Report Leaders Evacuating Moscow

Predict Showdown in Far East As Roosevelt Meets With Aids

President Summons U.S. Military Heads In Secret Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Imposing a rule of strict secrecy, President Roosevelt conferred with top-flight military and foreign affairs advisors for an hour and three quarters yesterday, while in Capitol Hill some legislators predicted that events in the far east might lead to a Japanese-American showdown.

The situation in Japan, where the cabinet of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye has resigned, and in Russia, where Moscow is halting with hammering nazis, was believed to have been canvassed as the president talked with the following group:

The secretaries of state, war and navy: General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff; Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, and Harry L. Hopkins, lend-lease supervisor.

When the conference was over Secretary of State Hull told reporters he was "expressly prohibited" from saying anything, and added that he did not expect any public statement from the white house.

In congress, two men who are usually poles apart in their outlook on foreign affairs agreed that the cabinet resignations bore ominous implications for the future of Japanese-American relations.

Senator Nye (R-ND) said: "Of course, we can't tell much until a new cabinet is appointed, but the resignation of the former one apparently means a complete military set-up in Japan. If it is to be an all-out pro-axis government then we will face a most serious hour."

"The outcome of the battle for Moscow probably will determine Japanese policy finally. It is quite obvious that Japan will try to be on the winning side."

Senator Hill (D-Ala.) asserted: "It looks to me as though Japan believes Russia might cave in and that they want to move in somewhere if she does. Then we may have to move."

Mexican Government Investigates Proposal For Break With Axis

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A proposal that Mexico break off diplomatic relations with Germany, Italy, Vichy, France, and possibly Japan was referred to the foreign relations committee of the senate yesterday after a Vera Cruz labor senator, Vidal Diaz Munoz, had delivered a bitter attack on the totalitarian powers from the floor.

Under the proposal Mexico would reestablish diplomatic relations with Great Britain and Russia and recognize Gen. Charles De Gaulle's free French movement as the rightful government of France.

As Leaders Meet to Pick Konoye Successor—

Expect New Japanese Action

TOKYO (AP)—Senior statesmen of Japan were called into conference with the emperor at 1 p.m. today to recommend a new premier after the third government of Prince Fumimaro Konoye collapsed in the face of a grave impasse on national policy toward the United States and Soviet Russia.

The cabinet, not three months old and occupied during most of its tenure with circuitous Washington negotiations and indecisive uneasiness over the consequences or opportunities offered to Japan by Germany's war with Russia, resigned en bloc.

Petaun Orders Trial For Frenchmen 'Who Defeated France'

Daladier, 'Bull-Necked Strong Man' Among Those to Be Tried

VICHY, Unoccupied France (AP)—With the hindsight reflected by a specially chosen council of political justice, Marshal Petaun placed the blame for France's defeat yesterday on six men who were returned to office time and again by French voters.

In a broadcast to the nation the chief of state announced that a public trial would be held for five of the six, who already have been in prison for more than a year. As far as the accused ministers are concerned, the marshal's decision failed to change their position. They have been in prison awaiting trial. They are still in prison awaiting trial.

The accusation submitted to Petaun by the council concerned: Former Premier Edouard Daladier, who until the defeat of France was hailed universally in his country as "the bull-necked strong man of France";

Generalissimo Maurice Gustave Gamelin, who before the battle of Flanders was considered "the greatest military expert since Napoleon";

Former Premier Leon Blum, who rose to power with a popular front of leftist parties as "one of the greatest socialists since Marx";

Pierre Jacomet, former administrator of national defense industries, considered by his colleagues to be one of the most advanced technicians in France;

Guy La Chambre, who gave up a life of ease as one of France's wealthiest men to become air minister when the nation's aviation was in a hole;

Pierre Cot, another former air minister, accused of weakening France's air preparations.

Cot who fled to the United States, was not mentioned by the marshal in his broadcast. Paul Reynaud, the last premier of the French republic, and Georges Mandel, his minister of interior, were held in fortress somewhere. Petaun declared there were "grave presumptions" against them, but said nothing of a trial.

Secretary Morgenthau, after disclosing at a morning press conference that the consolidation was under consideration, announced later that next week's sale of treasury bills would include $50,000,000 to be used in refunding securities of various federal agencies with direct treasury obligations.

Morgenthau announced the new plan definitely would be applied to the United States housing authority and might be extended to all other agencies. The USHA has $12,000,000 of its own securities coming due for payment in a couple of weeks.

PRESENTING THE CANDIDATES FOR 1942 DOLPHIN QUEEN

One of the 20 university women shown above will be chosen as queen of the Dolphin follies of 1942, one of the highlights of Homecoming activities. Four attendants will also be chosen from this group—the judging to be by Ted Ashby, Harlan Miller and Bert McGraw, all staff writers of the Des Moines Register and Tribune.

Debt Merger Plan Proposed

Treasury to Borrow Fifty Million as Aid To Refund Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The treasury made plans yesterday to begin borrowing extra money as the first step in a proposed program to consolidate all federal debts—those of the treasury, reconstruction finance corporation and other agencies.

Secretary Morgenthau, after disclosing at a morning press conference that the consolidation was under consideration, announced later that next week's sale of treasury bills would include $50,000,000 to be used in refunding securities of various federal agencies with direct treasury obligations.

Morgenthau announced the new plan definitely would be applied to the United States housing authority and might be extended to all other agencies. The USHA has $12,000,000 of its own securities coming due for payment in a couple of weeks.

Harold F. McCormick Dies of Hemorrhage Following Long Illness

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Herold Fowler McCormick, son of Cyrus Hall McCormick, inventor of the reaper, died yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 69 years old.

Purge Ended, Czechs Step Up Agriculture

PRAGUE (AP)—With the purge of anti-German elements considered about ended, Reinhard Heydrich, high Gestapo official and German protector of Bohemia and Moravia, has turned to stepping up agricultural production.

Rye and wheat production was made obligatory and oats and barley strictly controlled. He has appointed a special commissar for supervising livestock economy after farmers failed to produce sufficient butter and meat cattle.

Special economic sections of the German criminal police departments in Prague and Brno have been proceeding mercilessly against food hoarders and profiteers.

Soviets Admit Armies Breached And Bleeding, But Still Fighting

Axis Forces Enter Odessa After Siege Of Fifty-Nine Days

MOSCOW—The red armies, admittedly breached and bleeding on the approaches to imperiled Moscow, fought on today with undiminished ferocity, claiming a heavy toll of assaulting Germans even while acknowledging great losses of their own.

The German frontal assault, implemented with everything the nazi army and arsenal could produce, was being met by Soviet forces still "alive and struggling" with the aid of fresh Russian tank formations, official dispatches declared.

A communique early today summed up the situation in this manner: "In the course of Oct. 16 fighting continued along the whole front. It was especially fierce in the western (central) direction of the front.

"In the course of fighting in the western direction of the front, both sides sustained heavy losses." (But, with advices from Moscow confined to meagre government dispatches, it was reported in informed Washington circles that U. S. Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt and his staff were leaving Moscow in a general diplomatic withdrawal which may also include the Stalin government.

"In London it was reported last night that at least part of the Soviet government has left Moscow. Some London sources said that all heads of government departments had evacuated. These sources suggested that the fate of the capital, now one in name only, had been left in the hands of the army.

(Tokyo and Stockholm reported also that their missions were leaving the red capital. None of the diplomats specified their destination, but informed quarters in Teheran, Iran, said both the Russian government and the diplomats were preparing to establish themselves at crowded Kazan, 450 miles east of Moscow. Months ago arrangements were made at Kazan for just such a move and the United States embassy already had a skeleton staff there.

(Authoritative British sources said the battle west and north-west of Moscow had reached its crisis, although they did not confirm government-diplomatic evacuation of the city. They did express the belief that if the Russians announced the withdrawal of the government from the capital it would only serve to emphasize their determination to continue the struggle.

(They said, too, that even if Moscow was enveloped by the Germans it would fight on for a long time, even without the presence of the government.)

As to the Moscow front, the nazi high command itself announced that Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of the capital, and Kaluga, 90 miles southwest of the metropolis, had for days been in German hands.

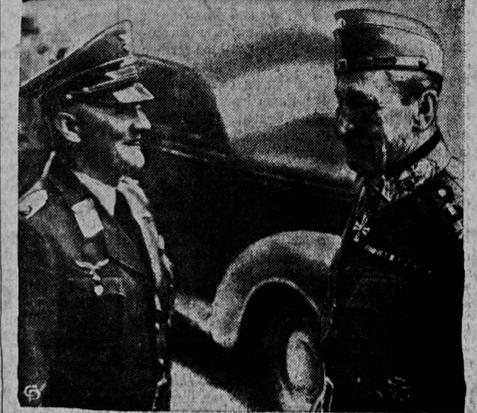

The fall of Odessa was thus announced by General Ion Antonescu, the Rumanian commander: "In the afternoon hours we marched into Odessa. The last pockets of resistance are being overcome in street fighting now going on. The population received the German and Rumanian troops enthusiastically."

Concert Tickets

Student activity ticket holders will receive tickets to next Wednesday's concert by the Pro Arte quartet if they present their activity tickets TODAY and TOMORROW at the Union desk.

Each holder of an activity ticket will receive one general admission concert ticket PROVIDED he presents his activity ticket in advance. Remember these two facts: (1) Your activity ticket alone will not admit you at the door, and (2) your activity ticket must be presented to the doorman with your concert ticket.

British Officer Discloses Allies' Flanders Orders Impossible to Carry Out

LONDON (AP)—The commander of British troops in the Battle of Flanders disclosed in his official report yesterday that orders impossible to execute were issued by French and British war offices unable to follow the lightning charge of German armored units through poorly-equipped allied generals.

