Repulse Stalingrad Attack

Battle Pictures Show Sinking of Carrier Yorktown Near Midway

These dramatic pictures show the attack upon and the sinking of the United States aircraft carrier Yorktown, which was lost off Midway, during the heavy fighting there June 7. The navy withheld announcement on the Yorktown's loss until now in the belief the enemy did not know he had actually sunk the ship. At left the Yorktown may be seen as she withstood a heavy air attack by bombers and torpedo planes on June 4. Center photo shows the carrier listing after being torpedoed by an enemy submarine on June 7. At right may be seen some of the ship's crew and flight personnel walking with difficulty on the sloping flight deck of the doomed carrier shortly before she sank.

F.R. Moves to Block Attempt to Increase Farm Parity Formula

Warns Action Would Destroy Possibility Of Stabilizing Living

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Roosevelt and two of his high-ranking aides swung into action yesterday to block a movement in congress to boost the farm parity formula — a movement which the president warned would destroy all possibility of stabilizing the cost of living.

The chief executive made known his "unalterable opposition" in a letter to the chairmen of senate and house banking committees, which are at work on price and wage control legislation in response to his demand for action by Oct. 1 against inflation.

Soon afterward Secretary of Agriculture Wickard and Price Administrator Leon Henderson also expressed opposition to the new parity formula. This formula, which would include farm labor costs in the parity index for the first time and thus raise the index, is embodied in legislation offered by Rep. Steagall (D-Ala), prominent in the farm bloc.

At a press conference, Wickard said it "would tend to increase the cost of living and raise to some extent the whole price level of the country."

Henderson sent the house banking committee a letter which, as outlined by committee members, criticized the Steagall proposal sharply. It said the result would be a substantial rise in the cost of food and clothing, and hence general increases of both wages and prices.

Though there were reports that some members of the farm bloc might still urge enactment of the new parity formula, many other congress members doubted that it could go through in view of President Roosevelt's opposition.

In addition to holding veto power over legislation, he has said that if congress does not pass an adequate anti-inflation bill by Oct. 1, he himself would act.

The senate banking committee gave its attention to other aspects of the control bill yesterday. Senator Brown (D-Mich) said the committee tentatively decided to place a floor under farm prices by authorizing government loans of 90 per cent of parity, as compared with 85 per cent loans now authorized.

It also tentatively agreed, Brown said, to write into the wage section of the bill the "little steel wage stabilization" formula laid down by the war labor board. This provided, in general, that wage increases of up to 15 per cent over the Jan. 1, 1941 level would be permitted to compensate for rising living costs.

Fuel Stores, Barges Destroyed In Fighter Plane Raid on Buna

By MURLIN SPENCER

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQARTERS, Australia, Friday (AP)—Allied planes pumped 35,000 rounds of cannon and machinegun fire into the Japanese invasion base of Buna in New Guinea to destroy or damage at least 15 barges and start fuel dump fires visible for 25 miles, a communique said today.

The destructive fighter plane attack on Buna, which feeds the overland drive toward Port Moresby, occurred while allied ground troops were locked in "sporadic fighting" with Japanese jungle troops at Ioribaiwa, only 32 air line miles from Port Moresby.

Allied planes also made attacks on Japanese bases in New Britain, northwest of the Solomons where U.S. marines apparently still were holding their own despite heavy Japanese pressure.

In a night attack on the big New Britain base of Rabaul "our heavy bombers raided enemy installations and the wharf area," the communique said. "Bombs were dropped on building dispersal areas, causing explosions and starting several fires visible for 30 miles and destroying grounded aircraft.

One bomber unit also attacked Gasmata on the southern New Britain coast, but with "unknown results."

The heavy aerial stab at Buna had the twin objectives of relieving enemy pressure on the allied troops defending the approaches to Port Moresby, and at the same time dry up the Japanese source of supplies.

The communique said "A single enemy plane carried out an ineffective hit and run raid under cover of darkness" on Port Moresby.

Under their new air commander, Maj. Gen. George C. Kennedy, allied airmen were trying to carry out his dictum of "burn up those Jap planes on the ground as fast as he can put them there."

They Killed Japs Without Permission

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, (AP)—Four Australian soldiers in New Guinea have been court-martialled on a charge of firing at the King's enemies without permission.

When their battalion went into action, the men, all ocoks, were left behind in Port Moresby. Without leave, they joined the troops and fought the Japanese.

The court martial's verdict: "Well done. Do it again."

U.S. Submarines Sink 4 More Jap Vessels

Toll of Enemy Ships Sunk by American Subs Stands at 107

WASHINGTON,—(AP) America's undersea campaign against Japan's vital western Pacific supply lines has resulted in the destruction of four more enemy ships, the navy announced yesterday, and four other vessels have been damaged in recent operations.

A communique said that submarines had reported two large freighters, one medium sized and one small patrol boat sunk. Damaged were a large tanker, which was left afire, a large freighter, a large transport, and a medium sized cargo ship.

Sub Toll 107

The operations in which these successful attacks were made, raising to 107 the toll of Jap ships thus far announced by the navy here, apparently covered a period of several weeks and were not related to the continuing campaigns in the Solomon or Aleutian islands.

As the submarine communique was announced, there was no new word on conditions in either of those two areas to add to last night's report that heavy aerial blows had been dealt the enemy in the Aleutians and that marines were still holding their Solomon positions after strong enemy efforts to dislodge them.

No Details

The last previous report on submarine activities was issued September 3, but there was nothing to show whether the successes disclosed yesterday had been accomplished since that time or dated back even further.

Ever since the early stages of the Pacific war, submarines have been hammering away at enemy ships supplying Japan's mandated island bases and her garrisons in the Philippines, Malaya and the Indies as well as her camps in the Aleutians. Of the total announced bag of 107 vessels, 32 have been naval craft of various types.

CITIZENS' DEFENSE CORPS

7 p. m.—The auxiliary firemen will meet at the fire department.

All citizens' defense corps members are reminded to have their fingerprints recorded at the Iowa City police station as soon as possible.

Corps members are also asked to fill out enrollment cards when they attend meetings so that they can be officially accredited with work done.

Continual Fighting In

Air Battle Of Egypt

By DANIEL DE LUCE

WITH THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN THE WESTERN DESERT, (AP)—Above Stuka Alley, where you rubber-neck in a steel hat, the RAF and the axis fought it out again today for mastery of the Egyptian front.

You're on El Ruweisat, the ridge paid for in blood, between the turquoise surf of the Mediterranean and the hot, bleak wastes of the Qatara depression. You crouch inside a small circular wall of rocks piled up by the Italian infantry not long ago.

No-Man's Land

You stare across no-man's land at Marshal Rommel's outposts and count his armor rumbling to new havens from the dusty north-south track and try to keep tab on the whirling dogfights in the bleached blue sky.

Weary and licking their wounds after their assault on British warships at Tobruk early in the week, the nazi Stukas have temporarily deserted the battlegrounds bearing their nickname. But the skies are over-run with Messerschmitts, Hurricanes, Spitfires—one confusion of blazing fights high over sands littered during three months with the blackened wrecks of tanks and aircraft while changing hands a half-dozen times.

Armored Convoy

An armored convoy of more than 100 vehicles has scuttled into a wide dispersal as "Hurricanes" lay explosives with uncanny precion and fight off Messerschmitts at the same time.

Spitfires swooping down from the top cover make the nazi pilots in turn very unhappy.

Out of range of the British 25-pound batteries, the enemy convoy might have gone through unscathed had not the RAF's flying artillery sprung into action.

RAF Usually Wins

Six planes were seen falling behind the axis lines and there was no way of telling their identity immediately. But the RAF usually outscores the nazis even on a tough offensive assignment like this.

A lean and amiable Lieutenant, who is an English lord with a face tanned like leather by the African sun, said the RAF is consistently dominant.

"Our chaps at the frount would not trade places with Jerry," he said.

"We've got more planes and more guns," the lord said. "When the time comes to knock him out of Egypt he'll find we've also got more tanks."

The lord swats stubborn desert flies and takes a bearing on flashes of German artillery opening up in reprisal for the aerial strafing.

He asks to be remembered to "my friends in Pasadena, Cal.

