Hawks Drop Opener to Michigan, 6-0

Wolverines Score in Opening Quarter, Keep Iowa Bottled

Foe's Superlative Kicking, Heartbreaking Penalties At Crucial Moments Spell First Hawkeye Shutout Since Anderson Took Over

By BILL BUCKLEY
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (Special to The Daily Iowan)—Pushed back time after time by brilliant "coffin corner" kicking and by penalties in almost all the crucial moments, Iowa lost its first Big Ten opener in three years to a bulldog Michigan team here yesterday, 6 to 0.

It was also the first time that a team of Coach Eddie Anderson's at Iowa has been shut out by any opponent, and in this game it trailed almost all the way.

Michigan, pushed all the way by Captain Bob Westfall and a mighty line which shoved and bulled its way to necessary yardage, scored in the first quarter with a single thrust, even though Iowa had monopolized the game before and afterwards.

Then, even though Iowa rushed and rushed for considerable yardage, the Wolverines kept plugging away, and finished the first half without having their goal line threatened, then got the Hawks in a hole in the early part of the third period, and wound up the game by keeping them there.

Iowa Shows Power
Iowa, unloosing its tricks for the first time this season, showed a powerful team which wouldn't and couldn't quit, but the scoring punch was absent, and all its offensive work went to no avail.

Passing, the sore spot last fall, which was thought to be something this year, failed to come up to expectations, and the game struggled along on the ground. No matter how much scoring punch Anderson's Hawkeyes showed, however, there was no doubt that the breaks of the game were completely against them. It was almost too much to see all those precious yards lost by penalties and the kicking toe of two Michigan booters, and with a team of less heart, the game would have been given up. There was no doubt that Michigan just couldn't lose the game even if they tried, and they didn't.

Surprised by the trick, quick-opening plays of the Notre Dame "T" formations of Iowa, the Michigan line continued to be bewildered all through the game, but when the forward wall failed, the backs picked up the slack, and on the next play, the line reciprocated. It was in almost perfect example of coordinated team play.

Iowa started the game off as if they were going someplace, receiving the kick-off and marching right up the field, Bill Green, who was pretty well bottled up for the second straight week, and Bus Mertes, who ran brilliantly in the first half, made a first down on their own 42 with two end runs.

Green carried the ball to the 48 and Mertes to another first on the Michigan 45, Green shook around right end to the 41, and Mertes made it another first on the 33. Mertes took it to the 30 and Green to the 29, but the threat fizzled out and Michigan took over on their own 30.

Almost immediately, the Wolverines made their touchdown, exchanging punts with Iowa and then taking a third punt to set up the marker. Tom Kuzma, Tom Harmon's successor at the left half post, took Jim Youel's punt on his own 45 and ran it back to Iowa's 17. It took Michigan five line plays by Kuzma and Westfall to take it to a first down on the three, and then it took another two tries before Kuzma bulled between his left tackle and end for the score. Bill Parker partially blocked the try for extra point.

Iowa rambled right back, taking an outside kick-off on the 35, and rushing it to the 42 in two tries by Green and Mertes. Then "Bounding Bus" took off around left end in one of his bounding, kangaroo-like runs, and was stopped on the Michigan 31. The Wolverines settled down then, and took over the ball when Iowa missed a first down by a foot on the 21.

Dressing Room: 'I Feel Rotten,' Says Urban

By JOHNNY NICHOLS
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (Special to The Daily Iowan)—"The boys played a great game and I'm proud of them," Dr. Eddie Anderson said after the game Saturday, when Iowa went down to 6-0 defeat at the hands of Michigan. In addition Anderson said "You can say the boys all played a great game and their spirit is still good."

The squad to a man indicated that although they were disappointed they were already looking forward to Wisconsin two weeks hence. The team was particularly free in their praise of Michigan's fullback and captain, Bob Westfall.

Jim Walker played 60 minutes of great football, and when reached after the game said, "Sure wish we could have won," then added as an afterthought, "Boy, that Westfall can drive." Little Ben Trickey, who replaced the injured Al Couppee, was beaming all over the place. Ben, playing his second game of college football, directed the team like he had lived there all his life. Asked if he felt ready for more, his brief answer was, "Bring 'em on."

While waiting to get into the locker room, the talk was all about Bill Green, who in spite of a wet field demonstrated that he is a great back.

Green's only comment as he soaked the mud off in the shower room was, "It was a tough one to lose." Gene Curran and Al Couppee, at first locker room count, seemed to be the only ones who may have acquired injuries which might keep them out for any time. Curran, who has been bothered by a charley-horse in his left leg, said disappointedly, "Now they got the other one." Couppee, Iowa's senior quarterback, re-injured his weak ankle and only time will tell how it is going to stand up.

German Mechanized Division, Bolstered By Air Force, Moves Toward Belgrade; Revolts Flare From Norway to Greece

Norway's King Haakon, in Exile, Signs Decree Which Promises Death for Crimes Against Norwegian State; Greeks Rebel in East Macedonia

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A German mechanized division of 12,000 men aided by the German air force was reliably reported moving toward Belgrade in former Yugoslavia today to combat guerrilla bands taking part in a loosely-connected but widespread underground revolt against the axis rulers of the European continent raging from Norway to Greece.

Support for conquered peoples fighting axis authorities by terrorism, sabotage and guerrilla warfare came from King Haakon VII, King of Norway in exile in London, who signed a decree providing the death penalty for crimes against the Norwegian state.

The Norwegian monarch's act was described as a warning to any "tools" of the nazis who might exert themselves to help the German authorities that they will face capital punishment whenever the government which now is in exile is in position to enforce its decree. Hitherto life imprisonment has been the extreme penalty for such crimes.

