Athens Reports Nazi Attacks All Repulsed

Says German Activity Of Local Character Devoid of Importance

ATHENS, April 14 (AP)—Germany's opening feints for the battle of Greece have been parried all along the British-Greek front, Greek dispatches said tonight.

One of these feints, apparently on action of last Friday, came from a division of Adolf Hitler's own SS elite guard, British quarters reported.

Action Not Important

Tonight the Greek government spokesman said: "German mechanized units displayed activity devoid of general importance and only of a local character. Greek formations yesterday held positions assigned to them according to plans."

The Greeks, he added, were continuing to hold that part of the front allotted to them and had driven back Italian reconnaissance patrols in the northern and central Albanian sectors.

High commanders of the allied forces expressed belief that any German breakthrough through the mountainous defiles of northern Greece would prove the costliest thrust of the war and Greek newspapers predicted the deep passes would become a "slaughter house" for the invaders.

Weather Deters Nazis

Snow and mud were said to have hampered German armored divisions in the principal assault, which apparently was fought between Phlorina, in Greece, and the Bitolj gap in southwest Yugoslavia. After the battle much German equipment was reported massed in the Bitolj valley, under constant bombing and machine-gun attack by allied planes.

The Germans were reported still busy trying to mop up Yugoslav forces fighting at their rear, while rushing up reinforcements for a continuing assault on the Greek-British defenses. Additional Greek reservists were being sped to threatened points. There were frequent clashes between scattered armored patrols.

U.S. Upholds Danish Minister In Break With German-Held Denmark

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—In an unprecedented diplomatic tangle growing out of the acquisition of American defense bases in Greenland, the United States today upheld the Danish minister here in a break with the government of German-occupied Denmark and refused to recognize an order recalling him.

Henrik De Kauffmann, who signed the Greenland agreement last week and was ordered home as a result, was informed by Secretary of State Hull that he would continue to be recognized as "the duly authorized minister of Denmark in Washington."

The American government agreed with the minister that the Copenhagen government was "acting under duress" in recalling him and expressed the renewed hope "for the speedy liberation of Denmark."

Italians Retake Corizza, Vital Albanian Base

ROME, April 14 (AP)—The southeastern Albanian town of Corizza, evacuated by the Italians Nov. 22, has been recaptured by the Italian army after 11 days' fighting, it was announced officially tonight.

The fascist ninth army entered the city, near the Yugoslav-Greek borders. It was one of the first important strongholds captured by the Greeks in their counter-invasion of Italian-held territory.

About 25 miles south of Lake Ohrid, Corizza is a road junction whence a road leads eastward to Phlorina, hinge of the present British-Greek line confronting the axis armies.

Armored Troops Enter
Fast columns of Bersaglieri on motor cycles and in armored cars entered Corizza at 12:30 p.m. today and captured "numerous prisoners and arms of every kind, including several batteries of cannon," it was said.

Pursuit of Greek forces continued beyond Corizza. A correspondent of the official Italian news agency, Stefani, said the population, which had been "obliged to submit to cruel vexations" during Greek occupation, welcomed the fascist troops with flags and flowers.

'Amazing Exploits'
Italian airmen were credited with "amazing exploits" in Albania during the past few days, the correspondent said.

"Defense works were uprooted, troop concentrations were machine-gunned, Greek columns annihilated, their batteries hammered scattered armored patrols." (See ITALIANS, Page 8)

A Unique Diplomatic Situation Grew Out of the Actions of the Danish Minister and the American Government

The United States still maintains a diplomatic staff in Denmark, although the American minister there, Ray Atherton, was brought home several months ago and placed in charge of the European division of the state department.

Diplomatic Break Seen
A possibility considered here was that the Danish government, acting under German pressure, might formally break off relations with the United States, thus forcing this country to withdraw its diplomatic and consular officials from Denmark.

Minister De Kauffmann, asserting that he would disregard the recall order, wrote Secretary Hull in a formal note that he believed (See DANISH, Page 7)

Pan-America Goes to Iowa Unprecedented Fete, Brain-Child of AAA Man, is Big Success

By STAFF WRITER
GREENFIELD, (Special to The Daily Iowan)—Threatened with strong winds, Greenfield's Pan-American day celebration, first of its kind in the country, came off without a hitch yesterday.

Originating in the agile brain of Guy Bush of Greenfield, publicity agent working out of the national AAA office, the celebration of 1,800 townspeople set a new precedent in national diplomacy.

Part of concentrated efforts to cement relations with South American countries, the program was HAVANA, Cuba, April 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt was proclaimed "eminent citizen of the Americas" today in a senate ceremony highlighting Pan-American day programs in Cuba.

