Iowa House Passes Library Bill; Cuts Amount to $300,000

Measure Gets 75 to 27 Vote

Ames Congressman Says Expense Tenth Mill in Property Tax

DES MOINES, April 10 (AP)—Bills providing for a $300,000 central library unit at the University of Iowa and forbidding the hauling of new cars on "double-deck" auto transports over the highways sped through both houses of the Iowa legislature late today in what was supposed to have been the assembly's final day of doing business.

The houses, however, will meet again tomorrow to wind up their bill-passing duties.

75-27 VOTE

The library bill carried by a 75-27 vote after the house cut the amount from $500,000 to $300,000. The senate had approved the larger figure but agreed to the house reduction.

House vote on the $300,000 amendment was 53 ayes and 41 nays.

Rep. Leo Hoegh (R. Chariton) fought the measure because, he said, the legislature earlier in the session had turned down a bill for extending rural library facilities.

"How can you appropriate $300,000 to build a beautiful edifice at Iowa City," he asked, "after you denied rural children the opportunity of reading books? They are the ones who do not have money for higher education."

Rep. Elmer Johnson (R. Cedar Rapids) supported the bill "because there is $1,000,000 of the Iowa taxpayers' money in the form of books housed in fire traps at Iowa City." He said there are makeshift libraries maintained in 17 different buildings on the university campus.

Rep. Albert Steinberg (R. Ames) said the added expense would total "only about a tenth of a mill in property tax."

Rep. C. A. Bryson (R. Iowa Falls) assailed the measure as one designed to protect books while many inmates are housed in overcrowded state hospitals and other institutions.

The Rollcall

Amendments to Beer Bill Prevent Iowa Legislature From Adjournment

DES MOINES, April 10 (AP)—A last-minute log jam developing around the coalition beer bill prevented the Iowa legislature from finishing the actual work of the 49th assembly tonight.

Seeing an opportunity to clean up their bill-passing duties, the two houses worked well past the dinner hour tonight, only to recess until tomorrow after it became apparent that the beer bill could not be disposed of within a reasonable time.

Today was the date for sine die adjournment. The clock was stopped at 4 p.m. and its hands will continue motionless until the two chambers decide they are ready to go home. The resolution provided for 5 p.m. adjournment on this, the 68th day of the session.

The beer bill ran into a flurry of amendments in the senate, only a few of which were disposed of when the upper chamber recessed until 10 a.m. tomorrow. The house will take up again at 9:30 a.m.

Best guesses among legislators and observers tonight were that the assembly will call it quits sometime tomorrow. Bill passing is expected to be completed in the morning, in time for the Good Friday three-hour recess voted some time ago, and it is hoped that the task of enrolling the final measures for transmission to the governor may be cut of the way sometime Saturday.

The senate twice voted down a motion to table the beer bill, before deciding it could not finish today after all.

A call of the senate, signed by 13 members, was filed just before the move to recess, to make sure that all members would still be on hand to work tomorrow.

Senate amendments to the house beer bill so far make the following changes:

1. The provision that 10 citizens may file a complaint against a license holder is made more specific as to the place of residence of the complainants.
2. The revenue sections are removed on the explanation by Sen. Frank C. Byers (R. Cedar Rapids), that the tax commission doubted the bill as written would produce any additional revenue.
3. It would be a violation to sell beer "knowingly" to minors. The senate amendment inserts the word "knowingly."

Two amendments which Sen. Ross R. Mowry (R. Newton) insisted would "put some teeth" in the bill were voted down.

Ford, CIO Accept Governor's Appeal for Strike Settlement

Vichy Clears Him

Chief of the French Ninth army which collapsed at Sedan last May and helped lead to the downfall of the Allied front, General Andre George Corap, above, has been exonerated by the Vichy government of Marshal Henri Petain. An investigation is reported to have shown the general's army did not fail to blow up bridges over the Meuse river, the Germans getting across on their own pontoon bridges.

Union Accepts Plan; Modification of Terms Desired by Company

DETROIT, April 10 (AP)—Officials of the Ford Motor company and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) today accepted Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner's appeal for settlement of the Rouge plant strike "without further delay" to help national defense, but the company insisted on some modification of the governor's peace formula.

Whether the union leaders, first to assent to the plan, would approve the exceptions made by the company was not announced immediately.

The union officials' own acceptance, while already presented to the governor, remained to be considered at a mass meeting of UAW-CIO workers tonight. Union leaders had promised to recommend the original proposal.

Harry H. Bennett, Ford personnel director, announced late in the afternoon that the company was prepared to reopen its huge Rouge plant on the governor's terms, except that "it is impossible to return all employees to their jobs at once."

The company also insisted that certain complaints filed with the National Labor Relations Board here by the union and other NLRB hearings affecting the Rouge plant "be deferred and held in abeyance" until after an election. (See STRIKE, Page 6)

Berlin Hit In Heaviest Raid; Fires Started

Opera House Razed, Other Buildings Burn; Six Reported Killed

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—Great fires sprang up in the heart of Berlin as British bombers smashed at the German capital last night for the first time since March 23, the air ministry news service reported today.

"Tremendous clouds of smoke surged into the air" at the height of the three-hour attack, the service's elaboration of an earlier communique said. Bombers were seen to burst near one of the main railway stations of Berlin and others in a large storage yard with the number of fires steadily increasing.

