Russians Make Desperate Last Stand

I.C. Elects to Build New Stadium

Iowa City voters, by the small margin of 10 votes, yesterday gave the school board permission to transfer funds to erect a football stadium at the rear of the new city high school building.

Only 422 persons went to the polls in the city hall, and out of this number, 216 voted yes and 206 voted no.

To be constructed of concrete with wooden seats, the new stadium will seat about 3,200 persons. The structure will be placed on the west side of the natural football bowl directly east of the high school building.

Total costs for the construction will be $18,435. Of this amount, $10,335 will be transferred from general school funds to the building fund. The remaining $8,100 will be furnished by N. Y. A. for labor and supervision costs.

John P. Kelly, president of the Iowa City school board, last night said that the beginning construction date is uncertain and depends upon N.Y.A. authorities.

He said that he doubted if building could be started very soon, since the supply, priorities and allocations board yesterday issued a sweeping decree forbidding the start of any public or private construction which would use critical materials essential to the nation's defense or to public health and safety.

Since the N.Y.A. grant was made on Oct. 1, the go-ahead signal might be given anyway, he said.

The school board had planned to have the new stadium operating for the 1942 season and turn Shrader field into a playground for Longfellow school, if the project was approved, however if construction is held up Shrader field will be used for next year's games. Little preparatory work will have to be done to start construction of the stadium since the bowl is already graded and sodded. No dressing rooms will be provided in the stand since there is sufficient room in the high school building itself.

Yesterday's election was called by the school board when a group of citizens presented a petition bearing 200 signatures, asking the board to submit the question of the fund transfer to the voters.

This Central Press map shows the area the German army hopes to conquer and occupy before the paralyzing effect of winter causes operations on the eastern front to come to a standstill. The area shaded, covers all of western Russia from Moscow to the sea of Azov.

Admit Nazi Armies Advancing With Ever Increasing Strength

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
MOSCOW—Russian civilians joined the outnumbered red armies of the center last night in a supreme and desperate effort to break the blunt German wedges still advancing on Moscow with ever-increasing strength.

In deep forests and broad plains more than 100 miles west of the capital and 200-odd miles to the south these mighty Nazi offensives were met with new Soviet lines.

After retreating from Orel, an important railway junction south of Moscow, Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's forces occupied fresh positions north of the town and stubbornly sought there to breast the unending onslaughts of German tank columns.

About Vyazma to the west of Moscow the Russians were bitterly contesting the second Nazi advance.

The Soviet command's communique late last night indicated no change of consequence anywhere, merely reporting heavy continued fighting in all the vital areas.

It acknowledged that the Germans wedged into the Soviet defenses at one point on the central front but declared that in the ensuing tank battle the Germans lost more than 30 tanks, 19 anti-tank guns and crews, nine truckloads of infantry, one large cannon, an anti-aircraft battery and more than 400 men were slain.

Exact location of this battle was not given, but fighting was described as particularly heavy in the Vyazma and Bryansk sectors in the center as well as around Melitopol in the south.

In another three-day battle, the communique said, the Germans lost more than 500 men, seven tanks, many guns and mine-throwers and trucks loaded with infantry while the red army captured 16 cannon in good condition, along with ammunition and other supplies.

The situation behind the red army lines remained calm and orderly, so far as could be learned, and life in Moscow went on as usual.

But the position was clearly grave, although not disastrous. To the almost limitless Russian millions the Soviet press appealed:

"Realize the gravity of the situation, the greatness of the danger and abandon all complacency. Strain every effort to repulse the new attacks of the impudent enemy."

"Every red army man must realize the gravity of the present moment."

The mid-day communique of the Soviet command declared that although the invaders were falling by the thousands, their lines grew only longer, for fresh German divisions after division was being hurled into every hard-pressed Russian point.

The fighting proceeded with an epic savagery about Vyazma, and near Orel, where the Russians made perhaps their greatest stand in attempting to block the Nazis' northward push. Bryansk, to the west, was admittedly outflanked.

Orel itself was finally lost to the Russians after a three-day battle in which the town changed hands three times.

Others to be honored with honorary degrees at the ceremony, the St. Ambrose president announced, are James A. Farley, former postmaster general; the Rt. Rev. J. J. Boylan, president of Dowling college of Des Moines, and the Very Rev. M. A. Martin, president of Loras college of Dubuque.

"Today," he said, "begins the last great decisive battle of this year. It will hit the enemy destructively and with it the instigator of the entire war, England herself."

"For if we crush the opponent we also remove the last English ally on the continent."

"Thus we will free the German Reich and all Europe from a menace greater than any since the time of the Huns and later of the Mongol tribes."

F.D.R. Asks Congress to Repeal Ban on Armed Merchant Vessels

Declares 'Crippling Provisions' of Act Should Be Removed

Denounces Germans As 'Modern Pirates' In Speech to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Denouncing the Nazis as "madmen" and "modern pirates," President Roosevelt yesterday asked congress to wipe out "crippling provisions" of the United States neutrality act.

First of all, he asked repeal of that statute's ban on armed merchant ships, "as a matter of immediate necessity and extreme urgency."

To this, he added a request that congress give its "earnest and early attention" to a second amendment, rescinding the provisions which forbid American vessels to enter belligerent ports and specified combat areas.

"It is time," the president said, "for this country to stop playing into Hitler's hands and to unshackle our own."

Mr. Roosevelt's recommendations went to the capitol in a directly and forcefully worded special message, which as a literary product alone, some were saying, would rank with the best of his state papers.

It piled argument upon argument in an apparent endeavor to anticipate all the objections that will be voiced by the opponents of his foreign policy and reached one of its several climaxes in a statement that:

"Hitler has offered a challenge which we as Americans cannot and will not tolerate."

"We will not let Hitler prescribe the waters of the world on which our ships may travel. The American flag is not going to be driven from the seas either by his submarines, his airplanes or his threats."

"We cannot permit the affirmative defense of our rights to be annulled and diluted by sections of the neutrality act which have no realism in the light of unscrupulous ambition of madmen."

"We Americans have determined our course."

"We intend to maintain the security and integrity and the honor of our country."

"We intend to maintain this policy of protecting the freedom of the seas against domination by any foreign power which has become crazed with a desire to control the world."

Suspected Slayers Of Young Golf Star Arrested in Texas

FT. WORTH, TEX. (AP)—Detective Captain A. E. Dowell said last night that two suspects in the slaying of Marion Miley, prominent golf star, and the fatal wounding of her mother, Mrs. Fred Miley, at Lexington, Ky., were under arrest here and would be returned immediately to Kentucky.

Dowell said he described the men to Sheriff Ernest Thompson of Lexington in a telephone conversation and that Thompson replied: "They're the men we're looking for."

Thompson said he was leaving at once for Ft. Worth to obtain custody of the men, who signed waivers of extradition.

Defense Board to Take Over War Materials Of Conquered Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The economic defense board disclosed yesterday it intended to requisition large stocks of war materials ordered by nations which later fell under axis domination.

Vice President Wallace, chief of the board, said an investigation by the division of export control had revealed substantial stocks of such materials stored in warehouses, terminals and freight yards throughout the country.

Over 1,000 carloads of materials were located in the port of New York alone, Wallace said in a statement. About 500,000 pounds of aluminum and 700,000 pounds of tinplate were found in a single railroad yard at Hoboken, N. J.

"If Hitler wins the war, Americans can say good-bye to the productive part of South America. When Hitler finishes in Europe he will move into Asia, Africa, South America and then inevitably into the United States."

As a representative of the small newspapers in the United States, Hall was recently chosen by the Carnegie foundation along with 11 other educators and journalists to make an inspection of business, agriculture and social conditions in South America.

On his observations there, he bases his belief in total hemispheric defense.

"Every German coming to South America is a member of the third reich, working directly under the Nazi regime. Most of them hold high posts in the army, schools and newspapers."

Hall declared that Roosevelt is immensely popular in the Latin American countries and could be elected president of any one of them. "Our good neighbor policy is buying a badly needed friendship."

With each Hitler victory in Europe the United States becomes more committed to a policy of military preparedness. At the same time a vital economic problem for the South American countries is created.

