Tom Farmer Leads Hawkeyes to 21-0 Victory Over Illinois

By BILL BUCKLEY Daily Iowan Sports Editor CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—(Special to the Daily Iowan)—Thumpin' Tommy Farmer came into his own here yesterday afternoon, running, throwing and kicking Iowa to a smothering 21-0 defeat of Illinois...

that's been expected of him for the last two years, included two touchdown passes, an average of 5 yards per running attempt in 16 tries, and three straight successful place-kicks, something of a record-breaking performance in recent Iowa football history.

Although Farmer was the most brilliant back on the field, the rest of the Iowa offense, Bus Mertes and Bill Green, worked with precision-like excellence for the greater part of the struggle.

That was outside right tackle, and most of the Illinois threats were set up with long runs through this hole.

Mertes legged it to the 45 around left end, and Farmer whipped a pass to Parker on the Illinois 47.

That was the first half and the first quarter as far as the Hawks were concerned, for Illinois, inspired by this, its last home game, made three deep invasions of Iowa territory, and halted a lone Iowa push on its own 16.

Iowa rolled into the second half with that old confidence which has spelled defeat for two straight conference opponents, and got its second touchdown after 10 minutes of the third quarter.

The Hawks rambled to the Illinois 20, before being halted, and Farmer's coffin-corner kick, rolling out on the 1 1/2 yard line trapped the Illini. Illinois kicked out but Farmer turned in a 24-yard run back to the Illinois 21. Mertes and Farmer took it to the 11, the teams exchanged fumbles, and from the 8, Farmer whipped a perfect strike (See HAWKS, page 6)

TWO YOUNG MEN SPEAK THEIR MINDS, SENSIBLY AND WISELY, ON THE QUESTION OF WAR AND PEACE

(Yesterday The Daily Iowan carried a talk presented by Merle Miller, former columnist and city editor of The Iowan, before the Continental Congress for Freedom in Washington, D. C.)

(This morning we present talks presented over the Columbia Broadcasting system's coast-to-coast network on Oct. 24, by John N. Brooks Jr., chairman of the Daily Princetonian at Princeton university and Charles P. Gyllenhaal, acting editor of the Daily Pennsylvanian at the University of Pennsylvania.)

(As we said yesterday, these young men do not profess to speak for the whole of American youth. But an analysis of what they have to say indicates clearly that these are not impassioned pleas without foundation. These are the words of men reared in a cynical world—a world in which war was hated, feared and held in suspicion by an entire nation. Brought up in such a world, a world all of us knew through personal experience, it is significant that these young men can speak as they do with firm conviction, with solid determination, and yet with a spark of faith which alone may save this world from utter ruin.—The Editor.)

WE MUST NOT FAIL AGAIN!

(By John N. Brooks Jr.)

I am not a member of Fight for Freedom, and I do not attempt to speak for American youth. I can only give you an idea of what goes on in the minds of a small representation of American youth at Princeton university; and I can offer my own thoughts as those of one young American, ignorant as youth must be, realistic in my hopes for my own future and idealistic in my hopes for the future of a nation and a world.

Last year a spirited debate went on at Princeton, as throughout the nation, between isolationists and interventionists. It was fun while it lasted, but as the months went by the process of events began to invalidate the debate.

The area of argumentation became rapidly smaller. It became increasingly plain that America was irrevocably committed to the defeat of Hitler, even at the cost of total war.

Gradually Princeton undergraduates came to see that there is no question of turning back; that the destruction of Hitler is recognized by Americans as being more important to the cause of freedom than staying at peace.

If that policy means war—next year or next week—we are willing to undertake it; not as a glorious adventure that can end only in discussion but as a dirty and necessary business. Only a small minority fail to realize that the issue is decided, and still raise their voices of obstruction in belated protest.

All this is simple, but the problem facing America is far from simple. I and many of my associates demand a more positive goal than merely keeping Hitler from our shores. I am firm in my conviction that the primary goal of American policy must be not the defeat of Hitler in itself, but the establishment of an orderly international society living in accordance with the democratic way of life, a society in which the cataclysm of world war will never be permitted to recur. The defeat of Hitler is a necessary condition to the attainment of this ideal; as long as he and his legions are on the loose, durable peace is an idle dream.

There are those who cry, "One thing at a time! Let's win this war, and worry about world order afterward."

Haven't we learned the disaster of that line of reasoning? Woodrow Wilson went to war in 1917 wanting lasting peace; but the American people were clamoring for victory. They got the victory; they failed to get the peace. That is why we have to fight today.

Now, rather than only after the victory has been won, is the time for emphasis on peace aims. We must study the tragic lesson of Versailles and after; we must discover how to profit from the mistakes made then. And though the machinery of world peace cannot be exactly decided until after the victory, the determination and will of America to accept its post-war international responsibilities must be built up before it is too late.

This is a fight not only for freedom, but for its corollaries, peace and security. America lost its chance for them once; we must not fail again.

WE WILL NOT TURN BACK!

(By Charles P. Gyllenhaal)

America's young people believe there is nothing more important than the final and complete defeat of Nazi Germany. We are convinced that this can only be accomplished by the immediate entrance of the United States into an active war.

A year ago I wouldn't have dared to make this statement. But there has been a change, a change which has manifested itself in student war polls, in the editorial policies of student newspapers, and in the expressed attitudes of all young people, both in college and out of college. Yes, youth is ready and willing to fight for freedom.