The mechanized German force was reported on reliable authority in a dispatch sent through Berlin to be moving slowly through southern Serbia toward Belgrade, capital of the dissolved state, to mop up guerrilla bands which have been operating on a wide scale. The German air force already was said to have bombed Leskovac and Nishumka.

Rebellious Greeks added to the trouble of the occupying authorities. A dispatch from Sofia, capital of the axis partner Bulgaria, reported that bands of Greeks who had invaded the Bulgarian-occupied drama district of eastern Macedonia a week ago had been annihilated.

Incite Revolt

The Greeks crossed from Greek territory armed with rifles and machineguns and tried to rouse the Greek inhabitants of several drama localities to join them in revolt. They were reported wiped out after severe skirmishes.

It was disclosed that a bomb explosion Tuesday in the headquarters of the Belgian resist (fascist) movement in Brussels killed a secretary, Jean Oedeckerke, in the offices of resist militarized groups. Political foes of the resist were blamed.

Seven more persons were executed in Prague Saturday for treasonable activity, it was announced in Berlin.

German sources in Berlin reported a number of new executions in the Czech protectorate.

Trouble in Belgium

The German military commander for Belgium and northern France acted to prevent another form of opposition to German rule by decreeing the death penalty for Belgians or Frenchmen attempting to join the armed forces of a nation at war with Germany, and for even inducing others to join.

King Haakon's decree followed bitter clashes in Norway between Norwegians and the German occupation forces. In one instance disorders spread throughout the entire town of Steinkjer, near Trondheim, as the aftermath of an incident in which Norwegians walked out on German soldiers who entered a cafe.

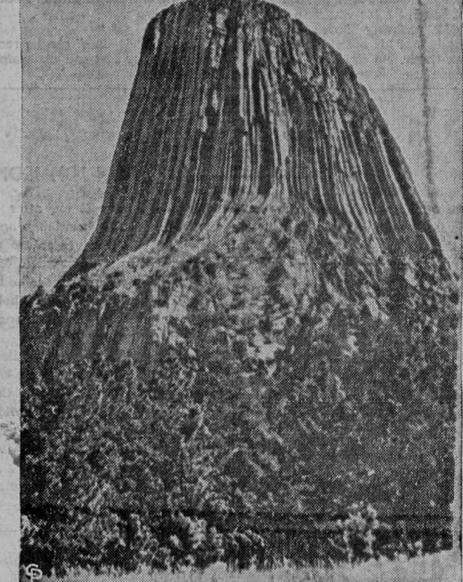

Plane Production Increases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The office of production management announced last night that military aircraft manufacturers delivered 1,914 planes during September.

The total was a new record, 60 above the previous high established in August when deliveries totaled 1,854.

Iowa College Enrollment Down

Devil's Tower, Stunter's Roost

Here is the volcanic monolith named Devil's Tower, located in north-eastern Wyoming's badlands, to which Charles Hopkins, 30-year-old Texan stunt flyer, parachuted to win a bet but couldn't get down to collect it. He was forced to spend two freezing nights on the acre-square top when he was unable to properly hang a climbing rope down the tower's 865-foot vertical walls. Expert climbers from nearby Estes Park, Colo., were called to bring the marooned flyer down.

S.U.I. Enrollment

With 6,151 students enrolled during the first week of the school year and with later registration continuing for the next several days, the total of University of Iowa students in residence is about seven per cent under last year's total of 6,628 for the same period, President Virgil M. Hancher announced last night.

These figures, the president pointed out, do not include any divisions of instruction other than the regular first-semester classes of students in residence on the campus.

Reduction in the all-university enrollment comes largely from lower totals in the graduate college and the college of law, he said.

All-time high enrollment of students on the campus, not including the summer sessions, was reached last year with a total of 7,185. With present registration as indicated, the total for the present academic year will be approximately 6,680, the president indicated.

Selective Service, Defense Production Blamed for Drops

State's Total School Attendance 8 Per Cent Below the 1940 Level

By GEORGE S. MILLS
DES MOINES (AP)—Something has put a dent in the enrollment of Iowa universities and colleges and the tendency is to hold the selective service act and national defense production responsible for the drop.

An Associated Press survey yesterday disclosed 21,848 students thus far enrolled for the fall term in 20 of Iowa's universities and colleges, compared with 23,672 at this time last year.

The indicated drop was nearly 8 per cent compared with 1940 and as much as 17 per cent from the composite all-time high of 26,191 for the institutions. Enrollment records for the individual institutions were not all set in the same year, however, or even in the same decade, some going back to the 1920's.

M. R. Pierson, secretary of the Iowa board of education, said military conscription "undoubtedly is a factor."

"There is some uncertainty as to whether men students will be called," he added, "and as to what they will do when things settle down again."

"Then, too, wages are up and jobs are plentiful. The temptation is to go out and get a job instead of going on with an education. The job angle also tends to reduce the enrollment of women students as well as men because of the large number of clerical jobs opening up."

Enrollment at Iowa State college was reported about 5 per cent off the 1941 pace, with 6,191 students listed in the early figures and with indications pointing to a final figure of about 6,250. Last year's all-time high at Ames was 6,594. Iowa State Teachers college reported 1,499 enrollment this semester, compared with 1,738 in 1940 and all-time top of 2,648 in 1924.

Six Injured in Headon Crash Near North Liberty Last Night

Six persons, five of them from a North Liberty family, were seriously injured about 7:30 last night in a headon crash between two cars on one-half mile north of North Liberty on highway No. 218.

Injured persons were Mrs. W. A. Young, about 40, and her four sons, Robert, 18, driver of the car; Bruce, 15; Wilbur, 11, and Culver, 20; Harold Jones, Cedar Rapids, about 43, was driver of the other car.

