Russian Communiqué Fails to Acknowledge Any Nazi Advances

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW, Sunday (AP)—The red army, forcing the Germans to pay heavily for every inch of ground before Stalingrad, fought stubbornly today against strong German assaults while northwest of Moscow their Soviet comrades advanced in the Kalinin sector and reported crossing a river.

The Soviet midnight communiqué did not acknowledge any German advance on Stalingrad, either from the northwest or the southwest, the two critical areas of combat. It simply said there were no "material changes" in the fronts.

(Berlin radio said the Russians were fighting "tooth and nail" for every single bunker in the Stalingrad area. It claimed that additional gains were made both here and in the Caucasus but acknowledged that "Soviet resistance remains very stiff."

In the Caucasus, south of Krasnodar, Soviet troops "fought defensive engagements and repelled two German attacks," the high command said.

The communiqué indicated, however, that the big Soviet offensive west and northwest of Moscow still was underway.

"On the Kalinin front a Soviet formation overcame enemy resistance for a river crossing and continued its advance," it said. Earlier reports said the Russians had gained possession of the Rzhhev airport and that fighting was going on in the city itself.

In another sector of the front northwest of Moscow the Russians reported the Germans had launched an offensive in which large numbers of tanks and automatic weapons were used, but that they had been repelled. Thirteen tanks were destroyed and "about a company" of enemy infantry was wiped out.

Guerrillas operating in the Kalinin area were said to have wrecked a German military train consisting of six cars loaded with tanks, 16 loaded with trucks and four with troops.

In the Mordok area, where the Germans were trying to break through to the Caucasus oil field at Grozny, heavy fighting took place. The Soviet communiqué said a German attempt to cross a river was smashed.

In the Kletskaya area, northwest of Stalingrad, Russian troops were said to have defeated an Italian division, capturing 650 prisoners and a large amount of equipment. One encouraging report from the Stalingrad front was that 700 German tanks stalled near the Don because of a gasoline shortage and were attacked by Russian planes.

U. S. to Have Enough Coal to Meet Needs; Buying Must Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation will have sufficient coal to "meet all needs," the office of solid fuels coordinator reported yesterday, adding that consumers must continue to place orders early and store fuel as rapidly as the mines can supply it if they would avoid cold homes next winter.

Howard A. Gray, acting director of the office, notified Secretary of the Interior Ickes that "the greatest amount of coal in history has been placed in dealers' stock piles or consumers' storage as a result of the summertime 'buy-coal-now' campaign."

Temporary delays in coal shipments may occur, and persons who have not stored coal while it was available to them may get caught with insufficient fuel," the acting director said.

Strong New Chinese Offensive Starts in Area North of Canton

Dispatches Confirm Reported Recapture Of Chuhsien, Lishui

United Nations Now Have Air Bases Near To Japs Homelands

CHUNGKING (AP)—Japanese forces in Kwangtung province in south China are in flight before a new strong Chinese offensive 40 miles north of Canton, Chinese dispatches said last night as the high command confirmed earlier reports that the valuable air-bases at Chuhsien and Lishui in Chekiang province had been wrested from the invaders.

The Kwangtung offensive began Thursday with Chinese recapture of Pakong, said the Central Chinese News agency. With the Chinese in hot pursuit, the Japanese since have fled from the towns of Kungshang, Kweiouling and Nangchanguang and still are withdrawing southward along the Canton-Hankow railway, the agency said.

In Range of Japan
On the Chekiang-Kiangsi front to the north, the Chinese communiqué said Chuhsien and Lishui, both within easy air range of Japan, were recaptured Friday morning.

Central News said the Chinese also captured Sungyang, last important Japanese stronghold in southern Chekiang province, on Friday and that a general Japanese withdrawal northward appeared to be in progress from that area. The Chinese communiqué, apparently based on earlier information, said the Japanese garrison at Sungyang was "facing annihilation."

Press dispatches said Chengshutan, five miles east of Chuhsien, also had fallen in the course of Chinese mopping-up operations.

Jap Reverses
(The Tokyo radio mentioned the Japanese reverses for the first time, asserting that on Aug. 19 Japanese forces on the Chekiang-Kiangsi front "commenced readjustment of their battle line in order to secure a more military advantageous position in readiness for future action.")

(This explanation was attributed to the press section of the Japanese army in central China, the force which began the big Chekiang-Kiangsi drive May 15 with the aim of seizing potential air bases from which Japan could be bombed and establishing an all-rail route to conquered Singapore.

(The Japanese broadcasts did not specifically say that any retreat was being carried out, and German broadcasts of Tokyo dispatches pretended the Japanese

Interpreting War News—

Cairo, Chinese Raids Indicate Lengthening Of Allied Air Power

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Wide World War Analyst
Spectacular extensions of the reach of the united nations air arm are promised by two new war developments, the Chinese recapture of their air bases and the latest axis bombing of Cairo.

Within Tokyo Reach
From the Chuhsien and Lishui fields 1,300-mile raids on Tokyo are within the known capabilities of American heavy bombers. The bases were built laboriously largely for the purpose of such assaults, which now are again within sight of realization.

The new Cairo raid which cost four lives was in defiance of Prime Minister Churchill's warning at the time of the invasion of Greece that Rome's immunity would end if either the Egyptian capital or Athens were bombed. Athens was spared. Cairo was hit four weeks ago without bringing the threatened retaliation since there was some question whether that attack was deliberate but the new raid may well dissolve such doubts.

Under existing circumstances, however, the possibility of repeated and punishing assaults on the Japanese homeland seems remote, and Rome is hardly a first-class military target.

The war picture has undergone a major transformation since the recaptured Chuhsien airfield was dug out of a valley last year by thousands of coolies and pronounced one of the best natural air-dromes in east Asia. Lishui is (See INTERPRETING, page 6)

U. S. Clamps Laws On Taxi-Cab Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government clamped strict regulations on the taxi-cab industry yesterday in order to save tires, gasoline and vehicles.

In an order estimated to affect at least 50,000 vehicles, the office of defense transportation practically froze the industry in the hands of present operators, and put new sharp restraints on their operations.

The order, effective September 1, forbids cruising for the purpose of picking up passengers; prohibits a driver using his cab for social or recreational purposes, and prohibits the making of commercial deliveries of property.

Congressional Unit Considers Emergency War Tax Program

New Plan Designed To Hit Practically All Income Groups

WASHINGTON (AP)—An emergency war tax designed to reach practically every individual who makes an income, no matter how small, was reported under consideration last night by treasury and congressional officials.

Details of the plan were not ready for publication but there were reports that the senate finance committee would be asked next week to increase by at least $1,500,000,000 the $8,137,000,000 which would be taken from individuals in taxes under terms of the new revenue bill already approved by the house.

Conjecture centered around a form of gross income tax, possibly levied at the source, which would tap a field of $36,000,000,000 in annual income which some committee members contend would not be reached by the bill as it stands.

There was some indication also that a system of post-war savings for individuals through bond purchases might be combined with the proposed new levy.