The older generation doesn't realize what a serious decision this has been for us to make. Time and again I have heard my elders express impatience at the cool attitude most of us have taken during the past few years.

They forget that we are the ones who will take the brunt of this decision. It will be the youth who will suffer and die. It should be easy to understand, then, that we would hesitate. You have taught us to think before leaping. You have warned us against rushing headlong into disaster at the glare of a bugle, the sound of martial music.

We have heeded your warning. We have clearly thought out the consequences. We see that there can be no future for us, that we might as well discard our ambitions, our hopes, our plans—the dreams we cling to even though we are told that they will never come true—we have decided that we might as well forget these hopes until Hitler's Waterloo has been written down in history. Until then there will be nothing for us but uncertainty, fear, and military service.

Thus the ideals for which we wish to fight are concrete ideals. In the past they have been called freedom and democracy. To us they are the right to plan our lives, to pursue our chosen professions and ambitions, to be masters of our government and not its servants, to establish a family and to enjoy the peace of mind that comes with lifelong security.

We will fight at our own accord. We will not flinch; we will not complain; we will not turn back. We ask but one thing of the older generation.

Do not expect us to destroy the monster you created by your negligence, unless you guarantee that you will not stop us from making certain that such a monster will never rise again. We must be assured that we will not fight and perhaps die in vain.

The youth of America will not stand by and see our nation sink its huge resources into an investment and then crawl into the hole of isolationism before the dividends are paid.

Our fight will be a fight for a new world, a world of international freedom and security. We will still be fighting to build this world long after the last bomb is dropped.

Do not defeat the very purpose of the fight for freedom when the inevitable wave of selfish nationalism engulfs us after the victory is won.

We must remember what we are fighting for during the war, and also after the war.

But right now nothing is more important than that we start fighting. Congress must obey its constituents and repeal the neutrality act, the force that besmirches our national dignity. The president must immediately order the navy to hunt down every German submarine on the seven seas. And then as quickly as possible our government must recognize that a state of war exists between the United States and Nazi Germany.

The secretary of the treasury has announced that the present $65,000,000,000 debt ceiling will probably have to be raised the first of next year to cover defense spending. Almost simultaneously some defense office has requested citizens to send them millions of steel coat-hangers.

The New Books—

by Ruth K. Mason

THE BOOK: Change of Season, Farrar and Rinehart, $1.50.
THE AUTHOR: Helene Magaret.
THE REVIEWER: Sherman Conrad.

The work of Helene Magaret—her previous books of verse and her life of Father de Smet—has placed her, one gathers, among the best known writers of this region. Her books are widely spoken of and spoken well of. Such value as my remarks on this book of poems may have, must derive from the fact that I come to it without any previous direct experience of her former productions. To such a newcomer there are certain facts at once apparent about these poems.

The metrical forms most frequently used are the octosyllabic four-line stanza and the sonnet. The first is the most common form in English poetry, and eventually goes back to folk ballad. The second is the most conventional short verse form in English for the polished, elegant formal statement. Miss Magaret uses both as she has been always used.

Into the four-line stanza go her stories, "Horses of Paradise," her lighter genre bits, "Polish Mother," and her religious and ruminative pieces of a slighter, song-like variety, "Ring out the Kyrie Eleison, boys."

Into the sonnets go her more serious and ambitious pronouncements on religion, and particularly, on love.

Of other writers there are references to Isaiah, Plato, Socrates, Dante, St. Francis, Nietzsche, Keats, Shelley, Walt Whitman and Ezra Pound; of musicians, Bach and Ravel. There is an extensive use made of the stock figures in Christian mythology, as well as some Nordic and Buddhist folklore. The very great preponderance of individual images is drawn from the common facts of nature—snow, flowers, sun, wind. A part of them is recognizably middle-western corn and prairies. The rhymes throughout are of the kind most easily come by—star, are, breath; death. The rhythms within the forms are stretched from regularity never so slightly.

Now considering all I have just remarked (and one remarks all this at once upon reading the book) the poetry reader might well believe, without specific reference to the poems themselves, that I have described a poet and a body of work very central in the main stream of English poetry. The "great influences" of the Christian humanist tradition are felt; the "great" traditional forms are employed; life roots in its own time and locality making connections with the "significant" past or present. Certainly, generally speaking,

F.R. Seeks Plan For Longer Working Hours

WASHINGTON—Mr. Roosevelt was not just throwing out an off-hand suggestion when he mentioned longer working hours. His defense force has been working on that idea quietly for some several weeks and for a definite plan. His remarks were the beginning of a build-up for revision of defense contracts and an extended working week.

MANY SEE DEFEAT OF NAZIS THIS WINTER

The general staff here still clings to the expectation that Hitler will find himself vastly over-committed in Russia during the winter. You may read of towns conquered but the important part of der fuhrer's warfare is supplying material and replacements to the advance guard. The deeper the conquest, the greater the problem of supply.

CONGRESS NOT IN ACCORD WITH MORGENTHAU

Not many congressmen like Mr. Morgenthau's glib talk about increasing taxation. His argument is that heavy taxes will stop inflation but the argument would go bigger in congressional quarters if the administration had taken hold of the chief threat of inflation, rising prices.

ARMY PLANS SPRING CAMPAIGN

The phase of war upon which this government is starting will call for men as well as ships. Army preparations are bent towards a spring campaign wherever the commander-in-chief designates. The betting within the army indicates it will be Dakar or Spain. And the supposition is prevalent in the senate.

