Moscow in Direst Peril

Axis Declares 1,500,000 Men in Drive

Great Battles Raging On Snow-Bound Fronts Near Russian Capital

LONDON (AP) — Moscow appeared last night to be in her direst peril although informants here could provide no confirmation for an axis declaration that the Russian capital had become the target for 1,500,000 advancing troops, 8,000 tanks and 1,000 guns. The Italian radio, which relayed the axis claim, said that this great mass of men and arms, all opposed by congealing cold of 31 degrees below zero (Fahrenheit) and a blood-hot defense, were executing "the most terrific offensive of all time."

The mounting danger confronting that citadel of all the Russians was illustrated by an extraordinary series of sweeping claims both for the offensive and the defensive, with both Russians and Germans reporting successes in flanking actions. The Germans were attempting to envelop Moscow; the Russians were striking at northern and southern flanks of the enveloping movement. Winter-hardened Russian ski troops were said to have gone into action on deep snows all along the Moscow front. The Moscow situation, by flanks, was outlined as follows in Russian dispatches:

—On The North— Red army units drove across the ice-bound Volga at several points, gaining two important "bridge-heads" at various points in the Kalinin sector, 90 miles northwest of the city. A red army counter-offensive also was said to be countering German pressure in the vicinity of Klin, 50 miles northwest of Moscow.

—On The South— The Germans were attacking fiercely north of Tula, 100 miles from the capital, having cut across the Tula-Moscow highway in some places. The Russian counter-offensive in that general region had brought the recapture of a number of villages.

Report Senate Heads Agree to Delay Action On Labor Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders were reported to have reached an informal agreement yesterday to delay action on pending labor legislation until December 15 while the senate labor committee holds hearings on the Smith bill to curb strikes in defense industries.

Members said the committee probably would order limited hearings on the house-approved measure at a meeting tomorrow morning and would seek to complete its consideration of the bill during the week so that it could be called before the senate the following Monday.

Senator Ball (R-Miss), author of a milder measure already approved by the committee, said he would suggest that witnesses be asked to testify only on portions of the Smith bill not covered by testimony taken previously on other strike measures.

Johnson County Red Cross Plans to Form Local 'Volunteer Nurses Aide' Organization

The "Rose of No Man's Land" is about to make a return engagement. Lois E. Coder, University school of nursing director, will confer next week with Ann Magnusson, nursing consultant for this Red Cross area, on final arrangements for the project. The Johnson county Volunteer Nurses Aides corps will probably be in action before the end of this month. In time for war it is the duty of the Volunteer Nurses Aides to stand ready to give "all out" aid to public health officers; to ward off the grim specters of epidemic and other mass health problems that might weaken a nation at war; and to stand ready to serve under the colors in case of catastrophe of sabotage. Previous nursing or hospital experience is not necessary for enrollment in the course. Persons interested should notify the secretary at the local Red Cross office or call 6972.

EDITOR HASKELL SPEAKS HERE

H. J. Haskell, editor of the Kansas City Star, is shown above addressing the closing session of the University of Iowa's annual language and literature conference in the main dining room of the Jefferson hotel yesterday afternoon. In his talk, "After All, the Romans Were Human," Haskell compared political policies and programs and emotional reactions and prejudices of ancient Rome with those of present day Washington, D.C., and the United States.

Robert Lenz, of Near Iowa City, Loses Hand In Corn Picking Accident

Robert Lenz, a farmer living near Iowa City, lost his right hand in an accident while picking corn near his home on the Lower Muscatine road late yesterday afternoon. Lenz' hand was crushed by a corn picker. He was immediately rushed to Mercy hospital, where doctors amputated his hand above the wrist. His condition was reported as good.

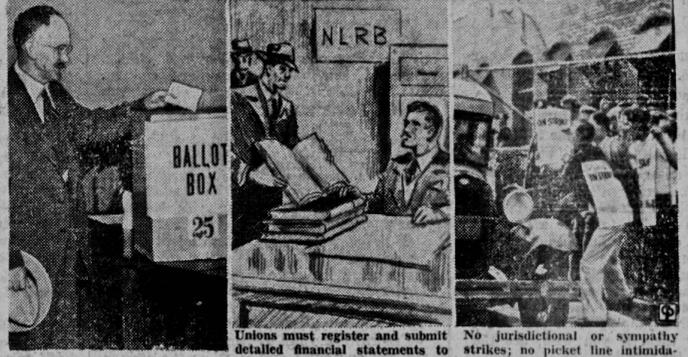

Four Killed in Earthquake SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — The government announced yesterday that four persons had been killed in southern Costa Rica during Friday's earthquake.

