As Nazi Legions Sweep Across Ukraine, British Declare

'RUSSIA NEEDS NIAGARA OF AID'

Aurora Borealis Now Visible

By DON OHL Daily Iowan City Editor Iowa Citizens tonight will probably get the chance to see one of the most beautiful of the natural phenomena—the aurora borealis—or northern lights.

According to Prof. C. C. Wylie, head of the university astronomy department, the lights are caused when sun spots move across the center of the sun.

Charged with cosmic electricity, the particles converge and form a heavier current than that carried in most communication lines.

Germans Claim Key Industrial City Captured

Say Armored Forces East of the Dnieper 'Advancing Irresistibly'

BERLIN (AP)—Germans claimed last night the capture of a key city of the Soviet armament industry in a drive so swift that the Russians had no chance to dynamite the water and electric plants as they arranged to do.

Say Red Losses 'Astronomical'

'Shoot on sight' is the order in effect, and the warships of the United States Navy's Atlantic and Pacific fleets have their decks cleared for action as they guard the sea lanes through which pass American supplies to nations warring against the axis.

Report Crimea Cut Off From Mainland

LONDON—An ominous warning that Russia must have a swift flood-tide of war supplies or face military disaster and, perhaps, capitulation, came last night from a London source in a position to speak with authority.

Navy Reports New Transport Development

Predict Prompt Action On Presidential Request For Lend-Lease Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders last night predicted prompt action on a new presidential request for lend-lease money, calling for an additional $3,985,000,000 to buy war equipment for Great Britain, China and other nations.

Crimea Cut Off From Mainland

He went so far as to predict that Adolf Hitler would offer the Russians a separate peace and that the Russians—failing to get equipment—might be forced to lay down their arms.

Loss Railway Service

Isolation of Crimea, now regarded here as a fact, means the loss to the Russians of service on Crimea's only railway across the Perekop isthmus. Thus, it was explained, Crimea cannot easily be reinforced when the Germans bring to bear the full force of their attack.

The Convoy Question, Which Happily Is No Longer a Question

Opponents of the United States foreign policy could make much and doubtless will make much, of the fact that we've been conveying ships all these days. It really isn't cricket, probably, that we should be conveying ships when conveying means shooting and shooting means war and we've set up such an elaborate machinery to keep us out of war.

But who can help but admire the strategy of the administration's move in the neat way they've avoided conflict over convoys by simply proceeding to use them?

There are two schools of thought—just two—on this business of "steps leading to war." There are those who think the situation is grave and has been for some time. And there are those who think the "gravity of the situation" is just so much fabrication of the war mongers.

It so happens that in this case representatives of the former school of thought, having been duly elected by a pretty heavy majority of us, the people, are known as "the administration" and are giving the orders of national policy, insofar as they legally may do so. The day may come when Americans everywhere will thank their lucky stars that the former was the case. We may never know, of course, but there will be long years of peace ahead when the aging ones may thresh the matter out at leisure.

But right now, when the chips come down, we think the move was a wise one. Wise because if disunity must exist, better that it should exist over events past, and not those ahead, because in these times indecision over steps to be taken can be very costly indeed, such was the case some years ago in many countries, notably in one whose back has been pressed more nearly to the wall than it has in hundreds of years—England.

We have faith in this administration. Because it has demonstrated its right to faith through tough years past. We have faith in the makers of foreign policy, for they live near the taproots of international life, while we are far removed from them.

And since the activity abroad of the past years has convinced us of dangers ahead, it is with a sense of satisfaction that we learn of convoys and their use by the nation.

For while there can be no question of the rights of the people in the determination of the policies of nations, there neither can be question of the importance of having a nation in which people may have rights.

School Signs and Children

Community, school and police officials have been urged by the Motor Club of Iowa to make a survey of traffic safety conditions in the vicinity of schools, so that signs, signals and markings will be in proper order to afford adequate safeguards to children now in school again.

Children returning to school this year require more than usual protection, said R. E. Rhoades, manager of the Motor Club of Iowa, and public officials responsible for this protection should check now—as school opens to determine that all signs are properly placed, worn signs have been repainted, traffic signals operate properly, crosswalk markings have been renewed, and no-parking signs in front of schools and at corners near schools are properly erected. He continued:

"Parking alongside school playgrounds and buildings constitutes a serious hazard, and many communities restrict such parking, as well as the stopping or parking of cars and trucks too close to corners where they obstruct the view of safety patrol members and children who wish to cross.

"Many communities are also repainting crosswalk markings wider so as to make them more visible to approaching motorists. This is especially important if the crosswalk is at a mid-block point, or on a rural road."

Mr. Rhoades suggested that officials in charge of bus transportation check bus condition, including the legibility of signs on busses so that signs indicating where school busses stop are legible and properly placed. He added: "Parents of children entering school for the first time should seek the help of the teacher, school safety patrol supervisor and safety patrol captain in determining the safest route to school based on location of school safety patrol member, police traffic signals and stop signs."