Off With the Hair! Coeds Disregard Call For Casual Curls

What's the matter with University of Iowa fashion flairs? Seemingly, the coeds are trying to "jump the gun." They aren't yielding this season—they just won't clip those tresses.

Locks are three inches below the collar line, and they aren't being cut because it took more than a day to grow them. Then, too, during the hot summer the tresses were endured because it was the fad. Now, when winter comes and the locks are nice and warm, fashion says off with them.

Short hair! Short hair! Hollywood is crying it; Fifth avenue is singing it. It's an echo heard around the world of fashion.

Since it is the style, there are endless individual possibilities. Here's how five of Hollywood's smartest shorties keep their tresses in line.

Let's take a look at Claudette Colbert first—she favors piquant bangs, with a flurry of short brisk end curls. Then there's Hollywood's Luella Parsons—she advocates a short bob with tapered nape. Now, Laraine Day wears a crisp brush, cut with a high toplock. Judy Garland and Kathryn Grayson say it's the shortest way—casual curls all over.

If you insist on having your cake and eating it, too, you can create the illusion of short hair and still keep your treasured locks. Your hairdresser, or you, can pin it up in such a way to make it look like the latest styles. The way doesn't matter, the idea is "up high with the tresses."

University Lecturer, Pedro—A Metallic Personality

—Speaks Without Thinking

An unusual guest will come to Macbride auditorium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night—unusual because he can speak without thinking of what to say next, he can be made to say anything anyone wants him to say and is not afraid to make weird sounds for a university lecture program.

His name is "Pedro, the Voder," with a personality that is mechanically impressive. Dr. J. O. Perrine, assistant vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, is his sponsor. The two will give a lecture-demonstration of "The Artificial Creation of Speech."

"Pedro" is an "ensemble" that can be made to speak by the combination of electrical currents.

The idea for such a machine grew out of a demonstration that an electrical current carrying voice modulations could be passed through wave filter circuits which would sort out the vibrations and put them in a separate circuit.

None of these, however, would produce any sound that sounded like spoken words, but when these vibrations were reassembled electrically the original voice was recreated.

John Mills, director of publications at the Bell Telephone laboratories, conceived the idea of using as demonstration equipment the half of the circuits which reassembled the fundamental sounds and recreated the human voice.

Mills suggested a keyboard which would control the vibrations in the right pitch so that they could be fed into a synthesizer at the appropriate instant to create a voice.

From this research has resulted "Pedro, the Voder"—which is the only instrument of its type in the world today.

When the operator wants "Pedro" to make sounds like the human vocal cords, he depresses a

MEET AARDVARK—MUSEUM ODDITY

"And the first animals that went into the ark were an alligator and an aardvark"—so went the tale of Noah and his ark in Marc Connelly's play "Green Pastures." When one sees this odd animal, the aardvark, which is on display in the university museum, one is indeed reminded of an animal from the storied past. Its most peculiar features are its long rabbit-like ears, its hog-like snout for rooting out ants, kangaroo-like tail, and large powerful feet armed with claws. About five feet long and weighing 150 pounds, this odd animal burrows in the ground for shelter in its native home, Ethiopia. It is comparatively harmless unless attacked, when its heavy claws make it a dangerous adversary.

Mayor Has Nothing To Say on Decision To Run for Congress

Mayor Henry F. Willenbrock said last night that he had not yet prepared a formal statement in accordance with his decision to seek the democratic nomination for United States representative from the first congressional district.

He said, however, that a committee of democrats including Charles Chansky and Frank Belger had communicated with officials in Des Moines informing them of Willenbrock's intention to place his name on the ballot for the primary election, June 1, 1942.

Willenbrock must file petitions bearing signatures of voters from each county in the first district between April 1 and April 2 of next year. These papers will constitute an official announcement that Willenbrock will be a candidate for the nomination.

Willenbrock unofficially declared Friday that he would seek the office. Senator Clyde L. Hering (D) was described as "perfectly satisfied" with the choice made by democratic leaders in this district.

Willenbrock said he had been assured that he would receive Hering's support in the event he chose to enter the race.

Joseph Poduska Named In $700 Damage Action Filed by Joseph Yeggy

Joseph Poduska, et al, are named defendants in an action filed Friday in district court by Joseph Yeggy, et al, asking $700 damages for moving a fence line, removing trees from plaintiff's premises.

In addition, he asks the court to establish a roadway over defendants' property.

According to the petition, the defendants own 15 acres of land adjoining Yeggy's farm through which a roadway passes from the plaintiff's property to the public highway.

The plaintiff's petition asks that the defendants be compelled to remove a fence and refrain from interfering with his lawful use of the roadway. The petitioner also asks that the fence line be set back on the defendants' own premises.

The plaintiff demands $500 damages because he is denied use of the right-of-way and for expense and inconvenience to maintain a roadway through a creek bottom adjoining the road.

For wrongfully moving the boundary fence line and removing trees from plaintiff's property, the petitioner asks $200 damages. Atty. Arthur O. Leff represents the plaintiff.

Seven-Day Iowa Open Season on Pheasants Begins November 12

Announcement of a seven-day open season on pheasants in Cedar county from Nov. 12 to Nov. 18, inclusive, was made this week by the Iowa State conservation commission.

As yet no information has been received by local sportsmen relative to opening Johnson county. It is reported, however, that conservation officials have made a survey here but no results of their findings have been revealed.

The conservation commission granted permission to shoot Chippewa, Magdolan and ringneck pheasants in Cedar county after investigation of the bird population. Over 50 other Iowa counties, mostly in the northwest section, will have opening season this year on the same dates.