Say Highway Patrol Needs 200 Officers

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa highway patrol should have at least 200 additional patrolmen, the state traffic safety commission decided yesterday.

Because of unusually heavy traffic conditions in the state, the commission pointed out, the 128-man patrol is not really strong enough numerically to operate effectively. "Safety is not free," Chairman M. C. Nelson of Des Moines commented. "It is a costly proposition."

CONGRESS FROWNS OFFICIALLY ON DEFENSE STRIKES

Secret strike ballots. Unions must register and submit detailed financial statements to government. No jurisdictional or sympathy strikes; no picket line intimidation or violence.

How the anti-strike bill passed by the house of representatives and sent to the senate will affect labor is shown above. The bill, a stringent measure to curb work stoppages in defense industries, includes provisions banning strikes and lockouts until 30 days after notification; making mandatory secret strike ballots; prohibiting strikes for union organizational issues and jurisdictional strikes; forbidding violence or intimidation; making mandatory union registration with the National Labor Relations board and annual financial reports.

Libyan Fighting Lulls as British Use 'Whittling-Down' Attacks

Prof. Erich Funke Elected President Of Language Group

Prof. Erich Funke, head of the German department, is the president of the new local chapter of the American association of Teachers of German. The chapter was formed in connection with the annual language and literature conference which ended here yesterday. Prof. W. F. Kracher of the German department, University of Dubuque, is secretary. The organization will meet each year in connection with the language and literature conference to modernize language meetings. Only one chapter is allowed in each state. Membership is open to teachers of high school and college German in Iowa and neighboring states that do not have a chapter.

Announce Axis War Captives 'Uncountable'

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS CARO, Egypt — Axis war prisoners are being rounded up in Libya faster than they can be counted, and now exceed 7,500, the British declared yesterday as their forces continued efforts to whittle down German and Italian mechanized formations in a welter of minor actions. British sources said the full initiative apparently lies now with the imperial armies in North Africa but acknowledged that operations still were restricted to strong patrols and that there has been no new major tank fighting.

British Far Eastern Defenses Preparing For Nipponese Move

SINGAPORE (AP) — Singapore's might and constantly swelling defenses were in a state of mobilized readiness yesterday as urgent orders recalled sailors of Britain's far eastern fleet to their ships and all army and air force personnel to their barracks. The order hurried thousands of men from football fields, theaters and clubs. So swiftly were navy men called back to their ships that trucks and other vehicles were sent to downtown Singapore to pick them up. A communique explained the orders as a normal move following completion of the mobilization of straits settlements volunteers.

Australians, Allies Confer On Plans of Protection For Dutch East Indies

MELBOURNE (AP) — Renewed "eleventh hour" consultations between Australia and her allies were reported authoritatively last night to have brought agreement on Pacific defenses in the event of Japanese aggression. Australian planes, ships and men, the Australian Associated Press said, will be dispatched to protect the Netherlands East Indies. (Radio reports heard in New York said the Australians will send tank troops to assist in the defense of the Dutch Indies.)

The staff of the second regiment of Pershing Rifles, national military society, will inspect the Iowa company Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the armory. Company B-2 will appear in full dress uniform. Inspection will consist of a general review of the men by regimental commander and company captain. The regimental staff is commanded by Cadet Lieut. Col. Clyde Doolittle, A4 of Des Moines, assisted by Cadet Capt. Robert Livingston, C4 of Des Moines, adjutant; Cadet First Lieut. Goes Over Premier Tojo's Head In Effort to Prevent Conflict

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt has dispatched a personal message to Emperor Hirohito of Japan in the midst of darkening war clouds in the far east, it was disclosed by the state department last night. The president's direct message to the emperor, who is regarded as divine by the Japanese, was immediately interpreted in well-informed quarters as a reflection of his dissatisfaction with the explanation made by Premier Tojo of Japan through the Japanese envoys here as to the reason for Japanese troop concentrations.

The message also was viewed as possibly a step of last resort to avert an open break with Japan since it was considered unlikely that Mr. Roosevelt would communicate directly with the emperor unless virtually all hope had been abandoned of a satisfactory adjustment of Japanese-American difficulties through the usual diplomatic channels.

The state department's terse announcement that a message was being sent by the president to the mikado gave no intimation of its contents but was pointedly coupled with an assertion that 125,000 Japanese troops were reported missing in the Indo-China area and that two heavily-escorted Japanese convoys had been sighted only this morning steaming toward the Gulf of Siam.

