Administration Fights to Avoid Neutrality Revision's Rejection

Confer 'Solicitously'
With House Members;
Expect Vote Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration leaders fought with their backs to the wall yesterday to save neutrality act amendments permitting American ships to enter belligerent ports from rejection by the house of representatives.

Worried by defection among some southern democrats who previously had supported the administration's foreign policy, they spent the day solicitously talking to uncommitted members and conferring in the office of Speaker Rayburn.

Some influential democrats said that President Roosevelt was apprehensive lest an administration defeat, coming just before the arrival of a special Japanese envoy, might aggravate the already critical situation in the Orient.

Rayburn said he thought enough votes were available to push the legislation through. But none was certain, and some, in fact, were suggesting to the leadership that the best course would be to postpone the vote until the situation could be gauged more surely.

The vote, meanwhile, was scheduled for mid or late afternoon today upon the conclusion of eight hours debate which began yesterday in an atmosphere electric with the tension of a world crisis.

The legislation presents amendments to the neutrality law containing two issues: Shall American ships be armed for their protection against submarines and aircraft, and shall they be permitted to carry cargoes through combat zones directly to England and other belligerent nations. Both courses are forbidden by the neutrality law.

The house had already approved the armed ship proposal, and it was not directly involved in today's discussion. The clause freezing American shipping of the present restrictions upon its movements was added in the senate—at the urging of the administration. It came back to the house today upon a motion to concur in the senate amendment.

If the house voted against the amendment, the bill would go to a senate-house conference, which would decide whether or not to drop the amendment.

Executive Vice-President Of Murder 'Incorporated' Killed Attempting Escape

NEW YORK (AP)—Gangdom's "Singing Master," Abe (Kid Twist) Reles, known as the executive vice-president of Murder Incorporated, will squeal no more. Death stifled his chattering tongue early yesterday.

Officials say he fell while attempting escape from a sixth floor window of the Half Moon hotel at Coney Island where, with other material witnesses, he was being held incommunicado by police.

District Attorney William O'Dwyer of Brooklyn theorized that Reles had become increasingly afraid of appearing against his feared former henchmen and attempted escape by tying wire to a radiator, wrapping it with bed sheets, and lowering himself to the street. But the wire broke and Reles fell to the sundeck of the hotel.

Invasion Now 'Impossible'

Roosevelt Calls New Conference on Raging Soft Coal Dispute

Asks CIO Leaders
To Talk With Him
In Capital Friday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt called a new conference on the raging coal dispute yesterday as mountain labor troubles threatened to halt soft coal production and possibly defeat the neutrality revision bill.

While a CIO boycott of the national defense mediation board dealt a crippling blow to that peace-making agency, Mr. Roosevelt asked three CIO leaders and three major steel company executives to talk with him at the White House on Friday.

Those invited: Philip Murray, CIO president; John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president; Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the UMW; Frank Purcell of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube corporation; Benjamin F. Fairless of the United States Steel corporation; and Eugene G. Grace of Bethlehem Steel corporation.

Lewis made it known that he would accept the invitation and the others were expected to do likewise.

Involved was the UMW's demand for a union shop in captive coal mines owned by seven steel companies. A decision of the mediation board against the UMW demand led several CIO men to resign from the board.

The president's position is that continued production in the mines is imperative because of the need for the fuel in defense industries.

Churchill Says European Attack 'Beyond Resources of English'

Asserts Hitler Failed
In Starving Britain
Out; Cites Rudolf Hess

LONDON—Winston Churchill predicted yesterday that "the freedom loving powers" would be able to produce enough ships by 1943 to support an overseas invasion "utterly beyond British resources at the present time."

Before the house of commons at the opening of the seventh session of the present parliament, the prime minister delivered a reasoned argument against disclosure of the strategy by which Britain plans to aid Russia, and gave new figures to show substantial British successes in the Atlantic war against U-boats since June.

Citing the captive Rudolf Hess as his authority, he said Hitler had "relied upon a starvation attack even more than upon invasion to bring us to our knees." That has failed, he asserted, but "this only increases his need to come at us by direct invasion as soon as he can screw up his courage and make arrangements to take the plunge."

Churchill's speech followed the traditional opening of the new session of parliament in which King George VI paid special tribute to the United States for furnishing war supplies to Britain "on a scale unexampled in history."

In selecting 1943 as the year for "overseas operations" on a great scale Churchill said this was dependent on whether "the war against U-boats continues to prosper as it has done."

He made clear also that it was predicated on vast American help: "the great American ship-building program for 1942," and said the United States was building merchant ships on a scale many times that possible in the United Kingdom.

Churchill said Britain in the four months ending in October had lost less than 750,000 tons of ships, or an average of about 180,000 tons a month.

Walkout Called for December 7 Affects 350,000 Rail Workers

Action Will Paralyze U.S. Carrier System Long Line Employees To Halt Work Friday

Brotherhoods Demand
30 Per Cent Raise
In Daily Wage Scale

CHICAGO (AP)—A legion of 350,000 railroad employees who operate the nation's trains was under orders last night to go on strike Dec. 7, 8 and 9 in support of demands for a 30 per cent wage increase.

It appeared that President Roosevelt alone could initiate the next move to prevent the walkout which would paralyze a carrier system booming with the business of hauling goods and passengers vital to the defense program.

Chiefs of the five operating brotherhoods, which include engineers, firemen and engine conductors, trainmen and switchmen, set the dates yesterday for the progressive walkout and said they had so informed the chairman of the carriers' conference committees.

A spokesman for rail management said there was no comment from that side.

The operating brotherhoods demanded 30 per cent more pay, their lowest bracket now being $5.06. President Roosevelt's emergency fact finding board recommended a 7 1/2 per cent increase for these men but the unions rejected that proposal and called the strike which had been authorized by the membership as early as Sept. 5.

Railroad management has announced its acceptance, despite its disappointment, of the fact finding board recommendations.

