Army Set to 'Meet Any Threat' Japanese Troops Win Footholds on 160 Mile Front as U.S. Fliers Smash Convoy of 6 Ships

Fifth Columnists Are Sought For Activities on West Coast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The army announced last night it had ringed the nation with men and steel sufficient to "meet any threat" of invasion—and added that a search was on for fifth columnists who lit beacons to guide enemy airmen to Seattle.

In two communiques, its first of the war, it told of both success and setbacks in the far Pacific, and disclosed what had been done to protect the nation's coastal areas, their dense populations and mighty war industries against axis attack.

The fifth columnist search was on in the region of Port Angeles, Washington. In that vicinity, state police last night found and extinguished a series of fires, in the form of arrows pointing toward Seattle.

"Steps to augment the defense of both the east and west coasts commenced Sunday night when the war department placed plans in effect which have materially strengthened the forces already stationed in those areas," the communique said.

"The railroads will greatly increase the movement of troops and material, operating through trains to destinations on emergency schedules. In addition to the ground troops moved, the air force has completed a redistribution of air units which has placed it in a position to meet any threat on both the east and west coasts."

At the same time, the war department made public 88 more names of those killed at Pearl Harbor, and the navy disclosed that Rear Admiral Isaac Campbell Kidd was killed in action during last Sunday's savage peace-time attack on that outpost.

Total casualties had already been officially estimated at 3,000, with nearly half of them fatalities.

Successes took the forms of bombing attacks on a convoy of Japanese troop transports off Luzon in the Philippines. One of the transports was sunk and five others damaged.

But Japanese landing parties successfully gained footholds on northern Luzon, the principal Philippine island, and the capital was stunned at word of the sinking of the British battleship Prince of Wales and battle cruiser Repulse.

On the home front, meanwhile, William S. Knudsen called for a "work or fight" program and said production of heavy four-motored bombers would be increased to 1,000 monthly, twice the present goal.

The seven day, 168 hour production week must go into effect immediately in five fields, he said, naming them as guns, planes, tanks, ammunition and shipbuilding.

New plants must be built for making TNT and powder, he said, and new plane plants would be located well inland, out of the reach of enemy bombers.

American Newsmen Confined to Homes As Nazi Retaliation

BERLIN (AP)—United States newspapermen were ordered out of a German press conference yesterday and sent to their homes in German retaliation for the arrest of axis newspapermen in the United States.

The American embassy said later they were not arrested but merely confined to their homes.

The Americans were seated with other newspapermen at the customary conference table when the foreign office spokesman came to the door. Instead of entering, he announced:

"Contrary to international practice, German correspondents have been arrested in the United States. I must now ask American correspondents to leave this room and proceed to their homes."

As the Americans left he silently shook their hands.

Government Moves To Stop Possible New Buying Wave

Prohibit Tire Sales By Wholesale, Retail Stores Until Dec. 22

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government last night banned the sale of any new automobile tires to the public until Dec. 22 to stop "a consumers' buying wave."

The order effective today, was issued by Donald M. Nelson, priorities director, on the recommendation of the OPM's civilian supply division. "Severe Penalties," the OPM said, are provided for violation of the order.

No Sale Permitted

"The prohibition means," the announcement explained, "that no new automobile, truck, bus, or motorcycle, farm implement or other type of tire or tube may be sold by anyone—including tire stores both wholesale and retail; filling stations, automobile dealers or any others—except on preference rating orders of A-3 or higher."

"The restriction, however, does not apply to the sale of used tires and tubes, retreaded tires, or to the sale of tires and tubes furnished with new or used automotive vehicles."

"Although the prohibition on tire sales is effective until Dec. 22, a more permanent plan for controlling distribution of tires is to be worked out."

The OPM said the consumers' buying wave had broken out after the start of hostilities with Japan Sunday. Motorists and others apparently feared the war would shut off the supply of rubber and decided to stock up.

The order was issued so suddenly that tire dealers, who apparently will have to close shop for ten days unless they sell other merchandise, had no advance warning.

American Republics Consulted on Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States yesterday called upon its good neighbors, the 20 other American republics, to consult on joint action for defense of the western hemisphere against the axis.

Secretary of State Hull formally proposed to the governing board of the Pan American union that the foreign ministers of the American nations convene in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, the first week in January to consult on defense measures in conformity with good neighbor pledges already made at Pan American conferences.

Date for the meeting is expected to be set December 17.

Reichstag to Meet For Nazi Declaration Early This Morning

Germany's Position In War Is Expected News to Be Heard

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Adolf Hitler's reichstag was called to meet at 3 p.m. today (7 a.m. central standard time) to hear "a declaration by the German government."

It undoubtedly concerns the United States and the war in the Pacific.

In the fast-breaking zero hour developments leading up to the German radio announcement of the reichstag meeting, both Berlin and Rome isolated themselves from communication with the United States.

Two previous—and devious—reports of the fateful reichstag meeting reached the United States before the confirming announcement was heard on the German short-wave radio in New York.

A possible clue to the axis position was seen in a statement of the Italian foreign office spokesman in Rome that Italy and Germany adopt the attitude that the United States had brought them into the Japanese war. This conversation was reported by the Swiss news agency.

BERN, Switzerland, (AP)—Communications between Switzerland and the Berlin and Rome offices of The Associated Press were broken last night.

The Bern Associated Press bureau was unable to reach the offices in the axis capitals by either telephone or teletype.

American correspondents in Berlin were ordered to their homes today in retaliation for the arrest of axis newspapermen in the United States.

Italy and Germany will adopt the attitude that the United States has brought them into the Japanese war, the Italian foreign office spokesman told foreign newspapermen in Rome.

The official position is not yet ready to be announced, the spokesman said, and added the President Roosevelt in his speech last night "declared Germany and Italy, independent of any declaration of war, consider themselves already at war with the United States."

The press conference was reported by the Swiss news agency.

United States Army War Planes Set Afire Japan's 29,000-Ton Battleship 'Hirinuma'

MANILA (AP)—The Japanese battleship "Hirinuma"—29,000 tons—was struck by three bombs from an American army bomber yesterday and left blazing fiercely off northern Luzon, an army spokesman announced today.

Besides the three direct hits on the vessel, he said, two bombs were laid "very close alongside." The attack took place about 10 miles northeast of northern Luzon.

At the same time, the spokesman announced the repulse by the Philippine army today of light attacks by Japanese ground troops along the west coast of Luzon.