At the time of the sinking of the American gunboat Panay by the Japanese in Chinese waters in 1937, Prince Fumimaro Koyama, then premier, made a report of the incident following strong United States protests and there also was a direct message from the president to the emperor. Shortly before the outbreak of the European war, Mr. Roosevelt sent a personal appeal to Adolf Hitler in an effort to avert that conflict.

The importance of the present step can be measured by the awe and veneration in which the mikado is held by his 100,000,000 subjects. He is considered descended from the sun goddess Amaterasu in the "line unbroken for ages eternal" and holds aloft on a plane far above the ordinary business of government.

While the navy department's announcement was restricted to the brief order to the coast guard, it was assumed the action was the result of Great Britain's formal designation of Finland as a belligerent partner of the axis powers. The navy announcement listed six ships known to be in American ports at this time.

The action was under the United States policy of taking over custody of ships of axis or axis-dominated powers tied up in United States ports. The navy announcement listed six ships known to be in American ports at this time.

British Told to Expect More Nazi Bombings

LONDON (AP) — Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair warned Britain yesterday to expect more German bombing attacks on the British Isles this winter but promised them that British bombers would respond "on a scale and with an efficiency that has never been achieved hitherto." In a speech at Newcastle he said Britain is not only increasing the numbers of its bombers but is "steadily improving equipment and steadily developing our tactical methods." Fighters over northern France attacked three factories and set two of them on fire.

TOP EIGHT SPEAKERS RECEIVE RATINGS AT DEBATE TOURNEY

The top eight speakers at the freshman debate tourney here yesterday greeted result schedules with broad grins. They are Kay Lowery, SUI; Buddy Hart, SUI; Irving Friberg, Augustana; Kenneth Thompson, Iowa State Teachers; Bill Birenbaum, Iowa State Teachers; Harold Brack, Augustana; Howard Scherstein, Augustana, and George Reinke, Wartburg. All had average rankings over 4, the equivalent of "excellent." Four colleges participating had teams with perfect records of winning four out of four contests—Augustana college, LaSalle-Peru-Oglesby Junior college, and the University of Iowa. This tourney was the largest freshman intercollegiate tournament ever held here.

Opening Tomorrow, University Players— Present 'Three Men on a Horse'

Theater-goers that like to laugh will find "Three Men on a Horse" a "delightful dish" when it opens on the University theater stage tomorrow night for six consecutive performances.

"Three Men on a Horse," the second play in the community series, is the show that defied the pessimistic criticisms of New York reviewers. Critics doomed the farce for a short existence, but it lived up to its own theme by proving that a cockeyed play must have a cockeyed run, as far as the critics were concerned—and it did. It became one of the Broadway hits of 1935.

Deals With Life of a Poet The play deals with some events in the life of a mild-mannered little poet who is not always so mild-mannered when he gets stepped on too much. "Three Men on a Horse" is in three acts and requires three changes in sets.

Prof. William D. Coder of the dramatic department is directing. Joe Zimmerman, G of Scotland, S. D., is assisting Professor Coder. The sets were designed by Prof. Arnold Gillette. Prof. Hunton D. Selman is supervising the lighting effects.

Members of the cast are Katharine Dollar, A1 of Cleveland, Ohio; Willis Guthrie, G of West Branch; Robley Evans, A4 of Des Moines; Stewart Stern, A2 of New York; Robert Butler, A1 of Daventry; Theodore Hanley, G of Santa Barbara, Cal.; Berrel Firestone, A1 of New York. Sylvia Bader, A3 of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Tom Tull, A2 of Lincoln, Ill.; Shirley Rich, A2 of Ottumwa; Leroy Morgan, A1 of Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Cathryn Irwin, A1 of Iowa City; Carl Ziegler, A3 of Coffeyville, Kan.; Clarence Moeller, Story City; Beverly Smith, A1 of Old Greenwich, Conn., and Robert Claussen, A1 of Clear Lake.

Views of Two Writers Express Opposite Poles of War Opinion

British Attitude Must Change Before We Enter the War—

(The following letter, to a friend of the writer in the Royal Canadian Air Force, was handed to us as an expression of one point of view concerning this war and the United States' stake in that war.—THE EDITOR.)

Dear Don:

After receiving your letter and learning that you have enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force I spent some time thinking about you. First let me commend you on your bravery and the strength of your convictions. I wish you nothing but the best of luck in all your experiences with the country you have seen fit to cast your lot.

As for me, Don, I'm not so sure. I am afraid that I differ with you strongly. Frankly, I think you are rather idealistic, too much so for today. Obviously our interests are in common with Great Britain but do you think that your proposal for the entrance of the United States is wise?

