Army to Be Doubled; U. S. Sinks Jap Liner

32 Divisions Will Be Organized In All-Out Expansion Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans for mobilizing a powerful army of 3,600,000—just as a starter—promised victories to come today while on the actual fighting fronts, a great Japanese liner and two Jap bombing planes were smashed by American fighting men.

Before the year is out, secretary of war Stimson told reporters, the army's present strength in ground and air forces is to be doubled, twice the present number of air combat and armored units will be in the service, and 32 new divisions, many of them motorized, are to be created. The year 1943 will see an additional increase.

(A selective service official said thousands of new men to be drafted into the army this year would have to come from those who will register Feb. 16, although a million or more could be obtained from present registrants.)

While the war secretary was thus adding another detail to the blueprint for a global war, word was received that an American submarine in far eastern waters had sunk a 17,000 ton Japanese liner of the fast Yawata class, a vessel believed capable of conversion into an aircraft carrier.

From the Philippines, at the same time, came word that nine Jap bombers attacked Corregidor, the island fortress at the mouth of Manila bay, only to have two of their numbers shot down, and others damaged by anti-aircraft fire. Ground troops on Batan peninsula were meanwhile doggedly and successfully holding out against Japanese efforts to infiltrate their defense lines.

The navy also said that the menace of enemy submarines off the Atlantic seaboard—where two vessels have been attacked in the past two days—remained "considerable." But presumably the navy and air force were seeking out the submarines.

Preliminary Idea
With public emphasis heretofore on the production of fabulous quantities of planes, tanks, guns and other fighting equipment, Stimson's announcement furnished a preliminary idea of how the men are to be provided to man and wield them.

The projected 3,600,000-man army, plus 200,000 or more officers, would give this nation a fighting force substantially stronger than that of Japan, but still far smaller than that of Nazi Germany.

It would include a total of fifty nine divisions of land troops, many of them fully motorized, together with a minimum of ten armored divisions, and an air force of 500,000 to 1,000,000 men.

Bill Passed to Put U.S. on Daylight Time
WASHINGTON (AP)—Wartime daylight saving time legislation which may cause the entire nation to advance clocks one hour to conserve electrical energy for essential production was approved finally by congress yesterday amid quips that it would serve no useful purpose.

With only a few minutes debate, the house dispatched to President Roosevelt, a bill, to be effective 20 days after he approves it, requiring that all time governing interstate transportation and all government business be advanced one hour.

Officials Play 'Bureaucratic Red Tape'—
Call for Drastic OPM Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A committee report charging that governmental inefficiency and private selfishness have seriously retarded America's war production gave immediate rise in the senate yesterday to demands that those responsible be punished.

The report, in which the senate defense investigating committee called for drastic reorganization of the office of production management and elimination of "Bureaucratic Red Tape," was submitted to the senate by chairman Truman (D-Mo) to cover the committee's investigative work during 1941.

Jaycees Make 'Sky the Limit' For Today's 'Build a Bond' Drive

Draft Will Not Tolerate 'Convenience Marriages'

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Marriages of convenience" to evade the draft will not be tolerated, Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, warned yesterday in announcing that deferments of 7,500,000 registrants for dependency reasons would be sifted for possible new military manpower.

Red Southern, Central Armies Continue Gains

LONDON (AP)—The northern arm of the Russian pincers movement, apparently aimed at crumbling the entire Nazi central front, has swept westward to Selizharovo, 175 miles northwest of Moscow near the Volga headwaters, the Russians announced officially yesterday.

The southern red arm on this front stretches southwest from Moscow 160 miles to Kirov, representing a giant "V" with Moscow as its base. Should the Russians succeed in closing the top of this V, all the German armies based on the Rzhev-Vyazma-Mozhaisk triangle would be trapped.

The recapture of Selizharovo represented the deepest Russian wedge yet driven into the Nazi central front defenses since the counter-offensive began early last month.

The town is a junction on a road leading westward 110 miles to Velikie Luki, and to the Latvian border, 90 miles farther. A sweep along this road would result in the outflanking of Smolensk.

In the south new red successes also were reported.

Iowa Citizens Urged To Purchase Stamps At Downtown Booths

"Build a Bond" day officially opened this morning in Iowa City as committeemen of the sponsoring junior chamber of commerce prepared to make the "sky the limit" in their effort to boost the sale of defense stamps and bonds.

The project, entirely sponsored by the Iowa Junior Chamber of Commerce, is attracting nationwide attention because of its success, and the junior chamber of commerce is merely the vehicle through which all people of Iowa City may get into the swing of the program.

Today everyone in Iowa City participates, either as a guest or as a host to a party. One member of each group assumes the responsibility for distributing the free books in which the defense stamps may be saved; and secondly, supplies as many ten or twenty-five cent stamps as can be disposed of to those attending the party.

Chairman William Grandrath of the local project has urged 100 per cent cooperation in this gigantic program. "We are not asking you to buy a bond, but by putting aside as small a sum as ten to twenty-five cents to buy defense stamps you are helping the United States," he said.

Shoppers in Iowa City today are asked to take at least part of their change in defense stamps. A poster display of World War I pictures are on display today in the First National bank.

In a fifteen-minute radio program last night, Olin Hauth, president of the local junior chamber, praised the various local organizations for their cooperation in the chamber program.