MANILA (AP)—Invading Japanese troops and parachutists were reported last night to have won footholds of uncertain tenacity along 160 miles of the north and northwest Luzon coast of the Philippines, despite a smashing assault by U.S. army and navy fliers on one transport convoy of six ships.

The U.S. army announced officially that the Japanese, in heavy force, swept against northern Luzon from Vigan to Aparri, that landings were effected at Aparri and perhaps several contiguous points on the north coast and that the six-ship troop convoy had been crippled in early morning landing operations near Vigan, on the northwest.

The Philippine constabulary said main Japanese forces also had succeeded in landing near Vigan and there was one report that the town had been taken by Japanese parachutists.

A second army communique late in the afternoon said the situation in north Luzon was unchanged and that no other landings had been confirmed aside from those mentioned earlier, about Aparri.

Manila and its own naval and military establishments were under ferocious and sustained aerial attack in the bright afternoon sunshine.

Smoke columns were visible from Nichols air depot; fires burned at the Cavite naval base, and the raiders struck at a line of merchant ships anchored outside the breakwater of Manila Bay and at Fort William McKinley.

More than 100 bombs were dropped in the first hour of the attack. Several Japanese planes were reported shot down.

U.S. Seizes 2,303 Aliens

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has seized 2,303 enemy aliens since Sunday, apparently completing its initial program for such arrests.

Attorney General Biddle, announcing the totals yesterday at a press conference, said the Federal Bureau of Investigation had apprehended all those listed for arrest in this country within two hours after receiving its orders.

In Hawaii the job was done within three hours.

Those held include 1,291 Japanese, 865 Germans and 147 Italians.

Aparri was pounded from the air throughout Tuesday night and then shelled by warships, while the first troops landed at dawn at nearby Pamplona.

American troops, with the support of the Philippine army, were going into action on the ground.

Those Japanese landing operations which were carried out were along some 80 miles of China sea coast and a similar distance of the Babuyan channel coast.

This coast-line for the most part is favorable for landings. For many years Filipinos, there have complained to the authorities that Japanese fishing boats frequently visited the region and made soundings, but few of them ever were pursued and captured.

From both Vigan and Aparri, however, the invaders face rough terrain if they hope to advance overland toward Manila.

We Are Directly at War With The Ideological Madness Which Seeks to Destroy Us Totally

In 1853, the United States under Admiral Perry helped to open a little box in the Far East. That box was a land of kimonos, beautiful temples, striking scenery, rice fields and silk.

Japan, the modern Pandora's box, has been something of a "modern" since those days. Her students studied in the progressive Occidental nations, were struck there by the backwardness of their nation.

Gradually, the Japanese resolve to become a great power took active form. By 1894, under Joseph Hardy Neesima, she had taken great strides in that direction.

By 1904-05, the world was beginning to wonder whether or not she had opened the wrong box. Japan upset the odds by soundly defeating Russia, who had at that time the largest army in the world.

In the World War, Japan was considered an important factor in the allied cause.

In the naval conferences of 1922-23, Japan surlily agreed to a five to five to three naval ratio with the United States and Great Britain. But she denounced that treaty in time, and started to build a navy on a par with those of the United States and Britain.

Then she adopted an imperialistic policy, purportedly for the purpose of securing Lebensraum and for spreading "economic enlightenment" in the Far East.

China was the first victim of her new policy. Manchuria was taken in 1931. In 1933 Japan dropped out of the League of Nations. Again in 1937 the Japanese invaded China, intending to take and hold the important cities of that hapless nation.

Then the Nanking government, under the orders of Tokyo, was formed. Incidents cropped up in Japan's relations with the United States, with the nearest thing to a break in peace arriving in December, 1937, after the sinking of the United States gunboat, Panay, in Far Eastern waters.

It is interesting to note that Japan's Far Eastern expansion has paralleled that of Germany in the west. Her expansion of influence, her diplomatic pressures have shadowed the East as those of Germany have shadowed the west.

Imperial diplomacy under the powers of Tokyo was the Japanese counterpart of the nazism of Germany—a philosophy of power, an ideology of expansion and control which since has come to be, in fact, the curse of the civilization of this era.

On December 7, 1941, Japan, under what actual or anticipated pressure from Berlin only time will tell, following tactics the nazis had proved to be successful in a highly uncivilized way, hurled her military might against the strongest nations on earth, and against the strongest nation on earth, and America and Britain form an alliance with such potential might that only the utter stupidity of their combined leadership could possibly drop a final decision to Japan over any conceivable period of time, no matter how brief nor long.

So it is that from the modern Pandora's Far Eastern box has sprung one of the geni of evil of our time, a geni of the same soul and spirit of the master geni of Berlin, whether or not those two are operating as allies or simply following the same devious highroad to Napoleonic glory. From the box whose lock first was sprung by this nation has come the evil power which now seeks to destroy us.

Let us not confuse that geni with the whole of the Japanese people. Let us not speak of destroying an empire in a racial sense.

But let us realize, once and for all, that we must destroy the ideological madness which now is rampant upon the earth. The modern exponents of that devilish, insatiable power are the nazi leaders of Germany (not the German people), the fascist powers of Italy (not the people of the Italian state), and the military leaders of the Empire of Japan.

Let us here resolve, backed by all the rich heritage of freedom which has been built through the ages, that we shall forever purge the new frontiers of man of the degenerate force of slavery which, through our own mean unwillingness to be wise, has periodically appeared to drive dignified man from the pinnacles of mental and spiritual glory which is his ultimate destiny.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS By PAUL MALLON

We Must Insist Upon the Modern Kind of Fighting Direction— WASHINGTON—Sumner Welles, the state under-secretary, wanted to bet an associate 10 to 1 a few days before the Jap attack, that there would be war. The vital 14th street railroad bridge, (only rail connection east of the mountains between the north and south) was suddenly fitted with electric lights under its piers for protection against sabotage the day before war broke. An unusual war-like conference between the fighting service leaders, Knox and Stimson, was held with State Secretary Hull a few hours before the declaration of war came from Tokyo.

Other evidence, equally emphatic, can be found in the public utterances of Navy Secretary Knox the past few weeks that war with Japan was expected by this government. The only surprise then, was in the way the Japs did it. The only shock was the successful attack upon the American navy, snoozing in the remote safety of Hawaii.

