

Peace at White House Dinners--

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Even Though the Roosevelts Differ on Women's Registration

WASHINGTON — Mr. Roosevelt turned down Mrs. Roosevelt when he proclaimed himself against draft registration of women—but the first lady may yet have the last word.

Mrs. R. has said several times she thought compulsory registration of her sex was a good idea. Only last week in Boston she said it again.

Earlier she proclaimed in her column that everyone, including women, should actually be told what to do, but when the lady reporters tried to pin her down more specifically at that time, they were dissatisfied with the results.

The president had ample backing for opposing his wife. He based his decision on recommendations of the social security board advisory council of women. That board decided women would not be needed until next year, that registration should wait until job shortages made the drafting of women a likely prospect.

At least one prominent member of the board is convinced that not only registration but conscription is certain in 1943.

Thus not much trouble is likely to develop at the White House dinner table.

War Isn't Drawing to a Close--

Conclusion - jumpers around the country seem to be leaping in mass to the idea that the war will be over by Christmas, that it is just as good as over now. Hitler is licked, Japan will fold. That is a pleasant but dangerous assumption.

A complete answer is suggested by a phrase dropped by Admiral Stark in a minor interview in London. He said this time "we must have complete victory."

The axis has waged an all-out war. Only satisfactory way it can end is by all-out peace. Last time there was an armistice before an allied soldier had touched foot on German soil. There followed a political peace wrought by distortion of Wilson's fifteen points.

The French politicians schemed it as a revenge for French defeat in the Franco-Prussian war. It settled nothing, only allowed time for Germany to rearm and take counter-revenge.

Now even if Hitler's campaign in Russia fails (it is too early to say yet that it will), even if the army should take over in Germany this year and seek an armistice, and even if this should cause Japan to seek terms later, we will not necessarily have won.

The only terms possible are unconditional surrender. We cannot have another "breathing spell" peace to allow the same aggressive elements to get together in another 20 years and do it all over again. Aggressor might must be destroyed permanently.

Consequently anyone who wants to guess on the curbstone today that Hitler's recently indicated weakness means the end is near is expressing only a hope. Official planning here is being done on an entirely different basis.

Congressmen and Price Control--

Congressmen do not like the way Leon Henderson is establishing his rationing and price control units around the country—without consulting them on patronage. Henderson seems leaning toward state councils of defense for personnel and these are under the governors of states who have their own political entanglements.

To keep in good with the congressmen, however, Henderson is now seeking a liaison man who will keep his fences mended constantly on capitol hill.

Consolation for Hull, Jones--

Neither state secretary Cordell Hull nor commerce secretary Jesse Jones were told by the president of his order divesting them of certain functions and transferring these to the board of economic warfare.

When Hull complained, FDR said something sarcastic about some people in other branches of the government over-interpreting his move. By "some persons," he meant Milo Perkins who is running the board of economic warfare behind Vice - President Wallace's name.

Jones did not complain although he suffered the only serious loss (mostly control of raw materials corporations like the Rubber Reserve Corp.).

The president's warning merely told Perkins not to take his new-found power too seriously, but it did not give Hull or Jones anything except consolation.

Supplies Reaching Russia?--

The big silent front of the war the past few weeks has been along the convoy routes to Russia. Absence of news from it suggests the great bulk of materials from us and from Britain are being pushed through safely.

The concentration of effort along that line explains why the German sub attack upon our Atlantic coastal lanes was so successful for a time. Our protective destroyers may have been working on more important business.

No Invasion of India?--

Fall of Mandalay and loss of Burma caused no surprise here. Anyone who knew what the British and Chinese had on that front, fighting against three Jap divisions moving up from the south, and one mechanized division coming in from Indo-China, knew well the result could not be otherwise.

But the monsoon season is expected to stabilize matters there just about where they are. Bombing attacks on India, but not invasion, are expected now.

Nazi, U.S. Education Viewed In Terms of Everlasting Life

Education for life versus education for death; education for liberty versus education for slavery; education for democracy versus education for tyranny. Which will be supreme?

The educational system in the United States is designed to enable young citizens to visualize and construct a way of life that will afford them all the pleasures and security that they can possibly have. Education to make of them useful citizens in a land of free enterprise.

To bring this about, the United States has instituted a system of universal education, to afford the majority of our youth at least a basic education. Many are afforded the opportunity to attend higher institutions of learning to round out their education. During their academic lives, young Americans study a variety of subjects—English to perfect their own medium of self-expression; the sciences—mathematics, chemistry, physics, botany and geology to enable them to understand the functions of our physical world; geography and economics to enable them to understand the intricacies of trade; history and government to teach them to govern their country. All of these and more are at the disposal of young Americans so that they may make their country a land of free, liberty-loving, democratic people.

Opposed to this is the axis method of education. Theirs is education for a far different purpose. An education of hate, death and brutality. An education fostered by maniacal minds in the control of a despotic ruling class.

Education in Germany points toward one basic goal, the supremacy of the German people over the rest of the world. To attain this goal, Hitler has taken the youth of Germany, both boys and girls, from their homes, placed in camps under the control of fanatical leaders, they are educated in Germanic doctrines.