Predict Crisis In Japanese, U.S. Relations

Claim New Friction May Bring Change In Japan's Cabinet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Japan is moving toward a new crisis in her relations with the United States which may wreck her present government, place the empire's destinies more completely in military hands and open a new phase of her program of conquest, according to trustworthy advisers reaching the Associated Press in New York.

The Japanese have felt that for the last six weeks there has been an encouraging truce in the long-drawn, steadily-worsening friction with America. They date the truce from the delivery late in August of a personal message from Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye to President Roosevelt. They indicate that hopes they placed in that gesture have been disappointed and that the truce is nearing an end. They blame American unremittingness to match that gesture of conciliation.

Persons in close touch with developments in Japan and able to draw on information not permitted to pass the censor give this picture:

Japanese leaders fear a break with the United States is impending. Konoye has let it be known that he will not accept responsibility if this comes. If his effort to come to some sort of understanding, even a transitory and superficial one, with America fails, if there is not early improvement in trans-Pacific relations, the Konoye cabinets will fall.

It will be replaced by one of generals and admirals or at least one even more under the domination of the "greater east Asia" axis-bound military clique than ever before.

Konoye is reported to have asked rather hopelessly, "what good did it do me to change the cabinet?" referring to his reconstitution of the government just three months ago to get rid of Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, who was held chiefly responsible for the alliance with the axis and the neutrality pact with Russia.

War Department Cuts Iowa, Cedar Rivers' Flood Control Project

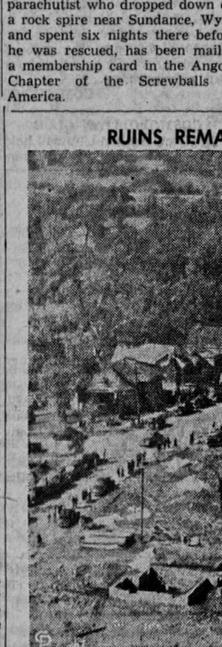

WASHINGTON (AP)—The war department advised congress yesterday that it disapproved a general flood control program for the Iowa and Cedar rivers in Iowa.

Secretary Stimson said he concurred in a report by army engineers that the already authorized Coralville reservoir would afford a substantial degree of protection along the Iowa river and that a reservoir on the Cedar river at Rochester, Iowa, "would be economically justified as part of a comprehensive flood control plan for the upper Mississippi river."

The chief engineer found, however, that no reservoirs or any general program of levees or channel improvement "would be justified economically for flood control on Iowa and Cedar rivers."

Nazi-Minded President of Panama Ousted After Ordering 'No Guns' on U.S. Vessels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Panama police quickly rounded up a number of Arias' followers suspected of pro-axis sympathies and possible fifth column activities in this vital American defense area.

Among those arrested was Antonio Isaza, private secretary to the president and former Panamanian consul - general in Hamburg, Germany. Isaza was regarded as one of the most convinced Nazi sympathizers in Panama.

Others arrested were Cristobal Rodriguez, a presidential secretary, and Enrique Linares, senior manager of the national lottery.

A number of Panama police officials were said to have fled. Arias fled by plane to Colombia Tuesday, soon after the "no-guns" order of last Monday complicated the neutrality law repeal debate in Washington, and proceeded from there to Havana, where he was located yesterday.

The second vice - president of Panama, the first eligible successor to Arias who could be reached immediately, was sworn in as president. For three hours he headed an interim government in probably the shortest term ever.

Officials Crack Down on Civilian Building

WASHINGTON (AP)—Invoking unparalleled veto power over the $11,000,000,000 construction industry, the supply priorities and allocation board prohibited yesterday the start of any non-essential public or private construction which would divert vital materials from the defense effort.

SPAB issued a policy ruling that projects which it deemed unnecessary to "direct national defense," public health or safety would be barred for the duration of the emergency from "priorities" on such vital metals as steel, copper, bronze, aluminum and brass.

"Priorities" is a system under which materials are rationed out, first to defense industry and then, if the supply is not exhausted, to civilians.

Coincidentally, Donald M. Nelson, OPM priorities director, and SPAB executive director, ordered iron and steel scrap placed under full priorities control, effective Saturday.

Further evidencing a sudden spurt of defense activity, it was learned that "a crack down" on misuse of aluminum priorities was pending. An unidentified Chicago manufacturer was ordered here for a hearing on charges he obtained "a considerable quantity" of aluminum by using defense preference rating, then disposed of the metal for non-defense purposes.

SPAB's decision to take drastic action in the construction field leaves it to the final veto power over items ranging from post-offices, new homes and court houses to the proposed $200,000,000 St. Lawrence seaway and all of the

WPA Receives Wage Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—An 8.5 per cent wage increase for almost 1,000,000 WPA workers, effective November 1, was announced yesterday by Howard O. Hunter, work projects commissioner.

A flat $5.20 a month increase was granted to 834,000 workers who now earn less than $90 a month, and Hunter said he was working on an increase for workers making over $90. He indicated no raise would be granted to bring any wage to over $100 a month.

The increases do not affect 106,000 workers now employed 40 to 48 hours a week on defense projects. The commissioner explained that the income of these workers' already had been increased.

Anniversary in China---

What Is Being Done, and What Needs to Be Done, On This Chinese Wartime Birthday?

(Today marks the 30th anniversary of the birth of the Chinese Republic. Again, it is an anniversary marked by war with the Japanese—a war which has dragged on for five and a half years.)

(With the growth of American sympathy toward the traditionally peaceful China has come increased expansion in the work of the American relief agencies whose aid to China has alleviated, in some small way, the suffering there. That drive reaches its climax today. Here is the story of those agencies, and the effect of this work upon the struggle in China.—The Editor.)

unbelievable hardships in some areas, suffering from physical debility after four years of insufficient food or deficient diets, and from lack of medical attention resulting from the lack of trained doctors and nurses, as well as of essential drugs, vaccines, anesthetics, and other medical supplies.

The American Bureau for Medical Aid to China has been for four years responsible for a constant stream of relief and medical supplies, shipped to Free China via the now American-supervised Burma Road.

Health conditions of both Chinese civilians and soldiers have already profited from the American-sent equipment of hospitals, and the establishment and equipment of nurses' and doctors' training schools; cholera, for instance, has almost completely disappeared, and scabies, which formerly afflicted 90 per cent of the soldiers returning from the front, is very slight.

Civilian graduates of American-supported emergency medical training schools have been instructed in the operation of delousing stations, in purifying of water supply, in the treatment of malaria, venereal diseases and relapsing fever. Six first-aid stations to care primarily for air-raid victims are now functioning in much-bombed Chinese cities.

Establishment and equipment of a modern vaccine-producing plant, capable of supplying all the vaccine-needs of the Chinese Red Cross, as long as the war lasts, and of the civilian population after the war, is the most recent gift to China by ABMAC, in accordance with this organization's policy of sending aid which will enable China to "defend and rebuild."

Twenty guerilla hospitals, spread out in huts and villages throughout the countryside to escape detection and possible bombardment, are now functioning in the area defended by the Fourth Route Army. Within the past few months a $5,000 shipment of drugs, medical supplies and surgical equipment has been sent to China by the China Aid Council, one of the United China Relief agencies, and this was smuggled into these guerilla areas to the hospitals. At the present time, more than 10,000 sick casualties are being treated in these hospitals under the most primitive conditions, and additional medical assistance is needed.

China's need for additional personnel to be trained for medical work, and her continued need for medical supplies and equipment make it imperative for American friends of China to continue their financial aid.

The miracle of China's heroic resistance after facing economic disaster following Japan's occupation of her major industries, can be attributed in part to the establishment of some 3,000 decentralized, vest-pocket industries now scattered throughout the western provinces.

The industrial cooperatives, manned by refugee workmen, are meeting the growing scarcity of capital goods in China by producing material essential to military and civilian needs.

China's industrial cooperatives, started by Americans and other foreigners in China, when she first faced economic collapse, owe their growth and support to the American Committee in Aid of Chinese Industrial Cooperatives, another of United China Relief's participating agencies.

Today, the cooperatives are in desperate need of more machines that will hasten establishment of China's industrial self-sufficiency by speeding production of such everyday necessities as shoes, clothing and soap. Two hundred varieties of capital goods already are being produced in these cooperatives, which have created jobs for 75,000 refugee workmen.

