Iowa Eleven Practices On Chicago Field

Duke Slater, Former Grid Great, on Hand To Wish Walker Luck

By BILL BUCKLEY

Daily Iowan Sports Editor CHICAGO (Special to The Daily Iowan)—In the shadow of old Stagg field, made famous by the deeds of All-Americans long gone from the scene of their triumphs, Iowa's football team put in its final workout yesterday before going out to meet the Michigan team...

It was not on the gridiron sandwiched between the large empty stands made possible by the play of such men as Crisler that the Hawkeyes worked out, but on the old practice field, bounded on two sides by a ramshackle board fence...

Broadcast

WSUI will hook in with WMT and the Iowa Broadcasting Company to bring a play-by-play description of the Iowa-Michigan game with Gene Schumate giving the running account. The broadcast will start at 12:45.

The NBC Red network will also carry the game with Fort Pearson at the mike. As the Hawks lazily tossed and caught passes, jogged leisurely around the field and worked just enough to get warmed up, the session turned into a field day for Chicago photographers...

Duke Slater, all-time Iowa All-American tackle, and now a prominent Chicago attorney, arrived to wish his protegee, Jim Walker, the best of luck. The press wouldn't let him get away, however, posing him with this combination and that, with Walker, with four tackles and with the whole line.

Bus Mertes, a local product, was welcomed by his whole family at the field, and had to pose for a family snapshot.

Japanese Use Whole Army In 'Maneuvers'

SAIGON, French Indo-China (AP)—Japanese forces capable of a "full dress campaign" and supported by aerial units began grand maneuvers in this occupied area today as the rainy season ended.

Censorship forbade mention of the location of the maneuvers and details of the size and equipment of the forces, but it was learned reliably that diplomatic pressure on neighboring Thailand continued. Many observers believed the zero hour for southern Asia was at hand.

You've Got a Date With the Hawks

Win, lose or draw, the Hawkeyes will be met at the train on their return from Ann Arbor tomorrow morning by a University of Iowa pep band, and by Pi Epsilon Pi's cheerleaders.

We urge the Iowa student body to join forces with the band and Pi Epsilon Pi at that train, whether the Hawkeyes WIN, whether they LOSE, or whether the game's a tie.

The time: 8:18 in the morning. The place: Rock Island station. The reason: It takes more than a team, the coaches and the opponents to make a season like we had in 1939. We want another one—in 1941.

Administration Leaders Urge Prompt Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supporters of administration foreign policy quickly seized upon the sinking of the tanker I. C. White last night as new evidence that the neutrality act should be amended. Some of the president's critics, however, declared their positions were unchanged by the incident.

Senator Pepper Asserts Lindbergh Is Following Hitler's Road to Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said that the address of Charles A. Lindbergh at Fort Wayne last night made clear that the flier proposes to be the "fuhrer of the United States."

Lindbergh Says U.S. Becoming Totalitarian Nation; Compares Congress With Reichstag

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—(8:30 p. m. CST) of the program, Charles A. Lindbergh asserted last night before a capacity crowd in Gospel Tabernacle here that "the time has come when we must consider" whether there will be any elections next year. "Such a condition may not be many steps ahead on the road our president is taking us," he said. Earlier in his address he expressed fear for freedom of speech in this country and charged that President Roosevelt and his administration "have been treating our congress more and more as the German reichstag has been treated under the Nazi regime."

Argentina Radicals Denounce 'Liberal' Attitude of Leaders

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's radical party denounced acting President Ramon S. Castillo's conservative regime last night for what is called "culpable tolerance" in permitting activities of Nazi agents in this most powerful South American nation.

Norwegian Troops Clash With Nazi Occupation Forces Near Trondheim

LONDON (AP)—Norwegian guerrillas had several brisk clashes with German occupation forces near Trondheim, the Norwegian telegraph agency reported today. The agency said that a violent combat between Germans and Norwegians broke out in a cafe at Steinkjaer near Trondheim and spread over the entire town.

Play Castillo Regime For Permitting Nazi Underground Actions

Among the radical directorate signing the party manifesto was Raul Damonte Taborda, chairman of Argentina's "Dies committee" and watchdog of this country's democratic traditions, who left last night for the United States as a member of a congressional mission. The group will repay a North American congressional visit. Taborda's committee, which won overwhelming congressional support of a report indirectly calling for the expulsion of German ambassador Edmund Von Therman, in a series of four reports to the legislative body has reported: 1. That German school teachers in Argentina are Nazi agents, 2. Germany's acquisition of nearly a half-billion dollars worth of Argentine business through Nazi conquests in Europe, 3. German residents in this country are taxed to maintain the Nazi political regime, 4. 60,000 Germans in Argentina are pledged to follow Hitler "to the death."