Building Up by Tearing Down

A four-purpose community demolition campaign carried on continuously since 1938 has rid Everett, Wash., a city of 31,000, of nearly 150 substandard and unsightly structures, eliminated fire hazards and brought about a general repair and building construction program, the American Municipal association reports.

Object of the campaign is to decrease insurance rates, reduce hazards to life and property, improve the general appearance of the city, and discourage further decentralization of business by restoring the sites of the old buildings to potential usefulness. And what a little pride can accomplish.

Before the program was inaugurated, under direction of the Everett fire marshal and the commissioner of public safety, a survey of the insurance rating schedule of the city showed that 288 deficiencies existed as a penalty against structural conditions, with 104 of these marks a direct charge against building hazards. Over the three-year period, 79 serious fire hazards were removed from the high value districts, and a premium saving resulted on individually insured risks by removal of penalty charges for exposure hazards.

The new building construction program was created to replace structures torn down.

The demolition campaign was carried out on a personal interview basis rather than on compulsory condemnation action as provided by ordinance. Of 43 buildings eliminated during 1938, all but three were torn down through personal negotiations.

The campaign has been successful, officials say, because the public was educated to its necessity as a fire prevention and safety measure, and was shown its value to the city's business. City and county authorities cooperate in the campaign by demolishing substandard structures falling to them for non-payment of taxes.

How many things can you think of in your Iowa City neighborhood that ought to be demolished?

MILLION DOLLAR GATES

In the history of boxing only five contests have attracted million dollar gates (exclusive of radio and picture rights), and Jack Dempsey, "former world's heavyweight champion, was a participant in all of them. The million-dollar gates were the Tunney-Dempsey fights in Philadelphia (1926) and Chicago (1927), and Dempsey's battles with Carpenter (Jersey City, 1921), Firpo (New York, 1923), and Jack Sharkey (New York, 1927).—Your Life Magazine.

Miami Beach Is Like Broadway, And George Tucker Tells Why

MIAMI—Miami Beach is so much like Broadway that one scarcely could tell the difference except for the warm weather and the palm trees waving in the sub-tropical trades. . . . You lean against a telephone pole and everybody you ever saw on Broadway comes by. . . . That's fine, if you like Broadway, but if I ever wanted to get away from it all I certainly would not choose Miami Beach. Life here is like stretching out in Macy's window for a suntan.

For instance, I walked into the lobby of the Dempsey-Vanderbilt and found myself facing a thin, familiar fellow who seemed happy but needed a haircut. . . . It was Roscoe Ates, who made a lot of money through his ability to stutter in the movies. . . . Roscoe was in fine fettle. . . . He was leaving by plane that afternoon for Detroit. . . . "Wife's leaving with the car for California," he told me. . . . "I'm playing a week in Detroit." . . . Roscoe had been making personal appearances in the deep south and midwest. . . . When they go on the road, somehow, they always turn up at Miami.

A FEW moments later Jack Mercer came in. . . . Jack is the "voice" of most of the characters in these animated cartoon movies you see. . . . In "Mr. Bug Goes to Town," Dave Fleischer's newest production nearing its release date, he is Swat, the Fly. . . . You say Swat, like you say Harry the Horse. . . . Mercer is also the voice of Popeye. . . . I said, "Jack, you married?" . . . "Sure," he told me, "I'm married to Olive Oyl." . . . Olive is Popeye's sweetheart. . . . Not long ago Jack was in New York on the "We The People" program. . . . He is a Worthington, Indiana, product, a refugee from vaudeville, and he is himself an artist. Other voices that Jack has created include Poopdeck Pappy, and Spunky, the donkey.

Later I ran into Ray Redmond and he said, "I just got back from New York and Detroit. . . . Been on a vacation. . . . Tell Carl Erbe hello for me when you get back." . . . Carl is a familiar figure in Miami. . . . He is Ben Marden's right hand man. . . . He is part owner of some of the Miami clubs. . . . In New York he handles the Riviera for Marden. . . . It was Carl who wanted to take me along the inland water route from New York to Miami on his boat. . . . I was unable to make it, and the boat came to pieces under Carl, and sank. . . . Later, he was awarded a medal for swimming around in the ocean for about five hours and saving his dog.

The first free moment available I called Fred Stozier, the AP's Miami correspondent, and we got together to exchange greetings and see if we couldn't do something about the warm weather, which only a few days before had been 110 on the streets. . . . It was a pleasant interlude, for we have many mutual friends, and besides, he congratulated me warmly on that saffish I caught.

Then he went on to a dinner engagement and I went back to pack and catch a plane for New York.

ARMY AND COLLEGE ENROLLMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C. (ACP)—While elementary school enrollment figures are plunging far below those of last year, America's colleges and high schools have not yet felt the full effects of lowered birth-rates during the depression of the thirties.

The United States office of education estimates college enrollment this year will be 1,450,000, a rise of 25,000. Some educators questioned the accuracy of this early estimate, in view of the drift of college-age men into the armed services.