The ceremony was attended by President Fulgencio Batista, his cabinet, congressmen and diplomats of the American republics.

A portrait of Roosevelt was unveiled afterwards in the Cuban senate hall of honor.

British Evacuating Along Open Beaches, Nazis Report; Axis Troops Pounding At Tobruk; Bombers Aid

BERLIN, April 14 (AP)—Declaring the British were starting to flee precipitately from Greece, using both harbors and beaches, German press dispatches tonight reported that Nazi dive-bombers had sunk 30,000 tons of British transports in the Athenian harbor of Piraeus.

Transports and supply ships totaling another 80,000 tons were said by the official German news agency DNB to have been "severely damaged."

The Germans have contended ever since the troops landed in Greece that the Hellenic peninsula would be another Dunkerque.

It was presumed by Germans that the British were unable to find enough Greek ports for rapid embarkation, so were leaving from the shores along the open sea.

At the same time, the German expeditionary force in Africa was declared by the high command to have firmly established itself on Egyptian soil and to have occupied Salum, inside the Egyptian border.

This force was reported still heading eastward—with Alexandria and the Suez within the range of military possibilities.

At Tobruk, port in Libya 90 miles west of the Egyptian border, German press dispatches said Nazi dive-bombers were hammering at transports seeking to take off the British garrison which the Germans said was encircled.

The news agency further said that eight of 14 British armored cars were destroyed in a "desperate" effort to escape by land.

Soviet Says Peace Issues To Follow Japanese Pact

Pravda Says Friendliness Vital to Both

Accord Clears Way To Regulate Other Unsolved Questions

MOSCOW, April 14 (AP)—The neutrality pact by which Soviet Russia and Japan recognized each other's frontiers in northeast Africa is to be followed by a general settlement of outstanding economic and political issues in the interests of peace the Soviet press indicated today.

The pact, signed Sunday in the Kremlin by Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov and Japan Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka was hailed by Pravda, the communist party organ as a far-reaching step to make good neighbors out of the two traditional rivals.

The new pledges "are going to be filled of course," said Pravda. The paper added that the two countries were going to "get rid of everything which aroused hatred between them."

The Soviet Union would carry out the terms of the pact, Pravda said, because "the path of development in both countries dictates first of all that they keep good neighborly relations, not hindering each other's realization of their historic problems."

Meanwhile, Matsuoka approached the Ural mountains carrying with him the pact signed at the Kremlin.

In Tokyo, however, the press interpreted the pact as chiefly "a blow to the activities and policies of the United States in the Pacific." And as a strengthening of the three-power alliance of Tokyo, Berlin and Rome.

Pravda said the accord cleared the way "for regulation of other unsolved questions between the U.S.S.R. and Japan" and would help found an era of political (See MOSCOW, Page 8)

Communists In China Stunned At Soviet Move

CHUNGKING, April 14 (AP)—Chinese communists appeared today to have been stunned by the Japanese-Soviet pact of neutrality signed Sunday in Moscow.

Their eventual reaction was awaited with interest by observers in China because they always have insisted that a Japanese-Soviet agreement was impossible, and have based their cooperation with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek on a common anti-Japanese program.

In recent months, however, this cooperation was threatened by clashes between Chinese regulars and Chinese communists troops who were dispersed when they refused to obey orders to transfer their operations north of the Yellow river.

Chou En-Lai, the Chinese communist leader, was unavailable for comment today, and lesser officials indicated that they were unable to explain the Moscow move or to predict what course the Chinese group was likely to adopt.

J. T. Garrett, Iowa Publisher Dies at Work

BURLINGTON, April 14 (AP)—J. Tracy Garrett, 60, editor and publisher of the Daily Hawk-Eye Gazette and president of the Iowa Associated Press from 1925 to 1938, died unexpectedly in his office here this afternoon of a cerebral hemorrhage.

He had been in poor health for some time, but was not thought to be seriously ill.

Employees of the newspaper heard him fall as he collapsed in a private washroom off his office and found him promptly. Doctors called pronounced him dead.

Widely known in civic and newspaper circles, Garrett was a native of Burlington and began his newspaper career here on the Burlington Hawk-Eye in 1900.

Hull Declares U.S. Policy In Asia the Same

Says Treaty Expected; Has Existed in Effect For Some Time Past

By J. C. STARK

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—American policy in both Europe and Asia today was declared "unchanged" by the new Russian-Japanese pact, which was viewed officially as merely existing between the two eastern powers.

Secretary of State Hull expressed the government's attitude toward the pact in a formal statement which declared its significance "could be overestimated" and that it came as no surprise.

"The agreement," he said, "would seem to be descriptive of a situation which has in effect existed between the two countries for some time past."

