

Children Receive Holy Communion At St. Wenceslaus

Twenty-one children received at Holy Communion Sunday morning as part of a 40 hours devotion period brought to a close today evening at St. Wenceslaus church.

The evening sermon was delivered by the Rev. Claude V. Lisle, Ill., in charge of the three-day devotions.

Assisting with the services were the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Carl H. Metzger and the Rev. Herman Strub. St. Mary's church, the Rt. Rev. P. J. O'Reilly and the Rev. Francis Lohok of St. Patrick's church, the Rev. Donald Hayes of the Catholic Foundation, the Rev. T. W. Neuzil, pastor, and the Rev. James Falconer, assistant pastor.

The first communicants were rolled in the scapular and mitred medal at the church Sunday afternoon.

"I like it better than I used to." He has been a concert violinist in the Chicago Federation of Musicians symphonic orchestra and appeared in numerous Polish variety performances in Chicago. Filisiewicz played violin solo variations on a Polish waltz show for nine months over WHEC, foreign language station in Chicago. His unique improvisations on popular ballad and folk melodies surprised the radio and audio audiences.

"Sometimes they would ask me to repeat some of my improvised obbligatos but I could never play the same way twice. That sort of music comes from the heart—it's just born in me. I play my violin as the mood comes to me," the amateur-musician asserted.

His son, Ludomil Filisiewicz, is also a skilled violinist and appears with various Chicago musical organizations when he has time. He, like his father and grandfather, is also an expert pianist.

"I play the piano by ear," the decorator said. Then he laughed and added, "Good enough to play as a regular pianist too."

In 1933 Filisiewicz was selected by the City of Chicago to present and conduct his own concert series in the Navy pier concert series during the Century of Progress. He has been singing baritone in the St. Mary's choir since he began the decorating project in March. "I enjoy singing with your friendly local singers very much," he explained.

During his stay here he has been thrilled by concerts of the university orchestra, band and chorus. "Those young men and women take their music so seriously that's the way it should be," he concluded. "I admire the command skill of Prof. P. G. Clapp and the voice range of Prof. Fred Stark is remarkable. The young fellow, Jack Latimer, should become a successful concert pianist, I believe."

"Music is important to living happy lives," he said, "but music is food for the soul."

BRITISH CRUSH NAZI CRETE ATTACK

A New Kingdom—Croatia—Rises From Conquest of Yugoslavia

A new European kingdom, Croatia, has been created by the axis powers from the north-central area of Yugoslavia, now being dismembered by its conquerors. The Duke of Spoleto, left, an Italian prince, of the House of Savoy, has been designated Croatia's king and will rule as King Aimone I. His queen, Irene, right, is a Grecian princess. The Central Press map, above, shows how, according to Rome dispatches, Yugoslavia is to be dismembered. The new Croatian kingdom is shaded. A—Italy to take the Dalmatian coast. B—Italy to obtain also a corner of northern Yugoslavia, adjacent to Italy. C—Germany to absorb Carniola in northeastern Yugoslavia. D—Hungary to take Yugoslav territory along the Rumanian border.

Metal Trades Picket Lines Remain Intact

Rear Admiral Asks A.F.L. Council For Peaceful Settlement

By ASSOCIATED PRESS Leaders of the AFL metal trades council agreed yesterday to postpone sending men back to work in the San Francisco Bay shipyards through picket lines of striking CIO and AFL machinists.

The postponement was ordered at the request of Rear Admiral John Wills Greenslade, commandant of the 12th naval district, and City Manager Jack Hessler of Oakland, to permit Governor Culbert L. Olson to talk to the men last night and urge them voluntarily to end their walk-out.

Illegitimate Strike Seventeen hundred machinists walked out several days ago, but the trades council has termed the strike illegitimate. The strikers are asking wage increases from $1 to $1.15 an hour and continuation of double pay for overtime.

Another shipyard strike at Lorain, Ohio, termed unauthorized by AFL union leaders, was ended after a conference of the leaders and the strikers. An official of the machinists union said the men would return to work at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday under 4-cent hourly increases for those previously paid 79 cents an hour, and 5-cent raises for those receiving 80 cents and more.

1,000 Idle The strike was against the American Ship Building company which is making six submarine tenders for the navy. The walk-out at noon yesterday kept about 1,000 men idle.

The General Tire and Rubber company's Washburn, Ind., plant was picketed by AFL rubber workers, but company officials said 95 per cent of the 1,100 employees remained at work. A union organizer said 250 workers had walked off the 11 p.m. shift Sunday. Union demands were not announced.

A strike of the AFL federal labor union closed the C. G. Hussey and Company copper rolling mill at Pittsburgh after night long attempts by a state labor mediator to avert a walk-out. The union is asking recognition, a closed shop and re-employment of four discharged men.

Dispute Ended One thousand waterfront workers in Buffalo received wage increases of $300,000 a year retroactive to the beginning of the shipping season last month. The increases ended a month's dispute between AFL longshoremen and two Great Lakes freighter lines.

Claim Air-Borne Troops Annihilated by Defenders

Warns British

General Henri Dentz, above, Vichy's high commissioner for Syria, has warned Great Britain that unoccupied France's large army and air force in the near east is ready to "meet force with force." He intimated that French troops and planes may go into action against the British if R.A.F. attacks on Syrian airdromes continue.

Attempt to Seize Air Fields Fails

LONDON (Wednesday) May 21—(AP)—Cairo dispatches today reported the killing or capture of all the air-borne German troops who pounced on the British-Greek island base of Crete yesterday from gliders, transport planes and parachutes, at least 1,500 of them reported disguised in New Zealand battle dress.

The British imperial and Greek forces were reported in "complete command of the situation."

The report of the quick roundup of the invading air army was received by the British news agency Reuters as an announcement of Greek official circles. It was relayed by A.P.I., independent French news agency.

Earlier, in making the report of the invasion to commons and laying the claim that some attackers were clothed in Anzac uniforms, Prime Minister Winston Churchill had said: "... the military has reported the situation in hand."

The nazi shock troops—actually they came to find and seize landing fields for the transport-carried soldiers who followed them in what the prime minister himself called "great strength"—were met by New Zealand, British and Greek soldiers under orders to die upon that far-away island if necessary, but never to surrender it.