General Viscount Gort, who commanded the B.E.F. in France and Flanders, said in his official dispatches, made public for the first time by the war office, that the allied Generalissimo Weygand called for a counter-attack by the British even as they were being taken home from the beaches of Dunkerque.

W. Shakespeare Writes a Highly Altruistic Ending for Our Play

Dear Mr. Editor: I just turned over and read your editorial in The Daily Iowan. Yes, I have been watching this war for quite some time—ever since that little conference in Munich. I lived in a time when conditions were almost as bad as they are for you now, in a period called the Renaissance. I can't say that I would like to be in your shoes, but if I were I know how I'd face this crisis, to write the ending for the great drama you set up for me so kindly.

Important Minor Characters You already have put the main characters in my play, but I think, dear editor, that you left out several minor characters, of much greater importance. They are the characters upon whom the burden of the play falls, the ones who are playing the bit parts; they're needed to make the play a success.

Since you named your first great character Hitler, let me name my first minor character Heine. He is Hitler's servant, the one who actually is doing all the killing and destroying. We can't blame him entirely for the havoc he has wrought. He's being misled. He's had a bum steer. He's been stepped on so much that he's willing to accept any power that can give him a place to sleep and something to put in his belly. He's been led to believe that he is a human superior to any other, that his master can lead him to higher levels.

But you and I know, dear editor, that this poor devil is being misled and that he can't go on living and killing...

And There's John— Our second minor character will be called John. He is the object of much of Heine's action. He is suffering heavy losses in the air and on the sea, says Heine's master. From his small island off the coast of Europe he is directing the battle against his superior foe. He has fought a great many successful battles from his little stronghold. This is the little island where I lived, dear editor, and naturally I hold a great respect for the place.

You see, Sir, I know these people, what they're made of. I know they aren't the type to give up easily; this quality has carried them through hundreds of generations without losing their home. While there is an ounce of blood left in them they will strive to the end to protect it.

At the beginning of this conflict John took up with one of his neighbors across the channel, but his people were like yours. Although John knew himself, his brothers were late in awakening to the facts, arrived a little too late to help. And that neighbor lacked that little something that John has.

John has several children he can depend on, too, though they live at all four corners of the globe. They're going to be supporting factors in John's final victory. John has the largest fleet of ships in the world. Maybe we should make it one of the minor characters in the play for it's going to help in the end.

John's Neighbor, Sam— And now John has taken up with another neighbor, who helped him once before. Let's call him Sam. Sam has the greatest single productive unit in the world. But far above anything else Sam has is his determination.

Yes, dear editor, I'll grant you that Frank is worried about Sam, but never fear. Sam never has and never will let his chief down. Sam isn't as bad as you think. Slowly he's beginning to realize that there's a crisis. He has always been like that—slow at the start but a whiz bang when he finally got wakened up.

Sam has a bunch of young upstarts over there who are as shrewd and wise as the graybeards who run his government. They have the real stuff in them, and they're going to help finish the play. It will be their fight, their willpower, their ability to keep alive the spark of hope for freedom and justice that's slowly burning out in other parts of the world, their love of a free way of life, the only way they know and want. Never fear, dear editor, they won't sit idly by.

And Then There Is Russ— Next is Russ, being run over and tormented by Heine and his brothers. Some say Heine has imported some of his slaves to help; unquestionably Russ is being driven slowly back to his capital. We might call this the climax, dear editor, for here the play changes.

Let's not be concerned with the fact that Russ is on the run, because in another great play a man with the same insensate ambitions as Hitler tried the same thing on Russ and Russ fooled him. Yes, sir, he fooled him so badly that he finally caused his downfall. There is a connection here, dear editor. I have heard that history does not repeat itself, but I am inclined to disagree.

Heine is in the same predicament now the other was in years ago. He's at the same place, and here we reach our climax. Here Russ will dig down and hold, with his characteristic determination. He's going to hold until his dead are piled so high that the invader cannot come through. Here the force of nature is going to come into play. She is our last character, is going to help put the finish on it.

She is going to stop Heine and his advances so that Russ and John and Sam (who will be awake by then) can step in and take care of Heine and his brothers. Together they'll stop him.

The Happy Ending— So you see, dear editor, before you can complete a story you must have the needed characters to carry out the plot.

Yes, they will stop Heine. Sam and John will start on Heine from all directions—from the north, the south, the east and the west. Gradually they will take back the countries Heine overran, give back the rights and privileges Heine took away. Theirs will be the sweet victory, the kind John wanted 20 years ago, the kind Sam stepped in and stopped. But Sam will see to it this time that this victory will be final, the kind that will give our play a happy ending.

You spoke of a tragic ending. Sir, the only tragedy will be the loss of men—men who have courageously died for a cause—and that will be a true tragedy.

Of Faith and Hope— One more thing, dear editor, before I turn over again. I admire your line about keeping hope. Never give it up, sir. Just as sure as you do, your free democratic way of life will be ruined, and all that your forefathers have fought and died for will be just a page in a history book.

Just remember, dear editor, that faith and hope, the two essentials in democratic or undemocratic life, are the dire necessities of those essentials.

Sincerely, WILL SHAKESPEARE

(We hope you're right, Will Shakespeare. We sincerely hope that. You've painted a lovely ending, which yet must be borne out in fact. This is Hitler's 20th century, not Napoleon's 19th. Nineteenth-century IP'S are bigger today. IF Sam wakes up it, IP nature stops Heine. IF Russ holds, And it's getting dangerously late for IP'S.

(But we'll keep the faith and hope. Don't ever fear for that. And to those we'll add a lot of elbow grease, a lot of sacrifice, a lot of prayer.

(We thank you for writing, Will—and you Guy Groff, A2 of Marengo.)—THE EDITOR.

A Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — I dropped by the Winter Garden where Olsen and Johnson were building their new successor to "Hellzapoppin," an elaborate piece of nonsense to be called "Sons O' Fun."

They were making up the script as they went along, and a handsome blonde girl sat in the wings and took down the wisecracks in shorthand as they were tossed off. Olsen and Johnson never write a line until they act out their hokum. "Hokum," incidentally, is taboo with Ole and Chick. They prefer gonk. "Gonk is hokum with raisins in it," they explain.

Johnson, the porky member of the firm, was plunging about the stage in a jumper that resembled a convict's shirt that had been dyed in pokeberry juice. He had just driven in from his farm at Carmel, N. Y. He commutes from there daily. "They call me farmer Johnson," he grinned. "I don't think they know I'm an actor." Johnson calls his 350 acres "Winter Garden Farm" and on it are about 100 head of blooded cattle. "I'm looking for 200 extra acres and next year I'll have 300 cows." This dealer in "gonk" is also a dealer in clabber, sweet milk, and cream.

Olsen, on the other hand, is the hand-shaker of the two. He is slightly more natty in attire. On the side he owns a restaurant and bar that is known as the 440 Club—a name derived from its location at No. 4 Fortieth street. He's the party-goer and the greeter. His club is a hand-shaker's paradise where Ole passes out autographs and greets his admirers en masse.

As I watched the zany shenanigans unfold on the stage Johnson suddenly came down and slipped into the next seat. "There are thieves lurking behind every door," he began darkly. "If you spill all our gags in your column, half a dozen shows will open with our stuff before we get to Broadway. How about making it sort of vague," he abjured. "In this

"LAND OF NOD"

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS By PAUL MALLON

Is Benito Mussolini Breaking With Hitler?

WASHINGTON — Mussolini has been capering around to nazi cocktail parties strengthening axis social ties, while his army has been erecting new fortifications at Brenner Pass, the single gateway through which the axis connects. This puzzling report has reached the top men here from an unquestionable official authority in Rome. The obvious suggestion it conveys, namely that Il Duce might be planning defense or resistance against his busy brother at the Russian front, is of course difficult to rationalize with the completely demoralized state of the Italian army. But if Mussolini's generals foresee the possibilities of a separate peace or an internal uprising which would throw Italy into resistance against the axis, the heaviest possible fortification of the Brenner would be the first step. Officialdom here is merely perplexed by the information—and hopeful.

ITALY IN CONFUSION—

The completely confused state of the Italian nation is demonstrated by the meagre dispatches filtering through a rigid censorship. At the bottom of the unrest is a food problem which will approach the crisis this winter. The anti-nazi bloc of Italians, which has been cowed into silence until recently, is openly rising. Disturbances in Turin and Milan are powerful manifestations that this group is gaining courage for outspoken resistance. The nazis have been expecting the worst from their useless allies since they moved their official and unofficial Gestapo in upon Mussolini early in the war. But there are not many German soldiers now in Italy. The nazi crowd holding down the fascist lid there is composed mostly of civilians. Hitler has been required to use his soldiers elsewhere.

ITALY GETS THE LITTLE END

So far all that Italy has been getting out of the axis relationship is coal. And the coal is being used largely to manufacture articles to be shipped back to Germany. The Italians are also sending some fruits, vegetables and olive oil to der Fuehrer in the face of the food crisis and sharpest rationing. It is thus becoming plain to the Italian working men that this deal in which Mussolini sold them to Hitler is not working out as anything like the Italian boon Il Duce claimed when he told it to them.

TROUBLE IN SPAIN—

First evidence of political trouble in Spain has also escaped the censorship there. A slight crack is becoming noticeable right down the middle of the solidified victorious fascist machine. On one side are a number of army generals, disturbed by the interference of the political leaders who are organized into a party group (as distinguished from the military group) just as in Germany. Four generals have openly exhibited their displeasure at the power Dictator Franco has been delegating to the falangists.

