Iowa's victory-bound Hawkeyes, wanting a Big Ten victory over Wisconsin's dangerous Badgers at any cost, are ready to adopt Fielding Yost's old-time system of "a punt, a pass, and a prayer" for a dry playing field in their encounter at Madison this afternoon.

There will be only one addition to that time-worn, but still workable adage, and that will be Iowa's

BRITISH AIRMAN WITH SOVIETS

This cablephoto, passed by both the Russian and British censors, is the first to show an R.A.F. officer on duty with the Soviet forces on the eastern front. Wing Commander Isherwood is shown, foreground, peering through field glasses to watch aerial activity over the front. An unannounced number of R.A.F. planes are fighting with the Red air force.

House O.K.'s Ship Arming

Representatives Pass Neutrality Amendment By 2 to 1 Majority

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tense, solemn house, stirred but not excited by the torpedoing of the United States Destroyer Kearny, voted by an almost two-to-one majority yesterday to authorize the arming of American merchant ships to protect them and their crews from Nazi "pirates."

The brief but momentous measure, repealing the neutrality act's two-year-old ban on the arming of merchantmen, was sent to the senate by the overwhelming roll-call vote of 259 to 138. Short tempers flared several times during the debate which preceded the vote but the outcome was never in doubt.

Republicans divided sharply on the issue, 39 of them joining with 219 democrats and the lone American-laborite to pass the measure. Twenty-one democrats sided with 113 republicans, three progressives and one farmer-laborite against it.

Only one attempt was made to amend the measure, Rep. Izak (D-Cal) proposing that provision be made for life insurance for the crews of armed ships. The proposal was ruled out.

Republican opponents of the legislation concentrated their efforts on a motion to send it back to the foreign affairs committee for additional hearings, contending that the democratic majority had unjustly deprived the minority of its rights.

Nazis Claim Moscow Now Hearing Thunder Of Germany's Guns

Claim the Occupation Of Factories, Power Plants Near Capital

BERLIN (AP)—The German armies battling toward Moscow were declared last night to have occupied factories, power plants and lignite fields in the city's outlying economic region and thus to have brought appreciably closer the last great struggle for the Soviet capital.

Just where these industrial centers lay was not precisely stated. It was said, however, that their capture represented advances west and south of Moscow.

A German commentator declared that assuming the wind was right the city was now hearing the thunder of Nazi guns, and in any case, he added, "German air bombs must be painfully audible."

Not alone the central front but the far southern theater, in the region extending from Kharkov on the Donets river to Rostov on the Don to the east, were described here as areas of swift German advances.

The Ukrainian German and allied armies, freed by the fall of Odessa from any possible fear of counter-action at their southern flank, were said to be smashing eastward in the Donets valley against a desperate Russian resistance typified by red counter-attacks which hurled old-fashioned cavalrymen head-on at German tanks.

In a single such clash—between what the nazis called the arms of the present and last centuries—it was claimed that the Russian units were decimated and that 800 prisoners, 500 horses and 51 cannon were captured.

Spain Releases Prisoners
MADRID (AP)—The Spanish cabinet yesterday granted conditional freedom to 2,624 political prisoners and freedom with exile to 332 others.

This Central Press map shows how German armies are converging on Moscow. A terrific battle has taken place at Borodino, which is only 70 miles from Moscow. Napoleon defeated the Russians in a decisive battle at Borodino on Sept. 7, 1812—129 years ago. Shortly after this victory Napoleon triumphantly entered Moscow.

Tension Grows In Washington After Attack

Administration Heads Say Act Nazi Effort To Encourage Japan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A grim hunt was believed in progress last night in the foggy north Atlantic for the raider which torpedoed the U.S. destroyer Kearny but failed to sink her some 350 miles southwest of Iceland this morning.

Tension in the capital, meantime, was high as some members of congress interpreted this first successful attack on an American warship since the European conflict began as a Nazi effort to encourage Japan to some new aggression in the Pacific.

Predict U.S. Retaliation

Angry denunciations of Hitler, and predictions of swift American retaliation came from several congressmen, and the house swiftly passed a bill authorizing the president to arm American merchantmen. The vote was 259 to 138.

The administration's deep concern over the far eastern situation was manifested by disclosure that the navy had ordered American merchant vessels to leave oriental waters. In San Francisco, marine circles heard reports that all ships were directed to go to Honolulu, most strongly fortified port in the world.

Kearny Limping Toward Port

The Kearny herself—$5,000,000, 1,630-ton destroyer completed only a year ago—presumably was limping toward some American port for repairs.

The navy's brief announcement that the Kearny had been attacked said she was able, despite the damage, "to proceed under her own power." The text of the announcement:

"The U.S.S. Kearny, destroyer, was torpedoed this morning while on patrol duty about 350 miles south and west of Iceland. No casualties to personnel were indicated in dispatches received by the navy department. Despite the damage received, the ship is able to proceed under her own power."

