Cabinet Members Endorse 7 Billion Aid Appropriation

Hull, Stimson, Knox Testify in Committee

U. S. May Transfer Destroyers, Mosquito Boats to Britain Soon

By RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—Endorsing a $7,000,000,000 appropriation for the British aid program, three cabinet members told a house subcommittee today that that figure had been arrived at after an analytical study of English needs as submitted by the London government.

The officials, Secretaries Hull, Stimson and Knox, testified at an executive session which started the huge appropriation through the congressional process. Their statements were augmented by testimony from General George C. Marshall, the army chief of staff, and Harold D. Smith, director of the budget.

The hearings began amid recurring reports that 30 or so "mosquito" boats, highly desired by the British for patrol duty, might be transferred to England soon, with possibly some destroyers as well.

Afterward Chairman Woodrum (D-Va) of the subcommittee proceeded to the house floor and with a minimum of difficulty obtained a unanimous consent agreement that the measure should be taken up on Tuesday, with a full day of general debate and a final vote on Wednesday.

Describes Occurrence
House hearings on appropriation bills are always in executive session, and usually no word of the testimony is given out until the bill is presented to the chamber proper. Today, however, in the presence of the subcommittee, Woodrum sketched briefly what had taken place because, he said, of the widespread general interest in the subject.

The cabinet members "endorsed the bill definitely and enthusiastically," he said, and "showed that these estimates have been arrived at not by guess work but after very deliberate examination, thought and study, by the army and navy."

British Needs
These studies were based, he continued, on a statement of British needs which Great Britain had submitted. Army needs were studied by army officials here, naval needs by naval officials and air corps needs by the air corps. Independently, these branches, after careful analysis, submitted estimates to the budget bureau, which handled them just as it would ordinarily handle budget estimates for America's own armed forces.

Reporters were curious as to whether the $7,000,000,000 was intended to cover the entire cost of the British aid program, or whether additional estimates might be submitted later.

"As the situation looks at present," Woodrum replied, "this is what they (Hull, Stimson and Knox) think should be appropriated."

The hearings are to be resumed tomorrow morning with Smith completing his statement and William S. Knudsen, in charge of defense production, presenting his views of the office production management.

Meanwhile, congressional officials (See AID, Page 8)

Plan for Federal Board to Mediate In Defense Cases Goes to President

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A plan for a federal board to mediate labor disputes was presented to President Roosevelt yesterday with the backing of administration labor and defense production chiefs.

In congress, meantime, differing views were heard as to the effect of strikes on defense production, and elsewhere there were these developments:
Negotiations between 450,000 soft coal miners and principal mine owners for a new operating contract reached an apparent impasse.

There was a brief work stoppage at the rolling mill of the Ford Motor company's River Rouge plant in Dearborn, Mich. Prospects for settlement of a transportation strike in New York City brightened with resumption of negotiations between union and company representatives. The strike, involving two bus lines employing 3,500, was called by the CIO transport workers union which is asking pay increases.

Secretary of Labor Perkins, William S. Knudsen, director of defense production, and Sidney Hillman, associate director, took the plan for a federal mediation board to the White House. Details of their proposal were not disclosed, and there was no immediate word as to how Mr. Roosevelt regarded it.

Testifying before the house judiciary committee, Representative Vinson (D-Ga.) urged immediate enactment of legislation to restrict strikers in defense industries. He asserted that the labor lost between Jan. 1, 1940, and last February due to labor disputes was sufficient to build 325 modern bombers. Vinson is chairman of the house naval committee.

On the other hand, Secretary of the Navy Knox expressed the

Germany Eyes British 'Black Gold' in Near East

One of Germany's greatest problems has been the securing of a sufficient supply of gasoline and oil to operate her fleets of airplanes, her submarines and her divisions of mechanized units. As the Third Reich extends its sway further toward the southeast, it is believed the possibility of a stroke in the direction of the extensive oil fields in British-controlled Iraq is more imminent. As shown in the above map, German troops would have to drive across Turkey to reach the vital fields.

Say Germany Growing Impatient; to Demand Reply to 'Invitation'

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 13—Like men lost in a maze, leaders of this World War-born kingdom conferred for hours today in an effort to find a way to appease Germany without lashing their nation to the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo axis.

Prince Paul Confers
Chief Regent Prince Paul and Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic locked themselves in conferences in Dejinje palace's study, but what conclusions they reached were not disclosed.

Earlier, Cvetkovic conferred with Dr. Vladimir Macek, leader of the Croats and lesser politicians.

Only along the short Greek frontier could Yugoslavia still count on non-axis friendship, and access to that 100-odd mile gateway is the principal objective of German pressure.

Greece, which has declared she will continue her fight against the axis regardless of Yugoslavia's decision, busily fortified Thrace against attack of a German army on her Bulgarian frontier and continued to move civilians out of the line of march.

Turkey Watches
Turkey still watched the situation calmly, but with warlike preparations.

In German quarters in Belgrade there were reports that Berlin was growing impatient for Yugoslavia's decision and might demand a quick reply to the "invitation to join the axis."

Defense Chief Asks Speed-Up Of Production

CLEVELAND, March 13 (AP)—The chief of the government's defense contract service declared today that "ordinance produced too late may be used by our adversaries," demanded "more acceptable defense materials in less time," and disclosed the aluminum-utensil industry has been told it is "out of business."

The production-management official, Robert L. Mehornay, addressed a closing session of the Cleveland speed-armsament conference—warned by another speaker that industry will feel "the real pinch" of a labor shortage by late August or early September.

Two British Planes Collide; 7 Fatally Hurt
BOND HEAD, Ont., March 13 (AP)—Seven members of the RAF were killed and one was injured critically today when two bombers from the RAF air navigation school at Goderich collided and crashed to earth near here.

It was established that there were four men in each plane, but Squadron Leader E. E. Velle, commanding the Goderich school, said identification had not been taken alive from the wreckage in which three others were dead.

The radio man identified himself as Don Flowers and said the planes came from Goderich, a town near the Port Albert training base.

Warning Spurs Action on Bill

Ax Nations Possess Greater Sea Power Than United States

By REG INGRAHAM
WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—A $3,446,585,144 bill to help finance the two-ocean navy started on its way through congress today spurred by an official warning that the axis nations possess greater potential sea power than the United States and that the already dangerous world situation may grow worse.

The house appropriations committee stamped its approval on the bill containing funds to carry the naval expansion program forward during the year starting July 1, and administration leaders said it was scheduled for house passage tomorrow.

At the same time, the committee made public testimony from Secretary Knox and other members of the naval high command delivered during secret hearings on the measure which started Feb. 3.

Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, told the group "the international situation may continue to grow worse for some time to come" and added that while no one could predict the future with accuracy, "it is imperative that we arm ourselves as rapidly as possible."

Secretary Knox said that on Jan. 1, the combined naval strength of Germany, Italy and Japan totalled 1,835,000 tons compared with this country's 1,250,000 tons. He added, without further comment, that France has (See SEA POWER, Page 4)

Urges U. S. Charters

The only manner in which to void "continued expansion of government debt and continued expansion of government control over business" is to require incorporation of national business under federal law, Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D) of Wyoming, has declared to the senate monopoly committee.

Defense Job Registration Starts Today

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—In another sweeping move to step up armaments production, the government tonight called for a voluntary registration, beginning Friday, of all workers available for making vital defense goods.

Expressing concern over the supply of labor available for defense industries during the next few months, Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, appealed to unemployed workers throughout the country and to every person with an "urgently needed skill" not now being used in his present job, to give his name immediately to the nearest state employment service office.

Meanwhile, A. J. Altmeyer, social security board chairman, revealed that labor shortages already had developed in about 30 occupations.

The appeal for registration was made at the request of the office of production management. Altmeyer said he expected 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 men and women not now on active rolls of the employment service to register within the next 30 days. There now are approximately 5,000,000 persons on employment service rolls.

Nazis Report Attacking City's War Industries

Other Bombardments

BERLIN, March 14 (Friday) (AP)—The German Luftwaffe singled out Glasgow for its heaviest overnight raids, authorized sources said today.

The Scottish city's important war industries and its harbor were reported attacked by the strongest German units.

Reports wirelessly ahead from returning bombers said at least 20 huge fires were visible after the first wave of bombers passed. (British acknowledged a raid hours long on a northeastern city last night and early today.)

Other unist renewed the bombardment of Liverpool and Birkhead, dropping explosives and incendiaries which "continued the work of destruction" started at these Mersey ports Wednesday night.

It was reported that "effective" attacks have been directed since last evening against industrial sections, food storage plants and supply warehouses of a number of other Scottish and English cities.