HOW BRITISH ARE AIDING RUSSIA—

The tokens which Churchill is slipping to Stalin have not been all advertised from the start. There is reason to believe, despite the recent confusing reports and denials, that a very formidable force of Canadians was shipped around the nazis into the White sea area of Russia some time ago. A rainbow army of free Norwegians, Swedes, Danes has followed or will follow. The movement started with dispatch of several hundred British technicians and workmen who enlarged the dock facilities and prepared the way for receiving large batches of supplies.

- TODAY'S HIGHLIGHTS Jim Dover and his board of football experts take the air today at 12:30 to guess who's going to win and who's going to lose tomorrow's football game. The program—"Football Scoreboard." A special program on the "Pep Jamboree" will be presented tonight at 9 o'clock. Jeanette Holiday will interview Walter Sanford, chairman of the "Pep Jamboree" committee, on "Pep Jamboree Highlights," the special show. It will be followed by a broadcast of the "Pep Jamboree" itself.

Ray Smalley, Johnson county USDA defense board chairman, will be interviewed at 11:30 today on "Farm Flashes," by Ed Bowman, WSU farm editor. Subject of their discussion will be the 1942 farm program for Johnson county.

"Shall the Federal Government Immediately Adopt Legislation for Control of Prices?" is the discussion topic for this afternoon's "University Student Forum" at 3 o'clock. The program is under the direction of Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department with Clair Henderlinder as the chairman.

What's New These Days, In the Movie Town?

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Miss Katharine Hepburn, the gussy young woman who twisted the Metro lion's tail to Leo's joy and delight, talked today about (1) her hat, (2) her past, and (3) Mr. Spencer Tracy. It was on the set of "Woman of the Year," the piece for which Miss Hepburn extracted $100,000 from Metro for its authors, $10,000 for herself as agent, and $1,000 for her expenses to complete the deal—the last being, as she said, merely a humorous touch to "take their minds off it all." MISS HEPBURN came over, between scenes—a question how liked her hat—to ask how to stun one who hadn't until then suspected that the thing was meant to be a hat. Hat or something else, it was black, and looked like an ice cream cone in mourning, dripping over her shoulders. "I thought so too," said Miss H. "I shrieked when I put it on. But you need a couple of funny hats, just for a laugh, in every picture. All hats are so crazy nowadays I

Faculty members chaperoning the party will be Prof. and Mrs. F. M. Pownall, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster, Prof. and Mrs. W. J. Petersen, and Prof. and Mrs. Wendell Smith.

Will Wear Bright Colors
Women attending the party have chosen light weight wool frocks in a bright array of colors for the first informal party of the year.

Committee member Dorothy Mullenburg, A3 of Rolla, Mo., who will be escorted by Jim Scholes, A4 of West Burlington, has chosen a lacquer red wool dress with dropped waistline and pleated skirt. For accents to her costume, Miss Mullenburg will wear three patriotic clips on her shoulder.

Walter Wright, A4 of Des Moines, president of Pi Epsilon Pi, will escort Marian Larson of Iowa City. Miss Larson will be seen wearing a black wool dressmaker suit with a leopard collar. Her accessories will be black.

Evelyn Nebergall, A3 of Iowa City, another committee member, will attend the dance with Kenneth Klippel, E4 of Iowa Falls. Her dress will be of wine velvet and beige wool. Wine accessories will complete her costume.

Committee member Colin Gould, A2 of Conrad, will have as his dancing partner Ruth Franzberg, A3 of Conrad. Miss Franzberg will wear a red plaid torso dress with short sleeves and square neckline. Black accessories will complement the dress.

Plant Commers
Paul Commers, C3 of Mason City, will attend the party with committee member Jean Christie, A3 of Wapello. Miss Christie will be seen wearing a version of the new torso line in black silk crepe. Black velvet ribbon accentuates the shoulders and the neckline. Her accessories will be black.

Betty Cohen, A1 of Council Bluffs, will attend the dance with Sibley Newman, A3 of Sioux City, another committee member. Miss Cohen's dress will be of beige wool with maroon trim. She will wear brown alligator pumps.

Alfred Holmberg, E3 of Glenbrook, Conn., will attend the party with committee member Marian Haack, A4 of Webster City. Miss Haack has chosen a grey wool trimmed in blue, with buttons to the waist in back and a wide belt.

Coey Jones
Coey Jones, A1 of Alexandria, Va., will be seen with committee member Truman Torney, C4 of Flagstaff, Ariz. She will wear a gold wool shirtwaist frock with soft-draped front fullness. Pearls and luggage tan shoes will complete her costume.

Dr. Seymour Shapiro of Iowa City will be the dancing partner of Helene Wohlner, A2 of Tabor, another committee member. A dark red wool dress with long sleeves and tight waist will be the attire of Miss Wohlner. She will wear pearls and black accessories.

A light beige wool bodice with a brown skirt and wide green belt will be worn by Delores Sklar, A1 of Omaha, who will attend the party with committee member Phillip Peshkin, C4 of Des Moines.

Marilyn Hammer, A1 of Sioux City, will be seen dancing with Walter Sanford, A3 of Davenport, another committee member. Miss Hammer has chosen a pastel plaid suit with brown silk blouse and alligator spectator pumps.

P.T.A. Group Will Meet At St. Patrick's School For Potluck Luncheon

St. Patrick's P.T.A. will have a potluck luncheon today at 1:15 in the social room of the school.

Mrs. Walter Kelly will lead a discussion on the broadcasts given over WSUI by the child welfare department.

Children of the kindergarten and first grade will also take part in the program.

All parents of children attending St. Patrick's school are invited to attend.

BLUE VELVET FOR EVENING

Powder blue and shocking pink are the shades combined in this simple evening gown, worn by Gladys Swarthout. The dress is of blue velvet showing the Moyeage influence in its styling, and a slight Valentinian touch in its design. The extravagant jewelry, like the bulky necklace she is wearing here, lends itself to the gown. Her pink bag is fashioned after grandmother's favorite party purse. Notice also her crocheted gloves. Miss Swarthout is currently starred in "The Family Hour" program heard over the C.B.S. network.

Negro Forum Plans Series of Programs

Joseph Tandy to Lead Opening Sunday Night Discussion Meeting

The first of a series of "Know Your Friend and His Talents" programs will be given by the Negro Forum Sunday evening at 7 p.m. in Iowa Union.

News flashes of Negro-America, given by Joseph Tandy Jr., P3 of Detroit, Mich., will lead the program, followed by local selections by Lorene Jones, A1 of Des Moines, and Wynonna Griffin, A1 of Des Moines.

Instrumental selections by Benjamin Dacus, A1 of Des Moines, and Lois McNeely, U of Kilgore, Tex.; and readings from the works of Elizabeth Browning by Gladys Hammond, G of Brian, Tex., will complete the evening's entertainment.

Annie Marie Nicholson, A3 of Davenport, is chairman of the program committee. Other members of the committee are Clifton R. Jones, G of Philadelphia, Pa.; Lois McNeely, U of Kilgore, Tex.; Althea Bulls, A2 of Tuskegee, Ala.; Mr. Tandy; Helen Porter, G of Austin, Tex.; and Beatrice Harper, A2 of Keokuk.

Hiya, America!

Danielle Boyvren, age three, happily clutches a doll on arrival in Jersey City, N. J., from Lisbon, Portugal. Danielle's mother is the former Virginia Kent of Albuquerque, N. M., and her father is a demobilized French army officer, still in France.

Father Knows Best About Wardrobes

Wise SUI Women Wear Tweeds, Gabardines But Maintain Their Femininity

While father is working you when it rains. Wear a good looking reversible—gabardine on one side and corduroy for the other. Choose a bright color because Father likes to be cheered on a gloomy, cloudy day. "Fads, fads," he pretends to scoff. Actually he thinks those new calf boots are pretty nifty.

Take a Tip
Your Dad knows his gabardine. He's had it for his favorite suits, and take it from him, it wears marvelously and always looks well. The new gabardines come in fascinating shades of claret, maize, golden oak or blackberry.

Also ask Dad about your perfumes. He'll come back with, "A fresh and clean scent for daytime, a warm and exciting fragrance for evening." He doesn't know all the names, but Lucien LeLong's "Tailspin," "Tweed," by Lenthic or "Strawhat" by Faberge are ideal daytime scents. Corday's "Jet" and "Indescrete" by Lucien LeLong fill Dad's requirement for evening.

As a final word—Dad likes his daughter clever but not too sophisticated, practical but not too competent. He takes to chivalry, and how can anyone be chivalrous to his daughter when she is so terrifically capable!

Keep all this in mind, fair ones, and dress to please Dad. He's a good scout with excellent ideas about clothes—and always remembers—he pays the bills.

University Women's Club Plans Luncheon

Local Group to Hear Dean G. D. Stoddard Discuss Food Habits

The local chapter of the American Association of University Women will meet Saturday at 12:15 for a luncheon in the University club rooms in Iowa Union.

Dean George D. Stoddard of the graduate college will be the guest speaker at the meeting which formally opens the year's program.

Mrs. Virgil Hancher will assist the officers in welcoming new members and guests.

Hostesses for the luncheon will be Mrs. Minerva Knight, Estella Boot, Mrs. J. E. Briggs, Mrs. B. V. Crawford, Mrs. Fred Gehling, Mrs. George Glocker, Mrs. Glenn Houston, Mrs. Henry Linder, Mrs. Ada Miller and Mrs. Paul Ruth.

In his talk on "Conscientious Ingestion" Dean Stoddard will discuss subjects under consideration by the committee on food habits of the National Research Council of America. The committee, of which he is a member, is studying the place of nutrition in national defense.

The lecture-luncheon is the first in a group of eight presented throughout the year by the local chapter of A.A.U.W.