British military sources in Cairo, middle east headquarters, said the British imperial and Greek forces on Crete were considered strong enough to deal with any air-borne invasion. In London, moreover, it was stressed that there was no indication the Germans had been able to land anything like a division of men.

Attack Anticipated An air-borne attack had been fully anticipated by the Crete command under Major General B. C. Freyberg, it was asserted, and a number of chutists were accounted for quickly.

Churchill had promised there would be no retreat from Crete—the seat of the fugitive Greek government, the last Greek territory in the hands of British-Greek allies and the greatest barrier to what some Britons thought tonight was a nazi plan to ship mechanized armies to the Syria of Vichy, France, for a drive on the Suez canal and Egypt.

The nazis had flown in about 100 miles from occupied Greece, in the largest operation of its kind in history, Britons said, and their principal forces landed in the extreme western end of the island, in the region of Canea and Maleme.

From the declarations of Churchill and others the strange aerial assault upon Crete meant these things: 1. That the great and expected battle extending from Egypt's frontier clear around the eastern end of the Mediterranean is now under way, with reinforcement of friendly Turkey in sight unless Britain can hold fast at Crete.

2. That Germany is now ready to employ the talents of more than 100,000 trained glider pilots. 3. That the nazi command is prepared for the greatest risks. (See ATTACK, Page 6)

Hull Tells French Envoy Pro-Nazi Control Vichy

Collaboration 'Gone Beyond Armistice Terms'

By LLOYD A. LEHRBAS WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull told the French ambassador in strong language today that the United States is convinced pro-Nazi elements are in supreme control in the Vichy government and that France had gone beyond the armistice terms in "collaborating" with Germany.

This, it was authoritatively reported, was Hull's reaction when the envoy, Gaston Henry-Haye, called at the state department to seek an explanation of what he termed an "explosion of emotions" in the United States concerning the "collaboration." Henry-Haye contended that the French were acting only in accordance with the armistice between them and Germany and Italy. He also protested against the United States' "unfriendly action" in taking French merchant ships into protective custody.

Asks Clarification When the ambassador requested clarification of the American attitude toward France, state department sources said, Hull asserted that all nations are satisfied with the Vichy government, acting under German compulsion, has exceeded the armistice terms.

The facts already known, it was said in informed quarters, places the burden of correcting that impression—if it is not true—on the French government. One of the "facts" is understood to be France's acquiescence in the use of Syrian air fields by German planes bent on attacking the British in Iraq.

Henry-Haye told reporters, after his hour-long conference with Hull, that he had reaffirmed France's determination "to protect French possessions wherever they may be" from any change in sovereignty. He indicated strong opposition to any attempt to place French colonies in the western hemisphere under the "provisional administration" of the 21 American republics.

May Claim 'Rights' In informed quarters here it was pointed out that if the Germans have the rights claimed in Syria under the armistice terms they also may consider themselves entitled to utilize French air fields in Martinique, French Guiana, or other French possessions in the western hemisphere.

To guard against Germany securing a foothold in this hemisphere, the 21 American republics, at the Havana conference, laid plans to take Martinique, or other foreign possessions in this hemisphere, under their "provisional administration" if and when they became a threat to the peace and security of the American nations.

Sinking of the Zamzam Reported by German News Agency; All Persons Aboard Rescued

All Passengers Put Ashore on Coast of German-Held France

BERLIN, May 20 (AP)—All the 322 persons aboard the Zamzam were saved and taken by a merchant ship to the German-occupied west coast of France after a nazi warship sent the Egyptian liner to the bottom of the south Atlantic, Germany announced officially tonight.

A nazi spokesman earlier had broken the suspense over the lost liner by announcing that the 8,299-tonner had been sunk and its passengers, including 138 Americans, put ashore in German-held territory.

At the same time he withheld details but implied that a surface raider ended the long, strange career of the Zamzam.

Then tonight the official German news agency DNB said the passengers and crew were taken in safety to a port on the west coast of France.

Deutsche Diplomatisch Politische Korrespondenz, organ of the German foreign office, said everyone from the Zamzam was taken aboard the warship, then transferred to a merchant vessel and landed.

Refuse to Comment These disclosures followed refusal of authorities to comment on American suggestions that the survivors might have been taken to Dakar, French West Africa; or to Casablanca, French Morocco (neither of which is known to be German-occupied).

(The Zamzam, which sailed from New York March 20, left Recife, Brazil, April 9, for Cape Town, South Africa. The British ministry of information announced Monday that she was overdue and presumably lost.)

Well-informed German quarters and the press reflected considerable irritation with the United States, charging that influential Americans deliberately misrepresented the sinking as "nazi barbarity," whereas the German navy, it was argued, took extreme pains to save everyone aboard, including the Americans and conducted the whole operation in strictest accord with international law.

"The vessel was destroyed with the most exacting regard for all international agreements," said the German spokesman.

British Consulates Closed as War Comes Closer to Syria and Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon, May 20 (AP)—this morning by two British planes.

As for the operations in Iraq, a communique received here from Baghdad reported repulse of British forces in the Basra area and destruction of 30 British armored cars by the axis-reinforced Iraq air force.

The communique said losses in men and material were inflicted on the British on the southern front, where Iraqis, reinforced by irregulars, successfully attacked British positions and took prisoners.

(Authoritative Iraq sources in Ankara said their ranks were being augmented by volunteers from Soviet Russia, Afghanistan and Iran (Persia). They described the Soviet volunteers as pilots, aviation mechanics, aviation technicians, tank drivers and mechanics.)

(A British communique issued at Cairo claimed capture of the town of Fallujah, about 35 miles west of Baghdad, after a brief engagement. The British said this gave them control of an important route into Baghdad.)

Iowa Industry Prepared For Action—Wilson

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Governor George A. Wilson of Iowa said tonight after a round of conferences with government officials that "I have a feeling of defense allocations are going to be made on the basis of what is best for national unity."

Truly Americans "Naturally," he continued, "we think that Iowa, located as it is and with 2,500,000 people who are truly Americans, should not be overlooked and I am certain they are not going to be overlooked."

