was, obviously, no "official confirmation," and China set about the business of fighting three more years, if need be. . .

England's industrial midlands suffered mighty air raids as the week progressed, with nazis concentrating upon her vital defense centers. But the dauntless British hurled an equal might at German industrial centers, ports and the "invasion coast" . . . the nightly air raid warnings, "the wail of the banshee," is an old story to England—and to Germany. . .

It Was a Big Week at Home

Hawks End Interesting Season

It was a big week at home, a week which opened with the football season suddenly turned from poor to great, a week which found the University of Iowa alone in her distinction of being unbeaten by mighty Notre Dame—unbeaten and untied in three titanic upsets. . .

So students, righteously enough, celebrated.

but the celebration had turned into a skip-day for a non-representative campus minority by noon Monday, and by evening there was the definite student feeling that the business had gone a little awry, that the student body in general had seen a good thing turned into something not quite palatable to the students as a whole. . .

Parties for the President

President and Mrs. Hancher were guests at two coming-out parties during the week. On Wednesday evening they were introduced to the faculty and administration. It was a big party, and very nice. . .

Students merely bided their time. On Thursday they called informally for an Iowa Union coffee hour meeting with the Hanchers. Iowa's first couple had a bigger reception on Wednesday, but it wasn't any heartier than Thursday's. . .

A week or so ago Col. H. H. Slaughter received notification from Washington that he "probably would be transferred" to Texas. Final orders came on Wednesday, and the Slaughters prepared to leave. . . Col. C. A. Bagby automatically becomes first in command. . .

College of Law's Birthday

One of the biggest celebrations ever to be held on the campus by one of the university's departments or colleges came this week, when the Iowa college of law marked its 75th birthday with an impressive series of events. . . Dean Emeritus Roscoe Pound of the Harvard law school was only one of the top-notchers to appear for the event. . .

The college of engineering announced phases of the part it will play in the defense program, through special courses in defense engineering, and in a great many other ways. . .

Iowa City's Presbyterian church celebrated its first 100 years. . .

Willkie's 22,000,000 Will Play a Part

WASHINGTON — Certain key administration men are irritated, although holding their tongues, about "the twenty-two millions" whom Mr. Willkie proposes to keep alive and organized. No subject is discussed more where politicians gather. The perplexed new deal is in the position of a man plodding ahead with his feet but with his head turned behind to see if someone is coming. . .

The question the new dealers are asking is: What is Mr. Willkie going to do with "the twenty-two millions"? So far the only answers have come from the questioners. Some of them swear they will let loose a storm of managed indignation if the republican candidate attempts to use his group for publicity - pressure upon the third term. They foresee dire consequences in civilian strife. They are already loading their guns for it with charges that Mr. Willkie is trying to hamstring the government and promote his own election in 1944. . .

DEMOCRATIC RIGHT—

To a reporter sitting on the rail here, these apprehensions seem premature, if not imaginary. Unless the new deal is planning some international or domestic proposal which would arouse hot discussion (say something on a par with the supreme court reorganization proposal made after the last election); and unless Mr. Willkie did not mean what he said when he asked his Willkie clubs to drop his name, an active loyal opposition might be expected to promote unity rather than strife. Certainly the cooperation accomplished between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie on uppermost international issues during the campaign seems to guarantee that the fears are unwarranted. . .

But suppose they are not. This nation is a democracy. The single original assumption upon which democracy is based is that the best decisions come from the clash of minds in debate. A real functioning democracy must have an alert opposition as well as majority leadership. The worst mistake the new deal made were the direct result of the lack of energetic opposition in congress in its early years. Its proposals were not tested in the white heat of close discussion. Defects often were not corrected until these cropped up later in administration or in the courts. . .

This practical assumption that the best government comes from consultation is the tap root of democracy. The morale fibres guaranteeing the rights of minorities spring from it. "The twenty-two millions" would not be performing their democratic duty if they did any less than they propose. . .