All members and any Iowa City women eligible for membership, who wish to join the local chapter, are requested to make reservations before 6 o'clock tonight with Mrs. John Briggs, 5515, or Mrs. Crawford, 3642.

Presenting the History of Joe, Bashful Boy Who Didn't Date

Child Welfare Tests Indicate Importance Of Understanding Self

Perhaps you knew Joe—the fellow that never spoke to any one in his classes—never dated any girls, because the only girls he felt at ease with dated his boy friends—had a flair for math and flunked the course, because he didn't have enough confidence in his answers to hand them in—redoubled his belligerent attitude in all contacts with fraternity men or sorority women.

Joe is the fictitious name of one of the cases studied in a recent research carried on in Iowa City and Cedar Rapids by the child welfare research station. Involving careful planning and accurate tabulations, the research, directed by Prof. Ralph H. Ojemann, shows that attitudes such as Joe's could be corrected if the person involved understood the development of his own and other people's behavior.

One hundred young men and women, from 18 to 25 years of age, were divided into two groups, one consisting of students and the other of employees. Half of each of these groups was placed in an experimental section where they received training explaining some of the fundamental causes of behavior. The other 25 were placed in a control group and were left to solve their problems alone.

Tests were given at the beginning and ending of the six-month period to measure the changes in attitude and conflicts. Attitudes toward parents, one's place in the family, rating with the opposite sex, the making of one's own standard, and social consciousness were measured before and after the training period.

Subjects were also given the Lurid test for indications of conflicts in home, school, work, companions, standards and philosophy. After the training period, it was shown that there had been a reliable change in attitudes of those in the experimental group leading to less conflicts in their lives and improved social relationships. No significant changes were noted in the control group.

The same methods were used in testing the employed groups. Experimental and control divisions were set up, with specific training given to the experimental group. Through the problems faced by these working men and women, the same results were noted after the training period was passed—marked improvement in the experimental and very little in the control group.

A domineering parent was one of the problems facing both groups. The reaction towards this domination was usually a sullen opposition on the part of a son or daughter. It was pointed out that one of the chief sources of domination in the home may be a feeling of inferiority in other contacts.

With this realization, the son or daughter decided that the parent may need help to overcome the inferiority feeling, and that they were on the way to solving their own family conflicts.

But what about Joe?—It was found that his belligerent attitude had evolved from a reversal in the fortunes of his family. This difficulty led to a loss of confidence in himself; and to hide his concern, he had adopted a belligerent, anti-social attitude.

With his understanding of the underlying causes of his own behavior, Joe made himself a changed person. With his added self-confidence, he became an honor math student, a popular member of his class, and the steady date of one of the girls with whom he had previously been shy.

Perhaps you do know Joe—

Student Makes Trip From England to Study Medicine Here Travels in Convoy of 40 Ships, Attacked by Nazis Off Coast of Scotland

"Our little group of vessels slipped out of the port that raiding Stukas had left in ruins. Hugging the coast line, we made our way, picking up more vessels as we moved along until the entire convoy numbered 40 ships. Off the coast of Scotland, a low-flying German pilot sighted us and sent his death-dealing cargo of bombs screaming down. No one was killed in the brief attack, but several members of the crew were injured."

Such was the eventful trip that Jack Davies, M2, made to America. Coming from the University of Leeds, Davies was one of the 25 medical students selected for two years of study in this country. Chosen on the basis of his academic records, his scholarship was made possible by the Rockefeller foundation.

"We did not realize," Davies said, "until the fall of France, what a struggle faced us. But the morale of the people, about which one hears so much, cannot be praised too highly."

"Although bombing raids were frequent and damage widespread, until the start of the Russian campaign, casualties were not so high as reports seem to indicate. Bombers concentrated on seaports, manufacturing centers and larger cities, such as London. But the seaport from which I sailed, although in ruins, was busy with shipping," Davies said.

London experienced its worst raid of the war last April, just the day before Davies' last visit there. Fires were burning and some of the great landmarks were demolished forever. Yet people went on about their business as usual. "The sheer courage of the people," the English student stated,

THEY CALL HIM 'INEBRIATE JOE'

"I just call him 'Joe,'" said C. C. Hackett, G. of Whitewater, Wis., as he glanced down at the awkward, flat-nosed dummy seated on his knee.

'Joe' is a wooden marionette, and Hackett is the man-who-pulls-the-strings. Joe is no true college type; he would be a better double for a circus clown—drunk! With heavy-lidded eyes, gangling hands, and frizzled hair, he looks out on life with a perpetual inane smile. "Joe the inebriate," students in the art department call him.

Joe is a man without a past. His only history is his creation from wood and paper mache.

Bodies of the figures are carved from wood and put together with hinge joints before stringing. Hackett models the head in clay first, then casts it in plastic wood or paper mache. Finishing includes painting the body and features, and clothing the doll. Hackett not only makes marionettes, but creates personalities from wood and paper.

He first became interested in marionettes when he was a student at Milwaukee Teachers college, Wis.

He has given puppet shows around Milwaukee, and prepared an exhibit of the different types of marionettes for the Milwaukee Art Institute, where the figures were executed by a WPA craft project. Hackett is taking graduate work in the art department. Every Saturday morning he teaches a children's art class at the university experimental school.

First Sound Picture Completed by Visual Education Department

"Motion Study Principles," first sound picture made by the visual instruction department, has been completed under the direction of Prof. Ralph M. Barnes of the college of engineering.

Bill Sener, former WSUI announcer, explains in the film important principles of motion study and their application to specific operation.

Principles are applied to a refrigerator door knob assembly to show that by relieving the hands of work, output is increased 143 per cent. Smooth curved motion in place of abrupt change is illustrated to be better and easier.

The assembly of three washers onto a bolt to show the application of certain principles completes the film.

Prof. H. Von Hentig, Criminologist, Declares Unemployment Is One of the Major Causes of Crime; Prisons Overcrowded

"A prison is the most perfect example of personal and social disorganization the human mind has ever schemed," alleged Prof. Hans von Hentig, visiting professor of sociology, last night in the first lecture of the Baconian series held in the senate chamber, Old Capitol. His subject was "Limits of Penal Treatment."

The speaker is recognized as an eminent authority on criminology and criminal trial in pre-Nazi Germany and he has continued research on penal treatment since coming to this country in 1936.

"We would be wrong in believing in the down-right protective virtue of the prison," he stated. "Just look at the record of offenses for which prisoners are reported in a given institution. Stealing is a common practice; degeneracy goes on day and night; liquor is made; prisoners are found intoxicated, narcotics are demanded and supplied. A day does not go by that there is not fighting, officers are attacked; guards are bribed. There are no greater gambling hells on earth than prisons."

Professor von Hentig explained that unemployment undermines the worker's physique, weakens self-respect and will power and is one of the fundamental causes for crime.

Open unemployment as well as busy idleness may be found in abundance in the great majority of our prisons. He cited as an example the well-known system in which three men operate a one-man job.

"Bad housing, cramped quarters—these are other sources of delinquency," Professor von Hentig declared. "Approximately 38 percent of our prisons indicate a serious problem of overcrowding."

The speaker described the institutions, housing from 4 to 6,000 inmates, as breeders of professional criminality. The sentenced man, who sees himself in hopeless isolation and minority, enters prison and becomes aware of a completely organized society, rising in arms against another society.

The magnitude of the other side is presented to him, said Professor von Hentig, and this numerical quantum means protection and power, justification and encouragement.

In closing, the German criminologist summarized, "We can break down the mammoth prisons. We can reduce or abolish idleness. We can elaborate better and safer systems of classifying prisoners into occasional offenders, persistent criminals, and large groups of weak-minded, psychopaths and semi-insanes. We can train our

E. C. Mabie Names University Theater Student Governors

The student board of governors of University theater was chosen Wednesday night at the annual theater mixer, Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the dramatic art department, announced yesterday.

Eight undergraduates and eight graduates were chosen to the board by popular ballot.

Undergraduates are: Jessie Bird, A2 of Chesterland, Ohio; Florence Healy, A3 of Cedar Rapids; Jack Reams, A3 of Council Bluffs; Joel Sater, A4 of Birmingham, Ala.; Lois Tallman, A3 of Iowa City; George Anderson, A2 of Nashville, Tenn.; Julian Benjamin, A2, and Barbara Hudson, A3.

Graduates chosen are: William Porter of Parsons, Kans.; Elizabeth Walling of Iowa City; Dorothy Ward of Iowa City; Joe Zimmerman of Scotland, S. D.; Frank Barnhart; Marianna Davenport; Sydney Head, and Rodman Jones.

Speakers at the mixer were Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts, Prof. E. C. Mabie, Prof. H. D. Sellman and Prof. Arnold Gillette, all of the dramatic arts department.

Pharmacists Plan Meeting

Pharmaceutical Week Will Follow Theme Of National Defense

Observing the 17th celebration of National Pharmacy week, Oct. 19 to 25, the student branch of the American Pharmaceutical association is sponsoring a program for all pharmacy students, Oct. 22 at 7:30 p. m. in the chemistry auditorium.

Dean R. A. Kuever of the college of pharmacy will give a short talk dealing with "Pharmacy, Place in National Defense," this year's theme.

"It is not a week of commercial significance, nor is it for the purpose of increasing the pharmacist's sales and profits," said Dean Kuever. "Rather, its objective is to enlighten and inform those whom he serves on the absolutely necessary health service that pharmacy is giving."

Dean Kuever's speech will be preceded by a welcome from the president of the student branch, Leonard M. Thompson, P4 of Webster City, and a description of the various awards and honors by Lyle C. Searle, P4 of Rockford.

"Vitamin B," a motion picture with sound and technician, will complete the program.

Following the movie, refreshments will be served at an all-pharmacy mixer on the second floor of the building.