The business district has been canvassed by several members of the stamp and bond committee and local stores are urged to have a complete stock of stamps because of the expected demand.

Interpreting The War News

Tokyo Admits Allied Philippine Forces Are Firmly Rooted

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Wide World War Analyst

The skill and daring with which General Douglas MacArthur timed and executed his withdrawal on Luzon into Batan peninsula is now doubly underscored by Tokyo's admission of the strength of his defensive line.

Repeatedly tested by Japanese air and land attack, the American-Philippine line still is firmly rooted across the northern neck of the peninsula, according to Tokyo's admission. Its right flank is protected by swamps and marshlands at the eastern junction of the mainland and the peninsula. Its left and center are backed by Mount Natib, a 4,000 foot peak from which MacArthur's guns dominate not only much of his narrow land front but also Subic bay.

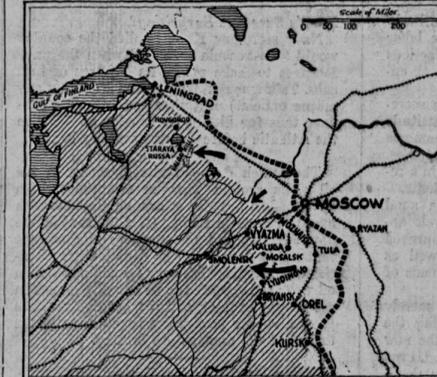

Southward, the Mariveles mountains lift an even higher crest to afford long-range gun positions. They could make water-borne attempts to outflank the defenders from the sea costly if not impossible as long as MacArthur had ammunition for his batteries and food for his men. And there is evidence from Tokyo that he got away into Batan with all but four of his mobile guns and shells for them.

That can be read into a Tokyo summary of "prizes" taken in the Luzon campaign. They included 130,000 rifles, nearly 700,000 rounds of ammunition, and 50 machine guns—but only four artillery pieces. It is the big guns that count, not the rifles nor machine guns. And while Batan holds out it jabs a galling thorn into the flank of the Nipponese drive down the China sea.

Fix Maximum Rents

WASHINGTON (AP)—A senate-house committee agreed yesterday that price control legislation should provide for fixing maximum rents in defense areas.

'WINTER LINE' STILL MOVES BACK

Enemy Subs Continue Attacks On Shipping off Long Island

NEW YORK (AP)—Striking for the second time within 32 hours, enemy warcraft attacked an unidentified tanker off the South-shore Long Island town of Hampton Bays yesterday only 75 miles from New York, it was announced by Coast Guard officials at Quogue, Long Island.

At the New York headquarters of the third naval district, the commandant, Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews, declined comment on the reported attack. He said he had ordered his staff not to release information concerning ship sinkings in the future and added

British Consolidate for Battle Of Vital City as Japs Advance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The British apparently had written off as temporarily lost substantially all of the Malayan peninsula last night and were consolidating for a great and now imminent battle for Singapore itself.

The first communique from imperial headquarters in 24 hours reported that Australian troops were battling the Japanese above Johore State in the eastern section of the adjoining province of Negri Sembilan—this apparently about 110 miles above Singapore—but said nothing of the struggle further to the west.

The Australians, historically among the finest fighting men of the British empire, had previously been held in reserve, and the mere fact that they had gone into action illustrated the rising crisis before Singapore.

The approach of the show-down for that most vital of all allied bases in the Pacific found the situation of the defenders grave but far from hopeless, and elsewhere in the Orient the position was mixed.

Just where the new British line was being formed was not made clear yesterday, but the Japanese claimed to have pushed down in western Malaya—the only really critical part of the peninsula—within 110 miles or less above Singapore.

Establish New Lines
It appeared likely that the British were in fact moving, or preparing to move, to a line not more than 50 miles above Singapore.

This was suggested by a competent London observer, who pointed out that the defenders' task now was mainly to narrow their line on the tapering southern end of the peninsula to protect Singapore's water supply, which flows from the mainland over a causeway.

Dark as was the picture generally, there was a bright spot for the allies in dispatches reporting that Dutch as well as British fighter planes were in action against raiders over Singapore. This proof of allied aerial reinforcement was of double significance in view of the fact that the most punishing shortage of all in Malaya has been the shortage of air power.

Communication Cut Off
In the East Indies it was disclosed that radio communication had been cut since Monday between Batavia and the Minabassa area of Celebes—a scene of a Japanese landing in heavy force—and this of course suggested that matters were not going well with the defenders.

There was no word during the day of how the action was going along the frontier of Dutch Borneo and Sarawak, the latter the British-protected area overrun by the invader sometime ago.

Japanese bombers raided the important Dutch naval-air base of Ambon, which lies between Celebes and New Guinea, but the initial announcement did not carry the particulars.

Western Hemisphere Neutral Nations Asked To Unite Against Axis

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The United States urged the non-belligerent of the western hemisphere yesterday to abandon neutrality and to form a united front against aggression by driving out axis agents, now serving under the cloak of diplomats, from the new world.

This plea was made by Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles at the opening session of the third consultative conference of foreign ministers of the Pan-American republics.

Welles warned bluntly that in this day to cling to "the tattered fiction of an illusory neutrality" is suicidal.