Reports from areas in the neighboring county indicate that the pheasant crop is one of the best in recent years. Virtually the same conditions prevail in Johnson county but veteran sportsmen are uncertain what the game commission will do here.

According to the administrative order issued by F. T. Schwob, state conservation director, the daily bag limit in Cedar county is set at three male birds and a possession limit of six birds.

Shooting may begin at noon each day and ends at 5 p. m. the state order designates.

'Musts in Meal Plans' Will Be Final Course On Nutrition Program

A course titled "Musts in Meal Planning" will be offered by the Johnson county nutrition society during the fourth and final week of the "Food for Fitness" program, it was announced yesterday.

According to Mate L. Giddings, foods instructor in the university home economics department, the course will consist of a summary of the preceding lessons and what constitutes a perfectly balanced daily diet.

A week's menu for a family of four will be set up and the preparation of school lunches will be discussed. Pamphlets outlining the low, modest, and generous cost diets will be distributed.

Cooking demonstrators have taken a short preparatory course under the direction of Miss Giddings.

Because of the Armistice day holiday, fifth ward and first ward and University Heights will meet together tomorrow night at the Community building.

Fifth ward chairman and co-chairman are Mrs. Vern Bales and Mrs. Sidney Miller. First ward and University Heights chairman and co-chairman are Mrs. A. G. Derksen and Mrs. Bradley Davis.

Demonstrators at the meeting will be Mrs. Bales and Mrs. C. L. Beck. Hostesses include Mrs. W. H. Cress, Mrs. Howard Snyder, Mrs. Hugh Carson and Mrs. Arnold Small.

Red Cross Executive Declares Membership Doubled to Meet National Defense Demands

"Demands of the national defense program and the need for foreign war relief in Europe and Asia have resulted in doubling the Iowa Red Cross membership quota for 1941," Mrs. Edna Schrafel, Red Cross executive from St. Louis, said yesterday.

Mrs. Schrafel, visiting Iowa City over the week end, is general Iowa field representative for the organization and has been checking the Iowa City roll call plans.

"National defense demands have the priority," she continued, "and the Red Cross has been designated by an act of congress to operate as a relief and moral agency in the naval, marine, air and army bases and camps."

Stressing the part played by the organization in the defense program, Mrs. Schrafel said that the Surgeon General of the army and navy had requested that production start on 40,000,000 surgical dressings to be available for instant use should the need arise.

Church Will Dedicate 3 Remodeled Rooms At Morning Service

Three large Sunday school rooms at the First Methodist church, recently remodeled and redecorated, will be dedicated at 9:30 this morning, Dr. Edwin E. Voigt, pastor, announced yesterday.

A procession to the church parlors and the presentation address by Alva B. Oathout, chairman of the building committee, will be included in today's ceremonies. Lee Nagle, chairman of the official board, will respond to Mr. Oathout and will conduct the formal dedication and opening of the rooms.

Miss Genevieve Wendlandt will play. The official opening and installation of teachers for the Sunday school will be led by Mrs. Frank A. Kinney, chairman of the board of religious education. Class superintendents are Mrs. Donald E. Mallet, toddlers; Mrs. Scott Reger, kindergarten; Mrs. E. E. Bright, primary; Mrs. C. W. Keyser, junior grades; Mrs. C. J. Lapp, junior high; and Mrs. Stanley Martin, senior high.

WE'RE READY

make a gain to learn the right way to do things on the gridiron. They say the Hawks found themselves last Saturday against Indiana. That "found" feeling was evident in the chatter of all the players as they slaped tape and trotted to the showers in today's post-game atmosphere of keen and confident pleasure. This victory went in the Hawks' new-found stride, their grins denoted the enthusiasm, the hidden power, the determination of old, and there can't be any question about it, next week's game will be a battle.

The blood plasma bank system, inaugurated last February, will be expanded from 10,000 to 200,000 donors. The Red Cross will train 500,000 home nurses and 100,000 hospital nurse aids, she pointed out.

Mrs. Schrafel explained that in order to safeguard civilian population the national organization and its chapters must organize evacuation schemes, first aid detachments, ambulance and hospital services and expand canteens and motor corps.

"Duties of the Red Cross have increased 1500 per cent over last year," she concluded, "and it should be the patriotic duty of every American to subscribe for a membership."

The Johnson county drive will begin Nov. 11. Types of memberships include annual, $1; contributing, $5; sustaining, $10; and supporting, $25.

Wildcats Score In Fourth To Win, 20 to 14

Hillenbrand, Hoosier Star, Runs 72 Yards For Early Marker

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern, bounding back after its heartbreaking defeat by Minnesota a week ago, plunged to a fourth period touchdown yesterday to defeat a stubborn Indiana eleven, 20 to 14, before 32,000 chilled spectators. Flurries of snow fell during most of the game.

The supposedly inferior Hoosiers, victorious over only Nebraska in six games, threw a tremendous scare into the Wildcats by scoring first early in the game and then coming from behind in the third to tie the score at 14-14.

Three Iron Men
The inspired performance of the Hoosiers was principally due to the 19-year-old sophomore left half, Bill Hillenbrand, Evansville, Ind., who broke away to a 72-yard touchdown gallop after a pass interception early in the first period. Hillenbrand then sparked a 65-yard touchdown march in the third quarter, tossing a lateral to Charles Jacoby who raced around left end from the one for the second Hoosier score. Both Jacoby and Hillenbrand played the full sixty minutes as did teammate, Charles Steele, right guard.

