Axis Heads Tighten Discipline on Home Front; Blast Wipes Out Nazi-Held Explosives Factory

Japanese Don't Show Up For Axis Meeting

Decide to Increase Number of Forces On Red Battlefront

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
BERN, Switzerland (AP) — Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini were reported last night to have dwelt in the main during two days of conference at Salzburg on measures for increasing the number of effective axis troops in the Russian front and on rigid enforcement of home discipline both in Germany and Italy.

They also were believed by competent diplomatic analysts to have given up any hope on negotiating a peace this spring, after three weeks of unofficial overtures.

Axis communiques yesterday disclosed the bare facts of the dictators' eleventh meeting Wednesday and Thursday, and axis commentators said, as usual, that it was a preface to "great political and military events" early this summer.

Contrary to expectations, the Japanese ambassador to Berlin, Lieut. Gen. Hiroshi Oshima, was not on hand, and it was noted that official German accounts of the meeting spoke of "the uniform war plan of the axis and beyond that of the tripartite pact powers," and of the "hard determination of Germany and Italy and their allies to render final victory secure" (as though Japan was a separate entity in the totalitarian strategy.)

It was believed, however, that Oshima might meet Hitler and Mussolini in the near future for a detailed discussion of axis war efforts. Foreign military observers here thought this would involve an effort to get Japan into the war against Russia by summer.

Behind the familiar axis communique curtain, decorated with such phrases as the one that "a perfect accord of views" had been reached at the meetings "on the further conduct of the war by the two nations in both political and military spheres," qualified observers saw evidences that the Salzburg conference ranked as probably the most important that Hitler and Mussolini ever have had.

This, it was pointed out, is the first time they have come together after publicly alluding to the sharp need for greater discipline and morale on the home front.

Allies Stage Surprise Air Attack on Guinea

Start Numerous Fires In Lightning Assault On Jap Landing Field

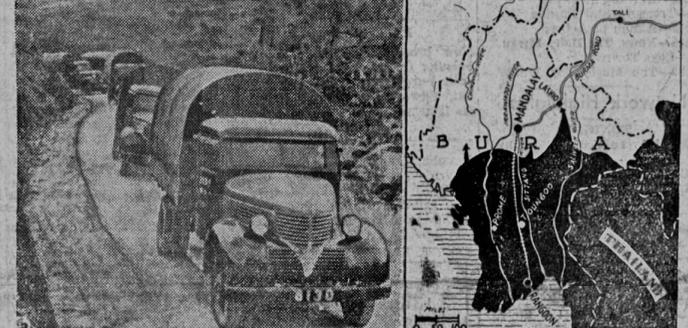

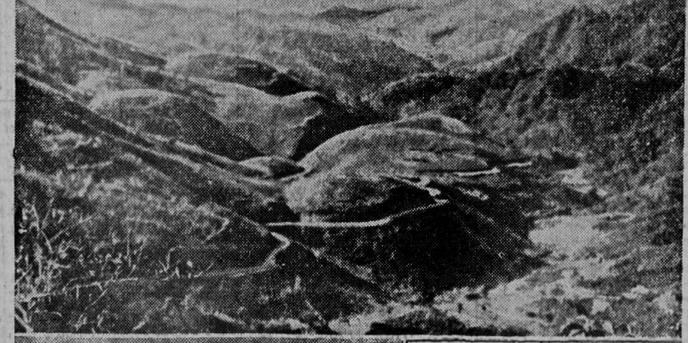

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia (AP) — Allied airmen swept down on an enemy airdrome at Lae in New Guinea Thursday, bombed and machine-gunned 30 planes lined up on the ground in a surprise attack and roared off after starting numerous large fires, a communique announced yesterday.

In another raid on Salamaua, 20 miles to the south, other allied bombers shot down three Japanese defending planes, and then unloaded their explosives on ground installations.

Allied losses were described as slight in the communique from General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters.

Eight Japanese bombers raided Horn Island off Cape York at the northeast tip of Australia with little damage, while another Japanese formation raided Tulagi in the Solomon Islands "without effect," the communique said.

JAPS CLOSING ON CHINA'S LAST OUTLET TO WORLD

China sent reinforcements streaming down the Burma road yesterday in a supreme attempt to halt the Japanese forces which in a backdoor thrust are raging through northeastern Burma. The Jap spearhead forging north from the recently captured Lashio and the Mandalay railroad are attempting to cut the famed Burma road, China's last existing lifeline to the outside world. Most of the supplies furnished by the United States were hauled into China over this road, shown in an airview, top. The map, lower right, shows how the Japanese have occupied most of Burma.

Reds Declare Hitler's Offensive Now Punctured Beyond Repair

High Schools of U.S. May Begin Operation On 12-Month Basis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Year-around operation of America's 25,467 high schools—eliminating summer vacations—in a plan for full mobilization of education behind the war effort was urged yesterday by the U. S. Office of Education's war-time commission. Among the courses proposed for the summer was "aviation education."

A wide range of activity was recommended for the "all types" of schools, meaning that thousands of elementary schools might also remain open during the summer, along with high schools—not for instruction of pupils but to render special community services.

Attendance at the summer schools would not be compulsory for the nation's 7,334,000 high school students, the U. S. office of Education said.

Women's Army Plans Dropped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam has more nieces looking for work than there are war jobs for them at the moment, and for that reason, President Roosevelt disclosed yesterday that the proposed voluntary registration of women this summer has been dropped.

Mrs. Roosevelt has advocated a nation-wide registration, and Rep. Baldwin (R-NY) has pending in the house a bill calling for such a registration.