Enemy Bomb-Laden Balloons Reported Seen Over Hungary

Radio Warning Comes In Midst of Sudden Russo-Bulgar Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Mysterious balloons laden with explosives were reported over Hungary last night while the Sofia radio shouted an air raid warning and suddenly went off the air in the midst of a sudden crisis between Bulgaria and Russia over a consulate raid by Bulgarian police.

The Budapest radio officially warned Hungarians of a large number of enemy balloons floating over their country but no other word was given to explain their origin or whether they were causing damage.

Almost in the same hour the Sofia announcer broke off in the middle of sentence to shout:

"Air raid warning. Bulgarians keep calm."

Then his station immediately shut down.

Bulgaria has had air raid warnings in recent days but no raids. The little Balkan country never has declared war against its old friend Russia, but is definitely aligned with the axis as a partner.

Report Raid

The Moscow radio reported that Bulgarian police raided the Soviet consulate in the Black sea port of Varna last Tuesday. The announcement said a number of outrages were committed, including the robbery of consulate funds.

The Soviet minister in Sofia has protested vigorously to the Bulgarian government.

The Berlin radio, however, reported that the Soviet consulate at Varna had been ordered closed by the Bulgarian government.

Meanwhile, the British air ministry news service reported that Wednesday night's heavy raid on the Ruhr by the RAF brought the tonnage of bombs dropped on Germany so far this month to nearly 5,000. The British lost 39 planes but shot down two.

Continuing the air attacks yesterday coastal command planes hit two axis ships with torpedoes off the Norwegian coast.

Heaviest Defenses

One officer commanding a flight of Halifax bombers, who was over the Ruhr about 20 minutes on reconnaissance, said that during that

G. M. Employes Get 4 Cent Wage Increase

WASHINGTON, — (AP) — The war labor board yesterday voted to allow a wage increase of four cents an hour for employes of General Motors corporation.

A panel of three had recommended a 5 cent increase and the unions had asked 12½ cents.

The panel majority had recommended that the clause be made retroactive to January 1, 1942.

The decision affects more than 225,000 employes in 95 plants, represented by the CIO united auto workers and the CIO united electrical, radio and machine workers.

Report Only One-Third Voters Use Privilege

Tabulation of 1942 Primary Balloting Shows Present Lag

WASHINGTON (AP)—An unofficial tabulation of 1942 primary voting in 35 states revealed yesterday that scarcely more than a third of those registered and eligible actually exercised the privilege of casting their ballots.

The total of those who voted was 14,937,426. The total of those who might have voted was 42,191,779 The percentage of those who did was 35 per cent.

Officials here who watch elections closely said several factors were responsible. Voting always lags in a year in which there is no presidential contest. The World war demonstrated that in a war time the voters are apathetic. The absence of acute issues in many states contributed.

In addition millions of voters are away from home—in the army or navy. There has been much migration of defense workers from state to state, and undoubtedly many of these have not been in their new homes long enough to be eligible to vote.

Long hours of work in the war factories, too, tend to keep voters away from the polls.

Despite these apparent reasons for the light vote, some were of the opinion that it was unduly apathetic, and held that the voters should, in the interest of the country, maintain a more intense interest in who represents them in congress.

A single, small plane possibly launched from a submarine, believed to be Japanese, apparently dropped an incendiary bomb near Brookings, Ore., causing a fire in a forest. Picture shows non-metallic cube, which possibly was the wick of the bomb containing inflammable material. Wherever a cube struck after explosion a fire started and burned the ground into lava-like slag as pictured. Note size of cube and slag fragments compared with a book of matches.

Russians Halt Initial German Break-Through

Hundreds of Enemy Shock Troops Slain In Street Fighting

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Friday (AP)—Bayonet-wielding Russian troops wiped out hundreds of German shock troops who smashed into Stalingrad's streets yesterday, and the main conflict still rates on the northwestern outskirts of the city where thousands of nazis have fallen, the Soviets announced early today.

Both Russians and Germans were fighting in cellars and on housetops on the fringes of the city, press dispatches said.

The repulse of the nazi break into the city itself was related thus by the communique:

"During the night single detachments of Hitlerites were able to penetrate into some of the streets.

"Street fighting resulted which developed into hand-to-hand encounters. Toward the end of the day all detachments which had penetrated our positions were repulsed.

"The Germans left behind hundreds of dead and damaged trucks and tanks."

Continuing the story of the epic struggle for Stalingrad, the communique said:

"Within two days one of our units destroyed 54 German tanks, 21 guns, and 12 motor vehicles. They wiped out about 1,500 enemy officers and men.

"On another sector our guardsmen routed a battalion of enemy infantry and destroyed eight tanks, two mortar batteries and 15 motor vehicles."

Caucasus Victory

In the Mizdok area of the mid-Caucasus the Russians said one unit drove the Germans from an inhabited point, destroying eight German tanks and killing about 300 Germans.

Southeast of Novorossisk along the Black sea coast marine units were said to have repulsed several enemy attacks and mopped up about a battalion of enemy infantry.

A Russian bomber formation also attacked a German-occupied Black sea port, presumably Novorissisk, and sank two enemy mine sweepers and three torpedo boats and blew up an ammunition dump, the communique said.

At Voronezh on the upper Don the Russians, taking the offensive, dislodged the Germans from one populated place, wiping out three enemy battalions and capturing a quantity of war equipment, the Soviets said.

Another enemy regiment was wiped out in another undisclosed sector in two days of hard fighting.

Restore Position

The Russians said they temporarily lost ground on one sector of the front west of Moscow during a German attack yesterday, but restored their positions in violent counter-attacks which destroyed 22 German tanks and killed 1,200 Germans.

(The German high command said merely: "The battle for the fortified city of Stalingrad is progressing without interruption.")

The red army and Stalingrad's citizen soldiers were fighting now for the very existence of the city. They reported they were facing "several tens of divisions," ever reinforced.

Soviet infantry, artillery and tanks were putting up a magnificent struggle against these ground forces, but it was the terrifying German air superiority which took the nazis into the city's residential sections.

Battle accounts did not explain how the Germans were able to attain such massive air superiority, other than to point out that aircraft have been rushed from areas as distant as Egypt and the Netherlands.

On the Volkhov river front east of Leningrad a big battle was raging, involving a heavy German counter-assault. In one place, 5,000 nazis were reported killed.

The Price Stabilization 'Secret'---

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

● Public Oblivious to Fact That All Proposals Would Raise Prices—

WASHINGTON — The sham battle of farm price stabilization waxes warmer, wholly concealed from public view by a mass of such impenetrable phrases as "farm-wage parity," "and/or the highest prices since January 1," "100 per cent parity loans," and such.

The president's speech sounded to all, save those few who can read the double and triple meanings of these terms, as if he wanted to freeze farm prices where they are now.

The farm bloc first rose in righteous anger, as if he were proposing to do something even more drastic to the prices. They acted as if he wanted to cut them down.

The Steagall bloc in the house is now currently on a rampage against the senate bill, pretending it would cut the farmer from what he should have.

* * *

The whole controversy is being conducted in such a way to keep the public oblivious of the fact that all their proposals—the president's, the senate's, and Steagall's — would actually increase current farm prices.

* * *

You never find that out until you cut your way through the fancy verbiage of the controversy, and ascertain the precise effect this proposed "stabilization" would have on each basic commodity price now.

* * *

The official authority, the bureau of economics in the agriculture department, will tell you, upon inquiry, that cotton was 96 per cent of parity August 15, the date last computed. Tobacco sold at prices then ranging from 121 per cent of parity for flue cured, to 135 percentage for Maryland, and 166 per cent for Georgia and Florida.

* * *

Wheat then was 71 per cent of parity, corn 85 per cent, and rice around 125 per cent. Hogs were 128 per cent, beef 137 per cent, veal 126 per cent, lamb 135 per cent, sheep 82 per cent — your butcher bill.

The average of all farm products August 15 was about 107 per cent of parity.

* * *

Now the proposal of Mr. Rooseevlt, the senate, and Mr. Steagall, all are designed primarily, they say, to establish "parity." But you can readily see from the above list that practically everything except cotton, wheat, corn and sheep already is above the goal that they profess primarily to seek.

* * *

Their proposals would have the effect, therefore, of moving cotton. wheat, corn and sheep up to parity,—increasing these current prices as much as 18 per cent above August 15 levels in the case of sheep.