The treasury was understood to have suggested a somewhat similar gross income tax on corporations to replace the capital stock and declared value excess profits levies which the committee voted out of the bill Friday for an estimated revenue loss of $75,000,000.

Ellis Island Officials Investigate 5 Japanese Taken From Gripsholm

NEW YORK (AP)—Five Japanese, claiming American citizenship, were taken to Ellis island from the diplomatic exchange ship Gripsholm when the liner docked Aug. 25, an immigration officer revealed last night.

The Japanese were included in a group of nearly 80 evacuees whose credentials were being subjected to closer scrutiny by government officials, said the officer, who asked that his name not be used.

Byron H. Uhl, district director of immigration, said earlier that still on the island were some passengers from the exchange liner Drottningholm, which carried 949 persons to this country from axis-controlled Europe in June. He said a few were being released daily and not many were left.

Flying Forts Still Without Single Loss

Make Seventh Attack On Nazi Saarbruecken, Wevelghem Airdrome

LONDON (AP)—American flying fortresses made their seventh raid on the Nazi-held continent yesterday without suffering loss, following up the RAF's night attack with hundreds of bombers on Nuernberg, carnival city of nazidom, and Saarbruecken, sprawling industrial and railroad center. The USAAF bombardiers, accompanied by fighters, loosed their loads over the German airdrome at Wevelghem, near Courtrai, Belgium. The raid was accompanied by diversionary sweeps of American fighters, and all planes returned safely from the full operation.

Attack Ostend, Lille
The British also were active yesterday, making sharp attacks on Ostend and Lille. The RAF lost 30 bombers Friday night, and two bombers and a fighter failed to return yesterday—but the damage to Hitler's war potential was considered a liberal dividend for the expenditures.

Nuernberg and Saarbruecken both have major war industries. When the raiders left, their big black wings were lighted by big fires at both cities. The daylight attacks were on docks at Ostend and power stations in the Lille-Lens area.

One station at Comines, northeast of Lille, was bombed from a very low level, an air ministry communiqué said.

Concentrate on Nuernberg
Nuernberg is specially dear to Hitler, for he staged his Nazi party spectacles there in years of peace. The bombing force of 300 to 600 planes centered its heaviest attack on that city, but the air ministry said the attack on Saarbruecken was "hardly less strong."

The air ministry said the bombers over Nuernberg used that "Saturation" technique on such targets as the engineering works, a locomotive plant, the Nan tank factory, the Seimen-Schuckert Electrical plant and the aluminum mills which turn out pistons and castings.

The four-motored planes traveled 500 miles into the heart of southern Germany to attack.

Committee Approves Rationing of Fuel Oil In East Coast States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Informed government officials reported yesterday that coupon rationing of fuel oil in the eastern states this fall and winter had been approved by the special committee named by Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the war production board.

The committee was established to study the need for rationing and was employed to order it into effect if it deem such a system necessary.

A formal announcement is expected to be made Monday or Tuesday.

The exact nature of the plan and its effective date were not disclosed.

The committee, appointed last week, was composed of Under-Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, Price Administrator Leon Henderson, and Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes.

Japanese Reinforcements Reach Milne Bay As Heavy Fighting Continues Into Fifth Day

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sunday (AP)—Japanese reinforcements were reported today to have reached Milne bay, where a heavy battle between Australians and invading Japanese soldiers roared into its fifth day, while up the coast fresh fighting broke out in the Kokoda area and in the Lae-Salamaua sector of New Guinea. (This is the first report in some time of land fighting in the Lae-Salamaua area, which is 180 miles north of Milne bay.)

A communiqué said a Japanese cruiser and eight destroyers, taking advantage of bad flying weather, entered Milne bay last night and may have landed some troops. At any rate, it was said, ground fighting in this sector continued "with no decisive results."

"Our planes are cooperating with the ground forces and have inflicted heavy damage and casualties," the communiqué said. "An enemy destroyer was spotted despite the haze of bad weather and was attacked, probably damaged."

The fighting in the Kokoda area, near Buna, was described as "enemy thrusts," all of which were said to have been repulsed.

In the Lae-Salamaua sector, the land fighting was confined to "outpost clashes."

Air activity was extensive, with allied bombing attacks on such widely separated places as the Dutch island of Amboina, northwest of Australia, Buka, at the northern end of the Solomon islands and Rabaul, Japanese island.

Anticipated Offensive Apparently Postponed; Axis Supplies Blasted

WITH THE ALLIED FORCES IN THE WESTERN DESERT (AP)—The anticipated axis offensive in the Egyptian desert appeared last night to have been postponed, perhaps because of the strong Russian counter-attacks west and northwest of Moscow.

It is considered possible here that the Germans, weak in the air in Africa in recent months, had planned to fly several hundred planes to Egypt to back up their land forces and have been unable to do so because of developments in Russia.

United States medium bombers and British naval and RAF planes have struck at axis supply shipping centers where reinforcements were being assembled for the anticipated battle, it was reported last night.

The U.S. bombers, cooperating with British naval planes, bombed an axis airport in the El Daba area Friday night.

RAF heavy and medium bombers at the same time smashed at shipping in Tobruk harbor, leaving at least two ships on fire and one or two others damaged.

Elsewhere British naval planes attacked enemy encampments, tank concentrations and motor transport in the battle area with considerable success, it was reported, while the navy hit German supply lines.

A gigantic, last-minute counter-attack launched by the Red army northwest of Moscow to divert German pressure from imperiled Stalingrad reportedly has cost the Germans 25 to 30 miles of territory and 45,000 men. This Central Press map shows the general area involved in the action. Heavy line denotes German advance toward Stalingrad and Moscow.

WAAC's Get Commissions

FORT DES MOINES (AP)—The WAACs were saluting each other for the first time last night. They're officers now, and the masculine army never had a straighter, prouder, smarter bunch of second lieutenants in its history.

At long last or so it seemed to them—the first 436 officer candidates of the women's army auxiliary corps got their commissions and the right to pin on those precious gold shoulder bars that designate them third officers.

The women have two more weeks of work as officers before assignment to posts about Sept. 14. Some will go into aircraft warning, some to recruiting offices and more will stay here to train other officers and WAAC auxiliaries.

Nazi Submarine Sunk Along Coast of Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—One German submarine was sunk and another captured after a battle with coast sea and air forces off the coast of Cuba, Havana newspapers reported yesterday.

There was no official confirmation of the story, which appeared under 8-column headlines, but publication of the information was authorized by the ministry of defense.

Japs Land Troops

While reporting that mopping up operations against enemy units formerly well-entrenched in the area "have continued to date," the navy also disclosed that "several small contingents of enemy troops have been landed on the islands which we hold, the largest landing having been made by 700 troops on Guadalcanal on August 21."

"Our positions have been bombarded by service craft and submarines and bombed by aircraft," the communiqué said, "but our losses as a result of these attacks have been small."

"Every attempt by the enemy to recapture his lost positions has resulted in the complete annihilation or capture by U.S. marines of all troops that have landed."