Wilson said he advised officials that "in Iowa industry is willing to function, labor is willing to work, agriculture is willing to produce, and that we have all the necessary employees, skilled or unskilled."

He added that he received "valuable assistance" from Edward A. Kimball and Rodney Q. Selby, chairman and secretary respectively, of the Iowa industrial and defense commission, and that "they are really on the job."

Offer Food To Troubled Eire

U.S. Cannot Spare Arms for Defense of Irish Neutrality

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—The United States acted today to relieve a shipping shortage which is troubling Eire, and to send food to refugees in the island, but turned down pleas of Irish officials for arms with which to defend their neutrality.

President Roosevelt announced an offer to allow the Eire government to buy or charter two cargo ships here and a contribution of $500,000 worth of food supplies through the American Red Cross.

But Irish officials were told, it was learned, that demands on American arms production are two or three times greater than the supply and all of it is needed for those countries actively engaged in fighting the axis powers.

Can't Spare Arms The question of British use of Irish naval bases was not raised in the negotiations here, it was stated officially. Nevertheless, it was understood that American officials held the view that arms could not be spared at this time for a country which promised only to defend its own neutrality against aggression from any quarter.

Office of Civilian Defense Begins Drive— Million Volunteers Wanted

By RICHARD L. TURNER WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—A drive to recruit a million or more volunteers to man the home defenses in any wartime emergency tonight became one of the first objectives of the newly created office of civilian defense.

Officials obviously expected a large proportion of the men to come from the vast reservoir of young, physically able manpower known to the draft organization as class 3-A—men given a deferred status because they have dependents to support.

Plans are that the men shall be organized and trained to the task of protecting life and property in their localities, in coordination with the home guard units already established in many states. Their responsibilities would include the protection of public property, and such key military objectives as industrial plants and bridges, preparation and readiness to serve as fire-fighters and to offer physical resistance to the bombing of strategic points.

The office of civilian defense will, however, have many more administrative duties than this. It will be expected to advise and assist in the formulation of all civilian defense measures, to work closely with state and local governments, to train civilian auxiliaries, and stimulate national morale.

Announcing the establishment of the new agency today, President Roosevelt simultaneously appointed Fiorello LaGuardia, the dynamic mayor of New York, as its head. He will receive no salary, Mr. Roosevelt said, and will continue as mayor.

was added, LaGuardia will issue a second statement on the new defense agency.

Mr. Roosevelt made these things known at a press conference, and at the same time told reporters he had no news on the issue of conveying supplies through the u-boat zone to Great Britain. Asked about reports that he would send congress a special message on the war situation, he said there was nothing to them.

The president also told the correspondents that this country had offered to sell or charter two ships to Ireland and supply $500,000 worth of food for the Irish civilian population. The vessels, to be placed under the Irish flag, will carry much more than that quantity of food, he added, indicating that Ireland would make purchases of her own.

There was no indication, however, that arms would be supplied to Ireland.

Polo Grounds in the Balkans

The axis bosses have named the Duke of Spoleto, who will rule as King Aimone, to the throne of Zvonimir, the new Croat state which arose after the nazis overran the Balkans.

Of course, King Vittorio Emanuele of Italy made the announcement, and one wonders whether the little fellow can do anything at all save act as a mouthpiece while the real bosses blow the pipes. It would seem, from a report by The Associated Press bureau in Rome, that the best which can be said for the tall, 41-year-old cousin of the head of the House of Savoy is that he plays a rousing good game of polo.

The report went on to announce the signing of three pacts in the presence of Benito Mussolini fixing the frontiers of Croatia and establishing certain economic and political "freedoms" in the new state.

New queen of Croatia—hold on to your seat, now—is Irene, the sister of King George of Greece, who was forced to flee in the teeth of a raging storm of nazis which swooped out of the north. George is now a fugitive from the nazis on the British island of Crete.

The new Croatian state lies in northern Yugoslavia and is bounded on the south by the Sava river. It extends to the Italian holding of Fiume on the Adriatic and to the Magyar border on the east.

We who have read with concern the plight of the Yugoslavs in their futile fight to defend themselves understand quite plainly that the new state is principally flat in land as well as finance. Flat plains in the long history of polo have been ideal playing fields. Hindu chieftains who originated the game first played on the flatlands outside Bombay.

We are not so sure but that the Duke may be behind the wrong ball before long. The Balkans are by no means settled and history has shown that enforced rule only rubs salt into Slav wounds. The real battle has not yet been fought.

The Duke of Spoleto, rated at five goals by the European polo officials, rates less than half-a-goal with us and still less with the Croatians, we expect. And, we submit, good King Aimone may have to get on his horse before long, and we doubt whether it will be of the variety known to polo.

From Rural to High School

During this week and next, thousands of rural school children throughout Iowa will be graduating from their eighth-grade classes, thus bringing a close to their county school training.

Next September will find these same students entering high school, which will be a new and different experience. It will mean that they will have to participate in a school program run on a much larger scale than that which they had heretofore. High school will consist of larger classes, more teachers and more departments for extra-curricular activities.

Undoubtedly they will receive more advantages in high school but it is also true that they will miss some of their rural school opportunities. Particularly absent will be the peaceful and fresh-air atmosphere so well provided by nature in the country school areas.

One will also be the informal and closer relationship of the students and teachers, for the rural school instructor has more of a possibility to really know and understand her pupils than does the city teacher whose time is preoccupied by her large classes.

The rural teacher is better able to concentrate on knowing and understanding the individual, whereas the city school teacher makes more of an attempt to understand her pupils as a group.

Nevertheless the city high schools throughout Iowa will be looking forward to these new students. These institutions offer wider facilities for the advancement of knowledge, promises of happy days and memories, and the convenience of meeting and making more friends. The experience will be what teachers and pupils alike seek to make it.

Heavy Trucks on Iowa Roads

One of the impacts of war may be unifying, but under such stresses there are those groups who would take advantage of the moment and cause schisms among the national components. Fortunately there are "shock absorbers" for the trend and which thwart many harmful effects. Such was the act of Iowa's governor in vetoing the bill prohibiting automobile carriers from using Iowa's roads.