The young people of Germany do not learn the arts and sciences for the sake of the arts and sciences. Instead, they are taught to hate Americans, the Jews, democracy and capitalism. They are taught that they are an oppressed race, suffocating from lack of "lohnstrau", and that the only way to free themselves is to embark on a program of world conquest. They must be willing to suffer and die in order that this goal may be attained—a "glorious" death fighting for their Fuhrer. Likewise, the young women of Germany are taught that child-bearing, in or out of wedlock, is the sole purpose in life for them. Children to carry out the will of their leader. Children to provide fodder for cannon in wars to come.

America has looked to the future. We are training our youth to make this a better world, to take active part in their government and to have a voice in their government. Nazi youth, looking only to the present, are taught to die, leaving the administration of their government in the same incompetent and radical hands.

We sincerely believe that an education based on the inherent privileges of man—life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—will pay dividends in the long run. It makes more sense in terms of everlasting life.

The Situation Has Worsened--

At long last the situation was bettered, or so we thought. "At long last" was dying a natural death. But along came "worsened." We admire the English vocabulary. And it isn't their fault that we are an imitative people.

We thought that with Edward safe in the Bahamas—well, "at long last" was again becoming good old "it's about time," a bit slangy perhaps, but comfortable. Yes, Edward's no longer a menace to the Yankee's English. But what's a Yankee going to do about a wordy fellow like Churchill? The situation has been definitely worsened.

A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

She'd Rather Be Under the Big Top--

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—All day she sits in a cashier's cage and rings up numbers on a cash register. . . . But she would rather be under the Big Top, doing the sensational barback riding stunts that used to be her life.

That's all over for Agnes Coleman, however. You don't ride barback in circuses after you get your neck broken. . . . Agnes is one of the few who ever recovered from a broken neck. . . . It wasn't broken on a horse, or from a fall from a horse. . . . How'd it happen? It happened in a Brooklyn subway. . . . She fainted from the heat. . . . She toppled over and struck her head against a steam pipe.

Now she sits in the cage of the Empire Tea room, at the Hotel New Yorker, and makes change for the customers. . . . But on her off hours she hurries with her friends to the Garden for backstage visits with her old circus chums, who are there, under the Big Top.

This'd kill Jimmy Dorsey, if he knew. . . . I happened to be standing in a real estate office when a young man came in and said, "I want to buy a house." . . . Then he hauled out a checkbook, wrote a fat down payment, and bought a house. . . . This young man turned out to be Jimmy Dorsey's piano player, . . . "I may be able to pay this off quicker than you think," he said. "I work for a guy who thinks nothing of giving you a thousand dollars as a bonus, or a Christmas present. . . . If he does that again, I'm gonna slam it right on the house."

"Cafe Crown" is the name of a play. The Stage Door Canteen is a free-eatery and entertainment center for service men. Sam Jaffe is an actor who plays Hymie the bus boy in "Cafe Crown." . . . When he isn't on stage Sam hurries over to the Canteen and serves as bus boy to the soldiers, sailors and marines, who haunt the place.

It isn't always the understudy who worries about the star. . . . Sometimes it's the star who worries under the understudy. Understudy, you know, must be ready at all times to replace the star if she becomes ill. But in "Angel Street" the star, who is Judith Evelyn, never has a bad moment. Conversely, the understudy has been quite ill of late. A new understudy had to be called in and rehearsing for the role. Miss Evelyn—she pronounces it Evelyn—gladly took time off to rehearse the new understudy. . . . It was a new twist to the old one about man-bites-dog. . . .

Just one more word on "Angel Street," which you should see, by all means. . . . The man who wrote it is Patrick Hamilton. . . . This play has been kicking around on manager's desks for so long that Pat finally disappeared. . . . They couldn't find him, when the play was produced, and his royalties began to mount so rapidly they finally deposited them with the Samuel French company. Now Pat has been found. . . . He's in London, serving with the British Ministry of Information.

Another Rogers Now in Pictures--

BY ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The lean, rawboned young man in the dungarees, boots, and old felt hat stood there on the set, chinning with Mary Brian, when we came up.

"Glad to know you," he said, shaking hands. He tilted back his hat, and grinned.

There's nothing very startling about all this, except that it set the clock back about 10 years. The resemblance, the uncanny similarity of the gestures, the stance, the easy-going manner — he brought back Will Rogers.

This was Jimmy Rogers, Will's youngest boy. Jimmy is 26, and getting started in pictures. Will, jr., the older, is publishing his paper in Beverly Hills, and getting set to run for Congress. Jimmy is letting Will, jr. take care of the politics.

"I don't know much about it myself," he said. "Just about what the average man knows. . . ." That brought back Will Rogers too. All he knew was what he read in the papers.

Jimmy isn't exactly a stranger to the movies. When he was five or six, he played with his dad in some of those early silent films. He doesn't remember much about them, and he didn't think of pictures again until Hal Roach and Hal, jr. decided he ought to make a try.

Jimmy was a ranch and cattle man. Had about 10,000 acres up in Santa Barbara county. It was such a nice big place that the Army stepped in, bought it, and turned it into Camp Cook. That

Police Radio Binds Cities--

War Cooperation Takes Big Step Forward Here

At least 22 of the nation's largest cities and a number of smaller ones operate intermunicipal police communication systems so organized as to play important roles in the war efforts of their areas, a report to the International City Managers' association shows.

