Jap Midway Losses Heavy

RAF Mass Raids on Nazi-Europe Continue

British Hurl Over 6,000 Planes At Continent During Past Week

RAF Blasts Nazi-Held French Coast Near Boulogne As Mighty Aerial Offensive Thunders Into Eighth Day

LONDON, Sunday (AP)—The mighty RAF offensive thundered into its eighth day with a raid early this morning upon the German-held French coast and British coastal guns joined the assault, sending a series of earth-shaking, two-gun salvos across the channel.

Nazi big guns positions in the Boulogne and Cap Gris Nez areas appeared to be the targets of the post-midnight attack. The Germans struck back early today, making an hour's attack on the southeast coast with high explosive and fire bombs.

The daylight raids yesterday over northern France brought to a smashing weekend climax the war's greatest aerial offensive in which the RAF hurled between 6,000 and 7,000 planes at the continent.

Hundreds of Britain's fighter craft appeared to rule the air over the enemy-occupied coast last night as British quarters estimated that more than 3,000 bombers in the past week had dropped their destructive cargoes on cities of the Reich, beginning with Cologne.

The roar of the returning motors had hardly awakened the residents of the coast when squadron after squadron of Spitfire, Hurricane and four-cannon Whirlwind fighters and fighter bombers swarmed across the channel.

Coast observers said it appeared to be the "biggest sweep of the week," and this meant that perhaps more than 1,000 planes were engaged in the work of demolishing Nazi airdromes, transport trains and defensive installations throughout northern France and Belgium—at least the second time this week that number of planes was reported in daylight operations.

Britain lost 13 planes in the night attack on the Ruhr, an indication of the scale at which the offensive was continuing, and this brought the total for the week to 113, around 3 per cent of the more than 3,000 engaged in nocturnal operations.

Over 3,000 Bombers
The disclosure by informed quarters that more than 3,000 bombers had been used, indicated this approximate log of the RAF for the week:

- Saturday night—Cologne—1,130 bombers.
- Sunday night—grounded.
- Monday night—Essen—1,036 bombers.
- Tuesday night—Essen and Ruhr—About 300 bombers.
- Wednesday night—Bremen—About 300 bombers.
- Thursday night—Occupied countries—No figures.
- Friday night—Ruhr—Between 200 and 300 bombers.

Russian Dive-Bombers Sink Ten German Ships in Attacks on Convoys, Naval Base

MOSCOW (AP)—In a sudden eruption of warfare in the Baltic, Soviet dive-bombers of the Soviet fleet air arm have sunk 10 German vessels, nine of them transports, in assaults upon three convoys and on a Nazi naval base, the Moscow radio announced last night.

Seven of the enemy vessels were reported sunk in attacks on one convoy and the naval base, and the three others in a second convoy while a third convoy was declared shattered in an earlier operation. The radio announcement said further that an ammunition dump was blown up and anti-aircraft batteries knocked out at the undisclosed naval base.

Conflicting Reports: Tokyo Claims Chuhsien Taken, Chinese Declare Invaders Repulsed

CHUNGKING, China (AP)—Attacks along the west bank of the Salween river in Yunnan province and along the Burma road, the main theater of the war now is the Chekiang-Kiangsi sector, the war reports indicated.

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts) (AP)—The Japanese last night announced capture of the walled city of Chuhsien in the Chekiang province of eastern China, and declared 15 Chinese divisions were annihilated in the three-day battle.

A Domei dispatch quoting an official announcement of the Japanese army command in central China that the city was occupied at 6 p.m. yesterday.

(Earlier dispatches indicated the Japanese had smashed the Chinese 15th division but the Tokyo radio last night in both French and English broadcasts said 15 Chungking divisions which had heavily fortified the city had been "annihilated."

(The size of a Chinese division is variable but 15,000 troops normally are said to comprise a division. This would put about 225,000 troops in the Chuhsien fighting. Japanese reports have mentioned only about 100,000 Japanese soldiers in battle. There has been no other mention of 15 Chinese divisions being at Chuhsien.)

Committee Disagrees On Farm Amendment Measure Would Allow Sale of Excess Wheat At 83 Cents a Bushel

WASHINGTON (AP)—A conference committee failed to agree on an amendment to the $680,000,000 farm appropriation bill permitting the government to sell surplus wheat for livestock feeding at about 83 cents a bushel and decided yesterday to return the measure to the house.

Senate adoption of the amendment, involving an indirect check on the price of grain, had furnished the administration with at least a tentative victory over a badly split farm bloc but conferees said that victory now was threatened seriously.

The house previously had voted to bar the sales of government-held wheat and other grains for livestock feeding at less than full parity, a computed price intended to give a farm product the same relative purchasing power it had in a past period, usually 1909-14.

The senate, after controversy, voted to permit sales of up to 125,000,000 bushels of wheat at a minimum price of about 83 cents a bushel, despite the efforts of members from corn growing states to put a 97-cent floor under such sales.

The senate-house conferees also were reported to have decided to send back to the house a senate-approved amendment requiring for the first time that soil conservation payments be added to marketing returns before farmers receive parity payments on crops.

Also in dispute was a senate amendment boosting the appropriations and loan authorization of the farm security administration. Conferees said it was likely the house would have to pass on this question also.

British Forces Take Initiative From Rommel

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The British eighth army has wrested armored superiority from the Germans in the Libyan desert and with their sky-ruling air force is hammering ceaselessly at the foe in a supreme effort to erase the threat to Suez.

Already 340 Germans and Italian tanks have been destroyed and captured, and the veterans of Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck appeared determined to shatter as many of the residue as possible before Marshal Erwin Rommel's battered army could escape through a gap in the British mine fields between Ain El Gazala and Bir Hacheim.

The British, catching their second wind in the furious 12-day battle in the furnace-like heat of the swirling sands, have opened a new drive in the triangular trap west of Knightsbridge, the cross-trail 15 miles southwest of Tobruk. Indeed, a military commentator said the British were battering at the axis forces from three sides in a mighty stroke of attrition which had placed Rommel on the defensive.

General Haynes Rites To Be Held Monday

FORT MADISON, Ia., (AP)—Funeral services for Brig. Gen. Glenn C. Haynes, 66, warden of the state penitentiary here, will be held Monday at Centerville, Ia., his native home.

Haynes died yesterday after suffering periodic heart attacks for several months, the most recent about two weeks ago.

Interpreting The War News Exaggerated Claims Evidence Growing Reich Uneasiness

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Wide World War Analyst
Among other cheering notes on the war for the united nations as the first week of June passes without evidence that the axis in Europe has anywhere regained the initiative is the drastic change that has come over German high command statements.

Throughout the whole course of the war those progress bulletins always have dealt somewhat in exaggeration, but never before to the extent they are now consistently overstating Nazi military successes and understating Nazi reverses.

Just why this is deemed necessary now can only be conjectured. Just when it started, is easier to calculate.