6 Synagogues Wrecked By Explosions; Mayor Of Prague Sentenced

Rightist terrorism burst upon German-occupied Paris yesterday as six Jewish synagogues were wrecked by bombs, while in other Nazi-controlled lands of the continent executions and other repressive measures were carried out by the German authorities with continuing severity.

Red Counter Attacks Hurl Germans Back On Leningrad Front

MOSCOW—Leningrad's defenders have hurled the Germans back one to two miles in wide counter-attacks still in progress and red armies of the south smashed a big German motorized force thrusting toward Kharkov, the Russians announced officially today.

Reds Rout Nazi Forces In Leningrad

In the south, coordinated Soviet ground forces and airmen routed the Nazi motorized column attempting to smash Marshal Semion Budyenny's forces guarding the gateway to Kharkov, major manufacturing center of the industrial Donets basin, the announcement said. Twenty five Nazi tanks and 80 trucks were reported destroyed and 300 trucks and 100 motorcycles captured.

Mayor Of Prague To Die

BERLIN (AP)—German dispatches reported last night that the mayor of Prague, Otakar Klapka, had been snared by the Gestapo and sentenced to die as one of the leaders of an elaborate foreign-backed plot of sabotage, terrorism, espionage and rebellion against the Reich's protection.

Nearly 600 Have Been Executed

With scant elaboration of the charge of foreign backing, advices from Prague, capital of the protectorate, said that the plot had extensive foreign support. These dispatches were punctuated by the announcement that "several" more Czechs had been executed.

Poltava Falls As Germans Near Donets Basin

NEWHAVEN, Eng. (AP)—British authorities called a sudden halt last night to the planned exchange under the protection of a mercy truce of some 3,000 German and British prisoners of war, although the crippled and blinded Germans already have been carried or led aboard two hospital ships in this strangely brilliant harbor—illuminated for the first time since Sept. 1, 1939.

London Halts English-Nazi 'Mercy Trade'

The war office announced postponement of the repatriation just as the second of the two ships was ready to sail and the first already had moved out of the lighted harbor to await a dawn escort. The war office announcement said merely that the delay was occasioned by a message from Berlin and added that the government is in communication with the German government and it is to be hoped it will be possible to make a further statement within 24 hours.

Hints at 'Gigantic New Development' on East Front But Offers No Explanation; Declares Russian Campaign Moves According to Plan

Home: Where the Future... Length of America Must Lie

University's annual conference on education and supervision is one of the important to meet here each year.

Dean E. W. Jacobsen from Pittsburgh's school of education came to Iowa to discuss the problem of "Education for Family Life."

Whether or not it is commonly realized, that business of education for family life stands to make or unmake America.

Dean E. W. Jacobsen was chairman of the 1941 yearbook of the Association of American Family Life.

The school must respect the developing individuality of the individual as well as the welfare of the school, the college, and the nation.

Harry is back on Broadway to play the role of George M. Cohan made famous in "Ah Wilderness," for the Theater Guild.

And that little shop in Sixth avenue, close to 44th street, is Broadway too.

The family as a basic social institution should be included in the elementary curriculum.

Secondary education must provide training for students to meet their needs as members and later heads of families.

Broadway is a gloomy old rehearsal hall in the early forties, where a cheerful group of actors meet each morning, and each afternoon, and sometimes at night—hours don't seem to mean much when the expectancy of a new premiere is in the blood.

When you walk along Seventh avenue near 50th street you hear sudden bursts of brass melody.

Leadership, learned and practiced; broadened from wise parents, practiced by throughout life by the fortunate children of wise parents.

Leadership is the crying need of America and the world.

Should be the duty of every man and woman, whether he be an educator in the sense of the word or not, to start thinking in terms of the family.

to that. For they see a nation's strength in the strength of its home—in the physical and moral and mental strength of young and old within homes.

And strength there, they wisely believe, can eliminate the need of non-productive strength on a battlefield.