One of Newest Destroyers

The U.S.S. Kearny is under command of Lieut. Comdr. A. L. Danis, U.S. navy. The ship is one of the navy's newest destroyers. She was laid down in 1939 and completed in 1940. This ship has a standard displacement of 1,630 tons. The ship is 341 feet long and has a 35-foot beam. She is armed with the standard 5-inch battery of her class.

"No other details are available to the navy department at this time."

For the time being, the navy stood on that statement which, it was noted, left unanswered such questions as:

What type of craft, submarine, surface raider or airplane, fired the torpedo? What was its nationality? Was the Kearny able to strike back?

Japan's Premier-Designate, Lieut. Gen. Tojo, Draws New Cabinet of Veteran Statesmen

Nationalistic Group Thoroughly Familiar With Current Affairs

TOKYO (AP)—Lieutenant General Eiki Tojo formed a new Japanese cabinet today, and although he withheld announcement of its membership until installation this afternoon, reliable sources reported he himself would serve as premier, war minister and home minister and that men familiar with Russian and Manchukuoan affairs would hold key positions.

Tojo, a career soldier and admirer of German military methods, was reported to have selected as his foreign minister Shigenori Togo, former ambassador to both Berlin and Moscow.

The same source said Vice Admiral Shigetaro Shimada, commander of the Yokosuka naval yard and former commander of the fleet in China waters, was slated for the navy portfolio.

Informed sources said the new government, as a whole nationalistic in outlook, would be pledged to pursue a determined and strong course for Japan toward the United States and other foreign powers and at the same time strengthen the national wartime structure.

These sources said that at the time he was determined to carry out the aims of the Konoye cabinet in which he was war minister and which resigned Thursday in acknowledged inability to solve grave questions of national policy.

Competent observers felt that his appointment was a victory for the axis, which has been pressing for more active support in the European war.

German Firing Squads Attempt to Stamp Out Wide-Spread Rebellions

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Germans disclosed belatedly yesterday that the firing squad still was busy in the occupied lands of Europe, where the slow fires of rebellion still widely burned.

The Nazi military commander for occupied France announced the execution Oct. 7 of Leon Albert Liust—the 79th Frenchman known thus to have died—upon the familiar accusation: "Aiding the enemy through communist activity against the German armed forces."

Berlin dispatches at about the same time reported that 20 Czechs had been executed or sentenced to die last Wednesday in Prague and Brno (Brunn). In Prague, five were shot for alleged treason and the possession of weapons; nine were hanged for economic sabotage.

Ames Physician Dies
AMES (AP)—Dr. Ben G. Budge, 60, widely known Ames physician and philanthropist, died yesterday of a heart ailment.

Reds Withstand Repeated Attacks of Nazi Forces at Western Defenses of Moscow

Administration Officials Study Proposed 5 Billion Dollar 'Victory Program'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Amid growing tension over developments abroad, high administration sources revealed yesterday they were studying a proposed $5,000,000,000 a year "victory program."

While the program is only in the study stage, it was learned that President Roosevelt had ordered the army, navy and office of production management to map out a program that would match the productive efforts of the Germans.

The Germans are supposed to be spending more than half of their national income on arms, and $50,000,000,000 a year would be about half the prospective American national income.

Shah Arrives at Mauritius
LONDON (AP)—The British government announced today that former Shah of Iran, Reza Khan Pahlavi, has just arrived at Mauritius "where it was found desirable he should proceed temporarily."

Announce Withdrawal Of Russian Forces From Port of Odessa

MOSCOW (AP)—Red armies before Moscow beat off one fierce attack after another by German forces battering at the western defenses of the capital, the Russians announced officially early today.

"Heavy fighting continued along the whole front," said the early morning communique, which also announced the abandonment of the Black sea port of Odessa. "Fighting was especially stubborn in the western direction where the red army beat off several fierce enemy attacks."

Earlier front line dispatches said the Soviet defenders had smashed two German spearheads which had penetrated defenses approximately 100 miles from the city but that the situation of the capital remained grave.

The communique failed to specify where the assaults on the central front were stopped, but dispatches to the official press said the Germans were beaten back at Vyazma, 125 miles west of Moscow, and also at Kalinin, 95 miles northwest.

"The evacuation of Soviet troops from Odessa, organized by the red army command during the past eight days, was completed in time and in perfect order."

"Rumors disseminated by the German radio to the effect that Soviet troops were forced to evacuate Odessa in an onslaught of German and Rumanian forces are absolutely without foundation."

Broadcast

WSUI will join with WMT and the Iowa Broadcasting company to carry a play-by-play account of the Iowa-Wisconsin game direct from Madison.

The broadcast will start at 1:45 with the game scheduled to get underway at 2 o'clock.

running game, potentially the best in the conference. Iowa will punt all night, and it'll pass, but it needs that dry ground to make those aerials work and the running attack function.

Other factors will enter into the struggle, no doubt, such as the Hawks' lengthy list of partially-healed-injuries, and the extent to which Wisconsin is keyed up for the game. However, since both teams will be using practically the same type of offense, the ground will be of double importance, and its condition the prime consideration.