SOLD ON WILLKIE—

A more realistic possibility of strife can be found in the private doubts of some republican congressmen about Mr. Willkie's conciliatory attitude toward the administration foreign policy. Call them isolationists (as their enemies do) or American nationalists (as their friends do), they are plainly not inclined to go with Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Willkie or anyone else very much closer to war. A future split between them and Mr. Willkie is not beyond the bounds of reasonable conception, although no fissure has yet appeared to indicate such a breach. Joe Martin came back from the campaign wars to tell republicans in his house personally (which means doubly convincingly) that he is sold on Willkie. The house floor leader does not know what Willkie intends to do, but considers him reasonable and easy to work with. . .

As chairman of the national committee also, Martin says the Willkie clubs will not be taken into the G.O.P.; considers this all right as the membership is made up almost entirely of independents who do not wish to be bound by affiliation with the national committee. . .

FLUENT SPOKESMAN—

The making of detailed republican policy will no doubt be in the hands of Martin and senate minority leader Charles McNary, a vice presidential candidate. They will lead their flocks in voting on the issues of the day. The twenty-two millions will not lack fluent spokesmen. . .

Coons Reviews

'Lady With Red Hair'

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—"Lady with Red Hair." Screenplay by Charles Kenyon and Milton Krims. Directed by Kurt Bernhardt. Principals: Miriam Hopkins, Claude Rains, Richard Arlley, Laura Hope Crews, Helen Westley, John Litel, Mona Barrie, Victor Jory, Cecil Kellaway, Fritz Leiber, Johnnie Russell, Selmer Jackson. . .

This movie's best selling point is also its biggest handicap. Based on the lives of two of a departed theater's most picturesque and intriguing characters, David Belasco and Mrs. Leslie Carter, the film is fact overlaid with fiction, or vice versa. As fiction, it might have gone more deeply into motives and characters. As partial fact, it has had to tread delicately. And the combination is not a satisfying thing. . .

The film, therefore, is best as a re-creation of an exciting period in the theater, of exciting characters. The story has Mrs. Carter (Hopkins) divorced in Chicago (1889) when to be divorced amounted to social disgrace. Given to theatrical outbursts, she decides to go on the stage as a means of amassing quick money to regain custody of her son (Russell) and of making her erstwhile friends pay homage to her. She hasn't the time to start at the bottom—only the top will do. Therefore, with a letter to Belasco, she invades New York. The wizard (Rains) passes off her plea with high sarcasm and a promptly forgotten promise. Three months later, she hunts him down and intrigues him with the challenge to make something of her. There are good scenes of his attempt to prove that he "can make a telegraph pole act." Her first play flops; she is about to retire to stock and marriage with Lou Payne (Arlley) when Belasco returns with the story of her next play. She clicks. . .

Even so, returning to Chicago and conquering a hostile audience, she cannot regain the boy. Disappointment sends her back to triumphs despite her back to marriage and Belasco, furious because she has not told him her plans, breaks with her. Unable to score in several efforts to act without him, she is embarked on another certain failure when the wizard returns and saves the day—an entirely fictional "happy ending." . .

"Gallant Sons." Screenplay by William R. Lipman and Marion Parsonnet. Directed by George B. Seitz. Principals: Jackie Cooper, Bonita Granville, Gene Reynolds, Gail Patrick, Ian Hunter. . .

Better than average program movie about a high school gang that solves a murder mystery—with laughs applied for quick grease when the hokum threatens to creep too loudly. Solution: They trap the killer in "Hamlet" fashion by presenting a school play in which the murder is reenacted. Funny finish. . .

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

Playwright Sherwood's Turning Publican—

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—If you are interested in watching the transformation of a Broadway playwright into a man of national affairs, keep your eyes on Robert Emmet Sherwood. He may not recognize this fact himself, but as sure as sunrise with each passing day his interests are carrying him farther and farther into the tide of world events. . .

As a charter member and a co-worker with William Allen White on the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies he has been labeled by some as an interventionist. These persons say his aim, and the aim of other members and workers of the committee, is ultimate active participation in the war by the side of Great Britain. . .