Few if any changes are necessary, according to the report, to switch from normal peacetime activities to such war tasks as assisting in preventing flight of enemy agents across jurisdictional lines, checking large-scale sabotage and looting, and facilitating of troop movements and civilian evacuation by coordinated traffic administration.

As Many As 50

The cities bound together by police radio usually include a central city, which clears messages, and as many as 50 other police jurisdictions in the metropolitan area. In most cases, arrangements for the cooperative broadcasting are made merely by an exchange of correspondence, but eight of the cities in the report offer the service under formal contracts and five have ordinances on the subject. Each community receiving messages installs and maintains its own receivers. Most agreements are for one-way communication.

St. Paul, Minn., was cited as having a typical arrangement; under it, any municipality desiring to use the St. Paul police radio applies to the commissioner of public safety, making a deposit for the service. The commissioner is authorized to grant a permit and make a $50-a-year charge for each car covered by two-way facilities and $25 for one-way service. Calls in excess of 100 cost 25 cents each.

Radio Blockages

Of the 22 cities with intermunicipal radio systems studied in the report, three—Chicago, Cincinnati and Cleveland—broadcast to more than 50 neighboring jurisdictions. These cities can make extensive radio blockades with their police communication systems. In a period of five minutes, for example, the Chicago system can mobilize 500 squad cars in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. Most of the large cities make no charge for messages dispatched for suburban police units. Among cities which make charges and their fees for each message are: Cleveland, 42 cents; Akron, 35 cents; and Cincinnati, 20 cents.

Police officials will please call at this office during those hours.

United States to Increase Army to 6,000,000 Men

Move to Ban Commissioning Of Men From Ranks Is Ditched

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is to have an army of 6,000,000 men, Undersecretary of War Patterson disclosed yesterday in opposing a congressional move to ban the commissioning of officers direct from civilian ranks.

As a result of the war department's opposition, the house military committee ditched the proposal and adopted instead a provision requiring merely that the secretary of war report to congress every 60 days the name, age, residence and qualifications of every civilian given a commission.

In exceptional cases, he said, commissions are given to civilians who had soldier's experience in the last war.

degree of Doctor of Philosophy and where he taught for two years. In July he went to Washington, D.C., to do scientific research in the ordnance bureau, navy department. He is now on a leave of absence and is engaged in research at the physics laboratory at Princeton university in Princeton, N. J.

Dr. H. E. Erlanger, whose wife is the former Margarita Williams, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Williams, 226 S. Lucas, was recently called to Washington, D. C. to receive a captaincy and a commission as special cardiologist with U. S. Navy in the South Pacific.

Lee Fah Yih Studies— The Law of Impact

Twenty-first century streamlined trains, propelled by modern Diesel and electric motor locomotives, speeding over sturdy railroad bridges doesn't sound like material for a laboratory experiment does it? And yet it is.

A vital engineering problem—stresses of railroad bridges due to high speed locomotives—is now being studied in a laboratory in the engineering building under the direction of Prof. Charles Looney of the college of engineering.

Professor Looney, who has been carrying on the research this year, has received a special grant from the American Railway association to continue the work. He is a member of a special committee on impact.

Lee Fah Yih, G of Shanghai, China will conduct the study from this point on, under the supervision of Professor Looney, as his thesis requirement for a Ph. D. degree. His topic is "Impact Load on Railroad Bridges."

The present laboratory equipment consists of a single track, a bridge and a locomotive. This equipment is built on dynamic similarity, which is a ratio between the laboratory pieces and "real life" locomotives and tracks. In this way an accurate study can be conducted. Some new equipment to be added soon in order that new problems may be studied. In the study, a "needle" is suspended vertically under the track. When the "locomotive" speeds over the "bridge" an electric recording deflectometer goes to work on a moving roll of paper, and the needle records the stress due to the vibration of the track. The locomotive is subjected to various speeds.

It is a known fact that the faster a train goes, the heavier the load is—but there is a maximum speed, after which the weight of a train does not increase. Yih's project is to prove that modern, high speed trains, after reaching a certain speed, do not cause any increase in strain.

Yih arrived in the United States from China in 1939 and registered at the University of Iowa. He was graduated from the National Fuh-tan university in Shanghai, China, in 1936.

After completing his Ph. D. degree requirements this fall he expects to return to China and prove the "law of impact" in the reconstruction and in the use of old railroad bridges, and to show how new bridges can be constructed at a minimum of expense.

Local Home Guard Unit Will Meet Tomorrow

State home guard unit of Iowa City will meet at the armory tomorrow evening for its regular drill session.

Captain Earl Gifford said the program will include a mob control drill. Uniforms for the guard unit are expected to arrive in a short time.

Interpreting War News—

Madagascar Seizure Designed Primarily As Defense Measure

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Wide World War Analyst

Britain's surprise move to seize control of the French island of Madagascar off the southeast coast of Africa has served to lighten the gloom in United Nations capitals over allies' plight in Burma and Japanese troop assaults on the Philippine island fortress of Corregidor.