"It therefore comes as no surprise, although there has existed doubt whether the two governments would or would not agree to say it in writing."

As to its effect on the United States, Secretary Hull declared bluntly:

"The policy of this government, of course, remains unchanged." This meant that the pact would have no effect on the government's aid to Britain program or on the attitude it has taken in recent months toward the Far East.

Hull's statement was carefully prepared after consultation among the highest state department officials. Some significance was seen in the fact that his language had a close resemblance to the statement he issued when Japan joined Germany and Italy in the tripartite pact last September.

Perkins Enters Deadlocked Soft Coal Negotiations

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Perkins entered deadlocked soft coal wage negotiations personally tonight, but declined to say what he would tell the management and union negotiators.

She walked into the night session between northern Appalachian bituminous operators representing 35 per cent of the country's production and the United Mine Workers of America (U.M.W.), repeating her action of two years ago at the last contract negotiations.

"I have nothing to say at this time," Miss Perkins declared. "I am just going in to talk with them."

Italy Protests U.S. Seizure Of 28 Ships

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The Italian government lodged with the state department today a "most vigorous protest for the arbitrary action" taken by this country in seizing 28 Italian ships and placing their crews and officers in custody.

The note was transmitted to Secretary Hull by the Italian ambassador, Prince Colonna, on instructions of the Rome government. Previously the Italian ambassador had made a protest on his own volition.

The note challenged the legality of the American action. Citing that section of American law under which the seizure was made as referring to intent to endanger the "safety" of a vessel, its cargo or persons aboard, the note said: "None of the damage and injury allegedly found on board the Italian vessels could affect or was intended to affect in any way the safety of the vessels or of the cargo or of persons aboard."

LONDON, April 15 (Tuesday) (AP)—Thousands of British imperial troops are being rushed from the Italian east African front to Egypt in an effort to stem the German onrush toward the Suez canal, it was understood here today.

Johnson County Food Stamp Plan Goes Into Effect Today

The Johnson county branch of the surplus marketing administration's food stamp plan is in effect today with 115 retail grocers handling stamps from some 900 families participating. Stamps are being sold at four issuing offices, Social Service league headquarters, 335 S. Clinton, Iowa City; Solon bank; Oxford bank, and an undetermined Lone Tree bank.

Families taking part in the plan, and buying stamps regularly must purchase stamps from the same office each time, the one that is most convenient. Identification cards and complete information have been sent to all eligible persons and instructions have been given to all food dealers taking part. Approximately $8,000 a month will be added to money spent in the county on food, under the plan which is designed to bridge the gap between over-supply and under-consumption.

Fire Chief J. J. Clark submitted a bill to the council for $84.90 worth of repairs on Engine No. 2 last month.

Reports were heard from all city officers at the meeting and were given unanimous approval votes by the council. The solons also voted acceptance of a change in the city ordinance making a salary of $10 a year for the three park commissioners. This amount will recompense the commissioners for their bonding fees. The bill was given three readings at the meeting after councilmen decided to waive the customary rule of reading the bill at three successive meetings.

The council also approved the petition asking that the Kirkwood Circle plat be included in the city limits. The report of the city planning commission, favoring the proposal, was given by City Attorney Schlaegel.

Another approval was granted a petition to allow city law offenders to serve out fines by working on city projects. City Clerk Grover C. Watson was directed to accept bids for city garbage collection. It was stipulated that bidders must conform to the city ordinance requiring covered water-tight truck bodies on all collection vehicles. Bids must be filed with the clerk on or before noon of April 24.

Bids for gas contracts for city autos, trucks and power equipment for 1941 must be submitted on or before April 24, also, it was announced. The next meeting of the council will be April 24.

Yanks' Marius Russo Chains Senators, 3-0

Gives 3 Hits, As DiMaggio Leads Batters

Ever-Dependable Joe Triples in 1st Run; FDR Opens Festivities

By JUDSON BAILEY
WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—New York's Yankees, opening the 1941 major league campaign before President Roosevelt and 32,000 sweltering, shirt-sleeved fans, smothered the Washington Senators, 3 to 0, today on the three-hit hurling of Marius Russo, their sophomore southpaw star.

The sun shown brightly, sending the temperature above 85, as the president arrived promptly 15 minutes before game time.

He was greeted by "hail to the chief" from the army band and the cheers of the crowd. Then Vice-President Wallace raised the American flag on the center field pole and the president threw out a new ball for his ninth pitch over a period dating back to 1917, when as assistant secretary of the navy he subbed for President Wilson.