But as long as 1935, when he wrote "Idiot's Delight," Mr. Sherwood said: "Let me express here the conviction that those who shrug and say 'war is inevitable' are false prophets. I believe that the world is populated largely by decent people, and decent people don't want war. They fight and die, to be sure, but that is because they have been deluded by their exploiters, who are members of the indigent minority." . .

The Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, particularly since both presidential candidates urged the utmost in aid during the recent campaign, enjoys greater prestige now than at any previous moment since its beginning. More and more Sherwood himself has been ascending the speaker's platform. Canadian and American audiences are familiar with his views, which express the opinion that freedom is a right, not a privilege, and that we ourselves will be safe from the tides of totalitarianism so long as Britain, serving as a sea-wall, continues to stand. These views are in themselves a re-expression of the Sermon on the Mount. He previously has said it all, and well, in "There Shall Be No Night." . .

This play is about the Finnish war. The idea came to him during a Christmas Eve broadcast in 1939. He wrote it swiftly, within a few weeks, and it came to Broadway. It now is in Canada. And it will come back to Broadway in the spring. . .

The opinion already has been expressed that on certain issues the William Allen White committee may be used as a sounding board to test public opinion. It has been urged that Mr. Sherwood go into politics. One political essayist even has said that Sherwood would make good presidential timber. . .

I personally do not believe Mr. Sherwood has any idea ever of exposing himself to the ballot box. But I do believe without question the days ahead will find him moving up and down the land crying his convictions. If Britain holds fast, his place . . .

CAMPUS CONSULTANTS WINNIE SCULLY AND STAFF THE CONSULTANTS KNOW-WHERE TO GO

At the Spinsters' Spree you're going to be seen - and noticed. Noticed that is, if you're something to look at.

Of course, you'll want to look like a reproduction of Brenda Frazier, who doesn't? And you will, too, if you shop at YETTER'S, and collect your evening ensemble from their grand array.

Look well-groomed and simply tailored in a skirt that has that newest pencil-slim cut but is made in reality from yards and yards of material. Perhaps a strictly formal gown, cut low, revealing shoulders, or the new motif that spells modesty - covered arms and shoulders. Hedy Lamar would really go for them, and you will, too, for that important date on campus.

The YETTER formal line has simplicity, yet a certain rah! rah! dash about it that's bound to be noticed. Glamorize your existence with one of them. It's YETTER'S for your Spinsters' Spree.

Horror, girls... only thirty-seven more days, and we're lost for four more years. Leap year's on its way out... so get set for the grand finale...

Have you seen the mob of people lately dropping into STICKFORD'S CAMPUS SUPPLIES store to indulge in a bit of hot chocolate or coffee? You yourself have probably tried it, too, for that between-class coc or after-school relaxer.

Well, we've good news for thee. The sandwich unit is ready and already working at a great rate. Anything you want you can get at STICKFORD'S. And it's so close to campus, too.

It's a good deal from any angle and it's yours for the taking. And by all means, ask about that club of theirs. It's the easiest way in the world to save money - the best since some bright person invented insurance.

At least, the mystery of a campus coed's life. For on the balcony of PENNEY'S we found an outstanding array of inexpensive sweaters that have us marvelling.

Who's a Gobbler... Speaking of Thanksgiving either last Thursday or November 28... a query who is the Gobbler... the turkey... itself or the fellow who feasts on it...

Here's a tip! You will want to have those table linens fresh and bright for Thanksgiving day. Then shortly thereafter, Christmas and Gloria Jean sings as only she can... but gives up fame for her friends...

Let's start being thankful today so we'll have a good start by Thursday. Everybody who buys his new car from NALL CHEVROLET is thankful three hundred and sixty-five days of the year...

With snow and ice skates in season now you'll be needing to shake the moth balls out of your ski suit and send it to LEVORA'S SATISFACTORY CLEANERS to be all set for another winter of good fun.