Acknowledge Raid
(Germany, acknowledging one of the heaviest raids of the war on Berlin, said the imposing state opera house, one of Adolf Hitler's favorite theaters, was destroyed by fire and three palaces, two hospitals and apartment houses were damaged. Six persons were reported killed.)

The communique acknowledged a loss of eight British planes. (The Germans said they shot down 13 in the Berlin attack and four others over other parts of Germany and occupied territory. Emden and Bremen were also said to have been attacked.)

Thousands of incendiaries (the Germans said they fell in bundles) were dropped in the center of the capital, the air ministry account said.

Widespread Attacks
The British also said they attacked Emden and Vegesack, near Hanover; an aluminum plant in German-occupied Norway and a radio station in Denmark in overnight operations by pilots manning American built Douglas DB-7 planes.

On the home front the British claimed a bag of 25 German planes since Tuesday night. Eleven were said to have been brought down during last night's heavy assaults on a northeastern town (identified by the Germans as Newcastle) and the west midlands. Ten of last night's score were said to have been made by night fighters.

The air ministry announced two German aircraft were downed in the daylight hours, one a fighter in Kent, the other a bomber shot down into the sea off Northumberland by British fighters just before dusk. One British fighter was reported missing on patrol.

3 British Generals Believed Captured

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—The British war office acknowledged today a severe blow to its strategy in North Africa in the probable loss of three key generals and 2,000 troops believed to have been captured by German-Italian columns racing across the sands of eastern Libya.

"We are without news of three senior officers, Lieut. Gen. P. Neame, VC, Lieut. Gen. Sir Richard Nugent O'Connor, and Major Gen. M. D. Gambier-Parry," said a war office communique.

(The Germans said six generals and two colonels were among 2,000 prisoners at El Mechili, 50 miles southwest of Derna.)

Allied Armies Prepare for Stand In Mountain Regions West of Salonika

British Bomb Bulgar Capital

Military concentrations in Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, have been bombed severely by British Royal Air Force planes, according to an announcement in London.

Sofia, 150 miles by air from the Greek port of Salonika, has been used as a major base by the Germans for the attempted Nazi Balkan blitzkrieg.

Germans Clean Up In Western Thrace

ATHENS, April 11 (Friday) (AP)—Greek soldiers and their British allies grimly dug in on a solid mountain barrier in northern Greece today in preparation for a titanic battle to hold the Greek peninsula against German troops who were reported rapidly cleaning up western Thrace and the Salonika region.

Greek officials declared the overwhelming superiority of the German men and weapons outweighed the Greeks in the border regions but that they resisted to the last bullet.

The Greeks reported fighting between the nazis and isolated Greek forces was confined to the Bulgarian border and a spattering of German air raids on the Athens port of Piraeus and Kozane.

Official sources here declared the war in Greece definitely had entered a new phase.

In the first stage they declared, the geographical features of the border regions favored the German mechanized invaders.

Now they added, the defenders have a mountain barrier on which to base themselves—and it is there that the forces are making ready for the battle for the Greek peninsula.

The Greeks still holding out on the Bulgarian frontier are "giving a unique example of heroism and abnegation," said the Athens radio, but elsewhere contact with the Germans—which was broken off before the capture of Salonika on Wednesday—has not been re-established.

(A National Broadcasting company representative in London quoted the Greek radio as saying the trapped Greek forces in the east had cut their way through the German lines to freedom and taken up new positions west of Salonika.)

A Greek government spokesman said the forces that sacrificed themselves in Macedonia and Thrace were "very few" in number.

Croats Form Separate State As Nazi Troops Enter Zagreb

Nazis Claim 100,000 Prisoners To Date in Balkan Campaign

F.D.R. Asks To Take Foreign Vessels in U.S.

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Lest a "growing shortage of shipping facilities" defeat the armament program, President Roosevelt today asked congress for authority to commandeer any foreign-owned vessel lying idle in American waters.

"We should have statutory authority," he said, in a special message, "to take over any such vessels as our needs may require, subject of course, to the payment with just compensation."

That congress would comply with the president's request, none doubted.

The scope of the proposal nevertheless caused some surprise. Previous discussions of the subject had to do with the 39 Danish, two German and 28 Italian vessels which were seized on March 30. Under the language of the president's message it was patent that the legislation requested was not to be limited to these.

Earlier in the week Mr. Roosevelt told reporters that the Danish minister here had acquiesced in the plan to commandeer the Danish vessels. (In Nazi-occupied Copenhagen it was said today, however, that the minister had been instructed to tell the United States the Danish government would not consent to leasing or selling the ships.)

Planes May Attempt 'Softening Up' British Before Ground Attack

BERLIN, April 10 (AP)—The Germans announced today their lightning Balkan campaign thus far has netted 100,000 prisoners—80,000 Greeks and 20,000 Serbs—and declared themselves ready now for air assaults on the British in Greece as a prelude to a clash at close quarters.

A military spokesman said the Greek prisoners were taken to Thrace, eastern neck of Greece isolated from the main Hellenes forces by the swift Nazi drive to the Aegean port of Salonika.

"The final number will be much greater," he added, "since the count is not yet finished."

Likewise the number of Serb prisoners was declared to be "steadily increasing," with six generals constituting an entire division staff among those previously taken in south Serbia.

Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's air force apparently will take over the task of "softening up" the British expeditionary forces in Greece before Nazi ground troops tackle them.

"It is self-evident," said the commentary Dienst aus Deutschland, which has close foreign office connections, "that the rail line on the east coast of Greece will (See BERLIN, Page 6)

BERN, April 11 (Friday) (AP)—The Hungarian army has been ordered by regent Admiral Nicholas Horthy to enter Yugoslav territory separated from Hungary in 1918, the official Hungarian news agency reported early today.

German planes dropped magnetic mines in Piraeus harbor again on Thursday, the Greek home security ministry announced, and several of them exploded on land, causing casualties and damage. (See ATHENS, Page 6)

All Offshore Base Activities 'Army Secret'

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The army threw a cloak of secrecy over all military activity in offshore bases and possessions today as American protection for Greenland was announced.

Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson disclosed a new official regulation classing as "confidential" all information regarding the identity of specific units, or information which in any way might reveal the strength and character of the garrisons.

The war department decided, officials explained, that the information "would be detrimental to national defense, and of definite interest to foreign intelligence services," while possessing little value to the American public.

The new regulation involves, however, no actual censorship of communications from Hawaii, the Philippines, the Canal Zone or other strategically important overseas points, such as is familiar in wartime.

U.S. Gets Rights for Greenland Bases

Extending Defense Limits to Nazi Sea Blockade—

By J. C. STARK
WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The United States pushed its line of air and naval defenses to the middle of the north Atlantic and the very limits of the German sea blockade zone today by acquiring rights for bases and other military fortifications in Greenland.

of the king of Denmark and with the approval of the local governors of Greenland but it was indicated that the government in German-occupied Denmark itself had no advance knowledge of the agreement.

President Roosevelt, in announcing the inclusion of Greenland "in our system of cooperative hemispheric defense," said that the government in Denmark under present circumstances "cannot, of course, act in respect of its territory in the western hemisphere, but we propose to make sure when the German invasion of Denmark has ended, Greenland will remain a Danish colony."

"Meanwhile" he said, "we earnestly hope for the quick liberation of Denmark from her present invaders."

Almost simultaneously, the president sent a message to congress asking authority to take full possession of any foreign vessels idle in American ports, including the 39 Danish ships already in "protective custody."

Previously, the president had said that the Danish minister here acquiesced in this action. As a forerunner of the violent reaction expected to come from both the Danish capital and Berlin on the Greenland agreement, the foreign office in Copenhagen said earlier today it had instructed the minister here to advise the American government that it would neither sell nor lease the Danish ships.

The Danish minister declined to say what he would do about these instructions but Danish sources said that, if he did anything at all, he would merely pass them along to the state department as a formality.

The Greenland agreement was patterned after, but in some ways was even more far-reaching, than those granting the United States air and naval bases in eight British (See GREENLAND, Page 6)

Promoting Safety on Bicycles

With hundreds of bicyclists, mostly children and young people, meeting death each year in accidents, many cities and states are conducting special bicycle safety programs, information to the American Municipal Association showed today.

A summary of compulsory bicycle registration plans in 20 cities made by the National Safety Council shows that in 13 of the cities bicycles are inspected in the licensing procedure, and in 14 examinations and instructions are given to riders. Statistics indicate that approximately 25 per cent of the bicycles involved in motor vehicle collisions were defective or improperly equipped, the most serious deficiency being the lack of lamps and reflectors.

A number of American cities have ordinances providing for the impounding of bicycles for violations of certain regulations. Approximately three out of four riders injured in motor vehicle collisions were violating some traffic regulation, according to the council.

Other safety activities of cities include the publication of local bicycle regulations in popular form, and the holding of bicycle field days with events emphasizing safety and riding skill.

In the field of state activities, a 200-mile experimental trail recently was developed and marked near Indianapolis, Ind. Posters were sent to schools by the traffic and safety division of the Arkansas highway commission, while the state police department of that state issued a pamphlet to help promote bicycle safety clubs.

A pamphlet on bicycle safety was issued by the Minnesota safety council. Michigan state police issued a three-page interpretation of state laws governing the riding of bicycles, together with a list of safety rules. The Wisconsin motor vehicle department uses both radio and newspaper releases in promoting bicycle safety.

Organization plans for bicycle safety clubs have been distributed by highway departments in a number of states, including North Carolina, Illinois and Texas. Some state safety councils—among them the councils of Colorado, Iowa and Massachusetts—sponsor bicycle safety clubs.

Notes on a City—and Civilization

Although the 300th anniversary of its founding falls on May 18, 1942, almost 13 months away, Montreal, Canada's largest city, is already stirred with preparations for the mammoth celebration next year.

Throughout the province of Quebec, according to the Montreal Tercentenary commission, the dramatic story of Montreal's founding and growth will be reenacted in pageants, exhibits, parades, and civic dramas.

Key to the French empire of the new world and garrison in the bloody Iroquois country of the St. Lawrence, a modern city of skyscrapers and wide avenues stands on the battle ground of many Colonial struggles. It was there on May 18, 1642, that Maisonneuve and his little band of religious enthusiasts landed on the spot where the Montreal Customs House now stands, and there "planted the mustard seed of the Old-World in the New."

For over a hundred years pioneering priests and French-Canadian fur trappers made the garrison city their fortress. It became a focal point of struggle in the French and Indian war against Great Britain.