He spoke to the assembled delegates of 20 other American republics, ten of whom already are at war.

U. S. Planes Superior

NEW YORK (AP)—John H. Joubert, president of the aeronautical chamber of commerce of America, last night asserted American warplanes had shown "marked superiority on every occasion" in combat with enemy planes.

This War Can be Won Only By a Smashing Land Offensive—

Hitler and his power-crazed satellites, Italy and Japan, will suffer total defeat only by one or more successful allied land offensive campaigns.

So-called fortunate allied rear guard actions will win no permanent axis setback nor can false hopes of internal dissension bring favorable results.

Thus, it becomes apparent that there will be no peace in the offing for some time to come. Before a land offensive can be made by the allied powers, they must first crush enemy sea power.

Where could the allies make an offensive move against the axis powers has been the question of considerable debate.

Even at this moment, plans doubtless are being formulated for a combined allied attack on the European continent, originating in the British Isles and through the Scandinavian and Iberian peninsulas and France.

If Britain gains control of northern Africa through continuing advances, Italy's goose will be all but burned. Already Italy has proved more a deficit to Hitler than an asset.

Although greatly aided militarily by her recent treacherous acts in the far east, Japan could be attacked from China and eastern Siberia if and when the opportunity presents itself.

These are the moves that will crush the axis powers. However, they will not be easy tasks. They will be long and hard fights, with allied supremacy on land, in the air and on the sea necessary for complete and final victory.

The Far-Off Pastures: Why Can't We Wake Up to Today's Needs!

To most students of 1942, far off pastures look green whether they be behind or in front of us. We of today look back on the grand and glorious days of the American frontier and would give our bottom dollar to have lived in the good old days.

When we look far enough into the future we see another "green pasture" 10,000 years away. Then man finally will have solved the problem of war.

We will never get anywhere, sentimentally reminiscing in the past or aimlessly dreaming about the future! We may have a chance to do something about our present dilemma if we use what the past has taught us.

Students in engineering learn to operate a slide rule; study physics, math, and stress and strain of metals. They have a bridge to build after graduation.

All the frontiers have not been settled. Man is still looking for the world in which law and order take the place of violence.

Until such a time pioneers can't grumble about there being no new worlds to conquer!

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Back from his tour, Humphrey Bogart has a tale of the two soldiers he and Mrs. Bogart met on a train from St. Louis to Louis Bromfield's Ohio farm.

The boys recognized him and spoke up, "Thanks for the falcon," they said.

Bogart, thinking they referred to his movie, "The Maltese Falcon," said he had enjoyed making it, too.

Says Bogart: "They explained that the falcon had bitten just about everybody in the troop. When he took a hunk out of the mess sergeant, he became everybody's favorite.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS By PAUL MALLON

Business, Labor Unsympathetic To Davis' Choice on War Board—

WASHINGTON — Mr. Roosevelt did not go very deep into the barrel for his choice of William H. Davis as head of the war labor board.

Before the selection, he sent Madame Perkins to sound out AFL and CIO. The labor secretary found these warring labor factions together again in their complete lack of enthusiasm for Mr. Davis.

The president also asked commerce secretary Jesse Jones to inquire into the attitude of business through the chamber of commerce and National Association of Manufacturers.

But Miss Perkins, Sidney Hillman and Davis wanted Davis and Mr. Roosevelt apparently thought the widely disapproved mediators chairman had done as well as could be expected.

So the Davis mediation board was merely juggled. Half its members, including the chairman, were allowed to alight in the new board. The old office staff was retained, even the old office and the old telephone number.

Business and labor had no severe complaints against Mr. Davis except they thought the failures of the mediation board (captive mine fiasco and all) could best be forgotten if a fresh personality could be brought in to give the wartime truce between business and labor a stronger character in the new setup.

But, even in resignation, Mr. Straus may have been too strong. He submitted his resignation to the president in such critical terms as to have delayed its acceptance.

Someone'll Be Disappointed—Thus nothing is guaranteed about how the new board will work out. Several business leaders have made it clear they will not arbitrate the closed shop issue.

The Kearny shipbuilding case, unsettled by the old board, will be one of the first cases to confront the new board, now that the navy has turned that plant back to private management.

Labor, on the other hand, expects arbitration. It notes the wording of Mr. Roosevelt's executive order, stating the board can fix its own rules for compulsory arbitration.

Obviously someone is going to be disappointed.

Navy's Successes Surprising?

Navy secretary Knox implied the country would be agreeable surprised when the navy felt free to make public its sinkings of Nazi subs.

The program is directed by Prof. Franklin Knower of the speech department. John Hoshor, G. of Union, Wash., will be chairman.

SUI Symphony Concert Features Four Soloists Wednesday

Selections of Liszt, Debussy to Be Sung By Women's Chorus

J. Klengel's 'Hymnus' Will Be Played by 12 In Violoncello Section

Four soloists and a women's chorus will be featured in the concert of the University Symphony orchestra conducted by Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

"A Symphony to Dante's 'Divine Comedy'" by Franz Liszt will open the concert. The two sections of the work are "Inferno" and "Purgatorio e Magnificat". Assisting in the performance will be a women's chorus taken from members of the university chorus trained by Prof. Herald Stark. Joan Joehnk, A3 of Iowa City, will be the soloist.