Anniversary Celebration Successful, Dean Ladd Says

Big Attendance Passes Hopes Of Law School

Iowa Band Salutes Laws Between Halves Of Hawk-Illini Game

The attendance and success of the 75th anniversary program exceeded all expectations. It was a great day for the law school and will last long in the memory of this institution, Dean Mason Ladd of the college of law commented at the completion of the two-day celebration of founding of the school.

Seven hundred law students, faculty members, alumni and special guests participated in the event, which consisted of three formal programs Friday, informal meetings Saturday morning, and attendance of the Iowa-Illinois game Saturday afternoon.

The university band saluted the college of law between halves of the Iowa-Illinois game Saturday by forming the word "Laws" and the symbol "65-40," indicating the year the law school was founded.

The classes of 1917 and 1931 had the largest number of representatives present at the celebration with 13 each. Eleven members of the class of 1915 were present.

Atty. L. S. Kennington of Newton was the oldest class representative present. He graduated 60 years ago in the class of 1880. Atty. Charles Clark of Burlington, a member of the class of 1886, was the second oldest class representative present.

Roscoe Pound, former dean of Harvard law school and now a university professor there, was the principal speaker, addressing an audience Friday on "The Universities and the Law."

"Information Please," a panel discussion of modern developments of the law, was conducted Friday by Atty. George C. Murray of

Movie Night 'Dead End' Kid Here Entertains Co-op

Hollywood invaded the university campus Friday night in the person of Bobby Jordan, one of the "Dead End" kids. Bob Pate, E2 of Sheridan, Wyo., was taking tickets at the Turkey Trot, a cooperative dormitory party, when a boy sauntered up "just to look things over." Pate thought he looked familiar and suddenly recognized him as one of the "Dead End" kids.

Arrangements were made for Jordan to be added to the floor show and he entertained with several impersonations, harmonica solos and scenes from "Angels Wash Their Faces."

Jordan and his manager had stopped in Iowa City on their way from New York to California.

Two Educators Visit University Campus; Study Administration

Dean W. Edwin Van de Walle of the college for men at the University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y., was a University of Iowa visitor last week.

So, too, was Dean John S. Mills of the administration of Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis.

Both men were here to observe the functioning of this university, and the administrations of many of its colleges, schools and departments.

Sheldon, president of the Iowa State Bar association.

Chief Justice Benjamin Clarke Hilliard of the Colorado supreme court was the after-dinner speaker at the anniversary banquet Friday night. Excerpts from Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial by Jury" and "Iolanthe" by a student chorus and soloists high-lighted the entertainment at the banquet.

Iowa Band Ends Season Undefeated

Trick Maneuvers Lead Football Band to Victory Between the Halves

Overcoming a three point pre-game lead—limited rehearsals, cold-numbered lips and fingers and uncertain weather conditions—Prof. Charles B. Richter's Iowa football band wound up its 1940 season with colorful pomp and pageantry during the Iowa-Illinois game in Iowa stadium yesterday.

The "red-coats" brought color and snap into an otherwise dreary overcast day the moment they filed onto the field for the before-the-game routine and flag raising ceremonies. The "Battle of the Tribes" between the Illini and Iowa camps will live long in the memories of those who witnessed the spectacle.

The Hawkeye band swung down the field to the familiar strains of Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever." They halted at the north end while the Scottish Highlanders gave another of their clever Scottish dance routines.

As the kilted unit made its exit, the "red-coats," playing Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance," strode to mid-field for the flag raising.

After the "Stars Spangled Banner," the band did an impressive company front" exit. The crowd in the stadium joined them in a chorus of "On Iowa," as they jogged off the field, team style.

By BOB RUTENBECK

Entering the battle-torn field again between the halves, the "red-coats" saluted the visiting rosters by playing "Illinois Loyalty" from an "Illini" formation, facing the visiting stands.

Under the direction of Arnold L. Cehlsen, assistant director of bands, they then sang "Hail to the Orange" and extended a cap salute to the Illini fans.