Charles Watson, P4 of Humboldt, chairman of the social committee, will be assisted by Gene McMahon, P3 of Kingsley; Marie Kelly, P3 of Waterloo; Roy Herman, P3 of Middle; Lone Card, P1 of New Hampton; Norman Johnson, P4 of Manchester; Robert Biokel, P4 of Vinton, and John Hauth, P4 of Hawkeye.

Grace E. Van Wormer To Entertain Tonight

Following the movie, refreshments will be served at an all-pharmacy mixer on the second floor of the building.

The guests will be Edith McKelrow, Hiltrude Braulick, Ellen Schocke, Selma Sullivan, Luanna Hall, Alice Flint, Gladys Bartholow, Muriel Luers, Ruth Bartholow, Mary Ellen De Buchananne and Virginia Underkofler.

Selective Service Conference to Be Held in Iowa City

District, State Agents Convene to Discuss Recurring Problems

Selective service board members and clerks of district No. 2, comprising 23 east Iowa counties, will meet with state officials and government appeal agents in Iowa City Monday, Oct. 27, it was announced yesterday.

According to Ed Smiley, Johnson county selective service director, the conference will be held in the courtroom of the court house. Sessions will start at 1 p. m. and continue four hours.

Purpose of the conference is to acquaint district officials with matters pertaining to classification, mobilization, appeals and many other general selective service problems, Smiley said yesterday.

The meeting will give field workers an opportunity to discuss common problems and receive a better understanding from state officials of the new information that is continually coming from national headquarters, he explained.

Adj. Gen. Charles H. Grahl, state selective service director, will lead the open forum discussion and clarify the many new changes in the selective service act.

Among the other conference leaders will be Lieut. Col. Ralph Lancaster, assistant state director; Lieut. Col. Robert J. Shaw, advisor on occupational deferment; Lieut. Col. Robert L. Fulton, mobilization officer, and Major Oliver P. Bennett, legal advisor.

Iowa City Lawyers Appeal Cases Before State Supreme Court

Nine Iowa City attorneys were in Des Moines Wednesday to present oral arguments before the supreme court passes on cases appealed from the Johnson county district court.

In the case of W. J. Groff vs. W. J. Crawford, Edward F. Rate represented the appellant and Paul Harned the appellee.

W. F. Murphy represented the appellant in the case of D. F. Gingerich, et al. vs. Paul Toomey, et al. William R. Hart argued for the appellee.

Edward L. O'Connor and Arthur O. Leff represented Vernon Haligan, appellee, and William R. Hart the appellant, Lone Tree Farmers exchange, a corporation.

Jens Grothe represented the State of Iowa in the case against Charles Gillam, represented by Edward L. O'Connor.

Four Iowa Citizens Fined For Traffic Violations

Robert Campbell Funeral Service to Be Conducted Today in Oathout Chapel

Funeral service for Robert Campbell, 73, 419 Pleasant, who died suddenly of a heart attack Wednesday in the downtown business district, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Oathout funeral chapel, Dr. E. E. Voit of the Methodist church will be in charge. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Campbell was born Aug. 1, 1868, in Jonesboro, Tenn., the son of Henry and Martha Campbell. He married Georgia Stepp of Conklin, Tenn., who died in 1900. In 1901, he married Nora Snider of Johnson, Tenn.

In 1901 he came to Johnson county where he farmed in East Lucas township for 16 years. Since 1917 he has lived in Iowa City.

Religion Losing Grip Says Rev. Ludwigson

The Rev. Raymond Ludwigson of the First Christian church spoke at the Rotary club luncheon meeting yesterday on "The Status Quo."

The speaker asserted that religion has "lost its grip" somewhat, and consequently we have come to feel that something is wrong with the Christian brotherhood when the peoples of Europe act as they have been.

Asserting that the light of the Bible itself is the only light in which to look at the present world situation, the Rev. Mr. Ludwigson quoted some of the predictions of the Bible as they may relate to present conditions. But he said that we are not bound to these predictions because there may be some discrepancy in our interpretations.

Cub Pack Appoints Mothers and Chiefs

Den mothers and den chiefs were appointed for cub pack 11, sponsored by the Roosevelt school P. T. A., at a meeting of the pack committee Wednesday night in the home of L. D. Greenwald, 1018 Hudson.

Mrs. I. C. Nickols, Mrs. Charles A. Winter and Mrs. E. P. T. Tyn-dall were named den mothers, and Tommy Nickols, Jack Nelson and Craig Mahaffey were appointed den chiefs.

Committees of both scouts and cubs for the coming year will be appointed by Mrs. Sig. N. Nelson, president of the Roosevelt P. T. A., at a meeting Monday night.

The first meeting of the year for cub pack 2, scheduled for last Wednesday evening, was postponed until Oct. 23.

Petit Jury to Hear Linder Case Monday

An action asking judgment in the amount of $2250 and restoration of premises will be heard by a petit jury in Johnson county district court beginning at 9 a. m. Monday.

According to the petition William Linder alleges that the defendants, Charles, Martha and Don Alberhasky, removed buildings and structures from the premises they rented and left holes in the dirt. The petition asks that the premises be restored and demands judgment in the amount of $750 from each of the defendants.

Atty D. C. Nolan represents the plaintiff and Atty. Messer, Hamilton and Cahill the defendants.

They are: first assistant, Imelda Gatton; costume, Laurene Conklin and Mary Brown; advertising, Loten Willard, Elaine Swails, Doris Carlson and Barbara Strub; properties; June Larsen, Wanda Haney, Margaret Wiley and Mourine Farrell; stage crew, Richard Coulter, William Hubbard, William Coder, William Lee and Dean Crawford, and line readers, Betty Koudeka and Jeanne Bowlin.

City High Group Starts Homecoming Activities With Pre-Game Meeting

Iowa City high school students began homecoming activities last night with a pep meeting and bonfire at Shrader field.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the city high football eleven will meet Du-quesne here. Climaxing the homecoming program will be a dance tomorrow night, featuring Bill Meardon and his orchestra.

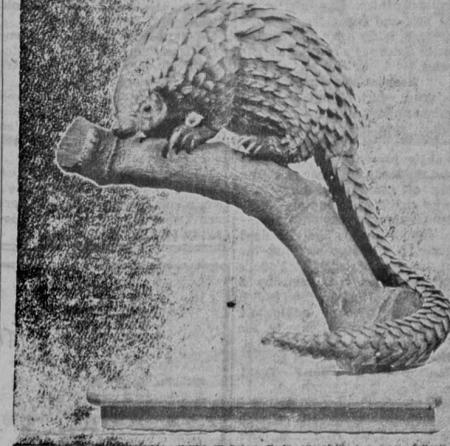

The homecoming queen, selected by students from seven candidates, will be announced at the dance.

MEET PANGOLIN—MUSEUM ODDITY

Looking like a copper-bronze pine comb, this pangolin is one of the many odd animals found in the University museum. Measuring three feet from its head to the end of its long tail, the pangolin is found in Africa where it lives on ants and termites. When pursued, it rolls itself up in a ball, the scales forming a protecting armor which is invulnerable.

Admits Torch Murder

Robert Larry Gordon, 20, above, has confessed, Kalamazoo, Mich., police say, to the torch slaying of his benefactor, George E. Eastman, 57, in an effort to obtain Eastman's estate. Less than 12 hours after Eastman had dictated a will making Gordon his heir, the youth told police he poured gasoline over Eastman as he slept and set him afire.

Columbus Day Initiation For Marquette Council Candidates to Be Sunday

Complete plans have been announced by the Marquette Council, No. 842 of the Knights of Columbus, for a Columbus day initiation of candidates to be held this Sunday.

At 9 a. m. Sunday, candidates and members will assemble at St. Patrick's school, and at 9:15 the entire group will attend mass at St. Patrick's church. Exemplification of the first degree will be at 10:30 a. m. at the club rooms, 328 E. Washington. The second and third degree will be given at 2 p. m. at the clubhouse.

A stag buffet supper for candidates and members will be served at the clubhouse following the degree work.

Candidates are asked to report 15 minutes before all scheduled activities of the day. All members and visiting members are invited to be present for all activities.

Junior C. of C. Men Hold Convention Here

Fifteen Iowa Towns Send Representatives To Training Course

Junior Chamber of commerce representatives from 15 southeastern Iowa cities will meet in the Jefferson hotel Oct. 26 for the annual fall conference for local officers and membership training.

Cecil Saddoris, Denison, state junior chamber president, and Dell B. Raymond, Waterloo, vice president, will outline a program for the coming year at a 12:30 luncheon.

Olin Hauth, 1824 Muscatine, is in charge of local arrangements. Cities to be represented are Iowa City, Burlington, Cedar Rapids, Davenport, Tipton, Muscatine, Sigourney, Ottumwa, Bloomfield, Mt. Pleasant, Fairfield, Ft. Madison, Ktokuk, Dubuque and Clinton.

Plaintiff, Defendant Agree on Settlement Following Testimony

A settlement by agreement was made in the Munson vs. Strub-Wareham Co. case in Johnson county district court late yesterday after presenting testimony to petit jurors for four hours.

According to the agreement the defendant, Strub-Wareham Co., is to pay $50 to satisfy conditions of a lease in which Mearl Munson, as receiver of the S & D, Inc., asked $666 for rent.

The plaintiff is to pay the court costs under the terms of agreement. As receiver of the S & D company, Munson sought payment of the rent according to the lease, and costs of the action.

Atty. L. K. Kehoe and Eardley Bell represented the plaintiff. The defendant was represented by Atty. Dutcher, Ries and Dutcher. Judge James P. Gaffney presided.