In the first place, if we enter the war it would be for an international cause—freedom, equality, justice and the rest. In the realization of the goal, the petty bonds of nationalism should not be considered. Remember, if they are to be considered, we must play U. S. wise and consider our own nationalism first by keeping out of the conflict till everyone else is worn out from months of war.

No, it seems that nationalism must be eliminated if we are to fight for the common cause, and, Don, that is just the difficulty. I quote your letter—"our place is standing shoulder to shoulder with the British Empire" but, what have we to assure us that if we do enter the war, the British won't run off and leave us shoulder-to-shoulder with only ourselves, just as they have with Holland, Finland, Norway, France, Yugo-Slavia, Greece, Poland and are even now doing with Russia?

I must confess that my sympathy is entirely with beleaguered Stalin in his bitter complaint that Russia's setbacks are due to the failure of the democracies in opening a western front. (Written before British invasion of Libya Nov. 19). Where are the heroic British legions while the Russians are sacrificing their lives, their homes down to the very "scorched earth," and their hopes of ever returning to normalcy? Where were the legions at Dunkirk, at Crete, in the sacking of Norway and the destruction of Greece? Outside of a few minor skirmishes, I see no evidence of one great offensive on the part of Great Britain. What, I ask again, prompts you to believe that we won't be treated in the same manner? Great Britain may be making a "heroic stand down to the very last Russian" but I don't want to be a party to selling the United States down the river for the sake of a few islands that have been destroyed all hopes of European harmony for five centuries.

England is still fighting for England, and, as long as they keep up their lines of nationalism, in self-defense, we must erect boundaries of our own. If we are to pursue this policy, then our place is at home. We must stay out of war as long as possible. Let the other countries exterminate themselves at each other's expenses while we grow prepared and even wealthy from the debacle (and I sicken at the thought of our profiteering from war as much as you do).

LETTERS—

This is Iowa's OPEN FORUM column. The opinions expressed here are those of the reader, and we may or may not agree with them. Because of limitations of space, the Iowa reserves the right to cut letters longer than 250 words. ALL LETTERS MUST BE SIGNED. This OPEN FORUM column is the outlet for Iowa student and faculty thought. The reader's views of current affairs are vital contributions to the life and times at Iowa.

While they are weakening, we are being strengthened by an influx of manufacturing and production made possible only by our delay in entrance. Don't be contemptuous of this policy, Don. After all, if this policy is not sound, why then, are the British following exactly this same course themselves? Is it consistent and honorable for them to demand that we enter when they are doing their best to keep out of the fray themselves?

You might question my statement that our place is at home. Look at a few of the issues. In the first place, what good could we possibly do over there except to furnish more cannon fodder to prolong the war to the advantage of the English?

According to an article in the April, 1940, Reader's Digest, there aren't enough tonnage of craft available in the whole world to ship enough men to Europe to place a superior number of men on the battlefield against the axis. And since when have battles been won by inferior numbers especially since those numbers are more poorly equipped, unseasoned, and commanded by less experienced officers than what judging from their successes, deny them if you wish, are the finest troops in the world?

And where would we put our troops anyway? Should we storm occupied France, Norway, or Holland? Any capable military expert will tell you that the most difficult objective possible is the conquering of a coast by battleship and aircraft. If this is easy, why hasn't Britain invaded the continent or Germany taken the British Isles?

Or shall we snake our troops into the Mediterranean past dangerous though ill-reputed Italy? Even so, what then? I think that the German defense has a salient point but England's absolutism has convinced me that the attack upon this vulnerable spot should be British, not American. Even discarding my offended ideals, speaking logically, they are closer, are as well trained, have as good equipment and as many trained men. And then too, it's still their war.

The Finnish battleground has lain open since the onset of the war as the vulnerable feature of Germany's defense. The English would encounter little resistance from the Finnish republic and since a major part of the German army is in the east, what would stop them in their attack on the very heart of Germany? Remember the effect of allied soldiers on German soil of the last World War? The love of the peasantry for their "fatherland" and their dread of its molestation crumbled their last vestige of morale and the end of the war was inevitable.

From a safe foothold in Finland, the attack could be accomplished with less loss of life than that suffered by the Russians in their brave defense.

But no! The British have adopted the alternative and millions are losing their lives as a result. You know, Don, I honestly believe that Hess actually had a Hitler-approved mission in his flight to England. I believe that he went to England to convince the British that they should keep out of the war until the destruction of Russia was complete. And why not? After all, Russia logically is as unfeeling to England as it is to Germany.

If the issue of this great war is, as you believe, one of idealism and governmental philosophy, then democracy has as great a quarrel with communism as it suffers with fascism. If, as I believe, the issue is one of imperialism, Russia is as formidable an opponent as Germany.