71 Planes Destroyed
The communiqué also disclosed that at least 71 Japanese planes of various types have been destroyed in the fighting to date, boosting the total from the 69 disclosed in earlier communiqués, but there was no new information on either enemy or American warship and transport casualties.

The six islands which the marines now hold and on which they had overcome all major opposition by noon August 10 (the landing operations started early August 7) were named as Guadalcanal, which has airfield facilities which the Japanese had almost completely developed; Tulagi, with its magnificent harbor; and the adjacent islands of Gavutu, Tanambogo, Makambo and Florida.

The communiqué said that as of August 10, major opposition had been overcome only on portions of Florida island but other sections of the navy report indicated that the situation there was now well in hand.

In breaking the hold of the Japanese on this strategic area which could control supply lines to Australia and may eventually serve as a jumping off place for further American offensive action, the marines captured large quantities of ammunition and supplies, and equipment which the enemy had been using in development of a major naval base.

A gigantic, last-minute counter-attack launched by the Red army northwest of Moscow to divert German pressure from imperiled Stalingrad reportedly has cost the Germans 25 to 30 miles of territory and 45,000 men. This Central Press map shows the general area involved in the action. Heavy line denotes German advance toward Stalingrad and Moscow.

Confused Corners of Public Mind

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

Some Arguers Wish Only to Argue About What Not to Argue About

WASHINGTON—A discouraging condition in some confused corners of the American public mind has been presented to me, in reader reaction to my recent effort to clear one exceptionally unreasonable anti-war hinking on the part of an anonymous correspondent in Cincinnati.

In my mailbag I found a vociferous minority of people who apparently want to do nothing in this war except argue about whether it is right, to argue about Mr. Roosevelt, the new deal, the British, the Jews, India, in fact practically everything except the question before the house, namely:

"The war—how to win it." Apparently there are three groups of dissenters in this country, as represented in this mail. The first need not bother anyone. There were a few letters from exceptionally enthusiastic persons, like the one who threatened me not only with death but promised further personally to assure me everlasting life in hell.

There is a second group of war dissenters who apparently do not care much about winning it, because they think it was started by the Jews, or by "Morgan, DuPont and John D.", or by Mr. Roosevelt, or the British, or practically anyone except the Japs and the nazis.

It is not necessary to argue with people who hold these views. To clear them of their confusion it should only be necessary to point out that no matter who started the war, they themselves are in it, we are all in it.

The fighting is not restricted to those whom they accuse. If they are right, completely right, in all their wildest accusations, the slightest sense of self-preservation will tell them they had better strain every ounce of energy they possess to win, or they will live under the rule of the despised Japs (who promised to make peace in the White House) and nazis.

The absence of this second group from the war effort might not make any important difference in our conduct of the war, if they were not strengthened indirectly and perhaps unintentionally by a third group of citizens. This third group is the one that worries me.

If I believe my mail, they are earnest Americans, seekers for truth, who did not like either Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policies or domestic policies before Pearl Harbor, whose minds are filled with such recollections as the president's promise not to send our boys to foreign soil, a promise he could not keep, in their disillusionment and confusion, this group is failing to contribute enthusiasm, work, dollars or even scrap metal to the cause.

These are the people who see that the doctrine of the four freedoms has not been conscientiously applied in the past by many of our allies, Britain as well as Russia. Some of them see lax labor discipline in our midst, inefficiency, the big debt, uncertain goals, and they sink into despair. They are the disillusioned idealists.

They think they are logical and dealing in truths. Yes, but only up to the point where they must reach a conclusion as to what they intend to do about their grievances. Their complaints are founded in some justice, so they think only about these complaints, but never do they say what they think should be done.

In all the hundreds of letters reaching me, not a single correspondent in this group suggested any course of action.

They dare not bring themselves to it. They dare not face the conclusion implied by their argument, because that would bring them to advocate surrender—surrender of the country to the Japs and nazis.

They cannot meet the obvious consequences of their own position, and advocate peace, because they know peace today means surrender and national misery for many generations to come.

They just keep on moping about their grievances to an extent where they, as a mass group, are actually promoting the consequences of their position which they dare not accept—defeat.

Whether they realize it or not, they are contributing to defeat, both negatively, by doing nothing constructive, and affirmatively, by their influence in thought.

That kind of disillusionment and honest idealism is a doublecross played upon our soldiers, our army and navy and marine corps even by some fathers, mothers and brothers of boys in the service, who do not realize where their thinking is leading them.

They are unwittingly undermining the safety of their own loved ones. Don't forget casualties are always greater on the losing side, and money must be raised by bonds to give our men proper power and protection.

There is not idealism or truth at all, but plain blind unthinking political melancholia. Do not like to call groups of people names unless they choose names for themselves, but these people in this third group, will soon classify themselves as the "white flaggers" of this country, if they do not stop moping about past events and pitch in to win. By their own position, they are already running up their own personal sign of surrender.

The only way out of war—once you are in—is to throw everything you have into it and win it. All other considerations must wait. Most of the country knows this, but apparently a few still do not.

Second Front Possibilities—

(The following editorial is the second in a series of five written by an "armchair general" of the university student body on possible points for the starting of a second front in Europe. The "general" make no attempt to set forth a solution to the problem of the second front, but rather discusses the possibilities, as he sees them, on several fronts.—The Editor).

By all odds the second front that would most directly menace the center of Germany's power and be most sure of drawing the full wrath of the enemy would be a drive through Holland. The least such a thrust could do would be to yield air bases from which we could blast Germany's greatest industrial centers, giving our bombers full fighter protection.

So close is Holland to the nazis' manufacturing and ship-building cities that any military success at all in this sector would put the whole industrial system of the reich in danger. With aircraft bases on this coast our bombers could make short work of about 50 per cent of Hitler's war industries.

But the odds against even small successes in this area are tremendous. The Germans would hold the upper hand more than they would at any other spot within occupied Europe.

The Germans could easily reinforce their land troops and their air power would be right at hand. Roads and communication lines within this territory are exceptionally good and, for that reason, an extremely large force would be required to even hold its own. Reinforcement problems would be far greater for the allies than they would be for the nazis.

German forces would, then, be superior to the united nations from the opening shot and an invasion of Holland, therefore, would be impractical until the allies have gained unquestionable control of the air, or until the greater part of the axis forces are busily engaged in some far away sector. Certainly such a situation is not going to be seen soon.

Under present conditions an invasion of Holland would be more of a second Dunkirk than a second front.

Willkie, Globe Trotter—

It won't be long until we'll have a clear picture of conditions on the world's battle fronts. Wendell Willkie has started his fact finding and oil spreading tour and when he returns to the United States he'll have a story for the people as well as a report to the president.

Spreading the truth as a private ambassador of the president—that was the official explanation of this venture, but Willkie is going on his own suggestion and not at the request of the president. The Wall street lawyer can do a lot to aid American foreign relations and he is very much interested in that angle of the trip, but it would seem quite probable that he harbors some personal desires which are equally as important to him.