Paralleled Strength

Iowa will run off the Notre Dame T, and so will Wisconsin. The Hawks will go off a single wing and a box, and so will the Badgers. Dr. Eddie Anderson has two fine passers in Tom Farmer and Jim Youel, and Coach Harry Stuhldreher has another pair of aerial artists in Tom Farris and Bud Seelinger. The positive strength of both teams can be paralleled all down the line, but weather conditions will change the complexion of the battle in an instant.

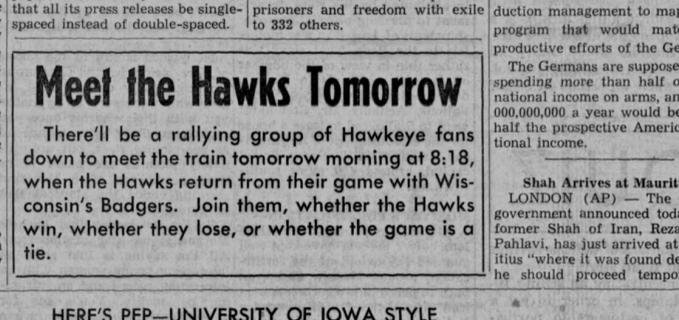

Where Iowa has Bounding Billy Green, Breakneck Bus Mertes and Terrible Tommy Farmer, Wisconsin has Seelinger, Mark Hoskins, Bob Ray and Pat Harder, and on dry ground the match should be somewhat equal.

But the Hawks have no pile-driving fullback to carry them (See HAWKS, page 4)

Meet the Hawks Tomorrow

There'll be a rallying group of Hawkeye fans down to meet the train tomorrow morning at 8:18, when the Hawks return from their game with Wisconsin's Badgers. Join them, whether the Hawks win, whether they lose, or whether the game is a tie.

Navy's Pacific Expansion Plan Now Underway

WASHINGTON (AP)—As if to serve notice that it was feeling fit for any showdown in the Pacific, the United States navy announced last night that its program of constructing air bases in that vast ocean was progressing very well.

Without as much as a mention of Japan, where an axis-minded premier has just been chosen, the new Pacific bases program is keeping well apace of the general expansion program of the navy in building up the nation's two ocean navy to the greatest array of seapower the world has ever seen.

Only a few hours earlier the navy had announced that it had ordered "a very few" American merchant ships into port for instructions.

Former French Air Chief Makes Reply To Charge of Petain

NEW YORK (AP)—Pierre Cot, former air minister of France, one of six men on whom Marshal Henri Petain Thursday placed the blame for France's military defeat, declared in a statement last night that "the truth is that the Vichy government needs a scapegoat."

Replying categorically to Petain's statements, Cot asserted: "The men of Vichy will never be able to justify the double error they committed in refusing to continue the fight in North Africa and in delivering France over to fascism. When France and the world learn the truth regarding what happened from 1934 to 1940, the responsibility of the leaders of French democracy will appear of slight importance compared to that of those men who, for long years, prepared the assassination of the French republic."

No Defeatism Signs; Only War Weariness Appears in England

CHICAGO (AP)—Tom Yarbrough, Associated Press reporter fresh from two years of duty amid the bombs and bustle of London, reported yesterday that British morale was good.

"I have never seen a sign of defeatism," he stated at the annual meeting of The Associated Press Managing Editors association.

He added that there were some indications of war "weariness" but opined they were the natural result of people going without some of the things they wanted during the war.

Yarbrough said food stocks were increasing and related that you could buy a fresh peach for 75 cents, if you could find one; that shoe strings and combs required a bit of shopping; that you bought any brand of cigarettes you could get; that you stood in line to buy tickets to a movie at prices ranging from 60 cents to $2.

French, Nazis May Patch Up State Relations

VICHY, Unoccupied France (AP)—Negotiations between French and German representatives are being held again with the possibility, authorized sources said last night, that they may lead to a resumption of formal diplomatic and consular relations between France and Germany.

Vice-Premier Admiral Jean Darlan returned here from Paris yesterday and conferred immediately with Marshal Petain, presumably to report on negotiations he has had with German authorities.

General Maxime Weygand, Vichy's military commander in north Africa, who arrived by plane Thursday, came to hear Darlan report on his collaborationist conversations, informed sources asserted.

They said the question of sending an official representative of the Vichy government to the German government in Berlin is being examined, with a view to putting an end to the break in diplomatic relations between France and Germany.

University of Utopia---

WE'LL HAVE IT SOME DAY, IF THERE ARE ENOUGH STARRY-EYED IDEALISTS

A University at Shang Ri La was something that James Hilton forgot to imagine, but since imaginative thought is so much more interesting than reality, let us found the University of Utopia.

It will make little difference whether the buildings are massive stone pillars of education or structures of frame. The pillars of education will be no greater than the interest of the individual student.

At the University of Utopia there will be no required courses. Each individual will go, at liberty, to classes and lectures he desires to attend.