The followup of the previous night's attacks came after the Germans had declared they had contrived new and sharper air and sea weapons for "the battle of the Atlantic."

Wednesday night's hours-long attack on Liverpool coincided with deadly overnight raids carried out by the RAF on Berlin, Bremen and Hamburg. The German high command reported several hundred planes were sent against Liverpool.

RAF Active
Informed quarters said the RAF attackers killed 16 persons and injured 37 in its first raid on Berlin in 82 nights. Three were reported killed and three injured at Bremen and none at Hamburg. Only minor damage was acknowledged at all three places.

The building of the United States consul general at Hamburg was hit by a bomb, but no one was in it at the time. The consul's office and a staircase were damaged and many windows shattered.

Thirteen British planes were declared downed—10 of them over Berlin, Hamburg and Bremen—and the high command acknowledged the loss of six Nazi craft. (The British said 12 German planes were knocked out of the sky over England and Germany.)

Airmen returning from Liverpool declared 10,000 explosive and fire bombs were dropped, damaging ships, grain elevators and storehouses.

New British Attack Is Greatest of War

RAF Sweeps Across Channel to Hammer Invasion Port of Calais; Down German Plane Attempting Raid

LONDON, March 14 (Friday) (AP)—German bombers, the howling harbingers of spring, aimed furiously at the ports of Britain last night and today while the British doggedly fought back and thankfully credited American aid with making possible a great developing offensive of their own against the nazis.

The Germans lashed at Liverpool and the Merseyside on the west coast, at London, and at an unidentified northeastern city, but the British said five nazis already had been shot down, bringing the bag to 17 since Wednesday night.

On the offensive side, the British told of far-ranging attacks Wednesday night and Thursday morning on Germany and German-occupied territories, and daylight assaults yesterday on the French coast.

Fighter-escorted British bombers swept across the channel shortly after noon today and unloaded bombs on the Calais airdrome, scattering nazi planes on the ground, the air ministry announced. On their way home British fighters knocked down a nazi bomber attempting to raid the British south coast.

All these operations, marking a new offensive phase of the war, were made possible because the United States aid bill has freed Britain of worry over plane replacements, well-placed sources asserted.

In an informed quarter it was made plain, with restrained exultation, that the days of Britain's "penuriously defensive" strategy in the air were over and done; that, by President Roosevelt's signature of the lease-lend bill, Britain is able at last "to launch a really offensive war" in the skies.

"We were not able to risk exhausting our reserves before because we had quite frankly reached the point where we just didn't have the money for replacing on a cash and carry basis," said the source.

Explosions rolled across the British channel this afternoon to signal a running broad-daylight British bombing attack upon the nazi-held French coast which was centered about Calais. An airdrome there was heavily hit, it was announced officially, and bombs burst also upon grounded German aircraft.

In all this operation, which capped a long assault of yesterday and last night from Boulogne to Berlin and from Norway south to the Belgian ports, only one British plane was declared lost.

"New and powerful bombers"—their name and make of origin not disclosed by the air ministry—went into action with the heaviest explosives in the British arsenal.

Berlin, the ministry said, was left again with tremendous fires; so, too, were the main German ports of Hamburg and Bremen.

Off Jutland, in the North sea, a German destroyer was declared squarely hit on the stern by an aerial torpedo; attacked, also, it was added, was a big supply ship anchored in IJmuiden harbor of the Netherlands (See BOMBINGS, Page 8)

Rhodes Island, Three Airdromes Bombed by RAF

CAIRO, Egypt, March 13 (AP)—Heavy bombing attacks Wednesday night on three airdromes on the Italian-fortified island of Rhodes, largest of the Dodecanese, were reported tonight by the RAF.

It was the third straight night Rhodes had been raided.

The communique said a large formation of bombers made the attack, and also dropped bombs on targets on the second largest of the islands, Scarpanto.

Describing the attack on Rhodes, the British said that at Martiza all bombs fell on airdrome runways or among hangars, with several explosions caused by incendiaries. One fire started by the bombs was visible 20 miles away. At Calato and Kattavia, the communique said, "all bombs fell on airdromes."

"All our aircraft returned safely," the communique added.

The middle east command announced that in Italian Somaliland British forces continued to advance "in all sectors."

To Take Applications
DES MOINES (AP)—A. Wharvey, chairman of the Iowa committee for agriculture, announced yesterday that his organization now is ready to take applications for membership.

Miners Snub Lewis Proposal

NEW YORK, March 13 (AP)—A proposal by John L. Lewis to keep the nation's soft coal mines running pending settlement of differences between management and labor was rejected by major bituminous operators today shortly after they also rejected miners' demands for blanket wage increases and improved working conditions.

These developments created at least a temporary impasse in biennial contract negotiations for nearly 450,000 members of the United Mine Workers of America

(CIO) in the eight-state Appalachian area. The joint conference then named sub-committees to thresh out miners' demands and operators' counter proposals in an effort to reach a new contract replacing the one expiring March 31.

The committees—four men from each side—will begin joint discussion tomorrow while the general conference remains in recess to await reports.

Operators said they rejected the no-work stoppage proposal because the Lewis resolution stipulated that any wage increases or better working conditions agreed upon after the present contract expires be retroactive from next April 1.

Charles O'Neill of New York, delegated spokesman for the operators, said this stipulation could impose upon operators a "contingent liability running into many millions of dollars."

He accused Lewis of not offering the resolution in good faith and declared that the president of the UMWA was attempting to attract favorable public opinion through such an offer.

Lewis, he said, would be placed in such a position by the resolution that he could filibuster the conference and could delay negotiations for strategy purposes.

Lewis immediately took the floor to deny O'Neill's assertions and to proclaim that the UMWA believed it was making a contribution to public welfare and national defense by "offering a guarantee that there is no necessity for closing the mines on April first."

Meanwhile, A. J. Altmeyer, social security board chairman, revealed that labor shortages already had developed in about 30 occupations.

The appeal for registration was made at the request of the office of production management. Altmeyer said he expected 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 men and women not now on active rolls of the employment service to register within the next 30 days. There now are approximately 5,000,000 persons on employment service rolls.

A Wishful Salute To the Lariat Philosopher

"Now I am not going to tell you any jokes today as jokes are not good for you to read every day. You will have to look to the Washington dispatches from congress for your humor."

Do you remember Will Rogers? Do you remember his pants that bagged at the knees, and his uncouth slouch, and his vast supply of situation-saving remarks? Do you remember his leer? Do you remember his chewing gum? Let's see the hands of those who do.

No incident, international or drawing-room, ever occurred that was so serious or so impressive as to prevent Will Rogers' making his shrewd, human comment that most ease all tension and deflate all pomposity.

The world is wishing mutely for new leaders. We want someone who is stronger than ourselves—someone who can pat our cheeks and tell us everything will be all right. This is what we want, another Lincoln, or another Washington, or even another Christ. But we do not need them. They have done their great work once. It would be unfair to think of asking them to do more. Whom we need is another Will Rogers.

"We are facing another crisis tonight, but our president here has had so many of them lately that he can just lay right down and sleep beside one of the things."

When Will Rogers met his death, it was a tragedy that saddened most of the world. It was doubly unfortunate in that the international stage was being set for events that might have marked his greatest triumphs. Upon that stage now strut temptuous

Speaking of Religion

A Lenten Feature On Current Religious Thought

Compiled by The Rev. Llewelyn A. Owen, Minister, Congregational Church (With the cooperation of the National Religious News Service)

So-Called Christians Who Preach the Human Hatreds—

NEW YORK—Vigorous condemnation of "so-called Christians" who preach racial and religious hatred, was voiced here by speakers at a dinner forum on "Protestantism Answers Hate," sponsored by the Protestant Digest associates.

Speakers at the forum included Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior; Dr. J. I. Blair Larned, Protestant Episcopal suffragan bishop of Long Island; and Dr. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist church (Negro) of New York.

Secretary Ickes, who delivered the principal address, pointed out that there could have been no Christianity without Judaism and deplored the activities of churchmen who preach and practice "not only anti-Semitism, but hatred of Negroes and other minorities."

"What can be said," he asked, "for the professing Protestant who sings the hymn of hate against a Catholic, or of the Catholic who regards the Protestant with aversion?" "I believe," said Mr. Ickes, "that Jew or Gentile, Catholic or Protestant, Negro or white, is entitled to equal opportunities, equal justice, equal respect, and equal freedom."

Dr. Larned voiced a plea for understanding, tolerance, and "the word of encouragement" which, in these trying times, he said, might do much to promote harmony among men.