Bombers Begin Firing
The Bronx bombers began their firing soon after Red Rolfe, second man up for New York, slammed Emil (Dutch) Leonard's knuckle ball for a single. He was forced on the next play by Tom Henrich, but the latter got all the way to second as shortstop Cecil Travis tried wild to first trying for a double play. The ever-reliable Joe DiMaggio then drove a tremendous triple into the right-center field corner to score the runner.

In the fifth Bill Dickey doubled sharply to left center, and pitcher Russo blasted a two-bagger that bounced against the bleacher wall in center field, 425 feet away, and scored Dickey.

The run in the sixth came on successive singles by Henrich and DiMaggio and a long fly to right by Charley Keller.

These six hits, all of which figured in the scoring, were all that Leonard allowed.

Three Lonely Singles
The three hits Russo allowed were all singles and each in a different inning. He gave three walks and started two of his team's three double plays. Only twice in the entire game did Washington get two men on base at the same time.

The Senators played with the veteran Buddy Myer at second because Jim Bloodworth had been benched in an exhibition at Baltimore yesterday. The Yankees had Joe Gordon at his old second base stand, with Sturm on first, because of an injury to the ankle of Gerry Priddy, their highly reputed rookie second sacker.

PASSING THE BUCK by BILL BUCKLEY

That Iowa's spring baseball trip can be determined a success, goes without saying, for a record of five wins and a single one-run loss against tough southern opponents who have been playing outside for a month or so, is really something to crow about.

But the most interesting thing that came to light was the way in which the sophomores and reserves of last year's powerful aggregation have stepped into the shoes of graduated stars, and in most cases filled them to overflowing.

The pitching staff seems to have found itself, and that was the big question mark before the season started. Not only did Eob Stastny, who was counted on to shoulder the heavy load for the Hawks this year, come through with a steady five-hit performance in the opening 8-2 victory over Louisiana Tech, and turn in a good relief job in a later game, but two juniors, Dick Hein and Ted Gordinier, both turned games which make them the outstanding candidates for the job as running mate to Stastny.

Gordinier, bothered in the early part of the trip by a sore arm, waited for the last two games against Louisiana State to make his bid, but Hein started the first game against Southwestern, pitched the route, and turned in a three-hit, 2-1 win. Lanky Dick came back in the second game of the State series, pitched a five-hit, two-run, eight-inning stretch, and received credit for the 3-2 win. He was lifted for a pinch-hitter with the score tied in the Iowa half of the ninth, and Gordinier came in for a brilliant bit of relieving. For the second time in two days, Ted entered the game in the ninth, retired the side in order each time, chalking up three strikeouts on the six men who faced him.

Hitting on the part of the Hawkeyes was timely, heavy, and consistent. Only in losing to Louisiana State last Friday was there an evidence of an off day, for Iowa loaded the bases twice in the game with only one out, and each time failed to score. The Hawks loaded the sacks in the sixth with the score tied, and an attempted squeeze play ended disastrously when the batter popped out, and two runners were doubled off their bases. They crammed them again in the ninth, managed to push across one run, but still one run short, the game ended on a strikeout.

Veterans and sophomores alike shone at the bat and field on the trip. Bill Welp batted two for five, two for three and three for five on three different occasions, most of the hits for extra bases and runs batted in. Rudy Radics, veteran first-sacker, smashed out some timely blows, batting in runs every time he hit. Norm Hankins turned in an outstanding game in the second Louisiana Tech tilt, which Iowa won 8-5. He batted out a hit, scored a run, and stole four bases, leading the Hawks on a fledgling rampage which just about won the game for them. In fact all the vets had their days in the six games.

But the way sophomores and newcomers showed up was enough to warm the cockles of any Iowa fan's heart. First there was Big Bill Diehl, who batted in four of the eight Hawkeye runs in the second Louisiana Tech tilt, the defending champion, again came out on top with an 85 point margin of victory over its nearest competitor.

Major League Baseball Opens Season Doubtfully, Fearing Draft, Seeking Defense Industry Money

The 1941 campaign should be an especially interesting one, for the race in each league is expected to be much closer than in the past. In the National league, Brooklyn, Cincinnati and St. Louis are picked to fight it out. In the American, the biggest money is on Cleveland, Detroit and New York.

Commission Suspends Barlund As Result of Billy Conn Bout

CHICAGO, April 14 (AP)—Heavyweight Gunnar Barlund and his manager, Paul Damski, were suspended today for one year by the Illinois Athletic commission as a result of an investigation into the big Finn's bout with Billy Conn here April 4.

In addition to revoking their licenses, the commission ordered Barlund's share of the purse returned to the state treasury. Barlund's share of the purse amounted to $3,889.50, but he already had drawn an advance of $944 for training expenses. Thus the remainder, $2,955.50, reverts to the state.