Primarily Defensive Measure

While primarily a defensive measure to protect the long and difficult cape route of supply for India and the eastern Mediterranean, British occupation of the French naval base at the northern end of the Texas-sized island would have strong offensive value as well. It could mark the beginning of the United Nations' effort to drive Japan out of the Indian Ocean.

With Diego Suarez Bay, site of this base, in British hands, the allies would have a naval and air center capable of seriously threatening the Japanese flank in the bay of Bengal. In this connection, there are insistent, but unconfirmed, reports from axis sources that heavy British and American naval units have been moving into the Indian Ocean around the cape and from the Mediterranean.

Challenge to Laval Regime

There is also a grim challenge to the Laval regime at Vichy in the Madagascar operations. It implements President Roosevelt's recent warning that the United Nations were preparing to take any necessary measures to prevent French warships and strategic colonial outposts from passing into axis hands.

Madagascar is, in brief, a test case of what the return of Pierre Laval to power actually means so far as French military collaboration with Germany goes.

Task Force "All British"

There is a striking difference between Madagascar and Syria, where former British-French comrades-in-arms last met in battle. Britain made it clear in Syria she was moving, as she did in the abortive thrust at Dakar, only to support the free French. This time London emphasizes that the powerful task force hurled against Madagascar is "all British." The size and composition of this task force was not disclosed beyond the fact that it included strong naval and air detachments as well as highly trained commando units. It may be assumed however, that the British, schooled by bitter experience in Norway and Greece, have concentrated enough troops, ships and planes to insure not only the capture of the Diego Suarez base, but to hold it against possible Japanese attacks.

CPT Students to Meet To Discuss Program

Details of the summer CPT program and information concerning enlistment in the armed air services in a reserve or active capacity will be discussed at a meeting of CPT students and prospective students to be held tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock in room 311, physics building.

Elmer C. Lundquist, instructor in aeronautics, urges that students who are now enlisted in the reserve corps of the United States air services attend the meeting, as well as those persons who are interested in CPT, but have not yet made application for enrollment.

Prof. Huber O. Croft, coordinator of the university program and Lundquist will be in charge of the meeting.

One Million Soldiers Guard India's Historic Frontiers

OUR PACIFIC ALLIES INDIA

EIGHTY-EIGHT of India's 389 million people are Moslems, like these shown here before the Great Mosque in Delhi.

DEFENSE of India's area is commanded by Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell (left). Sir Stafford Cripps (right) went to India to renew the offer of post-war Dominion status.

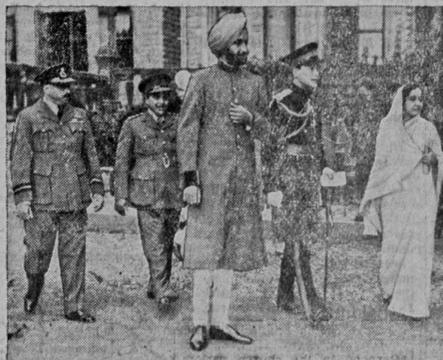

INDIA'S one million soldiers are all volunteers, serve mostly under their own, partly under British officers. They now use shells (below) and guns manufactured in India.

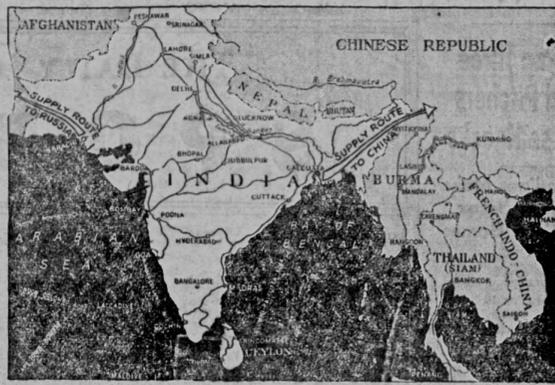

THREE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-NINE million people—one-sixth of the human race—live in a triangular area two-thirds the size of the United States, bordered on the North by the Himalayas; on the other two sides by the Indian Ocean. This area is India, more of a continent than a homogeneous country, where some 45 races speak 225 different languages. Divided by religious and political convictions, 250 million of her people are Hindus (40 million "untouchables" or outcast Hindus), 88 million are Moslems and about 7 million are Sikhs. Associated with Great Britain for over 200 years, India is on the way to Dominion Status within the British Commonwealth—the Government of India Act of 1935 gave self-government to the 11 provinces of British India. Today the Congress Party, predominantly Hindu, demands independence. On the other hand, Moslems and other minorities object to any constitution which would place them under a permanent Hindu majority. The visit of Sir Stafford Cripps was the latest of a series of British efforts to solve the problems of India's future. India today has over one million volunteers under arms, and her human and industrial resources are making a great contribution to the cause of the United Nations.

REPRESENTATIVES of the main political influence among India's 256,000,000 Hindus are Jawaharlal Nehru (left) and Mohandas Gandhi (right), leaders of India's Congress Party.