Thanks partially to American generosity, Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek has been able to rescue 30,000 hungry, ragged little waifs, part of China's fifty million refugee hordes, and has given them a sanctuary in orphanages run under her personal supervision. China's child refugees are thought to total two millions and of this number 300,000 have been registered as war orphans. Rescue of more of these victims of war will depend upon additional financial assistance sent immediately by the American Committee for Chinese War Orphans, one of the eight participating agencies in United China Relief. The Campaign for Young China, of United China Relief, is attempting to raise funds to aid China's child refugees by means of a China stamp sale, being conducted by children; and through an appeal to American grandfathers.

American aid to China's Christian colleges and universities, now in exile in the western provinces, has enabled more than 8,000 university students to continue their education despite the heavy handicaps of the war period. Almost daily bombardment has become, ironically, a minor cause of suffering, the greatest now faced by both students and teachers, being the alarming lack of physical resistance due to the high cost of living, and the inability of students to buy sufficient food. Many teachers in Chinese colleges are receiving the equivalent of only $10 per month.

Besides carrying on formal academic work of high rank, China's colleges-in-exile are now attempting the solution of pressing mechanical, industrial, and scientific problems of a nation struggling to reestablish herself in undeveloped, previously isolated West.

The most extensive scientific research that China has ever known is taking place in Chinese colleges in spite of an extreme shortage of laboratory equipment and modern instruments. Because of this lack, the students are living, working and carrying on research in primitive conditions that approximate those in this country 100 years ago! Science is being taught and research carried on in improvised sheds and barracks, without running water or gas, and often without electricity.

The students (formerly pampered darlings of rich families) sleep in double-deck wooden beds packed inside small mud huts, do their own washing and cooking, and raise their own vegetables. The Associated Boards for Christian Colleges in China, another member agency of United China Relief, has recently indicated need for a $450,000 sustaining fund for the coming year.

Since 1938, American church donors have sent a total of $1,000,000 for relief work in China through the Church Committee for China Relief.

The actual church distribution of relief has covered 150 cities and towns in China by more than 700 missionaries of all denominations who have remained at their post since the outbreak of war in 1937. Wounded civilians have been cared for in mission hospitals; children have been fed and educated in welfare centers; self-help opportunity has been given to both men and women through loans, handicrafts, and work projects, such as draining flood areas and repairing dikes. During the four years of war, extensive mission property has been destroyed, and many missionaries have lost their lives.

In these ways, United China Relief and its agencies in China have entered every major field of China's pressing relief need, and it is literally true, Americans returning from China testify, that every coolie, every soldier, every farmer, orphan and refugee, knows that America is helping and is profoundly grateful for it.

French aid was a decisive factor in establishing the independence of the young republic of the United States of America during the crucial years of her struggle to plant democracy on these shores.

Today, a striking parallel exists between the plight of the United States in 1776 and the present struggle for freedom of the Republic of China, which celebrates its 30th anniversary today. This historic anniversary comes in the fifth year of China's great defensive war to keep her young democracy alive, and aid from America is beginning to play a decisive role in strengthening the resistance of the Chinese people.

American aid to China's hard-pressed civilian population has been sent in increasingly large amounts since the eight major welfare agencies raising money for China combined to participate in the drive being conducted by United China Relief for $5,000,000. The drive is now being carried on through local committees in 345 towns and cities and at the present time more than 100,000 individuals have contributed approximately $1,750,000 for Chinese relief and reconstruction. The United China Relief campaign reaches its climax today.

Thanks to America for the moral and material aid to China recently was sent to this country by Minister of Finance H. H. Kung, who expressed China's determination to fight "not only to maintain her unity, dignity and self respect, but also to see to it that justice and human liberty prevail not only in America but throughout the world."

During China's four long years of resistance against aggression, she has suffered enormous losses: 50 million homeless; 5 million sick and wounded; two million sick and starving children; 90 per cent of her rich coastal industries destroyed or taken over by the Japanese.

In the Nation's Capital—

By HUGH JOHNSON

If We're Going to War, Let's Do It Honestly—

WASHINGTON—Whatever else may be said about it, there was some consistency in the neutrality legislation when our policy was to keep out of war in Europe and, to that end, it forbade the risking of American lives, property and dollars in combat zones.

But when that policy was completely reversed in the lease-lend act and the president was authorized in his sole discretion to risk both American property and dollars in unprecedented amounts whenever and wherever on the broad service of the globe he decided, the neutrality acts became obsolete. They now only serve to create an added danger of risk to the sacrifice we are making.

Once the foundation in which they rested is pulled out from under them it is hard to see any difference between their outright repeal and some piecemeal monkey business this side of that.

LITTLE VALUE IN ARMING SHIPS

Arming merchant ships is an expedient of very little value. It now takes too much technical equipment and crew to make it very effective against submarines and especially against combined submarine and aircraft attack. We haven't got either the equipment or the trained men to make more than a gesture at effective armament.

While the presence of a couple of cannon on board ship might make a submarine a little more wary, it would also make it much more apt to attack without any warning whatever.

Anyway, there is a good deal of hokum about getting congressional authority to arm merchant ships. It is pretty well understood in Washington that we have already armed several and that the most recently torpedoed merchantman was one of these.

FLAG SHIPS IN COMBAT ZONES

The first real question is whether American flag ships shall be permitted to sail into combat areas. That also has been done. The suggestion of Senator Pepper that we can get around the prohibitions of the neutrality act on that by simply having the president unproclaim his own proclaimed combat zones and say that what palpably is a combat zone is really not one, is nothing short of immoral.

If we are going to lift this ban, let's do it honestly—by repealing that provision of the neutrality act.

HOW DO WE GET IT?

Then comes another question, far more vital. After we have lifted the ban and an American flag ship, conveying contraband of war is sunk while trying to crash an area under actual blockade, does that mean we are automatically at war?

Technically it would not, under the old doctrine of international law. What it would mean today the Lord only knows. It would depend a good deal on popular reaction and what the real foreign policy of this government is. If that policy is to get into the war now—or as soon as popular opinion is sufficiently hysterical, it would doubtless mean a war, traceable back to the repeal of the neutrality act. But, that is really quibbling over a technicality. If this government wants to go to war now, it can find other means of drumming up the necessary emotions—repeal or no repeal.

WHY SHOULD WE GET IT?

It is hard to see what we have to gain by getting into the war now. We are not ready for it. More important still, it is hard to see what Britain has to gain by our getting into war now. That is more important, because we seem to do about what Britain wants. But, why should she want this now? We are sending her all the supplies we can deliver and have promised her far more—with the apparent consent of most of our people. But, if we get into this war ourselves our shipments abroad will be much more closely scanned and our people will demand a far greater share for our own defense and armament. On these considerations, it seems that a filibuster against repeal of the neutrality act would be very unpopular in this country. In the end it could do no good. In the meantime it could do much harm. This column is not and never has been for unnecessary involvement in this war.

It is for an impregnable American defense and superiority on all fronts—in the air, on sea and land, economically and on the home front—the preservation of civilian morale and of our business system.

It feels that we are weakening these defenses on several of these fronts. But, this is war, and when congress makes such a decision as it did in the lease-lend act, it feels a duty to support that decision.

Mr. Cukor Has Trouble With the Garbo Number

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Mr. George Cukor, directing the new Garbo comedy, wished to telephone his star but could not learn her new, recently changed number.

Miss Greta Garbo's telephone number is a precious studio secret. "But I am a friend of hers—I go to her house—she comes to mine—I know her well," said the exasperated Mr. Cukor when denied the number.

"Sorry, but it's orders," he was told. "If you wish to reach Miss Garbo, you must call her friend, Salka Viertel, who will call Miss Garbo, and then Miss Garbo will call you."

Mr. Cukor, resigned, went through the prescribed routine, and bided his time.

When next he saw Garbo, he said: "Greta, you and I are going to take an automobile ride together through Brentwood. We are going to find an old hollow tree. We will mark it. Then, when you have something to say to me, you will write a note and leave it in the tree. When I wish to tell you something, I will do the same."

Miss Garbo, I am informed, got the point, and Mr. Cukor got Miss Garbo's number.