Fritz Baker will play "The Blessed Damozel", Lyric Poem after Dante Gabriel Rossetti, for Women's Voices and Orchestra." The three movements are allegro aperto, andante ma non troppo and allegro. Next the orchestra's violoncello section trained by Prof. Hans Koelbel will be heard in the "Hymnus" for 12 violoncellos by Julius Klengel.

Concluding the concert will be "The Divine Comedy" in Music Soon after the year 1300, Dante Alighieri began work on the epic that we know today as the "Divine Comedy" which tells of a dream in which the soul of the poet is conducted through Inferno and Purgatory by the spirit of Virgil, and through Paradise by the spirit of Beatrice Portinari, whom Dante loved in real life. Upon this story Franz Liszt wrote his symphony during the winter of 1847-48.

In "The Blessed Damozel", Debussy set a French translation of Rossetti's text to music which so far seems to have aged less than the poem itself. The English text to be sung was readapted from the French by the late Frank Damrosch.

Nearly 70,000 Iowa school pupils, representing 350 school systems, are now participating in the University of Iowa's annual basic skills tests. Enrollment in the 1942 project is the largest in years according to Prof. E. F. Lindquist, director of the program.

Tests are on four basic skills, reading, workstudy, language and arithmetic and will be given till Jan. 28. By use of the program, teachers and school administrators are enabled to become better acquainted with the educational accomplishments of each pupil.

Schools will score their own papers and will report these scores to the university by Jan. 31. A detailed report of results will be provided by the university including profile charts for each grade portraying the average test performance in each building.

Announcement by the draft board yesterday stated that men from Iowa City and nearby vicinity must register at the court house. Registration places for other county men who have not already registered will be announced later.

AIR RAID WARDEN

The Air Raid Warden will be identified by a red and white striped triangle set in a blue circle. Though he is not a policeman and usually does not have police powers, the Air Raid Warden usually works closely with police. He serves a unit of 500 persons, and his post must be accessible and plainly marked. Since at least one person must be always on duty, the Air Raid Warden generally has three Assistant Wardens.

Duties include: (1) Watching for lights during a blackout and warning the offender; (2) Directing persons in the street to shelter; (3) Reporting fallen bombs to the control center; (4) Detecting and reporting presence of gas; (5) Administering elementary first aid; (6) Reporting fires and assisting in fighting incendiary bombs. Air Raid Wardens may be either men or women. The wearing of this insignia is limited to workers enrolled as Air Raid Wardens in the Civilian Defense Organization.

Col. H. H. Slaughter Discusses Limitations, Potentialities of Allies

Limitations and potentialities of the Allied forces were discussed by Col. Homer H. Slaughter of the university military department at the Rotary club luncheon yesterday noon.

"We are going to be delayed before we can participate actively anywhere in this war," Col. Slaughter stated, and suggested that, for the present, we should resign ourselves to Japanese superiority until we have our supplies and forces fully equipped. "We have to use our troops only where victories can be won—we can't afford to dissipate our forces," the speaker continued, "Our production continues to go to the places where it will do the most good."

Besides the limitations in the size of our army and the status of our supplies, Col. Slaughter stressed those imposed upon us by time and space, or geography. We can get supplies through to Asia only by going south to Australia and then to the Netherlands East Indies, a process which takes from five to six weeks. Another geographical factor to be considered was pointed out by Col. Slaughter when he said, "Singapore, strategically—from a world standpoint—is more important than the Philippines and, had Luzon been adequately garrisoned, it would have been a better protector of the Netherlands East Indies than Singapore."

R. Lillie Asks $5,000 In Accident Damages

Maxey Oakes and Earl Reynolds were named defendants in a petition filed yesterday in district court by Russell Lillie who asks $5,000 damages for injuries resulting from an automobile accident Oct. 5, 1941.

According to the petition, Lillie states that Reynolds was driver of the car belonging to Oakes and that negligence on his part caused the collision, injuring the plaintiff and his wife and assignor, Claire Lillie. The court papers state that the accident occurred at 11 a.m. at the intersection of U.S. highway No. 6 and Iowa state highway No. 109 in Oxford township while the plaintiff was driving in a southwesterly direction and Reynolds in a northeasterly direction.

The plaintiff alleges, that besides causing damage to the car, he and assignor needed medical and hospital care, were deprived of use of the car, were able to work only part time and incurred pain and suffering from the collision. Judgment of $5,000 with interest at five percent from Oct. 5, 1941, and costs of the action are sought by the plaintiff, who is represented by Atty. Emil G. Trott.

Dr. William M. Hale Talks on Virus Ills In Baconian Lecture

Dr. William M. Hale, head of the department of bacteriology, clarified several popular mysteries surrounding disease caused by the virus at his Baconian lecture last night in senate chamber, Old Capitol.

"People have asked me, 'What causes influenza?' and are surprised when I tell them that definite discovery has been made isolating the virus as the cause," he said. "Another popular misbelief is that of thinking of virus diseases as diseases of immunity. It is true that some of these diseases produce durable immunity, but there are others that are capable of producing only the weakest type of immunity."