Dr. Powell expressed extreme dissatisfaction with the present-day attitude of the church toward race relations and brotherhood. He cited alleged discriminations shown against the employment of Negroes, Jews and Catholics in a large New York business firm, and asserted that "Protestantism must answer hate with its heart."

dictators, big-talking statesmen, fretful men of industry. They all take themselves very, very seriously. They all are causing varying degrees of hatred and suffering among the members of their unwilling audience.

Imagine, now, if you can, that stooped figure we knew a few years ago shuffling among those mighty, puffy personages upon the stage. Anticipate, if you can, how with a few words he could make sheepish the dictators, deflate the statesmen, cheer the industrialists.

"There is some talk of getting a machine gun if we can borrow one. The one we have now they are using to train our army with at Plattsburg..."

To Will all men were human first and last, and their other qualities he listed in between, if he listed them at all. Always his judgments somehow conformed to his one creed: "I never met a man I didn't like." We are convinced that, in spite of the many hatreds burning today, he would say this as staunchly as he said it years ago.

In a world that knows only tense minds and glum faces, we need those who are able to relax, who can temper their grimness with kindness and humor. Will Rogers is not able to answer the present need for his dry wit, but he left the world his example to remember, and we cannot forget that he was always able to chuckle, at his own problems as well as at the world's.

"Now everything is funny as long as it is happening to somebody else, but when it happens to you, why it seems to lose some of its humor, and if it keeps on happening, why the entire laughter kinder fades out of it."

No situation was so taut or so serious that he couldn't have joshed and kidded his way through it and emerged triumphant. The same is true for us today, but problems, national and personal have so over-awed us that we have forgotten Will Rogers' most devastating weapon, his sense of humor. We are a nation of humor lovers, but we slight this most effective implement when the greatest need for it is arising.

"If the Father of our Country, George Washington, was Tutankhamened tomorrow, and, after being aroused from his tomb, was told that the American people today spend two billion dollars yearly on bathing equipment, he would say, 'WHAT GOT 'EM SO DIRTY?'"

The Busiest Folks Always Have Time to Give Others

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—It was nice to see Suzanne Silvereruy again before she departed for a lecture tour that will carry her through Michigan, Wisconsin, Texas, California, Washington, Utah, Kansas, and most of the other states. The baroness came into Rockefeller Plaza for a ceremony that included the presentation of ambulances to the Belgian army in England, and she accepted them in the name of the Belgian Ambassador to England.

Miss Silvereruy, between packing, had managed to finish a little statuette of Winston Churchill in the popularized "thumbs up" attitude. This is to be duplicated and sold nationally at some nominal figure, probably $1.50, for the benefit of British relief. Between tours and sittings in her studios of Central Park, which make strenuous demands on her time, one wonders how she finds time for so much work that is devoted exclusively to the benefit of others. The statuette and the ambulance ceremony, for instance. It suggests the truism that it is always those who are busiest who find time to lend assistance to others.

The lion of tin pan alley this week has been Alberto Dominguez, a husky-voiced Mexican youth who is the composer of "Frenesi" and "Perfidia," two haunting south-of-the-border melodies that have made history. He has been banqueted, and interviewed by every newspaper in New York.

In Madison avenue I encountered a little scene that had its domestic flavor but was peopled by national figures. Some ladies were dining at a table in Schrafft's, talking woman's talk I suppose, when a curiously familiar figure came in, surrendered his overcoat and hat to the check girl, and sauntered over to the table. The ladies looked up and greeted him with glad cries. It was Wendell Willkie, home after a fast trip to Indiana.

Paul Whiteman, in a benevolent attitude, has written a sort of musician's "guide to glory" for the benefit of aspiring young band leaders and it is published under the title of "How to Be a Band Leader." In it the King of Jazz points out the disappointments and tribulations that are necessarily a part of most—if not all—those who essay the task of forming bands and striving for paying recognition.

"The road to success," claims Paul, "is paved with jobs, but the hardest job of all is to find work. . . Music is fun. But the finest music, the closest friendships. . . aren't enough to hold a band together. Morale can't buy bread and support." He supplements this by saying that the members of a band look to their leader for steady employment, and then points the pitfalls and the paths a bandleader must follow. Interesting talk for people who like popular music.

Mr. Hillman went to see CIO's president, Phil Murray, after which conference it was even flatter. Murray was advocating

A New Plan May Halt Labor Strife

WASHINGTON — Mr. Roosevelt has covered over one of the most hectic struggles of his administration by recent side remarks belittling the importance of defense strikes so far. Actually he has had more trouble the last few weeks with that problem than with Hitler or the lend-lease bill, and is now on the verge of a solution.

Once before, about two weeks ago, a solution fell flat, so it may yet be unwise to accept too confidently the terms of the arrangement. But as recently as 24 hours ago a final draft of an executive order contained these following terms:

Institution of a federal mediation board to be composed of 4 representatives of labor, 4 of industry, and 3 of the public. The public representatives to be Bernard Baruch, who would act as chairman of the board, former governor Lloyd Stark of Missouri, and a third person of similar outstanding calibre yet to be chosen.

The 4 labor seats to be divided equally by AFL and CIO. The board would not be given compulsory powers and would act only in the most difficult defense labor cases submitted voluntarily. It would not, therefore, interfere with the conciliation service of the labor department or the labor board.

EARLY FAILURE
It may now be related the idea was worked up by the Hillman organization, the national industrial conference board, and Undersecretary of War Patterson, some weeks ago. The administration chose Dan Tracy, assistant secretary of labor, to go to Florida and sell it to the AFL at the winter executive council meeting. In that meeting William Hutcheson of the carpenters union expressed some apprehensions that compulsion might lurk somewhere in the background of the idea, and that the conciliation service, which has been efficient, would be supplanted. Upon Tracy's assurance that both objections would be met in a final draft, the council approved the idea.

But then the labor coordinator, Mr. Hillman, ran into further obstacles when he presented it February 28 to his labor policy advisory committee, a group of sixteen labor leaders who meet with him each week. The CIO groups were hesitant and some further doubts were expressed by AFL delegates. Hit by objections from both sides, the plan fell flat.

BOOST FOR CIO
Mr. Hillman went to see CIO's president, Phil Murray, after which conference it was even flatter. Murray was advocating the CIO industrial council plan which went much further than mere mediation. He wanted a council representing management and labor appointed for each industry with powers to run that industry as it pleased. One specific duty it would have, was to promote industrial labor bargaining arrangements. The automobile industry council, for instance, dominated by CIO, could tell Ford presumably he would have to take a CIO contract. Obviously the plan was designed to promote CIO organization rather than labor peace.

Mr. Faherty's people live on the Florida keys, and the few characters he allows himself in "Big Old Sun" live, specifically, on Gumbo Limbo, with a beautiful and utterly pagan girl of 17 named Sylla as their center. It happens that Sylla is Horac Mase's girl, and Horac is a no-good cracker from upstate who totes a shotgun and is not good at fishing. Horac and Sylla are living in a house-barge with Luke and his sister Penny, both unwelcome to their host and hostess, yet both welcomed under the peculiar rules of Key hospitality.

Had not Sylla taken up with a conch boy from Key West, most likely she and Horac would have left the smouldering tangle of Gumbo Limbo in good time, and Penny and Luke would have continued to divide their "time be-

MURRAY COMES THROUGH
Mr. Murray was thereupon called over to the White House for lunch. After a long argument he emerged with the hinted suggestion that the president would adopt his plan. Next day Mr. Roosevelt hinted the CIO would adopt the administration's mediation plan.

But shortly thereafter it began to appear Mr. Roosevelt's hint was nearer right. The wholehearted approval of the AFL was confirmed by direct negotiation. Mr. Murray was left with the alternative of changing his mind or taking the responsibility of letting strikes weaken the American defense effort.

In a picture like this one, in which misfit Susanna Foster undergoes regeneration to come through for dear old Interlochen and all its ideals, little Patricia runs great interference for the players carrying the plot ball. When the other children's talk about music and dear old Interlochen runs the risk of stumbling on a cloud, Pat steps in to drag the proceedings down to earth.

When the plot makes much to do about whether Susanna or someone else shall sing in the audition, Pat pronounces, "I'll never see why she wants to sing it anyway,"—thus totally disarming, in advance, any cynics in the audience who might harbor the same notion.

Father P. O'Reilly to Receive Papal Decoration at Davenport

Honor of Domestic Prelate to Be Given By Bishop of Diocese

The Rev. Patrick J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Patrick's church, has been given the honor of domestic prelate with the title of right reverend monsignor by Pope Pius XII, it was announced yesterday.