President Roosevelt told his press conference that immediate plans for the registration have been dropped after Paul V. McNutt had learned there were more women looking for jobs than there are openings for them at the moment.

Issue Imposing List Of New Red Victories To Back Up Contentions

KUIBYSHEV, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The guns, the bombs and the bayonets of the red army have punctured beyond repair Adolf Hitler's vaunted spring offensive plans, the Russians declared on this May Day in announcing an imposing list of new Soviet victories by land and sea to bear them out.

To the nation's workers and fighters Joseph Stalin broadcast a message of confidence, the army newspaper Red Star praised the armed forces for "converting into a fable" Hitler's early offensive preparations and the Moscow radio announced these victories for Soviet arms.

The sinking of a German battleship—the first claimed thus far by the Russians—by the red navy's Baltic fleet.

A total of 58,000 Germans killed or wounded and 248 enemy planes destroyed in April on the Leningrad front alone.

The Moscow communique reported a 9,000-ton German transport had been sunk in the Barents sea and listed 38 Nazi aircraft destroyed Thursday against nine Soviet losses.

In a resume of the Baltic fleet's operations—presumably since the war's start—the radio announcement listed 47 German ships destroyed, including the battleship, a cruiser, 16 destroyers, 18 submarines, 18 torpedo boats and 114 transports.

Soviet airmen and anti-aircraft gunners of the Baltic fleet were credited with having downed 721 enemy planes.

In an order of the day for May Day, Stalin represented Russia as the hope of all freedom loving nations and a force which is capable of saving the world from the Hitlerite plague.

Five Republicans and One Democrat File Nomination Papers Before Final Deadline

Five republicans and one democratic candidate for county offices filed nomination papers before the deadline at midnight last night, bringing the total number of candidates to 17.

Filing nomination papers yesterday were Charles A. Bowman (R) for county treasurer, L. E. Brinkmeyer, Lone Tree, (R) for county sheriff and Dr. C. O. Parks (R) for county coroner.

Three candidates filed for the 1944 term on the board of supervisors. They were Earl Webster and Willard W. Watters, both republicans, and Elmer M. Dewey of Tiffin, democrat.

Only one candidate who took out papers failed to file. He was William Plank, republican aspirant for the 1943 term of board of supervisors.

The final list of candidates seeking nomination for county offices in the June 1 primaries is as follows:

For county treasurer—Lumir W. Jansa (D), incumbent, Charles A. Bowman (R).
For county auditor—Ed Sulek (D), incumbent.
For county recorder—R. J. (Dick) Jones (R), incumbent.
For county sheriff—Preston Koser (D), incumbent, L. E. Brinkmeyer (R).
For county clerk—R. Neill (See NOMINATIONS, page 5)

Hint Belgians Sabotage Plant To Aid Allies

Report 250 Killed Over 1,000 Injured In Belgium Factory

LONDON (AP)—A tremendous explosion has wiped out the German-controlled gas and explosives factory at Tessenderloo in north Belgium, killed 250 persons and injured upwards of 1,000, advices from the Nazi-occupied nation disclosed yesterday.

The blast occurred in an industrial and mining area where sabotage has been rife, and the impression was strong in London that the secretly-armed Belgium "white brigade," a band of patriots, which is preparing for the day when they can assist allied invasion of the low countries, had now struck a hard first blow at the conqueror.

The German army was in complete charge at Tessenderloo, and the German account of the blast, distributed by the Berlin radio, said "The cause of the disaster, which has not been ascertained, is the subject of an inquiry."

But later in the day the German radio reported 100 "communists" were being deported from Belgium to the east for fomenting sabotage in factories and elsewhere and for causing strikes.

The blast occurred at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Berlin said it was "completely destroyed" and added: "This factory produces artificial manures of various kinds and washing preparations for the Belgian market only."

"The devastating explosion extended over a radius of several hundred yards."

"As the explosion occurred when the factory was full, the number of casualties is high."

In contrast to the German description of the factory, the free Belgian news agency said it was equipped with modern machinery and compressor batteries for manufacturing sulphuric acid, synthetic ammonia and nitric acid for explosives and gas.

Malta Raid

VALLETTA, Malta (AP)—Six enemy planes were destroyed and eight damaged during raids on Malta in the last 24 hours, a British headquarters communique said.

Application forms for students who are interested in this program are available at the office of student affairs in Old Capitol. Forms should be completed before the beginning of the first examination.

Big Passenger Plane Crashes

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Police said last night a plane, believed to be a United Airlines Mainliner, crashed into the mountainside just outside Salt Lake City limits.

The plane burst into flames.

Fire crews, police, sheriff's officers and an army detachment from the Salt Lake air base went to the scene.

It was not disclosed how many persons were aboard the plane which had just taken off from the municipal airport.

Balaan Heroes Given Awards

WASHINGTON (AP) — The heroism of 101 Americans and Filipinos in the defense of the Philippines was officially recognized yesterday in a war department communique announcing a list of awards of the distinguished service cross.

Covering awards made since the Japanese invasion of the islands started Dec. 7, the list included the names of Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright, now Philippine commander, and others whose decorations had been reported previously.

One navy officer, Lieutenant John D. Bulkeley, commander of a squadron of motor torpedo boats which inflicted heavy damage on enemy shipping, has been given the army's DSC, it was disclosed. Bulkeley already has the navy cross.

Invader Holds Strong Position Above Lashio

Japs Appear Headed Down the Burma Road Into Free-China Area

By WILLIAM SMITH WHITE
Associated Press War Editor

The Japanese enemy, extending his victory in the greatest phase of the battle for Burma, appeared last night to be trying to follow the Burma road into China itself, and the question thus raised was whether he now intended to devote every major effort to subduing that oldest of his antagonists.