Some of the most prevalent diseases caused by this virus, according to Dr. Hale, are smallpox, measles, chicken pox, influenza, the common cold, the cold sore or fever blister, common seed warts and yellow fever.

Dr. Hale describes virus as being "on the border of a living and non-living agent and not the border of organic and inorganic life as is the popular but mistaken belief."

In conclusion, the lecturer stated that the pressing problem confronting research workers in this field is that of discovering whether the virus is a living or non-living agent.

14 Senior Boy Scouts Will Take First Aid Training Course Here

The forming of an emergency service unit, composed of 14 senior boy scouts, who will take a first aid training course under two University hospital physicians, Dr. Kenneth Swan and Dr. Walter Kirkendall, was announced by the Boy Scout executive board of the Iowa River Valley council meeting in Iowa Union last night.

Following a dinner, the group also drew up final papers for the incorporation of the council besides discussing various problems pertaining to scouting. The annual meeting of the council will be held next Thursday night, Jan. 22, at 6:45 p.m. in the river room of Iowa union.

Red Cross Solicitors Urged to Complete County Drive Today

In an announcement made yesterday by J. J. Swaner, chairman of the county Red Cross war fund, all solicitors were urged to make complete reports on their returns not later than today. The drive is scheduled to be completed today.

Swaner said that the money is needed at once and that the campaign must be completed immediately. Meanwhile, war fund contributions to date totaled nearly $8,300, the war fund office pointed out.

With only little more than 60 percent of the drive completed, the $6,300 figure caused Red Cross officials to hope that the drive would go over the $7,900 goal.

Six Slot Machines Confiscated in Raid Of 3 Hills Taverns

A one-man raid, conducted by State Agent Forrest E. Dougan, early Wednesday night netted six slot machines from three taverns in Hills, Sheriff Preston Koser reported yesterday.

According to the sheriff's office report, Dougan raided Skriver's tavern, George Cooney's Babe Stop Inn and the H. and D. tavern. The state agent confiscated one five-cent and one 10-cent slot machine at Skriver's tavern, one five-cent machine at Cooney's Stop Inn and three five-cent slot machines at the H. and D. Tavern.

Not many weeks ago, 10 state agents visited taverns in seven Johnson county towns and confiscated one of the largest hauls of slot machines and liquor in years. More recently, it was reported, a raid was conducted at Morse where a slot machine was found in the possession of Leo Graetz.

Passing the Buck

If you want to see a human buzz-saw in action, taking an occasional time out to sharpen its teeth...

Although the fight lasted only 2 minutes and 56 seconds, there must have been at least 100 blows struck, counting the five Baer got in...

The fact that Baer hit Louis doesn't prove a thing except the fact that Joe can take it as well as dish it out...

Louis, calm, assured and amazingly self effacing, was on the beam all the way in—from the time his fists took off until Baer made a one-point landing...

There are a multitude of great things about Joe, his willingness to fight anyone, his untainted record, his manliness; but what we'll remember most about Louis is the statement he made after the fight over the radio...

Louis is modest, a credit to his race, and not one white man whom he has faced cannot but say truthfully he was beaten by a better man...

A student sitting behind the timer's table at the Iowa-Minnesota game last Monday was impressed so mightily by the sportsmanship of the Gophers that he came to the Iowa after the game to type out his impression...

"Carlson showed that he was a real competitor," he wrote, "when in the closing seconds of the game a dispute took place on the floor—play was stopped, but the clock ticked on..."

Zivic vs. Robinson Will Fight Tonight For Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Louis is in the army now and out of the headlines for a while, so the secret can come out that Fritzie Zivic and Ray Robinson will take potshots at each other for 12 rounds tonight in Madison Square Garden for a crack at Red Cochrane's welterweight title.

However, from the looks of things the fans are going to see that it gets quite a bit of attention. Mike Jacobs says this tea party will draw a gate of over $30,000, possibly reaching $40,000, and that 12,000 or more turn out.

Robinson, undefeated in 27 straight trips to the post since turning professional a year and a half ago, is favored to repeat his

For the 47th time in 23 years St. Patrick's will tangle with its intra-city rival, St. Mary's, tonight in the St. Pat's gymnasium.

The feud, which closely resembles a Dodge-Giant get-together for intensity of feelings, goes back to the days before organized basketball was played, just after the turn of the century.

Although the Green and White has dropped four of its five games since the start of the present campaign, performances the last two weeks indicate a definite improvement.

City High Cagers Will Meet Dubuque Rams Here Tonight in Second Meeting of Season

Hawkllets Will Try To Avenge Defeat Suffered in 1st Tilt

Probable Starting Lineups Iowa City Danner F. (c) Streeter Thompson, John (c) Jansen Sangster C. Ryan Walter G. Kremer Thompson, Jim G. Pender

Tonight at 8 o'clock City high will take the court against the Dubuque Rams in an effort to avenge the 29 to 27 defeat suffered earlier in the season.

In the first meeting, the Hawkllets teed off on the Rams in the first half only to fall way behind in the third quarter.

Capt. Ed Streeter was the spark of the Dubuque offense in the first meeting and is expected to furnish most of the competition tonight.

The Irish will rely upon a fast break to stem the tide of St. Mary's victories. Speed is one of the main St. Pat's weapons that will have to be used to make up for the lack of height that put them at a disadvantage in most of the games this season.