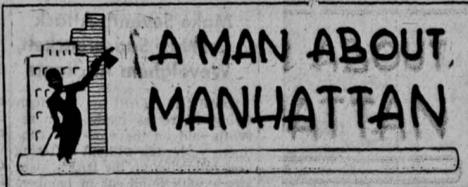

It's a bit early to be talking about the 1944 presidential election, but it's not too early to start thinking about it. Perhaps Willkie is giving that election some thought these days—his trip to England last winter and his present trip to Russia and China, with stopovers in Egypt, Turkey, Arabia, Palestine, Syria, Iran and Iraq won't do him any harm. He'll also get a good look at the Asiatic hot spot, India, on his way to China.

The next president of the United States is going to have to possess a far greater appreciation of world problems than his predecessors had to, and Willkie knows it.

When this war is over he will probably be the best informed man in the world. Even Winston Churchill, who has become a virtual globe-trotter in the past year, will not be as well informed as Willkie. Lots of men may know their geography better than the lawyer, but he'll possess more of the valuable inside information.

Guiding the "arsenal of democracy" and cooperating with the united nations are huge jobs. The United States has become a nation whose whole policy is guided by the conditions of the world at large. Any man who is to successfully handle the presidency of this country is going to have to know the world and all of its governing men.

Mr. Willkie may have these facts in the back of his head. Sure, he's all for doing as much as he can for the United States on this trip, he's also doing a lot for Wendell Willkie; and why not?

Campus Press Club Can Work Wonders

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK — Marvin Kohn, a young man of ideas, is the head of one of the most flexible organizations in New York. This is the National Campus Press club, composed, he says, of the editors of 1,200 college and high school newspapers. It came into being something like this:

Several years ago when Marvin Kohn was an undergraduate (he is only 19 now) at Theodore Roosevelt high school, he had a craving to meet celebrities. He wanted to interview them. At that time he was managing the football team and writing sports for the school paper, yet he still knew an urge to talk to Hollywood cuties and explorers returning from lonely Arctic vigils.

He reasoned: "If I call up and say Marvin Kohn of Roosevelt high wants an interview they'll laugh. . . . But if I have numbers, if I represent a hundred school editors, that'll put some weight behind it. They can't laugh that off."

The club was formed, and its activities at once became varied and many.

Say, for instance, Miss Dimples Twinkletons, Amalgamated's newest starlet, is due to arrive at Grand Central at 8:05 in the morning. Not many people know Miss Twinkletons, yet, so Amalgamated puts in a call for Marvin Kohn. Presto! In the morning, when Miss Twinkletons gets in, a cheering mob of 500 coeds from the New York high schools is howling a reception that even Garbo wouldn't ignore.

Not only for the starlets, but even for you—for a sum—will Marvin Kohn have his greeters on hand, any hour, any station.

Suppose, again, that a noted football player, or coach, comes to town. It might make good local reading to have him greeted, say, by the captains of 10 high school football teams. Marvin Kohn can get you those captains. On the other hand, if you're an orchestra leader, he can get you 10, or 20, student orchestras. He can get you 40 drum majorettes. He can get you anything you need.

Last year his club held two hour mass interviews on the air each Saturday. He plans a shorter 30-minute show this season, with interviews by high school editors with celebrities from all walks of life—generals, actors, explorers, manufacturers, aviators.

Marvin Kohn, who lives in the Bronx and who spends his Saturday evenings serving as hat check boy for the Stage Door Canteen, thinks the club has well served the cause of undergraduate journalism. It's easy, he says, if only you get behind it, and push.

The word "delta" was first applied to the region of the mouths of the Nile because of the resemblance of the triangular piece of land to the shape of the Greek letter.

There are 83,000 Filipinos in the United States, Alaska and Hawaii. There are 43,000 in the 48 states. How many of these have joined the armed forces can't even be estimated. On Dec. 20th, President Roosevelt signed a bill which for the first time opened the army to Filipinos. At Camp San Luis Obispo, Cal., there are 4,000 in training. If these were all (there are hundreds, perhaps thousands in the navy, marines and other army units) that would be 10 per cent of the Philippine residents in the U.S.—a record that we can't touch until we have an army of 12,500,000.

One U.S. government official, not connected in any way with the government in exile, told me that he believed between 25 and 50 per cent of the Filipinos here and in Hawaii are working directly or indirectly in the war effort.

Most of this activity has been inspired by the government in exile. Even before 63-year-old President Manuel Quezon brought his cabinet and other officials to Washington, Resident Commissioner Elizalde was hammering away at Filipinos here to prove their fervor for independence by throwing all their energies into the war effort.

"Be ready at all times," he said in one pronouncement, "to show that you are true Filipinos and loyal nationals of the United States."

In exile, the Philippine government has one achievement of which it is justly proud. Although still more than four years away from complete political autonomy, it was invited to become the 27th signator of the declaration of united nations. President Quezon and his cabinet needed no second urging.

"That ceremony of June 15," they point out today, "was tacit recognition of the fact that the Philippines has earned the right to stand on its own feet among the nations of the world."

By JOHN SELBY
"GEORGE SPELVIN, AMERICAN AND FIRESIDE CHATS," by Westbrook Pegler (Scribners; $2.50).

G. A. M. Pegler is repeating himself on boards this week. Mr. Pegler (the G. A. M. stands for God's Angry Man) writes that naughty column of his six days a week, and practically everybody rummages around until he finds what Mr. Pegler is mad about—also six days a week. Often it's labor, often it's That Man in the White House. Often it's Harold Ickes, whom Mr. P. calls the "little Joe Goebels of the administration" in his new book of collected columns. He calls the book "George Spevlin, American and Fireside Chats," which doesn't quite parse for me.

But one in a while Mr. P. boils the bitterness out of himself and produces something rather light—indeed sometimes something rather fantastic. Then he has a lot of fun. So do his readers.

This collection runs to the less-anxious columns. It is often funny. It is also very persuasive, and since it has practically none of the well-known Pegler labor columns in it, and for the most part lets That Man alone, even a confirmed liberal could read the book without too much rancor. There are plenty of "digs," but what's a dig when a guy has to earn a good rich living by a daily stint of this sort?

Still, Mr. P. sometimes inserts a doubt in the mind of his reader. Few readers can be expert on all things, as Mr. P. is. But most of us have one or two fields we really know and when we discover Mr. P. writing rot about one of these fields, we begin to wonder about those other departments we are not so familiar with. On page 97 Mr. P. uses Beniamino Gigli as a club with which to beat all singers, and operatic singers in particular.

Mr. P. can shake Gigli through a red-hot sieve for all I care, after Mr. Gigli's career in this country. But Mr. P. grows general and vindictive at the bottom of page 98, and continues so to the end. These statements are based on a truly beautiful ignorance so iced with cute phrases as to look like a wedding cake from Sherry's. At the bottom of page 99 he implies that all male singers are sissies, for example. Turn the page and he says flatly that no singer is an artist; that his function is that of a train caller. Opera is not my dish—indeed, many serious musicians view opera with tolerance at best. But this is not for the reason Mr. P. implies.