Whether or not this was the real meaning of his maneuver it appeared clearly in that light, for the Chinese command announced that Japanese invading forces had driven northeastward some 22 miles from fallen Lashio although the defenders were at last report strongly holding at that point.

Lashio was at the railroad of the Burma road; the enemy movement thus described had brought him to a point only 45 miles west and 55 miles south of the Chinese frontier.

This thrust, if successfully continued, would pose a new threat to the Chinese homeland, which for some time has had to contend with a local enemy drive in Honan province and with heavy enemy air raids on the eastern and central provinces.

In central Burma on the allied right, meanwhile, the British, after an earlier 80-mile withdrawal northward forced by the fall of Lashio, withdrew to the right bank of the Irrawaddy river in the region west of Mandalay.

This was essentially a routine continuation of the one maneuver presently left to the British commander, who must fall back to protect the approaches to India and the new routes to China which are to replace the Burma road.

Dark as was the whole situation, there were two somewhat mitigating circumstances:

1. Chungking announced that a certain alternative supply routes from India already were in operation, although not presumably on a very large scale, and it was disclosed that allied air transports (See CHINESE, page 5)

Nazi-Held Continental Coast Suffers Huge British Aerial Attack

LONDON (AP)—Hundreds of British planes swung across the channel at late twilight yesterday in what coast observers called one of the war's greatest single thrusts against the Nazi-held continental coast.

Resumption of the massive British attacks followed a weather-enforced overnight break in the 9-day-old, round-the-clock offensive and came on the heels of neutral dispatches from Germany which some London quarters interpreted as hints that the Nazis were more than willing to call off their aerial duel with Britain now, but which brought only expression of scorn from an authoritative source here.

Commenting on the reported Nazi willingness to call quits in the air war, one informant gave this British response:

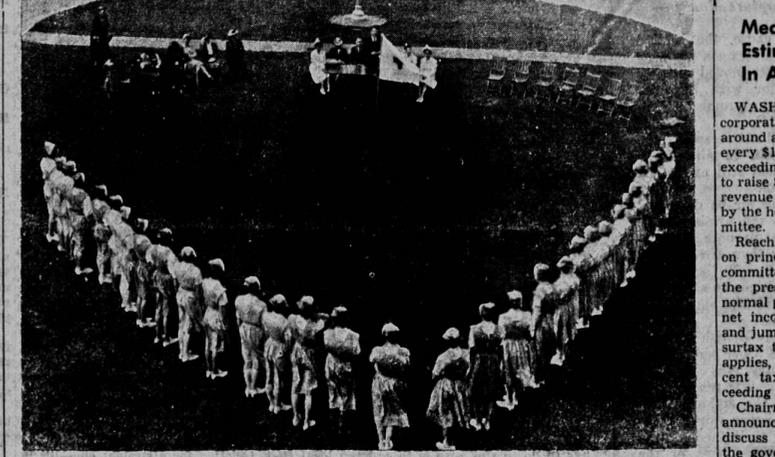

"We are going after those blighters wherever they are and at every chance we get, and that is final."

As to the so-called "guide book blitz" by the Nazis—that directed at the historic points of England—Home Secretary Herbert Morrison issued a challenge in the Shakespearean spirit of "lay on MacDuff and damned be him that first cries, hold, enough."

Leahy Leaves France

VICHY, France, (AP) — U. S. Ambassador William D. Leahy's special train pulled out of the Vichy station at 10 o'clock last night.

FIRST RED CROSS NURSES' AIDE GROUP 'GRADUATED'

Thirty-three Iowa City women were graduated yesterday from their training to become the first local group of volunteer nurses' aides of the American Red Cross. Their formal training period ended, they will now begin their volunteer service as aides to the nurses of University and Mercy hospitals. In a ceremony before University hospital yesterday afternoon, nurses aides received their official Red Cross insignia from Lois Corder, director of the school of nursing, and Bernice Seelman, Mercy hospital nurse. Many of them housewives and mothers, this group's training represents a significant patriotic participation in the local war effort, for they will now perform duties which will relieve graduate nurses for wartime services. It is hoped that a second training class will begin May 11. Local women who wish to join that group are urged to contact the local Red Cross office, Mrs. George D. Stoddard or Miss Corder.

House Group Okays New Corporation Tax

Measure Would Raise Estimated 2 1/2 Billion In Additional Revenue

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new corporation tax program built around a flat levy taking $94 out of every $100 of excess profits—those exceeding normal—and estimated to raise $2,500,000,000 in additional revenue was approved yesterday by the house ways and means committee.

Reaching tentative agreements on principal corporate taxes, the committee also decided to retain the present 24 per cent tax on normal profits of corporations with net income of more than $25,000 and jumped the present 7 per cent surtax to 16 per cent. This latter applies, in addition to the 24 per cent tax, on normal profits exceeding $25,000.

Chairman Doughton (D-Neb) announced the committee would discuss Monday suggestions that the government return to corporations after the war some part of the taxes collected under wartime rates.

The 94 per cent tax, double existing rates in many cases, was designed, members said, both to raise new revenue and to control profits of corporations enjoying lucrative war contracts.

There's a Second Front Now---

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

But the Drain on our Plane Production Offsets Its Value

WASHINGTON—A second front has been inaugurated already in Europe—in the air. The daily pounding of RAF bombers on German production will be accelerated, but there are limitations to how far it can go. The British lost 18 four-engine ships in a recent raid.

The seriousness of such a loss is evident when you consider our maximum production goal is about that many ships daily. The Nazis abandoned the air front in Britain because it was too expensive.

The story persists that General Marshall and Harry Hopkins went over to persuade the British to invade the continent immediately by sea. What they really went about is the demand which is being placed on our production, mainly our planes.