Well, at any rate this educator tried to scale the heights.

Dr. A. D. Fraser, University of Virginia archaeologist, wanted to examine an old stone mill at Newport, R. I., in an effort to ascertain its disputed origin.

Newport firemen let him take a fire ladder so he could climb over the mill wall, but just as he started to do so police came along and halted him.

"We don't even allow Harvard and Yale boys to go in," said the police, explaining there is a longstanding rule against permitting anybody in the structure, which some believe was built by Vikings centuries ago.

7-Day Season Set For Pheasant Hunting

—53 Counties to Be Open

Setting a seven-day pheasant hunting season, the Iowa conservation commission Tuesday opened 53 counties, 13 more than ever before, in which the birds may be shot.

The commission had been deluged with requests to extend the former three-day season, legally provided for, in order to take in a weekend. Since the supply of birds is reputedly the largest in the history of the state, commission officials felt justified in granting the extension and expanding the hunting territory.

Although Iowa law fixes the season dates at Nov. 12 to Nov. 14, inclusive, the statute has been interpreted as giving the commission power to change dates and counties if it feels that such a change is necessary to maintain the biological balance of the species.

Open counties are: Monona, Crawford, Carroll, Greene, Boone, Webster, Story, Marshall, Tama, Benton, Linn, Jones, Jackson, Clinton, Scott, Delaware, Buchanan, Black Hawk, Grundy, Hamilton, Hardin, Calhoun, Sac, Ida, Woodbury.

Plymouth, Cherokee, Buena Vista, Pocahontas, Humboldt, Wright, Franklin, Butler, Bremer, Fayette, Chickasaw, Floyd, Cerro Gordo, Hancock, Kossuth, Palo Alto, Clay, O'Brien, Sioux, Lyon, Osceola, Dickinson, Emmet, Winnebago, Worth, Mitchell, Howard, and Winnesiek.

Four southwest Iowa counties were closed against hunting by the commission since they failed to show one bird for each 8 acres in the annual bird census. These counties are: Pottawattamie, Mills, Fremont, and Harrison.

Shooting is permitted from noon to 5 p. m. on open days during the season, the daily bag limit is three male birds and the possession limit is six male birds.

I.C. Community Chest Drive to Provide Local Social Service League With $3,256

(Ed. Note—Fifth in a series of articles to be published in The Daily Iowan, the following story deals with the Iowa City social service league, one of the organizations contributed to by the annual Community Chest drive. This year's drive, to be conducted from Oct. 14 to 21, will provide the league with $3,256.)

Upon the boy's statement that he would like to live away from the city, the league arranged for him to live on a farm. He now attends a rural school and according to reports is "getting along fine."

"But we work not alone for the individual; the foundations of society are our business," Livingston said. "When these are strong, democracy is successful and effective."

"Broken families, despondency, delinquency, vice, poor management and waste have been repeatedly demonstrated to be more costly than the maintenance of a well organized and effective social service organization," W. Ross Livingston, board chairman of the Iowa City Social Service League, declared yesterday.

Livingston explained that in carrying out its work, the Iowa City league is dependent entirely upon community financial help, especially the aid given through the annual Community Chest drive.

In his appeal to Iowa Citizens for their support in the coming drive, Livingston called to attention the fine work that the league does each year.

"The league," Livingston said, "is an incorporated community agency—an organized expression of the community's sense of its inter-relationships and its genuine interest in the welfare of its members—supported wholly by community funds and designed to render social services to anyone in the community who is in need of and interested in seeking such aid."

Livingston pointed out that the league cooperates with public agencies which give financial aid to those eligible for it, as well as endeavoring to help people in an intensive study of individual family problems.

"The league also aids in helping people in a constructive way by teaching them to help themselves," Livingston contended. "It tends too, to discourage indiscriminate giving and any other practice which would lead to begging and vagrancy."

A few of the problems dealt with by the local agency are assisting in the home and family budgeting, child welfare, pre-delinquency problems, employment to handicapped persons who are heads of families, assistance to families in planning for Christmas, inadequate parental care, and bad housing.

As an illustration of one of the league's duties, Livingston cited the case of a 10 year old local boy who had been skipping school classes and had been receiving low marks.

The league took under supervision; found he was of high intelligence and that he had been having trouble with his family.

THE CIGARETTE OF COSTLIER TOBACCOS

SIX, SEVEN MILES UP! In air no man can breathe—and live! Motors—now even pilots are "super-charged." On the stationary bicycle (above) Marshall Headle, chief test pilot of Lockheed, breathes pure oxygen for 30 minutes before a test flight in Lockheed's new interceptor.

SHE CLIMBS A MILE A MINUTE. They call her "Lightning." Pilot Headle clambers into the cockpit, switches from a pocket oxygen flask to his cabin supply, and streaks for the stratosphere. He's test-flown 300 different planes. But when he lands, it's always... "Now for a Camel."

YOU CAN'T SEE HIM up there. You can scarcely hear the hum of his motors. Then his voice comes into the radio tower: "Headline—35,000 feet—diving now." And you just boop! Seconds later—yes, seconds—his landing. And here he is (above) cool, calm, lighting up a Camel.

CAMEL'S EXTRA MILDNESS IS PLENTY OKAY WITH ME. I SURE GO FOR THAT FULL, RICH FLAVOR

"Less nicotine in the smoke means more mildness to me," says test pilot Marshall Headle (above), as he lights up his... and America's... favorite cigarette

THERE may be little traffic at 35,000 feet, but test-diving any new, untried plane is no Sunday joy-ride. No, not even for a veteran like Marshall Headle (above). Naturally, cigarette mildness is important to Marshall Headle. And in the slower-burning cigarette of costlier tobaccos... Camels... he gets extra mildness—with less nicotine in the smoke. What cigarette are you smoking now? Chances are it's one of the five included in the nicotine tests reported above at the left—tests which trace Camel's advantage right down to the actual smoke itself. Obviously, the smoke's the thing! Try Camels. For convenience—economy—buy the carton.

Julien Bryan, World Traveler, Opens Lecture Series Monday

Brings Newest Pictures Of South America

Camera-Lecturer Will Describe Conditions In Brazil, Peru, Chile

Opening the university lecture series, Julien Bryan, world renowned cameraman, reporter and adventurer, will present two lectures Monday at Macbride hall. The first, on "Brazil," will be given at 4 p.m. and the other, on "Peru and Chile," at 8 p.m.

Bryan arrived in the United States Oct. 5 from a four month tour of South America. He will show the finest collection of human interest and factual films that have ever been compiled for any lecture on life in these countries.

Lee W. Cochran, head of visual education, is a personal friend of Bryan's and will handle the movi projection during the lecture.

Dean Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts, who has witnessed some of Bryan's lectures, says, "He is the greatest pictorial lecturer since Burton Holmes was in his prime."

Bryan likes, understands and has a gift for getting along with people. This quality has aided him in securing admission into countries at times when no other photographer was allowed. Bryan himself has said, "I have never yet encountered, in years of exploring foreign countries with a camera, a national group of people who were inherently hostile to all outsiders."

Bryan has commented that Americans makes it impossible for movies and hundreds of other exports have caught the imagination of the South American people, but the difference in wage scale and living standards between the two Americans makes it impossible for very many South Americans to own such products of our factories. Government export subsidies, he points out, might enable the United States manufacturer to reduce prices in the South American market, allowing competition with inferior but cheaper German merchandise.

Impartial, fair, thoroughly informed on the countries he presents, Bryan is one of the nation's best platform speakers. He analyzes the problems of understanding between the Americas, with word and picture, and gets down to primary causes. He explains the differences as they are with no censor cutting of the films or rehearsed scenes. The people Bryan pictures are natural inhabitants, living day by day in the honest surroundings of their country.

Two Currier Teams, Gamma Phi Beta Win First Volleyball Games

Winners of the first round of the intramural volleyball tournament sponsored by W. R. A. were Gamma Phi Beta, Currier II and Currier V. Each team won two games.

The Gamma Phi Beta team defeated Eastlaw, 30 to 16, and advanced by a default from Currier III. Currier II won over Pi Beta Phi, 46 to 6, and over Eastlaw by a score of 38 to 17. Currier V defeated Alpha Delta Pi, 59 to 7, and Russell house, 32 to 17.