Dan J. Peters Funeral To Be Held Tomorrow In St. Patrick's Church

Funeral service for Dan J. Peters, 67, 409 N. Gilbert, who died Wednesday afternoon, will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in St. Patrick's church. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Peters was born in Cedar township Nov. 22, 1873. In 1901 he married Alice Tucker and came to Iowa City in 1919.

He was a member of the Elks, Knights of Columbus, Moose and Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church and belonged to the Johnson county board of supervisors for 13 years.

He is survived by his widow; one sister, Mrs. Hannah Swift, Iowa City; three brothers, Dr. J. A. Peters, Oxford, William Peters, Solon, and J. S. Peters, Iowa City.

The rosary will be recited at 7:30 tonight. The Knights of Columbus will recite another rosary at 8 o'clock tonight.

Solon Priest Fatally Wounded In Hunting Accident Near Here

Rev. J. Michalek Shot As Gun Accidentally Discharges in Boat

The Rev. John E. Michalek, 51, pastor of St. Mary's church at Solon, died at 10:30 yesterday morning from gunshot wounds received in a duck hunting accident. County Coroner George D. Callahan pronounced a verdict of accidental death.

According to Dr. Callahan, Father Michalek and Guy Frederick of Solon were in a flat boat going down the Iowa river from the Curtis bridge. As a flock of ducks flew overhead Father Michalek attempted to move the gun from the bottom of the boat in order that Frederick, who was rowing, could use it. The movement discharged the gun and the shot struck the priest in the right chest.

The force of the charge knocked Father Michalek out of the boat into the river. He managed to grasp the side of the craft until Frederick, who had immediately jumped in to aid the stricken priest, could push him back into the boat. Frederick then rowed ashore and took Father Michalek to the Will Kloubek farm, seven miles west of Solon, where he died soon after.

Father Michalek was born at Victor, February 6, 1890, the son of V. P. and Louisa Fulmer Michalek. He received his education in the Victor schools and upon graduation from high school entered St. Ambrose college at Davenport.

After attending St. Mary's Seminary at Baltimore and the Kenrick seminary at St. Louis he was ordained June 21, 1918, at St. Benedict's monastery, Atchinson, Kan.

After ordination he was stationed at Newport until 1919 when he was sent to Solon to become pastor of St. Mary's church and the St. Peter and St. Paul's church near Solon.

He is survived by his father, Vincent, of Guernsey; one brother, Joseph, of Victor; and three sisters, Mrs. Anna Baitinger, of Guernsey, Mrs. Emil DeMeulenaere, of Victor, and Mrs. August DeMeulenaere of Carnarvon.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. The body is at the Brosch funeral home in Solon.

Hunters Get Birds As Season Begins

Nimrods Open Fire, Ducks Make Debut For 1941 at Sunrise

Thousands of Iowa hunters, their guns recently cleaned and their boats newly painted, started shooting at sunrise yesterday morning to open the 1941 duck season.

According to a map published by the state conservation commission, hunters along the Mississippi river were allowed to begin firing several minutes sooner than western shooters. The sun officially rose at 6:17 a. m. in the west.

In the eastern part of Johnson county the official firing time was 6:18 a. m. while in the western section of the county it was one minute later.

Hunters are allowed to shoot from sunrise until 4 p. m. each day. The duck season closes Dec. 14.

The daily bag limit on most ducks is 10 per day and not more than 20 birds in possession. No open season has been declared on wood ducks, however.

Hunters also are allowed a limit of three geese or brant each day and possession of six. Coot and mudhens may be taken at the rate of 25 birds per day with not more than 25 in possession.

Under federal law, persons over 16 years of age must carry a migratory bird stamp along with their state hunting license. These stamps, commonly called duck stamps, may be purchased at the post office.

Over $2,000 Received By Community Chest

Nearly $2100 had been received by the Community chest drive office at the close of yesterday's city-wide campaign.

Commenting upon the drive yesterday, Alva B. Oathout, drive chairman, said the solicitors were doing a fine job and that he thought tomorrow and Saturday would be the biggest days of the drive, which ends Monday.

"A great many of the solicitors have contacted most of their prospects," the chairman said, "and are only waiting to turn in their money until they have collected their last donation."

Judge W. Smith Releases R. Zinkula on $500 Bond

Hawklets All Set to Meet Dubuque Here Tonight

Coach Herb Cormack Shifts Little Hawk Lineup for Homecoming Game With Rams

As Result of Change, Cormackmen Gain Another Formation to Insure More Offensive Power

Tonight is homecoming at City high, and the Little Hawks are all set to tackle the Dubuque Rams in the celebration feature on Shrader field at 8 o'clock.

A year ago the locals went to battle against Dubuque, a favored team, and when the gun ended the game the scoreboard showed that Hoerner, Pape and company had rolled up 20 points to Iowa City's 7. This is what the veterans of last year will be thinking of when they take the field before the old grads tonight.

Guest Guesser Eicherly to Appear on WSUI Program

WSUI's "Football scoreboard of the Air" with Jack Eicherly, captain of the 1938 football team, as guest star, will be aired over the university station for the fourth straight week today at 12:30 p.m.

Composed of Jim Dower, sports announcer; Jim Jordan, local correspondent for the Des Moines Register and Tribune; Bill Buckley, sports editor of The Daily Iowan, and Gene Claussen, local correspondent for The Associated Press, the Board has picked 34 winners correctly out of 48 games for a percentage of .708. The group will predict the winners of 16 major games of the week today.

Pitching Outstanding As Iowa Diamondmen Play Intra-Squad Tilt

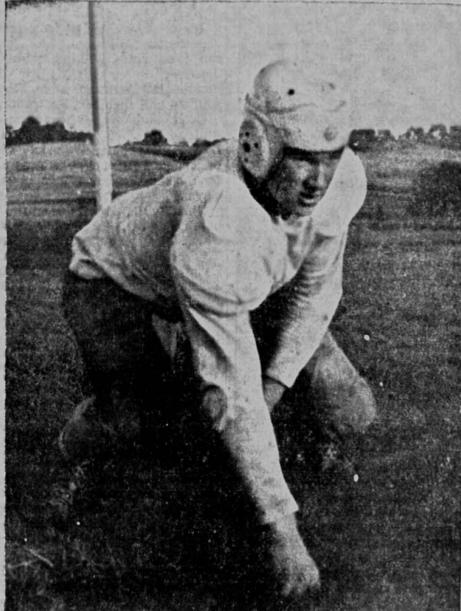

Pitching was again outstanding as the Iowa baseball squad engaged in another intra-squad game yesterday afternoon, with Catchers Bill Welp and Ray Koehn captaining the teams.

Three veteran pitchers — Roy Stille, Bob Faber and Wendell Hill — were given a chance to perform, and each pitched shutout ball during his stretch on the mound.

The effectiveness of these hurlers can also be judged by the fact that there was not a single extra-base hit on either side during the five innings of play.

The members of the squad who have reported for varsity basketball were able to practice yesterday because the cage squad has been divided into two sections, playing on alternate afternoons.

RED AND WHITE GAME CAPTAIN TONIGHT

Bill Bothell, 205-pound tackle and City high's line candidate for All-state honors, will captain the Hawklets in their homecoming tilt against Dubuque tonight at 8 o'clock on Shrader field.

U-High Rivermen Journey to Mt. Vernon This Afternoon for Third Conference Tilt

Bluehawk Starters May Have to Play Entire Game Today

Trying for its first victory of the season, U-high's football squad will play Mt. Vernon there this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Rivermen's third conference tilt.

So far this season Mt. Vernon has lost every game of its schedule, while the Bluehawks have lost two non-conference and tied two conference tilts.

Coach Paul Brechler believes that the Rivermen have as good a chance for victory today as they have had in any other game, if they are lucky enough to get through the tilt without any injuries.

Practice on Passes From a T formation, Shay executed fast, accurate passes yesterday afternoon, with Lehman and Bill Cobb pulling them in and Charles Barber slipping in behind to receive the laterals.

Greyhound Retires INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — James Wingfield, second trainer of Sep Palin's stable here, said last night that Greyhound, world's champion trotter, had gone into full retirement.

Anderson Chooses 35 for Wisconsin Trip, But Won't Decide on Two Starting Posts

Will Choose Between Couppee and Trickey, Farmer and Youel

Injury-List Partially Recovered, But Iowa Hopes Hinge on Them

Iowa's Hawkeye gridders raced through their final home workout, a lengthy and thorough signal drill, yesterday afternoon, and Dr. Eddie Anderson named 35 players to make the trip to Madison today for the game with Wisconsin Saturday.

Anderson's starting lineup, always a question mark, was made doubly uncertain by the Hawkeye

SEE THE HAWKS OFF

Thirty-three Hawkeye gridders will leave for the all-important game with Wisconsin this morning from Rock Island depot on the 9:15 Rocket.

Farmer Probable Starter He said Tom Farmer would probably start at left half, but "if we kick off, I'll have to use Jim Youel," the best placekicker on the squad.

Anderson said also to list Ben Trickey as a probable starter at quarterback, but warned that Al Couppee, senior two-letterman who has been favoring a sprained ankle, may take over the position at the beginning.

Remaining members of the first team—Bill Burkett and Bill Park at ends, Jim Walker and Al Urban at tackles, Ross Anderson and Gene Curran at guards, Capt. Bill Deihl at center, Bus Mertes at right half and Bill Green at fullback—were fairly sure of starting posts in Saturday's conference encounter.

Injuries May Hurt Injuries, which bid fair to be the bugaboo of Iowa's second attempt to break into the win column in Big Ten play, are well under control at the present, but on whether or not the hurts will bear up in the fracas of game play, hinge the Hawks' chances of winning.