Past records will have to be discounted, however, for when these two teams roll up their sleeves and go at each other, nothing is sure except that the fans will be treated to a battle royal.

CHICAGO (AP)—Fritz Pollard, one time star football player at the University of North Dakota and a member of the 1936 U. S. Olympic team, didn't waste much time in meeting the weight requirements for acceptance into the army air corps.

When he applied for enlistment Wednesday Pollard was told he was nine pounds over the maximum weight of 182 pounds.

Pollard, who is 26, reported back yesterday to Lieut. Col. Frederick H. Chetlain, chief air corps recruiting officer. The nine excessive pounds were missing and he was accepted.

Ramblers Beat Aces, 18-16, in Town League Basketball Tourney

The Ramblers advanced to the Town league championship playoff by winning an overtime battle from the Aces, 18-16.

The winning basket was flipped through the net by Karl Ryerson in a sudden death overtime period.

The Aces held a six point advantage going into the final period, but saw the lead slip away as the Ramblers fought back desperately.

Evans led the scoring for the Ramblers as he tallied seven points, and he was closely followed by Ryerson with six points.

The Ramblers will now battle the Hotshots, who won a forfeit from the Maulers, for the championship of the Town league.

Red Raiders home floor. Ray Sullivan will be withheld from both of the games this week end because of a state high school rule that prohibits a boy playing against the same team twice in one semester if he graduates at the end of the first.

Iowa Meets Buckeye Five At Columbus Tomorrow

To Take On Illinois' League-Leading Team At Champaign Monday

12 Hawkeye Cagers Will Leave Today; Hein To Be Absent

Down the dark and uncertain confines of the Western conference championship trail goes Iowa's basketball team this week end, meeting a strong Ohio State team tomorrow night at Columbus, and then coming back to hit Illinois' undefeated, league-leading team Monday night at Champaign.

12 men to the traveling squad, which will leave for Ohio this morning. The list includes three forwards, three centers and six guards. The roster:

Forwards—Tom Chapman, Ben Trickey, Wendell Hill. Centers—Milt Kuhl, Bruce Fountain, Jim O'Brien. Guards—Co-capt. Vic Siegel, Co-capt. Rudy Soderquist, Bill Wheeler, Vince Harsha, Jim Youel, Bernard Duffe.

The hope that big Dick Hein, letter-winning center, would be able to accompany the Hawks on the trip was squelched yesterday, when it was announced that the valuable pivotman would play in the Kansas game, Jan. 29, and not before Hein's scholastic deficiencies, almost made up, will not be completed until next week.

Only Two Replacements So the darkhorse Hawkeyes will have to face the challenge of two Big Ten teams in three nights with only two trusted reserves to rest the regulars.

Led in scoring by Chapman, but in losing a well-rounded offense, Iowa will be putting its season success on the block in the two games, with fair reason for hopes of victory. A fast-breaking, fast-moving offense, coupled with a good defense, may bring the Hawks home leading the league once more.

Same Record Last Year In the Cooperative loop, Whetstone rallied in the last quarter to down a determined Gables five, 25-20. The victory advanced Whetstone to the finals of the Cooperative tournament.

Jefferson fought its way into the semifinals by running wild over a hapless Chesley quintet, 37-4. The Chesley players could not stop the Jefferson attack, and in turn scored only one field goal themselves.

Evans led the scoring for the Ramblers as he tallied seven points, and he was closely followed by Ryerson with six points.

U-High Rivermen to Invade Monticello Tonight in Hopes of Winning 6th Straight

Coach Paul Brechler Shifts Blue Lineup Because of Lehman

An undefeated U-high quintet will invade Monticello's court tonight at 8 o'clock, gunning for its sixth consecutive win and its fourth conference victory.

Although the U-high squad remains alone in the undefeated ranks of the Eastern Iowa conference, Monticello is a type of team that upsets the dopsters.

Monticello Five Weak Compared to other years, Monticello has one of the weakest teams in its history with only one letter-winner returning from last year's squad.

Ramblers Seek 11th Straight Win in Series

Established Favorites On Season's Record; Brack Leads Scorers

Tonight the Marians will battle the Irish. With ten consecutive victories over St. Pat's under its belt, St. Mary's will try to keep its record unmarred, and if any conclusions can be drawn from comparison of season's records, the Ramblers should add another win to their list tonight.

Coach Suplee's quintet has taken into camp 12 out of 14 teams played this season, the two losses being to St. Wenceslaus of Cedar Rapids and Catholic Central of Ft. Madison by breath-taking margins.

The Irish got off to a poor start this year, but have been showing improvement in recent tussles. They have won only one game out of five so far.

The Ramblers are in tip-top condition. With high-scoring Co-capt. Tony Brack and George Seemuth at the forwards, Joe Halsch at center and Co-capt. Eddie Chadek and Melvin Smith at the guards, St. Mary's should be hard to beat tonight.

Last night the Suplee men polished up their attack to be used against St. Pat's tonight. They have been capitalizing on a fast break all season, and have been waylaying teams of considerably more height with their speed.

The Green and White cagers of the south side have been working out all week to polish up their passing and other weak spots before tangling with the Marians.