All six persons were taken to Mercy hospital. The Young's were on their way to Iowa City when the wreck occurred.

Probably the most seriously injured were Bruce and Wilbur Young, both of whom received broken legs as well as cuts and bruises on their faces and legs.

Doctors reported that Jones, an employe at the Burlington ordnance plant, received a bad cut and severe lacerations about his throat and jaw. He received serious leg and chest injuries also.

Mrs. Young was cut about the face above her eye and had deep gashes above one knee. She had several stitches taken in one arm and was suffering from shock and loss of blood.

Religion a Private Matter in Russia, Declares Lozovsky

MOSCOW (AP)—S. A. Lozovsky, official Soviet press spokesman, declared yesterday "the big rumormongers" over religion in the U. S. S. R. came from opponents of aid to Russia.

The Soviet state, he told correspondents, considers religion a private matter for its citizens and has a basic policy freedom of religion as well as freedom of anti-religious propaganda.

Lozovsky asserted the Soviet constitution guarantees religious freedom—but "assumes that freedom of religion will not be utilized for the overthrow of the prevailing regime."

Both cars were completely demolished in the wreck, which according to highway patrolmen, was probably caused by heavy rain and glaring pavement.

The fronts of both cars were badly smashed and the dash boards and steering columns were broken and bent. Windshields on both automobiles were broken and the occupants all were severely cut by flying glass.

Robert Young, driver of the car, stated that he had seen the headlights of Jones' car coming but was unable to keep from hitting it. He said he had slammed his brakes on and tried to pull to the side of the road but that the accident occurred before he could turn out.

All the injured persons were held in the Mercy hospital last night.

Fight on U. S. Neutrality Looms in Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4—A poll indicated today that the senate would approve some modification of the neutrality law but that any proposed change would meet substantial opposition.

At the same time a large group of senators was uncommitted, having adopted a wait-and-see attitude pending President Roosevelt's forthcoming recommendations to congress.

Mr. Roosevelt will confer with congressional leaders of both parties regarding neutrality amendments next Tuesday. There have been indications that he would suggest only that the present law be amended to permit the arming of American merchant ships. But some congressional leaders are urging him to recommend also elimination of the existing prohibition against sending American merchantmen into belligerent ports or presently-designated combat zones.

Here is how the senate lined up on the issue:
Favoring complete repeal or modification to permit arming ships and sending them anywhere—29.
For arming ships but opposing other changes—6.
Opposed to any change in present law—20.
Desiring more time to study the question—18.
Out of Washington or unavailable—23.
Of the 41 uncommitted senators, administration leaders contended at least 30 would vote for arming merchant ships. If 30 additional members did approve arming ships the chamber would have 65 members favoring that step and 31 against it.

However, veteran senate attaches, recalling the fight against President Wilson's armed ship bill, remarked that 19 senators could block any change in the neutrality law if they were determined to filibuster. Wilson's measure was talked to death in 1917 by a dozen senators, but he later armed American merchant vessels on his own initiative.

Meet the Hawks at the Station at 8:18 This Morning

President---

WHEN WILL THE BICKERING STOP, AND AMERICAN ACTION BEGIN?

But the job isn't being done, and the American people don't like that.

They'd much prefer that Senator Wheeler and Charles Lindbergh on the one hand and the rabidest of the interventionists on the other would shut up, and let us go about the business at hand.

We, through our representatives, have appropriated funds for guns and tanks and planes and ships, for ourselves and for the nations resisting aggression, and yet you tell us that aid to Russia, more than three months after the invasion of Russia, is just a trickle. Why?

Your economists have repeatedly warned of the approach of inflation. Price control has been recommended for months. But while you've talked about that, inflation has come, and there is still no widespread price control. Why?

You have stressed that speed is utmost in this business of defense and aid, but Harold Ickes cannot decide whether or not there are idle tank cars to carry oil in the east. That argument has raged for weeks. Why?

Mr. President, the American people have willingly dedicated themselves to the business at hand. We want speed. We want efficiency. We want effectiveness, and we have none of these. Why?

We want to get the record straight on this business of war.

We want to look at it as America has looked at it in the past.

We're tired to death of references to "steps leading to war." We want this job to which we are dedicated pushed ahead to completion. We want a bridge of ships from America to England to become a reality. We want aid to Russia to swell to that flood we promised.

If these things bring war upon us, then we shall face war as America has faced it in the past.

We're tired to death of talk. We want some action.

We represent the younger generations of America. We'll look after the future of America.

But please, Mr. President, can't you do something to see that our elders do a whole of a better job than they're doing of looking after the present!

The New Books—

by Ruth K. Mason
THEIR WORK IS PRAISED—

● THE BOOK: "Lives and Dollars," Dodd, Mead & company at $3.
● THE AUTHOR: J. D. Ratcliff, author of "Modern Miracle Men."
● THE REVIEWER: Ruth K. Mason.

To most Iowans the feature of paramount interest in J. D. Ratcliff's newest book will be the two chapters complimenting Iowa's projects in scientific research.

The first of these chapters, entitled "Iowa Pioneers," is devoted to the state university's experiments in child welfare with liberal praise for Cora Bussey Hillis, George D. Stoddard and Dr. Kurt Lewin.

Special mention is also made of Dr. Lewin's recently conducted experiments in determining child reactions under democratic, totalitarian, and anarchist social situations, and of Stoddard's work in pre-school training at the Iowa Soldiers' Orphan's Home at Daventport.