Angry Little Note to Ickes— We wonder if the rest of the country is getting half as disgusted with the question of transportation of oil on the eastern seaboard as we are.

For weeks, a battle has raged between Oil Coordinator Harold Ickes and any number of other people over the relatively simple question of how many tank cars are available to carry oil—if any.

This is a glowing sample of what we mean when we speak of a bogged-down defense effort.

There's plenty of time to wrangle over how many spare cars are available for oil; there's apparently no time at all to find them.

Unquestionably we can't appreciate the gigantic task Coordinator Ickes, and endless other coordinators, face in their defense positions.

Tank cars are not elusive things. They're big enough to be seen with the naked eye, even at relatively long distances, and it has been established that if there are any spare ones to be had for the eastern oil shortage, if any, they're classified as "idle," which means they're not running around railroad tracks behind engines.

We'd like to offer a suggestion to Mr. Ickes, Mr. Pelley and the rest of the boys. Since we're not getting anywhere trying to locate those tank cars on Washington stationery, why not let some of the millions of people who live at rail centers all over the country—the ones who are getting sick and tired of this argument and who are paying for it—check up in their own cities and wire Ickes the number of idle cars in their own towns.

At the rate of $500,000 a minute to cover the cost of telegrams and telephone calls, the total bill of settling this question in short order ought to fall far short of what we stand to lose daily by this cheapest of all arguments we've heard thus far this year.

And we'll gladly handle the report from Iowa City.

Broadway, Like Gold, Is Always Where You Find It—Anywhere— By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—This is Broadway—and Broadway, like gold, is always where you find it.

That little man with the grizzled hair and the laugh wrinkles about his eyes is Broadway. His name is Harry Carey.

And that little shop in Sixth avenue, close to 44th street, is Broadway too.

The family as a basic social institution should be included in the elementary curriculum.

Secondary education must provide training for students to meet their needs as members and later heads of families.

Broadway is a gloomy old rehearsal hall in the early forties, where a cheerful group of actors meet each morning, and each afternoon, and sometimes at night—hours don't seem to mean much when the expectancy of a new premiere is in the blood.

America's Movieland—

'Remember, Half Your Salary Is for Grief—' (Carey Wilson, the producer and screen writer, herewith submits an open letter to vacationing Robbin Coons and an awful lot of other people who want to know about Nostradamus.)

Hollywood Dear Rob—and the rest of you: You-all, if I may invoke my southern accent, you-all are driving me nuts!

Why pick on me about Nostradamus? I didn't invent Nostradamus. He's no mysterious or legendary figure.

But this is not the gist of my burdensome mail. Thousands of letters have reached me—and to obviate their continuation I write this—asking various versions of one question: "Where can I buy the book that tells all Nostradamus predicted was going to happen in the world?"

Naturally I wish I could answer with complete simplicity that to mail me a dollar bill would bring you, post-haste, postpaid, and airmail, a beautifully bound little volume which would be properly indexed so that all you'd have to do would be to turn to the chapter marked "M" and there would be a prophecy by Nostradamus as to whether Marguerite was going to let you kiss her goodnight come next Saturday after the fraternity dance.

Sarcasm? Believe it or not, I had a letter from one woman asking if Nostradamus made any prediction for April, 1941, that would settle the problem of whether or not a husband was liable during that month to abandon his wife who had two children, a charming disposition, and an aunt in Indianapolis who owned a large boarding house.

That's why I'm writing you, Rob. As far as I know, there is no book available which contains in English all of the one thousand verses comprising the predictions of Nostradamus which he grouped into a volume called "Prophetic Centuries."

Nostradamus wrote in medieval French. And I have operated from photostat prints of the "Prophetic Centuries" edition in the New York public library. But mere translation is not enough. It is the adaptation or interpretation of his words that identifies them with actual happenings. It is necessary not only to have maps of the world in Nostradamus' mid-fifteenth century days, but also dictionaries, to say nothing of a glossary of the idiom and vernacular of his day.

We worked for over a year on Nostradamus before an antique atlas revealed to us that Lake Lemana was Lake Geneva, and instantly we understood Nostradamus' ominous prediction of the birth and final futility of the League of Nations.

There's another question I've after France would surrender to Germany. I was liberally scoffed at. They yelled at me derisively—and Jack Conway yelled the loudest.