Those expecting an increase in total college enrollment contend that while Johnny may go to the army or to work, "more men in jobs means more money for Man's education."

The education office estimates enrollment in elementary schools has dropped to 20,707,000, a decline of 210,000 in a year. The estimate for high school enrollment is 7,334,000—up 100,000.

Total school enrollments, as calculated by the education office, embrace more than 2,000,000 in evening and part-time schools, business colleges, nurse training institutions and private trade schools. The grand total is set at 31,566,000, a decline of 160,000.

Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati and nationally known for his surveys of college registration, reports that numerous institutions, "including prominent eastern colleges for men," have conducted promotional campaigns and waived limitations on the size of freshman classes to offset losses in upper class enrollment.

NAVAL ROTC EXPANDS—GREAT LAKES, Ill. (ACP)—Naval ROTC units are being established this fall at eight universities and colleges, according to Rear Admiral John Downes, commandant of the Ninth naval district.

The units are located at the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind.; University of Colorado at Boulder; Duke University, Durham, N. C.; Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass.; University of New Mexico at Albuquerque; Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y.; Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, and Tufts College, Medford, Mass.

Meanwhile the navy announced in Washington, D. C., that expansion of the program of enrolling freshmen in naval science and tactics courses has increased to 27 the number of colleges having ROTC units.

GEORGIA AND THE DRAFT

ATLANTA, Ga. (ACP)—Georgia selective service headquarters has recommended that college students be deferred from military training as long as they "maintain a standard of academic work which is satisfactory to the college and to the local board."

Major Charles J. Brookman, state occupational deferment director said the new deferment recommendation will include all college students not yet placed in classification I-A.

Local boards already had been authorized to defer students taking "essential courses" such as medicine, dentistry, chemistry, engineering, biology, geology, physics and mining, but the state headquarters wants the grades looked into first.

JOURNALISM MASTERS

EVANSTON, Ill. (ACP)—A cooperative arrangement between the school of education and Medill school of journalism at Northwestern University, first of its kind in American educational circles, goes into effect this fall, providing a joint-degree program enabling students to receive their bachelor's degree in education at the end of the fourth year and their master's degree in journalism at the end of the fifth.

The new plan supplements a teachers' sequence offered by Medill in which students may receive the master's degree by coming up through the college of liberal arts. The new joint-degree program permits a stronger background in education.

100 BEST BOOKS

ST. PAUL, Minn. (ACP)—Freshmen at the College of St. Thomas are offered this year a reading course based on the "100 best books" idea.

Men placing in the highest quarter of the class in aptitude tests are allowed to enroll in a discussion class for study of works by Homer, Aeschylus, Plato, Aristotle and St. Augustine in their English translations.

Refuse to Insure Selectees—DES MOINES (AP)—Spokesman General Francis Biddle said yesterday he had no doubt the United States government would maintain "our essential (constitutional) liberties" regardless of the severity of the crisis through which the nation may have to pass.

'We'll Maintain Our Liberties'—Yosemite, Calif. (AP)—Attorney General Francis Biddle said yesterday he had no doubt the United States government would maintain "our essential (constitutional) liberties" regardless of the severity of the crisis through which the nation may have to pass.

Why Movie Stars Like to Be Stars

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—John Emery, the villain, was beating the daylight out of Douglas Fairbanks Jr., who was enjoying a spot of peach ice cream at the time. You do things like this if you're a movie actor, which is probably one reason so many people want to be movie actors.

Young Doug, in a sense, owed his peach ice cream and his momentary leisure to the Hays office, which doesn't like to see actors get flogged on the screen. That's why Doug was on the sidelines, and Emery was out there swinging a mean lash at a leather pillow for a scene in "The Corsican Brothers." The camera was picking up Emery and his whip and the mike was picking up the whacks on the pillow, and young Doug was picking up the frozen peach and talking about the wonderful love he has for these swashbuckling tales.

He's always had it, he said. He was reading all the period romances even before his dad was making them into pictures. He could give you the plot on any Dumas, Sabatini, or Robert W. Chambers novel you named. These were the great days, he said, when men fought with swords instead of tanks.

His father was an expert at the swashbuckling business, but young Doug said he wasn't tackling the role as his father would have.

"Nobody that I know," he said, "could put the physical dash into a romantic part that he did."

Young Doug has had only three swashbuckling pictures—this one, "The Prisoner of Zenda" and "Gunga Din." He'd like to do some with an American background—the clipper ship days, whaling, the French and Indian wars, colonial Virginia, old Kentucky. "All dripping with color," he said.

Then the makeup man came to apply sweat and bloody welts to his body, while John Emery, exhausted and perspiring after four flogging takes, sat down on the sidelines.

WARNER BROS. please note: Mason City, Ia., is going to be unhappy if you don't have the premiere of "One Foot in Heaven" there, where Hartzell Spence, the author and his father, the hero, both lived. The Motion Picture Editors of Iowa are set on it too.