Thus, the most important of all possible questions has been raised at the outset of this war. Are we going to learn alertness the hard way, the way the British learned it? Are we going to get efficiency eventually from the blood and whitewash of defeats, or are we going to get it the right way by insisting upon the modern kind of fighting direction which will surprise the other fellow instead of letting us be surprised?

We Need Fighting Management

This warning complaint is wholly impersonal. The same inquiry arose in many a congressional and official mind at the first break of the incredible news. In many quarters, you could hear talk like this: "Of course I do not like to suggest such things at a time like this, but someone should be courtmartialled for permitting the Japs to get bombers over our fleet base."

Court-martialing will do no good. We had court-martials galore after the first Bull Run. They always wind up six months or a year after the damage has been done, with a printed record full of alibis, and a post-mortem report.

The time to act is before the necessity for another court-martial may develop. Whatever corrective is needed, must be supplied at once.

We already have the men and the ships to do the job. Obviously the only kind of correctives called for are those which will assure a take-nothing-for-granted fighting imagination in management personnel. We have more men of that type than any nation in the world. All we need to do is to get them in the right positions.

The admiral who thinks the "Japs will be a cinch for us" will be no good to the navy. The one who is thinking along the line of how to plug them in their weakest spot is the admiral who will do the job.

Excuses Make Matters Worse

Even the preliminary facts available in this case show that patrol bombers in large quantities were dispatched to Hawaii months ago for the purpose of scouring the seas every minute. Their easy radius is 1,000 miles from Honolulu.

Also we have an airplane listening device so good that we sent many to England along with mechanics to operate them. We had plenty of them at Pearl Harbor.

An anchored fleet should not be meat for bombers if the fleet has planes in the air, and certainly all ships at anchor are ordinarily protected from torpedo attack by screens of barges.

The only excuse commonly mentioned at the outset here was that the attack was expected upon Manila, and not upon Honolulu—an excuse which only makes matters worse.

Let's Have Honest Criticism

To air much comment at a trying time, may appear to some persons (like the above-mentioned congressmen) to be demoralizing. That attitude will find special favor among timid elderly ladies, politicians afraid to express their opinions and a few—very few—short-sighted government officials who desire to save the government from all criticism. The time to talk is now in order that pressure for correctives may be fully furnished at the earliest possible moment.

Censorship does not cover criticism. That is a point for which we are fighting this war. Every citizen is sacredly bound to conceal information concerning military movements. But his duty to speak his mind for the good of his country is equally sacred.

The greatest of all national healthgivers is honest, reasoned criticism. It gets results. The other kind destroys itself and needs no suppression.

Sometimes overly eager and sensitive government officials get these matters mixed, but not very often, and not for very long.

Long Struggle Ahead

An early end to this war is something to hope and pray for, but a long hard struggle of three or four years is what you had better plan on.

Only among the diplomats and the top political men of the fighting services do you now hear expressions that Berlin and Tokyo will collapse without a military defeat. Even a smaller few believe Russia can do the job on Hitler.

From military men who are planning the fighting comes an almost unanimous private expression that the struggle will last indefinitely. Our inability to get at Germany and Japan and vice versa, coupled with our lack of preparedness, forces that conclusion. Not before 1945-46 do they expect victory.

News Will Be Slow

Don't expect full facts of war engagements promptly. The president covered over the Honolulu setback and other war news with unrevealing generalizations in his congressional message. The navy department publicity division froze stiff at the first news. Only three inconsequential bulletins concerning other routine matters came from it in the ensuing 24 hours. Only Presidential Press Secretary Stephen Early was giving out the news from the front.

It is universal custom in modern war to hold back both favorable and unfavorable (but particularly unfavorable) facts until all possibility of aiding enemy intelligence has passed.

A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK—If you want to find out who people are, you should walk right up to them and inquire. Then you easily ascertain everything you want to know, and that's all there is to it. Frances Whiting, the Cosmopolitan editor, knows this now.

She learned it in Hollywood, where a party was given in her honor. When she got there, the place was alive with connoisseurs of the films, writers, producers and famous names. It seemed to Frances as she took in the scene that she was able to identify everybody there—everybody, that is, except one sunny young woman who drifted amiably but aimlessly about, familiar with everyone yet attached to no special set or group.

Miss Whiting looked her over and decided she must be some lovely new refugee from Vienna who would doubtless be turned loose on the movie public soon, and so when she found herself by this young woman's side, she smiled and inquired, "Are you in pictures?"

The young woman's eyes slowly turned from the scene of glitter through which so many celebrated studio jackstraws moved. As they came to rest on Frances Whiting they flooded over with a warm, amused friendliness.

"No-o-o-o," she said, and her mouth described a round little "o." "No-o-o-o. . . I'm just rich."

THIS is for you. It's something I caught on the fly, and I thought you'd like to know. I happened to be hurrying through the lobby of the Algonquin Hotel and as I picked up a Colliers at the desk, I overheard this remark: "Young Will Rogers looks just like his father. . . He's working for a film company in Hollywood. . . All the Rogers are natural and unaffected. They're absolutely them-

Bedroom Scene Isn't What It Used to Be—By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — Sleepy-time items for a sleepy afternoon:

The bedroom scene isn't what it used to be, but Hollywood still has beds. Hundreds of beds, millions and billions and trillions of beds—or was that little fable about cats? Oh, well, hundreds of beds. So far the Hays office hasn't banned the bed.

The most colossal movie bed I ever saw was the one Charles Laughton had for a near-deadthbed in "It started With Eve." The most vulgar (and funniest) was that gilded swan affair in which the Mae West cases reposed for "She Done Him Wrong." Both of these are what are known in the trade as "character beds" as differentiated from "straight beds"—in much the same fashion as "character actors" are distinguished from leading men and women.

The most dependable bed for laughs is the Murphy, or wall bed. Why this should be after all these years, is hard to explain. A movie audience should know by now that a wall bed in the movies must inevitably fly up unexpectedly, carrying a hapless actor with it. Still this bit of bed business seldom fails to get a mass chorle.

A. C. (WHITEY) WILSON, the head of the Warner prop department, had a bed in which Napoleon once slept. At least the original owner, who sold it to Whitey for his movie collection, said that Napoleon once slept in it. Whitey, who scoured France and Europe for props after the last war when he went over in the A. E. F., recalls an odd circumstance, to wit: almost every other house in some parts of France had beds in which Napoleon was supposed to have slept. He saw more such beds, he insists, than Napoleon had nights. That's why he isn't at all sure that the Napoleon bed he finally chose ever really enfolded the pudgy form of the ex-corporal, who could have settled a lot of arguments by carving his initials on every bed he did sleep in. Not that it makes any difference to the movies—that bed is just another "character" as far as the prop department is concerned. Metro, of course, is on surer ground—or mattress. It has a bed in which Napoleon DID sleep—Charles (Napoleon) Boyer.