The main support of the bill were those dotting legislators who supposedly were thinking of all the over age drivers who were left breathless and shaken from an encounter with these dinosaurs of the highway. Such fear is needless when one calmly checks the number of accidents caused by professional drivers and finds them miraculously low. It is they who are on the road constantly who really appreciate the value of careful, courteous driving.

Thanks to Governor Wilson's clear thought, kindheartedness (or pressure-ization of profit groups) was prevented and Iowa's network of roads remains for the service of the nation in a way more valuable than mere use of joy riders.

What Is Freedom of Speech?

The president's condemnation of Lindbergh has raised the question of just what is freedom of speech? If we were to follow Mr. Roosevelt's actions to a conclusion, we would find the tendency that is found in some parts of our country, that the right of free speech is only for people who think as he does. Some seem to think that it is not for people who disagree with him.

The only true way as we can see it, is to trust people to choose for themselves what is wise and what is right. Otherwise you absolutely deny the idea of a democratic government—government by the people.

We must have such complete faith in democracy, that even when, to us, the majority seems wrong, we still believe in the fundamental principle we have laid down. That is to wait until what we believe is right becomes the majority decision of the people. This is true democratic procedure.

The Story of Paul Herneid, That Tero of 'Night Train'

NEW YORK—Baron Paul von Herneid is tossing his title into the attic trunk "because it seems a little out of place over here and since I am to become an American I shan't need it."

So he becomes just plain Paul Herneid, late of Trieste, late of Vienna, late of London, now of New York and Los Angeles. But even the "Herneid" may have to undergo alteration shortly, as Hollywood, with an eye on the boxoffice, fears it might be a shade too Teutonic should America ever become involved in war. "All this," confesses the ex-baron, "makes me laugh, because Herneid is really a Swedish name and I am of Swedish stock."

He says the name Reid was suggested and then discarded because there is already an actor in Hollywood whose name is Reid. Herneid is another suggestion and I told him Herneid was a name that meant a lot in this country because of Lefaded Hearn. He doesn't know what he will have to do about it but he would be happier if he could remain just Paul Herneid.

Herneid is a very tall, very thin young man who played the nazi consul in "Flight to the West," an anti-nazi drama by Elmer Rice, on Broadway this season. He is also the star of a "sleeper" picture called "Night Train" which came to the public without any advance notices and turned out to be one of the best pictures in a long time. Herneid was very happy about the whole thing. His notices ran like lyric poems. He has a new film contract. For a young man who had a lot of trouble convincing everybody who and what he was, including American immigration authorities, the war year of 1941 has not been too discouraging.

His meeting with the immigration people was worth a double entry in his diary. An Austrian of Swedish extraction, he arrived with a German passport under the Italian quota. Now this may seem involved, but it all fits. Herneid was born in Trieste, a part of Italy. Generations earlier his people had moved to Vienna from Sweden. When the Germans took over Austria they supplanted Austrian passports with their own. So here was a part Swede who was Austrian by an accident of geography who had been born in Italian Trieste and who possessed a German passport. He doesn't know whether the authorities ever got it straight or not, but they let him in, and here he intends to remain.

His principal concern at the moment is his father-in-law, who is Dr. Gustav Gluck, famed author, scientist and authority on Flemish paintings. Thomas Mann and other important friends of the doctor are attempting to find a way for him to come over here, where he has been offered an opportunity to lecture at New York university.

When the Germans took over, Dr. Gluck fled to London, where he was most kindly received. But with London concerned mainly with Goering's raiders, there isn't much opportunity for an essayist on ancient culture these days. Shipping is the bottleneck. They can't get him out of England. Passage even to Lisbon via plane has been gobbled up months ahead. But his friends are working, and some day he will get here.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Public Just Doesn't Realize Our Situation

WASHINGTON—Mr. Roosevelt's warning that a Hitler vanguard would injure our foreign trade apparently did not sink in very deep. Reaction was hardly noticeable here. The president failed, to translate his vision into terms of wages, hours, farm prices, automobiles and the relatively luxurious living in which civilization now is living, as compared with the rest of the world.

If you will couple his statement with speeches made recently by Assistant State Secretary Adolph Berle and Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones, you will see the administration seems to be swerving toward this more realistic line. The old fears of German invasion have long since been abandoned.

What is in their minds now is that the victorious nazis would undersell us everywhere in the world on the basis of barter and enslaved labor.

We could not sell automobiles, steel or jelly beans against them anywhere as long as our workers receive present wages, hours and working conditions. Our price would be double theirs. We would thus face the prospect of becoming a second class power, unless we too went into some adaptation of the nazi system, using barter and cheapening our productive processes.

A NEW COURSE—While this straight-forward statement goes further than Messrs. Roosevelt, Berle or Jones have gone, publically, they have set a new course to this end. The difficulty of popularizing these realistic probabilities is that too many people have come to look on business as "greedy trade," and world selling as dollar diplomacy, forgetful that their livings depend upon it.

YOU NEVER KNOW—While a defense official (W. L. Batt) was telling one congressional committee not an ounce of aluminum could be spared from defense needs the remainder of this year, another congressional committee picked up the following information in executive session: The army, the same army that is screaming for planes, had placed an order for 30,000 to 60,000 aluminum pitchers for syrup and water.

The navy had disregarded the spirit of the same OPM priorities control, by ordering aluminum cap stretchers.

The information came from the office of production management, whose authorities suspected the army and navy never heard of aluminum priorities. Apparently the generals and admirals do not read newspapers.

The quartermasters corps in the army, when called upon for an explanation by the OPM, was cooperative and agreed not to buy pitchers that would have to be made out of new priority aluminum. In other words, they will buy only aluminum pitchers that are in stock and take enamel ware for the remainder.

The navy, however, apparently considered cap stretching a vital work of defense. Last heard by the house naval affairs committee they intended to stick to their order.

Note—The reason names and dates are missing from the above is that no details were furnished the congressional committees. One report indicated the army pitcher order was for 30,000; another report doubled the amount. Authorities here do not feel free to talk about such subjects, but the substantial facts of the matter are undeniably true.

FLAGRANT VIOLATION—A week ago today this column published information about a manufacturer who slid out of his promise to subcontract a large defense order, and instead tried to get 137 new machine tools (a critical shortage line equal in seriousness to that of aluminum) in order to set up a new factory in a vacant warehouse.