Conferring the papal decoration in a religious ceremony in Sacred Heart cathedral, Davenport, Thursday, April 17, will be the Rev. Henry P. Rohlman, bishop of Davenport.

Succeeding Msgr. William P. Shannahan at St. Patrick's church in 1932, Father O'Reilly was chaplain of Catholic students at the university for seven years. Prior to that time he taught for 18 years at St. Ambrose college, Davenport.

Father O'Reilly attended St. Kieran's seminary in Kilkenny, Ireland, and was ordained there in 1908. He is a fourth degree member of Knights of Columbus and is a member of Kiwanis service club.

Two members of the laity of this diocese, one an Iowa Citizen, are to be recognized for their work for the church during the diocesan fund-raising campaign in 1939.

Medal Award

Elizabeth F. Schneider, venerable member of St. Patrick's church, will be given the medal award of pro ecclesia et pontifice, and the laywomen of the area are to be recognized for their work by symbolic award.

George Dempsey, the other layman honored, is an outstanding figure in Davenport civic religious life. He is to be made Knight of St. Gregory.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin Cone, vicar-general of the Davenport diocese, will be given the rank of prothronary apostolic. The honor of domestic prelate will also be bestowed upon the Very Rev. Dr. Ambrose J. Burke, president of St. Ambrose college; the Very Rev. N. J. Peiffer, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Davenport, and newly appointed head of the Davenport deanery; the Rev. T. V. Lawler, business manager of St. Ambrose college; the Rev. Walter Cullinan, pastor of St. Paul's church, Burlington, and the Rev. W. E. Carroll of Marengo.

The draft board announced yesterday that a call for four men to report March 31 was received from state headquarters.

Volunteers leaving today are George Scarborough, 506 E. College; Henry Kadgihn, 411 S. Summit; John P. Russell, 427 S. Governor; James C. Hill, Oxford, and Samuel Holland, Lone Tree.

According to the board, on March 22, three men will replace those who returned home because they failed medical examinations.

Victor Moore, Negro volunteer, will leave for Ft. Des Moines tomorrow morning, the board said. Men may volunteer at the draft board's office in the basement of the county court house.

Winter has taken heavy toll

REBUILD VITALITY WITH PLENTY OF MILK

Winter months use up health reserves, reduce resistance. Another good reason why everybody should be especially careful to get enough milk now. The SAFE minimum, according to health authorities, is a quart per child each day, a pint for every grown-up every day. Check up now to be sure that you are ordering enough milk every day. Milk is a vital and efficient health protection, abounds in Vitamin A, minerals and other essential elements. Remember too, milk helps keep food costs down through low-cost menus high in health value.

Three University Parties Highlight Week End Student Social Activities

Dents, laws and the art students share the honors on the university campus this week end as the three annual parties of their departments, the Apollonian Frolic, the Barristers' Ball and the Beaux Arts Ball fill the social calendar.

CLUBS AND MASKS

Clubs and leopard skins, savage masks and grass skirts will transform university students and faculty members into aboriginals at the annual Beaux Arts Ball from 9 to 12 o'clock tonight in the art building.

Murals and a Ubangi negress' head as the bandstand will supply decorations on the primitive theme.

Larry Barrett and his orchestra will play for dancing. Specialty dances during the floor show and spot entertainment are planned for the evening.

Prize winners for the most original costumes will be announced after the floor show. Chaperons for the party are Prof. and Mrs. Earl E. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Megrew and Mr. and Mrs. Ganso.

General chairman for the event is Joe Cox, G of Indianapolis, Ind.

The Beaux Arts Ball is sponsored each year by the school of fine arts, including the music, art and dramatic arts departments. Guests attending are to wear appropriate costumes or semi-formal attire.

ATTORNEY'S ANTICS

Ace Brigade and his "Virginians" will play for the traditional Barristers' Ball sponsored by the college of law tonight in Iowa Union. Hours will be from 9 o'clock to 1 a.m.

Ruth Hunt, featured songstress, will appear with the band.

Pre-law students are invited to become "laws" for the evening, and district court judges of the 8th judicial district will be guests.

Members of the committee in charge are Darold Jack, L3 of Cedar Rapids, chairman; Dale Hatch, L3 of Keokuk; James Casteline, L3 of Tipton; Wiley Mayne, L3 of Sanborn; Julius Kunz, L3 of Wesley; Walter L. Reitz, L3 of Cedar Rapids; Raymond Skalowsky, L3 of Norfolk, Neb.; Joseph Kean, L3 of Grimes, and L. John Degnan, L3 of Guttenberg.

Chaperons will be members of the college of law faculty and their wives. They are Dean and Mrs. Mason Ladd, Prof. and Mrs. Percy Bordwell, Prof. and Mrs. C. M. Updegraff, Prof. and Mrs. Odie Knight Patton, Prof. and Mrs. Phillip Mechem, Prof. and Mrs. Paul Sayre.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. Leff, Prof. and Mrs. R. M. Perkins, Prof. and Mrs. Clark M. Byse, Prof. and Mrs. Lehan K. Tunks, Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Kennedy and Helen Moylan, law librarians.

DENTISTS DANCE

Freshman dental students will entertain upper classmen and faculty members at the fourth annual Apollonian Frolic tonight in the Versity ballroom from 9 to 12 o'clock. The Avalon orchestra will play for the informal dance.

Novel programs in the form of a tooth will be given to those attending. Upper classmen will be admitted with registration cards.

John Atkinson, D1 of Sheffield, is chairman of the dance committee. Fred Klepper, D1 of Muscatine; James Cook, D1 of Williamsburg; David Collison, D1 of Marshalltown; Bill Turner, D1 of Woodbine, and Bill Cody, D1 of Denver, Colo., are other members on the committee.

Dean and Mrs. A. W. Bryan of the college of dentistry and members of the freshman dental faculty and their wives will chaperon. They are Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Erling Thoen, Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Blackman, Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Crissinger, Dr. and Mrs. V. Boddicker and Dr. and Mrs. Leland D. Anderson.

Chaperons will be Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Plass, Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Gross and Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Elmquist.

Members of the committee in charge are Jack McKinnon, A3 of Perry; Davey Crockett, A2 of Ft. Madison, and Jerry Tappen, A2 of Cedar Rapids. Mrs. Sarah Edwards, house-mother will chaperon the party.

Chaperons will be Mrs. Viola Heidenreich, Mrs. Jean Rosenthal, and Mrs. Kurt Lewin.

The committee in charge of the dance consists of Beverly Holstein, A3 of Clinton, and Harry Greenberg, C4 of Algona, co-chairmen, and Phyllis Subotnik, A1 of Cedar Rapids; Dorothy August, A2 of Topeka, Kan.; Morton Rabinowitz, A4 of Newark, N.J.; Jerry

Y.W.C.A. Candidates for Election

Y.W.C.A. to Elect Seven Officers

Local Members to Vote During All Day Election, March 19

Seven offices in the local Y.W.C.A. will be filled when members on the campus vote in the day-long elections March 19. Virginia Ivie, A3 of Shenandoah, is a candidate for president of Y.W.C.A. She has served on the committee for coffee hours and as a leader in freshman orientation. Last year she was on the Sophomore Cotillion committee, and she has been on the Currier Hall council. Miss Ivie is state president of the Home Economics clubs. She is on the Y.W.C.A. council and on the committee for the vocational guidance conference.

The other nominee for the presidency is Charlotte Ohme, A3 of Primghar. She is on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet and is a member of the Student Christian council committee. Miss Ohme is a member of the Women's discussion group. The candidate receiving the second highest number of votes for president automatically becomes vice-president. Mary Barnes, A2 of Iowa City, and Betsy Johnson, A2 of Kewanee, Ill., are candidates for secretary. Miss Barnes served as a member of the freshman Y.W.C.A. cabinet and was freshman representative to U.W.A. council last year. She is chairman of the point system of U.W.A. and is a member of the central committee for the vocational conference.

Miss Johnson is on women's debate and is on the program committee for the vocational conference. She is Y.W.C.A. radio chairman and is on the Inter-Fraternity radio board. Students nominated for treasurer are Jeanne Rowe, A3 of Cedar Rapids, and Helen Zastrow, A3 of Charles City. Miss Rowe has been a member of the coffee hour committee and the Spinsters' Spree committee this year. She is on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet and the vocational conference committee. Last year she served on the university election committee. Miss Zastrow is a member of U.W.A. point system committee. She is on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet and is editor of the "Y" paper. She served on the Pan-Hellenic dance committee.