Each individual will be taught that nobody cares whether a student spends his time studying or playing.

Every student will be led to realize that a college is not a place to obtain a salary-tagged diploma, but a place to follow his definite interests for the life he is to live.

There will be no tests in which a teacher tries to find out how many pages the student has neglected to memorize.

There will be no grade except self-satisfaction.

The instructors will be led to understand that their primary purpose is to inspire and work with the student. An instructor's importance will not be measured in his degrees, his published works, but it will be measured by his direct interest in and his cooperation with the student. Teaching will be in their souls, not in their titles.

There will be no diploma except the realization of something desired attained. There will be no commencement except the beginning of a happier life.

Utopia is the product of imagination and imagination is the by-product of "starry-eyed" idealism. Point out one worthwhile era in history that was not the result of imagination, and the hard work of the starry-eyed idealists who had the guts to stick up for what they wanted.

A Man About Manhattan---

By GEORGE TUCKER

Emotional Firecrackers Due to Pop If Artists Are Sentimental--

NEW YORK—If artists are really temperamental, then a few emotional firecrackers are due to go off any minute. A gloomy dramatist, an actress who talks in gushing torrents, and a promoter who had made his money dealing in tigers and freaks have formed a combine that should result presently in the opening on Broadway of a play called "Clash By Night."

The gloomy playwright is Clifford Odets. The actress whose mood is always suitably laconic is Tallulah Bankhead. The dealer in tigers, freaks and sagas of the 1930's is Billy Rose.

"Clash by Night" is a serious domestic drama about humble people. The locale is Staten Island. The only glamour it will have will be the glamour Miss Bankhead puts into her acting. There will be no rhinestone garters, bosomy chorus girls, Negro orchestras in scarlet uniforms, no tigers, elephants or champagne bubbles. Billy Rose quite probably will be shaken when he sits in on the premiere and understands at last what he has done. It will be a complete departure for Broadway's most tireless optimist.

The last time I saw Clifford Odets he was slumped dejectedly in a chair at Sardi's gazing gloomily toward the 44th street entrance. What private morose pastures his spirits were wandering in he did not say, but when I was introduced to him he shook hands weakly and lapsed back into his melancholia. I have seen this author of "Golden Boy," "Waiting For Lefty" and other successful theatrical adventures many times in public places and always his aspect has been the same. Sorrow sits on his shoulder like an outcast raven. It is an attitude I can not understand.

By way of contrast, Tallulah is an enthusiastic cart-wheeler. I imagine her family had quite a time keeping her from skinning the cat on the hitching post in front of the house when she was a little girl. Her spirits soar like undisciplined birds. When she gets a crush on anything she monopolizes it. A few years ago she got a crush on "baseball," the New York Giants in particular and in her tavern utterances she "adopted" Mel Ott, the Giant's homerun slugger who wears No. 4 on his back. The point to this tale is that shortly thereafter she spent an entire afternoon yelling for Camilli of the Brooklyn Dodgers, whom she thought was Ott, because he wore No. 4, too.

As for Billy Rose, I called to ask him what goes on and he said, "I'm only the janitor around here. Tallulah and Odets are putting on the show."

Odets, the lachrymose composer of dramas, Tallulah the exuberant co-shouter, and Rose, the dealer in tigers and water babies—that's the triumvirate, the design for temperament which has come together through the shifting tides of Broadway's night life. Will there be clashes, or only the strong, close harmony of "Clash By Night"?

The Questionable Virtuosity Of Untidy Iowa Smokers--

Cigarette stubs and ashes are not only on the campus, but in the class rooms and everywhere imaginable around here. This university certainly has its share of the tobacco plant spread out over a large area.

We judge that it has become a tradition to smoke on the Iowa campus. But we question whether, in its present form, it is a tradition to be proud of. It is certainly a tradition which doesn't speak well for itself.

We don't advocate the abolition of smoking on the campus or in the buildings, for after all, if a majority of the students at Iowa want to smoke, let them smoke. This is a free country and all that sort of thing. But wouldn't the campus look more impressive to a visitor if he didn't encounter a smoldering cigarette stub in every nook and corner?

We don't have to prohibit smoking on the campus, but tidiness, even in smoking, is a virtue.

This Was a Two-Way Business--

At Cornell college in Mt. Vernon, before the college authorities allow any of the girls to enroll in horseback riding in the physical education department, they require the student's parents to sign waivers on all claims for damages which may ensue, insisting that such students ride horseback at their own risk. One parent wrote back last week a little note which set the college authorities back a bit. Knowing the propensities of his daughter, this father wrote that he would waive all claims against the college, providing the college would likewise waive all claims on behalf of the horse.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. What denominations of defense savings stamps are on sale at retail stores?

A. Stores are concentrating on selling 10-cent and 25-cent stamps, in order to get a maximum number of customers to participate in the defense savings program. Many stores also carry 50-cent, $1 and $5 stamps. Stamps of all denominations may be purchased at post offices.