Bob Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck take a ribbing in the Puerto Rico World-Journal for that fan mag article describing their Caribbean cruise—in which they gave Havana landmarks that belong to San Juan.

Johnny Weissmuller is teaching young Tarzan, John Jr., aged one year, the rudiments of the Australian crawl. Junior has been in the water, in and out, for six months now. It's not for us.

ies take their linen away from the lines when this condition exists, since the power is often increased to over 400 volts, which becomes dangerous under certain conditions.

He said that the northern lights will probably be visible for about a week and that the sun spot, which can be seen with the naked eye, will also be visible today providing the weather is clear.

A display of northern lights was visible for two evenings in August, Professor Wylie said, but were not as brilliant as those seen last evening.

Wednesday evening the lights became visible about midnight, while last night they started earlier, shortly after dark. He said that the series of sun spots crossing the sun re-occurs about every 11 years, but that scientists could make no definite prediction.

He suggested last night, several ways in which Iowa Citizens can see the sun spot today. By looking directly at the sun through from one to three pieces of dark photographic film, the spot should be visible, he declared.

A piece of glass, darkened by smoke, can also be used effectively, he pointed out.

Another method, which gives an effective demonstration, is to darken a room by pulling the curtain shades. Then let a small circle of sunlight shine through a shade and on the floor. By placing a piece of white paper on the floor where the circle of light shows, a perfect miniature image of the sun is formed. To one side of the center of this image, a small shadow will be visible—and that is the sun spot.

He also emphasized last night, that to see more clearly the northern lights at night, the observer should be away from city lights, preferably in the country on top of a hill.

NEW YORK (AP)—A spectacular display of the aurora borealis swept the northwestern skies last night in a heavenly show which led many an individual to believe it had something to do with national defense.

"Is the army testing a new searchlight?" or "is the air force practicing a new type of night tactics?" were samples of some of the thousands of phone calls which swamped newspaper offices.

The Hayden planetarium in New York answered calls at the rate of more than 100 an hour; city dwellers mounted to roof tops while the people who deal in communications just moaned.

For the capricious flickerings in the firmament played hob with wireless and cable connections practically around the globe and disrupted radio and telegraph service throughout much of the United States.

Teletypewriters in newspaper offices showed a disconcerting volume of garbled copy which looked something like this—shrxpsvym.

Spasmodically, the 300,000-mile leased wire network of the Associated Press was down—at one time for as long as two minutes—and the 10,000-mile wirephoto network over which newscopies are transmitted was upset.

Hawklets Will Meet Indianola Here Tonight

Indians Boast Strong Aerial, Ground Attack

Iowa City Primed For Last Non-Conference Game on New Plays

Tonight at 8 o'clock at Shrader field under the lights, the Red and White gridders from Iowa City will tangle in their second non-conference game with a powerful team from Indianola. This game is the last non-conference tilt before the Hawklets open their Mississippi Valley race, for next Friday the Little Hawks travel to Clinton for the loop opener.

Coaches Herb Cormack and Fran Merten drilled their players for two-and-a-half hours last night in preparation for the Indianola tilt. Indianola, more or less a mystery team, will be in Iowa City for their second game of the season. Last Friday they ran over a team from Osceola by a score of 38 to 0.

New Indian Coach

The Purple and Gold Indians, under a new coach, were scheduled to be a weaker team than last week's score indicates. Coach Hap Miller, who last year coached at Tama high school, came to Indianola this year and found eight lettermen from last year's squad waiting for him. His entire team is built around these veterans.

The new coach built a passing combination around two of these lettermen that City high will have to watch closely. Smith, a husky halfback, is the tosser, while a tall lanky lad by the name of Carpenter is the receiver. These two boys figured greatly in the win over Osceola last week.

Three Running Backs

But if the Indians' passing attack should fail they have three backs who can run with the best. Emory, Shupe and Allen team up with Smith to make up the offensive backfield. Allen is the open-field running star while Emory opens his own holes with his driving plunges. Shupe is a new man in Indianola, having just moved to that town, but he adds to the Purple and Gold the way Iowa City's new man, Casey, adds to the Hawklets, a bright star has moved to their city.

Davis, first team center, is the mainstay of Indianola's line, but the two tackles, Noble and Houghton, are big and rangy and add much strength.

Coach Miller has drilled his team in the short punt formation, a type of offense that is used mainly for power plays. Undoubtedly the strategy is for Emory to tear the line and bring up the secondary so Smith can throw his touchdown passes to Carpenter.

Little Hawks Ready

But the Little Hawks will have something to say about how the game will end. Coach Cormack has

Feller Gets 24th As Indians Stop Red Sox, 6 to 1

BOSTON (AP)—Bob Feller marked up his 24th victory of the season yesterday, snapping a Boston Red Sox victory string which had run to eight games as his Cleveland Indians battered three Boston pitchers for a 6-1 decision.