Candidates for the Student Christian council representative are Kathryn Fatland, A2 of Colfax, and Louise Zimmerman, A1 of Waterloo. Miss Fatland is vice-president of the sophomore "Y" club and decorations, will emphasize the St. Patrick's theme. Chaperons for the party are Mrs. Maude Hollis Tindall, matron of the Quadrangle, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rehder, Prof. and Mrs. Louis Zopf and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dean. Committee members for the Shamrock Shindig are David Sawyer, L1 of Ames; Everett Hogan, D4 of Epworth; Wayne Henkle, M4 of Arton; James Thomas, A3 of LeMars; Fred Vernon, E4 of Dallas, and Richard McMahon, L1 of Ft. Dodge.

Mrs. Catherine Barton, house-mother of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, will entertain at a tea in the chapter house from 3 to 5 this afternoon in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth Seivert of Moberly, Mo. Mrs. Seivert is the author of "Young Dr. Gallahad" and other novels. She is the mother of Richard Gasparotti, A1 of Moberly, Mo. All chaperons on campus and friends of Mrs. Barton will share the courtesy. Assisting with the tea will be L'ot Lint, J3 of Wichita, Kan.; Enid Ellison, A2 of Webster Grove, Mo.; Mary Kay Davidson, A1 of Savanna, Ill.; Martha Jane McCormick, A1 of Collinsville, Mo., and Karen Pauli, A2 Des Moines, Edith Williams, A2 of Kenosha Wis., and Marian Pidgeon, A3 of Des Moines.

Dancing Tonight . . .

at the Beaux Arts Ball will be Miriam Raphael, A3 of New York City, seen above. She will be featured entertainer at the floor show of the dance, given in the art building lounge from 9 to 12 o'clock. In keeping with the primitive theme of the party, the show specialties will follow an unexpected turn. A satirical fan dance and patter-song will be given by Alexander Hays, G of Oswego, Ore., and a ballet tap dance will be given by Julia Cook, A1 of Des Moines. Other entertainers will be Gloria Montmuro, A3 of North Bergen, N. J., and Steve Greene, A3 of New York City, dancers, and Andrea Johanssen, G of Boston, Mass., who will sing an original selection by De Ella Ellwood. The Beaux Arts Ball will offer the first floor show to specialize in rumbas and congas, according to Greene, in charge of entertainment.

President

LORRAINE MOORE
Chi Omegas Elect Officers

Newly elected officers of Chi Omegas sorority include Lorraine Moore, A3 of Bloomington, Ill., president; Bette Rakow, A2 of Muscatine, vice-president; Connie Bulske, J3 of Western Springs, Ill., secretary; Grace Anderson, A3 of Hartley, pledge trainer; Esther Simpson of Aurora, Ill., herald and chapter correspondent; Kaye Allen, A3 of Okmulgee, Okla., rushing chairman, and Katherine Oehlert, A1 of Davenport, house manager. The officers will be installed at the meeting Monday evening.

Four men trained at the University of Iowa now teaching at other institutions will return to assist with the dramatic arts program here during the summer session. Peter Marroney will come from the University of Arizona, while Wallace Goates will return from the University of Utah. The men now teaching in Iowa are Joseph Becker, Grinnell college, and John Felton, Morningside college.

S.U.I. Symphony Will Play for Music Educators Conference

Iowa Faculty Will Assist With Program

Students, Teachers From 14 States Expected to Attend

The University of Iowa symphony orchestra, conducted by Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the music department, and three university faculty members will attend the north central music educators conference in Des Moines tomorrow through Wednesday.

The orchestra will appear at the Shrine auditorium Sunday evening. Scheduled on their program for the concert is Bach's "Fugue in G minor"; Wagner's "Bacchanale" from "Tannhauser" in the Paris version; the "Adagio" from Mahler's "Symphony No. 5," and "From Bohemia Groves and Meadows" by Smetana.

Faculty Attending

Faculty members to participate in the program are Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts; Prof. Charles B. Righter, Prof. Arnold Small and Professor Clapp of the music department.

Professor Harper will address the general conference group at Sunday's evening festival on "Morale for Today." The concert by the University symphony orchestra will follow the address.

As immediate past president of the North Central Music Educators association, Professor Righter will preside at the first general session tomorrow morning and is also to present a paper on "Comparative Judging Versus Standardized Adjudication" at a section meeting Tuesday morning.

Professor Small will act as chairman of a section meeting on "Evaluations" Sunday afternoon. The results and implications of recent research in several fields of music, which has important bearing on musical performance in teaching, will be discussed.

Five-Day Program

A banquet will be held at 2 p.m. and open house will be held from 4 to 6 p.m.

HE'S IN THE MARKET FOR

Only twelve years old. . . . But he is a purchasing agent with a whale of a big order waiting for someone. Before this young fellow dies he will buy 300 shirts, 50,000 meals, 15 automobiles, 200,000 cigarettes, 200 pairs of shoes, and make 25,000 phone calls.

We can't think of anyone who would ignore a prospect like that; yet he is only an average American boy starting out on life.

On the Iowa campus, just a few blocks from your door, are 6,700 young boy and girl purchasing agents just like the proud young fellow in the picture above. We'll admit they are over twelve years old; but what's more important, they are just beginning to do their own buying for themselves. As they go through college, they will spend thousands of dollars, and in a couple of years they will begin buying for their own families.

Whether or not these purchasing agents buy from you depends on whether or not you bid for their business. Buying habits are being formed right now. . . . Habits that, in most instances, will become permanent. If you win a friend now, he may become a lifetime customer.

Introduce yourself now through the only medium that covers this group of 6,700 lifetime buyers.

Little Hawks Face Keokuk Tonight

Fairfield Scene Of District Tilt

Chiefs Have Split Two With Tough Wayland, Hawklet Sectional Foe

Coach Francis Merten tonight will vie his Little Hawk cagers against Keokuk's quintet in the first round of the district tournament at Fairfield.

Starting for the Hawklets will probably be the same five that Coach Merten has used at the outset of nearly every tilt this season. This veteran team is made up of Bud Lemons and Norm Paukert at the guard posts; Bob Simpson, center, and Capt. Ray Sullivan and John Thompson at the forwards.

Keokuk Tall
Keokuk, which finished about halfway down the field in the current Little Six conference race this season, boasts a hard-fighting team with a trio of taller than average ball-hawks. Earlier in the season Keokuk dropped a game to Wayland, the same team Iowa City had so much trouble with in the sectional finals at Kalona last week end. When Wayland played a return game in Keokuk, however, the Purple and White lost to the hosts by a close margin.

Keokuk uses a man-for-man defense, and specializes on set-offensive plays. The Chiefs are regarded as one of the coolest fives in the district, and no lead over them is a safe one until the final gun sounds. Even though Keokuk usually has the height advantage over its opponents, a fast break is seldom employed.

In Shooting Drills
In final preparation for the Chiefs, the Iowa City boys yesterday were put through light shooting drills. Realizing that tonight's contest may develop into a nip and tuck affair, Coach Merten strongly emphasized free throw shooting. Earlier in the week, the City Hawks took part in several scrimmages with the reserves, and showed themselves to be in tip-top condition.

Besides the starting five tonight, other Little Hawks who are likely to see considerable action include Jim Thompson, twin brother of John; Jaro Lepic, Dave Danner, Bob Roth, Bill Sangster, and Wally Emmons.

Wet Grounds—No Picnic
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Iowa picnic has been postponed again—for the third time. Same reason—wet grounds.

Hansell, Defending Champion, Loses 1st Girls' Tourney Tilt

PASSING THE BUCK by BILL BUCKLEY

We can't sing the praises of Al Povillaitis, that sensational Hawk-eye breast stroker, long enough, it seems, for here we are back with a solution for Al's defeat by Jim Skinner of Michigan here last week end in the conference meet.

Anyone who watched Povillaitis in the Wolverine-Hawkeye dual meet wouldn't have thought the national titleholder was in the same class. . . . But also after watching Skinner ease out Povillaitis in the conference finals, cutting three seconds off the national record and giving the flying Hawk the first loss of his life, one wonders where he got his stuff.

Well, you can't take any credit away from Povillaitis in that race, for, figuring him half a body-length behind Skinner, he must have clipped his own national mark by at least two seconds. . . . And it was just a case of Skinner learning a hard-earned lesson.

In the dual meet, Skinner, with scarcely any experience in long-course pools, put on the steam for the full 200 yards, while Povillaitis swam an easy race in the early stages and powered his way to the front in the last lap by wining away. . . . Last week, Skinner swam one of the slowest races of the preliminaries, while his coach, Matt Mann, watched Povillaitis' style as he set a new national mark.