Damski Steps Fight
The commission ordered the hearing of the fight after Damski had refused to let Barlund, bleeding from a cut on his right eyelid, answer the bell for the eighth round.

Damski admitted before the commission that he was responsible for having the fight stopped, contending that another blow on the cut might have permanently impaired the fighter's eyesight.

Dr. Frank Lagorio, commission physician, who examined the eye between rounds, testified he told Damski that Barlund could fight another round or two with either injury. Damski's testimony corroborated the physician's statement.

"But I didn't want to take any chances," Damski told the three-man board. "The cut was a dangerous thing and I wanted to be on the safe side."

The fight was a rather anemic affair anyway, and the fans booed the fighters off and on from the third round to the sudden end of the scrap.

After the hearing Damski hired a Chicago lawyer, Harry A. Schier, and said he would sue the commission for the withheld purse.

Sheldon Clark, chairman of the recently-reorganized commission said he realized that the ruling was "harsh," but added: "We must protect the sports-free circulation of money will provide the wherewithal for them.

Draft Threat Hovers
The threat of the army draft, which already has clipped pitcher No. 1 Hugh Mulcahy, from the ranks of the lowly Phillies, hangs over every club. At the moment, the chief immediate blow would be to the defending American league champion Detroit Tigers if their ace clouter, big Hank Greenberg is summoned for military duty.

In Cleveland, hopes are high, now that the "battle of the bosses," or who's managing whom, is all over. Last year, the row between the players and Ossie Vitt was blamed for the Tribe's defeat in the pennant chase.

The Yankees who skied to third last year, have been rebuilding over the winter. They've come up with a second base-shortstop duo of Gerry Priddy and Phil Rizzuto which is heralded by some experts as the best in either league. The pitching staff has been bolstered.

Bosox Need Pitching
The Boston Red Sox still need pitching. Jimmy Dykes and his Chicago White Sox again look like the trouble makers for the first division hopefuls.

Cincinnati is the team to beat in the senior circuit. Although Billy Myers, short-fielder for the 1939 and '40 pennant winning outfits, has been traded off, the Reds' bosses feel they have more than an ample replacement in Eddie Joost. The pitching staff, with Paul Derringer and Buckley Walters remaining as the "hull cows," has been strengthened through the acquisition of moody Monte Pearson from the Yanks.

Over in Brooklyn, the folks say this is the "next year" they've been waiting for since 1920. The "fits" are whether Pee-Wee Reese will be at short for the full campaign, whether Ducky Medwick has fully recovered from the effects of last year's beating, whether Pete Reiser, who has all the earmarks of a coming star, can take over center field like a veteran and whether the pitching staff can hold together.

Largely because of their snapping finish in the 1940 race, the St. Louis Cardinals are receiving considerable support.

Baseball is America's national game. Baseball appeals to all ages, both sexes. Employment is up, more money is available to be spent.

In St. Louis, always a poor city for baseball fans, a new deal is expected, for both clubs are much better fitted for the coming races than in many years. The Cards are pennant contenders, the Browns vastly improved over last year.

Novikoff Colorful
Baseball's biggest game attraction, young Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians, should enjoy a banner season again. Barring Babe Ruth, no player in the modern history of the game can pack in the fans as does Master Robert.

The rookie crop is a colorful, promising group. The Yankee infield twins, Phil Rizzuto and Gerald Priddy, will draw many fans, anxious to see what all the "shoutin' about." And the Cubs' colorful addition, Lou Novikoff, the "Mad Russian," should help the turnstiles click in the National loop.

Hank Greenberg, always a big attraction, and his draft status, have made many persons baseball-conscious.

Opening day for all except two clubs, the New York Yankees and the Washington Senators, is tomorrow, and should attract some 200,000 fans.

What thrills will these openers hold this year? In the past, as illustrated above, there have been many, topped by the 1940 sensation, Bob Feller's no-hit game against the Chicago White Sox.

Promoter Jacobs Tentatively Plans Louis-Baer Bout

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs announced today he had tentatively scheduled a Joe Louis-Buddy Baer heavyweight championship fight here May 23.

Jacobs conferred with the District of Columbia boxing commission on plans for the bout and later opened negotiations for renting Griffith stadium for the title encounter.

Jacobs said he planned to match Louis with Billy Conn in a title fight in June or July, provided, of course, that Baer bows before the champion as expected. Challenger Lou Nova's chance against Louis probably will come in September, the promoter added.

Tech battle with two hits, and who blasted out three hits in four trips, including a double, in the second Southwestern tilt. Then there was Clarence Dunagan, rookie shortstop, who showed unexpected heavy-hitting ability throughout the trip. He got a two-bagger in the opener, driving in a run; batted out three for five in the second game, including a three-base hit which drove in another marker; took the bench for the fourth; poked out another hit in the fifth game; and wound up the trip by blasting a towering homer in the second State game to start off the ninth, touching the spark to an Iowa rally which won the game with two out.