After Hillenbrand's long jaunt Northwestern came right back. Taking the ball on their own 43, the Wildcats marched 57 yards in nine plays with Otto Graham, sensational sophomore halfback, and Don Clawson, fullback, carrying the ball to Indiana's six. There Clawson ripped center to score and Dick Erdlitz' placement tied the count, 7 to 7.

Graham Scores
Graham's 42-yard pass to Clarence (Bud) Hase on the Indiana 11 set up the second touchdown. Graham in three smashes juggled the ball to the one and then dived over center for the touchdown. Erdlitz' placement sent Northwestern ahead, 14-7.

The Hoosiers came back to tie the score on a 65-yard drive at the start of the third. After the kickoff, Hillenbrand, Jacoby and Doloway battered the Wildcats back to their own 26. Then Hillenbrand dashed off right tackle for 22 yards. He followed by piling 13 within six inches of the goal and then losing a yard on the next smash, lateraled to Jacoby who raced around his own left end to score. Gene White placekicked the tying point.

Clawson, leading ground gainer of the game with 96 yards, paced the Wildcats' victorious drive which started on Indiana's 45. Graham passed 16 yards to Bob Mott for a first down on the 29. He lost seven and then passed to Mott for 11 more, to the 21. Then Clawson got 21 yards in four tries, going over from the two. Erdlitz' placement was blocked by Ken Smith.

Underdog Pitt Claws Fordham Rams, 13-0

By DUKE MORAN
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pitt 13; Fordham 0.

And thereby hangs another enactment of football's favorite saga—the story of the team that always was beaten rising to glory behind a shocking upset of the team that couldn't be beaten. In this case it was a band of badly mauled Pitt Panthers—they hadn't won once in five previous starts—who smashed down a potential football powerhouse, the all-victorious Fordham Rams, and dealt their post season hopes a blow.

The Panthers not only defeated the Rams—they balked the touted powerhouse at every turn and clearly led in every department of play. They drove 70 yards to score in the first 12 minutes of play. Sophomore Frank Saksa bulleted through from the Fordham one-yard line and guard Ralph Fife connected from placement for the extra point.

Then, after stopping Fordham's vaunted attack for almost three full periods, the Panthers capitalized on Ram desperation and scored the clincher late in the fourth quarter. Edgar "Special Delivery" Jones, Pitt's great back from Scranton, Pa., accounted for this score, rambling 30 yards to the promised land after intercepting a Ram artery. The farthest Fordham penetrated Pitt territory was the 13-yard line in the third period and an interference ruling on a forward pass got them that far.

Ohio State Dumps Wisconsin, 46 to 34 In Free Scoring Tilt

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—In the wildest scoring contest ever witnessed in the big Buckeye stadium, Ohio State defeated Wisconsin 46 to 34 yesterday before 58,519 shivering fans to take over third place in the Western conference championship scrap.

The rival coaches, "Four-Horseman" Harry Stuhldreher of the Badgers and Paul E. Brown of the Bucks, promised to shoot the works for a big crowd which included 10,000 from their home town of Massillon—and they did it with a vengeance.

No Defense
They showed everything except a defense. A dozen touchdowns leaked through as the two clubs piled up 80 points—one of the greatest totals in Big Ten history.

The Bucks scored seven touchdowns, and they made them on sustained marches or quick thrusts which covered 70, 74, 70, 64, 66, 44 and 67 yards while the Badgers marched 35, 45, 80, 61 and 65 yards for their markers.

Pat Harder, Wisconsin's great sophomore fullback, scored two touchdowns and booted one extra point to boost his Big Ten scoring record to 45 points for four games, but he was forced to relinquish the contest's scoring laurels to Jack Graf, Ohio's rangy fullback, who crossed the Badgers' goal line three times, once on a 64-yard jaunt over tackle. It was Graf's first start since he was hurt in the Purdue game.

Three Inn First
The Bucks started fast, counting three touchdowns in the first period, after Wisconsin had taken the lead.

Ohio went scoreless only in the second period, in which the Badgers counted with three seconds to go in what might have been another "fifth down" episode had Wisconsin won. Everyone in the press box agreed that the score on halfback Leonard Seelinger's eight-yard pass to quarterback Tom Farris, was made on fifth down.

Snow fell hard during portions of the game but failed to cool the hot-scoring players.

Coaches, Newswriters Disagree on 'Fifth Down'

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Rival coaches failed to agree with sportswriters today that Wisconsin benefited from a "fifth down" as it scored a touchdown with three seconds to go in the first half of the Ohio State game. Two penalties mixed up in the series were announced in the press box as having been assessed against the Badgers for too many times out—which would not have affected the downs.

From the coaches' came these comments: Paul Brown, Ohio State: "There was no fifth down for Wisconsin. I watched the series closely. Two penalties near Ohio's goal line must have been misinterpreted."

Harry Stuhldreher, Wisconsin: "This is the first mention I've heard about a 'fifth down.' I'm sure there was none, but I must admit we were playing with the clock 'then because of the time.'"

Crimson Defense Stops Unbeaten Cadets, 20-6, Before Crowd of 55,000

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Army's previously unbeaten Cadets pounded themselves into weariness while charging against Harvard's famed stonewall defense and wound up as the victims of a shocking 20-6 setback yesterday before 55,000 spectators.