In Whitey Wilson's collection are about 500 beds. Granting other studios an equal number, we can safely say that Hollywood has thousands, not mere hundreds, of beds. But this is the sad thing: There isn't a good night's sleep in any of them. The movies remove the springs so that the cutesy cupped-to slumber beneath the coverslets can be photographed better. What's the sense in paying a fancy figure for a fancy figure if the camera has to excavate it from a yielding mattress?

The Allied cause. The day soon may come when the virtuoso will again be the mayor's aide—in the Civilian Defense Drive.

Graduate College Will Consider Organizing Philosophical Club

Most Problems Value Issues, Speaker Says

Prof. A. C. Benjamin Will Discuss Relations Of Philosophy, Arts

"Philosophy and the Liberal Arts" is the topic to be discussed by Prof. A. Cornelius Benjamin of the department of philosophy, University of Chicago, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Senate chamber, Old Capitol.

Under the auspices of the graduate college, the address is one of the features of the conference being held here tomorrow and Saturday to consider the organization of an Iowa philosophical society.

Will Evaluate Relations

Professor Benjamin will evaluate the relations of philosophy and the various arts and sciences.

Most problems in the specialized fields of investigation lead to philosophical issues, he indicates.

Professor Benjamin believes that the sciences are mainly in pursuit of intellectual values of human endeavor, but that moral, artistic and religious values also direct our activities.

Author of 3 Books

He is the author of "The Logical Structure of Science," "An Introduction to the Philosophy of Science" and "The Logical Atomism of Bertrand Russell" and is editorial associate of the journal, "Philosophy of Science."

For several years, he has had charge of a course entitled "Methods, Values and Concepts," for seniors at the University of Chicago.

The lecture will be open to the public. A discussion will follow.

Prof. Sybil Woodruff to Speak At Baconian Lecture Tonight

Complexities of starch will be discussed by Prof. Sybil Woodruff, head of the home economics department, at the sixth Baconian lecture at 7:30 tonight in the Senate chamber, Old Capitol.

Prof. William F. Mengert of the college of medicine will preside at the lecture in place of Prof. George Coleman of the chemistry department, chairman of the Baconian lecture committee.

Although knowledge of the behavior of starch has been materially changed since scientific methods have been employed, practical use of starch did not wait for the development of those scientific facts, Prof. Woodruff believes.

Much of her work has been done in the field of starch chemistry.

Engineers at Bell Telephone Laboratories developed this circuit which enables two pairs of wires in parallel cables to carry as many as twelve separate conversations at the same time.

More Than 2,000 'Wales' Survivors Saved

Singapore Stunned by Sinking Of Powerful British Warships

English Land Forces Consolidate Positions In Northern Malaya

—LATE BULLETIN—

SINGAPORE (AP) — More than 2,000 of some 3,000 men who made up the crew of the sunken battleship Prince of Wales and the battle cruiser Repulse, have been rescued from the China sea, British authorities announced today.

SINGAPORE (AP) — Several hundred survivors of the British battleship Prince of Wales and battle cruiser Repulse sunk by the Japanese in the south China sea, were rescued by a destroyer today and brought here. Their number and the circumstances of the rescue were not disclosed.

British land forces meanwhile consolidated their positions along strong new lines in northern Malaya, where the Japanese had driven a wedge across the frontier. Singapore heard in stunned silence of the sinking of the two powerful capital ships which led Britain's new eastern fleet into Malayan waters only eight days ago. Naval authorities said they were unable at present to give details of the grievous setback to the fleet, which had gone on a sweep of the sea looking for Japanese naval units.

The Japanese in their land drive apparently had captured hotly contested Kota Bharu airbase, but elsewhere on the long peninsula leading to Singapore British defenses were firm.

British and Indian troops reformed and reorganized south of Kota Bharu after heavy fighting in the jungles just below the Thai border, and a communique said their losses were comparatively light.

The Japanese who landed at Kuantan, on the Malayan east coast about 200 miles above Singapore and 100 miles below Kota Bharu were battling vainly against strong British positions, it was announced.

Only at Kota Bharu on the ragged north border had the Japanese made any advance, and at one point in this frontier area a Punjabi motorized unit trapped and destroyed seven Japanese tanks.

U.S. to Use, Control Radio Facilities For National Defense Aid

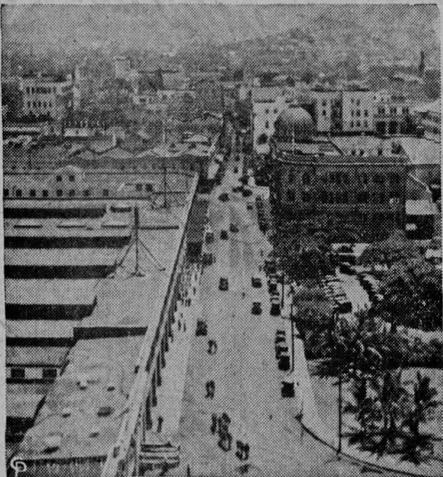

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt authorized the defense communications board yesterday to designate radio facilities for "use, control, inspection, or closure" by the war or navy departments or other government agencies with the objective of insuring "the national defense and the successful conduct of the war."

The chief executive gave this power to the board, upon its recommendation, by means of an executive order. The white house said this step had the unanimous approval of the army, navy, state and treasury departments, and federal communications commission.

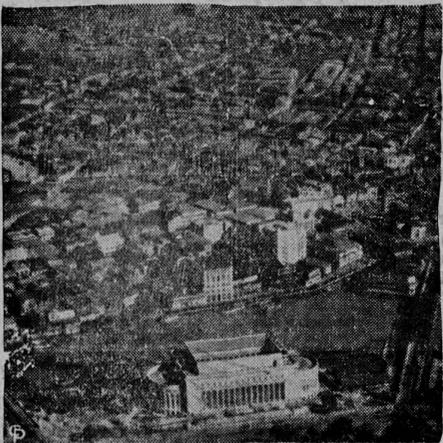

An official explanation said this did not mean any general commandeering of stations. An executive order by the president "means simply that the chief executive is delegating to the defense communications board certain authority which is already given him" by the communications act, said chairman James Lawrence Fly of the board.