Q. Do some employers give bonuses to employees in the form of defense savings bonds and stamps?

A. Yes. Many companies have given bonds to workers, and some have promised another bond to every person buying two bonds with his own money.

Q.—How can an individual consumer help to prevent a rise in prices leading to an increased cost of living?

A.—He should avoid buying goods that are scarce, and manufactured in competition with products needed for defense, buying instead things that are plentiful. Also he should purchase defense savings bonds and stamps on a regular, systematic, and continuing basis.

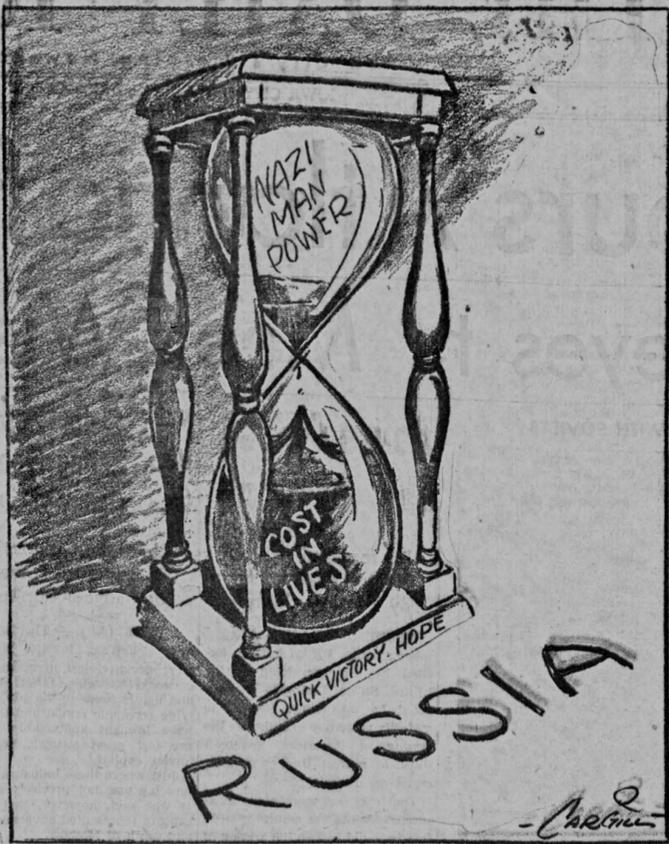

Q.—If the many Americans who are sharing in the present greater national income spend all their increased earnings, how do they lose?

A.—Such spending tends to push up the prices of products available in limited quantity. Thus, all, or almost all, of the expanded income would be absorbed by higher prices, leaving little or nothing to show for greater earnings. By restricting our spending, and investing in defense savings bonds and stamps, increase in total spending will be prevented and we can buy the goods which are scarce without a rise in prices.

Q.—Can the treasury call defense savings bonds for redemption prior to maturity?

A.—No. But a defense savings bond may be redeemed by the owner at his option in accordance with treasury regulations.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

Russians Had Planned Move from Moscow--

WASHINGTON—The Russians have long maintained a brave bluff front about their ability to hold Moscow, while quietly making arrangements to remove their government to Stalingrad, and build a new line in front of it from the Arctic to the Black sea.

This Was a Two-Way Business--

At Cornell college in Mt. Vernon, before the college authorities allow any of the girls to enroll in horseback riding in the physical education department, they require the student's parents to sign waivers on all claims for damages which may ensue, insisting that such students ride horseback at their own risk.

MOSCOW FORTIFICATION--

Militant Soviet restrictions since long before the war have kept well guarded the extent of the fortifications around Moscow. But even back in peace time a certain American official noted a 40 kilometer fortified zone of considerable depth in one quarter on the west side of this city.

MORE BRITISH AID--

The British have been moving in through Iran and the Caucasus in considerable strength to help establish the southern portion of the new front.

U.S. AND JAPAN--

Lack of news lately on the Tokyo-Washington front can be traced to a newly discovered sympathetic attitude of Japanese diplomats toward the United States. A very high Japanese authority has offered the declaration to our diplomatic officials that Tokyo's interest in Berlin has been definitely dropped.

He suggested an amicable understanding could be reached with the United States if Japan's seized interest in China could be guaranteed and economic relief could be obtained from us.

Fashion Facts Attractive Hands Important

It's a curious phenomenon, that may or may not mean something... but you never see a wallflower with beautiful hand and shining, perfect nails. Somehow... it always seems to follow... if your hands are attractive, you will be, too.

Saturday is the special day for important dates, so save time for a good manicure. It's relaxing and keeps your hands and nails lovely while they're on dress parade.

It's so easy, these days... so much easier, even than it used to be. There are new products that make things incredibly swift for you. For example—a cream nail polish remover that you simply rub on, then rinse off with water. There's no waste and no "running" onto the cuticle or skin.

Another new product by a well-known manufacturer of nail enamels goes right over your nail enamel, making it dry in practically no time at all, and tending to "seal" in its perfection and keep it from chipping.