Walter Abel's been on hundreds of fishing trips, never caught a fish, and isn't fond of fishing. When he was a boy his father and uncle, regular Isaac Waltons, took him out with them—and Walter's job was to row the boat! . . .

The writers seem to be on a concerted campaign to take the mysteries out of directing. Preston Sturges and "The Great McGinty," John Huston and "The Maltese Falcon," Billy Wilder and "The Major and the Minor," Arch Oboler and "This Precious Freedom," Norman Krassa and "Princess O'Rourke" are all entries in the "screenplay and directed by" derby. . . . along with Orson Welles, of course. . . .

These luscious pictures of Alexis Smith in her nice gardening outfit have come back to plague her. Alexis and her father installed a victory garden in their backyard, after which Alexis had "Gentleman Jim" to do, and the weather got hot, and one thing and another came up—along with the weeds, the bugs and the other garden enemies. Not, however, before a number of pictures had been taken.

Papa Smith dropped a few hints about the work, all of which Alexis ignored. Then those pretty pictures started hitting the magazines. Papa Smith doesn't have to make comments now. He just grins happily and exhibits a picture of Alexis at work in her garden. Miss Smith has returned to the tomatoes. . . .

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Don't for a minute nurse the idea that governments in exile are stagnant bodies waiting for the other democracies to pull their chestnuts out of the axis fire.

Their problems of cooperation; physical, political and financial self-maintenance; and planning for rehabilitation are very real.

There is no better example than the exiled government of the Philippines, which, when it fell into the claws of the Japs, had four years to go before attaining complete independence from the United States.

Yet it is better off than some of the "lost nations." At the Philippine Commonwealth headquarters in Embassy Row on Massachusetts avenue, they told me proudly that their government did not have to depend on one cent of outside help to carry on. Long ago, the Philippines invested heavily in U. S. securities and today they are maintaining the government until the time when it can return to its native resources for revenue.

There are 83,000 Filipinos in the United States, Alaska and Hawaii. There are 43,000 in the 48 states. How many of these have joined the armed forces can't even be estimated. On Dec. 20th, President Roosevelt signed a bill which for the first time opened the army to Filipinos. At Camp San Luis Obispo, Cal., there are 4,000 in training. If these were all (there are hundreds, perhaps thousands in the navy, marines and other army units) that would be 10 per cent of the Philippine residents in the U.S.—a record that we can't touch until we have an army of 12,500,000.

One U.S. government official, not connected in any way with the government in exile, told me that he believed between 25 and 50 per cent of the Filipinos here and in Hawaii are working directly or indirectly in the war effort.

Most of this activity has been inspired by the government in exile. Even before 63-year-old President Manuel Quezon brought his cabinet and other officials to Washington, Resident Commissioner Elizalde was hammering away at Filipinos here to prove their fervor for independence by throwing all their energies into the war effort.

"Be ready at all times," he said in one pronouncement, "to show that you are true Filipinos and loyal nationals of the United States."

SUI Fraternities to Hold Formal Rushing for First Time This Year

Formal rushing will begin this afternoon at 1 o'clock for the prospective fraternity men on the campus. By 6 o'clock last night approximately 40 men had registered at the inter-fraternity council headquarters in the Iowa Union, a considerably smaller number than had reported for the festivities in previous years.

Today each rushee will be required to attend open house at every chapter and failure to do so will bring a penalty to the rushee. No invitations will be issued for the open house but it is understood that all rushees will attend according to the following schedule.

Open House Dates

(1) Rushees whose last names begin with letters A to K will go from 1 p.m. to 3:15 p.m. to these houses: Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

From 3:15 to 6:30 p.m. to these houses: Delta Chi, Delta Upsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Sigma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Xi, and Phi Kappa Psi.

(2) Rushees whose last names begin with letters L to Z will go from 1 to 3:15 p.m. to these houses: Delta Chi, Delta Upsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Sigma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Xi, and Phi Kappa Psi.

From 3:15 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. to these houses: Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

(3) Phi Epsilon Pi will hold open house from 1:30 to 5:00 p.m. for the boys interested in membership in a Jewish fraternity.

Upon arrival in Iowa City all rushees have been instructed to go to the Union and register at which time he will pay his $2 rushing fee. This fee to be turned over to the interfraternity council to be used to defer expenses throughout the year. If a man does not register he will not be allowed to pledge for a period of three weeks after the time rush week closes, Wednesday, midnight, Sept. 2. However, he may register as late as Tuesday noon.

All rushees must live at the Hotel Jefferson and will be required to "keep hours." No fraternity may have a rushee "after hours" which includes the time from midnight to 1 p.m., nor may the fraternity man indulge in any conversation with him during these hours.

A private detective has been engaged to "stalk the halls" to see that these rules are obeyed.

No fraternity shall have a date with any rushee unless the date is officially registered at the general rushing headquarters. The fraternity with which the rushee shall have the preceding date is responsible for his arrival at the next house on time.

All dates will be established in the following manner: An invitation will be filled out and given to the rushee, who accepts or regrets the invitation. On the accepted invitation he checks the time he desires to visit the house. These accepted invitations are then given to the rushing chairman and the date is thus established. The invitations will be given out in the morning each day of rush week.

No rushee will be allowed more than one dinner date with any one fraternity. Only the evening meal may be served to the rushees.

The rushing periods for each day of rush week except today will be as follows:

1 to 3:30 p.m.
3:30 to 6 p.m.
6:45 to 9 p.m.

OCD Emblems Net $445 Total

A total of $445 has been collected to date from air raid wardens of the Iowa City citizens' defense corps who are handling the sale of the "Cooperating" OCD emblems. David Stochl, finance officer, announced yesterday.

This figure represents approximately a third of the anticipated total sale of $1,200, Stochl added. Last week's report showed collections of $289.

Because of vacation absences, all the sector wardens have not turned in their collections. A more complete compilation is expected soon, Stochl said.

Baptist Women Plan To Convene Tuesday

Baptist Young Women's association will meet at the home of W. H. Kirby, 1219 Kirkwood, at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Homer Johnson will speak on "Stewardship of Money" and Mrs. C. G. Mullinax will speak on "Stewardship of the Other Talents." Peggy Kirby will be in charge of devotionals.

Among Iowa City People

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Knowler, 2 Woolf court, will leave today for Backbone State park. They will return Thursday.

Mrs. R. E. Jones of Seattle, her daughter, Mrs. Burdette Carter and granddaughter, Sharon Marie, of Centralia, Wash., are visiting this week with Laura Jones, 703 Bowers, and with other relatives and friends. Mrs. Jones was graduated from the University of Iowa.

2 Local Organizations Aid in Defense Drive

Two Iowa City organizations, the Order of Moose and Veterans of Foreign Wars, have expressed their willingness to cooperate in purchasing $3,000 worth of equipment for the citizens' defense corps, officials announced yesterday.

Items which are needed by the local corps include steel helmets, luminous arm bands and buttons, asbestos gloves and whistles.