He asserted that no "general taking over or operation of private radio by the government is contemplated.

Two British Battle Cruisers Sunk By Japanese in Fight off Malaya

Worst Single Tragedy To Befall Royal Navy Since War Began

LONDON (AP) — Two great British men of war, the 35,000-ton battleship Prince of Wales and the 32,000-ton battle cruiser Repulse were sunk yesterday by the Japanese in action off Malaya.

The full story had not yet unfolded here last night. "There was no information as to how they had been destroyed aside from Japan's claim that they had gone down under air attack—an unprecedented feat, if true, recalling reports that Japanese pilots have been making "human torpedoes" of themselves by diving headlong at the objective.

Australians Stunned Dispatches from Sydney reported the loss of the Prince of Wales and Repulse had stunned the people of Australia and altered the whole conception of Australian preparations.

Sinking of the two mighty ships was the worst single tragedy to befall the royal navy since the war began. Nevertheless, it left Britain with at least 19 battleships afloat or building.

Shortly after Prime Minister Churchill had informed parliament of the news, the German agency DNB attributed to Japanese naval authorities an expression of belief that the 35,000-ton battleship King George V also had gone down.

The prime minister made his announcement with utter candor, not sparing the house.

"I have bad news for the house which I thought I should impart to them at the earliest possible moment," he said.

"The report has been received from Singapore that HMS Prince of Wales and HMS Repulse have been sunk while carrying out operations against a Japanese attack on Malaya.

"No details are yet available except those contained in a Japanese official communique which claims both ships were sunk by an air attack.

To State War Situation "I shall take occasion at an early date to make a short statement of the general war situation which has, from many points of view, both favorably and adversely undergone important changes in the last few days."

The loss of life aboard the Repulse and Prince of Wales, which together carried crews aggregating more than 3,000 men, was not known.

(Alfred Duff Cooper, the British minister in the far east, was heard by CBS to state in a broadcast from Singapore that this loss had been considerable.)

The Prince of Wales, launched in 1939 and especially armored against war attack, participated in hunting down the German battleship Bismarck after the latter had destroyed the British battle cruiser Hood.

It was aboard the Prince of Wales that Winston Churchill and President Roosevelt drew up the Atlantic charter.

Lower New York Has 2nd Air Raid Warning

NEW YORK (AP)—A pickup of a plane flight off the east coast resulted in air raid warnings yesterday in New York City, on Long Island, in Newark and other New Jersey cities with the all clear signal sounding a short time later.

An intelligence officer at Mitchell field, headquarters of the First air corps, explained that there was "an actual pickup of planes at sea," but they were identified a short time later and the all-clear signal was given.

The method that will be used to raise the $7,900 has not been decided upon as yet.

"Johnson county met its quota in the last war and in every emergency since," Crawford stated, "and I have no doubt that with the help of each citizen, it will do so again."

'More Caution' Warning Issued To Iowa City's Private Pilots

J. E. Beighle Handles Pilot Questionnaires For Civilian Defense

"Future private flying must be more cautious," Col. H. L. Kinsey, local manager of United Airlines, told private pilots at a meeting of the Iowa City Pilots club last night in the Jefferson hotel.

"It is possible that a squadron of army planes may be stationed at Iowa City airport in the future," Kinsey said.

In warning local pilots of recent regulations that have gone into effect at the airport because of the current national crisis, Kinsey said, "For those people who have said, 'It can't happen here', I, for one, am glad to see their minds changed because of the recent occurrences in the Pacific these past few days. It can happen here," he stated, "and civilian pilots must do their part in preventing it."

Questionnaires were filled out at the meeting, presided over by J. E. Beighle, head of the local pilots' club. A condensed summary of the information gained from them will be sent to officials in Chicago in order to determine the number of private pilots eligible for civilian defense.

Necessary documents for reinstatement of private pilot certificates were announced at the meeting by Beighle. Papers to be shown to CAA inspectors upon arrival are as follows: fingerprints, which may be secured at the city hall; birth certificate; four affidavits such as bank, insurance, baptismal, and family records; a picture; and a record of license owner's whereabouts and occupations during the past ten years.

Bud Freeman's New Orchestra Plays for Pica Ball

Tickets for Annual Journalism Dance On Sale at Union

Playing tomorrow night for the annual Pica Ball, sponsored by the school of journalism, will be Bud Freeman, "the nation's number one saxophonist," and his 12 piece orchestra.

The thin-haired wiry tenor saxophonist, according to Down Beat, has been rehearsing in Chicago for several weeks and now that the band is set for a radio commercial over WGN, N. Y., it appears as if this crew will stick together.

"This is the band I've always wanted," says Freeman. "A band which plays music, not hokum. To me, real or organized improvising is the only kind of music."

Bud's band got its audition in the stuffy smoke-filled backroom of Joe and Al's restaurant on N. Rush street in Chicago a couple of weeks ago. The spot is where many musicians from the nearby radio stations rehearse. The radio biggies pronounced themselves satisfied with the Freeman band of improvised music after they dropped over to hear the band run through only three or four numbers.

Bud has lined up some of the best men in Chicago in the band. Included are Shorty Cherock on trumpet, Bill Dohler, alto; Marty Greenberg, drums; Harold Taylor, bass; Jack Gardner, piano, and Bob McCracken, clarinet. Incidentally, Cherock is also playing four radio shows in Chicago, which keeps him hopping.

Every tune is arranged by Freeman himself. Bud thinks up his own phrases, refusing to employ any figure that he ever recalls being used by any one else.

None of the music is ever put down on paper. Bud merely plays his ideas on his horn, then tells the others in his band what he wants for them—maybe a sliding chromatic scale over and over again, or one pungent phrase repeated against his solo, or perhaps some two or three part harmony, between the saxes and the clarinet. Every man keeps the score in his head.

Besides the radio commercial, the Freeman band may record some of its numbers for Columbia soon. Freeman particularly has in mind the waxing of "I've Got Rhythm," "I Found a New Baby," "Royal Garden Blues" and "Blue Lou," numbers which the band particularly likes to play because of their improvising possibilities.