As wheat, corn and cotton are the largest crops of the nation, the pending legislation is not primarily a price stabilization for them, but a price increase bill.

But, you may ask, does the legislation then mean a reduction in the other farm prices that are away above parity now. Oh, no. No prices will be cut. There is a second provision in all the proposals (one of those "and/or's") which says the president must fix for the other commodities — not the parity price, not even the current price, but the highest price that has prevailed since last January 1.

All grains were at their highest point last March, when they were at 122 per cent of parity. Cotton and cottonseed were at 159 per cent in May, so any of the proposals now pending would cause the maximum price to be fixed at these former highest levels of the year.

* * *

As a whole, the basic agreed terms of the legislation would increase farm prices from 107 per cent, August 15, up to about 116 per cent. In other words, a 9 per cent further increase in farm prices will actually be the effect of this legislation, which they are all calling a price stabilization bill.

* * *

So while the battle wages thickly and the words stretch high and long, the legislation actually seems to offer more comfort to the farmer than the housewife, or to the husband who pays the grocery bills. Somehow no one seems ever to mention that.

Bauernschauheit System—

When the Barbarian invasion overran Britain in prehistoric days, settled tribes fell easy prey to the less numerous but more specialized invaders.

* * *

When the nazis began the conquest of Europe, democratic nations, seemingly secure in their own national life, thought they could buy off danger with a policy of appeasement. But they did not calculate at its full value the advantage of the aggressor's position over that of the peaceful, settled state.

* * *

They chose instead to follow a course which the Germans aptly named Bauernschauheit —they did what appeared wise at the moment but failed to take into account the demands of the future. Just as in the history of the European tribes, the nations with families, homes, property, and a settled way of life to protect, found themselves at a disadvantage to the mobile aggressor armed for complete war, and directing his energies toward destruction.

* * *

Though settled nations seem frequently asleep at first, the inertia need last only so long as we allow it. Some of the earlier established tribes in Britain fell to the new foe; some of the first nations to be attacked in the present conflict did not recover in time to strike back with the necessary force. But the United States and its allies should have no such excuse as too little time, inferior size or too few men.

* * *

The only difficulty facing us today is the problem of shaking ourselves from our "business as usual" attitude. The time for continuing in brave and shining ignorance of the nazi menace is past; the time for total awakening has arrived. Not only national unity is needed, but national awareness as a prerequisite of that unity. We need to shake ourselves from the complacency of the Saturday afternoon golf game and the blind faith in victory through virtue. The lesson is already written in history—if we read it. The decision lies with the people of America. We have the alternative of falling victim to the invaders, as did successive tribes in the early days of Britain, or we can put false security behind us and wake up to the war.

Potential Powers of India—

With the end of the rainy season near and the promised step-up of Japanese operations on the continental portion of the Far East, India is expected to reoccupy a leading place among the war headlines of the world. But even more important to the world than the coming battle for the crossroads of the East is the probable rise of the new free state of India, a state, so fraught with possibilities that few minds of the world can comprehend her future power.

* * *

Although Mohandas Gandhi is languishing in a British prison and the violent street fighting of a wew weeks ago is now sporadic at best, the seething flame of a great revolution for independence needs only a breath to fan it into a rebellion more deadly even than the Japanese war machine which is gathering force at India's eastern border.

* * *

Perhaps conditions will remain static until after the present conflict, thus sparing the united nations from one of the worst defeats that could befall them. Even so, the power of the world will have shifted eastward and the India charter of independence will presage the rise and development of a new, mighty industrial nation whose word may sway the councils of the world.

* * *

The British lion, its claws worn thin from 500 years of conflict and two terrible encounters with Germany, her great trading empire threatened by a new era of international competition, must surely lose her pre-eminent place among the powers of the world. Europe, trying to rebuild itself, will have little desire to meddle in the affairs of the Far East and India. Aided by American capital which will surely be invested, India will organize itself in a nation.

* * *

Here, too, the social world will face the greatest re-organization since the merchant became the equal of the feudal lord. The Yellow and the Brown man will enter into a new social enterprise, destined to form a new Eurasian equality.

* * *

Just as the Japanese, revivified by western contact, have assumed terrifying power, India will take on new strength —not the strength of the war lord but the greater and more lasting strength of a peaceful industrial nation. The affect of this rise will be even more important to the world than the Magna Carta was to the freedom of the individual.

* * *

Trade centers of the western hemisphere will shift from the Atlantic seaboard to the Pacific and America's industrial system will be modified to meet the new competition. Many industries will be forced to close down and new ones will be born to take their place. The American merchant marine, even fleets of air transports, will face the greatest expansion since the advent of the clipper ship.

The change is coming. America must be ready to take its place in this new "New Order."

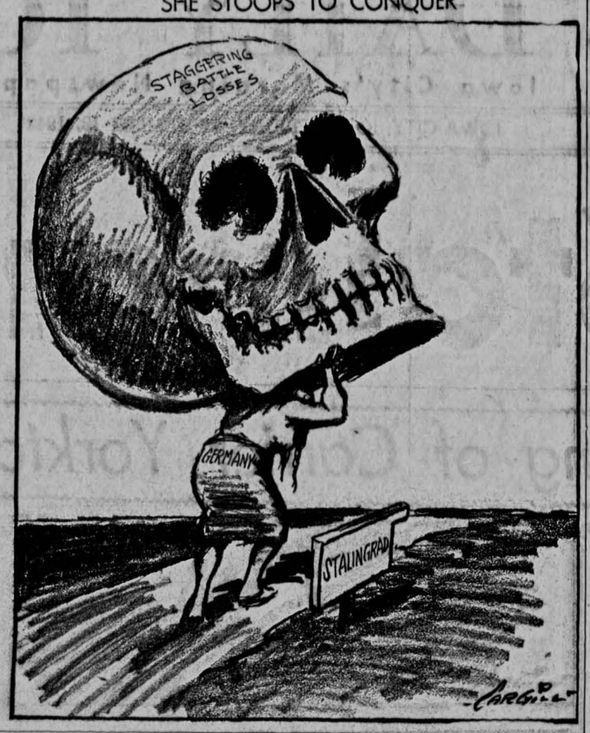
"SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER"



A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

● Notes on Playwrights, Actors and Theater—

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—You've got to hand it to John Mason Brown, World-Telly drama critic. . . . He writes books and he is a noted lecturer. But he recently turned down an offer to become critic for a rival newspaper, and he abandoned a summer of lucrative lecturing — to join the U. S. navy. He goes in in just a few days. . . . And he really didn't have to go.

Max Anderson's new play, "The Eve of St. Mark," is the first play of the year about America's actual participation in the war. . . . Its action takes an American boy through an American army camp (Camp Bragg) and then sends him to the Philippines. . . . Incidentally, Max's young son was inducted as a private in the army just the other day.

You have heard much in the past of that farm at Genesee Depot, Wis., owned by the Lunts, but never until now has that 103 acres been put to unusual use. It was Alexander Woollcott on one of his visits to the Lunts who said he thought a real contribution to the war might be made if those acres were made to produce something, and Lunt, at considerable initial expense for tractors, etc., went right to work. They say now Woollcott was right, and the farm is really producing.

As for the Lunts themselves, it will only be a short while now before they are appearing in "The Pirate," which is sure to be a noisy package of cheer and good acting. But before Broadway gets "The Pirate" it will have its world premiere at Madison, Wis. Lunt's warm feeling for the university and the people of Madison accounts for this western trek. Once before he premiered one of his shows there, and he always plays Madison on his tours.

* * *

A note on Lunt and Fontanne at rehearsals: They have a rule that by the end of the second week of rehearsals they always put away their scripts and go on from there on their own. They feel a fortnight is long enough to master any role. However, some of Lunt's scenes are being rewritten, and Lunt is as nervous as a cat. He is always nervous until the script is hurled into an empty corner.

THE BOOK PARADE

"THE PRINCIPLES OF POWER." by Guglielmo Ferrero (Putnam; $3.50).

Out of Geneva comes a book which may help rebuild the world. Guglielmo Ferrero's "The Principles of Power" could not be published anywhere on the continent because of censorship—not even in Switzerland. Touchingly, the author commends it to the Western World, hoping at the same time that it will drift back to Europe at least in essence, and there have some part in reconstructing a liveable world when the time comes for reconstruction.