DEAN GEORGE STODDARD (Work in pre-school training)

PROF. KURT LEWIN (Democracy-Totalitarianism)

Ratcliff feels justly that the resultant contributions to the understanding of child psychology are vastly important, not only to Iowa, but to all America. As a passing comment, however, Iowans unduly proud of their university's outstanding work in this field may pause and deliberate on his note to the effect that the Child Welfare Research Bureau has carried on its activities within the physical limitations of a "few scattered offices in old East Hall," and "four nursery school cottages, all in need of paint, clustered in a group on east Market street."

The second chapter of local interest deals with Iowa State college's amazing utilization of supposedly waste products. Dr. Orland R. Sweeney, head of Iowa State's chemical engineering department, is given major credit for such modern miracles as the production of building board out of cornstalks, and the manufacture of furfural, a chemical used in the plastics industry, from oat hulls and corn cobs.

Sweeney's researches also led to the establishment of the Agricultural By-Products Research Laboratory on the Ames campus. From this building a score of other materials created from agricultural refuse have come forth to increase the income of the farmer and swell the nation's industries.

Iowans in short, after reading this book, may be surprised to learn how important they are in the annals of modern scientific advance.

To the reader who not purely local interests, however, the book as a whole is apt to be disappointing. Its aim is magnificent—to outline the tremendous scientific progress of the past couple of decades (roughly speaking) and to estimate the degree of hope it provides for a world which generally feels it has little for which to hope.

It probably is not Ratcliff's fault that his book does not equal its thesis. No single volume could hope to cover the tremendous amount of scientific investigation and achievement that is going on in laboratories all over the country. At best, only a few names and only a few facts can be mentioned, and it is to Ratcliff's credit that he has chosen both names and facts interesting in themselves.

Superficial though "Lives and Dollars" necessarily is, it does have value for anyone who wishes to survey the worlds and ideas which rarely make the headlines.

Best chapters are the concluding ones which present, on a thoroughly practical basis, the reasons for increased expenditures for research by private manufacturers. Ratcliff cites Eastman Kodak and the Corning Glass company as supreme examples of firms which have spent millions in research and received billions in profits from new products.

"Lives and Dollars" can be recommended for fast and entertaining reading.

Why Knox Should Have His Head Examined—

WASHINGTON—With true Japanese diffidence this miserable column respectfully thinks that the Honorable Frank Knox ought to have his honorable head examined. He says that this country should join with Great Britain for perhaps one hundred years to dominate the ocean to insure freedom of the seas—and that this is an ancient American doctrine.

The ancient American doctrine bravely insisted upon by us, as a small neutral nation, was that no naval power should interfere with our commerce on the high seas with other neutrals or, except in case of an actual and effective blockade with our commerce, not in contraband of war, with a belligerent. In cases of an actual effective blockade, we conceded, and we made even Britain concede in our war between that states that ships sunk in attempts to crash it caused no cause for war.

What we objected to—and made our objection stick—was attempts to forbid commerce on the seven seas by paper declarations to prevent our ships from carrying on their normal commerce. In other words, we objected to any domination of all the oceans such as the Honorable Knox now advocates for us and Great Britain. His is a complete reversal of our principles and our doctrine.

If we, with Britain are now to undertake to police the world, what is it going to cost and who is going to pay for it? You don't need to ask twice. It is going to cost, within a few years, more than all the wealth accumulated on these shores since Christopher Columbus and we and our children are going to be charged with it.

Of course, neither we nor they can pay for it.

What Honorable Knox proposes is American bankruptcy—but think what a magnificent gesture it is. One would think he were again running—this time for vice president of Great Britain. Of course, there isn't any such office and, if there were, the canny British would elect such a squanderer of national substance.

The war adventure on which we are already embarked has no limit in cost. I know that the recent chamber of commerce figures are right when they say that our tax burden is or soon will be greater than that of the British—and we have just begun to tax, spend and incur debt, our priorities system can't function because nobody can make a guess as to what the actual demand on our supply will be. If it carries on as planned it will take all our supply—to put it shortly, it is "all the money there is for any purpose whatever."

The bearings of these taxes, priorities and debts, and of the inflation that will go with them, on our people has scarcely been guessed and there is no real attempt to guess them. But there are enough facts already in sight to be sure that they will be beyond endurance. This unplanned, reckless destruction of our national heritage is as sure as sunrise to react on its authors with poisonous popular resentment.

This generation will have on its shoulders a reproach from its children that is almost unanswerable. We received in this country a heritage from generations of sweat and blood and tears of our forefathers, the richest on earth. It was safe, secure, almost free from debt and with the highest standard of living ever known on earth.

We are passing it on, after a few years of experimentation and adventure, shattered in solvency, burdened with debt and unauthorized assumption of responsibility from the welfare of the whole cock-eyed world, terribly entangled, ruthlessly ruined.

It wasn't all because of Hitler. Much of it was done earlier. We have squandered, or are on the verge of squandering, our children's birthright for generations in scarcely fifteen years. There must be a limit somewhere and it is high time to find out where it is.

Week of Fire Prevention Week: And What We Can Do

Fire prevention is a fact throughout the year—just as fire is a fact throughout the year. The year just past—from October 1 to October 1, 1941—$300,000,000 property was destroyed by fire; 16,000 people were killed in American homes because of fire. In these days—in any day—there is that much money to burn, that many lives to toss away, that much loss of property, that much loss of life, that much loss of property.

Furnaces and stoves require a thorough cleaning and a check-up for worn, broken or rusted-out parts every year. Repair or replace all defective parts or pipes. If the smokepipe or any other part that gets quite hot is too close to burnable material, either widen the space or protect the material with sheet asbestos or metal with an air gap between it and the material to be protected.

Leaking gas stoves in kitchens are an explosion and fire hazard. Have a plumber make the necessary repairs when you smell gas. Never look for a gas leak with a lighted match or candle. Keep oily cleaning cloths or mops, in tight-closing metal containers.