Appointment of that board by the president and submission of its report to him Nov. 5 was the final step provided in the railway labor act for settlement of a dispute without strike. The board's recommendations, however, carry no weight in law, depending upon public opinion to produce acceptance of the disputants.

A contingent of 1,563 general chairmen representing 900,000 other employees in 14 unions of non-operating crafts was in session in Chicago, meanwhile, and planned to announce tomorrow their course of action.

Strike Will Affect Long Distance Phone
Service in 42 States

NEW YORK (AP)—John J. Moran, president of the federation of long line telephone workers, an independent union, said last night he had taken action to place in effect at midnight Friday a strike of 15,000 workers who handle long distance wires in 42 states of the nation.

The decision to go ahead with the strike, approved Nov. 3, was reached after a meeting yesterday with the U. S. conciliation service and representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, Moran said.

Union demands include a 4 per cent wage boost and narrowing of geographic pay differentials.

Moran said yesterday's meeting failed to make any progress and that no effort had been made to certify the dispute to the national mediation board.

Moran announced that he had notified the army and navy, the federal bureau of investigation, the defense communications board, the civil aeronautics administration, the Columbia broadcasting system, National Broadcasting company and the Mutual Broadcasting system of the Union's intention to go on with the strike.

Each service and organization was informed, Moran said, that the Union wished to provide sufficient forces to maintain telephone and telegraph wires for national defense purposes during the strike.

Besides affecting those services and organizations the strike would halt the transmission of pictures by wire and teletypewriter news services. States where workers would not be on strike are Washington, Oregon, New Hampshire, Vermont, Nevada and Montana.

The A. T. and T. has contended that the federation refused to resume negotiations for a new contract to replace one which expired Oct. 22 unless the management would agree in advance to immediate wage increases, "regardless of conditions in various areas."

Japan's Privy Council Meets to Talk Over Trans-Pacific Crisis

TOKYO—Japan's privy council, highest consultative body on empire policy, devoted itself to a discussion of foreign affairs at the imperial palace yesterday in the midst of what is generally conceded to be the most intense trans-Pacific crisis in recent Oriental history.

The statement of Prime Minister Churchill that the British declaration of war would come within the hour of an outbreak between the United States and Japan, and the declaration of Frank Knox, United States secretary of the navy, that "the hour of decision" on grave questions has arrived, were subjects presented by Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo.

Russians Announce 2 German Divisions Driven Back 5 Miles

KUIBYSHEV, Russia—The German position about Tula on the southern Moscow front was described last night in Soviet military dispatches as seriously endangered by Russian counter-attacks which already have driven two German divisions back by five miles and broken their subsequent efforts to make a new stand.

In this area of an old and savage struggle, about 100 miles south of Moscow, the red commanders were said to have hurled forward infantry, artillery and tanks from Tula's southern suburbs in a series of powerful counter strokes.

The German retreat, described as nothing short of flight, was ordered for fear of encirclement, it was added, and it was only after reinforcements had eventually been rushed up in trucks that the invader was able to restore "some kind of balance."

(The situation about Tula was in sharp dispute, the Germans claiming that a Soviet cavalry division had been smashed there.)

German assaults on the right flank of the Moscow defenses at Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of the city, were reported by the Moscow radio to have been continuing unabated for four days.

Of other fronts there was little specific official news, the midday communique of the Soviet command reporting only a continuation of heavy fighting elsewhere.

French War Minister Killed

VICHY, Unoccupied France (AP)—General Charles Huntziger, French minister of war and commander-in-chief of the French army, was buried to death with seven other persons yesterday in the crash of the plane in which he was returning from a three-weeks' tour of north Africa.

The 4-motored plane, Huntziger's personal machine, crashed against a mountain-side 15 miles from the town of Le Vigan, in the desolate country east of the Tarn river in southern France.

In Vichy it was believed that the general's death would have an important effect on the delicate balance of Marshal Petain's government.

Illinois Powder Blast Kills Four; Termed 'Industrial Accident'

PEORIA, Ill (AP)—Four tons of Black powder manufactured for the war department blew up yesterday, jarring Peoria with a double explosion that killed four workmen and was attributed to an industrial accident.

Four men were blown to bits by the blast. It was felt 40 miles away, broke plate glass windows 15 miles distant and was first thought to be an earthquake by thousands of persons in one of Illinois' most populous downstate areas.

Midwest Truckers May Strike if Wage Dispute Not Settled by Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—Negotiators attempting to settle amicably a wage dispute between nearly 300,000 midwest truck drivers and their employers were faced last night with the threat of an immediate strike.

Frank Brown of Chicago, president of local 710 of the AFL international brotherhood of teamsters, said local unions in 11 states had authorized a strike beginning Sunday morning unless an agreement were reached before then. The present agreement expires Saturday.

IF A SOVIET BOMBER SHOULD HAPPEN TO FIND THIS!

What an explosion there would be if a Russian bomber should happen to drop an "egg" on this German ammunition dump somewhere behind the lines on the eastern front! Soldiers are stacking a row of giant aerial bombs.

There Will Always Be a Hitler--

UNLESS WE REALIZE THAT MEN WILL FIGHT FOR FOOD AS SURELY AS OTHER MEN WILL FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

A lot of us are wont to blame the horrible state of affairs in Europe upon Adolf Hitler, which is a little like accusing Herbert Hoover of instigating the 1929 market crash and the ensuing depression.

There's something more basic than Hitler that we overlook when we point accusing fingers at causes of today's manifold ills. It's a little foolish to think that an Austrian paperhanger got that way by accident—just fell into a role he liked, and carried it along.

Hitler is an effect. The American people must deal right now with causes, because causes in a few months or years must be avoided again.

The Treaty of Versailles forced upon Germany debts she couldn't pay, kept from her the economic means of livelihood, crushed her down into economic upheaval and social despair. These conditions, fostered by well intentioned, peace-bound allies, created the symbol seized by Adolf Hitler. Had it not been for Hitler, rest assured that there would have been someone else to lead a resentful and hard-pressed German people into militant action to break the bonds which held them.