Since then the manufacturer has changed his mind. Now he wants 500 new machine tools, 500 of the most vitally needed mechanisms of defense diverted from other uses, in order that he will not have to let subcontractors in on his business.

As a result of this and a few other flagrant cases, OPM is about to put the screws on. Compulsory clauses will be written into all contracts specifically reserving to OPM the right to require subcontracting. The percentage to be subcontracted will depend on size of the order and the size and equipment of the company. Some will have to subcontract a lot, others not at all. Another corrective method will be adopted denying priorities for machine tools to

With strikes breaking unimpeded around the country, with the army looking after its syrup pitchers and the navy after its cap stretchers, and the manufacturer trying to chisel machine tools, the words of Mr. Roosevelt that the people do not yet fully understand the gravity of their situation may take on a new and more ominous meaning.

Meet Ruth Hussey, On the Way Up

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—There will be leg art on Ruth Hussey in "Our Wife." Just a little, and not the kind she feared when she first hesitantly signed a movie contract nearly four years ago.

Melvyn Douglas, the hero, will cry, "Look out, girls—a MOUSE!" And Ruth and the "other woman" of the plot will react as all women are supposed to do, and there, right on the screen, will be Hussey "leg art."

Ruth Hussey is a smart girl, a looker, and an actress. Lately, after the usual routine of bits and B's, she has been making swift ascent—in "Philadelphia Story," "Susan and God," "Flight Command."

After she appeared here in a road company of "Dead End," M-G-M tested her. She wasn't sure she wanted to be in pictures, so far from Providence, R.I., her home town. She asked questions. Would she have to pose for leg art, and could she, any time she wished, get married and have a baby? She wouldn't, said the studio, and she could. She signed.

The movie jewel of Providence was daughter of a jewelry concern's late president. She was schooled in the home town, is a graduate of Pembroke, the women's college of Brown. Interested in art, dramatics, music, she took a secretarial course also to be "ready for anything." People told her acting was a tough game, but at the University of Michigan her college dramatics won her summer stock assignments. Back home again, she became a radio fashion commentator.

One August she went to New York on her vacation, and before it was over she was back in Providence playing in a road company of "The Old Maid." She had made up her mind to use the vacation hunting a part.

The studio wanted to change her name. Miss Hussey said "But why?" with New England directness. She had made up her mind to keep her own name. She kept it.

Part of her reputation as an "intellectual" stems from her college degree—bachelor of philosophy.

osophy. "Bachelor of arts required five years of Latin and I had only two, so I took the next best thing." The rest of the reputation is hers because she is unusually keen and a good talker—and listener. She is one of the neatest dressers in town, almost primly so. She can't stand cluttered purses or untidy bureau drawers. She is so neat and so thorough—about anything she does—that she loses track of time, is frequently late. She keeps strict account of expenditures, almost to the penny, and saves 20 per cent of her income (New England thrift) without harm to her name for generosity.

Once M-G-M was chary of the Hussey chances. No allure; was the whisper. Miss Hussey heard it, and made up her mind to capture the picture. Before her next test she rehearsed before a mirror. For the test she wore a black net dress, very tight.
She won her point.

Camp Cardinal to June 8 for Two-Week Period

Plan Many Activities in Summer Program for City Girl Scouts

June 8 is the date of the annual summer opening of Camp Cardinal, Iowa City Girl Scout camp, it was announced yesterday. The camp will be open for a two-week period in the Boy Scout-Royal club camp one and one-half miles west of Coralville. Registrations may be made now at the Girl Scout office, 119 1-2 E. College.
Photography will be offered girls attending the camp this summer, through the cooperation of Reuben Scharf. Other activities will include camp craft, nature study, hiking, out-door cooking, swimming, archery, arts and crafts, dramatics and out-of-door games.

Mr. George VanDeusen is chairman of the camping committee responsible for camp arrangements. She has been assisted by Mrs. Kirk Porter, Mrs. Hugh Carson, and Barbara Ellen Joy of the Joy camps. Prof. Marjorie Camp of the university women's physical education department is the local Girl Scout commissioner.
Marion Chassell, city Girl Scout director, will direct the camp. Staff members who will be in charge of activities are Betty Rugen, A4 of Glenview, Ill.; Betty Lou Hockert of Sutherland; Lorna Demore, A4 of Edgewood; Billie Bolton, A3 of Iowa City will supervise the swimming and a registered nurse will be a member of the staff.

W.V. Honors

Widows of Civil War Veterans

Widows of Civil War veterans were honored Monday at the Day luncheon of the Daughters of Union Veterans in Youde's hall.
A play, "The Losing Battle," was presented during the program. Veterans' widows honored included Mrs. Della Marble, Mrs. Helen Moylan, Mrs. Robert Goody and Mrs. Green of North Liberty. Other guests were Mrs. Ma Bell, Mrs. Mabel Carrier and Mrs. Caroline Wieneke, Mrs. T. H. Kelley, Mrs. Lou E. Clark and Mrs. Ira Chamberlain of North Liberty.
Mrs. Florence Paasch, president, was in charge of the meeting and Mrs. Burton V. Bridenbake introduced the guests. Members in the play were Mrs. William P. Mueller Jr., Mrs. Thomas Abbott, Mrs. J. H. Billings and Mrs. M. F. Andrews.
Members of the art class at Iowa City high school, under the direction of Lucia Otto, constructed the favors and decorations for the occasion. Mrs. Ona Abbott was in charge.

A mock wedding ceremony was the feature entertainment. Those who took part were Reola Sauer, A1 of Davenport; Miss Ahlstrom, Miss McGowan, Miss Axman, Miss Sauer, and Miss Johnson.