Began Last Winter

It began to be a definite aspect of German high command statements last winter, when Hitler took over supreme army command in Russia and purged, one way or another, highest ranking German professional soldiers. There is now ample evidence from American press observers who were stationed in Berlin before the United States entered the war, that this report to Hitlerian fiction was at least one bone of contention between the Nazi egoist and his generals. It violated their professional pride and conscience.

The change bespeaks growing uneasiness in Hitler's inner circle, perhaps in Hitler himself, over German public reception of war news that truthfully presented, even within the limits of military requirements, no longer could show smashing Nazi victories in every engagement reported.

Turning back to the German official bulletins from Scandinavia, the low countries, France and the Balkans as the victory tide swept onward, the striking thing about them was that they rarely proved inaccurate. The strategic battle keys reported taken invariably were already captured or cut off that they soon fell to German armies.

They were always specific, not general. They mentioned cities, forts, important river lines. While the comment that enemy resistance on a given front had been broken frequently proved premature, all too often even that prediction was promptly verified.

By contrast, since Hitler took (See INTERPRETING, page 6)

13 to 15 Enemy Warships Sunk, Damaged by U.S. Armed Forces

On Verge of Great Naval Victory, Admiral Nimitz Declares 'Pearl Harbor Is Now Partially Avenged'

PEARL HARBOR, Honolulu (AP)—United States armed forces have sunk or damaged 13 to 15 warships and transports of the repulsed Japanese invasion fleet at Midway island and "a momentous victory is in the making." These include the sinking of two, and possibly three, aircraft carriers.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, enumerated enemy losses last night in his third communique on the great and continuing battle in the Pacific.

"Pearl Harbor has now been partially avenged," he said. "Through the skill and devotion to duty of their armed forces of all branches in the Midway area," the communique said, "our citizens can now rejoice that a momentous victory is in the making."

"It was on a Sunday just six months ago that the Japanese made their peacetime attack on our fleet and army activities on Oahu. At that time, they created heavy damage, it is true, but their act aroused grim determination of our citizenry to avenge such treachery and it raised, not lowered, the morale of our fighting men."

Pearl Harbor Avenged
"Pearl Harbor has now been partially avenged. Vengeance will not be complete until Japanese sea power has been reduced to impotence. We have made substantial progress in that direction. Perhaps we will be forgiven if we claim we are about midway to our objective. The battle is not over."

"All returns have not yet been received. It is with full confidence, however, that for this phase of the action the following enemy losses are claimed:

- "Two or three carriers and all their aircraft destroyed, in addition to one or two carriers badly damaged and most of their aircraft lost;
- "Three battleships damaged and at least one badly;
- "Four cruisers damaged, two heavily;
- "Three transports damaged.

"It is possible that some of these wounded ships will not be able to reach their bases."

Casualties Light
"One of our carriers was hit and some planes were lost. Our personnel casualties were light."

"This is the balance sheet that the army, navy and marine forces in this area offer their country this morning."

In his communique Friday Admiral Nimitz said it was too early to claim a major Japanese disaster. His statement last night that "substantial progress" had been made in the direction of reducing Japanese sea power to "impotence" indicated that the repulse of the powerful enemy task force was fast resolving itself into a disaster for the enemy.

The assault on Midway, regarded here as Japan's first major move to occupy the Hawaiian islands, crumpled with greater damage and casualties to the troop convoy and battlefleet than the Japanese inflicted in their peace- (See MIDWAY, page 6)

Joliet Ordnance Plant Blast Fails to Shake Morale of Workers

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—The explosion that shattered a building at the huge Elwood ordnance plant and jarred structures within a 100 mile radius failed to shake the morale of the workers who turn out munitions there.

That was established yesterday when Capt. David P. Tunstall, press relations officer, reported morale was "admirably high" and that only one man among the thousands on the payroll requested "a few days off."

The explosion put one of the 12 production units out of action temporarily, but operations continued in the others. Scores of workmen searched the wreckage. Dr. E. A. Kingston, Will county coroner, said many bodies were "blown to bits" and never would be found. The latest compilation showed 48 dead or missing. That included 21 identified dead and 27 missing.

Principal target of the R. A. F. bombers that are visiting German cities by the thousands is the industrial heart of Germany, the Ruhr valley, where great industrial plants turn out the goods with which the Nazis wage war. The cities and distances from England are indicated on the Central Press map above.

Interstate Trade Barriers Will Soon Be Liquidated

It has taken a war to get action on the problem of interstate road barriers which has been slowing up interstate commerce for years, but the motivating force has finally been determined and the action is forming.

Adjustment of restrictive state laws to the minimum standards for truck sizes and weights suggested by Public Roads Commissioner MacDonald has been set as a primary goal by the executive committee of the Governor's conference following a joint meeting with key federal officials appointed by the president. Another goal set by the conference is complete reciprocity in the licensing of motor vehicles.

A resolution urging all states immediately to take steps to remove or waive all laws and regulations affecting the interstate movement of motor vehicles, was passed at the state-federal meeting, and it was announced at the conclusion of the meeting that the executive committee of the Governor's conference is prepared to recommend an emergency presidential proclamation to effect the removal of state trade barriers if the states fail to act.

This subject intimately affects Iowans, for the barriers set up by our state legislative body have been among the highest in the country. We have restricted incoming commerce from every one of our bordering states, lowering the gates only a little to Wisconsin.

Heretofore the great cry for the maintenance of these 'small-time tariff' walls has been brought about by the old 'do as your neighbor does' policy. Now that the federal committee has decided to step into the picture, the state governments will have a medium through which they can work out a cooperative policy, and even if they stick to the 'do as your neighbor does' policy, the walls will vanish.

An American Characteristic Mr. Knudson Should Know About

If you've a long memory you'll recall that Mr. Knudson, former director of OPM, and some of his late colleagues of the automobile industry once made the declaration that the conversion of machinery in automobile plants for use in war production was next to impossible.

Back-lash from that declaration came into view just this week when the change at General Motors was completed and the company's publicity department issued the official report that "Two-thirds of all the automatic machines—from huge automobile body stamping presses to delicate instruments for precision work—are now engaged in making weapons of war in 32 cities scattered over 13 states."

An Australian who visited this country once remarked that the outstanding characteristic of the American people was their unwillingness to admit that any task was too great for them. It appears that Mr. Knudson and his colleagues haven't recognized this outstanding characteristic.

United States Exports and Imports Increase in First Quarter of Year

On the credit side of the shipping ledger for the first quarter of this year stands an export figure of $1,566,581,000, which rivals the commensurate figure for 1920 and shows an increase of 59 per cent over last year's first quarter figure. The source of this extraordinary sum can be found readily in the fact that we are a nation at war.

To our own armed forces and to those of our allies supplies of war materials—munitions, implements of war, foodstuffs, garments, hospital supplies and countless necessities—proceed in an almost constant stream. In this fact lies the answer to the awesome increase in exportation.