The thesis of "The Principles of Power" is, as Professor Ferrero writes, very simple. He states it so:

"The cause of the frightful disorder to which Europe has succumbed is not the disturbance of international relations among the various states of which it is composed. That disturbance is itself the result of something far more profound—the internal crises that completely upset nearly all the Old World states. The war now devastating the world is the result of the revolutions that, since 1917, have convulsed practically the whole of the European continent. Therein lies the chief significance of the questions that this book attempts to answer: What do all these revolutions mean? Where did they come from? Where are they heading?

Peace can only be maintained in Europe through legitimate governments, and by the term Professor Ferrero does not mean monarchies, but any government which is actively or passively, but sincerely, recognized by the people who must obey it. Fear of government by the governed produces fear of the governed by the government, and the two build a crescendo of chaos.

Katharine Cornell after the late beloved Ray Henderson fell to his death in the Aegean sea, will find him in the navy, doing recruiting work in New Orleans.

I saw Madge Evans with her husband, Sgt. Sidney Kingsley at a benefit the other night, and she was prettier than ever I saw her on the screen. Kingsley, who wrote "Men in White," and "Dead End," has found time between his army activities to complete a new play based on the life of Thomas Jefferson. This is soon to be produced in cooperation with the Playwrights company.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

● On Touring a City Built Overnight—

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Glamour factory at war:

The big bus pulls up at a street crossing in a "city" that wasn't there a few quick months ago. It's like a boom town, swarming with population—but not roaring. Around this intersection are grouped, in grey buildings, various shops and stores, soft drink parlors, recreation rooms, a chapel. One of the many signs posted around announces the preview showing of "Wake Island." Free, the sign says.

There's a crowd on hand as the bus pulls in. Uniforms. Field greens mostly. Summer service khakis. An occasional dressy "blue." And seeming oddly out of place, one or two bluejackets. Out of place because this is the U.S. Marine Corps' Camp Elliott, at San Diego.

* * *

It's the faces, more than the uniforms, that are impressive. Tanned, clear-eyed healthy, they're a tribute to stiff marine training. The boys look on, some curiously, some grinning, some peering eagerly for any movie stars that might be along. . . . You get a definite impression that when you tell it to the marines the situation will be well in hand.

Transfer to a marine bus and go to the new amphitheater. Through the windows, all around, you see acre after acre of grey dormitories, marines at ease in the doorways and streets. It's that time of day. . . . The tiers of wooden benches on the hillsides command a view of other greasewood-carved hills beyond the big stage. The boys already are filling up the theater, coming a-running from all directions. On the stage there's a piano and a couple of mikes. . . . Out runs a bouncing gent, the M.C. . . . That's George Riley. . . . His patter is quick, lively, and he gets 'em. . . . Martha O'Driscoll and Lucia Car-

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

(Second of Two Stories)

WASHINGTON—The air raid drills are getting a little monotonous in many cities. Almost any honest civilian defense official will tell you that that is one of the commmonest complaints he hears.

But from now on, it's a complaint that will be heard much less often in many sections. The civil air patrol is providing the "kicker" that takes all the dullness out of them.

Already in Worcester, Mass., and Birmingham, Ala., the CAP has given the bomb-duckers, the air raid warden, the auxiliary firemen and police, the first aid station workers and the ambulance drivers something to think about.

* * *

Details of the "bombing" of Worcester and Birmingham now are being spread on the record here by Maj. Earle L. Johnson, national commander of the CAP, and under his direction plans are being perfected for giving other strategic cities a taste of what they might expect if the enemy got tough with long range bombers.

In Birmingham, 50 CAP planes of the Alabama Wing, loaded with bags of sawdust bombs (the CAP used two-pound sacks of flour in the first experiments but after they had konked a few civilians on the noggin, they switched to sawdust) descended on the city from all directions.

No Flying Fortress raid on Germany or Japan could have been more thoroughly worked out. Each pilot, working from grilled maps, had his objective and the red sacks (for incendiaries) and the yellow sacks (for demolition bombs) that rained on Birmingham left no doubt in the minds of public and civilian defense workers alike that it could happen here.

* * *

War plants were wrecked. The homes of workers were blasted in a sawdust shower. One big apartment building was blown half away and rescue crews evacuated the "dead" and "wounded." Ambulances rushed the latter to the first aid stations and hospitals.

Fire fighting crews battled the "incendiaries."

And according to reports, Birmingham and Worcester got a taste of what it might be like.

It's one thing—in a blackout—to turn out the lights and go to bed and forget about it. It's quite another to see a yellow bag hurtling into your front yard and realize that if that were a bomb it would mean an end of life for you and yours. It's something else, too, to have a red "incendiary" thud on your roof and realize that if it were real, only your own training and the speedy action of the fire fighters in your neighborhood could save your home from the ash heap.

These simulated bombings of strategic cities in the coastal and border areas are just a little sideline the civil air patrol has worked up in its none to spare time. Officials here think now that they may prove a more valuable stimulus to air raid defense than anything that has been devised.

Prof. E. W. Hall Opens Baconian Lecture Series Thursday

12 Speakers On Schedule

Lectures to Provide Current Information On Scientific Research

Prof. Everett W. Hall, head of the philosophy department, will open the 1942-43 Baconian lecture series next Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Senate Chamber, Old Capitol, speaking on "Is There An Objective Ethical Standard?"

The Baconian lectures originated 50 years ago when a select group of faculty members decided to meet occasionally for a discussion of scientific progress. They called themselves the Baconian society and continued their meetings until fairly recent times. Several years ago the graduate college adopted the society and incorporated the lectures into the regular university calendar of campus activities.

Progress in Research

The purpose of the series is to provide authoritative lectures on recent developments in various areas of research. In this way, it is hoped that students and faculty members may have an opportunity to learn of research progress from distinguished scholars in a number of important fields of learning.

Twelve lectures are scheduled for the 1942-43 series, Prof. Howard Bowen of the college of commerce, chairman of the Baconian lectures committee, announced yesterday. This year's schedule is as follows:

Speakers Listed

Sept. 24, Prof. Everett W. Hall, head of the philosophy department, "Is There an Objective Ethical Standard?"; Oct. 8, Prof. Gordon Marsh of the zoology department, "The Generation of Living Electricity"; Oct. 22, Prof. Kirk H. Porter, head of the political science department, "Contemporary Research in International Law"; Nov. 12, Prof. Kenneth Spence, head of the psychology department, "Scientific Theory in Psychology."

Dec. 3, Prof. Edward C. Mabie, head of the speech and dramatic art department, "The Community Theater"; Dec. 10, Prof. Walter F. Loehwing, head of the botany department, "Contemporary Developments in Plant Science Research"; Jan. 14, Prof. Troyer Anderson of the history department, "The Nineteenth Century Revolution"; Jan. 28, Prof. Arnold Small of the music department, "Science as a Technique in Music."

Prof. S. H. Bush

Feb. 4, Prof. Stephen H. Bush, head of the romance languages department, "Is Tolstoy's 'War and Peace' an Authentic Picture?"; March 4, Prof. Charles H. McCloy of the physical education department, "The Nature of Motor Intelligence"; March 18, Prof. Walter L. Daykin of the college of commerce, "Labor in War Time"; April 1, Prof. Ernest Horn of the college of education, "Language and Meaning."

Committee for the series includes Professor Bowen, chairman; Prof. George H. Coleman of the chemistry department; Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts; Prof. Nellie S. Aurner of the English department; Prof. Arnold H. Small of the music department; Prof. Clarence E. Van Epps, head of neurology in the college of medicine; Prof. A. K. Miller of the geology department.

All of the lectures will be held at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday evenings in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

48 Grant Wood Works of Art To Be Shown

Chicago Art Institute To Exhibit Collection Pieces of Late Artist

A total of 48 works of the late Grant Wood of the SUI art department faculty will be on display at the Art Institute of Chicago as the main feature of the 53rd annual exhibition of American paintings and sculpture from Oct. 29 through Dec. 10.

Twenty-nine oil paintings, five water colors and fourteen drawings will present the complete range of the famous artist's works. Loans from private collections and museums will include all of Wood's most famous paintings.