Surprise of the afternoon came as the band finished its greeting to the visitors. Tom-toms were heard in the distance, and the military precision of the band gave way to savage spirits as the Illini and Iowa tribes broke apart and faced each other across the Mississippi.

"The Father of Waters" was represented by a line of basses, wandering across the field to the tune of "Old Man River." Rivalry mounted as the Illini group played an Indian version of "Illinois Loyalty" and the Iowans played an Indian version of the "Corn Song."

The tempo of the tom-toms increased to a feverish pitch as the two tribes broke into a mock battle. Suddenly the trumpets gave a call to peace with the "Indian Love Call." The two tribes joined around the campfire in circles of friendship and the rival chiefs smoked a pipe of peace to Cadman's "Land of the Sky Blue Water."

With the debris of battle cleared away, the "red-coats" turned their musical spotlight on the 75th anniversary of the college of law at the university. Several hundred alumni of the college of law were present in the stands as the band formed the word "Laws" in their honor.

This formation changed to "65-40" indicating the 75 years of the college's existence. In these two formations the band played and sang the law college song, based on Sousa's "U.S. Field Artillery March."

A fitting conclusion for the program and the year was added as the band formed a large block "I," which was animated by a contrary movement of the outer and inner files. The animation was done to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne" and on the last strain the entire "I" formation moved off the field, still playing.

Second Concert By Symphony On Wednesday

Will Honor Sibelius On 75th Anniversary Of Composer's Birth

The University of Iowa symphony orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, will present the second in its 1940-41 series of concerts in the main lounge of Iowa Union, at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Tickets are available starting today at the desk of Iowa Union.

Wednesday's concert will be presented as a tribute to Jan Sibelius, famed contemporary Finnish composer. His "Symphony No. 2 in D major" will be played on the program.

Sibelius is recognized as the greatest composer ever to come out of Finland. Dec. 8 is the 75th anniversary of his birth, and it is in keeping with a world-wide sentiment that the University of Iowa pays tribute to the famous composer. Sibelius, like Camille Saint-Saens, who will also have a selection on the program, has the rare honor of becoming a classic in his own lifetime. And unlike many composers who are last appreciated in their home country, Sibelius enjoys the unannounced title of "musical prophet" in his own land.

Undaunted by the recent Russian invasion of his home land, Sibelius, who holds a deep respect and love for Finland, remained at his home. Through strictly censored mails comes word that the famous composer is still alive and well.

Sibelius is difficult to classify as a composer. He is said to catch the spirit and aspirations of his people and at the same time casts theory and musical ethics "to the winds" in his effort to find a form in which to express himself.

Saint-Saens Taking second honors on the program will be Camille Saint-Saens, modern French piano virtuoso, organist and composer. The orchestra will play his grand zoological fantasy, "The Carnival of Animals."

Saint-Saens was born in Paris in 1835. He, like Sibelius, enjoyed the distinction of becoming a musical celebrity before his death in 1922.

The "Carnival" was not played publicly before his death. It had a few private performances, but until Saint-Saens' will stipulated that it could be printed, the composition remained unpublished. It is one of the best examples of humor and satire in music, authorities say.

Probably writing for his own amusement, the droll composer included pianists in his collection of animals in the selection.

The final number on the concert program brings the work of Peter Tchaikowsky again to an Iowa audience. This time, it will be his "Theme and Variations from Suite No. 3 in G major."

As Hawks Win: Astroth Tries Iowa Line, Pettit Goes Up, Farmer in Trouble

The action was fast and furious yesterday as Iowa humbled Bob Zuppke's Fighting Illini in Iowa stadium by the score of 18 to 7. The Hawkeyes and Illini were

charging into a hole in the line behind the blocking of Joseph Turek, right guard. Turek is number 79. However, the hole closed rapidly. Iowa's Capt. Mike Enich, number 33, is partly blocked, but got in and helped make the tackle. Hawkeyes on the left in the picture are Ken Pettit, 39; Francis Curran, 20, and Bruno Andruska, 14. In the center picture is a sample of the Iowa pass catching as Pettit goes up in the air after a toss from Tom Farmer and brings it down for a good gain.