Then in the finals, the Wolverine ace, probably naturally a more powerful swimmer than Povillaitis, copied the Hawk's style, and made a close race of it. . . . They meet again in the NCAA championships at East Lansing March 28 and 29, these two friendly record-breaking rivals, this time over the short course, which is Skinner's special dish, to decide once and for all who is the Big Ten's and nation's top breast stroker.

Rewards: For finishing its wrestling season undefeated, the entire Iowa State Teachers squad will be treated to a trip to the national intercollegiate mat tourney at Bethlehem, Pa., next week. . . . Three tutors finished the season undefeated—Delbert Jensen, 128; Vernon Hassman, 145; and Leon Martin, 175. . . . Jensen is the first Panther to finish three years of competition undefeated, winning 22 straight. . . . Which brings to mind a plea made yesterday in this column—Please, dear board, send Iowa's three outstanding wrestlers to the tourney, too. . . . Billy Sherman, Loy Julius and Art Johnson can go with the best of them.

Hawk Trackmen Oppose Grinnell In Meet Tonight

Iowa's crippled track team, showing perhaps its best spirit of the season, will seek its first victory here tonight at 7:30 as it tangles with Grinnell college. The Hawks have four regulars on the sidelines because of injuries and sickness, with others listed by Coach George Bresnahan as doubtful starters. Hank Vollenweider, who is spending the first part of two weeks in the hospital with a badly strained back; Meyer Markovitz, 440-yard dash and relay man out with a bad cold; Norman Pullman, second to Vollenweider as a hurdle man, and Ken Steinbeck, pole vaulter with a wrenched arm, make up the out-of-action squad for Iowa.

Meet Toss-Up

However, against Grinnell, for whom this is the first dual meet of the year, the Hawkeys will still rate as an even choice, despite their crippled condition. The addition of several basketball regulars, who reported for action this week, has strengthened the Hawks in several vulnerable spots. Syd Story in the pole vault, Bruce Fountain and Milt Kuhl in the shot put, and Vince Harsha and Rudy Soderquist in the high jump, are all filling weak places in the Iowa lineup.

Kuhl Welcome
Kuhl, especially, will be a welcome addition in the weight event, as the big cage center has reached 42 feet in his first week of practice, which is as good as his teammates have done all year long.

Three events are left on the Iowa indoor schedule, with Grinnell coming here tonight, Wisconsin here a week from tonight, and select members of the squad traveling to Chicago for the Chicago Relays a week from Saturday.

Jockey Eads Out of Hospital

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—One of the winter racing season's bad spills ended happily yesterday when Jockey Wendell Eads was discharged from University hospital.

Monmouth Gets New Coach
MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP)—James Harper Grier, Monmouth college president, said yesterday that Glenn Robinson, letter winner in five sports at Monmouth before he graduated in 1932, would return to his alma mater as football and track coach next fall.

Bresnahan of Iowa would almost give his right arm. . . . And they're both freshmen. . . . Phil Bogdanovitch of Somerville, N. J., and Dick Bliss of Ames are taking turns setting records for the Cyclones, with Bogdanovitch establishing a mark of 46 feet, 8 3-4 inches last week, and Bliss breaking it with a toss of 47 feet, 5 1-4 inches, just the other day.

And a humorous note from the fieldhouse concerns the prancing basketball head, Syd Story. . . . Syd tried out for the pole vault last week, and took a pole in his hands for the first time in his life. . . . Cleared 10 feet the first night, too, and had to retire for a few days because he was too stiff to go on.

Mallard Rallies For 41-32 Win

Sheldahl, Numa Take Marengo, Olin Sextets In Other Opener

DES MOINES, March 13 (AP)—Hansell, the 1940 champion, went tumbling out of the girls' state high school basketball tournament today, as Mallard rallied for a 41 to 32 victory over the defending titleholders.

Mallard staged a spectacular rally midway in the third quarter to grab the lead. With Jane Larsen, Martha Hinrich and Margaret Stafford all hitting in the front court, Mallard swept out in front, 28-24 as the final period got under way.

Helen Vanhouten, state tournament scoring record holder, made a valiant effort to bring Hansell back into the game with her 26 points, but the winners never relinquished their lead.

Personal Duel Set
Paul Fina and Daley probably will have a bitter personal battle for the all-around title, with Newton Loken of Minnesota, Northwest class A all-around champion, also in the race. Al Fina, second in the Big Ten all-around of last year, is another contender.

Chicago's team will be led by the identical Shanken twins, Courtney and Earl, who are entered in every event. Iowa, host team, will depend upon Lyle Felderman, William Kridelbaugh, and Ted Ballard but lacks balanced strength.

4 Volleyball Games Narrow League Fields

Three games in the fraternity league and one clash in the cooperative dormitory division, last night narrowed down the field as intramural volleyballers neared the end of their tournament competition.

In a class C fraternity encounter, Sigma Alpha Epsilon took the measure of Sigma Nu in three games. The SAE's were dumped in the second game, 15-11, but took the next two, 15-4, and 15-5. Delta Upsilon outscored Beta Theta Pi in straight games, winning 15-9 and 15-7. In a third fraternity meeting, the Phi Gamma Delta sextet rolled over Delta Tau Delta, experiencing little trouble in topping the Deltas, 15-9 and 15-3.

In the cooperative dormitory league Grover and Whetstone played three games with Grover taking the deciding tilt by a margin of 15-10. Whetstone won one game, 15-11.

Riggs Takes Net Win
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Defending champion Bobby Riggs of Chicago slammed his way into the quarter-finals of the men's national indoor tennis tournament last night, routing Tommy Higgins of Oklahoma City, former state title holder, 6-0, 6-3.

Waterville Dumped
Waterville, 1940 runnerup, was dumped aside by a close-guarding Wota sextet, 24 to 14, with Ann Mueller hitting the hoop for 13 points as the pace-setter.

Ottosen Dangerous
Ottosen, the northwest powerhouse, opened the night program at the girls' state high school basketball tournament with a 55 to 37 first round victory over Stuart.

Bertha Longseth made 32 points for Ottosen. Stuart managed to stay in the game until the closing minutes of the second quarter when the winners drew out in front, 32 to 28. Florence Woodman starred for the losing sextet with 25 points.

Seymour Gains
Seymour gained its quarterfinal round berth in a rousing 42 to 36 victory over Seneca high of Fenner after the winners had trailed 20-15 at the halftime.

Iowa Host To Big Ten Gym Foes Saturday

Unbeaten Illini Squad Favored to Capture Minnesota's Crown

The acrobats who do the circus tricks on various pieces of apparatus have their chance for championships Saturday afternoon in the 28th annual Western conference gymnastic meet at the University of Iowa.

As they perform a total of 72 maneuvers in the six events, the judges will award points which will bring six individual titles, one all-around championship, and the team trophy. Four teams have entered 31 men.

Illinois Unbeaten
Illinois, unbeaten in this season's dual meets and the national collegiate champion of last year, is the favorite to dethrone Minnesota, the defending conference champion. The Illini beat Minnesota twice in dual meets, Chicago and Iowa, and also won the northwest title from the Gophers.

Conference titles will be defended by Delver Daly of Minnesota, all-around, and Harry Koehnemann of Illinois, side horse. Other outstanding men are Paul Fina of Illinois, national collegiate all-around champion; Bob Hanning of Minnesota, national collegiate parallel bars titlist, and Caton Cobb of Illinois, national Y.M.C.A. winner on the parallel bars. Koehnemann also is the national collegiate side horse winner.

Personal Duel Set
Paul Fina and Daley probably will have a bitter personal battle for the all-around title, with Newton Loken of Minnesota, Northwest class A all-around champion, also in the race. Al Fina, second in the Big Ten all-around of last year, is another contender.

Hawk Swimmers Leave Today For Wildcat Meet Tomorrow

Iowa Favored Over Northwestern Squad In Concluding Dual

Hawkeye swimmers, 13 strong, will leave this afternoon for Evanston, Ill., for their meet Saturday with Northwestern's Wildcat tankmen, harboring no superstitions over the number of men in their squad, Coach Dave Armbruster's men appeared optimistic of the outcome of the 'Cat meet in their last heavy workout here yesterday.

Old Gold standard-bearers in the Hawks' final dual meet of the season are sprinters Ed Armbruster, Don Wenstrom, Vito Lopin and Clyde Kennitz; Ed Mahoney and Bob Jones in the back stroke; breaststrokers George Poulos and Dwight Johnson; distance free stylists Capt. Carl Ahlgren, Dale Lounsbury and Clarence Moore, and divers Vic Vargon and Leo Biedrzycki.

Povillaitis Stays Home
Al Povillaitis, ace Hawk breast stroker, will not make the Northwestern trip. He thought it necessary to spend the extra time studying.