Worn and frayed wire cords on lamps or electrical appliances may cause a short circuit resulting in a fire. It's best to replace them. Outside aerials for radios should be connected to a "ground" deep enough in the earth to reach permanent moisture and be equipped with a lightning arrester. Tests of numerous electrical appliances have been made to prove how safe they are. Protect your family by purchasing appliances because they are safe rather than because they are "bargains."

Most attics contain broken or discarded furniture, old clothing, cartons overflowing with miscellaneous articles and piles of papers—just waiting for the chance dropping of a lighted match to start a merry blaze. Spontaneous combustion sometimes breeds in such material. The owners readily admit they probably would never use any of it. For safety's sake, why not get rid of it? Attics and closets should be provided with electric lights. If not, use a flashlight when looking for something in the dark.

These words of warnings 60 per cent of deaths from fire occur in homes. . . You wouldn't put dynamite in your kitchen sink, but cleaning with gasoline is just as dangerous. Three hundred women a year lose their lives attempting to clean clothing in gasoline, naphtha or benzene—quick vaporizing fluids which form explosive mixtures with air. . . Smoking in bed is an invitation to the undertaker. You'll doze, the cigarette drops to the bed, fumes from the smoldering bedding overcomes you. . . before you even know there's a fire. . .

One match tossed casually away, one cigarette butt flicked out of the window may cost a life, or thousands of dollars in damage. . . Seventy years ago, flames swept three square miles of the city of Chicago. They say it was caused by a lighted lantern, kicked over in a stable by Mrs. O'Leary's cow. . . That may be myth, but this is not. Those raging flames took 250 lives, left 100,000 homeless and destroyed property valued at $175,000,000. . . This is national fire prevention week. Make it last throughout the year.

Neatness Essential in Business World Preparations to Step From Campus to Career Should Be Made While in College

By MARGE GRIM
Young women of the University of Iowa today are taking one of the most important steps in their lives—that of making preparations to step from campus to career. It's a big step and one that's a trifle frightening. Some will fill out application blanks for positions of all kinds, some a little frightened, others perhaps too overconfident, but all with the hope of conquering a new world—the world of business.

Capable young women you are, and with your sheepskins as proof, you are going to be eager to tell the world what you know—and get paid for it.

Men are cranky about hair and coiffure, but their next pet hate runs a close second—perfume. Most men even go so far as to condemn perfume in the office as "nauseating." It's a fact that a nine-to-five freshness can be preserved if a reliable deodorant is used.

Good grooming does not include flip or noisy accessories such as cheap and too much jewelry, too high heels, flashy hats, brightly colored shoes and conspicuous handbags. It demands conservatism. And men are too single-minded in this business of being well dressed to overlook twisted stockings and run down heels.

Proper carriage, personality and poise added to good grooming will point to the path of success. If you want to be a successful White Collar girl you must see that your collar is white and crisp.

Enjoy looking for a job, you Iowa graduates to be, and you will surely get one. A defeatist attitude at the start or a sullen, down-at-the-mouth mood won't get you past the executive's secretary. Remember a woman who appears careless in any way about her appearance is frequently thought of as a future careless worker. So, on your toes, girls, and here's to your success.

Wesley Players Will Present Dramatization of Fanny Crosby's Life

By ELEANOR WAITE
In an effort to recognize and create new interest in hymns and their writers, the Rev. Mr. Bach, new instructor in the school of religion, has completed 10 dramatizations.

The spirit of these writers has been caught in the Rev. Mr. Bach's "Great Hymns and How They Were Written," to be presented on the campus beginning Nov. 2. The Rev. Mr. Bach worked with Prof. E. C. Mable of the speech department in preparing these dramatizations which are to be published soon by an eastern publishing house.

Dreams, persecutions, imprisonments and afflictions brought to the minds of these writers the inspirations for their work. Who would have thought that a cruel merciless slave trader could have written "Safe Through Another Week" and "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken" Yet this is just one of the many exciting lives which the Rev. Mr. Bach has tried to bring you.

The dramatic life of Fanny J. Crosby, first experimental drama of the series to be presented, will be given by the Wesley players of the Wesley Foundation as part of the vesper services in the Methodist church Sunday, Nov. 2, at 7 p.m.

"Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "Some Day the Silver Cord Will Break" and "Blessed Assurance" are some of Fanny Crosby's better known works. Blind at the age of six, Fanny Crosby nevertheless continued her life unadverted and two years later began writing verses and short poems.

Perhaps her best known secular work is "There's Music in the Air," "While Mortals Sleep," a play based on the song, "Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Vesper Dramas" are popular publications of the Rev. Mr. Bach.

Cast members for the first dramatization are Margaret Clark, A3 of Rockwell City; Lida Mary Slemmens, A3 of Iowa City; Geneva Steward, N2 of Dana; Evelyn Norton, A2 of Iowa City; Dick Brink, A2 of Luverne; Wylene Reece, A1 of Parsons, Kan.; Aileen Moeller, A1 of Somers; George Moeller, A3 of Somers; and Josephine Wilson, A4 of Iowa City. Nan McHenry, G of Little Rock, is in charge of the musical background and Edward E. Wielen, A2 of Iowa City, the lighting.

All university students are invited to attend. District business meeting, Iowa Union, Dr. Fitzgerald will speak 2 p.m. Dr. Barborka, "Nutrition and Deficiency Diseases and Their Relation to Dentistry," 6 p.m. Dinner, Iowa Union 7 p.m. Cedar Rapids Dental society business meeting. 7:30 p.m. Dr. Gardner, "Exodontia, Patient Psychology and Education."