Four teams are tied for second place with one win and one loss. Delta Delta Delta defeated Alpha Delta Pi, 25 to 21. The Tri Deltas lost to Delta Gamma, 19 to 24. The game between Delta Gamma and Alpha Chi Omega ended in a tie. Currier III defeated Currier I in a close game, 28 to 24. Russell House won from Currier I by a score of 36 to 19.

Each team plays two games every week on either Wednesday or Thursday. There are two more rounds to be played and the winner will be determined on a percentage basis.

Scottish Highlanders, Band to Make Student Trip to Illinois Game

When the University of Iowa's 120-piece band and the Scottish Highlanders bagpipe unit go to Champaign, Ill., next month, it will be the first visit of the two groups to the University of Illinois campus.

The units will lead hundreds of Iowans to Champaign for the 1941 official student trip Nov. 7 and 8, according to Col. Homer Slaughter of the military department.

A special train will leave Iowa City Friday noon, Nov. 7, and will arrive in Chicago about 5 p.m. After an overnight stay in Chicago, the special train will continue to Champaign Saturday morning.

The Hawkeyes have not played Illinois here since 1935 when Iowa scored a 19 to 0 victory.

Expect 150 to Make Geology Field Trip

Will Study Rocks, Glacial Features At Tri-State Meet

Approximately 150 persons from Illinois, Wisconsin, and Iowa are expected to attend the Ninth Annual Tri-State Geological Field conference tomorrow and Sunday.

The group will form a caravan of cars near Montpelier at 8 a. m. tomorrow and proceed down the river to Keokuk then up to Belfast where the trip will end at noon Sunday.

Stops will be made along the way to study rock formations and glacial and interglacial features. One of the main purposes of the trip is to acquaint students with geology experts from colleges in Illinois, Wisconsin, and Iowa and to hear their opinions on geological phenomena found along the way.

The area to be studied contains what is known in geology as classical and type areas. The classical areas for fossil collecting, and type localities of rock formations in southeastern Iowa are known throughout the world in the geological profession.

The group will lunch at Burlington tomorrow noon and stay at the Iowa hotel, general headquarters of the conference in Keokuk, tomorrow night.

Prof. A. C. Trowbridge, director of the Iowa Geological Survey at the University of Iowa, will be in charge of the business meeting, and master of ceremonies at the annual dinner in the hotel tomorrow night.

Prof. L. M. Kline of the geology department of Iowa State college, Ames, is in charge of the trip.

Frank L. Mott Speaks At Rotarian Luncheon

Significant anecdotes from the history of American journalism were related by Prof. Frank L. Mott, director of the university school of journalism, at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary club yesterday in the Jefferson hotel.

Newspaper stories told by Professor Mott included the odyssey of the "Memphis Appeal," the paper that became known as the "Moving Appeal" because of its flight through the South before the yankee armies during the Civil War; the crusade by the "New York Times" and "Harpers Weekly" against the Tweed ring and its corruption in New York City, and a story about Horace Greeley's handwriting.

Union Music Program Features Liszt, Chopin

"Concerto No. 1 in E Flat," for piano and orchestra, by Liszt will be played next in four movements, Allegro maestoso, Quasi adagio, Allegretto vivace and Allegro marziale animato.

W. Gieseking will be the pianist and Sir Henry Wood will conduct the London Philharmonic orchestra.

Hillel Club Will Meet For Services Tonight

Services conducted by Rabbi Morris N. Kertzer will be held at the Hillel foundation this evening at 8 o'clock.

Little Hawks, Rivermen Play Home Games Today

LITTLE HAWK STARTERS AGAINST PELLA TONIGHT

These eleven men will take the field against the Pella Dutchmen tonight at 8 o'clock in a non-conference game at Shrader field. Tonight's starting team has been revised to get more power in the line and more offensive threat in the backfield. From left to right, the linemen are Lewis Jenkinson, Ed Capen, Dean Yaunash, Don Goodnow, Bill Bothell, Dean Williams and Dave Danner. Left to right, the backfield is Joe Casey, Bill Sangster, Wayne Hopp and Bob Roth.

Cormackmen 'All-Out' In Pella Tilt Tonight; Want Fifth Straight

Little Hawks Oppose Non-Conference Foe Minus Two Regulars

Five weeks ago today, Coach Herb Cormack's Red and White machine was all set to start its season against Kalona. But that was five weeks ago and now after four successive wins the Hawks are again tackling a non-conference foe on Shrader field when they meet Pella tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Dutchmen come to the Little Hawk camp with a record of one loss and two wins. Newton flooded them in the opening game, but Pella came back strong and ran all over Chariton and Osceola on later dates.

Triple Threat Back

Pella has a powerful offensive squad centered around Roy Klootwyk and Tom Grundman. Klootwyk is the main threat with his running, passing and kicking.

Coach Cormack has ordered an "all out" offensive against the Pella outfit, especially in the passing department. "Bullet Bill" Sangster is in top shape and has been sharpening up his passing arm and eye all week. Dave Danner and Lewis Jenkinson have been the most noticeable receivers all week and the fumbling of passes that have already cost the Hawks touchdowns in other games was not evident.

Cormack has made several changes in the Little Hawk lineup for tonight's game. Missing from center will be Bob Crumley who is nursing a badly sprained ankle suffered in the McKinley encounter a week ago. Don Goodnow, a makeover from guard, will probably get the nod from Cormack for the pivot post although Don Williams or Cliff Alderman may get the last minute assignment.

The other change in the Hawklet lineup is the shift of Danner to end and the promotion of Wayne Hopp to the first team backfield. Hopp showed plenty of stuff last week and Cormack has moved Danner to end to make room for the speedy Hopp. Dean Williams, who was one of Cormack's star ends, has been moved to guard and Danner has taken his wing post. From the practice sessions this week it looks as though the change was a wise one as it added the much needed strength to the center of the line.

In the Mississippi Valley conference race Iowa City ranks at the top along with the Waterloo high schools. The three leaders are undefeated in conference competition and all teams have entered league competition except the powerful Davenport team which meets West Waterloo tonight.

Ironman Max Hawkins Guest Stars Today On Football Board of Air

WSUI's Football Scoreboard of the Air will be broadcast for the third week this afternoon at 12:30, with Max Hawkins, former Hawk-eye Ironman, as guest expert.

The Board, whose regular members are Gene Clausen of The Associated Press, Jim Jordan of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, and Bill Buckley of The Daily Iowan, has a season record of picking 22 winners out of 32 major football games throughout the country.

This week, the Board will again pick the winners of 16 major games of the week, with each of the members giving reasons for the choice on four of the games. In cases of ties, Jim Dower, sports announcer of WSUI, will cast the deciding vote.

In telling Lou to hold back, if those orders coincided with his own opinion, that made no difference.

The whole thing doesn't make sense. A fighter and his brain trust try to win in the way they think best. They weren't thinking of how the fight looked to the spectators, they were thinking of how to beat the other guy. In this case the theory was that by waiting until Louis had slowed down, and then firing the broadsides, the goal might be reached.

Louis got there first, with the biggest guns. That's all there was to it.

At any rate, the suspension shouldn't hurt Carlen too much. It will be more than six months before anyone wants to see Nova again.

Bluehawks Primed For First Triumph In Homecoming Tiff

Capt. Glenn Stimmell Goes to Right Tackle; Brother to Quarter

Tapering off a hard week of scrimmage with a light drill yesterday afternoon, Coach Paul Brechler indicated that the Rivermen will go into their Homecoming game this afternoon with more fight and spirit than they have displayed to date.

Unpredictable Coach Brechler is trying every means possible to find a clicking combination. With the unexpected shift of Capt. Glenn Stimmell from fullback to the right tackle, he said there was a possibility of Calvin Stimmell holding down the quarterback post.

Alderman Comes Back

Yesterday afternoon was the first time this week that Bob Alderman reported for practice since the West Liberty game, in which he suffered a pulled knee muscle.

In the two-hour drill on pass defense, signal running and the study of Monticello's plays, the highly-keyed Rivermen prepared themselves for one of the best rated teams of the Eastern Iowa conference.