The incoming side of shipping shows a much less overwhelming increase, but nonetheless, a very interesting one. Even though the Pacific scene is far from unruffled, our imports for the quarter have reached a total of $779,502,000, 7 per cent greater than the 1941 value.

On the basis of these quotations, it is self-evident that United States shipping vessels are playing an active and vital part in this war which demands the utmost of all resources.

Promoter Clarifies Reasoning Back Of Retaliation on Isolationists

WASHINGTON—The ardent liberal campaign to banish all so-called isolationists from public life in the midst of war was started by the New Republic magazine for reasons not clear at the time.

The implication was that they were unpatriotic. But an inspection of their voting records in congress since December 7 showed they generally supported every war measure and were not talking much. Actually they were no obstacle to the war effort.

When that reason thus fell down, other publications which took up the campaign, turned to the point that the isolationists should be exterminated because they opposed getting into the war before we got into the war. The liberals hammered that reason for a while, but it left matters just as much in the dark as ever, because Mr. Roosevelt opposed getting into the war before we got in.

His speeches and statements show this to have been his announced policy in his reelection. If that is the measure of isolationism, then the president was an isolationist and so were most of the people of the country.

Any real reason for the campaign continued to be unexplained until the New Republic's June 8 issue came out this week. Then it offered a good reason.

It said it was not soaking isolationists because they were isolationists, but because most of them were against the new deal, quote:

"The enemies of the new deal are the very ones who could keep us from winning the peace. This is an issue which must be fought and won on the domestic front, and it must be won while the war is being waged."

That clarifies the matter. The attack, it now appears, was timed all along for the primaries and the congressional elections, for domestic political reasons—which are fair enough in themselves. But such a clarification certainly requires the liberals to drop that fake mantle of patriotism under which they have been hiding this purely political sword.

The question then is whether the New Republic and associates are going to dictate the peace and future domestic politics after eliminating their political opponents from the discussion during the coming elections.

New Tax Bill to Appear Soon

Mourning about the new tax bill is widespread among those who are making it and who may bring it out in about two weeks. Designed to curb inflation and raise $8,600,000,000, it does neither.

The government economists are clicking their teeth about it because it will make the nation's total federal tax bill about $24,000,000,000 a year, only about one-fourth of our national income and that income may go to $120,000,000,000 by the time the bill becomes effective. They all say it therefore cannot be a guarantee against inflation.

Mr. Morgenthau first asked for a $7,600,000,000 bill and then sent up supplemental requests which would bring it up to $8,600,000,000. As it stands now the bill would raise less than $6,000,000,000.

If a $2,000,000,000 sales tax were added, the revenue raising deficiency would be met, but the administration is inherently opposed even to the phrase "sales tax."

The bill does not touch those taxpayers in the lower third of the income tax brackets where most of the "excess income" is, the income which the administration economists fear will cause inflation.

Lower exemptions will touch this group lightly, but the committee agrees that many in the group are not accustomed to paying income taxes and did not get into the habit when the brackets were dropped last time, so they do not consider the added burden as onerous.

In general the bill gets added revenue from the same sources the government has been tapping more and more in recent years—business and the investing class. The corporation tax (normal plus surtax) is 40 per cent, and the excess profits tax 94 per cent in addition.

While the committee has turned down many specific treasury recommendations, it has in general followed the treasury pattern. This, of course, is a campaign year.

June Inspires Statisticians To Prepare Marriage Data

The advent of another June has inspired the statisticians to these statistical reflections on marriage in the United States:

The marriage rate in this country has been for many years among the highest observed in any of the leading nations of the world.

Not only is the frequency of marriage greater here, but there is also a marked tendency for earlier marriages.

In the age group 20 to 24, about one quarter of the men and more than one half of the women are already married.

The chances that a girl of 18 will eventually marry are 87 in 100, and for a young man of 21 they are 83 in 100. In other words, only 13 per cent of the girls attaining that age face spinsterhood, and only 17 per cent of the men who reach their majority will remain bachelors.

Under age 22, the chances of eventual marriage are greater for a girl than for a boy, but beyond that age the situation is reversed. This is due to the fact that, on the average, men marry several years later than women.

New York Is Having Murder, Suicide Waive

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—There seems to be a wave of suicides and murders in New York. Almost without exception the suicides have been achieved through leaps from hotel and skyscraper windows. The murders mostly have been women whose bodies have been found in sordid hotel rooms and rooming houses in the meaner streets of New York.

I think I mentioned a suicide only yesterday, the one about the young wife who leaped from the 65th story of a building in Rockefeller Center, and who left a note, saying "Darling, I can't go on." She was the mother of a three-months-old child.

There was another one today. She leaped from a window in West 46th street. "A pretty young woman," the police described her, who was frustrated in love . . . "Please forgive me . . . love you with all my heart . . . That's what she wrote. You found the story with a two-column headline on the front pages of the newspaper.

I mention this because a few weeks ago this column carried the following item: "A blonde young woman is found in a mid-town hotel with her head bashed in . . ."

All she has on is a pair of black step-ins. Clutched tightly in her hands is a shiny new quarter—Stuff for an O. Henry."

Shortly after this appeared I received a letter from a man in a distant city. He quoted the item as I have given it above, and then said:

"My wife is separated from me. She left the apartment where she had gone to live and I later heard that she was staying at the hotel, in New York City.

"But what made me suspicious was 'Clutched tightly in her hands is a shiny new quarter.' This was a habit of hers, to grip money in her hands to keep anyone from taking it away from her—like a child.

"She is about five feet, nine or ten inches tall. A scar from a burn several inches long is on her right leg. Her hair was dyed black, or she may have returned to natural blonde. If this checks up, please turn this over to the proper authorities."

I quote this letter so that the man who wrote it will know that his request has been turned over to the Missing Persons Bureau of New York City. If anything comes of it they will let me know, and I will pass the information along to him.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

Expose of Gordon, One-Phone Producer

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Max Gordon is strictly a one-telephone producer in Hollywood. One telephone in a cubbyhole office with a scarred desk where he can put his feet when he answers the 'phone—himself.

All this is highly irregular, for a producer in Hollywood is nobody unless he has a secretary or two, a buzzer, and a brace of telephones. Max Gordon is highly irregular, himself, among Broadway producers. He has hits, which is something in any year, and a miracle in this.

His foremost current hit, "My Sister Eileen," is the reason he's in Hollywood. The play brought $225,000 for its film rights, and Max Gordon is here while Director Alexander Hall transfers it to the screen as a vehicle for Rosalind Russell. His other top piece is "Junior Miss," also up for screening, and already a radio show for Shirley Temple.

A comparative stranger to Hollywood himself, Gordon has been represented here abundantly by his plays, most of which have been screened. These included "The Cat and the Fiddle," "Pride and Prejudice," "Design for Living," "The Great Waltz," "Roberta," "The Shining Hour," and "Dodsworth." He served as film producer on his "Abe Lincoln in Illinois"—which he characterizes as an artistic triumph that nobody would pay to see.