Corps officials also indicated that the local Elks and Eagles would duplicate the $3,000 purchase made by the two other groups.

Mary Fagan Speaks At Luncheon Meeting Of Democratic Women

The democratic candidate for Iowa secretary of state, Mary K. Fagan, discussed organization as based on the necessity for sound support of the President's policies, both foreign and domestic, yesterday at a luncheon given by the Johnson county democratic women's group in Reich's pine room.

"If the right to vote is not worth exercising as a cherished duty and responsibility on the part of everyone of us here at home," Miss Fagan commented, "then it certainly is not worth asking our men in the service to give their very lives for the preservation of that right."

Mrs. Regina Hogan officiated as toastmistress at the luncheon. Special guests were Mrs. Henry Willenbrock, Mrs. Vern Nall, Mrs. W. J. Jackson and Mrs. Ray Baxter, district committeewoman from Burlington.

Mrs. F. A. Stomsten spoke in behalf of Vern Nall, and Clara Daley discussed the privilege that women have in voting.

It was pointed out that the purchase made by the two other groups.

Come on, you men 17 to 50 LET'S BLOW THE RATS OUT OF THE OCEAN!

DO THEY THINK we're going to stand by while they menace our free government, torpedo our ships, kill our men, set our women and children adrift in lifeboats?

Not as long as there are Americans who are ready to stand up and fight for their rights and their freedom!

We've taken plenty. Now we're ready to start dishing it out. We're getting the ships. We're getting the guns. We're getting the "ash-cans"—those deadly depth charges that can blow a sub clean out of the ocean.

What we need now is men. We need YOU! How about it? It's your war. And you know you're going to be in it sooner or later. Why not choose the Navy—now—while you still have the chance?

What the Navy offers you

In the Navy you can do a real man-size job for your country—and for yourself. You'll go places, do things, meet people. You'll lead a rugged outdoor life that will build you up physically. You'll help make history!

With Navy training you'll have the chance to become an expert in radio, aviation, electricity—dozens of top trades that fit you to do a better fighting job now... fit you for a better civilian job after the war is won.

You'll get good pay, quick promotion. Your first pay increase comes after approximately 2 months, upon completion of recruit training. By the end of your first enlistment you can be making up to $138 a month, plus allowances. And that pay is all yours because your food, quarters, uniforms, dental and medical care are free.

Most important of all, you'll be doing a job you can be proud of. A job your family, your friends, your country can be proud of—the biggest job ever offered any American.

Do you know what these men are doing? They're getting ready to fire an "ash-can" from the Y gun of a destroyer to knock the daylight out of a Nazi submarine. Those submarines that are coming right up to our shores to sink American tankers and kill American men. Are we going to let them get away with it? Not when we have enough red-blooded men firing enough of these "ash-cans." Come on, give us a hand! Enlist today!

Dodgers Lose 4 to 3 as Cardinals Win

Lon Warneke Hangs Up 10th Win of Season

Stan Hack Knocks In Winning Marker In Last Half of 9th

CHICAGO (AP)—Brooklyn's lead in the National League pennant scramble was cut to four games yesterday when the Chicago Cubs rallied in the ninth inning to turn back the Dodgers, 4-3, as the second-place St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Philadelphia Phils.

With two out in the last half of the ninth, Stan Hack broke up the game with a single that scored Lennie Merullo with the winning marker and climaxed a three-hit uprising which brought the Cubs from behind.

Clyde McCullough started the game-winning rally with a single off Ed Head, who replaced Johnny Allen in the opening frame and hurled four-hit ball for seven innings. Merullo's single chased Head to the showers and brought in Hugh Casey. Bob Sturgeon sacrificed the runners up a notch and pinch hitter Jimmy Fox came through with a long fly that drove in the tying run.

The game was played under the protest of Brooklyn Manager Leo Durocher after the seventh inning, when Umpire Al Barlick ruled against the Dodgers on a play at first base.

The Dodgers scored all three of their runs off Lon Warneke in the first inning.

Paul Derringer Blanks Braves on Five Hits As Reds Win 1 to 0

CINCINNATI (AP)—Paul Derringer blanked the Boston Braves with five hits yesterday. The only Cincinnati run was Rookie Max Marshall's homer into the right field stands in the first inning.

Derringer and Mannie Salvo, Boston ace, put up a good mound duel.

The light-hitting Reds were unable to get a man past first base after the opening inning. Salvo allowed four more singles, an inning apart, and walked Marshall in the eighth.

Sibb Sisti doubled for the Braves in the first but was stranded. Nannie Fernandez singled to open the sixth and Lombardi walked, but Derringer left them where they were.

Newsom Triumphs Over Tigers, 4 to 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington's Senators squared their last home series with Detroit yesterday afternoon, beating the Tigers 4-1 as Bobo Newsom scattered eight Bengal blows.

Tommy Bridges was the victim of the Nats' nine hits, as well as his own wildness.

Newsom gave the Tigers their lone run in the initial inning, walking Gehring and York after two outs. McCosky's single scored Gehring before the side was retired.

Seahawks to Start Grid Drills Monday

Lieut. Col. Bierman To Have 47 Cadets, 23 Officers in Squad

Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman, for 10 years grid coach of many a Minnesota juggernaut, will launch varsity drills with the Pre-Flight school's football squad of 70 men tomorrow afternoon. It will be a "setup different from any college experience I have ever had", in Bierman's own words.

In the squad of 70 will be 47 cadets and 23 officers. The cadet personnel will not remain the same during the full grid season, but will be supplemented throughout the season by additions from new enlistments and accordingly cadets on the first roster will be removed by advancement from pre-flight training to flight training.

Familiar names among the cadets include George "Red" Frye, big center who played on Eddie Anderson's Iowa team, George Benson, fullback and nine-letter man at Northwestern and Matt Bolger, speedy Notre Dame end.

Among the officers Bierman will be able to throw a former all-American at almost every position. At the wings he has Ray Antil of Minnesota, Bob Kreick of Wisconsin, Bob Daly of Northwestern and Mal Kutner of Texas.

At the tackle posts are Charlie Schultz of Minnesota, Bob Flora of Michigan and John Kulbitski of Minnesota.

Fred Gage of Wisconsin, Ted Nemeth of Penn State's Nittany Lions and Forest Jordan of the Wolverines are some of the leading candidates for the guard positions.

A wealth of center material includes George Svendsen of Minnesota and the Green Bay Packers and John Haman of Northwestern and the Cleveland Rams.

For the quarterback slot Bierman has his choice of Al Coupage, another former Hawkeye football stalwart, Forrest Evashevski of Michigan, Wayne Gift of Purdue and Bus Mertie, an enlisted petty officer who also played under Anderson.

Bobby Swisher, who competed in his intercollegiate days with the Wildcats, and later with the Chicago Bears, and Jim Langhurst and Dick Fisher, both of Ohio State, are the leading halfback candidates among the officers.

Two Badger and Green Bay Packers graduates, Ed Jankowski and George Paskvan, complete the officer picture at the fullback post.