Ray Koehn, performing in the outfield, also came through with steady activity, hitting safely in four of the five games he played. The sophomore fly-chaser batted in an all-important run in the finale against LSU, and established himself as a clutch hitter. And last, by long way not the least, was Tom Farmer, the second straight football man to play second base for Iowa. The Farmer hit often and hard. In one game getting three for six, and his fielding was nothing short of all-around good. The team turned in several double plays, and Farmer figured in every one. His brilliant catch of a low liner in the first Louisiana game, saved Iowa from having a larger score piled up.

So it goes, this post-trip analysis of Iowa's baseball team, but with all the buzzards and hoorays, should also come the word of pessimism that the work is yet to come. The chips will be down when the Big Ten season starts, and only then will the fans see what the green, but willing Hawkeyes have on the ball. But it certainly was a good start, which nobody can deny, and one cannot help but be optimistic when future stars shine bright on the diamond behind the field-house.

Hitting on the part of the Hawkeyes was timely, heavy, and consistent. Only in losing to Louisiana State last Friday was there an evidence of an off day, for Iowa loaded the bases twice in the game with only one out, and each time failed to score. The Hawks loaded the sacks in the sixth with the score tied, and an attempted squeeze play ended disastrously when the batter popped out, and two runners were doubled off their bases. They crammed them again in the ninth, managed to push across one run, but still one run short, the game ended on a strikeout.

Veterans and sophomores alike shone at the bat and field on the trip. Bill Welp batted two for five, two for three and three for five on three different occasions, most of the hits for extra bases and runs batted in. Rudy Radics, veteran first-sacker, smashed out some timely blows, batting in runs every time he hit. Norm Hankins turned in an outstanding game in the second Louisiana Tech tilt, which Iowa won 8-5. He batted out a hit, scored a run, and stole four bases, leading the Hawks on a fledgling rampage which just about won the game for them. In fact all the vets had their days in the six games.

But the way sophomores and newcomers showed up was enough to warm the cockles of any Iowa fan's heart. First there was Big Bill Diehl, who batted in four of the eight Hawkeye runs in the second Louisiana Tech tilt, the defending champion, again came out on top with an 85 point margin of victory over its nearest competitor.

The federal district judge held that publications had a "reasonable tendency" to provoke public resistance to an injunction. The supreme court's decision was an interpretation of a federal statute of 1931 defining the contempt powers of federal courts and was not concerned with state laws. Thus it might have little bearing on the contempt cases against the Los Angeles Times and Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader, who were cited summarily in state courts. The supreme court's decisions in these appeals have been awaited ever since last October but the court adjourned today until April 28 without handing them down. The case decided today involved an alleged attempt by R. H. Nye and L. C. Mayers of Lumberton, N.C., to persuade W. H. Elmore of Conway, S.C., to drop a $30,000 damage suit against the B. C. Remedy company following the death of Elmore's son.

But plans were changed, instead of Bush speaking, it was decided to hold a county-wide Pan-American celebration with residents dressing in Latin-American costumes and eating frijoles and chili beans as evidence that the United States was truly a "good neighbor." Government Helps Public schools, church organizations, clubs and civic groups and the department of agriculture and other governmental agencies all chipped in to decorate the town in Latin-American flags and colors and to build window displays featuring imports from South America. After a mile-long parade of 10 bands mixed with groups of children marching in units representing each Latin-American nation, Dr. Quintanilla, speaking to the crowd of 10,000 said, "There certainly is no evidence of the so-called midwest isolationism in this Pan-American celebration." Praising the 'good neighbor' policy, the minister declared that

The break between the minister here and the government in Copenhagen had been impending for months. Before he signed the Greenland agreement, he disregarded orders from Copenhagen

U.S. Policies

Pointing out that "we know of your presidents as three types, the 'big stick,' 'dollar diplomats,' and 'good neighbor,'" he said that the marines landed and the dollar followed, while under the second type the dollar was invested and the marines followed. Explaining that the 'good neighbor' keeps his word and does not use the flag or the dollar as instruments of imperialism, Dr. Quintanilla said, "President Roosevelt really baptised the 'good neighbor' policy in 1933." He pointed out that what has happened in Europe can happen here and predicted that constitutional democracies, such as those in the western hemisphere, would continue only if their political phases become "less intolerant" and the economic forces "not so impatient."

U. S. Glum Over Allies Weak Stand Against Nazis in Balkans

Fear Germans To Take All Of Near East

No Reports Confirm Statements British Fleeing From Greece

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Highly competent observers took an exceedingly glum view tonight of the short-run prospects of the British and their allies in the terrific struggle now raging in the Balkans and northern Africa.