As for your hands—any good hand lotion or hand cream can keep them soft and pretty—and even restore them to softness and prettiness after rough use has made them temporarily otherwise.

When you begin your manicure, remember that it is a gentle art. Push the cuticle back gently with oily cuticle remover on a cotton-wrapped orange stick. Never clip the cuticle—soften it.

Botany File Contains 150,000 Plants First Specimens Collected in Early '70's; Now Largest Herbarium in State

Specimens of the plant world from every corner of the earth, fumigated, pressed to paper thinness, mounted on stiff white paper and numbering 150,000 are filed away and locked in a cabinet in the botany department on the fifth floor of the chemistry building.

Thomas Huston Macbride, former University of Iowa president, and Bohumil Shimek began to collect and file away specimens for the "herbarium" when they were professors of botany at the university in the "early '70's." Each successive year has seen it grow in value and size to become the largest of 2 herbariums in the state; the other is located at Iowa State college in Ames.

A feature of the herbarium is the wide collection of mid-western and Iowa plants. Also, a representative collection from many parts of the world has been received by exchanges with herbariums. Some of the most valued plants are ones that came from the British museum as far back as 1870. A few are over 100 years old.

When a plant arrives at the botany department to be entered in the collection, it is placed in a slat press between layers of felt, pressed and dried rapidly to retain the original color. If duplicate specimens are found on file, the dried plants are used for classroom instruction and demonstration, or tossed in the waste basket.

Specimens of fruits, nuts, and tropical and American woods are boxed or bottled.

Herbariums that exchange the dried plants with the one here are the Missouri botanical garden in St. Louis; the National herbarium at Washington, D. C., and the Gray Herbarium of Harvard university.

Little Hawks Roll Over Dubuque Rams, 13-0

Casey Sparks Cormackmen To Triumph

'Joltin' Joe' Brightens City High Homecoming With Outstanding Play

By BOB BUCKLEY

Dull, rainy weather tried to dampen the City high homecoming last night but "Joltin' Joe" Casey brightened things up plenty as he led the Little Hawks to a 13 to 0 victory over the Dubuque Rams.

Casey scored both touchdowns for Iowa City, one on a 79-yard gallop and the other on a plunge from the 7-yard line; he also stopped every Dubuque threat that came through the line.

The game started out as a punting duel between Bill Sangster of Iowa City and Melvin Kadesky, Dubuque's triple threat man.

Through the first half, Kadesky kept the Howklets back in their own territory until Sangster kicked 65 yards to put the Rams back on their heels.

Casey Scores Again Iowa City came back stronger than ever in the second half and chased Dubuque all over the field.

U-High Rivermen Drop Maroon Gridders, 13-0

Bluehawk 11 Spoils Hosts' Homecoming In Conference Tilt

Charles Barber Leads Brechlermen's Attack With Two Markers

By BOB COFFMAN

In a rain-soaked homecoming game at Mt. Vernon yesterday afternoon, the U-high Bluehawks pushed the Maroons over the field to land them their fifth consecutive loss of the season, 13-0.

The Rivermen launched their first victory in the second quarter when Bill Helm, substitute tackle, broke through the Maroon line to block a punt which was recovered by Co-Capt. Lehman on the 10-yard strip.

The second score of the game occurred in the opening minutes of the third quarter when Chuck Kent and Barber cut loose on a series of end runs, advancing the ball from their own 40-yard marker to the Maroons' 15-yard strip.

The Rivermen opened up once again in the fourth quarter with a series of sweeping end runs and off tackle plays by Kent and Barber, which took them from their own 48-yard line to Mt. Vernon's 23-yard strip where the attack was stopped cold.

With only a few minutes left in the game, U-high's Coach Paul Brechler started an all-out substitution campaign.

Because of the wet field, the first quarter turned into a punting duel between George Lehman and Harold Herring, Mt. Vernon fullback.

Although the Bluehawks were unable to open up on passes and trick plays due to the slippery field, great improvement was shown in their ball handling.

U-High Starting Lineups Mt. Vernon Cobb LE, Tonne Louis LT, Lake Carson LG, Blinks Reed C, Fisher Young (CC) RG, Powers Halvorsen RT, (C) Barrett Lehman (CC) RE, Doverak Barber LH, Koch Kent RH, Milholin Rummels QB, Beranek Shay FB, Herring Officials - Still, Cooper and Beck.

Iowa's Diamond Hopes Rest on Home Staters Iowa's baseball hopes for the coming season will rest almost entirely upon players who have come to the university from cities in Iowa.

Only two veterans—Rudy Radics, New Brunswick, N. J., and Dick Hein, Erie, Ill.,—are from outside the state.

Patty Berg to Appear Here

Will Give Exhibition With Three Other Women

Patty Berg and Helen Detweiler, both nationally known women golfers and holders of many course records, Ann Casey, A3 of Mason City, and Jo McRae, A3 of Ames, will give a shot demonstration on the women's hockey field Thursday at 1:15 p.m.