"My Sister Eileen" in film form will be virtually the stage play—with excursions outside the one set (the sisters' basement apartment in Greenwich Village) and an expanded love interest. In the movies they've gotta have love, so the role of the young editor, Brian Aherne, has been developed.

Fifty this June, Gordon started in the theater as press agent for a burlesque company. He has seen the Broadway stage in the doldrums before. His explanation for the current fade-outs:

"Back in 1910, when I was in burlesque, I remember seeing 'The Easiest Way,' a shocker because it was sex stuff. In the big scene the man opened the door to the girl's bedroom and the audience was electrified by the implication. In the last war sex was still an item. But things have changed since then—sex has lost its shock appeal. And today you read what's going on in the world—in the war—and everything else is dwarfed. Events move so swiftly authors are bewildered and don't know what to write. They're on solid ground in comedy—and in the past."

Down on the set, Al Hall is putting Miss Russell, Janet Blair who has become a blonde to play Eileen and George Tobias through opening scenes. Tobias is the landlord who bamboozles the newcomers into renting his chamber of horrors—and the movies have improved on the stage version of this "dream apartment." The day-beds are as hard, and the "luxurious shower" is the same, but there's also an old horn phonograph, and a multitude of cheap plaster figurines, and army and navy sofa pillows, and cheap tapestries, and a wonder of a bead-fringe lamp. The lamp is Hall's joy: "I sent all over town to find one," he said.

Favorable War News Sustains Bullish Trend Of U.S. Stock Market

New York (AP)—Steels, utilities and scattered specialties extended the advance in yesterday's stock market but many leaders were stalled by profit taking.

Although several of the so-called war infants found the going a bit rough final plus marks of small fractions were in the majority.

Bullish sentiment was sustained partly by the favorable color of war reports.

Some traders inclined to cash in because of the week-end recess and the act the market had taken a good recovery ride since last Wednesday. Offerings were well absorbed, however, by those who thought the forward swing still had plenty of power.

The associated press average of 60 stocks was up .1 of a point at 35.8, its best level since March 5, and on the week showed a net gain of 1.2 points, biggest weekly jump since January.

CHARACTERS MAKE YOUR STORY

By JOHN SELBY

"CHARACTERS MAKE YOUR STORY," by Maren Elwood (Houghton Mifflin; $3).

There's a new how-to-do-it-in-writing book every month or so, and the odd thing is that so many of them sell. There is, therefore, a very large audience waiting for the woman or the man who can explain simply how to write.

Now a woman from Hollywood named Maren Elwood is taking a fling at it. Personally, I think her life is more amusing than her book, and perhaps just as helpful. Her idea is that characterization is important in fiction, and if there is any writer, beginner or adept, who doesn't know that, I'm a tadpole. Her secondary idea is that she can teach characterization, and after a fling at "Characters Make Your Story" I'm inclined to agree. She knows the tricks and can apply them. So do a lot of others, of course, but they (See BOOK PARADE, page 5)

Gretchen Neumann to Exchange Nuptial Vows With Dr. Robert Schreffler This Afternoon

Rev. Ralph Krueger Will Conduct Service In Lutheran Church

Before an altar decorated with apple blossoms and banked with candelabra Gretchen Neumann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Neumann, 743 Kirkwood, will be married to Dr. Robert G. Schreffler of St. Louis, son of Mrs. Daisy Schreffler of Sunbury, Pa., at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The Rev. Ralph Krueger will officiate at the single ring ceremony in the English Lutheran church. Prof. Thomas Muir will sing "O Promise Me" (de Koven) and "Beloved, It Is Morn."

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear a white floor-length gown of Chantilly lace, made with a sweetheart neckline and a full skirt flaring below a fitted waist.

The sleeves are of leg-of-mutton style, ending in pointed cuffs at the wrist. Her fingertip veil of illusion trimmed with Chantilly lace will be held in place by a pleated lace coronet. She will carry a bouquet of white gladioli and pink roses.

Matron of Honor
Attending her as matron of honor will be her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. O. Neumann of Davenport, who will wear a floor-length gown of delicate pink organdy net and carry a bouquet of pink carnations and blue delphinium.

Betty Neumann of Iowa City, niece of the bride, will act as junior bridesmaid. She will wear a floor-length flowered taffeta gown and will also carry pink carnations and blue delphinium. Elaine Neumann of Davenport, another niece of the bride, will be flower girl. She will wear a pink net dress, floor-length, and carry a basket of rose petals.

Best man will be Dr. S. A. Neumann. Herbert O. Neumann and Richard B. Miller of Davenport will usher.

Powder Blue Dress
The bride's mother will wear a powder blue dress, trimmed at the sleeves and neck with pink cording. Her accessories will be white and she will wear a corsage of gardenias and Talsman roses. Mrs. Schreffler, mother of the bridegroom, will wear blue accessories with a beige dress trimmed with gardenias and Talsman roses.

Following the wedding ceremony, a 5 o'clock reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents. The house will be decorated with garden flowers. Out of town guests at the wedding and reception will include Mrs. Ernest Stoehr of Chicago; Hilda and Selma Blessin of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mary Blessin of Richland Center, Wis., and Mrs. Robert B. Miller of Davenport.

Traveling Costume
After the reception the couple will leave for a week's wedding trip. The bride's traveling costume will be a navy blue tailored summer suit, made of California cloth. With this she will wear white accessories.

Miss Neumann, who is a graduate of Iowa City high school, attended the University of Iowa. She was graduated from Paris academy of beauty culture in Cedar Rapids and at present is attending Logan basic college of chiropractic in St. Louis. Dr. Schreffler, a graduate of Palmer school of chiropractic in Davenport, is now an instructor and a clinic director in Logan basic college of chiropractic. They will live in St. Louis.

SUI Lecture To Be Friday

Rauschnig to Discuss Objectives, Purposes Of National Socialism

The first lecture of the university summer program will be presented Friday evening by Hermann Rauschnig, author and former president of the Danzig senate, Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of summer school lectures, announces.

Dr. Rauschnig will discuss the objectives and purposes of national socialism. If the weather permits, the lecture will be held on the south union campus; if not, it will be moved to Macbride auditorium. Born in 1887 in Thron, East Prussia, which later became Torun, Poland, Dr. Rauschnig has written four books, all attempting to expose the fallacies of Hitler and his national socialism.

In 1931, the lecturer allied himself with the nazis and soon became one of the party's leading figures. After having been elected to the presidency of the Danzig senate, he found himself in disagreement with Hitler upon refusing to arrest priests, disenfranchise the Jews, or suppress rival parties in Danzig.

Dr. Rauschnig was forced to resign as a consequence, and in 1935 he fled to Poland and then to London. In October, 1941, he came to the United States to become an American citizen. He is the author of "Revolution of Nihilism," "The Voice of Destruction," "Redemption of Democracy" and "The Conservative Revolution."