The reds want bombers. The Syrian front is screaming for fighting ships. India has put in hurry calls for arms and General MacArthur thinks he can lunge back at the Japs if he can get sufficient air strength.

These are more immediate problems than invasion of the continent.

Roosevelt Inflation Plan Inadequate

The president said he is spending $100,000,000 a day, will spend $200,000,000 daily before the end of the year and that this sum will cause inflation unless he acts.

Yet only two steps in his plan are directed toward the cause. He wants to draw back an indefinite sum by having war workers (who are getting most of it) buy bonds voluntarily, a confiscatory excess profits tax of corporations, such as he mentioned, would recapture some.

But these two methods will not recapture more than a small fraction of $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 a day. Average daily bond sales the first twenty seven days of April amounted to $17,000,000. The July goal is $33,000,000. Daily excess profits tax income cannot be calculated, but it will not raise much.

Thus when the plan goes into effect, the great bulk of the money will remain outstanding, mainly in the hands of war workers and corporations. That is why so many economic authorities outside the government doubt that Mr. Roosevelt's course can be successful in curtailing the inflation evil he sees.

Price Ceilings Won't Recapture Money

There is a secondary cause, the limited amount of goods for which "excess income" can be spent. The president moved directly at this contributing factor with the new Henderson price ceiling and a promise of limited rationing.

But the price ceiling will not recapture the money. It will still remain in circulation seeking other outlets. It will still exist as a menace promoting inflation.

Perhaps the fault can better be described by citing the plans which the president did not recommend. He did not propose broadening the income tax base further. He shunned a general sales tax. (Incidentally both these would be generalized impositions on all groups and not specifically on those who have excess money.)

He eschewed a method the British are now putting into effect—a 66 2/3 per cent tax on luxuries such as furs, jewelry, etc.

He also discarded one specific remedy. He did not want to increase the 40-hour work week as a basis for pay to war workers, because that would decrease their income—the very income which is causing most of the worry. Such an increase in the work week would in effect be an excess profits tax on labor, not nearly as drastic as the excess profits tax on industry.

Gas Rationing Worries Government

Most worrisome thing to the government is the gas rationing. Howls are expected from every quarter, because the essential need of each citizen for gas is different from that of any other citizen.

Cars are used as a necessity for transportation to and from work. Substitute transportation facilities are inadequate. Few people in this city, for instance, can get to and from work on five gallons of gas a week. Certainly housewives cannot shop and take children to school.

Thus fair rationing is impossible. If the government is not careful, its forthcoming step is likely to prove a great demoralizer.

Just as much gas, as well as official headaches, might be saved if the government abandoned the rationing theory entirely and devoted itself strictly to outlasting pleasure driving—driving at night or on Sundays without a business necessity permit.

Flying Fortress Feats

Great feat of the Flying Fortress dramatized by the president in his fireside chat was the same mentioned at the top of this column April 7. That ship is still supreme in the air. Nothing developed by Britain or Germany can touch it, and the Japs have nothing near it.

India Promised Freedom in 1917

A debate seems to have started over a recent side-remark in this spot that Britain had promised India independence once before in 1916. Only the date was wrong.

The Montagu declaration of British policy, made in the house of commons, August 20, 1917, promised "increasing the association of Indians in every branch of the administration and the gradual development of self-governing institutions with a view to the progressive realization of responsible government in India as an integral part of the British empire."

This was accepted without contradiction at the time as an offer of dominion status after the World war.

Do Your Bit to Help Johnson County's Salvage Drive TODAY

"Help win the war by getting in the scrap"—is one of the latest battle cries of the United States, and, although this slogan doesn't mean that we should all rush overseas to fight, its purport is just as significant to our winning of the war.

This cry is coming from steel mills and other defense plants which, although they have upped production beyond expectations so far in the present war, could be doing an even better and bigger job if they could utilize the "waste" lying around in junk piles all over the United States.

Campaigns to see to it that the tons of scrap iron and steel, waste paper, old rags and old rubber needed in welding the fighting tools of America's armed forces are collected and forwarded to the proper channels are now being conducted throughout the nation.

Johnson county's drive for salvage materials is already underway. It is being conducted in the main by school children who are expected to collect the smaller materials which they can carry, as well as to spot the larger objects which can be picked up by trucks of the local salvage committee. In addition to this general drive, Iowa City Boy and Girl Scouts will make a door-to-door salvage collection throughout the city today.

Farmers, especially, are being asked to look around their farms for scrap iron. If they have no means by which to get it into local junk dealers, the committee will gladly send trucks around to pick it up. All the farmer has to do in this case is to call the local Red Cross office and tell them to have it gathered.

How the citizen disposes of his scrap materials isn't what the government is really interested in, however. He can give it to charity or other organizations which are collecting it to aid in the war effort, or he can sell it through regular channels. The all-important thing is to salvage—to salvage for victory.

Even Dressmakers' Row to Standardize

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—This is the town you'd expect to stage a collective swoon at the prospect of standardized clothes for women. It didn't come off.

Dressmaker's Row, from ocean to valley, may have bitten its fingernails in perplexity or anguish of spirit, yet on the whole it maintained a cheerful calm. If you know the Row, this is sensational.

The movie dressmakers, men and women, long have prided themselves on style-setting.

In the good old days, to quote a modern, "Any dress the average woman wouldn't be caught dead in was a good movie dress."

Later, as the movies matured—they did, didn't they?—film styles centered more and more on designs real women wouldn't mind being caught dead in, if they had to be caught dead.