While ruining Army's clean slate, the burly Harvard's enabled their coach, Dick Harlow, to gain his first success against Earl Blaik, the Cadets' new head football tutor. The latter produced six consecutive winners over Harlow-trained teams before he left Dartmouth for West Point.

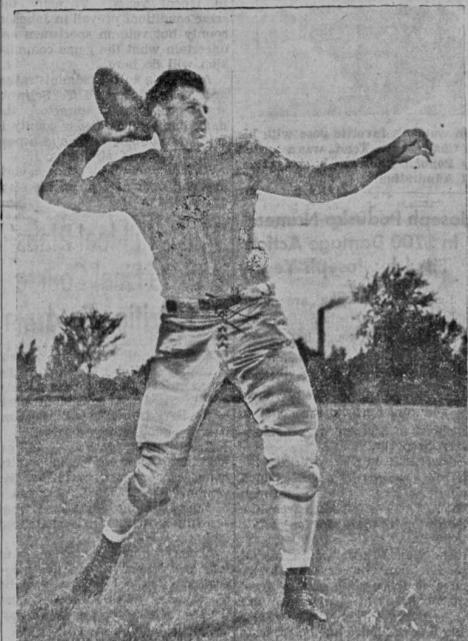

Mazur, Hill and Johnny Hatch, the Army's best ball carriers, made desperate efforts to get rolling but the battering they took from the Crimson's powerful linemen had them down to snail's pace midway through the second period. As the Cadets faltered, Harvard opened its long-delayed offense, which, in 4 minutes provided them with 2 points, seven more than it was able to register in all its five previous games this season.

Auburn Defeated
BIRMINGHAM Ala. (AP)—Unbeaten Mississippi State reasserted its challenge for the South-eastern conference championship yesterday, whipping Auburn 14-7. The once-tied Maroons, digging deep in their bag of tricks, came from behind with two swift touchdowns in the third period—one of them a 75-yard gallop by speedy Blondy Black—for their first win over Auburn since 1930.

Old Purdue Can't Capitalize on Chances, So Boilermakers Tie Spartans, 0 to 0

17,000 Watch Game; Two Threats Fail, One at Final Gun

By HAROLD HARRISON
LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—The Boilermakers of Old Purdue came close to the promised land today, but couldn't quite make the game and had to settle for a scoreless tie with Michigan State on a snow-sogged gridiron before 17,000 shivering spectators.

Purdue had two grand scoring chances and Michigan State none. The first Boilermaker threat came in the second quarter after Bob Chester, Tony Berto and John Andrelich had driven down to the Michigan State 12. There an end-around play on fourth down found a yard to go missed.

That was the only serious scoring threat until the final quarter when Bob Johnson, Purdue center, who has played every minute of the Boilermakers' six games, intercepted a pass thrown by Richard Kippe on the Spartan 27.

It looked like Purdue's chance. Johnson, however, made a bad pass from center, Walter Cook fumbled it and Robert Friedlund of Michigan State recovered at his own 33. The game ended seconds later. Both teams were shooting for a .500 percentage in today's game, each has won two games and lost three.

The Spartans made seven first downs to three for Purdue and gained 78 yards by rushing to 76 for the Boilermakers. On forward passes the Spartans picked up sixty yards to 26 for Purdue.

Iowa Cross-Countrymen Downed by Illinois, 16-43

Iowa's cross-country team suffered a crushing defeat at the hands of Illinois at Champaign yesterday, 16 to 43. Reesberg of Illinois came in first in 10:35 followed by three teammates. Dick Keil of Iowa led his squad by placing fifth.

Other Iowa positions were: Welt and Albright, ninth; Lord, tenth; and Workman, eleventh.

Big Green Takes Tiger
PRINCETON (AP)—Dartmouth defeated Princeton 20 to 13 today in a dizzy ball game which saw the Indians score on a fumble in the first two and one-half minutes, take a 20 to 0 lead in the third quarter, and then saw Princeton take over the game and score twice on passing attacks engineered by Bob Perina.

HAWKS

down the middle to Parker in the end zone for a touchdown. Farm-er's placekick was never in doubt. Iowa struck with startling suddenness in the first few minutes of the final quarter, when Bob Penaluna, who played a wonderful game at guard in his first conference competition, recovered a fumble on his own 44.

Farmer on the first play, faked a reverse to Bill Staus, tore inside his own right tackle, and feinted, drove, pushed and bulled his way 37 yards to the Illinois 19. Except for a lone Illinois defender who caught him from behind just as he cut into the clear, it was a clear, undisputed touchdown.

Staus plunged to the 14, and then in three straight plays, Farmer drove through right tackle once and left tackle twice for the final score. His place kick was again on the beam.

Iowa's subs poured in at this point and even they could not be denied. Jim Youel ran 43 yards around right end at one phase, and Bob Bender pitched a touchdown pass to Jack Maher at another. Both times the threats were stopped—one by a fumble, and once by a penalty.

So it's Minnesota next for the Hawks.

Sweiger Scores To Give Minnesota Lads 15th Straight Victory

By JAY VESSELS
MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 8 (AP)—Minnesota's Golden Gophers won their fifteenth straight football game today, defeating Nebraska, 9 to 0, in a stubbornly fought contest.

Stepping methodically along toward another perfect season, Coach Bernie Bierman's outfit held the upper hand from the start, but once more it was that sensational little man—Bud Higgins—who sparked the Gopher scoring punch.

In the second period he kicked 10 yards for a first down on the Nebraska one, from where Bob Sweiger powered it over for the game's only touchdown.