Germany often has been accused of being a fighting nation. Peoples forced into hardships, peoples from whom are withheld the means of economic life, will always fight. Let's remember that. Dictators are bred by conditions of slavery; dictators will maintain that slavery as a partial means to viciously revengeful ends.

We dare not think, even for an instant, that we shall be safe in peace when Hitler is crushed, for there will be another Hitler unless the basic causes which fostered Adolf Hitler's rise to power are eliminated forever.

That won't be done by peoples who love peace more than righteousness.

We are dedicated now to the defeat of Hitler, and the philosophy for which he stands. That will remove, if we are successful, the immediate danger which confronts us.

But that won't bring lasting peace. American young people, those who are largely adamant to the trends in national events, must believe, they must insist, that as surely as we are dedicated to the defeat of Hitlerism we also are dedicated to a permanent economic peace.

War is not a permanent institution because of the makeup of man. The hominid is not a war-loving animal. In fact, by his very nature he is peace-loving, be he Russian, German or American.

But the hominid loves to eat. He will fight for food, as surely as his well-fed contemporaries will fight for freedom.

If it is humanly possible for America to digest that fact, then we can say with truth that we are awake to the needs of this period in history. And not until then.

Irresponsible Scholars--

'INTELLECTUALISM' HAS SAPPED OUR EMOTIONS, OUR NATIONAL SPIRIT, AND OUR ENTHUSIASM--

(The following paragraphs are based on "The Fallacy of Intellectualism" by W. H. Cowley, president of Hamilton college in Clinton, N. Y., which appeared in the magazine, "Aim."—The Editor.)

The importance of a college education never has been over estimated. A college education is the very foundation of the thought and actions of the individual. Our early lives are devoted to preparation for a high education. Our later lives are the direct result of this education. If ever we were to set our sights on some worthwhile possession, at college is the opportune time for adjustment.

George Peabody points out that "education is a debt due from the present to the future generations." We, the present generations, are trying so very hard to fulfill the obligations of this debt. After the Civil war we adopted a policy of instruction that devotes itself to "intensive specialization" in all the modern arts and sciences.

We have followed this policy blindly, never stopping to take inventory. College education has been rolling down a steep hill, gaining momentum each moment, but never have we tried, collectively, to find out if we were on the right hill. If ever we could get above education and look down, we could see some evident faults in this type of "intellectualism."

College students have learned to look at everything from a tolerant, super-critical point of view. We seem to be so practical and cynical that nothing ever is accomplished. This attitude has made us passionless to all the "great American heritages." It has forced us to become motivated entirely by the false security of profit. It has made us disinterested in the very things which are destroying our real desires.

College education is "depriving us of emotion, of enthusiasm, of national spirit, and of passion." If ever an historic address was given, the speech Archibald MacLeish presented before the American Philosophical society will stand as a monument to the real fault of education. Mr. MacLeish deplored the lack of emotion, of passion, of enthusiasm, of today's scholars in the following passage:

"The irresponsibility of the scholar is the irresponsibility of the scientist upon whose laboratory insulation he has patterned all his work. The scholar in letters made himself as indifferent to values, as careless of significance, as bored with meanings as the chemist. He is a refugee from consequences, an exile from the responsibilities of moral choice. His words of praise are laboratory words—objectively, detachment dispassion. His pride is to be scientific, neutral, skeptical, detached—superior to final judgment or absolute belief."

It is realized fully that the fault is not entirely in the instructors. The student, of course, in many cases, doesn't seem to care about anything, much less emotion, passion, national spirit and enthusiasm. But a student is as a faithful puppy, he will follow if he is well led. Offer the student the opportunity to develop his spirit, then the impossible problems will turn over and uncover the light of possibility.

There is one fundamental realization that should come about before we can appreciate fully these observations. "Intellectualism" has a very definite place in college education. If education was built on a foundation of four pillars, the place of "intellectualism" would be supported by three of these pillars.

But education is toppling over, defeating its purpose; we must let the fourth pillar support emotion and spirit. We as a nation are facing problems that can never be solved by a student of "intellectualism." Worthwhile salvation will come from extremities. It will arise from a coordinated educational program that is founded on "intellectualism" AND spirit.

Broadway's Productions Have Been Willy-Nilly, But for Nazi Plays

NEW YORK—Except when it touches the Nazi theme, the drama on Broadway this season has been willy-nilly. Of more than a dozen openings, only two seem to have been worth the effort. One of these was "The Wookey," which this department has talked about before. The other is "Candle In the Wind," a play by Maxwell Anderson which brought Helen Hayes to Broadway in an interesting first night event. Since the prime holdover from last season's successes is another anti-Nazi drama, "Watch on the Rhine," it would seem that the headlines are paying out handsomely for the playwrights. Only those who ignore the contemporary scene have failed to get anywhere.

I am speaking, of course, of serious drama. There is always room for hokum and other ingredients of burlesque-comedy. The baggy-seat pants of the tramp comedian, the trap door, and the throwing pie are as essential as calories. "Hellzapoppin'" may be going but "Sons O' Fun" is comin', and vaudeville will not be cried down. Olsen and Johnson will see to that.

I have just come from another rehearsal session of the Olsen and Johnson show. After long and close scrutiny one is able to deduce that "down" is the key word to these shenanigans. Whoever mentions this word immediately disappears through a trap door. One man rushes on the stage, crying, "I want to go down in history" and the floor opens to receive him. Later, he returns and Johnson asks, "Who's that?" "Oh," says Olsen, laughing, "he's the guy who wants to go down in history." As Olsen says "down," he disappears too. That keeps up all during the show. Its silly. It's ridiculous. It's incredible. But it's funny, and it wins.

Hollywood at Work On Hawaiian Movie

HOLLYWOOD—One of our un-falling joys out here is seeing simple, unspoiled native folk from the Pacific islands making movies like "Song of the Islands."