Nan Wood Graham of Iowa City, Grant Wood's sister who posed for the woman in "American Gothic", has helped in assembling the exhibition, and Dr. C. Van Epps, professor of neurology in the university, has contributed works from his collection.

Among famous collectors who have loaned paintings for the exhibition are Marshall Field Edward G. Robinson, Cole Porter and George Cukor. David Turner of Cedar Rapids is contributing three early paintings by the artist.

Other Iowa collectors lending their paintings for the exhibition include Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Cowles, Des Moines; Mr. and Mrs. James L. Cooper, Stewart Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Van Vechten Shaffer and Mrs. Robert Cook of Cedar Rapids, the Wodrow Wilson high school at Cedar Rapids and the Cedar Rapids Art association.

Among the famous paintings to be shown are, "Woman with Plants", "American Gothic", "Midnight Ride of Paul Revere", "Parson Weems' Fable", "Dinner for Threshers", "Daughters of the American Revolution" and ohters. Included in the exhibition is a series of early works, several of which have never been shown before.

In commenting on the exhibition of Grant Wood's work, Daniel Catton Rich, director of fine arts at the art institute, said, "American art has suffered a tremendous loss with the death of Grant Wood, whose paintings were representative of one of the main tendencies in the decade of the thirties. It is most fitting that this retrospective exhibit of his work be held at the art institute, a museum he loved, and where he went to school."

22 Victory Programs Broadcast by WSUI

There are now 22 victory programs being broadcast over station WSUI, according to Prof. Carl H. Menzer, director of the station.

Many of the broadcasts are transcribed, originating with the government, but others are staged by university faculty and students. In addition to victory programs, numerous others are in some way related to the subject of the war and its aftermaths.

Among the transcribed victory programs are "Arms for Victory," "Freedom of the Land," "Man Your Battle Stations," "Neighborhood Call," "Treasury Star Parade," "You Can't Do Business with Hitler" and "U.S. Army Recruiting."

Programs staged by university faculty and students include "The Faith of Democracy," "The United States in the 20th Century," "Speaking for Victory," "University Women Unite," "The University Plays its Part" and "Problems of the War and After."

Professor J. Posin To Conduct Course In Russian Language

Intensive Instruction For 15 SUI Students Will Begin Monday

Basic pronunciation problems of the Russian language will be tackled Monday by the 15 students who have been selected for training in the 13-week intensive course in Russian. The course, which is being offered by the university under the auspices of the American council of Learned societies, will be directed by Prof. John A. Posin, who arrived in Iowa City Monday.

Pronunciation of unfamiliar sounds will be stressed early in the course, Professor Posin said. The students will then proceed to the study of grammar, which is extremely important because of the highly inflective nature of the Russian language, according to the director.

Russian Conversation

Much of the training will be practice in actual conversation carried on between the students and an assistant in the course. Mechanical aids to study in the practical phonetics laboratory of the university will also be used, professor Posin said.

The quota of 15 students has now been filled, final selection having been made at Washington. The two intensive courses in Russian which will be offered at the university here beginning in January, 1943, and April, 1943, respectively, will also be limited to 15 students, according to present plans.

Elementary Course

The maximum number of 15 students is also registered for the three-hour elementary course in Russian offered in the regular university curriculum. Students who have registered for this course are expected to be present in room 103, Schaeffer hall at 11 o'clock this morning. Those who do not appear may be replaced in the class by persons whose names are now on the waiting list, Professor Posin said.

Although intensive training in the Russian language is not new in this country, interest in it has been precipitated by the war, according to the director. Professor Posin, who has conducted courses in the language for eight years at Columbia and Cornell universities, came here directly from Cornell university, New York, where an intensive course was completed last week.

Professor Posin has written poetry for New York publications in the Russian language, and has translated into English a play, "In the City," by Yushkevich. He has also written articles for "Slavia," "The Slavonic Year Book," and other publications in the field of Slavic studies, and has collaborated in a "Guide to the Russian Pronunciation," published by the University of California press in 1937.

Eagle Ladies to Initiate

Initiation of five candidates will take place at the meeting of the Eagle Ladies Monday at 8 p.m., in Eagle hall. Following the business meeting, there will be a social hour.

Double Duty

You'll be seeing lots of horizontal tucks and large metal buttons this autumn, illustarted on the sage-green suit above. This suit will be worn all fall and is light-weight enough for wear under fur coats during the winter months. Wear with it a draped turban and long gloves in a contrasting color.

Pi Beta Phi Sorority Announces Election Of Pledge Officers

Pi Beta Phi sorority announces the pledging of May Baker, A3 of La Grange, Ill.

Pledge officers are Mary Balster, A3 of Marion, president; Margaret Kirby, A3 of Sioux Falls, S. D., vice-president; Margaret Stein, A2 of Burlington, treasurer; Shirley Long, A1 of Long Beach, Cal., social chairman, and Jean Houser, A2 of Mason City, song leader.

Members of pledge executive council were also elected. Betty Weaver, A1 of Tulsa, Okla., will be freshman representative, Kathleen McGladrey, A2 of Cedar Rapids, sophomore representative, and May Baker, A3 of La Grange, Ill., will be the junior member.

Central Party Group Chosen

16 New Members Named to Serve On SUI Committee

Sixteen new members of the central student party committee, which is in charge of all university dances, were announced yesterday by Dean Ewen M. MacEwen of the college of medicine, chairman of the committee on social organization and affairs.

Cardinal Lead at 3 Full Games as Dodgers Fade

St. Louis Wins In Ninth Inning

Walker Cooper's Bunt Starts Five Run Rally To Chase Al Javery

BOSTON (AP)—After hanging on by their fingernails for eight innings, St. Louis' stubborn Cardinals seized their first real opportunity with both fists and cut loose a five run rally in the ninth yesterday to pull out a 6-4 win over the Boston Braves and go three games up on their Brooklyn Dodger pennant rivals.

Until that late stage, the Cards appeared ear-marked as Al Javery's 13th victims of the season. Up to then, that able righthander gave them only five hits and started the final frame with what appeared to be a safe 3-1 lead.

When Catcher Walker Cooper launched the Cardinals' victory drive, few of the crowd of 4,347 were impressed. As leadoff batter, he reached first base by poking a feeble bunt down the third base line that took an erratic hop as Javery tried to field it. This apparently shook the confident Javery slightly, for he then passed Johnny Hopp.

When Cooper was forced at third as Whitey Kurowski reached first on a fielders choice, Manager Billy Southworth set out to outsmart Javery. The Cards' pilot sent Ray Sanders to pinch hit for Marty Marion, who had scored the first St. Louis run after tripling in the fifth. Sanders hit the first ball pitched to right for a single to score Hopp and advance Kurowski to third.

footed with a squeeze bunt that pushed Kurowski across with the tying run—and still the panic went on. Ernie White, who beat the Braves Wednesday, went in to run for O'Dea and was forced at second by Jimmy Brown. But Sibby Sisti bobbled Harry Walker's grounder and Dusak came all the way home to put the Cards in front.

Enos Slaughter shot a single into left scoring Brown and giving Javery a one-way ticket to the showers.

Left Will Donovan took over and was greeted by a single by Coaker Triplett, pinch-hitting for Stan Musial. This pushed Walker home with the final run as Triplett was picked off first base.

The Braves came right back in their half of the inning with a single and a walk. Harry Gumbert came in and was tagged with the tying tallies on base and only one out, large Ernie Lombardi was able only to roll into a game-ending double play.

36 Seahawks Leave Today for Kansas

Jayhawk Gridders 1st Of 11-Tilt Schedule For Navy Footballers

A squad of 36 Seahaks will entrain this afternoon for Lawrence, Kan., to face the Jayhawks in the opening of the 1942 gridiron wars tomorrow that will see the Navy Pre-Flight team go through a grueling 11-game schedule, winding up Dec. 12.

* * *

Advance reports indicate that Kansas will put one of its strongest elevens in recent years on the field in an attempt to spring an upset victory over Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman's charges.

* * *

Bierman will probably start the lineup he has been working with through most of the practice sessions. This first team had Al Couppee, Bobby Fisher, Jim Langhurst and Ed Jankowski together as a backfield combination, with Forest Evashevski occassionally filling in at quarterback for Coupee.