Less than a month later, these tragic things happened. Now Jack Conway doesn't even speak to me. Furthermore, the other day I passed him talking to Spencer Tracy, and now Spencer Tracy won't even speak to me!

But please, you-all! Don't write me any more letters asking where you can buy the book that tells what Nostradamus prophesied about women's bathing suits at Palm Beach next winter. I haven't got time to look it up—I'm too busy trying to find out what Nostradamus said should be Andy Hardy's next adventure with life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness!

Louis' Greatest Fight Isn't in the Ring— NEW YORK—Here is a letter written by a man of prominence in one field of American endeavor to a man of prominence in quite a different field. I may say that it received a sympathetic—not to say enthusiastic response. Note that the letter was written two days before the Nova fight:

Joe Louis, Heavyweight Champion of the World. "Greenwood Lake, N.Y., Sept. 27, 1941. "Dear Mr. Baruch:

"I have been re-classified by the selective draft board, and I expect to be called into the service of my country. This may cause me to retire from the ring.

"But before I retire, I want to put up one more fight—the best of my career—to help my people. "The hardest fight I ever had was against prejudice and intolerance. My people know what I mean. They are all fighting their way up, and I want to open the door of opportunity a little wider for them. The fight I propose to make will not be staged in an arena against one particular opponent, but out in the open across the country. If I could get a 'gate' as big as I've ever seen in the Yankee Stadium and turn it over to the Department of Race Relations of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America for the splendid work that department is doing on behalf of the Negro people and better relations with their white neighbors, I'd feel like a real champion.

"I propose to start the 'gate' with my own contribution, and I want you to subscribe for a box, a ring-side seat or other reservation. This is one purse which does not have to be shared with promoters or managers. Every cent will be used to better the condition of my people in the creation of better human relations in America.

"Will you cooperate by sending your cheque or money order, in any amount, payable to Frank H. Mann, treasurer, and mail it today? If you will help me win this time, I'll feel that I've won the greatest fight of my life. Thank you. Sincerely yours, (signed) "Joe Louis."

By BOB COFFMAN Two hard fighting Eastern Iowa conference teams battled to a 2-2 draw yesterday afternoon, as University high and West Liberty met here on a rain-soaked field.

The first quarter was opened by a Rivermen running attack to West Liberty's 9-yard line, where Bob Spohr intercepted a pass to stop U-high's onslaught.

The Comets kicked off to the 50-yard line where the Rivermen took up the attack for the second time. With a series of off tackle and end runs by Bob Alderman and Jack Shay, the ball was returned to the West Liberty 4-yard strip.

The Rivermen dominated the first half of the game in yardage gained and in defensive play, but the Comets changed the situation the second half.

Opening the second half, U-high kicked to West Liberty's 30-yard marker. With Flater carrying the ball behind a hard-charging line, the Comet attack was stopped on the Bluehawk's 5-yard line.

When Lehman attempted to punt out of danger, the Comets' line swarmed in to block his kick. The ball rolled over the goal line but Lehman fell on it, giving West Liberty a safety and tying the game at 2-2.

In the final period the Comets opened up with a series of drives and passes which brought them to the U-high 20-yard strip. The Comets' second attack ended with an interception of a pass by Jack Shay, Bluehawk fullback.

The Rivermen took the ball to the Comets' 45-yard line in a last minute drive, only to be stopped when a pass was intercepted by Flater, who ran it back to U-high's 25-yard strip before he was stopped by Alderman.

A muddy field hampered both teams as fumbles, off-sides and intercepted passes were the common thing. Capt. Bob Alderman, left half, and Jack Shay were the offensive stars for U-high with Bud Halvorsen and George Lehman standing out on defense in the line. Robert Spohr and Flater were the outstanding players for West Liberty.

Chisox Wallop Cubs, 6 to 4, to Take Two Game Series Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—The White Sox defeated the Cubs, 6 to 4, last night before a crowd of 27,169 to assume a two games to none advantage in the city series.

Edgar Smith lasted the route and was the winner despite a ninth inning Cub rally that netted two runs. Southpaw Edgar Smith went all the way for the Sox, snuffing out a ninth inning rally after two runs had scored.

The Sox hammered four Cub pitchers, Vern Olsen, Vallee Eaves, Johnny Schmitz and Charley Root, for 10 hits, including four by Billy Knickerbocker and home runs by Tatt Wright and Bob Kennedy.