Bill Green will play with a bandage supporting his badly-bruised knuckle, Bill Staus still has his bum wrist in a cast, Jim Youel's speed has been cut down by a sprained ankle, Art Johnson is still hobbling on his bad ankle and Couppee and Jack Kennedy are limping from injured ankles.

The traveling squad list is: Centers—Capt. Bill Diehl, George Frye, Bob Lauterbach, Penaluna, Gene Curran, Harris Stageburg, Ross Anderson, Don Twedell.

Tackles—Jim Walker, Al Urban, Bob Knowlton, Bob Otto, John Staak, Joe Byrd.

Ends—John Maher, Bill Parker, Bill Burkett, Henry Miller, Al Mannino, Bob Johnson.

Quarterbacks—Al Couppee, Ben Trickey, Jerry Ankey.

Fullbacks—Bill Green, Bill Staus, Art Johnson.

Bucks Polish Tricks COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes yesterday applied the polish to the trucks they have been learning for more than a week in preparation for their western conference inaugural against Purdue tomorrow.

Despite some fine passing by Sigma Chi Jerry Hilton, Phi Epsilon Pi won its first game, 20 to 12. Both teams scored a touchdown in the first half.

Rosenberg, Phi Ep backfield star, passed to Bob Sandler for the initial touchdown, and Kenny Aronow added the extra point on a drop kick.

The Sigma Chis scored as Hilton passed to Parks, and then scored again with the opening of the second half, as passer Hilton hit Bob Buckley.

Rosenberg soon salted the game away, skirting right end for a score, and then just before the final whistle, passed to Aronow for the final touchdown.

In the final game of the day, Delta Tau Delta forfeited to Sigma Alpha Epsilon. There are no further games scheduled for the remainder of the week.

Seniors-Freshmen, Sparked by Montgomery, Defeats Juniors-Sophomores in Track Meet

Winning eight out of 11 first places, the freshman-senior track team easily defeated the sophomore-junior bunch in the inter-collegiate meet yesterday afternoon, 85 to 30.

Speedy Frank Montgomery of Chicago, who won every event he entered, stood out for the winners.

60-yard dash: Frank Montgomery (freshman) first, Dick McCarthy (junior) second, Dick Arnold (sophomore) third. :08.7.

800-yard run: Earl Prince (freshman) first, Al Slater (freshman) second, Bob Kenworthy (freshman) third, Eugene Bradshaw (freshman) fourth. 2:11.5.

High jump: Jerry DeFrees (freshman) first, John McGrath (freshman) second, Chad Cowden (senior), Don VanCura (freshman) Herb Nelson (junior) tied for third. 5 feet, 8 inches.

Javelin: Dan Hise (junior) first, John McGrath (freshman) second, Ben Haddad (sophomore) third. 179 feet, 8 inches.

Broad jump: Ed Wilkerson (junior) first, Jerry DeFrees (freshman) second, John McGrath (freshman) third, Don VanCura (freshman) fourth. 20 feet, 6 inches.

Shot put: Ralph Beardley (freshman) first, Dan Hise (junior) second, Bill Solomonsen (freshman) third, Jerry Kupal (freshman) fourth. 41 feet, 2 inches.

Wolves in Dummy Scrimmage ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's Wolverines devoted the major portion of a long dummy scrimmage today to pass defense and took a last look at Northwestern plays before packing their equipment to leave for Evanston where they battle the Wildcats Saturday.

Iowa Harriers Meet Experienced Badger Tracksters Saturday

Iowa's cross-country team will leave today at 12:30 for Madison, Wis., where it will meet the Badgers tomorrow. Coach George Bresnahan plans a workout on the Wisconsin course late in the afternoon.

This will be the first meet of the season for the Hawkeyes and the third for Wisconsin. Ed Bradley, one of the outstanding Wisconsin performers who was absent in the Minnesota encounter, will be in shape and is expected to greatly bolster the Badger hopes.

The Iowans are in very good condition and the spirit of the squad is high.

Yesterday's drills were confined to the running of 220's and the speed trials, along with work in judgment of pace.

The meet is slated to get underway at 11:00, after which the trackmen will witness the Iowa-Wisconsin football game, returning to Iowa City Saturday night.

The eight men making the trip are: Robert Albright, Richard Keil, Richard Lord, John McCollister, David Meyer, Jarod Stevenson, Donald Welt and Robert Workman. Golf Coach Charles Kennett will accompany the team with Bresnahan.

Glenn Devine Discovers Another Aubrey at Iowa

A stocky fast halfback on the University of Iowa freshman football squad was asked his name by a coach during a practice session. He said it was Aubrey Deedlow.

"How do you happen to have the name Aubrey?"

"My dad was a great admirer of Aubrey Devine, who played at Iowa just before I was born," replied young Daedlow.

All of which interested the questioner, Glenn Devine, whose blocking helped to make an all-American of his brother, Aubrey, captain of the 1921 team.

Interpreting The War News

Collapse of Japan's Cabinet is Another Cog in Nazi Plans

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Thundering nazi blows on the outer gates of Moscow find a disjunct but dramatic echo on the Tokyo end of the German-Italian-Japanese axis.
Whatever else the Japanese cabinet crisis may mean, it is too closely interlocked with the siege of Moscow not to be regarded as an important piece dropping into place in the jig-saw puzzle of Hitler's war plans.
Whether Berlin's guarded hint that the capitulation of Moscow is immediately impending is justified remains to be seen. There is no reasonable doubt, however, that nazi undercover pressure in Tokyo, timed to coincide closely with the German investment of Moscow, had something to do with the Konoye cabinet upset.

There is sound military reason for Hitler to seek some sort of threatening Japanese gesture just now, whether aimed specifically at Russia or at the America aid-for-Russia effort. Moscow's defenses are crumbling under the hammering of nazi armies which at some points are only about 60 miles from the Kremlin nerve center of communism.
In the east Russia has been credited with maintaining powerful and well equipped forces, watching the Japanese member of the axis. Only recently have Moscow advices indicated that some part of these eastern armies, including Cossacks of legendary fame as fighting men, were being brought up to bolster the defenses of the city.
It seems beyond question that a Tokyo gesture just now which might evolve into an attack on the far eastern flank of the Soviets could halt the transfer of red army forces from east to west.

The Tokyo cabinet crisis must be viewed in Moscow as a tentative tapping at Russia's back door to match the hammer blows of the Germans in the west. Thus Russia's troubles are increased at a perilous hour.
Meanwhile, if Odessa finally has been taken, or given to the flames by evacuating red forces, it represents more of a psychological than a military blow to the Russians. Its ultimate surrender has been forecast since the nazi breakthrough east of the Dnieper bend and the siege of the Crimean isthmus. Militarily, it was no longer worth the price of holding. To the extent that troops from the city can reinforce those in the Crimea or the Caucasus, abandonment of ruined Odessa would seem a wise Russian move.
The time may come soon when the same argument could apply to Moscow; but not yet. A long siege seems still in the cards there, an exhausting test which might rob Hitler of decisive victory this year.

Baked Ice Cream? You Bet-It's Easy

Pop 'Baked Alaska' In Oven for New Dessert Favorite

French Ice Cream piled high atop Butter Sponge Cake, covered thickly with fluffy meringue and popped into the oven until lightly browned! This is Baked Alaska—a creation as delicious as it is enchantingly named. It is a last-minute-and-work-quickly job, but requires no special skill in putting together. The secret of its being a success is to be sure that the meringue covers the ice cream and cake thoroughly and thickly so that the ice cream won't melt.

Butter Sponge Cake

3 egg yolks
2/3 cup sifted sugar
1/6 cup evaporated milk
1/6 cup boiling water
1/3 teaspoon vanilla extract
2/3 cup sifted cake flour
2/3 teaspoon baking powder
2 2/3 tablespoons soft butter
Beat egg yolks very light. Add sugar and continue beating until light colored and fluffy. Mix the milk with the water. Add hot milk and vanilla, then the flour sifted with the baking powder. Beat in the soft butter. Pour into greased 8-inch layer cake pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 40 minutes.

French Ice Cream

3 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups evaporated milk
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Beat egg yolks slightly, add sugar and salt and stir until sugar is dissolved. Add milk and boiling water. Cook over boiling water until mixture coats a spoon, about 5 minutes. Cool and add vanilla. Freeze with a 1 to 4 salt-ice mixture, then pack in a pan or mold and allow to harden.

Meringue

6 egg whites
1 cup granulated sugar
Beat egg whites until foamy. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until stiff.

Now to make Baked Alaska: When ready to serve, place the 8-inch layer of Butter Sponge Cake on a board which has been covered with a piece of heavy brown paper. Unmold French Ice Cream onto the cake, or pile it high in a dome shape. Cover with the meringue. Sprinkle with a little sugar. Place in a hot oven (500 degrees F.) to brown lightly, 3 to 4 minutes. This Baked Alaska will serve 8 to 10 people.

Speech Group to Discuss Price Control Methods For Preventing Inflation

"What Method of Price Control Should the United States Adopt?" will be the topic considered by speech students in the third forensic panel discussion over station WSUI at 3 o'clock today. The group will consider price control as a method of preventing inflation. Clair Henderlinder, G of Onawa, is in charge of the forum.

40 Dealers Attend Hybrid Sales Promotion Meeting

Approximately 40 dealers from nine surrounding counties attended a hybrid sales promotion meeting in the Jefferson hotel yesterday. Main speakers at the half-day conference were James R. ### A Simple Task if You Choose Plain Dishes—Chop Suey, Lemon Custard Among Favorites

By CORINNE HAYES
Daily Iowan Food Editor
Cooking for hungry men is a simple task—so say the women who have more than one or two of the hearty eaters to feed. "They just eat everything I cook, so I have no trouble at all," reports Mrs. Erling Thoen, 1026 Kirkwood avenue.