Even so, the boys and girls of the needle and scissors kept up a spirited rivalry. This won't be ended by WPB's order. Chic, as the boys and girls call it, will go on in spite of war and Donald M. Nelson.

Nor is there any crying over short wool or vanished velvets.

Practical Edith Head, the Paramount whipper-upper, said the movie fashion problem would be solved by the very times.

"We wouldn't want our stars to wear clothes the woman in the audience couldn't have. They'd be out of step," she said, "and any display of scarce or rationed materials would be harmful—both to the stars and to morale. With styles frozen, we can still work on little differences in design, and on accessories—within the limits of the restrictions."

Earl Luick, at 20th, had the WPB thrown at him in the midst of a wholesale assignment. He was whipping up for half a dozen stars and starlets in "Orchestra Wife." "If they merely limit material," he said a few days before the order, "it won't affect designing much. I can make a pleated skirt from the same amount of material allotted for a straight one—it's in the scissors." He was going to draw up a diagram to pass on to the women, showing how the scissors did it, but after the order he thought he'd better not.

"The real designers," he said, "will go on creating under the restrictions."

A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

Vaudeville Hasn't Returned for Sure
By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—I do not know any more than you whether vaudeville has staged an honest-to-goodness comeback, but if I had to bet on it I'd say no. One swallow does not make a summer and one big vaudeville extravaganza that is a hit on Broadway in no way establishes the return of a phase of entertainment that died years ago. People will always crowd a theater—any theater—to see a cast of headliners go through their paces, but when you talk of vaudeville, as a part of show business, returning to its former eminence, you are saying that thousands of skits and acts are successfully swinging the show circuits of America, as they did in the days before the depression.

I don't think that the success of one or two shows on Broadway has any significance. There is a tendency hereabouts to brand anything of which New York approves as of national character. This is a mistake. You can build a show around Victor Moore, Paul Draper, the Hartmans, and a dozen other first flight stars and make a showing with them anywhere at any time, but you can not institute a system and have it hold up in communities, great or small, in all sections of the country.

That's what vaudeville was in its prime. It was a phase of American life, just as Fords, drug stores and G-men. People wanted that type of entertainment—the acrobats, the adagio dancers, the baggy-pants comics, the stooges, traveling salesmen and farmers' daughters translated into terms of five minute skits on movie theater stages. They don't any more. They haven't. . . that is. . . Not enough of them have for a long, long time. . . and I don't think they do now.

I have read some dozen or twenty articles and statements in recent days on the wonderful revival of vaudeville. . . Unfortunately, this is misleading. . . What happened was that a couple of showmen collected some really able artists, whose names have been kept brightly alive because of their stage, radio, nightclub, and film work, and cast them in an extravagant vaudeville show on Broadway. That is all. It isn't "vaudeville" that's a success. It's Victor Moore. . . It's Paul Draper.

Fight With Our Flyers

IN THE MIGHTIEST AIR ARMY IN THE WORLD!

The U. S. Army Air Forces New Open Officers' Training To All Qualified Men (18 to 26 inclusive) In Business - In High School - In College. Apply NOW.

IF you are itching to be in the thick of the fight—and you'd like to slip those Japs and Nazis a man-sized dose of their own medicine—
Then here's your chance to do something about it!
The U. S. Army Air Forces urgently need every young man in America who can qualify for the New Officers' Training Program. And 100,000 are needed as of today.

NEW SIMPLIFIED REQUIREMENTS
The Army Air Forces have recently picked their officer candidates from America's top young men. That always will be so.

But the method of selection has been recently changed to include single and married men in business, industry, high school—as well as in college—who can meet the new simplified requirements for physical and mental fitness.

When accepted and when facilities are ready, you will go into Aviation Cadet training, receive $75 a month with expenses paid.

In less than a year—usually 8 months—you can try for an Officer's Commission—as a Bombardier, a Navigator or a Pilot—"The Three Musketeers of the Air!" And you'll be up there ready to "dish it out" from a big, blunt-nosed bomber or sleek pursuit ship.

If you have had the necessary college courses—you can likely win a commission in ground service—in Armament, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology or Photography.

This past year approximately 80% of all Aviation Cadets won commissions. So your chances are excellent.

ADVANCEMENT AND PAY
As a Second Lieutenant with the U.S. Army Air Forces, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month. Advancement should be rapid because of the tremendous expansion of the Army Air Forces.

After the war—all the brilliant opportunities in commercial aviation await you!

WHAT TO DO NOW
If you want to do some real fighting for America—up there where the eyes of the world are watching . . . if you want years of solid achievement you wouldn't trade for anything . . . then there's an honored place waiting for you in the Army Air Forces. And we want you!

For further information . . . drop in any Army Recruiting and Induction Station listed below for a friendly chat. If you would like to enlist now with one of the Examining Boards, arrangements can be made for you to take your mental and physical examinations the same day.

The sooner you apply, the sooner you will go on the list for immediate training. The wings of vengeance are growing in America's skies. Assure your place now in the greatest air fleet of all time—apply today.

NOTE: Those under 21 years of age will require parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants.

THREE WAYS TO ENLIST

All Men of 18 to 26 Years (inclusive) who pass their Aviation Cadet examination and apply for immediate Air Cadet training.

1. may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turns come for Aviation Cadet training.
2. or they may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and wait until they are ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.

3. In addition to the two ways outlined above college men and high school seniors (upon entering college) aged 18 to 26, inclusive, may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standings.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred status in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The new Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Plan is part of an over-all Army Enlisted Reserve Corps program shortly to be announced. This program will provide opportunities for college men to enlist in other branches of the Army on a deferred basis and to continue their education through graduation if a satisfactory standard of work is maintained. In case of necessity the Secretary of War determines when they may be called to active duty.