Football Swings Into High Gear

Al Couppee, Urban Return To First Team

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Enroute to Ann Arbor (Special to The Daily Iowan)—Dr. Eddie Anderson, Hawkeye grid mentor, indicated late last night that two changes would be made in Iowa's starting lineup against Michigan at Ann Arbor today.

Al Couppee, veteran quarterback, will replace Ben Trickey, and John Staak, 220 pound sophomore tackle, will give way to Al Urban, Hawkeye junior tackle. Previously it was not thought that Couppee would be in shape to start today because of the ankle injury he suffered in the game with Drake a week ago.

Since the Bulldog tilt last Saturday, Urban has worked out with the reserve string, while Couppee has taken part only in light drills.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The Iowa Hawkeyes match an array of shifty, speedy backs led by Bill Green against Michigan's veteran line in the opening Western conference game of the season today that will be watched for a tipoff on how strongly the Wolverines may bid for league honors.

Paul White, sophomore halfback, was the only Michigan player definitely on the sidelines with an injury. Iowa had two key performers missing, end Ed Thomas and halfback Jack Kennedy.

Michigan has won seven of the 10 games played with Iowa since 1900 and there has been one tie.

High School Tracksters To Compete Here Nov. 1 For State Championship

State championship one mile track races for high school runners will occur on the University of Iowa track Nov. 1 under the auspices of the Iowa High School Athletic association.

Coach George T. Bresnahan said that the university athletic department would handle details of the races at the request of Lyle A. Quinn, secretary of the association. Entries will be made to Mr. Quinn in Des Moines.

Races will be held in classes A, B, and C, with schools divided into those classes according to enrollment, the Hawkeye coach said. Five runners may start for each school, but only the first three to finish will be counted in the scoring with low totals figured.

Champion and runner-up of the 1940 races were: Class A, Ottumwa and Davenport; Class B, University high of Iowa City and Williamsburg; Class C, LeClaire and Thornburg. The 1941 races will be held on the morning of the university's homecoming football game with Indiana.

Close Games Provide Day's Major Interest In South, East Tilts

Boni Picks Fordham, Duke, Stanford, SCU To Win Big Games

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite opposition from the world series, the college football campaign swings into high gear today, with the day's major interest provided by the Duke-Tennessee battle at Durham, N. C., and the meeting of Fordham and Southern Methodist at New York's Polo grounds.

Duke has two big obstacles in the way of an all-winning season, and Tennessee is the first. Fordham, already built up as likely eastern pace-setter, has a whole series of tough Saturday afternoons coming up, but few shape up as more difficult than this clash with the up-and-coming Mustangs.

This holds true particularly since the Ram sophomore backs, upon whom so much will depend, get their first test in a major game. With very little more evidence to go on than there was a week ago, we submit the following predicts (home teams listed first, probable attendance figures in parentheses):

Duke-Tennessee (50,000)—Knoxville bookies had to give six points to get any bets from Tennessee followers. In spite of the Vols' jinx on Wallace Wade, that's a strong enough tipoff. Duke—Fordham-Southern Methodist (35,000)—Though the Ram line isn't up to the high Fordham par, neither is it made of paper mache. Behind it will be the finest collection of backs ever collected at Rose Hill. The margin shouldn't be the 30 points Matty Bell was moaning about, but it still should be Fordham's.

Stanford-U. C. L. A. (40,000)—The Indians opened with a close one, and this may be another. Still, Stanford.

Notre Dame-Indiana (45,000)—The Hoosiers were vulnerable to Detroit passes, and Notre Dame scored heavily on passes in its opener. Off that, Notre Dame.

Southern California-Ohio State (55,000)—Probably too long a trip for a team still absorbing a new system. Southern Cal.

Iowa State-Nebraska (20,000)—The Rose bowl losers should be winners here. Nebraska.

Michigan-Iowa (40,000)—A definite edge to Michigan.

Northwestern-Kansas State (45,000)—Little more than rehearsal for Northwestern.

Penn-Harvard (40,000)—As difficult a pick as the day presents. Penn has lost Reagan, a blow to any team. Even with Reagan, Harvard tied 'em last year. So—Harvard.

Oak Park Principal Addresses Educators

Democracy in School Is Theme of Speech By SUI Graduate

"People follow leaders rather than ideals. Complete devotion and loyalty to one man is the road to destruction of democracy," declared Eugene Youngert, principal of Township high school, Oak Park, Ill., and final speaker at the administration and supervision conference held here this week.