Mary Patricia O'Brien Enrolls in Girls' School
Mary Patricia O'Brien, daughter of Dr. C. S. O'Brien, route 1, Iowa City, is enrolled as a freshman at Saint Mary-of-the-Woods, college for women, in southern Indiana. Miss O'Brien was graduated from Iowa City high school last June.

PORTRAYING LIVES OF GREAT HYMN WRITERS

Margaret Clark, A3 of Rockwell City, above, will portray the life of Fanny J. Crosby, a blind writer of famous hymns in the first of a series of dramatizations, written by Rev. Marcus Bach, new instructor in the school of religion, to be given by the Wesley players. The Rev. Mr. Bach, who spent last year in Hollywood doing work on dramatization, has produced 10 dramas to be presented experimentally throughout the year at the Methodist church.

'Male Animal' Opens University Theater 1941-1942 Playbill

"Brains versus brawn," a controversy as old as the human race is assured of a survival, not in the home this time, but in the University theatre's first play production, "The Male Animal," a rollicking modern comedy, which opens a week's engagement on Oct. 27.

Prof. E. C. Mable, University theatre director, announced yesterday that a cast of 14 people is now in rehearsal under Prof. Vance M. Morton of the dramatic art department. Cast members are Martha Ann Thomson, G of Omaha, Neb.; Ellen Turner; David Tranz, A4 of Virginia, Minn.; and Lloyd Meyer who are double cast in the role of young Prof. Tommy Turner.

Lois Tallman, A3 of Iowa City, Patricia Stanley; George Anderson, A2 of Nashville, Tenn.; Wally Meyers; Carl Zeigler, A3 of Coffeyville, Kan.; Dean Frederick Damon; Rodman Jones, G of Tulsa, Okla.; Michael Barnes. WSUI to Air 6 Programs in Cooperation With National Fire Prevention Campaign

This week is National Fire Prevention week, and radio station WSUI is cooperating with this observance by carrying six programs during the week, built around the theme of fire prevention.

The first goes on the air at 12:45 p.m. tomorrow, when WSUI Announcer Jim Dower interviews Adrian Rittenmeyer, a member of the Iowa City fire department, on the "Views and Interviews" show. At 2 p.m. on Tuesday, the lessons of London will be applied to the peace time fire prevention in this country with the presentation of "Taking a Lesson from the Incendiary Bomb."

On Wednesday, two fire prevention programs are scheduled for WSUI listeners. C. S. Cathcart of Des Moines, a representative of the Iowa State Fire Prevention association, is the speaker at 12:45 this afternoon. The seven principal causes of rural fires and what can be done about them is the topic of the 2 p.m. program of Wednesday — "Defending Our Farms Against Fire."

On Thursday, "Facts About Gasoline" is the fire prevention program on radio station WSUI. It will deal with the common uses of gasoline around the home and the dangers which the housewife incurs by these practices. The time—2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Friday will conclude WSUI's part in this nation-wide movement against the ravages of fire. Even the housewife can give valuable aid to her country by helping to prevent losses of time, property, and lives which so often result from home fires, by merely exercising a little caution. That is the fact which is emphasized in the program of that day—"Why All This Fuss About Fire Prevention?"—to be heard Friday at 2 p.m.

Compositions by Beethoven and Berlioz will be played in the Iowa Union music room Tuesday, from 2 to 3 p.m. "Le Carnaval Romain," overture, opus 9 by Berlioz, will be played first. Sir Thomas Beecham will conduct the London Philharmonic orchestra. Beethoven's four movements, Poco sostenuto; Vivace, Allegretto, Presto; Presto meno assai; Presto, and Allegro con brio from "Symphony No. 7, in A Major" will be the second selection. Playing the symphony will be the Philharmonic - Symphony orchestra, Arturo Toscanini conducting.

125 horsepower Meyers Trainers have been provided for secondary students. Mrs. William Hageboeck Named Club Treasurer. Mrs. William Hageboeck, 437 Hutchinson, is replacing Mrs. R. W. Leutwiler Jr. as treasurer of the Needle Work Guild for the current year. Other officers of the club are Mrs. Dewey B. Stuit, president; Mrs. L. A. Ware, vice-president, and Mary Love, secretary.

Plan Luncheon Meeting

Julien Bryan Opens Fall Lecture Series

Julien Bryan, outstanding motion picture lecturer, will open the Iowa lecture series Oct. 13, with the latest human-interest pictures of life in Brazil and Chile.

Wherever vital social changes attract world attention, Julien Bryan is present. Having recently spent four months touring South America, he is in a key position to give the inside facts on the increasingly important Pan-American relationship. The movies he will show are not stereotyped travelogues—they are real life pictures of people, showing how they live, how they work and how they think.

His photography career started when his father presented him with a camera on his 10th birthday. He has been taking pictures ever since. He has found that it is easy to make friends with strange people, regardless of their peculiar tribal customs if one is just friendly. He is the best in the motion picture-lecture field because he gives much more than mere word pictures of aimless entertainment. Bryan gives a profound program telling of the social changes going on throughout the world, graphically illustrating each point with his unique double-barrel method of lecturing.

Annual I.C. Community Chest Drive Aids Recreation Center

(Ed. Note—This is the first of a series of stories to be published by The Daily Iowan to acquaint you with the various organizations supported by the annual Community chest drive, to be conducted this year from Oct. 14 to 21. The Iowa City recreation center this year will receive $4,266 from the Community chest campaign budget.)

"It's a fine thing to aid Great Britain and her allies in the present conflict," admits M. Eugene Trowbridge, director of the Iowa City Recreation center and summer playgrounds, "but, in doing so, we must not forget causes closer to home which are of more importance."

In the above statement, Trowbridge was referring yesterday afternoon to the annual Community chest drive, Oct. 14 to 21, funds from which partially support the recreation center.