Jeff Heath put the game into Cleveland's victory book in the opening inning when he lofted a Dick Newsome, serve into the right field stands with two mates aboard.

drilled his men all week on the famous T formation and has also added several new plays to be run from the single wing.

The Red and White machine will be in full gear with the return of Art Cornwall to the lineup. The junior guard seems to have completely recovered from his muscle injury. However, due to his work all week, Don Goodnow may get the nod from Cormack for the starting guard post.

The rest of the starting lineup will be the same as started last week's game. The backfield will be made up of Casey, Sangster, Roth and Danner. The line will team up with Dean Williams and Jenkinson at ends, Bothell and Yaunash at the tackles. Capen will start at guard along with Cornwall or Goodnow, and "Killer" Crumley will be at the pivot post.

Durocher Chased, As Dodgers Waste 5-Run Rally in 8th for Lead

By DUKE MORAN

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The belligerence of the Brooklyn Dodgers in their battle for the National league pennant cost them a 6 to 5 defeat yesterday by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Durocher clan came up with another of its miraculous late-inning rallies—five priceless runs in the eighth—and then nullified this ferocious effort with an outbreak of frayed tempers, which caused Hugh Casey to throw away the game and Manager Leo (The Lip) Durocher to be chased off the field by Umpire George Magerkurth.

Scores 5 in 8th

Brooklyn scored its five runs after two were out and led, 5 to 4, when Luke Hamlin came in to pitch for the Pirates in the last of the eighth.

Vince DiMaggio led off with a single and raced to second as Ducky Medwick fumbled the ball. Hugh Casey replaced Hamlin. DiMaggio went to third on a fly by Debs Garmt and was held there while pinchhitter Maurice Van Robays grounded out.

Then trouble came. With two strikes on catcher Al Lopez, Casey committed a balk and Umpire Magerkurth waved DiMaggio home with the tying run.

The Dodgers, their nerves worn thin while trying to stave off the St. Louis Cardinals on a long road trip, were infuriated and Casey was the most furious of all—though Durocher and all his Dodgers joined in a mass protest, claiming Lopez had stepped out of the batter's box.

Casey Goes Amuck

When order was temporarily restored, Casey hurled three consecutive wild pitches, far over the heads of batter Lopez, catcher Mickey Owen and the umpire.

Magerkurth, a towering, broad-shouldered man, whipped off his mask, strode out to the pitcher's mound and told Casey (he said later) that the pitcher could not "make a travesty of this ball game."

Durocher came charging right at Magerkurth's heels, protesting volubly. The fiery little manager planted himself between big, chubby Casey and the bigger umpire and for a few minutes he stood toe to toe with Magerkurth, who disclosed that the manager argued he was interfering with his pitchers and used "bitter language."

Durocher Thrown Out

Magerkurth ordered Durocher out of the game and Umpire Tom Dumm escorted him off the field while the crowd of 9,021 fans, who had cheered the Dodgers earlier, gave vent to jeers.

Lopez, who had been the first to holler "balk" at Magerkurth, walked on the first pitch after

Here's Run Which Gave Reds Win Over Dodgers

Umpire Reardon calls Ernie Joost's slide, home safe in the eleventh inning as he scores on Billy Werber's single which gave the Reds a 4 to 3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in this last game of their blazing series in Cincinnati. This win for the Reds gave them a taste of revenge against the Dodgers who had mathematically eliminated them as National league pennant contenders.

Senators Halt Rally By Browns to Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Senators defeated St. Louis, 9 to 8, yesterday after halting a four-hit rally that produced a pair of Brown tallies in the ninth.

Walter Masterson, Washington's third hurler, struck out pinch-hitter John Lucadello with runners on first and third to end the contest.

Litzelman Submits To Operation

It was learned yesterday that Al Litzelman, promising 190-pound sophomore right halfback from Osage, was operated on for appendicitis at University hospital last Saturday night, and will be lost to the squad for the remainder of the season.

play resumed and Alf Anderson, the weak-hitting shortstop substitute for Arky Vaughan, then connected for a triple to the extreme rightfield corner to bring home the winning run.

In the ninth Rip Sewell, who relieved Johnny Lanning in the eighth, set the Dodgers down in order and received credit for the victory.

On his way to the visitors' dressing room, Durocher broke a couple of chairs and lights.

Stewart Breaks It Up

After the game several Dodgers crowded about Magerkurth under the grandstand and, he said, resumed "vile personal abuse." Bill Stewart, scrappy little umpire who helped handle the game, broke up the gathering.

Bill Klem, veteran umpire-in-chief, witnessed the game from the grandstand and said he was making a personal investigation. Magerkurth telephoned a full report to President Ford Frick of the National league and then started a lengthy full written report.

The umpires agreed that Casey had balked by stopping his wind-up when it looked as if DiMaggio was going to steal home, and then starting the pitch again.