Introduced by Prof. E. T. Peterson of the education department, Youngert spoke on "Education for Enlightened Democratic Citizenship," at 3 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

"Young people are susceptible to the accusations of Hitler and Mussolini against the principles of democracy and are easily swayed from faith and loyalty to their government," he continued. Stating that it was as important to teach pupils to be good students as it was to teach reading and writing, Youngert cited examples of democracy in school.

"Is the student council really a student council or merely a principal's cabinet which performs some of his more unpleasant duties," asked the speaker. "It is necessary to place faith in students now in order to prepare them for responsibility in later life."

He considered such projects as supervised study halls in Cleveland and the truly representative student councils in other schools as real advances in teaching democracy.

"German children are taught loyalty to one man. The problem is to promote as great a loyalty to the ideal of democracy in American children," concluded the speaker.

Youngert, who worked in the education department of the University of Vermont before taking over his present duties, was a graduate student at Iowa university in 1921.

Postal matches will be shot against teams in the Iowa Rifle association and the Hawkeye conference.

Leading team members are Sgt. H. H. Wendlandt, university coach; Conrad Schadt, a member of last year's team, and George Brown and Kay Statler, members of this year's squad, Mrs. Smith said.

Wolverines Score Quarter, Keep Iowa

Foe's Superlative Kicking, Hear At Crucial Moments Spell Shutout Since Anderson

By BILL BUCKLEY Daily Iowan Sports Editor

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (Special to The Daily Iowan)—(Special to The Daily Iowan) After time by brilliant "coffin" penalties in almost all the crucial moments in three years to a bull yesterday, 6 to 0.

It was also the first time that a team's at Iowa has been shut out by a game it trailed almost all the way.

Michigan, pushed all the way by Cap's mighty line which shoved and bulldozed its way in the first quarter with a single thrust, even though Iowa had monopolized the game before and afterwards.

Then, even though Iowa rushed and rushed for considerable yardage, and finished the first half without having their goal line threatened, then got the Hawks in a hole in the early part of the third period, and wound up the game by keeping them there.

Iowa, unloosing its tricks for the first time this season, showed a powerful team which wouldn't and couldn't quit, but the scoring punch was absent, and all its offensive work went to no avail.

Passing, the sore spot last fall, which was thought to be something this year, failed to come up to expectations, and the game struggled along on the ground. No matter how much scoring punch Anderson's Hawkeyes showed, however, there was no doubt that the breaks of the game were completely against them. It was almost too much to see all those precious yards lost by penalties and the kicking toe of two Michigan booters, and with a team of less heart, the game would have been given up. There was no doubt that Michigan just couldn't lose the game even if they tried, and they didn't.

Surprised by the trick, quick-opening plays of the Notre Dame "T" formations of Iowa, the Michigan line continued to be bewildered all through the game, but when the forward wall failed, the backs picked up the slack, and on the next play, the line reciprocated. It was an almost perfect example of coordinated team play.

Iowa started the game off as if they were going someplace, receiving the kick-off and marching right up the field. Bill Green, who was pretty well bottled up for the second straight week, and Bus Mertes, who ran brilliantly in the first half, made a first down on their own 42 with two end runs.

Green carried the ball to the 48 and Mertes to another first on the Michigan 45. Green shook around right end to the 41, and Mertes made it another first on the 33. Mertes took it to the 30 and Green to the 29, but the threat fizzled out and Michigan took over on their own 30.

Almost immediately, the Wolverines made their touchdown, exchanging punts with Iowa and then taking a third punt to set up the marker. Tom Kuzma, Tom Harmon's successor at the left half post, took Jim Youel's punt on his own 45 and ran it back to Iowa's 17. It took Michigan five line plays by Kuzma and Westfall to take it to a first down on the three, and then it took another two tries before Kuzma bulled between his left tackle and end for the score. Bill Parker partially blocked the try for extra point.

Iowa rambled right back, taking an outside kick-off on the 35, and rushing it to the 42 in two tries by Green and Mertes. Then "Bounding Bus" took off around left end in one of his bounding, kangaroo-like runs, and was stopped on the Michigan 31. The Wolverines settled down then, and took over the ball when Iowa missed a first down by a foot on the 21.

Another Drive Fails That was the first quarter. (See HAWKS, page 6)