There may have been quite a few Hawaiians, real ones, among these simple native folk. There also were some Hollywood chorines, black wigs and great big blue eyes. There was Virginia Hogan, generally the ringleader of movie Hula girls, who looks like the native girls' ideal of beauty—or Hollywood's ideal of the native girl. Virginia, Irish-Mexican by descent, cheerfully admits the only island she's ever visited is Catalina—and that for a movie. There was Clara Enters, buxom Hawaiian comedienne known as Hilo Hattie, direct from Manhattan's St. Regis. The simple native boy gazelling down the rocks by the waterfall, helping his native sweetheart descend, was of Italian background.

But the lad stirring the pot looked and talked like an Ha-

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

What Is Behind Kurusu's Trip Here?

WASHINGTON—Kurusu is not carrying a peace plan in his portfolio, or in his hat. The proper authorities have been forewarned privately from Tokyo not to credit popular reports. The leading career man of the Japanese diplomacy was sent here, they say, to become a second ambassador to Admiral Nomura for an indefinite period. They are merely to see what they can do.

Kurusu's visit is being preceded by what might be called a barrage of peace plans, all of which are coming, however, through the unpredictable Japanese press. All have been impossible because they sought our withdrawal from the Far East and our complete abandonment of the Chinese. A friendly understanding with Japan will be impossible until Tokyo fully realizes that her plan of conquests and her axis partnership have both collapsed. That may be a long time.

Note: War rumors have been flying faster than the peace reports—and bigger. Chinese quarters prefer to believe the one that we will open hostilities within 90 days in a naval campaign already being organized with the British. No solid basis for such an expectation can be found.

HELP FOR LITTLE BUSINESS A BIG BUSINESS—Floyd Odium has found that helping little business is a big business, perhaps too big. He quietly submitted to Donald Nelson, the defense director, a program whereby a certain percentage of raw materials would be allocated to small business before the big firms get theirs. Some say two per cent, some say five per cent for firms employing 20 men or less. Odium's idea was that these materials would enable many small business firms to continue their present trade lines until next June, or turn gradually to defense items.

But Nelson turned it down cold. He took the position the small firms should be in the defense program, and not allowed to continue manufacturing lines outside. Defense contracts could be awarded to them for a number of their products like belt buckles, pins, dishes, canteens and such. To follow the Odium idea, he contended, would injure defense production by whatever percentage Odium raised out of store of metals.

The difference of opinion was clear-cut and has cracked right down through the entire defense set-up. The New Deal boys un-animously backed Nelson and are already digging an official grave for Odium. Their latest understanding was that Odium was now putting his plan in final written form and intends to take it to the president over Nelson's head. Nelson in fact made it clear he will go back to the mail order business in Chicago if his judgment as director of priorities is not upheld.

ICKES NEW MOVE--

The next scare is expected to concern tetra-ethyl lead. A movement may be started to get motorists to use low grade gas, sparing the high octane for aviation use here and abroad. A clearer case of need for this can be made out, than for the unsuccessful gasoline conservation campaign. Effect on motorists is not likely to be great.

NEW YORK GOVERNORSHIP RACE--

Certain Albany republicans are working toward an expose of the state "liquor license racket," and want Tom Dewey to head a special investigating committee. Dewey could use it for a springboard for the governorship if he needed a spring. La Guardia will not back Dewey in the gubernatorial race, despite their friendship in the recent campaign. The New York mayor will support whoever Roosevelt wants, probably Lehman. Mud thrown in the recent election will be washed off by that time.

SENATORS GLARE AT EACH OTHER--

The international debates have caused so much personal animosity in the senate that many of the leading senators no longer speak to each other, or at most, very formally. Club-like atmosphere of the chamber is gone. Senate barber-shop, usually a place of intimate chatting, is as quiet as a museum most of the time.

Gray Gordon's Orchestra to Play for Annual Spinsters' Spree

Committee for Party Announces Names Of Dance Chaperons

The smooth rhythms of Gray Gordon and his orchestra will drift from the main lounge of Iowa Union when University women declare leap year for one evening and invite the men to the annual Spinsters' Spree, Nov. 21.

An eight months' record breaking stay in the Green room of Hotel Madison evidenced New York City's approval of the Gordon organization.

Band of the Year
The "juke-box" operators of the country selected him as "the band of the year" for giving them such hit tunes as "I am an American" and "Ferryboat Serenade."

Dancers in semi-formal attire will present a truly sophisticated version of Dogpatch on Sadie Hawkins Day.

With intermission will come a fanfare and the introduction of those sought-after gentlemen of the year—the Eligible Bachelor of 1941 and his two attendants. They will be picked by the party committee for personal attractiveness and prominence in campus activities. Candidates were submitted by the women's groups of the campus.

To Chaperon Party
Chaperons for the Spree will be Prof. and Mrs. Grant Fairbanks, Prof. and Mrs. W. L. Schramm, Prof. and Mrs. Rufus Putney, Prof. and Mrs. C. I. Miller and Mrs. H. W. Saunders.

Jane Nugent, A4 of Prospect Heights, Ill., is chairman of the party committee. Other committee members are Helen Pyle, C4 of Marion; Marion Pickering, A3 of Iowa City; Mary Stephenson, A3 of Davenport; Alice Rohm, A2 of Glen Ellyn, Ill.

Wrigley Gum Company Plans to Cut 'Frills' To Aid With Defense

Evidence that frills in packaging will be eliminated in the interests of national defense is contained in a notice which the Wrigley Company is placing in boxes of its chewing gum going to nearly a million American retailers.

There are, this manufacturer explains, many good substitutes for wrappers, but there are no substitutes for aluminum in airplanes.

That is why Wrigley welcomed the opportunity to co-operate with the government by using, as a substitute for aluminum foil in its gum packages, wrappers made of tin and composition foil which have the same appearance and protective qualities. Paving the way for acceptance of substitute materials in the packages of all products, Wrigley points out that "frills in packaging are not important" and tells retailers that "your customers enjoy the gum, not the wrapper."

There is also a prediction that additional changes may be necessary in the future "to save the materials needed for the defense of our country."

The notice which is enclosed in the boxes of chewing gum is printed on an unbleached paper, thus helping to conserve chlorine, a chemical which is essential to munitions production. The printing on unbleached paper is as easy to read as on bleached paper.