John Worban, number 11 of Illinois is there to make the tackle, while Ross Anderson, 53; and Bill Diehl, 29; come charging up to give Pettit some interference. Harry Siebold, number 15 of Illi-

to sit in his lap. Bob Gibbs, 84; and Robert Falkenstein, 33; both of Illinois were also ready to help with the tackle. Farmer's number is 12.

Hawkeyes--

through the Hawkeye line for 10 yards and a first down on the 11. The Hawkeyes braced and held, despite another pass, Good to Gibbs, that carried the invaders to the two.

It looked for a moment as though Iowa might avert the score, but Youel's punt was short and Good mauld his way back to the 23 to set up another try—the one that was successful. A ruling of interference made a pass from Good to Falkenstein good on the 16, then the aerials brought pay on a 16-yard heave from Good to Bernhardt, with Bernhardt galloping the last four yards without breaking his stride. Enni, the matchless booter of the invaders, sent a perfect placekick between the bars to make the lead 7-0.

Ray Murphy, a veritable engine of destruction in his first game since the Minnesota contest a month ago, started an Iowa march with a jolting gallop that carried the 18 yards to midfield, but there the Illini braced and the game turned into a punting duel between Youel and Enni.

New Backfield
The second quarter opened on the beginning of another Iowa drive as Enni's kick was downed on the Iowa 36 and a new Hawkeye backfield took over. Al Couppee came into the game, along with Tom Farmer, Bill Green and Bus Mertes, the siltthy sophomore. Farmer and Green made a first down on the 50, Green plowed for five and Farmer passed to Mertes for another on the Illinois 33. Followed a pair of penalties, one against Iowa and the other on the Illini, but the Hawkeyes rolled on again.

Green snagged Farmer's pass for six yards, added eight and then got another five for a first down on the 22. Then Farmer, hitting on his aerials with the precision of a Nile Kinnick, tossed one to Ken Pettit on the nine.

Mertes Scores
Mertes and Green took it to the five-yard marker in three outmaneuver the sturdy Illinois defense, which Mertes did with a touchdown run. It started on a drive off tackle and ended in a sweep clear out to the left sideline, with the Hawkeye sophomore dragging an enemy tackler across the goal line. As has been the case for most of this year, Iowa failed on the extra point attempt when Gallagher, back in the game for the try, missed on a placekick.

Worban sparked an Illinois drive later the same period with a series of five straight completions, but it ended up as nothing more than a fruitless jaunt into Iowa territory. In all fairness, it must be admitted that the Illinois team crossed the goal line, but it was called back when Peterson, who took Good's pass in the end zone, was ruled to have been offside.

Exchange of Breaks
The third quarter, the big Iowa period, started out like a comedy, with one of the weirdest exchanges of breaks ever seen between the concrete walls of Iowa stadium. Bernhardt intercepted, then Farmer got the ball back for Iowa on the same kind of a break. Couppee fumbled and the Illini recovered the loose oval, but Bernhardt dropped it on the next play and Enich pounced on the ball on the Illinois 35.

From there, on straight running plays, the Hawkeyes moved directly to the goal line. Mertes scored again, this time on a 16-yard jaunt around his own left end, but the point after touchdown again failed to materialize. Couppee's placekick bouncing off one of the uprights.

In desperation, the Illini took

Husker Power Beats Cyclones In Comeback

Iowa State Boasts 12-0 Halftime Lead; Loses 21-12 Game
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 23 (AP)—Nebraska power beat Iowa State into the soggy turf of Memorial stadium today, as the Huskers stormed back in the third and fourth periods to wipe out a 12 to 0 Cyclone halftime lead and take a 21 to 12 victory that assured them of nothing less than a tie for Big Six conference championship honors.

to the air as soon as they could receive the kickoff, but their passing game, so deadly in the first half, was their undoing as Mertes hauled a toss down on the Illinois 42 and picked up five yards to the 37. Green, still sparking the Hawkeye running attack, went around right end and was almost loose, but they pushed him out of bounds on the 15 to end the 22-yard gallop.