Quinn Appointed DES MOINES (AP)—Appointment of one new director and the naming of Lyle Quinn, present executive secretary of the state high school athletic association, as the new secretary-treasurer of the Iowa High School Insurance company, was announced yesterday.

A. E. Rankin of Hampton, a director in the Iowa Girls Athletic Union, was named to the insurance board, which was increased from seven to eight. Quinn succeeds Forrest Moore of New Hampton.

The U-high seconds will meet the Monticello seconds in the first game of the evening at 7 o'clock.

The Listening Post--

By LOREN HICKERSON

Every time I look at that monstrosity at the corner of Dubuque and Iowa (which is plenty often, let me tell you!) I can't help but wonder what Frank Lloyd Wright would have said about it, if it had been in its present strictly functional state when he was here...

Wright spoke at Iowa the summer of the first Fine Arts Festival, and he bored into the decorum of this campus like nothing I've ever seen before. He took Iowa's revered Old Capitol completely apart, called it "a monstrosity with windows." He took a look at an exhibition, including many of Grant Wood's most noted works, in Iowa Union and said some things that can't even be printed...

And all because he, the world's greatest architect, once built a hotel in Singapore. During its construction he was the laughing stock of his profession, because he defied the laws of architecture, not to mention the law of the Scriptures, and built his hotel on the shifting sands beneath the surface of Singapore...

Came the great earthquake, and the only building in Singapore to stand was the Wright-constructed hotel... which gives F.L.W. all kinds of license...

You should have seen the miniature riot he caused among the academic quietude here... People just don't call Old Capitol a monstrosity with windows... But he did, and got away with it.

It's safe, unfortunately, to decide that nothing—not even intermittent bombings of San Francisco and New York—would make America "feel" the war as Britain has felt it for a couple of years now... The 1,000 miles from here to the east coast and the 2,000 between us and San Francisco makes Iowa such a secluded spot...

That's probably a good thing, in the long run, because it gives us a chance to stay calmer than the coastal areas, and if those same areas are bombed, as they doubtless will be, midwesterners will be better able to take charge without too much fuss and startled fright...

Yet Iowa, and the other midwestern states, traditionally have led the nation in numbers of men in the United States navy... It must be curiosity...

By far the greatest percentage of the population of Iowa have never seen an ocean... Probably well over 95 per cent haven't seen both oceans... Yet the sons of the plains follow the sea, and have for generations... The Des Moines area has always ranked among the top areas of the nation in naval enlistments...

I discover that at least one worried holder of not one, but TWO Military Ball tickets was looking anxiously for buyers last night... Military Ball futures aren't such a good investment since the scalpers upset the appreciat...

It would be too bad if the scalpers ended up with tickets on their hands... too late to get a date for the party, maybe some of 'em don't even dance...

With Manila the center of the world news at the moment, I remember pretty well that I used to think Manila was down in the Caribbean somewhere. The study of United States overthrow of Cuba's Spanish rule and Dewey sailing into Manila bay somehow got mixed up in the same section of the map...

But that isn't the only quirk of geography the average American would be ashamed to admit he didn't know about. If the easterners on the campus were to ask the mid-and far-westerners what state the Statue of Liberty's nearest, the biggest percentage would doubtless answer "New York"...

Business Executive and Homemaker Jobs Easily Combined

Helen Barnes Shows How to Handle This Two-Fold Combination

By CORINNE HAYES Daily Iowan Food Editor

A toast! Here's to more quickly prepared meals. Long tedious hours in the kitchen seem useless these days when there are so many other things to be done. Budget your time, and the jobs of being business executive and homemaker can be easily combined. Our hostess for this week Helen Barnes, 725 E. College, proves that she can handle this two-fold job beautifully—and enjoy doing it!

One of her favorite menus can be prepared ahead of time and then hastily put together at the last minute.

FAVORITE MENU

- Crabmeat Cocktail
 - Chicken Loaf Baked Potatoes Broccoli—Lemon Sauce
 - Blueberry Muffins Fruit Salad
 - Lemon Chiffon Pudding
- "Crabmeat is delicious," said Miss Barnes, "with Horseradish Dressing. Combine horseradish with chili sauce and lemon juice till you get the desired flavor. This makes a spicy beginning for any meal."

It was Miss Barnes who brought a recipe for Chicken Loaf to Iowa City and it's now a favorite in many homes.

Chicken Loaf
Boil one chicken until it's tender. Remove the meat from the bones and combine with 1 cup of bread crumbs, 1 cup of milk, 1 cup of chicken broth and 2 eggs. Mix this well and bake for 1/2 hour in a medium sized loaf pan at 350 degrees F. Make a cream sauce with the liquid of mushrooms and the mushroom buttons. Pour over the loaf and garnish with paprika.

Lemon Butter Sauce
2 egg yolks beaten slightly
1/2 cup cream
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon mustard
1/2 lemon (juice only)
Cook until thick, add 2 teaspoons of butter.

"A favorite trick of mine when serving baked potatoes is to roll them in a towel to make them soft," Miss Barnes asserted. "Then cut them open to let out the steam. This will keep the skins crisp for those who like the skins as well as the potatoes."