But finally, Jesuit, fur-trader and pioneers vanished. Montreal pushed back in a series of terraces from the St. Lawrence shore where the founders had landed, built itself out in a circle around dramatic Mt. Royal, which it now surrounds. The mountain turned into a magnificent park, rises like a crown over the modern city, which decries with its busy appearance the tradition and lore of its many historic struggles.

So it is that cities are born, and around them civilizations spring—the new, born of the old. Too bad we forget the old so easily. If only we might remember it more vividly, perhaps our cities, and our civilizations, would mean more—and last longer.

Theatrical Debut, Saving Lives, One Who's Unhappy About Spring

BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—One of the strangest theatrical debuts in Broadway history is being made by a young actor named Philip Ober in "Mr. and Mrs. North," a comedy about a nice young married couple whose pleasant Greenwich Village apartment suddenly breaks out in a rash of corpses.

Ober plays one of the corpses. He topples out of a closet in the first act, almost into the arms of the astonished Peggy Conklin. After the toppling, the rest of his work consists simply of lying absolutely motionless for at least ten minutes while the coroner, detectives, police, fingerprint experts and photographers work on, over, and around him. It's Ober's first Broadway part, and a difficult and thankless one. But he does it as well as can be done, which is, you will have to admit, as high praise as any actor ever got on Broadway.

The officials of the Tide Water Oil company may be pardoned for the pleased expressions seen about their offices. In the last 16 months their tankers have effected four major rescues at sea, saving 261 lives that would have been lost but for the quick acting and the quick thinking on the part of the various captains and crews. Captain Leland Hawkins of the Associated started it by rushing to mid-Pacific just as a passenger liner sank and picking up passengers and crew.

Then Capt. John Kvistberg of the Robert E. Hopkins came upon a sinking yacht off Hatteras and rescued all aboard. Next, Capt. J. P. O'Brien of the Samuel Q. Brown hurried to the Alice Tebb, a wooden freighter sinking in a 60-mile gale, and picked up the entire crew of 32. In all, 261 lives have been saved—quite a record for a company whose business primarily is to sell oil.

As the winter winds die down and the sun becomes increasingly friendlier, there is at least one man on Broadway who is sorry to see winter left behind. He is Jose Ferrer, star of "Charlie's Aunt."

Ferrer was born in Puerto Rico and educated in Switzerland. Then he came to the United States and entered Princeton. His years abroad had unfitted him for American sports. He knew little of baseball, tennis, etc.

Eventually the ski craze hit the country, and Ferrer not only knew something about this—he became a leader. He moved into the hills near Ossining, where his children could carry on the daily skiing they learned in Switzerland, and he found it exhilarating to kick around with the rest of the skiers and know that he was as good, if not better, than his colleagues. That is why he loves winter. When summer comes, he remembers how "lost" and inept he was in sports with his Princeton classmates.

The Gamut of Nazi Film Possibilities

WASHINGTON—Any military authority around here who expected the Yugoslavs to hold out longer than three to six weeks from the start was considered an optimist by his colleagues. The longest possible period of resistance suggested even by a Yugoslav source was four months. But even six weeks of German absorption in the Balkan fighting could delay the chances of an invasion attack on Britain until fall. Shortest night in the year is June 22, and the Germans must have the protection of darkness to make the effort.

Consequently the official strategists expect the next Hitler blow will be directed against Gibraltar instead of Britain. If that front door to the Mediterranean can be locked and the Balkans seized, the British can be isolated around the Suez in this second year of World War II.

This, however, will not bring the German victory Hitler promised his people for 1941.

BRITAIN IN AFRICA

German successes are expected to be short-lived along the north African route over which Wavell's army chased the Italians only a few months ago. They were made possible not only because General Wavell stripped his forces for Greece but because all British naval units are tied up in the Greek supply lines. The British laid a small minefield between Sicily and Tripoli, expecting it to prevent the sending of large German reinforcements to north Africa. Italians swept it clear and now the path across the Mediterranean is wide open. The British may have to fall back to their fortifications on the Egyptian border, but probably no further.

NAZIS IN IRAQ

That Nazi sympathizer who has taken over the government of Iraq will be chased by British troops as soon as they clean up the Italians in east Africa. To support the various British enterprises in the near east, the British troops were withdrawn some months ago, enabling the Nazis to stage the internal coup.

YUGOSLAV LINE

Strongest Yugoslav defense line ran from the northwestern point of Zagreb, southeastward to a point about 50 miles north of Skopje, and then eastward to the Bulgarian border. It was behind this line the Yugoslavs planned to make their strongest stand. Most of their army was supposed to be mobilized behind it and in the south.

FLAME THROWING TANKS

Flame throwing German tanks made their appearance on the Struma valley front against the Greeks the first day of the attack, although Berlin and Athens failed to advertise it. The tanks were manned by Nazi soldiers in asbestos suits. Hurling against the Greek fortifications (in a manner used earlier in Belgium) they met with some success.

THE PLACE FOR SPIRIT

Some officers in this government refer to the Balkan conflict as "Colonel Donovan's war," and they do not like it. They cannot see the chances for long range British success. Their story is that Donovan came back from Sofia and Belgrade early in the year and sold the British on the possibilities of major Balkan resistance. If it fails they fear British morale will suffer.