In the three weeks Bierman has had to work with the Seahawks, he put on two full-time scrimmages to get a better line on the team's abilities, and reached the conclusion that he had an excellent defensive outfit, but that the offense had many ragged edges to smooth out.

* * *

The intensity of the workouts was stepped up yesterday, and included a hard dummy scrimmage and kickoff drills. The usual limbering up exercises began the day's activities yesterday. The linemen were sent through an intensive workout on details, while the third team concentrated on a signal drill.

* * *

The Seahawks will get a light drill early this afternoon, and leave Iowa City at 5:50 for Kansas. Tomorrow's contest will get underway at 4 o'clock.

U-High Blues to Meet Kalona This Afternoon

A veteran lineup will represent University high in its opening grid game this afternoon at Kalona. Game time is scheduled for 3 o'clock.

Assistant Coach Merlin Westwick named DeWayne Ailey and Bill Cobb to man the ends; Capt. Bud Halverson and Clark Louis, tackles; Earl Carson and Gene Rummels, guards, and Jack Reed, center.

In the backfield will be Bill Helm at quarterback, Don Wagner and Max Seaton at the halfbacks, and Jack Shay at fullback.

The game probably will be a hard fought struggle, with the breaks determining the winner. Kalona will start a letterman in every position, and is slated to have a good season. Shay is expected to do the main share of the Bluehawk running and passing, with Seaton and Wagner helping out on the running attack.

The Blues went through a spirited workout last night and look to be in good shape for the game.

Anderson May Give Position To Ted Lewis

Game Captain Blll Stauss, senior Hawkeye halfback, may not start tomorrow's game, Dr. Eddie Anderson indicated yesterday. In his place—if the Creston athlete's leg isn't in top condition—will be Ted Lewis, 185-pound sophomore halfback from Iowa City. Stauss injured his leg running plays Wednesday, and Anderson is determined not to chance further injury in the Washington game.

* * *

* * *

There were no changes in the lineup that was announced Wednesday, except for the possible insertion of Lewis. Bill Burkett was absent from drills yesterday, while taking a test, but he will start opposite Bill Parker at end. Bruno Niedziela and John Staak will handle the tackles, Del Dickerhoof and Gene Curran will be at the guards, with Lauterbach possibly at center.

Besides the controversial right half position, it will be Jim Youel at quarter, Tommy Farmer at left half and Dick Hoerner at fullback.

Coach Anderson indicated that Jim Keane and Bill Barbour would be his first call reserves at end. Barbour should see action as a placekicker. Both are over six feet and both are sophomores. Veterans Bob Yelton and Al Urban will be first in line for tackle replacements and Bob Penaluna and Ory Davidsmeyer will back up the starting guards.

First line subs in the backfield will be Edsel Schweizer, quarterback; Ben Trickey, left half; Chuck Uknes, fullback, and Duke Curran, who will probably be used as a "spot" runner, right half.

The Washington Bears will work out in the stadium at three o'clock this afternoon and the Hawkeyes will follow them directly in a light warmup session. The Bears have not arranged accommodations here, and probably will stay at Cedar Rapids.

* * *

The St. Louis team will be outweighed on an average of 15 pounds to the man on the basis of starting lineups. The Bears' all-sophomore backfield relies on speed to support its accurate-passing left halfback, Lee Tevis.

* * *

Anderson is taking the game seriously, and having no reports on the Bears, doesn't know how to prepare Hawkeye defenses. It will be the first encounter in 32 years. for the two teams. Although Anderson hopes to show as little as possible—The Hawks meet Nebraska and Great Lakes the following two Saturdays—he may have to go all out to beat the fast Washington team.

Cyclone Varsity Wins

BOONE, (AP)—Iowa State's varsity riddled the reserves' defense for six touchdowns and a 40 to 0 victory in a 45-minute scrimmage under game conditions at the Cyclones football camp yesterday.

Wildcats Scrimmage

City High 11 Meets Dowling Here Tonight

Dave Danner, End, To Be Game Captain For Opening Contest

Primed and ready for action, the City high gridders will try for their first win of the season when they meet Dowling of Des Moines at 8 o'clock tonight on Shrader field. The Little Hawks have three weeks of hard drills behind them, and the potentialities of being a championship team.

* * *

Although they seem to be well aware of their strength, the Hawklets realize the dangers of overconfidence and aren't counting any chickens before they hatch. From all reports Dowling's strength lies in its line with a supposedly weak backfield.

* * *

Coach Herb Cormack sent his boys through a light signal drill yesterday, still putting emphasis on passes. Quarterback Bill Sankster did most of the tossing, but was relieved occasionally by Dave Danner, Bob Roth, Don Lay and Bob Todd. Roth and Sangster tried a series of punts with Roth getting off several long, high spirals. Although Sangster was a little inconsistent last night, he probably will receive a good part of the kicking assignments tonight.

Five men are eligible for the title of game captain this year. Sangster, Danner, Roth, Joe Casey and Dean Yanaush have been chosen, each one being a starter last season. Danner drew Dowling and will pilot his teammates tonight in the season's opener.

* * *

Coach Cormack will put a heavy and fast team on the field this evening but backfield replacements may cause some worry. Casey, hard driving Hawklet back, has looked good in practices this year, and if last season's performance is any indication, "Joltin' Joe" may run right into an all-state berth to round out his high school football career. Casey is not the only man to watch, however, for Danner, Sangster and Roth are veteran ball players.

* * *

Yankees Set Record As Detroit Bows, 7-4

DETROIT, (AP)—The New York Yankees, already crowned American league champions for the sixth time in seven years, smashed one of their own long list of major league winning records yesterday by whipping the Tigers 7 to 4 for their 100th victory of the season.

It was the eighth year in which the Bombers have won 100 or more games, adding another season to the mark they already had in the books.

Boston Bows, 5-1

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Tex Hughson joined the 20-game winner class yesterday as he pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 5 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Browns. Tex has lost only six contests.

Ted Williams hit his 33rd home run for Boston and George McQuinn got his 12th homer in the seventh for the Browns' only run.

Pirates Take Brooklyn, 3-2

Dodgers' Ed Head Retires Before Buc Attack in 2nd Inning

By WHITNEY MARTIN

BROOKLYN (AP)—Just when it seemed opportunity was knocking for the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday, they were out.

Aware that the St. Louis Cardinals were trailing the Braves until the ninth inning, the Bums, visioning a chance to cut the Redbird lead to a single game, apparently tightened up like a kettledrum and stumbled their way to a 3 to 2 defeat at the hands of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Cards came on to win their game eventually, and Dodger fans gazed mournfully at the three-game margin of the St. Louis team and shook their heads hopelessly.

The 34-year-old Truett Sewell was the villain of the play as far as the Dodgers were concerned yesterday. Two or three times he was in more trouble than a draft dodger, but on all but one occasion he eased out of the jams unscathed. Three of the eight hits he allowed came in the fourth inning and accounted for Brooklyn's two runs.

Ed Head was the Dodger starter, and he was the wrong man. The Bucs blasted him for six hits and all their runs in less than two innings, and by the time Max Macon started to southpaw the Pirates into the submission the damage had been done. Macon allowed only two hits in the 7 2/3 innings he worked.

The crowd of 11,658 had a premonition of what was coming when three cheap hits brought the Bucs one run in the first inning.

The Bucs came right back in the second to add two more scores on a single by Al Lopez, Sewell's double, and Pete Coscarart's second single, which drove in both men.

The Dodgers' big fourth inning saw two runs coming in on singles by Mickey Owen and Pee Wee Reese and Dixie Walker's double.

But it was a resigned bunch of Dodgers who played out the ninth inning. Macon, who hadn't got the ball out of the infield, went up to hit for himself and popped to the catcher. Walker sent a looper to the shortstop. Arky Vaughan rolled to the first baseman, and the tired thwarted Brooklynites rolled toward their dressing room, with the really bad news yet to come. They had not yet heard of the Cards' ninth-inning uprising.

City Engineer, Fire Chief Warn Against Starting Leaf Fires

Leaves should not be raked to the street gutters and burned, nor should they be burned in any paved alley, City Engineer Walter J. Buchele warned Iowa Citians yesterday.