With only an outside chance of upsetting the strong Hawkeye team, Northwestern is mainly placing its hopes on three men, Dick Fahrbach, Tom Powell and Don Gray. Powell, fourth place winner in the conference diving championships here last week end behind Clark and Dempsey of St. Mary's continued their tournament winning ways last night as they plowed under a stubborn Grandview five, 37-32. The Marians had a comfortable lead throughout the game, holding a 15-5 lead at the end of the first period and a 30-11 margin at the halftime.

Grandview came back with a rally in the last half, but was cut short by the tight Rambler defense. Grandview, led by Murray Wier, who pushed in one-handed shots from the side, scored 21 points in the last half while holding St. Mary's to seven.

'Iowa Demosthenator' Makes Debut

Demosthenes Club of S.U.I. Speech Clinic Issues New Publication

"In swaddling clothes we make our bow, but hope to wear long pants some day"—with this headline The Iowa Demosthenator made its debut last week.

The Demosthenator is a paper, written and published by the Demosthenes club, organization of students attending the University of Iowa speech and psychological clinic.

If you are one of those who have never heard of the Demosthenes club, you may be wondering if members stand on the banks of the Iowa river with pebbles in their mouths.

They are not such fundamentalists as that, but they think the name appropriate because their patron saint reportedly cured himself of a speech defect and became a great orator.

Staff Announced

The staff of the paper includes Edward Mannion, A4 of Iowa City; Elizabeth Walling, G of Iowa City; Ervin Goodman, A3 of Lebanon, Pa., and William Chenoweth, A2 of Denison.

Demosthenes club was organized last year as an unofficial part of the speech and psychological clinic. Purpose of the club, aside from its social aspect, is to give members "more and better" speaking situations and to help them evaluate their problems through group discussions.

The first move of the club was to abolish the word "stutterer" in favor of "demosthenator." Members explain they were tired of the term because it was tacked onto anyone with a speech defect and suggested a negative evaluation. Removal of the label, they say, lessened the probability of their reacting more to it than to the actual defect.

Paper Discusses Draft

A part of the first issue of the paper is taken up with a discussion of the national draft. Club members have sent a letter to Lieut. Col. Lewis B. Hershey, former acting director of the draft administration, taking issue with Dr. J. S. Green, medical director of the National Hospital for Speech Disorders in New York. Dr. Green has recommended that demosthenators be excluded from active participation in the draft.

In answer to the club's protest, Lieutenant Colonel Hershey replied in a letter expressing appreciation of their self-reliance and patriotism. He explained that stutterers would be rejected only when the speech defect is so bad as to interfere with the registrant's following a useful occupation in civil life.

Wide Mailing List

The Demosthenator's mailing list covers a large area, as it is sent to all former members of the club or anyone who has at any time been connected with the university speech clinic. Some copies are sent to Alaska, Canada and Jamaica, as well as to all parts of the United States.

Advisors of Demosthenes club are Prof. Wendell Johnson and Mary Mann, both of the psychology and speech departments.

Iowa Chemists Ranked Highly

High rank of the University of Iowa chemistry department in comparison with those of other midwestern state universities has been shown by a survey in three sections.

Among the listings in the current issue of "Who's Who," 38.9 per cent of the Iowa chemistry faculty were included, as compared to Illinois' 28.2; Wisconsin, 22.2; and Minnesota, 16.7.

Iowans ranked second in publications per faculty member per year, between 1926 and 1937, with an average of 1.8, Illinois being the leader with 2.3.

The publication "American Men of Science" started 11.2 per cent of the Iowa chemistry faculty men because of distinguished contributions, placing the university third in this division behind Illinois and Wisconsin.

Prof. N. Conkwright Writes New Text On Mathematics

"The Theory of Equations," a textbook by Prof. Nelson B. Conkwright of the mathematics department has been published by Ginn and company.

Material for the new book, planned for students who have completed a first course in the calculus, is based on the course given by Professor Conkwright.

A member of the local department since 1926, Professor Conkwright received his B.A. degree from Kentucky university and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Illinois.

'Iowa Transit' Features Alumni

Featuring the alumni of the college of engineering, the February issue of Iowa Transit was distributed last week.

Fourteen pages of the edition were devoted to names and addresses of the college's alumni. The class of 1876, with three members, was the first group to graduate.

Dean Francis M. Dawson wrote his annual open-letter to the alumni.

An article on the civilian pilot training program was contributed by Elmer C. Lundquist, instructor in aeronautics.

Honor Society Will Initiate Three in April

Virginia Ivie, A3 of Shenandoah; Catherine Disc, G of St. Louis, Mo., and Elizabeth Stuth-eit, G of Fayetteville, Ark., were chosen to be initiated into the national home economics honor society, Omicron Nu, at a recent meeting of the local chapter.

The initiation banquet will be held some time in April, according to Prof. M. Giddings of the home economics department. Initiates chosen last fall as well as this spring will be guests, Professor Giddings stated.

Membership in the honor society is based upon initiative, leadership and scholarship.

Braille Book To Be Printed

Sightless readers will soon be able to enjoy the book, "Iowa Old and New," by Prof. John Ely Briggs of the State Historical society. The volume is to be transcribed into Braille.

The Braille edition will be used in the School for the Blind at Vinton, and may also be added to the state traveling library, he said.

"Iowa Old and New" is a collection of stories of Iowa, covering nearly every phase of the state's history. The narratives first appeared in 30 daily papers from 1933-37 and were put into book form in 1939. The 469-page volume has been used as a text in many public schools.

Old Program Preserved 1887 Inauguration of S.U.I. Found by Professor

As archaic as the water-marked paper on which it was inscribed was the program discovered by Prof. Harrison J. Thornton of the history department. Pressed between the pages of an old book, the document read, "Program of exercises for the inauguration of Charles A. Schaeffer, Ph.D., as President of the State University of Iowa." It was dated 1887.

Besides a talk by the Honorable W. B. Allison, famed Iowa senator, "brief three-minute addresses" by "His Excellency, Governor Larrabee," George J. Bone, mayor of Iowa City, and Thomas H. McBride, were listed on the program.

A feature of the ceremony was to be the reading of an ode written for the occasion, followed by an address by Josiah L. Pickard, the retiring president.

Members of the audience were to sing three verses of "Iowana," to conclude the ceremony.

The program had been preserved between the pages of "Essays and Addresses by Phillip Brooks." Professor Thornton plans to donate the document to the university archives, located in East hall.

'Worst Thing a Place Can Do Is to Feel Smug,' Humorist Tells Chamber of Commerce

W. Cannon Presented With Airlines Plaque For Airport Program

"The worst thing that can happen to a community is for the members to have a smug feeling that 'we are doing all right,'" Tom Collins, Kansas City humorist and philosopher, told more than 350 Iowa City men and women at the chamber of commerce business dinner meeting in Iowa Union last night.

Speaking on the assumption that "we all have unfulfilled ambitions," the humorist said that we are all likely to wait until adversity hits us before we try to attain our goals, and then some fellow who got hit first will "pass us up."

"Another trouble with us Americans is that we all like to say 'I haven't got time,' when it is easy to see that we all have the same amount. It's how we spend the time that counts," he pointed out. "There are two important ways to gain your goals," Collins asserted. "First, you must start, and second, you must work."

Concluding, Collins outlined a formula for accomplishing ambitions by saying "Do one new thing every day that you should do, and stop doing one thing that you shouldn't be doing."

Plaque Presentation
C. C. Thompson, vice president of United Airlines, presented a plaque "For meritorious service to air transportation in 1940 and in appreciation of valuable contribution to air transport progress," to Wilbur Cannon, chairman of the chamber airport committee, who accepted the plaque on behalf of the chamber.

In his presentation speech, Thompson reminded Iowa Citizens that the local airport was one of the pioneer fields built in connection with the first transcontinental air route.

He said that in the future, air transportation will increase beyond any point of which we now can conceive, and that Iowa City with its airport certainly will not be omitted from this great expansion program.

Wilbur Cannon, accepting the award, announced that the chamber is planning to rededicate the local airport sometime this spring. A program is being planned, Cannon said, which will include having a United Airline transport plane at the local field for inspection.

The original chamber airport committee, made up of local businessmen, will be honored and will act as guides on that day, Cannon said.

and other vessels off Ostend, Belgium.

A Norwegian airbase was bombed, the ministry's account said, along with others in the Netherlands and with various targets in northwest Germany and the low countries generally.

The attack on Berlin was the first since Dec. 20, and it was intimated that there would be no more long immunity for Hitler's capital.

In the offensive sweep during the night—exclusive of today's operations—the loss of five British planes was acknowledged.