WSUI to Feature Spanish Instruction During Summer

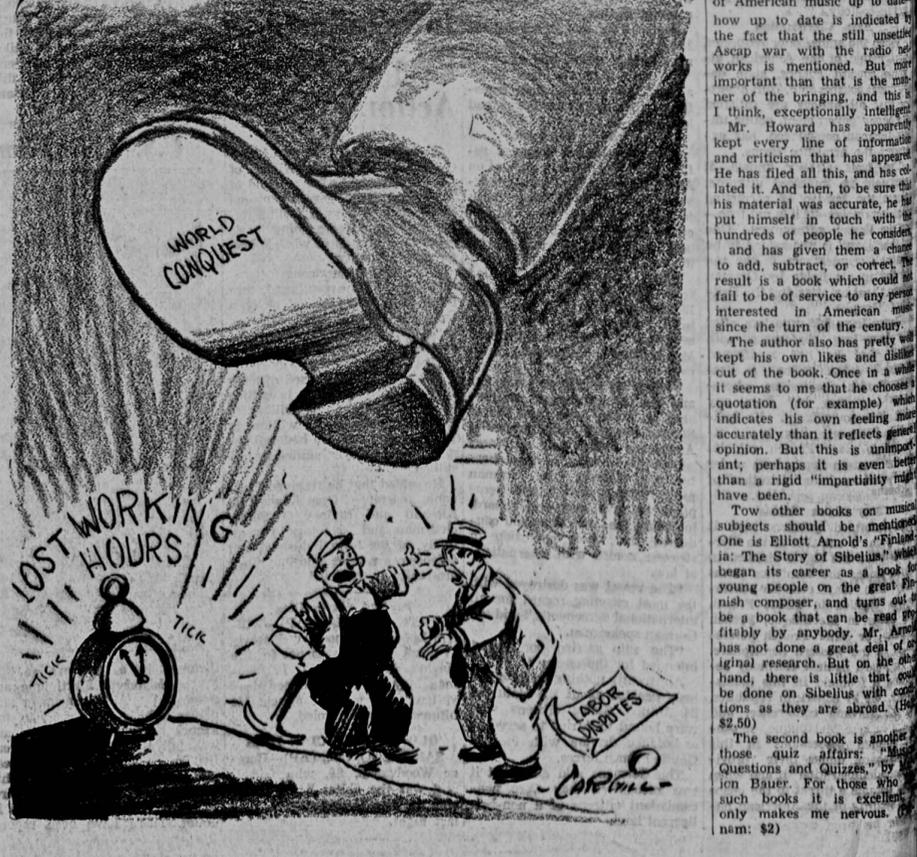

A new program, "Conversational Spanish," will be conducted over WSUI this summer by Mrs. Moushette of the Spanish department at 4 p.m. each Tuesday and Wednesday.
The first four weeks of the program will be devoted to rules of pronunciation, and the last four weeks will be spent on practical questions and quizzes, by Mrs. Moushette. For those who wish such books it is excellent. The only makes me nervous. (Price $2.50)

The second book is another by Mrs. Moushette. It is a book that can be read profitably by anybody. Mr. Arnold has not done a great deal of original research. But on the other hand, there is little that could be done on Sibelius with quotations as they are abroad. (Price $2.50)

The BOOK PARADE

By JOHN SELBY (AP Staff Writer)
"OUR CONTEMPORARY COMPOSERS," by John Tasker Howard (Crowell: $3.50).
SOMETHING like John Tasker Howard's "Our Contemporary Composers" has been needed for a long time. In a way he himself defined the need, for twelve years ago he published a book called "Our American Music: Three Hundred Years of It" which led up to the current century and left the modern field in America untouched.

The new book brings the story of American music up to date. How up to date is indicated by the fact that the still unsettled Ascap war with the radio networks is mentioned. But more important than that is the manner of the bringing, and this I think, exceptionally intelligent.
Mr. Howard has apparently kept every line of information and criticism that has appeared. He has filed all this, and has culled it. And then, to be sure that his material was accurate, he has put himself in touch with hundreds of people he considers to add, subtract, or correct. The result is a book which could not fail to be of service to any person interested in American music since the turn of the century.
The author also has pretty well kept his own likes and dislikes out of the book. Once in a while it seems to me that he chooses a quotation (for example) which indicates his own feeling more accurately than it reflects general opinion. But this is unimportant; perhaps it is even better than a rigid "impartiality" might have been.
Two other books on musical subjects should be mentioned. One is Elliott Arnold's "Fidelius": The Story of Sibelius," which began his career as a book for young people on the great Finnish composer, and turns out to be a book that can be read profitably by anybody. Mr. Arnold has not done a great deal of original research. But on the other hand, there is little that could be done on Sibelius with quotations as they are abroad. (Price $2.50)

Bruins, Athletics Victimize Leaders Again

Cubs Sweep Dodger Series On 9-1 Score

Kirby Higbe Loser In Battle With Lee; Hack Sparks Rallies

CHICAGO, May 20 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, who apparently don't know their own strength, crushed the pennant-bound Brooklyn Dodgers again today, 9 to 1, sweeping the three-game series and extending Flatbushes' losing streak to four straight.

In cooling Brooklyn's pennant fever, the Cubs, after floundering around second division most of the season, whipped the Dodgers' three best pitchers and gave the losers only two earned runs in the three games.

Kirby Higbe, the Dodger starter, mowed down his former teammates in order the first three innings. But in the fourth Stan Hack led off with a double, igniting a three-run explosion on six solid singles. Then the young right-hander settled down and allowed only one more hit through the seventh inning, at which point he retired for a pinch-hitter.

Pete Reiser set up the only Dodger run by beating out a bunt in the fourth and proceeding to second on Clyde McCullough's wide throw to first. Cookie Lavagetto scored him with a double.

The Dodgers made six hits thereafter, but Big Bill Lee was untouchable with men on bases. Lavagetto opened the ninth with a futile triple, Lee easily retiring the side without a ball going out of the infield.

Hack also set off the eighth inning outburst, opening the frame with a walk off Newt Kimball, another former Cub. Three more walks, Phil Cavaretta's double, Bob Sturgeon's single and Lou Stringer's triple with the bases loaded producing six runs.

Reds Rally in 9th To Nip Braves, 9-6
CINCINNATI, May 20 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds today put on one of those ninth-inning rallies that made them the world champions last year, and snatched their third straight victory from the Boston Braves, 9 to 6.

Frank McCormick's seventh home run of the year, coming with the score tied, two out, and two on, capped the six-run explosion that knocked Casey Stengel's crew out of what looked like an easy decision in the final game of the series.