The city engineer explained that if leaves are left in the gutters or even if they're burned, they will often clog the catch basin as they are washed down the curb. The city has been asked to conserve on gas and tires and you can help them by obeying this warning, he said.

Fire Chief J. J. Clark stated that fires should not be started within 20 feet of any building nor should the leaves be burned after dark. City fire regulations require that permission to burn leaves should be secured from the fire department. The phone number is 2475.

Ticket Sales Over 80 Per Cent For Victory Premiere Sept. 21

University Committee To Sponsor Parties Aiding Bond Drive

More than 80 per cent of the reserved seats available for Iowa City's "Victory Premiere" showing Monday night in the Englert theater have been sold, officials of the theater announced last night.

The Johnson county war bond committee, working in conjunction with the Iowa City theater committee, said several seats were still available for persons who have failed to redeem their receipts for admission tickets to the premiere showing of "Wake Island."

It was further emphasized that admission to the show is by ticket only and that receipts received at the time of the bond purchase will not be honored.

Although the $25 bond seats in the theater have been sold out since Wednesday, tickets may still be had by purchasing a $50, $100 or a $1,000 bond. There are very few tickets of these denominations left, however, and those desiring to attend the premiere are urged to buy their bonds at once.

Those who have not bought their bonds are reminded by the Johnson county war bond committee that they may purchase them at any Iowa City bank, the post office, or war bond headquarters at 118 E. Washington. Application may be made for a bond at any retail store in Iowa City.

The university bond committee, composed of students and faculty members, met last night and decided to contact every faculty member and every student so that an increase of the sale of war bonds among the university students and faculty might be realized. They also voted to develop a series of theater and dance parties as a means toward promoting bond sales.

A series of Johnson county township meetings are being held tonight for the purpose of discussing ways and means for selling bonds in the rural areas of the county.

Many bond drive enthusiasts from the smaller towns of Johnson county have purchased an unusual amount of tickets for the "Victory Premiere," the Englert theater management announced last night, but there are still several persons who have not been contacted.

The sale of tickets for the "Buy a Bond" dance, which will be held in Iowa Union Monday night, have increased substantially during the past 48 hours, the Johnson county war bond committee announced, but there are still many tickets that are available.

The per couple admission to the dance has been reduced from a $100 bond to a $25 bond so that those desiring to go to the dance and not able to attend the showing of "Wake Island" may do so.

Service to Be Held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. For Mrs. F. J. Palik

Mrs. Tillie Palik, 29 of 327 S. Lucas, wife of First Lieut. Frank J. Palik who is serving with General MacArthur in the south Pacific, died early yesterday morning in Mercy hospital..

She was born June 25, 1913, in Shueyville, daughter of George and Tena Swenka. Later she and her parents moved near Oxford. In 1931 she graduated from Shueyville high school and entered Coe college. She later taught in the rural schools for three years.

Mrs. Palik was secretary of the Iowa City high school after having attended the Irish Business college. In July, 1939, she married Frank Palik Jr. Mrs. Palik was a member of the Presbyterian church.

She is survivied by her husband, one daughter Marilyn Esther, 13 months; her parents at Oxford; her sister, Esther Bernice of Oxford; her brother, George J. Swenka, and her grandmother, Mrs. Antonia Michalek of Cedar Rapids.

Dr. Ilion T. Jones, assisted by the Rev. L. Burian of Ely, will officiate at the service, which will be held at the Presbyterian church Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery. The body will rest at the Oathout funeral home until the time of service.

Grenadiers Receive Trophy at Banquet Given by I.C. Moose

A silver trophy was presented to the Grenadiers, local punior drum and bugle corps sponsored by the Iowa City Moose lodge, by John F. Thorpe, president of the national junior drum and bugle association, at a banquet in the Moose hall last night.

The trophy was won when the Grenadiers took top honors at the national contest in Chicago recently.

Ray Memler's orchestra played for the event.

AERIAL—

(His name was not given in the dispatch.)

The Egyptian front, hardly more than 40 miles from end to end, is unusually static, except for the continual air force clashes, but no soldier expects the lull to last much longer.

You drive out of Cairo over the muddy Nile, past the Cheops pyramid and the snub-nosed Sphinx and in six hours or less you are under the fire of axis guns. It is more than 170 miles by military roads skirting the lush green delta. You see lots of new American equipment.

Along the coast natives in ankle-length gowns and tiny skullcaps cling to their mud homes amid date palms and fig trees, heedless of the war. You meet a jangling carrier returning from El Alamein with a derelict enemy tank.

You leave the coastline on the rough, gritty "Bombary road" and catch glimpses of the melange of races in the eighth army—British imperials of almost every description, including back Basuto tribesmen, bayonet loving Maoris, as well as Poles and French.

After a snack of bully beef and canned beer with the India battalion, you hike over the rugged ground Rommel lost in the summer to a dump of abandoned enemy material—ammunition, uniforms, and even a few love letters scattered in the dust.

You salvage one letter. It's Antoinetta writing to Carissimo Nicola lamenting his sudden departure in May and hoping for the end of the war.

Stopped over, you run across a barren rock quickly and sprawl behind the meager ramparts of an advance post. You're facing the enemy now across no-man's land. Over Stuka alley, almost as if you had given the cue, the sky fight starts.

"Stick around a few more weeks," says the soldier beside you, "and we will split a bottle of Chianti in Bengasi."

"We could feel the explosion of shells just beneath us and sometimes hear them," he said.

One sergeant pilot who is a veteran of three trips over Hamburg and others over Bremen and Oldenburg, said he could see immense fires in the Ruhr as his plane crossed the Dutch coast on the way home.

The pilot brought his bomber home although it was badly hit by cannon fire from German fighters, one of which was shot down.

In a spectacular chase, sometimes just above the sea, two Spitfires pursued two German Focke-Wulf 190s across the channel yesterday and shot down one and damaged the other so severely it probably was lost too, the air ministry news service said in a report of another action.

The strong force which hit the Ruhr Wednesday night probably was made up of 800 "night-destroyer" planes of which 39 did not return.

Meanwhile, new evidence appeared to attest to the irreparable damage done to German industry by sustained bombing. RAF photographs show great areas of destruction in the industrial heart of Germany and underground reports said in many instances the enemy's strained manpower was unable to cope with the rate of destruction.

A. G. Prince Funeral To Be Held Saturday

Funeral service will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock in Beckman's mortuary for A. G. Prince, 83, who died at his home, 1129 E. College, early yesterday morning.

Born Dec. 1, 1859, in Roxbury, Vt., Mr. Prince came to Iowa City in 1902 from Downers Grove, Ill. in that year he opened the Prince flower shop, operating this business until he retired in 1932.

He was a member of the Iowa City lodge No. 4 of the A. F. and A.M., Jessamine chapter of the Eastern Star and the Eagles.

Surviving are his wife; three sons, Walter of Hackensack, Minn., Myron of Moline, Ill., and Herbert of Keokuk; one brother, Leo Prince of Webb City, Mo., and two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Howell of San Diego, Cal., and Mrs. Nellie Prince Hunt of Proctersville, Vt.

In United States Armed Forces—

OPPORTUNITIES

—In United States Civil Service

The third in a set of questions and answers on enlistment in the United States navy was released yesterday by the bureau of naval personnel, Washington, D. C. The list follows:

Q.—What about navy insurance?

A.—Enlisted men may now take out from $1,000 to $10,000 life insurance for the benefit of the wives, children, parents or other dependent relatives. Premiums are low, from .64 a month per $1,000 at age 17 to .72 a month per $1,000 at 31, and $1.27 a month per $1,000 at 51, payable monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually. No physical exam if you take out your policy within 120 days after your enlistment.

Q.—What is the difference in service between the regular navy and naval reserve?

A.—There is none except for the term of enlistment. Reserves are released from active duty as soon as their services can be spared after the emergency. Pay is the same in both branches according to rank.

Q.—Because I have made a hobby of radio, does that automatically mean that I will be further trained for a radioman's rating?

A.—Not necessarily. An aptitude test taken soon after enlistment might show that you are, for example, better fitted to train for the rating of electrician's mate.

Q.—Suppose I join up as an apprentice seaman. What guarantee have I that I will not just remain in that classification and just be overlooked in the rush?