Strothers to Be SUI Lecturer

Speech Correction Will Be Discussed At Baconian Lecture

Prof. Charles R. Strother of the departments of speech and psychology will discuss "Recent Research in Speech Pathology" in the third Baconian lecture tonight at 7:30 in Senate chamber, Old Capitol.

He will review the development of speech pathology from the time of Alexander Graham Bell to recent research.

New discoveries relating to stuttering, cleft palate, spastic paralysis and speech retardation will also be explained. Professor Strother will show slides illustrating the formation of speech sounds, structure of the organs of speech, and devices for aiding the handicapped.

Since 1939, he has been working with the university psychological and speech clinic and has carried on many significant research projects in speech pathology. His particular interests lie in the realm of organic speech disorders such as cleft palate and spastic paralysis difficulties.

Before coming to Iowa, Professor Strother was assistant professor of speech pathology at the University of Washington, Seattle, and director of the speech clinic there.

He was also consultant on speech pathology to the Seattle Orthopedic hospital and director of the traveling clinics of the Washington state department of education.

Professor Strother received his Ph.D. at the University of Iowa and completed his undergraduate work at the University of Washington.

ALL-AMERICAN LOVELY LEADS MUSICIENNES

"Hold on to your hats!" Ada Leonard and her all-girl orchestra will introduce a new note in music for the I-Blanket Hop tomorrow night. The dance will be a pacesetter for the festivities of this gala week end for Dads.

Miss Leonard, who features the cello and the piano, will not allow a single instrument in the orchestra that is not American made. In the brass section, Jane Sager is unforgettable. One call of her trumpet will rank her with the best in trumpetedom.

Among the famous orchestras to lose star musicians to Miss Leonard's organization are the Chicago Women's symphony and Phil Spitalny.

As all-American as her instruments are Miss Leonard's personal tastes. She likes American cooking, football games and "scotties." The 16 girls in the orchestra, including representatives of Northwestern, Wisconsin and Minnesota universities, are typically American, too. They count among their number three poloists, an ex-state tennis champion, a golfer and one student of wrestling.

IOWANS IN INTERNATIONAL DEBATE

Gordon Hostettler, G of Kent, Ohio, and Howard Hines, A3 of Iowa City, are busy comparing notes on evidence for the international debate with the University of Toronto, Canada, Tuesday. The Canadian debaters, E. S. Kirkland and David M. Hayne, will uphold the proposal of a league of nations initiated by the United States, and the Iowa team will defend the negative issues. The public is invited to hear the debate at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Macbride hall.

Howard Hines, Gordon Hostettler to Meet Toronto Debaters in International Contest

League of Nations Reconstruction Plan Subject of Discussion

Howard Hines, A3 of Iowa City, and Gordon Hostettler, G of Kent, Ohio, will oppose E. S. Kirkland and David M. Hayne of the University of Toronto, Canada, in the 18th annual international debate here Tuesday.

Dean Emeritus George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts will preside over the event in Macbride hall. The speakers will consider the question, "Resolved, That the United States Should Initiate a Reconstruction of the League of Nations."

Both the Toronto and Iowa teams have long and successful forensic records.

Hines is president of Gavel club and one of three members of the intercollegiate debate board. He holds a four-year scholarship to the university for winning state championship honors as a representative of Iowa City high school.

Hines was one of the high speakers in freshman speech, winning the Lefevre award, and has been a member of the varsity debate squad for three years. Last year he participated in the radio debate against Northwestern university, and his speeches on military training were printed in the Debaters' annual for 1940-41 as a model debate.

Hostettler came to the university last year as a graduate student in speech. He was graduated from Kent State university in Ohio, where he was president of the university student council.

Hostettler was a varsity debater and has participated in many intercollegiate contests. His record of successes culminated in membership in Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity.

18 Iowa City Women Join Needlework Guild To Prepare for Ninth Annual In-Gathering

Directors to Be Assisted By Members of Guild In Collecting Garments

The Needlework guild under the leadership of Mrs. Dewey Stuit, president, has started work for the year to provide warm clothing for the needy in Iowa City.

Dec. 5 is the date set for the ninth annual in-gathering in the Press-Citizen building. Last year the 79 directors secured 2,070 articles.

Iowa Citizens are adding their names to the membership roll to assist the numerous directors and officers in collecting garments. Collections are distributed through the public and parochial schools, the school and city nurses, the Red Cross, social service and the juvenile home.

Other officers besides Mrs. Stuit are Mrs. Charles Baker, honorary president; Mrs. L. A. Ware, vice-president; Mary Love, secretary, and Mrs. William T. Hageboeck, treasurer.

Founded 56 Years Ago

The guild was founded 56 years ago by seven young women in Philadelphia, Pa., and has grown to national proportions since. It has a membership of more than one million and branches in nearly every state.

Approximately 56 years ago in Wales a tragic mine disaster orphaned a number of children and they were sent to an institution in which Lady Wolverton of Dorsetshire, England, was interested. Her idea of asking her friends to contribute two new articles for a child inspired the motives of the present American guild. Lady Wolverton's original idea was for handmade garments to be given by her friends.

The Needlework guild of America is non-sectarian and the plan of the work is very simple. To become a member necessitates the donation of two or more new articles of wearing apparel, household linen or a sum of money. A directorship in the guild entails the task of collecting the contributions of 11 other members and that of the directors and turning them in at the time of the in-gathering.

Directors for 1941-42
New directors of the guild this year are Mrs. Kikk Porter, Mrs. J. H. Arnold, Mrs. James Kelly, Mrs. Eric Wilson, Mrs. P. J. Leinfelder, Mrs. Morris Kertzer, Jeanne Doran, Mrs. Paul Sayre, Mrs. Norwood Louis, Mrs. P. A. Merten, Mrs. Lester Longman, Mrs. L. C. Greer, Mrs. E. J. Liechty, Mrs. Alexander Kern, Mrs. R. J. Phillips, Mrs. Albert Husa and Mrs. Lovell Adams.