'Y' Group to Give Christmas Program

Present Entertainment For Children's Hospital Audience This Evening

254 PILOTS GRADUATE FROM RANDOLPH FIELD DEC. 12

Two hundred fifty-four student pilots, including Richard E. Belmont, have nearly completed their 10-week training period in the light, basic training planes shown above and soon will be flying the army's fastest, most powerful ships in their final training period before taking the air against enemy fighters. These men will be graduated from Randolph Field, Tex., Dec. 12. They compose the fifth and final class to be turned out in "West Point of the Air," central point of the army's extensive program which calls for 30,000 trained fighters yearly. With "Keep 'em Flying" as their slogan, the men who are graduating from Randolph Field are manning the planes which are rapidly rolling off the assembly lines.

Visitors From Philippines Declare—Manila Well Defended Area

—While Other Islands Are undefended

By JEAN BAUMGARTNER

"The Manila area in the Philippines is well defended, but not the 7000 remaining islands," declared Earl F. Taylor, who has just returned to the United States from a two-year stay in the islands where he has been working for the National Development company in oil exploration.

"Practically all the troops are concentrated near Manila at Nichols field or Camp John Hay in Baguio north of Manila," Taylor said, "while other large islands are virtually undefended."

"One reason the Japanese are attacking Manila is to get at Davao which," Taylor explained, "has a deep, large, well protected bay suitable for a naval base. Davao, on the island of Mindanao, is known for its large hemp plantations run by the well-educated Japanese."

According to Taylor there are now about 3000 Americans in the Philippines. As early as June the United States government evacuated all wives and children of the army and navy men stationed there. He believes the government was acutely aware of the situation because it has been increasing military power in the Philippines the past few months.

"The Japanese know the islands are abundant in timber, coal, iron ore, gold, hemp, rice and tobacco," Taylor explained. "Since the Philippines are an American possession almost surrounded by Japan, the Japanese have always considered them within their sphere of influence. When I left Oct. 31 everyone in Manila expected war. They were jittery, because the Filipinos have feared the Japanese for a long time. There was a food shortage when we left, too. In fact there was a shortage of everything. My wife had a difficult time buying needles and thread."

Pharmacy Window Suggests Useful Gifts For Baskets

As a suggestion for Christmas baskets for the needy, the pharmacy display window points out that drugs and other useful gifts should be included with the usual turkey and all its trimmings.

A huge white and red cross forms the background for the window containing comforts and necessities that many people cannot afford.

Vitamin pills and energy building drugs, antiseptics, first aid bandages, infant supplies, dentrifices and hot water bottles are articles which would be welcomed in many families. A few luxuries, such as bath powder and toilet articles are suggested to add a touch of Christmas gaiety to the basket.

Students of the practical pharmacy class in charge of the display this week are Raymond Snow, P2 of Independence; Leland Coon, P4 of Van Horn; Vernon Castle, P1 of Sioux City, and Jack Donichy, P2 of Morrison, Ill.

University Film Group Will Meet Tomorrow

Early Jolson Picture To Be Among Movies On Evening's Program

"The Jazz Singer," one of the famous "firsts" of the talking pictures featuring Al Jolson will be among the movies shown by the university film society tomorrow night at Macbride auditorium at 8 o'clock.

This original film was 10 reels long with two thirds of it silent. In spite of the sensation created, few thought it a good picture. The curiosity and interest provoked, however, were, in part, responsible for the rapid change from the silent to the sound pictures which followed.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" was the first film made on a large scale and to record the actual sound effects from the battlefield. Walt Disney's first sound cartoon, "Steamboat Willie," introduced the famous Mickey Mouse to the public. Synchronizing sound and music with action, rather than with mere accompaniment constituted a definite advance in sound-film technique.

George Bernard Shaw in one of the earliest news reel shorts will also be presented.

This showing is the third in a series to be given by the film society. Tickets are available in the office of the English department.

Mountaineers to See Travel Films Tonight

Travel films will be shown to members of the Iowa Mountaineers tonight at 7:30 in room S223, engineering building. Admittance is by membership only.

Among the films to be presented are "Wings Over World Wonders," "Up the Athabaska Road in Jasper, Canada," "Wheels across Africa" and "Wings over Africa."

The latter two films cover portions of territory the allies are now defending. "Wings over Africa" is from the British documentary film, "Contact," and deals with the region from Cape Town to Egypt and then to England via mail plane.

By DICK McFARLAND

In what turned out to be a runaway, St. Mary's Ramblers won their sixth consecutive victory of the season from a larger but clumsy Wilton Junction crew, 49-31, last night. The Marians were never seriously threatened.

The Ramblers started out with a bang in usual style, and built up an impressive lead at the start of the game. At the end of the first quarter St. Mary's had the Beavers down, 14-6, and at the half-time had increased its lead to 27-11.

Co-capt. Tony Brack carried off the scoring honors with eight field goals and a pair of charity tosses, totaling 18 points, and Co-capt. Eddie Chadek rated second in Rambler scoring with 13 markers. Wilton Junction was led by Cole at the center position with 13 points.

Seemuth Starts Action

George Seemuth started things rolling with two free throws to give St. Mary's a lead which they kept building up throughout the game. Brack counted three one-handers in the opening period, and Chadek and Bill Sweeney flipped in a bucket apiece. Cole connected twice for the only Beaver goals in the quarter, and the Marians held a 14-6 margin at the end of the opening eight minutes.

In the second quarter, Chadek came in from the back court to drop in two one-hand shots and a long one from the middle of the floor. A long shot by Brenner and a set-up by Knouse was the extent of Wilton's goal scoring. St. Mary's led at the intermission, 27-11.

Free-Scoring Third

The start of the third period was a free-for-all scoring spree for the Ramblers, with Brack pouring in two, Sweeney hitting twice, and Smith and Chadek counting once apiece. Near the close of the quarter, Wilton picked up when Moylan and Cole broke through for a pair of buckets each. Going into the final stanza, St. Mary's was in front, 40-23.

In the closing period, Brack came back with two connections, one from the center of the floor, and Seemuth and Chadek tallied once each. Cole laid in another pair of goals for the Beavers before the gun sounded.

Hawklets Scrimmage In Yesterday's Drill

Coach Fran Merten scrimmaged his team for two hours last night in an effort to find a higher scoring combination than has been put on the floor to date.

A scrimmage with West Liberty was originally scheduled for last night's practice, but a last minute cancellation caused the Little Hawk mentor to divide his team into two equal squads.