Noted for its speed and pass offense, Monticello will try for its first conference win of the season against the Bluehawks. Last year's conference champs, Monticello has won two non-conference games and tied two games, one a conference tilt with Tipton.

U-High Wants One

Against this record, U-High will be out for its first win of the season. The conference standings for the two teams are both 5-0, since the Bluehawks have played a tie game with West Liberty.

Dan Hise Wins Twice In Opening Events Of Fall Track Schedule

Dan Hise of West Liberty won both the Rotary club Javelin throw and the Dutton Discus throw yesterday in the opening events of the fall track schedule at the west side track.

Hise threw the javelin 162 feet, 9 1/2 inches to win, followed by Don Thompson of Vinton with a heave of 153 feet, 9 inches. John McGrath of Hampton came in third with 148 feet, 9 inches.

Longest throw in the discus event was by Hise, 128 feet 7 inches, his closest rival being Adrian Kline of Aurelia, 114 feet, 6 inches. Don Van Cura of Cedar Rapids was third.

Hise will have his name engraved on both the Rotary club Javelin trophy and the Dutton Discus trophy for winning the events.

Assistant Coach Ted Swenson was pleased with the work in the javelin, with the top three recording the best average for the past three years.

Interclass Trackmen To Compete Oct. 14

Third in a series of fall track events is scheduled to get underway Tuesday, Oct. 14, when the first six events of the interclass meets will be held on the west side track, it was announced by Ted Swenson, assistant track coach.

Freshmen and the seniors will compete against the sophomores and juniors, with the following events scheduled to start at 4 p.m.; 60-yard high hurdles, 60-yard dash, 300-yard dash, pole vault, broad jump and shot put.

Final six events will be held Thursday, Oct. 16, at 4 p.m., and will include the 100-yard dash, 110-yard low hurdles, 880-yard run, javelin throw and high jump.

Any undergraduate in the university is eligible to compete in any of these events. Coaches George Bresnahan and Swenson, are anxious to have new men on the campus compete, especially men with possibilities in the weight events.

In Tom Kuzma not only a hard-driving runner but a fine punter. Against Iowa he booted four kicks out of bounds inside the five-yard stripe. Yost used to say: "You gotta big edge, son, with a good kicker and those two extra men—the out of bounds lines—on your side."

Michigan as yet hasn't a passer of the ability of Harmon, Benny Friedman or Harry Newman. Those last two hark back to some great "punt, pass and prayer" days.

U-HIGH'S STARTING ELEVEN FOR HOMECOMING TILT

Intramural Gridders Open Fire Yesterday In Four Rough Tilts

Eight fraternity football teams opened their season yesterday, and the results were four hard-fought, well-played football games.

Most thrilling game of the day was the Sigma Chi's 7 to 6 victory over a fine Sigma Nu team. Throughout the first half, the two teams held each other scoreless although Gary Stein and Jerry Hilton of the winners and George Devine of the losers played outstanding ball.

Bill Spencer Scores

In the early part of the second half, Bill Spencer put Sigma Nu six points in the lead as he eluded the whole Sigma Chi team on a punt return and went over standing up. The try for extra point was a failure. In the last two minutes of the game, Sigma Nu, confident of winning the game, passed from behind its own goal only to have Bob Buckley intercept on the two-yard line. After two plays, Jerry Hilton, ace passer.

ing back of the Sig Chis, threw to George Parks for the score and then worked the same play for the conversion.

The class B team of Phi Kappa Psi won a well-earned 12-0 victory over Sigma Alpha Epsilon, as "Joltin' John" Hunter scored all of his team's points. In the first half, Hunter, aided by a fine block on the part of Lou Lapham, went around right end for 15 yards and the score.

Again in the second half Hunter broke through center for three yards as he made the final touchdown of the game. The passing combine of Weaver to Houghton clicked several times for the Phi Psi's, and was responsible for setting up one of Hunter's touchdowns.

The throwing arm of S.A.E. Ed Armbruster was a constant threat to the Phi Psi's.

Pi Kappa Alpha Wins

A pass from Arnie Carlson to Winston Lowe in the first overtime period enabled Pi Kappa Alpha to defeat Alpha Tau Omega, 12 to 6. At the end of the first half, the score stood 6 to 0 after Phil Adamek had scored on a running play for Pi Kappa Alpha. Howard Kemper evened it up in the second half as he swept right end for six points. The game was settled in the overtime by the combined talents of Carlson and Lowe.

In the final game, Beta Theta Pi shaded Phi Epsilon Pi by a score of 7 to 6. The Betas did all their scoring early in the game as George Kelly passed to Don Weagley for six points and Jack Foley ran the ball across for the all-important conversion. The Phi Eps, led by Ray Rosenberg, had little success until late in the second half when Kenny Aronow tallied six points on a running play. The Phi Eps, with a chance to tie up the game, failed in their attempt to convert.

Virginia U's Dudley Leads Grid Statistics

Heads Offense Gains; Grigas of Holy Cross Nation's Top Rusher

By GAIL FOWLER

SEATTLE, (AP)—Bill Dudley, man of the hour in Virginia football, became man of the week in the American football statistical bureau's first weekly individual ground-gaining compilations yesterday.

Dudley, who as a junior last year was named as a back on The Associated Press third team all-American, this week rates first in total offense gains—both rushing and passing—second in rushing alone, and fifth as a forward passer.

In 43 rushes he made 281 yards. He completed 12 out of 20 passes, with one interception, for 117 yards, and totaled 398 yards in 63 ball-handling attempts while his team was winning two of its first three games, losing only to Yale's second-half surge, 21-19.

Grigas of Holy Cross is the top rusher, collecting 328 yards in 49 tries. Cantini of Carnegie Tech completed the most passes, hitting the target 20 times in 52 attempts with one interception, for 245 yards. The bureau ranks passers on the number of completions. On a percentage basis, Dudley's 12 out of 20 gave him a .600 percentage rating to lead in that classification among the top five.

Auburn, for the last few years one of the nation's best punting teams, boasts this week's punting leader in Gafford, whose five punts in two games averaged 48 yards apiece.

Bulldogs Meet Billikens

DES MOINES (AP)—An injury-ridden Drake university football squad left last night to meet the St. Louis university Billikens in its Missouri Valley conference opener tonight.

AMES (AP)—Regulars who had been displaced as Coach Ray Donnel juggled his Iowa State college football lineup were back at their old posts yesterday as the Cyclones went through a long signal drill.

Positions in Outfield Wide Open on Iowa's 1942 Diamond Team

Positions in the outfield on the Iowa baseball team will be wide open this year, according to Coach Otto Vogel.

Ray Koehnke is the only letterman returning this year from last season's team, since both Norm Hankins and Warren Smith, the other outfielders last year, have graduated.

Problem Not Dark

However, the outfield problem is not as dark as it may appear. Besides Koehnke, Harold Lind, Max Landes, and Bud Flanders are returning veterans.

Koehnke broke into the regular outfield last year as a sophomore, and so will have the advantage of experience over the other candidates. Lind also has had experience, alternating with Koehnke in left field during the latter part of the season. Koehnke, Lind, Flanders and Landes are all juniors.

Sophis May Win

Several sophomore prospects are also working in the outfield, and there is a strong possibility that a regular outfielder may come from among the ranks of these sophomores.

Vogel has been working daily with all these outfielders, with extensive drills in fly chasing being included with batting practice.

Gophers Drill on Passes

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The healthy respect held for Illinois' passing attack by Coach Bernie Bierman caused him to send his Minnesota squad through its fourth straight practice in which the aerial game was accentuated.

Donels Replaces Regulars

AMES (AP)—Regulars who had been displaced as Coach Ray Donnel juggled his Iowa State college football lineup were back at their old posts yesterday as the Cyclones went through a long signal drill.

Badgers Start Sophs Against Northwestern

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Three sophomores, possibly four, will be in Wisconsin's starting lineup when the Badgers face Northwestern in their Big Ten opener at Northwestern Saturday.