Earl Johnson Sets Tigers Down, 4-2
BOSTON, May 20 (AP)—Earl Johnson, youthful Boston Red Sox left-hander, ruined Hal Newhouser's 20th birthday party today, letting the Detroit Tigers down with four hits as his team snapped its five-game losing streak with a 4-2 triumph.

Johnson held the hard-hitting Tiger crew in complete submission, mowing them down virtually in order in the first five innings, and it was not until the ninth that the Tigers crossed the plate.

Three in Row For A's Over Cleveland, 6-5

PHILADELPHIA, May 20 (AP)—The Athletics matted the league-leading Cleveland Indians again today to sweep a three-game series, 6 to 5, as rookie pitcher Tom Ferrick started once more in a relief role.

Ferrick, who gave the Indians only four hits in 4 1/2 innings after he replaced Johnny Babich in Sunday's game, succeeded Nelson Potter in the eighth after Potter had walked the first two men to face him. Ferrick ended the game in prompt fashion, not permitting a man to reach first base in the two innings he pitched.

The victory, however, went to Bump Hadley, his second since joining the A's recently. Hadley went into the seventh with a 6-2 lead but was knocked out before retiring a man.

Iowa Basketball Team Plays 20-Game Schedule Next Year

15 Conference Foes Included on Card; 11 Home Contests

A 20-game schedule, including 15 Big Ten contests, will be played by the University of Iowa basketball team in 1941-42, Coach Rollie Williams announced Tuesday.

The Hawkeyes will play home games with six league foes—Michigan, Chicago, Purdue, Wisconsin, Illinois and Ohio State—and single contests with Minnesota, Indiana and Northwestern. Under terms of the new rule, it is the first time that more than 12 games have been scheduled.

Eleven of the games will be played at Iowa City, including eight conference battles. The card opens Dec. 13 when Washington university of St. Louis, Mo., comes to the fieldhouse.

California U. 'Nips' Nebraska Nine, 20-2

LINCOLN, Neb., May 20 (AP)—While holding Nebraska scoreless in the first five innings, California's baseball squad pushed 14 runs and went on to win, 20 to 2. The Californians got 22 hits, including home runs by Carleton Hobbs and Stuart Lewis. The teams meet again tomorrow.

The line score:
California... 005 633 030—20 22 2
Nebraska... 000 002 000—2 6 5

Whirly Tunes For Belmont With Victory

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—Whirlaway put in a big early bid for the "horse of the year" honors today by easily whipping Mioland in a race that went down in the books as "Belmont's $50,000 bargain."

Making the first start of his career against older horses, Warren Wright's Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner hit his handicap rivals at the head of the stretch and ran away from them, just as he did with the three-year olds at Churchill Downs and Pimlico.

Without 'Brains' He did it this time, too, without his "brains" in the saddle. For Eddie Arcaro, the jockey they hired to keep Whirly running in a straight line in the Derby and Preakness, was riding against him. Little Wendell Eads, who was blamed for the colt's defeats in the Blue Grass stakes and the Derby trial, booted him just as easily as Eddie.

It's true that Blenheim's Screwy Son bore out all the way down the stretch, and that he had a good-sized edge in weights over Mioland. But the fact still remains that this three-year-old came from far behind—nearly five lengths back at one time—and just ran past the others.

2 Lengths Ahead
At the finish, Whirly was two lengths on top, while Mioland barely nosed out Mrs. Payne Whitney's Hash, piloted by Arcaro, for the place honors. Mrs. George D. Widener's Yucca Chance was fourth and Gus Ring's Ringie last in the five-horse field.

Whirly ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:43 3-5. This $2,500 stake race was strictly as a "conditioner" for future assignments. Whirly may run in Friday's Peter Pan handicap and definitely will start in the Belmont Stakes.

The fans backed Whirly down to 3 to 4 in the mutuels and made Mioland second choice at 3 to 1.

Whirlaway packed 109 pounds, three under the scale for his age if this had been a handicap affair. Mioland was loaded with 127, exactly the burden for four-year olds, while Hash carried 120, seven under scale weight.

Rider Stricken With Disease

CHICAGO, May 20 (AP)—Ray Hightshoe, Greenwood, Neb., an apprentice jockey, was in critical condition in a hospital today suffering from septicaemia. The 23-year-old rider was stricken with pneumonia a week ago and complications developed yesterday.

Young Hightshoe's brother, Ralph, was in another hospital suffering from a fractured collar bone suffered in a spill at Lincoln Fields race track yesterday.

Cardinals Lose, But Keep Lead

ST. LOUIS, May 20 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals retained the National league lead by a fractional margin over Brooklyn today, after losing to the last place Philadelphia Phillies, 6 to 4.

Until the sixth it looked like an easy victory for the Cards and a turn in the fortunes of southpaw Clyde Shoun who has lost two without winning any this year. At this stage St. Louis led, 4 to 0, all the runs propelled over the plate by Johnny Mize's pair of doubles and a triple.

Then up stepped pinch hitter George Junonville, a six-foot footer who drove in 100 runs for Ottawa last season and came up to the Phils for a few games at the close of the season. He hit a home run into the left field bleachers.

will receive basic wages of $7 1-2 cents an hour and warehousemen 77 1-2 cents. The increases amount to 7 1-2 cents hourly.

In New York, a new two-year wage contract covering the Appalachian area was approved by the CIO United Mine Workers. The agreement applies also to the southern coal fields of the eight-state region, but the southern owners were not represented at yesterday's conference.

The agreement calls for basic daily wages of $7, an increase of $1 in the north and $1.40 in the south. It was reached after southern operators had withdrawn from contract negotiations. The southerners objected to the $1.40 a day increase.

The defense mediation board announced that it would meet representatives of the southern operators and of the union in Washington Friday and representatives of the northern operators Saturday.

Attack--

for it was noted that any soldier found in enemy dress is subject to summary execution as a spy.

The prime minister's first story of the half-incredible attack—an attack which some thought might also be rehearsal for a greater attempt one day upon Britain herself—came at the end of a review of the African campaign.

The prime minister said that in Africa Britain had "retained strong offensive power" and that the fighting in the approaches to Egypt was being "maintained at any rate on even terms."