Bierman will lead his charges through a 12 game card opening Sept. 19 against the University of Kansas at Lawrence, and continuing through Dec. 12 with only one open date, Nov. 14.

Mort Cooper, Marty Marion Turn the Trick

Cuts Brooklyn Lead To 4 Games as Card Ace Takes 17th Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Seven-hit flinging by husky Mort Cooper and timely hitting by the tail-end of the batting order yesterday brought the Cardinals a 5 to 2 victory over the Philadelphia Phils and another step nearer the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

It was Cooper's 17th triumph of the campaign and the club's third straight over the Phils, which, coupled with Chicago's defeat of Brooklyn, moved the Cards within four games of the Dodgers.

Marty Marion, a Johnny-come-lately to the slugging business, blasted two doubles from his eighth spot in the batting order to account for three runs and the winning margin as early as the sixth. In that frame, also, Whitey Kurovski punched his second two-base blow, driving in a counter.

Mort Cooper, in trying for his 17th victory, wore shirt No. 17 which early in the year belonged to Rookie Ervin Dusak.

New York Sweeps Doubleheader, 2 to 0, 7 to 4 From Pirates

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The New York Giants swept a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday, winning the opener, 2-0, on the three-hit pitching of Hal Schumacher and the nightcap, 7-4, with a 15-hit attack led by Mel Ott, Johnny Mize and Mickey Witke.

Witke's double drove in both Giant tallies in the opener and gave Schumacher the nod over Lloyd Dietz, who yielded only five blows.

Ran into two fellows from Michigan after the game who get the all-star special award for tough luck. . . They took a plane in from Detroit to see the game but due to the heavy fog the plane couldn't land in the Chicago area. . . Therefore, they got in town just in time for the early morning celebrating. . . And that reminds us, one of the best after-the-game meeting houses is Don the Beachcomber's. . . See you at that Iowa opener in a couple weeks.

Notes, Observations Before and After The Annual Classic

By WALT BYERS (Daily Iowan Reporter) and GENE CLAUSSEN (Associated Press Writer)

Notes and observations before, during, and after Friday night's all-star football game in Chicago.

Watching the all-stars go down to a 21-0 licking before the Bears, we agreed that Bob Zupke erred on at least two counts in his game strategy. In the first place he had the collegians try to go through the Bear line—which just isn't done—instead of concentrating on an aerial attack. Then, he didn't stick to any combination of players at any point in the game. In fact, Zup sent substitutions in so frequently the parade resembled a shuttle relay between the scene of battle and the all-star bench.

Our vote goes to Bill Osmanski, Bear fullback, as the outstanding player in the game. . . Charlie O'Rourke, newcomer to the Bear ranks this year, saw only brief action in the game but his passing and running was enough to indicate he'll at least do a good job of pinch hitting for George McAfee who is now in the navy.

The fog was so thick during the game that lights in the press section on the opposite side of the stadium were blotted out. Numbers on the players' backs were indistinguishable at times due to the murk, which must have made it tough for the broadcasters. . . Bill Diehl and Jim Walker, the Iowa boys who failed to see action, had their old game numbers on—29 for Diehl and 64 for Big Jim. . . If you want the reason for their bench riding, your guess is as good as ours. . . Dunno.

The between-half spectacle was one of the finest ever presented at a football game. Sailors, soldiers, marines, bands, and some of the smartest maneuvers—done with colored lights with the stadium arcs blotted out—we've seen made. It's colossal, and expression which isn't overworking the description. . . The sailors, some 2,800 strong, formed a huge American flag with colored placards, which covered half the playing field. . . The marines and sailors, seated on opposite sides of the field, bickered back and forth all night—jokingly, of course.

Contrary to the custom practiced by most coaches, Zupke was on his feet the entire game. . . He got more action than some of his players. . . By the way, Northwestern gets about as many plugs on this game as the Tribune. . . The sports writers who worked the game have a tough job on their hands. . . It's up to them to pick the outstanding player on the college club—which is just about impossible. Zup substitute so fast no one player stayed in long enough to make his presence known. . . Bob Westfall, the roly-poly Michigan back, did a great defensive job of linebacking in the first half. . . Steve Juzwick of Notre Dame made the best run of the evening, a 84-yard jaunt that ended up on the Bears' six-yard line. . . However, he was taken out of the game the next play and only returned for brief intervals thereafter.

Chicago (AP)—Halfback Bruce Smith of Minnesota has been selected by newsmen as the most valuable player to the college all-stars in their 21-0 defeat by the Chicago Bears Friday night on the fog-bound Soldier field.

Chicago (AP)—Roy (Stormy) Weatherly, benched Friday for weak hitting, returned to the Cleveland lineup yesterday and staged a one-man batting show that carried the Indians to a 6-5 victory over the New York Yankees in the final appearance of the Tribe here this season.

Appearing at the plate five times, Weatherly hit three singles a triple and a home run, the last coming in the fourth inning with a man on base and providing the Indians with their margin of victory.

The defeat sliced the Yankees' lead in the American League pennant race to seven games over the Boston Red Sox, who defeated Chicago.

The Indians did all their damage against starter Ernie Bonham, tagging him for 10 of their 12 hits and all their runs in the four innings he worked. It was the fifth defeat for Bonham, who has won 17 games.

Johnny Lindell stopped the Indians cold in five innings of relief, but the Yanks failed to catch up against Lefty Al Smith, although they knocked him out in the eighth when they scored their final run.

After Cleveland talked once in the first inning on Weatherly's single and a double by Les Fleming, the Yankees bounced back for three runs in their half on a single by Phil Rizzuto and doubles by Buddy Hassett and Charlie Keller.

The victory enabled the Red Sox to gain a full game on the New York Yankees, who are out front by seven games.

All the Boston runs came in the second inning when Pete Fox opened with a single. Walks to Lupien, Conroy, Wagner and DiMaggio forced in two runs, and then Johnny Pesky poked a single for two more.

Chicago got two back in the fourth when Lodigiani singled with one out. # Japan Refuses Medical Ship Safe Passage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Norman Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross, announced yesterday that the Japanese government had refused to grant safe passage to a neutral ship to carry food, clothing and medical supplies to American prisoners of war in Japan.

Further, he asserted, Japan has declined even to furnish the Red Cross with a list of the names and addresses of its prisoners.

Both refusals, Davis charged, are violations of the international treaties covering such situations, relations made the more pointed by the fact that both Germany and Italy have facilitated the shipment of food, clothing and medical supplies to American prisoners in these countries.

are still in full possession of their Chekiang-Kiangsi gains.

(This broadcast said the Japanese spokesman declared the railway line from Chekiang to Kiangsi will be repaired only as long as this is necessary for military purposes.)

The spokesman was quoted as saying the Chinese had lost 35,745 dead and 10,050 prisoners in the Chekiang-Kiangsi fighting.