There are some here also who doubt that the American people have a realistic view of what little this country can actually do immediately to help Yugoslavia and Greece. Their caustic crack: "We can only give Yugoslavia all war short of aid."

Fighting hearts can defeat military calculations, but if spirit is ever to conquer again, now is the time and the Balkans is the place for it.

HOLLYWOOD—There's a notable change in the Nazi-back-ground films being made in this town.

The new emphasis is on adventure and suspense. You'll find both in the two Nazi films now before the cameras, "Underground" and "Man-Hunt."

"Underground," directed by Vincent Sherman, concerns the workings of the organized, silent opposition to Hitler within his home grounds. "Man-Hunt," from the novel "Rogue Male" is fiction about a man who is surprised, while out "hunting," with his rifle leveled on the Berchtesgaden recluses.

Fritz Lang, who left Germany in 1933 with a suitcase and practically nothing else to show for his successful years as director and producer, is in charge of "Manhunt," and the script is by Dudley Nichols—some guarantee in itself of tense and artful business.

Movie-goers early in the anti-Nazi film craze exhausted the more obvious social implications of the Nazi creed. "The Mortal Storm" most searchingly, with "Four Sons" carrying on the exploration into broken families and friendships. "The Man I Married" contrasted the American point of view. Films like "Foreign Correspondent" emphasized adventure. "Escape," while again projecting the American idea, got much of its potency from the oldest movie thrill device—the chase.

"Man-Hunt" is a chase virtually from start to finish, with romance injected in the person of Joan Bennett. Walter Pidgeon is the hunted Englishman, and George Sanders—a familiar figure to his role—is the Nazi chaser.

Although the Nazi subjects have made a cycle, it has been an odd one. Few other cycles have embraced such a wide range of treatments—in the comedy-of-sorts in Chaplin's "Dictator" to the mass tragedy in "So Ends Our Night"; from the "documentary" technique of "Nazi Spy" to the film biography of "Pastor Hall"; from the melodrama of "Foreign Correspondent" to the sociological exploration of "Mortal Storm."

Interesting on the "Underground" set is the presence of a German-born blonde girl of 23, Karen Verne (not her real name). She would have no part of the "Hitler youth" movement before it became compulsory, and escaped the whole business by running away with an Englishman when she was 16.

"But they got my little sister young enough," she says, "and

A Plan to Reach Every Person With Christian Teaching

CINCINNATI—A united Protestant promotion movement, held by churchmen to be more extensive in its scope and work than any similar effort in the history of American Protestantism, was outlined by denomination leaders at a two-day meeting here.

The movement will be known as the "United Christian Education Advance," interpreted as Protestantism uniting to carry out the slogan, "reach every person with Christian teaching."

Broken down, the program will emphasize and promote regular Bible readings and prayer in the home and living as Christians in the family; increased attendance at church services and improved teaching for Christian discipleship.

In its relation to the community, the Advance program will promote the bringing of every person into fellowship of a church, and churches working together in the creation of more Christian communities.

The 23 representatives of the 20 leading denominations in the United States and the United Church of Canada, who attended the meeting here, said it was conceivable that every denomination could take and use all of the ideals as outlined in the general program. Special emphasis, they said, would be placed on home religious training and cooperation in the community.

The Advance program will be given impetus through publicity next fall, but the program will not in reality get under way until early in 1942, when a series of one-day conventions will be held in strategic centers from coast to coast, with the Advance movement to be explained in detail in each convention.

Denominations in the meeting here represented approximately 75 per cent of Protestant church membership in North America. The Advance movement is a project "fathered" by the International Council of Religious Education in Chicago. Dr. J. D. Heck of Cleveland, general secretary of the Board of Education of the Evangelical Church, was chairman of the meeting.

The general discussion topic for Thursday was "On the Campus." The various divisions were entitled: "Campus Politics"; "Campus Casualties"; "Student Welfare Problems"; and "Special Group on Procedure in Planning for an A.W.S. Conference." The discussion topic for Friday, the last day of the meeting, was "A.W.S." The problems were: "Evaluating Local A.W.S. Groups"; "Reorganization of A.W.S. Groups and Its Local Associations"; and "Exchange of Ideas on A.W.S. Activities." Groups talked about "Organization of Women Students of Various Campuses" and "The Future of I.W.W.A." Over 160 women delegates represented 50 or more colleges and universities all over the country. The convention ended with a farewell breakfast on Saturday, and Miss Focht and Miss Nugent returned to Iowa City Sunday.

The next national convention of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students will be held at the University of Minnesota in 1943.

In an interesting and entertaining fashion she traced the development of the meeting of national defense in her own mind as it applies to women. At first, she said, she thought of defense as being mainly militaristic, of uniforms, marching, of something distasteful and wholly necessary. During the last few months, however, when leaders of our country are working out the military, economic, social and psychological programs, she has discovered that it definitely means a way of living and presents a challenge to women on the campus and off. The program theme of the convention was "New Frontiers for Women." The discussion topic for the first day was "World Affairs" in which Mrs. William G. Dingus, historian of the state division of Texas Technological college, was the principle speaker.

Hosiery Style Hints Gay Colors Mark Season's Fashion For Silk Stockings

Even silk hosiery is going "The South American Way" with its vivid new shades of "hot down under" colors such as green, purple, red and blue.