Block Try
The Huskers smashed through to block the try for point and that was the way things remained right on through the third period.

Early in the fourth period, Bill Daley tried for a field goal from the Huskers' 22 but it was wide. Then came a punt exhibition and Bill began plunging for substantial yardage. He battered to the Nebraska seven where on fourth down, Bill Garnas booted a field goal.

Nebraska, handicapped without Fullback Vike Francis, gamely gathered in considerable yardage. But its long and short pass game was thoroughly covered by an alert secondary and Minnesota's brilliant tackle Dick Wildung took care of the ground attack by repeatedly breaking through and tossing the ball carriers for losses.

Thompson Shines
Most of Minnesota's troubles on the offensive were cooked up by Marvin Thompson, Nebraska's right end, who harassed the Gophers from start to finish.

Nebraska made its first and last serious bid for a touchdown just as the first half ended when Bradley completed a 20-yard forward to Metheny to put the ball on the Minnesota 3. But the gun sounded before another play could be attempted.

The game was played before 43,000 fans with the temperature below the freezing point and a raw wind whipping across the field.

Stanford Rolls On Toward Rose Bowl

Indians Hit U.S.C. In First Quarter, Win Fourth Loop Game

By ROBERT MEYERS
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Scoring twice in the first period, Stanford university's vaunted touchdown machine swept over Southern California and on along the road to the Rose Bowl yesterday.

Remaining in absolute command of the Pacific coast conference championship battle, these rollicking, gambling gridironers from Palo Alto turned back the Trojan threat 13 to 0 in a game that was settled in the first 15 minutes of the day. The largest crowd of the season—87,000—sat in on this 21st encounter between the rivals.

69-Yard Run
Stanford's first touchdown came on a brilliant 69-yard run by Eric Armstrong, 165-pound speedster from Portland, Ore., who plays right half for the Indians.

The second a few minutes later culminated a 38-yard running, passing smash across the Trojan goal after Trojan quarterback Bobby Robertson had fumbled the ball into Stanford's possession. Willard Sheiler, stand-in for fullback Milt Vuemich, hit the line from the one yard line for the score.

Misses Conversion
All-American Frankie Albert, Stanford's gifted field general, missed the first conversion but scored the second.

The victory gave Stanford four victories to its one defeat by Oregon State earlier in the season. The team has threatening Washington State and its big game with California yet to be played.

St. Louis II tied North Shore II in the first game 0-0. St. Louis I defeated North Shore I by a score of 2-1. Milwaukee outplayed Wetomachek 3-0. In another close game Evanston beat the Reserves 4-3. In the last game of the afternoon played in semi-darkness Chicago I tied Madison 1-1.

The midwestern association team to be selected from outstanding players in the tournament will be announced after all the games have been played. This team will compete in the national tournament.

Sooners Run Rampant As Hapless Iowa State Falls by Wayside, 55-0

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma's rampant Sooners threw Iowa State's Cyclone into reverse today, sweeping the invaders from the field, 55 to 0, in a brilliant display of football power.

To the cheers of a homecoming crowd of 15,000, three big Red teams blew across the field in relentless gusts, scoring almost at will against the Stars, who never seriously threatened.

Coach Dewey Luster threw 44 players into the melee, and each combination clicked against the outmanned Cyclones. It was Oklahoma's third Big Six victory without defeat.

With less than three minutes gone, Oklahoma crushed over, Fullback Bill Campbell ramming the center from the two-yard line. Place-Kicking Specialist Jack Haberlein then added the first of seven extra points he made during the wild afternoon. He missed but once.

Knox College Downs Coe Kohawks, 14 to 7

CEDAR RAPIDS, Nov. 8 (AP)—Striking twice in the air, Knox college downed the Coe Kohawks here, 14-7, today.

Both times it was on passes from Red Selman to Bill Frazer that brought the touchdowns. In the first quarter it was from 37 yards out with Frazer running the last 20 yards. The second touchdown came in the second period when Selman passed from the Coe 22 to Frazer on the three-yard stripe.

Irish Backs, Ends Help Push Middies From Undeclared List

Bertelli's Passes Click on 11 of 15 Tries, Set Stage For Two Notre Dame Touchdowns, Scoring One Before 64,795 Fans

By BILL BONI
BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—A work-horse Notre Dame backfield, getting solid support from an underrated squad of ends, knocked a big but eventually bewildered Navy football team out of the nation's dwindling undefeated ranks today.

The Irish, in keeping themselves on the list of the unconquered with a 20-13 triumph, did so on the fine forward passing of Sophomore Angelo Bertelli; the sweeping, slanting, hard-to-stop drives of Steve Juzwik and Frederick Owen (Dippy) Evans, and the smashing defensive play and often miraculous pass-catching of their ends, principally Bob Dove, John Kovatch and Matt Bolger.

Notre Dame couldn't have won on any single one of these factors and had a hard enough time winning with the combination of all three before a crowd of 64,795.

Substitute Sparingly
Notre Dame, for one of the rare times in its big-time football history, supposedly was conceding advantages in manpower and running strength. Yet the Irish made up for that first deficiency by using their substitutes sparingly but well and more than compensated for the second by shattering virtually every Navy attempt to break a runner loose around the flanks.

Bertelli, the blonde Italian youngster from West Springfield, Mass., today was every bit the passer he had been cracked up to be. Unable to help the Irish at all a week ago when they played a scoreless tie with Army in mud and rain, this time he threw 15 passes and saw 11 of them completed for 216 yards, almost as much as Navy's total.