As the house was about to adjourn, he arose with more news: "I mentioned to the house this morning that a serious attack has been begun upon the island of Crete by air-borne troops. I thought the house would like to know before it separated (adjourned) what is the latest information in possession of the government."

"I cannot pretend that the statement (here he referred to the meager additional news) is of momentous importance. It is only because we are all together in this matter that I thought the house would like to know and I was most anxious to keep them fully informed as it is my duty to do whenever possible.

Attempt Fails

"After a good deal of bombing of Suda bay (the major Crete harbor) and various airdromes in the neighborhood about 1,500 enemy troops wearing New Zealand battle dress (and here there were cries of "oh" in the house) landed by gliders, parachutes and troop carriers in the Canea-Malemi area.

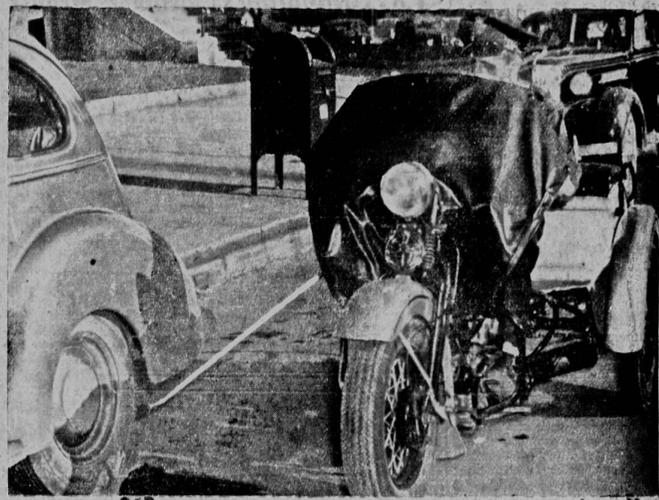

"This message was sent at 10 o'clock today and the military has reported the situation in hand.

Police Promise Motorcycle Raids on Overtime Parkers

Iowa City police yesterday warned local motorists that the overtime parking ordinance will be strictly enforced beginning this morning. To back up their warning is this white three-wheeled motorcycle, shown above with Patrolman Ben Hauber at the bars. According to police, one man on the motorcycle takes the place of five or six men marking cars on foot. To emphasize the police warning, Police Judge Glenn R. Bowen said leniency will be shown first offenders of the overtime parking ordinance. Police advised out-of-town drivers to paste gum stickers on the rear windows instead of the windshields of their automobiles.

Apparently the capture of Malemi airdrome was the enemy's object, and this has so far failed. "A later report at 3 o'clock says there is continuous reconnaissance accompanied by sporadic bombing and machine-gunning, chiefly against the anti-aircraft defenses.

Hospital Recaptured

"The military hospital between Canea and Malemi, which was captured by the enemy, has now been recaptured.

"It is reported that there is a fairly strong enemy party near the Canea-Malemi road which is not yet mopped up, but the other parties are accounted for.

"The Heracleon airdrome has been bombed, but there has been no landing (there) so far. "I thought the people would like to hear how the action has so far developed."

Cyprus Next?

Informed quarters saw the attack on Crete as the probable forerunner of a similar assault upon Cyprus, the only other allied base athwart the axis way to Syria and to the middle east generally.

The fall of Crete itself would put the British under a grave handicap in defending the middle eastern oil fields so vital to them; the fall of both Crete and Cyprus would push the bases of operations of the British Mediterranean fleet and RAF back into Egypt, Palestine and Iraq. In Iraq, they already are at war with the government—a government being supported by nazi warplanes based in Syria.

Whatever the ultimate fate of Crete, it appeared that the Greek king, George II, would stay there until the end. Simultaneously with the arrival of six Greek cabinet officers in Cairo, it was reported that the monarch was staying on the island despite the entreaties of his friends.

Diplomats See 'Squeeze Play' By Germans

Military Units in Iraq Threaten to Sever Railroad Lines

VICHY, France, May 21 (AP)—German military equipment already is crossing Turkey en route to Iraq by rail due to a nazi squeeze play, diplomatic sources here reported tonight.

Reports from Istanbul said passenger traffic to Syria and Iraq had been stopped but did not mention freight traffic.

Diplomatic circles here said the situation was this:

Railroad Threatened

Small German military units in Iraq quickly established themselves along the railroad to Turkey and threatened to cut this line north of Baghdad unless the Turks agreed to let German material move through Turkey to Iraq.

Since this route to the Persian gulf is a principal source of imports for Turkey now that the east Mediterranean is a war zone, the Turks had to comply.

(The British have been reported in control of Basra, Iraq's Persian gulf port, and presumably could use the same means to keep the Turks from bowing to German demands, but this dispatch made no mention of the possibility.)

This asserted railroad deal was cited in Vichy as proof that Turkey was doing everything possible to remain at peace.

Turkey Needs Food

(A delayed dispatch from Istanbul, filed on Tuesday and received Wednesday, told of the cancellation of Turkish-Iraq passenger service which formerly ran twice a week from Turkey across Syria to Iraq. The Taurus express now stops on the Turkish side of the Syrian border, it said. Although Turkey and Iraq have a common frontier, there is no direct rail link. The dispatch acknowledged the urgency of Turkey's food situation due to her isolation.)

Still British Allies

(The same dispatch, however, quoted the Istanbul paper Yeni Sabah as asserting "our borders with Germany are lengthening daily. At all costs Turkey must prevent the Germans from setting up in Iraq and Syria. We must keep our routes to the outer world open, and not let ourselves be cut off from our British allies.")

Small Chance Of Invasion -LaGuardia

NEW YORK, May 21 (AP)—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, who yesterday was appointed by President Roosevelt to head the office of civilian defense, declared tonight that there was a "95 per cent probability" that advance precautions being taken would never be needed.

Neither he nor the president, he said, had any intention "to create a feeling of alarm or of fright," but:

"In the light of what is going on in Europe, of what we read day after day, of the death and destruction and hardship and suffering of the civilian population, no prudent government, interested in the welfare of the people, could possibly fail to appreciate its responsibility to prepare accordingly and to take no chance. That is all we are doing."

LaGuardia, whose decision concerning a third term in city hall has been a matter of much conjecture, declared he would do no campaigning but would "size up the situation" and then let "the people themselves decide."