The three second year men who will be in at kickoff are Pat Harder, fullback; Dick Lopefe, tackle; and Pat Boyle, guard. Harold Hoehler, a guard, may also start. Coach Harry Stuhldreher said.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—With eight men out of action temporarily with injuries, Coach Mal Elward let his Purdue university football squad off from scrimmage in yesterday's drill for its western conference opener at Ohio State a week from next Saturday. All the disabled except fullback John Petty and halfback Marion Carter were expected to be ready for contact work again early next week.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Coach Bob Zupke and 35 Illinois football players trained last night for Minneapolis where the unpredictable Illini battle mighty Minnesota Saturday in the conference opener for both teams.

Five thousand students turned out for a pep rally shortly before the train departed.

Interpreting The War News

Nazis Say Strong Russian Resistance Along Volga Broken

Germany's boast that Russian power of organized resistance has been shattered "from the springs of the Volga to the Sea of Azov" may be premature; but there is enough grim reality in that nazidram picture to justify foreboding.

From the source of the Volga to the Sea of Azov is a thousand miles, as the crow flies. The Volga rises on the lake-studded southern slopes of the Valdai hills, nearly 200 miles northwest of Moscow. It is the mother stream of Russia, as the Mississippi is the father of American waters. And it empties not into the Black Sea or the Sea of Azov, but into the Caspian sea 2,000 miles and more from its springs, looping far eastward of Moscow on its way south.

There are indications that Hitler hopes to hurl the Russians back beyond the river within a few weeks if not days. It is by no means certain that German forces are not already on the upper Volga.

Hitler has asserted that a large number of Russians have been encircled at Vyazma, which is some 70 miles due south of Rjev on the Volga. It still seems possible that the nazi push to Vyazma came from the north, via Velikie Luki and Rjev, as well as eastward from Smolensk. If so Moscow is menaced from Rjev down another spoke of the far-flung wheel of railroads and highways which converge from all directions on the Kremlin.

The outer rim of that wheel, on which Russian defense of Moscow was rebuilt after the fall of the Stalin line on the Dnieper, is already broken. Along several routes from the west, north and south, Hitler's troops and war machines have driven forward with giant strides.

Every western spoke of the Moscow communications web is involved in desperate Russian fighting north of fallen Orel, a southern approach to the city is at stake, probably the best approach for German use, for a double rail system connects

Prof. E. Mapes Elected Secretary of Fraternity

Prof. E. K. Mapes of the romance language department was elected corresponding secretary of Phi Sigma Iota, national honorary romance language fraternity, at a meeting Wednesday evening.

Mrs. E. J. Ecki Dies

Mrs. Earl J. Ecki of Los Angeles, Cal., died at her home Sunday after a short illness, it was learned here yesterday. Mrs. Ecki formerly was from Anamosa.

Orel and Moscow through Tula

If the nazis also take or have taken, Tula, they will have broken also the inner rim of the Moscow defense wheel.

There is another grave danger for the Russians in the loss of Orel. By whatever route German forces reached that city, they are now in a position to lash southward down the Moscow-Kharkov-Rostov railway. That would take Russian defenders of Kharkov in the rear.

The badly battered red army of the Ukraine could again be caught in a great encirclement trap as it was east of Kiev.

There is little of a specific nature from Moscow to offset German insistence that the whole struggle is all but over, with only mopping-up actions to follow. It should be recalled, however, that the Russians have come through previous disasters in this war to fight again on new fronts.

Terrain for many a bloody stand in defense of Moscow still offers itself to any Russians who break out of the nazi traps in the center. The wear and tear on nazi troops and the strain on ever-extending German communication lines are factors that cannot be ignored in calculating the possibilities.

Southward, however, there seems less hope that the Donets basin and Rostov, key to Russian oil sources, can be held. That is the weakest link in the Russian defense chain, even discounting nazi claims of utter red army collapse and flight on that front.

Prof. Pearl Janssen Selects Chicken Salad With Hot Rolls for a Sunday Night Lunch

Special Recipes for the Week Were Chosen From a Test Kitchen Cook's Filing Cabinet

By CORINNE HAYES
Daily Iowan Food Editor
For tried and true recipes, let's visit a cook who has conducted a test kitchen.

Prof. Pearl Janssen of the university home economics department hesitates before she selects her favorite recipes. Her file of specialties is so complete that it is difficult for her to choose a few preferred dishes.

"Chicken salad served in piping hot rolls makes a delicious Sunday night lunch. Fruit and coffee complete the menu," Mrs. Janssen added.

Rolls
4 tablespoons of sugar
4 tablespoons of fat
1 1/2 teaspoons of salt
1 cup of scalded milk
1 yeast cake
1 egg
3 or 4 cups of bread flour

Place sugar, salt and fat in a large bowl. Add scalded milk and cool until lukewarm. Crumble yeast cake into lukewarm mixture and add unbeaten egg. Add flour to make a dough which can be lifted from the bowl on a spoon leaving the bowl free from dough.

Turn out on a lightly floured board and knead till smooth and elastic to the touch. Let rise until double in bulk. Put on bread board and roll with a rolling pin to 1/2 inch thickness. Cut with a large round cookie cutter. Brush dough with butter. Crease dough with back of a knife and fold the dough together. Pull the two ends so the roll will be long (like a wiener bun). Cover dough tightly and let rise double in bulk. Bake rolls 15-20 minutes in a 425 degree F. oven.

"Almost everyone has their own particular recipe for Chicken Salad, but here's one I like to serve."

Chicken Salad
2 cups of diced chicken (cooked)
2 hard cooked eggs
1/2 cup of celery
1/3 cup of stuffed olives
Mayonnaise to moisten
Open rolls when they are just out of the oven and fill them with salad. Serve immediately.

For an easy to prepare Tea Punch, our hostess suggested the following recipe:

Tea Punch
1 lemon
1 cup of sugar
6 teaspoons of black tea
Squeeze juice, grind lemon rind and mix with tea. Pour 1 quart of boiling water over rind and tea. Let stand until almost cool, or until the tea is well steeped out. Strain and add juice and sugar. In serving use about half of this with half cold water. Proportions may vary according to personal preference.

"My most popular recipe is for Pecan Cookies—I just can't seem to keep the cookie jar full enough," Mrs. Janssen admitted.

Pecan Cookies
1/2 cup of butter
4 tablespoons of powdered sugar
1/2 teaspoon of salt
1 tablespoon of water

INTRODUCING PROF. PEARL JANSSEN

Students in the home economics department of the university are the first to suggest that Iowa Citizens meet Mrs. Pearl Janssen. Professor Janssen has very capably taken over her duties in the foods division this year. She came to the University of Iowa from Cornell university in Ithaca, N. Y.

1/2 teaspoon of vanilla
1/2 teaspoon of almond flavoring
1 cup of cut pecans
2 cups of flour
Cream butter and add sugar and remaining ingredients. Shape dough into small finger shaped cookies. Bake on ungreased sheet at 350 degrees F. until almost dry and a very light brown color. While still hot, roll the cookies in powdered sugar. These cookies may be stored in a covered container.

"An interesting item for a luncheon or dinner is Southern Spoon Bread. This is served on a bread and butter plate and is eaten with a fork."

Southern Spoon Bread
1 pint of sweet milk
1/3 cup of cornmeal
1 cup of cooked rice
3 eggs
Salt
Scald milk and thicken with cornmeal to a mush. Add rice and 3 unbeaten eggs. Beat hard. Pour in buttered baking dish. Dot liberally with butter and bake at 350 degrees F. until an inserted knife comes out clean. Serve hot with butter.

"When budgets have to be stretched—or you want to add those extra vitamins, Liver Loaf is an excellent thing to serve," recommended Mrs. Janssen.

Liver Loaf
1 pound of ground parboiled liver
1 pound sausage
1 1/2 cups bread crumbs
1 cup of milk
1/2 teaspoon of salt
1 tablespoon of minced onion
2 tablespoons of horseradish
2 tablespoons of ketchup
1 egg, slightly beaten
Liver may be either pork or beef. Combine liver and sausage. Add bread crumbs and seasonings, and moisten with milk and beaten egg. Pack into a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 1 1/2 hours. This will serve 8.

Another meat recipe which scores with young and old is Barbecued Spareribs.