Former directors who will serve again this year are Mrs. Charles A. Bowman, Mrs. J. D. Boyd, Mrs. Lewis A. Bradley, Mrs. Aaron Briggs, Mrs. John E. Brigg, Mrs. Thomas Brown, Mrs. Clark Caldwell, Grace Cochran, Mrs. Henry Cole, Mrs. George H. Coleman.

Mrs. Herbert Cormack, Mrs. Walter Daykin, Mary Donovan, Mrs. Daniel Dutcher, Mrs. Arthur Ford, Mrs. Hageboeck, Mrs. Lorraine Ham, Mrs. William Herrick, Mrs. Frank Horack, Mrs. William Horabin, Ada Hutchinson, Mrs. T. L. Jahn, Mrs. Urban Kelly.

Passing the Buck by BILL BUCKLEY

Iowa, are you taking it for granted that you're going to upset Minnesota Saturday? ... We were just wondering ... You haven't been looking so well in practice this week, you know, and you aren't showing any signs of snapping out of it either.

We thought it was humorous when those scrubs punched through you like tissue paper Monday, and we were even slightly amused when they did the same thing Tuesday ... But when they carried on the work for the third straight time last night, we started to get a little worried.

Have you been reading about what you're going to do to "Dem Gopher Bums" Saturday, and how Minnesota is worrying itself sick over getting by this one? ... Has the optimistic spirit of Hawkeye fans taken you by storm, along with the rest of the state? ... We hope not, but your performances this week certainly deny it.

We know you're working out a defense, and we know those Minnesota plays are really plays ... But you're being pushed around night after night, with little or no improvement, and it's getting a little late in the week ... We're wondering what it's all about ... Maybe you're fooling us, but we can't tell from your attitude in practice whether you want to win this one or not.

Of course, you did the same thing last week, and we wondered if you were really ready for Illinois ... You were ... At that time, we thought you were looking ahead to Minnesota, and maybe you're looking ahead to Nebraska this week ... You can go ahead and look if it works out the same as it did last week.

You're not playing Illinois or Nebraska this week end, though ... You're meeting Minnesota, the scourge of the middlewest, the nation's No. 1 team, the best in the history of the school, the greatest collection of players of the modern era ... And how do you react to that? ... We can see you yawning in our face right now ... Guess reputation doesn't affect you ... But we're still worrying.

We must be disillusioned ... We expected to see a bunch of you out there this week, growing in your heads, tearing up the turf, snapping snarly answers to innocent questions—really in the mood to forget everything but one great purpose, Beat Minnesota ... We've been knocked back on our heels by a "so what" attitude, and it looks like that knocking will continue.

If you can lick the Golden Gophers that way, more power to you ... But we don't think you can ... It's going to take more than confidence to win ... It's going to take strength, power, and most of all, spirit ... Remember, you're not trying to upset something ordinary, you've got to overcome years of traditional championship spirit; the fight that goes with the protection of an undefeated string; the pride in being the first team in a nation; a jinx the Gophers have over Iowa teams; a superiority complex on the part of the northlanders, and a host of other things, all factors working against you.

All we ask right now, is that you ask yourself, "Am I ready for Minnesota?" ... If you can answer in the affirmative without a guilty conscience, you're all right ... Maybe that's why you've been fooling us all week ... But in practice ...

Gopher Plays Continue to Puncture Hawks

Scrubs' Runs, Passes Gain Against Hawks For 3rd Straight Day

Iowa Offense Polishes Up Nicely, Though, On Farmer's Passes

Iowa's first two teams changed places with the scrubs for a good part of its drill yesterday, polishing up its offense for the Minnesota invasion Saturday, but the "ham-burgers" got back on them later in the session with some running formations of their own.

While they had the ball, the Hawks looked good, running plays hard and fast while Tom Farmer connected nicely with some passes, but for the third straight day, their defense functioned spottily, and several Minnesota plays went for long gains.

Gopher running plays were held down to some extent, but big holes continued to yawn in the center of the line time after time. End runs were the only plays stopped consistently. At the same time, pass plays, with Nile Kinnick pitching, were a constant threat.

Bill Green donned a uniform for the first time this week in practice, and ran without a trace of a limp from his twisted knee. Ross Anderson and Gene Curran were back at their regular guard posts, as Joe Byrd and Al Urban, who were there Tuesday, stood aside. The last pair will undoubtedly be used on defense alone against the Gophers.

Farmer provided the brightest spot of the session, as he hit Bill Parker, Bill Burkett and Bus Mertes with several well-aimed shots apiece.

Coaches Eddie Anderson and Jim Harris continued to work with individual linemen on defense, before the dummy scrimmage, the emphasis being on piling up Gopher line plays at the line. Tackling and blocking practice on the dummies occupied some of the time.

St. Pat's Cage Squad Holds 1st Scrimmage

St. Patrick's cage squad held its first scrimmage of the year last night as Coach Cliff Kritta attempted to get a better line on some of the 20 men regularly reporting for practice.

This year's team, according to Kritta, will show more speed than the quintet of last year which wound up the season with a .500 percentage.

Within three weeks of drilling in fundamentals behind it, the squad is ready to learn some of the tricks of the game. Another scrimmage is scheduled for Sunday afternoon with the alumni, by which Kritta hopes to be able to pick the men who will make up the first team.

Of the men now out, only three are returning from last year's outfit, including Capt. Bob Quinlan, Jim Russell and Earl Murphy.

Quinlan and Tom O'Brien comprise the seniors, along with 12 juniors, three sophomores and three freshmen.

The schedule for this year, with the possible addition of one or two out of town games, follows:

- Dec. 3—St. Patrick's (Cedar Rapids) here. Dec. 9—St. Mary's (Muscatine) here. Dec. 17—St. Wenceslaus (Cedar Rapids) there. Dec. 21—St. Joseph's (Rock Island) here. Jan. 4—St. Ambrose (Davenport) here. Jan. 12—Immaculate Conception (Cedar Rapids) there. Jan. 16—St. Mary's (Iowa City) here. Jan. 20—St. Mary's (Muscatine) there. Feb. 10—St. Ambrose (Davenport) there. Feb. 13—St. Mary's (Riverside) here. Feb. 19—St. Matthias (Muscatine) there. Feb. 25—St. Mary's (Iowa City) there.