A.—There are many opportunities offered to navy men. Individual "push" is needed to get ahead, but the navy is right there "pushing" also with all its various branches and departments. That's why our motto is "Choose Now While You Can."

Q.—Can an apprentice seaman enter a navy service school immediately after enlisting?

A.—No. Service school training is available to men who have completed their recruit training and have been selected from applicants who aspire for ratings.

Q.—Where are these schools located?

A.—In all sections of the country.

Q.—How are the schools grouped?

A.—Group one, electrical and ordnance school; group two, communication and clerical school; group three, machinists', metalworkers' and woodworkers' school; group four, aviation schools for mechanics, metalsmiths, radiomen and ordnancemen, and hospital corps schools.

Q.—Are the courses long?

A.—They are short but comprehensive. They are so planned to give each student the foundation on which the career of a finished artisan can be built. The graduate's training is continued and rounded out by practical experience on board a vessel of the fleet where the navy develops its skilled personnel.

Q.—What is the nature of instruction?

A.—Due to the short period in which the men are under instruction, the courses are designed to familiarize the students with actual apparatus used and conditions encountered on board ship in a practical way rather than to go deeply into the theory of each subject.

Q.—When does a recruit's pay start?

A.—Immediately upon entering the navy. You're on Uncle Sam's payroll from the very first day you enlist.

Q.—Does a sailor in the United States navy or naval reserve receive pay when on leave?

A.—Yes, he receives full pay even though he technically is not working.

Q.—How many men are there in the crew of a United States battleship?

A.—The modern battleship carries from 1,200 to 1,500 enlisted men, 50 to 75 chief petty officers, 9 to 13 warrant officers and from 80 to 100 commissioned officers.

Q.—What is the fancy plug stuck in the muzzle of a gun called?

A.—It is called the "tompion" and it keeps dust and moisture out of the barrel.

Q.—Is special leave ever granted a United States sailor?

A.—Yes, in exceptional cases, such as serious illness or death in the immediate family.

Q.—What mechanical jobs can I learn in the United States navy?

A.—You can choose one of many mechanical trades, including aviation machinist, pattern-maker, metalsmith, optical mechanic, radioman, boilermaker, aerographer, Diesel engineer and welder.

Q.—Is there an official haircut for bluejackets in the United States navy?

A.—Yes. Sailors in the navy must keep their hair cut to within a prescribed two-inch length. On a large battleship the barber chairs are occupied most of the time keeping the heads of some 1,400 men trimmed to the proper length.

Q.—How many fleets are there in the United States navy?

A.—There are three fleets in the navy at the present time, the Atlantic fleet, the Pacific fleet, and the Asiatic fleet.

Q.—When once in the United States navy, how does one learn to specialize in one specific field of work?

A.—There are three ways a sailor may attain perfection in the specialized work of his own choosing: by study in naval schools, by practical experience aboard ship, by spare time study aided by correspondence courses conducted by the navy.

Q.—What are the "ports" on a ship?

A.—They are openings in the ship's sides which serve various uses. Air ports are for the admission of air and light. Gun ports are openings through which the guns are pointed and fired. Merchant ships also have cargo ports.

Q.—Can a sailor win promotions?

A.—Yes, an intelligent and ambitious sailor can expect promotion to the rating of chief petty officer. Men of this rank are often promoted to the rank of warrant officer, and many are in time made commissioned officers.

Q.—Are there any good books on the navy?

A.—Yes, among the newest are "The Navy in Review," by Curtis Erickson; "The Fleet Today," by Kendall Banning; "The Navy" by Hanson Baldwin; and many others.

Local Rooming House, 3 Fraternities Robbed

$181.10 Taken Early Yesterday Morning, I.C. Police Report

A total of $181.10 was taken from three fraternity houses and one boys' rooming house early yesterday morning, Iowa City police reported.

The robberies occurred at Alpha Tau Omega, 828 N. Dubuque; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 702 N. Dubuque; Sigma Chi, 703 N. Dubuque, and the residence of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Biebesheimer, 115 E. Fairchild.

The thief or thieves stole money only, going through the boys' rooms and emptying wallets.

Students reported that the following amounts were stolen:

At Sigma Chi: Robert Emerine, $1; Art Burtel, 85 cents; Herb Peningroth, $5; Robert Bishop, $25; Robert Allerite, $5; George Parks, $17; Dick Dearmont, $6; Ben Birdsell, $7 or a total of $7.85.

At Sigma Phi Epsilon: D. C. Lehmquhle, $8; Dixie Green, $10; Jerry Kuhal, $10; Don Glenvie, $5; Art Aran, $1.50; or a total of $34.50.

At Alpha Tau Omega; Ervin Pinkston, $14; Tom Young, $13.50; R. W. Chadima, $2; Burl Flood, $5; George Hoppley, $5; Dale Morris, $8; Ed Erwin, 50 cents; or a total of $49.

At 115 E. Fairchild: Jack Zumstig, $4; Hartley Courtney, $9; Bob Doering, $14.75; or at total of $27.75.

Johnson County Board Expenditures for 1943 Announced Yesterday

Estimated expenditures for Johnson county in 1943 were issued yesterday by the county board of supervisors.

Ed Sulek, county auditor who was authorized to determine the levy on each tax dollar for county expenses announced yesterday that the levy would amount to 16.556 mills.

Main expenditures were: county fund, $57,500; poor expenses, $112,000 county road bonds and interest, $51,120; state insane expenditures, $29,000; orphan's home, $4,627; juvenile home, $9,255; court expenses, $19,000, and secondary road construction and maintenance which totaled $415,525.

Seven Firms Return 100 Per Cent Quotas To Community Chest

At least seven firms had returned one hundred per cent quotas to community chest headquarters yesterday, in response to solicitation letters sent to all the business houses and professional offices of the city Wednsday, Vern W. Bales, general chairman of the drive, announced.

Within three hours after the first of the letters had been sent out, four firms returned their quotas to headquarters. Bales, greatly encouraged by this swift and wholehearted response to his new coordinated solicitating plan, said that two of the first four firms listed over nine contributing employees.

Bales thinks that the new plan, which makes each employer responsible for the solicitation of his own employees, will continue to be successful, because duplication of effort is eliminated and employers can fulfill their responsibilities without leaving their offices.

Four Enlisted Men Join Armed Forces

Four enlisted reservists from Johnson county left yesterday morning for the army reception center to begin active duty in the armed forces.

Men who left yesterday were Clyde S. Ackerman, James B. Cox, Carroll F. Sleichter and Ralph B. Smith.

Chimney Catches Fire

Iowa City firemen extinguished a small chimney blaze at 524 N. Governor yesterday morning at about 8 o'clock. No damage was done.

River Dragged For Madsen Woman's Body

Believe Missing Farm Wife May Have Fallen Or Jumped Into Cedar

The posse searching for 26-year-old Mrs. Ruth Madsen, who disappeared from her home early Monday morning, was almost ready to give up the hunt last night after dragging the Cedar river all day in a futile attempt to recover her body on the theory that she might have drowned.

The bloodhounds, which were thought to be on her trail yesterday morning, led the posse to the edge of the river. Max Studer, state bureau of investigation agent who is in charge of the searching party, said that she had probably fallen or jumped into the river which is about five or six feet deep at the point where the trail ended.

The trail led to a point along the river five miles directly east of the posse's starting point. The search began two miles south of the Madsen home in a cornfield. The dogs led the posse through cornfields, over abandoned roads and through a lonely stretch of timber bordering the river.

Efforts to find her body at this point in the river, however, were unfruitful.

When asked what action the posse would take last night, the searchers said that the hunt would be discontinued until today. "What we need is sleep," one said.

Henry Madsen, 34, the husband of the missing woman, was found dead of shotgun wounds in their farm home five miles southeast of West Branch early Monday. She was last seen Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Madsen has been described by state and county officers as a "mental patient" and she was reported to have escaped twice from the state hospital at Mt. Pleasant this summer.

Lenz Girl Drowns In Farm Water Tank

Judy Lenz, one and half-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lenz, was found dead of an accidental drowning in a water tank yesterday afternoon on the Lenz farm a mile and a half south of Iowa City on the lower Muscatine road.

County Coroner George D. Callahan said that efforts of the fire department to resuscitate the child failed.