Hoosiers Nip Purdue, 3-0, In Last Period

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 23 (AP)—Indiana and Purdue, gridiron rivals since 1891, fought a drizzling rain, a slippery turf and each other to a stand-off for more than 59 minutes today, but, with 13 seconds to go, Gene White dropped back from right guard to send his right toe against the leather and his Indiana team to a dramatic 3 to 0 triumph.

Thirty thousand drenched and shivering spectators saw Indiana's fighting Hoosiers turn a prospective scoreless tie into victory with their final charge, climaxed by White's perfect placekick from the 27-yard line. The Old Oaken Bucket, treasured trophy of a series that started in 1891, thus goes to Bloomington, home of Indiana University, for the first time since 1935.

Harold (Red) Zimmer, 155-pound ball of fire from Springfield, Ohio, shared the hero's role with White, who hails from South Bend, Ind. Red set the stage for the placement after Cobb Lewis had intercepted Johnny Galvin's Purdue pass on the Purdue 40. After picking up six yards in two plays, "the red head" raced to the 20, then came White's game-winning kick.

for the Iowa line, he had recovered two fumbles at vital points in the conflict and the famous number 33 had been in the middle of every scramble.

But words cannot make a picture nor can black type tell all of the story of Enich and the seniors who moved out of Iowa stadium with their final gridiron victory. Along with Enich went other members of the Iowa 60-minute brigade, Ken Pettit, the one-time backfield star who became an end, won fame as a guard, then moved back to a flank post when the shortage of material there became distressing to Iowa coaches, was another, along with the battling Ham Snider, Charles Tollefson, Max Hawkins, Bruno Andruska, Ray Murphy, Henry Luebeck, Bill Gallagher and Joe Moore.

For the sophomores, let it be said that the game augured well for chances in 1947. Mertes, a 190-pound speedster with drive to spare and the unpredictable qualities of a jitterbug, scored twice and added yardage to the Iowa total of 208 gained from scrimmage. Green, finishing his second year as a Hawkeye, pounded, ran and blocked his way through one of his best performances of a brilliant season, while Tom Farmer finally hit his stride at the left halfback post where Jim Youel is also making good. Al Couppee and Bill Stauss were doing well and so were the watch charm sophomore guards, Ross Anderson and Francis Curran, while the charging of big Jim Walker was always a worry to Illinois kickers and passers and Wilford Burkett held down right end in the fashion of a veteran.

The Hawkeyes, as a paring word, kept two Iowa records intact. They continued the string of games during which the Hawkeyes have scored—an Iowa team hasn't failed to count under Eddie Anderson. But, they also failed to get a point after touchdown. In 11 attempts the Hawkeyes have missed against Big Ten teams, with not a single conversion to their credit against conference competition.

Enich, the Big Ten's "Number One Iron Man" a year ago, and a 60-minute performer in four games this season, left the game just three minutes before it ended. That event, with the crowd rising to roar a parting tribute to the most durable of all Hawkeye stalwarts, was probably the high point of the last quarter, perhaps of the entire afternoon. In his last appearance in intercollegiate football, "Iron Mike" had been, as always, the pace-setter

DeCorrevont Is Star of Battle

Don Clawson Turns In Great Performance, Scores Three Times

By EARL HILLIGAN
EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 23 (AP)—Northwestern's Wildcats, with blond Bill de Correvont giving the greatest performance of his collegiate gridiron career, handed Notre Dame a decisive 20 to 0 licking before 48,000 spectators at Dwyer stadium today.

Northwestern, in closing its season with a sixth victory in eight games, held the upper hand throughout the duel, scoring once in the second period and twice in the third. And it was de Correvont, the most highly publicized prep player in the nation in 1937, who was the principal cog in the powerful Northwestern attack which kept the Irish back on their heels most of the afternoon.