Upper A 7-0 Victor In Quad Touchball Elimination Contest

Upper A (1), winner of section one in the Quadrangle touch football program, overcame Lower D (1), winner of the second section, 7-0, yesterday afternoon. The Upper A gridgers are now eligible to continue play for the Quadrangle championship.

Henry Haines laid a toss in the hands of Marsten Flanders for the winning touchdown. Art Schlauder received a pass from Haines for the extra point.

Jefferson demolished Whetstone in a runaway, 33-6, yesterday afternoon, and preserved its undefeated standing. Jefferson has had to postpone two of its four scheduled contests because of rain.

Bill Quigley intercepted a Whetstone pass and crossed the goal for the opening Jefferson touchdown. Two scores were tallied by the passing combination of Bob Collins to John Quinn. Bill Frazier sprinted over the goal to score Jefferson's only touchdown on a ground play. The final Jefferson tally was made when Bob Collins winged a pass to Boyd Berryhill, who scampered to a touchdown.

Whetstone's only touchdown was scored on a pass from Gossard to Shostrom.

In the Wilson-Fairchild game, there was a dispute as to whether a Fairchild player was touched on his race to the goal in the last play of the game. The referee was unable to see whether the man was touched because of the darkness.

Representatives of both teams will meet with Dr. Beebe in the intramural office at 5:30 this afternoon to decide whether the last-play score will be counted.

St. Mary's Ramblers Smash Parnell in Cage Opener, 33-13

Grab Early Margin To Lead 17-1 at Half

Sueppel Uses 19 Men In One-Sided Contest; Seemuth High Scorer

By DICK McFARLAND St. Mary's Ramblers opened its cage season here last night by outclassing the Shamrocks of Parnell, 33-13. At the end of the first half, St. Mary's held a 17-1 lead.

George Seemuth was high scorer for the Ramblers with eight points, scored in the second and third quarters, and Bill Sweeney ran a close second with a total of seven. Billy Donahue led the Parnell scoring with two field goals and a pair of free throws.

The Ramblers got off to a fast start in the opening quarter, and held a strong lead throughout the remainder of the game. Coach Francis Sueppel substituted freely in the second half, and used a total of 19 players during the game.

Sweeney opened the scoring for St. Mary's with a free toss in the first minute of play. Brack followed up with a one-hand shot and a set-up under the basket.

Francis Donahue then counted the only Parnell score of the first half on a charity shot. Joe Halsek counteracted with a pair of field goals from close in and a free throw, to push the Ramblers into the lead, 10-1, at the end of the first period.

Seemuth laid in a one-hander from the side of the court at the start of the second quarter, and after Halsek counted on a free throw, Seemuth again connected

Schedule of Events for Annual Dad's Day Week-End Announced

Gov. George Wilson Will Speak Following Dinner in Iowa Union

Expect 42,000 Crowd For Iowa-Minnesota Game Here Saturday

By FRAN PRUDHON

With the Iowa-Minnesota football tussle as the main attraction, the 19th annual Dad's Day week-end will be the largest event of its kind in many years, the faculty-student committee declares.

In the football crowd of an estimated 42,000 persons will be hundreds of students' fathers and mothers.

Dad's Day dinner in Iowa Union at 6:30 p.m. Saturday with James Bromwell, president of A.F.I., as toastmaster, will be one of the principal rallying points. On the speaking program will be Gov. George Wilson; President Virgil M. Hancher; Barbara Kent of Iowa City, representing the Iowa daughters; Martin O'Connor of Cedar Rapids, speaking for the Iowa sons; and Clifford H. Crowe of Clarion, representing the Dad's Day association of which he is president.

Other officers of the association are Dr. F. X. Crezmever of Emmetsburg, vice president, and Hugh Shepard of Mason City, secretary.

Friday evening events include the mass meeting south of Iowa Union, featuring the first and only appearance of the Old Timer's Band; and the "I" Blanket hop in Iowa Union, with the music of Ada Leonard and her all-girl orchestra.

Demonstrations of physical education and military activities will be held in the field house at 11 a.m. Saturday. Colored football movies will be shown in the chemistry auditorium at 10 a.m. and the Scottish - Highlanders will give a river concert near Iowa Union at 10:30 a.m.

Annual Dad's Day celebrations started in 1922 when Edgar Goodrich, then president of A.F.I., honorary senior men's organization, asked students to invite their fathers to visit the university on Feb. 24, 1922.

The Iowa-Minnesota basketball game was one of the highlights of that first Dad's Day, and the fathers who stayed over until Saturday attended the Diamond Jubilee Foundation day.

The Daily Iowan had this to say about the event in the next morning's edition:

"From every source comments on the success of Dad's Day were favorable and while a conservative estimate placed the number of visitors at 100, this accomplishment will warrant the establishment of another Iowa tradition."

At that time Old Capitol was surrounded by an open field and was completely isolated from the new buildings on west campus. University hall was only a field, and Iowa Union has not even been planned. The fine arts building and the dramatic arts building were still only visions.

The custom of having Dad's Day in the fall was begun in 1924. One hundred and fifty fathers attended the Iowa-Ohio State football game on Oct. 11, and a banquet was held at Youde's inn that evening.

Since that time, the events planned for the occasion have been expanded each year. Eight committees have worked to plan this year's program.

They are: John Gilletti, A3 of Des Moines, chairman. Director Charles B. Richter of the music department and Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division, faculty advisers, game intermission.

Jack Eicherly, L4 of Holstein, chairman; Gene Claussen, A4 of Manning, and Eric C. Wilson, news editor of university publications, faculty adviser, publicity.