England profits as much as Germany does in either case by the destruction of Russia. Did you know that both Hess and Hamilton, the British nobleman whose estate Hess sought, are Buchmanites? The basic principle of Buchmanism is world domination, even though religious, by a so-called "dominant group of intellectuals and theorists." I tell you, Don, there's more to this than we can see. I wonder more than I like to admit even to myself if the objective of this war isn't world domination.

Here let me be the first to admit that I would prefer British domination to German but what of the United States in either case? Under German supremacy the result is obvious, and dark. If the British are to dominate, why must it be at our cost? Why must we sacrifice the life of American youth and destroy our great wealth while the British sit snugly by and profit from our martyrdom? No, let them pull their own chestnuts out of the fire while we maintain our safety and serenity at home.

I believe that the American way of life and even that of the British is superior to any civilization the world has yet known. In common with any other American young man I stand willing to fight and perhaps give my life for the perpetuation of our democratic heritage. As a matter of fact, I am in favor of a number of Clarence Streit's "Union Now" beliefs.

I like the British nation, I admire their progress in industry, culture, and literature but I also, and as emphatically, hate and detest their selfish, murderous form of nationalism that has tolerated and even catalyzed the rape of its sister democracies.

As long as Great Britain is keeping its shirt tails clean of all contact, I heartily endorse any pacificist movements of the Lindbergh and Wheeler order.

When the British do pitch in and recognize internationalism as an entity and drop their policy of absolutism for one of democracy, when the lives and blood of English subjects are being sacrificed for the cause of all, then I say, let's drop this creed of "America First" for one of "Humanity Always" and cast our lot in full cooperation and security in the knowledge that it's a stand for the principles we cherish rather than for the postulates of British patriotism.

Don, that time has yet to come. But until that time does come, there's going to be one objector to war, he lives in Iowa City, and his name is,

Sincerely,
HARRY CROSBY,
G. of Des Moines

(Will someone point out the one essential element which, it seems to us, Mr. Crosby lacks in his attitude toward the war?—THE EDITOR.)

This Warspite Sailor FELT 'The Old Countries' of Europe—

To the Editor:

Yesterday I had the unusual and inspiring opportunity of chatting with an Able Seaman of the British navy, a sailor from H.M.S. Warspite, British battleship now undergoing repairs in the Puget Sound navy yard near Seattle.

I had heard much of the exploits of the Warspite, as have many other Americans, and I had heard many of the tales passed around Seattle from the men of the Warspite—tales of things they had done and seen. These things have been unpleasant to the men—sinking Italian naval vessels and seeing men drown like rats, shooting German troop transport ships in the battle of Crete, and so on. So I didn't know if I dared touch on them when I started talking with this English lad.

"Do you hope to get back to England soon?" I asked him. To which he replied, "Yes, I'm waiting for my relief now so I can go. You see, I have a wife and youngster in England—I've never seen my youngster. He's been in a hospital for a month now with double pneumonia, but my wife says he's getting better now."

I asked him how he can get back to his home and he explained that as new men are drafted into the navy some are sent here to replace those on the Warspite. As this "relief" comes, the men who are relieved may return to England. He's waiting now, this seaman, and soon he hopes to be home. He said he can catch a packet or destroyer on the east coast and be in England within 10 days after he leaves here.

"You see," he went on, "they had an air raid there Oct. 28 and my youngster was injured on the head and has been in the hospital since, but my wife says he's better now. I'll get to be with them for a while before I'll have to go to sea again."

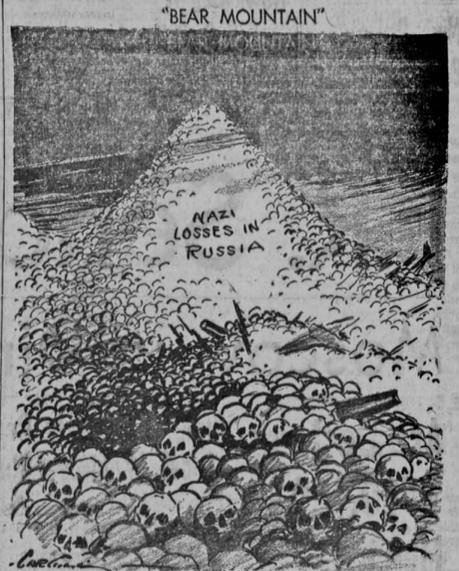

Then I ventured that question—"You've seen lots of action, haven't you?" "I've seen everything, and I don't want to see any more," was his reply. He had been on the Warspite for the last two years and has been in the navy for three years. "We're allowed four trips home a year and I've only been home twice since I've been in the Navy," he continued, "but pretty soon I'll be there."