After a regulation game that ended 23 to 22, Merten put his first team up against the second team for a game. Dave Danner was shifted to center while Ray Sullivan took over his familiar forward post. Bob Roth went to the backcourt as John Thompson and Bill Sangster played their regular posts at forward and guard respectively.

The hot second team scored at will and chased the varsity over the court and finally ended up with a two point margin. The reserves scored mostly from the fast break that McKinley high is expected to use tomorrow night.

City high will face the Golden Bears in their second conference game after losing to Davenport Friday night in the Mississippi Valley opener.

Lower B had less trouble in taking the Quadrangle title by capturing four first places. The winners tallied 22 points, while Upper B, Upper C and Upper D followed with 14, 10 and two points respectively.

Morris Spencer of Upper C led the scoring with 10 points, and accounted for all the points credited to his team. Charles McGuire of Upper B was second with eight points. The well-balanced Lower B team had no high scorers, the points being well distributed among the various members.

10 Wrestlers Advance Into Semifinal Round Of All-University Meet

Ten advancements were rung up in the second round of the all-university mat meet yesterday; with six of the bouts ending in falls, two by points and two by forfeit.

Dixon Adams threw Bill Leaming in the 121-pound division, scoring the fall in 2:52. In the 128-pound slot, "Rowdy Roy" Pickett roughed up Tom Chuhak and brought his shoulders to the mat in 5:44. Pickett's constant training has developed him to the point where his wrestling doesn't interfere with his gun-chewing.

In the 136-pound division, Capt. Loy Julius tangled with Bill Kridelbaugh, captain of the Iowa gym team. Julius brought Kridelbaugh to the mat and pinned him in 2:30. Herb Williams, one of the promising sophomore grapplers, went to work on Dick Anderson, keeping him under control until he finished it up in 5:17.

The 145-pound division brought the first full time bout, with Boyd Berryhill winning on points from Bob Wright. Dick Geppert and John Von Berg clashed in the 155-pound stall. Geppert executed a beautiful single leg drop and finished his pinning combination in 3:42.

Outstanding bout of the afternoon came in the 165-pound berth when John Shepard locked with Don McMahon. These scrappy freshman wrestlers kept up an unbelievable pace for the full nine minutes, with Shepard coming through to win in a lightning switch in the last three seconds by a one point margin.

Marvin Dubansky brought Gerald Rubinov to the mat in 6:29 to earn a booth in the heavyweight semi-finals this afternoon. Harris Stageberg and Glenn Schoening both won their bouts in this division by forfeit.

The pairings for the semi-finals, which will be held in the wrestling room of the fieldhouse at 4:15 this afternoon, are: 145-pound, Dick Ingle vs. Ed Kemp; 155-pound, Herb Taylor vs. Bob Maher; 175-pound, Ross Anderson vs. Ed Warful; and heavyweights, Marvin Dubansky vs. Harris Stageberg and Glenn Schoening against Bruno Niedziela.

Announcement Halts Series of Cleanup Deals Seen Likely Before Meeting Ends

By JUDSON BAILEY

CHICAGO (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers took the wind out of the baseball market yesterday by announcing the purchase of two slugging outfielders—Don Padgett from the St. Louis Cardinals and John Rizzo from the Phillies.

The traders were just starting to loosen up when the Dodgers played their hand and after these transactions were announced, there wasn't another deal all day long.

The club owners were closeted for many hours in business sessions of the National and American leagues and last night the managers were entertained at a dinner by Leo Durocher of the pennant winning Dodgers.

This function apparently forestalled any other immediate trading in the senior circuit, but made likely a series of cleanup deals today after Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis' joint meeting brings the confabs to a close.

Doesn't Solve Problem

The two players Brooklyn added yesterday did not solve the Dodgers' 1942 problems and left them with two more men than allowed on the roster. MacPhail will have to remove them quickly.

Further complicating the picture was the fact Brooklyn is still dickering with the New York Yankees over a sale of first baseman Dolph Camilli, the most valuable player in the National league, and meantime holding up a deal by which the Dodgers would buy Johnny Mize, big first sacker of the Cards.

The Dodgers paid $30,000 for Padgett, a husky lefthanded hitter who batted .399 for 92 games in 1939 and slipped to .247 last season when he did not play regularly.

Righthanded Hitting Strength

The price on Rizzo, who was a freshman sensation when he broke in with Pittsburgh in 1938, was about $10,000. He will give the Dodgers the righthanded hitting strength they have been seeking.

The club already had Pete Reiser, Joe Medwick and Dixie Walker, all better than .300 hitters, and Jim Wasdell, Augie Galan, Tom Tatum and Jack Graham for a total of nine outfielders.

The Dodgers erased one name from their roster during the day by selling pitcher Mace Brown to the Boston Red Sox for slightly less than the waiver price.

Phi Gamma Delta Smashes Phi Kaps For Third Triumph

Phi Gamma Delta's eagles, defending class A fraternity champions, had to work hard to overcome Phi Kappa Sigma last Tuesday evening for their third win of the season, 15 to 14.

The Phi Gams, who have won their other two games with no trouble, weren't able to acquire the smooth team work which has been a feature in their previous games. Anthes Smith and Carson, with four and six points respectively, were high point men for the winners, while Ferris, top scorer for the evening with an eight point total, was mainly responsible for the good showing of the Phi Kaps team.

John Maher, top man for the Phi Gams all season, was not up to his usual game, and the whole team seemed to miss the work of Jim Youel, who reported for varsity basketball last week.

Theta Xi romped over Alpha Epsilon by a 32 to 7 total. Led by their two crack forwards, Johnny Hauth and Jack Martin, the winners took over the lead in the early minutes of the ball game, and never relinquished it. Hauth and Martin with eight points apiece were the top scorers of the game, but they were closely pressed by teammates Chuck McKnight and Bob Erickson, who both tallied six points.

Phi Delta Theta knocked Delta Upsilon from the unbeaten ranks, 23 to 22. The DU team had the high scorer of the game in Gabby Burger who scored 12 points, but he was the only man on the team who played good ball. Bob Hoffman and Tom Tierney, who led the Phi Delta team to victory, each contributed four baskets.

Delta Chi nosed out Phi Kappa Psi, 22 to 21, in the last second of play, as John Stuckey made his third basket of the game to give the Delta Chis their section championship.

The Phi Psis played their poorest game this year, none of the players hit the form they have shown before. The Delta Chis were five points behind with but three minutes to go, and with some fine playing on the part of Earl Clayton, George Keyes and Stuckey, they came from behind to win the ball game. Keyes was high point man with eight points, while the tall Clayton, with five points, used his height advantageously to control the rebounds.