Men so enlisted shall have the opportunity of competing for vacancies in officer's candidate schools.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuation of education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R.O.T.C. plans.)

Although she wonders what to write next in her letter, Marilyn Hammer, Pi Phi, has no worries about her choice of spring and summer shoes. She knows that the red BONANZA wedgies from DOMBY BOOT SHOP she is wearing are the latest in high-styled comfort.

The open-toed ventilation and soft leather mean cool walking with the added support of a built-up sole. The saddle-side leather will wear the duration if necessary, but frivolous gold hobnails edging the sole deny it in the best morale-boosting spirit.

Although Miss Hammer chose red to compliment her warm weather wardrobe, equally seasonable are white and tan.

MADISON, Wis., (AP)—Wisconsin opened its Big Ten baseball season yesterday by defeating Illinois, 6 to 3, on Ed Scheive's five-hit pitching.

Scheive, an outfielder last season and a shortstop through the Badger's preliminary games, was converted into a pitcher when other Wisconsin moundsmen were injured. Yesterday's start was his first in a college game.

The loss was the Illini's second in seven conference games.

Hawkeye Nine Squeezes Past Chicago, 1-0

Faber Hurls One-Hitter In Pitcher's Duel

Victory Puts Iowa In 2nd Place Behind Badgers in Big Ten

Iowa's Hawkeyes ran up against an inspired Chicago nine here yesterday afternoon and came out victorious only by the skin of their teeth, 1-0, behind the masterful one-hit hurling of Bob Faber.

The victory gave Iowa second place in the Big Ten standings behind Wisconsin which opened its conference season with a win over Illinois. Illinois was previously tied with Iowa for third place. Michigan and Ohio State, the former leaders, also went down in defeat yesterday. In holding down second place, Iowa has now won six conference games against only one defeat.

Faber, the big Hawk right-hander, just missed a no-hit game when Dick Reynolds, the Maroon's left fielder, placed a hit just out of the reach of Iowa's fleet center fielder, Bud Flanders, in the fifth inning.

In notching his third conference win of the season, Faber whiffed nine batters, walked only one, and connected for one hit on his own account to keep his batting average .500 in Big Ten games.

Score in Fifth

The Hawks scored their lone run in the fifth frame when Flanders singled, stole second and raced around to score on Clarence "Doc" Dunagan's sharp hit to center field.

Tommy Farmer and Dunagan led Iowa's eight-hit attack with two blows apiece. Harold Lind and Rudy Radics were the tough luck boys, both hitting balls hard, only to have them drop into fielders' hands.

Shanken, the Chicago right fielder, made the most brilliant play of the game, a diving one-out play.

handed catch of Radics' liner in the fourth inning.

Only 28 men faced Faber during the nine innings, and the fifth inning was the only one in which more than three batters came to the plate for Chicago. Other than the one base hit, only one ball was hit out of infield against Big Bob's superb chucking.

Only three Maroons reached first base, and none was able to move past the initial sack. The leadoff man, Cooperider, was safe on Iowa's only error in the first inning, but was caught stealing on a perfect throw by Capt. Bill Welp, Cooperider walking in the fourth, but later hooked in a double play, and Reynolds, singling in the fifth, were the only Chicago batters to arrive safely at first.

The game marked the second consecutive shutout for Iowa, Wendell Hill having turned the trick Tuesday against Western Michigan. Iowa pitchers have now held the opposition scoreless in the last 26 innings. Dick Hein and Hill held Northwestern without a run during the last eight frames last Saturday, Hill burling a shutout Tuesday and Faber turned the trick yesterday.

The Hawks again ran wild on the base paths in yesterday's fracas as they pilfered seven bases on Miller, the Chicago catcher, Ray Koehnck and Farmer each chalked two up to their credit, and Welp, Dunagan and Flanders each stole one base.

Iowa came close to scoring a second run in the seventh frame, but Farmer was nipped at the plate on a close play. With one out, Farmer cracked out his second hit, and stole second, Radics followed by working the pitcher for a walk to put men on first and second.

Koehnck grounded out to the second sacker, and on the play Farmer attempted to score all the way from second, but was thrown out by a hair on a perfect throw by the first baseman, Hirshberg.

Dick Hein will be out to keep Iowa on its winning ways today, and Chicago will probably send Rodney Briggs to the mound in an attempt to break a 24 game Big Ten losing streak.

Race for Money $65,225 Derby Prize At Stake Today

BY SID FEDER
LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP)—The last piece in the jig-saw puzzle that passes as the 68th Kentucky Derby will be fitted into place today, and 17 three-year-old thoroughbreds will try for the $65,225 that goes to the one who can do it.

Through the entry book yesterday, 16 colts and one gelding, headed by Little Requested, from Texas and Devil Diver, the "big hoss" from the east, accepted the challenge to do the job in this widest open derby in history.

Three are still on the "uncertain starter" list. However, the best information last night was that in spite of scratches, at least 15 and maybe all would be in that traditional parade along about 5:30 p. m. (Central War Time) when the hush falls over the assembled thousands and "My Old Kentucky Home" drifts out over picturesque Churchill Downs.

It's the richest derby in all the 67 years this mile and a quarter classic has drawn the attention of a nation each first Saturday in May. And, at the same time, it has never been more confusing and daffy.

There scarcely was anyone who wasn't ready to admit that this field, although somewhat ordinary in class, was as tough to pick as any that ever came along. No one denied that game little Requested, the biggest bargain Ben Whitaker ever bought, and Devil Diver, chief hope of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greenree stable were the horses to beat.