Barbecued Spareribs
3 pounds of pork spareribs
2 onions
1/2 cup of ketchup
1/2 teaspoon tobacco sauce and 1/2 teaspoon of chili powder (if desired)
1 cup of water
Place spareribs, cut into pieces suitable for serving, in a baking dish. Slice onions over the top and add other ingredients. Cover, cook in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until done—about 2 hours.

Directions for cooking meats are directed towards recent brides who may not, as yet, have mastered the various techniques.

To Cook in Water
Leave the meat in a large piece—for steaks, cut the meat in cubes. Season with salt and pepper. Dredge with flour, if desired. Brown the meat in hot fat and cover with hot water. Cover the pan and simmer the meat until tender. Do not boil. Add vegetables just long enough before serving so they will be done.

To Broil
1. To Panbroil—use a heavy skillet rubbed with fat. Add no water and do not cover the meat. After browning on both sides, reduce the temperature to finish cooking. Pour off fat as it collects.
2. To Oven Broil—set regulator at broil or use a hot oven. Place meat on a rack 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Brown well, season and turn. Brown second side.

To Braise
Season the meat with salt and pepper. Dredge with flour, if desired. Brown the meat well in hot fat and add a little hot water. Cover and cook slowly on a stove or in the oven until tender. Add more water if needed.

To Roast
Season the meat. Place the fat side up on the rack in an open pan in the oven. Do not add water; do not baste; do not cover. Either use oven temperature of 300 degrees or 350 degrees F. the entire time or sear by using a high temperature for 20 minutes, then reducing to 300 degrees or 350 degrees F. Take all guess work out of meat cookery by using a meat thermometer.

"A particular dessert? Why, I have an excellent recipe for Burnt Sugar Cake," said Mrs. Janssen.

Burnt Sugar Cake
1/2 cup of fat
1 1/4 cups of brown sugar
1/4 cup of salt
2 eggs
2 1/2 cups of flour
3 teaspoons of baking powder
3/4 cup of milk
1/2 cup of syrup
1/2 teaspoon of vanilla

(For the syrup used in this recipe: Add 1/3 cup of boiling water to 1/3 cup of carmalized sugar. Cook until smooth or dissolved.)

Cream fat and add sugar. Then add vanilla, egg and salt. Beat thoroughly. Alternately add the milk and syrup with the sifted flour and baking powder. Bake at 375 degrees F. about 20 minutes.

Increase in Egg, Milk Production Emphasized By Defense Board Head

Obtaining increases in eggs, milk and soybeans, as well as pork and beef, is extremely necessary at this time, Ray E. Smalley, Johnson county defense board chairman, stated yesterday.

"Buying power is increasing in America and more goods are being shipped daily to countries fighting aggressors. In addition nutrition in the United States is being emphasized to an extent greater than at any previous period."

Suggested production increases for this country include: eggs, 2-571,934 dozen, an increase of 265,007 dozen over 1941 production; soybeans (for grain), 8,075 acres compared with 7,504 acres this year; milk 71,950,000 pounds, representing an increase of 2,500,000 pounds over 1941.

Italian Fare for Columbus Day

Panettoni Is Favorite Holiday Bread Both Of Commoners, Kings

Sunday will mark the 449 anniversary of that cry from the Santa Maria—"Land!" History books tell us that Columbus first set foot on the lands of San Salvador and claimed it for Spain.

But Columbus was not a Spaniard. He was an Italian. So in honor of his ancestry, why not try these old Italian recipes for a festive Columbus day dinner?

Panettoni is a favorite Italian holiday bread, popular among both commoners and kings. It will bring out the Latin in your family's appetite.

Panettoni (2 large loaves)
Sponge
2 packages fast granular yeast
1 cup lukewarm water
1 teaspoon sugar
1 1/2 cups sifted bread flour
Pour the granular yeast into the cup of lukewarm water; add the sugar, stir and let stand 5 minutes. When yeast is soft, stir in the flour and beat smooth. Cover and let rise in warm place until light, about 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Dough
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs and 1 yolk
Grated rind and juice of 1/2 lemon
Sponge, when risen
Sifted flour to make dough
1/2 pound seedless raisins
1/4 pound sliced citron
1/4 cup milk
Cream together the shortening, sugar and salt. Add the 3 eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add the lemon, then blend egg mixture with the risen sponge and beat smooth.

Add just enough flour to handle. Knead smooth, but do not allow dough to become too stiff. Lastly, work in the raisins and citron, lightly dusted with flour. Let rise until just doubled in bulk.

Turn dough onto floured board, knead lightly and divide in half. Round each portion into a smooth ball and place on buttered paper in a greased pie tin. Let rise until increased 1/2 original size. Brush tops with beaten egg yolk mixed with the 1/4 cup milk. With sharp knife make 2 or 3 cuts across each loaf, then let rise somewhat longer, until dough feels tender when pressed with finger. Bake about 45 minutes in a moderately hot oven, 360-375 degrees F.

When you bake Italian bread you'll ask, "Why in the world haven't I heard more about the delights of Italian cooking?" Gentle on the budget and easy to make, this taste thriller is really worth trying.

Old-Time Salt Sticks (18)
Cut off a portion of Italian bread dough (enough for a medium sized loaf) when ready to be shaped into loaves. Divide into 18 equal portions about the size of a walnut. Round each piece into a ball and let rest about 20 minutes or until tender. Keep dough well covered to prevent crusting. Then, warm water; add 1 teaspoon sugar, stir and let stand 5 minutes. When yeast is soft, add it to the softened dough and beat until smooth. Add enough flour to make a thick batter, beating again until smooth. Cover and let rise in warm place until very light (about 2 hours).

Dough
Sponge, when risen
1 1/2 tablespoons salt
2 tablespoons olive oil (if desired)
Sifted flour to make dough
When the sponge has become very light add to it the salt and oil, blending all thoroughly. Next stir in enough flour to handle; turn onto floured board and knead well, using enough more flour to make a medium firm dough. Let rise until doubled; punch down in bowl, and let rise again until doubled.

Turn risen dough onto floured board and divide into 4 equal portions. Round each piece into a smooth ball; cover well to prevent crusting, and let rest 20 minutes. Then shape each ball into a long, narrow loaf, slightly pointed at the ends. Place the loaves, some distance apart, on a baking sheet (or in a shallow dripping pan) sprinkled with cornmeal. Cover with a floured cloth, tucked carefully around each loaf to prevent loaves touching. Let rise until light and nearly doubled.

Brush loaves with water and with sharp knife make several cuts across top. Bake thoroughly in a moderately hot oven, about 375 degrees F. Brush again with water just before taking from oven. If desired, after brushing with water and before baking, sprinkle loaves with sesame seed.

"Old-time salt sticks! Well, I declare!" That's what one elderly lady said when she glanced at this recipe. And you'll find they'll be as popular today as they were long ago. Serve them with soups, as an accompaniment to salad or by themselves as between-meal snacks.

Pizza
Pat a portion of Italian bread dough into a rectangular sheet about 1/2 inch thick. Place in oiled biscuit pan. Let rest 1/2 hour. With tips of fingers make a number of dents over surface of dough. Cover with a generous amount of olive oil (or substitute), then spread with tomato paste. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and a liberal amount of grated Italian cheese. Lastly, sprinkle with "rignum," a well-known Italian spicy herb.

Place at once in a moderately hot oven, about 350 degrees F., and bake 25 to 30 minutes. Serve warm.

INTERESTING LUNCHEONS FOR FAMILY OR GUESTS

Classes this fall and long treks from classrooms have again brought up the necessity to provide students with substantial lunches.

Served a nutritious, healthful lunch every day, university students won't be dull and slow. They'll be quick to respond, interested and on their toes.

Everyday meals have a new appetite appeal when a glass of chocolate-flavored drink is included in the menu. The added spicy flavor of the chocolate will appeal to "oldersters" as well as the youngsters—it will also help to induce children who have a "sweet tooth" to consume more milk.

These chocolate flavored drinks are highly nutritious and are classified into groups; those made from a defatted or partly skimmed milk, and others made from whole milk. Both are refreshing at a noon day meal whether eaten at school or at home.

A favorite "between-meal snack" for young grown-ups consists of tall glasses of chocolate flavored drink served with assorted cottage cheese sandwiches. There are any number of interesting sandwich fillings that may be made with cottage cheese. Use your imagination along with these suggestions.