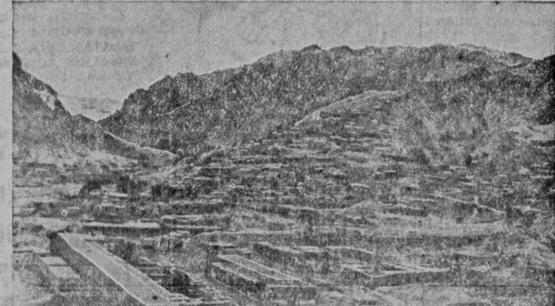

ANOTHER FACTOR in India's political make-up are hundreds of independent Princes like these, who rule 60 million people. They claim a voice in India's future government.

BESIDES the struggle for India, for the Allies the Battle of India is also a battle for supply lines to Russia (left) and China (right).

THREE-QUARTERS of India's population are rural peasants living in 700,000 villages. India exports wheat, barley, hides, tea, rice, cotton, jute, and rubber which now go to Allies, would help Japs if lost.

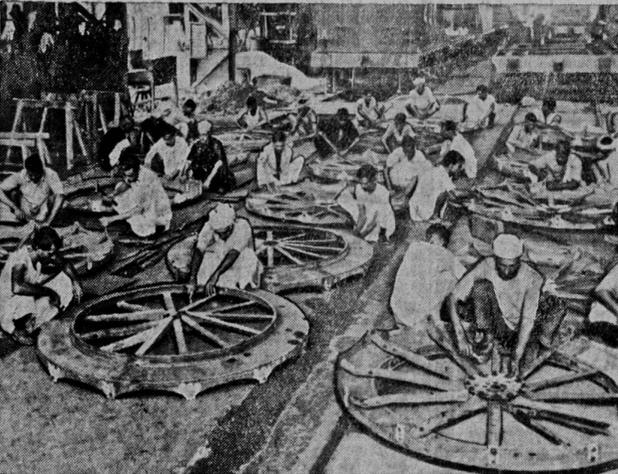

OTHER INDIAN resources which now aid Allies but are wanted by Japan are world's largest iron deposits, lead, manganese, tungsten, tin, coal, oil, zinc and gold. These resources are India's traditional wealth.

NEW INDUSTRIES AID DEFENSE

INDIA'S GREAT WEALTH and her greatest potential contribution to the cause of the United Nations are her hundreds of millions of people, including some of the world's toughest fighters, who have proven themselves on a dozen battlefields in this and other wars. Until recently, however, India's fighting men depended almost entirely on arms and equipment imported from Britain and other industrial countries. Too, her civilians, who had not seen a major war in their own country for generations, were generally unprepared to face the shock of a modern "blitz" of tanks and bombers.

In the last few years, much of this has changed, and India now has more than the mere beginnings of great industries. About 1,500,000 tons of finished steel are turned out annually from Indian ore; and rifles, machine guns, cannon, armored cars, trucks, ammunition and trench mortars are manufactured in increasing quantities. Not only India's army, but part of Britain's as well, now walks on Indian shoes and wears Indian-made uniforms. And India's civilians, especially in the cities, are rapidly learning to cope with air raids, and helping to reinforce the defenses of their vast country.

GUN PLATFORMS are manufactured in converted railway shops (above) by Indians who now make three-quarters of the 60,000 articles needed for war. India's soldiers fight not only in India and Burma, but also in Africa and the Middle East (below).

INDIA'S rising industries are creating growing class of intelligent workers (above) and educated civic minded city people (below).

Boston Bombards League Leading Indians, 13 to 3

Red Sox Rap Three Cleveland Pitchers For 18 Base Knocks

Jittery Indians Make 4 Miscues as Bosox Sweep Three Games

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox bombarded a trio of Cleveland pitchers for 18 hits and a total of 28 bases yesterday while sweeping their three-game series with the league-leading Indians with a 13-3 triumph.

The Indians, who have been jittery since the Sockers broke their 13-game winning streak, again were ragged afield and made four errors, which gave them a total of nine for the series.

They did, however, send the veteran Vernon Kennedy off to an encouraging start by scoring in the first inning against Ken Chase, who kept their 12 hits well scattered while going the distance.

The first Cleveland miscue, however, gave the Red Sox an unearned run in the second inning and they clinched the game in the third by uncorking a six-run rally that drove Kennedy from the mound.

Ted Williams led the Boston attack by getting a single, after beating out a bunt against the flat-footed Cleveland infielders, a double and his sixth homer, which came in the fourth frame after Johnny Pesky had singled.

Oris Hockett, Cleveland's rookie rightfielder, was forced to leave the game in the fourth inning when, while diving for a ball, he broke his sunglasses and suffered a gashed nose.

Early Wynn Hurls Nats to 5-3 Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bob Harris limited Washington to five hits yesterday but his fellow Browns supported him feebly and the Senators captured a 5-3 decision over St. Louis as Early Wynn checked the visitors with eight hits.

Harris was staked to a 2-0 lead in the fourth on Walter Judnich's single and doubles by Chet Laabs and Bob Swift.

Johnny Podgajny Foils Cubs, 4-2

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Podgajny, always a Chicago Cub nemesis, defeated the Bruins yesterday and the 4 to 2 triumph gave the Philadelphia Phillies the series, two games to one.