When it comes to favorites, Chop Suey scores in the top ranks as far as her family is concerned.

Chop Suey
1/2 pound of veal
1/2 pound of lean pork
2 tablespoons of butter
3/4 cup of water
1/2 cup diced onion
3 cups cut celery
1 tablespoon of salt
1/4 teaspoon of pepper
1 No. 2 can bean sprouts
1 tablespoon of flour
2 tablespoons of soy sauce

Cube the meat and brown it in the butter. Add the water and cook until tender. Add celery, salt, pepper and sprouts and cook until tender. Make a paste of the flour and soy sauce. Put the paste with the other ingredients and cook until the Chop Suey reaches the desired thickness.

"This recipe will only serve 5 persons," Mrs. Thoen reminded me. "It not only calls for steamed rice (about 1 cup of raw rice cooked), but at our house, Chop Suey means we will have Lemon Custard Pudding for dessert."

Lemon Custard Pudding
1 cup of sugar
1 cup of milk
2 tablespoons of flour
2 eggs
Salt
1 lemon

Add egg yolks to milk, sugar, flour and salt. Squeeze lemon and grate the rind, adding both the juice and rind to the ingredients. Fold in beaten egg whites. Put custard baking dish in a pan of hot water and bake in oven for 40 minutes. This dessert should be kept in refrigerator until ready to serve.

A delicious Coffee Cake is made by Mrs. Thoen when she is entertaining a group at tea.

Coffee Cake
2 tablespoons of butter
3/4 cup of sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup of milk
1 1/3 cups of flour
2 tablespoons of baking powder
Pinch of salt
Vanilla

Cream butter and sugar well and add beaten egg. Sift flour twice and add alternately with milk. Fold in baking powder; add salt and a little vanilla. Sprinkle over batter a mixture of 1/2 tablespoon of cinnamon and 3 tablespoons of sugar. Dot with butter and bake at 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes.

"Word from my nephew, Jim O'Brien, at Annapolis, Md., says that the box of cookies I sent him recently tasted pretty grand," our hostess said. "I usually send him Top House cookies or Ice Box Cookies."

Ice Box Cookies
1 pound of butter
2 1/2 cups of sugar
3 eggs
1 teaspoon of salt
1 cup of nut meats

Whip cream, add sugar and vanilla. Fold whipped cream into fruit and marshmallow mixture. Pour into freezing tray and allow to chill thoroughly. Garnish each serving with a maraschino cherry and nuts.

Coffee Butterscotch Sauce
The right dessert sauce often adds the point of interest to a meal. Coffee Butterscotch sauce provides a delicious flavor for puddings and ice cream. For this you will need:

1 cup of sugar
1 cup of brewed coffee
1 tablespoon butter
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
Boil the sugar, coffee, salt and butter together for five minutes. Cool, add vanilla and serve.

Fruit-Juice Muffins
Delightfully different muffins are easily made by substituting left-over fruit juice for the liquid in the recipe. Apricot juice and unsweetened pineapple are especially flavorful contributors to good eating.

Ice-Box Jelly Rolls
Spread sparkling jelly on a rectangular sheet of refrigerator dough and roll up jelly-roll fashion. Cut one-inch slices and place in muffin pans to double in bulk. These jelly rolls pop up gently in a moderate oven and come to the table deliciously sweet and crisp.

Revive Leftovers
If cold baked potatoes are dipped for a moment into boiling water, then placed in a medium oven until heated through, they will be almost as nice as if fresh baked.

Reds Industry in Nazi Hands
NEW YORK (AP)—A commentator on the British radio said last night that two-thirds of Russia's productive industries were now in German hands.

Q.—Are there any sanitary differences between different colored enameled ware utensils?
A.—No, not any more difference than between different color glasswares, for enameled ware is glass fused on steel.

Q.—What is acid-resisting porcelain enamel?
A.—It is a specially compounded mixture of the enamel which makes the finish more resistant to acids.

Q.—Is white the only color in which porcelain enameled utensils are made?
A.—All-white, or white with tints of various colors, are probably the most popular finishes now, but porcelain enameled kitchenware is available in many other attractive colors. It is possible to duplicate practically all shades and tints in enameled ware.

Q.—Will porcelain enameled ware "chip"?
A.—Yes, if not handled properly, just as any utensil can be dented or disfigured. Porcelain enamel is glass, and naturally cannot withstand sharp blows or hard knocks. However, treated with as much respect as the enameled finish of your refrigerator, range, or kitchen sink, porcelain enameled kitchen utensils will last a lifetime.

Funeral to Be Conducted
Funeral service for Mrs. Elmer Stimmel, 58, who died at her home Sunday, will be held at the Hohenschuh mortuary this afternoon at 2:30. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

RECIPES FROM MRS. THOEN

From her file of favorite recipes, Mrs. Erling Thoen, 1026 Kirkwood avenue, selects a few of the dishes which are popular with her family and guests. Our hostess is one who knows which foods hit the spot with masculine diners.

2 tablespoons of dark Karo syrup
1 teaspoon of soda
6 cups of flour

Let the pound of butter soften overnight and then add sugar and thoroughly beaten eggs. Add salt and nut meats. Put soda in Karo and whip up until the mixture gets light and foamy. Add flour. Form dough into rolls and place in ice box until you are ready to bake cookies. (Preferably the next day.) Slice dough thin and bake cookies in a hot oven (500 degrees F.) until a light tan. This will make about 100 cookies.

A popular Nut Bread often served at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Thoen is made from this recipe:

Nut Bread
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups of sugar
1 1/2 cups of milk
4 cups of flour
4 teaspoons of baking powder
1 cup of chopped nuts
Mix the ingredients and let dough rise for 20 minutes. Bake in a slow oven for 1 hour. This recipe makes 2 loaves.

Mrs. Thoen's advice to those who are delving into the problems of cooking for the first time is that you check the recipe for quantity before beginning to cook. Too many times, new cooks will discover—in the midst of their mixing—the recipe is for more than they wish to make.

Dessert Dilemma? Try Marshmallows

Here are some lively dessert recipes to add interest to your menus.

Marshmallow Delight
A surprise dessert that is attractive to see and delicious to eat is called Marshmallow Delight. This recipe makes 8 to 10 servings.

1/2 pound marshmallows
1 1/2 cups diced or crushed pineapple
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 pint whipping cream
2 tablespoons sugar
Cut marshmallows in fourths. (Colored marshmallows are most attractive.) Add pineapple and place in covered container in refrigerator overnight.

Whip cream, add sugar and vanilla. Fold whipped cream into fruit and marshmallow mixture. Pour into freezing tray and allow to chill thoroughly. Garnish each serving with a maraschino cherry and nuts.

Coffee Butterscotch Sauce

HERE'S HOW TO GET YOUR VITAMINS

National defense in the kitchen means preparing foods with nutritional value.

The importance of drinking milk is always stressed, but the above photograph illustrates how you can eat as well as drink it. Chocolate pudding, ice cream, cottage cheese-tomato salad and preserves custards you know about, so here are the recipes for the other three.

Shrimps Galatoire
2 5/8-ounce jars shrimp
3 tablespoons butter, melted
2 1/2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
4 peppercorns, finely crushed
Dash of Tabasco sauce
1/2 teaspoon dried onion
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 cups milk, scalded
1 large pimento, chopped
1/2 cup chopped sweet pickles
6 crostades

Wash shrimps and remove black line along the back. Blend butter and flour; add seasonings and mix thoroughly. Add to milk in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water about 10 minutes, or until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Add shrimps and cook 5 minutes longer, or until thoroughly heated. Add pimento and pickles. Serve in crostades or in nest of rice. Serves 6 portions.

Cheese Soup Supreme
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1/3 cup Old English cheese
3 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 cup chopped dill pickles
1 pimento, chopped
2 teaspoons chopped parsley

Melt butter in top of double boiler and stir in flour. Add cheese and 1 cup of the milk. Place over boiling water and cook until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Add remaining milk, salt, pepper, and Worcestershire sauce. Turn heat to low so that water does not boil. Re-heat. Add pickles, pimento and parsley and serve immediately. This soup is equally delicious when chilled. Serves 6.

Potpourri Chicken Pies
2 1/2 ounce jar dried beef, cut in pieces
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
12 ounce jar boned chicken, diced
1 cup cooked peas
5 to 6 cups hot mashed potatoes
Melted butter
Slowly saute dried beef in 3 tablespoons butter until crisp and browned. Stir in flour. Add milk and cook until thickened, stirring

Ice-Box Jelly Rolls
Spread sparkling jelly on a rectangular sheet of refrigerator dough and roll up jelly-roll fashion. Cut one-inch slices and place in muffin pans to double in bulk. These jelly rolls pop up gently in a moderate oven and come to the table deliciously sweet and crisp.

Committee to Choose Two Contest Designs For Corn Monument

Dean Francis M. Dawson of the college of engineering will formally announce the winners of the annual Homecoming design contest and present prizes at a special corn-monument dedication ceremony at 4 p.m., Oct. 31, Maurice Sulkin, Ed of Boston, Mass., publicity chairman of the corn-monument committee, said yesterday.

Two contest winners will be announced this year instead of the customary one, the best feature of each design being incorporated into one monument. In addition, a special colored water display will be used.

Highlighting the ceremony, the first of its kind to be held, will be an unveiling of the monument in the presence of faculty members and students in the college of engineering. The ceremony will take place in front of Old Capitol on Clinton street.

Bacon-Waffles

Just before baking a plain waffle place strips of not-too-crisp, pan-broiled bacon on top of the batter. Your waffle will come off the griddle with the bacon nesting in its goodness.