Hawkeyes Ragged on Passes Throughout Three-Hour Drill

Dick Johnson, Jack Kennedy Only Bright Lights of Workout

Coach Eddie Anderson saw his hopes for a strong passing attack go "bloody" right in his face for the time being yesterday afternoon, as he drilled his Hawkeyes for three hours on an aerial offense, and the boys turned in the worst showing since the fall workouts have started.

Any back who has even a touch of throwing ability was flinging them in the afternoon drill—to any end or back who can catch anything smaller than a basketball, and the net result in the end was exactly nothing. The percentage of completions was not quite one out of ten.

However, a few bright spots came to light, with the help of much rubbing on the part of the coaching staff. One was Dick Johnson, reserve end, who starred on defense with the third team, and then went out to snag a few passes for the first. Another was Jack Kennedy, who caught most of the passes that were complete, and showed a lot of speed and deception doing it. And still another were lateral passes, which clicked around end for sizeable gains regularly.

Contact work of the day was limited to line scrimmage during the passing drill. Tom Farmer, Jim Youel, Bill Green, Bill Stauss and Al Couppee were doing the passing, and Hank Miller, Bill Burkett, Jim Davis and Ed Thomas, ends; and Jack Kennedy, Bus Mertes, Hank Vollenweider, Couppee, Jerry Ankeny and Ben Trickey, backs, on the receiving end.

For the second straight day, Capt. Bill Diehl spent the drills running the stiffness out of his knee, twisted in Wednesday's workout. His injury is not believed serious. Tommy Hand, reserve center, took over his post.

Bob Bender and Bill Parker were still on the sidelines with muscle injuries, and Wayne Miller, reserve quarterback, quit the squad Wednesday.

Irish Varsity Scrimmages SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Coach Frank Leahy of the University of Notre Dame put his first-team football players through their first defense scrimmage of the school year yesterday.

Harmon Placed In Class I-A by Board

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Tom Harmon, Michigan's all-American fullback last fall, was placed in class I-A by his selective service board last night, subject to immediate physical examination to determine whether he is ready for service at once.

The board denied at its rehearing Harmon's request that he be placed in class 3-A on the ground that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Harmon, were dependent on him.

Batting Slump Halts Birds

Salvo Hurls Six-Hitter Helped by Demaree's 3-Run Homer in 9th

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Opportunity pounded on the Cardinals' door yesterday—almost broke it down, in fact—but they couldn't answer with base hits and lost a golden chance to take over the lead in the National league race.

Caught tight in a batting slump, the Redbirds managed only six safeties off Manuel Salvo, heretofore a so-so pitcher, and lost to the pesky Boston Braves, 4 to 1. Meanwhile, the Pittsburgh Pirates had tumbled the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers, 6 to 4.

Cards in Slump

A good stout bat or two would have done the trick for the Cards who have scored only 46 runs in their last 16 games, an average of less than three tallies a game. Their batting average over that stretch has been .207.

Against Salvo, the Cardinals put together Estel Crabtree's triple and Marty Marion's single for a run in the second inning, but Stan Mize's single and Johnny Mize's double just meant two men left on base in the third. The remaining two hits—singles by Jimmy Brown and Gus Mancuso—were wasted in double plays.

Demaree Homers

Morton Cooper, who throws a speed ball and a sharp curve, could have made a battle of it except for his home run pitch to Frank Demaree after two Boston singles in the opening inning. Frank's drive was his only hit of the series.

Boston was the last eastern club on the St. Louis schedule. The Cardinals now tackle the tough westerners—Chicago and Pittsburgh—while Brooklyn finds supposedly easier pickings with Philadelphia and the Braves.

Reds Win Pair From Phillies

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Reds banged shut the season's book on Philadelphia with a double win yesterday and a sweep of the four-game series, 5 to 0 and 9 to 2.

It fell to Ray Starr, veteran minor leaguer just up from Indianapolis, to administer the whitewash-opener. He scattered eight hits. The Phils bowed to the Reds 16 to 22 times this season.

Swenson Elected

Ted Swenson, assistant track coach of the university, was elected president of the Southeastern Iowa Officials' association at a meeting of that group Tuesday. Don Mallet was elected secretary-treasurer.

The organization includes officials in Iowa City and surrounding towns, and holds rules interpretation meetings in both football and basketball throughout the year. Elwyn Shain, equipment manager of the university, is the retiring president.

U-High Meets Richland Here This Afternoon

At 3:30 this afternoon the Blue Hawks will open up their season against undefeated Richland high, trying to avenge last year's 13-7 defeat.

Both teams have records to protect this afternoon. The Blue Hawks haven't been defeated on their home field for the past seven years, and Richland had an undefeated season last year plus one victory so far this season.

Because Coach Brechler's squad is inexperienced and light he has built the squad around two of his remaining lettermen, Glenn Stimmell, fullback, and George Lehman, punter for the team.

Lack of time has been the greatest worry to Brechler. Reorganizing a new backfield and plugging up holes in the line has occupied most of the practice periods.

Light scrimmage and the running of plays rounded out the practice session yesterday afternoon.