Podgajny yielded 10 hits, one more than Claude Passeau allowed, but kept the Cub blows well scattered. The Phils took advantage of bases on balls, errors and five stolen bases in their run making.

Boston Rookie Throttles Bucs, 7-1

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Jimmy Wallace, a tiny, apple-cheeked boy with a winning smile and a pretzel curve, made his bow as a big league hurler for the Boston Braves yesterday and did a man-sized chore of throttling the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-1, on six widely scattered hits.

Walters Wins 1st, Beats Giants, 2-1

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bucky Walters broke into the victory column yesterday for the first time as the Cincinnati Reds nosed out the New York Giants 2 to 1 in the tenth inning to end a stirring pitching struggle between Walters and Hal Schumacher.

Each hurler allowed only five hits, but three of the Reds' came in succession in the tenth and it was Bucky who set off the winning rally.

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe DiMaggio boosted the New York Yankees into second place in the American league yesterday with two home runs and a triple that brought a 5 to 4 ten-inning triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

DiMaggio was ably supported by young Hank Borowy, who gave a glittering relief performance in holding the Sox to one hit and fanning seven in 7 1/3 innings.

Hawk Elevens Play Saturday

Harris' White Team Plays Carideo's 11 In Annual Spring Tiff

Hawkeye fans this Saturday will see a preview of the University of Iowa's 1942 football team when the annual intra-squad spring football game between the Black team of Frank Carideo, Iowa backfield coach, and the White team of Jim Harris, Hawk line coach is played as a feature of Governor's day.

During the course of the spring practice, three players suffered injuries that will not permit them to play in this annual game.

Francis (Gene) Curran, letterman guard, is out with a shoulder injury, as is star right half-back Bus Mertes. Mertes' chipped a bone in his right shoulder three weeks ago, and although it might be possible for him to play, Dr. Eddie Anderson doesn't want to take any chances with the injury.

Ted Lewis, a 1939 all-state fullback from Iowa City, has suffered a knee injury. Lewis will be a sophomore in competition next fall.

These mishaps have left Anderson short of backs, but he still has a number of new faces to show the Iowa fans. There will be several boys on the field for the first time who are destined to play a lot of ball for Iowa in the coming years.

Among next year's sophomores who have given indications of future greatness are Dick Hoerner and Duke Curran. Hoerner is the two year all-stater from Dubuque, who is expected to rip the Black line apart from his fullback position.

White Curran is the opposite type of runner, fast and tricky. He will be running from the left halfback position on the White team.

Edsel Schweizer, an all-stater from Burlington, will start at quarterback for Harris' White crew. He is fast, smart and a good hustler, and the coaches believe he may play a lot of football in an Iowa uniform.

The accurate-passing of Sam Vaccantini from Omaha, Neb., and blond Chuck Uknes from Sioux City are two other backs who will be worth watching in Saturday's game.

Larry French Leads Dodgers to 3-1 Win On 4-Hit Performance

Veteran Moundsman Bats in Winning Run To Break Tie in 11th

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Lefty Larry French, the 33-year-old veteran whom the Brooklyn Dodgers almost cut adrift during their Florida training, pitched and batted the National league champions to a 3 to 1 eleven inning triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday.

Working against the newest southpaw sensation of the senior circuit, 21-year-old Howard Pollet, the crafty French kept the Cardinals to four scattered hits and would have had a shutout except for an error by Billy Herman in the eighth.

French himself drove in the first run of the game with a single in the seventh and when the bitter duel ran into overtime, French again came through with a single to drive in the run that broke the tie in the eleventh.

For six innings neither team could score. Then in the seventh Micky Owen singled and was forced by Peeewe Reese. With two out Reese raced all the way home on French's smash to right center.

Martin Marion opened the Cards' eighth by bunting safely down the third base line and advanced on a sacrifice by Pollet. Then with two out Herman fumbled Stan Musial's grounder and Marion scored.

As the eleventh opened Jim Brown fumbled Joe Medwick's grounder. Dolph Camilli popped up trying to sacrifice, but Owen singled Medwick to second. Reese lined out. Then French singled Medwick home and Herman singled Owen across.

Rain Halts Second Iowa-Michigan State Tilt; Hawks Meet Badgers There Friday, Saturday

Iowa's baseball schedule, which was cut to 20 games when the southern trip was cancelled this spring, was further shortened yesterday afternoon when weather conditions caused postponement of the game with Michigan State.

This is the second game this year which has been called off because of the weather. So Iowa's baseball team will play only 18 games this season, which is the fewest number of games that a Hawkeye diamond team has played since 1932, when the team was in action only 14 times.

Left on the Iowa schedule are four games, two with Wisconsin this Friday and Saturday.

Iowa Freshmen Win 2 Postal Track Tilts

Iowa's freshman track team added two more postal victories to its credit this week by defeating Purdue, 70 to 47, and Michigan 63-1/3 to 58-2/3.

In swamping Purdue the Hawk yearlings, led by Leon Bland and Al Slater, won eight of the 13 events. Slater won the mile and two-mile runs, while Bland copped the 440- and 220-yard dashes.

Other winners for Iowa were Ralph Beardley, shot put; Dick Hoerner, discus throw, and Chuck Lundsted, pole vault. Iowa's Herky Cline tied for top honors with Pearson of Purdue in the 100-yard dash.