The question being asked was not whether the British, the Greeks and the Yugoslavs can stop the nazis where they are, but whether they can prevent the foe from making a clean sweep of the whole eastern Mediterranean, including Egypt, the Suez canal and the Middle East oil fields.

No Information

Officials said they had no information to substantiate the statements of DNB, the official German news agency, that the British already are fleeing from Greece; that they were reembarking not only at harbors but along the shores of the open sea.

Some highly placed persons expressed doubt that this particular report was true, for two reasons:

1. The British, they believed, could hardly "run out" on their allies.
2. Even if they should decide to evacuate their army from Greece, it is questionable whether they could do so with anything like complete success. The risk of reembarkment from Aegean ports under the fire of nazi bombers based in Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and even in eastern Greece would be terrible.

Despite reports from many quarters that the British had succeeded in getting a formidable army of 200,000 or more men to Greece, informed persons here have been saying privately all along that it was hardly larger than a "token force"—say 50,000 or 60,000 men.

If that force should be defeated and all of Greece taken, observers here would consider it a blow to the allies, but not necessarily an extremely serious one, provided the nazi gains stopped there.

After all, it is pointed out, one of the purposes of opening up a front in the Balkans was to create a diversion, to draw some of the German strength away from the main theater of war, the Atlantic and around England. The "token" force would thus have served a good purpose, it is argued, even though only for a short time.

Miscalculated Nazi Strength

But the amazing thrust of the Germans along the North African coast to Egypt is considered something else again. There is evidence, it is said, that the British miscalculated the strength of this German operation, which already has undone much of the damage General Archibald Wavell's men inflicted on the axis cause when they were pitted against the Italians.

It is this north African thrust, taken in conjunction with the situation in the Balkans, that makes experts here fear for the safety of Egypt and the Suez. This, in turn, is leading some persons to wonder whether it will be any use for the United States to rush supplies to Egypt.

Even if the whole eastern Mediterranean front collapsed there would be no disposition here to consider the war lost to the British and their allies. Far from it. But there is also no attempt to disguise the fact that it would enormously complicate the situation.

formed quarters was the remark "You may be sure that there is a plan; also that the German army doesn't rush into adventures, a policy which eliminates to the greatest degree humanly possible any chance of failure."

Nazis Beyond Tobruk

It appeared that the Germans had swept past the port of Tobruk, in Libya, without pausing to capture it. That base was besieged from land and a dispatch of the official German news agency DNB said the British cornered there were trying to escape by sea.

Dive bombers were on the spot bombarding transports and other vessels in the harbor. DNB also reported that eight of 14 British armored cars which made a "desperate effort" to escape by land had been destroyed.

Probable Preparation

In Greece, a line which ran roughly from German-occupied Salonika westward along the northern border was being consolidated. Whether in this region or further south there was to be a clash with British forces in Greece was a question expected to be answered in the next few days. Some observers were inclined to the opinion that there would be a short period of preparation.

The nazi high command asserted that the backbone of Yugoslav resistance had been broken with the destruction of "the general mass of the Serb army," although fighting of a local character still was in progress.

Some of this appeared to be in the region of Mis. Another portion of the Serb army, DNB reported, was being driven from the central section toward the Adriatic sea.

There was no information or comment here on British reports that Serb forces had broken into Albania and occupied the chief seaport of Durazzo, which is an Italian base.

In Zagreb (Croat capital in Yugoslavia), General Sladko Kvaternik was setting up his independent Croat government and told the German press that it sees eye to eye with Germany in all matters of policy.

There was no suggestion, however, that Croatia should participate in the fighting.

The German air force again concentrated much of its attention on the south Grecian harbors. The Germans claimed to have seriously damaged a large steamer at the port of Piraeus and to have hit a British destroyer.

Nazis Applaud Russian Pact With Japanese

BERLIN, April 14 (AP)—By signing the Russian-Japanese neutrality pact, Soviet Russia takes an ordered place in the "organization of great world spaces," which tripartite members are arranging, the German commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland said tonight.