The probable lineup for this afternoon is Schneberger and Lehman, ends; Louis, Halverson or Cobb, tackles; Stimmell, Carson, Young or Meier, guards, and Reed at center.

Backfield men are Alderman or Wagner, left half; Kimm, Barber or Frey, right half; Stimmell at fullback, and Shay or Rummels at quarterback.

Cubs Rally In 7th To Beat Giants, 7-1

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs crowded into fifth place in the National league yesterday by overpowering the New York Giants, 7 to 1, with a six-run uprising in the seventh inning and four-hit hurling by Jake Mooy.

The rivals came up to the last of the seventh with a 1-1 deadlock with Tom Sunkel, new recruit of the Giants, matching the fine pitching of Mooy. In the rally which followed, the Giants made three errors and Sunkel was shelled out of the game.

Interpreting War News

Soviet Positions Grave As Nazi Legions Roll Nearer Baku Fields

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Russian counter attacks in the center have not yet discernibly eased Nazi pressure on either the north or south flanks of the long battle line; but they may have forced Hitler into premature action in the south.

He has started what looks like the most threatening offensive of the 90-day-old conflict—an offensive aimed at severing Red army oil arteries tapping the Baku fields.

Unquestionably, conditions for this drive would have been better a little later. The first hard freezes in the southeastern Ukraine are due next month. Until then rains along the whole course of the Dnieper from west of Moscow to the Black sea find high waters and seas of mud, with which the German drive toward Rostov must contend.

Once the ground freezes in the south, both tank warfare and the maintenance of communications with the rear would have been easier for the Germans until heavy snow fell. Mud and high waters in the lower Dnieper marshes and along every tributary stream is certainly complicating matters now for Hitler's commanders.

Yet the Nazi war lord appears already to have loosed his legions in a vast interlocking double offensive east of the Dnieper that reaches all the way from the Dnestr river north of Kiev to the Black sea and has now expanded to include the Crimean peninsula. London reports that the Crimea is already isolated by road and rail from Russian armies east of the Dnieper; and there are intimations of an impending Nazi sea-air attempt to seize the whole Crimea to bolster the eastward drive from the Dnieper.

The British are reported to be bringing pressure on Turkey to deny former Italian war craft now flying to the Aegean to the Black sea. This indicates that the British and Russians anticipate a sea-air attack on the Crimea. It is feared that once the ships entered the Black sea, Bulgaria would re-transfer them to Germany. Russia and Bulgaria are already verging toward hostilities. Moscow charges Bulgarians are actively cooperating with the German attack, of which the rumored warship deal might be a part.

There are eye-witness accounts of Nazi knock-down submarines reassembled in both Rumanian and Bulgarian waters and of ship and barge concentrations to carry a sea-borne German force up or across the Black sea. These reports strongly support the view that Hitler's attempted master stroke against Russia is already in full swing from the Kiev area south around the Dnieper elbow to the Crimea.

In German hands the Crimea could become an added threat to Rostov and a base of operations for a direct German drive toward the Baku field and its pipe lines southeast of the Rostov corner.

Moreover, winter weather would offer no sure safeguard to Russians defending the Caspian oil fields once Nazi forces secured bases in the Crimea. It is the site of famous Russian winter resorts and all the north and northeast Black sea coast and its hinterland is largely free of the extreme cold and heavy snows that for the six winter months grip the rest of the 2,000 mile Nazi-Soviet battle line from the Black sea to the Arctic ocean.

New and Attractive 'Tea' Menu Suggestions

Raggedy Ann Torte, Angel Parfait, Brownies—Favorites in Mrs. Howard L. Beye's Home

By CORINNE HAYES
Daily Iowan Food Editor

With the opening of the school year, Iowa City hostesses begin to search for new and attractive "tea" menus.

Mrs. Howard L. Beye, 422 E. Brown, is a specialist in preparing "company" favorites—company including husky football men or the most finicky eaters.

"Raggedy Ann Torte is easily the most popular dessert at this house," Mrs. Beye exclaimed.

Cooperation in the Kitchen

A mother and daughter combination that really clicks in the kitchen is none other than Mrs. Howard L. Beye and her daughter, Helen, 422 E. Brown. Mrs. Beye pauses during her work to offer her daughter a bit of culinary advice.

Raggedy Ann Torte
6 egg whites
Dash of salt
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 1/2 cups of sugar
1 teaspoon of vanilla
1 teaspoon of vinegar

Beat the egg whites until they are light and frothy, sprinkle the salt and cream of tartar over the top and beat the mixture until it's stiff. Gradually beat in 1/2 cup of sugar, then vanilla and vinegar. Fold in carefully the remaining cup of sugar—sprinkling about 2 tablespoons of sugar one at a time. Carefully put the batter into a 10 inch mold and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 1 hour or until firm. Invert the pan to cool.