Against the Michigan freshmen, Iowa took eight of the 14 events as Leon Bland also won the 220- and 440-yard events.

Iowa's mile relay team, made up of Jack Bowers, Bland, Earl Prince and John Foster, came through with a close win, nipping the Wolverines by a tenth of a second; Iowa's time was 3:29.1.

Welp continued their battling pace and still rank one-two among the players who have performed regularly. Lind increased his average to .358, while Welp's remained fairly stationary at .321. Lind and Welp are also leading in hits with 19 and 18, respectively.

Yesterday's postponement robbed Jack "Red" Kenney of a chance to start his second game of the year. He has been handicapped with a sore arm throughout much of the campaign, and the team was looking forward to seeing "Big Red" come through yesterday.

Hein and Faber hold all seven of the Hawk's Big Ten victories, with Hein having won four and Faber three.

Today the Hawks, will hold their lone practice in preparation for the all-important Wisconsin series. The Badgers open their conference season last week with two victories over the favored Illinois nine to take over the league leadership, but the Hawkeys will be out to take over the top position for themselves this week end.

Included in these six games were three straight shutouts turned in by Wendell Hill, Bob Faber and Dick Hein, and a string of 36 consecutive scoreless innings. Michigan State finally broke the string by scoring an unearned run in the second inning Monday.

Hurlers Hit, Too Added to the fine hurling, the pitchers have also been doing more than their share of the hitting. Hein and Faber are leading the Iowa squad in hitting with marks of .538 and .467, respectively, and Hill and Roy Stille both cracked out two hits in their last appearances.

George Knight, who has been improving every game at third base, hit a new high Monday when he cracked out four singles in five trips to the plate. Knight now has made 11 hits in 29 times at bat for a batting average of .379.

Navy Announces Repulse of Five Japanese Attacks on Midway During Past 5 Months

Nimitz Declares Island Attacked Every Month Since the War Began

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — The repulse of five Japanese attacks on Midway island, the last on March 10, was revealed officially yesterday. Midway is 1,149 miles northwest of Hawaii.

The announcement followed the return of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, from inspections and the conferring of honors to marine corps aviators and naval personnel for their heroic defense of the Hawaiian outpost.

Nimitz revealed Midway had been attacked each month since Dec. 7 except April. He personally decorated the marines for shooting down a four-engine Japanese patrol seaplane making the last attack March 10.

The bomber was destroyed before it reached its objective. Capt. James L. Neufus, leader of the intercepting fliers, was given the navy cross. Distinguished flying crosses were awarded First Lieut. Charles P. McCarthy and marine gunner Robert L. Dickey. Dickey is recuperating at the Mare island, Calif., navy hospital and the medal is being forwarded to the mainland for presentation.

Neufus' action included taking fighter planes aloft in the face of difficult aerial combat conditions and heavy cloud formations which favored the Japanese.

Commander Cyril T. Simard, of the naval air station at Midway, and Lieut. Col. Harold D. Shannon, commanding the marine defense battalion, were awarded letters of commendation by Nimitz.

BURMA—

eastern side of the Irrawaddy was scattered in small pockets for a hundred miles south of Lashio as well as to the north and east of this junction of the railroad connecting with the now severed Burma road.

British forces on the west side of the Irrawaddy were backed up against trackless, jungle-covered mountains standing between them and the Indian frontier.

They were fighting desperately in spots but were outnumbered and under terrific punishment from Japanese planes.

British soldiers flown out had been fighting four months without relief, constantly faced with fresh Japanese divisions and hammered unceasingly from the air.

The final disposition of the American volunteer group of pilots fighting with the Chinese and British forces could not be learned, but they are reported in the thick of the battle.

Four days ago, three of this

"Tiger Squadron" tangled with a group of 30 Japanese fighters, shot down 13 and escaped without loss.

However on their return to their base they found the Japanese had bombed the runways. They landed on small undamaged stretches, however, refueled and took off for more fighting.

The volunteer group has moved back to a new base, but it could still fly across Japanese-held Burma to India while ground crews were brought out by transport.

It is not known whether they will attempt to continue fighting in view of the difficulty of getting supplies. It is thought more likely here that they will be brought to India for use against any possible Japanese invasion either from land or sea.

Usual 'Good Morning' Is Out for Duration

DES MOINES (AP)—The customary "good morning or good afternoon reply of private switchboard operators at the Polk county courthouse has been abandoned for the duration of the war, county supervisor William H. Cotton reported yesterday.

Several other large private switchboards for stores and offices have also followed the suggestion, it was reported.

Dropping of the added salutation will save about two seconds a call, telephone officials estimate, and busy signals over crowded circuits will be more easily avoided.

The famous tunnel of the Trans-Andean Railway which unites Argentina and Chile has recently been opened to motor traffic according to the Department of Commerce.

POET'S CORNER... (Rundyard Kipling wrote this; it's kinda subtle, but even the pessimists will understand it.)

THE GODS OF THE COPYBOOK HEADINGS--

As I pass through my incarnations in every age and race, I make my proper prostrations to the Gods of the Market Place.