Tigers Claw Yanks For 16 Hits, Win 7-2

NEW YORK (AP)—Detroit's Tigers bombarded three pitchers for 16-hits and lambasted the New York Yankees, 7-2, yesterday to snatch second place in the American league standings from the world champions.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout held the Yanks to four hits in gaining his third mound triumph of the year against one loss, but he had to have help from Hal Newhouse in the ninth when the losers scored their second run on two walks and a hit.

Tommy Henrich scored the Yankees' first run in the fourth on his second homer of the season.

Hawkeye Net Team Faces Purdue Today

Wendlermen to Try For First Triumph Of Current Season

Iowa's tennis team will swing back into Big Ten competition this morning after absorbing three beatings in a row, two from conference foes and one from Grinnell Wednesday. Today's opponent will be the Purdue Boilermakers, recent victim of a 6-1 beating by Illinois.

Iowa, although scoring only three points in the matches to date, has a better record than the books show. Opening competition against Chicago last Friday at the windy city, the Iowans failed to score a point, with "opening day jitters" taking over.

Northwestern, next on the list the following day, triumphed, 7-2. Several of the matches, however, were closer than the final score indicated. A point or two either way could have changed the final outcome, with the breaks going against the Hawkeyes.

Grinnell proved a tougher nut to crack than was originally figured, with Stirling Lord and Ralph Hart powering the Pioneers to victory. Houghton and Ryerson, however, came close to downing their opponents, both losing out in the third set.

Coach Art Wendler has developed a team with only two returning veterans, Capt. Earl Crain and Ryerson. Other members of the team include sophomores Houghton, Basford and Karch, and Evans, a junior playing his first year of competition.

Pittsburgh's Victory Cuts Dodger Lead To Three Games

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates scored two runs in the ninth inning on a wild pitch and an error yesterday to trip the Brooklyn Dodgers, 7-6, and cut a full game off the lead of the national league champions.

The defeat, ending a six-game winning streak for the Dodgers, reduces their margin to three games over the second-place Pirates.

Arky Vaughan, a former Pirate, committed the costly bobble with the basis loaded.

Johnny Allen, fourth Brooklyn hurler, took over in the ninth with a one-run lead and paved the way for his own defeat, his first of the year against two wins.

After pinch-hitter Eddie Stewart had greeted him with a single Allen walked pinch-hitter Culley Rikard and Stu Martin to lead the bases. He fanned Johnny Barrett but uncorked a wild pitch that let Stewart score the tying run.

He passed Bob Elliott purposely, filling the bases again, but Vaughan let Vince Dimaggio's grounder go through his legs and Rikard came home with the winning tally.

Tracksters in 4-Way Meet This Afternoon

Farmer, Kuhl Iowa Threats in Contest At Lafayette, Ind.

Iowa's track team will meet Purdue, Minnesota and Northwestern at Lafayette, Ind., this afternoon in the Hawks' second quadrangular meet of the outdoor season.

Leading competitor for the Hawks are Lee Farmer, Milt Kuhl, Ken Steinbeck and Co-capt. Vollenweider.

Farmer will compete in the 100- and 220-yard dashes and the broad jump. So far this season Farmer remains undefeated in these dash events and has only been beaten once in the broad jump.

Vollenweider, Bill Spencer and Robert Eiel will run the high and low hurdles. Purdue's Chuck Kron and Vollenweider have broken even in the two outdoor meets this spring, but Kron holds the edge over Hank in the low hurdles.

In the field events Kuhl is entered in the high jump and shot put, while Steinbeck is the leading Hawk entry in the pole vault.

Detroit, by beating the Yankees at New York, moved into second. The Indians mauled four Washington pitchers for 16 hits, including four doubles, four triples and a home-run. Les Fleming hit the homer with one on in a 5-run fourth inning. Roberto Tritz hit a home run for Washington in the second.

The Listening Post--

by LOREN BICKERSON

GREAT SPEECH SOMETIME . . .
I don't know whether my great speech will come before or after my novel . . . I only know that both will come before the symphony . . .

We're undergoing a metamorphosis in speech making in this country . . . It's only natural, since the more and more people hear orators, the less and less they think of oratory . . .

The radio has helped that situation along . . . Ever since the first politician got to make the first speech over the first radio station, the air has been blue with speeches . . .

They range in stature from a presidential request for a declaration of war to three minutes about the virtues of floating soap . . . We've heard so much of it that few ever bother to listen to what's being talked about . . .

That's been especially true during the 20th century . . . In times when there are great national problems, everybody talks about them . . . it doesn't take long before all the ideas are exhausted, and after that the speeches are just rehashes of what somebody else said . . .

Nobody wants to listen to that. Look at Lincoln . . . More people have recited his Gettysburg address than any other American speech, I suspect . . . But none of them made quite the hit with it that Lincoln did . . .

All this may look like a pretty sad picture . . . And some even think speeches are declining in power, that the days of the great speechmakers are past . . . I don't Look at Lincoln again . . . More people remember what Lincoln said than what his soldiers did there . . . Otherwise we'd know everybody in America would know—exactly what we're fighting for at this minute . . .

That make a liar out of honest Abe, but it isn't his fault . . . He merely had too much faith in the people to be born after Gettysburg . . .

If the world much noted and long remembered what was said at Gettysburg then proceeded to forget what was done at Gettysburg, the days of great speeches are not past . . .

Because one of these fine days there'll be another Gettysburg, and it won't be in Pennsylvania . . . It may be in Germany, or Russia, or China, or Australia . . . Somebody will undoubtedly make a speech . . .

That speech will deal with many nations, not just one . . . And it will re-dedicate for America in 1863 . . .

The world will much note and long remember what will be said there, and somebody undoubtedly will think of Lincoln, and isn't it strange that all this should happen again . . . ?