Francis Weaver of Mason City (far right), originator of the post-war financial assistance plan, was in charge of the booth. Looking on are Morris Mericle and Max Byram, both of Toledo.

FREQUENT CHECK-UPS MAKE TIRES LAST

More carefully guarded than the family jewels, handled as tenderly as a baby and discussed as much as the neighbors are those four tires on the car you have ceased to take for granted. Trips are shortened, pleasure rides eliminated and many bicycles have been hauled out of basements and garages to save them.

If you must use the car, there are a few points to consider in tire care. Keep them properly inflated and have them checked frequently. Be gentle in parking and stopping and don't let them stand in oily or greasy places.

Above all, avoid excess speed, which in hot weather will wear out tires more rapidly than anything else.

Cool Comfort

S-l-a-c-k-s spells travel comfort these hot days, especially when you combine them with a gay and casual cotton print blouse above. Proper accessories for wear with slacks are tailored blouses like this, flat-heeled shoes and perhaps a purse slung over your shoulder instead of the conventional hand bag.

broad to be seen in perspective from across the English channel and the Irish sea.

First of all, there are the ships, and they are spread thin across all the allied sea courses. Second there is Russia and the aircraft and weapons she needs right now . . . and is getting. Third, there is the Middle East, and the urgency of holding it—especially important since the latest offensive by the German Afrika Korps.

These things the first things, which must come first. That is why some analysts are discouraging the enthusiasm for a second front—other than from the air—in continental Europe this summer.

Husky Middleweight Giants Now in Ireland—The Yanks Are Back

—Will Form Core of Invasion Army

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
NEW YORK (Wide World)—The American soldiers . . . "are landing in England, and they will land in France."

The planning for ultimate allied invasion of France, or Belgium, or the Netherlands, or Norway, is fully underway, in the British Isles themselves.

On the ground are Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of U.S. army air forces, and Rear Admiral John H. Towers, America's chief of naval aeronautics, to plan with the RAF the coming U.S.-British air offensive which will send a thousand planes a night across the dark borders of Germany.

Well Established
Established by now are Admiral Harold R. Stark, commander of U.S. naval forces in European waters; Major General James E. Chaney, commander of the American expeditionary forces in the British Isles, and in Ulster, Major General Russell P. Hartle, who came with the first of the Yanks to be their commander in northern Ireland.

Germany's own position certainly has deteriorated in recent months on the battlefield, at home and in the seething occupied countries of the continent.

There are innumerable indications that in Norway, the low countries and France, the conquered people are ready to provide real assistance to allied invaders. The main energies of Hitler's army are strenuously engaged again on Russian soil, where they were driven back during the winter. Directly behind this front, there is serious trouble for the "pacifiers" of old, unbowled Czecho-Slovakia, which never had a chance to fight.

Naturally, American and British hopes are high for swift invasion, swift German knockout.

Far Too Broad
But it isn't that simple. The continental invasion picture is far too

Good Samaritans Elect Mrs. Alfred Lennabaugh Head of Encampment

Mrs. Alfred Lennabaugh of Lone Tree was elected chief matriarch of the Good Samaritan Encampment auxiliary No. 5 at the meeting Friday in Odd Fellows hall.

Other new officers are Mrs. Walter Herad, high priestess; Mrs. Lee Douglas, senior warden; Mrs. Jess Rarick, junior warden; Mrs. Melvin Westcott, treasurer, and Mrs. Harold Westcott, financial scribe.

Mrs. George Stevens was chosen to attend the convention, with Mrs. Oscar Wiese as alternate delegate.

The Florists' Telegraph Delivery association will hold a school clinic Wednesday in the Jefferson school, James Aldous, Iowa City florist, announced yesterday.

Horace Head, official F.T.D.A. artist will demonstrate up to the minute ways of using fresh flowers to glamorize summer dress and hair fashions.

Head stated, "The new styles in fresh flower arrangements are the results of close collaboration with America's leading dress designers and hairdressers. Instead of being merely something to pin on milady's shoulder, the new flower arrangements are an integral part of the fashion picture, planned to glamorize good points of the feminine face and figure."

White Shriners Plan Initiation Ceremonies

Ceremonies of initiation will be performed Wednesday evening at the meeting of Bethlehem Shrine No. 8, White Shrine of Jerusalem in the Masonic temple.

A 4 o'clock business meeting will be followed by dinner at 6:30. A musical program will be presented after the banquet under the direction of Mrs. A. B. Korab.

Reservations for the dinner may be made before Wednesday by phoning the Masonic temple, 6181, or Mrs. D. R. Webb, 4702.

WSUI to Broadcast Iowa Wesleyan College Commencement Talk

Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the United States army air forces, will deliver the 100th anniversary commencement address at Iowa Wesleyan college at Mt. Pleasant at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

General Arnold's speech will also be carried over station WSUI. This will be General Arnold's first radio address since he returned by air from England, where he was in conference with British and war department officials. It will be an important message not only for the people of Iowa but for the entire nation.

Auditor Lists Operating Costs of County Homes

The total cost for operation of county homes in the various counties in Iowa according to official reports of the auditor of state was $740,512 in 1940 as compared with $758,278 in 1939.

The cost a week per inmate was $2.97 for the entire state, as compared with $3.10 for the previous year. The average for the three years preceding is $3.25.

In 1940, Johnson county had an average number of 70 inmates. The cost a week for each inmate amounted to $4.57.

Shut Out Wins Belmont Stakes To Become 3-Year-Old Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—Shut Out, Equipoise's chocolate baby, put a stranglehold on the championship of the three-year olds yesterday by adding the ancient Belmont stakes to his Kentucky Derby triumph and once more whipping Alsab. Topping off a Belmont park program from which war relief benefitted by an estimated $125,000, Ekky's sturdy son poked his way in front a half a mile from home and let Al Sabath's Chicago hope chase him all the way to the judges stand by three lengths. It was Shut Out's second "big one" this spring under a smashing, heady ride by wise Eddie Arcaro. Alsab was a 2 to 5 shot and all but a few of the crowd of 29,812 customers figured "the Sab" had it at his mercy. But Shut Out and Arcaro not only won—they did it Alsab's way.

High Jumper Helps Train for Big Leap Arthur Byrnes, National Champion, New Director Of Physical Training at Air School

ELLINGTON FIELD, Tex. (Special)—The jump from basic air training to bombing of Tokyo and points East is being made easier for Ellington Field cadets today by a man who heally knows how to leap. Arthur F. Byrnes, new junior director of physical training here and a national champion high jumper, places jumping on an educational basis along with his expert tutoring in the daily physical education classes. "Amibi-pedestrous," Byrnes' favorite style in jumping is the Eastern roll, at which he is the country's outstanding exponent. It is a cinch he'll be demonstrating his ability continually here at the world's largest multimotored flying school, since the aviation cadets are of one mind when it comes to physical prowess. Byrnes will be showing the aviation cadets how to keep in shape to fly as members of the world's most physically fit fighting men. Owner of a Phi Beta Kappa key for excellence in the classroom, Byrnes also is the possessor of a string of high jump titles and records which, if placed end to end, would clear the country in one big hop. His victories stretch up until the time he became an Air Forces physical director.