Peering through reverent fingers, I watch them flourish and fall, And the Gods of the Copybook Headings, I notice outlast them all.

We were living in trees when they met us. They showed us each in turn That water would certainly wet us, as fire would certainly burn;

But we found them lacking in uplift; vision and breadth of mind, So we left them to teach the gorillas while we followed the march of mankind.

We moved as the spirit listed. They never altered their pace, Being neither cloud nor wind borne, like the Gods of the Market Place;

But they always caught up with our progress, and presently word would come That a tribe had been wiped off its icefield, or the lights had gone out in Rome.

With the hopes that our world is built on they were utterly out of touch. They denied that the moon was Siltion; they denied she was even Dutch;

They denied that wishes were horses; they denied that a pig had wings; So we worshipped the Gods of the Market, who promised these beautiful things.

When the Cambrian measures were forming, they promised perpetual peace. They swore, if we gave them our weapons, that the wars of the tribes would cease.

And when we discerned they sold us, and delivered us bound to our foe, And the Gods of the Copybook Headings said: "Stick to the Devil you know."

On the first Feminian sandstones we were promised the fuller life (Which started by loving our neighbor and ended by loving his wife);

Till our women had no more children and the men lost reason and faith. And the Gods of the Copybook Headings said: "The Wages of Sin is Death."

In the Carboniferous epoch we were promised abundance for all, By robbing selected Peter to pay for collective Paul.

But, though we had plenty of money, there was nothing our money could buy, And the Gods of the Copybook Headings said: "If you don't work, you die."

Then the Gods of the Market humbled them, and their smooth-tongued wizards withdrew, And the hearts of the meanest were humbled and began to believe it was true

That all is not gold that glitters, and two and two make four— And the Gods of the Copybook Headings limped up to explain it once more.

As it will be in the future, it was the birth of Man— There are only four things certain since social progress began:

That the dog returns to his vomit and the sow returns to her mire, And the burnt fool's bandaged finger goes wobbling back to the fire;

And that after this is accomplished, and the brave new world begins, When all men are paid for existing and no man must pay for his sins,

As surely as water will wet us, as surely as fire will burn, The Gods of the Copybook Headings with terror and slaughter return!

Judge Evans Dismisses Grand Jury Chosen for May Term

Action Follows Rate's Protest Disapproving 2 Members of Group

New Seven-Man Jury To Be Chosen to Act On the Barry Case

Judge H. D. Evans yesterday dismissed the grand jury chosen Monday to serve during the May term of district court, following a protest made by County Atty. Edward W. Rate, disapproving of two members.

Judge Evans then ordered that the whole jury panel of 12 members be summoned to appear late this week or early next week when another seven-man jury will be chosen.

The county attorney protested that one member of the jury, James Hogan, was a relative of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Barry, Oxford couple charged with the murder of Eddie B. Schmidt, which case the jury is expected to hear.

Rate also objected to Stephen Schuessler, another grand jury member, who he said had moved March 2 from his farm home in Lincoln township to West Liberty, Muscatine county.

Hogan testified in court yesterday that his wife and Barry's mother are half-sisters.

Attorney Rate pointed out that if he had knowledge of these facts when the grand jury was sworn in Monday he would have then challenged these two members.

In outlining reasons for dismissal of the jury and asking for impaneling of another body, Rate said that although Hogan and Schuessler acted in good faith, the facts and conditions warrant the selection of another grand jury.

The county prosecutor sought impaneling of another grand jury on the following basis:

1. That Schuessler, since being selected a grand juror the first of the year, moved to West Liberty.

2. That the county attorney had no knowledge of such residence before the grand jury was sworn in.

3. That Hogan is related to the Barry couple.

4. That neither the court nor the county attorney had any knowledge of such relationship.

5. That possible prejudices which may arise cause a new jury to be drawn.

Members of the grand jury chosen Monday were R. E. Bayless.

Tire Rationing Board Releases May Quota

Johnson County Ration Board No. 52 yesterday released the quota for new and retread tires and tubes for May. The number of new tires available has been cut, but the number of retreads has been increased.

The combined total of new and retread tires for May shows an increase over April due to the seasonal expansion of industrial and construction activities, the board said.

The only quota to drop this month was for trucks.

A STATEMENT ABOUT PRICES

In compliance with President Roosevelt's message to Congress on April 27th, all retail prices have been frozen.

Naturally, this store and all other stores will comply faithfully with this order. We firmly believe this order was wise and timely... it should stop "run-away" prices... it should prevent violent deflation when peace comes.

BUT Sears' can and will endeavor to do more than this. WE MAY SELL AT PRICES LOWER THAN THOSE OF MARCH, 1942.

This We Intend to Do Whenever It Is At All Possible WE BELIEVE Freezing of prices is designed to affect prices only in one direction... to restrain them from GOING UP.

WE BELIEVE Selling goods for less certainly has the approval of the government and the public.

WE BELIEVE It is a duty we owe to our customers for their patronage and confidence. For over 50 years they have looked to Sears' for savings.

WE BELIEVE Selling for less, NOW AND WHENEVER WE CAN, is sound business.

WE HOPE TO BE ABLE TO CONTINUE TO SELL FOR LESS.