Sigma Chi kept a clean slate as it whipped the previously undefeated Beta Theta Pi quintet, 33-28. The winners had three players who each accounted for ten points—George Parks, Dick Goenne, and Will Folkedahl. The losers couldn't get their passing working, and their top scorer, Wells, was held to six points. Jack Harley led the Betas with eight points, followed by George Kelley and Bob Wells each of whom scored six points. Folkedahl was responsible for much of the winners success, as he turned in fine defensive and offensive play at center.

In the only B game, Beta Theta Pi avenged the defeat of their A team with a 26 to 6 rout of the Alpha Tau Omega B team. Don Weagley and Lyn Grey, with 11 and 9 points respectively, were the leading scorers for the victors.

Detroit Boxer Suspended Because of Poor Showing

DES MOINES (AP)—Lee Oms, Detroit, Mich., heavyweight boxer, has been indefinitely suspended in Iowa, Sec Taylor, National Boxing association representative in the state, said yesterday.

The suspension was due to Oms' "unsatisfactory showing" Tuesday night when he was knocked out in the first round of a bout with Panther Williams, Des Moines Negro heavyweight, Taylor declared.

He added that Henry Armstrong, former welterweight, lightweight and featherweight champion of the world, Mike Della and Cleo Shans, Los Angeles boxers; and Freddie Sommers, Los Angeles manager, also were suspended in Iowa for failure to appear for a scheduled boxing show here early in October.

The suspensions will be operative in the 45 other states affiliated with the N.B.A., Taylor said.

Miami Open Starts Today

Co-Capt. Soderquist Returns to Cage Drills To Strengthen Team for Opener Saturday

Nine-Meet Schedule Set For Hawkeye Swimmers

A nine-meet schedule, with three affairs at home, was announced yesterday for the University of Iowa swimming team by Coach David A. Armbruster.

Hawkeyes will meet six conference rivals in dual meets and also will swim a new opponent, the Milwaukee Athletic Club.

The team also will enter the Big Ten and the National Collegiate title meets, Coach Armbruster said. Illinois, Minnesota, and Northwestern are the home opponents.

This is the schedule: Jan. 17 or Feb. 23—Illinois at Iowa City (tentative). Feb. 7—Chicago at Chicago. Feb. 13—Minnesota at Iowa City.

Feb. 27—Michigan at Ann Arbor. March 6—Milwaukee A.C. at Milwaukee. March 7—Wisconsin at Madison. March 13, 14—Big Ten championships at Ann Arbor, Mich. March 21—Northwestern at Iowa City.

March 27, 28—National Collegiate championships at Cambridge, Mass.

Goes Back to Guard After Forward Try; Not Probable Starter

Co-Capt. Rudy Soderquist returned to Iowa basketball practice last night after an absence of almost a week, as the Hawks looked forward to an invasion by a strong Washington university of St. Louis club for an opener Saturday night.

Soderquist's return pushed the Hawkeye team strength to its limit except for Center Dick Hein, who is still making up a scholastic deficiency. Soderquist was used at his old guard post in last night's drills, and it was thought he would stay there after his unsuccessful filing at forward.

Bernard Duffe, reserve senior, will probably start in place of Soderquist Saturday night, giving the co-captain a chance to get back into shape. Co-Capt. Vic Siegel will probably be at the other guard, Milt Kuhl at center, and Wendell Hill and Tom Chapman at forwards.

Washington will bring an experienced team to Iowa City Saturday night, with four juniors and one senior on the starting lineup. Coached by Bob Kinnan, former Iowa player and Muscatine high school coach, the Bears' quintet will average 6 feet 2-5 inches in height.

Edward J. Neil Award Received by Joe Louis For Outstanding Reign

NEW YORK (AP)—For his record-breaking reign as king of boxing and the job he did in turning back seven challengers this year, Joe Louis yesterday won the Edward J. Neil memorial award as the man who did the most for the sport in 1941.

The Brown Bomber will receive the trophy at the boxing writers' annual dinner January 14.

The writers voted on their rankings of champions and contenders in seven of the eight weight divisions, excluding only the fly-weights.

Officials of Duquesne university last night granted the school's undefeated and untied football team permission to play a post-season game in Washington New Year's day for the U.S.O. and British war relief.

The permission specified, however, that the opponent must be either Minnesota, champion of the Big Ten, or the University of Texas. The invitation came from Washington.

Mary A. Ware Files Petition for Divorce With Clerk of Court

Mary Alice Ware yesterday filed a petition in Clerk R. Neilson Miller's office, asking divorce from James Vernon Ware on grounds of desertion and inhuman treatment. Plaintiff's petition asks for $200 a month separate maintenance, $300 attorney's fees, household goods and furnishings and costs of the action.

The plaintiff charges that the defendant refused to provide and establish a home for her and that because of offensive treatment she was confined to Walter Reed hospital for a period of 10 weeks in 1940 and 1941.

The petition further states that the defendant be enjoined from selling their San Antonio, Tex., home and from disposing of household items and furnishings. The couple was married June 29, 1930, at Platte City, Mo., and separated June 1, 1941. There are no children. Atty. F. B. Olsen and Pauline M. Kelley represent the plaintiff.

20 Hours Instruction Required of Students Enrolling for Course

The Johnson county Red Cross "First Aid" course, a unit being organized to instruct local civilians in administering first aid at the scene of aerial bombardment and along the highway, will get under way in less than a week, Harold Briceland, chairman of the project, announced yesterday.

The minimum age for enrollment in the training is 17 years or the completion of the second year of senior high school. Twenty hours of class instruction will be required. Each student is expected to purchase a copy of the Red Cross first aid textbook which will cost about 35 cents.

Upon successful completion of the course the standard Red Cross first aid certificate will be issued. This certificate will be accepted as a satisfactory credential by the national Red Cross organization for a period of three years.

Twenty-five persons will be allowed to enroll for each class, Briceland said, and there will be three classes. Following the basic first aid course, a 10 hour advanced course will be given. Next spring the committee plans to give lay-instructor training to those who have completed both previous instruction courses.

"The Iowa City chamber of commerce, as spokesman for this entire business community, pledges our every resource to the successful defense of our American institutions and democracy. Previous efforts to participate in and promote the defense program have been doubled since the declaration of war," the message to Hawkes read.