(The Chinese themselves, however, have warned repeatedly that the Chinese successes in Chekiang and Kiangsi are not due entirely to military prowess, because the Japanese have been mysteriously removing many of the 170,000 troops and strong air force with which they began the drive. In an official review of the three and one-half month campaign in Chekiang and Kiangsi, the Chinese said the Japanese had suffered more than 40,000 casualties and that the situation at present was just as it was before the Japanese started the big push down from Nanchang. # Union Blamed For 'Sit-Down' In Buick Plant

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A strike in the core department of an aluminum foundry operated by General Motors corporation's Buick division was described yesterday by Harlow H. Curcio, Buick general manager, as the culmination of "a definite attempt on the part of the union to restrict production."

Continuation of the work stoppage, Curcio said, would affect output of heavy bomber engines by the Buick and Chevrolet divisions.

John McGill, president of the

UAW-CIO Buick local, said the management of the foundry set "such a high production rate that workers couldn't meet it."

The strike started Friday night with what Curcio termed a "wild-cat sit-down" by a group of night shift workers who refused to permit coremakers on the next shift to go to work.

Curcio said the action was taken after discharge of two 18-year-old workers who had failed over a training period to show themselves qualified as coremakers. McGill said at least five others had been discharged earlier in the week.

Russian Staying Power Undecided—

Year of Decisions Lies Ahead

—2nd Front Threat Big Question

NEW YORK (Wide World)—The war moves into its fourth year with terrific decisions impending, and with the fate of millions hanging in a precarious balance.

The war which Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain thought would last three years and which many nazis thought would be a sparkling blitz enlivening a few autumn weeks in 1939, still was gathering fury on the third anniversary of the German invasion of Poland.

An impression grew in many quarters that the fourth year would bring decisions of the greatest importance, and more particularly that England and America at last would be able to exert their vast strength effectively.

The most urgent questions were: Will Russia be able to hold out another winter, to tie up a good part of the German army in the east?

Will the second front in Europe come into being? Will the Germans be able to declare a pause in the east to open up another battle of Britain in the air this winter?

Will the Commandos so harry the continent that an appreciable portion of the German forces will wear themselves out rushing from spot to spot?

Will the united nations make an all-out effort to smash Germany from the air with those "clouds of airplanes" for which the French Premier Edouard Daladier pleaded vainly in 1940?

Will the American occupation of the Solomon islands grow into an effective offensive against Japan or occupy a sufficient portion of Hirohito's naval strength to prevent a Nipponese attack on Siberia—in effect, providing the second front for which Russia has pleaded?

Of these major questions, speculations concerning the holding qualities of Russia and the turn of allied strategy in western Europe appeared to be the most pressing.

To the world they were questions of a vital interest, and to Adolf Hitler a matter of life-and-death urgency. The very heart of the axis pattern of war has been to avoid two fronts, to take on one major job at a time. But a new front in some other part of the continent, would mean two fronts for Hitler—unless Russia is eliminated as a fighting factor soon.

Stabilize Winter Line There were suggestions in reports from axis quarters—admittedly untrustworthy—that the German plan of the moment is to stabilize a winter line along the Volga river, and then turn to the west to meet whatever blows England and America may strike from that direction.

But even if the axis did reach the Volga on a broad front, there would remain the question of whether the Russians would permit a stabilization of the line, and whether they could somehow find the energies to duplicate last winter's offensive operations.

If Russia does find such strength the task of the allies in the west would be simplified. So Russia at the beginning of the fourth year of the war remained an element of utmost importance, still retaining the power to contribute measurably to the doom of Hitler even should the Germans reach the Volga and penetrate deeply into the Caucasus.

In the west, the Commando raids, persistent air attacks and the resistance from populations of occupied countries have diverted much axis strength, and the ever present threat of a second front operation is a major worry for the German high command.

Kept Guessing The Germans were being kept guessing to where a second front operation might start—Norway, the Netherlands, France, or even Italy after a campaign in Africa. The Commando raid on Dieppe complicated the guessing game.

Some elements of the high command had been maintaining that strong coastal defenses alone would make France impregnable from the west, and that consequently the second front should start at a more remote spot. But the Commandos demonstrated that if the allies are resigned to accepting losses, a landing can be made and a foothold held on a strongly defended coast. Moreover the incidental demonstration that the allies now are willing to accept losses—a matter which Berlin had doubted—has given the high command something else to worry about.

Thus, a second front might be opened up the hard way. That

Ground crew members rush with fire-fighting equipment to a blazing Flying Fortress, above, on an American airfield in New Guinea to prevent the flames from exploding the full load of bombs. ### OPA Officials Warn Merchants of Severe Penalties for Violations of Price Ceilings

DES MOINES (AP)—A warning that the Iowa office of price administration will institute severe action against violators of price ceiling regulations was issued today by Donald D. Holdoegel, chief counsel for the Iowa OPA.

Holdoegel declared that actions to revoke the licenses of a number of retailers and wholesalers in the state who have been willful violators are contemplated.

Under governmental wartime price regulations, all retail and wholesale business operate under a government license which the OPA is empowered to revoke for violations, Holdoegel declared. The licenses exist, he said, even though certificates have not been issued by the government.

Holdoegel declared that the OPA has withheld prosecutions against violators up to now because of a desire not to deal harshly in the enforcement of regulations which are comparatively new to the public.

"But we are moving now from the field of education to the field of enforcement," he said. "And we mean business."

Holdoegel declared that a large number of business firms in Iowa are violating the price ceiling regulations and that many of them are in danger of being prosecuted.

He indicated that individuals and concerns which are selling used tires for amounts in excess of the ceiling prices are being watched with particular care.

In revoking the license of a retailer or wholesaler the OPA office in Washington, D.C., provides for an administrative hearing and names an administrator to conduct the hearing. In Iowa cases Holdoegel would serve as the prosecuting attorney and the defendant would be permitted to be represented by counsel.

INTERPRETING—

about 75 miles away and several other bases also were built at the time.

Now the Burma road has been cut and China is all but isolated except by air. The vanguard of the expected force of American bombers is in action under Brigadier General Claire L. Chennault, along with fighter planes, but it is sadly hampered.

Gasoline, bombs, spare parts, all must be brought in by air. So much fuel must be carried by transport planes for their long round trip flights over some of the world's loftiest mountain ranges that little space remains for cargo. Like mule pack trains which must carry big loads of feed for the animals, planes of the aerial Burma road tend in military slang to eat themselves up.

A four-motor heavy bomber, it is estimated, burns nearly a gallon of fuel a minute at cruising speed. Aside from this difficulty, there is the uncertainty whether the fields can be held and made secure enough from further Japanese advances to serve as springboards for attack.

The Japanese have ample cause, nevertheless, for their fear that sooner or later there will be visits from China of a more formidable nature than Brigadier General James Doolittle's surprise call of last April.

The Japanese like the nazis appreciate both the importance and stubbornness of geography. Targets closer than Tokyo are even closer to the Chinese fields. The Japanese Ruhr, the heavy industry area of northern Kyushu, is only 800 miles distant, and Osaka and its war factories but 1,000 miles.

And the Pacific war already has seen the conquest of problems as knotty as sending bombers to China and keeping them flying.