The first one he threw went for 42 yards early in the second period to set up the game's first touchdown; he passed to Juzwik for 18 yards and the second score and two of his passes that were good for 41 yards brought Notre Dame a first down on the Middle eight yard line, from where they went to their winning tally.

Bertelli's passing was a marvel of accuracy and of coolness under pressure and he got some great work on the receiving end by Bolger, Evans, Juzwik and Dove, to mention only a few.

Evans, who might be called a native Notre Damer since his home is in South Bend, Ind., was a brilliant and opportunistic runner all day and launched the opening touchdown drive by intercepting a Navy pass and returning it 39 yards before he was hauled down on the Navy 41.

Then came Bertelli's pass to Bill Earley, who was forced out of bounds on the Navy 2. Evans scored in two tries and Juzwik converted.

Halfway through the quarter Navy went 54 yards and tied the score. Sparkplug all the way was 150-pound Howie Clark. He made all but a few yards on this march, getting loose once for 19, passing to End Bob Zoeller for 20 more and a first down on the Notre Dame 7 and taking it over from there.

It was Kittrell who started the campaign with a pass to Wenzell Gandy and who ended it with another to Bill Coleman, in the end zone.

Negro Leader Speaks Tonight

Dean Howard Thurman of Howard university, Washington, D. C., will speak at the second university vesper service of the year to be held tonight at 8 o'clock in Macbride auditorium.

About 40 years of age, he is recognized as a leader among Negroes, and also as a creative contributor to the whole religious life of America.

Dean of the chapel and professor of Christian theology at Howard university, Dean Thurman is the second Negro to appear on a vesper program, the first having been Dr. Willis J. King of Atlanta, Ga.

He is a leader in all movements for better understanding between Negroes and whites. His addresses do not ordinarily deal with the race question. The vesper speech is expected to encompass fundamental spiritual issues, such as sources of spiritual power, and strength for daily living.

President Virgil M. Hancher will preside at the vesper service tonight and the Rev. Elmer E. Dierks, pastor of the First Baptist church, will act as chaplain.

Music will be provided by a vocal chamber group and a string quartet. The quartet consists of Evelyn Thomas, G. Boone; John Lang, G. of Manchester; Patricia Trachsel, A1 of Iowa City, and Jean McKnight, A3 of Iowa City.

Armistice Day FDR Says Nov. 11 To Be Holiday

Postmaster Walter J. Barrow yesterday announced that President Roosevelt has proclaimed Nov. 11 as Armistice Day, a legal public holiday, in accordance with the law.

Government officials and citizens throughout the nation have been asked to display the American flag on all government buildings and to observe the day in schools, churches, and other suitable places.

The president's proclamation reads as follows: "Whereas the armistice of Nov. 11, 1918, marked the successful end of a war which undeniably saved democracies from imperialistic conquest; whereas in most parts of the world a generation of mankind lived in peace; whereas forces of lawlessness and inhumanity have again been leashed against us; I hereby call upon the people of the United States to pause upon Nov. 11, 1941, to show gratitude for the past, to dedicate the nation to the fundamentals of human liberty, and to defend the future."

Even if that cold blast you feel does mean "old man winter" is creeping up on you, this is no time to get cold. What you should do is stop in at the H & H HOSIERY STORE and indulge in some warmer stockings. ## 300 Will Participate In Immunization Drive

By returning "request slips," approximately 300 city and rural students have signified their willingness to participate in the Johnson county immunization drive against smallpox and diphtheria, County Nurse Aila Hiltunen announces.

Toxoid and vaccine for 500 cases has been received by local doctors, she said, in emphasizing the fact that the immunization program has been made as economical as possible. There will be a $1 charge for each of the three inoculations necessary for immunization against both diseases.

The campaign is being conducted chiefly for children but adults are urged to participate because, according to the Johnson county Medical society, "smallpox and diphtheria can be particularly troublesome when they strike adults, and prevention will save a lot of unnecessary illness and expense."

Prof. Howard Bowen of the commerce department spoke on the luncheon program of the Iowa association of economists and sociologists in Des Moines Friday.

Also attending the meeting were Professor Clyde Hart, Professor Harold McCarty and Wendell Smith.

Strother Will Speak On Baconian Series

Prof. Charles R. Strother of the departments of speech and psychology will speak on "Recent Research in Speech Pathology" at the Baconian lecture to be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in Senate chamber, Old Capitol.

Between 1930 and 1934, he was an associate in speech at the University of Washington, Seattle, where he received his bachelor's and master's degrees. He received his Ph. D. at Iowa in 1935.

After earning his doctor's degree here at the university, Professor Strother served as assistant professor of speech and pathology and director of the speech clinic at the University of Washington for three years.

At the same time, he was consultant on speech pathology to the Orthopedic hospital, Seattle, and director of the traveling clinics of the Washington state department of education.

As director of the clinics, he visited all parts of the state of Washington with a qualified staff; examined children with speech, reading or behavioral difficulties; diagnosed their cases, and outlined remedial programs.

Professor Strother has been a contributor to the "Physiotherapy Review," "Psychological Monographs" and the "Journal of Speech Disorders" and is co-author of the book, "Foundations of Speech," which was recently published by the Prentice-Hall company.

Much of his work has been devoted to the study of organic speech disorders such as those resulting from cleft palate, spastic paralysis and various other paralyses of the face, tongue and larynx.