De Correvont Stars
The former Chicago high school sensation passed for the first Wildcat touchdown, set up and then scored the second on a speedy dash off tackle and punted brilliantly as Northwestern scored its third win over the Irish in 20 games. His performance had to be brilliant to overshadow the play of his teammate Don Clawson, who scored two of the battle's three touchdowns.

Northwestern's first two touchdowns were earned the hard way. The Wildcats, after taking a punt at their own 18, smashed to the Notre Dame 32 as Clawson ripped the Irish line for consistent gains. Then de Correvont passed to Clawson, who caught the ball on the Irish 26 and ran for a touchdown, shaking off several would-be tacklers.

"Blond Bill" Scores
A brilliant run by de Correvont set up the second Wildcat score. Striking off right tackle and reversing his field sharply behind good blocking, he raced 27 yards to the Notre Dame nine early in third period. The Wildcats got only five yards on three plays, but on the "payoff" fourth down, de Correvont shot off left tackle with a great burst of speed to score without being touched.

Late in the same period Northwestern punted deep to Notre

Harmon Overwhelms Buckeyes, 40-0

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 23 (AP)—The glory that was "Red" Grange's shifted to the stalwart shoulders of Michigan's mighty Tom Harmon today as the Gary ghost ground Ohio's Buckeyes to a 40-0 defeat—their worst walloping in 35 years of football warfare.

A crowd of 73,648 rain-drenched fans gazed through a murky haze as the All-America halfback scored three touchdowns, tossed passes for two others, and kicked four placekicks for extra points to wind up the most brilliant scoring career in Western conference annals.

The scoring record of 31 touchdowns held by Illinois' immortal Harold "Red" Grange for the last 15 years went into the runner-up spot as Harmon, with the shiftiest running the Buckeye stadium has ever witnessed, boosted his three-year touchdown total to 33.

On top of that, the Michigan maestro has booted 33 fieldgoals after touchdowns. Grange did not do much booting during his spectacular career, had only the 186 points he counted on touchdowns, but the Illini star of yesterday did it in 20 games.

Harmon, unhampered by the slippery turf, also turned in some nifty blocking and when he left the game after his final touch-

Minnesota Finishes Undefeated, Untied; Rallies to Overcome Wisconsin, 22-13

By TOM SILER
MADISON, Wis., Nov. 23 (AP)—The Golden Gophers of Minnesota posted a strong claim to a share of the mythical national football championship today, finishing the season undefeated and untied with a 22 to 13 victory over Wisconsin before 40,000 spectators.

The giant Norsemen, who clinched the Western conference championship a week ago, brushed aside the Badgers as they had seven other teams after spotting the home aggregation 13 points.

The Badgers had a great scoring chance shortly after the opening kickoff when George Franck fumbled a punt and Bob Henry recovered for Wisconsin on the Minnesota 18. But the ponderous invaders held and took the ball. Franck's magnificent punting set the Badgers back as the quarter progressed.

Undaunted, Wisconsin started from its own 26 with big George Paskvan hitting center for two yards. Then Johnny Tennant tossed a long pass to Dave Schreiner, who shook off two tacklers

Volunteers Nail Kentucky, 33-0

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 23 (AP)—A great Tennessee football team all but nailed down the lid on a post-season Bowl invitation today, beating a courageous Kentucky outfit, 33-0 before a homecoming crowd of 25,000.

A couple of Major Bob Neyland's second-string stars—little halfback Johnny Butler and end Mike Baltisaris teamed to score two of Tennessee's touchdowns by air; another substitute halfback, Buist Warren, flipped a third touchdown pass to end Jim Coleman, and the other two came via the ground.

attempted by Fred Gage, Badger guard who was back on a fake punt. The Gopher fullback returned the ball 17 yards to the Badger 30. Minnesota scored in eight plays, Smith going off right tackle and cutting back for the touchdown from the eight-yard line. Gordon Paschka's placekick was good, knocking the count at 13-13.