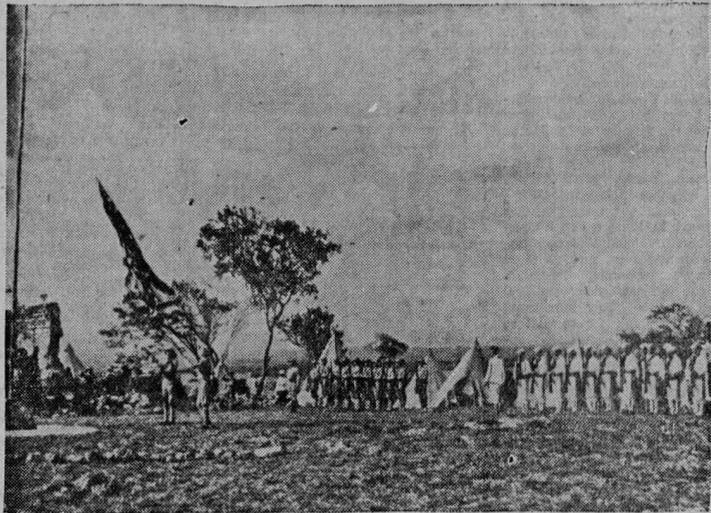

Such world spaces have been defined roughly by writers and commentators here as:

Europe and Africa where Germany and Italy are to be dominant; the orient where Japan was to have her sphere of influence; the western hemisphere where the United States or some Pan-American scheme of leadership was to be allowed to work out its destiny; Russia was said to have a dual Asiatic and European mission.

How Russia might feel about such a division of the world was a question which Germans now believed was answered by the Japanese-Russian agreement.

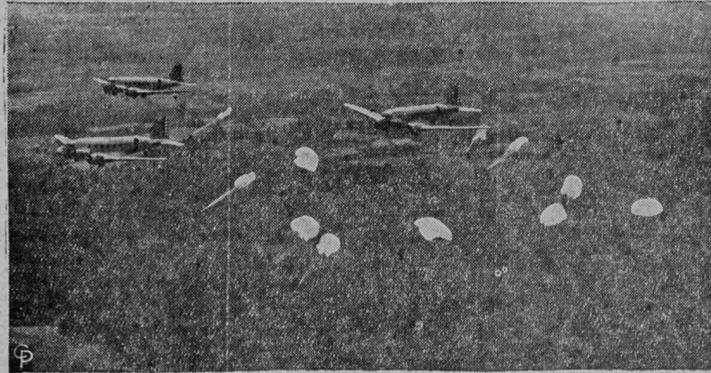

The interpretation here is that Russia signified her approval of the new era's broad outlines. Without, of course, being in it, it is felt in Berlin that Russia now is already to march in the same direction with the axis and has adjusted herself to it.

and supply dumps destroyed," he wrote.

Masses of shouting Serbs are hurling themselves "repeatedly and uselessly" by land and speedboat against Italian defenses at the northern Albanian lakeshore town of Scutari, fascist dispatches from the Balkan front said tonight.

Accounts of the violent fighting there were coupled with reports of further fascist penetration of Yugoslavia in the south, an advance through broken Greek lines toward Corizza (Korizza), first major Italian base captured by the Greeks in the Albanian counter-invasion last fall, and a high command announcement that the British have been thrown back across the Egyptian border on the north African front.

The Yugoslavs were declared checked or driven back by fascist assaults everywhere along the 420-mile front.

The Greeks, according to Il Giornale d'Italia, have brought up their last three divisions of reserves to stem the Italian march of several army corps to the south.

For 48 hours the Serbs have been moving in wave upon wave, through rain and snow against Scutari, on the southern shore of a lake of the same name, only to be mowed down by fascist machine-guns and scattered by Italian airmen, war front advisers said.

Italian motor torpedo boats were declared to have thwarted attempts by the Serbs to land troops from speedboats darting across the choppy waters of the lake, which straddles the Albanian-Yugoslav border.

and economic cooperation between the two powers.

Such outstanding questions were listed as follows:

(1) A trade agreement which has been in negotiation for months, but without concrete result as yet.

(2) A permanent fisheries agreement respecting the rights Japan is to receive in waters adjoining the Siberian coasts, one of the most troublesome questions in Soviet-Japanese relations. This, too, has been the subject of long negotiation.

(3) Demarcation of the frontiers of Japan's puppet state of Manchoukuo and Russia's protege, the outer Mongolian peoples republic.

A joint commission has been set up at this task, too, for many months.

The dispute over where these frontiers lie has been a cloud on far eastern peace ever since Japan occupied Manchoukuo in 1931, and broke into undeclared warfare at least twice, in 1938 and 1939.

In general, the agreement was said by the organ to correspond "entirely to the policy of peaceful relations with neighbors and other countries carried on by the Soviet Union."

Camp Life All-Out Aid to Greece Really All-Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

FORT JACKSON, S.C.—Private Harry Demosthenes of Savannah, Ga., came pretty close to the "all-out" point in aiding the land of his forebears.

When he appeared at a recent clothing check, a suit of long winter under was missing.

"I didn't need it down here in South Carolina, sir," he explained. "So I gave it to the Greek war relief fund."