"You're not bothered much by air raids in England now, are you?" I questioned. "No, he can't afford it now," was the reply. And in all our conversation no reference was made to Hitler or Germany—it was just "he." "He'll never take Moscow," my friend went on, "Moscow has been ready for just this for 18 months now—ever since France went down. Yes, he's through now."

The sailor then clapped his hands a couple of times. "That's how we call the writers in Egypt. They can't understand a thing we say and we don't understand them."

We each had a coke. The Britisher proposed "a toast to all the old countries." I knew then why the British are still fighting a courageous war against such odds. They're still fighting for the "old countries" which have fallen, and I was inspired by the toast we drank. It made me feel like there still is a goal worth fighting for. If the British can see it against all their odds, surely we can, too.

Sincerely,
D. MAC SHOWERS

Dobbin Loses Fountain

DENVER (AP)—One of downtown Denver's few remaining public relics of horse and buggy days, a huge drinking fountain, finally has been removed. It stood in a large, five-way street intersection near the U.S. mint and was unique because it offered drinking facilities for man, horse and small animals. The city erected the fountain in 1907 but it long has been unused. From the intersection it was moved to a bridge path in South Denver.

The New Books—

—by Ruth K. Mason

THE BOOK: "West of Midnight"

Random House, $2.
THE AUTHOR: Paul Engle.
THE REVIEWERS: Elenore Lee White and Ruth Mason.

"West of Midnight lies America," where a "piece of paper and a few warm words" can be, not a letter war—destroyed or lost, but a volume of poems. Publishers have stressed the ideological focus of this book; its meaning in a world primarily concerned with conflicting political and social viewpoints, and the four longest poems are indeed considerations of the general problems with which mankind (mankind exclusive of race or creed or politics) is faced. Paul Engle has surveyed the black-out darkness which is Europe and the sunlight splendor upon America's harvest fields. The result of his survey is an affirmation of human dignity and a plea for the preservation of the human liberties which still place America outside midnight.

The longest poem, "Kaarlo in Finland," is based on letters from a Finnish friend, serving in the war against Russia, and is an account of his reactions. . . "the most intimate account," it has been said, "of the reactions to modern war" by an intelligent highly educated participant, that has been published in this country.

The final poem of the volume, "American Harvest," closes with a prophecy which is a summary of the content of the four major poems.

"In our time we will bring to a hungry world
Peace like a meadow marvelous in grass,
And fill the future like an autumn barn
Over the eaves, clear to the roof-tree, with American harvest—freedom, corn, and life."

Important as is the philosophy expressed in these poems, however, Paul Engle is no mere political propagandist. He is first of all a poet, for whom a poem is no mere vehicle to be obscured by the weight it carries. The majority of his expressions have the intensity and concentration which is characteristic of good poetry.

The best poetry in "West of Midnight" however, is to be found in the miscellany of lyrics which comprises the larger portion of the book. Some of these have been published before. All of them are characterized by simplicity and directness of language. All of them have the sharp sincerity which is probably Mr. Engle's greatest quality as a poet.

Particularly interesting are the sonnet portraits of five leading American authors, living and dead.

"West of Midnight" is a book to be read slowly and appreciatively. It is one to be picked up again and again, for the beauty of its words and the interest of its thought.

Thanks, Pal
NEW YORK (AP)—Once a year for the last 23, Robert S. MacCormack has received a letter of praise from Harry D. Parkin, of Los Angeles. On November 4, 1918, on Hill 378, near the village of Consenvoye, France, the then Sergeant Major MacCormack disobeyed orders to save himself and protected the life of his superior, Major Parkin. Although the two men have seen each other only twice since then, the deed has never been forgotten.

Emanuel Feuermann, the cellist, never lets his cello out of sight and buys an extra berth for it when traveling.

A report to the Fish and Wildlife Service showed that 10,534 anglers who fished Yellowstone Park Lake this season caught a total of 24,576 trout.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

Heavy Price Is Paid For Railway Peace

WASHINGTON—Not all the railroad strike agreement was put on paper. Mr. Roosevelt had to pay a heavy price to avoid a walkout.

In his secret negotiations he found the unions demanding a wage hike which would cost around $800,000,000 a year, his emergency board recommended an increase of 7 1/2 per cent, to cost around $270,000,000.

The cost of the final settlement will run about $325,000,000, and the tone of the negotiations broadly suggests that the public will pay the whole bill in increased rates sooner or later.