Rice Institute's Three-Man Track Squad Bids for Honors in Milwaukee Tourney

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A versatile three-man squad from Rice Institute of Houston, Tex., fashioned a stout bid for title honors yesterday in the trials of the 17th annual Central Collegiate Conference track and field championships at Marquette stadium, by qualifying for seven places in last night's finals. Wisconsin's big squad gained eight places, and Indiana, the pre-meet favorite, figured to display its power in events in which no trials were held, but the Texans—Bill Cummins, Harold Hall and Jim Deal—operated smartly enough to indicate they would beand Cyril Kabat in the discus.

Charley Ruffing Wins 250th Contest

Shuts Out Cleveland, 3 to 0, on Four Hits; Yanks Splurge in 1st

Chisox' Ted Lyons Is Yankee Hurler's Closest Active Rival

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley (Red) Ruffing became the first active pitcher to win 250 games yesterday when he blanked the Cleveland Indians on four hits in hurling the New York Yankees to a 3-0 triumph. It was Ruffing's sixth victory of the season against two defeats. Ruffing became the eleventh pitcher in modern times to hurl 250 or more victories, although seven of the others reached the 300 mark. Now in his 19th season, Ruffing has lost a total of 212 games in pitching for the Yankees and the Boston Red Sox. His closest rival among the present day active pitchers is Ted Lyons of the Chicago White Sox, who has won 248 games. The Yankees notched eight hits off Chubby Dean and scored all their runs in the first inning to give Ruffing the decision.

J. M. Koebing's Lochinvar came up third, five lengths back of Alsab and eight in front of William Woodward's Trierarch. The latter was trailed home by Walter Chrysler's Ramillies, H. L. Lunger's Half Crown and Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's Top Milk.

THE DAILY IOWAN SPORTS

Sports at Ames Intramurals at Navy Station Planned

AMES (AP)—A varied intramural sports program is being planned for Iowa State's 800 naval trainees. Athletic director George Veenker says that the entire Iowa State athletic staff and the school's recreational facilities will be at the disposal of the naval students attending the new electrical engineering training station at the college. Two hundred trainees arrived Thursday and were divided into groups of 25 men by the navy officers. From these groups, softball teams will be formed for intramural competition. Opposition for the teams will come not only from other trainee teams, but also from the nearly 60 other softball teams competing in the collegiate intramural program at Iowa State this summer. Additional arrivals will swell the total number of navy men to 800, making a total of 64 softball teams before the summer is over, according to present plans. But the intramural softball is only a minor part of the navy men's summer sports program at Iowa State, Veenker reports. Every morning Iowa State coaches will direct 15 minutes of calisthenics at 5:30. Coach Jack McGuire, mentor of Iowa State's big six champion swimmers, will direct a comprehensive swimming program for navy trainees, while other members of the athletic staff will direct navy sports as follows: Softball—Louis Menze, Clayton (Chick) Sutherland, Leroy (Cap) Timm, and Douglass Kerr; golf—Hugo Otopalik and Ray Donels; tennis—Harry Schmidt and Merl Ross; and handball, Beryl Taylor and George Brettnal.

Table with columns: St. Louis, A B R H P O A E. Rows: Gutteridge, Clift, McQuinn, Judnich, Laabs, Stephens, Criscola, Hayer, Auker, McQuillen, Hanning, Cullenbine, Biscan.

Philadelphia (AP)—Despite a seventh inning rally that netted them four runs, the St. Louis Browns were defeated by the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-5, yesterday and thus kept from moving into fourth place in the American league. The Browns knocked Roger Wolff, rookie knuckle-ball pitcher, out of the box in the seventh but southpaw Herman Besse, who replaced him, allowed only two hits the rest of the way. Elden Auker, who had won seven games, suffered his third defeat. He started for the Browns but was lifted for a pinch hitter in the fourth. Loy Hanning, who replaced him, also retired in favor of a pinch hitter.

Dykes' Men Down Red Sox, 3-1, After Disastrous Beginning

BOSTON (AP)—Dom DiMaggio, the first face Orval Grove faced, banged a home run yesterday, but after that the 22-year-old Chicago righthander had things pretty much his own way as the White Sox beat the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 1. It was Chicago's second victory in the east this season, the other being on May 1 at Philadelphia. Grove was found for only four hits and had comparatively good control, walking only three men. The Red Sox made a "team cycle," but they couldn't bunch them. Meanwhile, the White Sox belted Tex Hughson and Bill Butland, Boston pitchers, for 10 hits. Chicago scored all their runs off Hughson, who gave up nine hits in seven innings.

Seventh Inning Rally Fails as St. Louis Loses to A's, 6 to 5

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Despite a seventh inning rally that netted them four runs, the St. Louis Browns were defeated by the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-5, yesterday and thus kept from moving into fourth place in the American league. The Browns knocked Roger Wolff, rookie knuckle-ball pitcher, out of the box in the seventh but southpaw Herman Besse, who replaced him, allowed only two hits the rest of the way. Elden Auker, who had won seven games, suffered his third defeat. He started for the Browns but was lifted for a pinch hitter in the fourth. Loy Hanning, who replaced him, also retired in favor of a pinch hitter.

Washington, Detroit Split Doubleheader WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington and Detroit divided a baseball twin bill yesterday, the Tigers taking the opener, 9 to 3, behind Tommy Bridges' tight pitching, and the Senators copping the nightcap, 11 to 3. Bridges yielded only four blows, three of them by Jimmy Vernon. He walked two batters. Rudy York and Roger Cramer each connected three times for the Tigers. The Senators tagged Hal Newhouser and right hander Hal Mander for 12 blows in the nightcap and were aided by four Detroit errors, three of them in the seventh. Newhouser was charged with the loss. Rookie Hardin Cathey, who worked until the sixth, was credited with the win. Sid Hudson finished on the mound for Washington. Al Evans paced the Senator attack with three singles and a double.

Curt Davis Pitches Brooklyn to 2 to 0 Shutout Over Cubs

Win Boosts Dodgers' National League Lead To 7 Full Contests

CHICAGO (AP)—Curt Davis shaded Bill Lee in a tight mound duel yesterday as he pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 2-0 shutout over the Chicago Cubs for his fifth straight victory and his eighth of the season. With the second and third place teams, St. Louis and New York, bumping into a postponement, the triumph boosted Brooklyn's national league lead to seven games. Davis, who has lost only once this season, scattered seven hits in compiling his third shutout of the year, while Lee yielded eight blows, three of them in the second inning when the Dodgers pushed over their first run. The Cubs got a runner to third base in the first, fifth, seventh and eighth innings but never were able to break through the Dodgers' defense for a tally.