"There are many ways this dessert may be served," explained Mrs. Beye. "I often fill the center of the Torte with whipped cream and put fruit—strawberries, peaches, or any fruit in season—around the outside of the Torte.

A holiday special at the Beye home is Angel Parfait. Thanksgiving and Christmas are two important days that always feature this striking dessert.

Angel Parfait
1 cup of sugar
3/4 cup of water
3 egg whites
Pinch of heavy cream
1 tablespoon of vanilla

Boil the sugar and water until the syrup threads when dropped from the tip of the spoon. Pour slowly on the beaten whites of the eggs and continue the beating till the mixture is cool. Add the cream which has been beaten until stiff and the vanilla. Line the sides of a mold with lady fingers and pour the mixture into the mold. Put in refrigerator and freeze. When ready to serve, unmold and slice the individual portions.

Mrs. Beye suggests that informal get-togethers need something simple and tasty. "The children prefer to have Brownies and milk—or cokes—when they have their friends drop in."

Brownies
3/4 cup of flour
1/2 teaspoon of baking powder
1/2 teaspoon of salt
1 cup chopped nuts
1/3 cup of shortening
1 cup of sugar
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon of vanilla
2 squares of chocolate, melted

Mix and sift the flour, baking powder and salt. Stir in the nuts. Cream the shortening until soft and gradually beat in the sugar. Slowly add well beaten eggs, vanilla and melted chocolate. Stir in the flour and nut mixture. Pour the batter into a greased shallow 8 inch square pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 to 35 minutes. Cut in squares before removing from pan. This recipe makes about 16 squares.

Tea Sandwiches
Interesting sandwiches are made by Mrs. Beye when she slices a pullman loaf of bread lengthwise.

2 cups of water
4 heaping teaspoons of black tea
5 leaves of mint
1 teaspoon of allspice
1 1/2 cups strained orange juice
3/4 cup strained lemon juice
4 quarts iced water

Boil sugar and water for 5 minutes. Add tea, mint and allspice. Cover lightly and let stand for 10 minutes. Strain and add fruit juices. Pour over cracked ice. This will serve 15 to 20 glasses.

The Johnson county grand jury, returning after a two-day session, Wednesday issued 12 indictments. Sheriff Preston Koser said yesterday that Gus Mitchell, indicted by the grand jury for desertion has been apprehended and is in the county jail. Bond is set at $1,000.

County Board Approves Sale

The county board of supervisors yesterday approved the sale of six lots out of a group of eight on which bids were recently received and adjourned the sale on the other two lots until Sept. 29 at 10 a.m.

Roosevelt Houses Up for Sale

The twin Roosevelt houses, at 47 and 49 East 65th street, New York City, shown above, have been offered for sale. The houses have been occupied by the family of President Roosevelt (No. 49) and his mother, the late Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt (No. 47), who had the houses built in 1908. The houses, assessed at $139,000, have one entrance. The offer is by authority of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

'Get Acquainted Week' Is October 6 to 11

The Iowa City chamber of commerce has set Oct. 6 to 11 as their "Get Acquainted Week" which will be highlighted by the annual business man-farmer dinner in the Iowa union river room, Leslie A. Moore, head of the chamber's retail trade division, announced yesterday. Local businessmen will invite farmer friends to attend the dinner. The speaker will be announced later.

Police Judge Smith Opens Law Office

Police Judge William J. Smith, yesterday announced that he has opened a law office in room 603 in the Iowa State bank building. Appointed judge in August, Smith has been a life-long resident of Iowa City. He graduated from St. Patrick's high school, the university college of commerce in 1937 and the college of law in 1940.

Choose 4 I.C. Boys Delegates To 4-H Conclave

Four Iowa City boys and one Lone Tree boy were chosen to represent the county at the state 4-H Boy's club meeting to be held in December at Ames. The boys were chosen because of their outstanding work in 4-H club activities during the past year. Boys chosen are Jack Anderson, Dean Williams, Eldon Bothell and Kenneth Smalley, all of Iowa City, and Dale Burr of Lone Tree. The 4-H boys club committee who picked the five boys also judged this year's record books, kept by 4-H members.

Mrs. A. Rankin Funeral Rites To Be Sunday

Mrs. Alice Rankin, 78, 102 S. Gilbert, died at the home of her son, Dr. Isom A. Rankin, 1114 E. College, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning after a short illness.

Exposure and exhaustion were contributing causes of her death. She had wandered away from her apartment Wednesday evening and had been absent for several hours when she was found. She had been in poor health for some time.

Born in Lancaster county, Mo., Aug. 30, 1863, she was married to A. E. Rankin in 1884. For the past 20 years she lived in Cedar Rapids and Iowa City. She is survived by five children, Doctor Rankin of Iowa City, Arthur C., of Ottumwa; Howard E., Cedar Falls; Mrs. Georgia Slocombe, Chicago; Paul C., New Iberia, La., and several brothers and sisters.

Tentative funeral services have been planned for Sunday afternoon with burial in Oakland cemetery. The body is at Beckman's.