Miss Berg's career began in 1932, the first year she was ever on a golf course. She played her first game on June 20, and in August qualified for the Minnesota State championship.

In 1934, Miss Berg began playing with a full set of clubs. She qualified with an 87 in the Trans-Mississippi tourney, but was eliminated in the second round 3-2.

During the eight years Patty Berg has been playing golf, she has played in 60 tournaments, won 29, reached semi-finals in 4, has won medalist honors 30 times and has been runner-up in 14 tournaments.

With nine lettermen returning, Iowa should have a well-balanced swimming team this year, according to Coach D. A. Armbruster.

The only weakness will be in the breaststroke. Al Povillaitis was unable to return and George Poulos graduates at the end of the semester.

Competition for berths in candidate events will be close between Clarence Moore, Dale Lounsbury, Dick Merrill and Lopin. Sophomores James Forrest and Carl Russell will also be on hand.

Boni Picks Wolves Over Northwestern

AP Writer Predicts Hawks Will Smother Wisconsin Gridders

By BILL BONI

NEW YORK (AP) — Through the first three weeks of the season Michigan, Northwestern, Navy and Texas have taken on the appearance of ranking college football powers.

Northwestern-Michigan (48,000)—Northwestern has kept the statistics-keepers busy in its two starts, but hasn't been up against anything like the Wolverine line, Michigan has its share of backs, too.

Navy - Cornell (40,000) — The Ithacans have made one touchdown a Saturday serve for Navy. A pretty solid vote for Navy.

Ohio State - Purdue (72,000) — Remember that Southern California rout; with an extra week's rest since then, Ohio State.

Washington-U.C.L.A. (25,000)—Washington. Yale - Army (55,000)—Can go either way. Taking Army.

through dust and mud alike, and Wisconsin has two—Harder and his sub, Ray. Green, Mertes and Farmer are capable of running the Wisconsin outposts ragged on off-tackle slants and end runs, but all are quick on cutbacks, and with treacherous footing, would have a hard time making ground.

Both Teams Ready Wisconsin, stinging from the humility of two straight defeats with overwhelming scores by Marquette and Northwestern will be ready; and Iowa, seeking to atone for its moral victory over Michigan two weeks ago, refreshed from a week of signal drills, and taking care not to underestimate the primed Badgers, won't be caught unprepared.

Iowa's injury list, including Green, Youel, Bill Stauss, Al Couppee and Jack Kennedy, will be the only inestimable part of the game. Wisconsin is sound and whole throughout, and may be able to keep capable players in the action longer than the Hawks, but all of that remains to be seen.

Iowa will "punt, pass and pray" for a dry field, and so will Wisconsin, but the teams will be praying for different reasons—the Hawks for both their running and passing games, and the Badgers for their aerial efforts.

Ohio State - Purdue (72,000) — Remember that Southern California rout; with an extra week's rest since then, Ohio State.

Washington-U.C.L.A. (25,000)—Washington. Yale - Army (55,000)—Can go either way. Taking Army.

No Circus Under 'Big Top' at Claiborne

Supply Sergt. C. O'Donnell is 'Ringmaster' In Charge of Hospital Ward Tent

CAMP CLAIBORNE, La. (Special)—"The Big Top" is what he calls it.

Underneath the canvas, held up by five big poles, almost as big as those of circus fame, are 18 other "big tops" folded neatly, and spread out in five separate piles.

Supply Sergt. Charles O'Donnell, Iowa City, member of Company I, 136th Medical Regiment, is the ringmaster; but there are no shows daily, and no admission charge, because there is a sign "keep out" at the front entrance.

Packed away underneath the "big top"—a hospital ward tent by its army name—are medical chests, and other first aid supplies.

Sergeant O'Donnell has a big job. In the tent that is pitched near the company's supply room, are blankets—stacks of them, as well as litters, cots, shovels, and other equipment needed in operating and maintaining a clearing station hospital in the field.

Medical supplies and athletic equipment are all under the "big top." Wheel barrows, with four wheels, are there too. They are used to move litters and patients from tent to tent in the field.

The sergeant has to see that each soldier in the company has his equipment in the best of condition. John McAllister of Iowa City, first class private of Company I, lost his laundry bag in the field, and Sergeant O'Donnell has to make out a requisition for another.

In the supply room tent are several stacks of new, green helmets. The medical regiment soldiers will get the new ones, and Sergeant O'Donnell has to explain to other noncommissioned officers how they should be put together. The company never has had them before. It's another day in the life of a supply "sarge."

paring 12 different types of meat dishes.

Following each of the public demonstration meetings next week the audience will be invited to sample everything that has been prepared and one of the preparations will be given to a member of the audience, Mrs. E. T. Hubbard, chairman, announced yesterday.

Billiard Champion Will Present Exhibition in Iowa Union Friday

Cue Demonstration Will Be Sponsored By Iowa Union Board

Willie Hoppe of New York City, three-cushion billiard champion and generally recognized as the world's greatest all-around billiard player will appear in the main lounge of Iowa Union at 4 p. m. Friday to demonstrate the cue wizardry that has won him every title in the game.