But even on this score the British claimed the better of it. Nine German bombers were reported shot down in Nazi attacks last night on Britain, centered on the Liverpool area. Then, early this morning, two more German craft were downed near the southeast coast.

The most significant point of this defense, as the British put it, is that perhaps 200 Nazi planes were over Britain during the night and thus the proportion of those destroyed was about one in 20 as contrasted with the one in

Mrs. Lukosky To Be Buried Saturday at 2

Funeral service for Mrs. Anna Lukosky, 78, 1115 Rochester, who died Wednesday, will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Hohenschuh funeral home. The Rev. James F. Falchner of St. Wenceslaus church will be in charge. Burial will be in the Riverside cemetery at Riverside.

Mrs. Lukosky, who has been ill for the past two and one-half years, was a resident of Iowa City for 27 years.

She is survived by four sons, Louis, Iowa City and Fred, Joseph and William, all of Washington county; eight daughters, Mrs. L. R. Beals, Iowa City; Blanche Lukosky, at home; Mrs. Paul Housh and Mrs. William Havel, both of Washington county; Mrs. Vic Whallon, San Diego, Cal.; Mrs. John Wallace, Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. E. Kennetz and Emma Lukosky, both of Chicago; 26 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Her husband, Frank Lukosky and a son Charles, preceded her in death.

AAA Meetings In Progress

Johnson county township sign-up meetings for the 1941 AAA program are now in progress, according to Joe G. Raim, county AAA chairman.

The various meetings, designed for farmers to signify their intended crop production for the new year, will be conducted by township committees and a representative from the county committee.

Newport township has two meetings scheduled, one for March 18 at Center school and one for March 19 at Shima school.

Sharon township farmers will meet Friday in the Masonic hall and Clear Creek farmers will meet at the Tiffin high school the same day.

Two meetings will be held in Graham township, the first at Morse hall, Friday, and the second at Oasis hall, Saturday.

Cedar farmers will meet Saturday in Eureka school No. 4 and Scott farmers Monday in Scott church. Hardin farmers will meet Tuesday at Cosgrove hall.

All meetings are scheduled from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

Photographs in Iowa Contest To Be Available for Exhibition

40 Best Pictures Now Being Displayed At Fine Arts Building

Forty of the best photographs entered in the all-Iowa salon of pictorial photography contest, judged here March 1, have been chosen to make up two groups of pictures which will be available for exhibition throughout the state, Lee Cochran, head of the visual instruction department, has announced.

Selected by a special committee "as representative Iowa photography at its best," the pictures will be on display in the fine arts building auditorium until Sunday.

Student's Work Included
Exhibit I contains 20 prints chosen from the university amateur class, entered by members of the Campus Camera club, students and faculty members.

The group includes "Delle" and "George" by James Kent, A3 of Iowa City; "Gimme" by W. F. Adrian, A3 of Iowa City; "Mutz" by Jack Johnson of the political science department; "Susie" by Ruth Weller Nelson of the university publications department, and "Mexican Lake" by Evelyn Putnam of Iowa City.

State Amateur Group
Exhibit II, picked from the state amateur group, includes "A Family" by Vincent Stelcik of Cedar Rapids; "Return of the Lobstermen" by George D. Hedrick of Burlington; "Dreary Valley" by Wilbur Flaherty of Ft. Dodge; "Mexican Squalor" by Ben Swartzendruber of Wellman; "Summer" by Alice Downer of Davenport, and "Dreams of the Past" by A. V. Peters of Newton.

The two groups will be available by April 1 to schools, libraries, camera clubs and organizations who wish to exhibit the photographs, Cochran said.

opinion that there was no reason for concern over the effect of work stoppages of defense production. He said the time lost was of little importance when viewed in the perspective of the aggregate of time worked. Knox's testimony was made public by the house appropriations committee which received it recently in secret session.

The present contract of the United Mine Workers (CIO) with principal producing mines expires March 31. In current negotiations in New York, the miners are asking a $1 a day wage increase—miners in the north now get $6 a day and those in the south $5.60.

Rejecting the demands for an increase, the mine operators offered to renew the present contract.

With negotiations at least temporarily stalemated at that point, the possibility arose of a work stoppage after March 31 in the event no new agreement was reached. John L. Lewis, union president, proposed that work continue and that any agreement finally reached be retroactive to March 31, but the mine operators declined to agree to this.

There were conflicting reports concerning the work stoppage at the Ford rolling mill. A spokesman for the CIO United Automobile Workers said about 3,000 employes quit work demanding reinstatement of UAW - CIO members "fired for union activities," and that work was resumed when the men were rehired. Dearborn police said there was a work stoppage, but that only 100 men were involved.

ials said it was virtually definite that some 30 mosquito boats—used for chasing submarines—would be sent to Britain soon. A transfer of destroyers was not so certain, but some members of the house naval committee said these might be supplied to England as rapidly as replacements for the American fleet reach completion. A total of 13 new destroyers are scheduled to reach that stage before July 1.

As they are commissioned, it was said, an equivalent number of old destroyers may be released to Great Britain. Small coast guard units and smaller vessels of the navy, too, may be included in the program, it was said.

While these developments were taking place, a high official of the treasury told reporters that the army and the Reconstruction Finance corporation were negotiating to take over some $300,000,000 to $350,000,000 worth of British war contracts and British factories in this country. But this, he

Gunman, Shot In Duel With Police, Dies

SIOUX CITY, March 13 (AP)—George Wolfe, a former convict, 40, died tonight in a hospital of wounds he sustained early today in a running gun battle with police here. The man was shot five times.

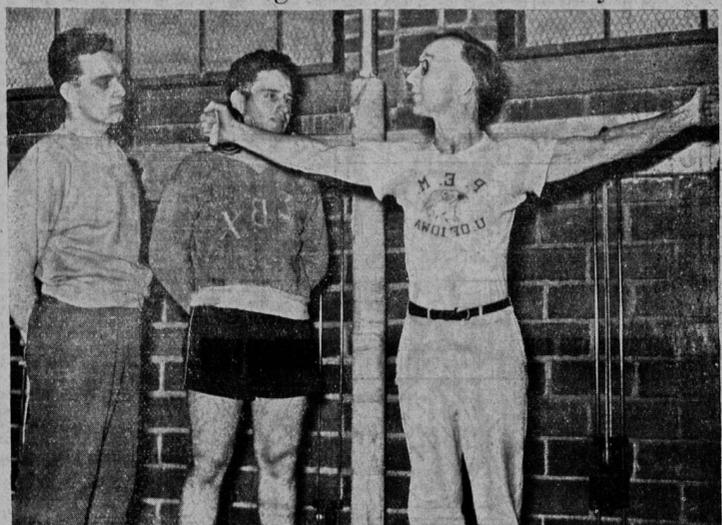

Meanwhile two men officers said were Wolfe's companions in the running fight are being held in Woodbury county jail. They gave their names as Tony Seibold, 31, and Harold Murphy, 20, both of Sioux City.

The gun battle followed a chase which began in suburban Morningside and ended on the west side with officers in three squad cars exchanging shots with the three men in the fleeing car, officers said.

Erickson said he fired twice in the air in an effort to stop the car. One of the three fleeing men broke a hole in the rear window and fired at the squad car, the bullet shattering the windshield but missing the officers.

added, means in no way that the British will be "relieved of the remainder of their obligations" here.

Conditioning Iowa's Men for the Army

"You shouldn't go into the army soft," says Instructor Harold Briceland of the men's physical education department as he demonstrates exercises on the chest weights to Jonas Schreiber, C4 of Newark, N. J., and Gale Williams, C3 of Newton, members of the university's voluntary Fitness club. The Fitness club, under the supervision of the men's physical education department, is designed to offer a special physical conditioning program for members of the university who expect to be called into the army for a year of intensive training. Thirty-five men have enrolled in the course and work out as often as possible each week.

Fitness Club Members Ready for the Rifle--

The six Fitness club students in the above picture probably realize that future army trainees will find carrying a rifle quite tiresome if the muscles of their right arms are soft. An exercise like they're doing on one of the fieldhouse gymnasium floors is just the thing to develop those arm muscles, exercise other muscles in general and develop a sense of balance. Students from left to right are Jonas Schreiber, C4 of Newark, N. J.; Gale Williams, C3 of Newton; Homer Davies, G of Columbus, Ohio; Mike Taylor, A3 of Waterloo;

Keith Blair, A4 of Sioux City, and Don Graham, A4 of Iowa City. Fitness club enrollees are following an organized program of activities designed to improve health, develop strength, and increase their endurance and skill in the use of their bodies.