Strongly convinced that his organization is a worthwhile venture, Trowbridge believes that recreation centers are needed everywhere.

"Such organizations," he said, "are merely manifestations of democracy—a worthwhile planned use of leisure time, and not a program in which spare time for young men is employed in making them into robots for a domineering government."

"Keep the Home Fires Burning"

That certainly seems to be the aim of careless Americans. Last year a fire broke out every 90 seconds, and the national fire loss was almost 300 million dollars. Nearly 60% of all fires annually in this country occur in dwellings, including homes, apartments and hotels.

In spite of all effort, fire strikes at you, while we minimize the heartache, we can prevent loss and provide the money for a fresh start. Insurance does it... make insurance your number one fire precaution.

Marius Russo Hurls Yanks To Triumph

Fred Fitzsimmons Removed From Game With Injured Knee

By JUDSON BAILEY

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN (AP)—Masterful pitching by Marius Russo, a young southpaw with a sick stomach, and four quick singles in the eighth inning brought the New York Yankees a 2 to 1 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday and gave the Yanks a two to one advantage in the games played.

But the memory that was printed indelibly in the minds of the 33,100 sweltering fans who jammed this little park for Brooklyn's first series show in 21 years, was the gallant fight of old Fred Fitzsimmons on the left leg in the seventh inning and knocked him out of the ball game.

Battles Beautifully

The fat, 40-year-old knuckle ball expert, who in his younger days as a star of the New York Giants was beaten three times in world series contests, battled beautifully in a scoreless hurling duel that kept every fan in suspense and brought them to their feet cheering time after time.

Then with two out in the seventh, Russo ripped off a vicious line drive that struck heavy old Fitz inches above the left knee and bounced high in the air. Peewee Reese caught the ball to end the inning, but Fitzsimmons had to be helped off the field and later taken to New York hospital for X-rays to determine whether the kneecap might have been broken.

Consecutive Singles

His removal let down the Dykes to the power of the Yankees. After Johnny Sturm fled out to open the eighth against Relief Pitcher Hugh Casey, Red Rolfe, Tom Henrich, Joe DiMaggio and Charley Keller blasted consecutive singles for two runs.

Larry French, Brooklyn's only lefthander, then came in to make Bill Dickey ground into a double play and Johnny Allen pitched hitless ball in the final frame.

The Dodgers tried to recover the lost ground in their half of the eighth when Dixie Walker led off with a double. Russo put his thumb down on the next two batters, throwing out Mickey Owen and striking out Pinchhitter Augie Galan, but Reese got a sizzling single to score Walker.

The Dodgers' chance expired when Pete Cascarart popped up.

Magnificent Pitching

Russo, the 27-year-old southpaw star, who grew up on the streets of Brooklyn and became a great athlete for Long Island university, pitched magnificently all the way and allowed four hits.

The only hit off him in the first six innings was comic, Joe Medwick, a slugger of good repute, topped a curve and the ball rolled tantalizingly along the third base line while the Yankees hovered over it and waited for it to go foul. Instead the ball stopped dead just inside fair territory about half way to third base and Medwick received credit for a single.

The other safety, in addition to the two that made the run in the eighth, was a tremendous double by two-gun Pete Reiser against the centerfield wall at the start of the seventh.

Hawks—

The Hawkeys dominated the second period just as they did the first. Jim Youel set up a third Iowa threat by returning a punt from his own 25 to Michigan's 45. Green cooperated with a first down on the 34, but two incomplete passes ended the drive.

With five minutes to go, the Hawks screamed again, as Youel passed laterally to Green who ran from Iowa's 35 to the 50, and lateraled to Trickey who made it to the 41, almost breaking into the clear. Another pass of the same type, with Trickey again on the receiving end of the lateral took it to the 31, but a 15-yard penalty set the threat back, and the half ended.

In the first half, the Hawkeys outgained Michigan 145 yards to 45, and it looked like a matter of time before they went ahead in the game. But it was not meant to be that way, for Michigan seized an opportunity early in the third quarter and capitalized on it to the fullest extent.

Kuzma Rambles

Again it was Kuzma, returning another punt, who set up the Iowa disadvantage. He rambled from his own 45 to the Iowa 35, and then a first down on the 14 but a fumble ruined the scoring chance. But Iowa was shoved back into a hole, and never succeeding, they spent the entire last half trying to get away. Iowa kicked it's way out from inside its own 20 on two occasions, and each time the Wolverines roared back and put them back in the hole, once with an offense of their own and once with a brilliant kick that bounced out on the 3. The third time, however, Michigan capitalized, with Bob Westfall the chief conspirator.

Westfall made it a first down on Iowa's 24 with a seven-yard plunge, and drove to the 20 before the quarter ended. Harold Lockhard bounded through left tackle to the 15, and then ploughed the same place to the six. Dave Nelson plunged to the five, Westfall to the three, and Nelson to the two, but Westfall was halted on the one foot line on the fourth try. Iowa kicked out.

Quick-Kick Fails

Iowa worked hard to get it's back from the wall, and finally moved out to the 20. Then the strategy called for a quick kick to shove the Wolverines back further. It would have worked, too, for all Michigan backs were within 10 yards of the line of scrimmage, but Al Wister, living up to his potential All-American reputation partially blocked the ball and it rolled to the 35. Iowa held, but the damage was done, and the game was all but over.

Iowa had one bid left in its system, and it was Green who made the try. Circling his own left end, he picked up a maze of downfield blockers and ran from his own 25 to the Michigan 27. That looked like Iowa's chance, but, as usual, outside influence ruled. It was good, a clipping penalty on Michigan's 47-yard line taking the ball back to Iowa's 37. Iowa wound up the game attempting to throw passes and having the passers thrown for a loss twice in a row.