The gay color note in silk stockings will fulfill two purposes this season—an aid to the high style interest in the one-color costume and a new accent for summer white footwear.

Featured in this new line of legwear will be the colored silk stocking trimmed with a darker tone shadow clock. This type will be obtainable in blue, rose, yellow trimmed with darker clocks, in addition to beige contrasted with colored clocks.

To promote the interest in the all-one-color-from-top-to-toe costume, manufacturers have developed these bright colors to match the season's shoe leathers. The soft blue shade will match the blue suede and leather shoe, the pimento red will blend with the new red shoes and contrast with navy, black or beige and a shade of yellow hose trimmed with a brown clock will be worn with yellow beach shoes and brown moccasins.

As further evidence of the South American trend in spring stocking styles, some of the more vivid colors have been dubbed "Fiesta Purple," "Bonita Blue," "Fandango Red" and "Pazenda Green."

Medwick, Camilli Hit Circuit Smashes For Margin of Victory

WILMINGTON, Del., April 10 (AP)—Pete Reiser, hard-hitting young outfielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers, pulled a muscle in his back in the eighth inning today as the Dodgers beat the New York Yankees 3 to 2.

A physician said Reiser suffered only a wrenched muscle, but that he would need to rest three or four days. The injury came within 24 hours after Peeewe Reese, Brooklyn's star shortstop, had hurt his heel in an exhibition at Baltimore.

The triumph today was the Dodgers' 11th straight and fourth in a row over the Yankees. Dolph Camilli and Joe Medwick hit home runs, Medwick's being his 11th of the spring and third in four times at bat.

CHARLESTOWN, W.Va., April 1 (AP)—Carl Hubbell and Joe Moore, two veterans who had been relegated to inconspicuous places in the 1941 outlook of the New York Giants, earned a second glance today by shutting out the Cleveland Indians 2 to 0.

Hubbell waffled his screwball past the Indians for seven innings, fanning five and allowed only four scattered hits. Only two men reached second. Moore drove in both the Giants' runs, first with a long fly in the second inning and later with a triple in the ninth.

'Cherry Jam' Takes Purse In Fast Race

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 10 (AP)—Mrs. Payne Whitney's Cherry Jam defeated Smacked by a nose in the $2,500 Phoenix handicap featuring the opening card of Keeneland's 11-day spring meeting today after Whirlaway and Blue Pair scratched.

Parasang, the well-played favorite which carried top weight of 122 pounds, got away last but managed to outrun Unerring, One Witch and Bill Farnsworth to take third money.

Mrs. Whitney's horse was overlooked in the betting and returned $17, $8.20 and $4.40 across the board.

Cherry Jam, with a light impost of 111 pounds, set the crowd of approximately 7,500 in an uproar by running the six furlongs under Jockey Al Bodiu in 1:12 1-5, fastest time of the day at the distance.

Smacked, a Kentucky derby eligible bearing 101 pounds and ridden by Conn McCreary, cut out all the pace but bore out gradually in the home stretch, and Cherry Jam, on the outside end carried wide, just got up to take the decision.

The stewards, with William Hamilton presiding, announced after the race that they had fined McCreary $50 for failing to keep Smacked straight in the stretch.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 10 (AP)—A ringing double by rookie Edward Perry Stewart in the last inning with two men out scored Bob Elliott today with the run which gave Pittsburgh its second straight victory over the Philadelphia Athletics 10 to 9.

The game was a see-saw affair with Maurice Van Robays delivering two home runs for the Pirates and Bob Johnson two for the A's, making three for him in two days.

Bob Klinger, who has been nominated by Manager Frank Frisch to hurl the opening game for the Bucs Tuesday against the Cubs, pitched eight innings and was touched for nine hits, including five doubles and a homer.

Chicago's Lee, Lieber Stage Holdout Siege

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs and two of their highest salaried stars tightened their battle lines today for what loomed as the most serious hold-out in the club's history.

In a grim, strained atmosphere, Pitcher Bill Lee parted from James Gallagher, Cub general manager, after an hour's conference had failed to settle their salary differences. At the same time Gallagher said he had "heard nothing" from Hank Lieber, the big outfielder who has anchored himself at his ranch near Tucson, Ariz.

Lee, who slumped to a record of nine wins and 17 defeats last season after winning 22 games in 1938 and 19 in 1939, obviously was unhappy but determined as he left Gallagher.

"I started the discussion at $15,000," the tall hurler said. "But Gallagher said his offer was $10,000. Then I offered to pitch for a $12,500 if assured I would get the difference between $12,500 and $15,000 if I had a good season. But Gallagher said $10,000. I can't pitch for that."

Another fly-by-night scheme to pick the winners of both the National and American league races by astrology . . . The star-gazers say that Cincinnati is definitely out as a flag threat this year, and that the race is between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Chicago Cubs . . . Among the things claimed to have been foreseen are the spinal meningitis of Bruce Campbell of the Cleveland Indians in 1936, the broken foot of Van Mungo received while pinch-running in 1939, and the beaming and recovery of Billy Jurgas, Giant shortstop.

Chicago Fans . . .
Will see the opening game of the closing series of the annual White Sox-Cub spring battles today at Wrigley field . . . The Bruins held a two-tilt advantage yesterday, and if the two teams go into the series in that fashion, the Pale Horse will have to sweep the three games to keep unsullied the record they boast since 1930 . . . The second game will be at Comiskey park, and the third and final back at Wrigley field.