Miss Barnes likes to serve broccoli with an unusual Lemon Butter Sauce. A favorite trick of Miss Barnes' in cooking either broccoli or asparagus is to have a long strip of cloth underneath the vegetable as it is cooking. When the vegetable is done merely lift it from the water with the cloth. This will drain the vegetable and at the same time keep it beautifully intact. Then pour this lemon sauce over either asparagus or broccoli.

"I use a lot of Birdseye frozen foods," continued Miss Barnes. "Frozen blueberries can be used in my favorite Blueberry Muffins."

Two other very "special" desserts of Miss Barnes' are definitely

Blueberry Muffins
2 cups cake flour (sifted)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 eggs
4 tablespoons melted butter
3/4 cup milk
1 cup blueberries

Sift the salt, sugar and baking powder into the flour. Beat the 2 eggs in a separate bowl. Combine and add the butter and milk. Stir the liquid quickly into the dry ingredients, taking only 15 to 20 seconds in which to do it. Make no attempt to stir or beat out the lumps, for too much beating results in tough muffins. Fold the blueberries into this mixture after they have been slightly floured. Pour the batter into greased tins and bake from 15 to 20 minutes in a hot oven of 425 degrees F.

Lemon Sherbert
1 quart milk
2 cups sugar
Juice of 3 lemons
Mix this well and freeze in refrigerator trays.

A QUICK CHANGE ARTIST

Helen Barnes of the educational placement office has mastered the art of the quick transition from the capable business executive to the very efficient hostess or homemaker. "Most of my cooking is on the experimental order for I love to try new things," admitted Miss Barnes.

Half Hour Chocolate Cake
2 squares chocolate
1 cup sugar (sifted)
2 tablespoons soft butter
1 egg
1 cup cake flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
3/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat the butter and the egg together, then add the sifted sugar. Beat these together with wire whisk. Then add the flour, sifted together with the baking powder. Combine the milk and vanilla. Add the sifted ingredients to the egg mixture and in 3 parts alternately with thirds of the combined liquids. Beat the batter until it is smooth. Add the cooled chocolate. Bake in a greased 7 inch ring mold in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 25 minutes.

Serve this with ice cream in the center of the ring and with individual servings of ice cream around the outside of the cake ring. Then pour chocolate sauce over the

Lemon Chiffon Pudding
1 cup sugar
3 eggs (yolks only)
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons flour
Juice and rind of 1 lemon
Fold in the beaten egg whites. Put in a pan of water and bake in slow oven 1 hour. Top this with whipped cream and pecan halves.

"My recipe for Lemon Sherbert is unbelievably simple to prepare—and speedy," Miss Barnes says.

Lemon Sherbert
1 quart milk
2 cups sugar
Juice of 3 lemons
Mix this well and freeze in refrigerator trays.

It's Open Season For Tangerines

Tuck Them in Pies, Use Them in Salads To Perk Up Menus

The tangy tangerine, most decorative of fruits, is in town again to share its sweetness during the most hospitable of all seasons. You will get a new taste sensation if you tuck tangerines into puddings and pies, serve them in short cakes and salads or use as a meat garnish. Tangerines are full of menu tricks, so try these new ways to make your menus more tempting.

Tangerine Nut Mold
1 package of lemon gelatin
1 cup of hot water
1 cup of cold water
3/4 cup grated cabbage
1 cup tangerine segments, cut in halves
1/2 cup of chopped Brazil nuts lettuce mayonnaise

Dissolve gelatin in hot water; add cold water and chill. When gelatin is cold and syrupy, add remaining ingredients. Turn into 8 individual molds. Place in refrigerator to set. When you are ready to serve them, unmold on lettuce and serve with mayonnaise. This makes 8 servings.

Chocolate Pie
1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup cocoa
2 eggs
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix the ingredients, add boiling milk and cook for 5 minutes over direct flame. Then add the beaten egg yolks. Take from the fire and cool. Beat in the vanilla and beaten egg whites, pour into the baked shell. Cover with whipped cream, then grate over this 1/2 square of bitter chocolate. This serves about 4. For a big pie tin use 1 1/2 times the proportions.

Baked Oysters
1 pint of oysters
2 tablespoons of milk or cream
1 cup of cracker crumbs
3/4 cup of bread crumbs
1/2 cup melted butter

Mix crumbs and melted butter. Put a layer of crumbs on the bottom, drain half the oysters and then pour over the juice of the oysters which has been mixed with 2 tablespoons of cream or milk, salt, pepper and then a layer of crumbs, another layer of oysters, then the rest of the liquid, salt, pepper and a layer of crumbs.

Baked oysters make a delicious hot dish for any cold wintry evening.

Plain 'Ham 'n Eggs' Will Take the Place Of Caviar, Goose Liver, Other Delicacies

The absence of Russian caviar from American tables is not a direct result of the national emergency. For several years white fish roe, produced in America and dyed to resemble the Russian original, has taken its place. Small quantities of genuine Russian caviar, imported years ago, are still available at about $25 a pound. With the scarcity of goose livers imported from France and Hungary, pate de foie gras has been synthesized with hog liver. Gourmets, who have turned thumbs down on the substitute, are hoping that South American goose livers may be imported in larger quantities. Anchovies from the Mediterranean, kippered herring from Scotland and white crab meat from Japan can no longer be obtained. English liquors are about the