Hawk Reserves Sparkle

Iowa's stars were unusually many, and several reserves sparked in substitute roles, Jack Meher, Del Dickerhoff, Ben Trickey, John Staak, Hank Vollenweider and Bill Stauss all came through, and there was not much doubt that, for the first time in three years, Iowa has reserve power.

They needed it in the game, though, one of the roughest played here in recent years, Bill Parker,

Badgers Upset By Marquette

Wisconsin Falls, 28-7, Before Sheer Power, Swift Passing Attack

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—An under-rated Marquette football team took to the air to upset a favored, veteran Wisconsin eleven, 28 to 7, yesterday in their annual classic before a near capacity crowd of 40,000 persons.

In an impressive debut under the direction of their new coach, Tom Stidham, formerly of Oklahoma university, Marquette scored touchdowns in the second and third periods and added a pair in the fourth to complete the rout. Wisconsin scored early in the third quarter.

Terrific Plunges

The Badgers appeared unable to cope with the deceptive Marquette passing attack powered by halfback Jim Richardson, Bob O'Hagan, and Johnny Goodyear, and the terrific line plunges of rugged Doug Renzel. The Marquette touchdown parade, featuring sheer power and swift aerials, got underway in the second period, Marquette moving from its own 32 yard line to the Badgers 19. Three plays later, Bob McCaill, substitute back, heaved one over for a score. Bob Dams, quarterback, converted.

Long Aerial

A minute later Marquette's first string fullback, Renzel, took the kickoff from his own 10 to his 45 yard line, where, after one incomplete pass, Richardson shot a long aerial to Goodyear on the Badger 20. Goodyear romped over from there.

The final period was all Marquette. On the Badger 28 yard line as a result of an intercepted pass, Richardson threw a pass to O'Hagan on the 17. Another aerial four plays later, Richardson to John Harrington, left end substitute, was good for a score.

Advancing almost at will by this time, Marquette worked steadily to midfield on line plays. Faking a pass, Richardson ran to his left and then shot back to the right through a swarm of Badger tacklers to the Wisconsin eight. Three plays later Fred Rice, substitute fullback, shot through center for a touchdown. Dams kicked his fourth straight extra point from placement.

Cornhuskers Blast Iowa State, 14 to 0

AMES (AP)—Nebraska proud Cornhuskers, streamlined with trickery to go with their traditional power, started after another Big Six football title here yesterday by whipping Iowa State's Cyclones, 14 to 0, before 15,000 fans.

who turned into a defensive star for this tiff, Gene Curran, Ross Anderson, Captain Bill Diehl, Bill Burkett, Green and Youel were all helped off the field with injuries at least once and all came back but Diehl and Parker. Michigan players hurt were just as numerous. All in all, Iowa made 9 first downs to Michigan's 6, outgained them in total yardage 179 to 129, but lost 55 yards on penalties to Michigan's 15. A crowd of 29,900 watched the Big Ten opener for both teams.

Notre Dame Defeats Indiana Eleven, 19-6, For Leahy's 2nd Win

Dippy Evans, Irish Fullback, Hits Pay Dirt Three Times

By TOM SILER

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Sophomore Angelo Bertelli and the veteran Dippy Evans, slippery fullback, led Notre Dame's fighting Irish to a 19 to 6 victory over Indiana yesterday before 45,000 spectators, a spectacular running and aerial attack producing touchdowns in the first three periods.

The victory was Frank Leahy's second in as many starts by the Irish head coach and marked the second straight week that the Hoosiers have lost in the young grid season.

Man of Hour

Bertelli, talented young passer, set up the first two touchdowns with aerials. The third came on a driving ground attack. But Evans was the man of the hour when a few yards were needed, scoring all three touchdowns on short punches into the Indiana line.

Indiana reached the Notre Dame 49 yard line in the first period and never improved on that mark, except for the one touchdown thrust. This came midway of the third period when Earl Doloway passed 29 yards to Ken Smith. Just as he was tackled he lateraled to Charles Jacoby who ran the remaining 25 yards to score. Gene White's placement was wide.

Irish Take Lead

The Irish took a lead late in the first quarter, starting from their own 41. Bertelli passed 13 yards to George Murphy and 24 yards to Steve Juzwik in a drive to the three, from which point Evans smashed across for the tally. Juzwik's kick was low.

The Irish scored again in the waning minutes of the half, starting from the Indiana 20 after Doloway had punted from behind his goal line. A fancy spread play lost 13, then Bertelli passed 29 yards to Juzwik. Evans again drove across for the score and Juzwik kicked the point.

The smoothly operating Irish ran their lead to 19-0 in the third on a 48 yard drive, Juzwik, Evans and Bertelli battering the Indiana line. Evans cracked left tackle for the last seven yards but Juzwik again missed the placement.

'Clover' Fellows, These Alumni

The clovers were grown by C. T. Daniels, Balboa Heights, Canal Zone.

The clovers were sent by Victor B. Day, 29, vice-president; Edward Van Quekelbergh, 25, sales manager; and William O. Merritt, 35, public relations director of the Bear Manufacturing company, Rock Island.

Wildcats Rout Kansas State By 51-3 Score

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern's Wildcats, with a brilliant sophomore brigade commanding the attack in every period, opened their 1941 season yesterday by routing Kansas State, 51 to 3, before 40,000 spectators in Dyche stadium.

Completely outclassing the invaders, Northwestern scored in every period, with first-year men accounting for five touchdowns. Northwestern veterans likewise gave a good account of themselves as the visitors served notice they have a balanced offense which will make them a dangerous challenger for western conference honors.