Eight Safeties Yielded by 4 Hawk Hurlers

Sixteen Base Hits Garnered by Team; Faces L.S.U. Today

By WENDELL HILL
LAFAYETTE, La., April 10 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—Coach Otto Vogel's Iowa diamondmen, maintaining an unmarred record on their current southern trip, today nosed out Southwestern Louisiana Institute's baseballers 11-8 for the home team's second defeat in two days at the hands of the Hawkeys.

Different from yesterday's contest, today's tilt was a free-hitting affair as the Hawks banged out 16 hits, and the Institute collected half that number. For the Vogelmen, three men, Tom Farmer, Bill Diehl and Bill Welp, each collected three hits to lead the Iowa attack.

Iowa, off to a fast start, marked up three runs in the first frame and then came back strong in the second inning to cross the plate four more times. Trying vainly to keep up with the Iowans' lightning pace, the Bulldogs in the initial inning scored twice by virtue of Joe Labauve's homer which brought Broussard in from first.

Scoring two more in the second, two in the fifth and one in the sixth the Bulldogs knotted the count at seven all. After the Hawks had failed to tally in their next trip to the plate, the Bulldogs in the seventh drove in another run to take over the lead for the first time in the entire contest.

Rallying strongly in the first half of the eighth, the Iowans bunched their hits and managed to ice the game with four more runs. The Institute's desperate ninth inning attempt to catch the fleeing Hawks fell short, and the Vogelmen finished on top, 11-8.

To win today's game Coach Vogel used four Hawkeye pitchers. Starting for the invaders was sophomore Bob Faber, followed by Bill Bates, another first-year man. Jack Kenney later relieved Bates, who in turn gave way to Bob Stastny, Iowa's dependable mound ace.

Immediately after the game today, the Iowa squad left for Baton Rouge where it will meet Louisiana State university's Tigers tomorrow and Saturday afternoons. The Hawks will return to Iowa City after clashing with the Tigers and will meet Notre Dame in their first home game of the season next Friday.

Bruins Win 3rd Tilt of Stanley Cup Playoffs

DETROIT, April 10 (AP)—Boston Bruins, National league champions, made their straight victories over the Red Wings in the Stanley Cup finals with a 4 to 2 conquest before 10,137 spectators today draw within a game of playoffs of the venerable ice trophy.

Boston now can win the Stanley Cup by beating Detroit in the fourth here Saturday.

Twice tonight in the first, the Bruins, on the dazzling vidual work of Milt Schmidt, Eddie Wiseman, came from behind to nullify Detroit goals.

The might of the champions came evident in the second when Schmidt bagged his goal of the evening, a terrific foot sizzler that caught Johnny Mowers flat-footed seconds after the period opened to put the Bruins ahead for the first time.

The Bostonians controlled the game after that, holding the tactically rushing Red Wings to the aid of some sensational play by goalie Frank Brimsek and by a fourth goal by Art Ross three minutes before the end of the game while Alex Mottola in the penalty box.

Predictors Writers Pick Yankees Indians in Race

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Eighty-three sports writers were wrong, but more than half of them are going to be wrong when 1941 American league season has been completed. No matter what team wins, the voters for team in the Associated Press among sports scribes in 19 league cities will be outnumbered by those who picked some team to come home first.

In contrast to last year, 66 of 77 voters picked the Yankees this year there is a virtual lock between the Yankees and Cleveland Indians. Only voters failed to name one or other for first place.

The Indians drew one first-place vote than the Yankees—40 to 39, but on a point based on eight points for seven for second, etc., the Yankees edged out the Tribe, 612 to 597.

The champion Detroit Tigers drew only two first-place votes and the Chicago White Sox—the surprise—St. Louis Browns one each.

The Yankees were picked lower than third in any other city. The Indians were picked fourth by one voter, the one conceding the Tribe would be 1-2-3. Detroit, however, was edged for the first six places. 20 scribes shoving the champion down to fourth.

The Boston Red Sox box parently has faded, as they moved out of the first division favor of the White Sox. One timist picked Boston for seventh, but most of the votes were fourth place on down the fourth.

Seder Service To Inaugurate Jewish Holiday

Scattergood Group Will Be Guests At Dinner Tomorrow

The eight-day Passover festival begins today for Iowa City Jews commemorating the flight of their forefathers from Egyptian slavery to the freedom of Palestine.

The Seder service, scheduled for 7 o'clock tonight at the Hillel foundation, opens the celebration. A banquet will follow at 7:30.

Members of the Scattergood colony will be guests at a second dinner at the foundation tomorrow night at 7:30, it has been announced.

Morning services will be held Saturday and Sunday and again on April 18 and 19.

Reform and Palestinian Jews observe the event for seven days, while orthodox and conservative groups have an extra day of Passover.

The first and last days are full holidays in the seven-day observance. The first two days and the last two days of the eight-day celebration are set aside as full holidays.

Keynote of Passover is the struggle of Jews for freedom under adverse conditions as characterized by their search for the Promised Land.

The story of the Passover is contained in a special book, the Haggadah, which is read aloud, by the family head to the assembled family group.

At the Seder service, stories recounted include the plagues of Egypt and the crossing of the Red Sea.