HOUSE ANTI-STRIKE BILL

When the congressional leaders strolled into the White House the day after the house passed the strong anti-strike bill, Mr. Roosevelt lifted his eyes and asked with some amazement: "What in the World Happened?"

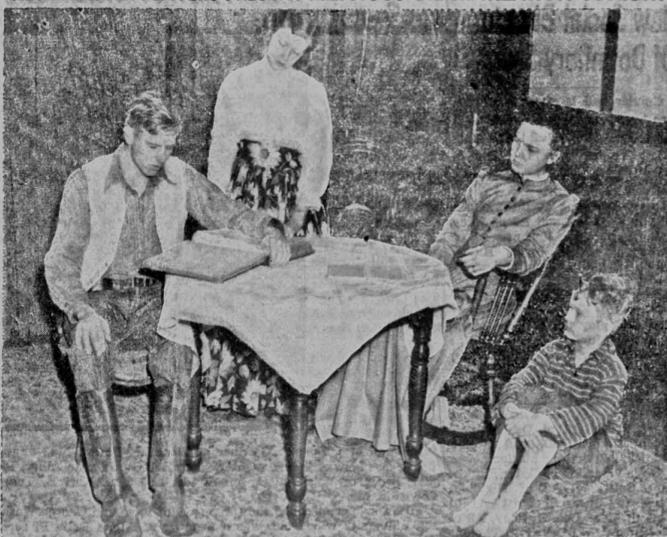

WEATHER, RUSSIANS SLOW HITLER

Hitler's failures around Moscow lately can be attributed to the weather and the brilliant Russian use of land mines.

U. S. WORKS ON LAMP MINES

One of this nation's unexposed defense deficiencies is in land mines. All we have are now obsolete, because they are metal and can be detected by any simple magnet.

WESTMINSTER PLAYERS PRESENT RELIGIOUS DRAMATIZATION TONIGHT

"The Life of Philip Bliss," a second in a series of dramatizations of great hymn writers by the Rev. Marcus Bach of the school of religion, will be given tonight at 8:30 by the Westminster players at the vesper services in the Presbyterian church.

Grooming Outfits Enhance Attractiveness

You prospective purchasers of feminine Christmas gifts! What more could any woman—sweetheart, mother or roommate—want than a complete grooming outfit to enhance her own good looks and the attractiveness of her dressing table?

Some sets substitute a slim, flat comb-type clothes brush in place of the tray. Any woman will appreciate having such a clothes brush because it's delightful to use, good-looking enough for the dressing table and handy for a last minute whisking of dusty bag, gloves, shoulders or even shoe tips.

There's also the alternative of brush, comb and mirror sets to which additional pieces can be added from time to time for occasional gifts.

Perfectly suited to the limited space and time allotted the college girl are the four piece sets of every natural barrier. They have even gone to the extent of bringing in dirt to build mounds in flat areas as tank obstacles.

A Dirt Chaser

The best dirt chaser of all is a darling little egg-shaped complexion brush with a handle. The bristles are ever so fine—gentle to the skin, but firm enough to spell trouble for pore accumulations.

You're sure to find that a grooming outfit will prove to be a cherished possession of any woman—for it means good looks, Remember it for "beauty's sake!"

Modern Guillotine

One of the feature attractions of the Maurice the Marvel show to be given in the high school auditorium Dec. 13 is the 18th century guillotine act demonstrated above. Proceeds are for the funds of the Iowa City high school debate association. This is Maurice's second engagement in Iowa City.

Last year he and Marlas, Iowa City mentalist, presented the program, "Mastery of Mystery." Maurice is presenting the entire performance this year, featuring the visible blooming of a rose bush and the evaporated milk comedy effects. Seats are to be reserved.

Many persons who are interested in taking the course found it impossible to enroll last week in the first of the series, Dr. Daum said, and it is in consideration of that group that the new unit is being formed.

Enrollees in the first Canteen unit will meet tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in the W.R.C. rooms of the Community building for the second instruction period of the ten week course.

Dr. Daum will lecture on "The Amount of Energy Needed by the Body." Last weeks instruction on proteins will be reviewed. Instruction manuals will be distributed and roll will be taken.

General Electric... "THE BLANKET WITH A BRAIN"

Constant Automatic Warmth

GENERAL ELECTRIC AUTOMATIC BLANKET is the first warm blanket that's automatic. Heretofore, we have slept under covers resembling in principle the blankets of ancient savages—blankets which cannot produce heat. The only service that even the finest wool blanket can render is to retard the escape of heat that the body works hard to produce. The amazing Automatic Blanket does produce heat—a mild, constant warmth like drowsy southern sunshine.