Pirates Drub Phils On Sewell's 3-Hitter PITTSBURGH (AP)—Rip Sewell held Philadelphia to three hits yesterday to pitch Pittsburgh to a 3 to 1 victory, giving the Pirates two in a row, their longest winning streak since May 3, over a stretch of the last 30 games. Nick Etten's home run robbed Sewell of a shutout as he hung up his fifth triumph of the year. Etten also beat out an infield single, taking down two of the three Quaker hits. Bob Elliott's double and Vince DiMaggio's successful squeeze bunt with two out gave the Pirates two runs in the fourth inning and Johnny Barrett's single following Alf Anderson's double added a third run in the fifth. Sewell didn't allow a hit from the fourth inning on and only two men reached first base after that, both on walks. He retired 14 men in a row during one period and 18 out of 19.

Red 4-Baggers Bring Boston's Downfall, 8-2

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds put on one of their occasional power demonstrations yesterday to defeat the Boston Braves with home runs—three of them. The score was 8 to 2.

The victory was the Reds' third straight over the Braves in the current six-game series and Bucky Walters' sixth consecutive win after a bad start. Bucky himself, rookie Bert Haas, and Frank McCormick honored for the Reds, each with a man on base. The other two runs, coming in the second, were scored on three singles and a double by Walters. Walters kept the Braves under control except for the fourth, when Ernie Lombardi and Max West singled, Nanny Fernandez was hit by a pitched ball, and Chet Ross singled Ernie and Max home. Paul Waner knocked out his 9,994th major league hit in the fifth to draw closer to the 3,000 mark, but Walters fanned him on the next try.

Brooklyn Last Year Hardest Senior Loop Team to Whitewash When Mort Cooper handed Brooklyn its first shutout of the year May 20, the Giants and Pirates were the only National League clubs which had not yet felt the sting of the old kalamazine brush in a championship game this year. The Dodgers last year were the toughest team in the senior circuit to whitewash. It happened only 4 times all season. The first 2 applications were administered by St. Louis pitchers, not Cooper, but a couple of southpaws, Max Lanier and Ernie White.

Tokyo Radio Charges U.S. Seeking Pretext To Use Poison Gas

TOKYO (From Japanese Broadcasts), Sunday (AP)—The Domei News agency charged in a radio broadcast today that the United States was seeking a "pretext" to use poison gas.

The broadcast said: "Well-informed circles, ridiculing allied charges of Japanese use of poison gas, declared that President Roosevelt's latest threat to resort to such methods of warfare against Japan if the latter 'persists' in utilizing such methods of warfare only serves to indicate that the United States is anxiously seeking a pretext to resort to such 'barbaric means in order to extricate itself from impending defeat."

"These sources described as 'judicious' Roosevelt's charges based on Chungking's allegations that Japan has been resorting to gas warfare and said 'winners do not have to resort to illegal tactics and it is only losers in a struggle who fall back on desperate under-handed methods.'"

President Roosevelt said Friday that "if Japan persists in this inhuman form of warfare against China or against any other of the united nations, such action will be regarded by this government as though taken against the United States, and retaliation in kind and in full measure will be meted out."

graphical data included in his bulletins later usually proved well founded, but not the claimed effect of the victory on Russian morale.

Now even the pretense of documenting a sweeping victory claim with names of cities or towns taken or river defense lines breached has been abandoned. It is such generalities in German official claims of a smashing victory over the Russians on the Kharkov front that, considered with Russian reports, warrant suspicion that Hitler received a jarring body blow at Kharkov which he dares not reveal to his people.

German exaggeration as to U-boat and bomber successes against British sea life lines always has been obvious. Presumably the Nazi purpose was to steel German public opinion for war privations by telling it that England was or soon would be suffering similar or far greater pangs.

The war-of-nerve is a Hitler-patented technique. Up to now, however, he has used it with threats and splutterings to attempt to frazzle the nerves of his foes. Now he seems to be using it to bolster German nerves with false or exaggerated claims of success. That does not bode him any good on his own home front.

But we have won—and are winning—the battle of production. Armament figures which our enemies, and even many of our friends, hailed as fantastic will be met. Many even will be surpassed.

"We are no longer counting our tanks by the tens or hundreds, but by the thousands," says Under-Secretary of War Robert Patterson. "We measure our weekly production of ammunition by the hundreds of millions of rounds. This year's production of planes by American industry will surpass the 50,000 figure by a healthy margin."

Which is not to say that this battle is over. It is, in fact, more like talk cloaked attack on Pearl Harbor.

The Japanese invasion force, far from the defenders of Midway, was engaged in battle before its advance raiding force could soften the defenses of the tiny westernmost bastion in the Hawaiian group, and before its troopships could come close enough even to attempt a landing.

On the face of official reports on the first three days of battle, the conflict appears so far to have been a spectacularly and fiercely-fought series of engagements with Japanese airmen fighting like savages and machine-gunning American airmen as they floated downward in parachutes or bobbed on the surface of the sea in rubber boats.

(That the smashing blows dealt by the United States forces was regarded in Washington as a complete victory for America was indicated in a message sent to Admiral Nimitz by Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet. The message read: "The navy, marine corps and coast guard join in admiration for the American naval, marine and army forces, who have so gallantly and effectively repelled the enemy advance on Midway, and are confident that their comrades in arms will continue to make the enemy realize that war is hell.")

Army, navy and marine corps pilots bore the brunt of that attack and carried the fight to the invading fleet itself, the greatest enemy armada yet to venture into waters of the eastern Pacific. The American counter-attack was so effective that the only further reported attack on the heavily-fortified little island itself, was from the guns of a Japanese submarine Thursday night. One submarine blasted three torpedoes into an enemy aircraft carrier which had already been damaged by United States bombers.

Combined American naval and land forces have been preparing for just such an attack since the island were first attacked on December 7.

We Have Lost the Battle of Our Outposts, But— Battle of Production Won

—Factory Output Evidences U.S. Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Six months after Pearl Harbor this country has lost one battle, has won a far more important one, and still is not fully prepared to fight the last and most decisive of them all.

We have lost the battle of our outposts—Pearl Harbor shockingly battered, but since strongly reinforced and held; Wake, Guam, Bataan and finally Corregidor fallen into the hands of the enemy. There was no lack of courage, for in each instance the defenders' names are inscribed high on the rolls of heroism. There was an all-too-obvious lack of the necessary men, above all of the essential machines of war.

Too Little, Too Late
The loss of these possessions—and, in the succession of "too little and too late," our allies' defeat in Malaya, the Dutch East Indies and Burma—was, in the face of Japan's greater numbers and far-reaching preparation, almost a foregone conclusion. The hard fact of their loss was nonetheless a bitter pill to swallow. Against it was the slight satisfaction of seeing a "minor miracle" created out of that debacle in the fortification of Australia.

But we have won—and are winning—the battle of production. Armament figures which our enemies, and even many of our friends, hailed as fantastic will be met. Many even will be surpassed.