His visit here is being sponsored by the Iowa Union board. Bob Movers, D3 of Guthrie Center, and William Pinkston, C4 of Council Bluffs, are in charge of the exhibition.

Hoppe has been a champion billiardist since the turn of the century, but has achieved his greatest fame in 1940, when he won twenty consecutive games in the world's 3-cushion tournament, turning back the greatest stars in the game.

"Willie," as he has been known since he appeared in knee britches to astound the billiard world as a "boy wonder" will show his audience the fundamentals of good billiards, give a brief demonstration of the skill that won for him the 3 cushion title two years in a row, and open his bag of trick shots.

His name has been synonymous with championship billiards for 40 years, during which time he has held every recognized title in the green table sport.

He made a bid for the 3-cushion title in 1936 and finished second to Welker Cochran in the tournament, but he challenged Cochran after the tournament and won the title in the challenge match.

Things were relatively quiet in billiards between 1936 and 1940, but in the early months of 1940, "Willie" presented himself for play in the world's 3-cushion meet in Chicago.

Hoppe was not the favorite to win the tournament as the earlier games got under way, but he turned back star after star, eventually winning 20 straight games in the meet—a feat unprecedented in billiards.

Hoppe's brilliant achievements put new life in the game of billiards and a world's 3-cushion meet was scheduled in Chicago for 1941.

As defending champion, Willie won his first 13 games in the 1941 meet, bowed to Cochran on the 14th, and then won his three remaining games to successfully defend his title. In brief, he won 36 out of 37 games in title competition.

As Hoppe exhibits the skill that makes him a champion and demonstrates billiard tricks, he will lecture on billiard fundamentals.

Dr. A. C. Laughead Addresses Masons

Contrasts American, Egyptian Way of Life, Exhibits Costumes

"We here in America are a lot better off than we think," asserted Dr. A. C. Laughead of the university college of medicine yesterday, "but we must see how the peoples of other countries live to realize it."

Doctor Laughead spoke at the luncheon meeting of the Masonic service club on "Contrasts Between Life in America and Egypt." He graduated from the university in 1933 and went immediately to Egypt where he was in the medical service for five years.

He is now connected with the student health department at University hospital.

The life of the people in Egypt is largely dependent upon the Nile river, the speaker explained. Everything grown here must be irrigated, and the majority of the people live along canals. Since they use the same water for every purpose, disease is very prevalent, Doctor Laughead added.

Egyptians live just as they did in the days of the old testament, since life moves very slowly in the East, he asserted. All business in Egypt is conducted on a bargaining basis, and the people there have no faith or trust in anyone.

The speaker concluded his talk by showing types of clothing worn in the "Land of the Nile."

ELEVATORS FOR LIFEBOATS LATEST IN SEA SAFETY

Down to the sea—in an elevator! That's how passengers and crew members of stricken ships may find their way to safety in the future. A Los Angeles inventor has developed the idea and has offered it to the government. The large sketch depicts a ship's boats being launched by the elevator method. A feature of the boat elevators is that they would hold the descending lifeboat level no matter how the sinking ship might be listing.

Chest Drive Totals $4,342

With Community chest drive contributions coming in yesterday faster than on any other day of the drive so far, total chest collections amounted to $4342 last night, Alva B. Oathout, drive chairman, said.

New Lighting System For Airport Runway Discussed at Meeting

A permanent lighting system for the east-west concrete runway, to be opened sometime next week at the municipal airport, was discussed by local and government officials at a meeting Thursday.

Blueprints for the system, which is to be installed in conjunction with a new runway now under construction, are being completed by W. J. Buchele, city engineer. The new lights will give the airport added facilities for night flying.

Pouring of concrete for the new runway has been postponed by rainy weather, but as soon as the weather is favorable, work will be resumed, Buchele said. The runway is expected to be completed this fall.

Besides government and private airline representatives, Wilbur Cannon, H. L. Kinsey and W. J. Buchele, all of Iowa City, attended Thursday's meeting.

A Descendant of A Shakespearean Hero? Student's Family Tree Traces to Macbeth

Most of us would be a little surprised to find a descendant of Macbeth on the university campus. Yet, according to Emerson R. Marks, G of Yorktown Heights, N. Y., this isn't altogether impossible.

"My mother's name was Finlay," says Mark, "and her ancestors lived in Scotland."

Now according to history, Macbeth, the gentleman upon whom Shakespeare based his tragedy, had a surname, Finlay. His full name, written in the Chronicle, was Macbeth mac Minlay.

"This," he explained, "made my uncle suspicious. Delving into genealogy he traced back our family history and came to the conclusion that we were the offspring of a regicide."

Marks, who doesn't take his pedigree seriously, was graduated from City college in New York City in 1940. After a "semester of aimlessly chopping locust trees" on his grandfather's farm, he came to the Iowa campus last January.