Unleavened bread is eaten by the faithful during Passover to remind them of the unleavened bread the Jews prepared as they hastened to flee from the Egyptian pharaoh.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The New York Herald-Tribune was awarded the F. Wayland Ayer cup yesterday for the best typography, make-up and presswork of 1,083 English-language daily newspapers in the United States this year.

Of the 1,904,000,000 acres of land in continental U.S., the 1940 census reported 1,060,507,355 in farms. Crops were harvested from 321,757,900 acres.

age. One fell near an insane asylum, causing some casualties there.

Parts of destroyed German aircraft were found in one district of the town.

Planes which bombed Kozane, 40 miles south of the Yugoslav border and 70 miles southeast of Salonika, caused only five deaths, the Greeks said.

On the Albanian front with the Italians, the Greek command said there was patrol and artillery activity. "Farther east there is nothing of importance to report," the communique said.

The Greeks declared they were determined to smash Hitler's invaders with British help "at the right time and in the right place."

All British residents of Salonika were reported safely removed before the city's capitulation.

To Challenge Nazis
Greek military men indicated that the Germans would be challenged in the lofty northern mountains where British and Greek forces have established their main lines following the Nazi drive to the Aegean port of Salonika, cutting the country in two.

"The battle for Greek independence, first won on Mount Pinus," they asserted, "will be repeated again on Greek mountains where in past centuries invaders have been stopped."

It was in these same mountains that stalwart Greek warriors last November hurled Benito Mussolini's fascist invaders back into Albania.

RAF bombers and fighters, despite bad weather, kept up wave assaults on the Germans in the Kilikis and Polycaston areas north of Salonika and reported inflicting heavy casualties on Nazi troop-laden transports.

Before pulling out of Salonika, the Greeks said they applied the torch to the city, destroying oil tanks and everything else that would be of value to the Nazis.

Among the oil facilities destroyed were some $1,500,000 worth of installations belonging to the Steaun-Romana company, in which Standard Oil of New Jersey had an interest.

All but two members of the American colony at Salonika got out ahead of the Germans with the aid of United States Consul John D. Johnson and vice-consul Edmund A. Gullion.

Charles House, director of the American farm school, and his wife decided to stay behind.

ish possessions in the western hemisphere.

It gave this country the right to build landing fields, seaplane facilities, radio and meteorological installation, harbors and anchorages, roads, communications services, fortifications, "and generally the right to do any and all things necessary to insure the efficient operation, maintenance and protection of such defense facilities as may be established."

The potential dangers of a clash between the newly installed American forces and German sea or air raiders along the eastern limits of the western hemisphere were conceded in responsible quarters here.

Iceland
Germany recently extended its area of counter-blockade operations against Great Britain to the very shores of Greenland, so that the blockade area now includes Iceland.

Iceland, an independent kingdom with the same king as Denmark, is separated from Greenland by a narrow strip of water which also, in the opinion of the American government, marks the border line of the western hemisphere. British troops occupied Iceland shortly after the German invasion of Denmark.

With the United States acquiring full authority over the defense areas which it leases, it was considered possible that Greenland might become an important base for delivery of airplanes and other war supplies to Great Britain.

In addition, it was believed that the agreement might serve to relieve to some extent Britain's pressing convoy problem. It was pointed out in some quarters that since the United States presumably will have naval forces operating between this country and Greenland, these might unofficially watch over British merchant ships that far out into the Atlantic, letting British convoys take over the task at that point.

Robin Hood With Radios
RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Thieves, evidently finding their loot below expectations, spent $2.91 in postage to return three radio receivers to their Richmond owner. In one package was a note: "You are costing us dough." Police, without clues before, said they "now have plenty."

Bishop Magee Ends Lectures

"Millions of modern Christians who attend church regularly fail to actually worship God."

That was the contention of Bishop J. Ralph Magee of Iowa and South Dakota in an address at the Methodist church last night closing Iowa City's Holy Week series of talks.

The religious leader based his assertion on the fact that most persons lack a true sense of values and have traded secular activities for social fellowship.

Bishop Magee told the more than 200 persons attending the lecture that worship is the self-conscious part of the natural recovery of values.

The speaker explained the necessity of yielding to earthly authority before yielding to divine authority and asserted that both disciplines went hand in hand.

"Individuals who confuse liberty with complete license have strayed from the true values," the churchman said.

Bishop Magee said that a belief in love was the result of a rediscovering of values.

Ice cream and other frozen desserts annually manufactured in 2,734 U.S. factories are valued at $285,806,781, according to the census.

Relief Drive Nears Quota

Greek Relief Fund Reaches 75 Per Cent Of Completion Mark

The Iowa City-Johnson county Greek war relief drive reached the 75 per cent completion mark this week, Chairman Prof. Roy C. Flickinger announced last night.

Six hundred and fifty dollars of the $1,000 quota has already been sent to national headquarters through M. B. Guthrie, local association secretary, and $100 more will be forwarded soon.

A $250 sum was added to Greek war relief fund by the Engler, Iowa and Varsity theaters, which solicited funds, and the Strand theater which contributed two days' receipts.

Contributions may still be sent to M. B. Guthrie, Iowa State Bank and Trust Co., to Professor Flickinger or to James Lons, solicitations director.

The fund will be expended for medical supplies and other civilian needs in the war district, Professor Flickinger said.

American factories annually produce more than $7,500,000 worth of tooth brushes, census reports show.