But it isn't strange at all, really . . . The groundwork has been gradually laid for it since 1863 . . . Had Lincoln foreseen a world drawn as close together as his nation was then, he would have said, as many have since said, that the world cannot exist, half free and half slave . . .

He would have said it now for the same reasons he said it then . . .

From now on in America, there will be a gradually increasing hope for great speeches . . . Here and there, in increasing numbers, men will come to realize that the world can't exist, half free and half slave . . .

The idea will move them tremendously, coming as it will like a revelation . . . They will be stirred to great depths . . .

When speech makers are stirred to great depths, they forget that they are making speeches . . . When they forget that, people begin to listen again . . .

The American people are yearning for great speech makers, right now . . . They want another Lincoln, whose stature will rise above all our big and little problems, to broadcast the new hope so many

The May term of Johnson county district court convenes at 2 p.m. Monday, May 4, at which time members of the grand jury panel will report for duty. Judge H. D. Evans will preside during the May term.

Grand jurors, summoned to appear the first day of each new term of court, are as follows: J. A. Alt, Penn; J. E. Ashton, Fremont; R. E. Bayless, Union Harold Clearman, Oxford; John A. Eppel, 3rd ward; James Hogan, Hardin; Fred Lovetinsky, West Lucas.

G. H. Miller, Graham; Chas. A. Pudil, Monroe; Roger Reeve, Clear Creek; Stephen Schuessler, Lincoln, and Joe A. Zeneshek, Big Grove.

Next week jury members are expected to consider the case of Joseph and Lauretta Barry of near Oxford, charged with the murder Dec. 26 of Eddie B. Schmidt, Oxford farm laborer.

Sheriff Preston Koser filed an information in Justice T. M. Fairchild's court charging the couple with first degree murder, following the finding of Schmidt's mutilated body on the Barry farm Jan. 1.

In justice court the Barrys waived hearing to the Johnson county grand jury. The couple was released from the county jail following posting of $12,500 bail bond each.

I don't know when I'll make my great speech . . . But then I'd just as soon listen to one as make one.

Because one of these fine days there'll be another Gettysburg, and it won't be in Pennsylvania . . .

But it isn't strange at all, really . . . The groundwork has been gradually laid for it since 1863 . . .

The world will much note and long remember what will be said there, and somebody undoubtedly will think of Lincoln, and isn't it strange that all this should happen again . . . ?

From now on in America, there will be a gradually increasing hope for great speeches . . .

The idea will move them tremendously, coming as it will like a revelation . . . They will be stirred to great depths . . .

When speech makers are stirred to great depths, they forget that they are making speeches . . .

The American people are yearning for great speech makers, right now . . .

They want another Lincoln, whose stature will rise above all our big and little problems, to broadcast the new hope so many

Howard Thompson to Compete in National Radio Debate Over Blue Network May 10

4 Speakers Eligible To Enter Final Round Of Debate Competition

Howard Thompson, A3 of Cedar Falls, will compete in the final radio debate in the American Economic foundation contest to be broadcast on the national "Wake Up, America" forum over the blue network, Sunday, May 10.

This will be the first time a nationwide intercollegiate debate has been presented on the air, according to Dr. William F. Peirce, chairman of the board of trustees of the foundation. Topic of discussion is "Does Youth Have a Fair Opportunity Under Our American System of Competitive Enterprise?"

Thompson's expenses to New York City, where the broadcast is to be held, will be paid by the foundation sponsoring the contest. Two of the four speakers on the Sunday debate will win prizes of $1,000 and $500 each. Judges representing both the studio and listening audiences will select the winners.

Dr. Peirce will be moderator of the debate, and Thompson's colleague will be Charles H. Weiland of Johns Hopkins university.

Out of 184 contestants originally entering the national competition, Thompson is among the four remaining finalists. In the first round he won a $50 prize for his brief on the debate topic, submitted last February.

In April, the SUI contestant won an all-expenses-paid trip to Denver, Col., to appear in a sectional debate broadcast over station KVOO. Other sectional meets were held at Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Baton Rouge, La., and Buffalo, N. Y.

Eight winners of the sectional contests were again judged on written speeches on the topic of youth opportunity under the American system of competitive enterprise, and Thompson's speech won him the right to appear as one of the four finalists.

The committee of judges who selected Thompson and the three other speakers for the New York contest was composed of Arthur Garfield Hays, chief counsel of the American Civil Liberties union; M. S. Rukensyer, author and journalist, and Dr. A. E. Wiggam, author and lecturer.

While Thompson is in New York for the broadcast, he and the other contestants will be entertained at breakfast at the Hotel Devon by Dr. and Mrs. Peirce and at tea at the Fifth avenue apartment of Fred G. Clark, general chairman of the American Economic foundation.

Funeral service for Mrs. Barbara Shimitz, 96, who died at her home, 956 E. Davenport, Thursday evening, will be held this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Wenceslaus church. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vrchovsky, she was born in Bohemia and came to Iowa in 1861.

She is survived by one son, Frank J. of Iowa City; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Stal of Chicago, Mrs. Ann Holmes of Sioux Falls, S.D., and Mrs. Joseph Heisner of Iowa City; 14 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

It's Patriotic to be THRIFTY

A penny saved is a penny for a defense stamp! Your gas range will be a helpful ally in your campaign against waste if you follow these simple rules:

DO plan complete oven and broiler meals, so that gas is not used for just one food such as a cake or chops.

DON'T preheat your oven or broiler too long. Remember gas is fast. Cold start is possible, if you prefer.

DON'T heat any more water in the kettle than necessary. The speedy gas flame will heat it quickly next time you need it.