Ted Welch, C4 of Cedar Rapids, chairman; John Maher, C4 of Springfield, Ill., and Don Mallett of the dean of men's office, faculty adviser, mass meetings.

Ed Fanos, M4 of Iowa City, chairman; and Maurice VanAllen, M4 of Mt. Pleasant, registration and housing.

Ray Latimer, E4 of Red Oak, and Ted Rehder, assistant director and manager of Iowa Union dining services, faculty adviser, dinner.

Martin O'Connor, chairman, and Prof. A. C. Baird of the speech department, faculty adviser, dinner program.

Vic Siegel, A4 of Davenport, chairman; and Marvin Chapman, chairman.

Buddy Poppy Sale V.F.W. Holds Annual Sale Saturday

Mayor H. F. Willenbrock endorsed the twentieth annual sale of Buddy Poppies yesterday. The poppies will go on sale in Iowa City Saturday, Nov. 15, under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary.

The flowers are sold each year by the V.F.W. and the proceeds are used to honor the dead by helping the living veterans of the last war.

"In assuming this obligation to honor the dead by helping the living, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and their auxiliaries have assumed leadership in a humanitarian activity which rightfully should rest on the shoulders of all patriotic citizens," Mayor Willenbrock said.

Bessie Stover Dies In Iowa City Hospital After Long Illness

Further Evidence in Fraternity Tax Appeal Case to Be Given in District Court Today

Expect Court Decision On Case to Be Given Before Week's End

Further evidence that applies to all 21 tax appeal cases of campus fraternities and sororities against the Iowa City board of assessment and review will be presented in district court this morning, Judge James P. Gaffney said yesterday.

In this morning's session it is expected that another appraiser will testify for the defense as to property values involved after which rebuttals will be made by attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Attorneys are expected to make oral arguments this afternoon following the presentation of all evidence and decision on appeals reached before the week's end.

Francis Suplee, deputy city assessor, testified at yesterday's hearing that assessment was not on the cubic foot content basis alone but that income and market value were considered.

He stated that in making assessments on city apartment buildings and fraternity properties, the assessor's office estimated the cubic footage and depreciation but that in consideration of building construction materials, a lower rate was allowed for the apartments.

Suplee's testimony revealed that a rate of 27 cents to 35 cents per cubic foot was figured for many properties and 35 cents to 50 cents for fraternities because of the many more rooms and the pressed brick or stone construction.

He testified that the assessor's office did not take into consideration the tax sales and foreclosures against the fraternities at the time of assessment and didn't talk to real estate men relative to their value.

Judge Gaffney said during the hearing that it was more important for the assessors to follow the mandate law than the arbitrary decisions of the state tax commission.

It was revealed that the work sheets furnished by the state commission are not used exclusively by municipalities in Iowa, but that many different methods are employed in ascertaining assessments.

Bert Manville, real estate man, took the stand late yesterday and revealed an optimistic view of fraternity property. He stated that the fraternities occupied the best property sites and that foreclosures had no great effect on the actual value of the buildings.

Manville testified that future use of the building is the biggest factor in market value but admitted some fraternities were overbuilt. In the future, he believed, boys will be able to pay $80 to $100 per month and the houses will be able to pay their way.

Council May Consider Ralston Creek Project At Special Meeting

A special city council meeting to consider plans for launching the proposed $93,000 Ralston creek improvement project probably will be held some time this week, Walter Riley, sponsor of the program, said last night.

Following the council's decision to temporarily abandon work on the municipal swimming pool because of a shortage of steel, it is thought that the council may adopt the Ralston creek program because it would not involve defense materials.

Harold Sendt, regional W. P. A. director, conferred with Riley about the matter yesterday morning and Riley said that the W. P. A. was "very warm" toward such a program. Riley said the W. P. A. probably would finance as much as three-fourths of the total cost.

The council at its regular meeting Monday directed the city attorney to investigate the problem of raising the city's part of the $93,000. If the report is favorable the council may make an application through Sendt for a government grant.

Supreme Court Rules On 2 County Appeals

The Iowa supreme court yesterday affirmed one case brought from the Johnson county district court and in another reversed the decision of the lower court.

The high court affirmed the $500 fine and six months suspended jail sentence of Charles Gillam, Oxford tavern operator, for maintenance of a liquor nuisance. Gillam charged that an illegal search warrant was used in a raid in July, 1939.

In the other case the supreme court reversed the district court decision on the basis of errors in the trial of the damage suit of Vernon Halligan against the Lone Tree Farmers Exchange for malicious prosecution after a larceny charge had been dismissed against Halligan.

The supreme court reversed the $1,525 judgment upon appeal of the Farmers Exchange on the basis of trial errors rather than because of the court's conclusion that the original indictment against Halligan should have been submitted to the jury.

School Board Sends New Stadium Plans For N.Y.A.'s Okay

Lack of Materials Expected to Delay Construction Work

Plans for the construction of the new high school stadium will be sent to Washington, D. C. for N.Y.A. acceptance, it was decided last night by the Iowa City school board at the regular monthly meeting in the junior high school building.

The board acted after hearing John Covnole, district N.Y.A. personal officer, suggest that the plans be sent to headquarters.

When the actual construction of the stadium will begin is not known. Because of the national defense program, it is doubtful whether construction can be started before early spring.

N.Y.A. will furnish the labor and supervision for the project. Deserving youths of Iowa City and vicinity will be eligible to apply for the work, if they are between the ages of 16 and 25 and are single. Youths 16 years of age must have been out of school for not less than six months.

Henry Fisk, architect, presented a plan to the board whereby a great deal of the defense-needed steel can be eliminated from the structure. This would be done by putting in numerous construction joints. Nearly $2,000 would be saved in materials and construction by this move, Fisk pointed out.

The board also referred the names of eight applicants for the janitor job in the junior high school gym to the buildings, grounds and janitors committee, accepted the resignation of A. S. Pillars as janitor of the same building, gave approval to the Junior Red Cross to make collections in city schools, gave permission for the use of the city high school auditorium for the district Dramatic festival, and allowed standing bills.