"We are no longer counting our tanks by the tens or hundreds, but by the thousands," says Under-Secretary of War Robert Patterson. Eugene G. Van Nest Funeral to Be Held Tomorrow Morning

Funeral service will be held at 9:30 tomorrow morning for Eugene Gilbert Van Nest, 13-year-old son of Mrs. C. H. Phipps, 727 E. Brown, who drowned Friday afternoon in the Iowa river. Rev. Raymond Ludwigson of the First Christian church will be in charge of the service at the McGovern funeral home. Burial will be in Clarksville.

The Van Nest boy, an 8B student at Iowa City junior high school, was carried under by the swift river current about 12:30 Friday afternoon. An attempted rescue by two companions, Evan Tallman and Jack Evans, was unsuccessful.

The tragedy brings the toll of Iowa City drownings this year to two. Maurice Bannon, 18, son of Mrs. Mary Bannon, was drowned earlier this spring when the canoe in which he and Roger Ivie were riding went over the dam.

The Van Nest youth is survived by his mother; one brother, Roger, 12, and a grandmother, Mrs. J. O. Roberts of Clarksville.

Sioux River Flood Waters Subsiding

SIoux CITY, Ia. (AP)—The Big Sioux river which Friday night flooded lowlands from Westfield, Ia., to the river's mouth near here, had begun to fall slightly last night and families in North Riverside who had been forced to evacuate their homes were preparing to return to them.

Weather bureau officials said the flooding water, which turned sections of Riverside and Stevens, S. D., into vast lakes, would remain steady throughout the night before beginning to fall noticeably.

The Flood river which also had threatened many families here was falling some last night. Although crop and livestock damage was extensive, the two floods have claimed no victims.

Mrs. Leonard was awarded $25 a month and $50 suit money. The plaintiff filed her petition for divorce in March. The defendant filed an answer and cross-petition Friday.

Broadcasting For Hitler

Former Iowa Man Now Lord Hee Haw On Berlin Station

NEW YORK, N.Y. (AP)—Fred W. Kaltenbach, former Waterloo, Ia., man, still is broadcasting for Hitler from Berlin.

Berlin short wave programs heard here list Kaltenbach on the air three times a week. A recent schedule showed:
"Monday, May 18th—8:15 p.m. Lord Hee Haw Fred Kaltenbach.
"Wednesday, May 20—8:15 p.m.—Talk by Fred Kaltenbach.
"Friday, May 22—8:15 p.m., talk by Fred W. Kaltenbach Lord Hee Haw.
"12:15 a.m. Fred W. Kaltenbach's talk will be repeated."

Kaltenbach has a sister and at least two brothers in Iowa, but the family has made it clear that it is completely loyal to the United States and has no sympathy with sentiments expressed in Fred's broadcasts.

Fred Kaltenbach, 46, is the son of a former Waterloo butcher. Back in 1939 he was on the air every Monday night with short wave broadcasts aimed at Iowa and the midwest.

"Everybody's happy, healthy and well-fed here," was the central theme of his messages. He returned to Waterloo with his German bride in 1939 and was reputed to have made a pro-Hitler speech before the Waterloo Rotary club.

He once sent a postcard to the Waterloo Courier listing his broadcast times.

He attended Grinnell college for three years after graduating from East high in Waterloo in 1914. He was a champion debater in high school. He enlisted during World War I and is understood to have been a member of the American Legion at one time.

He obtained a degree at Iowa State Teachers college after the war and took a Waterloo farm loan job, which he held until the depression.

He taught school in Manchester and Dubuque until 1935 and obtained his master's degree from the University of Chicago by working during vacations.

He went to Berlin in 1936 under a scholarship to study for a doctor of philosophy degree.

$5 Auto Tax Stamps Go on Sale June 10

New Seals Will Serve As Identification Tags In Gas Rationing Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The five-dollar federal automobile tax stamps will go on sale at postoffices and internal revenue collector offices on June 10.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Guy T. Helvering, announcing the date yesterday, indicated that possession of the stamp would be necessary for getting new gasoline rationing cards in areas where motor fuel is rationed.

He said he had been advised by the office of price administration "that, in the issuance and use of gasoline rationing books, an important identification will be the serial number printed on the use tax stamp. In those areas where gasoline is being rationed and in those areas where gasoline will be rationed, possession of the stamp evidencing payment of the use tax on motor vehicles will provide one of the necessary means of identifying the coupon book with the vehicle in the securing of gasoline."

Heretofore, the government has had to depend chiefly on state and local police to enforce purchase of the stamps.

The new stamp will cover the fiscal year beginning July 1 and will replace the existing stamp issued on February 1 and for which owners paid $2.00.

The stamp will be gummed on the face and the announcement said that "it is the desire of the bureau of internal revenue that the use tax stamp shall be placed on the windshield in a location that will not be in conflict with state requirements."

Movie's Myrna Loy Marries John Hertz

NEW YORK (AP)—Myrna Loy, film star, and John D. Hertz Jr., advertising executive, were married here last night.

The recently divorced wife of Arthur Hornblow Jr., film producer, and Hertz, were married at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Robert Leylan, by Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora with only members of the immediate families present.

Following a reception the couple left on a honeymoon to an unannounced destination.

The commonest unit of energy is the foot-pound, being the force required to raise one pound one foot.

Midway—

The Japanese invasion force, far from the defenders of Midway, was engaged in battle before its advance raiding force could soften the defenses of the tiny westernmost bastion in the Hawaiian group, and before its troopships could come close enough even to attempt a landing.

On the face of official reports on the first three days of battle, the conflict appears so far to have been a spectacularly and fiercely-fought series of engagements with Japanese airmen fighting like savages and machine-gunning American airmen as they floated downward in parachutes or bobbed on the surface of the sea in rubber boats.

(That the smashing blows dealt by the United States forces was regarded in Washington as a complete victory for America was indicated in a message sent to Admiral Nimitz by Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet. The message read: "The navy, marine corps and coast guard join in admiration for the American naval, marine and army forces, who have so gallantly and effectively repelled the enemy advance on Midway, and are confident that their comrades in arms will continue to make the enemy realize that war is hell.")

Army, navy and marine corps pilots bore the brunt of that attack and carried the fight to the invading fleet itself, the greatest enemy armada yet to venture into waters of the eastern Pacific. The American counter-attack was so effective that the only further reported attack on the heavily-fortified little island itself, was from the guns of a Japanese submarine Thursday night. One submarine blasted three torpedoes into an enemy aircraft carrier which had already been damaged by United States bombers.

Combined American naval and land forces have been preparing for just such an attack since the island were first attacked on December 7.

The miniature island is the last in the chain of the Hawaiian islands, extending from Honolulu like a finger pointing toward Tokyo. It lies near the international dateline about 1,200 miles from Pearl Harbor, and almost as close to the Japanese bases in the Marshall islands, southwest of Midway.