8 NEW SLEEP COMFORTS

1. Slip into a bed warm as toast and fall asleep faster.
2. Relax in a bed that's warm all over. No cold spots.
3. Uniform warmth all night. No reaching for extra covers.
4. No piling on heavy covers, only one lightweight Automatic Blanket.
5. Wake up fresh—less body energy wasted on heat.
6. The best aid to beauty is a perfect night's sleep.
7. No damp cold sheets in rainy weather.
8. More comfort, less argument when two sleep together.

CEDAR FALLS.—(Special to The Daily Iowan) — U-high's Bluehawks won their second victory in two stars here yesterday afternoon, defeating Cedar Falls Teachers high in a 29-22 contest.

Coach Paul Brecher's Rivermen took the lead in the first minutes of the game, and held it throughout the entire tilt. Jim Schneberger started the scoring with a neat follow-in shot under the basket.

U-high showed its superiority over the Little Tutors in all departments of the game. The only threat made by the Orange and Black came in the last quarter, but was squelched by the improved defense of the Rivermen.

Ending the first half with a 20-9 advantage the Bluehawks held the Little Tutors scoreless the entire third quarter.

Two U-high boys were outstanding in their play yesterday afternoon. Capt. George Lehman used his height to advantage under the basket to toll up enough points to be high scorer. Bob Alderman, although small in size, cut loose with his speed to rack up 9 points for consolation honors.

Eddy and Mast were the outstanding players for Teachers high.

Sub Sophomore Backs Give Texas Aggies Win Over Washington State

TACOMA (AP)—A couple of substitute sophomore backs teamed in the fading minutes of the first half yesterday to score the only touchdown for Texas A & M and give the Aggies a 7 to 0 victory over Washington State college before more than 25,000 fans in "Evergreen Bowl."

It was the last game for the Aggies, Southwest conference champions, before they play Alabama in the Cotton bowl New Year's day.

The starting team was passing pitching Leo Daniels, a sophomore in competition, although not in classes, and Cullen Rogers.

Derace Moser, the Aggies' star passer, had done most of the work as the Aggies got to the Cougar 38. Then Daniels replaced him. He threw a long sharp pass to his left. Rogers hauled it, spun as the flying body of defending Felix Fletcher, W.S.C. half, tried to flag him, then turned and out-ran safety man Jay Stoves for the touchdown.

Texas' Greatest Blasts Oregon In Finale, 71-7

Scores Almost at Will Using Three Teams; Line Play Outstanding

By RAY NEUMANN
AUSTIN, Tex (AP)—The team called Texas' greatest in history reached the end of the gridiron trail yesterday with a smashing 71 to 7 victory over the University of Oregon.

Crushing the heavier pacific coast conference squad at every turn, the Texans, scoring almost at will, used three full teams to demolish the Webfoots.

The Longhorn first stringers, headed by Pete Layden, Jack Crain, Malcolm Kutner, et al, were accorded a tremendous ovation when they left the field for the last time.

About the only weapon used with any effect by Oregon was passing and a tricky hand-off reverse play which it managed its only score.

Devastating blocking and raging line play on the part of the Steers featured the contest which bowed out 16 Texas seniors. The game was played before 26,000 spectators.

Iowa gave about 300 of its fans a full-length preview on the field-house court last night, but when all the shouting, pushing and booting was over, those spectators were only sure of one thing, the Hawks could score points.

It was a terrific scoring pace that the Hawkeyes set against the game squad of freshmen which provided the competition, and they encountered no trouble at all in coming out on the long end of a 58-16 count.

Kuhl Scores 19
With Milt Kuhl contributing 19 points and Tom Chapman 14, the Hawks started off slowly, gathered momentum in the middle of the first half, and then shot off to the scoring heights without letting down again.

The freshmen led only once, 2-1, in the first minute of play. From there on in, however, they couldn't come close, because the Hawkeyes were so busy with offensive antics that the frosh couldn't get the ball.

It was a ragged game last night from start to finish, but, as usual in the opening competition of the season, bright spots of play made the situation seem more than just hopeful to those Iowa fans.

Close Passing Flashes
Iowa's close-in passing game worked exceptionally well at times and fizzled out in others, but certainly gave the indication that it only needs ironing out to make the Hawks a big threat under the basket.

Coach Rollie Williams' fast break accounted for several counters, and it was in this phase of the tussle that the short passing game was at its best. With Wendell Hill and Vic Siegel doing the tossing, and Kuhl the receiving, setups were a lead pipe cinch. Kuhl merely reached up and
